THE KING'S DAUGHTERS STATE CONVENTION WILL MEET IN NORTHVILLE NEXT WEEK

Beginning with Wednesday, afternoon next and continuing until the following Friday afternoon the ladies of Northville will be hosts to the officers and delegates to the annual state convention of The King's Daughters—a very great honor indeed for a town of this size. Northville ladies, however, will prove themselves equal to the very pleasant duty and the three day's gathering will be one of more than ordinary enjoyment and interest. Besides the state officers and upwards of 200 delegates, the members of Mizpah Circle will have as their special guest during the convention Mrs. W. G. Wayne at Detroit. There are two battalions of 500 men in the march, with Major Cronin in command. The third battalion of 250 men will join them later, at Ft. Wayne to make up the regiment which will be permanently stationed there. Major Cronin's battalion camped Monday night near Monroe, Tuesday they camped at Flat Rock, Wednesday night turning in at Wyandotte, reaching Ft. Wayne Thursday. The distance traveled by the soldiers to get to their destination is about 210 miles and the average hike has been around 12 miles a day. The major says the trip has been a very enjoyable one for both officer and men, and they have been fortunate in encountering only nice weather all along the route, except for the rains of this week which were not bothersome at all.

Kalamazoo—The proposed new city charter was defeated at the special election by a vote of 2,328 for and 3,035 against. Had the charter carried, it would have changed the city government from the commission-manager form back to the old aldermanic system.

Calumet—Agitation here to have the federal government take over old Fort Wilkins and the extensive territory adjacent to it in the northern portion of the Keweenaw peninsula, and convert it into a national park, was taken up at a joint meeting of Houghton and Keweenaw superintendents at the fort.

Lansing—Infanticide paralyzing in Michigan, state health records show for the last two months, has increased 100 per cent over the last few previous years. The total of reported cases for August was 143, and for September, 168. This increase is most prevalent during these two months of the year.

Sault Ste. Marie—Matt Matteson, a Finn, charged with attempted assault with intent to murder Chase S. Osborn, former governor, was bound over to December term of circuit court for trial and remanded to jail in default of $5,000 bonds following the preliminary hearing before Justice John A. McElhannon.

Owosso—A jury in circuit court gave James Fales, of Detroit, a judgment of $100 against Perry of Durand, in the suit growing out of the killing by Perry of Fales's dog, last spring. Perry claimed the dog was chasing his sheep. Fales sued for $100 for the value of the dog and for injury to his feelings.

Lansing—The State Administrative Board has authorized Frank R. Chase, state highway commissioner, to chase several thousand metal rods from Jackson prison and to use them with concrete plans for making the tank in high water the state. The rods will be purchased at 10 cent 22 cents each. The State has been paying 40 cents.

Cadillac—Michigan's 1921 potato crop will be at least 6,000,000 bushels short of the five-year average, according to J. B. Large, general manager of the Michigan Potato Growers' exchange, following a survey of the state. The official crop report predicted a yield of 32,000,000 bushels in Michigan this year, against 28,000,000 bushels, the five-year average.

Port Austin—Methodists of Port Austin, Grandstone City and Dwight Township have decided to unite, as they did two years ago, and have asked the Detroit conference to send a pastor to hold services each Sunday in the three places. Some of the Methodists are still loyal to the Community Church from which others withdrew because the pastor declared for Sunday base ball and dancing.

Lansing—The resignation of John W. Beaumont, of Detroit, as a member of the state board of agriculture (governing board of Michigan Agricultural College) was received at the Governor's office. In his letter Mr. Beaumont gave no reasons for resigning. It is understood, however, that his resignation is the result of dissension with other members over the appointment of Prof. David Friday as president of the college.

Bay City—The suit of the General Motors corporation against the estate of Henry D. Smith, of this city, for $500,000, growing out of the failure of the estate to pay for stock subscribed by the late Henry D. Smith, was started in United States court. According to the plaintiff, Mr. Smith subscribed for 14,400 shares to make his total holdings in General Motors, 72,000 shares and that he paid down $28,800. He died before the balance was paid and when demand was made on the estate, which is still being probated, the administration refused to pay.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction T. E. Johnson is taking a personal interest in the coming Christmas seal sale in Michigan, and has written to the school men throughout the state asking for their co-operation in the work. Mr. Johnson's letter reads:

"My Dear Fellow Workers: Cooler days of autumn remind us, once more, that the Christmas season is approaching and with the coming of the Yuletide again comes the annual sale of Christmas seals. No extra mural work is more important than this. The interest aroused by this sale not only calls the attention of the children and the parents to the great work done in the fight against the white plague, but it also develops an interest in our neighbors and their problems. This goes a long way toward incultivating in a practical manner the spirit of the great commandment: 'Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself.'

The Christmas seal sale this year will be held from Thanksgiving Day until Christmas and preparations are being made by the Michigan Tuberculosis association for the biggest sale in the association's history.

immune. Two little colored boys were arguing about religion. Finally one negro decided to go to a meeting that very night. The next morning his friend was met by the employer. "Well," said the employer, smiling, "did you get religion last night?" "No, boss," was the reply; "I is de one what's done had it."

Self-Denial May Be Overdone. There are honest souls who would not willingly rob a neighbor, yet who continually reb themselves of the comfort and joy that rightfully belong to them. Self-denial is not a virtue in itself, and it may become as bad for the soul as starvation is for the body.

BABY'S BODY IN KIRBY CASE FOUND

HUDSON WOMAN, CHARGED WITH MURDER OF CHILD, TO BE TRIED THIS MONTH.

DEFENSE OPPOSED TO DELAY

Lack of Evidence As to Disposition of Body of the Baby Has Caused Many Delays.

Adrian, Mich.—When Mrs. Marie Kirby, Hudson, W. C. T. U. worker and club woman, was arraigned before Judge Burton Haft Monday morning, charged with the murder of a grandchild born July 4 but of wedlock, it became known that the Lenawee county authorities have found what they believe is the child's body, heretofore a missing link in the chain of evidence against Mrs. Kirby.

Prosecutor Leland F. Bean refused to disclose where the body had been found, but did divulge that a bill presented to the county clerk by Dr. Charles S. Lane, of Hudson, for two days' services "examining the corpse of an infant, taking measurements of bones and other expert services on order of Leland F. Bean and O. L. Smith," concerned the Kirby case.

On request of Prosecutor Bean, the case of Mrs. Kirby was put at the foot of the calendar for the October term. With the entering of a plea of not guilty for his client, former Judge B. D. Chandler, announced that his defense was ready for trial and he declared he would oppose any move by the prosecution to delay trial until the January term.

Prosecutor Bean's request for a delay was based on the recent connection of Deputy Attorney General O. L. Smith with the case.

The volume of jury work that was announced as being ready for trial indicated that the panel will be kept here in continuous session until Thanksgiving time and court attendants are of the opinion that with that much time in which to prepare their case, the prosecuting officers will be ready with the Kirby trial when the regular jury call is finished.

During the justice court examination of Mrs. Kirby, no evidence was submitted by Prosecuting Attorney Bean to indicate the disposition of the body of the child after its alleged murder. During the last week John MacInvestigations in connection with the case have been conducted in Adrian and Hillsdale, by Mr. Bean, assisted by O. L. Smith.

PRISON-BREAK TRIED AT IONIA

17 inmates held in County Jail Had Sawed Cell Bars.

Adrian, Mich.—Thomas Sherman, cook at the Ionia county jail, discovered a plot of several state reformatory prisoners temporarily confined at the jail, to escape shortly after midnight, Monday morning. The men had sawed their way out of the cell block in which 12 were confined, bound and gagged two county prisoners and were removing bricks from the outer wall of the jail when Sherman heard the noise. They were chased back to their cells.

Two hundred and fifty prisoners Monday appeared before Warden Burns and assured him that he might rely on them to prevent any attempt to escape from the dormitories and factory buildings where the main group of prisoners has been housed since the fire which destroyed the reformatory.

The debris has been practically cleared away from where the cell blocks formerly stood and everything will be ready for construction work as soon as the state is prepared to begin building new dormitories to replace these which burned.

DETROIT THEATRE.

Local playgoers have an unusual treat in store for them next week when Wagenhals and Kemper will produce "The Bat" at the Shubert Michigan Theatre, starting Sunday Oct. 16th.

"The Bat" has been and still is the dramatic sensation of New York where it has been "sold out" at the Morosco Theatre for more than a year. The play was offered in Chicago for an entire season with the same success. In addition to the absorbing mystery and the thrilling plot of the play as a whole the playgoers of this city will have an opportunity to observe one of the most ingenious climaxes ever seen in the American theatre in the staging of the last act of "The Bat."

The Greenwich Village Follies of 1920, that artistic creation in which is manifested the notions and the emotion of the unusual flock, who congregate in New York Bohemian colony, will be the attraction at the Garrick for the week beginning Sunday night. This is the second annual revival of the comedy of New York's Quaker Lady. The first of these spectacles, the 1919 edition, is well remembered for its engagement at the Shubert-Detroit last season, but the 1920 version is said to surpass its predecessor in all the comic and artistic phases. The Greenwich Village Follies of 1920 had its premiere in the little Greenwich Village Theatre in New York a little more than one year ago. For eight months it delighted metropolitan audience with his naive grace and whimsical charm. Detroit is but the seventh city to be visited by the "Follies." On October 20th the revue goes into Chicago for an all-winter's run.

Lapham State Savings Bank NORTHVILLE

The Banker manages these common funds. He determines their distribution. There is no challenging his decision, for he is the owner of the funds while they are in his possession. He receives the deposits in the form of a great variety of items of credit, payable in all parts of the world. He gathers these funds together and assumes the task of keeping them and employing them, and undertakes to keep them so ready available that he can meet the shifting demands of the numerous contributors both for cash and loans.

There is talk of co-operative banking, in the sense of ownership of a bank by its patrons, and as the stock of commercial banks is widely distributed, co-operation in this sense exists to a large extent, but regardless of this, banking is highly co-operative, with the utmost incentive for the Banker to satisfy his patrons, and perfect freedom of action for the latter.

While the banker has a free hand in the employment of the funds, he must handle them with such regard for the interests of its patrons as to satisfy them, or his business will not be successful. The patron is free to withdraw his funds and place them elsewhere at any time. Banks are numerous, and the organization of a new one is a simple process under state or national law. There is nothing of the nature of monopoly about the banking business. It controls no natural resource or opportunity, its earnings are from current business, its customers are alternately creditors and debtors, and must be satisfied in both relationships or they can easily form new connections. The "Dashing" Blonde

By DOROTHY WHITCOMB

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union

Sylvia Blaine was happier than she had ever been in all her life before. But when one is nineteen, happiness comes easily, especially when one is in love.

Tom Darragh was generally considered the most promising young lawyer in Stapleton. And he loved Sylvia Blaine.

Sylvia could not believe that it was night for any girl to be as happy as she was, and why should Tom have chosen her when there were so many sweeter girls of his acquaintance? If he had ever known her cousin, Agatha, he would never have looked twice at her.

Agatha Blaine was five years older than Sylvia. Although she had been born in Stapleton, she had not lived there much during her checkered existence. She had made an unhappy marriage and was suing the man for a divorce. Agatha was a handsome blonde—"dashing" people called her—with many number of months suffering round her. And the worst of it was that Agatha, who could never resist making conquests, was coming to stay with Sylvia's mother.

When Agatha did arrive, a resplendent being in a picture hat, with four trunks and a pellucid, dachshund, she was more than ever convinced that her days of happiness were numbered.

Agatha was so kind that the girl half minded to confess her trouble to her. But Agatha seemed also a little heartless.

"Why, my dear sister," she said to Sylvia's mother, "what funny, old-fashioned ideas you have about men. Any woman can twist any man round her little finger, if she chooses."

"I wonder if she will choose to twist Tom round her little finger," sighed Sylvia to herself when Agatha congratulated her warmly.

On the day after her arrival Tom was introduced to her. Sylvia, watching them closely, although she assumed an indifferent manner, felt that her worst fears were confirmed. Within a few minutes after the introduction they were chatting together like old friends.

"Well, I've seen this wonderful Cousin Agatha," said Tom as they parted, "and she can't hold a candle to you sweetheart."

The next day when Agatha pleaded a headache when Sylvia broached the proposition of a walk, Sylvia had some shopping to do, and, after a stroll through the woods alone, returned through the village. Suddenly she stopped dead; she felt as though an icy hand had been laid upon her heart for at a window on the second story of some business office she saw Agatha's hat.

And the irony of the situation lay in the fact that the hat was nodding at the window of Tom's office.

And a moment or two later she saw Agatha's slimy lace handkerchief pressed to her eyes, and Agatha's head bowed upon her hands and saw Tom's hand patting her cousin's shoulder consolingly.

She wrote a little note to Tom that evening.

"I find that I made a mistake," she said. "I thought I loved you, Tom, but I was wrong. Please do not call or write to me and never ask me to explain."

She knew Tom was too proud not to take her at her word. And the next two weeks were miserable ones, for she herself was too proud to let Agatha know how she was suffering.

"Well, I must say I don't think much of that sweetheart of yours," Sylvia said Agatha. "If I were engaged to a young man I should expect him to come to see me every evening. And he's just been in an appearance."

Sylvia did not make the report that was upon the tip of her tongue. That on four separate occasions she had seen Agatha in Tom's office.

But everything draws to a close, and the time has come for Agatha to leave. Agatha was waiting for the carriage to come to convey her to the station.

"Sylvia, dear," she said, "there isn't anything wrong between Tom and yourself, is there?"

"No," stammered Sylvia bravely. "You know," said Agatha, "I didn't like my lawyer, Wagstaff, who, between ourselves, hadn't been quite straight with me. So I thought: Here's $500 worth of law business going begging, and why shouldn't Tom Darragh have it and be able to start housekeeping with a nest egg in the bank? Why, Sylvia?"

"For Sylvia was crying, and when the cab arrived, she had only just begun to explain.

"I can't go in, Agatha. I dare not. I'll write to Tom."

"Well, now, you just sit still and I'll bring Tom out to you," said Agatha sternly. And when, a minute later, the door opened and Tom came in, Sylvia clung to him, sobbing and repentant.

"O, Tom, what a goose I was. Can you ever forgive me?" she asked.

"On one condition," he answered. "That you marry me next month."

"On one condition," said Sylvia dolefully.

"Which is—?"

"That Cousin Agatha shall be my bridesmaid."

CUT IN FREIGHT RATES PENDING

PRESIDENT HARDING HOLDS TALK WITH LEADERS ABOUT RAILROAD PROBLEM.

RAIL EXECUTIVES MEET OCT. 14

Senator Cummins Believes They Will Consider Reduction of Wages Can Be Lowered.

Washington.—Developments, which were declared to be early reduction in railroad freight rates and a clearing of the railroad situation generally, have come from several quarters recently.

A group of prominent railroad executives conferred with President Harding and Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, and discussed steps toward freight rate reductions preliminary to the executives meeting at Chicago, October 14.

Demand For Rate Cuts.—Rate reductions also was the principal topic on the program at a meeting of democratic and Republican senators comprising the unofficial agricultural bloc. Senators attending the meeting said there was a wide and vigorous demand for rate cuts, as imperative to the agricultural interests.

Senator Cummins, after his conference with the railway executives, said he believed they would adopt at their Chicago meeting his suggestions for an immediate reduction of freight rates. No definite or formal assurances to this effect were given him at the conference, he explained, but he expressed the opinion that the reductions would be made by the carriers voluntarily.

The carriers then, Senator Cummins said, probably would ask the railroad labor board to reduce wages or appeal to congress for legislation to meet the situation caused by the voluntary rate reductions.

Wages Too High, Claim.—The railway executives in the conference included T. Dewitt Cuyler, representing a railway securities holders organization; Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania system; President Smith, of the New York Central; President Holden, of the Burlington system; and Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific.

"The railway executives," said Senator Cummins after the conference, "feel that the only substantial way to reduce rates is to reduce wages. They also feel that the wage fixing functions of the railroad labor board should be transferred to the interstate commerce commission, which has the rate making or return powers."

HOUGHTON COUNTY WINS SUIT

Supreme Court Establishes Title to Million Dollar Land.

Houghton, Mich.—Houghton county's five-year fight to establish ownership to tracts of iron-bearing land in Gogebic county, near Bessemer, has been won. The Michigan supreme court reversed the decision of the Gogebic county court, which held Paul and Napoleon Massie to be the owners. The higher tribunal found the verdict against the weight of evidence and ordered the case back for retrial.

RAIL STRIKE, NOT EXPECTED

W. G. Lee Says Men Recognize Conditions Now Existing.

Cleveland, O.—Prediction that there will be no general strike on the part of the railroad transportation brotherhoods has been made by William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Lee based his prediction on his belief that "the average labor leader is not insane to the extent of not recognizing conditions as they now exist."

Brennan to Defend Arbuckle.

San Francisco.—Arrangement of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle on a man slaughter charge growing out of the death of Virginia Rappe, went over until a later date at the request of Charles H. Brennan, appearing in the role of new chief counsel for the film star. It was reported Frank Dominguez, who headed the defense, had withdrawn because Arbuckle was dissatisfied over his failure to force Brennan aside from the stage at the police court hearing.

Unshaken Testimony.

Time is the test of truth. And Donah's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Northville. No Northville resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary, ills can remain unconvinced by this twice told testimony.

Mrs. W. S. Dickerson, York street, Northville, gave the following statement September 20, 1916: "When ever there is need of a kidney medicine in our family, we resort to Donah's Kidney Pills, for we have always found them to do all that is claimed for them. Personally, I know Donah's are very effective for kidney disorder and a remedy worth recommending to those who are in need of something for their kidneys. A few of Donah's now and then keeps my kidneys in good working order."

On April 20, 1920, Mrs. Dickerson said: "I haven't had occasion to resort to Donah's Kidney Pills in quite a long time, but my opinion of the remedy has undergone no change during the past four years. I gladly endorse Donah's."

FORCE PAYMENT OF UNPAID TAXES

ATTORNEY GENERAL MERLIN WILEY SAYS STATE WILL SUE TAX LAGGARDS.

ONE COMPANY 6 YEARS BEHIND

About $125,000 Now Due From Southern Michigan Phone Company Which May Be Seized.

Lansing—Merlin Wiley, attorney general, has instructed his assistants to start suit against telephone companies, car loaning companies, and other corporations subject to the special tax law and delinquent in payment of taxes for former years.

This action may result in the state taking over the Southern Michigan Telephone company, which has the largest tax delinquency of any of the public service corporations, paying taxes into the primary school fund of the Southern Michigan company over its taxes for the past six years, the amount with accrued interest being $125,000.

The telephone company is understood to be a subsidiary of the Michigan State Telephone company. The parent company has sought to have the Southern Michigan company adjudged bankrupt. It is believed that a judgment for the $125,000 taxes, and interest would exceed the present value of the properties and force the state to take over the lines.

There are 60 telephone companies that have failed to pay their 1920 tax, the total of their delinquency amounting to $37,000 for the year. A total of $8,000 is owed by 42 car loaning companies, delinquent in the 1920 tax. The delinquency of several small railroads brings the total of unpaid specific tax for 1920 to $473,000.

O. B. Fuller, auditor general, has forwarded the list of delinquent companies to the attorney general for collection. A reasonable time for payment has been allowed by the attorney general, and suits will now be started to collect the tax remaining unpaid.

Some of the car loaning companies have flatly refused to pay the tax, alleging that they own no property but do business with cars that they rent and are not subject to taxation. Under the law the state can attach the cars themselves in case the tax is not paid.

SENSATIONAL SUIT IS SETTLED

Stokes Denied Divorce But Mrs. Stokes Is Granted Separation.

New York—The sensational legal battle between W. B. Stokes, cap. Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, ended in the supreme court Monday when Justice Edward R. Finch denied the suit of the millionaire for a divorce and granted Mrs. Stokes an interlocutory decree of separation on her counter suit.

Justice Finch in his decision on both documents, took notice, however, to rebuke Mrs. Stokes for her testimony against her husband as exaggerated and stated some of it really happened at all.

The president hopes that the conference will be able to ameliorate existing conditions and avert sufferings of an army of jobless the coming winter and to recommend policies to prevent the periodical recurrence of widespread unemployment.

HUNGER HORROR WAITS SNOW CUE IN THE CAUCASUS

VICKREY, NEAR EAST RELIEF'S NATIONAL SECRETARY, TELLS OF FAMINE-SETTING WHEN AUGUST CURTAIN ROSE.

20,000 CHILDREN MUST DIE THIS WINTER WITHOUT AID

"One of the most appalling horrors of history," the death by starvation of tens of thousands of children and even larger numbers of adults, will be enacted in the Near East this winter unless food is sent them by America before snow falls.

The statement was made by Charles V. Vickrey, national secretary of Near East Relief, who has just returned to New York from a three-months trip of personal inspection in the old Russian provinces of Transcaucasia and bordering lands of Asia Minor.

"Into these war-hungry regions fled as refugees those remnants of the Armenian and neighbor races who had escaped massacre or capture by Turks and Kurds or death by hunger, exposure and attendant disease."

Mr. Vickrey said, in part: "There are two distinct large areas involved in the Russian famine problem. The Volga region, reaching northward from the Caspian Sea; and southern Russia or Transcaucasia, embracing the new republics of Georgia and Russian Armenia, to the westward of the Caspian and extending to the Black Sea."

1921 Death Harvest Early

"It has been my lot, to travel in southern Russia since August of the last three years. In those years the wholesale death harvest did not develop until late winter or early spring. Never before have I seen actual widespread starvation in the month of August. This year in Russian Armenia I found the dead lying in the streets, saw the death-wagons loaded at first-hand of the other corpses—infants, children, adults—by the waysides beyond the cities. The buried and the unburied. This in the month of August instead of in January, February and March."

"In the once busy and comparatively well-stocked market places of Erivan, capital of the war-born republic of Armenia, I encountered only women, children and very aged men, wandering, wandering from street to street, dumbly trying to exchange a frayed garment or other fragment of personal belongings for a portion of food to ease their hunger."

Worse Than At Armistice

"The causes of the yearly famine date back to and include the huge massacres of 1915, following upon the opening of the World War, when hundreds of thousands of Armenians fled the Turkish-Kurd raiders and sought a refuge in the Russian Caucasus. Every year since that time the country has been overrun and pillaged by contending or unfriendly military forces. War has not ceased for Armenia. Conditions appear worse today, in the closing months of 1921, than they were at the signing of the armistice."

"Upon withdrawal of the Turkish forces from Alexandropol last April (carrying away with them all transportable food supplies and every property that might be useful to the Turkish army fighting the Greeks on the Western front), the Armenians did everything they could to plant and secure a crop, for they are 85 per cent a farmer people. But the task was impossible, the result inevitable."

20,000 Fed; 20,000 Must Die

"In the vicinity of Alexandropol alone, Near East Relief with the aid of more than 50 American experienced rescue workers is caring for 20,000 orphaned children, constituting probably the largest assemblage of parentless infants and youth the world ever has known. The president of the local government of the Alexandropol district states there are 20,000 other children in his district who will die of hunger and exposure this winter if they are not added to our orphanage population. The whole number of orphans in Near East Relief territory exceeds 100,000."

"These are the reasons why Near East Relief is calling upon the people of the United States for 5,000,000 bushels of corn and wheat to be delivered into the famine regions before the tragedy of early snow descends to choke the roads and block transport into the interior."

Michigan's quota in the national grain gift is 100,000 bushels, now being subscribed.

BACKED BY LEGION CHAPLAIN

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Dr. John W. Inger, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Chattanooga and National Chaplain of the American Legion, in a public statement re-endorsing Near East Relief and its work and its appeal for grain to prevent wholesale deaths by starvation in Armenia and surrounding regions, says: "I pray that the people will realize the urgency of this tremendous appeal, and that America in all of its bounty will keep on contributing to these our Christian brethren across the sea who are in such dire straits and pitiless poverty."

$16,000 PER DAY DIPHTHERIA COST

Twelve thousand dollars a day, or more than $500,000 a month, is the cost of diphtheria to the people of Michigan at the present time, according to recent figures of the state department of health.

Diphtheria is being reported to the department at the rate of 1,000 cases a month. With this prevalence 100 deaths a month may be expected, it is said. Using the courts' value of $5,000 for a human life, health authorities estimate that diphtheria is costing $500,000 monthly in the loss of vital assets alone. More costs in loss of time from sickness and medical expenses were not computed in the foregoing.

OLDER F. M. C. A. CONFERENCE AT PONTIAC

Woodbridge N. Harris of Big Rapids, who has spent a life-time dealing with boys and girls, will be the principle speaker on the program of the Older Boys County Conference to be held in Pontiac, October 20 and 21.

The Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Pontiac Board of Commerce, will furnish a complimentary banquet to the 200 boys delegates who are expected from the towns in the county.

The H. A. club of the Pontiac High school, extended the invitation to the Conference to come to Pontiac, and with the large group of business and professional men of the city, will constitute the entertaining committee.

An unusual feature of the program this year, following the conference theme, "Life's Fundamental Relationship" will be special contact with the industrial phase of life at one of the largest factories in the city, where an entire manufacturing process will be shown by the boys from start to finish and one of the important reasons of the conference will be held in the shop.

The conference starts Thursday evening at six o'clock with a banquet furnished by the Pontiac Merchants and will run through all day Friday closing with a special supper and meeting of the Central Methodist church Friday night.

The Ford Sedan, a closed car of distinction, beauty and convenience, is the ideal all-year-round car, for pleasure or business—for the farm, town or city. It gives you all that any car can give at a much lower cost for operation and maintenance. Ford cars of all types are in great demand, so place your order at once if you wish to avoid delay in delivery.

ble about their age if they wish to vote, according to a decision given in Morris More Than Convinced.

Hillsdale—Lillian F. Porter, of Reading, did not believe in her husband's boasted popularity with the ladies when away from home on trips, until she found a picture in his trunk in which he was in the fond embrace of another. Now she doesn't believe he was only fooling and she has asked
