WE'VE HAD FIVE ENJOYABLE DAYS

From an entertainment and intellectual standpoint Northville's Chautauqua this week has been a most gratifying success, but from a financial standpoint it has been a failure. The members of the committee who guaranteed about $6.00 a piece to the guarantee fund in order to meet all obligations. The Chautauqua throughout has been of a high order, and while some numbers pleased better than others, there has not been a poor program thus far and we are sure today's program will be fully equal to all that have been given.

Patrons of the course have enjoyed the week, but there were not enough tickets purchased. Instead of having 450 of 500 there were less than 350 season tickets this year and as the course costs the local committee $900 besides local expenses it will be clearly seen that the deficit will run close to $350.

The attraction for the opening day was the Allpress All-Star Concert Co and they delighted all. In the evening A C Everingham gave a most interesting address on the subject

"The Balance Wheel of Democracy" and he declared that cooperation—mutual understanding among men—was the one and only solution of our present day problems. The Ladies Rainbow Savophone Band presented the program for Tuesday and they pleased every one.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. W. H. Wolfe and her company of artists gave the program and to include in the evening. Frank D. Hoo gave the address of the day in theme being "Loved George and Amelia". On Thursday the LeClare Concert party gave the musical part of the program and Dr. Alexander J. Cairns gave the address. His subject being "The Goose That Lays the Golden Egg."

For the afternoon and evening there will be the usual concert and the children's program for the afternoon and in the evening the Dayton Light Opera Co will present "The Mikado."

The Junior Chautauqua was in charge of Miss Wolfe a young woman of very pleasing personality, and the children had a merry week. Wednesday morning they enjoyed a "hike" and a breakfast in the woods. During the week the children enjoyed games, folk dances and this afternoon they will present a pageant, "The Conquest of Mexico." Miss W. H. Wolfe assisted in supervising. The local committee is greatly indebted to Mrs. Wolfe and son for the loan of the piano used throughout the week. They very kindly brought the instrument to the grounds and will come and take it away and thus they have rendered a very great service to the community. Mrs. Wolfe has a large stock of pianos and Edison phonographs at her home on the Seven Mile road and any one contemplating buying an instrument will do well to confer with her.

For the coming year the local committee proposes to work along entirely different lines than have been adopted heretofore. It is proposed, if a sufficient number of signers can be secured and a sufficient number of tickets are pledged to buy the Chautauqua attractions outright for the five days and then to sell the season tickets at the popular price of $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children, for the purpose of bringing these entertainments and lectures within the reach of every citizen of this section. A number of Northville citizens have agreed to sign the contract if fifty signatures can be secured upon that basis, because they believe it is a good investment and a splendid thing for the community. This plan has been adopted at Urbana, Ohio, for a number of years and this year, more than 1,800 people were present to enjoy the program. If this plan can be carried through it will be a big advertisement for Northville. The plan is worth trying anyway.

NORTHVILLE WINS AGAIN.

In their game with the Eastern Oddfellows team of Detroit Sunday afternoon, the Foresters' team came out with colors flying. The visitors made one run in the third inning and one in the sixth, while Northville scored in the first and marked up five in the seventh, and three in the eighth, making the final score nine to two. The following is the score by innings:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

TO IMPROVE RURAL LIFE.

Professor M. S. Pittman, head of the department of rural education at Michigan State Normal college, said Saturday one of the largest and most important programs for the betterment of rural life in Michigan will be given the week beginning Monday, July 24.

The program follows: Monday, July 24, 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. "The Rural School." Tuesday, July 25, 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. "The Rural Home." Wednesday, July 26, 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. "The Rural Community." Thursday, July 27, 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. "The Rural Future."

Among the leading speakers are prominent ones from Michigan and other states. Among these are R. A. Turner, city club leader from Lansing; Mrs. Mary Campbell, director of rural education, Cedar Falls, Ia.; G. A. Orrett, assistant state superintendent of schools in Michigan; A. B. Cook, director of the state Grange; Harry A. Eaton, master of Ohio state Grange, of Fresno, Pa.; and James N. Galt, president of Michigan State Farm Bureau.

In addition to these there will be a number of invited speakers. The Normal college has extended an invitation to all friends of rural education to attend the session.

BOY KILLED WITH OLD RIFLE.

Another "didn't know it was loaded" accident caused the death of Ortonville Saturday afternoon of Francis C. Musser, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Musser of that village. Rev. Musser is pastor of the Ortonville Baptist church. A 22 caliber rifle in the hands of Lee McArthur, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. McArthur, was the cause of the tragedy. Two McArthur boys and young Musser were inseparable pals and were known in the village as newsboys.

The three had been playing Indian and "wild west" in a barn during the afternoon. They had several old revolvers and the rifle and had whittled guns and revolvers out of wood, which were used in many a blood-splurging attack on the "enemy." The McArthur and Musser boys were sitting close together and the former was toying with the trigger of the rifle which lay across his lap and which he did not know was loaded. There was a report and the Musser boy fell dead, a bullet through his heart.

The McArthur boys ran for help and notified the parents of the dead boy. Sheriff James S. Butler, and Coroner Q. C. Farmer were notified. Deputies Place of Ortonville and Pack of Pottawac, Prosecutor A. Floyd Blakelee and Coroner Farmer went to Ortonville but after a complete investigation decided death was accidental and will hold no inquest.

Both the McArthur boys are badly broken up over the tragedy which robs them of their chum. The parents of the Musser boy were nearly prostrated by grief. Rev. Musser has been a resident of the county for many years, having held pastorates at Walled Lake and Clarkston. He was also at one time pastor of a church at Highland Park—Pontiac Press. Rev. Musser and family were at one time residents of this village, where Mr. Musser was pastor of the Baptist church.

An innovation at the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, September 1 to 10, will be the horse shoe pitchers' championship tournament. Hundreds of entries already have been made, and valuable prizes will be given, according to announcement by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the fair.

FAIR COLISEUM WILL SEAT 8,000

CONSTRUCTION ON NEW STATE
EXPOSITION BUILDING
BEING SPEEDED.

WILL USE GIGANTIC ARENA
FOR CATTLE JUDGING, SHOW

Construction of the Coliseum, the greatest task ever undertaken by an administration of the Michigan State Fair is well under way and the building is practically assured of completion by this year's exposition. George W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the exposition announced recently.

The building of this gigantic playhouse, intended to seat comfortably at one show 8,000 persons, is being done under Mr. Dickinson's personal supervision at a cost aggregating nearly $300,000.

"Although we have been delayed in the structural steel work because of the delivery of steel," said Mr. Dickinson, "in discussing the new building, we are reasonably positive the Coliseum will be completed before fair time, September 1 to 10."

Necessary steel to complete the job is now on the fair grounds. All other materials required have been delivered and work on the roof and balconies will begin the moment the steel work is completed.

"The coliseum building will be 400 feet long and inside, a ring, 235 feet long and 100 feet wide, where blood and steel will be shown and judged," is being constructed. More than 8,000 people will be comfortably seated inside the structure while judging is going on.

"We have exercised great care in our lighting facilities. Large windows will allow the light to pour in during the day while judging is in progress. In the evening a great circle of spotlights will play from the roof down onto the ring where the thoroughbreds will parade.

"One corner and a portion of one side of the coliseum will be devoted to a large cafeteria, capable of serving hundreds of persons rapidly. Three large demonstration rooms will be included in another corner of the building, each room capable of seating hundreds of people. These also will house meetings of various associations.

"Of interest in connection with the building program of the State Fair, is the rebuilding of the cattle barns. The facilities for housing cattle have been doubled by the addition of a new, modern equipped shed, and now the State Fair can house under one roof 1,000 head of cattle. This work has been completed and the building is being cleaned thoroughly in preparation for a big livestock exhibition at the fair."

"Construction of sewers through the fair grounds, giving additional facilities to the grounds also was mentioned by Mr. Dickinson.

STATE FAIR TO SPONSOR
ALL BREED DOG SHOW

Following close the first annual specialty show of the Mid-West Shepherd Dog club at the Michigan State fair grounds, is the announcement by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the exposition, of an all-breed dog show at this year's fair, Detroit, September 1 to 10.

The all-breed show will be held under the auspices of the Michigan State Fair Dog Club of which Mr. Dickinson is an interested member. Elaborate preparations now are being made to house the canine society of Michigan.

Sees 73rd Annual Fair
as Greatest Exposition

GEORGE W. DICKINSON

On the threshold of its seventy-third year the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, September 1 to 10, which for the past 10 years has been directed by George W. Dickinson, promises to be the finest ever before the farmer, the home man, factory worker or executive, housewife or society matron has or girl.

It is now nearly three quarters of a century—73 years—since the early Michigan settlers held in Detroit the first state fair west of the Allegheny mountains.

As times change institutions must advance in step with them. Thus it is that the Michigan State Fair, now representing an urban as well as a rural population has added many features which appeal mainly to those who live in the cities. These this year include great industrial exhibits, and many lessons in the building of homes and the making of those homes more livable.

Hand in hand with these features has gone an increasing interest in agriculture. Michigan is rich in variety of its farming products as well as in their quality. So it is, that the Fair has made it a first principle that its departments shall cover a wide range of crops and livestock.

In this magnificent mirror of rural and industrial life of the state, you are cordially invited to look for 10 days and 10 nights this year.

Michigan State Fair Facts

Dates—September 1 to 10, inclusive
Place—Michigan State Fair Grounds northern outskirts of Detroit

Program to be widest in range ever attempted by state fair in the United States.

Radio, dog show, running and automobile races, historical pageant baby show, tourist camp, million dollar livestock parade, boys' state fair school, horseshoe pitchers' championship tournament, county exhibits, government exhibits, grain exhibits, now being planned.

Coliseum, greatest fair building of its kind anywhere, to be opened. Seats 8,000 people and houses 100-foot ring where judging may be seen by all.

All agricultural and industrial activities of state to be mirrored. Probable attendance—500,000 people.

GREATEST FAIR SEEN FOR STATE

WIDER RANGE OF EXHIBITS
ANTICIPATED FOR 73RD
ANNUAL EXPOSITION

500,000 PERSONS EXPECTED
TO VIEW SHOW THIS YEAR

Presenting a picture of Michigan's agricultural and industrial greatness, the Seventy-third Annual Michigan State Fair, which opens in Detroit, September 1 and runs 10 days, will break all records for attendance, is the prediction of George W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, who has been the directing head for the past 10 years.

Score of requests to the State Fair offices from prospective exhibitors concerning the approaching exposition are indicative this year's exhibitions will be wider in range and of greater educational value, believes Mr. Dickinson.

Enthusiastic "beyond" expression about the outlook, Mr. Dickinson says. Fairs of today are fast becoming matters of great importance to all. No longer are they considered of local or state importance, but they are rapidly being recognized as national shows.

"The Michigan State Fair has been recognized as an educational force by the railroads. They are cooperating to bring the people to Detroit for a 10-day practical schooling worth many dollars to the spectator.

County state and the national governments have recognized it and all will be represented with worthy exhibitions of farm products of modern agriculture.

"Everyone is beginning to recognize the value in the Michigan State Fair as a community gathering. It affords an opportunity for the farmer to see the manufacturer's product in actual operation before he purchases and it gives the farmer an opportunity to present his product of the soil which he hopes to sell at a reasonable price above the cost of production.

"Years of experience in building a fair which will mirror the industrial and rural life of Michigan have taught us that entertainment is a necessary division of the fair. So, we are presenting, each year, a more whole some and clean type of entertainment.

"The fair of 10 years ago would not be tolerated today. The exhibitions, the entertainment and everything connected with it would be hooted as terrible and would not be accepted by those who are in the market of life to get full value. Public sentiment has demanded a better fair, and a far better fair than ever before will be the Michigan exposition this year.

"Present indications are the counties this year will send more and better exhibitions of farm products. Improved horses and cattle are promised by these exhibitors. Apiary men are showing strong interest.

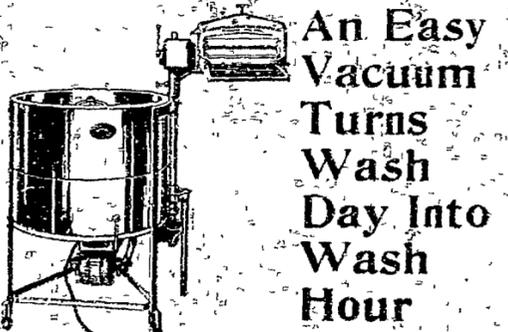

"Our boys and girls on the farm are being urged to bring their livestock to the fair and exhibit. It is a mighty influence for good when you give the youngster some encouragement and one of the goals of the State Fair is this.

"Never before has so much money been contributed for grants at a State Fair as will be at this year's exposition. It is apparent that grains are easily shown and easily maintained in good condition and this type of exhibition can do an everlasting good. Too, we are paying more and higher premiums for the important livestock breeds."

FOUR MEN SLAIN IN MINE BATTLE

STRIKING WORKERS OVERWHELM GUARDS AND ATTACK NON-UNION MINERS.

SCORES SERIOUSLY INJURED

Sheriff Among Those Killed—Deputy At Point of Death—Troops Are Called Out.

Wellsburg, W. Va.—Four known dead, a sheriff, H. H. Dayall, and three striking miners, and nearly a score wounded, was the toll of the battle fought between an army of striking miners and a small group of county officers and mine company guards at the mine of the Richland-Marshall Coal company at Chiltonville, seven miles north of here, Monday.

The only seriously wounded mine defender is Irvin Mingo, a Wellsburg deputy sheriff, who is in a critical condition in Wheeling hospital, shot through the mouth. Four of the mine guards were slightly wounded by bullets.

The strikers carried off their own wounded, numbering at least a dozen, it is said. The bodies of the four killed in the fight were found at the tipple, of the mine, where the battle was waged.

The strikers, numbering about 250, swept down on the small band of county officers and mine guards stationed in the tipple after a sanguinary struggle, the great odds told against the deputies protecting the mine, and the strikers swept over the ground, conquering.

Poses headed by state troopers, deputy sheriffs and mine guards, were combating the district, Monday night to make certain that no wounded were left lying in the woods.

More than 50 men, members of the mine of strikers that attacked the mine defenders, have been arrested. Some have been brought here and others have been taken to Wheeling.

Chiltonville is a small town populated entirely by mine workers, situated in a natural amphitheater, and cut into four sections by Cross creek and the lines of the Wabasha railroad, the creek and the tracks running at right angles. The Richland-Marshall mine, the principal operator of the district, is on a hill above the town.

During the first few weeks of the miners' strike the mine, which had been operated by another company was shut down. Late in June the mine was taken over by the Richland-Marshall interests, and July 5 work there again was started. Men from the Pittsburgh district were taken into the mine, and later a number of outlanders were added to the shift force.

Workers' Refusal to Arbitrate Excites Patience of President

Washington—President Harding told a delegation of prominent coal operators who called at the White House late Monday to present their acceptance of his offer of arbitration of the strike, to go home and begin at once the operation of their mines in order that the country's supply of fuel might be assured.

The president in a statement issued after the delegation of prominent operators left the White House said that "we have now reached a point, owing to the refusal of mine workers and a minority of your operators to accept the proposed arbitration, where the good offices of the government in seeking a voluntary adjustment of the dispute between mine operators and mine workers are without avail."

SEVENTY RAIL MEN POISONED

Strikebreakers in Chicago Made Ill—Quiz Called

Chicago—Seventy new shop employees of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, and seven city policemen, are suffering from poisoning, having eaten food prepared for strike breakers.

A score of health department workers were assigned to cover every railway yard in Chicago and rigidly inspect all food served to workers, to prevent recurrence of the trouble. The policemen said they had eaten lunch in dining cars provided by the railroad.

It was indicated that Dr. Louis J. Velt, in charge of the investigation, had information he expected would lead to the discovery of the poisoners. Examination of milk served to the workers also has been made.

Addresses: Miners Underground, Sacramento, Cal.—A new record in public speaking has been established by Governor William D. Stephens by delivery of an address 3,000 feet beneath the surface of the earth during a recent visit in Tuolumne county. The address was given at the bottom of the famous Carson Hill gold mine, near Angel's camp. The governor's audience was composed of 300 miners, and the underground auditorium, hewn out with pick and shovel, was lighted by the torches on the miners' faces.

WOMEN ENDORSE HEALTH CENTERS

"Fifty permanent mothers and baby health centers in Michigan before July 1st, 1923" was the slogan adopted at the first meeting of representatives of women's organizations which worked for the passage of the Sheppard-Towner bill. The meeting was called by Dr. Blanche M. Haines, director of the bureau of child hygiene and public health nursing, to present bureau plans to the women supporters.

Representatives of seven state organizations voiced approval of the proposal to establish mother and baby centers and plans were launched to begin work, made possible by the passage of the Sheppard-Towner bill. Directly after the meeting a health department representative left for Allegan county to organize a demonstration center, to be used as an example for other counties. It is planned to organize and operate the centers through local committees working in cooperation with state representatives.

The purpose of the center is to promote and maintain the health of children, women and pre-school children. Its objects are to treat, educate and instruct mothers to the end that they may preserve their own health and the birth of healthy children. Its purposes are to attend the infant mortality rate will decrease and children will take their place among the leading states for low mortality rates. Dr. H. M. Chin, state health commissioner, said in a special address to the women in which he lauded their interest and active cooperation.

FOR ONE KIND OF PUNICKER

Punickers from that by who are pushing along the Weirton Oil Well company will find their rules broken. When you eat you lunch by the roadside do not forget to throw the papers around and leave the grounds in a conspicuous spot. If you see any fruit growing within easy reach of the road help yourself. In pulling an orchard or looking a under always break a few bushes or trample down the material you don't carry away. When you borrow a bucket for filling the radiator with water throw the bucket on the roadside. A few banana skins left on the street or the country school help to speed the day when punickers will be driven away from such places with a snort.

FOR ONE KIND OF PUNICKER

Ask for directions as to roads and then say something to your companions about "these ignorant lunks". In passing a country church on Sunday blow your horn like the mischief. If you build a fire never put it out. Breaking down fences helps the cause along tremendously. Remember that it checks the movement of Wearing-Out-Welcome to respect in any way the property of rural dwellers. When you hit a gussy piece of road running beside houses that are close to the highway speed up. By faithfully conforming to these rules the city punickers desiring to promote the largest possible amount of ill-will against themselves will be as welcome as the measles, and will receive the same sort of treatment that is accorded to potato bugs, the army worm and other pests of the kind.—Detroit Journal.

Matters have reached such a condition that many farmers and fruit growers are compelled to keep a gun loaded with which they may frighten away the bold intruders who only laugh when asked pleasantly not to trespass. Load the old gun and have it ready. Shoot low, but shoot straight.

AVOID DROWNING—LEARN TO SWIM

Learn to Swim—Drowning Season Now Open—Y. M. C. A. sign.

"Come on in the water's fine," bathing beach sign. Hundreds of swimmers who heeded the first slogan are bathing this year while 223 persons who dashed into the water on reading the second announcement last year were drowned.

"Don't swim within an hour after eating has long been a swimming don't, but even more important than that is the don't that prohibits swimming when one is tired or the body overheated," says Dr. R. V. Olin state health commissioner. A large percentage of drownings in four months of 1921 was caused by persons becoming exhausted because they were tired before they began swimming or because the body was so overheated that the cold water produced cramps with disastrous effects. Bathe during the hot part of the day is dangerous. Every swimmer claims a quota of victims by drowning. Figures compiled in the bureau of vital statistics for four months of 1921 show 223 persons came to their death by drowning.

THE GOVERNOR IS AFTER THE 'BOOTLEGGERS'

The liquor raids conducted recently in down river towns and cities by the state police are "only a beginning in a campaign intended to dry up Wayne county for all time," Governor Goodrich announced in Detroit Friday. The announcement followed a conference between the governor, Attorney General Wiley and Prosecuting Attorney Varnum.

Not only bootleggers, but operators of other variety stores to be run out of this part of the country, the governor emphasized.

Friends of law and order in Detroit hope the governor will stick to his determination and clean up some of the cess pools of this section. The raid made by the state troopers in the Detroit down the river section has won for the public attention of the state police and people from all sections are demanding the removal of Sheriff Coffey and a lot of his deputies. "The record here," says the governor, "will direct the attention of the troopers to conditions in Northville, where at least two blind piggeries have operated in open violation of the law. The second night after Goodrich was arrested and released on bonds a great truck load of liquor was unloaded at his place. It is alleged that the liquor was being sold to the city and a deputy sheriff is known to have been seen many hours there both before and since the raid. While public officials who are sworn to uphold the law will patrol such places on counterfeits their operation by frequent visits it is about time the public became sufficiently aroused to demand their removal."

"DEAD" SHELL KILLS 8 CHILDREN

"Dud" Explodes Without Warning—Cause Remains a Mystery.

Watertown, N. Y.—Eight children, ranging in age from 11 to 16 years were blown to pieces last week by the explosion of a 75 millimeter shell on the back porch of a house occupied by Edward G. Workman and William C. Salisbury.

The shell, which was owned by Mr. Workman, was one which had been kept as a souvenir and used on the rear porch to hold the door from closing. It was believed to be "dead."

The children were playing croquet in the backyard. The shell is believed to have either been set off by the hot sun or to have been struck by one of the victims with a croquet mallet.

The bodies of the children were found apparently at places near where they had been standing in their croquet game. Near them lay fragments of the croquet mallets. Several of the boys had in the grip a croquet ball and the mallets were torn from the ground.

The shell apparently got so with out warning. Two carpenters working on a house next door to the Workman home saw that a second before the explosion they had heard the voices of the children laughing at play. The two men were the first to reach the scene.

TWO KILLED IN LIQUOR WAR

Victims Riddled With Bullets From Saved Off Shot Guns

Detroit. What is thought by police to be another tragedy of the liquor war, which resulted Sunday night in this shooting and killing of Robert H. Cochran, 24 years old, 1249 Marlborough avenue, and Neal Donnelly, 37 years old, of Plymouth, Mich., on Edmonds boulevard, in Lincoln Park, by three men who are being sought by police of Detroit and Lincoln Park and by deputy sheriffs.

The two men were riddled with bullets from revolvers and saved-off shotguns. Cochran was wounded 23 times and Donnelly 15. The shooting was witnessed by a man whose names police will not divulge, and by William Messner, Lincoln Park traffic policeman, who was too far away to describe the assault.

The victims were in a motor car.

STATE PHONE RATES SLASHED

Utilities Commission Orders Reduction of 12 Percent in Charges.

Lansing—Detroit telephone rates are reduced an average of 12 per cent, effective August 1, by an order of the Michigan Public Utilities commission.

It is estimated by the commission's statistics that this reduction, together with that made last January, will cut the Detroit Telephone Co.'s annual revenue $1,450,000.

Reductions in rates of several exchanges in the state are made by the order. It is estimated that the company's revenue for exchanges outside of Detroit will be reduced $124,331.

The Michigan State Co. sought to have rates outside of Detroit increased sufficiently to obtain a 24 per cent increase in revenue, or $708,000.

Film Discloses Hidden Body.

Los Angeles, Cal.—On developing a film negative taken two months ago in Topanga Canyon, 25 miles northwest of here, B. W. Anderson found that the body of a woman lying under a tree among the undergrowth was clearly outlined in the photograph, according to his story to the police here. The body appeared to have been badly mutilated. When on the trip with Anderson nor his friends saw the body, they told the police.

American Girl Made "Angel"

Podgoritz, Montenegro—Miss Margaret N. Robins, an American girl, has been made an "angel" by the Turkish population of this city. Miss Robins, who comes from Philadelphia, has been doing Red Cross work among the poor of "Turkey Town," the Moslem quarter of Podgoritz, where she has come to be worshipped as "the American angel." She has saved the lives of many women and children and natives look upon her with the reverence and adoration of a patron saint.

Advocates Right Training For Boy Farmers of State

G. W. Dickinson Sees Need of Constructive Work For All Youngsters

The true mission of the Michigan State Fair, as seen by George W. Dickinson, secretary and manager of the exposition for the past decade, is one of educating the rising generation of farmers in the correct atmosphere.

So far, the Michigan State Fair has been a splendid force in the lives of boys and girls on the farms in this state. This has been indicated by the enthusiasm with which the youngsters have participated in the competition to win a place in the Boys' State Fair School.

and the government now are co-operating with us through an extension course and fine results are being apparent. The course for boys will be confined to stock judging and similar instruction and the training for girls will include cooking, canning, poultry culling and other things.

As has been the policy in the past the expenses of 150 boys and the same number of girls to and from the fair and during their visit at the exposition will be defrayed by the fair.

Forrest Lord of Mt. Clemens, will head the department of Boys' and Girls' clubs, R. A. Turner, state club leader at N. A. C. East Lansing, is superintendent.

E. T. Cameron, of Lansing will be superintendent of the educational department, assisted by F. W. Frostic, of Wyandotte, this year.

While discussing the educational department, the fair managers branched into a discussion of the interest in dairying in Michigan. Being a frank man he doesn't hesitate to criticize what he terms "chairs."

There is a great opportunity for improvement in the Michigan dairy world," said Mr. Dickinson, "and I have had visions of the State Fair playing an important role in the realization of a greater dairy Michigan."

"This year, visitors to the fair will see the best butter sculptural exhibition ever put on anywhere. We also will show the various cheese products manufactured in Michigan, domestic and dairy machinery of most modern type in operation."

Fred W. Warner, of Farmington, is the member of the board of managers in charge of the dairy department.

MINERS REJECT HARDING'S PLAN

PRESIDENTS PROPOSAL FOR MEN TO ARBITRATE MEETS WITH REFUSAL.

RAILROAD STRIKE IS SPREADING

Roads Plan to Employ New Men to Replace Strikers—Trackmen Threaten Walkout

Washington—President Harding's plan for arbitration of the nationwide mine strike was rejected unanimously by the United Mine Workers here. The policy committee of the organization, after a long and stormy session, decided it would be impossible for the miners to accept President Harding's proposal unless it was modified greatly.

There is an air of tension and concern in official circles here and the trend of developments seems to be toward a crisis in which the president would be forced to take his threatened drastic action of seizing and operating the mines and coals.

Federal troops are being held in readiness for instant dispatch to the coal centers when violence cannot be controlled by local or state authorities.

The president, in a statement Saturday night on the miners' refusal to arbitrate, indicated that his next move would be announced early this week. After the reply of the bituminous coal operators to his proposal is received, his plan has been accepted in principle by the anthracite operators.

Railroads Use Strikebreakers.

Chicago—With peace negotiations insisted by Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, virtually at a standstill, the carriers have made no effort to conceal the fact they are now out to break the strike—to break it in regular fashion, with strikebreakers. Meanwhile, both railway officials and strike leaders eagerly awaited arbitration as to which way the 400,000 employees of way men will jump. This anxiety grew out of reports by the Interstate Commerce Commission to which their international brotherhood officers are committed, that the latter would join the strike.

An overturned oil heater in the cottage of Mrs. A. K. Weston, of Grand Rapids, started the fire and within an hour the flames had licked up the cottages and the fire was under control.

Express Rate Inquiry To Be Started.

Washington—Notice has been given by the Interstate Commerce Commission that an investigation would be instituted immediately into the reasonableness of existing express rates in all parts of the country.
