NORTHVILLE CITIZENS WILL ERECT HOMES

Desiring to do their part in the upbuilding and improvement of Northville, and to assist in meeting the housing conditions which are of such moment here at the present time, a former resident of Northville, Mr.
Geo. B. Yerkes, and three public spirited citizens of this place, Messrs
C. R. Benton, N. C. Schrader and M.
N. Johnson have formed a company for the purpose of erecting some modern, up-to-the-minute residences in this village. These gentlemen have entered into this enterprise with the cheer and hope that the project will prove reasonably profitable from a financial point of view, of course, but their principal interest in the matter is their desire to help their home town. This motive is the one great incentive which has inspired them and Northville is to be congratulated that they have decided to enter upon an extensive building program. These gentlemen have purchased ten lots in Spring Hill subdivision of Orchard Heights and have taken options on ten adjoining lots, and on Monday a contract was entered into between the promoters of the new company and Bert Crumble of Plymouth for the erection of four handsome residences—houses that will add greatly to the number of splendid modern homes in this community.

A great deal of thought and effort has been given to the question of providing more homes in Northville and the matter has been discussed from angles whenever a company of men gathered.

Many plans have been proposed, but no definite action or progress was made until at a meeting of the Northville Chamber of Commerce M. N.
Johnson was appointed a committee to formulate and present for the consideration of the officers and directors some plan of action. Inspired by a desire to do something for Northville, Mr. Johnson at once gave his earnest attention to the matter and soon he had one man beside himself who was willing to become a member of an organization to erect some houses here. Then he secured the third, and finally, after a great deal of effort, the fourth gentleman was secured who is willing to join in the project.

It is believed that there is a growing demand here for homes and the gentlemen will erect four at first and when they are sold others will be built. The houses are to be modern in every detail and will be completed just as fast as possible.
Some material was placed on the ground on Tuesday and active work is now going forward.

The Record has endeavored to press the people of this section to the idea that the building of homes for those who desire to come to Northville, was the most important project that could be entered into by the citizens of this community and we are glad to see our feeble efforts bearing fruit. More homes will mean more families and more taxes means more people and towns are made up of people. And it can be said to the credit of Northville that we are attracting a fine lot of people this way. If we had one hundred new houses ready for occupancy it is believed by local real estate men that they could be filled within a very short time. This means there is ample room here for others to enter upon a building program.

Now that a start has been made towards providing more homes, let all who can do so assist in the great movement.

VALUATION SHOWS BIG INCREASE.

Village Assessor Charles A. Sessions has completed the footings of the assessment roll of this village and the total amount of real and personal property is $1,153,000. There was added in new property and in some increases in assessment—a total of $553,000 over last year, making a very gratifying increase. The tax rate for 1919 was $1.51 on each one hundred dollars and the rate this year will be reduced to $1.18.

TO GIVE FAREWELL TO TEACH- ERS.

The last meeting of the Parent-Teachers club for the school year, will be held on Tuesday evening, June 1st. Some good music and storytelling is promised and a large attendance is expected. Each parent is asked to bring one article of food, and 10c. No one need bring dishes.
The pledges for gymnasium and playground equipment now total $1,750.00.

NORTHVILLE TALENT STEPPED LIVELY

"Step Inn," the musical comedy given by Northville talent at the Alselvin theatre on Wednesday evening
under the auspices of the American Legion, was presented in a very creatable manner and from the opening number until the grand finale the large audience expressed its appreciation by generous applause. The principals were all exceedingly clever and the "beauty" chorus was a distinct credit to Northville. The work of the orchestra under the direction of C. Del Kilgour was especially praiseworthy and as a director and producer Lisle Alexander displayed marked ability. The solo work by Misses Greene and Filkins, Cleon Dey and Mr. Alexander elicited hearty encores and the singing of the chorus reflected credit upon all who took part.

The performance will be repeated this Friday evening and all who attend will be well repaid for the time spent. For a home talent production
"Step Inn" is very much above the average and its creditable presentation justified all the complimentary things that have been said in its behalf by those who were responsible for its unqualified success.

Get your seats at the Northville Drug Co's store.

CARELESS DRIVING CAUSED ACCI- DENT.

A very serious accident was narrowly avoided in this village Sunday afternoon at a time when the down town streets were filled with out of town motorists. Miss Avelil Miles was driving a big car west on Main street and in trying to make the turn on South Center she lost control of the machine and it crashed into the popcorn wagon being operated by Gilbert
Deal on the sidewalk at the Ambler Hotel. Just before the crash came, a young lady from Detroit, who had come to Northville with a party of friends, stepped out of the hotel to purchase some corn and she was struck by the machine and received numerous bruises and injuries to her face, arms and head, nine stitches being required to close the wound upon her head. Fortunately young Deal was not seriously injured.

A LARGE CLASS TO GRADUATE.

The annual commencement exercises of the Northville school will be held on Thursday evening June 17th with a class of fifteen members, will receive their diplomas. The members of the class are Helen A. Miller,

C. Mary, Edith Fisher, Vera, et al.

Villard, Ruth C. Cartmole, Stuart
N. Cole, Geneva C. P. Wheeler,
Gladys A. Ryd, Gerson M. Cooper,
Gladys C. Black, George E. Wiley,
Conrad N. Stevens.

The address will be given by Miss Cattermole and the salutatory by Miss Milled. J. Z. Wither, deputy superintendent of public instruction of Lansing, will deliver the commencement address.

WHO HAS SEED POTATOES?

The scarcity of seed potatoes this spring is causing a great deal of anxiety among farmers and small gardeners. Inquiry fails to reveal any quantity of good stock in any section of the state and the acreage to be planted to potatoes will be greatly reduced this year unless seed can be found soon. This is a matter of very grave concern for potatoes are the principal food crop for the average family and to curtail the acreage will mean high prices this fall and inability to supply the demand.

If any one in this section has seed potatoes to spare The Record would be glad to advertise the fact free so our farmers and gardeners may secure a supply.

WILL REPEAT "STEP INN."

So great was the demand for seats for the presentation of "Step Inn"
by Northville talent on Wednesday evening, that all were sold before Wednesday. Rather than disappoint those who were unable to secure seats the members of the cast decided to repeat the entertainment on Friday evening. The prices of admission will be the same—25 and 50 cents—and seats may be obtained at the Northville Drug Co's store.

This entertainment is being given
under the auspices of the American Legion and the patronage of the public is invited.

The Northville Record.

E. E. BROWN, Publisher.

An Independent Newspaper published every Friday morning at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville post-office as Second-Class matter.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., MAY 28, 1920.

PLEASE PAY PROMPTLY.

Three years ago common white print paper, such as is used in the publication of The Record, could be purchased in any quantity at three cents a pound and in some instances less. At the present time it is almost impossible to secure more than 500 pounds at a time and the price is 17 cents a pound. This condition has already forced a number of small town newspapers to suspend and others will be compelled to do so unless relief comes before fall. Those newspapers which will be fortunate enough to keep going must adopt the cash in advance system, and many weekly papers are already upon that basis. The Record has always been willing to extend reasonable credit on its subscription accounts, but there are some subscribers on our list who have abused the privilege we have extended them. We have sent statements to them repeatedly, but have received no response, and this is a warning that their papers will be stopped unless payment is made by June 1st. The $1.50 we receive from our subscribers who pay promptly will just about buy the paper used in supplying them a copy each week, allowing nothing for labor in producing the newspaper. Hence it is absolutely necessary that there should be no losses.

As long as print paper can be secured at all, we have no thought of suspending the publication of The Record, but we shall be compelled to discontinue our practice of extending credit on subscription accounts. If you receive a notice that your subscription has expired do not neglect the matter.

The highway motor cops of Oakland county have been trying to clean-up on a lot of speeders who seem to be on the county roads as soon as ways or race tracks and some of its have recently been made over near Milford. Some mistakes may have been made by the officers to be sure but it is more than likely that every fellow arrested was guilty of speeding. Instead of upholding the officers in their efforts to enforce the traffic laws on people are making excuses and all planations for their own case. I have decided to buy their souls and peace in some other locality. The action on the part of the public is one of the reasons why so many officers walk a law violation. They realize that public opinion will not sustain them if they make arrests and why should they get themselves into trouble? The public should uphold officers who are striving to do their duty for the protection of human life, and if laws are created for speeding ought to be given the limit. Our highways are becoming crowded with motor cars and one careless indifferent driver can cause a lot of damage. If, however, motorists realize that they must obey the traffic laws and that it will be taken into custody if they do not a lot of this fast reckless driving will be stopped.

It is stated in press reports that upwards of 2000 Polish Jews are coming to American shores each month in response to appeals made by relatives and friends who came over here before the world war. It will be a wise plan to put our immigration bars up very high for a number of years in order to keep out a lot of undesirables. This farce attended the deportation of a number of German sympathizers. Reds, I. W. W. and Socialists, demonstrated clearly that it is easier to shut them out than it is to put them out when they once get settled here.

Michigan friends of Rev. H. Lester Smith, pastor of Central M. E. church of Detroit, will rejoice to learn that he was elected bishop at the General Conference now in session at Des Moines, Ia. He came to Detroit eight years ago and his aggressive and up-to-date methods, together with his deep and sympathetic spirituality, he has accomplished a wonderful work during that short period. He is but 44 years old and is the son of a Pennsylvania oil field worker.

The Board of Commerce of the city of Detroit recently appointed a committee to inquire into conditions at the postoffice in that city and to ascertain, if possible, why the service seemed to be breaking down. The committee reported that lack of capable help to operate the office was the cause of the trouble. If the committee will follow their line to Washington they will also find a great need of capable help in the office of the postmaster general.

Are the people of Northville to be compelled to "eat" dust from our new pavement all summer same as the people over at Pumpkin Corners are doing? or will the village council provide some system for sprinkling and sweeping the business streets. Business men are compelled to keep their doors closed to shut out the clouds of dust. Other towns with paved streets keep them sprinkled and clean as a matter of public pride. What is the matter with Northville?

WILL THE DEAD IN HELL LIVE AGAIN?

This is the subject of a free lecture to be given by Mr. Fred L. Fox, Detroit lecturer, in Liberty hall Northville Sunday, May 30th at 2:00 p. m. Everyone is interested in this question which is a timely one for Decoration Day, although it is generally understood says Mr. Fox, except by those who take a careful scriptural study of it. It is the intention of the lecturer to answer the question from the standpoint of the Bible only.

Badness Carries Disqualification. I never knew a man that was bad, fit for any service—that was good. There was always some disqualifying ingredient mixing with the compound, and spoiling it. The accomplishment of anything good is a physical impossibility in such a man. He could not if he would, and it is not more certain that he would not if he could, do a good, and virtuous action.—Burke.

MILLION TO MEET AT STATE EXHIBIT

MICHIGAN NOW HAS LARGEST FAIR IN UNITED STATES—DATES SET ARE SEPTEMBER 3-12.

PROFITS GO BACK INTO CONTINUOUS BETTERMENT

An attendance of a million is predicted for the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, Sept. 3 to 12, this fall.

This estimate is based both on the public interest which has been shown in the fair so far this year, and on a natural increase which may be expected over last year's showing.

When the last person passed through the turnstile at the 1919 show, the Michigan Fair had taken rank as the largest attended institution of its kind in the United States.

"Michigan's state fair," says Mr. Dickinson, "has become the greatest institution in the commonwealth for bringing its people together."

"In one way, it is the state's greatest educational institution. The character of fairs has changed greatly in the last few years. No one who attends a real fair nowadays can come away without having been mentally broadened and instructed."

Every satisfactory feature of Michigan's fairs in the past will be retained this year, and many new ones will be added. Greatly increased gate receipts have made the fair profitable in late years, and under the state law, every cent of profit must go back into the permanent property and the annual exhibition.

Mr. Dickinson's policy has been to put on a better and better fair as the receipts warranted. And every time he has spent more money to put on a better fair, the public has insisted on attending it in such crowds that profits automatically increase.

EXHIBITORS MUST HURRY TO GET INTO STATE FAIR

Exhibitors who plan on entering the contests at the Michigan State Fair, at Detroit, Sept. 3-12, this fall, will have to hurry.

So great has been the demand for space in the various buildings that G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager, announces that he is all sold out in certain lines. Others are filling up fast.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR GREATER THAN EVER

G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager, announces that it will in reality be far more than a million-dollar proposition. In exhibits, in premiums paid, in variety of farm crops and manufactured products shown, he declares it will be far greater than even last year's record-breaker.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE BEGINS HER LABOR

Miss Ruth A. McIntyre, who has been assigned to the Northville-Plymouth district as public health nurse, arrived in Northville Tuesday and began her active duties on Wednesday.

"All over the country there is an awakening interest in matters pertaining to general health. In the cities public and private agencies have been for some years developing various plans of the work but until recently these efforts have been confined almost entirely to the cities.

"There has been a common belief that the people of the small towns and rural communities were physically superior to the people of the cities and, therefore, not so greatly in need of health supervision, but this has been disproven. Among army rejections the country boys figured more largely than those from the city.

"The Red Cross recognizing these facts and believing that the country naturally should and actually can possess a higher standard of health than the over-crowded cities, is trying as an aid in this direction, to extend the benefits of the Public Health Nursing service to the people of the small towns and rural communities.

Much of this work is accomplished thru the schools in Wayne county under the direction of Mr. Yost, the Commissioner of Schools, nurses are examining the school children with the object of encouraging correction of all defects which might tend to lower their physical resistance.

These examinations reveal that sixty per cent of school children have defective teeth, twenty-five per cent have defective vision, thirty per cent enlarged tonsils and adenoids, twenty-five per cent suffer from malnutrition, five per cent develop tuberculosis.

"Probably one-half of the men rejected in the draft would have been fit for service if in their school days they had received proper treatment for the defects which are revealed by the present day school inspection. Every child in school has the right to be taught the way to good health, good bodily habits, and hygiene as well as to be taught arithmetic and spelling.

"The nurses under the Red Cross do not, however, confine their work to children of school age. We are still shocked by the thought of the deaths of the fifty thousand American soldiers in our last war, but it is generally known that year there were 500,000 deaths among children under school age."

"Furthermore that unless something is done to prevent this slaughter there will be 600,000 deaths this year. It has been proven where intensive infant welfare work is carried on that many of these deaths are preventable. If babies were well born and well cared for the death rate would be very low. Public health nurses are by their visits to mothers helping to decrease the death rate in our country.

"About one out of ten deaths in our United States is from tuberculosis, which is now recognized as a preventable disease. Public health nurses by discovering and advising under treatment cases in early stages are doing much to prevent the spread of this disease.

"In every community there are people of who cannot afford or do not require the full time service of a nurse but who do need some professional care in addition to that given by the family. Among these are chronic conditions or accident cases where the patient is in bed for months, typhoid, children with pneumonia or other acute troubles, maternity cases, etc.

"While the public health work aims mainly to prevent, by arranging the work on a visit basis, several of these cases can be cared for in a day.

"The nurse does not take the place of the doctor and gives nursing care only under a doctor's orders. She frequently can induce patients to consult a doctor who would not otherwise realize their need of medical attention.

"In beginning this work in Plymouth and Northville townships I take this opportunity of asking for the interested active co-operation of every member of the community. I am here to be of service and wish you to feel at liberty to call to my attention any matter in your own homes or any case known to you where I might be of help. With your greater knowledge of local people and conditions you can acquaint me with many opportunities which might not otherwise come to my attention.

RELIGION—SERVICE

Theodore Roosevelt once said: "I know not how philosophers may ultimately define religion, but from Micah, to James it has been defined as service to one's fellow-man rendered by following the great rule of justice and mercy of wisdom and righteousness."

PLYMOUTH BOY SHOOT BABY SISTER

A Plymouth dispatch to the Free Press states that admission by 9-year-old John Jajage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jajage that he accidentally fired the shot which killed his baby sister Antonia, 18-months-old, cleared up the mystery of the child's death here. The lad first told his parents that a stranger had entered the house and killed the child. The father discovered that his shotgun had recently been discharged and the empty shell reflected by one missing from the box of shells. Then the lad told of his own responsibility for the accident, which occurred while the parents were at work in the field.

HENS SOON TO LAY THE YEAR AROUND.

Abundant production of eggs during the fall and winter months, as well as in the spring and summer is a possibility in the not far distant future, according to Professor C. H. Burgess, poultry specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College. Selection of better hens and proper care and feeding are increasing egg production on Michigan farms and distributing it more evenly the entire year.

Direct marketing by the producer, avoiding cold storage and the middleman will be possibilities when hens cease their year-around laying. This would mean a higher price to the farmer, and at the same time a lower cost to the city consumer.

"In the past, practically all of our heavy egg production has come in the spring and summer," says Professor Burgess. "This has made it necessary to use cold storage in carrying eggs over for the slack periods in the fall and winter, at which time the demand is just about as great as it is in the spring. Under the indirect system, the cost of marketing has often been greater than the actual cost of production, with the result that egg prices are 'sky high' at times.

"Fortunately the fall and winter production of eggs is fast increasing in Michigan. Culling of farm flocks which is being done by the extension division of the agricultural college is putting a better grade of hens on the farm—hens that produce more eggs and spread their laying out over the year more evenly. Improved housing and feeding practices are also playing their part in this increase."

Community marketing will be the next step after year-round production comes, and this will solve the question of profits on farm poultry.

Bitter Orange Perfume.

The basis of many of the choicest perfumes is oil of petit-grain. This is produced from the leaves of a small bitter orange that grows in vast quantities in Paraguay. The leaves are boiled, the vapor distilled and the oil skimmed off. The peel of this same orange is the main ingredient of carouba.

MEET THE DE VEYRA FAMILY!

They Are Putting the Philippines on the Map in Washington

Hon. Jaime C. de Veyra, Who Has Just Been Re-elected as Philippine Congressman to the U. S.

Mrs. Jaime C. de Veyra. She is Doing Important Work for Her People in America.

THE CHILDREN OF THE PHILIPPINE COMMISSIONER
The Baby of the Group Speaks Three Languages—Visayan, Spanish and English.

Permit us to present the De Veyra family.

The Hon. Jaime C. de Veyra is the Resident Commissioner from the Philippine Islands to the United States and has just been elected to a second term of three years. As Resident Commissioner he has a seat on the floor of the American Congress the privilege of taking part in debates, although no vote.

Commissioner de Veyra has an interesting wife and four bright Philippine kiddies. The De Veyra family, individually and collectively, constitute the best argument as to the fact and capabilities of Filipinos that the Philippine Islands have in Washington.

The commissioner is a 100 per cent Filipino, a Visayan, and is one of the foremost leaders of the party in power in the islands. During American occupation he has been successively governor of his province, member of the Philippine legislature, cabinet member and executive secretary of the islands.

Like many statesmen of the Philippines, he was originally a newspaperman. He was one of the founders of El Nuevo Dia of Cebu, the first Filipino paper published advocating Philippine independence. The paper came under the censorship of General McIntyre, and on the appearance of the first number the editors were left in the singular position of seeing every prominent article blue pencilled.

Mrs. de Veyra, like her husband, is a "live wire" in the Philippines cause. She is the best-known Filipina in America. She is an interesting public speaker and is constantly giving illustrated lectures at women's clubs and other gatherings. Mrs. de Veyra is a publicity bureau all in herself and has put the Philippines on the map, so far as the women folk of Washington congressional circles are concerned.

"I find that the Filipino people have been much misrepresented in the United States," says Mrs. de Veyra. "I do not mean to infer we are perfect, for we are not. My people have most of the defects, I suppose, that other humans have, but at the same time we are far from the people that many Americans have been made to believe. Not only are we a Christian people but our race has a history that we are not ashamed of. Throughout the Philippine Islands the people are now working earnestly to improve their selves and their conditions so they will be prepared to take over their own affairs. We all love America for giving us a chance to help ourselves and for having granted us our independence, which is one of the dearest desires of the entire citizenship of the islands."

To Angeleno women whose ideas of Filipinos have been founded on Sunday supplement descriptions of wild tribes, Mrs. de Veyra's gentle manner and evident culture have been a revelation. She is sought by women's clubs because of her charming manner as an inopportune speaker on the subject nearest her heart—the women of her country.

At a recent Washington gathering she gave in perfect English a concise account of the work of a women's club in Manila which supplies milk to the babies of the poor and trains mothers to care for their young children. She told of another women's club which has branches all over the Philippine Islands and which maintains day nurseries for the children of the working women, provides Christmas cheer for the lepers, the insane and the convicts, and gathers data to influence legislation for the benefit of Filipino women and children.

The four little De Veyras shown in the picture, having attended the public schools in Manila, slipped right into the same grades in the schools of Washington. Even little Mary, the baby of the family, speaks three languages—her native tongue, Spanish and English.

KUHN EXPLAINS PHONE PROBLEMS

PRESIDENT OF MICHIGAN STATE TELLS WHAT HE FOUND WHEN HE WENT TO THE COMPANY.

STEADY LOSSES HOLD UP PLANS FOR SERVICE

Company Should Spend Millions Annually in Michigan to Take Care of the Future Needs of State.

All that is humanly possible is being done to give the best telephone service in Detroit and in Michigan.

Franz C. Kuhn, the president of the Michigan State Telephone Company, one of the keenest minds in the state's public life and a man who has held the confidence of the public for many years, makes this statement in the Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record. A study of the company and of its service and financial and operating problems, he declares, has shown him that the statement quoted above is true in every word. He did not believe it could be true when he first went to the company, for he had had just the same experiences, difficulties and delays with the service that the average telephone user has.

Judge Kuhn declares that he has come to a complete understanding that the telephone service is the most intimate public service existing today, the only service where direct human dealing enters into every individual transaction with the public. He has come to an understanding that not only the mechanical but also the human factor must be considered and that in comparison with the great number of individually human handled dealings entered into by the company each day there is a remarkably small percentage of errors.

Judge Kuhn went to the Michigan State Telephone Company with a determination to make the service better to make it worth the money paid for it by the people of the state. He still has this determination but he has found every man and woman concerned in the telephone work has been striving for this end right along and is eager to work with him for its accomplishment. He had been with the company only a short time before he found that everything humanly possible had been done and was being done to accomplish just what he had determined must be done to better the service. A wonderful organization of loyal men and women was working night and day against difficulties and problems that people in other lines knew little of.

Judge Kuhn found a company with an investment of more than $40,000,000 in Michigan, adding millions more in plant and equipment facilities in an effort to better and to extend telephone service to meet the demands of the present and of the future. He found a company of far vision, one that had fallen behind in Michigan's great industrial march just because financial and labor and equipment difficulties had made it impossible to keep up. But this company, he found, was bending every energy toward catching up and that it was catching up. He found a company prevented by rate regulation from increasing the selling price of its product to meet the ever increasing expense of conducting its business, although in almost every other line it is possible to do that. The company was losing a quarter of a million dollars a month on the operation of its service.

Payment of dividends on the common stock, Judge Kuhn found, had been suspended in 1914 and on the preferred stock in 1919. There was no money to set aside for depreciation, and under these circumstances, new capital could not be induced to invest in the business. Yet demand for service, Judge Kuhn learned, was heavier than ever before and the future promised even greater demands.

The year of operation under the direction of the United States government witnessed a loss on the service in Michigan of more than $1,000,000, although the Government had attempted to meet increased costs by increasing the rates. Then, despite this, the state rate-making authorities reduced rates when the properties were returned to their owners on July 31, 1919.

Judge Kuhn says that although it meant increased financial losses, he found the company installing new equipment, replacing old equipment, and making every effort to bring its operating forces up to normal in size and efficiency. New switchboard equipment ordered many months ago is just being delivered. The company has resorted to shipping much of this class of equipment in express cars, attached to passenger trains, in order to get it before it otherwise could be had. Installation crews have been working day and night and doing the work in a few weeks that ordinarily would take months to accomplish.

The company was hundreds of operators short when Judge Kuhn became its head, but, by increasing wages five times within a year and conducting a comprehensive advertising campaign, it recruited its force up to a sufficient number to handle the boards. A territory with room for 100 girls was established and equipped in Detroit, for those who came from out in the state and who had no relatives or friends in the city to whose homes they could go. The company added to its dining room equipment for the benefit of the girls and, Judge Kuhn found, served them the best of meals at less than the bare cost of the food.

The classes in the training school at Detroit, where students receive a practical and partial technical training to fit them for the work of operators, because so large a number of the most capable young women of the company's switchboards were induced to stay with the training.

Judge Kuhn states that the company's program for this year includes work both for extension and improvement of the service. Because of conditions in the financial department and labor markets, it is impossible for the company to do all that it desires, but Judge Kuhn declares that millions of dollars will be spent on the work which, for some time to come, new plant equipment, as well as additional central office facilities, is needed. Detroit's telephone system, for instance, is to be made as storm-proof as possible by putting a great deal of it underground and using overhead open wires.

This work is now going ahead. Tolling extensions, better to handle trade with the outside world, are being made. Drafts and engineers are being employed with a view to proper planning of installing telephone equipment in new factory and office buildings. Additional private branch exchange equipment, thousands of telephone instruments, miles of new cable, three ends of poles and cross-arms and much other material is being secured and installed. In fact, it is almost impossible to recount fully Judge Kuhn all that is being done to improve the service.

Judge Kuhn believes that the people of Michigan are fair, that when they are convinced that the state telephone utility must have relief if it is to live and to continue to give service to meet the needs of the state and of a people they will do the best that the company has laid its terms. With all the facts before the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, Judge Kuhn says, has frankly laid its needs.

The telephone is the vehicle of modern business and its lines are the arteries of trade and of social life. Without them business could not exist as it is today. Judge Kuhn believes that the telephone was largely responsible for the upbuilding of Michigan's present prosperity and that it will have an ever greater share in upbuilding its future welfare if the people of the state are fair. But he also believes that if the company is not given the relief it so sadly needs, the people of Michigan will be only shackling themselves and their own prosperity while the rest of the world moves on past them. If new capital is to be induced to enter the state to help upbuild the telephone service, relief must be granted, he asserts.

President Kuhn says he seeks the confidence and the co-operation of all of the people of Michigan for the Michigan State Telephone Company and for better and more comprehensive telephone service, not for the benefit of the company alone, but for the benefit of the state and all its inhabitants.

Phone Help to State's Industries.
Detroit, Mich.—Because of the belief of the officers of the Michigan State Telephone Company that Michigan's population and industrial growth the next few years will exceed anything so far experienced, the company is making every effort to rush its plant construction work. New cables, additional overhead wires, new toll or long distance lines and much other work is being taken care of by large crews of experienced men. Every portion of the state will be cared for as rapidly as possible.

The telephone needs of the state have been growing enormously and only the fact that the company's finances have been limited because of low rates that did not keep pace with advancing costs has checked the telephone utility in its preparation for the future.

Magazine to Help Phone Service.
Detroit, Mich.—News, interesting and instructive is the new publication being printed by the Michigan State Telephone Company for its nearly 5,000 employees in this state, the purpose of which is to promote efficiency in the telephone service. The magazine, which is yet without a name, made its first appearance early this month. It is well illustrated and well written. A feature of the first issue was an editorial by the company's president, Judge Franz C. Kuhn, to all employees, urging them to be keen in their service to the public.

What Would You Do Without Newspaper Advertisements?

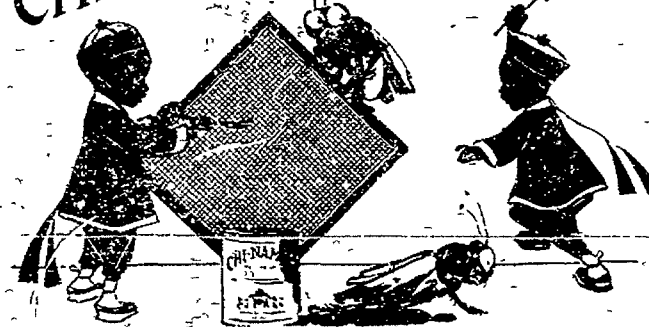

- What if there were no advertisements in any newspaper?
- Lost and found articles might never be restored to their owners. Buying, selling and renting houses would be greatly delayed.
- Merchants would be compelled to depend almost entirely upon those who passed by their stores for their trade.
- Such a condition would set the hands of the clock of progress back two hundred years. It would limit trade. It would bring delays and annoyances and make purchasing risky and expensive.
- This goes to show how important newspaper advertisements have become in our everyday affairs.
- Read them fully and faithfully. It may mean many added advantages in your life and dollars in your pocketbook.

"PLAY BALL!" They can do it the year around in the Philippines.

Here's indisputable evidence that the Filipino people have been Americanized! The great American game of baseball is the rage in the islands. This photograph shows a parade which preceded one of the big games in Manila. Baseball is played from one end of the archipelago to the other and, as in other branches of athletic sports, some classy players have been developed.

PAYS $100,000 TO ITS EXHIBITORS

PRIZE REWARDS WORTH WHILE AT MICHIGAN STATE FAIR ENCOURAGES THE BEST.

MANUFACTURERS BUSY IN PREPARING THEIR GOODS

"A record sum in premiums will be paid the people of Michigan this year by the Michigan State Fair, which will be held in Detroit, Sept. 3 to 12. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the Fair, says that the total amount of prize money offered by the fair will be more than $100,000. This is a large increase over any previous year. It is one of the largest sums offered by any state fair in the United States.

"The way to get good exhibits," says Mr. Dickinson, "is to pay liberal premiums for them. When a farmer has put in a year's full time on a prize animal or breed, or several years' time as may very possibly be the case, he believes that he is entitled to a prize-award that is worth while.

"Our primary purpose at the Michigan State fair is to promote the raising of the very first-grade products of the farm, so our policy must be such as to 'make our' encouragement worth while. Every year since I have been manager of the fair, I have offered bigger premiums and more of them. And every year, we have not only had better exhibits, but the public has patronized our fair in such increasing numbers that our gate receipt profits have more than made up the difference.

"We want farmers from every part of the state to let us know what they hope the state will be surprised this fall at the tremendous manner in which the manufacturing concerns of Michigan have decided to show their products at the fair. To keep the whole fair well balanced, the farmers must show their particular enterprise and their goods worth their while.

They Give You Greater Mileage

Inside Tyres add from 1,000 to 5,000 miles to the life of a casing by reinforcing it and preventing blow-outs, if put in when tire is new.

Inside Tyres eliminate 90 per cent of all punctures by preventing sharp articles from reaching the tuse.

Inside Tyres save their small cost in a short time and may be used over and over again in several casings.

Inside Tyres are made of tough rubber-impregnated fabric, which is practically puncture and blow-out proof when placed inside of an outer casing.

MICHIGAN FAIR NOW LARGEST IN WHOLE U. S.

Largest state fairs in the United States are those conducted by Texas, Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan. The exhibits of these great states run along side and side, but last year, Michigan Fair went into the topmost position.

The others followed in this order: Minnesota, Iowa and Texas. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the Michigan fair, believes that this year's show, Sept. 3-12 will confirm the Wolverine State in its position of supremacy. Michigan's industrial cities, offering great exhibits of manufactured products, help the success of the show, and the farmers of the state are not lagging.

A man marooned on a desert island will not get far without a boat; neither will he be much good to himself or anybody else.

A telephone company without sufficient income to meet expenses is in just about the same condition as a man marooned. Without fair rates telephone material can not be bought and wages can not be paid. Without material and employees the telephone can not operate.

WE MUST HAVE YOUR SUPPORT IF YOU ARE TO HAVE THE TELEPHONE

The telephone can not get along without money to meet all necessary expenses any easier than you can.

Unless you are fair with the telephone the telephone can not give you proper service. So the answer to the operation of the telephone is in your hands. You must decide.

AIN'T IT FINE TODAY?
 Sure this world is full o' trouble,
 I ain't said it ain't.
 Lord, I've had enough and double
 Reason for complaint.
 Rain and storm have come to fret me,
 Skies were often gray,
 Thorns and brambles have beset me.
 On the road—but say!
 Ain't it fine today?

What's the use of always weepin',
 Makin' trouble last?
 What's the use of always keepin'
 Thinkin' of the past?
 Each must banish tribulation—
 Water with his wine;
 Life it ain't no celebration—
 Trouble I've had mine,
 But today is fine!

It's today that I am livin'
 Not a month ago,
 havin' losin', takin', givin',
 As time wills it so.
 Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
 Fell across the way.
 It may rain again tomorrow,
 ain't it fine today?

ASKING A LITTLE TOO MUCH

Under the Circumstances Actor Was Justified in Refusing Parts Manager Allotted Him.

Owing to the limitations of his purse the manager of a theatrical show on the road traveled with a show company.

One afternoon he called one of his players to him and remarked:

"Look here, Wellington, you'll have to play three parts tomorrow night in 'The Silent Foot'—Henderson, Uncle Bill, and the Spider."

"Can't do it," retorted Wellington, briefly, but firmly.

"Can't do it? Won't do it, you mean?" sported the manager. "Why won't you do it?"

"Because it can't be done. No human being could play these three parts at the same time. In the third act Henderson and the Spider have a fight and old Uncle Bill rushes in to separate them."

Slipping Up on Her.

Young Thing—And only to think, each soldier had to make his own bed and everything. How could men ever make beds? It must have been terribly hard for them.

STOMACH GOOD AS NEW. FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Mrs. Hendricks, Bedfast Five Months, Was Able to Work in Two Weeks.

"I was sick last winter for five months with stomach and bowel trouble. Could not turn myself to bed without help. I was under the care of four doctors, and they gave me up. Then Mr. Mills, the druggist, persuaded my husband to try a bottle of Milk's Emulsion. I had only taken it two days until I was sitting up in bed, and in two weeks I was doing my own work. When I began taking it I weighed only 70 pounds; now I weigh 150 pounds."—Mrs. Mary Hendricks, 903 Litchfield-Road, Owensboro, Ky.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from "stomach and bowel troubles" have found relief almost from the first dose of Milk's Emulsion. And, it is real, lasting benefit.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physicks. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only "acid" emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 50c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

GAVE AMATEUR "SOFT" PART

Pompous Individual Duly Awarded Him "Place in the Sun," as He Had Requested.

The Washington Dramatic society wanted their annual performance to be a success, so they engaged a professional from London to arrange it all. As soon as this gentleman appeared one of the amateurs tackled him.

"I must have a role to suit me," he began pompously. "I always play one of the principal parts in our shows, and so far I've been most successful."

"Excuse me," interposed the professional, "but you must allow me to be the judge of the most suitable part."

The first rehearsal occurred a few days later. When the cast was read out the pushing amateur found he had been left out altogether.

"Why have I not got a part?" he demanded angrily.

"You have a part, all right," replied the producer. "You are to be the first banana in the fruit-market scene."—London Answers.

Foolproof.

"Henry, an agent came to the house this morning with a new kind of can-opener to sell."

"Well?"

"He said it was foolproof."

"Ah! That's pretty good. Any brainless woman can use it, eh?"

"Perhaps." But the point he made was that husbands who open cans for their wives can do so without cutting their fingers, spilling the oilcloth on the kitchen table, splattering the walls with gore and shocking the neighbors with profanity.—Birmingham Age-Herald

MEMORIAL DAY

LILACS just turned purple out by the front gate and the dew still wet on the green grass, the faint strains of bird music drifting out above the maples of the town and an flag draped out on the porch. It's been a good many years now, but each time the day comes around I'm back there to fancy.

There's no use going back any more—except in fancy, for the little white-haired man who hung out the flag every Decoration day morning isn't there, any more, stranger, would be sitting on the front porch. There wasn't much sentiment in his making up about most things, but he never missed hanging out that flag. He'd fought for it a thousand times—now that it's too late—I've been sorry I didn't take more interest when he tried to tell me about those days.

Somewhat, or those days, the sky seemed a blue blue when the words of the speaker at the "Monument of the Unknown Dead" were carried off by the taut breeze that muffled, too, the song of the quartette and the music of the village band. But close in my ears were the chirps of the insects in the bluegrass and the tweet of the robins that hopped about in the branches of the evergreens.

There was one teacher we had who took her work seriously. She is gone now, too, but in those days her eyes flashed vitality and the color came and went in her cheeks as she interpreted our history lessons. She was at her best when she told us of the treachery of Benedict Arnold, the man who thought more of personal ease and comfort than he did of his country at a time when its existence was in jeopardy. How she taught us to hate Benedict Arnold and all that his name stood for!

Yet she was mistaken about there being no more wars. One February day the Chicago papers that did not reach us until noon told about the sinking of the Maine. I can see my older brother as he came home from where he was serving down in the old town. He was a soldier and he had had a hard time of it. In the local militia company he never didn't say anything, but when he got back in the kitchen and put on his boots, but my father kept saying to himself where he kept his grip on the door his discharge papers, he'd been a soldier like a man. I can see him, I wonder how the people who've since moved in and moved out of that old house have used the porch.

It wasn't long of a war, but alone in July he started to ship some of the best of a blue thick, but uniform, dark blue. On the back of the ship they shipped them back on out, and when they had them off the train they were such skeletons we hardly recognized them. At least half had to phylax, some by handiwork had returned six or that died. The unsatisfactory supply proven as disastrous as any other outlet. Our boys' brave as the bravest, were unprepared for the strangeness of war.

My brother didn't come back on a cot, but he came back with the color here for good from his cheeks, and where it had been easy for him to laugh before he now made unsuccessful attempts. And yet he came back uncomplaining. He sat around the house for a day or two. I remember the nights were beginning to get cool right after school, the tomato vines had already been frosted, and the yard was littered with fallen maple leaves. Then he went about it to pick up the threads of life, where they had been broken. No—no country could lick the United States. History had repeated.

And the years passed. I remember going back home once again about Decoration day. The old place had run down a good deal and things had changed; I noticed the gray hair on father's head when he came in from the garden and took off his hat; I noticed mother limp as she nervously pattered about to tidy up the rooms as a tribute to my unexpected arrival. For a long time they had been alone now—just the two of them. I had

South—Mississippi.

"Well," said my father, going over to the sink to wash his hands, "you've come home. When I call upstairs for you now in the mornings I'll get an answer. Mother will tell you I call up there every morning just the same even though I know there's no one there. Maybe you can help me weed my garden, my back's pretty lame from getting down among those onions. And the lawn ought to be mowed. Tomorrow's Decoration day and the parade will be going past here."

"That's something I've missed these last two years," I said. "Do they still keep it going?"

The look that came into their faces.

"Still keep it going?" my mother gasped. "What kind of teaching did you pick up down there?"

"I was all right, mother," I said. "I never heard of anything through Georgia since at all and they did show me how there was a good deal of bunk in 'The Stars and Bars' and there wasn't a whole lot about those Northern people either. I had a lot of fun out on the porch this morning watching the automobiles go by. Most of them were driven by folks you know, our town over in America. The boys—folks you know, but I had out of the kind of 's jump I had a high price. It struck me how you had grabbed along here in the past, putting up with all the hard work, driving 50 miles for four white wash and for the yard and going through all sorts of privation. And now to come to my four corners settled. Two thirds of it by four corners who haven't lost their old country roots, and where's your part of the 'results? Maybe you've given too much thought to your own affairs and the state of the matter of the U. S. A. and the Yankees' line a meeting and all that stuff. It seems to me—"

"My boy," my father began in a tone that told me his fighting blood was up, "if you'd given the best four years of your life fighting for something as we had to fight you'd feel differently about it. Maybe I didn't realize fully what it meant when I went in—I was only eighteen—but I knew what I was fighting for by the time we stopped that charge at Gettysburg. We had 'copperheads' then—folks who said the war was foolish and stayed home to make profit from it. It's all vague to you—you came so long afterward. You can't understand how we old fellows feel when we come across one another wearing the little bronze button, but I wouldn't exchange my little bronze button for all the automobiles in the county."

Yes, there's strangers living in the old house now. They've probably changed things around a lot; it was pretty old-fashioned inside. The last time I went by it I couldn't stand to take any more than just a hurried glance in its direction, but I saw they'd cut down the lilac bushes. Yet I fancy they hang out a flag on the old porch on Decoration day morning. They'd have to; his spirit would make them do it.—Chicago Tribune.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent, it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Catarthal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing must be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of catarrhal deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

The Ford car can well be called the "people's car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it. The party, which is taking the inventory locally, is in charge of F. M. Teal who has had very valuable experience both in practical telephone work and in the appraisal of telephone properties in this and other states.

Mr. Teal states that the inventory for the local plant will be complete about June 1st.

THOUSANDS ARE HELPLESS

BUDGET FOR RELIEF OF NEEDY REVEALS DIRECT HELP IS NECESSARY TO COMMUNITIES.

$10,000,000 REQUIRED TO CONTINUE FOR HUMANITY

Citizens of Nation Meet Appeal for Aiding Unfortunates Through Home Service Fund May 10, 20.

The poor and unfortunate will require aid next year amounting to at least $10,000,000.

This is the amount of the national budget for service to humanity through the Salvation Army. It reveals that even at a time of national prosperity there is want and suffering which would be sadly in evidence if this great relief organization were suddenly to withdraw its ministrations.

Citizens Take Up Cause.

Franklin B. Lane, former secretary of the interior, in President Wilson's cabinet, who is national chairman of the effort to provide the Home Service fund has given the opening signal and the great work of enrolling friends of humanitarian service has started in a big way. Volunteer citizens who are familiar with the Salvation Army to help the poor and unfortunate are everywhere.

The poor and unfortunate will require aid next year amounting to at least $10,000,000.

The name of the fund indicates the purpose for which help is sought. The amount was not determined arbitrarily, but by computing the estimated financial needs of the various districts and corps throughout the United States. The effort of each community, therefore, will be to raise the sum named in its own budget, rather than an arbitrarily fixed portion of the whole $10,000,000, and practically all the money, raised in a given section will be spent there, efficiently and economically.

Thousands Rescued. Out of the great mass of human derelicts—women who have come from homes of culture and luxury—girls who have drifted with the tide for lack of a job, or little youngsters who have been born and reared in sordidness and sorrow—derelicts who have fallen so low that even the underworld scorns them, the Salvation Army has rescued thousands in the United States. Furthermore, more than eighty-five percent of the rescues have proven permanent.

The Salvation Army lassies in many cities saved hundreds from death during the influenza epidemic—went into the homes and cared for the children, cleaned house, brought food and fuel wherever needed.
