SANITORIUM GROUNDS ARE TO BE BEAUTIFIED

Continuing his discussion of the erection of the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium Mr. Maybury relates a number of interesting incidents in connection with the planning and erection of the buildings.

"Dollars and cents are not all we try to save; however, as we have also figured on how to economize on time, energy, labor, and steps. Every recreation room will be provided with a little wagon similar to a tea wagon. These will be loaded with books and wheeled to the rooms of the patients who are unable to go to the recreation rooms, so that they will have a variety from which to make their selections. This will save the steps of the nurses from going back and forth with a book or two at a time until the patients are satisfied."

"Apropos of step-saving plans, the building has been so constructed that in spite of the difference in latitude, as it stands on a hilly ridge, the floors are on even levels. This eliminates all unnecessary stairs, the constant climbing of which would be fatiguing for nurses and doctors as well as the ambulant patients. There is only one case where the floor level is uneven. This is due to the fact that the ceiling of the large dining room in the ambulatory building is higher than any of the other ceilings, so that it breaks the level of the floor above. On the second floor where the level rises we have eliminated stairs by substituting a slanting incline which rises gradually like the side of a low hill."

"Another time and labor-saving device is the little underground railroad which we operate between the main building and the laundry. In tunnels through which the sewage and waste pipes will run we found there would be enough room to install a miniature railroad system for the conveying of soiled clothes and linen to the laundry from the sanatorium. This will eliminate the necessity of carrying the washing from one building to the other via the outdoor route, which would be especially disagreeable in bad weather."

"Speaking of the laundry brings us to another problem that was solved by the simple economy method. Between the laundry and the power house is an open court, surrounded by the buildings on three sides. When we decided to have an ice plant on the grounds all we had to do was to put a roof over the court to save expense of erecting a new building. Now we have under one roof our power house, laundry and ice plant, so that in one building we are furnished with light, heat, water and an additional water supply for fire protection. The water, ready cooled, is piped up to the sanatorium from the ice plant."

"We have on the grounds 5,000 feet of sewerage on a line, together with the construction of water mains, disposal tanks and the equipment of the power plant, we had handled independently, that is to say, was done without contract. This meant another great saving of dollars to the city. In fact the work on power, house equipment was done by men who are regularly employed by the department of health. This obviated the necessity of employing additional labor."

"True economy consists of more than merely cutting down expenses in the present; it also takes the future into consideration. Under Mr. Maybury's supervision the home built for the accommodation of the nurses is so constructed that if enlargement should become necessary in the future it can be accomplished at a saving of both time and money. The roof of the building is arranged so that it can be jacked up to admit another story in the event that the building proved too small for future needs. With the majority of buildings the enlarging process is one of tearing down and building up, with considerable waste and expense entailed. But in the case of the nurses' home, it would mean merely raising the roof and slipping new walls in beneath it."

"The old adage about haste making waste is generally demonstrated in the erection of large public buildings," Mr. Maybury declared, "because in the majority of cases as soon as the plans are made construction work is begun and pushed ahead according to the original ideas laid out in the architect's plans. Then when the building is nearing completion, someone has an afterthought in the way of an improvement which would be of value to the institution in question. As a consequence, perhaps, walls must be torn down or new walls must be put up, windows must be taken out or windows must be put in, and before the thing is accomplished material, time and labor have been wasted. Not is one change the only change, for it usually follows that one brings another, and the building is ultimately sure to cost hundreds and even thousands of dollars more than the original figure."

"The unnecessary waste and expense have been avoided in the case of the tuberculosis sanatorium as the charges are made in the plans. Work is not begun until every detail is studied out and corrections are made on the blue prints. We are sure that our plans are right then we follow them to the letter."

"Another thing that has helped to reduce construction cost is our own gravel pit. There is a pit on the property which has furnished practically all the sand and gravel used in the construction of the buildings. When you consider the present cost of building supplies, and the cost of hauling out to the grounds this pit of our own means a good sized figure on the credit side of the ledger."

"When the grounds surrounding the hospital are complete there will be winding through them 10 miles of woodland drives, eight of which have already been finished. These will extend through a six acre park between the road and the main entrance gate; over hills which afford an excellent view of the adjacent country; down into valleys seemingly hidden between the hills, and through woods as wild and rustic a nature intended them to be. These drives will be open to the people of Detroit. The grounds are so laid out that motorists will not annoy the patients, and we want the people of Detroit to take advantage of this beauty which is theirs to enjoy."

AMERICAN LEGION PRESENTED COLORS

As an expression of the appreciation and kindly interest of the people of this village the council presented to Louis H. Green Post American Legion, last Friday night a silk banner suitably inscribed and a beautiful silk American flag. The presentation was made by President R. B. Boyer at the Armistice Day ball given at the High School. After the mystery dancers had enveloped tea numbers the assemblage was called to order and the presentation took place in the presence of a large number of the members of the post and their guests. The two handsome flags were accepted in behalf of the post by Commander L. D. S. S. Jr. and were given over to the care and keeping of the color bearers and color guards. The ceremony of presentation was impressive. President Logar's remarks being fitting and appropriate. After accepting the colors Commander Stage asked that all join with his comrades in a short tribute to those who gave their lives in the great world war and a deep hush fell over the large audience as all bowed their heads in reverence and devotion. After the orchestra rendered "The Star Spangled Banner" taps were sounded and the merry company again turned its attention to the dance programs.

The ball was a most delightful success, notwithstanding the music was late in arriving. The program given was great, enjoyed and the dancers heartily applauded every number. The gym was attractively decorated with flags and war trophies and in every detail the ball was all that could have been desired. The W. R. C. served refreshments.

MARRIED BUT DID NOT CHANGE HER NAME.

Last Wednesday, November 9th, Mrs. Leona Whipple of this township and Frank E. Whipple of Detroit were united in marriage and after a delightful wedding journey returned to the Whipple farm home where they will reside. Mr. Whipple is a well known Detroit attorney and has practiced law in the city for the past sixteen years and expects to continue his office there. Mrs. Whipple is well and favorably known to the people of this section and being satisfied with her name decided to marry her attorney and thus retain the name she had chosen some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Whipple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends both here and in Detroit who will join with The Record in wishing them success and happiness.

Novi News.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cole and little son visited Detroit friends Sunday.

Mrs. O. S. Hulatt has returned from a visit to her daughter in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Several from here attended the Convention at the Baptist church in Northville Monday.

Miss Nettie Clinger of Detroit spent a part of last week with her cousin Mrs. Will Melow.

Last Saturday night several relatives and neighbors gave Mrs. Lizzie Coates a genuine surprise by dropping in to spend the evening and bringing along a generous supply of eats, and all remained till midnight.

Fred N. White, of Novi township is plaintiff in a suit for divorce pending in circuit court against Mrs. Carrie White.

He says they have been twice married and once divorced. He says the first marriage was on April 18, 1918, and the second one on April 15, 1921. Mrs. White obtained the first decree, but soon reconciliation. White claims they lived together the last time until Sept. 1, last. There are no children.

The special evangelistic services are still in progress at the Baptist church with good interest. Monday evening, Rev. Niburg and wife had charge of the singing and it was surely a musical "feast". Friday night may be the last night of the meetings unless otherwise arranged. If you did not come before, come on Friday evening, good singing and a good sermon by Rev. Thibault of Wixom. Everybody welcome.

The Mission Band met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. D. Hazen and were treated to a bountiful dinner. Two comfortable, well set off and plans made for the coming bazaar.

On Saturday there was a joint meeting of the Mission Band and Cheerful Workers at the home of Mrs. Clara Clark, when the plans were perfected and committees appointed for work not arranged before. There was a large attendance and all did justice to an excellent pot luck dinner.

The annual Barnet and chicken pie supper given by the Mission Band and Cheerful Workers will be held in the Baptist church house on Friday afternoon and evening Dec. 2nd, 1921. The sale of goods will begin at 2 p.m. Special attraction for the kiddies, one party being for them alone—big folks not in on that. On the date fixed in your mind Dec. 2nd, 1921, there will be bazaars for aprons, fancy work, baked goods, candy, parrot post and others. Will get names of committees later.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB NEWS.

Now is the time to get your certificates of title for your automobile made out. Do not wait until the first of the year when the big rush is on. New titles may be obtained at the Northville club office in the Record building. Blanks will be filled out correctly for applicants who desire proper affidavit, etc., at small expense.

Application blanks for 1922 licenses will be ready for distribution by the Northville Auto Club soon after the first of December.

The largest and most effective meeting of automobile club officials ever held in this country will be the big get-together convention of club presidents and secretaries in Detroit Monday and Tuesday, November 22-23.

This meeting will open at 8 o'clock sharp Monday morning in the Assembly room of the Hotel Teller.

An informal banquet will be given Monday night where there will be an opportunity of listening to short and sharp addresses by the best men in the automobile industry.

This meeting gives us the opportunity we have all longed for which is the privilege of listening to and participating in the discussion of the important problems which every club has to solve.

Any member of the Northville club is invited to be present.

MAY BE ANDERSON'S SLAYER.

Hopes are expressed by officers connected with the state police and Oakland that the mystery of the killing of State Trooper Harold E. Anderson, at Nov. last March, may be cleared up in the detention of a Detroit man.

State Troopers E. C. Collins and Harold Hughes last night escorted to the Oakland county jail Thomas C. May of 5544 Martindale avenue, Detroit, where he will be held for investigation in connection with the shooting of Trooper Anderson.

Col. Roy Vandercrook, state police, and Professor C. D. Underwood were prepared to make an extensive probe into May's movements on the night of the shooting—Pontiac Press.

NEW STATION AT PRISON FARM.

Supt. Edward Denniston of the Detroit House of Correction prison farm, near Plymouth, has been notified that the Pere Marquette railroad company will establish a station at the prison farm, which is on the Detroit-Grand Rapids division of the Pere Marquette. The station will prove a great convenience in transporting prisoners to and from the city—Plymouth Mail.

VERA BARSTOW, AMY ELLERMAN AND CALVIN COXE.

Miss Vera Barstow, Violinist, Miss Amy Ellerman, Contralto and Mr. Calvin Coxe Tenor, will be heard in recital at Farmington Town Hall on the evening of Nov. 25th at 8:15 p.m.

The announcement of this unusual combination of artists should come as an agreeable surprise to the music lovers of Farmington and vicinity. Each member of the organization is a capable artist and the combination of three in one concert is meeting with universal praise from press and public.

Miss Barstow the charming young violinist is in the height of her career. At her New York recital recently Max Smith in the New York Press, wrote "Miss Barstow is unquestionably one of the most talented women violinists now before the public."

Miss Ellerman, with an unusual large voice of wonderful quality, is enjoying the most successful season in her career, while Mr. Coxe, the tenor, never fails to please the audience.

Admittance to the Recital will be by card only which may be secured from Mrs. C. Wolfe & Son, phone 37-F-2, Farmington.

PETROVIT TREASURES.

Their names are legion, the men and women who are interested in the famous songbird of grand opera, Patti, Nilsson, Sembrich, Telegzini, Mary Garden, Schuman-Herk, are household names. Gossip about these capricious, luxuriously loving, idealized golden-voiced prima donnas has been eagerly read and spread from lip to lip since the days of Mahler and Grisi, by thousands who have never even heard grand opera of gazed on a diamond-blazing horseshoe of boxes. But it was left to Edward Sheldon, that wonderful young playwright, who wrote that new international success "Romance," for Doris Keane, to present before the footlights the supreme incarnation of the enchanting prima of Italian opera. In his central character of Madame Cavalli in "Edmunda," Mr. Sheldon is declared to have crystallized the type in a perfect specimen. In "Romance," Miss Keane will be seen at the Garrick theatre the week commencing Monday night, November 21st, with the usual matinees.

"Theodore," the big Italian soprano spectacle is duplicating its tremendous New York success at the Shubert-Michigan theatre where it begins its third week on Sunday. Detroit is the second city in the United States to view this enormous million dollar prima and like the Astor Theatre in New York the Shubert-Michigan is well equipped for every performance.

"Theodora" is the first big Italian play-drama model like the War, in a screening of spangled pagoda romance, built around the historic pageant of the Empress Theodora who was the Roman Empress in the fifth century as the wife of the co-emperor Justinian. Historians place her as a mighty creature, bold in virtue and the courts of the gods. Theodore, but all agree that she was of surpassing loveliness and exquisite charm. She was the daughter of a lion tamer in a circus at Byzantium (as Constantinople was then called) and led a life of pleasure until she met Justinian, the heir to the throne of the Caesars. He fell madly in love with her and their marriage elevated her to the throne when he became Emperor. The life of Theodora after she became empress is reflected in the film, together with the historic love story of her mad infatuation for the young Greek Andress, for whom she sacrificed her throne.

JOHN McCORMACK TO SING AT ANN ARBOR.

John McCormack, the world-renowned Irish tenor, who is to be heard in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, in the Choral Union series, Tuesday evening, November 22, has prepared a particularly attractive program for the occasion. He will be assisted by Donald McLean, a violinist of extraordinary ability, whose name has been linked with McCormack's owing to the many engagements which they have filled jointly. Edwin Schneider, one of the finest accompanists, will also appear in the program.

An attractive feature of McCormack recitals is the fact that Mr. McCormack is always generous with encores and usually includes about as many unannounced numbers as are scheduled on the formal program. Among the unannounced numbers are invariably found such beautiful songs as "Mother Machree" which have become inseparably linked with his name. In spite of the fact that the sale of course tickets for the Choral Union series has been the largest in the history of the Choral Union, additional requests for tickets are being received daily and the management is making arrangements to provide seats for a couple of hundred people on the stage and also to sell a limited number of standing room tickets. Orders for tickets will be filled in the order of receipt so long as the supply holds out.

VOTE FOR THE BONDS.

On Monday next the people of Northville will be given an opportunity to vote upon the proposition of bonding the village in the sum of one-hundred-and-ten thousand dollars for the purpose of constructing a sanitary sewer system and a sewage treatment plant, a complete and modern system. The Record believes this proposition ought to carry and we sincerely hope it will be approved by a large majority of our citizens.

As a matter of public health we ought not to get along without an adequate sanitary sewer system, and as a matter of good business policy we believe this proposition ought to be adopted at this time. Next summer we will not have the large number of men employed on the sanitarium building we have had for the past two seasons. If we vote to construct the sewer system the project will provide employment for many men and will stimulate business in all lines besides showing to the surrounding communities that Northville people are taking a step forward in endeavoring to make this village a more attractive home place. There is great danger in having a cesspool in every yard throughout the town, and because we have thus far escaped the terrible epidemics which have afflicted themselves upon other communities is no assurance that our time will not soon come. One epidemic of diphtheria, typhoid fever, or the other diseases which are frequently attributed to unsanitary conditions, would cost the community a lot of money and time; we were more fortunate than our neighbors many homes could be shrouded in sorrow. Is it not better to construct a sanitary sewer system next season than to take chances in the future? We believe as a matter of public health and civic improvement we should construct the sewer.

Then there is another side to this proposition, with which all are familiar and one that means a great deal to Northville. As all our readers know the Ford interests came here a couple of years ago and bought a lot of property with the idea of establishing a branch factory here. They came without being offered any inducements or without asking any and expended a lot of money. They established their factory which has given employment to a good many men during the past year or more and this industry has proven a very great help to the entire community. It is hoped and expected that the factory now established is but the nucleus of a much larger plant to be erected here and that the number of men now employed will be greatly increased as business conditions improve. These are the present plans of the Ford interests, and while no definite promises have been made as to the extent of the plant or the number of men to be employed, we know that the Ford interests have need of a vast number of manufacturing plants similar to the one now in operation here. They not only have need of these plants, but they have an output for the products of these small plants and they also have the money and the business far-sightedness to provide these products through their own factories. Mr. Ford believes that the small communities should be made as nearly independent as possible, that the great freight day modern city is an abnormal development, that it is socially unsound. He believes that it will be infinitely better for the employee to live and to raise their families in communities like Northville than in the crowded cities of the country. The Ford interests established their plant here to give a demonstration of fact before and everything indicates the management is well satisfied with the experiment thus far.

At times during the past season upwards of three hundred men were employed in the local factory and all of those men were compelled to use fine out door clothes with no lower connect or whatever. This condition is everybody's mind about it and conducive to the health of the men or to the community in which they are employed. This condition can only be overcome or remedied by the construction of a power system, and we think enough in this village would decide to submit this proposition to the vote.

This is a big proposition and its right solution and settlement will mean a great deal to Northville, and to every interest represented here, to the merchant, to the laborer, to the property owner who desires his property shall increase in value, to the whole community in the vicinity which will feel whenever the new system has been completed. The Ford interests want this sewer for the protection of the health of their employees and as a certainty we ought to be willing and anxious to protect the health of all our people—the employees who toil in our factories as well as those of our citizens who have chosen Northville as a place of residence. The new sewer system will benefit every interest here and any project that will benefit all the people is deserving of our most enthusiastic support.

Let's all get behind this proposition and put it over in a big way. Let's say to the Ford interests we are willing and anxious to protect the health of all our employees and all other citizens of Northville as well, and that we are willing to assume the obligation for the public health and for the upbringing and improvement of our town.

The Ford plant has already proved its worth to Northville, and if the number of men employed could be increased to five hundred or a thousand the addition to our population would prove of great value to the whole community.

Let's vote for the bonds.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

The evening service will be omitted next Sunday and we will join in worship at the Baptist church, a series of special evangelistic services being in progress there.

The annual Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, November 26th, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. H. Grinwood of the Baptist church will be the preacher of the evening. Not only the members of the churches but all the people of the community are cordially invited to this service.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

The revival meetings under the leadership of Rev. W. H. Garfield of Rapid City, are continuing this week with good interest. Several persons have shown a deep personal interest in their soul's salvation and some decisions have been made. Morning prayer meetings have been held in various homes throughout the two weeks devoted to this special effort.

The attendance and the earnestness manifested are very gratifying and the church has, no doubt, received already a great spiritual impulse that will mean more efficient work in the future. The Worker's Conference of last Monday was attended by many pastors and evangelists, although some were hindered from coming by bad roads. It was a great day for us that will be long remembered. Mr. Garfield will close up the campaign next Sunday night. He will preach both morning and evening. Do not fail to come and hear this gifted and earnest man of God during the remainder of the time.

Morning service at 10:30. Sunday school at 11:45. Evening service at 7:30. There will be no prayer meeting next Thursday on account of the Union Thanksgiving service which will be held in the Presbyterian church next Thursday evening.

There will be a County Farm Bureau community meeting Tuesday evening, November 22nd, at Albert Ebersole's All are cordially invited.

The foundation for a very commodious and attractive sub-station to be erected in this village by the Detroit Edison Co. is being laid this week. The new building will be modern in every way and will represent the "last word" in sub-station construction. The Edison company never build cheaply or unattractive buildings.

Cass R. Benton has been ill at his home on the Plymouth road this week. Mr. Benton has not been in good health for some months past and at a consultation of physicians held the first of the week it was decided he was suffering from a nervous trouble. The Detroit Edison company is negotiating to take over the lighting business in Williamston and Fowlerville. Our neighbors will find this company a very valuable acquisition to the business life of the community.

The company's first thought seems to be to render service, and because of that attitude it is well thought of in all the communities in which it is represented.

About seventy-five persons attended the business and social meeting of the Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening. Games were played and the Committee in Charge served delicious refreshments, topping the list off with ice cream. Beginning the first Monday night in December the society will hold a social each month.

WITHIN REACH OF EVERY HOME.

Northville's proposed sewer system is planned to rate for every home in this village and while the present estimate is placed at $100,000, it is believed the plant can be constructed for less in the spring, when weather conditions will permit of normal operations.

The bonds will cover a long period of years and thus the expense of the sewer will be met in annual payments.

NORTHVILLE SCHOOL NOTES.

Arrangements have been completed with the American Red Cross for the services of a trained nutrition specialist. Nutrition work will be promoted as a part of the school program in grades one to six; and the specialist, Miss Church, will devote one day per week for the balance of the school year as an instructor along these lines in our school. Before taking up the nutrition work, however, it is necessary to have a diagnosis of malnutrition cases made by a physician who will give every child, parents willing, a thorough examination. The physician does not prescribe or follow up any of the cases he has diagnosed as that work is left entirely with the family to take up with the local physicians. Cards are being sent to the parents this week asking for their consent.

The examining physician whose services have been given to the American Red Cross by the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit will be at the Northville schools Tuesday, November 22, for the purpose of making such examinations.

After the pupils have been classified according to their physical conditions Miss Church will commence the nutrition work.

She is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State College and well qualified as an instructor.

Northville is indeed fortunate in securing her services which are given free gratis through the courtesy of the American Red Cross and everyone should cooperate in every way to make her work a success.

This work is being carried on in co-operation with the community nurse.

Berlie Larson, a graduate of Ginnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, has been engaged to fill Miss Floryard's position who was obliged to give up her work on account of ill health.

Through the courtesy of the Detroit Evening News, Northville pupils had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Edmond Cooke, the noted author and lecturer.

Two programs were presented, one for the High school students and one for people and one for the grade pupils.

The High school program featured Armistice Day and consisted of patriotic songs, flag salutes and patriotic selections by Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh Clay Day and Jappes Day, also vocal solo by Wayne VanDyke. Mr. Cooke spoke to both groups who were greatly pleased with his readings.

Next Wednesday, November 23d, at 2:30 p. m. Prof. Gray of the Michigan State Normal college will speak to students and parents at the High school. This will be our regular Thanksgiving program and all are invited to attend.

The basket ball season is on and the different classes of the High school are struggling for supremacy in the gymnasium floor this weekend next Monday night the boys of the Senior class defeated the Sophomore boys while the Sophomore girls defeated the Senior girls.

New song books have been ordered for the High school and we are expecting some real live singing when they arrive.

Report cards for the second month of school showed decided improvement in scholarship and letters were not sent to parents.

The second fellowship meeting of the school year was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Elmore and all of the teachers report a most enjoyable evening.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Northrop.

Pupils are writing letters to the Detroit News telling of their impressions of Mr. Edmond Cooke.

Some of the best letters will be published which will be an added incentive for the boys and girls to do their very best in the art of letter writing.

Mrs. Babbitt has a rather unique bulletin board in her room upon which are posted poems and articles of interest which the children clip from the papers. This teaches the boys and girls to be on the alert for good things in the papers and magazines.

In order to promote a taste for good reading a supervised reading period will be conducted in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades once or twice each week.

The Youth's Companion will be used for this purpose and enough copies will be ordered for each pupil.

Much interest is being shown in the history classes over the present Peace Congress which is being held in Washington.

INSTALLING MODERN TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT IN LOCAL EXCHANGE.

Recognizing that Northville is rapidly becoming a more important community as a telephone center because of its strong and steady growth and the development of the surrounding region, the Michigan State Telephone Company is completely re-equipping its central office and business offices here and modernizing them in every particular. The cut-over from the old to the new switchboard equipment, which is now going on, will be made about December 1st, it is announced by Manager Hall.

The new equipment consists of three sections of modern type of common battery, switchboard, such as was demonstrated here last spring, by a group of telephone employees in explaining how the service is handled. This will provide, initially, for 600 town telephones and 450 rural telephones, and can be added to as the office and the community grow. The cost of the re-equipment of the office will be about $3,000.

Mr. Hall declares that the "cut-over" will be made very quickly and that the Northville telephone users would not be aware of the change from the old, to the new, were it not for the necessity of changing some telephone numbers.

Mr. Hall says that these improvements are merely in line with the company's policy of giving the best possible service and in moving ahead with the needs of each community in which it operates. Mr. Hall has a very efficient organization here. He invites inspection of the new equipment and remodeled offices.

TOWNSHIP CHAIRMEN MEET IN DETROIT.

Chairmen of all Red Cross branches in Wayne county outside of Detroit were asked to attend a rally in Hotel Statler Wednesday, at 3 p. m. in the interests of the Red Cross roll call in the county. Starr Cadwalader of Cleveland, manager of the Lake division, made the principal address.

In Detroit the annual roll call was merged with the Community Fund and a sum of one dollar of each subscription being applied toward a Red Cross membership with the subscribers' consent. Outside the city, the roll call will continue throughout November. Progress has already been made in a number of communities, and executives of District chapter expect all previous enrollment records for Wayne county will be broken.

The chairman of the county branches are: Mr. E. L. Roach, Wyandotte; Mrs. John Reid, Trenton; Mrs. Charles H. Plymouth; Mrs. John Tibbitts, Riverton; Mrs. George, Mrs. F. H. McLean, Alexander, Redford; Mrs. H. McLeans, Romulus; Mrs. Charles Hubbard, Northville; Mrs. F. Cook, St. Marys; Redford; Rev. William Smith, Bolin; Mrs. Mary Johnson, Elkhorn.

NEW LEGION COMMANDER POPULATED.

The first official act of Hartford, N. H., newly elected national commander of the American Legion was to attend one at the Armstrong Ballroom in Arlington, representing the majority of ex-service men in the United States. He will remain in Washington during the annual conference. MacLander's election was announced by Legionnaires here.

He is exactly the type of man we want to lead us, states to be the unanimous comment. The impressive things about the new commander are that he went into a Army a buck private and came out a Lieutenant, colonel with 11 citations and nine decorations; that at the age of 22 he is head of a large banking business in Iowa and that he is a Harvard man without the Harvard accent. He has been hailed everywhere as a "real soldier."
