BONDS BROUGHT A GOOD PREMIUM

The sale of the $110,000 sewer bonds, which occurred at a meeting of the village council on Monday evening, brought to Northville representatives of a good many bonding-houses during the past week. A total of nine bids for the bonds were received by Village Clerk Murdoch, and they were presented to the council. Hornblower & Weeks of Detroit, were the highest bidders, their bid being par and a premium of $1,700, together with the cost of preparing and printing the bonds. The interest rate was 5%.

If the agitation now going on throughout the country relative to tax-free bonds is enacted into law these bonds will sell at a handsome premium within a short time after the law becomes effective.

It still requires some time to get the bonds ready. Have them signed and delivered, but at the time work can start on the sewer project in the spring the money ought to be in the hands of the village treasurer.

ENJOYED A REAL TREAT.

While the attendance was not as large as usual owing to the illness of some of the members and the absence from town of others, the luncheon of the Northville Exchange Club on Wednesday noon was one of the most enjoyable yet held. After an appetizing repast the members were privileged to listen to an eloquent and inspiring address given by Rev. Sidney D. Eia, pastor of the Methodist church of Farmington. In his opening remarks he paid a very fitting and appropriate tribute to the memory of Washington, upon whose birthday the meeting was being held, and he discussed in a most entertaining and inspiring manner the theme "The Town I live in is the best town in the world."

He admonished his hearers to stand for the best interests of the town in which they lived and work for its rebuilding and betterment. He urged them to take an active part in local politics, in the affairs of the school and in the support and maintenance of the churches, because no one would want to live in a community where there were no schools nor would they desire to rear a family in a community where there were no churches. The people of a community very largely make the community and are responsible for conditions which obtain there, whether they are good or bad.

The following were members of the committee in charge of the luncheon affair:

Reception—Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Timham, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bogart, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Heff.

Musical—Floyd Nordrep, Charles A. Ponsford and Charles Blackburn.

Decorating—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bogart, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Power and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Boydell.

Invitation—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lax, Prince, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Finkins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Alexander, Gladys Black and Mary Miller.

Refreshments—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Will Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. N. VanDyne, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark, Mrs. Fred L. Newton and Mrs. George Johnston.

MUST SELL OR GET OUT.

Upon decision of stockholders of the Detroit United Railway next Monday depends the manner in which the company will abandon its city service in Detroit, according to an ultimatum transmitted to the stockholders' meeting by Mayor James Couzens. They must sell for the $19,550,000 offered by the city, or lose the system through ouster and expiration of leases, the stockholders were told.

The ultimatum followed a meeting Monday night at which the street railway commission unsuccessfully sought to reach an agreement with representatives of the company on the sale price. The sides differed by $250,000. The company also desired to retain 46 acres of real estate in Highland Park, upon which it located its Woodward avenue terminal.

Messrs. Al Cuthbert and Donald Douglas of Ann Arbor, who came over to attend the "pep" meeting in the afternoon remained over for the game. Mr. Cuthbert is the yell master for the U of M, and he led the crowd in some "yells" and "and my how the crowd did yell."

TO HOLD WINTER MEET.

The annual mid-winter meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural society will be held at Coloma, near Benton Harbor, on March 1, 2 and 3, according to announcement of T. A. Farrant, of East Lansing, secretary of the society.

The large amount of subjects to be covered this year in discussion and lecture led to the scheduling of three days for the conference, instead of two as has been the custom in the past.

Practical fruit growers from different parts of the state, specialists from the Agricultural college, the state Farm bureau will find places on the conference program.

The news of her death was a great shock to the people of this section, by whom the deceased was held in high esteem. A suitable obituary will be published next week.

Mrs. L. L. Brooks has been confined to her home by illness.

HARRY M. BOGART ELECTED SEC-TREAS

Frank Malcolm of Commerce was re-elected president of the Monitor Insurance company, an Oakland county mutual organization for farmers, at its annual stockholders' meeting which was held in the armory in Pontiac, Monday afternoon. William H. Williamson of Royal Oak township was elected vice-president of the organization, and Harry M. Bogart, secretary-treasurer to succeed James M. Greer of Pontiac, who has held the office for several years. Arthur O'Halloran of Holly, was re-elected director after contest for the position and Joseph Brooks of Southfield township was named to fill the vacancy on the board of directors caused by resignation of Mr. Bogart when he was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Monitor company paid out $4,992.18 for fire losses last year, according to the report of the secretary-treasurer, which was approved by those present. The total risk of the company last year was $18,765,270 and the actual rate $2.70, he also reported.

Many friends of Mr. Bogart in this section will rejoice to learn of his good fortune. He was accompanied to Pontiac by a delegation of 80 of his fellow-townsmen and won a splendid victory over his opponents. The duties of the office will require all of his time and he will move to Pontiac soon to take up the work while awaiting his removal from Northville. Many friends will accompany him with best wishes.

A Daughter of the Frontier

By FREDERICK CLARKE.

lumber picture. Bert Dawson imagined he had never seen, and for a minute or two he paused, screened by the heavy curtains, a soft call, fair had lifted her pitcher at the spring. Ere she took it up to carry it to the house, two hundred yards distant, she stood looking into the face of the ranger sun.

Her eyes brightened as young Dawson stepped into view.

"I start on my mission in the morning," he said. "It will seem to you, I am sure, more of a wilderness than ever after the beautiful days I have passed in this haven of rest."

"My uncle has told me," said Eloise and paused there and a faint flush seemed to dim those beautiful eyes and a quiver crossed her face. "He fears you are taking a dangerous risk and I—"

Again she paused. Her gaze dropped as Bert approached nearer. He had taken her gentle hand.

"And you... and your youth, and my tongue carries noulous thrill."

"I hope I have not caught you now," she said, smiling. "I wish but you would not make this personal mission." Her hands began to tremble, and she held them steadfastly upon his arm. The tears came into her eyes.

His arm crept about her as she lifted her glance. She could not help but feel the earnest look in his honest eyes.

"Don't go," she whispered. "One for my sake let me go. I dare not."

In an instant Bert felt her fear leave from his breast saw her dart towards the house, sprang hasted, righted himself. Then he gave a quick start. Wearing his coat and out of a house and house he made out a shade of from.

Bert had been in touch with him during his trip, trying to interest the doctor in connection with a new and proposed lumber project he had in mind in the border country of Canada. One of his chief problems was to see if he could make arrangements for the present to stay longer. It had been agreed to stay longer. But he had to go to Detroit to get in touch with the doctor.

He had to go to the city to get in touch with the doctor.

One evening however, Bert had a chance to see the people he had to go to meet at the luncheon. Another name of Bert's name is Bert Dawson, engaged by Mr. and Mrs. Weller, who came down from the hill back.

Best Crab from Chesapeake Bay. The Chesapeake bay crab the largest specimen found along the Atlantic coast is considered the best. While these crabs were very plentiful a few years ago, it is becoming evident that unless a closed season is declared they will become scarce and unprofitable. The little crab or the toad within oyster shells are considered delicacy, while the larger crabster the large crab of the Pacific coast is extensively used for food in the west of the country.

FARMINGTON WON BOTH GAMES WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Two of the snappiest, most interesting and most sportsmanlike basketball games witnessed on the total floor this season were played at the High school gym on Wednesday night between Farmington and Northville High school teams. The visitors were accompanied by a large crowd of enthusiastic "rooters" and they were given seats on the balcony or running track and were made to feel they were welcome.

The game between the girls' teams was started at seven o'clock and the boys' game followed immediately. Both games were stubbornly contested, but the visitors, while slow in getting under motion, were able to "head off" Northville in the final and last quarter. The games were played with a dash and determination that was very pleasing to the supporters of both teams and they were free from roughness and petty quarrels.

Messrs. Al. Cuttart and Donald Douglas of Ann Arbor, who came over to attend the "pep" meeting in the afternoon, remained over for the game. Mr. Cuttart is the yell master for the U. of M. and he led the crowd in some "yells" and and my how the crowd did "yell".

LAST CALL OR GET OUT.

Upon decision of stockholders of the Detroit United Railway next Monday depends the manner in which the company will abandon its city service in Detroit, according to an ultimatum transmitted to the stockholders' meeting by Mayor James Couzens. They must sell for the $19,850,000 offered by the city, or lose the system through ouster and expiration of leases, the stockholders were told.

The ultimatum followed a meeting Monday night at which the street railway commission unsuccessfully sought to reach an agreement with representatives of the company on the sale price. The sides differed by $250,000. The company also desired to retain 46 acres of real estate in Highland Park, upon which it located its Woodward avenue terminal.

Failure to agree, the mayor has announced, will result in the city invoking the ouster voted by the people last year against the D. U. R. lines on Woodward and Fort street and the tearing up of other lines as the franchises expire.

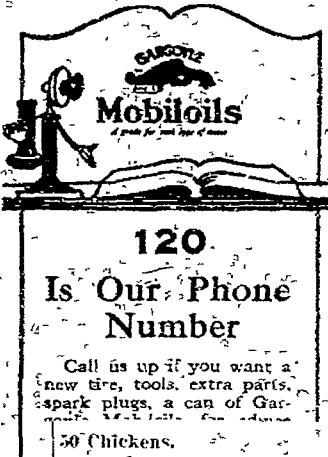

ELIZABETH OSTRANDER DIED THURSDAY MORNING.

Miss Elizabeth Ostrander died at the home of Miss Grace Tremper on Thursday morning, after an illness of but a few days. She was ill with a cold a couple of weeks ago, but returned to her duties in C. R. Ely's office last week. Monday she was again taken ill and had to be confined to bed. She was stricken with Bright's disease.

JUST THINK IT OVER!

MORE THAN FIFTY PEOPLE HAVE PURCHASED LOTS IN ORCHARD HEIGHTS AND NEARLY ONE-HALF OF THEM HAVE HAD AN OPPORTUNITY TO RE-SELL AT A PROFIT. THERE WAS $2,000 WORTH SOLD LAST WEEK AND ANYONE WILL ADMIT CONDITIONS DO NOT WARRANT ANY GREAT ENTHUSIASM FOR PRESENT BUYING. IS IT NOT A RATHER SANE PREDICTION TO MAKE THAT, WHEN BUSINESS GENERALLY IMPROVES, THE GOODS THAT COMMAND ATTENTION AT PRESENT ARE DOUBLY SURE TO BE THE FIRST TO RECEIVE NOTICE WHEN THINGS BEGIN TO HUM AGAIN? Wives Placed in Pawn.

A report received at The Post, Atlanta, from the North states that an Eskimo trapper en route to a trading post to sell his furs, disposed of four of his wives, each for a pound of tea and some tobacco. The purchasers are fellow-traders returning from the Brochette post of the Hudson's Bay company, heavily laden with supplies. As it is the custom of the Eskimos, the original owner may redeem his wives upon payment of double the purchase price.

Walled Lake Warbles.

The Advance Bible class of the M. E. church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Young Thursday night. Besides the business meeting, a fine program was given, each member of the class responding to roll call with a quotation, reading, or song. A brief history of the class was written by Miss Siddle Bucking, the secretary of the class.

The work of excavating for the basement for Walled Lake's new school building has been started. The ground is so badly frozen that work on the job is starting slowly.

LIVESTOCK TOTALS IN STATE TILLING.

A falling off of approximately 17% in the value and quantity of livestock in Michigan in 1921, as compared with 1920, is shown by a report just issued by H. H. Halford, of the state department of agriculture, and Vernon H. Church of the federal state bureau of farm crop estimates.

The total value of livestock in this state in 1920 was $165,613,000, as compared with $137,906,000 last year. Dairy cows and milks were the only exception to the decline. The report estimates that there are now 584,000 horses, 6,000 mules, 967,000 dairy cows, 576,000 other cattle, 1,115,000 sheep and 1,051,000 swine in the state.

FARM SHORT COURSE TO OPEN AT M. A. C.

A two weeks course for ice cream makers, to open on March 6, and a four weeks' course in truck and tractor operation, to begin on March 20, also, are the last of a long list of special winter courses in agriculture given under the direction of the short course department at the Michigan Agricultural College this winter.

Nearly 200 farmers and others from all parts of the state are expected to register for the tractor course, which is the fourth and last of a series of similar courses given at the college this year. Interest in operation of gasoline machinery on a farm is on the increase in Michigan, and the truck courses are drawing heavy enrollment.

Most of the entrants for the ice cream makers' course will represent different creameries and ice cream manufacturers of the state. The work of this course is of a practical nature, actual processes of manufacture being gone through by the class.

DETROIT THEATRES.

Bert Williams comes to the Gaiety Theatre beginning Sunday night, February 26th, for an engagement of 10 days. Under the Bamboo Tree, reminiscent of his famous song of years ago, in the only, for the new Bert Williams stage, is typical of the Master's highest and best. Winter Garden shows, in fact, "Under the Bamboo Tree," is one of the most delicious and gorgeous musical comedies ever produced.

The action of the play takes place on an old summer resort off the California coast. The plot is whimsical and the music sprightly and witty. Unlike the average musical comedy, "Under the Bamboo Tree" has a consistent story teaming with interest and made all the more entertaining by the interpretation of songs that every one will be humming clever dances and the subtly engaging comedy of Mr. Williams.

There are fifteen captivating tunes including several new songs for Bert Williams. The music is by Will H. Vodery, winner of a two years' scholarship offered by the Paris Conservatoire of Music for the best musical composition, submitted by a band master in a foreign army during the late world war. The book and lyrics of "Under the Bamboo Tree" are by Walter LeLeon, well known in vaudeville and on the musical comedy stage both as an actor and as a author.

In fact, in all the arts we find genius and simplicity interlocked. The work of the masters is always distinguished by this quality.

Modern man is constantly struggling against the complications which exist on every hand. He sometimes finds in himself a tendency toward complication of his problems. He introduces Latinized words into his writing when plain Anglo-Saxon would be better.

In a certain famous play in the English language, the master of the house tells the servant that he has misplaced one of his manuscripts, and asks her to see if she can find it. She does not reply that she will "institute a search for it" or use any such laboriously dignified language. What she says is, "Yes, sir, I'll have a look 'round for it."

Could any sentence be more admirably simple than that, or express more forcibly or directly her thought. Her words are not only simple but suggest vividly the action she means to take.

Those who make automobiles, or washing machines, or shaving soap, or aeroplanes, or adding machines, or any of the countless other necessities of modern civilization, are striving continually to simplify their products. Simplicity means reduced cost of manufacture, greater attractiveness and more widespread use on the part of the public.

Simplicity brings us nearer to the truth, and the truth makes us free.

Trench-Nellis Fortunes

"Four uncles," Mr. Daniel Trench, wishes to do you full justice, Mr. Denlow."

"I hope so. It is no due," observed Vane Denlow.

"Your uncle is glad to help you in a business way," pursued his agent and attorney, Mr. Thacker.

"He has great future plans for you. As soon as you get all your arrangements for going into business made, he wants to have you shoot straight ahead. See? In fact, he has you in his eye, as—what shall I say? A very promising party for his ward, Miss Nellis. You've heard of her? Think of the vast virtual interests if the French, and Nellis fortune could be consolidated!"

"In other words, broke in Vane easily. His uncle offers a bribe to have pie become a partner in his band."

"Not at all—not at all," the wily lawyer hastened to declare. "He only hopes you will see things in his way."

"Nor in the matter of the selection of a wife," observed Vane. "He had better not try it! Does he know sir, that I am honorably engaged to a young lady here in Wilby?"

"Just so. Indeed, not. Just mentioned it. Ha, hum! Forget it, my dear young friend. Good day."

In brief, the attorney had appeared to the same proposition—to go to Meriden, fifty miles away, and enter into business. His uncle was about to make a wealthy man. The elevator he now controlled, fine trade.

He offered to make a gift of it to his nephew.

Vane Denlow was a proud, self-reliant young man, but he saw his way clearly to accept the gift. In his mind and in his uncle's mind and in the minds of all who knew a great deal, but could not legally prove the same, when Vane's father died his brother-in-law had managed by a quirk of the law to let hold of some valuable property by all moral right belonging to the Denlows.

There is no doubt that old Frenchman橙子 as he got older had no regard for his god-giving reputation, th' way Vane figured it out. Let me, as Vally began to receive some letters that nearly broke her heart at the first, and Patti, at Meriden, in turn received news concerning his friend that arrived long. Fortunately he had done to Wilby for an explanation.

"It isn't fair to me," he said to Leoline. "Some trouble maker has got the news to you of my 'bad life' at Meriden, and to one of the numerous beaux you are going around with, to represent us. I know who it is, and I know why. Leoline, dear, we must outfit these pluntes. Whisper, dear," and the intinerary wound up in an excursion to a nearby city, and their Vane went back to his work.

Vane was introduced to his mother's girl, Miss Dolly Nellis.

Dolly made sure that her guardian was out of hearing as she sat down on a rustic bench.

"Mr. Denlow," she whispered in a fluttering tone, "is he all alone?"

"I think we are, Miss Nellis," replied Vane wistfully.

"Can I tell you a dreadful, dreadful secret?" she wavered.

"I shall be honored by your confidence, Leoline, Vane."

"Then—then—oh, dear! I hope it won't break your heart, but—I am engaged."

"I must congratulate you."

"Oh, I am so—so—ashamed the fair boy."

"I will tell you a secret, too, dear Miss Nellis," said Vane. "I am already married."

"I could almost kiss you for delight," cried Dolly. "I will your wife, when I meet her. I am so happy."

Vane old man French learned how his nephew had married him through a secret marriage to Leoline at the time his emissary Thacker was plotting to separate them. He wrote an awful letter to Vane.

In a dignified way the latter informed him that the business he had given him barely made up for what he had robbed his father of. If, however, French, Thacker & Co. felt that they had in any way been circumvented, resulting in a loss to their prospects, Vane would set aside the profits of the business, he had managed to build up wonderfully, and would restore the original investment to his money-loving relative.

Treach quieted down after this. As to Dolly and Leoline, they eloped under the very nose of the old man, so it was dire retribution for the crafty schemers all around.

Shoestring Remedy for Colds.

The next time you feel that you are catching a cold, stoop over and tie your shoe. While you are at it you might as well tie both shoes. Loosen the strings and make a good job of the tying. The principle of the shoestring remedy is that in stooping over the blood is brought to the head and the circulation is otherwise favorably affected. Where there is perfect blood circulation there is immunity from the taking of cold.—Gateway Magazine.

Neutral.

"You seem upset."

"Yes, my wife had a quarrel with the cook."

"Did you take sides?"

"No, I need them both."—Louisville Courier-Journal

Phosphorus Found by Accident

Phosphorus was discovered accidentally while Brand, a Hamburg alchemist, was experimenting with liquids to find some element that would help transform silver to gold. The discovery, made in 1869, was not regarded then as important, but later developed in importance that was very great.

Anything beyond the rim of the present—just bread and butter and taxes and work and sleep? Henry Ford looks at rivers and streams and sees power possibilities.

Marconi looked at the telegraph instrument and saw wireless message possibilities.

Some look and their horizon is filled only with law violations and evil of every sort.

Some see honesty and good sense and loving relations as 99 per cent of their view.

Lansing—The state administrative board placed a ban on the practice of permitting institutions to spend money in lump sums. Detailed account of the uses to which money is to be put must be submitted before expenditures will be allowed.

Flat-Fire caused by the explosion of a gas engine gutted several buildings in London, near here. The loss was $17,500. The hot fire apparently saved the town from total destruction. Volunteer firemen were slightly injured by falling timber.

Menominee—Andrew Gram, 81 years old, wealthy and pioneer lumberman died at his home here following a three day illness with pneumonia. Mr. Gram had lived here 66 years and was identified with the building of the lumber industry in Northern Michigan.

Big Rapids—Representative A. W. Miller is organizing a "mobilized class" throughout the county for the purpose of co-operating with other clubs in opposition to plans formulated by Detroit leaders to change the method of representation in the legislature.

Midland City—The forty week old infant boy baby whose body was found in the Grand Trunk right of way near Emmett early Saturday morning had been hurled through the window of a Pullman car attached to the eastbound "Grand Trunk" train, which reached Port Huron early Monday, is the bullet of Sheriff H. W. Maines and Coroner Albert Lall, who investigated.

Alma—A resolution requesting the appointment of Circuit Judge Edward J. Tollett of St. Johns, to the most lucrative judgeship in Michigan was adopted unanimously at a meeting of the Grand and Clinton County Bar associations at Alma. Judge Tollett presides over the Grand Clinton County Bar.

Bethel—Harmon Corrington, local real estate dealer, who was arrested recently on a charge of embezzlement and complaint of Mary E. Horn, of Highland, was discharged by Justice Elvira Turner because of insufficient evidence. Corrington has brought suit to collect $10,000 damages from Mrs. Horn for alleged malicious prosecution.

Owosso—The owner of a dog on which the license has not been paid cannot recover damages from anyone who injures the dog, according to a ruling by Judge Collins in directing a verdict of no cause for action in the case of Arthur Brown, of Owosso, against George Aiken, Catawissa farmer. Brown was suing for $100, claiming that Aiken shot a leg off his dog.

East Lansing—That the agricultural outlook for Michigan is one that should not discourage farmers, despite current talk of depression, was the statement made by Professor J. F. Cox of the farm crops department of the Michigan Agricultural College. Current farm product prices, he said, although low compare favorably with the average prices in the last 10 years.

Grand Rapids—Because, he says, a blank piece of paper, on which he was induced to sign his name, that the signature might be compared with the signatures on other documents, proved to be assignment of a claim for $100 against the George E. Ellis bank.

Edward Kuyten, a carpenter, has caused the arrest of Henry Steenhuisen. Kuyten says the paper was folded in such a manner as to hide the text of the assignment.

CHARGE VIOLATION OF "BLUE SKY" LAW

MACOMB COUNTY AUTHORITIES HOLD SALESMAN WHO SOLD WORTHLESS STOCK.

MANY INVESTED LIFE SAVINGS

Romeo Widow and Daughter Turned Over $8,000; Many Pathetic Cases Have Been Uncovered.

Mr. Cernens, Mich.—Ellis Goldberg, 26, dapper stock salesman, is in jail here, on charges brought by the Michigan securities commission, involving the alleged sale of $80,000 worth of motion picture film stock without authority from the securities commission. It is alleged that the stock is worthless.

Goldberg's arrest was made in Cleveland and he was accompanied here by Assistant Attorney General Green and George Hess, a Detroit officer. An attempt on the part of the sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney Johnson Monday to get a statement from him failed. He seems indifferent to the charges and makes the general statement that people who purchased his stock did so with their eyes wide open.

Goldberg came here last summer and occupied an expensive apartment at one of the leading hotels, although as far as known no attempt was made to operate in this city. Romeo people were the hardest hit. Farmers who heard of the great opportunity to make a fortune, scrambled over themselves to be let in on the deal.

The warrant for Goldberg's arrest was sworn to by Miss Flora M. Ford, of Romeo, and was issued by Justice Sawn on January 14. Mrs. Ford and her daughter, Mrs. Kate M. Long, stand to lose about $8,000, it is alleged.

Many pathetic stories are being told of susceptible people who invested their life savings on the filmy chance of gaining riches. One Peter H. Wispa recently committed to the Pontiac hospital by Judge Reid, is said to have lost $25,000 and is unable to stand.

Goldberg has not been arraigned on any definite charge and it is proposed to hold up further proceedings until his activities have been thoroughly investigated by state and county authorities.

BABY HURLED FROM PULLMAN

Body Found on Grand Trunk Right-of-Way Near Emmett.

Port Huron, Mich.—That the newly-born boy baby whose body was found on the Grand Trunk right of way near Emmett early Saturday morning had been hurled through the window of a Pullman car attached to the eastbound "Grand Trunk" train, which reached Port Huron early Monday, is the belief of Sheriff H. W. Maines and Coroner Albert Lall, who investigated.

The body was wrapped only in a sheet and was badly bruised and lacerated from contact with the cylinder-headed. Nearly were several fragments of heavy window glass from ordinarily used dwellings.

Officers have communicated with Montreal to learn if one of the windows of a Pullman car on this train was broken when it reached there and also are trying to trace the occupants of the Pullman cars through reservations made in Chicago.

DETECTIVE PROTECTS SLAYER Evidence in Taylor Case Believed Concealed By Hired Sleuth.

Los Angeles—The startling report that a detective has been employed by a big moving picture man to "gum up" the investigation of the murder of William Desmond Taylor gained circulation late Monday following the latest fiasco in the case.

The detective has been working independently on some angle of the murder mystery, but has been working with the investigators on other phases, it is said, and he has been paid not to help find the slayer, but to protect certain interests from becoming involved.

It has been this way with every important clue that has come up. There have been more blunders in the Taylor case than there have been theories—beginning with the doctor who said Taylor had died of stomach trouble.

TREATY RECORDS UNAVAILABLE President Tells Senate Peace Negotiations Cannot Be Revealed.

Washington—President Harding informed the senate Monday that he could not comply with its request for records of the four-power Pacific treaty negotiations, because no such records ever existed, and because he considered it incompatible with the public interest to reveal informal and confidential conversations.

The president's five-sentence reply to the resolution of inquiry, sent to the White House last week, was accepted by those in charge of the treaty at the capitol as closing the incident, although, at the same time it aroused increased dissatisfaction among senators who investigated the move for more complete information.

BUT ONE RIFE IN 1. STUDENTS EXAM PAPERS

It is said that the professional staff of the University of Michigan never need spend its money for life and Judge, for the Cornell Wind or the Michigan Gorgon for wit and humor during the examination period, and that instead it gets all the amusement it craves in looking over the end of the semester blue books.

Last week one professor admits that he opened a blue book to find the following written on a blank page, marked "Answer Me":

"I pray, O Lord of Hosts,
was with me not,
lest I forget, lest I forget."

The following page was this tragic admission:

"But the Lord of Hosts
was with me not,
so I forgot, so I forgot."

And, just to show he was a good sport, and human under the professional hide, the instructor wrote underneath the admission:

"The omission will be charged against the responsible party."

Following a half dozen reasons why the faculty got its laughs last week, and didn't pay the price of a mirth magazine, either for they are but a few of the many good jokes that poked at them from blue book covers?

"The Spanish Inquisition was an assistance for the suppression of heresy."

"Evolution is the process by which we rise to our remote ancestors." A potato is a vegetable. When plant it, it sends up several shoots."

Wixom Whisperings.

Miss Maude Patton was a Milford visitor, Monday.

Mrs. Floyd Sherrow and children are visiting in Saginaw.

L. R. Stevens and wife of Pontiac were in Wixom Tuesday.

Wilbur Waterman has bought the place owned by Jasper Shattuck and expects to move there soon.

H. D. Kennedy and Miss Anna Benjamin of Flushing visited their niece, Mrs. R. J. Banfield, last week.

The Kisses Baum, Harmon and Har-form were home from Epiphany over Sunday to attend the home talent play Friday evening.

Mrs. Gillespie of Royal Oak, is here this week caring for her mother, Mrs. Van Wagner, who is suffering with blood poisoning in her finger.

Violin Wood.

The value of a violin is in the sound producing qualities of the wood used in making it. Wood consists of fibers which may be compared to strings either parallel or interlaced. The most of these spruce are parallel hence their fine musical qualities. Most other woods have shorter fibers and they may not be arranged so that they can vibrate freely. One interferes with another.

OFFICER SHOULD BE REMOVED.

Had the affair which occurred at Plymouth on Friday evening after the conclusion of the basket ball games been merely between the boys and girls of the two towns we would not consider it worth while for this newspaper to interfere or to take sides, because we have learned, that High school enthusiasm and spirit sometimes gets beyond control of those who are striving to keep athletics clean and free from malice. But when an officer—a man who is sworn to maintain the peace and to defend the law—treats a mere child as Officer Springer treated one of Northville school girls, it is time public opinion became sufficiently aroused to demand his removal as an officer.

The two basket ball games were

NOT "PATIENTS" BUT "CUSTOMERS" AT THIS TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM.

That a name does make a great deal of difference sometimes is shown by the decision of the authorities of the tuberculosis sanatorium at Camp Custer for tuberculosis ex-service men to use only the word "Customers" at the institution in referring to the inmates and never to call them "patients."

There is good psychology back of this, it is believed. And the idea can be extended a great deal. For instance, a sanatorium may be looked upon as a training school instead of as a hospital. It is the latter perhaps more even than the former. A sanatorium, health workers hope, insisted is a place where people are given an education in right living which will return to personal and community usefulness. It is a training school that not only educates the "students" but that should educate the community in which they live by having them help to raise the standards of health after they have become "graduates," and thus preventing the spread of tuberculosis. Rightly considered, a sanatorium is a "University of Good Health."

OBJECTS TO FEDERAL AUTO TAX.

In a letter written in reply to one sent him by F. S. Neal, secretary of the Northville Automobile Club, United States Senator Truman H. Newberry states his position regarding the proposed tax as follows:

United States Senate,

Washington, D. C.

February 18, 1922.

Dear Mr. Neal—

I have your letter of the 15th, and note your objection to having any further taxes placed upon motorists in connection with a proposed soldiers' bonus bill. I heartily agree with you that the automobile industry is already bearing more than its share of federal taxes and I sincerely hope that some other method may be found for raising the money.

I wish that all patriotic veterans in good health, could receive at least a bimonthly pension in 1918-19, sick, wounded and helpless veterans of course, over one hundred million dollars should be done, that already over a billion dollars has been paid out for hospitalization and certain training for those who need it and that appropriations for these purposes this year are about five hundred million, which will undoubtedly greatly increase every year for many years to come. With this view and growing burden on our people, the health and prosperity of our country would, I am sure, repudiate any further taxes for their benefit at this time.

I wish it were possible to have public meetings at home, where this matter could be thoroughly discussed and representations of opinion given as a result thereof.

Yours sincerely,

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY.

Too Much for Music Lovers—
Miss Parker was what broke up the singing society was the ring of the richest man in town to force the mortgages unless it's done, like us the leading soprano.

Parker declared she did not throw the vessel and that she could prove her innocence if given an opportunity to do so. After being held for more than an hour and treated in an unjust manner by Springer and Mueller she was released and permitted to accompany Miss Barley and her schoolmates home.

Had the officer, who knew nothing of the affair except from hearsay, desired to question Evelyn he might have done so in a manner becoming a gentleman instead of treating a fourteen year old girl as though she were a woman from the underworld.

She could not have gone far away if he had permitted her to go home and if her presence was required in the morning she could very easily have been taken into custody and in company with her parents been taken to some proper place for questioning.

Any man who will thus treat a mere child is not fit to be an officer, and the sooner he is removed the better it will be for all concerned.

Such officers only breed contempt for all laws and authority.

We had the above in type last week expecting to publish the same, but when word was received on Thursday to the effect that Evelyn was to be arrested charged with assault and battery, we decided to let the matter rest until her friends had an opportunity to prove her innocence in court.

The arrest was not made and we believe Northville people should demand the removal of Officer Springer.
