WARREN G. HARDING

PROCLAMATION

To the People of the Village of Northville:—
WHEREAS We have been suddenly deprived of our great and good leader, President Warren G. Harding and whereas his death is a personal loss to every one of our citizens, —

THEREFORE, I, Charles A. Dolph, President of the Village of Northville, do hereby proclaim a period from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock p. m., Friday, August 10, 1923, when all persons shall pause from their labor to do silent honor to the memory of our departed president.

CHARLES A. DOLPH,
President of the Village of Northville

NORTHVILLE HELD APPROPRIATE SERVICES

The residents of Northville were not behind the other towns of the nation in gathering for religious worship on Sunday to pay their last respect to our late President Harding. All the churches were well represented at the morning service.

Robert MacRae filled the place of his father representing the Baptist church. He gave the invocation and later spoke feelingly of the President, and his ideal manhood before the nation. He said we cannot say of President Harding the reference Shakespeare made of Caesar, "The evil men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones," but the good of our late President will always live after him.

Mr. Charles Dubuar represented the Presbyterian Church and said he was glad to pay homage from the standpoint of an American citizen. He emphasized that all true Americans should take notice of many expressions the late President made in his addresses, making a plea for more vital religion; the deepening of the spirit of Christ in all our transactions.

The old familiar hymns were sang, "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer my God to Thee." Mrs. John Tinham pealed forth from the organ the opening piece "Polonella March" concluding the service with "Chopin's Funeral March."

The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Wm. Richards, taking his text from Duet: Chapter 34 verse 5 "So Moses the servant of the Lord died in the land of Moab according to the word of the Lord."

Speaking from this passage he said in Old Testament history there is no historic figure more noble than the ancient lawgiver Moses. Through the centuries he stands an undiminished figure, distinct and as individual as if living yesterday. No event in history is more touching than his death. He bore the burdens of state, he shaped the nation of Israel, filled out the religious and civic policy, administered their laws, guided their steps, dwelt with them in all their journeys, mourned in their afflictions until they reached their place where God intended them to be. This man led the greatest nations of his day, chosen by God to fulfil His purpose in the world.

Then came the word of the Lord to him to go no further. Others must take up the task God asked him to lay down, and with sad resignation his work was done.

The spirit of this Statesman has lived in the heart of many a leader of our nation. And we can say to-day it was the possession of President Harding.

No one expected when in the midst of the "deep interest" he had in his nation, and the peculiar interest he had in that most obscure portion of our national life that demanded his trip to Alaska, that the speeches he made along the continent, were to be his final words of advice. And begged us as a people to cherish for our guidance, and uplift of our country.

Neither did he think that his end was so near to prevent him to prove those things in his administrative line.

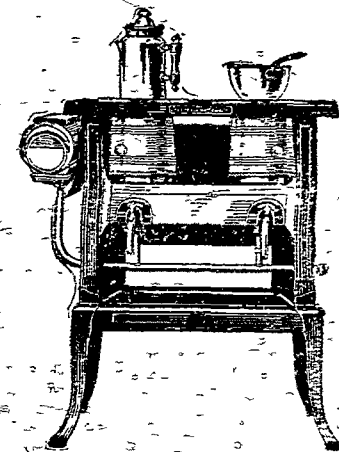

Those speeches were the summing up of the ideals and the character that reveal him as a great man among the great of our nation. Mark them well at all occasions before congress, in the open air among his countrymen, there was no childish note or bitter sarcasm that would disqualify our feelings of deepest regard as we think of the sad procession bearing his mortal remains across our continent. He lived the rules he bid men to live. His addresses had a deep consecrated note. No man could fail to know in "whom he put his trust." If you came in contact with him his very countenance would impress you with that thought.

It seems pompous sometimes for the one in the common routine of life to have anything to say about meeting a dignitary. But I shall never forget however, unimportant this may be in your hearing the warm cordial greeting at the White House eighteen months ago. The grasp of the hand, kindly glance, and the interesting exchange of words from this chief executive, have a deeper emphasis for

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE SETS DAY OF MOURNING

Thousands Paid Tribute to Memory of Warren G. Harding as They Passed by the Bier in Rotunda of Capitol.

Washington—Final arrangements for the body of Warren G. Harding at the nation's capital Tuesday, were announced by President Coolidge, who has taken personal charge of the funeral of his dead chief.

The president left the temporary White House, accompanied by his military aide, Colonel E. O. Sherrill, to meet the funeral train which arrived here late Tuesday.

Following the president were two automobiles, the first bearing Senator Cummins, of Iowa, president pro tem of the senate, and representing congress and the other Chief Justice Taft, representing the judiciary of the nation.

A military escort composed of the second squadron of the Third Cavalry and one battery of the Sixth field artillery, formed at the Union station before the arrival of the train. The casket of the dead president was placed on the artillery caisson and borne to the White House.

The route followed from Washington to Marion after the state funeral in the Capital rotunda Wednesday was by way of Baltimore, York, Pa., Harrisburg, Scranton, Johnstown, Pittsburgh and Mansfield, O.

Once in Marion the known desire of the late President for simple funeral and burial services was strictly adhered to. This desire was often expressed by Mr. Harding to his wife and Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, his personal physician, on several occasions since he entered the White House.

The services Wednesday were conducted in the same way as those which were held for President McKinley. This was the wish of Mrs. Harding and was decided upon in San Francisco, after a conference of the Cabinet officers who were present at that time and Elmer Dover, former assistant secretary of the Treasury who had charge of the program followed in the Washington services when Mr. McKinley lay in state in the Capitol rotunda before the trip to Canton, O., was made.

Hundreds of thousands viewed the body as it lay in state in the rotunda of the capital.

The funeral train was in every sense all that the name implies. It was silent, deadly so. The atmosphere of happiness and comradeship that filled its coaches on the trip West was gone. Only the newspaper men and their typewriter keys, clicking news of the train, broke the complete silence.

Every two hours a detail of four men, representing the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, passed through the coaches to relieve as many of their comrades on death watch in the car where the casket rested. The curtains there were raised high at the windows. Persons who gathered at every point of the run across the states saw a picture through the windows of the rear car, the first glimpse of which caused many of them to turn away and others to bring forth their handkerchiefs, but to wipe away tears which could not be suppressed or concealed.

Never was there higher tribute paid to any of the nation's dead than was given by these men, women and children of the states traversed who collected along the route from each desert settlement, ranch house, town and city nearby.

The body of the nation's dead leader passed through the country much as the funeral procession of the Unknown Soldier passed through the streets of Washington from the Capitol to Arlington. The people who saw the train were as deeply moved as those who witnessed the procession in Washington. They were moved by the same feeling of devotion and into the same silence, the same postures, standings, heads bowed and uncovered.

President Calvin Coolidge in his first proclamation, issued Saturday, declared Friday, Aug. 10, a day of national mourning for the late President Warren G. Harding. On that day, he said, the people should gather in their respective places of worship and engage in ceremonies fitting the occasion.

The funeral Friday morning will be at Dr. Harding's home the home of the late president having passed into other hands soon after Mr. Harding went to the White House.

The late president is to be buried in the Harding plot in Marion cemetery beside the bodies of his mother and sister, who died in 1910 and 1913.

FORESTERS 20, FRANKLIN 5.

Franklin base ball team came over to our village Sunday to take a lacing in ball that will be remembered for a long time.

The visitors ran in three scores the first inning which gave them an idea they had a chance to win a game from Northville.

In the next eight innings, they obtained but two tallies and seemed satisfied to gather in the two more.

The real facts are that they should have been glad to even tally a score. Had air tight ball been played goose eggs could have been sold by the three quarter dozen, nine Northville had two bad innings while Franklin had several questionable ones.

Two pitchers of the visitors were batted very freely, one a right hander and the other a left hander. It was but a nice workout for the two local pitchers but it makes a disinterested game not only for the spectators but for the winning team itself.

Our home team plays Monroe at Carleton Sunday. It is the first game staged at Carleton this season and the fans in that vicinity are waiting with interest to see the Greening Nursery club of Monroe cross bats with the Northville Foresters.

LETTER FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA

Alvin Inn, Altn, B. C.
July 27th, 1923.

Dear Mr. Brown: The last letter of our trip I wrote you was up to Lake Lem. From there we started for Vancouver.

We passed many glaciers and then came up to the Great Divide, (this being the highest point with a mountain stream flowing over it divided the stream). One branch goes east and the other goes west or in other words, some water runs into the Atlantic ocean and the some into the Pacific.

Then we went through the Spiral tunnel which is under a mountain. We came out right under from where we started. Later we went under another tunnel which is under a very large mountain. It was five miles long and took eighteen minutes to run through it. It took five years to build at a cost of $10,000,000. Then we crossed the highest C. P. R. bridge which was 320 feet high. Later we crossed the Albert canyon. That was a great sight. On July 17th, we arrived in Vancouver. We visited the city and the wonderful parks the first day.

The next day we saw the lumber camps, doing everything from the sawing down trees to the packing of beams, shingles, veneer, etc. This country has a very mild climate but very damp.

At night we took the steamer Princess Charlotte for Skagway, Alaska, stopping at different points for a few hours, and saw Indian cemeteries with their totem poles, fish-packing houses and Salmon factories. Halibuts are mostly packed in ice, froze, and then shipped to the eastern states.

I saw some that were five feet long weighing on an average of 300 pounds each. At the Salmon factory I saw a pile of Salmon about five feet high and about twenty foot in diameter. These fish average about ten pounds each.

On July 21st we saw the great Taku Glacier, which is about one and one-half miles wide.

July 22nd we landed in Skagway. From there we took the train to White Pass, Yukon territory. This was the farthest northern point we reached. Just now it is very dry and hot here. It didn't get dark until about twelve o'clock, and the sun was up at three in the morning.

On June 21st these people are able to play tennis at midnight. In the winter time it is just the contrary. It gets about sixty below zero for two weeks steady.

July 23rd we reached Altn, staying for four days. Here we saw large silver fox farms. We took a boat trip to a large glacier which is sixty by ninety miles. Just when we got there a large piece of ice fell off into the water below. It sounded like ten thunders.

Yesterday we visited a gold mine. We all found some but I didn't find very much. Although some boys found small nuggets. Tonight we leave for home through Seattle, Portland and the western states.

Respectfully yours,

MILTON SCHUTE.

The New Hupmobile

Longer—Larger—More Powerful
A Wonder in Performance

In this new car, Hupmobile far excels its own previous high mark. Hupmobile has always been top value in any market—this car is even better than any that has gone before.

Its wheelbase is longer. Its body designs are new and more roomy. Its beauty is greater. Its comfort and convenience and easy riding are still greater factors.

Mechanically, the new Hupmobile embodies noteworthy changes and improvements which evidence themselves in the finest kind of performance.

Where the Hupmobile was powerful before, this new car is more powerful. Where it was quick and smooth in its action, this new car is even more quick and smooth.

The net of all that can be said about the new Hupmobile is that it outdoes and outperforms all previous models, splendid as they were.

No one but Hupmobile owners themselves, perhaps, fully appreciate what this means. They know the Hupmobile, and how much better it customarily does all the things that are asked of a motor car.

Scores of them have seen the new Hupmobile and have driven it. In not a single instance did these experienced Hupmobile partisans say anything but that the new Hupmobile more than fulfills every promise made for it.

Whether or not you are a Hupmobile owner, it behooves you to see for yourself how wonderfully this new Hupmobile performs, how comfortable it is, how smoothly and evenly it runs at all speeds and every speed.

The new Hupmobile is here, awaiting the inspection and trial drive which we can safely promise will be a new high point in your motoring experience.

STATE TO FIGHT "LAND SHARKS"

New Law Enforcement Aimed To Balk Sales of Sand Dunes as Farms.

Lansing—State officials prepared to take the first steps toward putting out of business the "land sharks" of Chicago and other big cities who for years have exploited homeseekers by the sale of worthless sand land in northern Michigan.

Plans for the drive for the elimination of unscrupulous land colonization companies were laid at a meeting of the new land commission. The commission will not be legally a state organization until September 1. The law passed by the last legislature authorizing the formation of such a commission becomes effective at that date.

Headed by L. Whitney Watkins, state commissioner of agriculture, the commission is composed of R. S. Shaw, acting head of the M. A. C., and R. A. Smith, state geologist.

Under the new law people owning land in any part of the state can have it examined and certified by the state as to its qualifications for agricultural or other purposes.

The state will then advertise the land in centers where homeseekers are located and give the state's guarantee as to its value.

Only certified land will be recognized by the commission.

Widespread advertising of the fact that the state stands willing to inspect any land free of charge will cause prospective purchasers to demand that the land they intend buying be passed on by the commission.

In this manner, the department of agriculture believes, the wholesale colonization schemes, such as have been so frequent in Chicago, will become impossible.

GRAIN STORAGE CREDIT READY

U. S. Prepared to Give Farmers Advances on White in Warehouses.

Washington—The government machinery is now "all set" to give farmers credit on grain stored in farm warehouses. Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared upon receipt of a letter from Assistant Secretary of Agriculture C. W. Pugsley outlining a plan for farm storage of wheat.

He said that this plan is practically identical with that which the American Farm Bureau Federation has claimed to be entirely feasible and practical under the intermediate credits act and the revised federal warehouse act.

"The next move is up to the farmers," said Mr. Silver, "the farm loan board which administers the intermediate credits act has notified the 12 intermediate credit regional banks to accept warehouse receipts on wheat in warehouses approved by the department of agriculture."

Now the department of agriculture points to a very easy method of complying with its requirements and storing wheat on farms.

An individual or an association or partnership desiring to enter the public warehouse business and which can meet the requirements may be licensed under the act.

A plan for farm storage within the law is among the following lines. A number of farmers in a community might form a corporation organization.

"The various farm storages might then be leased or sold to the corporation. The corporation could then operate the various units as a public warehousing system."

Drowns in 2 Feet of Water.

GEORGE W. DICKINSON

George W. Dickinson, as secretary-manager, is the active head of Michigan's $5,000,000 state fair. Since Mr. Dickinson took over the reins the fair has left a state of near bankruptcy and has shown a substantial profit each year. The result has been that the fair has had money to expend and that its credit has become so good that it will be an easy matter this year to dispose of the additional $1,000,000 bonds for expansion, authorized by the legislature. The fair at Detroit this year will run from August 31 to September 9.

BIG NEW STAND FOR STATE FAIR

STRUCTURE IS PLANNED WHICH WILL SEAT 8,000 PERSONS

Among the $1,000,000 worth of improvements that will be made at the great $5,000,000 Michigan State Fair, which will be held at Detroit August 31 to September 9, this year, will be a new grand stand that will seat 8,000 persons.

This great structure will enable many more than usual to view the great events such as the horse races, the automobile races, the big fireworks demonstrations and other contemplated features such as ball games and the like.

This place, where there are two splendid race tracks—mile and half mile—in full view of the entire audience and the new giant coliseum which will hold about 18,000 persons are the great general gathering places of the hosts of visitors who annually come to this the nation's greatest exposition.

Hence, it is the desire of the secretary-manager, George W. Dickinson, and the members of the board to make comfortable accommodations at these points for as many persons as possible so that all visitors to the fair may view the costly attractions that have been arranged for their benefit and amusement.

Early indications are that there will be held at these two points in the fair grounds certain great special events that many additional thousands are expected to come from near and far to witness. Efforts are being made to bring to these events men of great national prominence and entertainments of nation-wide popularity.

STATE FAIR TO BOOST HORSES

BIG INCREASE IN PREMIUMS ANNOUNCED BY MANAGER DICKINSON

Horse lovers of Michigan have received with pleasure the announcement of George W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the Michigan State Fair, that at this year's $5,000,000 exposition in Detroit, August 31 to September 9, horses are going to receive more attention than ever before.

Premiums of $42,788 will be given this year to the prize winning horses as compared with $17,000 last year.

All classes of horses will enjoy a part in this department of the nation's greatest show event. The classes that have been represented in previous years will all be present again as well as new entries.

Extensions and additions being made under the $1,000,000 bond issue will make it possible to accommodate a number of entries so large that it will probably be the greatest horse exhibition ever seen in the United States. But if the anticipated rush occurs even the great space allotted may prove too small. Early entries therefore will be to the interest of all concerned.

ART BUILDING AT FAIR

Fifty thousand dollars will be spent on an Art Building by the Michigan State Fair to encourage the arts.

Novi News.

David Monahan has gone north for hay fever.

J. L. Munro returned last Wednesday from Ray, Indiana.

Robert Harmon of St. Johns visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. Alice Jones went to Pontiac Tuesday to consult a doctor.

Miss Bernadine VerDun has returned from her Detroit visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gow were over Sunday guests of relatives at Choc.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Root attended the Ganga picnic at Lapeer last week Tuesday.

Friends from near Grand Island were entertained at the E. J. VerDun home Monday.

Remember the entertainment at the Baptist church this (Friday) evening at 8:00 o'clock.

The people of Novi were very appreciative for the delightful shower Tuesday evening.

Miss Emma Harding of St. Louis, Mo., visited her sister, Mrs. Burton Munro, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Woodruff of Detroit spent Saturday night and Sunday at the former's home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson of Hudson spent last week with the former's sister, Mrs. F. D. Clark.

J. L. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Munro and family spent the week-end with relatives near St. Johns.

There was a large attendance at the Sunday school picnic at Island Lake on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rice and son and Mrs. Effie Root attended the Law Enforcement picnic at Lake Orion last Friday.

About 55 from Novi attended the Township Sunday School picnic at Island Lake last Wednesday and all report a good time.

In a letter written to Mrs. Alice Jones from Paris, France, Miss Marie Whipple states she is having a most delightful and wonderful trip, and which she is enjoying to the fullest extent.

Her trip was made possible by the lady with whom she lives and with whom she is in business in New York. We take this manner of bringing to the many Novi and Northville friends of Miss Whipple her good fortune in having such a fare treat and all will be glad to know of it.

Mrs. Caroline Crawford McLean of New York will give a reading entitled "The Blue Bird" at the Novi Baptist church on Friday evening, August 17th. Many in this community have known Mrs. McLean for a number of years and will be glad of an opportunity to hear her. She has been in this work in the east for several years and has given her readings in many of the large cities so we are especially fortunate in being able to obtain her to give "The Blue Bird" in Novi. There will also be a number of musical selections. Admission, adults 30c; children 20c. The public is cordially invited to attend.

CLUB WORK GETS RESULTS IN MICHIGAN.

The actual results of club work as carried on in Michigan with the cooperation of the several County Farm Bureaus are hard to estimate precisely in dollars and cents. However, a few figures may serve to give some idea as to the extent and value of this work.

Last year 15,056 boys and girls were members of clubs in Michigan. Products valued at $187,311.44 were produced by club members, with a net profit of $90,422.66.

Club work has been in progress long enough so that its accumulated results are becoming evident. As Secretary of Agriculture Wallace expresses it: "The club movement has already borne sufficient fruit to show that generally the farmer who was a club boy will have a better managed farm than the one who did not have the advantage of club training."

The remarkable results being achieved through club work are probably due to the fact that the influence which is brought to bear is exerted during the impressionable and formative years of life.

FARM BUREAU — GRACE PICNIC.

The Grange and Farm Bureau of Wayne county are planning their annual picnic for Saturday, August 25, at Elizabeth Park, south of Trenton. This has become an annual affair and a large crowd is expected.

M. L. Noon, vice-president of the Michigan State Farm Bureau will be the principal speaker. Many heard him when he was in the county last winter but this will give all an opportunity. Mr. Noon is a real friend of co-operation, knows his subject, and can impart it to his hearers.

The Wayne Oddfellow's band will furnish music during the afternoon. Something in the line of sports will be on continually. A set of horse-shoes will be given to the pitching champion. There will be athletic contests with prizes for all youngsters and the sports will end with a ball game between the East Nankin Farmers' club and the Flat Rock Grange.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., AUG. 10, 1923

THE WHOLE WORLD MOURNS HIS PASSING.

Every man and woman throughout the wide, wide world, who loves mercy, who believes in the principle of justice and equality under the law, lost a staunch friend and co-worker when President Warren G. Harding passed away in far off San Francisco last Thursday night. The end came calm and peacefully and without warning after a few days illness, and the news of his passing was soon flashed about the world. The sad news was received here over the radio E. C. Hinkley's set first catching the message from Chicago, as it had been broadcasted from San Francisco.

It seems peculiarly sad and unfortunate that Mr. Harding could not have been spared to have completed some of the great tasks the duties of his high office had placed within his keeping. By temperament and training he seemed to be peculiarly fitted to bring about a settlement of the perplexing questions and issues that had grown out of the great World War and the establishment of peace. He was always calm in his deliberations, just to those who differed with him and possessed a spirit of conciliation in dealing with those who were opposed to his plans and policies.

Mr. Harding was a man of the people. He loved them because he knew them. He spent his life in a small community and he was glad to be neighborly with all who came within the circle of his acquaintance. He toiled hard during the earlier years of his life and he had tasted the bitter cup of business disappointment while striving to make a success of his chosen labor. When he became prominent in the affairs of his nation he was contented to remain in the old home town and to work with his old friends and neighbors for its upbuilding, rather than to seek the society of the national capital. And he loved the atmosphere and the association of the old home town, as he also loved its people with whom his whole life had been spent.

Mr. Harding stood firmly for the higher and better things of life and by example and precept he endeavored to exemplify the teachings of him whom he delighted to serve in his daily contact with men. Men may differ with him in his political creeds and beliefs, but none will question his manliness or high ideals. Men from every walk of life were bowed with a weight of sorrow when the news of his sudden death was announced. In his home city of Marion, Ohio, not a business place closed on Friday morning, but a most unusual tribute to a friend and neighbor.

His remains were conveyed across the country to Washington, D. C., where the funeral services were held at the Capitol building on Wednesday. Wednesday night the body was taken to Marion, Ohio, where funeral services will take place at the home of Dr. Geo. F. Harding, the aged father of the deceased this afternoon. At the hour of the funeral services will be held throughout the world and business will be suspended for brief periods while the people pay their solemn tribute to one whom they delighted to honor by elevating him to the exalted position of president of the greatest nation in the world.

He will be buried in the family lot in the cemetery in the home city and thus the soil of Ohio will again become the final resting place of one of the nation's honored sons. He died while in the discharge of the duties of his high office, his faith in God and in humanity supreme.

To his devoted wife, who had been a close companion during all the years of his business and political career, the tenderest sympathy of the nation is extended.

CENTER LINE DEFEATS MERCHANTS.

The Center Line base ball team defeated the Michigan Avenue Merchants of Detroit last Sunday with a score of 10-11. Center Line scored in the first inning when the Merchants' pitcher made a wild throw. The home boys kept ahead all through the game and they could have worked harder if it had been necessary. The battery for the Merchants was Smith, Rayner and Palmer; for Center Line, Harry H. German, Jr., and Tashka.

Next Sunday Center Line will play the Seven Mile Merchants of Detroit, which is a class A team.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. T. R. Carrington at 2:30 next Monday, August the 13th. Cars will convey members from the home of Mrs. S. L. Crosby. It will be a lawn pot-luck supper. All ladies are desired to bring the usual dishes. The members are invited to bring their friends interested in the work.

TWO AUGUST WEDDINGS.

Monday was a day of weddings at the Methodist parsonage. The first couple united in marriage was Mr. J. R. Potter of Howell and Miss Helen Wilcox, also of Howell.

The second was Mr. Frances Hilliard of Detroit and Miss Josephine Ruthowska of Detroit.

The ring service was used at both ceremonies and after the announcement of man and wife by the Rev. Wm. Richards, each exchanged witnesses to verify the civic demand.

MISS ALICE HINMAN ENTERTAINED.

From the Venice Evening Vanguard, Venice, Calif., we take the following: "Mrs. W. H. Nash of Ross avenue, Venice, entertained yesterday with a luncheon for her house guest, Miss Alice Hinman of Northville, Michigan, who is spending the summer in California."

Other guests were Mrs. Frances Hastings of Hollywood; Miss Ella Nash and Mrs. Eva Clarkson of Pasadena; Mrs. Cornelia Blair and Mrs. M. E. Simmons of Venice.

NOW FOR THE RUBBER.

On Tuesday next at 2:30 in the afternoon the third game of the series between the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce team and a nine composed of Northville business men will decide the "rubber" each team to the contest having one game to its credit. The winners of Tuesday's game will play the House of Correction at some date to be announced. A collection will be taken and Northville's share of the proceeds will be turned over to The King's Daughters.

This game gives promise of being one full of surprises, fast and furious. The fans will enjoy the sport. Better plan to attend.

REV. WILLIAM RICHARDS ASKED TO REMAIN.

At the Methodist church was held the last meeting for the conference year, last Friday evening, at which District Superintendent Leeson of Ann Arbor presided. The reports of the past year's work were submitted and they indicated the society was on a very prosperous condition and that a splendid spirit of helpful fellowship prevails. The request that Rev. William Richards, who has served the church as pastor for the past year, be returned was adopted by a unanimous vote. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have fitly into the religious and civic life of our community in a most satisfactory manner, both to the church and to the community. Mrs. Richards has been a great help in the Epworth League and the Sunday school and Mr. Richards has been a faithful and devoted pastor, and has taken a deep interest in matters pertaining to the community uplift. He is now serving as secretary of the Northville Exchange club, a position to which he was elected unanimously.

FORMER NORTHVILLE TEACHER MARRIED.

The following notice of the marriage of Miss Ruth Foster, a former teacher in the Northville schools, will be read with interest by many of our people. The notice appeared in a recent issue of the Ann Arbor Post.

Wednesday, July 25, at 4 o'clock, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Foster was the scene of a very pretty informal wedding, when their daughter, Ruth, was united in marriage to C. Earl Brown of Sturgis, Mich. Accompanied by Paul Foster and wife of Hove, Ind. they entered the parlor and standing before an altar of gladioli, ferns and palms the simple ring ceremony was pronounced by Rev. O. W. Winton of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Carrie A. Colby of Belleville, playing the Loheegria bridal march. The bride was gown in grey georgette over rose and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses. The matron of honor wore green and carried a bouquet of roses and freesias. A dainty lunch was served later by young lady friends of the bride. The house was tastefully decorated with pink gladioli and roses. Fifty relatives and friends from Detroit, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Indiana and this vicinity were present and the young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Mrs. Brown is a graduate of Ann Arbor High school and Michigan Normal college and a member of the "Treble Clef society." Mr. Brown is a graduate of Kalamazoo college. After a wedding trip they will be at home in Sturgis, where Mr. Brown is superintendent of schools and Mrs. Brown principal. —Washtenaw Post.

Items taken from The Record files of 1897, for the week corresponding to this week.

Mrs. Chas. Woodman is convalescent.

Chas. Bristol is the new clerk in S. S. Schantz's Grocery.

C. W. Gardner has gone to Mt. Clemens with his pop corn wagon.

W. H. Yerkes will soon assist in the running of the Milford flour mills.

W. G. Lapham left last week for an outing among the Atlantic coast resorts.

Miss May VanValkenburg has returned from a three weeks' visit in New York.

Mrs. Will Parmenter is entertaining Miss Gussie Sherwood of Detroit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brooks, Mrs. E. A. Root and Miss Root visited Camp Nelson yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Nichols, Mrs. Reta Nichols and Mrs. Ed Perrin are visiting Niagara Falls.

Mr. E. Gray and Mrs. J. W. Dolph received a visit from their nephew, Walter M. Kinnon of Encinitas, Calif., Sunday.

Ernest Miller came down from Tecumseh this week for a short visit. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will commence housekeeping in that city in a few days.

Mrs. E. A. Shafter and Mrs. W. A. Carothers have returned from an extended visit in California. Miss May Gayde, Mrs. Shafter's sister, accompanied them home.

Edward Whitaker celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday last Sunday. He has been a resident here for sixty-two years, having settled in Northville in 1835, and has never lived outside its limits in the whole 62 years, although he has owned farms in several different localities during the time.

He learned the trade of miller in the Argo Mill which was built in 1833. The Dunlap mill was already here, having been built in 1826. He also learned the trade of a miller in the furnace now the Globe which was built about the same time as the Argo mill.

He followed both these trades for thirteen years. Later he was a partner of Mr. Ferguson and Chas. Harrington in the furnace business. In 1859 he assumed charge of the Dunlap mill and in 1880 he bought the property of Hutton & Smith, finally retiring from business life a few years ago, after over half a century of an honorable, successful business career which has won for him the highest respect of the widespread circle of acquaintances with whom circumstances have brought him in contact.

Mr. Whitaker also gives us some interesting facts about Northville. In addition to the industries noted there was a carding mill at what is now the Ambler pond where the wool required to supply clothing for the people was made into "rolls" for spinning. This mill was owned by Evan Pennell. The first dry goods store was Mead's, kept in a little log structure, which were placed where it once stood would be in the middle of Main street opposite the Dunlap mill. The other was Rowland's occupying the site now filled by the bank. A blacksmith shop was on the corner where Wheeler's store is now. The only church was the Presbyterian a wooden building on Cady street. The old stone schoolhouse was then in its heyday of usefulness.

Mr. Whitaker who so courteously gave the Record these facts is not in very good health and suffers greatly from rheumatism. Like many old residents, he is a native of New York, having been born in Oneida county, that state, and coming directly to Northville from there in 1835.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.
The pastor is spending his vacation at home preaching Sunday mornings at 10:30. Next Sunday morning will be the sermon that was to be given last Sabbath "Strive to Enter." Some will be in the Kingdom and some will never see the Kingdom. Richard Kilgour will be the chorister. There will be no Sunday evening or mid-week services during August.

The nineteenth birthday of Grandma Ball was celebrated Tuesday at her home. Mrs. Ball is the oldest member of the Methodist church. The church remembered her with a basket of various fruits and a beautiful bouquet of flowers. May the blessing of the scripture be hers. "Thou shalt come to thy grave in full age, as a shock of corn cometh in, in his season."

BROAD CASTING FROM BETHANY—MML SPEAKING

Martha and Mary and their brother Lazarus lived in Bethany. They were a happy, congenial and human sort of folks.

The influence of that home is very great even after twenty centuries, and fulfills the prophecy that it shall never be forgotten.

Martha was a skilled housekeeper and a most delightful cook and the guests were attracted to this particular house.

Mary was the thoughtful woman who always adds flavor to the mental and spiritual atmosphere of the Bethany establishment.

Whenever Christ was in the vicinity he was always welcome at the Bethany home. Here the evenings of the last week of His life were spent.

The influence broadcast from such a home—how fragrant—everlasting—vital—all was Radio sets all over the world and through all time shall catch the vibrations and be better for it.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lumpert and daughters left Wednesday night for Ann Arbor where they are building a new residence and where they will make their future home.

Many Northville friends will wish them success and happiness.

Rev. D. C. McNair died at his home in Greenville, Mich., on July 11th, and was buried at Warren, where he was pastor of the Congregational church for many years.

Mr. McNair had many friends here who will regret to know of his death.

Tuesday night's rain was very welcome here, though nothing was suffering.

Over at Lima Center, west of Ann Arbor, the wind did considerable damage to farm buildings and crops, besides wrecking many poles along the electric railway right of way and damaging a church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice and daughter of Lansing are spending the week in this community, the guests at the homes of Frank Rice and Mrs. E. J. Simmons.

They spent one day with Mrs. William Greer in Farmington. Before returning home they will enjoy an excursion to Port Huron and return.

The Northville base ball enthusiasts who contemplate accompanying the Foresters to Carleton, Sunday, where the boys play the Monroe team, are advised that the trip is only 22 miles.

Cement roads all the distance except three miles from Waltz south. Best route is through Belleville, then south following cement road to Waltz.

Rev. and Mrs. E. V. Belles and son, Donald, arrived in Northville Saturday night and they will spend the week with friends here.

Next week they will go to the Dubnar cottage at Walled Lake for an outing.

Rev. Belles preached at Birmingham on Sunday morning and next Sunday he will go to Dayton, Ohio, to fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in that city.

Miss Bonstelle will offer a new farce at the Garrick next week, a play of rare humor and really possessing a new farcical idea.

For the present it will be called "Sauce for the Gander," and though the author is English he prefers to have his identity remain hidden.

"Sauce for the Gander" is being contemplated for production by the Messrs. Shubert and the Messrs. Selwyn, and each firm will send representatives on to Detroit the coming week.

Donald Starr is visiting his brother at Muskegon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stewart are enjoying an outing at Burt Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sessions are parents of a little son, born Tuesday.

Miss Albe Scott of Detroit, spent a few days with Mrs. E. A. Noble this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ely returned home from Rochester, Minn., yesterday afternoon.

The Pastime Dancing club will hold its annual picnic at Walled Lake on Monday evening, next.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wendt of Sandusky, Michigan, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wendt, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Richardson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Murphy in Detroit, returning home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Taft and daughter are enjoying a motor trip through Ohio and to Niagara Falls. They left Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wendt and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wendt left last Tuesday for a motor trip through Canada and to Niagara Falls.

An all-day picnic will be held at Walled Lake next week Wednesday by members of St. Mary's Catholic church. Everybody welcome.

Harold Turner is enjoying his vacation these days and with his wife and little daughter is spending the week at the Barnum and Turner homes here.

Angus Stewart of Fremont is assisting in the Northville Drug company's store during the absence of L. C. Stewart. Mr. Stewart is an uncle of L. C.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Moss spent Sunday with Detroit relatives. A few days ago Mr. Moss received a cablegram from England stating his mother was very ill.

Marvin Bogart of Novi township while picking apples fell from the tree and injured himself quite badly. He was taken to the hospital on Wednesday for treatment.

Lucus Blake the jeweler has placed in his store a very attractive enclosed display window, making a case in which he can display his goods and keep them away from the dust.

Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Stevens of Toronto, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jackson of Detroit visited Mrs. C. J. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Neel yesterday. Mr. Stevens was a former Northville pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cranston were called to Detroit on Tuesday by the death of Mrs. Cranston's sister, Mrs. Millard. Funeral services were held on Wednesday and burial took place at Plymouth.

Tuesday was Mrs. C. J. Ball's nineteenth birthday anniversary and she was kindly remembered by many friends and acquaintances. The King's Daughters presented her with a handsome bouquet of gladioli from the Hodge gardens.

Stores and Postoffice to Close This Afternoon.

COOLIDGE TAKES UP HIS DUTIES AS PRESIDENT

His Venerable Father Administers the Oath of Office in Country Home.

ASKS CABINET TO REMAIN

Announces His Intention to Follow Out the Policies Inaugurated by Harding—Goes to Washington to Assume Duties.

Washington.—Calvin Coolidge, thirtieth President of the United States, is here in Washington at the head of the executive branch of the government. Like the 100-per cent efficient United States marines, he has the situation well in hand. The presidency is functioning without friction.

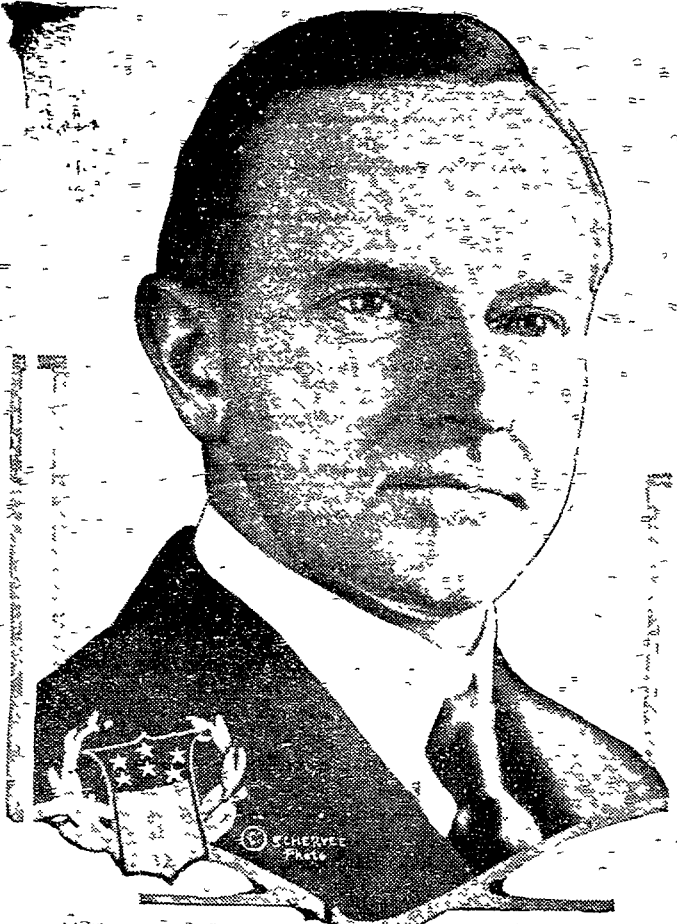

Calvin Coolidge took the oath as President of the United States at Plymouth, Vt., at 2:47 a. m. Friday, August 3. The ceremony took place in the living room of the residence of the new President's father, John C. Coolidge. The oath of office was administered by the father, who is a notary public. The text of the presidential oath had been telephoned to Mr. Coolidge at Plymouth from the White House.

Statement by New Chief.

President Coolidge received the news of the death of President Harding and of his own elevation to the presidency at ten minutes before midnight, standard time, Thursday.

Mr. Coolidge received the first news through telegrams from George C. Christian, Jr., secretary to President Harding.

Mr. Coolidge issued the following statement:

PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE

"Reports have reached me, which I fear are correct, that President Harding is gone. The world has lost a great and good man. I mourn his loss. He was my chief and my friend. It will be my purpose to carry out the policies which he has begun for the service of the American people and for meeting their responsibilities wherever they may arise.

"For this purpose, I shall seek the co-operation of all those who have been associated with the President during his term of office. Those who have given their efforts to assist him I wish to remain in office, that they may assist me.

"I have faith that God will direct the destinies of our nation."

The following telegram was sent to Mrs. Harding:

"Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 3, 1923.

"Mrs. Warren G. Harding, San Francisco, Cal.: We offer you our deepest sympathy. May God bless you and keep you."

"CALVIN COOLIDGE, 'GRACE COOLIDGE.'"

Message Tells of Death.

The telegram announcing the death of the President was as follows:

"Palace hotel, San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 3, 1923.—Mr. Calvin Coolidge, Plymouth, Vt.: The President died, instantaneously and without warning, while conversing with members of his family, at 7:30 p. m. His physicians report that death was apparently due to some brain embolism, probably an apoplexy.

"GEORGE B. CHRISTIAN, JR., 'Secretary.'"

This telegram was brought to the Coolidge home at Plymouth Notch by W. A. Perkins of Bridgewater, who owns the telephone line running from Bridgewater to Plymouth. About five minutes later newspaper men arrived in Ludlow.

A drive of thirty miles through the mountains brought them to the Coolidge summer home.

Mr. Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge had retired about an hour before the death messages were received. Ten minutes after the arrival of the newspaper men Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge came downstairs into the sitting room of the Coolidge home. Mr. Coolidge was dressed in a black sack suit and wore a black necktie. Mrs. Coolidge wore a black and white gown, white shoes and stockings. Mr. Coolidge was very pale and showed deep regret for President Harding's death. He seated himself at a table, while Mrs. Coolidge brought a lamp and read the telegrams he had received.

He then called his assistant secretary, Irwin Geisser, and dictated to him his statement and the telegram to Mrs. Harding.

Mrs. Coolidge Weeps.

In the meantime people were arriving from all directions. Mr. Coolidge, seeing the house becoming crowded, gave orders that an adjoining house be opened for use as press headquarters.

Meanwhile, the new first lady of the land sat weeping softly and exclaiming in sympathy for the bereaved first lady in San Francisco.

"What a blow—what a terrible blow to poor Mrs. Harding," she said. "She had had such a heavy burden, in her own illness, to bear up under—and now this!"

Finally Secretary Geisser returned with the press copies of the statements, and pushing back the big photograph album and the family Bible on the center table, Mrs. Coolidge busied herself with the work of helping distribute them.

The newspaper men had scarcely gotten out of sight when another telegraph messenger arrived with a copy of the presidential oath from Washington. In the same sitting room with its hand-branded rug, its cluster of venerable colonial furniture, its old wood stove and its family Bible—Calvin Coolidge received the oath of office from his father, and became America's thirtieth president.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Ann Arbor—Travis Beal, only son of J. E. Beal, regent of the University of Michigan, died after an illness of several weeks. He was 28 years old.

Caro—V. A. Freeman, live stock specialist, has completed a tour of Tuscola county, giving judging demonstrations of Chester White herds of swine.

Battle Creek—Representatives of 13 posts of the American Legion within the Third District attended the district meeting at the General George A. Custer post headquarters here.

Bay City—Charles J. Rouch, 81 years old, G. A. R. veteran, died at his home in Portsmouth township, where he had resided 53 years. He was born in Syracuse, N. Y. Rouch served our two enlistments in the Civil war.

Detroit—Announcement has been made here that the Interstate Commerce commission has been asked by Pennsylvania railroad company for authority to lease the railroad and property of the Pennsylvania-Detroit railroad company for a period of 999 years.

Lansing—Augustus C. Carton, head of the development section of the department of agriculture, was named member and secretary of the Michigan Great Lakes-Tidewater association. Huntley Russell of Grand Rapids is the chairman. Carton succeeded John A. Doelle, resigned.

Marshall—Gerald Gaines, 15 years old, was killed when he fell on the third rail of the Michigan Railway tracks near here. Howard Long attempted to pull him from the rail but he also was shocked. Then Joseph Diehl grabbed Gaines by his rubber shoes and pulled him from the rail.

Ypsilanti—Funeral services were held last week at St. John's church for George W. Johnson, 60 years old, lifelong resident of this vicinity. Johnson was the first person baptized in the present Catholic church and his funeral probably will be the last to be held in the old church, which soon is to be replaced.

Lansing—Nineteen members of the 8th Michigan Infantry was all that attended their 53d annual reunion here. There are only 60 men living of the 1,200 who enlisted for the Civil War in 1861. The average age of those attending the reunion is 80 1/2 years. The oldest is William R. Collier, of Hart, who is 85.

Battle Creek—Emmett Dalton, the last of "The Dalton Boys," train robbers and all-around desperadoes who terrorized the Southwest 30 years ago or more, has come to a local sanitarium to complete his regeneration by having surgeons remove from his body the bullets he has been carrying as souvenirs of his last stand against law and order in 1892.

Iron Mountain—A grand picnic tour around Dickinson county was made by farmers, business, and professional men. It was under the supervision of A. J. Lonsdorf, county agent, and the Dickinson County Farm bureau. Officials from the Michigan Agricultural college extension department and the Michigan State Farm bureau were present and gave talks and demonstrations along the route.

Albion—A wheat field on the farm of Farley brothers, south of this city, was the location for movies taken by officials of the federal government and the M. A. C. The film will be called "Better Seed, Better Crops," and will be used to boost the cause of pedigreed seed for the farmers. The Farley farm was chosen because it is one of the experiment stations of the M. A. C. and serves five counties.

Jonesville—Walle one-third of the world is crying for bread, farmers in this section are feeding wheat to livestock. The market price of 90 cents a bushel is blamed. With shipped-in corn selling for almost a dollar, farmers say they can not afford to sell wheat and buy corn. Almost no rye will be marketed. This grain at the present price of 40 cents a bushel is the cheapest feed to be found for hogs, and nearly the entire crop will be disposed of that way.

Lansing—Appointment of Howard B. Bloomer, of Detroit, as a member of the Michigan conservation commission was announced here. Bloomer will succeed to the place on the commission last held by Professor Filbert Roth, of Ann Arbor. Bloomer has been actively interested in the park problems of Michigan for some years and has been instrumental, according to state officials, in obtaining some of the lands at present a part of the state park system.

Marinesco—A new state park of 50 acres of wooded land lying along the west shore of Lake Gogebic has been added to the group of state owned parks stretching across the upper peninsula. The park at Lake Gogebic was donated to the commonwealth on provision that it would take steps to improve the land and build a highway in from the Cloverland Trail. The 80-acre tract is near the border of Ontonagon county and the Ontonagon supervisors are beginning to build another highway connecting the park with the north end of Lake Gogebic.

DEATH CLAIM

PRESIDENT WITH NO WARNING

Apoplexy Strikes Harding Down in Midst of His Apparent Recovery.

END IS SHOCKINGLY SUDDEN

Doctors Believed Him Well on Road to Recovery—Mrs. Harding Reading to Him at Moment of Seizure—
He Dies in Twenty Minutes—
Devoted Wife Bears Up Heroically Under Grief.

Washington.—Warren G. Harding is dead. The body of the late president was speeded across the continent by special train for state burial in Washington. The final interment will be at Marion, Ohio.

The special train left San Francisco at 7 p. m. Friday, routed directly to the capital by way of Reno, Ogden, Cheyenne, Omaha and Chicago.

The train made no stops en route except those necessary for its operation. The body of the President was borne in the rear car. The car was lighted at night, and at all times two soldiers and two sailors, a part of a naval and military guard of sixteen enlisted men, stood at attention guarding the casket.

The train carried the presidential party as composed during the trip across the country to Alaska, and also General Pershing, Attorney General Daugherty, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rensberg and family. Mrs. Rensberg being a sister of the President.

Untold thousands of American citizens stood with uncovered heads, day and night as the train passed.

Through Nevada in the hours of daylight and darkness there were mourners at the stations. Utah contributed its thousands the next day. Wyoming's citizens mourned in mass. And so on across the continent. At the cities, especially, large crowds assembled at the stations.

President Harding died of a stroke of apoplexy at 7:40 o'clock Thursday night (10:30 p. m., New York time). His exact age was fifty-seven years and nine months.

The seizure came suddenly while Mrs. Harding was reading to him from a magazine and after what had been called the best day he had had since the beginning of his illness exactly one week before.

Suddenly it was noticed that the President was shuddering and gasping. Mrs. Harding ran to him, but he was unable to respond to her inquiries. She then ran to the door of the sick room and called to the secret service men there to summon the President's physicians.

When General Sawyer reached the room the President was still alive, but he died almost at once.

Collapse Is Sudden.

In greater detail the facts of the death are related: With Mrs. Harding in the sickroom were two nurses. Due to the seeming improvement in the President's condition, members of his party, including the physician who had remained in constant call, were confident they could leave the hotel for a few hours' relaxation. Many of them were at dinner.

Mrs. Harding, however, refusing to desert the post, was seated by the bedside, reading to her husband, when at 7:40 o'clock the President suddenly collapsed. His breathing, which had been quick ever since the illness overtook him, suddenly became spasmodic. Mrs. Harding, leaving the nurses to take whatever steps they could in the emergency, ran to the door of the presidential suite.

"Get the doctors," she called, as she ran part way into the almost deserted corridor. A secret service operative was seated about twenty feet down the hall. She hurriedly told the secret service man that the President had had a sudden and seemingly severe relapse, and begged the detective to try to locate Doctor Boone or any of the other physicians.

The secret service man took up the search for the physicians, while Mrs. Harding returned to the bedside. They located Doctor Sawyer at once.

Hoover Arrives Quickly.

Word of the President's sudden turn for the worse spread through the hotel and efforts were launched at once to try to locate the members of his official party.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce and one of the closest cabinet members to the President, was the first of the cabinet members to reach the bedside. He hurried into the corridor, already aware that the President's life was ebbing fast, and the door to the suite closed behind him. A short time after he came out. He was completely broken up and could not speak to the newspaper men as they gathered around him on his way down to his own quarters. Tears were running down his cheeks and he seemed to be stunned by grief as he made his way to the elevator.

Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco was the next to arrive, and he, too, after a visit to the death room, was inarticulate.

Official Statement.

It was about twenty minutes from the time Mr. Harding was stricken Milestones in Harding's Life.

Here were the milestones in Warren G. Harding's life:

Born in Blooming Grove, Morrow county, Ohio, November 2, 1885.

Began career as newspaper publisher, November 26, 1894.

Elected to Ohio state senate, his first political office, November 6, 1898.

Elected lieutenant governor of Ohio, November 3, 1903.

Defeated as Republican candidate for governor, November 3, 1910.

Elected to United States senate, November 3, 1914.

Nominated for the presidency, June 12, 1920.

Elected President, November 2, 1920.

Inaugurated March 4, 1921.

Died August 2, 1923.

7:10 p. m. until he died (7:30). The circumstance is told briefly in the following formal announcement:

"The President died at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Harding and the two nurses, Miss and Mrs. Powderly and Miss Sue Drusser, were in the room at the time. Mrs. Harding was reading to the President when he suddenly without warning a slight shudder passed through his frame, he collapsed and all recognized that the end had come. A stroke of apoplexy was the cause of his death.

Within a few moments all of the President's official party had been summoned.

Dr. Boone said later that Miss Powderly looked at the President while Mrs. Harding was reading to him and was struck by a great improvement in the patient's appearance.

"Doesn't he look fine?" she said, turning to Mrs. Harding.

Then the nurse turned back to look at the President to verify her comment. Mrs. Harding looked, too. They saw a shudder pass over the sick man's frame. That marked the stroke that produced death.

The following telegram from the members of the cabinet who are here was immediately sent to Vice President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft, and those members of the cabinet who were not in San Francisco:

"The President died at 7:30 p. m. from a stroke of cerebral apoplexy. The end came peacefully and without warning.

"DAUGHERTY,

"WORK,

"WALLACE,

"HOOPER."

A Shocking Surprise.

Nothing could have been a more shocking surprise. But an hour earlier General Sawyer had been telling newspaper men that Mr. Harding had had the best day he had had since he became seriously ill the preceding Saturday. He said that the President had definitely entered upon the stage of convalescence and that everything went to show that Mr. Harding was on the road to ultimate recovery.

The members of the official party—those who had accompanied the President and Mrs. Harding—had no warning that the President was in danger. They, like the newspaper men, had been assured that a fatal termination of the President's illness was a thing not to be expected in view of his apparent improvement—the evident lessening of serious symptoms—in the last 48 hours.

George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the President, and his devoted friend, was in Los Angeles with Mrs. Christian. He had gone there at the President's solicitation to read at a Masonic gathering an address when the President had prepared in the expectation that he would deliver it in person.

The newspaper men had an engagement with General Sawyer for 8 o'clock. He was to tell them then how the President was progressing toward recovery.

Regarding the manner in which Mrs. Harding sustained the shock, an official statement given to the press by Judson D. Weliver of the White House staff, a member of the President's official party, said:

"Mrs. Harding, who from the beginning of the President's illness had expressed complete confidence in his recovery, did not break down. On the other hand, she continued, as from the beginning, the bravest member of the group. When it was realized that the President had actually passed away, she turned to those in the room, whose concern had turned to her, and said: 'I am not going to break down.'"

STATE POTATO TOUR TO TAKE IN MEETING.

Growers' Junket Through Northern Counties will Include Cadillac Exchange Conference.

The potato tour, starting at Elmira on August 13th and swinging through the northern counties of the state, has been arranged to include Cadillac on August 15th and 16th for the fifth annual meeting of the Michigan Potato Growers' exchange, one of the largest growers' organizations in the state, according to J. W. Weston, extension specialist from the Michigan Agricultural college, who is arranging details for the junket.

At the Cadillac meeting, members will be present from 132 member associations. Walton Petzet, department of co-operative marketing, American Farm Bureau Federation; Herbert F. Baker of Cheboygan; and Prof. Eben Mumford of the M. A. C. extension staff, will be the principal speakers to appear on the program.

The potato tour will start at Elmira in Alcona county on August 13th, later reaching Kalkaska, Wexford, Oscoda, Mecosta, Alpena, Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix and Osego counties. The trip will end at Gaylord on the 25th.

Actual demonstrations on various phases of the potato industry will be given at all fields visited, an effort being made to make the tour as educational as possible.

"Three points will be stressed stressed during the trip," says J. W. Weston. "An effort will be made to acquaint growers with the value of certified seed, with insect pests, and with potato diseases. The importance of proper cultural methods will be brought out; and, finally, the losses sustained annually through careless handling and poor storage will be emphasized."

IGNORANCE RIVALS DISEASE AS KILLER.

Irregularity in the treatment of two recent cases of diphtheria has been brought to the attention of the State Board of Health. A married couple was fined $25.00 and costs in the justice court of Flint for breaking diphtheria quarantine two days before the time set by state law. They paid it rather than spend ten days in jail. Ypsilanti reports a peculiar case of religions fanaticism which obstructed normal medical procedure. In this occurrence diphtheria attacked a family killing two children. True, doctors were summoned, but entirely too late to give the proper treatment. Nor were physicians allowed to administer internal medicine, antitoxin per se, to the other members of the family.

It seems inconceivable that such vital things as health regulations should be disregarded in this day and age. Diphtheria is making sporadic outbreaks all over the state and the methods for controlling it include strict isolation of the already stricken as well as administration of antitoxin to persons who have been exposed. If in spite of a preponderance of advice and counsel, people still persist in disregarding the common welfare, they can be considered as public nuisances and should be made examples of by prosecution as such.

NEW ROUTE OPENED.

A new route from Detroit to Bad Axe, Pointe-aux-Barques and Harbor Beach has just been marked with black and yellow signs by the Detroit Automobile club. The route, which runs through Rochester, Lakeville, Marquette and Greenleaf, is a combination of state and improved county roads, and demonstrates the wisdom of building county roads which, by connecting with main roads, develop new trunk lines of traffic.

BEWARE OF THIS RASCAL.

A "Slicker" from Detroit came to Ann Arbor and in a short time went away with several hundred dollars. He represented himself to be a solicitor for the Detroit Automobile club and had what seemed like the proper credentials. Just how many "members" he secured is not yet known, but he worked the town hard and fast giving each a properly printed receipt. Inquiry at the headquarters of the automobile club at the Hotel Tuller brought out the fact that the man was a fraud and quite a few are out ten dollars and have no membership.—Ann Arbor Post.

me at this time. Thus I speak of him from experience. All that had been said and will be said of him throughout the nation this week will not be meaningless platitudes.
"And although he is gone from a world that was not worthy of him, and yet could ill spare him, while we say the President is dead, we will say "Long live the President in our hearts."

C. A. Dolph, president of the village, represented the civic life and spoke words of high esteem. He brought the attention of an editorial from one of the leading journals, before the congregation which was an eloquent expression of the president's character.

E. S. Neal, postmaster, spoke to the young people of the Sunday school and delighted young and old with thoughtful words. He said the president is not dead in the real sense, mentioning a writer looking at the paintings of the great men of the nation he said they seem to express
"We are the living, you are the dead," or in other words we live by the deeds of those who are gone.

TO OBSERVE SAFETY DRIVE WEEK.

Citizens have been observing "Safety Week" for some years past and now it is proposed to have a "Safety Week" for the whole of Wayne county outside of Detroit, and next week has been selected as the time. In Wayne county last year there were 600 accidental deaths, and it is hoped by those who are behind this safety drive to arouse public sentiment sufficiently to prevent at least some of this awful slaughter of the innocent.
In discussing this proposed drive
Sheriff Walters recently said:

"Working in connection with the Wayne County safety week campaign, starting Aug. 15, there will be more than 150 reserve deputies who will round up drunken and reckless drivers on the highways of the county," said Sheriff George A.
Walters. "The special interest of justice of the peace has been enlisted to handle these cases."

"Unless there is a decided abatement of the reckless and drunken driving menace throughout Wayne county there will be a large number of convictions, followed by suspension of drivers' licenses, and it will be continued beyond the week of Aug.
15, until the streets and highways of this county are much safer than they are at present. The educational work is merely intended to supplement and not to substitute police activities."

A great deal of interest is being aroused in connection with the exhibition of the educational floats to be held on Cadillac square at 7 p. m., Wednesday, Aug. 15. These floats will be selected from the 20 parades to be held throughout the county that day, and will be reviewed by a large number of public officials and prominent citizens from a grand stand in Cadillac square.

While this drive is in progress steps ought to be taken to see that laws regarding motor driving are enforced. The accident which resulted in the death of Jesse Stuck of Detroit on the Plymouth road a few weeks ago is a case in point. Aneda Gray, the driver of the car, ought to have been arrested just as soon as his wounds had sufficiently healed to have permitted him to appear in court. He ought yet to be brought to justice for reckless driving if not upon a more serious charge. In view of all the circumstances in this case the justice of the peace ought to have issued a warrant for his arrest before he was permitted to return to his home in Detroit. If these careless drivers are permitted to go free how can our highways be made safe, no matter how many drives we may have.

ASKS THAT LAWS BE ENFORCED.

Northville, Mich.

Editor Northville Record:

In past few issues of your valuable paper there has been a notice concerning cutting of noxious weeds signed by our commissioner.

Would like to ask what good it is to put said notices in paper. There seems to be a class who seemly don't respect their neighbors' whatever, and don't give a — for the law.

In some of our streets two blocks from Main St. there are weeds, etc., such as mustard, burdock, redroot, thistles and what not growing and seed being carried year after year on to other property till it is a regular nuisance.

There is a proper time to cut weeds, cut before seed ripens, not wait till seed has fallen and blown all over your neighbors' property. If one asks for an opinion from strangers traveling through our streets they claim them to be the worst kept up of any around the country—quite a compliment for Northville.

The weed law is a good law and should be enforced to the letter. Let the people take an interest in home and its surroundings, cut these weeds which are foul and Northville could be made just that much more beautiful and better to live in.

Yours most respectfully,
Wm. E. Matheson.

BOOKS UNDER THE RECESSED WINDOW

A most convenient place for a few favorite books is this little nook under a recessed window. The easy chair and the good light for reading make a very inviting corner. The chair is covered with haircloth, a very durable new material, in any solid color such as blue or taupe. The draperies are of a neutral-grayish shade with checks embroidered in bright colors. A brilliantly colored half-round cushion is used in the window seat.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

In the matter of the estate of OLIVER R. SLOAN, deceased.
I, the undersigned, having been appointed by the Probate court for the county of Wayne, state of Michigan, Commissioner to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against said deceased, do hereby give notice that I will meet at the store of Mark Brock on Main street, Northville, Mich. in said county, on Monday the 1st day of October
A. D. 1923, and on Saturday, the 1st day of December A. D. 1923, at 2.00 o'clock p. m. of each of said days, for the purpose of examining and allowing said claims, and that four months from the 1st day of August A. D. 1923, were allowed by said court for creditors to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.
Dated, August 1st, 1923.
MARK BROCK,
Commissioner

Now
the Easy has Three Vacuum
Cups

The new model EASY is a 3-cup washer, differing in this respect from all previous models.

The importance of this new feature cannot be overemphasized, for it has direct bearing upon the efficiency and speed with which it washes the clothes.

Just as the old model EASY with two vacuum cups had a distinct advantage over washers having only one cup, so the new model EASY with three vacuum cups is eminently superior to machines having only two cups.

Before buying an electric washer, make it a point to see the exhibit of the New Model EASY in our store—or phone for a free home demonstration. You will then be posted on the latest development in electric washers.
