ANOTHER VETERAN IS CALLED HOME

A RACE MATINEE AND BALL GAME

WILL BE THE FEATURES AT NORTHVILLE ON JULY 4TH.

"Taps" were sounded for another of Northville's honored veterans of the Civil war last Sunday afternoon when Eugene King Starkweather answered the last roll call and passed from life's activities to the realms of eternal peace. The end came peacefully after a number of weeks of patient suffering and waiting for the final summons, because from the first of his recent illness, his condition became critical and he fully realized he was approaching the sunset of his busy life. Everything that medical skill and loving ministrations could do was done in his behalf to stay the ravages of the malady with which he was afflicted, but all to no avail, except to soothe his pathway unto death. By his passing a good citizen, a brave soldier, a kind and devoted father and brother has joined the waiting hosts in the eternal city.

Mr. Starkweather was born in this community September 2nd, 1842, and with the exception of the years spent in the service of his country his whole life was spent here. On January 23rd, 1867, he was united in marriage to Martha C. Brooks, whose death occurred May 10, 1912. To this union were born four children, two daughters, Nona and May, who died at the ages of 20 and nine years respectively, and the two surviving sons, Edwin W. Starkweather and George K. Starkweather, the former in 1911 his father in the conduct of the five hundred acre stock farm left to him by his wife. He decided to make his home in the village and has resided there ever since, watching the operation of the new "freezer" for many years, and now, having sold his farm, is engaged in the hotel business in the west for the past twenty years, his most prominent venture being the purchase and management of the El Dorado one of the leading hotels in Denver, Colorado.

King Starkweather, the name by which he was most commonly known by his fellowmen, was for many years a prominent stock and wool buyer in this city and continued his activities long into this so far as his declining years would permit until the beginning of his final sickness in February last.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, Mr. Starkweather enlisted in the service of his country, serving in Company D, First Michigan Cavalry, and in his nineteenth year was appointed to the very responsible position of wagon master of his brigade, having charge of several supply trains consisting of a number of six-mule teams, a distinction for one of his years. He served during the war, securing his honorable discharge at Washington, D. C. He was ever active in G. A. R. circles and, in 1910, was honored by his comrades in Michigan by being elected to the office of Adjutant General for the state of Michigan.

Besides the two sons, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. L. L. Brooks of this village and Mrs. Bettie Shatto of Chicago.

His has been a long and active career and the absence of his presence in this locality where he has been so long favorably known will be keenly regretted by all who knew him. He will be especially missed by his comrades of the G. A. R. and his death leaves another vacancy in the rapidly thinning ranks of Alan M. Harmon Post.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Main street on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, being conducted by Rev. E. V. Belles. Interment took place at the family lot in Oakwood Cemetery.

In every county of the state, competitive examinations will be held and the boys who show the greatest proficiency in agricultural studies will be given a trip to the fair at Detroit at the expense of the Fair association.

At the fair, there will be given instruction by the state's foremost agricultural experts on the best and most modern methods of agriculture. The Michigan State Fair has conducted this school for years as a contribution toward agricultural education. Expenses of the boys from the most distant counties of the state have been large but have been cheerfully met.

The rules for which the free trip may be won are in part as follows:

Boys must be between the ages of 14 and 18 as of effective date, Sept. 1st, 1922.

They must write both in the regular sixth and 10th examinations, and the specimen of each examination.

THE REALLY POOR MAN

A man once:

If he is without friends,

If he has low-flying ideals,

If he has a guilty conscience,

If he has lost his self-respect,

If his wife is a questionable character,

If he lacks education and refinement,

If he is selfish,慷慨的，冷酷的，

If he has lost his grip upon himself,

If he has forfeited his health for wealth,

If his mind and soul have been neglected,

If he has traded away his character for his money,

If his wife and family do not love and respect him,

If he has a disagreeable disposition that makes enemies or repels people,

If making money has crowded out the cultivation of his esthetic faculties—New Success Magazine

WORDS OF WISE MEN

The real object of education is to give children resources that will endure as long as life endures.

The only happiness a brave man ever troubles himself with asking about is happiness enough to get his work done.

Illness never won distinction in the world, and never will. The world does not owe us a living, but every man owes the world work. God made man for employment, and we cannot dodge the issue.

The Northville Record.

E E BROWN, Publisher.

An independent newspaper published every Friday morning at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville postoffice as Second-class matter.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., MAY 12, 1922.

NORTHVILLE GUN CLUB STAGES SUCCESSFUL TOURNAMENT.

A two hundred, small time, Gun club, located in the village of Northville, staged a big time, shooting tournament, and put it across without a delay to mark the rhythmic order of events. How 13,000 targets were trapped with two traps, two pullers and two trap boys between 8:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m., is an unsolved mystery. The advance guard of a small army of sportsmen arrived Saturday night. The following morning the main body arrived singly in pairs and in family groups. They came from Michigan, Ohio and Illinois. The office was swamped with ninety entries but with the assistance of members of other clubs the square sheets were on the boards, and the first shot was fired in the first 1922 Michigan Registered Tournament by Tom Houghton of Flint at 9:30 a. m.

A native boy and a shooting son-of-a-gun, Harry Bopp, a noted target master of Lansing, proved, and repeated the proof that he has not recovered from his attack of winning. In fact, he, becoming a chronic winner—95 of the first 100 that were sprung from the traps at his command were a total loss. His nearest competitor for high honor was the Michigan League's secretary, C. A. Galebreath who made a deour on one in the first and one in the second, finishing alone in second place with 99x100.

Fred Brint of Toledo, D. F. Fessler of Chicago and Henry Bautznecht of Toledo, added to the tenseness of the situation by scoring 97x96. Bautznecht dropped one in each of the first three events. Brint went straight in the first three and dropped two in the fourth, and one in the fifth. Fessler let two escape in the second and one in the fifth. H. W. Benson of Lansing was the only tenant in the 96 hole. John A. Parks of Detroit and L. G. Wilcox of Lansing shot themselves into positions each going 95x100.

A thirty-mile wind tour across the grounds all day however, the girls were ready for how it did cover the space between the trap houses on the 60 yard boundary. May 21, they did not see the 96th hole station and were still on the 95th. Considering conditions, they sprang who broke into the hole to be eliminated.

The press are ready to testify that these four winners, looking, shooting, pre-digested competitors, Earl Felt, Fred Brint, not only rendered much needed assistance in the office but with an exhibition of shooting while they did not equal their usual performance was sufficiently good to win high profits on average.

Without doubt Al Taylor the popular automobile salesman of Lansing right date we might inquire are there any more auto shooters in Lansing? or, the latest summary of the seller of mariners of Michigan trapping in the handicap race for the purse and Hirsch Brothers trophy. Taylor stopped all arguments regarding a "shot off" by snapping the entire 50. Benson, Bryant, Henschel and George McCullaghane the handicap close and exciting. These three gunners were just one target behind Taylor—each scoring 99x100. The management wishes to publicly thank the shooters who volunteered their assistance with the work of conducting this tournament and making it a success.

H. A. Wessner won the double target event, scoring 42x50. Volk, Bopp and Wilcox were second in the double event 38x50. In the first division of the handicap 50, 49's and 48's won the entire purse.

BEDFORD WAS BAWLOPED.

Coach Winn lost his hand in a slugging of Redford East Friday and defeated it. Redford nows 14 to 1 in a seven-game contest. Several slugs were made in the Northville game up to Friday playing third. Devil catching of German on short and F. Frey was back at first base. After the Northville wrecking crew had pounded Devilling the Redford pitcher for seven innings Coach Winn and the Redford coach decided that he had been punished enough and so called the game.

The Northville team showed real form in fielding, only one error being counted against the team.

German committed this on short on a grounder. The Redford team seemed lost and "booted" in many Northville runs. While Devilling was being battered around the lot, H. German pitched fine ball for our team. Next Tuesday the hardest engagement of the season will take place on our home grounds when they meet Farmington, Northville and Farmington are tie for first place in the league and Northville wants to make them be satisfied with second place and Farmington claims she is going to remain in first place.

Coach Babcock is saving his pitching ace, Staman, for this occasion and "Dutch" German will be on mound duty for Northville. If you want to see a real ball game be on hand at 3:30.

In Woodworth's basement you will find a big assortment of tinware and enameled ware for 10c. The assortment includes many articles you cannot find anywhere else at anywhere near the price.

SAYS DETECTIVES KIDNAPPED HIM

BRITISH WAR HERO DECLARES TEXAS SENATOR PUT MEN ON HIS TRAIL.

EMBASSY WILL SIT CHARGES Love Affair Between Senator's Daughter and Youth Given as Cause for Attempted Deportation.

Bloomfield, N. J.—Alec Robertson, the young English war hero who says Burns detectives "kidnapped" him because the daughter of United States Senator Culver, of Texas, returned his love, prepared to go to Washington and tell his story to officials of the British embassy.

Robertson has pledged himself not to involve 21-year-old Mary Culverson in any litigation which may be attended by publicity, but he says he feels it his duty as a British subject to do as the embassy staff wishes.

He has received a letter asking him to present himself in Washington immediately.

The letter from the British embassy also asks an explanation of why he did not respond to communications addressed to him by mail and wire during the time he says he spent in Boston with three Burns detectives.

Waterbury was pacing the floor of his cage when Stevens relieved him at twelve o'clock that Saturday morning. "I thought you were never coming," he growled. He nodded curtly, and, without another word, opened the door of the cage, passed out and let it slide to behind him. Stevens watched him with a rather grim smile as he disappeared.

The bank was closed to the public. Stevens remained alone in the teller's cage. One by one the clerks and assistants went out. Presently nobody was left in the bank except the watchman, Wrigley, the teller, and himself. Then Stevens hastily transferred five packages of ten hundred-dollar bills apiece to his coat pocket, finished his work and took the money to the safe. Stevens found himself in the street.

He hopped aboard a car and descended half a mile away, at the furnished room house in which his new home was to be.

That evening for the first time in months he had dinner at a restaurant. He smoked a cigar, strolled about town and finally went home and to bed. Not until next morning did he open the pile of bills.

By now except the top bill in each package was a Confederate greenback. Instead of the five thousand dollars which he had imagined was in his possession he now just five hundred, barely enough to pay his doctor's expenses.

Stevens was paralyzed with dismay. There was only one course now—to go back and smuggle the money into the drawer again, this time not under the watchful watching of Wrigley, but under the eagle glance of Waterbury.

A wave of disgust and utter self-contempt passed over Stevens.

Stevens spent a miserable night.

He awoke, disgusted, self-loathing, and a vast pity for his helplessness to make Mary a life happy struggled within him. When at last he reached the bank it was to find the officers gathered together in groups, eagerly discussing something.

"You've heard the news, Stevens?" inquired Wrigley.

"No," answered Stevens.

"Waterbury's dead."

The room seemed to swim round Stevens.

"Yes, he was killed in the wreck on the Southern & Eastern this morning. He was then four hundred miles from New York, and his clothes were stuffed with bills aggregating twelve thousand dollars. We've searched the safe and find he had filled it with Confederate bills, with a single good one on top of each package. They're counting up the loss now."

Stevens staggered into his cage.

"Mr. Harrison wants to see you," announced a boy presently.

Stevens went into the president's office as if he were drunk.

"Ah, Mr. Stevens, this is a very unfortunate occurrence," said the president.

"You have heard of it, of course."

"Well, Mr. Stevens, we are going to ask you to act in Mr. Waterbury's place for the present, and later possibly we shall make the position permanent. The salary, you may know, is two thousand five hundred dollars. Good-morning."

Stevens' first act was to slip the packages away where their presence might be discovered later. His second was to pray with all his heart to be made worthy of his fortune.

IT PAYS

TO SAVE YOUR MONEY IN THE LOAN.

Eleven years ago next July Miss Flanagan and I shook hands and agreed to each give three dollars a week. Mike favored a bath as he wouldn't have to go to walk and I took full of helping other fellow when he was not hurt you can well see what went to the bank.

We made the payments but a short time ago when I was notified that my stock had matured. I went over and was told the stock was worth $244.00. Had paid in $1.65, so the interest or profit was $73.00. Naturally I felt it was good and not needing all, took out $48.00 and left the rest in 5% interest payable semi-annually. Prepaid Building Stocks. About this time there were two days of nice warm weather. I packed my coat and got a car as one of the kind you see everywhere with a $200.00 tax on packing home one night Mike said me, "They," he shouted. I stopped and I had my right hand balanced the other day and asked what do you suppose the amount is? He opened it and showed me $2,040.00, waving the book "Pretty good boy" I'm some little guy to find a place for having money."

Wise Mike, I beat you by $47.00.

What? he yells "are you crazy or have you just come from a fire?"

"Neither," says I, showing him my Stock Certificate. See that paper worth $22,000.00. In addition, see this car, look at the License Plates. See this Driver's License and Certificate of Title—all paid for and money to prove running around the corner with the "out" open or parking in Main street, within 100 feet east of Center—all this and still as much left as you have."

"Well," says Mike, "seeing you have so much money why don't you buy a higher-speed car?"

"Why, as I made the money in the loan, naturally I wanted one that would remind me of and be somewhat similar to it."

"How similar?" "Well, for one thing there are both small and chuck full of the 'get-there' stuff."

"Now, all the time we were talking I could see that Mike was eyeing my Stock Certificate and thinking pretty seriously."

Finally he says, "I'm going to help those fellow furnish homes like that beautiful one in the picture there." "How much does a Certificate cost, when can I get one?" "How many homes is the loan going finance this year?"

"You can get a Certificate any Saturday night for $10 or up to the number of homes that depends on how the money comes in, but with good luck they hope to make it."

WHY NOT BUY A FORD AND BANK THE DIFFERENCE

WE ARE DEALERS IN

LINCOLNS--FORDSONS--FORDS

The Fordson Tractor is taking much of the drudgery out of farm life; it is solving the labor problem; it is reducing the cost of preparing land by almost one-half of what it was with horses; and it is saving one-third to one-half of the farmer's time; and making farm life more attractive.

The Fordson will run your threshing machine—and at the most opportune time for you. It will operate the milking machines; saw your wood, fill your silo, pump the water, and take care of every kind of belt work.

There's a big story to tell you about the Fordson—and a true one—come in and get the facts. Or, if you prefer, telephone or drop us a card and we will bring them to you.

And buy your Rugs and Floor Coverings after you have had an opportunity to make a personal inspection of their quality. Rugs are sold under a great many different grades, all having the same name, so it is very easy to be deceived in making your selection from a catalogue or a newspaper picture!

The big department stores and mail order houses buy the cheaper grades of Rugs for their trade, but we could not offer such Rugs to our customers and we never have done so. We aim to select Rugs of good quality, attractive patterns, and sell them at prices that are fair and just.

We have a good assortment of Room-Sized Rugs in a variety of patterns and at varying prices. Come in and look them over.

VILLAGE EXPENSES FOR 1922-23

Estimating the expenses of running the affairs of Northville has been one of the indoor sports enjoyed by the council for the past few weeks.

All expenses that could be trimmed without detriment to the life and health and well being of the people have been cut down.

The addition of interest on sewer bonds and the sinking fund requirement makes it necessary to ask for more money than a year ago.

The seven mill will be of such great value to the community no one will complain that it costs too much.

The amount to be raised this year is $3,000, and the principal items are

Sinking Fund $7,200

Bond Interest $7,800

Highway 3,000

Street Lighting 4,600

Local Loan 2,000

General Expenses 7,400

The bonded indebtedness has been reduced by the payment of $17,000 of the Water bonds April 1st. These were cared for by the sinking fund provisions, and the foresight of former village officials in the sale of the old lighting plant.

Altogether, the affairs of the village are in prime condition and all will get value received.

O. E. S. OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The newly elected and appointed officers of Orient Chapter, O. E. S. were installed last Friday night in the presence of a large company of members of the order and invited guests Mrs. B. Fryell and Miss Ruth Gills nominated as installing officers with Mrs. Fred P. Simmons as marshal.

The list of elective officers was published two weeks ago and the following are the appointive officers installed:

Chaplain—Mrs. Edwina W. Fuller

Marshal—Mrs. Georgia Timham

Trustee—Mrs. Florence Ross

Adviser—Mrs. Edith M. Els

Treasurer—Mrs. Anna Benpultz

1st Vice Marshal—Mrs. Mary E. Baker

2nd Vice Marshal—Mrs. Anna Baum

Secretary—Mrs. Mary Alexander

Wardens—Mrs. Minnie Lake

Sisterhood—Mrs. Grace Gandy

The new worthy matron, Mrs. W. L. Fullerton was presented with a gold chain jewel by the chapter and then the newly presented officers again did their duty. Mrs. Leo Lawrence, who was installed in the office, was presented with a bouquet of roses. A very enjoyable program was given and after the ceremony of installation had been concluded refreshments were served.

PLANTING TREES ALONG COUNTY HIGHWAYS

As a further step in its campaign to remedy the treeless condition of Wayne County's highways, the Wayne County Road Commission on Arbor Day planted on the Seven-Mile road 2,200 trees of different varieties, including 800 American elms, 950 Norway maples, 125 Oriental pines, 125 red oaks, 100 pin oaks, 50 paper birches and 50 mountain ash trees.

Until the general session of the legislature last year, when a law was passed making it possible to plant trees along public highways, nothing had been done with the exception of two miles of roadway west of Mack road on the Seven-Mile road, along which trees have been planted by the Women's Garden club of Michigan.

The Seven-Mile road is now properly planted from Lake St. Clair to two miles west of the Grand River road.

The commission has placed the trees of its latest planting far enough apart to permit individual development with each tree a typical example of its species, at the same time making a continuous line of shade.

The work will be carried on in the near future along the Seven-Mile road to the Washtenaw County line. A survey of the entire county is being made to provide a definite systematic continuing plan of tree planting.
