"The Town That Forgot God"

This gigantic, stupendous, cyclonic deluge swept New York newspaper critics off their feet. Never in the history of motion pictures has there been such a tremendous thrill. A melodramatic story told with the background of a gigantic and colossal cloudburst. A village is destroyed, and so realistically that those in the audience who were not standing in their seats to avoid the on-rush of water, applauded vigorously.

SNOW STORM DID UNTOLD DAMAGE

The snow storm of Tuesday night and Wednesday was the heaviest ever experienced at this time of the year in Michigan, and many of our oldest inhabitants who delight to relate the backward seasons of the seventies were forced to seek shelter by their coal fires. The snow fell all day Wednesday and by six o'clock there was fully six inches on the level in this section, notwithstanding the fact that a great deal of it melted during the day. About noon on Wednesday it began to grow colder and by three o'clock thermometers about town registered at 38, while at eight o'clock they had reached the freezing point. During the night ice was frozen and when the sun came out Thursday morning all was a frozen picture of a sorry sight.

The storm seemed to be general all over the state and it is believed that great damage was done to fruit trees and to early sown crops. In this section it was difficult to judge of the real damage, but it was sufficient to make our fruit men have long faces.

NORTHVILLE WELL REPRESENTED.

Northville was well represented at the first annual meeting of the Michigan Chapters of DeMolay, held at Battle Creek last Friday and Saturday. Accompanied by James A. Hart, of the advisory council, John Litsenberger, Frank Perkins, Willard Ely, Carlos Hall, Merritt Young, Ward Masters, James Vanatta, Glenn Hammond, Edgar Freydl, Joe Litsenberger, Edward Riley and Ward Mosher motored over to the Food City Friday forenoon, three autos being required to convey the Northville party. None of the other towns in the state in Northville's class, so far as population is concerned, were represented by as large a delegation, and in fact some of the larger cities did not have as many in attendance. The drive to Battle Creek was most delightful and the city was reached at 11:30. Northville's representatives were assigned to the LaVein Hotel after they had registered.

The first session of the convention was held at 3:30 in the afternoon and at 6:30 the visitors were entertained at a banquet by the Masons and citizens of the city. In the evening the initiatory degree was conferred by Battle Creek chapter and the DeMolay degree by the Ann Arbor chapter. The work was given in a most impressive manner and the ceremonies of initiation proved an inspiration to all who were present. Saturday forenoon's meeting was especially for master, senior and junior councilors, scribes and advisors. At 11:30 there was an open meeting and again at noon a banquet was enjoyed.

At one o'clock a parade was formed and all traffic was suspended upon the streets traversed by the marchers. About three-quarters of an hour was required for the process to pass and the marchers were applauded by the large number of people who witnessed the parade. Among the prominent Masons of Michigan who attended the meeting was Charles A. Conover of Coldwater grand recorder of the Grand Chapter, R. A. M., and who is active member for Michigan. The visitors were royally entertained by the people of Battle Creek and the gathering was one that will long be remembered by all present.

Saturday morning Northville's representatives paid a visit of inspection to Camp Custer and Roosevelt hospital where they met Conrad Langfield.

NORTHVILLE WILL NOT SUBMIT.

Northville people will not submit to the very poor mail service the Pere Marquette railway has inaugurated without a fight to the finish. It is an outrage to expect that all parcel post mail coming to the local office after ten o'clock in the morning must remain in this office until the next morning, and that only a portion of the first-class mail received during the day can be dispatched on the train south in the evening. It is impossible to place all the first-class mail in a "catch pouch" to be picked off the crane as the train speeds through town. The two trains north and south in the evening should stop here, but if that arrangement is impossible then the south bound train should stop here by all means.

It is unfair and unjust to curtail our mail service to the extent the new schedule plans to do.

Clean up next week.

OFFICERS PUBLICLY INSTALLED.

The officers of Orient Chapter O. E. S., were publicly installed last Friday night, the ceremonies being witnessed by a large number of members of the order and their guests. Past Worthy Patron Fuller called the assemblage to order and when quiet had been restored Mrs. B. G. Filkins, who officiated as installing officer, and Mrs. Bruce Freydl, who officiated as chaplain, were escorted to their stations by Mrs. F. P. Summons, who acted as grand marshal during the evening. The newly elected officers were then escorted into the hall and the ceremonies of installation followed. Mrs. Filkins filled her position in a most creditable manner and gave the several charges in an impressive manner.

During the evening Mrs. C. F. Murphy of Detroit sang two songs because one would not satisfy. Miss June Filkins also favored the audience with a solo number and responded to the hearty encore given, and Mrs. L. C. Hood gave two piano numbers which pleased everyone.

At the conclusion of the work Mrs. Arabella Tinsam presented Mrs. Leo Lawrence, the worthy matron, elect, a handsome bouquet as an expression of the esteem in which she is held by members of the chapter and for her faithful service during the past year. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake and coffee were served in the dining room. The tables were handsomely arranged and were made exceptionally attractive by an abundance of Spring flowers and blossoms.

On Friday evening of next week there will be work and a supper will be enjoyed at six o'clock.

BUSINESS MEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE.

The touching finishes of the Business Men's bowling occurred on Monday night. It really was "touching" for the Not Hickorys took three games from the chestnuts to win by that time were in first position. By the result it allowed the Supper Eats to "slip" in first place headed by Al Heatley as captain. Dr. Alexander's team, who were at the top most of the season, finished second closely followed by the Weeping Willows under the leadership of Chas. Sessions. Dick Kilgour's trusty three were fourth.

The entire four teams were very close to each other in the last half of the season. The Lie Locks, Swamp Oaks, Not Hickorys and Bitter Nuts, captured respectively by Al Zimmer, Albert Hall, Carl Ely and Floyd Shafer, followed in the summary.

Highest score in a single game for the season was 245, made by Joe Weston. Albert Hall rolled 237, while George Hicks and Tom Carrington each scored 232. Hall also rolled three games in succession, averaging 211 per game.

A number of other big scores were made by the 24 men belonging to the business men's league. Various prizes were awarded to different teams and individuals at the bowling alley last Tuesday night.

BAD AUTO ACCIDENT AT PLYMOUTH.

Sunday afternoon an auto being driven by Floyd Comstock crashed into a Pere Marquette train standing at the station at Plymouth. Comstock lived but a few hours after the accident and his companions, John and Charles Echart, who recently came to Plymouth from Tennessee were seriously injured.

The car Comstock was driving was completely wrecked.

He had a violin in his possession more than 100 years old.

Grand Rapids—Colonel John H. Schoulen commanding the 126th infantry, Michigan National Guard, made public last week plans to double the size of the Grand Rapids armory. The addition, he explained, will cost about $100,000. The ten units here have a strength of 700 men. One of the largest auditoriums in the state will be included in the plans, which will enable Grand Rapids to bid for some of the country's largest conventions.

Cadillac—Jennings church was loaded on the Acme trailer last week and transported more than 30 miles toward McBeth. The structure is 26 feet wide, 50 feet long and 31 feet to the ridge. The steeple is 63 feet high and the load weighed 50 tons. The building was so much taller than its width that the trailer resembled a roller skate. The swamp road still is soft in places and considerable difficulty was experienced in moving the big load.

Traverse City—Three high school students were expelled last week, following a battle in the grounds and in the school building between seniors and juniors in the annual class rush. Sault Ste. Marie—Much damage was done to railroad and electric light company property when Sucker creek overflowed here last week, and for a time threatened to break a water main and shut off the city's supply. Trees and telephone poles were uprooted and washed into St. Mary's River. All available city workmen were rushed to save the main and dynamite the remaining ice.

Lansing—Michigan farmers intend to increase the acreage of all principal crops this year except spring wheat and potatoes, according to a forecast report completed by Verne H. LOOPHOLE SEEN IN GERMAN DEBT

FRENCH TRANSFER OR CANCELLATION, FORMS BASIS OF NEW TEUTON HOPE

DEMANDS Y. LD IN FUHR FIRST

Lead a Greeting of Rhineland Ag. Payments Made Also Revealed as Policy.

The Germans see a loop hole in the French answer if the United States consent to some form of cancellation or transfer of a portion of the French debt to the United States to Germany, funding it over a 100-year period.

The French note gives the possibility of the German answer, enabling them to correct some portion of their original proposal, which made it more acceptable to the Allies. This answer probably will be made when Chancellor Cuno addresses the Reichstag late this week.

The plan is identical with the Louis Lochner presented in London, and contains the British government's suggestions.

Thus Great Britain, although ostensibly having settled its American debt, sponsors an arrangement which would reopen the whole question.

The plan will be rushed to completion and within 10 days announced to the world as the Franco-Belgian plan, although so far Belgium has not promised to support it and in reality the plan is Franco-British.

Berlin Chancellor Cuno was hurriedly recalled to Berlin when an outline of the Franco-Belgian note rejecting the latest German reparations offer was received. According to cabinet members the note turns down an offer of thirty billion gold marks on four counts.

(1)—There shall be no negotiations regarding reparations or anything else as long as "passive resistance" is maintained in the Ruhr and Rhineland.

(2)—Progressive evacuation of French troops with German payments the only way in which the French reparations will get out of the new occupied areas.

(3)—The only basis of negotiations if there are to be negotiations is the plan approved by France and Belgium.

(4)—France wants "practical securities" not a peace pact.

The note was couched in what the German ministers described as sharp terms but despite this members of the government were optimistic that negotiations to end the Ruhr deadlock still could be effected.

ALIEN INFLUX IS HELD AMPLE

Labor Chiefs Allege That Canada and Mexico Not Limited.

Washington—Demands of employment in the next congress for a relaxation of the three per cent limit on immigration will be strongly countered, it was learned here last Monday, by presentation of new figures just made public by the bureau of immigration.

These figures show that alien workers are sweeping into this country from Canada and Mexico which are unaffected by the immigration law at the rate of nearly 18,000 a month.

The new influx in the opinion of labor leaders who will combat any lifting of the percentage limitation, is proving ample to fill all jobs available.

The immigration from these contiguous countries has in fact developed a striking increase in the last six or eight months, the immigration bureau's figures show.

If the rate of immigration from these countries alone keeps up for a year it will bring into the United States, it is pointed out by labor leaders, more than half as many workers as are admissible yearly from all the 43 other "percentage" nations together.

SIX MEN LOST IN ARMY BOAT

Motor Launch Separated from Steamer During Gale.

Kay West, Fla.—The United States army steamer General Cox, arriving here last Monday, reported losing the 62-foot motor launch Q-15, with a crew of six men aboard, in a heavy gale, on the morning of May 5.

According to officers of the General Cox, they were acting as a convoy for the Q-15 on a trip from New Orleans to Panama. Last Saturday morning the launch left the General Cox and proceeded ahead during a heavy gale and was last seen at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The launch is equipped with provisions and gasoline to last 10 days.

Find Money in Wedding Cake.

Orange, N. Y.—At the celebration of their silver wedding anniversary recently Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fungar cut into their wedding cake, preserved since they were married, and found $2500 in securities secreted beneath the icing. It was placed there by the late Laurence P. Fell, the bride's father. Few knew of the cake. Mr. and Mrs. Fungar did not and were amazed at finding the money, $100 for each year of their married life.

CO-OPERATIVES PAYS PATRONAGE DIVIDENDS.

Patronage dividends, representing $15,000 savings in marketing operations, have been declared by the Michigan Elevator Exchange and the Michigan Live-Stock Exchange. The Elevator Exchange is distributing $8,000 among its local associations and the Live Stock Exchange is returning $7,000 to its associations who have been patronizing the Exchange's co-operative commission house at Detroit.

The Elevator Exchange has been in business three years and in composed of local elevators throughout Michigan. Last year it did $4,500,000 worth of business and reports a net worth of $33,000. The Live Stock Exchange saved $17,500 in commissions for its patrons last year. It is returning $7,000 to member patrons and is using the remainder as a reserve fund for its commission house.

Both these institutions were built by co-operative grain farmers and live stock producers in Michigan. They are affiliated with the Michigan State Farm Bureau. The Elevator Exchange was started as a marketing department of the State Farm Bureau.

DETROIT 'YOUNG PEOPLE' ARRESTED AT WALLED LAKE.

On judgment on the part of 15 Detroit girls as to the proper home in which to seek help following a quarrel Sunday morning resulted in sudden ending of an all-night party and arrest of six Detroiters, three girls and three men, in the Walled Lake cottage into which they had broken late Saturday night.

Early Sunday morning two girls giving the names Rose Smith aged 18 years, and Nettie Walters, 19, both of 9456 Quincey street, Detroit, went to the cottage of Dr. A. T. Holcomb, of Novi, and without knowing that he is a deputy sheriff told him that they had had a quarrel with the boys at their cottage.

Dr. Holcomb telephoned to Deputy Sheriff Roy Coe, and with the two girls returned to the cottage where they found three other men and one girl. They also discovered that the cottage had been broken into and that a gallon carboy filled with a mixture of moonshine liquor and wine, was an accessory to the party.

The four others in the house gave the names Leona Beverly, 20 years old, 514 Cavalry avenue; Fred Sabahé, 29, of 4157 Woodward avenue; George Craft, 22, of 2630 West Philadelphia, and Erwin Murphy, 24, of 6160 Second boulevard.

Miss Beverly, the officers say, and Sabahé were found scantily clad in a very compromising situation.

All were arraigned before Justice Judson A. Fredsborough Monday morning on charges of disorderly conduct, to which they pleaded guilty. The girls were fined $10 each and the men $25 each. All paid and were released shortly before noon.

The Detroiters, it is reported reached Walled Lake after a drive from a Detroit dance hall, where they stayed until midnight.—Pontiac Press.

No Rest—No Peace

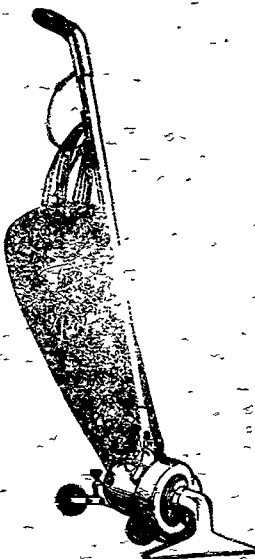

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Northville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. Be guided by their experience.

Henry VanSickle, farmer, Mill St., Northville, says: "I had my first experience with Doan's Kidney Pills some time ago and I can say they did me a world of good. I had been doing some extra heavy work on the farm and I blame this for starting my kidney complaint. My back ached terribly and nights I could get no sleep, as the misery was still there I had blinding dizzy spells and didn't have any ambition to do a thing in the way of work and my kidneys didn't act regularly, either. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I went to Horton's drug store, and got three boxes. They fixed me up in good shape, so I am only too pleased to recommend Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—Get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. VanSickle had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

While making a canvass of the village last week for the new '98 directory the Record representative came very near getting into trouble. In several cases he was taken for a war representative obtaining the names for a draft.

At a regular meeting of the village council Monday night, the Silas Stone Co. offered to lay a cement walk wanted for five years on the north side of the Methodist church at 10c per foot. The council thought it was the proper walk to lay there as it would be the cheapest for the village in the end. The walk committee was given power to act in the matter.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Mr. Leonard Lambden

MY MOTHER.

We read about the mothers of the days of long ago, with their gentle, wrinkled faces and their hair as white as snow. They were "middle-aged" at forty, and at fifty donned lace caps. And at sixty clung to shoulder shawls and loved their little naps.

But I love the modern mother who can share in all the joys, and who understands the problems of her growing girls and boys. She may boast that she is sixty, but her heart is twenty-three. My glorious, bright-eyed mother who is keeping young with me—
Florence Howard Wolcott

MOTHERS' DAY.

Many in this community will enjoy the very great privilege of spending next Sunday with a mother who has been spared to them, while others will be able to remember motherly means of letters or other endearing messages. And there are still others to whom the day will bring only sweet memories of a wonderful mother whose years of tender watchfulness and care have left their impress upon their lives, and whose passing has only strengthened the bonds of love which bind them to the days of long ago.

As grateful children let us take time next Sunday to pay our homage to the memory of mother. If living realize that such a blessing has been bestowed upon you, if she is in the land beyond, unfold memory's scroll and live again in the sweetness of her love. No matter where you are, or what your condition in life may be, you cannot get beyond the great boundaries of her tenderest care.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

"Mothers' Day" will be observed at this church Sunday with appropriate services. In the morning Dr. Jaquess will take for his theme "The World's Greatest Mother," and in the evening "One Young Woman." He is an interesting speaker and always has an inspiring message. There will be special music and all are urged to be present as a fitting tribute to motherhood.

Owing to the storm the meeting of the Women's Union was postponed until next Wednesday afternoon, the 16th. A good attendance is desired at the meeting.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

"How to Keep Good" will be the subject of the Sunday evening sermon and not the morning as advertised. Mothers' Day will be observed Sunday morning and a special program is being prepared for the occasion. The sermon on "Harmony" will be delivered Sunday evening, the 20th. This sermon will be illustrated with a piano and a set of piano tuner's tools. The attendance at all services is very encouraging.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

Look up the Sunday morning Mothers' day program in another column of this paper and everybody come and "Honor Mother" whether in the "Eternal Home" or in our present homes. Service at 10:30.

Sunday school is at 12:00. Some people are getting "summeritis." We fear by last Sunday's reduction of the fourth Commandment which is God's law. It's a sure cure. Our Epworth League was more encouraging last Sunday in attendance. Come again at 8:30.

In the evening "Tired of Home" will be the sermon. Come and receive a welcome.

Next Thursday is family night for the Methodists and all their friends. Pot-luck supper at 6:30. Moving pictures of Washington, D. C., and Florida, with Supt. Helfrich's High school orchestra. A good program and a good time for us all. Dr. Julian S. West of Birmingham, will be the speaker. A small collection to defray expenses of the films. Editor E. E. Brown is our chairman.

THE ROBIN HOOD OF THE OLD TESTAMENT

David—son of Kish—shepherd boy—court musician—outlaw—poet—king and warrior—and having all the personal charm which attracts a national following.

David did not shiver when a bear tried to do away with some of his flock of sheep but fought it and won.

David did not have heart failure when a giant eleven foot tall sneered at him but stepped up and slew the offender.

David could see the beauties of the sea and sky and hear the myriad voices of nature and could translate them into poetry that outlives the centuries.

David made some pretty bad mistakes. He recognized his errors—sought to repair the wrongs—paid his penalty—voiced his experience in verse that has aided untold numbers.

BRILLIANT PROGRAMS FOR ANN ARBOR MAY FESTIVAL.

The thirteenth annual May Festival will take place in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, May 16, 17, 18 and 19, and will consist of six concerts—four evening concerts and two matinees. World famous stars have been engaged to appear as soloists, including Suzanne Keener, soprano; Jeanne Gordon, contralto; Beniamino Gigli, tenor; Giuseppe Danise, baritone; Clarence Whitehill, baritone; Henri Scott, bass, all of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Florence Macbeth, soprano; and Charles Marshall, tenor, of the Chicago Opera association; Martha Addison, contralto, and Arthur Kraft, tenor, renowned American artists, as well as Erna Rubinstein, the distinguished Hungarian violinist, and Ernest Schelling, the well-known master pianist. These artists will appear in miscellaneous programs and as soloists in the great choral work which will be offered.

The programs will be conducted by Gustav Holst, the eminent British composer-conductor, who, accompanied by his wife, has come from London to conduct the American premiere of his "Hymn of Jesus." Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Earl Vincent Moore, conductor of the University Choral Union; and George Oscar Bowen, conductor of the Children's Festival Chorus.

Three important organizations will participate in the University Choral

Union of 350 singers, which is probably the world's largest and oldest student choral society; the Chicago Symphony Orchestra of 70 players, which since 1905 has furnished the orchestral background of the festival; and the Children's Festival Chorus of 500 singers made up of youngsters from the Ann Arbor public schools.

All of these forces will unite in providing musical offerings which will stand out as monumental. Wide variety will be provided but all selections will be limited to those which are standard in character and which appeal to the intelligent rather than to the spectacular.

Copies of the booklet program may be secured by calling at this office.

A BOOK FOR GOLFERS AND SCOTTERS.

We recently received from the Cosmopolitan Book Corporation a little book entitled "So This is Golf," from the pen of Harry Leon Wilson, that every golf enthusiast will enjoy reading, in fact every member of a golfer's family will also enjoy running through its pages. Mr. Wilson tells us that the great Scotch-American game of golf has three grades—superior, golf and subgolf.

"Golf," as Mr. Wilson gently reminds us, "consists of exercise and emotion, in parts of one to nine respectively." As one of the most humorous of American humorists, as the author of "Ruggles of Red Gap" and "Merton of the Movies," Mr. Wilson is under a heavy obligation to "come through" when he tackles such a delicate—yes, such a sacred theme, as golf. And he does come through, as every delighted reader of "So This is Golf" will attest. If you dip into this little book anywhere (it is small enough to slip into a coat pocket, brief enough to be read at one—well, at one standing at the nineteenth hole), I say, if you dip into "So This is Golf" anywhere, you will get a grin, chuckle, or a laugh according to your disposition, and the kind of a game you play. Take a sample anywhere. Take this, for example, which happens to be the way the book begins:

"The man stands on the fifteenth tee. He has just driven a perfectly topped ball, a true ground gripper; it went to the bottom of the deep ditch a hundred yards beyond. This is really more than a ditch, being very deep, with precipitous sides. Anywhere but on a golf course it would be called Devil's Gorge or something scenic, and people would come miles to look at it, and warn the little ones to stay away from the edge."

The man is now speaking. It is more like an oration warm and hoarse with myctive. Standing erect, head up, his chin, like the prow of a battleship, projecting well over the edge of the tee, he hurries heated words down the empty fairway. He can be heard, playing golf "a long" way off, though the words lose their edge on the summer breeze. Good thing we should not be permitted to do more than imagine them in these pages. But you get the effect?

Now—don't you want to go on and finish this little sport classic for yourself?

Redford—Charles William, who lived on the Beech Road, south of Redford was taken ill last Sunday morning and continuing to grow worse was taken on Tuesday morning to a Detroit hospital, where he died soon after arrival there.

BRIGANDS KILL TWO CAPTIVES

RANSOM DEMANDED FOR RELEASE OF PRISONERS AND PARDON FOR BANDITS

YANK TROOPS CHASE OUTLAWS

Two Army Officers in Toils of the Band—Women Freed—Exhausted.

Peking—The Chinese bandits, who in the daring holdup of the Peking express train near Suchow Sunday kidnapped the passengers, many of them Americans, have demanded a ransom of $1,000,000, in addition to a pardon for all involved, according to advices received here.

The diplomatic representatives of the foreign governments are conferring on what action to take. United States Minister Schürman, who went to Tsinanfu is keeping in touch with the diplomatic conference by telegraph.

Reports that the bandits have released all their women captives have not been fully confirmed. It has been reported that the fleeing bandits used their prisoners as shields when fired upon by soldiers.

Unconfirmed reports have been received here that the Suchow train outlaws have killed two of their prisoners.

Approximately 20 foreigners, many of them Americans, including a prominent newspaper publisher and two American army officers, Monday night were in the hands of a gang of Chinese brigands.

Advices received here from several sources indicate that the women among the white passengers were released, but only after they had been beaten and spat upon by their captors in an effort to make them keep up with the fast moving cavalcade as it traveled through the darkness away from the scene of the holdup.

Several of the women are said to have dropped from exhaustion and the outlaws left them where they fell, refusing to permit their husbands to stop and render assistance.

Washington—Joint international intervention in China to rescue the foreigners seized by brigands and to assure future safety of foreigners, may be undertaken, it was learned Monday night, if prevailing fears of the situation in the Oriental republic are confirmed.

American troops stationed in China will participate in any international military operations undertaken and may already have been dispatched at the instance of Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister, to the rescue of the captured Americans.

The situation, it is admitted, is rendered "more serious" by the fact that a British subject is reported to have been killed.

In view of the well known vigorous policy of the British government in punishing outrages against its subjects, it is thought likely that the British diplomatic representative in Peking will press for drastic action.

GERMAN OFFER IS TURNED DOWN

France and Belgium Reject Proposition of Reparations.

Paris—The French and Belgian governments after an exchange of informal views, are unanimous in rejecting the new reparations proposals put forward by Chancellor Cuno of Germany.

The proposals are held to be so inadequate as to offer not even a basis for negotiations, first in view of the lack of guarantees for payment, and second because of the smallness of the sum offered.

The Belgian ambassador, Baron de Gaiffier d'Hestroy, called at the foreign office with his government's decision, and the French cabinet unanimously declared against the proposals within a few moments after Premier Poincaré had read them to the ministers his analysis of the note.

The procedure now it is understood, will be for each government to make its own reply, but they will in effect be identical.

In this they will follow the course pursued in notifying the German government that they were going to occupy the Ruhr.

The indications are that the French government will not collaborate with the British or Italian governments but, jointly with the Belgians, will notify those governments of the contents of the reply to the Germans.

The French note leaves no doubt regarding France's determination not to brook mediation, but to recover her due. The reply is said to explain the reasons for refusal to negotiate by merely refuting the essential passages of Chancellor Cuno's offer with out detailed explanation.

REFORMATION PROMOTED.

Measures to promote the orderly development of the northern part of the state have received final legislative approval. The senate concurred unanimously in the action of the house in passing the McGinnis-Sargent bill to provide a deferred tax on forest growth.

Under the terms of this bill, the owner of any timber lands, or lands chiefly valuable for the growth of timber within this state, may apply to the Commissioner of Agriculture to have such property set apart for the growth of timber. If, after investigation, the application is approved by the Commissioner of Agriculture, the land shall thereafter be taxed at the rate of 5 cents per acre annually.

After a 25 year period the timber would be subject to cutting, under general control of the Commissioner of Agriculture who would guard against wasteful methods. At this time the owner of the timber would be assessed a tax equal to 25% of the stumpage value of the timber cut, to be paid into the state treasury.

which would prevent it from working a hardship on any local taxing unit. Section 6 of the bill provides that "The senate administrative board may, in its discretion advance to the townships in which any forest reserve lands lie, such sums each year out of the general fund of the state as well compensate them for the amount of taxes which would be collectable from such forest reserve lands had they not been registered."

AUTO. WEIGHT TAX BILL DEFEATED.

Defeat of the Smith automobile weight tax bill by a vote of 41 yeas to 56 nays marked the climax of the closing hours of the 52nd session of the Michigan state legislature. The final vote was preceded by one of the most intense and dramatic debates in the history of Michigan's law-making bodies.

Acting under a "call of the house," which prevented any members from leaving the chamber, the fight was waged back and forth for two hours while the members and spectators who packed the galleries and side lines to capacity went without their dinner until 2:30, when the final roll call was taken.

Debate on the bill was tinged more or less with the intense bitterness which was developed among the representatives by the governor's gas tax veto. Rep. Chas. Evans, leader of the "bitter-enders" among the gas tax forces, voiced this sentiment when he said: "This has ceased to be a question of a gas tax or a weight tax. It is now a question of whether or not representative government shall prevail in Michigan."

He said that the eyes of the people from every section of the state were riveted on the actions of the members of this house and declared that the methods used to secure the passage of the weight tax bill endangered the integrity of the state. He voiced the sentiment that when 80 representatives and 19 senators should vote for a measure which they felt that their constituents demanded, it was hardly fitting for the governor to exercise his veto power.

Rep. Evans quoted Sen. Slight's remark that the weight tax bill was "covered in sin and born in iniquity" and declared that the real purpose of the bill was not to raise more revenue but to place the state highway department under the control of the State Administrative Board. Rep. John Espie of Clinton county voiced similar sentiments when he said that to pass this measure would make the state highway commissioner a mere office boy for the administrative board and would assist to build up a more powerful political machine in Michigan.

RESOLUTIONS.
WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has removed our beloved sister, Mrs. May Noble, from our midst, we, members of Mizpah Circle, draft the following Resolutions of love and sympathy:

First: That we, as King's Daughters, feel that in the passing on of this dear sister who has also been our leader, we have lost a valuable and very helpful member.

Second: That we shall always remember her in our work; her gentle nature, generous impulses and loving spirit will be missed as often as her sterling qualities, which we would all do well to imitate.

Third: That her strong character will ever serve as an incentive in all our undertakings, and while we feel deeply our loss, we know she has gone on to higher things, and to a reward she has merited in her useful and well rounded life.

Fourth: That we express to the loved ones who mourn her loss our deepest sympathy in their sorrow.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the records of Mizpah Circle; a copy printed in this local newspaper and a copy given to the bereaved family.

LAKE GIVES UP HAZING VICTIM

HAS BEEN MISSING TWO YEARS—
MOTHER IDENTIFIES SKELE-
TON BY BUCKLE

MURDER ONLY THEORY TENABLE

University Town Is Shocked by Discovery—Student's Associates
Are Sought.

Evansville, Ill.—Student hazing in Northwestern University added a shock to its annals when the skeleton of Leighton Mount, a youth who disappeared in 1921, was found imbedded in an old breakwater here.

Young Mount, a Northwestern student, vanished from his classes in the midst of a spirited controversy over the evils of hazing nearly two years ago. For months it was protested that he voluntarily was abandoning himself because of embarrassment arising out of hazing.

Mount's disappearance followed on the heels of a hazing sensation surrounding the rescue of Arthur P. Persinger, who was bound, head downward to a piling in the lake of Calvary cemetery. It was said at the time that numerous students had been hazed and that Persinger was forgotten in the confusion of class fighting.

There was little to identify it at first. But after the skeleton had been recovered there was exposed on it a silver belt buckle. It bore the letters "L. M."

Mrs. Mount said there could be no question that the buckle and bits of cloth belonged to her son.

The skeleton of young Mount was found under the board surface of the breakwater, 25 feet from its end. A small round hole in the flooring of the breakwater was the only discoverable ingress by which the body of the student could have been pushed into the water below. Thus it was walled between piers of stone. The police and coroners' theory is that Mount's body must have been thrust into its unpropitious grave by persons seeking to hide a possible crime or accident, or if Mount's death was suicide he must have lowered himself into this lake cavern before taking his own life. It was not considered tangible, however, that he killed himself.

Investigation of Mount's student associates began shortly after the identification was accomplished.

The police are insistent that Mount was slain in a student battle.

U. S. Takes Hand in Inquiry Into Florida Convict Abuse.

Tallahassee, Fla.—The Federal Government has stepped into Florida convict flogging affairs, it became known here when Fred Cubberly, United States district attorney, announced he had under consideration making the leasing of Ned Thompson, 65-year-old Negro by J. R. Jones, deposed sheriff of Leon County, to the Putnam Lumber Co., a subject of a Federal Grand Jury investigation.

An agent of the Department of Justice arrived here several days ago and conducted an inquiry as to whether Thompson was held in peonage. He made a report to Mr. Cubberly, who is now laying plans to present the matter to the grand jury, which convenes in Pensacola in May.

Thompson, it is contended, died in the Leon County Jail after having been leased to the Putnam Lumber Co. and returned by the concern because he was not physically fit to perform hard labor.

Federal officials are in possession of evidence, they declare, tending to show that death was due to excessive flogging he received at the lease camp before being rejected.

There was no charge against the aged Negro at the time he was sent to the camp of the lumber company.

SUICIDE HOAX KILLS HUSBAND

Casa Unique in Medical Annals,
Declare Doctors

Buhl, Minn.—Mrs. Carl Nelson, whose suicide hoax killed her husband, early Sunday morning, has given her month-old baby the name Carl had wanted.

Nelson died of shock when he believed his wife had taken poison. Examining physicians said the case was unequalled in history.

The couple, left their four babies at home and went to a dance. They quarreled on the way home.

Mrs. Nelson went to the kitchen and emptied a bottle of lysol in the sink. As her husband came in she placed the empty bottle to her lips as if she had drunk it. It burned her lips and she fainted.

Nelson, believing her dying, tried to pour milk down her throat. He collapsed on the floor at her side. A postmortem examination convinced Dr. Shaw and Dr. S. M. Johnson he died from shock. His lungs were partly paralyzed, they said, and he failed to respond to artificial respiration.

"It is a plain case. He was frightened to death," said Dr. Shaw. "I know of no similar case in medical annals."

Sheila's Return Home

By ANNE WHITFIELD

(© 1922 Western Newspaper Union.)

Dan Connor came home from work. He flung open the door of his shack, laughed bitterly as he hung up his hat, switched on the electric light, and at once went to the cot in the corner.

Mrs. Blayds, who looked after little Kitten in the daytime, had just left. Kitten was sitting in her cot as good as gold, playing with the doll Dan had bought her. She looked up at her father.

"Coo-ooo-ooo," she said.

Dan watched the little mite and laughed again more bitterly. A puzzled look came over the little girl's face.

"Mamma," she whimpered.

"She won't forget!" said Dan. "By and by, Kitten, darling."

He gave her bread and milk and watched her eat it. He beat up the pillow. Kitten was asleep in a moment. There came a tap at the door. Big Bill Peters came in.

"Hello, Bill!" said Dan. "Speak easy. The kid's asleep."

Big Bill's rumble had never awakened Kitten. There was something very gentle about the big man, despite his size. He sat down on a chair, hanging his hat on the back.

"You'll have to get the child adopted, Dan," he said.

Dan looked at him. "I won't do it, Mrs. Blayds looked after her."

"Tut, man, that's no way to bring up a kid! It's for her sake, I mean, unless your wife—"

Dan raised his hand. "I've heard enough about her," he said.

"You've had no news for three months now?"

"Nor hope I ever will."

Big Bill laid a hand on his shoulder. "You know Sheila and Michael Sullivan had been sweethearts in the old country. He was a black-hearted beast but just the kind to fascinate a girl like Sheila. She's weak."

"Weak and bad," muttered Dan.

"She's sure to come back. Wouldn't you forgive her for the kid's sake?"

"I'll never have her in my house again," Bill said.

"Suppose she wanted to take the kid away?"

"She'll never get her."

"You don't need to worry, Dan," said Big Bill. "She'll never come here again."

"What'd she mean?" Dan started at him. "You've heard something?" She said she isn't—"

Big Bill nodded. "Go easy, lad," he said. "She died of pneumonia in Chicago. That scoundrel had left her. She was poor. Her last words were about you, asking if you'd forgive. 'Twas Mrs. O'Reilly had the news of it.'"

Dan began rocking himself back and forth in the chair. "Sheila dead," he muttered. "Poor little Sheila. You're sure, Bill?"

"Dead sure," said Bill. "So you don't have to worry for fear she'll be coming back to you. I wanted to break the news as best I could seeing as it was me brought you and her together. And do you remember that time you quarreled, you both asked me always to be your friend whatever happened, and to do the best I could for you?"

"Poor little girl," muttered Dan. "I guess I see how she could have fallen for that blackguard, Bill. It makes such a difference when she's dead, don't it?"

"It oughtn't to," said Bill gently. "That's the way we misjudge. Death oughtn't to make no difference. You should have forgiven her in your heart. Women are weak things, Dan, not like us, though we men are weak enough God knows."

"Maybe I would have gotten over it," admitted Dan. "But it was hard, bitter hard and I loved her."

A sob choked him. "Poor little Sheila! I wonder if it'd make her feel better to know I've forgiven her."

"Sure," said Big Bill. "That's the spirit, lad. And so the past is past, and you don't have to worry no more."

He got up softly and stretched out his hand.

"Well, so long, Dan," he said.

He opened the door. A blast of cold air rushed in. Some one was standing outside, a woman, hooded and cloaked.

"Sheila!"

The cry that broke from Dan's throat was like that of a man in mortal pain.

Big Bill put his arm round Sheila's waist and led her into the house.

"Dan," he said in his gentle voice, "you've forgiven the dead. Forgive the living, then, for Kitten's sake."

Dan raised Sheila's hand to his lips. "Let's both forgive," he stammered, and Big Bill closed the door upon them.

Old Billingsgate.

Billingsgate, England, is principally associated in the public mind with the great fish market—and language.

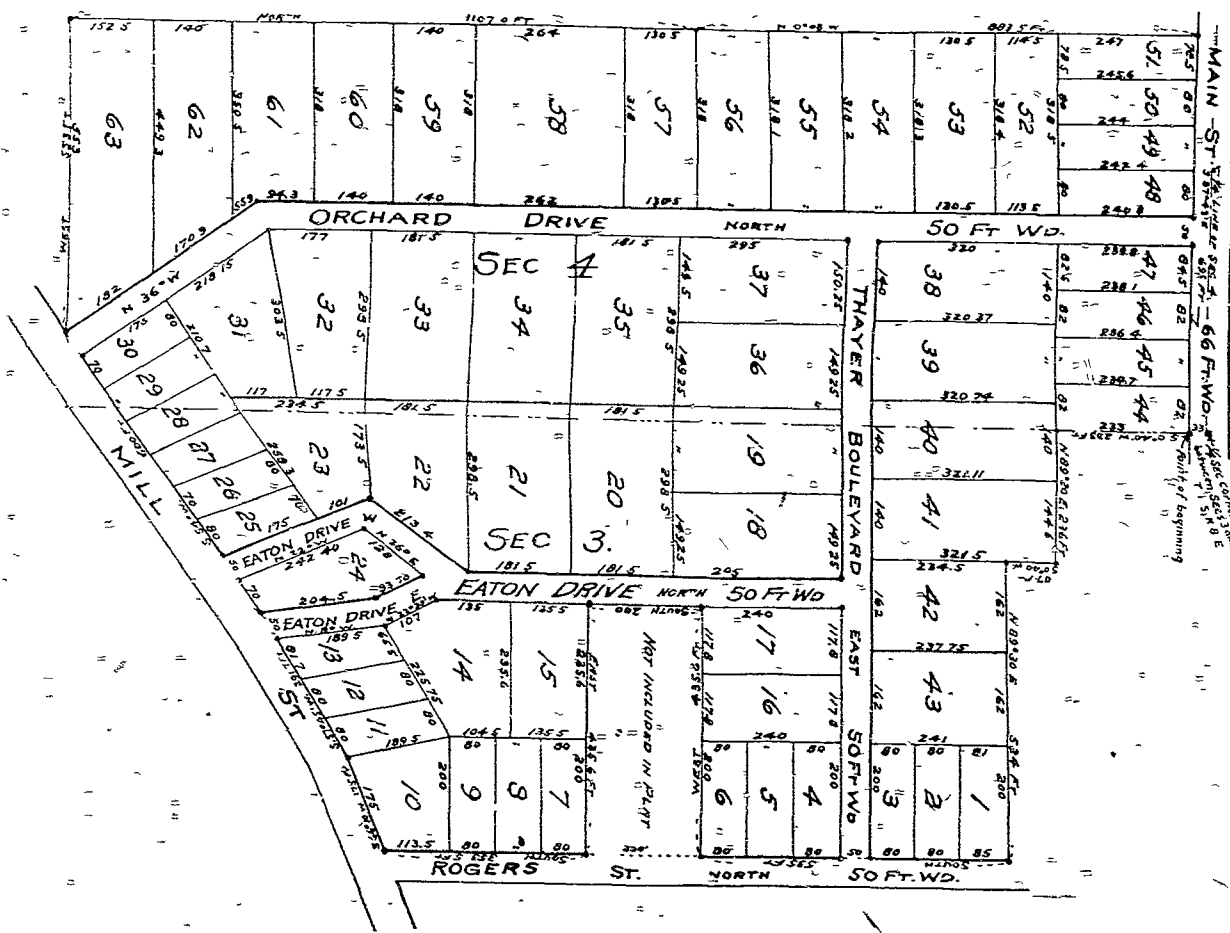

In the old days when fish was landed at the quayside and women ("fishwives") were largely engaged in the trade the language, and the language among them were equally bitter. And puns show how masculine and punacious were the women. They swam, and they fought to such purpose that the language of Billingsgate became a by-word.

Billingsgate as a market for fish goes back as early as to the time of Ethelred 979, for it is upon record that he made a law granting exemption to men of Rouen who brought wine and large fish to Elynggesgate.

The Shoplifters' Decoy

By JOHN PALMER

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Say! See that woman!" whispered the little man with the dented derby, in the jewelry department of Hutchinson's, the big department store.

It was not the part where thousand-dollar rings and twenty-thousand-dollar necklaces are displayed in glass cases and watched over by lynx-eyed attendants, but there were a number of good gold bracelet watches and rings with real stones lying handily about.

The woman was walking slowly along the store. She was coming to the jewelry. She was passing the silks. Deftly she picked up a half-dozen fine silk handkerchiefs, fumbled with them, signed, and let them go.

Then, opening her fur coat, she displayed, just for a moment, an array of hooks and pockets inside, where neither hooks nor pockets ought to have been.

All the crowd was observing her. The store detective was already on the spot. And so eager was everybody to see something happen that they all pretended not to be looking at her.

At the end of the silks she whipped up six pairs of silk stockings, made as if to thrust them under her cloak, and then replaced them.

A whisper of excitement went up from the crowd. "A kleptomaniac," muttered the little man with the dented derby. The store detective tried to look as inconspicuous as possible. The clerk at the jewelry counter were dreadfully alert.

"Funny, that impulse to take things," said the little man. "If she was a poor woman, now, it would go harder with her. She'll not be able to resist those watches; you take my word for it."

The woman in the fur cloak, quite unconscious of the interest that she was arousing, came to the jewelry counter.

"I want to see some rings," she said. "Yes, madam," answered the clerk, watching the store detective out of the tail of his eye. "About what price, madam?"

"Oh, seventy-five to a hundred dollars," answered the woman.

The clerk showed her some things; the other clerk drew near, the store detective pretended to be a customer, the man in the dented derby had his hands in his pockets and whistled.

The tiny of this thronged dubious woman picked up several, examined them.

"I don't think," she began.

The store detective stepped up. "Pardon me, madam, but I must ask you to step into the office."

"What do you mean? Who are you?" the woman flared up.

"I must respectfully ask you to submit to be searched, madam. There are two rings missing from that tray."

"Three," said the clerk with the tray.

"Quite so," said the store detective. The woman strode six paces along the counter. The detective, bland and imperturbable, stopped her by standing immediately in front of her. All about there was a gaping crowd. The clerk leaned forward intently, watching her.

"Unless you are willing to submit to a search, madam, I must call the police."

The woman struggled. Her fur coat opened, disclosing the looks and pockets. The pockets were filled with a miscellany of objects.

"For heaven's sake don't arrest me! I was a fool, I know. I was tempted so badly. What right have you to expose goods of such value and tempt people to steal?"

The detective led her away. In the room of the general manager a woman detective subjected her to a rigorous examination. She was puzzled.

"I haven't found the rings you spoke of," she said to the manager and the detective. "And these goods—well, they ain't ours."

"From some other store, I expect," said the detective.

"Well what are you going to do about it now?" sneered the woman.

"Madam, please remember you have confessed."

"Say, are you going to let me go, or am I going to bring a charge of false imprisonment?"

There was nothing to say to that. They stood aside, and the woman swept to the elevator and passed down.

"I know her face; she's an old hand," said the detective, puzzled.

The manager of the jewelry department came running up. "They've got away with five thousand dollars' worth," he stammered. "Jings—watches—it was a plant. That woman didn't take a thing. It was the little man with the dented derby."

Right-handedness. The average man today is right-handed. Estimates differ regarding the prevalence of left-handedness. Probably not over five persons in a hundred are left-handed. Criminologists find the percentage among criminals and epileptics three to six times as great.

The ancients also were right-handed. In Judges 20:15, it is stated that out of 26,700 warriors only 700 were left-handed, a percentage of 2.62. A study of the tools of cave men of the Stone Age shows them to have been right-handed in the proportion of 146 to 133. Both hands seemed to have had equal preference—a condition which changed with the ushering in of the Bronze Age, when right-handedness came to the fore.

Northville School Notes.

Notice to the Public: Beginning with the first of the present week a safety program was put into effect which will insure the safety of the little ones crossing the main street at the school house corner. The teachers in charge of the Kindergarten, First, Second and Third grades are daily giving their pupils instructions in crossing this dangerous street and are assisting the children across. The following teachers are in charge: Dorothy Taylor, Kindergarten; Fay Christ, First grade; Jane Elder, Second grade; Lillian Lyke, Second and Third grade. Arrangements have also been made with the Boy Scouts who will be stationed at the Turner corner each morning from eight to eight-thirty and each noon from twelve-thirty to twelve-thirty to assist any of the children from the Northside in crossing. A special letter is being sent from the superintendent's office this week to the parents of the children in these grades requesting their co-operation and asking that their children be instructed at home to cross the main street only at the corner guarded by Boy Scouts. James Wood, assistant Scout master, has the control of these boys and has detailed the following boys to handle the work for the present: Lawrence LeFevre and William Allen. Cars belonging to pupils and teachers will not be allowed to cross the street during the safety campaign.

The superintendent will be very glad to receive suggestions in the handling of this problem at all times.

A. J. HELFRICH, Supt.

The Senior class of 1923 is composed of twenty-seven members, seventeen boys and ten girls. The annual commencement will take place Wednesday evening, June 20th. Prof. Wilber of the State Normal college will deliver the address.

Don't forget the Senior prom which takes place this (Friday) evening. Finzel's orchestra of Detroit has been engaged. The Seniors are making elaborate decorations and the event which is the last social event of the current school year, will be marked by the appearance of the class of '23.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bryan are chaperones and will leave the grand march at 10 o'clock.

Remember the Puppets which is being put on by the Junior class the night of May 25th. This is a real treat and the popular price of 25c and 35c should insure a good attendance.

Parents are cautioned to see that their children get to school on time. It is a very serious handicap to both the child and the school to have this all important training of their lives neglected.

Wednesday May 16th, the Fifth and Sixth grades will present a play "The King of Fools" in the High school auditorium at 3 o'clock sharp. The play will be very instructive as well as entertaining. It consists of folk dancing, singing, gymnastic stunts and instrumental numbers. The costumes are also especially attractive. All parents are urged to come. No admission.

The High school orchestra are scheduled for two engagements within the next two weeks.

Last week was a very successful one for the base-ball team. Dearborn was defeated on Tuesday by a score of 7-6 and Redford on Thursday by a score of 13-12 in a very hard fought game. The previous week our boys defeated Wayne by a score of 21-6. We meet Dearborn again this week at Dearborn and it is expected that we will have a hard team to conquer on their home grounds and with the local support. Dearborn is regarded as the strongest team that we have yet to meet but the boys have but one word in their hearts—and that is "victory." The players on the squad are as follows: Harry German, v. Howard Helfrich, c; James Wood, 1b; Glenn Hammond, 2b; Edward Riley, 3b; Ralph Wood, ss; field Carlos Hall, Jernett Young, Clifford LeFevre, Raymond Watts, Wm. Markham, Lyle Kestel, Lyle Kestel, is captain of the team.

MUST NOT CONNECT WITH VILLAGE SEWERS.

Complaints have been made to members of the Village Council and to the sewer committee, especially to the effect that certain citizens of Northville are connecting their drains and sewers with the village sewer system. Inasmuch as the sewer system has not yet been accepted by the village this practice cannot be permitted and such connections are in direct violation of the provisions of the sewer ordinance and subject the offenders to heavy fines and penalties.

No connection can be made even after the system has been officially accepted by the village. A permit to connect with the sewer system has been made in proper form and the payment of a certain stipulated fee. The village marshal has been instructed to disconnect all connections that have thus far been made. When the sewer system has been accepted due notice will be given and proper blanks for applications will be provided. Until that time no connections can be permitted.

THE SEWER COMMITTEE, Village of Northville.

Clean-up Week

May 14th to 19th
Let's Make Northville Clean

Next week, from Monday morning until Saturday night, has been designated Clean-Up Week in Northville and it is the desire of the Village Health Department, as it should be of all our citizens, to give the old home town a thorough cleaning during that period.

Rubbish of all kinds—except ashes—will be carted away if placed in boxes or barrels at the street curbs. Gather up all the old cans, bottles and other accumulations of the winter months and have them carted away.

Clean the front yards and the back yards and do not forget the cellars.

Cleanliness insures good health both for yourself and your neighbors.

Let it be said of Northville that we have no old unclean or unsightly places this year.

Remember next week, and do not wait until the last of the week. Start to clean Monday and keep at the job until your premises are cleaned up.

One unsightly spot will detract from all the attractive ones, so let us make this a real community effort—everybody clean their premises, whether they own them or rent them.

GEORGE LORD GIVEN BEXTON'S PLACE.

Governor Groesbeck made a very wise appointment when he named George Lord of Detroit as a member of the state board of tax commissioners to succeed C. R. Beaton, deceased. Mr. Lord is eminently qualified for the position and will bring to his new office a wide experience in tax matters.

Frank H. Jones of Wayne and Henry A. Dickson of Detroit were named as members of the Wayne county jury commission.

SALEM MAN DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

John VanSickle died very suddenly at the home of his son Thursday evening. He seemed as well as usual coming to Salem with his son, Chas., after supper but on their return home he was taken very ill and they stopped by the roadside, but he gradually grew worse so they returned home and he passed away in about an hour after he reached home. He leaves two sons—a brother and a wide circle of friends and neighbors whose friendship he cherished. Funeral services were held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and were in charge of Rev. J. Halliday—South Lyon Herald.

TOLEDO TRANSPORTATION CLUB ELECTS L. G. MACOMBER PRESIDENT FOR YEAR.

Determination to make the Toledo Transportation club one of the essential factors in the business life of Toledo was the keynote of reports made by L. G. Macomber, president of the club, at the annual meeting of the club held at the Chamber of Commerce after his election as president of the club at the Hotel Salsar last night.

Mr. Macomber was president during 1912-13 and since that time has been a leader in traffic matters throughout the state.

He is now serving his second term as president of the Ohio Industrial Traffic league and has taken part in a number of big national transportation issues in the last few years.

The Transportation club was formed in 1905 and has grown to include 250 members. It is the common ground for social and educational purposes of the industrial traffic men and railroad men in operating commercial and other branches of service.

The club was the first to adopt the noonday luncheon plan of meetings and monthly meetings with educational talks. The war, however, seriously interfered with this plan and emphasis has been given to the social side only.

Mr. Macomber plans to go back to the pre-war educational meetings, discuss some of the big problems of railroad legislation, car distribution and railroad consolidation, and make the reorganization function in the old way of bringing the shippers and railroad men together for mutual benefits—Toledo Ohio Times.

MISS BONSTELLE AT THE GARRICK.

Miss Bonstelle and her associates will begin the 14th annual season of the Bonstelle Company at the Garrick theatre next Monday night, offering for the first week the Gladys Unger satirical comedy "The Goldfish," which served Marjorie Rambeau as a starring vehicle.

"The Goldfish" proved one of the most satisfying bills that Miss Bonstelle offered in Providence last season and her interpretation of the leading role differs from that of Miss Rambeau considerable interest is attached to the local presentation. The story of "The Goldfish" concerns a girl who leaves husband after husband until she disposes of three, in order to obtain wealth, social position and power. All are within her grasp when she suddenly awakens to the fact that she is missing the greatest thing in life—love, which only youth can give in its fullest measure. It is a clever comedy, sparkling in its lines and situations and revealing the sham of hypocrisy of many so-called social customs and marriages. It should provide Miss Bonstelle a splendid opportunity and the male members of her company are called upon for character interpretation.

The J. L. Hudson Co. concert band and the women's quartet, the male quartet, Ernest Lindemeyer, cornet soloist, Fred Paine, xylophone soloist, with Harrison Burch, accompanist, gave a most delightful concert at the High school auditorium Thursday forenoon. In the afternoon the organization appeared in Plymouth.

Next week, beginning Monday, and closing Saturday, will be clean-up week in Northville and all citizens are urged to co-operate with the village authorities in making Northville's alleys, back yards cellars and front yards clean. Nothing detracts more from the appearance of a place than a lot of rubbish. Let's do a thorough job of it.

The spring brought with it bright spring blossoms made a beautiful sight Wednesday morning to those who enjoy that kind of a combination. Snow followed a rain Tuesday afternoon and house roofs and walks were covered. Wednesday morning snow began falling about seven o'clock and the storm continued nearly all day. Some Northville people who spent the winter in Florida were discovered studying automobile maps along about noon.

Merrill Kilgore, the little five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kilgore, recent Northville residents, passed away last week at their home on Randolph street. The little fellow ran caught cold on the journey here, being afflicted with measles which proved fatal. The funeral was held on Saturday, Rev. Wm. Richards officiating. The burial was in Rural Hill cemetery.
