EX-PRISONERS OF WAR ENJOY REUNION HERE

On September 18th and 19th, 1863, the Twenty-second Michigan volunteer infantry took part in the battle of Chickamauga and on the night of the 20th were remained but about 200 of the valiant 500 Michigan men, the others having paid the supreme sacrifice. These survivors were taken prisoners and for a period of from twelve to seventeen months were incarcerated in the prison pens of the south—at first at Libby prison, and finally were transferred to the horrors at the Andersonville stockade, where many thousands of Union soldiers died of starvation, disease and neglect. Of these men of the Twenty-second who were taken prisoners in that memorable battle, but about fourteen remain, and five members of this little band met in Northville Tuesday and Wednesday for their annual reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goodell and L. C. Mead were hosts to the visiting comrades and their wives and the gathering seemed more like a family reunion than a gathering of comrades at arms.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Goodell and Mr. Mead those present for the two days pleasure were Mr. and Mrs. John Hazelton of Vernon, James Greenan of Kalkaska, Arthur Collins of Detroit, Messmates Malcolm and Souby of Milford, Mrs. May Mills of Big Beaver, Mrs. Hattie Bump of Clarkson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Nester of Detroit. The ladies of the company are the widows of former members of the ex-prisoners' association.

The guests gathered at the home of Mr. Mead upon their arrival and the day was spent there. At noon a luncheon was served by Miss Mead and her friend, Miss Dunlop of Detroit, who asked to be excused from their school duties in Detroit that they might assist in the entertainment of Northville's honored guests. The afternoon was spent with visiting and renewing acquaintances and a happy and unlooked for surprise awaited the guests. Mrs. N. J. Hager and Miss Chase of Plymouth favored the company with a number of musical numbers and Mrs. French of Flint, who was returning to her home from Pontiac, stopped over and gave a very appropriate talk. At six o'clock a bountiful dinner was served and following the meal the evening was given over to visiting and recalling the experiences of the men who spent so many weary months in prison. In the midst of the visiting a tap at the door summoned Mr. Mead and he was quite surprised upon opening the door to find a number of the members of the W. R. C. who came to spend the evening with the veterans and their wives, and to assure them of a very cordial welcome to Northville.

Mr. Goodell called upon Comrades Mead, Collins, Hazelton and Greenan for remarks. In a very interesting manner they related many harrowing tales and numerous amusing experiences they passed through while in prison. During the telling of some of these experiences you felt something swelling your throat and tears came to your eyes unbidden, and all present were made to realize the price these men paid for the preservation of the Union. Mrs. Lester Cook, president of the Relief Corp., made some brief remarks in which she expressed her pleasure for having met the veterans and their wives and Mr. Brown of The Record made a few fitting remarks, expressing the appreciation which all present felt, to the aged men for the part they played in the great Civil War and for their heroism and sacrifice.

Ice cream and cake were served and it was nearly ten o'clock when good night was said and those who had gathered to meet and greet the visitors took their departure.

The Twenty-second was recruited at Pontiac and was composed of Oakland county men, many of them being from Novi and Commerce townships. While some of the men were being conveyed to Pontiac in a lumber wagon they "captured" a cow by the side of the road and removed her bell, strap and all, and this relic was given an honored place at the reunion. It was carried throughout the war in the ambulance wagon and made music at every camp fire and after every victory in which the regiment took part. The regiment left Pontiac by train for Detroit on September 4th, 1862. From Detroit they proceeded to Toledo by boat, the Morning Star, and the voyage was not a very pleasant one. The old boat leaked and it was with some difficulty it was kept afloat until it was reached.

On Wednesday breakfast and dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Goodell. After breakfast visiting was the order of the day until about ten o'clock when the annual election of officers took place, the following being chosen for the ensuing year: President Mrs. Sarah L. Milcomb, Milford; vice-president, Mrs. Libbie Soulsby, Milford; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. George Goodell, Northville. It was voted to hold the reunion in 1923 at the home of Miss Soulsby at Milford.

At noon the old coo bell called the company to refreshments, the table being loaded with all the good things one could hope for and the feast was one fit for a king. After dinner the gentlemen of the company enjoyed cigars and continued to visit until the hour arrived to take their departure. With feelings of regret good-byes were said and all promised to be on hand for the gathering next year.

At the annual meeting the presiding officer used a gavel that was made from southern pine used in the construction of the stockade at Andersonville.

Mr. and Mrs. LaBlank, Mrs. Selle and son, James of Detroit, came out with Mr. and Mrs. Nester and spent the day.

The gathering was voted a delightful success by all present and it was the hope and prayer of all that they might be spared to meet again.

CARL SALOW DIED AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS.

Last Saturday morning the people of Novi and Northville were greatly grieved to learn of the sudden death of Carl Salow at his farm where he had gone to work in his usual good humor. He had been in the field but a short time when he returned to the house and he was not feeling well, being overcome with his son's wife, Mrs. Helen Salow, who once did all in her power to relieve him and also called a physician and members of his family who reached his bedside a short time before he passed away.

Mr. Salow was born in Merckleburg, Germany August 8th, 1866, coming to this country with his parents when yet a child and has lived in the community of Novi and Northville all his life. He was a devoted husband and kind father and a good friend.

In April, 1923, he was married to Miss Frederika Witt and the union was blessed with two sons—Olen and Lloyd whose hearts are crushed by the sudden blow. One grandson, Glen, and two brothers besides him and friends and relatives mourn the death of one of whom it can well be said was a man above men in the true sense of the word.

A funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church in Northville and was largely attended, with interment at Novi. The many beautiful floral pieces gave evidence of the high regard in which Mr. Salow was held.

Five years ago he, with the now deceased wife, moved to Northville from the farm. But Mr. Salow spent the greater part of the time working around with the son, Glen, on the farm he loved so well and where his life was so suddenly ended bringing to us the words:

"Who knows how near me and my wife sleep away and death comes in."

"How swiftly, oh, how suddenly may death be here and life be gone."

A former pastor Rev. J. Hollens of Farmington spoke very feelingly on the text taken from I Sam. 20:22. "There is but a step between me and death," a step which we all must take. Science, philosophy or even religion cannot prevent it. It is the law of the universe and no one knows when this step must be taken—it may be tomorrow for some of us—to be called into the unknown. May the dear ones who are so sadly bereft not sorrow as those without hope but have abundant consolation in these words:

"Jesus while our hearts are bleeding

"O'er the spoils that death has won."

May we at this solemn meeting

Calmly say: This will be done.

—A Friend.

LADY MACCABEES HELD CONVENTION.

On Monday the Wayne County association of Lady Maccaebes held a convention in this village. The morning hours were given over to reports and business, election of officers, etc., and the afternoon was taken up with drills and other interesting features. A bountiful dinner was served at noon. About one hundred ladies attended the meeting.

The drill by the New Hudson Fire was a special feature of the day and the members of the drill team were enthusiastically applauded.

GRAND RIVER TO BE PAVED.

The Grand River road, M-16, is slated for a large share of concreting work next year. Ingham county will take care of this work from East Lansing to Williamson at least and may come down to the county line of Livingston. This county will probably care of the strip iron, the present pavement up the east to the Ingham county line passing through this village, proper papers being all on file and approved by the state authorities at Lansing, for the extra work being done in this village under the Covert Act, and even if that law is repealed by the next legislature, it will not affect the obligations in this village as enough has already been done to insure the completion of the work—Gov. Davis' Review.

Members of the Oakland County Road Commission were in Lansing yesterday, consulting with Frank F. Rogers, state highway commissioner, regarding the state's program for Oakland county. A spokesman has been made that they are bound by the Grand River and Farmington, according to New Hudson as the first two parts of Grand River road from Berlin to Lansing—Farm news Enterprise.

M. A. C. ENROLLMENT MAY BREAK RECORD.

Preparations are being made for the largest total enrollment in the history of Michigan Agricultural College when the fall term opens September 25th. During 1921-22 the number of four-year students was slightly under 1,700, though the fall term registration was 1,619. The total for the year, including summer session and short course students and vocational training students, receiving federal aid, was in excess of 2,500.

There is no possibility that the college will be unable to open on account of lack of coal, according to H. H. Hajday, secretary. Two carloads have been received and more is on the way. For some time fuel restrictions have been in force and much work has been done to meet the ban.

Dates for freshman orientation examinations have been announced as September 21, 22 and 23. To avoid crowding, freshmen will be assigned to one of three sections, each consisting of 120 students, and the examinations will be given in three sections.

SPRING EXPIRES 10/10/22

Headed by Prof. V. C. Gould, the new department of horticulture is strengthed by the addition of a new assistant professor, who has been appointed and recognized and is now in position to give attention to the affairs of the new institution.

Three new men have been added. They are Dr. Bradford, associate professor, and Dr. A. L. Gardner, a graduate of Harvard, who has taught at the University of Maine, Oregon Agricultural College and the University of Missouri. E. P. Lewis, specialist in vegetable work, a graduate of Purdue and formerly a teacher at the University of Illinois, and D. M. Wells, a doctor, a graduate of Ohio State.

Prof. Gardner himself is returning to his old love, teaching to M. A. G., for he graduated in 1915. Since that time he has been engaged in horticultural work of various kinds in Iowa, Oregon, Idaho, Oregon, and most recently as head of the department at the University of Missouri. He and Bradford are two of the joint authors of the book "Fundamentals of Fruit Production," published last spring, which over horticulturalists at M. A. C. declare is the only comprehensive textbook for upper class horticultural students now available.

The reorganized department will consist of thirteen men, including research and extension specialists. Men retained are Roy E. Marshall, associate professor and research associate; R. E. Lorée, assistant professor; W. C. Dutton, research associate; N. L. Partridge, assistant professor; T. A. Ferrand, extension specialist; Thos. Gunn, floriculturist and assistant professor; Stanley Johnston, superintendent of the South Haven experimental station, who will teach in the short course division at the college during the winter; and H. D. Hoitman, superintendent of the Graham horticultural experiment station at Grand Rapids. Prof. C. P. Halligan, formerly head of the department will devote his entire time to the teaching of landscape gardening.

The added personnel will make possible the assignment of special lines of work.

Careful Mrs. Newlywed.—"Mother"—"Yes, Ethel?" "Will you do something for me?" "What is it?" "I wish you would buy me a rolling-pin." "Why don't you buy one yourself?" Walled Lake Warbles.

Walled Lake's school opened Monday morning in the old buildings in its position, though definitely declared, was not so well understood by the various districts of the township. The new building is not yet completed and rather than delay the opening of school longer, the board of education thought thus the better plan.

Additional honors have come to Walled Lake. At the state fair Burt Tuttle was awarded sixth prize in the trout pitching contest.

Walled Lake people have contributed liberally toward a fund for the purchase of a pumpmotor which will be kept at Dr. Billard's office for use in case of drowning accidents. And what is true of Michigan has been true of every other state where the issue has been clearly defined, with the result that the new congress which People who believe the saloons have outlawed themselves are not going to sacrifice any of the ground they have won in the fight now far without a struggle. It may require some time to put the bootleggers and the rum runners out of business but we believe these United States of ours are capable of correcting the situation in time.

The splendid vote given by George Walker for Stefan Konarski and Eddie Conroy for Jim Wilson, in the voting place in the Detroit election, support of Wilson's amendment was a great help to Mr. Wilson.

Homelike Touches. Shades and curtains should be chosen to regulate but not shut out the light and air. Simple durable, softly hanging materials, such as white or cream voile, scrim, Swiss or cheesecloth, hemmed or hemstitched, make good washable curtains, which may have overcurtains of colored or figured material.

Hirsch's blacksmith and Wilt Tait had a lively upset on Main Street, Wednesday. The blacksmith struck the horse for driving, and the horse did a double trapeze act, upsetting the rig and throwing no horse. Tait was a truly sorry sight about the shoulders.

Capt. John S. Jackson one of Northville's pioneer citizens, died at his home Sunday night. Mr. Jackson was born in Canandaigua, N. Y., in 1812 and settled in Northville in 1856. He was the leading spirit in the organization of the Bivona Rifles and was, in 1858, appointed captain of the company, and as Captain Jackson he has since been known. He leaves a widow and five children. Will and H. F. now in the west, and another son, Mr. John Hirsch and one unmarried daughter, of this place. The funeral occurred from the home Tuesday afternoon.

GREAT CROWD WITNESSED CORNER STONE LAYING.

Northville was well represented at the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of Detroit's new Masonic temple which took place in the city Monday.

Northville Commandery, Knights Templar, had about forty men in line and Northville Lodge, F. & A. M., was represented by about thirty-five men.

In addition to those two organizations the Northville band acted as escort for the commandery. Many citizens not members of the order also were present.

President Harding could not be present as planned and he was represented by Secretary of the Navy Denby, who read a letter from the President. The address and the music were enjoyed by a number of Northville people who had access to radio outfits.

NOV. NEWS.

Next week is the big event of the year. The gates will open on Tuesday morning for the receipt of exhibits. All exhibits must be in place by Wednesday noon.

You will thoroughly enjoy Ruins and Pictures and the kicking male Dynamite, in their free exhibitions each afternoon and night.

There will be more horses here for the races next week than the seven can care for and thus we are assured some good racing events.

All Starvers in Northville and surrounding communities attending the fair next week are urged to wear their ties on Saturday Detroit day.

The Mezzer troupe of six acrobats will give a wonderful exhibition from their trapeze which is 30 feet high by 50 feet in length—the biggest attraction ever given in Northville.

If the ladies living in the village who are planning to enter articles in the Arts department or canned goods will do so from six thirty to nine o'clock Monday evening the committee will greatly appreciate it.

Bring in your best vegetables and fruits, corn and grains. Perhaps you may be able to beat your neighbors and thus you will not only win a liberal premium but you will be contributing something to the "show." Base ball fans will have a treat next week. There will be three games and all of them ought to be good ones.

Northville, Holly, Howell and Rison Creamery teams will compete for honors on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Thursday will be Plymouth day and our neighbors are coming over in force to be entertained by the Willard band. Saturday will be Detroit day and the shriners will be here with their million dollar band and chariot. The help to be given by the Shriner will be such that the day is sure to be a success.

U. S. THINKS TURK INVASION HALTED

AMERICAN MILITARY MEN LOOK FOR CONFERENCE UPON
NEAR EAST ISSUES.

BRITISH FLEET IN DARDANELLES

Poorly Equipped for War Against Overwhelming Forces, Turkish Army Would Need Help.

Washington—It is the firm conviction of high American military authorities that the swift and decisive action of the British in ordering their entire Atlantic fleet to the Dardanelles will first halt the Turkish invasion of the neutral zones, and afterwards end-in an international conference upon Near Eastern issues.

These views are based upon information in the hands of the war department regarding the equipment of the Turks, their morale and the gravity of a movement by the Kemalists against overwhelming forces.

The on-going thing that might induce the Turks to fight on for the reclamation of Constantinople, it is stated, would be positive assurance of military support from Russia.

Officials of this government have little reason to believe, however, that the Russias will go openly and actively to the support of the Turks. It is suspected in Washington that they are giving the Kemalist army secret aid and comfort—but the soviet government, it is pointed out, is too much engaged at the moment in consolidating the British and other European powers to rush precipitately into war that could drive the British away from them.

Also officials here strongly discount the reports that there is some sort of secret deal on between the Russians, Germans and the Turks. All information which has come to Washington through military and diplomatic channels is to the contrary.

It is understood that the Turks are engaged with both Germans and Russian authorities and may be in Russian government attempt to achieve, recently, the separation of the Turkish empire from the Ottoman Empire independent now.

CUT-THROAT LAYMEN END SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION

Laymen of the Methodist church for the eastern part of Michigan and Indiana met on Friday evening the second annual gathering of the Eastern Laymen's Association. It opened after a two days' program which was held in leading Methodist houses. Every church in the district was represented by speakers, followed by free discussions with the result that the men of the Detroit conference joined with those of the Michigan conference will, the coming year, be able to do the best work ever attempted by the laity of the church.

Prominent news-paper men, including Grinnell Patterson managing editor of the Toledo Blade, commercial travelers, specialists in the various branches of the church work, manufacturers who employ hundreds of men, professionals, men, and others who are giving not only of their money but actual time, were on the program so that the laymen were given many new angles in which to push the work of the church and the uplift of their respective communities. Various walks of life are also represented on the roll call which was elected as follows:

Pastor: Frederick H. Zeiger, President; First vice-president, J. L. Transue Flint; Second vice-president, T. O. Hukle, Toledo; Secretary, D. D. Spearman, Detroit; Treasurer, R. S. Campbell, Port Huron.

Lewis B. Alger, a retired manufacturer of Detroit is the director of lay activities of the Detroit area which includes both conferences in the state and is devoting his entire time without pay for the advancement of the activities of the laity of Michigan Methodist Men.

Before closing their session Friday the Laymen's association went on record as repudiating the article which appeared in a Detroit paper Friday morning stating that the laymen were against having district superintendents and other officials which the article stated were a financial burden and unnecessary. The laymen are said to be working in nearly accord with the church officials and in their resolutions asked the Detroit paper to retract the unwanted statements published.

J. BOWLES' BODY SHIPPED TO PENNSYLVANIA

Last Friday forenoon Miss Mary Bowles, sister of J. Bowles, who was killed by the caving in of a trench at the S. A. Lovewell home in Orchard Heights, last week Wednesday morning, arrived in Northville from her home in Davesburg, Pa., accompanied by a woman friend. She was taken at once to the Schrader funeral chapel where she identified the remains of those of her brother. The body was prepared for shipment and on Saturday morning the ladies left for home accompanying the remains.

The unfortunate man, it would seem, has been a rover and for the past few years has been at home but very little, though he had an aged mother, and two sisters living at Davesburg.
