CLASS OF TWENTY-ONE RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

The people of Northville have a right to be proud of the class of young ladies and gentlemen who have this week completed their course of study in our public schools. The class numbered nineteen, one of the largest to claim that honor. They have worked hard and have won their rightful place among that fine company of young people who have gone out from our school and who have reflected credit upon this community. The class of 1921 consisted of Iris Balch, Garnetta V. Chapman, Mildred Baldwin, Doris M. Beckman, E. A. Chapman, Nettiebell Dodge, Julia J. Eisenlord, Waldo E. Elliott, Mary A. Hunt, Elizabeth Lapham, Jona I. Litsenberger, Leona B. McKelvey, Irene Marsh, Beulah B. Merritt, Marion L. Montgomery, Eliza Jane Murock, Amy E. Sessions, Clifford P. Stillwell, Robert R. Willis.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES

The Class Day exercises took place on Tuesday evening and every available seat in the high school auditorium was filled when the hour arrived for the rendition of the program. The stage was handsomely decorated in green and white, wild flowers and ferns being used with pleasing effect. Miss Marion Mulford, supervisor of music and drawing, played the professional as members of the class took their places on the platform. E. A. Chapman introduced each participant in the program with words of pleasantry and each number was given with a fine spirit of high school joy. Mildred Baldwin gave the president's address, tracing in an entertaining manner the various phases and scenes in our national life. As our government and its institutions were founded upon truth, so our individual lives must be if we are to measure up to our highest ideals and responsibilities. Amy E. Sessions gave the class history and told briefly of its struggles, its pleasures and its final accomplishment. Julia J. Eisenlord sang a solo and Garnetta M. Chapman in her obligatory presentation presented the class with many gifts, from historical to a rolling pin. Iris Balch gave the prophecy and pictured the future of each member of the class in rosy and sombre tones, as her fancy dictated. Irene Marsh and Marion L. Montgomery rendered a piano duet, while Eliza Jane Murock presented some very interesting and humorous stories regarding the class. John I. Litsenberger presented the class will, and in their generosity they begged about everything they did not desire or need—from chewing gum to the faithful superintendent—who has guided them during the past year. The class song was then given, followed by a violin solo by J. Parre of Wayne. All who took part in the program did exceedingly well and each number was given generous applause.

THE ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises were held on Wednesday evening and the number in attendance was large, considering the weather conditions. Miss Mulford rendered the professional as members of the class marched to the platform. Rev. H. J. B. Marsh offered the invocation, in which he asked God's richest blessing upon our schools and upon all the institutions of our land, whose purpose is to inspire and benefit mankind. Mary A. Hunt gave the salutation, in which she extended a cordial welcome and expressed her appreciation for the opportunities that had been offered the members of the class. Julia J. Eisenlord gave a vocal solo in a pleasing manner. Elizabeth Lapham gave the valedictory and in behalf of her classmates spoke words of appreciation to her teachers for their untiring efforts and to the community at large for the interest that had always been manifested in the advancement of our schools and especially the many courtesies that have been extended to the class of twenty-one.

Charles A. Dolph, secretary of the board of education, presented the diplomas and the girls' chorus sang. The address of the evening was given by Rev. W. R. Fruit, pastor of the Grand River Avenue Methodist church of Detroit. Dr. Fruit is a pleasing speaker and his message was full of inspiration not only for members of the class but for all who were present. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. E. V. Belles.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICES.

An audience which filled the Baptist church to its capacity attended the baccalaureate services Sunday evening. The church was attractively decorated in honor of members of the graduating class and the seniors, juniors and teachers were given seats of honor. The services were opened by congregational singing, following which Rev. H. J. B. Marsh read a portion of Second Timothy as the scripture lesson, and Rev. E. V. Belles offered prayer. Another song was followed by announcements, offering and a selection by the Baptist church choir. Rev. Herbert Greenwood, pastor of the Baptist church, gave the discourse of the evening, taking for his theme words found in John 15:16, and 2 Timothy 1:16. He congratulated the young people upon the progress they had thus far made and admonished them to continue their efforts in seeking the higher and better things of life. The address was full of good advice not only for the young people of the congregation but for older ones as well and the words of the speaker are but to proper and profitable use. All who were present will be greatly benefited.

The singing of a hymn by the congregation and the benediction brought the very helpful and inspiring services to a close.

RACES AND BALL GAME SATURDAY.

On Saturday, tomorrow at noon there will be a race and ball game on the Northville grounds. The racing program will consist of three events and we are promised some lively contests. The races that have been training here for the past few weeks are now in fine form and their owners and drivers are anxious to see just what they can do when being pressed to do their best. The three events will bring out some really steppers—both trotters and pacers. For the ball game the Corsairs, have secured the Fourteenth Avenue Baptist church team of Detroit and the visitors are coming determined to make the home team "take to the woods".

Admission for grandstand seats ladies will be admitted free. In the evening there will be a band concert up town as usual.

DETROIT CHURCH MEN ENJOY A NORTHVILLE SPREAD.

On Tuesday evening fifty men from the Pilgrim Congregational Church of Detroit, accompanied by their pastor, Rev. I. W. Stuart, came to Northville to partake of a good substantial dinner, such as the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church have the reputation of serving. The dinner was served at 7.15 and the spread was a most inviting one. After the feast a program of singing and speaking was enjoyed until about ten o'clock, when the merry members of the company departed for their homes in the city.

They were generous in their praise of the efforts of the ladies in serving such an appetizing meal.

LADIES ARE GRATEFUL FOR ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION.

The Ladies' Library association feels very grateful again this year for the generous and timely contribution of two hundred dollars by ten of our public spirited citizens towards the general support of the library.

The managers of the association feel that these annual contributions, coming as they do from a different source each time, form a manifest of appreciation of their efforts, for which they are indeed thankful.

The following gentlemen were the 1921 contributors:

George B. Yerkes, E. M. Starkweather, E. S. Beard, Wm. Scott, Milo N. Johnson, C. R. Ely, S. A. Lovewell, E. A. Shafer, Jared Lapham, Cass R. Benton.

A part of the class of '13, '14, '15, '16, '17, '18, '19 and '20 were present. The program was very interesting, particularly the singing by Miss Cole, and the violin solo by Glenn Scraee of Milford. Both responded to an encore.

DO YOU NEED FARM HELP?

Continuation of factory operations in Detroit has thrown many men out of work. Many of these who have had farming experience come to the Agricultural Division of the Board of Commerce asking help in finding places on farms. The Board of Commerce Agricultural Division wants to help as many of these men as possible. Farmers needing either permanent or temporary help are asked to inform the Agricultural Division of the Board of Commerce or the County Farm Bureau office.

WOOL POOL ON WAY TO SECOND MILLION

The state farm bureau wool pool is now well on its way to the 2,000,000 pound mark, according to an announcement from state headquarters. The combined efforts of five Bureau grading teams, who cover fine town daily is reported to have equipped the pool with seven league boots, graders making second and clean-up trips in the southern part of the state report even more wool on hand for the second grading than they found on the first trip. The clean-up trip by graders is the first step preparatory to the actual moving of 1921 wool, says the farm bureau. Volume sales are expected to begin shortly. Wayne county wool will be pooled at Plymouth July 16th, at the Plymouth Agricultural Association building.

GARDEN NOTES.

Did you plant any sweet corn for late summer and fall use? Try a planting of Golden Bantam now. It should mature ears large enough for table use before killing frosts occur. Remember that the strawberry is a shallow rooted plant. For this reason cultivation should not be too deep. A good dirt mulch an inch or two in depth is sufficient.

It is often easier to prevent garden troubles than to cure them after they appear. Keep the plants vigorous and healthy by frequent cultivation and proper fertilizing, thinning and shading.

Don't leave vacant spaces in the garden where the early crops have been grown. An ideal vegetable garden is one that produces a continuous supply of a variety of crops throughout the season. Plan during June for crops which will mature during the late summer and fall months.

IS YOUR DIVIDEND FROM LIFE BIG ENOUGH?

Has the investment of days, hours and minutes yielded abundant returns?

How much more profit would time give to one if they tried real hard?

Society has to do with work—education—recreation—neighbors—business—the whole world—and mostly the common every day tasks.

What is drawn out in dividends is measured by the hours in the enterprise paying them. A small investment means a smaller portion of the gains.

WHAT ARE WE PUTTING INTO LIFE?

Who are the returns? How are they made? What is the matter with the...

Mr. Edgar Thompson acted as usher and Mr. Edward Merritt and Miss Carole Bahner introduced the guests to the bride and groom. Although the evening was exceedingly warm, and the guests numbered into the two hundreds, yet for two hours Mr. and Mrs. Harbo received in a happy manner and in the hundreds of congratulations extended to the groom and many words of welcome to the bride go for anything, their stay in Northville will be pleasant indeed.

Yesterday was just a little the heaviest storm seen in Northville for some time. It commenced about 5:30 and was short but fierce. The rain poured down in torrents, and the lightning capered around in a startling manner. D. R. Evans' house on Verkes' streets was struck in the northeast corner of the upright, and though not damaged to speak of, the fluid did a lot of peculiar work capering along the gilt border of the wall paper, down wired and across picture frames in the parlor. The wood in the rear was also touched. At Andrew Rasch's large willow shade tree in the rear was struck and demolished. At John Thompson's farm, several cattle were injured and one killed by the electrical fluid, and the Hred' man was also injured.

SHOULD BE A WARNING TO OTHERS.

A Holly dispatch to the Pontiac Press:

John Johnson, a 9 year old son of Lewis Johnson, a farmer living four miles from here is not expected to recover in Goodrich hospital from the injuries he received when a can of giant powder exploded in the farm home Friday morning, blowing off his right hand, seriously injuring his mother, and slightly injuring his sister, Evelyn, aged 14.

The boy found the can of powder in the "gebris" of a road building gang's shanty which was blown down. Taking it home he attempted to open it with a nail in the dining room of the house. The resulting explosion blew off the boy's right hand at the wrist, and injured him so seriously that he cannot survive and caused injuries to his mother, Mrs. Anna Johnson, aged 38, so serious that she will be confined to the hospital for weeks. Evelyn, the 14 year old sister, was not severely injured. All the windows in the room were blown out by the force of the explosion, and a large hole was made in the dining room table, through which according to unconfirmed reports, the little boy's hand was blown. All three were removed to the Goodrich hospital.

It is believed that the boy, a druggist, had a nail through the cover of the can must have caused a spark, as giant powder will not ordinarily explode on contact.

TO ERASE DANGER SIGNALS.

L. V. Bellhop, Oakland County highway engineer, is now making plans for the erection of 450 highway crossing danger signs which are to be placed on all highway crossings operating through Oakland county and to supply in compliance with the requirements of the recent act of the state legislature.

A sec 270, public acts of 1921 provides that railways in Michigan must within five years furnish the public with 400-foot rail way crossings for a distance of 25 feet on each side of their tracks and a width of 10 feet. One-fifth of the total number of crossings must be prepared this year, and one-fifth each year for the succeeding four years.

It is also required that danger signs for the protection of the public must be erected each side of the crossings, a distance of 500 feet therefrom. These signs are to be provided within a year from May 1, 1921, last.—Pontiac Press.

VETS' MISTAKES MAY DELAY BONUS.

Serious delay in bonus payments for ex-service men of Michigan is threatened because many bonus application blanks have not been properly filled out, according to Adjutant General John S. Bersev.

In many instances the adjutant general says, incorrect blanks have been used and in many more instances all that appears on the discharge paper has not been copied. When the applications are compared with war department records discrepancies throw suspicion on the applications, it is said.

It is pointed out that the exact language of the discharge paper should be copied if the applicant expects to receive a bonus.

SUES FOR DAMAGED TREES.

Carl Tibbits, farmer, living on the town line between Farmington and Southfield townships, is plaintiff in a civil suit case commenced Wednesday in circuit court before Judge Glenn C. Gillespie. Tibbits is suing the Michigan State Telephone company for damages he alleges were done to 65 trees along the highway in front of his property which he claims the telephone company trimmed in the spring of 1919 without his consent.—Pontiac Press. Mr. Tibbits was awarded $1,200 damages.
