MANY DELEGATES PRESENT.

The 80th annual meeting of the Wayne Baptist association, which was held at Pontiac last week, was attended by upwards of 350 delegates the attendance being the largest recorded in many years.

On Wednesday Rev. H. Grimwood, of Northville, spoke on the subject "Genius of the Movement," having particular reference to the New World Movement, the plan of the Northern Baptist convention for church expansion.

The officers chosen for the meeting were Moderator, Rev. H. E. Sayles, Walled Lake, vice-moderator, Rev. H. Grimwood, Northville, secretary, Rev. C. A. Slack, of Novi, young people's superintendent, Rev. Thomas A. Marsh of Pontiac.

Rev. F. A. Brass of Wyom. discussed the subject, "Making Millions Popular," and the evening devotionals were conducted by H. M. Bogart of Novi. Rev. H. E. Sayles preached the associational sermon, taking for his subject "Prayer."

Messages from the churches were read, which showed 111 more churches than in 1919, also the gratifying fact that most of the churches had met their financial allotment to the new world movement, many over the top.

Novi was the banner for his devotion up to the young people's hall Wednesday evening. The association convention meets with the Wayne Baptist convention.

CLARK-HEENEY.

On Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock in Detroit occurred the marriage of Miss Gladys Kathryn Heener daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Heener, to Mr. Eural P. Clark of this village. The young people were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Heener. On Thursday afternoon and evening a reception was tendered the young people at the home of the bride's parents on Main street in this village and the affair was attended by many of the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom. The rooms were tastefully decorated in green and white and hearty congratulations were showered upon the happy couple. A delightful wedding supper was served.

Mr. Clark graduated from the Northville High School with the class of 1916, and, since his graduation has been engaged with his father in business. At the time of the death of J. W. Clark he assumed the active management of the Clark Coal & Ice company and by his energy and courtesy to his patrons has established a profitable business. He is a young man of sterling worth and is worthy of the prize he has won. The bride graduated with the class of 1917 and has been a resident of Northville for a number of years. She possesses a pleasing personality and has many friends among the people of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be at home to their many friends after June 20th. The best wishes of many friends will accompany them upon life's journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Pepper and son of Ypsilanti were week-end guests of their parents, Olen Pepper and wife. Clay is employed by the D. U. R. and it is seldom he can get away from his work for a day.

CHAUTAUQUA NEXT BIG EVENT HERE

With the arrival of Miss Susie Talbot of the Central Community Chautauqua System, organization of the preliminaries for our Community Chautauqua, which will open its five days' program in Northville, is well under way. Advance agents will soon be on the ground, co-operating in every way possible with the local committee. Within a few weeks a banner will be spread across Main street which will leave nobody in doubt as to what is going to happen in Northville from July 25 to August 1, inclusive.

The Chautauqua directors got together the other night and organized with T. R. Carrington as president; Harry M. Bogart, as vice-president; E. E. Brown, as secretary; Ray Van Valkenburg, as treasurer. Mr. Van Valkenburg is chairman of the ticket committee. George Henry of the grounds committee, C. A. Ponsford of the advertising committee and Miss Frances Yerkes of the Junior committee. Local committee is already making provisions for the carrying out of the details in their departments. Mr. Van Valkenburg has allied with him a number of good co-workers on the ticket committee and the early indications are that the sale will equal if not exceed their greatest expectations.

The grounds committee is making preparations for installing seating for hundreds of people.

The ticket committee will soon be on the job full of enthusiasm, to dispose of the tickets, and they are sure to be enthusiastically received, as the program has already attracted much favorable comment. C. A. Ponsford promises something unique in the way of program, window displays and other advertising—something which will give a people who appreciate the best in entertainment to buy their season tickets at the earliest possible moment.

The Junior features of the Chautauqua are in themselves so attractive that it is assumed that the little people will all want to be there. Miss Yerkes has been placed in charge of the ticket sale and the tickets may be obtained at her home very soon.

TO MEET AT WAYNE SATURDAY.

A track and field meet of the four-square league will be held at Wayne on Friday, today, the event will be staged at the driving park in front of the athletic field. The change of date from the original date of the meet has been made necessary by rain.

Four or five teams from the schools of Northville, Plymouth, Dearborn and Wayne will make up the list of contestants to the several events. A large good turnout is being expected. Each of the schools during the morning some interesting sports will be displayed.

During the afternoon a ball game will be played, a team representing the four schools meeting a picked team which has not as yet been named—Wayne Weekly.

CENTER STREET COMPLETED.

The cement work on North Center street in this village was completed last week and as soon as the cement has hardened sufficiently the street will be opened for traffic. The new street makes a handsome addition to Northville's splendid street system and when the surplus dirt and gravel has been removed a section of town can boast a more attractive thoroughfare.

Already property owners are improving the parking area along the street and when the "grass grows green" every resident of the village can point to Center street with a good deal of pride.

A GOOD START MADE.

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association for this school year was held Tuesday evening. While the membership and attendance has never been very large yet a good start has been made in improving the spirit of our High school and a subscription list has been started that promises a fine equipment for gymnasium and playground. Tuesday evening a program of music and pictures was presented and refreshments were served.

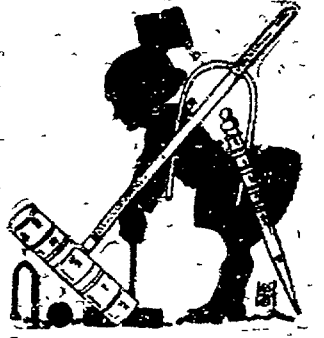

Rev. J. E. Webber and son of Royal Oak were Northville visitors for a short time Monday morning while on their way to Pine Lake to attend a picnic given by the Presbyterian ministers of Detroit.

Sure Relief

Carlsbad Now Karlovy Vary

Scene in Karlovy Vary.

WHEN EUROPE'S best advertised health resort awoke one morning to find its postoffice changed from Carlsbad, Austria, to Karlovy Vary, Czechoslovakia, the mental shock to the German inhabitants must have been somewhat like the occasional explosion of its hidden wells, from which its famous mineral waters come, says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society.

Though it is located in Bohemia, the Czechs had introduced afternoon tea and the American had made tea popular, but the 17,000 permanent residents, who remained in Carlsbad after the annual influx of some 70,000 visitors were essentially German, and Karlovy Vary remains so, according to the press reports.

Once it is easy to understand how the island of Germans under Czech rule, approached a political home front. Disputes told of open display of Emperor Franz Joseph's portrait and of the refusal of the native sons to live by means of the salt waters and salt derivatives, to call Carlsbad by any other name.

Discovered by Charles IV, the Bohemian king, and the inhabitants preferred to believe that Emperor Charles IV discovered the healing power of the waters that bubbled through the vents of the mountain. The waters bubbled down over a rocky floor, then far beneath the surface.

Along this vast subterranean lake of mineral water and hissing steam a river, the Tepel, flows to the town, a narrow valley where steep cliffs and high mountains rise and descend. Among these some physicians believe the waters possess the power to cure.

It is believed that the waters of the river that the underground streams flow to the crest at numerous points, and from the waters used for bathing and drinking by those who could afford to do so, and who bottled or bottled down by the millions of gallons, for its salt and soda content, and shipped to all quarters of the globe.

During the season at pre-war Carlsbad the number of the numerous hotels and restaurants, and the number of the springs, and from an airplane Carlsbad might resemble a field of observatories.

But to linger too long among the springs of Carlsbad is to miss its history. Here there is a grim sort of patriotism. For it was here, just 100 years ago last August, that Metternich plotted to clamp down the lid upon free speech, free press, and untrammeled teaching in the German states.

Origin of the "Carlsbad Decrees." There were signs that liberal agitation among Germans was reaching the boiling point. Autocracy was threatened. Prince Metternich of Austria arranged to have sympathetic representation from Austria, Prussia, and seven other states of the German confederation at Carlsbad, and then called them together in a hurry, under pretext of need for summary action.

While the rest of this Metternichian policy of repression is modified by the modern idea of providing safety valves through which rise the springs.

Carlsbad the mineral waters was the principal industry, but not the only one of Carlsbad. In the vicinity were granite works, and the shop of the glass and the Bohemian glass and beautiful makers of many kinds, representing the Czech handicraft.

MOURN OVER LOST CHANCES

Few Who Do Not Claim to Have Had Great Opportunities, and Lost Them.

In an article in People's Magazine August 1914, it is a millions of dollars' worth of life is running to waste.

"I'd rather have the idea I failed to follow up than the ones I made my money out of."

It was said to be by a man who ranks among the great in the country and who is credited, among his associates, with almost supernatural wisdom in evolving ideas and seeing their possibilities.

"Every man has a lot of more big chances to get to the top," he continued. "If you don't get them, just get into any crowd. They will tell you of an opportunity that you had, and overlooked it. Listen to them. Chances are every one of them will have a better story of lost opportunity than you could get out of ten of them who had a wonderful story of how some other man made their great ideas and got rich or famous from them. Listen to their stories and you will find in the majority of cases that the man who claims to have originated the idea did not do it at all, that he saw the possibilities of it, or that even if he did, he was not rich or famous or back of the influence to do it."

There are more chances for men to get rich now than there ever was before in the history of the world and more big chances being overlooked. Whether it is because men lack faith in themselves or because they prefer a happy-go-lucky life, or because they are too busy to do it, I don't know. They seem to think a man must be a super-genius or a great inventor.

I remember that he had a reputation as an originator, as an inventor and genius, in addition to being a successful organizer.

Bunk," he asserted. "I do not claim to have originated anything. My success has been due to seeing the possibilities of an idea and working out the details so as to apply the idea to practical business. Probably a thousand men I ought of the same things I did when I was born, and I did not develop them. Some of my most successful ideas probably were talked over and dreamed over by hundreds who failed to work them out practically."

Insect Idiot.
"Scientists tell us that when a grasshopper catapults his corporate self into space by the propulsive power of his blinged hopping poles he has no idea where he is going to light. It may be in the lake or the brush fire or the kerosene can or the pany bed; it is all the same to him." Examine his countenance. He looks the perfect fool: At the top of the head two bulging eyes as expressive as the eye of a dead carp; and below this is a nose like a wooden plowshare. This is all. There is no forehead, no brain and no room for one. The grasshopper, we find, is an insect idiot. The best he ever did was to keep out from under the foot of his betters.—Minneapolis Journal.

CROSSED WIRES

By CORONA REMINGTON.

(Copyright, 1914, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

No one had ever loved as deeply as those two—James Wilcox and Constance Helms. They looked into each others' eyes in rapture and for the fourth time that evening made the same remark—with slight variations.

"No one, dearest, no one on earth has ever felt it as we have," he told her. "I'm sure we have not only known each other all our lives, but from the beginning of time—clear back to the first day."

"And it shall be this way to the end of time," she sighed softly into his ear.

After a long and tender parting kiss, almost sad because it was the last, he left her, never to return, they both knew—until the morrow.

And thus the days sped by and were as minutes to the adoring couple who were totally unconscious of the world about them. At last one bright Sunday in June Constance said casually:

"Jimmy, darling, my sister Aggie the one you've never seen, came home from college last night. She's out now, but I want you to stay to dinner and meet her."

"Sure I will," he replied. "But what do I care about sister Aggie? She'll only try to monopolize my very ownest." He kissed her again.

Later they were summoned to the dining room and James was introduced to Aggie. He took his eyes off Constance long enough to glance at the newcomer while being presented when suddenly his knees shook beneath him and he thanked heaven when he was safely seated. Aggie was exactly like Constance—only more so, and she had a good many things Constance lacked, too. Constance's eyes were wonderful, too. Aggie's were more wonderful. Constance's nose was pretty, Aggie's beautiful; and so it went.

When he awakened from the first shock of a feeling of unspeakable remorse came over him. As soon as he decently could he got up, mumbling some excuse about a business engagement.

"And that night as he tossed and turned it was Aggie's picture that kept coming at him in the darkness and close to him. In a panic he would close his eyes to try to shut out the vision, but always it was there. And the next day it was to bring Constance over to the dinner with his family! She would be sure to notice the change in him—the whole world would see it—it was impossible to get out of it.

At dinner the following evening after he had introduced his father and brother to Constance, his mother having already met her, he broke the news of his latest trip.

"Hurry, you'll have to take your coat and look after her while I'm gone. I've brought tickets to the Southern Pines Club. You must take her and think of me when you do it, old chap," he said with heartfelt urgency.

Reaching home at night he went straight to his room and dropped into a chair, a mass of bewildered introspection. Ages later he was gawking at his brother's picture beside him in his smoking jacket.

"That thing's a beauty, eh?" was James' only greeting as he played at the revolving gramophone, including the occupant, in his little store. Harry made no comment, but switched off the light.

"What the deuce did you do that for?" roared his brother.

"Because I want to tell you something, and I have to say it in the dark."

"Hurry up then, do," he growled in reply.

"James I swear I did it, I swear I did it," Harry began in a frenzy.

"Hil who, you mean? Are you deaf?"

"And it until Conny broke out crying last night and confessed she didn't love you any more."

"What?" gasped James in a hiss of surprise.

"Yes," Harry continued, "and when she had made it perfectly plain and realized it was all up between you, I simply couldn't keep it in any more."

Speechless, James jumped out of the chair and blundered toward the door in the dark.

"Wait. Where are you going?" called Harry. "You won't do anything to Conny—would you?"

"Conny, nothing!" answered James. "I'm going to make an appointment with Aggie. She's more like Conny than Conny herself is, but how the devil did Cupid ever get his wires crossed like that?"

Argentines Have Sweet Tooth.
According to the third national census there were in June, 1914, 299 factories in Argentina manufacturing chocolates, baboons and candies and sweets in general. The invested capital at that time was equivalent to $4,679,173 United States currency, and the production in 1913 was valued at $8,733,669.

Although statistics are lacking this industry undoubtedly increased its production considerably during the war in proportion to its ability to secure raw materials. Some of the local product is very high class. Labor and other costs have not increased in Argentina to the extent that they have in the United States, and it is believed that this country does not offer a very hopeful market to American exporters of confectionery.

ITCH!

A WAR-TIME ILL THAT'S SPREADING HUNT'S SALVE CURES IT!

BRED in the war trenches of Europe, a wave of ordinary ITCH is spreading over the country. This skin disease, history shows, has always prevailed following wars and the concentration of armies. It was common during the Civil War and following that conflict. There was an epidemic of the Itch after the Spanish-American War. Now history is repeating itself after the great European struggle.

Returned soldiers and those with whom they come in contact will find a recognized remedy for the Itch in Hunt's Salve, commonly known as "Hunt's Itch Cure."

Many a veteran of the late '90's will testify to its merits. If directions are followed HUNT'S SALVE will prove a never failing cure for all forms of the Itch, and your druggist will tell you so. He calls HUNT'S SALVE under a strict guarantee to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied user.

A Medford, Oklahoma man, among thousands who praise HUNT'S SALVE, says:

"Some people dislike to call it the Itch, but candor compels me to admit, I had it badly. Your Hunt's Salve, however, cured me after many other remedies had totally failed. One box completed the cure—the first application afforded wonderful relief. My advice to those who have to scratch, is to use Hunt's Salve."

Hunt's Salve is especially compounded for the treatment of Itch, Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter and other itching skin diseases and is sold on our guarantee by all reliable drug stores, or it will be sent direct by mail if your local druggist cannot supply. Price 25c per box.

KEEPS FLY PAPER IN PLACE! WOULD MAKE AN EXCEPTION

Device That Will Be Appreciated by Anyone Who Has Sat on the Abomination.

A New Jersey man has invented a device to keep fly-paper in one position and from being blown by the wind on to father's favorite chair or mother's most treasured lace curtains. It consists of a frame having grooves at each end to permit the insertion of the sheet of fly paper. A narrow strip of wood is forced down into the groove over the paper to hold it fast. At the lower end of the frame three grooves are located for holding one of any variations in the lengths of the fly paper.

When the fly-paper is in its frame it may be placed up in any convenient place, and will be so conspicuous as to be readily seen before being hit upon. In addition to being useful as a holder for fly paper, the device can be used as an embroidery frame or as a stretcher for cloth or paper—Popular Science Monthly.

Powerful Subs.
The submarines of the English "K" class are said to be the fastest and most powerful submarines afloat in the world. They are propelled on the surface by six turbines at a speed of 21 knots which is about eight knots faster than the speed of ordinary submarines. They are 340 feet long, and displace 2,500 tons. These boats have unusually long periscopes, measuring 50 feet from top to bottom. Their funnels are made to hinge back before the boat dives.

GAVE SPLENDID ADDRESS.

The meeting of the Ladies' Union of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon was of more than ordinary interest, in view of the fact that Rev. W. R. Rutledge, pastor of St. Johns Presbyterian church of Detroit, was present and gave an interesting address, his subject being "The Negro, His Place in the Community." He told of many of the obstacles the Negro race has had to contend with, emphasizing the handicap that was placed upon his people by slavery, by poverty, and even by the freedom that was given them, because they were given their citizenship without education. Education among the negroes was the one essential thing needed for their progress and development, and he cited numerous instances to impress this great truth upon his hearers. The negro's place in the community was one of service and with proper education among the negro population of our country he contended many of the perplexing problems of today would be solved. Rev. Rutledge was accompanied to Northville by Mrs. Hays, who sang a number of selections, and her singing delighted all who were fortunate enough to hear her.

Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

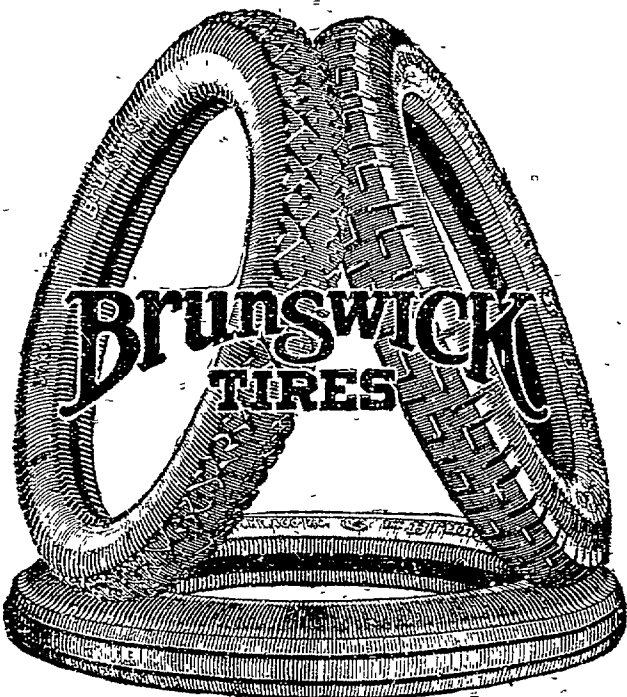

There are two main reasons—one, the name itself, which certifies superfine value—the other, that time tells the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect—and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires—longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

AUTO LICENSES HIT HIGH MARK.

During the first five months of this year 22,500 more motor vehicle licenses have been issued than during the entire year 1919, according to a compilation made today by F. D. Fitzgerald, deputy secretary of state. Up to June 1 347,913 motor vehicles have been licensed, as against 325,813 in 1919. License fees collected during the last five months amount to $4,883,000 as against $3,522,000 during 1919. Licenses are being issued at the rate of 1,000 a day, and it is estimated that 400,000 motor vehicles will be in operation in the state before the end of the year.

MICHIGAN BEEF MEN PLAN ORGANIZATION.

Michigan stockmen will gather at East Lansing on Tuesday, June 15 for the purpose of considering ways and means of providing better marketing facilities for the meat products of the state. The organization of a strictly Michigan beef growers' association is a possibility at the meeting which is being called by George B. Smith of Addison, secretary of the Michigan Beef Growers' Association.

The need for better and more direct marketing facilities has long been felt by Michigan stockmen, many of whom are tired of paying freights to Chicago and other distant markets on their animals. In many cases stock thus shipped out of the state to the market are returned to Michigan cities as dressed meat, thus adding a big freight tax to the consumer and lowering the price to the producer. An effort to develop adequate markets within the state in order to stop these "cross freights" will be made at the East Lansing meeting, which is to be held in the Agricultural Building at M. A. C.

Stockmen from all over the state are expected to attend the conference many of them planning to couple up the business of the meeting with some of the entertainment of Commencement Week at the college. A great historical pageant, in which more than 500 college men and women will take part, will be given on the campus Monday night, June 14, and other features will follow on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dorr Buel, market manager for the State Farm Bureau, Hale Tennant, marketing expert at the agricultural college; H. R. Smith, Commissioner Chicago Live Stock Exchange, and others are expected to address the stockmen's meeting. College steers, which are being talked of as possibilities for the next international livestock show at Chicago, will also be looked over by the beef growers.

CHARGES FRAUD.

He said there were 15 districts in which ballots were missing.

NEW TRIAL FOR ROBERT GARNER.

Father County Road Commissioner Robert Garner has been granted a new trial on charge of a serious nature on which he was convicted in Judge Rockwell's court last September and for which he was sentenced to from two and a half to five years in Jackson prison.

The Garner case was reversed yesterday in an opinion handed down by the supreme court.

Announcement is made today by Prosecutor Glenn T. Gillespie that no trial will be lost in giving the former county official a new trial and that his case will probably be reached the latter part of next week. Garner had been out on bail pending the outcome of his appeal.

A copy of the opinion of the appellate court has not yet been received by the prosecuting attorney and attorneys for Garner did not know on what points the higher court has granted the new trial. Several points were raised by the defense, any one of which they were confident would result in a new trial. Garner was represented by Attorneys C. S. Mattheus, Clinton McGee and Frank L. Doty.

Garner was convicted of a serious offense against Virginia Stockwell, a 15-year-old girl, whose testimony showed he permitted to remain at night for a week at his home in the Garner apartments on Oakland avenue. Grace Strong, another girl of the same age, was the Stockwell girl's companion. Gus Larson, Pontiac man, is serving time in Jackson prison, having pleaded guilty to an offense against the Stockwell girl. Larson was used as a witness against Garner.—Pontiac Press.

IF

A better grade of Furniture and Floor Coverings could be secured than we are showing we would purchase them, for we have always endeavored to offer our customers GOOD goods, but not cheap goods.

IF

We could sell GOOD Furniture and Floor Coverings for less money than we are offering our present splendid assortment we would gladly do so. If you will compare our prices with those of other dealers, you will be more than pleased.

IF

You need anything in FURNITURE or FLOOR COVERINGS you will do well to make your selections now. If people realized the trials we have experienced in keeping our stock up to its present proportions they would not delay their purchases.

Groceries, Meat Market and General Merchandise

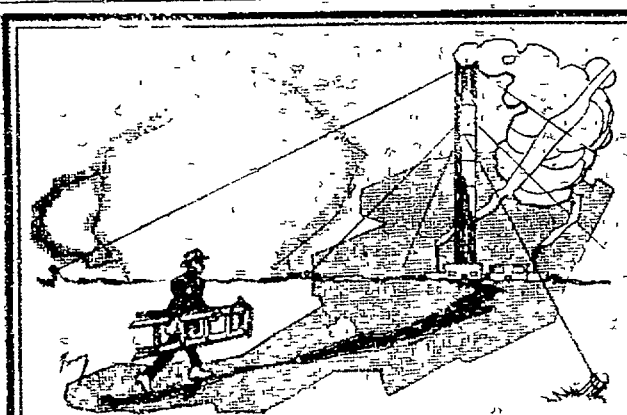

Dear Friends—

Jeff Pollock's mule acted strange this morning when he started to drive him around town—he kept switching and wiggling his tail and ears. There being no flies around, Jeff went and hunted up Constable Lyke and on investigation, he discovered the mule had been drinking out of Doc Schuyler's rain barrel which assayed 275 wigglers.

Well, I am here with the goods. I have a large lot of good things to sell. I still have 2 of 3 kinds of barrel fish, will sell at 12 cents per lb. Also lots of pickled pigs feet, and salt pork, pickled bacon strips, smoked hams, bacon and picnics, Bologna, franks, pork sausage, and luncheon meats. Have one of the best real calves bought of G. C. Benton. One of the full milk kind covered with fat. One of Wilson Prince corn-fed steers. This is beef, not old, thin, black, tasteless stuff that some are selling for more money than I ask for this.

Do not forget I am running a meat market as well as a grocery store. You will never get spoiled meat here, because I do not have any. Also remember the coffee and tea—the BEST there is in any sized package. Rolled Oats in bulk or package—canned goods, the best. Lots of bananas, oranges, lemons, and more candy than anybody. Come and buy. Your credit is good.

Something That is Impossible

You know it is impossible to climb a tall stack with a short step ladder. The ladder must reach to the top.

WE MUST HAVE YOUR SUPPORT
IF YOU ARE TO HAVE THE TELEPHONE

It is just the same with your telephone company. Our ladder, which is our income, is far too short to enable us to climb to the top of the growing stack of expense. If receipts do not cover the cost of service to you what must you expect? The ladder does not reach, for service is being maintained at a loss.

Costs of labor and equipment have jumped all the way from 40 to 200 per cent above what they were only five years ago and are still going up. Growth of income has not measured up to the increase of expense.

MICHIGAN STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

MANY ROOMS BOOMING.

A Chicago dispatch states that booms and aspirants for nominations for state officials have been brought to the city by the Michigan republican for attention along with the main purpose of selecting a national standard bearer. Michigan party men are here in considerable numbers and state politics are receiving their fair share of the talk on hotel corridors and headquarters.

One new suggestion for governor is that of C. S. Mott, one of the big industrial men of Flint, whose only part in politics thus far has been to serve as mayor of his city. Milo D. Campbell, of Coldwater, spends considerable time in state headquarters greeting callers, while Dick Fletcher, labor commissioner, expounds to everyone his reasons why he is Cocksure Lieutenant Governor Loren D. Dickinson will be the nominee for governor.

Friends of Frank Leland, Horatio S. Earle and Frederick C. Martindale are also present. One story is that Martindale will withdraw if Mr. Mott enters the running; another is that Martindale has been getting more enthusiastic support in Wayne county, during the past 10 days, than his most hearty boosters anticipated.

Attorney General Groesbeck is due here Tuesday, and his friends say he is ready with his definite announcement of his candidacy for governor. State headquarters and the nearby corridor was agog over a bet placed, and the money up, which backed Groesbeck to win the nomination $200 to $100 on the field.

Highway Commissioner for Northville Township.

OBITUARY—CHAUNCEY S. MEAD.

After an illness covering several months, Chauncey S. Mead died at his home in this village last week Tuesday, aged 74 years and seven months. Last winter while employed as watchman at the Ford plant in this village, he suffered a stroke but for the timely arrival of a fellow-watchman he would have perished in the snow. He was taken to his home and tenderly cared for but the kind ministrations of his devoted wife and neighbors failed to restore him to health.

The deceased was born in Niagara county, New York, October 16th, 1845, and came to Michigan with his parents when a boy. At the age of 18 he volunteered to serve his country in the great Civil war and on the 6th day of August, 1863, was enrolled in Company M, Ninth Michigan cavalry, and served until July 21st, 1865, when he received his honorable discharge.

On March 23rd, 1898, he was united in marriage to Caroline S. Joslin, who survives him. Besides his wife he leaves two sisters who reside in California, and he also has two nieces and two nephews besides numerous other relatives.

Funeral services were held last Friday afternoon at his late home, and were attended by members of the G. A. R. and many other friends. Rev. E. V. Belles had charge of the services. Interment took place at Plymouth.

OBITUARY—WILLIAM E. ERWIN.

The many friends and acquaintances of William E. Erwin in this section were deeply saddened Sunday morning when it became known that he had passed to the great beyond after a very brief illness, death coming so suddenly that members of his family scarcely realized his condition. By his death a kindly hearted man and a genial friend and neighbor has passed from life's activities, and there are many in this community who feel they have suffered a distinct personal loss.

The deceased was born December 15th, 1855, in Southfield township, Oakland county, and thus his whole life was spent in this section of the state. On February 18th, 1889, he was united in marriage to Augusta Coleman, the devoted wife who survives him, and to this union three children were born—Mrs. Charles McLaren of Salem, Mrs. A. L. Hill and James N. Erwin of Novi. He is also survived by three sisters, two brothers and three grand-children.

Soon after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Erwin settled on the farm now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gow, where they resided for a period of 36 years. During his long residence in Novi, Mr. Erwin held numerous offices and was prominent in the affairs of his township, maintaining to the last the confidence and esteem of his neighbors and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin moved to Northville to reside about four years ago.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Tuesday afternoon and burial took place in Rural Hill cemetery.

RURAL MINISTERS TO HOLD BIG CONFERENCE.

Rural ministers from all parts of the state will gather in East Lansing from July 6 to 16 for the Sixth Annual Conference of pastors and laymen, which is to be held in connection with the summer session of the Michigan Agricultural college. More than twenty-five special lecturers are scheduled to address the conference, many of them being nationally known educators. Among these will be Dr. Warren H. Wilson of New York City, Church and Country Life directors, Bishop T. S. Henderson of Detroit, Prof. C. H. Voelblum of Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. E. A. Ross, Professor of Sociology at the University of Wisconsin; and Mr. Ralph Felton, Department of Rural Work, New York City.

Women who attend the conference will have meetings of their own, presided over by members of the Home Economics faculty at the college, while many features of entertainment are being arranged.

Recreational work under the direction of the Department of Physical Training at M. A. C. will be mixed in with the "mental exercises" of the conference.

Other special conferences to be held during the college summer term, which runs from June 21 to July 30 this year, will include a conference for teachers of Household Art and Domestic Science, June 29 to July 2, a school of instruction for women in political organization, June 29 to July 2; the Fifth Annual Conference for leaders of Boys' and Girls' Clubs, July 6 to 9, and special meetings for science teachers and teachers of agriculture.

MILFORD—The village sewer system was given emphatic support at the special election Monday, a majority of 28 being given. There were 460 votes cast, and it was due mainly to the energetic efforts of the ladies that this result was obtained.

ANTICIPATION!

Is like counting your chickens before they are hatched. For the time being it makes you feel good to think what you are going to do if a certain thing happens.

It's the reverse in "The Loan" though, for frequently in settling up with a stockholder we hear him say "That's more than I figured on."

Actual Results Greater than Anticipated.

DE-LIGHTED: YES.

Again the wets are doomed to disappointment. The Supreme Court has declared both the federal prohibition amendment and the enforcement act passed by congress, are constitutional. The decision was reached in the cases brought by the state of New Jersey to prevent the enforcement of prohibition within the state. Old John Barleycorn lived to a ripe old age and his last hours have been a great struggle, but he has finally been "put to sleep" by our highest courts.
