BIG BUILDING PROGRAM AT PRISON FARM

Early in the new year a big building program will be inaugurated at the Detroit House of Correction Farm. Plans are now being perfected and a contract will be let within a few weeks, doubtless, for the erection of the new prison, a building 700x900 feet in size to cost in the neighborhood of two million dollars. The new structure will have a capacity of 1,200 prisoners in single cells, and will contain beside the quarters for the inmates dining room, kitchen, chapel, officers' quarters, etc.

There is much activity at the farm, says the Plymouth Mail. The Pere Marquette, who are to establish a station there, are erecting new passenger and freight station. This will prove a great convenience in transporting prisoners to and from the prison in Detroit during the winter months. A side track has been built.

A new hospital building is also under course of construction. The new building will be 22x34 feet in size. It will have capacity for seven beds and all the necessary equipment.

A new forty-stall horse barn has just been completed.

The prison farm now has a fully equipped fire department. Two hose carts carrying 800 feet of two and one-half inch hose have recently been received. The fire fighting force is made up from the officers at the institution.

A new 700 gallon per minute centrifugal fire pump has been attached to the water mains that will furnish a good supply of water for fire-fighting purposes.

ANDREW LEADBEATER DIES SUDDENLY

Andrew Leadbeater, a highly esteemed citizen of this village died very suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mae Lanning, Monday forenoon. Death came to him without warning and he was stricken while walking toward his work shop from the Lanning residence. Early in the forenoon he was about town as usual and while noting was thought of the possibility of having pain in his chest attributing the cold air as the cause of his affliction.

Mr. Leadbeater was 75 years of age and for a great many years was a contractor and builder and was regarded as one of Northville's best and most skilled carpenters. Quiet and unassuming in manner he lived an exemplary life and was honest and upright in all his business dealings. Mrs. Leadbeater died but a few days ago. He is survived by two children Mrs. Mae Lanning and a son Richard of Detroit.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lanning. Rev. H. Greenwood officiating. Burial took place at Rural Hill cemetery.

NEW SWITCHBOARD "CUT IN"

At 4:00 o'clock last Saturday afternoon a new switchboard of the Michigan State Telephone company at Northville started its active career. Throughout the years to come this board will be "on the job" every minute—a telephone switchboard has "no time" off.

During the period that the new board was being installed the old board was moved to one side but kept in operation. The frame of the new board was placed in its permanent location, and the all of the paraphernalia which goes to make up a switchboard was added. Finally wires were strung from the existing lines to the new board and at the minute the new board was cut into operation every telephone line coming into Northville terminated on the new board.

The process of transferring from one board to the other was fairly simple. It consisted of placing operators at the new board and at a given moment the operators on the old board stopped answering calls, leaving the operators at the new board to handle all of the traffic. The connections on the old board were then quickly removed and the board taken out of the operating room so that thirty minutes after the change had been made, there was nothing in the room to indicate that there had been any change in the apparatus.

The new switchboard cost approximately $9,000 and is a great improvement both in appearance and in efficiency. It is modern in character of operation and easier to keep in order. With the use of this new board the transmission from Northville telephones will be considerably improved and there will be less possibility of interruption to the service through falling of the various parts. Furthermore the Northville operators will find their work considerably easier.

Manager Hall says that this improvement in Northville's telephone system is quite in line with the company's program for furnishing ideal telephone service.

The Michigan State Telephone company spends in this way each year several million dollars, and plans on adding to and improving its plant just as fast as it is able to finance such changes and additions.

Manager Hall gives the people in Northville a standing invitation to visit the operating room and have the operation of the board explained to them.

Although the new board takes care of the telephone requirements in Northville for some time to come, the telephone engineers are already writing up the specifications for an additional section to be installed at some future date.

Northville can well find satisfaction in the thought that the Telephone company has sufficient faith in the growth of Northville to increase its investment here and also plan on taking care of an added number of telephones in the future.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS' FAIR A GREAT SUCCESS.

The fair and concert given by The King's Daughters at the Foresters' hall, last week Wednesday afternoon and evening was a most gratifying success and reflected credit upon all the ladies who had a "finger" in the planning. The several booths were prettily decorated and many useful and appropriate articles were offered for sale. The dinner was well served and was most bountiful.

The committee having the affair in charge are especially grateful to all who assisted them in so many ways, and whose hearty cooperation made the affair a success. They are especially grateful to the Foresters for the many favors extended.

TO OPERATE MOTOR BUS LINE.

A $25,000 motor bus transportation company has been organized at Plymouth, Wayne, Northville and Detroit, with headquarters at Plymouth.

It is planned to give service between these towns and Detroit, one route via Northville and the Seven Mile road and the other via Wayne and Michigan avenue.

The officers of the new company are as follows: Wetmore Hunt, president, Detroit; W. T. McGray, vice-president, Detroit; Wesley J. Carlyle, secretary, Detroit; and E. K. Bennett, treasurer, Plymouth. It is proposed to operate four 25-passenger buses, and orders for these vehicles have been placed.

The Westminster Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. D. P. Yerkes next Monday night, the 19th. It will be a children's party and each member is requested to bring a gift.

WHEN HEARTS ARE TRUMPS

Tragedy if Child Should Have Christmas Come and Go Without an Ecstasy.

IF YOU have no child of your own, you must borrow or beg one for Christmas eve; for it is the time when the world lights its happiness with a child's joy, writes Dr. James I. Vance, in the Illinois State Journal.

Only a child may have the right of way on Christmas eve. If you do not stand in with the children, you must stand aside.

It is the hour when the world takes a cradle its shrine; when not only men from the East, but grown-ups from all points of the compass slip down over the hills of memory toward childhood's dawn, saying under their breath: "We have seen his star in the East and are come to worship Him."

What a wonderful thing is the coming of the old world for the happiness of children that changes at Christmas. The latter side of human nature comes to the front. We throw off our egotism. Meanness is shamed into generosity and for a little while on Christmas eve the highways of earth have a look in on paradise.

Was there ever a sweeter eagerness, a holier joy, a more heavenly anticipation, than that which all through the house is felt on Christmas eve? Every one is thinking of making somebody happy. The detestable secretiveness of it intensifies the thrill. Care is forgotten. Excitement is ringing the bells. Peace is over all the world. And the hero is a child.

Thank God for children! Of such is the kingdom of heaven. It is a sin to disappoint a child. Then it must please God when we make the children happy.

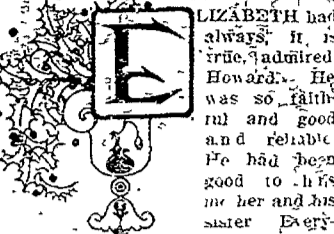

If there is no child in your home, maybe there is one on your doorstep, waiting for you to be its sight on Christmas eve. There are certainly some there in the street. They are looking at the tops in the window with wistful eyes, and wondering what the lover of children will bring them. It is your time to play and hearts are trumps.

What is tragedy if a single child in your own household have Christmas come and go without an ecstasy?

ELIZABETH had always, it is true, admired Howard. He was so faithful and good and reliable. He had been good to his mother and his sister. Every one knew he would be good to a wife and their children.

But she had never known him to be so good to her. He had never been so good to her as he was now. He had never been so good to her as he was now.

Howard smiled. "It's up to Elizabeth," he said. "One woman spoke to Elizabeth one day in a very serious fashion. 'The trouble with you,' the woman said, 'is that you've always had so much attention. Not only Howard but everyone has been charmed by you, and you think that will go on to the end of time. You'll find it won't. They'll stop, and then, where will you be?'

"I don't want to be married so as to cease being an old maid," Elizabeth laughed. "I've seen too many happy wives to be afraid of it."

BOAR'S HEAD AT CHRISTMAS

Ancient Custom Which is Now Being to Be Observed Only at Oxford University

BRINGING in the Boar's Head at Yuletide is not a new custom, but an old one. It is a custom which has been observed in Oxford University for many years.

The custom is believed to antedate Christ's birth. It is said to have come down to Englishmen from the Danes, the Deaf-News readily from a goddess of peace and plenty, was always represented as riding a boar, and the boar's head is believed to have been a yearly sacrifice of food to the deity in order to win her good will.

At Oxford the procession of the boar's head takes place in the latter part of the year. A boar's head is carried by a student of the college, and the line behind him march two or three broad shouldered men who bear the boar's head mounted on a silver salver. In the old days the head weighed as much as a fifty pounds.

Flies and penicils of the college carry about the head, which is crowned with a garland of rosemary, bay, laurel and other evergreens. A lion or in gaudy, the old Norse symbol of plenty, is placed between the tusks.

Behind the bearers of the silver march the surpliced men and boys of the choir and the organist in a robe of an Oxford doctor of music.

On a day of the end of the dining hall the provost and the principal guests stand. The provost says grace in Latin, the call to dinner is sounded with trumpets through the cloisters and the procession starts through the cloisters.

Origin of the Word Yule. Many explanations are given of the origin of the word Yule. One of the most probable is that it is derived from the ancient Gothic word, jol or houl, the origin of our word wheel. The Yule festival is said to have received its name from being the turning-point of the year when the sun apparently turns back from the south and begins to set each evening farther and farther to the north until in June it reaches down almost in the northwest. In the old clog almanacs of the Middle Ages a wheel is the device used for marking Yule-tide or Christmas.

Chocolate Sea-Foam Fudge. Put over the fire in a clean saucepan one cupful of light brown sugar, a half-cupful of water and a third of a cupful of grated chocolate and boil without stirring until it spins a thread from the point of a spoon. Have beaten stiff the white of an egg; pour the boiling mixture upon it and stir until it begins to stiffen. Drop from a spoon on waxed paper in little bonbons, or pour into a greased pan to set. It is fine to stiffen and mark into squares with a powdered knife. The

His First Christmas

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union

I WAS a quiet, unassuming house outside the snowflakes were chasing each other with vigor and a sense of the excitement of the season.

Forces could be heard shouting across streets, wishing others "A Merry Christmas." Now and again the wind blew loudly, but not shrilly nor harshly nor with a wailing sound. The wind, too, seemed to be quivering with happiness. All of nature had joined together to be as beautiful, as radiant, in honor of the day as possible.

The hills were covered with snow. The branches of the trees were laden with it. The snowflakes were falling from corners of houses and windows were festooned with exquisite designs. The shutters, too, were covered with snow. It looked more like fairyland than anything else.

In the house they were waiting, waiting, waiting. How tense and long seemed the wait. How nervous, how frightful, and yet how marvelous—it all went well.

But just suppose, everything didn't go well? Suppose anything happened?

Ray looked up and down the floor and wondered how he could have been so stupid—so free from nervousness for so long a time. He hated the great beauty of the outside world. When he heard people wishing each other "Merry Christmas" he almost hated their smiles and their cheerful voices.

How deeply he loved Lillian! She was worth all the Christmas presents in the world. Of course, there were two ways about that.

Apprentice doctor had said with such a genial, merry twinkle in his eyes: "Well, I fancy the young man and his wife will be a Christmas present from the misuses to you."

He had laughed at the time, and Lillian had blushed and smiled and laughed, too. The doctor was such a friendly old soul—he had been the doctor when Lillian had been born and he was now, too.

But perhaps he counted too much on Lillian's strength. Ray had been sent out of the room and he had been alone here now for so long!

At first he had been so full of high spirits. But the delay had been so strange, they hadn't told him there would be any such delay. They had simply sent him out of the room and had said that everything was all right, and that they'd come and tell him soon to be back to see his child.

He would go upstairs. He couldn't stand this another moment. And it was so quiet. He had fancied it would not be quiet. Then he heard a strange sound.

How anxious she sounded! Was that Lillian. She must be very ill to have a voice sound so curiously. He never heard it like that.

They couldn't keep him from her. She would want him. Of course she would!

He hurriedly ran up the stairs. The doctor was at the top of the stairs. "What argument, not so fast; not so fast," the doctor smiled. "I was coming to tell you."

"Couldn't you have let me come to her? Did you have to wait until she was all over to come and tell me?" Ray said in a husky voice.

"She wanted it to be that way," the doctor said. Still he was smiling. How could he smile at such a time? How hard and inhuman doctors became.

"I don't believe a word of it," he said. "She wanted me, I know. I heard her cry. That was it. You kept me from her. You wouldn't let me go to her and she—she—wanted me."

"My dear Ray, just a minute," the doctor said, but Ray had rushed past him and was in his wife's room. Tears were in his eyes.

Oh, he'd never forgive himself that he had consented to do what the doctor had told him to. When suddenly he noticed that Lillian was looking at him, her eyes wide open, smiling happily.

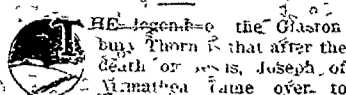

"Did you hear him shout out a 'Merry Christmas' to you, Ray?" she asked.

"It was the baby who cried?" "Not a cry, my love. 'Merry Christmas' was what he said."

"Lillian, my own, my own," he murmured, and bent down over her. And now the tears came freely. He didn't care at all about them. Nothing mattered. For the tears—they were the tears of joy!

WITH THE CHRISTMAS PLANTS

Trees and Flowers Are Believed to Owe Peculiarities to Connection With Jesus.

HE legend of the Glasgow boy, Thomas, that after the death of his father, Joseph, of Nazareth, came over to England shortly before Christmas, the story of the boy who was found to be covered with white blossoms. The boy is said to have continued picking these white blossoms until during the day, when he cut down a Christmas tree from the original thorn tree said to bloom in the same wonderful way even yet.

The Sicilian children put penny royal in their hats on Christmas eve, believing that at the exact hour and minute when Jesus was born it will blossom.

There is a cherished legend in the East that the Rose of Jericho first blossomed at the birth of Jesus, closed at the crucifixion, and opened again at Easter, from which comes its name of Resurrection flower.

Many plants, trees and flowers are believed to owe their peculiarities to their connection with the birth of the childhood of Jesus. The Star of Bethlehem is so called because its white, starlike flowers resemble the pictures of the Star of the East.

Our Lady's Bedstraw received its name because it was believed that the manger in which the Babe lay was filled with this plant.

An old account tells the story in this manner: "The broom and the chick-peas began to rustle and crackle, and by this noise betrayed the fugitives. The host bridled up, happily for her, Mary was near a juniper; the hospitable tree opened its branches as arms and, in the Virgin and the Child within their folds, affording them a secure hiding place. Then the Virgin uttered a malediction against the brooms and the chick-peas and ever since that day they have always rustled and crackled. But when the Virgin pardoned the flock's weakness and gave the juniper her blessing, which is said to account for its use of the juniper as Christmas decorations in some countries."

Adeste Fideles

THIS well-known and great joyous Christmas hymn was used at Benediction at Christmas tide in Rome and England since the close of the eighteenth century. It was sung at the Portuguese Legation in London as early as 1797. The most popular musical setting was by Vincent Novello, organist there, to John Rousleau, who was organist at Winchester cathedral from 1778 and later at Winchester college. The hymn itself has been attributed to St. Basil, but is not found among his works. It is probably of French or German authorship. It harkens all the faithful to come to the birth of the Saviour.—Catholic Encyclopedia

Roast Pig

Have your butcher prepare the pig for roasting and put him in cold water for fifteen minutes. Dry him inside and out with a soft cloth. Make a stuffing of bread crumbs, sweet taste and a little salt. Sweeten with sugar and mix with butter, and pour into the dressing and beaten eggs. Stuff the pig so that he will hold his original size and shape, and after sewing him up with his legs backward and his head as forward as he can. Skewer or tie him in this attitude and after dredging him well with flour put him, with a little water, in a covered roaster. Roast for an hour and a half before removing the cover, rub him well with butter, baste him with the gravy in the pan and roast half an hour longer, basting twice during that time. Apple sauce should be served with him, a lemon should be in his mouth, cranberries in his eye sockets.—The Delicater

IN DOUBT

Wifey— This year you must tell me just what you are going to give me for Christmas. Hubby— But how do I know what you have decided upon?

Christmas in the Shetlands. In the Shetland Islands they celebrate an old Christmas Eve, January 5, and on that occasion the young men and children go "a-guzzing." The children disguise themselves in strange dresses, parade the streets and invade the houses and shops begging for offerings. At one o'clock the young men, coarsely clad, drag blazing tar barrels through the town, blowing horns and cheering. At six o'clock in the morning they put on their grimy clothes and dressed in fantastic costumes go in groups to wish their friends the season's compliments.

George L. Kirkson, proprietor of the Amberbrook Laundry, died Monday the 14th at his home.

Pupils of the Sixth grade who are excited from examinations for regular attendance and excellent work, were shuttled from their homes and classrooms to the school.

Margaret Sutton and Andrew Jordan were married at the home of the groom's parents, Reuben, on the 13th. They expect to attend Northville their future home.

The A. M. Harmon W. R. C. No. 225, elected the following officers: Mary Antine, president; Pearl B. Hamilton, S. V. P.; Sarah Banks, treas.; Mrs. James Taylor, chaplain; Lillie Peck, conductor; Ethel Nixon, guard; Pauline Vredeburg, delegate to department convention Rose table alternates.

A FEW THINS IN TROLLEY BEGAVE TOO THE LIMITED TRAIN.

Such a time, such bowing. Oh my! Oh my! The two bowling teams of each town took a trip to their neighboring village last Thursday night, and spilled their pins on different alleys. That is the Pins and Bears went over to Plymouth while the two Plymouth clubs played on the Redford alleys. So the Redford Reds and Redford Blues troddled over to Farmington while the two teams from there were fighting it out on the Northville alleys.

Both Northville teams were late in arriving at Plymouth as it developed that superstition rested in both of the local captains as neither wanted to arrive at Plymouth first. The idea was that each wanted to say, "that you birds led over, but we will show you the way home." The real joke of it was that both teams arrived and entered the alley doors at the same time.

So far, no blood and honors even. Both captains, Woolley and Hamilton, appeared in rather unfit condition. Capt. Woolley in winter has ailing for soup and the writer has dined with him and knows whereof he speaks. Soup for breakfast, nullion for dinner and conserve for supper and the whole three when it comes to desert. So one would expect, the captain, Hamilton, daily for the past thirty days has trucked auto loads of apples to Detroit. He wants to get them all in before the freeze comes and has expected it to freeze for thirty days. He has no time to eat, except on the road, and apples are his handy daily ration. But how long can a man exist upon the juice of an apple, even if it is one apple after another?

Anyway, Jim turned his Bears right into the Huckleberries and never left them away until the Huckleberries were cleaned up. The Bears won but three games because there were only three games played.

Walter Jaska of the Huckleberry Pins bowled 567 in three games, and led all bowlers. John Raymond was high for single game with 221 and he belongs to the Bears.

Those Pins are not to be forgotten because they were beaten last Thursday for the tables may be turned next time.

The Bears rolled above their average and the Pins not up to their standard.

Lapham's Five of Farmington were defeated three straight by the Trolley Liners and by this upheaval the big Five dropped from first place down to third. The Redford Reds are now leading while Jim's Bears are in second place.

The Plymouth Rocks, Indians, Trolley Liners, Huckleberry Pins and the Redford Blues follow.

You notice that some teammen their standing of last week either raised or dropped two or three positions.

They did not stop at the first station, but took the limited in the Trolley League.

RECITAL STILL TALKEN ABOUT

One of the most unique and thoroughly pleasing recitals ever given in Farmington was presented November 25th at the Town Hall by Amy Ellerman and Miss Vera Barstow, assisted by Mr. Calvin Cox...

In it had been rumored that Miss Ellerman would sing in unison with her Re-Created voice and that the audience would not be able to tell the difference between Re-Created and living voice. Needless to say, many persons were skeptical...

—but only one voice. The tones emanating from the New Edison were identical with those of the living artist, and it was impossible to detect any difference.

CONVICT STABS PRISON WARDEN

CHIEF DEPUTY AND SON ALSO WOUNDED IN ASSAULT AT MARQUETTE.

HARPER STARTS RIOT IN CHAPEL About 400 Inmates Were Seeing Movie; State Police Called to Restore Order.

Marquette—Warden Theodore B. Cathin and three of his staff at the State House of Correction and Branch Prison here were stabbed in a fight with Arthur "Gypsy" Bob Harper, Jasper Perry and Charles Roberts, Detroit long-term inmates, who started a riot in the prison chapel Sunday morning by attacking the warden during a moving picture show.

The victims of Harper's fresh outbreak of vengeance toward the administration of the prison are lying in a local hospital in a serious condition. Cathin was wounded five times by the convict's knife. The deputy was cut and beaten badly. Young Menhennit was stabbed through the lung. All have been placed under the care of the best physicians in this city.

The solitary confinement awaiting flogging, that has been ordered by Charles Blaney, chairman of the prison commission, are Harper, Jasper Perry, Miller, and Charles Roberts, a 20 year man both of Detroit, who assisted Harper.

So surprised was the warden at the attack that his efforts to counter the convict's passes with the knife, were in vain. Cathin went down. Prisoners stampeded, while the more loyal ones came to the rescue of the endangered officials.

Harper directed his attack at the warden, against whom he has harbored a dislike since he was denied a transfer to Jackson Prison after his sensational escape from the institution here recently. The other prisoners leaped at Menhennit and his son.

Rising continued until Charles Muck, a guard on the outer wall, was summoned by Sam Fozard, a lifer. "Stand back, Muck, you're not fit to be a first man that makes a false move."

Muck's order backed the convicts toward the rear of the chapel, and, almost single handedly, he forced the prisoners into their cells.

A call was sent for state police at Negaunee at the onset of the fight. Major Robert Marsh, supervisor of state prisons, with a squad of 14 men, hurried to the prison. The riot forcements quieted up a few minutes after Muck, assisted by other guards, had gotten the convicts back into their cells.

Deputy Dies of Wounds. Marquette—Deputy Warden Fred C. Menhennit of Marquette branch prison who was badly cut and beaten Sunday morning in a battle with three convicts who had attacked Warden T. B. Cathin with knives in the presence of more than 400 other inmates in the prison chapel, died Monday afternoon from his wounds.

JAPAN YIELDS U. S. YAP CABLE RIGHTS

KEEP MANDATE BUT FORTIFICATION OF ISLAND FORBIDDEN BY AGREEMENT.

JAPAN WILL MAINTAIN ORDER Treaty Also Provides for Protection of American Property and Residents on Island.

Washington—Secretary of State Hughes announced Monday afternoon the conclusion of a treaty with Japan by which the long controversy over the island of Yap has been brought to an end. The treaty removed the remaining bar to the signing of the Quadruple Pacific Union.

Briefly, the new American-Japanese treaty provides that the United States shall have equal rights with Japan and all other nations with regard to radio and cable communications to and from the island of Yap; that Americans need not have special licenses nor need they pay taxes for the operation of cables; that Japan will not exercise censorship.

The United States consents to the mandate of Japan over the island of Yap and other islands nearby which were awarded to Japan by the League of Nations. But these conditions are attached: Slave traffic must be prohibited; traffic in arms and ammunition is to be controlled in accordance with regulations laid down in 1919 covering this subject in mandated territories; commerce or traffic in liquor is prohibited; natives must not be trained for more than normal duties; missionaries shall have free access to and from the islands; and religious freedom is granted, and no fortifications or bases of military character are to be erected.

Negotiations looking at a settlement of the Yap controversy were taken up by the Harding administration last March. The League of Nations had assumed the position that since the United States was a member of the League, it was one of America's business what the League did in the way of mandating. It took the attitude that it was none of America's business what the League gave to Japan. But Secretary Hughes in identical notes to the League powers last April announced that the United States contributed to the defeat of Germany, America demanded the right to a vote in the distribution of the fruits of victory.

The announcement of Secretary Hughes was made as a part of the proceedings of the Far Eastern Conference, although the treaty affects only the United States and Japan.

FORMER NORTHVILLE SUPERINTENDENT FOUND DEAD.

The following taken from a recent issue of the Milwaukee Capital Times will be read with regret by Northville citizens who will remember Prof. Cheever, who was superintendent of schools here in 1881. Lying face downward in two feet of water, the body of Prof. Walter H. Cheever, vice-president of the Milwaukee Normal school and professor of psychology there, was found in Lake Michigan at the foot of Park Place about noon today. He had been dead some time. Prof. Cheever left his home yesterday afternoon, according to his daughter, Mrs. McGee with whom he lived. President Carroll G. Pearse of the Milwaukee normal said Prof. Cheever had been in poor health for some time. Mr. Cheever was a well known Chautauqua lecturer. After leaving Northville Mr. Cheever went to Three Rivers as superintendent of the schools in that city. Mrs. Cheever was killed a few years ago. Durbin Cigars—Very Mild. Try Northville First.

Large Peace Army Proposed. Washington—Plans, now initiated for preparation of national defense, contemplate a more complete state of preparedness than at any previous period in the peace-time history of our country. Secretary of War Weeks declares in his annual report to Congress. Weeks said the plan for complete defense provides for an initial mobilization of 2,000,000 men, organized into six field armies. Extend Boy Scout Activities. Chicago—One hundred leading business men of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan met here to formulate plans for widening the scope of Boy Scout activities in regions embracing the four states. Thomas, For. Wayne. Co-eds Patronize Barber Shops. Ann Arbor—Co-eds at the University of Michigan are now having their hair cut in barber shops. Short-haired maids await their turn, a bit demurely, of course, alongside their fellows of the bolder sex, until the man in the white coat calls "Next." They prefer barbers to hair dressers, because they say barbers are less fussy about cutting hair and are more adept in angling hair than most operators in women's shops. Widow No. 1 Claims Legacy. San Francisco—Evidence intended to show that Anton J. Wiechers never was legally divorced from Mrs. Sophie Wiechers because the decree he obtained in Cincinnati in December, 1914, was obtained by fraud when publication of summons was introduced in court here by her attorney. She has brought suit to have herself declared the legal widow of Wiechers instead of Mrs. Birdie Foley Wiechers, whom he married in New York in 1914. Install Baths After 486 Years. Cambridge, Eng.—Undergraduates of St. Catherine's College will soon have the luxury of an occasional bath in college buildings. It is 486 years since the college was built. Students have had to bathe, as best they could in their room or get a bath elsewhere. After many years of agitation the conservative authorities have so far unhesitatingly to allow three baths to be installed, but as there are 70 residents, rumor says baths are to be taken in order of seniority.

Flint—A flood of inflated bills is feared as the result of the report from local banks of the finding of numerous $5 Federal Reserve notes which had been passed to $20 bills. The banks issued a warning through newspapers to merchants and others to beware of the bogus bills.

Flint—Anna, 18 year old wife of Joseph Chabon, convicted of an attempt to kill her husband, was sentenced by Circuit Judge B. E. Clark to one to three years in the Detroit House of Correction. Chabon was shot during a quarrel in which he upbraided his wife for breaking his corned.

Clare—T. W. Mitchell has opened the Bungalow Inn, located four miles north of here on State-trunk line 14. Grand Rapids—George Hawley, of Hart, was re-elected president of the Michigan State Horticultural society, which named other officers as follows: Secretary, T. A. Farrand, East Lansing; treasurer, J. Pomeroy Munson, Grand Rapids; members of the executive board, A. J. Rogers, of Buelah, and George Friday, of Coloma.

Kalamazoo—Miss Hazel Pangborn, who disappeared recently, rather than return to school at the order of the truant officer, was found in the shack of an aged farmer, whom she was serving as housemaid. A state wide search had been made for the girl. She said she went home with the farmer when he promised her work after she applied to him for a job.

Bay City—Jitney bus owners who have been operating on the streets of Bay City and Essexville since August 10, when the Saginaw-Bay City Railway company filed bankruptcy proceedings, have incorporated under the name of Bay City Transportation service, and have asked the city commission to grant a 20-year franchise permitting them to carry on their operations. Lansing—The attorney general has filed suit against the Valley Home Telephone company for collection of $34,000 of unpaid taxes and $4,000 penalties, and intervened in the suit of the bondholders of the Southern Michigan Telephone company who seek to foreclose a mortgage and take possession of the property. The state's intervention in this case is based on a claim of $123,000 for back taxes and interest. The whole property is assessed at only $450,000.

Lansing—In an order handed down by Judge Charles Collingwood, of the Ingham county circuit court, the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon railroad was directed to establish a passenger fare schedule of 2 1/2 cents a mile. The commission refused and complaint was filed in circuit court where the refusal was upheld.

URGED BUSINESS HONESTY.

Alex Dow, president and general manager of the Detroit Edison company, addressed an audience of 250 representative business men and women of the Ypsilanti Board of Commerce at the Masonic temple in Ypsilanti, November 30. Mr Dow was introduced by President McKenny of the Michigan State Normal college and he spoke for nearly an hour upon the subject assigned to him by the board on "Business Honesty." It was one of the best addresses ever delivered in Ypsilanti, being full of common sense and inspiration for the 34 high school students who were guests of the board as well as for the members. Mr. Dow outlined his life-work in a masterly manner and demonstrated that the principles by which the success of his $50,000,000 corporation, which has grown from the nominal $149,000 he found in the business when he took hold of it, had been predicated upon fair and honest dealing with the public, the employes and the stockholders; and that these principles are as sound today as they were 25 years ago. His closing message to the students was most impressive. He urged honesty upon them as being the only policy that anyone can follow and be fair to themselves. It might not be the policy that would lead to the greatest wealth or political fame, but it would insure a clear conscience and satisfying knowledge at all times for the honest man that he has served well.—Michigan Investor

Birmingham—T. H. Broughton, whose appointment as director of the dairy division of the State Department of Agriculture has just been announced by Commissioner H. H. Halliday, is a Birmingham product.

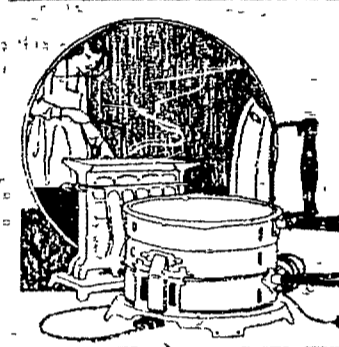

Name of Labrador. It is believed that Labrador was so named because Portuguese explorers thought the natives would make good laborers, or because of the labor required to make a living there. The name is connected with the old Spanish name for labor. The Labrador coast was discovered in the tenth century by Leif, the Norseman, but no explorations were made. It was again discovered in 1497 by John Cabot. Explorations and settlements were made and the peninsula was named.

After the Storm

"How soon can we use the phone?" That is the question in thousands of minds when storm rages over the community, downing wires and poles and disrupting service.

Let's talk it over.

The Telephone Company is human. We have our limits. We have difficulties. But the people of the Telephone Company are striving all the time to give service that will command public good will—and never more earnestly than when storm has impaired our service facilities.

Then every available repair man is on the job.

Hours and weather conditions are disregarded.

Not for a minute, night or day, until service is fully restored, do repair men relax their efforts. The job is done as promptly as is humanly possible.

The same earnest effort, we may say without exaggeration, characterizes the people of the Telephone Company at all times in all their relations with the public.

We're doing our level best to satisfy you. Together with public understanding and appreciation of our problems, that spirit is operating steadily toward our fixed goal: "Ideal Telephone Service for Michigan."

The proceeds of the bazaar and supper given by the Methodist Ladies' Aid last Thursday amounted to $100. Clarence Parmelee has purchased a home in Detroit and is moving there this week. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chafy are moving into the Parmelee house.

Walled Lake's new bank opened for business last Saturday, and the institution will fill a long felt need here. The officers are James L. Hogle, president; Fred Ward, vice-president; C. A. Chafy, secretary and cashier. The board of trustees consists of James L. Hogle, Charles E. B. E. Storms, Fred Ward, C. G. Parmelee and C. A. Chafy. During the opening day savings and commercial accounts to the amount of $3,000.00 were opened and many people called to pay their respects to the new cashier. The officials were very much pleased with the reception they received at the hands of Walled Lake people.

IS YOUR CHILD WELL NOURISHED?

Maintaining in childhood is one of the most serious causes of physical weakness in later life. If the child is undernourished he cannot withstand childhood's infectious diseases. The well-nourished child may go through the disease but he can at least escape disastrous after effects.

Many mothers fail to realize that their children are really ill, as a result of poor nutrition. They think the child is merely nervous, irritable and obviously underweight. They often describe his condition as: Run down; no appetite; frail; delicate; thin, skinny; sensitive; easily upset; growing too fast; or merely "behind."

When these conditions exist a child's condition is really serious. The delicate child must get more protein. Maltinutrin makes the child susceptible to tuberculosis and retards his mental development.

If your child does not eat well, sleep well, stand well, and keep well, it is time to make a serious study of his diet. Improper diet may be to blame.

Milk as a regular part of a child's diet means proper nourishment.

Ash Best Material for Bats.

In making baseball bats no substitute for wood has been found, says the American Forestry Magazine. Ash has won the leading place. Several qualities must be considered in selecting wood for bats, but the most essential are weight and strength. The shock and strain are severe at the moment of impact when the well-aimed blow meets the flying ball in midair and almost instantly stops it and sends it in the opposite direction. If the wood is not excellent the blow shatters it.

TOOK PART IN A MOVIE.

Mrs. E. L. Riggs in renewing her subscription to The Record writes as follows from her home in Venice, California, under date of December 7th.

"We still like Venice as well as ever, and have started to build a pretty double cottage on the lot next to our home. About two weeks ago we drove to San Pedro, where we ate lunch in a grove. Point Fermin overlooking the bay at San Pedro and the battle ships.

"On Armistice day we drove over to the S. Vicente ranch in the Santa Monica canyon where we took part in the famous picture 'Wildfire,' which is one of Zane Grey's famous novels. Wildfire is a race horse and on that day was rode by the world famed jockey Tom Sloan. We were in the race track scene and leaning on the fence near the edge's stand, the director called through a megaphone and asked every one to act as though they had a thousand dollars on the horse when the horse came down the track. So you can imagine how we acted. We were also in some of the other ones and saw some wonderful scenes performed by the cowboys in coming here to see it.

"The day we happened to be in the picture the Los Angeles daily papers gave an invitation for rather the company and through the papers for all who would like to come to the race track in the Santa Monica canyon on Armistice Day as they wanted a crowd on the 11th track scene.

"In the evening of the same day we had the pleasure of being the wonderful singer Schumier Heim, who gave a concert in the Ocean Park Auditorium.

"We are having the beautiful weather all the time and drive some place every day. Mr. Riggs' health is much better out here and he thinks nothing of 7 or 100 mile drive.

"My husband Mrs. Charles Riggs called on us a few days ago they are staying in Hollywood.

"We had to destroy a whole hedge of beautiful red geraniums in bloom in order to start our new house and it seems too bad, but we shall have lots of beautiful roses in bloom also pansies, calla lilies and another hedge of geraniums in the back yard.

"It is just 70 on the front porch as I write. Every day, we are out in the grounds with nothing on our heads. We love California and shall always make our home here."

MRS. E. L. RIGGS.

HARRY LAUDER AT THE GARRICK.

The engagement of Sir Harry Lauder, who has been called "The Knight of Good Cheer" as well as "The Ambassador of Friendship," which opens at the Garrick theatre, Detroit, Monday night, December 19th, promises to be one of the most interesting offerings of the present season. Sir Harry needs no introduction to this city, because here, as elsewhere, his popularity is unbounded. It is interesting to learn, however, that the comedian is returning with a collection of new songs and characterizations and that these latest Lauderisms are meeting with the same success as the unique songs that marked his earlier visits to this country. One of the new songs has a suggestion of the west; for it is entitled, "I Know a Lassie Out in O-B-I-O," but its companion, "Over the Hill to Ardenity," is said to be as typically Scotch as anything that Lauder has ever done. A third new song that is credited with having something of the wistfulness of the north country in its lines and melody, is entitled "Hane o' Mine." With the new songs Sir Harry will offer some of the old favorites—songs of which the public never seems to tire. These will include, of course, "I Love a Lassie," "When I Was Twenty-One," "I Think I'll Get Wed in the Summer," "There is Somebody Waitin' for Me," "The Safest o' the Family" and others equally popular. Each song will have its appropriate costumes and scenic background.

CALLS TEACHER SYSTEM WRONG

All school children are entitled under the law to an equal educational opportunity, but they do not get it." This is the statement made by E. W. Yost, Wayne county school commissioner, in a report to the county's school officers.

"A school pupil who is compelled to suffer through mismanagement by an incompetent teacher should be able to collect damages from the city, county or state," he added.

"Every now and then a teacher is engaged and given a contract for an entire term who is an almost complete failure. It is a question if in some instances they are doing more harm than good."

There, Mr. Yost point out, 91 one-room schools in Wayne county, 11 two-room schools and 29 with three teachers or more, thus being exclusive of Detroit, Warrenton and Highland Park.

These schools, he declares, should certainly be as well organized as the ordinary factory.—Detroit Journal

PLEASURE IN THE COUNTRY

Christmas Day in the Old Farm Home
Recalls Fond and Pleasant
Recollections

CHRISTMAS in the country is a time of the year when the busy farmer finds time to relax and enjoy the fruits of his labor. What pleasant memories it recalls to some of us, and what joy it brings to all who are with us. It is really no place like the farm home for Christmas good times, and health and good cheer. Here, in any quiet, prosperous and plenty abound, and in family gatherings and in neighborhood reunions with an abundance of the fruits of our labor with which to spread our beautiful boards, old friendships may be renewed, new ones made, and even the stranger within our gates may be added to the list.

At Christmas time we may pause to practice the real principles of neighborly living. Living close together does not always make neighbors. Speaking acquaintance are not always neighbors. To be real neighbors we must have the spirit of neighborliness in our hearts which prompts us to get together once in a while, to gather around a well-laden table and feast and visit, and laugh and joke and have a rousing good time. To love our neighbor as we do ourselves, we have to know him pretty well, and there is nothing like these neighborly reunions as a means of getting acquainted.

It may be that some of us will have to do a little mental and spiritual housecleaning before Christmas day dawns. We shall have to rid ourselves of all the old rubbish of grudges, dislikes, jealousies and ill-feelings which we will find pigeon-holed away when we begin to overhaul the accumulation of the years. You will have to throw all this into the discard before you can get into the real Christmas spirit because the two will not mix. If you have wronged your neighbor in any way Christmas is a good time to make reparation. And if you feel that you have been wronged, why, just forget it, and the Christmas spirit and the Christmas "get-together" will do the rest. Christmas should be a time of peace and good will to all mankind, and not to a few favored friends. It should be a time of rekindling old acquaintanceships, of making new friends, and the peace and good will, the good horizons and good fellowship thus created should not be allowed to burn but should flow out in a plentiful stream to reach our lives through all the days of the coming year.

A Christmas Sermon

To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and spend a little less, to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence, to reprove when that shall be necessary and not be embittered, to keep a few friends but those without capitulation—above all on the same condition, to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy. He has an ambition and who would not more, he has a hopeful spirit who should look for such an enterprise to be successful. There is a great element in human nature that is not bladders and sinners; whatever we are intended to do we are intended to succeed. Things do not come by accident. It is so with all the continent of the world. There is a plan in the world and the only way to succeed is to follow it. Love! Love! Love!

Cookie Rocks

One-half cupful of sugar, one cupful of butter, creamed, three eggs well beaten, three cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of soda in a cup spoonful of hot water, one pound of dates cut in small pieces, three cupfuls pound of shelled walnuts (one and a half pounds in shell), one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of allspice. Break the nuts in large pieces and cut the dates about the size of raisins. Drop this mixture from a spoon on buttered tin in the size of walnuts. Bake in slow oven.

MERELY POSTPONED
Frank: So you didn't manage to catch Ethel under the mistletoe?
Jack: That's all right, I'm going to take her for a sleigh-ride tonight.
The Indian's Vigil
In a book of sketches of upper Canada, a pretty incident is cited of the writer meeting an Indian at midnight, on Christmas Eve, during a beautiful moonlight cautiously creeping along, and beckoning him to silence. In answer to an inquiry the Indian said: "I wish to see the tree again; this is Christmas night, and all the deer fall upon their knees to the Great Spirit and look up."

A Christmas Joke

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

It was a young bride. Every present she had received was very welcome. She had depended on presents to furnish her new home.

When she had received duplicate which were not wanted she hastened to the place from which they had been purchased and picked out other articles of beauty and of household necessity.

Her friends had really been remarkably kind. She had been surprised to find her ready the shops had been about taking back gifts and substituting with others or in engraving presents which had not already been engraved.

Only one had charged for engraving—the gift had been purchased at "wholesale rate" and so engraving was not included.

Attracted from the point of view of presents well as from the point of view of economy she had done remarkably well. This would enable them to make a very good appearance in their home without having to draw from the meager too plentiful savings.

She viewed everything over again one evening, presents and those which were exchanged. There was just one thing among them that was not necessary and not particularly pretty. It was a gray dish. She knew of no particular use to which she could put it—she had one of the kind she really liked.

She could not exchange it. It had a monogram in the center.

"I know what to do with it," she said to her husband. "I'll give it to Molly Stevens for a Christmas present. She has been so good to us and I'd like to show her how much I appreciate it."

"You know she's going to get married in the spring—that is her engagement is all but announced.

Don't you think it would be a good idea? She was so helpful about my wedding and she has told me quite confidentially that the wedding will be in the spring.

"It would be a good idea to give her something for Christmas if it she could have for her new home.

"We really can't afford to buy anything just now and this will do beautifully."

"But the monogram, her husband inquired.

"Oh that can be taken off you know, and another one put there in its place. I heard some one ordering that to be done in one of the silver shops the other day."

"Yes, that's a splendid idea," her husband heartily agreed.

"I'll go downtown and attend to it tomorrow. I haven't much time Christmas is almost here."

"Our first Christmas," said the young husband as he clasped his bride to him.

"Our first Christmas," she murmured.

The next evening he asked her if she had arranged about sending the gray dish to Molly Stevens.

"I couldn't send it," she said.

"Why not?" he queried.

"Because of the monogram in the center," she said.

BELIEFS OF THE PEASANTS

Odd Christmas Superstitions Handed Down From Past Ages to the Ignorant Europeans.

THE peasantry of Europe have had certain Christmas superstitions handed down to them from past ages. Just how far these simple folk can be fooled is to be wondered.

If the light is let go out on Christmas morning, you will see spirits.

If you are born at sermon time Christmas eve, some one in the house will die within the year.

If you steal hay the night before Christmas, and give the cattle some, they will thrive and you will not be caught in any future thefts.

If you eat a raw egg, fasting on Christmas morn, you can carry heavy weights. It is unlucky to carry anything from the louse on Christmas morning until something has been brought in.

It is unlucky to give a neighbor a live coal to kindle a fire with on Christmas morn.

If the fire burns brightly on Christmas morning it betokens prosperity during the year, if it smolders, adversity.

If a dog howls the night before Christmas, it will go mad within the year.

If you steal anything at Christmas without being caught, you can steal safely for a year.

On Christmas eve throw the garden with a flail, with only your shirt on, and the grass will grow well next year.

The wet strawbands around the orchard trees on Christmas eve and it will make them fruitful.

On Christmas eve put a stone on every tree, and they will bear the more.

Beat the trees on Christmas night, and they will bear the more.

If after a Christmas dinner you shake out the tablecloth over the bare ground under the open sky, crumwort will grow on the spot.

If on Christmas day or eve, you hang a washcloth out on the hedge, and then groom the horses with it, they will grow fat.

As often as the cock crows on Christmas eve, the quarter of corn will be as dear.

If you burn elder on Christmas eve, you will have revealed to you all the witches and sorcerers of the neighborhood.

SHOULD MAKE OTHERS HAPPY

Best Way to Celebrate Christmas is to Do Something in Memory of Childhood Days

IT SEEMS as if each one has grown into old, the best and the simplest way to celebrate Christmas is to do something in memory of childhood.

In remembrance of one's own childhood, for Christmas is really for the children, after all.

It is Joe's children, then, that for others because it is a day that commemorates the birth of a child, that wonderful Christ child that was born in a manger of a stable in the little town of Bethlehem 2,000 years ago.

Now, there will be scattered all in all the world who will not await the dawn of Christmas morning with wondering awe. It is the dawn of that day when the morning stars sang together and when peace on earth and good will toward men were proclaimed from the high heavens.

But there will be many a child to whom Christmas will not bring its dear longed for day.

The children of the rich will not be disappointed, nor will the children of the very poor be disappointed. It is the child who has not rich or well-to-do folks, but who, at the same time, is not humble or charity, who will be unhappy when Christmas comes.

And it is this child that you should seek out and make happy—for remembrances.

You see, it is a fact that we can make a happy Christmas for ourselves only by making some one else happy. Do not think that you can make a happy Christmas for yourself any other way, because you cannot do so.

Try the way here pointed out. The child is easily found, and when you have found that one and have made it happy, the very angels of God will envy you the gladness that you will feel.

Devil's Food Cake.

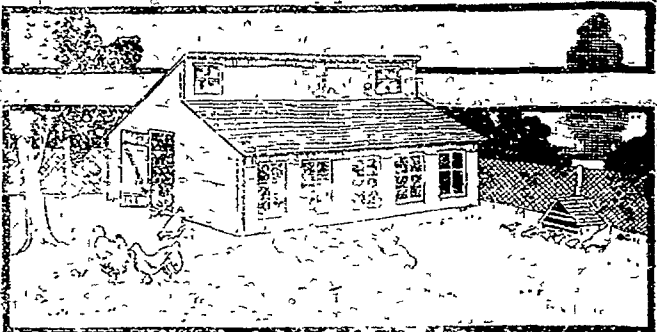

Bear to a cream five level table, spoonfuls of butter and one cupful and a quarter of sugar. Add 3/4 squares of caramelized chocolate, three unbeaten eggs and one teaspoonful of vanilla and beat together until smooth. Stir 3/4 level teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one-half cupful of flour and stir in with the butter, sugar and egg mixture. Then add alternately milk and flour until you have used three-quarters of a cupful of milk and one cupful of sifted pastry flour. Beat smooth and bake in a loaf in a moderate oven. Pastry flour is always better for cake than bread flour.

Give Your Hens A House

You can't put a little money to better use than by giving your hens a house to roost in, some nests to lay their eggs in and to hatch out the chicks. You'll double your production of eggs and your chickens will be ready for your table or the market months earlier.

We've got some inexpensive material you can use to build your chicken house. Every one should seek the pleasure and profit there is in this business.

Northville School Notes.

Friday, December 16. The students of the High School held a mass meeting in anticipation of the basketball games with Saline High school in the evening. Inspiring speeches were delivered by members of the faculty led by the captains of the two teams, Lloyd Gerhart and Helen Van Matra. Coach Dev acted as cheer leader and the boys and girls responded as they never did before. Northville High school has the real school spirit and the hand that helps to carry her teams through to victory. The results of the games were in favor of Northville. After these games the visiting teams were given a feed as an expression of good will which the Northville players have for their opponents.

Tuesday, representatives from the Bellville High School were here visiting and observing the work of our school. Their objects were to get new ideas which might be of value to them in their own school. Before leaving they commented upon the courteous manner in which they were treated by the students of the school.

Several valuable additions have been lately made to our library. Some of the new sets include the Harvard Classics of 51 volumes, Riley 10 volumes, Poe 10 volumes, Mark Twain 10 volumes, and Juvenile Classics 10 volumes. Within a few weeks our library will be complete and up to date in every manner and will rank with any school its size in the state.

This week a strong appeal has been made to the students to purchase Red Cross seals and they have contributed liberally to this worthy cause. A complete report will be made in the next week's issue of the paper. The students Council are in charge of the sale and are busy a odd times calling upon the homes of the village.

Last Friday through the courtesy of the Woman's Club of Northville, the High School students had the pleasure of hearing Prof. Hathaway read Hamlet. The reading was given before the club and the general assembly of students in the High School auditorium.

The Northville High School basketball team on a very peping game last Friday night. The score for the girls game was 21 to 10 and for the boys game 15 to 6. Before the game began the boys were instructed to put forth their best efforts in the beginning of the game to keep the visitors from scoring. The instructions were so well carried out that at the end of the first quarter the Saline team had not made a single basket, and the score stood 9 to 0. In the second quarter the Salinians tallied two baskets, one being from the center of the floor. In the third period they made another basket which was the last. The home team scored 9 points the first quarter, and each of the other quarters. The scoring honors were so well divided between the Northville boys that it would be difficult to pick individual stars. However, all of the boys played a spectacular game and showed that endurance which their opponents lacked. Friday, December 16, the teams play at Flat Rock. You had better plan to go as the Flat Rock fans anticipate a victory on their home floor.
