NORTHVILLE'S ANNUAL FAIR FOR NEXT WEEK

If weather conditions are favorable the fourth annual fair of the Northville Wayne County Association, which will be held in this village on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, will eclipse all previous efforts. Many new features have been added to the program of entertainment not seen here at former fairs and which give promise of being of more than ordinary interest.

On Wednesday, in addition to receiving the entries in the several departments, will occur the annual Better Baby contest, and if one may judge by the interest now being manifested, this feature will be one of the big events of the fair. There is a class for about every baby from one year and under to three years and under and competent judges and assistants will be present to award the prizes. For this event many special prizes are being offered and Mrs. Flora Larkins, the very able and efficient superintendent, assures The Record there will be a large number of babies entered in the three classes. In the afternoon there will be a ball game between Holly and Wayne and a fireworks display in the evening. The new dancing pavilion will be opened on Wednesday and it is expected that added feature will provide amusement for all who enjoy dancing.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon there will be racing in the afternoon and a good lot of fast sleepers are expected to take part in the several events. On Thursday there will be two races, a 2:30 pace and a 2:50 trot. On Friday there will be three races, a 2:30 pace, a 2:15 pace and a trot race, and on Saturday there will be a 2:30 pace and a free-for-all, and it is believed there will be a long field in this last event.

On Thursday, between the Plymouth Bucks and the Green Creamery teams will contest on local ball grounds and in addition to the races there will be numerous free attractions on the platform opposite the grand stand. Friday's half gram will be between the two winning teams of the two previous days and the fans may expect a great contest. Programs will be awarded during the day by the judges in the various departments, and there will be free free attractions and a fireworks display in the evening.

On Friday, the special feature will be the 1/2 mile race. The Detroit Shrimps, the winners of the 1/2 mile race, will contest with the Northville team. The Detroit Shrimps, who won the 1/2 mile race, will contest with the Northville team. The Detroit Shrimps, who won the 1/2 mile race, will contest with the Northville team.

Dancing will be provided each evening of the fair beginning Wednesday night. The village band is on duty and will play late drops on the 100 feet of the fair and on one day the celebrated King, who thrilled the crowds last year by his wonderful flights will make a triple drop using three parachutes, one after the other.

There will be no motorcycle races and numerous other attractions for the entertainment of the crowds.

Just remember, this is your fair. It is not planned or presented for the benefit of any individual or company of individuals, but is given solely for the benefit of the people of this section of the state.

The poultry and live stock exhibits will exceed those of any year and the fair department will be a most interesting feature to the boys and girls of the Wayne county.

HARRY MORRIS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Early Thursday morning as an employee of the D. U. R. was driving from his home in Novi to Farmington, he discovered a Ford car in the ditch by the side of the highway at a point near the gravel pit on Grand River avenue. Upon investigating he discovered the lifeless body of a man pinned underneath the car. Securing assistance the car was lifted and the discovery was made that the victim of the accident was Harry Morris of this village. The news of the sad affair was telephoned to this village and as it spread about the village people gathered in groups to inquire the particulars. The news was a terrible shock to Mr. Morris' friends and acquaintances here and it could scarcely be believed at first.

In company with General Poulton Morris left Northville Wednesday night after his days work in C. R. Horton's drug store and drove to Novi in Mr. Morris' car. The young man's ported company at Novi later in the evening, Mr. Poulton returning to Northville and Mr. Morris starting for Detroit. Just how the accident occurred will, doubtless, never be known.

Harry Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris of this village and he was married to a Miss George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George, of Detroit. He was a very capable and competent employee of the Horton drug store.

His funeral will be held at 10 o'clock on Friday morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris, of this village. Burial will be in the Northville cemetery.

NEXT WEEK'S RACES.

There will be three days of racing at the Northville Fair next week and the program would scarcely be complete without the presence of the King of the Plains. He is expected to be present. There will be a contest on Thursday between the two winning teams of the two previous days and the fans may expect a great contest. Programs will be awarded during the day by the judges in the various departments, and there will be free free attractions and a fireworks display in the evening.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The King's Daughters held a most enjoyable meeting at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening with about 100 ladies in attendance. The affair was the September banquet and it was planned as a birthday party, each guest being requested to bring as many pennies as their age was represented by coins and as a result of this plan the treasury was filled with something for the special occasion. The banquet was the most successful one yet held and the ladies gave an interesting and enjoyable evening. The King's Daughters are a most interesting organization and their recent success is a credit to them.

For Cleaning a Basin.
To clean a basin or bathtub put a little coarse salt into the dampened tub or basin, and then rub it over lightly with a cloth dipped in turpentine.

He knew that it was just one more scheme of the politicians to make a job for some feller that ought to be doing honest work, and that it was another plan to increase taxes. She contrived, however, to have him stop long enough one day to talk things over with the children. At first pop was anything but cordial, but began to get interested when the agent told him he knew a farmer who would be glad to pay him $50 more than the local buyer had offered for a little bunch of shoats and another man who was looking for just such a pair of yearling mules as he had, to put with a bunch he was feeding for market.

nection with the by-laws recommended by the department's specialists a classification of risks has been prepared which has received the indorsement of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies. Already several companies have adopted this classification. A set of by-laws prepared by the department for one of the more progressive farmers' mutual windstorm insurance companies is now recognized as a model among leading men in this particular field of agricultural insurance. A simple system of records for farmers' mutual insurance companies prepared by the department within recent months is already being used by seven concerns and more than a score of other companies indicate by correspondence that they are contemplating adopting this system of records.

Mushroom Catsup.—Gather the fresh mushrooms and pack in alternating layers of mushrooms and salt in a stone jar. Let stand for twenty-four hours. Chop fine, stir and mix well, and let stand for two more days, then drain. Place the strained liquid in a kettle and bring to the boiling point and cook for three minutes. To every four cupfuls of the liquid add one cupful of strong cider vinegar, one tablespoonful of cayenne pepper, three of allspice, two of ginger, one of cloves and one-half of mace. Boil until reduced to half the amount, then bottle in sterilized bottles while hot. Cork and seal the bottle with paraffin.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY OCT. 3.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation designating October 3 as Fire Prevention Day. The proclamation, which calls attention to the fact that preventable fires annually cause the death of 15,000 men, women and children and entail a property loss of some $250,000,000, asks governors of the several states to call on the people for a general observation of Fire Prevention Day.

HUGER GIRL ASKS TO BE TAKEN HOME.

Detective John O'Keefe of the Detroit force, left for Buffalo Tuesday night to bring back Mark Risner, 22 years old, of Plymouth, who disappeared with Marguerite Huger, 14 years old, August 14. A warrant was issued for Risner's arrest Tuesday on the charge of kidnapping. The couple were located when the girl wrote a letter to her mother stating she was sorry she ran away and asked forgiveness. Detective O'Keefe will also bring Miss Huger back.

THE GAME OF HEALTH-MAKING.

Making health a game is an idea that is less than three years has so spread over the United States that at the present time more than six million American children are playing it. This game is so fascinating that it has actually induced millions of small boys to wash behind their ears, do so voluntarily and to brush their teeth, keep their hands clean, and do a great many other disagreeable things that at one time were taboo to the average boy.

The new national game is known as the Modern Health Crusade and is being played all over the United States. The movement is being rapidly spread in Michigan during the school year that has just opened. It will be pushed vigorously in the Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis Association now has a director of crusade work in the person of Mrs. M. L. Rogers, who will co-ordinate the work of thousands of children.

Of the six million children in the United States, the number in Michigan is getting up to a hundred thousand, and there are many hundreds of thousands of people in this state there is a chance for large addition of recruits.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES.

An Owosso dispatch says: Figures compiled by the Ann Arbor road show to what extent people will take chances at crossing railroad tracks. The statistics show that 90 per cent of all those crossing the tracks either stopped, slowed down or looked in effect, direct or indirect, whether or not a train was approaching.

The figures were gathered in Toledo, Owosso, Tipton, Alma, Shepley and Cadillac and are therefore representative of drivers of vehicles in nearly all sized cities. In the seven-day period ending on August 20 the following vehicles crossed the company tracks at certain crossings in the towns named: automobiles 39,418; trucks, 10,948; horse drawn vehicles, 7,761, or a total of 48,227. They carried an aggregate of 74,399 persons or an average of 1.54 persons to a vehicle. The action taken by the drivers while approaching or crossing the tracks was as follows: stopped 1,521, or 31 per cent; slowed down, 2,945, or 42 per cent; looked one direction, 1,829, or 38 per cent; looked both directions 1,338, or 27 per cent; total 5,732 or 13.8 per cent; took no action, 41,495, or 86.2 per cent.

The company officials ask the question: "Under these circumstances is it any wonder that there are so many accidents at railroad crossings? (Can't something be done to awaken drivers of vehicles to a realization of the great danger that exists in passing over railroad crossings without care? On the Ann Arbor road, outside of cities and towns whitewashed fences indicate crossings to drivers, but not more than 10 or 15 per cent use the care required. The record above shows that in one week, the lives of 65,000 people were in jeopardy through the indifference of the drivers of vehicles.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

"Again it is written." This is the text and the subject for the Sunday morning sermon at 10:30 o'clock. The words also make a splendid motto to write on the flyleaf of your bible, and a good slogan as you meet those who have itching ears and are heaping to themselves teachers after their own lusts. What do the words mean to you?

The Sunday school meets at 12:00 o'clock. It is well worth your while, whether you are young or old, to spend this hour in bible study.

Evening service at 7:30. Sermon subject, "Extraordinary Use for Ordinary Things."

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

Services next Sunday, September 26th, both morning and evening. Morning service at 10:30. Bible school at 11:45. Evening service at 7:30. Mid-week prayer service, Thursday, at 7:30.

In the morning the topic of the sermon will be, "Your Sanctification." This is a theme vital to every believer. Come and hear the truth about it.

In the evening the sermon will deal with the question: "What if the Churches Quit and Die?" A sermon suggested by the selfish and guilty indifference of the present generation. Every non-churchgoer in the town is respectfully requested to attend.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The total enrollment in the grades is 121, of which 79 are boys.

Millard's fair 1st year was a decided success. There will be a surplus of about $1,000 after all expenses are paid.

WELL KNOWN PLYMOUTH LADY DIES.

Mrs. George Taylor of this village, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sarah Bullard, at South Lyon, last week Thursday evening, September 9th. Mrs. Taylor had gone to the home of her sister on the Sunday previous for a visit, and up until Wednesday afternoon had been feeling unusually well, although she had been in very poor health for some time.

For many years, Mrs. Taylor had been actively engaged with her husband in the bakery business here, and by her kindly disposition and pleasant manner had won for herself a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was a woman who found great pleasure in doing little acts of kindness for others, and it was with regret that the whole community received the sad news of her death.

The funeral services were held from the Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon, at five o'clock. Rev. S. Conger Hathaway officiating, with the interment in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville. The many beautiful floral offerings bore mute evidence of the love and esteem of relatives and friends.

Leda Elizabeth Cork was born at Niles, Mich., December 22, 1868. She was married to George A. Taylor, March 1, 1897, who with one daughter, Mrs. Hazel Taylor, survive her. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Mary Vanhook of Bentley, Mich.; Mrs. Sarah Bullard of South Lyon; Miss Tillie Cork of Plymouth and one brother, George Cork of South Lyon. Plymouth Mail.

To illustrate: The 71st series matured in 563 weeks, which means that a person paying in $1.00 a week paid in $563 and drew out $800, receiving as interest, the difference, or $237, being an average rate of nearly eight per cent.

If a person had, 563 weeks ago, taken $563 and deposited it in an institution that paid 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, what would it amount to? About $863.

The person in the Association started with nothing, added a dollar a week to that and is now only $63 behind the one who started with a small fortune, while if it had been an even start the one with the Association would now be so far ahead that only the wireless could catch him. NATIONWIDE FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE

American Red Cross Will Have Health Centers in All Parts of United States.

The American Red Cross has launched upon a nation-wide campaign of fighting disease and physical defect among the American people. A new and unique health institution has come into being as the result of several months' study by the Red Cross Health Service Department at National Headquarters.

Officials in charge of the department predict that before long this new health activity will be in actual operation all over the country, and that the sign—"American Red Cross Health Center"—will become as familiar to the people everywhere as are now the signs of the telephone companies.

Busy Long Before War.

The interest of the American Red Cross in the fight against disease is not, however, of recent origin. Long before the war the organization began this health service through its medical units in disaster relief work and its department of Town and Country Nursing. During the war, and following the armistice, thousands of American Red Cross officials have been fighting disease in the war-stricken countries. At the same time tens of thousands of local Red Cross officials have been engaged at home fighting disease, notably during the influenza epidemics.

The American Red Cross has determined that all this valuable experience in health service abroad and at home shall not go to waste. So long as there are a half a million people dying yearly in this country from preventable causes, and so long as more than one-third of the American children and young people are victims of physical defects, the Red Cross recognizes the urgent need for continued Red Cross health service at home.

How Organization Works.

The Red Cross Health Center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a store in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its shop window. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross Health Center is of service to the community in that it gives out reliable and complete information about existing diseases, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the details about available nurses, both paid and practical, about when to call a physician and how to shun the quack and his impostors.

Teaching Disease Prevention.

The Red Cross Health Center is, however, of even greater service to the well. It teaches people how to prevent disease and disease. This is done in many interesting and attractive ways—first of all, by the distribution of popular health literature and through health lectures illustrated with lantern slides or with health motion picture films. Then practical exhibits are given, one after the other, on various health subjects. Practical demonstrations are made, also health playlets by children to interest and instruct themselves and their elders. Classes are organized in personal hygiene, home care of the sick, first aid and in food selection and preparation. Health clubs, both for younger and older people, are formed; also Little Mothers Leagues. Nutrition and growth classes are conducted for children.

Already more than a hundred of these Red Cross Health Centers are in actual operation throughout the country. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross Health Center is its health education service which teaches well people how to keep well.

FRENCH PRAISE FOR OUR RED CROSS WORK

Leading the work accomplished by American philanthropy for war-stricken France, Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner from that nation to the United States, in a recent article widely commented on throughout the French press, says:

"The American Red Cross has accomplished a work which calls for the heartfelt gratitude of every true Frenchman. In 1918 this great relief organization spent in behalf of France nearly $7,000,000 francs, and in 1919 its expenditures on charitable projects in our country attained the tremendous total of 171,000,000. It has recently turned over to the French relief organizations huge stocks of supplies whose value must be counted in the hundreds of thousands of francs.

"Fifteen million American boys and girls, banded together in the Junior Red Cross of America, are back of a movement to establish the closest ties between themselves and France's younger generation through the charitable works they have financed, and are now carrying out among our little war sufferers.

"The bonds of friendship between France and America is cemented with mutual admiration, respect and gratitude."

YOU MAY HELP SAVE ONE.

Do you know of an ex-soldier who is suffering from tuberculosis? Or do you know a member of the family of an ex-soldier afflicted with this disease? If you do, you can confer a great favor on the forces fighting tuberculosis in Michigan by reporting such a case to the Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis Association, all such information to be confidential.

The state department of health, through the physicians of the state, is making a strong effort to secure the names of all ex-service men who are afflicted with tuberculosis. And the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis association wishes to co-operate in this work and help make the list as complete as possible.

Two months ago, according to estimates made by the Department of Health, there were 1,147 of the state's 142,297 former soldiers who were known to suffer from tuberculosis in some of its forms and stages. An exhaustive study of the cases actually existing in all parts of the state will be made, and strong efforts will be made to extend aid wherever necessary.

U. S. NAVY

With the Fleet

When you can look out over the stern of a big dreadnaught and see a line of regular battleships following in battle formation, you just can't help swelling up and letting out a couple of man-sized roars.

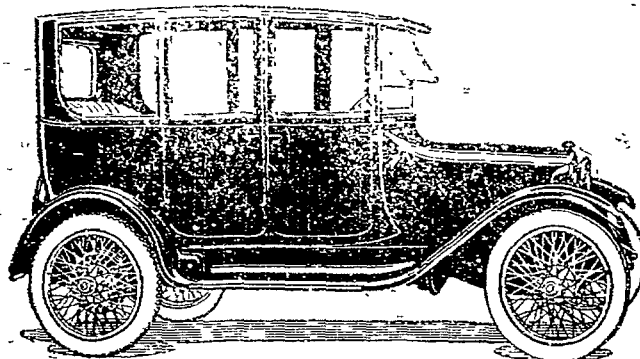

A fair sea, a good breeze, and a line of battleships making fifteen to twenty knots, present the most inspiring sight any man can ask on this earth. Living with such experiences turns boys into men, gives them a grip on life, makes real stuff of them. They work hard, they play hard, and we know that, if necessary, they can fight hard.

Learn about your wonderful Navy. Be proud of it. It is respected by every country in the world. And it is yours; every bit your Navy.

The U. S. Navy is the Forearm of the Nation. It is your property, your first line of defense. Know about it; read about it; see it. If possible, serve in it. It builds real men who do men's work.

Chickens--They Take Lots of Dressing

Prima donnas. It may be admitted, are somewhat careful about their toilet. Appearance means something—their livelihood is all—to them. But they have nothing much on the chicken which is about to be entered in such a contest at the Michigan State Fair will put on this fall at Detroit Sept. 3-12.

The chicken has to begin about the time it is born to doll up and look its best. C. H. Burgess, professor of poultry husbandry at Michigan Agricultural college gives the following description of what has to be done to prepare a bird for competition:

"Hatch them early.

"Raise them in coops as near like as possible to the ones to be used at the contest. Pet them and get them used to crowds and strangers. They should have amiable well-balanced and soberminded dispositions.

"Just before the show itself the comb the wattles, the ear lobes, and the toes must be carefully washed with warm water and a soft, mild soap. A brooder may be used on the toes and the sides of the legs. Then a bit of olive oil is used to give the shanks and toes the best luster.

"White birds should be washed in three waters in a room not colder than 70 Fahrenheit. In bath No. 1, the bird is thoroughly submerged and the soap suds are rubbed to the very base of the feathers. The water should be about 110 Fahrenheit. In the second tub with the water just warm, all soap should be washed out. The third bath is colder, for invigoration—about 50 Fahrenheit, and may have bluing in it.

"On particularly birds, a bit of olive oil will keep the gloss. The appearance will improve also if a tablespoon of sugar be given two or three times a week."

SONGS THAT ARE IMMORTAL

Greatest Minds of All the Ages Bestowed Their Labors on the Poems of Homer.

The Iliad and Odyssey were probably sung by Homer about 2500 years ago and a half after the destruction of the town of Troy following the ten years of war that was waged in the cause of Menelaus, king of Lacedaemon, whose consort had been carried away by the son of the Trojan monarch. The two poems are as old as David's psalms. Originally the Iliad would appear not to have been a single connected poem, but to have attained at a later period its present complete state.

About one hundred years after Homer, Lycurgus, the lawgiver of Lacedaemon, brought these poems into Greece, and two centuries and a half later, Ristritus is supposed to have given them their perfect form. His sonship introduced the custom of reciting rhapsodies at the Panathenaea, or festival of the tutelary goddess. A more complete edition of the Homeric poems from which the modern ones are taken, was prepared for Alexander the Great by Aristotle, with the former used to keep under his pupil in a golden cage. Also, Aratus, the astronomer, Aristarchus of Safoia and Aristophanes, Librarian at Alexandria, bestowed their labor on these immortal songs. Because of the age in which Homer became the patron of the gods, the favorite of the greatest and noblest men, and one of the best teachers of the wisdom of human life—Detroit News.

STATE POLICE PROVE THAT "MOONSHINE" IS DANGEROUS

ANALYSIS SHOWS WHISKY-MADE BY AMATEUR DISTILLERS IS LIKELY TO CAUSE DEATH.

One thing which the activities of the vigilant troopers of Michigan State Police have demonstrated beyond a doubt is that "self poisoning" is a luxury in this State. Analyses of the potent spirits seized in many raids prove indisputably that the great majority of the "moonshine" whisky made and sold in Michigan is highly poisonous. And yet its vendors obtain for this vile and deleterious concoction luxury prices.

In raiding moonshiners and destroying their stills, the State Police have not only enforced the law as to prohibition, but they have also acted against murder. Blindness, insanity, death—these are some of the things which come in the wake of drinking the stuff which moonies eager to get a few dollars in secret places to sell to the gullible and the foolish ignorant of the chemical reactions of spirits and meats, these consumers risk the penalties of prison in order to produce liquors so vile that it seems strange that they can be victims to its effects.

No matter what the sympathy of the individual may be with regard to the prohibition laws, these can be no excuse of "opium" as to the need of some force to deter the makers of these criminal and crime-producing concoctions. The draughts of the cheerless moonshine are potential murderers whether they know it or not.

The service of the State Police in this respect is a life saving service, even though it may in some cases result from the persons whose health and even lives would be periled if they were allowed to secure the law proscribed spirits which they crave.

GAMBLING HOUSES RAIDED AT NIGHT

ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL RAIDS OF PROFESSIONAL GAMBLERS WHICH HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT BY THE STATE POLICE IN MICHIGAN WAS THAT UNDERTAKEN LAST NIGHT WHEN CAPT. P. W. HIGLEY, DETROIT, AND A NUMBER OF TROOPERS CAME INTO THE CITY QUIETLY AT NIGHT, SURROUNDED THE GAMBLING HOUSES AND PREVENTED THE ESCAPE OF EVERY SINGLE ONE OF THE GAMBLERS.

Complaints had been received from some of the women of Niles that the gambling places, which were raided once before, had reopened and were getting their percentage again from the pockets of many workmen of the town. Roulette wheels and other gambling apparatus were seized.

U. OF M. TO TAKE CENSUS

Plans and preparations for the decennial registration of all alumni of the University of Michigan have been completed and the data now being gathered will be incorporated into the new U. of M. General catalogue of Alumni and Former students.

Questionnaires have been sent out to every alumnus and former student of the state university, which, filled out, will give in detailed form the occupation, business or profession of each graduate of Michigan, together with his promotion, success and present standing.

60,000 Names In All

The alumni catalogue is issued every 10 years. The next issue is planned for 1921, and, inasmuch as it is estimated that it will contain the names and history of more than 60,000 former students of the university, an early return of the questionnaires is being urged.

In addition to the business or professional data, the new catalogue will contain as complete a war record as possible of the sons of Michigan.

To obtain data on the military records, separate circulars have already been issued but as there are a great many former Michigan men who have not responded, a third circular will go out.

Asks Information

Those who have sent in their war records are asked not to duplicate them in response to the third circular, but the committee has requested that all alumni and former students who have not submitted information concerning their war work will do so promptly.

Men who have not received any one of the three issues of military questionnaires have been asked to send in their names and addresses to the University of Michigan war record committee in order that blanks may be forwarded to them.

Henry Ford says: "The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interests of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standard."

We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency in service and eagerness to fill your orders.

Gas for Balloons.
Hydrogen is the gas most commonly used for balloons. It requires about 1,230 cubic feet to lift a balloon weighing 100 pounds. And 200 to 300 times as much as it is charged for, but is not only satisfactory but also of the great beauty.

DETROIT THEATRE.

Still another new musical comedy is to be heard in Detroit beginning next Sunday night at the Shubert Detroit. In this instance, according to New York authority the plot is wholly new and ingenious with the title of Always You. The piece is to hold forth at the Shubert-Detroit for one week. This production comes direct from a prosperous run on Broadway. Oscar Hammerstein, 21, guardian of the famous impresario wrote the book and lyrics, and Arthur Hammerstein is the producer. Herbert Stiehart wrote the lifting scene. The cast presents Irene Brannin, Ralph Hers, Russell Mack, Maggie Trubey, J. Farold, Murray, Marie Peschoni, Bernard Corcoran, Nancy Varin, George Bingh, Jerry Trover, Donohue and Jackson, and a chorus that takes the season's honors for youth, talent and looks.

The stamp of Arthur Hammerstein on any attraction means much to the theatregoers. His "Some Time," "Somebody's Sweetheart," and "Tumble In," are well remembered in this city, and there is every reason to believe that "Always You" will likewise prove good.

The Bird of Paradise, that delightful story of the Hawaiian Islands with its Hawaiian melodies, will play its annual engagement at the Garrick next week commencing Sunday night. The fact that the play is now in its tenth season, is in itself a sufficient tribute to its quality and drawing power. It tells with frank truthfulness that the brown-skinned race and the white should not wed, which also teaches a wonderful moral lesson. Although there is a note of tragedy in it, yet through it all runs many flashes of wit and humor.

AMERICANS ABROAD
IN RED CROSS WORK

United States Citizens Far Away
Enthusiastic Members of the "Fourteenth" Division.

Among the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the American Red Cross are those citizens of the United States who live outside the continental boundaries of their country—sons and daughters of the Stars and Stripes residing at the far corners of the earth.

These people compose the insular and Foreign Division of the parent organization, generally known as the "Fourteenth" Division, which has jurisdiction of all territory outside the country proper; that is, Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Guam, and even the island of Yap, which came under our flag as a result of the world war. For the year 1920 this division reported 20,563 paid-up members.

The main object of this division is to give our citizens everywhere the opportunity to participate in the work of the organization which stands for the best national ideals. Americans in far places intensely loyal and patriotic, treasure their membership in the Red Cross as the outward expression of their citizenship. It is another tie to the homeland and to each other. There are chapters of this division in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Canal zone, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, England, France, Guam, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Manchuria, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Siberia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela and Virgin Islands.

During the war these scattered members of the Red Cross contributed millions in money and millions of dollars worth of necessary articles for the men in service, and sent many doctors and nurses to France. At the same time they carried on an excellent home service in their respective communities for the families of those who went to war, and in some regions were large donors of money and money for personal service to the relief of disaster and disease victims. The division is now establishing very active in foreign ports for the benefit of sailors in the American Merchant Marine, making plans to aid Americans in trouble in foreign lands and completing arrangements for giving immediate adequate relief in case of disaster.

It is the Fourteenth Division's part in the great Peace Time program of the American Red Cross.

RED CROSS ASSISTS
DISABLED VETERANS

The American Red Cross is carrying on a wide program of service for the disabled World War veterans, receiving treatment in United States Public Health hospitals, and those being trained through agencies of the Federal Board for Vocational Education. In each of the Public Health Service hospitals the Red Cross workers devote their time to the general welfare of the service men from the day they enter the receiving ward until they are discharged. After the soldier's discharge the Red Cross continues its service through the Home Service Section in his own community.

The Red Cross maintains a convalescent home at all of the hospitals, where patients can amuse themselves after they are well enough to be up and around. Parties and picture shows in the wards are also furnished, with occasional excursions when convalescence permits.

Great service has been rendered by the Red Cross in mental cases in identifying those who have appeared in state hospitals for the insane, and helping them secure compensation due from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

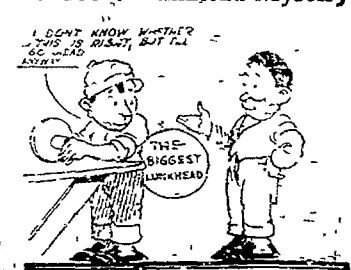

In the Federal Board's various district offices the Red Cross worker, acting with the Home Service Section, makes necessary loans to the men, arranges suitable living conditions, helps collect evidence and supply facts to the Board, assists in "appealing cases" and settles various personal difficulties for the men. The workers also follow up and aid all men who discontinue training.

The Red Cross agents find men "lost" to the Board, help clear up delayed cases and aid the college counselors in their friendly work with the men. Many Red Cross chapters have set up recreation facilities, and in some instances living clubs, so these victims of war may have attractive surroundings and the fun which must go with effective school work.

To the American Red Cross Institute for the Blind near Baltimore, Md., more than half of all the Americans blinded in the World War have come for training. The Institute, through the Red Cross, long ago conducted an exhaustive industrial survey to determine the vocations for which blind men could be fitted. As a result it is putting forth well trained men equipped to meet the social, civic and economic requirements of their respective communities.

Aid for Spanish Red Cross.
The Iberian chapter of the American Red Cross, composed of Americans resident in Spain, has just contributed $480 to a fund being raised by the Spanish Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies for the purpose of fighting malaria.

About forty members of Northville Commandery, Knights Templar, attended the field day ceremonies at Howell yesterday. A parade, exhibition drills and field sports made up the program for the day.

A number of the handsome maple trees about the village are dying, being affected by some pest. This pest has been at work among the shade trees of Northville for the past few summers and there ought to be something done to stop the destruction if possible. It takes a lifetime to grow a shade tree and the effect of their loss cannot be estimated.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Dr. N. J. Malloy will be in Northville every Monday. Those desiring to see him may leave names and addresses at Horton's drug store 9-2.

Pitiless publicity has been the portion of Saul, David and Solomon for many centuries.

They were human beings swayed by the same tempers as most of Northville folks—they could be good when they tried—mean without much effort—paid the price for their follies.

More light has come to you dear reader—how how do you match up with this trio of old-time virtues? Do you score above or below?

PROBLEMS FACING STRICKEN WORLD

Shall Chaos or Reconstruction in Europe Follow the Great World War?

POLAND NOW STANDING ALONE

Heroic Nation, Herself in Dire Need, is the Only Barrier to Bolshevism, Fighting the Battle for Civilization.

Article XXXII.

By FRANK COMERFORD.
The problems of Russia and unrest are up to the nations of the world. Russia's problem affects the world. It must be solved by the powers in concert. Its solution will make the first step toward rest. The complete solution of the problem of unrest must be decided by each nation in its own way.

I asked two important Slav leaders for their opinions as to the proper policy the world should adopt toward the bolsheviks, and the Russian problem. In Prague I spoke to President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia; in Warsaw I interviewed General Eilshuski, president of Poland. Both answered the question in practically the same words: "Leave Russia alone; let the Russian people solve the Russian question."

What is the Russian situation? A minority has seized the government and is holding it by force. The form of government adopted cannot last. Communism will destroy itself if given sufficient rope. Already it has destroyed production and brought on chaos. The great danger bolshevism offers the outside world is its effort to organize the unrest of the world and lead it to revolution.

Poland's Hard Position.

Poland is the barrier holding the "Red" wave of bolshevism back. Poland is a new state. It is almost as big as France in population and about the size of Germany in area. Three thirds of the Polish republic—Austria, Russia and Germany. The Polish people are intense in their patriotism. They are individualists. They are against the "Red" terror. But Poland is poor, terribly poor. The war brought her to the point of hunger. She is now facing starvation. She is doing world guard duty. Her army is holding closed the door of bolshevism. It is an army made up of men of zeal and determination. I have never seen men sustain their spirit under more trying conditions. Think of men without shoes facing the "Red" army; hunger and cold attacking them; but standing in their places holding the front. When I was in Europe in October, 1919, I saw this magnificent army. Forty per cent of them were without shoes. There were less than 10,000 outfits for 350,000 men. They were hungry, they were cold. Back home their loved ones were not hungry, they were starving; they were not cold, they were freezing. Still these men stood at their posts. I talked the matter over with the chief of state, General Pilsudski, and I shall never forget the manner, the tone and the words of this Roosevelt of the Slavs.

"Our army will hold the pass; the 'Red' terror will not bring the torch to Europe unless winter and want force us to retreat. Chattering teeth and pain pinched stomachs will kill the morale of any army in time. The indomitable spirit of our men has withstood hardships that might have destroyed an army made up of men less inflamed with the passion to make secure their newly achieved freedom. We are without transportation facilities even for the front. Our soldiers are ragged and hungry. They do not complain, nor do I complain for them, but facts are facts and these facts belong to the world. Our army is fighting a world cause and against a world evil. Civilization is in the balance and every citizen of civilization has a right to know the conditions under which Poland is doing world guard duty.

Fight Under Frightful Conditions.

"We have no ambulances at the front and our soldiers going into battle know that if they are wounded and are not fortunate enough to fall near a field hospital, they are doomed to die of neglect and exposure, or come to death by torture from Chinese mercenaries who make up the torture battalion of the 'Red' army. We have no antiseptics and our wounded men are exposed to a gangrenous death. We are without anesthetics and wounded men are required to submit to operations while keenly alive to every sensation of the knife.

"Help must come, and it must come soon. Our troops are willing to fight on; this is their glorious spirit, but they are only flesh and there is a point at which the finest spirit surrenders to cold and hunger and pain."

Appeals were made to the peace table for help. They fell on deaf ears. Great stocks of clothing were locked up in England and France while the Polish army shivered at the bolshevik front. I saw locomotives and empty freight cars on the side tracks in Europe at the time Poland was fighting the world's fight and crying for transportation.

The bolsheviks must be shut in. They must be confined to Russia. If the "Red" army breaks through Poland, Europe will blaze and bleed from revolution. Poland stands at the gate, guarding the pass. She is not fighting Poland's fight; she is not fighting for territory or war spoils. She is trying to hold back the threatening terror. It is the duty of the world to come to her support generously. It is not enough to help her with munitions and army equipment. To keep up the morale of the Polish army it is necessary to help the home front. Poland does not want charity. She asks for her due. She is morally entitled to support. If she is not given it, she will crumble before the onslaught of the 'Reds; the world will pay the price. She is starting her life as a nation. By her position in Europe she is called upon to hold back the revolutionary horde, the bolshevik terror. In the meantime she must build her house and organize her life. She needs credit to do this. It is her crying need. It must be forthcoming. Dollars and pounds and francs will be worth much less than they are today if Poland, the keystone of the arch, is allowed to fall. This is a question the allies must answer. America is vitally interested and should lead in the response.

If we can hold the bolsheviks in Russia and keep Europe free from this menace, bolshevism will die a natural death. In the meantime we should adopt a policy and bend our energies to carry out that policy. Russia is made up of co-operative societies. I believe 20,000,000 Russians are enrolled in these organizations. The people trust their own co-operative societies. They do not trust the bolshevik government. The majority in Russia are against bolshevism; they are victims of it. Why should not we, arrange, if possible, to help the starving people of Russia through these societies? Without recognizing the bolsheviks it is entirely possible to make an arrangement under the terms of which allied help can be given to the majority of the people in Russia, the people whom it is the interest of the world to save. If such an offer is made and the bolshevik government does not agree to it, an uprising in Russia, increased opposition to the bolshevik government, would result in its overthrow. Such a proposal was made at one time and I believe President Wilson favored it, but because of the lack of team work at the peace table and the absence of a definite plan it failed to get beyond the discussion stage.

Let Russia Find Herself.

Let us take our troops out of Siberia; let us leave Russia alone. She will find herself sooner or later. Let us convince the Russ in people that we are their friend. Let the nations of the world unite through the League of Nations to compel them to keep their hands off Siberia. Let our friendly co-operation make unnecessary and impossible further territorial penetration of Russia. Let us not encourage Denikin, Vologodsky, Petlura and Kolchak. Let us by our acts, convince the Russian people that we want them to have self-determination and that we are not planning to put upon them a reactionary government. With the end of military movements in Russia inspire them to the outside there will be no reason for the "Red" army. The people will compel its demobilization. The soldiers who make up the "Red" army will be eager to get back to civil life. There will be no invaders in Russia to give morale to troops and a reason for a big army. With the passing of the army the soviet government will crumble.

The majority in Russia want a free, democratic government. They will get it if left to themselves. Russia is rich. The establishment of order in Russia, the reorganization of its life, will contribute much to making Europe solvent. I do not mean that Russia is to be exploited. What I have in mind is that a productive Russia will help feed the world and furnish it with raw material. Russia in normal times before the war exported more grain from Black sea ports than the United States and Canada combined.

We should not be afraid of bolshevik propaganda. All we need do is to abandon our policy of calling names and abusing our own people by calling them bolsheviks, when they are not. We have the truth on our side. Why not use our resources to get the facts about bolshevism to the people? There is no occasion for secrecy or mystery. Few people in America would entertain bolshevik leanings if they understood the program of bolshevism and knew the methods adopted by the bolsheviks. The press, the pulpit, the platforms are available. Open the schools, the churches the lodges, the labor meetings, the community centers and expose the crime against the world. The getting together will do no good.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham, Dancer 9222

MASTER MOUFLO.

"My family," said Master Moufion, "came from Sardinia for we are known as the wild sheep of Sardinia. My mother was brought from the mountains of Sardinia when she was very young and so was my father."

"How handsome my father is with his beautiful coloring, his two exquisitely curled horns. He is a very fine looking fellow and he knows it. There is nothing modest about my father. He certainly knows he is handsome. He is quite willing to admit it. He will even boast of it when given a chance. But he prefers to be admired rather than to boast of his own beauty. He says he would rather have the admiration coming from someone else."

"That is really perfectly natural. Anyone would rather have someone else admire one's own self all the time. Well, well, well, I shall grow up to be like my father. I, too, will want to be admired. I feel, in now, I feel that I long to be cared for and to have my horns admired and also my coloring. I want to tell people that I was born in the zoo and that it is very interesting."

"I like to tell people that here I was born as I just said, and that here I am being raised and I love it here. I'm like a child of this country with foreign parents."

"But I don't mean that the country is my parent. I mean that I was born in this country. I am friendly to my father. I want to have everyone as my friend. My father says his friendliness has often been spoken of and even written about so that many would know what a friendliness Mr. Moufion was and still is. And he was very proud for he heard that many folks said they knew how Mrs. Moufion admired him and that it was a thing to have lots of people love how one's mate admired one."

"He said it was more of a compliment to have one's mate admire one than to have one's mate admire one's favorite else—with the possible exception of the mother. For he said that once he saw one all the time who was a mother and a father, where was a theory or end of happy or unhappiness. One's mate saw one when one was getting up and when one was going to bed, and one's mate knew if one was out of bed on the right or the wrong side."

"I was very much puzzled when he said this to me but now I know what he meant for he has explained it to me. I don't want to tell him that I said that I did not understand him."

Knows He Is Handsome.

I really think it is always better to admit when one doesn't understand. Everyone can't know everything and the only way to know more is to find out more.

"Well, my father told me that of course we didn't sleep in beds and so we didn't get out of bed on either the right or the wrong side really. But he said it was just an expression. He said that sometimes people would say that they had gotten out of bed on the wrong side when perhaps they only had one side of their bed to get out of—the other side might be up against the wall."

"The expression meant though that when one got out of the wrong side of the bed it meant one got up feeling cross and cranky and thinking everything was upset and wrong and not at all as one would have it. And if one got out of the right side of the bed it meant that one got up feeling pleasant and cheerful and feeling that everything was fine."

"He said that a moufion mate knew always just how her mate felt and whether he was pleasant or not and so the opinion of one's mate means so much for one's mate was always about whereas visitors only say one when one had one's company manners with one."

"So I am going to grow up to be like my father. I shall want to be admired and I shall look after my health with the aid of the keeper for health means beauty they tell me, and I shall be friendly, for a cross thing could never be admired for long! Neither a cross thing, nor a cross moufion," he ended.

Denying the Allegation.

The small boy was the first to answer the telephone. The person on the other end of the wire was a friend of his mother, and the following conversation ensued:

THAT SMALL BROTHER AGAIN

That Time It Really Seems That He Has Cooked Sister Evelina's Goose for Good.

So things do fall out awkwardly, don't they?

One evening the fair Evelina was expecting her latest admirer to call and her mother hadn't been back from shopping. So, while Evelina slipped up stairs to don her best blouse and so on powder on her nose, the young lady was left on guard.

The expected visitor arrived, and was herded into the parlor by William Edward, who promptly began to ask questions as small boys always do.

"So, Evelina," he said, "what's a poppy?"

"Poppy, my boy," repeated the young lady, thinking hard. "Why—er—poppy is a flower."

"Or you a bird, Mr. Snow-comber?"

"Of course not! Ha, ha," squirmed his little face.

"What's that funny?" mused William Edward. "Last night, after you'd gone to bed, I saw you were a jay, and father said there was no doubt about that, but there didn't seem much poppy in the question about you. And now you say you're not a bird at all!"

FRECKLES

WILLING TO PAY THE PRICE

Small Boy Satisfied That the Bill for "His Three Days' Fun Was Not Exorbitant."

At last! Fredrick was allowed to visit grandpa all about. They were great friends and had long waited for the great day.

Fredrick had the time of his life. Grandpa says that he wanted for nothing. The small boy ate more cream tarts in those three days than he would otherwise have done in three years, while his pockets bulged all the time with candies.

But there comes an end to everything, and Fredrick went home again, pale yellow of complexion, and languid and feverish. Mother promptly sent for the doctor, who ordered him to bed, and sent him some very unpleasant, but doubtless healing, medicine.

Grandpa came next day and was permitted to creep upstairs to see how the sufferer was faring. He found the small boy lying wan and pale on his pillow, but received a watery smile as a welcome.

"Oh, grandpa," said the weak little voice, "I've been awfully bad—but it was worth it!"

FAIR NOTES.

Workmen are busy at the fair ground this week erecting the new dance pavilion and the addition to the grand stand.

Take a look in J. A. Huff's display window on Saturday and see the special prizes offered in the Better Baby contest.

The track at the fair grounds is in first-class condition, so local horsemen declare, and we may expect some good races next week.

The exhibition to be given on Saturday afternoon, the closing day of the fair, by the Shriner's patrol, band and chorists of Detroit will be one of the big features of the fair. Our fellow-townsmen and the president of our fair, J. A. Huff, is a member of the patrol.

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve meals during the fair and those who partook of the splendid "feed under the big tent" last year will be glad to know they can again be served next week.
