NEW CHAPTER DEMOLAY FORMED

Northville enjoys the proud distinction of being the smallest town in the good old U. S. A. to have a chapter of the order of Demolay. We are the proud distinction because we feel the whole community ought to be proud of this fact. The Order of Demolay was brought into existence for the sons of Master Masons between the ages of 16 and 21 and it is growing by leaps and bounds. Northville being the first small town to make an effort to secure a chapter.

The name chosen for our chapter is Fellowship, and it was instituted last Thursday night by the officers of Ann Arbor Chapter, who were accompanied by Robert A. Campbell, treasurer of the University of Michigan, and a few other members of the Masonic fraternity. Soon after their arrival the visiting brothers were treated to one of Northville's beautiful Masonic dinners and immediately following the feast the work of the evening was taken up. The officers' stations were filled by young men of course, and the manner in which they exemplified the work brought forth the warmest commendation and praise from all who were privileged to be present. These splendid, alert young fellows had their parts committed perfectly and the work was given in a manner that made the ceremonies of initiation most impressive, not only upon the young men who were taken into the new chapter—some thirty of them—but upon those older men who were permitted to witness the conferring of the degrees.

The lessons taught were most impressive and they cannot help but be inspiring to all who become affiliated with the organization. The writer was privileged to be present at the institution of the new chapter and we wish that every father and mother in this whole community might have been present to have heard the lectures, the obligation and all the ceremonies of the evening. They were dignified, uplifting and inspiring and the lessons portrayed cannot help but have an uplifting influence among the young men of this section.

The jurisdiction of the new chapter will take in not only Northville, but it will also extend to Plymouth, Farmington, Redford, Wayne and to all the territory regarded as being within the jurisdiction of Union Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of this village. At the conclusion of the degree work the newly elected officers of Fellowship Chapter were installed by Mr. Campbell whom the Ann Arbor boys delight to call "Dad" Campbell because of the kindly interest he has manifested in their welfare. The officers chosen for the ensuing year are as follows:

Master—Councillor—Gibson Carpenter
Senior Councillor—Gerald Woodworth
Junior Councillor—Harold Grace
Senior Deacon—Milton Trumble
Junior Deacon—Wm. Dickerson
Senior Steward—Morris Woodworth
Junior Steward—Harold Stevens
Chaplain—Clinton Tridway
Marshal—Ralph Taylor
Almoner—Ward Masters
Preceptors—Jack Blackburn, Carl Allen, Russell VanGilder, David Iagis Hak, Mahlen Bradley, Clinton Allen, Russell VanGilder, David Henaw, Ward Walker.
Scribe—Albert Ryder.
Treasurer—Raymond Watts
Standard Bearer—John Litsenberger.

Advisory Board—Jas N. Vandenberg, chairman, W.D. McCollough, A.J. Helrich, B. A. Wheeler, H. R. Bogart, E. E. Brown, L. A. Babbitt, T. E. Burdick, J. A. Huff, C. A. Dolph.

OBSERVED PAST MASTERS' NIGHT

Past masters' night was fittingly observed by Northville Lodge, F. & A. M., Monday evening. The Master Mason degree was conferred upon a class of four candidates, the work being done by the past masters of the lodge. While the brothers were still seated at the tables Past Master M. A. Porter made an appeal in behalf of the Washington memorial to be erected at Alexandria, Va., in honor of Washington and as a result, many dollars found their way to the "collection plate." The past masters did the work well and the large crowd present greatly enjoyed the meeting.

A deal was consummated last week whereby C. R. Horton became the owner of the building on North Center street now occupied by Jim's Tire Shop. Messrs. F. S. Harmon and F. S. Neal purchased the property some months ago.

TO FORM WAYNE COUNTY GUN CLUB

Detroit sportsmen will assemble in the Board of Commerce on the evening of March 8 to form a county organization which, it is hoped, will improve fish and game conditions in this and every section of the state. AS to the name of the new organization that hasn't been determined upon as yet, but it will probably be the Wayne County Sportsmen's association or the Wayne County Game and Bird club.

The plan to bring about better sportsmanship, which will have a tendency to interest the sportsmen in Detroit and adjacent parts of Wayne county in the propagation of fish and game. Reforestation, the addition of state parks and camping sites will also be included in the general scheme of the new organization. The maintenance of camp sites in northern Michigan, a much desired consummation devoutly wished for by all sportsmen of the state, will be one of the important propagandas to be worked out by the club.

The organization will not conduct in any way with the Michigan Sportsman's association, but on the contrary it is intended by its promoters to work in harmony and to further the best interests and aims of the state body.

It is expected that the meeting in the Board of Commerce will be the start of an interesting and 5000 sportsmen in Wayne county in the mass and plans of the promoters. During the meeting an hour will be devoted to wild life in the Hudson bay country as seen on the screen—Detroit, Jan. 31.

OBITUARY.

Emma Elizabeth Ostrander was born in Northville, Mich., near Tillamook, Ont., December 19, 1870, where about thirty years of her life were spent. After the death of her parents she came to Michigan, living several years in Yale, afterwards residing in Detroit and coming to Northville in 1908 where she clerked in a "A. Ponsford" store for some time, after which she went to Richmond for one year and then to Plymouth, afterward coming back to Mr. Ponsford's with whom she remained until last June when she accepted a position as bookkeeper in C. R. Bly's coal office and where she was employed at the time of her death.

Her unassuming manner won for her the love and respect of the community and she will be greatly missed by all.

The Woman's Relief Corps, of which she was a valued member and officer, will deeply regret her untimely death.

She was a true and faithful member of the Presbyterian church and Sunday school where she was always ready to do her part.

The funeral services are held Friday afternoon from the home of Mrs. E. J. Tremper, where she had made her home since coming to Northville, and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. V. Bell, and Saturday morning the remains were taken to Tillamook, Ont., for interment in the Eden cemetery beside her parents and a brother.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. E. Nims of Detroit and a brother, Marsena Ostrander of Tillamook, Ont., also two nephews and two nieces.

SPORTSMEN TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING.

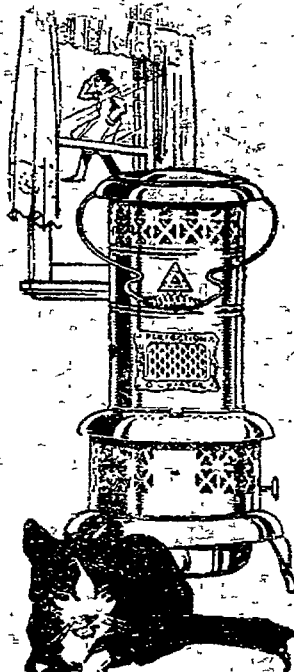

An attractive program has been arranged for the banquet of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Association to be held in the Wilson-caterer on south Saginaw street Thursday evening, March 9, at 6:30 o'clock. S. E. Sangster of Ottawa, a well known authority on big game hunting, will be present, with moving picture films showing moose hunting in Canada.

J. H. McGilvery of the state department of conservation at Lansing, will speak on the work of his department in the past year, dealing especially with extermination of wolves.

C. W. Otto of the Pontiac Board of Commerce will be toastmaster and Scotch songs will be sung by William Newton. A. B. Glaspie will have charge of organization of township committees for planting fish in the lakes this season. Nearly every lake in the county was planted last year but this year the association hopes to go about it even more systematically.

Accommodations are to be provided for upwards of 500 sportsmen.—Pontiac Press.

Reading in Bed.
One may read in bed without excess eye-strain if care is taken to have good light and to sit up so that you look down at the print. Reading in prone position is usually tiresome because we look up at the type. The eye is used so much to look at objects held below its level that the muscles which turn the eyes up have become weak from lack of use and become, therefore, easily tired. — Popular Science Monthly.

Trench-Nellis Fortunes

By CLAIKE SMITH.

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union

"Your uncle, Mr. Daniel Trench, wishes to do you full justice, Mr. Denlow."

"I hope so. It is my due," observed Vane Denlow.

"Your uncle is glad to help you in a business way," pursued his agent and attorney, Mr. Thacker.

"He has great future plans for you," as soon as you get all your arrangements for going into business made, he wants to have you, shoot, straight ahead."

"See? In fact, he has you in his eye, as a—what shall I say? A very promising party for his ward, Miss Nellie. You've heard of her? Think of the vast mutual interests of the Trench and Nellis fortunes could be consolidated."

"In other words," broke in Vane coldly, "my uncle offers a bribe to have me become a puppet in his hands?"

"Not at all—not at all," the wily lawyer hastened to declare. "He only hopes you will see things in his way."

"Not in the matter of the selection of a wife," observed Vane. "He said better not try it. I know, sir, that I am honorably engaged to a young lady here in Wilby."

"Just so. Indeed, not just mentioned it. Ha, hum, forget it, my dear young friend. Good day."

In brief, the attorney had appeared to make Vane a proposition—to go to Meriden, fifty miles away, and enter into business. His uncle was about to retire, a wealthy man. The elevator he owned controlled a fine trade. He offered to make a gift of it to his nephew.

Vane Denlow was a proud, self-reliant young man, but he saw his way clearly to accept the gift. In his mind and to his uncle's mind and in the minds of all who knew a great deal, but could not legally prove the same, when Vane's father died his brother-in-law had managed by a quirk of the law to get hold of some valuable property by all moral rights belonging to the Denlows.

There was no doubt that old Trench's conscience as he got older had urged him to a grudging restitution, the way Vane figured it out.

Leoline, at Wilby, began to receive some letters that nearly broke her heart at the first, and Dale, at Meriden, in turn received news concerning his future that amazed him. Fortunately he ran down to Wilby for an explanation.

"It is all clear to me," he said to Leoline. "Some trouble maker has got the news to you of my 'easy life' at Meriden, and to one of the numerous beauties you are going around with, to separate the Trench who it is, and I know why. Leoline, dear, we must outwit these plotters. Whisper, dear, and the interview would up in an excursion to a nearby city, and then Vane went back to his work."

Vane was introduced to his uncle's ward, Miss Dolly Nellis.

Dolly made sure that her guardian was out of hearing as she sat down on a rustic bench.

"Mr. Denlow," she whispered to a suffering tone, "are we all, all alone?"

"I think we are, Miss Nellis," replied Vane wonderingly.

"Can I tell you a dreadful, dreadful secret?" she whispered.

"I shall be honored by your confidence," intimated Vane.

"Then—then, oh, dear! I hope it won't break your heart, but I—I am engaged."

"I must congratulate you."

"Oh, I am so glad," gushed the fair Dolly.

"I will tell you a secret, too, dear Miss Nellie," said Denlow. "I am already married."

"I could almost kiss you for delight," cried Dolly. "I will your wife, when I meet her. Oh, I am so happy!"

When old man Trench learned how his nephew had outwitted him through a secrete marriage to Leoline at the time his emissary Thacker was plotting to separate them, he wrote an awful letter to Vane.

In a dignified way the latter informed him that the business he had given him, barely made up for what he had robbed his father of. If, however, Trench, Thacker, & Co. felt that they had in any way been circumvented, resulting in a loss to their prospects, Vane would set aside the profits of the business he had managed to build up, wonderfully, and would restore the original investment to his money-loving relative.

Trench quivered down after this. As to Dolly and Reginauld, they enjoyed under the very nose of the old man, so it was dire retribution for the crafty schemers all around.

Shoestring Remedy for Colds.

The next time you feel that you are catching a cold, stoop over and tie your shoe. While you are at it you might as well tie both shoes. Loosen the strings and make a good job of the tying. The principle of the shoestring remedy is that in stooping over the blood is brought to the head and the circulation is otherwise favorably affected. Where there is perfect blood circulation there is immunity from the taking of cold.—Gateway Magazine.

Neutral.

Vane seen upset.

"Yes, my wife had a quarrel with the cook."

"Did you take sides?"

"No. I need them both."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The manager, Mr. Mercer, is doing everything in his power to get the lines in shape as soon as possible.

WARNS AGAINST PNEUMONIA NOW

Pneumonia is the disease to be watched out for most carefully at the present time, warns the state department of health.

During the first 24 days of February 684 cases of pneumonia were reported throughout the state, compared to 513 during the corresponding period last year and an average of 493 for the past 10 years. In January, 789 cases were reported an increase of 165 cases over January, 1921, and nearly twice the average number for the month.

To avoid pneumonia, advises Dr. R. M. Olin, commissioner of health, "avoid colds and exposure to sickness. The organism causing acute lobar pneumonia is always ready at this time of the year, waiting until we are at low ebb physically for a chance to invade and lay waste the body's fortifications. Other forms of the disease, the bronchopneumonias or secondary infections, are the mopping-up squads of neglected colds and common sicknesses.

"If a person contracts a cold, it should never be regarded contemptuously. The individual who is feeling 'not quite well' will conserve time and health by complete relaxation and rest. In fact, a thorough rest indulged in early enough may prevent pneumonia. Even if pneumonia does develop, the rest will have helped to conserve the body's resistance, every ounce of which will be needed before the patient recovers.

Finally, dress to suit the thermometer and not the calendar; eat heartily and wisely, sleep with the windows open, and ventilate the house several times daily."

THE COTTAGE GARDENER

GROWING EARLY PLANTS IN BACKYARD HOTBED

Proper selection of seeds with which to plant a garden is stressed by the United States Department of Agriculture. It should be the aim of every home gardener, this year to grow a better garden by making the most intelligent use of the available space, not only by employing better methods, but by planting seeds of the highest quality. The first cost of seeds is comparatively small, but it is very important that the seeds planted should be the very best obtainable.

Gardeners are advised to secure the catalogues of reliable seed firms and spend a little time in going over and checking up the seeds that will be needed for planting.

Do not be misled by the highly colored and much advertised novelties, but stick to the standard, well-known and proved varieties, and the specialists. Good seeds should never be wasted, so figure carefully upon the amount required and place your order early before the best stocks are exhausted. Perhaps the seeds can be bought from local dealers. If not, orders should go to a seed house in some neighboring city, so the seeds may be received in ample time. When they are received, unpack and check them to see that no part of the order has been overlooked; then store the seeds in a moistureproof, ventilated container, such as a perforated tin box. They should be kept in a moderate temperature, and where they will not freeze or be exposed to moisture.

Have Early Vegetables.
 Half the pleasure and profit of a garden is derived from having something to use just as early in the spring as possible. In many cities and towns the local greenhouse men grow thousands of plants which are sold to home gardeners at reasonable prices. It often happens, however, that home gardeners do not have the opportunity to purchase well-grown plants, and must start their own supply of early plants in the house or in a hotbed if they desire to have their crops mature early. Among the garden crops that may be started to advantage in this manner are tomatoes, early cabbage, peppers, eggplant and lettuce; even cucumbers, melons, beans, snap beans, lima beans and sweet corn may be started indoors by using flower pots, paper bands, or berry boxes to hold the soil.

Where the required number of plants is too great for growing in window boxes, a hotbed or coldframe may be provided. The usual method of constructing a hotbed is first to dig a shallow pit 3 to 4 inches deep according to locality, and pack it full of fermenting stable manure. The manure, before being placed in the pit, should be turned over once or twice in a pile in order to insure even heating. It may then be packed into the hotbed pit and tramped uniformly. Standard hotbed sashes are 3 feet wide and 6 feet long, and the size of the bed should be made to suit the number of sashes employed. A frame-work of boards 18 to 24 inches high at the back and about 12 inches high in front is placed over the manure-filled pit to support the sash.

Use for Thermometer.
 About 3 or 4 inches of fine garden loam is spread evenly over the manure and the bed allowed to stand four or five days to warm up before any seed is sown. At first the temperature of the bed may run rather high, and it is best to delay planting the seeds in it until it begins to decline. This can best be determined by planting a thermometer with the bulb about three inches below the surface of the soil. The temperature should fall below 85 degrees before seeds are planted.

If glass filled sashes are not available for covering the hotbed, heavy muslin may be used instead, the glass, however, makes the most desirable form of covering. Care must be taken to give the bed sufficient ventilation to prevent overheating, as it is liable to heat up very rapidly when the sun shines full upon the glass. Watering should be done during the early part of the day and the bed given enough air so that the plants will dry off before night. The bed should be covered enough heat to carry it through the night in good condition. If the weather should turn severely cold, a covering of straw, blankets or canvas may be thrown over the bed to protect it.

Coldframe Construction
 A coldframe is constructed in exactly the same manner as a hotbed, with the exception that no manure is placed beneath it to supply heat.

Before the plants are set in the garden, either from the hotbed or the coldframe, they should be gradually hardened to outside conditions by giving them more ventilation each day. Finally, remove the sashes entirely on bright days and replace them during the nights. The aim should be to produce strong, healthy plants that will make a quick start when placed in the garden.

TO HAVE AN INDOOR GARDEN

Make Your Basement Work for You by Producing Vegetables Before Outdoor Planting Time.

Nearly every cottage, as well as the larger houses and the city bungalows, are equipped with large basements. Many of these basements have space that is not utilized and many of them have excellent southern and eastern exposures whereby the sun has a chance to play through the windows a large portion of the day.

Make the basement work for you. It is an easy matter to have a miniature greenhouse in most any basement where there is sufficient heat to keep the soil and plants from freezing. At least, plants for setting out when the danger of frost is past can be easily raised in the basement, and small vegetables such as radishes, onions and lettuce can be raised and eaten by the owner long before it is time to plant such things outside.

If the window space in the basement is sufficient a long tray arrangement such as used in greenhouses may be used for the indoor garden. Such a tray will be sufficient to produce a good quantity of small vegetables until time to plant outside and at the same time the tomato, pepper, cabbage and other plants may be started, later to be transplanted to individual boxes for more intensive cultivation, and to be ready to transplant in the open with large, healthy plants.

PRUNING WILL GET RESULTS

Fruit Trees, Vines and Bushes, as well as Flowering Shrubbery, Require Trimming.

Fruit trees, fruit vines and bushes, as well as flowering shrubbery, require careful pruning to get the best results in fruit and flowers.

There is some difference of opinion as to whether the pruning should be done in the fall or in the early spring. Despite the argument as to the time, the pruning is absolutely necessary if crops are to be the best possible under weather, soil or other conditions that may prevail in any particular locality.

In pruning fruit or flowering trees and vines it is well for the one who wields the pruning knife to know just how to do the work. One not acquainted with the operation would best post up on the task before one seriously wounds the trees or vines. It is not a difficult task, but one that is as necessary each year as cultivation—for crops cannot be expected unless the proper attention is given.

"HOE" THE PLANTS IN FLATS

The small, spike-like plants that have just come through the soil in the flats in the basement require a little "hoeing" occasionally. Gentle loosening of the ground—not close enough to injure the tender roots—will do the plants good.

BROKER ARRESTED ON FRAUD CHARGE

E. L. WELLMAN, GRAND RAPIDS
 "BEAN KING" OUT ON $2,000 BAIL

SWINDLE MAY TOTAL $100,000

Forged Bills of Lading Said to Have Been Used to Secure Money From Banks.

Detroit—Ernest L. Wellman, Grand Rapids, known as the "Bean King of Michigan," arrested here Feb. 23, on a charge of forgery by Fred Hessler of the United States department of justice, was released Monday on $2,000 bail to appear in Grand Rapids for arraignment. Wellman is accused of forging bills of lading, the amount of which will total $100,000, according to Grand Rapids banks.

Alarmed at the absence of Wellman from the city, the Old National bank of Grand Rapids, said to hold between $75,000 and $80,000 worth of the alleged forged bills of lading, requested United States Commissioner O. E. Weir to issue a warrant for him.

It is alleged that the methods used was the substitution of forged bills for the originals and the use of the latter to release the shipments and meet the original costs. The banks were responsible to the railroad for the shipment. A delayed remittance to an outside shipper, and his subsequent request for immediate reimbursement is said to have been the part of the investigation.

The Wellman company is alleged to do a business of $8,000,000 annually and is capitalized at $50,000. Little capital is required because of the rapid turnover, it is said. According to the secretary-treasurer, A. Druke, the business will be continued.

Wellman married and the father of two children, told the department of justice officials he had come to Detroit to seek financial aid, and was confident the matter would be settled amicably with his creditors.

The bank financier started life as a lawyer according to dispatches from Grand Rapids.

His first insight into the possibility of a big business was said to have been gained during his employment as a broker in concern Wellman & Co., located in Chicago, because of its close relations with the United States and a foreign government.

MEMBERSHIP DUES LEGAL DEBT

Lakeland County Justice Says Farm Bureau Can Collect.

Justice John Judge Freidenburg of Lakeland county has made an important decision in a civil action which, while involving but $10, affects thousands of men throughout the state. It is a decision in which the state is interested.

The Lakeland county farm bureau has brought a suit against B. G. and A. G. Mills jointly, for collection of $10 membership dues in the Lakeland county farm bureau.

The case was tried in law. The judge ruled in favor of the farm bureau. There are many cases of delinquent dues in local farm bureaus which come under this ruling.

D. U. R. ACCEPTS BID FOR LINES

Mayor Couzens's Offer of $19,250,000 to Buy Voted Upon April 15.

Detroit—Detroit United Railway stockholders on Monday accepted the city's offer of $19,250,000 for its entire system, as a special election will be called for April 15 to have the people vote on the purchase proposal. Mayor Couzens, announced, when informed that the company had accepted his offer.

The decision of the stockholders is believed to virtually bring to a close the battle between the city and the company, which has extended over a period of 30 years.

MAX AWAITS MCCORMICK'S VISIT

Mr. Osser, Riding Master, Is to Wed John D's Granddaughter.

Zurich, Switzerland—No definite arrangements as to time or place will be made for the marriage of Max Osser and Miss Mathilde McCormick until Harold F. McCormick and his daughter come to Switzerland, according to a statement made by Mr. Osser to the correspondent of the Associated Press Sunday.

O. K.'S WOMAN'S RIGHT TO VOTE

U. S. Supreme Court Declares 19th Amendment Constitutional.

Washington—The woman's suffrage, or 19th amendment, was Monday declared constitutional by the supreme court.

The supreme court dismissed for want of jurisdiction the suit brought by Charles S. Fairchild of New York, who sought to challenge the constitutionality of the amendment.

HART WOMAN NAMED MODERN HEALTH CRUSADE DIRECTOR OF MICHIGAN

Miss Olive G. Turner of Hart, has been appointed director of the Modern Health Crusade in Michigan. Miss Turner has already begun the work of organizing the school children of the state into this crusade.

Miss Turner is a graduate of the Michigan State Normal and of the University of Michigan. She also attended the National Tuberculosis Institute of New York, and she taught school in Minnesota. At one time, while a student at Ann Arbor, she was assistant secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, and for a time she served as executive secretary of the Osceola County Tuberculosis committee of New York, and it was there that her work in the Modern Health Crusade attracted national attention. Not alone the rural and all the city and village schools were enrolled in the movement, but the State Normal School also competed in this health project. Miss Turner actually conducted the crusade as a teacher in a graded school in order to become fully acquainted with every detail of the crusade and the problems of the teachers as they relate to it.

BIG PLANS FOR 1922

Expansion of telephone service in Michigan this year, to meet anticipated demand, will call for expenditure of about $8,000,000, says Franz C. Kuhn, president of the Michigan State Telephone company in its annual report to stockholders for 1922, just issued.

This will aside from any plans for consolidation of plants, of connecting companies with that of the Michigan State company and will make it necessary again for the Michigan company to call upon the American Telephone and Telegraph company for funds with which to finance the work, the report says. Because of its very poor history of earnings, the Michigan company is unable otherwise to obtain the necessary capital for financing.

The annual report indicates that by the practice of rigid economy and increased efficiency together with the rate relief granted, the year's results were much more satisfactory to the company than for any of the several years next preceding. However it has not been possible to resume payment of dividends, which were suspended on common stock in September, 1914, and on preferred stock, September, 1919.

Operating revenues were $10,756,184.77, with operating expenses of $12,043,667.87, of which $123,317.42 was for uncollectible accounts. Taxes were $1,016,916.67.

QUEST

Young Schott was in a rather odd mood in one corner of the clubhouse "When," he muttered to himself, "I compare the one or two creditors I have with the millions and millions of persons to whom I owe nothing. I wonder why in the world those clowns make such a commotion about it?"

Northville School Notes.

Spring vacation is but three weeks away.

Eleven students entered the literary contest of the Michigan State Phone Company and the essays they have submitted are now being considered by the judges. As soon as possible the decision of the judges will be given.

Last Friday night Northville boys and girls basketball teams went to Dearborn to play Dearborn's teams.

The first game was rather disappointing to the Northville fans who accompanied the team for our girls stood at the small end of a 12-6 score when the final whistle blew.

However when the boys' game started things looked different. With Red Hall at center, Gordie Monitt and Egg Ford as forwards and Duane German and Allen Buckley as guards basketball began to hum.

The game was a complete walk-away and when it was finally over the score book revealed a 35-12 score with Northville in the lead.

This game brought hope to the boys because Dearborn defeated Farmington and Northville defeated Dearborn.

Northville High School students will have the pleasure of listening to one of the very finest speakers in the state, Wednesday, March 15th, when Chas. McKenly, President of the Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, will visit our school.

The townspeople are cordially invited and we feel sure you will thoroughly enjoy Prof. McKenly and the musical program which is being arranged for this particular event.

The program will start promptly at three o'clock. Another very fine speaker has been secured for Thursday, March 16th, at three o'clock, Nathan Harvey, prof. of psychology at the Michigan State Normal College, will be the speaker.

Prof. Harvey is planning on arriving early so as to visit the various departments of the school.

Tuesday night, Britton and Northville boys and girls basketball teams met on the local floor. These games, planned to be interesting, especially the boys' game.

The girls played an exceptionally good game, using team work and skill and when the whistle blew the score was 45-9, Northville.

The boys' game started out with a bang and Northville fans realized they were to witness one of the greatest and most evenly matched range of the season.

At the end of the first half the score was 11-7 in favor of Britton but when the last half started Northville entered the game with a game determination to win, rattling the cup which had been gained by Britton from Northville at the tournament last year.

A notable feature of the game was the excellent spirit and enthusiasm displayed by the Northville School and townspeople who were present to back our team to victory.

After the games the Britton people and a lot of the townspeople were served with hot coffee and sandwiches by the Northville School and townspeople.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry deserve a great deal of credit for their efforts in providing such a fine lunch. Bedford is the last game of the season. The date will be announced later.

LAST DANCE.

The Novi Board of Commerce will give their last dance in the Novi Town Hall on Tuesday evening, March 14th.

Taylor's 5 piece orchestra of Detroit will furnish the music.

Everybody Welcome.

LOCAL.

Northville basketball teams will go to Saline this evening for a game.

Fire was discovered in the Star home on Cady street Tuesday night, but the blaze was soon extinguished without the use of water.

The residence of Mrs. Mary Wilkinson in Bealton was the scene of a stubborn fire Wednesday noon. By heroic work by willing workers the blaze was subdued, though the building was quite badly damaged.

Duration of Moon's Eclipse. A total eclipse of the moon may last as long as one hour and forty-five minutes.

WHAT IS ADVERTISING?

A slick guy with a smooth line of talk, greased hair, pressed pants and a big card printed in three colors, seems to be an excellent combination to separate business houses from $3 to $10 for box space in a pasteboard card after the aforementioned slick guy tells you it is advertising. Don't believe it. It is not even charity. It is just as much advertising as a snail game is an investment. He has no interest in your community or your business. His sole and only interest is your money and you will find him perfectly willing to add one lie to another to enlist your interest. For he will not see you again after he has cleaned up on the town and taken the train out.

Sometimes it is a thingamajig that he is going to hang on every telephone in the county, and other times it may be some new Wallingford folderol that will gain the attention of even more conservative business men. They have an excellent line of talk, these fellows. They have to have, for that is what they live on. Ever hear of a business man who had to enlarge his store, or of a town that doubled its trade territory, as a result of this kind of advertising? I never did so and I do not believe that one of the slick guys did either.

But I know of several towns that have made phenomenal progress and of thousands of others that are being boosted as a result of advertising through the home town paper—Quincy Herald.

The amount of money that was recently spent by the business firms of this town for a calendar would have carried a page advertisement in this paper for about four weeks. Candidly now, which do you think would have been the best investment for the advertisers, for the town and for the whole community?

No Important Climatic Changes. There has been no well authenticated changes of climate within the last 2,000 years. Changes due to man, such as deforestation, agriculture, the building of canals, railroads or telegraph have only a local effect.

A Cosmopolitan production from the noted novel, by Winston Churchill, entitled

"The Inside of The Cup"

BY POPULAR REQUEST.

The story deals with real people whom all alike will understand. It fairly teems with little human touches and spectacular incidents which lend attractiveness and value to motion pictures of the highest class.

The doctrine of the helping hand which "The Inside of The Cup" splendidly expounds, is one that has universal appeal and the picturization of such a story cannot fail to inspire belief in the theory of the Brotherhood of Man as one of the great salutary forces for good in our modern civilization.

It is a soul-stirring picture story.

and prosperous wedded life are extended them by their many friends in Northville and Wilcox.

THE ISSUE.

Frequently one hears somebody speak of the "wet and dry" issue in the coming village election. Strictly speaking there is no such issue. Can be no such issue. A few years ago this was an issue. Then the people had their choice, and if they chose booze it was perfectly legal for them to have it. That time is past. They may still want it, but if they get it, it can only be by breaking the law of the land and violating the very Constitution of the United States of America. Therefore the issue is between law-keeping and law-breaking, between law-enforcement and nonenforcement. AND THAT IS THE ISSUE.

The situation is very simple. On one ticket the candidates for the office of trustee have served during the past year. THE LAWS HAVE NOT BEEN ENFORCED, and the voice of the people expressed by more than five hundred voters has been utterly ignored and the people defiled. What is the head of the ticket doing who is to do it? He would be utterly helpless if the rest of his ticket elected. THIS HAS BEEN DEMONSTRATED. On the other ticket the candidates for President and Trustee are pledged by the Constitution and by their individual word to enforce the laws of the state, and defend
THE LAWS OF THE PEOPLE.

DENBY OPPOSES GOMPERS' PLAN

NAVY HEAD SEES NO PRACTICAL WAY OF TURNING YARDS INTO INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

PRIVATE CONCERNS MAY LEASE

A. F. L. Head Submitted Program Containing 15 Proposals for Relief of Unemployed

Washington—Conversion of navy yards into industrial plants for the purpose of obtaining contracts from other government departments could be accomplished only at the expense of privately owned factories, and, therefore, would not be of value to the unemployed, Secretary Denby declared Sunday night in a letter, answering suggestions laid before him recently by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, as head of a delegation representing "unemployed" navy yard naval employees.

Several thousand of the employees were given leave last year as a consequence of the naval agreements reached at the Washington arms conference.

"It is difficult to see," Secretary Denby said, "how the national unemployment situation will be in any way alleviated, even if it is found feasible to complete in the open market with industrial plants on the outside. As to this I have very serious doubt, for I know of no industrial plant in private life where such liberality is shown employees, thereby increasing the overhead, as in the navy yards of the United States."

Moreover, the secretary continued, he doubted very much the wisdom of artificially keeping up navy yards, thereby perhaps causing the destruction of the latter. When the navy yards are not required to maintain the fleet, he said, they should be abandoned or leased to private concerns, and employment for them.

The delegation headed by Mr. Gompers submitted a program comprising 15 proposals designed to relieve the situation of the unemployed out of work. Secretary Denby took on the suggestion of order, explaining that the navy yards did not have the appropriate machinery to undertake the kind of work.

HENRI LANDRU PAYS PENALTY

French Bluebeard Beheaded Before Gate of St. Pierre Prison

Verdun—In the raw, misty dawn Henri Landru, France's arch murderer, was beheaded in the gallotina before the gate of St. Pierre prison. He had been found guilty in Nov. 29 of the murder of 10 women to whom he had made love and offered marriage, and a boy—the son of one of his female victims.

It was the minutes after six when Landru was called from the examination room. He carried with him into the death chamber the secret of the woman he was convicted of killing with their savings.

Hampton, Va.—The motor schooner Emerald, of Digby, Nova Scotia, flying the British flag, was seized by the coast guard cutter Menominee, some miles southeast of Cape Charles, Saturday as it returned.

Her cargo, it is alleged, consisted of more than 1,000 cases of liquor for New York delivery. This, together with the ship's papers, were seized, and the captain, John Allen Williams, with the entire crew, were taken into custody pending an examination before the United States commissioner at Norfolk.

Man Burns to Death When He Drops Lantern in Tar

Allwood, N. J.—One man was burned to death and another severely injured here while a group of workmen were tarring the interior of a six-foot water pipe.

Eight men were working by lantern light when Paul Fereoly, who lost his life, accidentally dropped his lantern, setting the tar ablaze.

Two manholes were 3,000 feet apart and the nearest one to the spot was 350 feet away. Fereoly and Charles Kent tried to escape by this exit and were trapped. The six others ran in the opposite direction and escaped unhurt. Kent was badly burned.

DAIRY THE DAIRYMAKING MILK IN NEBRASKA

Figures Obtained Probably Approximate Requirements in Other Sections of West

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Here is what it costs, in labor and feed, to produce 100 pounds of market milk in eastern Nebraska. Winter six months—concentrates, 11.2 pounds; dry roughage, 55.3 pounds; silage and other succulent roughage, 23.6 pounds; bedding, 11.1 pounds; human labor, 1.2 hours; horse labor, 0.00 hour; hauling and grinding concentrates, $0.016; pasture, $0.108; total costs, except depreciation on cows, $0.124; depreciation on cows, $0.018; summer six months—concentrates, 11.2 pounds; hauling and grinding concentrates, $0.004; dry roughage, 51.2 pounds; silage and other succulent roughage, 29.3 pounds; pasture, $0.053; human labor, 1.0 hours; horse labor, 0.08 hours; total costs except depreciation on cows, $0.207; depreciation on cows, $0.084.

The work of determining the cost of producing milk in this section covers two one-year periods. It was begun by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the department of dairy husbandry of the University of Nebraska, in September, 1917, discontinued at the end of the first year, and resumed in September, 1919. The figures reported were based on actual records obtained by regular monthly visits of 24 hours each to eight farms for two years, and to 22 other farms for one year.

The requirements for keeping the average cow one year were: Concentrates, 1,520 pounds; hauling and grinding concentrates, $0.60; dry roughage, 4,275 pounds; silage and other succulent roughage, 3,733 pounds; pasture, $22.01; bedding, 330 pounds; human labor, 113.6 hours; horse labor, 3.32 hours; other costs except depreciation on cows, $41.75; depreciation on cows, $4.78.

During the first winter and summer the average figures from milk were not sufficient to meet the average costs. In the second year the figures were above the average costs in both seasons. The greater percentage of the year's income was received in the winter, but the feed, pasture and bedding costs exceeded the summer costs.

Feed for Dairy Cows Should Be Carefully Weighed.

by a greater percentage than the winter receipts exceeded the summer receipts.

Although the figures obtained show what was required to produce milk for the Omaha market under the system of dairy management found in the section studied, and probably approximate the requirements in similar localities, it is pointed out by the department that they, of course, do not apply to dairying in sections where different conditions and methods of management prevail.

Additional details of the record and work are contained in department Bulletin 972, "Unit Requirements for Producing Market Milk in Eastern Nebraska," recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. Copies of the bulletin may be had by addressing a request to the department at Washington, D. C.

MOLD REPORTED IN SILAGE

Trouble Occurs Only Where Air Is Present, Generally Caused by Lack of Water

The usual number of complaints are coming in regarding the presence of mold in silage. Mold can grow only when air is present. Air generally gets in as the result of the silage being too dry when put into the silo. If water was added, not enough was used. Poor packing may cause the same trouble. Mold around the doors and against the wall is the result of poor construction of the silo which allows air to enter. Nothing can be done now to remedy the condition. At the next filling time special care should be taken to see that the corn contains enough moisture and that it is well tramped. It is always safest to reject moldy silage especially for horses and sheep, although for cattle there seems to be little danger. C. H. Eckles, chief of the division of dairy husbandry, University of Nebraska.

DETROIT THEATRES.

A musical festival with a score which runs the gamut from the popular, tune to the operatic classic and then bubbles over with a few humorous and semi-classical numbers just for good measure, is Extrême Zumbal's exquisite musical comedy "Honeydew" which comes to the Garrick theatre, the week beginning Sunday night, March 5th, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

"Honeydew" has everything, if one is to believe the advance notices. Among the components which make up the offering are: heard grand opera, comic opera, musical comedy, ballet, pantomime, farce and travesty, with a long array of novelties to keep the dancers busy, such as Viennese waltzes, whirling Czech polka, glimmering Spanish dances and some custom-made American waltzes.

An augmented orchestra with the Chicago theatre, New York, cast and chorus is promised. Those having leading roles are: Etchinda Terry, John Dunsen, George Bancroft, John Park, Vra Jeanne, Madeline Grey, Marie Hall, Vincent Spivack, Florez, Frank and Antonio Casano, and William H. Dorning. Joe Weber is the producer.

He has brought together a chorus of singers, who, strange to relate, are also skilled in dancing and acting. The ladies of the ensemble are accused of being young and numerous.

Walter Scanlan, the young Irish tenor and actor, who is now snugly ensconced in the "Manila" handed down by his namesake, Billie Scanlan, to Chalmers O'Leary and Andrew Mack and whose popularity is firmly established with the lovers of Irish song plays, is announced as the attraction at the Shubert-Michigan Theatre beginning Sunday night, on his second annual tour, under the management of George M. Gatts, in a new comedy, entitled "Irish Eyes," written by the well-known American dramatist, Edward B. Rose. From advance reports, "Irish Eyes" is a charming romance with a dual love story running through three acts and six scenes, and is said to give the young popular singer an opportunity for real acting such as he never had in any production heretofore.

His impersonation of the dual role of a young Galway fisherman in Ireland and millionaire mine-owner in America is said to be remarkably artistic. The author has drawn a very interesting characterization of the simple, good-natured, yet sturdy fisher folk of Ireland and likewise those who live in wealth and luxury on a fashionable Rhode Drive, New York.

Not the Only One.

There Are Other Northville People Similarly Mugged.

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Northville residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question.

J. D. Miller, farmer, R. F. D. No. 1, Northville, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and got down so I had to lay off work for six weeks. The doctor told me I had uric acid in my system and gave me medicine and also put me on a diet. For a time it helped me, but I wasn't satisfied, as the medicine seemed to lose its effect and I seemed to be getting worse under the doctor's treatment. Backache nearly set me wild, and the kidney secretions contained sediment and didn't pass freely. I was recommended to me so I went to the Northville Drug Co. and got two boxes Doan's seemed to be just what I needed, as four boxes cured me entirely. My kidneys have been acting fine ever since, so I gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price, 60c a box. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Miller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Business Proposition

Did you ever stop to think, Mr. Business Man, that the news of your business is as much a part of the local events as a wedding or a church fair? The ladies are just as much interested in a new fabric you have on the shelves as they are in any home happening. Your store news and announcements in these columns will reach a large circle of eager buyers. This will enable you to sell your goods while they are new and fresh and you will not have to sacrifice later at remnant counter prices. Think it over.

FARM BUREAU TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Wayne County Farm Bureau will be held at the Grange hall, Romulus, on Saturday, the 11th of March, business sessions starting at 10:30 o'clock in the morning sharp. The morning session of the delegates, which is open to all members as well as the public, will be devoted to hearing reports of the past year, financial and otherwise, also the election of a new executive board and making plans for the future. A new feature, during the morning, will be a meeting of the women farm bureau folks, wives and daughters of the member families, at the church in Romulus, to form a county-wide organization to look after the problem of their activities. Mrs. Campbell, state leader of home demonstration agents, and Mrs. Wager, the woman member of the state Farm Bureau board of directors, will be in attendance. The invitation to the meeting of women is general and a large attendance is desired.

The afternoon program of the Farm Bureau meeting will include an address by C. L. Brody, secretary-manager of the State Farm Bureau, also a talk by Miss Mary Sweeney, dean of the home economics department of the Michigan Agricultural college.

The women folks of the Romulus Grange will serve dinner at noon. We had nearly four hundred at the annual meeting one year ago, explains Secretary Campbell in urging a large attendance. "We want to break that record this year and every member of the organization is invited to attend. The meeting in the morning for the women folk is something along new lines, is part of our program to broaden the scope of the organization and its activities, which we hope will be well received in all Farm Bureau circles."

GAVE AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

An exceptionally interesting and instructive address was given by Rev. A. V. Good, Presbyterian missionary of Lubadori, Cameroon, West Africa, in the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening. The auditorium was crowded with eager listeners who gave enthusiastic attention while Mr. Good spoke for an hour and twenty minutes using nearly one hundred stereoptical pictures to illustrate his lecture.

Mr. Good is a zealous missionary of the gospel of Christ, but he takes a deep interest in the land itself and its animal and vegetable life as well as in the people.

Many interesting pictures of animals and reptiles, some strange and some ugly, together with beautiful views of the land with its tropical foliage, wooden mountains, and sparkling waters, formed a background against which the story of the people and the bringing of the gospel to them shone out with wonder and beauty.

The tales swirling back from the screen showed a brightness and intelligence that was surprising to many, for the gospel is finding its way into their hearts and revolutionizing their lives. Up to a few years ago, the largest Presbyterian church in the world was at Elat, West Africa, the membership being over 6000. It was found advisable however, to divide this group and seven smaller churches were formed. The membership of the eight is now 10,870.

FARM BUREAU NOTES MUST BE PAID.

Judgment handed down by Justice A. Fredenburg in the case of the Oakland County Farm Bureau versus P. C. and V. C. Mills of White Lake Township, definitely disposes of any claim by dissatisfied members of the county bureau that payment of post-dated checks given two years ago at the time the farm bureau was organized, can be avoided.

The bureau brought suit against the Mills' father and son, to collect on a post-dated check given for 1921 membership. Payment of the check was withheld by the Mills on the ground that they had not received value, and that the bureau had never done anything for them.

The case was heard a few weeks ago in municipal court here, and on a hinged some 25 other similar post-dated checks given for membership. Pontiac Press.

MANY NOTED STARS HAVE BEEN ENGAGED.

The next Ann Arbor May Festival will take place during the four days beginning May 17, and as usual will consist of four evening and two afternoon concerts. From announcements just made by officials of the University School of Music, the event promises to eclipse in brilliancy all of its predecessors which have been given during the past twenty-eight years.

The following world-famous musicians, many from the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera companies, have been engaged: Frieda Hempel, Florence Easton, and Adelle Parkhurst, sopranos; Margaret Matzenauer and Kathryn Meliss, contraltos; Lucien Moratore and Riccardo Martin, tenors; Reginald Werrenrath and Carl Schlagel, baritones; Roylin

Pease, bass; Erno Dohnanyi, pianist. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under Frederick Stock, will participate during the entire festival while the University Choral Union will be heard in several of the programs, contributing Wolf-Farrar's "La Nuova Vita," words by Dante, this work being given in commemoration of Dante's six-hundredth anniversary. The chorus will also render Wagner's "Tannhauser" in English, and a work by Frederick Stock, entitled "Psalmodic Rhapsody." The children's chorus of 500 voices will provide one program, the leading work being "Song of Spring" by Carl Basch. This concert will be conducted by George Oscar Bowen, supervisor of music in the Ann Arbor public schools. The miscellaneous concerts will be conducted by Frederick Stock who will also join with Earl V. Moore, a long conductor of the Choral Union, in the conduct of the choral works.

Courses tickets for the festival may be ordered by mail at $4.50, $5.50, $6.50 and $7.00 each. All orders will be filled in the order of receipt and selections made in the same order. Tickets will be mailed out about the first of April. Communications should be sent to Charles A. Stark, secretary.

LIGHTING BIG ITEM IN NORTHVILLE CURE.

In the almost distressing treatment that has been prescribed for patients at the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, at Northville, fresh air, rest, good food, recreation, occupational therapy and light will be the contributing factors toward good health, according to W. F. Walker, deputy commissioner of health. It has been the only consideration, Northville would be a second Grotto of Lourdes, for the rooms of the sanatorium are bathed in 20 times as much light as the average city dweller receives in his own home, Dr. Vaughan said.

Particularly enough the abundance of light is not due to window area, said Mr. Walker. It is because of the extreme elevation of the hospital site and the fact that the horizon is below the level of the eye. This sky angle is fully 15 times that of the city, where light enters a room over other buildings in the vicinity.

The intensity of light in the ordinary city dwelling is from one-half to one foot candle, which Mr. Walker explained, means the intensity of light as reflected on a standard surface one foot from a lighted candle.

In the center of the bedrooms in the infirmary building of the sanatorium group, the light is 60-foot candles. That of the dining room measures 69 foot candles. These measurements were not taken in the sunshine.

In the construction of the buildings nearly $30,000 was saved in the expense for window panes in the institution. Instead of purchasing these, old X-ray plates were donated by the Herman Kiefer, Harper and University of Michigan hospitals. These were cleaned and converted into window panes of double strength glass which are without flaws. The frames were designed to accommodate the plates.—Detroit News.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CONFERENCE.

Preparations are completed for the Older Boys and Girls' conference. It is expected that 1,000 boys and girls, 15 to 20 from the Sunday schools of Detroit and Wayne County will register for the second annual Sunday school conference which opens in Woodward Avenue Baptist church, March 17th.

The conference, which is under the direction of the Young People's committee of the Wayne County Sunday School association, and the city council of Older Boys and Girls, operating in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., is designed definitely to develop the spirit of co-operation in Christian service among its delegates. Miss Marian Moss, a national Y. W. C. A. secretary, will address the gathering as a representative of the girls, and the Rev. W. L. C. Timmons, associate pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, Minneapolis, Minn., will speak for the boys.—Detroit Journal.

Containing 15 Proposals for Relief of Unemployed.

Washington—Conversion of navy yards into industrial plants for the purpose of obtaining contracts from other government departments could be accomplished only at the expense of privately owned factories, and therefore, would not be of value to the unemployed, Secretary Denby declared Sunday night in a letter, answering suggestions laid before him recently by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, as head of a delegation representing "furloughed" navy-yard naval employees.

Several thousands of the employees were given leave without pay as consequence of the naval agreements reached at the Washington arms conference.

"It is difficult to see," Secretary Denby said, "how the national unemployment situation will be in any way alleviated, even if it is found feasible to compete in the open market with industrial plants on the outside. As to this I have very serious doubt, for I know of no industrial plant in private life, where such liberality is shown employees, thereby increasing the overheads in the navy yards of the United States."

Moreover, the secretary continued, he doubted very much the wisdom of artificially keeping up "navy yards, thereby, perhaps causing the destruction of the latter. When the navy yards are not required to maintain the fleet, he said, they should be abandoned or leased to private concerns, who may find employment for them."

The program headed by Mr. Gompers, submitted to the navy department, is designed to relieve the situation of the men thrown out of work from the navy yards. Denby took up the suggestion in order, explaining that the department did not have the appropriate authority to undertake them, or to take authority.

THE
DAIRY*MAKING MILK IN NEBRASKAFigures Obtained Probably Approximate Requirements in Other Sections of West.(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Here is what it costs, in labor and feed, to produce 100 pounds of market milk in eastern Nebraska. Winter six months—concentrates, 11.2 pounds; dry roughage, 93.3 pounds; silage and other succulent roughage, 88.6 pounds; bedding, 11.1 pounds; human labor, 2 hours; horse labor, 0.06 hour; hauling and grinding concentrates, $0.016; pasture, $0.108; total costs, except depreciation on cows, $0.788; depreciation on cows, $0.013. Summer six months—concentrates, 11 pounds; hauling and grinding concentrates, $0.004; dry roughage, 51.2 pounds; silage and other succulent roughage, 29.3 pounds; pasture, $0.053; human labor, 1.9 hours; horse labor, 0.08 hours; total costs except depreciation on cows, $0.503; depreciation on cows, $0.034.

The work of determining the cost of producing milk in the section covers two one-year periods. It was begun by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the department of dairy husbandry of the University of Nebraska, in September, 1917, discontinued at the end of the first year, and resumed in September, 1919. The figures reported were based on actual records obtained by regular monthly visits of 24 hours each to eight farms for two years, and to 22 other farms for one year.

The requirements for keeping the average cow one year were: Concentrates, 1,320 pounds; hauling and grinding concentrates, $0.001; dry roughage, 4,275 pounds; silage and other succulent roughage, 3,593 pounds; pasture, $22.01; bedding, 310 pounds; human labor, 113.6 hours; horse labor, 3.2 hours; other costs except depreciation on cows, $10.55; depreciation on cows, $4.73.

During the first winter and summer the average incomes from milk were not sufficient to meet the average costs. In the second year the incomes were above the average costs in both seasons. The greater percentage of the year's income was received in the winter, but the feed, pasture and bedding costs exceeded the summer costs.

Feed for Dairy Cows Should Be Carefully Weighed.

by a greater percentage than the winter receipts exceeded the summer receipts.

Although the figures obtained show what was required to produce milk for the Omaha market under the system of dairy management found in the section studied, and, probably, approximate the requirements in similar localities, it is pointed out by the department that they, of course, do not apply to dairying in sections where different conditions and methods of management prevail.

Additional details of the record and work are contained in department Bulletin 972, "Unit Requirements for Producing Market Milk in Eastern Nebraska," recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. Copies of the bulletin may be had by addressing a request to the department at Washington, D. C.

MOLD REPORTED IN SILAGETrouble Occurs Only Where Air Is Present, Generally Caused by Lack of Water.

The usual number of complaints are coming in regarding the presence of mold in silage. Mold can grow only when air is present. Air generally gets in as the result of the silage being too dry when put into the silos. If water was added, not enough was used. Poor packing may cause the same trouble. Mold around the doors and against the wall is the result of poor construction of the silo which allows air to enter. Nothing can be done now to remedy the condition. At the next filling time special care should be taken to see that the corn contains enough moisture and that it is well tramped. It is always safest to reject moldy silage, especially for horses and sheep, although for cattle there seems to be little danger. C. H. Eckles, chief of the division of dairy husbandry, University Farm.

DETROIT THEATRES

A musical festival with a score which runs the gamut from the popular tune to the operatic classic and then bubbles over with a few humorous and semi-classical numbers just for good measure, is "Honeydew," which comes to the Garrick theatre the week beginning Sunday night, March 5th, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

"Honeydew" has everything, it is to be expected, the advance notices. Among the components which make up the offering are hearted grand opera, comic opera, musical comedy, ballet, pantomime, farce and tragedy, with a long array of novelties to keep the dancers busy, such as Vienna waltzes, whirling Czech polka, clicking Spanish dances and some custom-made American twirls.

An augmented orchestra with the Casino theatre, New York, cast and chorus, is promised. Those having leading roles are Ethelred Terry, John O'Sullivan, George Bancroft, John Park, Yra Jeanne, Madeline Grey, Marie Hall, Vincent Sullivan, Florenz Frank and Antonio Cansino, and William H. Dorbin. Joe Webb is the producer.

He has brought together a chorus of singers who, strange to relate, are also skilled in dancing and acting. The ladies of the ensemble are accused of being young and beautiful.

Walter Sullivan, the young Irish tenor and actor, who is now snugly ensconced in the "Muller" handed down by his namesake, "Billie Scanton" to Chauncey O'Connell and Andrew Mack and whose popularity is firmly established with the lovers of Irish song, plays "is announced as the attraction at" the Shubert-Michigan theatre beginning Sunday night, on his second annual tour, under the management of George M. Gaitis, in a new comedy, entitled "Irish Eyes," written by the well-known American dramatist, Edward E. Rice. From advance reports "Irish Eyes" is a charming romance with a dual love story running through three acts and six scenes and is said to give the young regular singer still an opportunity for real acting such as he never had in any production, heretofore.

His impersonation of the dual role of a young Galway fisherman in Ireland and millionaire mine-owner in America is said to be remarkably artistic. The authoring drawn very interesting characterizations of the simple, good-natured, yet sturdy fisher folk of Ireland and likewise those who, live in wealth and luxury on fashionable Riverside Drive, New York.

Not the Only One.

There Are Other Northville People Similarly Situated.

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Northville residents? After you have read the following question answer the question.

J. D. Miller, farmer R. F. D. No. 15, Northville, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and got down so I had to lay off work for six weeks. The doctor told me I had to have acid in my system and gave me medicine and also put me on a diet. For a time it helped me, but I wasn't satisfied; as the medicine seemed to lose its effect and I seemed to be getting worse under the doctor's treatment. 'Backache' nearly set me wild and the kidney secretions contained sediment and didn't pass freely enough. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, so I went to the Northville Drug Co. and got two boxes. Doan's seemed to be just what I needed. My four boxes cured me entirely. My kidneys have been acting fine ever since, so I gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price, 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Miller had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Business Proposition

Did you ever stop to think, Mr. Business Man, that the news of your business is as much a part of the local events as a wedding or a church fair? The ladies are just as much interested in a new fabric you have on the shelves as they are in any home happening. Your store news and announcements in these columns will reach a large circle of eager buyers. This will enable you to sell your goods while they are new and fresh and you will not have to sacrifice later at remnant counter prices. Think it over.

The following world-famous musicians, many from the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera companies, have been engaged: Frieda Hempel, Florence Easton, and Adella Parkhurst, sopranos; Margaret Matzenauer and Kathryn Meissel, contraltos; Lucien Muratore and Riccardo Martin, tenors; Reginald Verreghat and Carl Schlager, baritones; Rollin

The annual meeting of the Wayne county Farm Bureau will be held at the Grange hall, Romulus, on Saturday, the 11th of March, business session starting at 10:30 o'clock in the morning sharp. The morning session of the delegates, which is open to all members as well as the public, will be devoted to hearing reports of the past year, financial and otherwise, also the election of a new executive board and making plans for the future.

A few feature during the morning will be a meeting of the women farm bureau folks; wives and daughters of the member families; at the church in Romulus, to form a county-wide organization to look after the planning of their activities. Mrs. Campbell, state leader of home demonstration agents, and Mrs. Wager, the woman champion of the state Farm Bureau board of directors, will be in attendance. The invitation to the meeting of women is general and a large attendance is desired.

The afternoon program of the Farm Bureau meeting will include an address by C. E. Brady, secretary of the State Farm Bureau, also a talk by Miss Mary Greenough, dean of the home economics department of the Michigan Agricultural college.

The women folks of the Romulus Grange will serve dinner at noon. We had nearly four hundred at the annual meeting one year ago, explains Secretary Carmichael in urging a large attendance. "We want to break that record this year and every member of the organization is invited to attend. The meeting in the morning for the women folk is something along new lines, is part of our program to broaden the scope of the organization and its activities, which we hope will be well received in all Farm Bureau circles."

GAVE AN INTERESTING ADDRESS

An exceptionally interesting and instructive address was given by Rev. A. I. Good, Presbyterian missionary of Lofofo, Cameroon, West Africa, in the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening. The auditorium was crowded with eager listeners who gave enthusiastic attention while Mr. Good spoke for an hour and twenty minutes, using nearly one hundred stereoscopic pictures to illustrate his lecture.

Mr. Good is a zealous missionary of the gospel of Christ, but he takes a keen interest in the land itself, and its animal and vegetable life as well as in the people.

Many interesting pictures of animals and reptiles, native strategy, and scenery, together with beautiful views of the land with its tropical foliage, wooden buildings and sparkling waterfalls, formed a background against which the story of the people and the bringing of the gospel to them shone out with wonder and beauty.

The ladies, sitting back from the screen showed a brightness and intelligence that was surprising to many; for the gospel is finding its way into their hearts and revolutionizing their lives. Up to a few years ago, the largest Presbyterian church in the world was at Elat, West Africa; the membership being over 6,000. It was found advisable however to divide this group and several smaller churches were formed. The membership of the eight is now 10,570.

FARM BUREAU NOTES MUST BE PAID

Judgement has been down by Justice A. Fredericks in the case of the Oakland County Farm Bureau versus B. G. and C. G. Mills, of White Lake Township, definitely disposes of any claim by dissatisfied members of the county bureau that payment of post-dated checks given two years ago at the time the farm bureau was organized, can be avoided.

The bureau brought suit against the Mills, father and son, to collect on a post-dated check given for 1921 membership. Payment of the check was withheld by the Mills on the ground that they had not received value, and that the bureau had never done anything for them.

The case was heard a few weeks ago in municipal court here, and on it hinged some 35 other similar post-dated checks given for membership. —Pontiac Press

MANY NOTED STARS HAVE BEEN ENGAGED

The next Ann Arbor May Festival will take place during the four days beginning May 17, and as usual will consist of four evening and two afternoon concerts. From arrangements just made by officials of the University School of Music the event promises to eclipse in brilliancy all of its predecessors which have been given during the past twenty-eight years.

The following world-famous musicians, many from the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera companies, have been engaged: Frieda Hempel, Florence Easton, and Adella Parkhurst, sopranos; Margaret Matzenauer and Kathryn Meissel, contraltos; Lucien Muratore and Riccardo Martin, tenors; Reginald Verreghat and Carl Schlager, baritones; Rollin

Pease, bass; Erno Dolmanti, pianist. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under Frederick Stock, will participate during the entire festival, while the University Choral Union will be heard in several of the programs, contributing "Wolf-Farrar's 'La Nuova Vita' words by Dante this work being given in commemoration of Dante's sixth-hundredth anniversary. The chorus will also render Wagner's 'Tannhauser' in English and a work by Frederick Stock, entitled 'Ereimodie Rhapsody'." The children's chorus of 500 voices will provide one program, the leading work being 'Song of Spring' by Carl Busch. This concert will be conducted by George Oscar Bowen, superior of music in the Ann Arbor public schools. The miscellaneous concerts will be conducted by Frederick Stock, who will also join with Earl V. Moore, acting-conductor of the Choral Union, in the conduct of the choral works.

Course tickets for the festival may be ordered by mail at $4.50, $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00 each. All orders will be filled in the order of receipt and selections made in the same order. Tickets will be mailed out about the first of April. Communications should be sent to Charles A. Sisk, secretary.

LIGHTING BIG ITEM IN NORTHVILLE CURE

"In the almost drugless treatment that has been prescribed for patients at the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, at Northville, fresh air, rest, good food, recreation, occupational therapy and light will be the contributing factors toward good health," according to W. F. Walker, deputy commissioner of health. At light were the only consideration, Northville would be a second Grotto of Lourdes, for the rooms of the sanatorium are bathed in 30 times as much light as the average city dweller receives in his own home. Dr. Vaughan said:

"Precisely enough the abundance of light is not due to window area," said Mr. Walker. "It is because of the extreme elevation of the hospital site and the fact that the horizon is below the level of the eye. This sky angle is fully 15 times that of the city, where light enters a room over other buildings in the vicinity."

The intensity of light in the ordinary city dwelling is from one-half to one foot candle, which Mr. Walker explained, means the intensity of light as reflected on a standard surface some foot from a lighted candle.

In the center of the bedrooms in the infirmary building of the sanatorium group, the light is 60-foot candles. That of the dining room measures 600 foot candles. These plans are not taken in the annex.

In the construction of the buildings nearly $20,000 was added in the expense for window panes in the institution. Instead of purchasing new, old X-ray plates were donated by the Herman Kiefer, Harper and University of Michigan hospital. These were cleaned and converted into window panes of double strength glass which are without flaws. The frames were designed to accommodate the plates. —Detroit News

Power of the Eye—Dr. Charles Russ, an English physician, claims to have discovered a delicate instrument that is to be forced propelled on the eye in the case of vision. That is what he calls "Greek waxes" suggested this 250 years ago. We have known how the power of the eye is increased and the brain's belief of the eye.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CONFERENCE

Preparations are complete for the Older Boys and Girls conference, which is expected that 1,500 boys and girls, 15 to 20 from the Sunday school of Detroit and Wayne county will register for the second annual Sunday school conference which opens in Woodward Avenue Baptist church, March 17th.

The conference, which is under the direction of the young people's committee of the Wayne County Sunday School association and the city council of Older Boys and Girls, operating in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., is designed definitely to develop the spirit of co-operation in Christian service among its delegates. Miss Miriam Moss, a national Y. W. C. A. secretary, will address this gathering as a representative of the girls, and the Rev. W. C. Timmons, associate pastor of Princeton Congregational church, Minneapolis, Minn., will speak for the boys. —Detroit Journal
