A VOICE OF THE OLD
HAPPY DAYS

When your mind forms a picture of the old home, in which a Kimball Piano stood, your memory lingers lovingly around that sweet-toned old instrument whose ivory keys twinkled under your fingers as lightly as fluttering ribbons in a breeze.

You no doubt have a KIMBALL Piano in your home—a later model, of course; but it has the same beautiful tone, and the same light touch—characteristics that fill the Kimball case so generously full of musical goodness that the love it wins for itself endures for generations. Store open evenings.

TOM MIX
IN "ROMANCE LAND"

Just as in the tournaments of old, this latter day knight strove to gain the hand of his lady—and won.

Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" brought up-to-date with plenty of zip and dash.

Horse's flying feet, stage coaches careening on two wheels, the cracking of whips, hair-breadth escapes, crowds shouting and cheering their favorites on to victory. That was the scene.

Daring, gallant, picturesque as a knight of old, the victor rode into the ring and bowed to the fair girl whose hand he had won. The picture of a golden age.

"PINK GODS"

NORTHVILLE NOW HAS A POPULATION OF 2,351

A Gain of 613 Since 1920—Charles A. Sessions Took the Census.

The work of taking the census of 1920 was so poorly done in this village that no one has been satisfied with the showing made. At the time of taking the 1920 census a stranger from outside of town was employed at so much a day and he seemed to care but little what the results of his work were so long as he received his pay. The question of having the work done by some one who would do a thorough job has been discussed informally for some months and finally the village council engaged Charles A. Sessions to make the canvass. Mr. Sessions is very thorough in everything he undertakes and for the past few weeks he has been visiting the homes and business places of the village for the purpose of ascertaining just how many people were residents of this village. He found after making a careful survey that Northville's population at the present time is 2,351, representing a gain of 613 over the census of 1920. These figures place our population just about where many people have thought it ought to be, and Mr. Sessions has rendered the community a good service in his work of census taking. These figures indicate that Northville is enjoying a steady and a very healthy growth.

DR. DAN R. HENRY BADLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Tuesday afternoon while Dr. Dan R. Henry and Duke Bostwick were driving toward Novi on the Novi road they met with an accident which came near causing the death of the former and permanently injuring the latter. In some unaccountable manner Bostwick, who is employed by Dr. Henry, lost control of the Hudson and the machine took to the ditch, finally bringing up against a telephone pole. Bostwick was able to drive the car back to the village and to summon help. Those who were called to the scene of the accident found Dr. Henry lying in the ditch some distance from where his car struck the pole in an unconscious condition. At first glance those who rushed to his aid thought he was dead, but while he was being taken from the ditch and placed in an automobile he regained consciousness. He was badly cut about the head and sustained a broken arm and two fractured ribs. Drs. Fred and T. J. Henry and Dr. Palmer of Detroit called in the evening and at midnight his condition was considered favorable, and it was believed he would recover from the effects of his injuries.

The unfortunate man was brought to the village and taken to the Session's hospital, where his wounds were dressed. Bostwick was cut above the right eye, but was able to walk about, although he plainly showed the effects of his injury.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The convention was a great success and an inspiration to the local ladies attending. The program was carried out as printed, with the exception of one item being supplied with an accredited substitute. Those who let the potted and national speakers go without hearing them are in a class of "lost opportunities." It usually reveals what a community is disinterested in.

Read Hon. Roy Hayne's article in the Free Press of this week Tuesday, and it will show what any citizen can do in helping officials against lawlessness. The W. C. T. U. is ready to take this stand. What is the meaning of these minors with cigarettes on our streets, and from whom are they obtained. It is against the law of the state of Michigan but yet it goes unheeded.

Mrs. Nellie Westcott was elected delegate to the national convention in Chicago.

FR. LEFEVRE RETURNS TO PLYMOUTH.

Fr. F. C. LeFevre arrived in Plymouth last Friday, from New Mexico, where he has been for over a year. His many friends will be pleased to know that he is greatly improved in health. He will resume charge of Our Lady of Good Counsel church of this place, while Fr. Schuler, who has been serving as pastor during his absence, will have charge of the Northville parish—Plymouth Mail.

Mrs. H. R. Richardson had the misfortune to step on a nail, causing a serious injury to one of her feet.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 31,
WILL BE DOLLAR DAY

The business firms of Northville have responded splendidly to the effort that has been made to observe Wednesday, October 31st, as Dollar Day in this village, with the result that in thirty of the business places of this village special values will be offered on that day, and the offerings will be real money-saving ones too. The Record next week will contain a complete list of these offerings and we invite our readers to study them over carefully, to bring the announcement with you when you come to town on Dollar Day, and to enjoy to fullest this feast of bargains.

This Dollar Day as being held right at the very height of the fall buying season. The weather has been warm heretofore, too warm in fact, to cause people to think very much about buying merchandise suitable for fall and winter requirements. This event will prove a real opportunity to those who desire to purchase their fall and winter supply of wearing apparel, but it will also afford them a chance to save money on many other purchases.

Northville people invite you to take advantage of this opportunity. Owing to the fact that weather conditions may be unfavorable, the committee has arranged for free picture shows at the Alseium theatre instead of the Hollowe'en party on the streets as announced at first. All will be given an opportunity to witness a good picture any time after four o'clock.

ACCURATE DROP KICK WON FOR NORTHVILLE.

Last Friday afternoon Northville defeated Redford in one of the hardest fought games of the season. A high wind prevented the use of forward passes and made punting difficult. Northville showed the most powerful running attack while their opponents received most of the breaks of the game. Early in the first quarter Northville took the ball and marched down the field for a touchdown, using end runs and line smashes. Hall dropkicked for the extra point. In the second quarter Redford got the ball on Northville's 20 yard line, on a break which came when a Redford man broke thru and rushed a punt. Redford made first down on Northville's eight yard line, and in the four plays that followed barely reached the goal line. Their attempt at goal failed and the half ended. Score, Northville 7, Redford 6. During the second half both teams showed a better defense and neither was able to advance the ball far into the other's territory. On an exchange of units Northville gained ground and was able to keep the ball in Redford territory most of the time. The game ended with Northville in possession of the ball on Redford's 30 yard line. Final score Northville 7, Redford 6.

NORTHVILLE SCHOOL NOTES.

It may be of interest to Northville readers to know something of the school tax of this village compared to other places of this vicinity. For the year 1922 our school tax was $14 per thousand. When the small size of the district is taken into consideration this is certainly a fair rate for the maintenance of such a high standard school as we claim for Northville. Compare our school tax with that of the following places: Ferndale $26; Walled Lake $22; Marine City $17; Fenton $20; Milford $18; Redford $18; Farmington $22; Tecumseh ($21) $17; Rochester $14.50; Dundee $14.94; Trenton $14. Northville is below the average for the entire state. Less than one third of the taxes in the village goes to the school, to be exact 31.8% represent the school tax compared to the total tax. It is true there are some schools with a lower tax rate due to either a larger assessed valuation or the use of old buildings. An up-to-date school could not be maintained for less.

WERE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED.

The members of the Foresters' ball team were royally entertained at the Detroit House of Correction Farm on Saturday afternoon, when they played the officers' team of the institution. At noon they were treated to a bountiful chicken dinner and after the game which resulted in a victory for Northville to the tune of 12 to 10 they were served an appetizing supper, all of the good things of the season being upon the bountifully laden table. Cigars were passed and a social hour followed the feast.

FLAME-BLASTED WOODS, SWARM

Carelessness Blamed for Disaster Burned Area Covers the Entire County.

Ontonagon—The forest fires, which have laid waste the county in the White Pine district have also laid bare the extent to which the making of illicit whiskey has flourished in this region. Like the wild animals that make their dens in the depths of the forests, the moonshiners fled before the onrushing flames, carrying with them the paraphernalia of their trade.

With the fires extinguished, but the old haunts destroyed, the moonshiners prepared to set up their stills in the vicinity of Ontonagon and resume operations.

Before the fires which swept the district had bare the coverts in which the moonshiners skulked it was almost impossible for federal agents to track the distillers. So well hidden were they that no estimate of their number or the extent of their operations could be made.

A walk through the burned area reveals the extent the federal law was being violated in the upper peninsula. In a radius of three square miles 15 miles south of Ontonagon were found the ruins of six stills which had been abandoned during the conflagration. Reports from other sections declared conditions were as bad, and in some instances worse.

In addition to the lumber losses the countryside between Ontonagon river and the Porcupine mountains is literally shorn-combed with the charred remains of farm houses and barns representing a loss to the farmers and small growers of hundreds of thousands of dollars. And there can be no certain estimation of the loss in timberland and real estate values.

Twenty-five lumberjacks are believed to have perished while trying to fight way through the blazing woods.

Some estimate it at five million. Others claim it will be more. All agree that the fire during the three weeks burned off what would have taken lumbermen ten years to cut and the growth in the second growth land is said to have been retarded twenty years.

County road contractors are held for the fire. Furthermore, no precaution was taken to prevent the conflagration.

Fires were left burning at the roadside and in the woods during the driest spell and game wardens, who are responsible for the arrest of violators, were not on the scene.

LARGE PROFIT HANDLING COAL

Wholesalers Get All Traffic Will Bear, Says Report

Washington—Tracing anthracite shipments through distribution channels on its way from the mines to consumers, the Federal Trade Commission has found a number of instances in which domestic coal was handled on an unusually large profit margin, and also was "scalped" or passed from hand to hand with added profits en route.

The first of a series of weekly reports issued covered the findings from wholesalers' reports for the week ending Sept. 22.

The study was made, the commission said, at the direction of President Coolidge.

A wholesale margin of 25 cents a ton on coal handled, the commission concluded, was "rather generally recognized in the industry," while margins of 75 cents or more a ton were said to be "the result of wholesalers charging what the traffic will bear."

Taking all the domestic coal handled during the week ending Sept. 22, the report continued, it was found that 9.8 per cent had been handled on a $1 a ton margin.

Liner Goes Ashore on Providence Isle —Passengers and Crew Taken Off.

Kingston, Jamaica—The 58 passengers and crew on the United Fruit company steamer San Gil, which went ashore on the northern coast of Providence Island off Nicaragua Monday morning, have been taken off by the steamer San Blas.

"Passengers and crew all well," said a message received Monday afternoon from the stranded steamer San Gil by way of Colon.

The message added that there was danger from the gale, if it continued at its present strength.

The San Gil struck a reef at 4:55 a. m. Monday and pounded heavily. The steamer San Blas and Calaneres of the United Fruit Co., stood by until rescue was completed.

FARMINGTON HAS SOLDIERS' MONUMENT

The monument contracted for some time ago by the Farmington Board of Commerce was delivered here last Tuesday and Wednesday was placed on the foundation prepared for it last year on the lawn in front of the Farmington township hall.

The monument is a solid block of granite weighing about six tons. The stone is in the rough and on three of its sides smooth places have been chiseled out into which will be inserted bronze tablets, the first which bears the inscription:

P. M. WRECK AT HOLLY.

A wreck on the Pere Marquette railroad in Holly last Friday noon resulted in a property loss of several thousand dollars. The accident happened on the main line in front of the H. J. Heinz factory. A gravel train was in the yards doing switching and a portion of the train was left standing on tracks just south of the Grand Trunk railway crossing. A flagman was sent back to signal a freight coming from the south, but he was too late. The oncoming train was heavily loaded and the engineer was unable to bring it to a stop in time to avoid a collision. The force of the impact toppled the locomotive over on its side on the west side of the track and nearly down the steep embankment at that point. The fireman and head brakeman jumped before the crash in time to avoid injury. The engineer remained at his post a few seconds longer and when he did jump he sustained a broken leg. PLAN STATE APPLE AND POTATO SHOW.

Apples and potatoes, two crops for which Michigan is famous and of which the entire state is justly proud, will have a special show of their own this fall.

The Michigan apple and potato show, established as an annual event, will be held in Grand Rapids from November 20 to 23, with choicest sections of the two crops gathered from all parts of the state.

A long list of cash prizes has attracted a record number of entries, and the prediction is being made that the show will be the greatest exhibition of its kind ever staged in Michigan, or any other middle western state, for that matter.

The show is planned in the interests of the two crops from a state-wide standpoint. Excellent quality of apples and potatoes produced in Michigan will be brought out, with the resultant effect of not only stimulating production of better fruit but also tending to increase consumption of the crops within the state.

Various co-operative potato and apple growers' associations business men of west Michigan, railroad interests, and various state departments, including the Michigan Agricultural college, are co-operating in planning the details of the big exposition.

Special features in addition to the straight showing of competitive fruit and potato samples, will be provided to add to the interest of the show.

J. P. Munson, prominent fruit grower of Kent county, is president of the apple and potato show, while H. C. Moore, extension specialist at M. A. C., serves as secretary.

Insoluble Glue.

In order to render glue insoluble in water, even hot water, it is only necessary when dissolving the glue for use to add a little potassium bichromate to the water and to expose the glued part to the light. The proportion of potassium bichromate will vary with the circumstances, but for most purposes about one to fifty of the amount of glue used will suffice.

LYNN H. GREEN POST NOTES.

The Post's annual armistice day ball will be held at the High school Friday evening, November 9th. The committees in charge are working hard to make this the best dance they have ever held. Tickets are now on sale and can be procured from any member of the Post.

Part of the proceeds from the Legion stand, have been used in purchasing six radio head sets. These were presented to the disabled veterans taking treatment at the Eastlawn Sanatorium. The boys there deeply appreciate this little gift. Within a few weeks the Post with the assistance of the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps expects to put on a little lunch and entertainment for these comrades at the Sanatorium.

During the past week the post members have graded and seeded down their lot at the cemetery. Leo Lawrence kindly donated the dirt necessary to fill it in. With a little additional work on it in the spring they will have a very pretty lot.

Rev. Wm. Richards has arranged for a chaplain from Fort Wayne to speak at the services at the Methodist church on Armistice day morning, Sunday, November 11th. The members of the Post will attend in a body.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

Miss Ella Bernhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bernhardt, was united in marriage last Saturday afternoon (Oct. 20) Richard Reinholdt of Plymouth, the ceremony taking place in St. Paul's Lutheran church in this village. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers, and presented a very attractive appearance. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and a crown of white tulle. The bridesmaid's gown was blue tulle and the maid of honor wore a gown of blue tulle. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Carl F. Eissfeldt. Henry Schmutz played the wedding march, assisted by his sons on the violin.

About 90 friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Carl F. Eissfeldt. Henry Schmutz played the wedding march, assisted by his sons on the violin.

After the wedding a bountiful six o'clock dinner was served to the friends and relatives at the home of the bride. Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Martha Kreeger, sang during the evening.

Guests were present from Lansing, Detroit and Northville. Mr. and Mrs. Reinholdt will reside in Plymouth. Many friends in this vicinity will extend hearty congratulations. The bride received many useful and pretty gifts.

NORTHVILLE TO HAVE NEW LAUNDRY.

Charles Stanberg, who established and successfully conducted for a long time Jim's Tire Shop in this village, has decided to open a modern steam laundry in Northville about November 10th. He has rented the building recently occupied by McLaren's feed store on South Center street and is now busy installing machinery and equipment. Mr. Stanberg expects to operate a laundry with the idea of catering to family service as well as to the usual work that has always found its way to steam laundries. He will specialize in all kinds of laundry work and will be especially equipped to do wet wash, rough dry and family washings. He will gather work from a number of small towns in this section and will also pick up washings along the highways over which he travels as he goes to these outlying communities.

A good laundry is something that Northville has needed for some time and The Record is glad that Mr. Stanberg has decided to locate here instead of going to some other town to engage in business.

The Alseum theatre has been engaged for the 16th of November, when the G. G. class will give the "Tom Thumb Wedding." An out-of-town party will train the little folks for the occasion. More about this later. Just remember the date.

You will be able to buy a lot of good things for a dollar on Dollar Day, but there are some things dollars will not buy. Hear about them Sunday evening. The pastor's subject will be "Something Dollars Won't Buy." The subject of the morning sermon will be "Joyless Christianity, its Cause, Effect and Cure." DO ALL CHEVROLETS LOOK ALIKE.

Mrs. A. C. Atchison of Novi sustained quite a loss in this village Saturday night because all Chevrolet autos look so much alike. She had been in the city shopping during the day and Mr. Atchison motored to the village to meet her. She gave her purchases to him and he placed them in what he supposed was his car but when they reached home the packages were missing. Mr. Atchison at once recalled that another Chevrolet car stood beside his in front of John Walker's pool room and he thinks he placed the package in the wrong car. There were two dress skirts and some other articles of women's apparel and Mrs. Atchison would be very grateful if the party in whose car the package was placed would notify her.

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Northville Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for relief from aches and pains of bad backs from distressing kidney ailments—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Northville, who so testified years ago, now say the suits were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Northville kidney sufferers. Ask your neighbor Mrs. J. N. Elliott, Wing street, Northville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a family remedy for kidney disorders and backache and I am glad to speak a good word for them publicly or otherwise, since I know they are a remedy of merit. A few Doan's now and then keep my kidneys in good working order and give me the best of satisfaction. Too much can't be said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above statement was given September 20, 1916 and on April 20, 1920, Mrs. Elliott added: "I gladly confirm my former statement in praise of Doan's. The good they did me has lasted and my faith in them has remained firm."

A HEART BIG ENOUGHFOR ALL MANKIND

The religion that gives a result like that in the every day life of folks is the genuine article.

Living for one's self is fatal to individuals—cities—states or nations. It takes men of big vision to combat the tendency in folks to be selfish.

The Hebrew prophets had the world in their hearts—they saw the better day—the wider application of the law of Jehovah.

The best modern preachers voice the same outstanding note—and the better conditions are slowly coming.

The call of today is for a larger faith in the every day transactions of life—in the home—the school—the church—and business.

THE FRIENDLY CHURCHROBERT BURNS SAID

"Man was made to mourn" but the Bible says "Rejoice and be exceeding glad." Bible religion is a happy religion. If you don't find it so don't blame the church or the preacher or any one but yourself. If you stuck a needle in a hollow tooth you would not blame some one else because you had the tooth ache.

On Sunday morning the pastor's subject will be:

"Joyless Christianity, Its Cause, Effect and Cure"

If you don't enjoy your religion hear this sermon and you will know the reason why. That is if you are willing to listen to reason.

"SOME THINGS DOLLARS WILL NOT BUY" is the subject of the evening sermon.

Money cannot buy happiness, love, friendship and all the other best things in life but these best things are within your reach. This will be a happy presentation of a big subject.

Do You WEAR Out Clothes or WASH Them Out?

Clothes are more often worn out on the scrub board and through the wringer than through ordinary wear. That's why we say that Federal-washed clothes will wear longer.

At Federal Laundry we use no scrub boards, no wringers, no chemicals. Your clothes are washed in softest water with mild, pure soap. Then the water is gently wrung out of them in our modern centrifugal extractor. And they are dried and ironed with the greatest care.

You may send your washing to Federal with absolute confidence.

Her Face and Brow

James Whitcomb Riley

Help me! but her face and brow are lovelier than lilies are Beneath the light of moon and star That smile as they are smiling now

White lilies in a pallid swoon Of sweetest white beneath the moon

White lilies in a flood of bright Pure lucidness of liquid light Cascading down some plenilune When all the azure over head Blooms like a dazzling daisy bed.

So luminous her face and brow The luster of their glory, shed In memory, even, blinds me now

THE BOWERY

Perhaps no other street in any other city in America has had a more intensely interesting or varied career, has housed a more notorious population or is known so far and wide as is The Bowery in New York City.

"Bouwerie" is a Dutch word which corresponds to our word "farm." The extensive estates of Great Bouwerie of Governor Peter Stuyvesant whom history records was the last and the best of the governors of the Dutch colonies in America were located along the upper east side of New Amsterdam (now New York city). Bouwerie Lane was the main road leading north from the wall behind and protecting the city to Governor Stuyvesant's Bouwerie. It extended from about where Chatham square now stands to the vicinity of the present junction of Third and Fourth avenues. Bouwerie Lane was subsequently shortened to Bowery Lane, which name in turn (about 1507) gave way to The Bowery which was handed down to and is used by the present generation.

A tavern, known as Bowery House, was built on this road. The village surrounding it gradually came into existence. The location of this community was between Second and Sixteenth streets and east of and along Second avenue near the location of the present Stuyvesant square. The Bowery (Bouwerie Lane) was one of the first named streets in the "New World."

The Bowery, notorious in the extreme for years and years, as the hangout of lawless boys and others of a questionable character, has in more recent times taken on a new and a better life. The street at the present time is made up and patronized by a population of many nations and of many walks in life and is lined with a seemingly endless string of cheap stores, amusement houses, lodging places and pawn shops. Into the latter are brought by shiftless individuals anything and everything that can be carried and which has a pawnable value. I once heard about an old Boweryite who had a wooden leg which he pawned daily as he started out on a round of begging, reclaiming his peg with the same regularity as he returned to his hangout at night.

Governor Stuyvesant died in 1672. His body was buried in the little cemetery on his bouwerie. When St. Marks church at Second avenue and Eleventh street was constructed in 1785 the painstakingly inscribed tombstone over his grave was built into one of the walls.

OLD GRANARY BURYING GROUND

Within the confines of the older (Eastern) states of this Union there are many ancient, quaint, and hallowed burying grounds, most of which closely surround or adjoin a "much-loved chapel or meeting house. Among the most interesting of these is that precious plot of ground known as Old Granary Burying Ground, near the present business center in the city of Boston.

The town granary once stood on this site—hence this peculiar name. The burying ground was established about the year 1640.

Within this well-kept enclosure which is surrounded by an imposing protective fence, lie the remains of three signers of the Declaration of Independence, nine governors, Peter Faneuil, that public-spirited individual who presented the city the famous hall which bears his name; Paul Revere, that patriot who, on April 18, 1775, warned his country of the marching of the British troops towards Lexington and Concord, and other notables of their time.

Probably the most conspicuous headstone that graces the shaded covering of the departed is that erected by Benjamin Franklin, the most important literary man of his day, in loving tribute to the memory of his father, Josiah and his mother, Abiah.

An outstanding feature of the plot are a number of almost-a-century-old elm trees which cast their shadows over this resting place.

The epitaphs on many of the stones which mark these ancient graves are quaint, indeed, and peculiar in the light of present-day custom. An unusual one reads:

Here lieth the body of John Downing, aged about 50 yrs., dec'd April 19, 1694

To bargain with Christ for room below, He grants a mansion in his upper store; Thus God gives more than we do ask or know.

Instead of grace uninterrupted gloria.

Another:

Here lies interred the body of Mr. Thomas

Cravford, who departed this life, Aug. 23d, 1775. Aged 56.

Stop here my friend and cast an eye, As you are now, so once was I; As I am now, so you must be, Prepare for death and follow me.

A good name is better than precious ornament.

BONE HARPOONS FOUND IN ENGLAND ARE PREHISTORIC

Antiquarians Verify Fact of Ancient Life in Britain.

London—The fact that prehistoric humans existed in the British Isles has been verified again by the reports of two learned committees just published in the Anthropological Journal, Manchester. These reports absolutely vindicate the authenticity of two bone harpoons which were found beneath the peat at Holderness, Yorkshire.

One harpoon is 4½ inches long, the other, 30 inches. Their interest is great, as from certain peculiarities they are now proved to be the work of Maglemose men—so called from Maglemose, Denmark—where many extraordinary relics of very early man have been uncovered. The age of the Maglemose man may be anything from 10,000 to 20,000 years B. C., when the North sea was dry, when land connected Denmark with Yorkshire and Scotland and when the Dogger bank was covered with forests.

Leslie Armstrong of Sheffield, a distinguished anthropologist, read a paper of these harpoons at the Hull meeting of the British association last September. Mr. Sheppard, curator of the Hull museum challenged their authenticity, declaring them to be forgeries not more than thirty years old. Subsequently, they were carefully studied by two expert committees whose reports have now appeared. They were compared with four harpoons from Kunda, Estonia, which are undoubtedly of Maglemose date, and were proved identical with them in type, color and chemical condition of the bone. The lines of cutting were also identical.

The two harpoons are declared genuine and Prof. Sir W. Boyd Dawkins, one of the greatest living authorities on anthropology, writes:

"I have no hesitation in saying that the charge that they are forgeries is absolutely without foundation."

Further confirmation of his view is afforded by the discovery of a very similar harpoon under the peat at Bethune, in France.

The harpoons are in the possession of W. Moffitt of Arwick. Similar harpoons with other bone implements of the Maglemose period have been found at Oban, in the famous MacArthur cave.

Liners and Reindeer Carry Mail to Alaska

Seattle, Wash.—The Alaskan mail service stands alone in the annals of postal deliveries in that it uses virtually every type of transportation. Ocean liners take the mail to Seward, up-to-date mail cars carry it to Nenana, dog teams and river steamers take it to Iditarod, auto trucks distribute it to out-of-the-way places and fleet-footed reindeer assist in hurrying letters to Nome, St. Michael and Golovin. Now seaplanes are soon to take their place in the service to coast towns.

Leaving Seattle, mail for interior Alaska is carried to Seward by steamship. At that point it is transferred to the railroad which takes it to Nenana, 890 miles inland. This takes nine days from Seattle. At Nenana the mail is made up for the mining and trading camps.

In spite of unimprovement, the old obstacles of ice and snow, whirling rapids, glacier crusted mountains, storms and mosquitoes wage then fight against the mail carriers, who make their deliveries with remarkable regularity.

Two Million Held as Slaves in Abyssinia

Geneva—The League of Nations has been informed that there are more than 2,000,000 slaves of both sexes in Abyssinia, the traffic in which is reported to have been increasing every year since the war. Modern Solomon Lets Dog Pick His Owner

Solomon's bally trick was outdone in a New York city court, where Mrs. Ann O'Connor said the Pomeranian was hers. Mrs. Rose Cohen insisted the dog's last name was Cohen, and when Magistrate Sweetser allowed each woman to take turns calling the dog the Pom answered either name readily.

Then the dog was put in the middle of the floor, the judge said "Go," and the Pom trotted to Mrs. Cohen. Magistrate Sweetser said she could keep it.

PRIZES FOR BABIES ARE GIVEN PAPUAN MOTHERS

Fathers of Four Children Have Their Taxes Remitted.

London.—There's a healthy shock awaiting birth control advocates in far-away Papua, in the Pacific ocean, north of Australia. The natives of this thriving community appear never to have been bothered about birth control, for the most popular government regulation down there at present is a baby bonus for native women.

Col. J. H. P. Murray, lieutenant-governor of Papua, recently in London, explained in an interview the methods which have been adopted by the Papuan authorities to make it the best regulated and most industrious of the South Sea protectorates.

He says that under a system of baby bonus, if a native woman has four children living her husband's tax is remitted.

The mother receives a bonus of five shillings, with an extra allowance for each additional child.

The intention of the baby bonus is not, however, to show contempt for the birth control advocates, but is intended to hold up the mother of a large family as a person of distinction in the village. The old native idea was to despise the mother of many children. The officials set about to change the prevailing thought, and the recent census report would tend to show that they have started in the right manner.

Colonel Murray's report on the industry and thrift of the natives explodes another theory of the life of the South Seas as being one long rest beneath palm trees, with dark-skinned maidens hovering in the background.

This impression is quite incorrect, and even the tendency of the native toward a little cannibalism and head hunting has given way under the influence of the British officials, to more peaceful pursuits of farming and road-making.

A native Papuan must not only keep his village clean and peaceful, but also his house from being over-crowded by the government and his own people. He must also keep his house clean and his own people from being over-crowded by the government and his own people.

In addition to the baby bonus, the natives are given a bonus for each child born. This bonus is given to the mother of a large family as a person of distinction in the village. The old native idea was to despise the mother of many children. The officials set about to change the prevailing thought, and the recent census report would tend to show that they have started in the right manner.

This shows Mrs. Amy Matheson, fifty-four years old, an actress of the days gone by, who is said to be the original "Little Eva" of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Although totally blind and deaf, Mrs. Matheson is active in reciting famous poems and interested in a school of dramatics.

She played the part of "Little Eva" when six years old in Montreal, Can., and has played with old-time songs such as Ruth Palmer, Rose Coughlin, Joe Wheelock and others. Her spoken name is Amy Matheson.

Finds Out Young Man Can't Love Old Woman

Los Angeles.—"You're right, judge. I have found out that a young man can't love an old woman."

This was the answer of Mrs. Mary A. Randolph, eighty-seven years of age, to Judge Russell of the Superior court after he had told her she was old enough to give romance wide liberty. The aged woman appeared in court to press her suit for divorce from Wesley Barry Randolph, forty-seven years of age. Judge Russell granted the decree.

Woman Seeks Child She Sold to Father

Mrs. Nina M. Fellows, in court in Syracuse, N. Y., testified that when she and her husband, Fred A. Fellows, separated, he forced her to sign a paper turning over her child to him on payment of $150, threatening she would never see the child again if she refused. The wife is now suing to recover custody of the child. The husband says that he bought the child with hard-earned money and will not give it up.

The Child Witness

By CHARLES E. BAXTER

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

"ELSIE RAYMOND!" The child of seven stepped into the witness box, and an involuntary sigh went up from the packed court. For upon the testimony of this child depended whether Harold Raymond, accused of the murder of his wife, should go free or go to the electric chair.

The case had occupied the public attention for weeks past. Raymond was accused of having murdered his wife with arsenic. Arsenic in large quantities had been found in her body at the post mortem. Raymond had been an amateur golfer. He had a job of "week-killing," a really charged with arsenic. The prosecution claimed that he had administered the cumulating dose in a bottle of wine.

Its weakness lay in the fact that the remainder of the wine had gone sour and had been thrown away. It was a home-brewed wine; Raymond had concocted it—that was a point for the prosecution. Also, the maid, a Polish girl, testified that she had seen Raymond put "something" into it before it came on the table. And only Mrs. Raymond had drunk of it.

The defense proved that the maid was under notice to leave, and bore a grudge.

That was the case. It looked rather bad for the prisoner. He had called his witnesses—all but his little daughter, they had not gone him-much good Raymond and his wife had not lived happily together. Also, there had been another woman in the case. Yes, it looked bad for Raymond.

"He oughtn't to let that child go into the box. It won't help him with the jury."

"She's too young to understand the nature of an oath."

"Elsie," said the judge, leaning forward, "do you understand what an oath means?"

"Oh, yes, sir," answered the little girl, quite composed and full of answers that she was the center of interest in the crowded court.

"What will happen to you if you tell a lie?"

"I'll go to hell when I die, sir, and be burned up by fire forever and ever."

A gasp in the court. "Silence!" The gavel rapped. "Let the little girl be sworn," the judge directed.

Elsie was sworn. The counsel for the prosecution took up his cross-examination.

"Do you often drink wine at your house?"

"Only when father makes it, sir."

"Do you ever drink wine?"

"Father won't let me."

"Did you see the wine come onto the table?"

"Yes, sir; I was in the kitchen, and I saw father take it out of the cupboard and put it on the table."

"Did you see him uncork it and put anything in it?"

"No, sir; he put it straight on the table. Then he called mamma to dinner. I was in the dining room the whole time, and I know he didn't put anything in it."

Sensation in court. "Silence!" The gavel thudded. "Did your father drink any wine at dinner?"

"He filled his glass, but he didn't drink it much—just a few sips."

"And your mother—did she drink any of it?"

"She drank a glass, sir."

"Did she say the wine was unusual?"

"No, sir; she said, 'This is excellent wine, Harold.'"

"Did anybody else drink any of it?"

The child hesitated. "Well, tell me."

"I'm afraid father will be angry with me," answered the child in a timid tone.

"Nobody will be angry with you," said the judge. "We are here to get the truth. Come, Elsie, you must tell us everything you know."

"Come, did anyone else drink any of that wine?" demanded the prosecuting attorney.

"Yes, sir, I did," faltered the child.

"What's that? When? How?"

"When daddy said the wine was to be thrown away, I—I drank nearly all the rest of the bottle and fixed it up with water. It made my head feel funny."

After an interval of twenty minutes the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty." Raymond and his daughter left the court amid the plaudits of the mob.

"Well, what do you know about that?" demanded the prosecuting attorney of a conferee.

"Daddy," piped a childish voice, "the people really get burned up in hell forever if they tell stories!"

"And what do you think about that?" replied the other.

LEPER COLONY HAS 399 CASES

Victims' Faces Now Beam With Hope on Small Island in the Mid-Pacific.

Kalaupapa, Island of Molokai, T. H.—A spirit of happiness almost impossible to describe passes the borders of human understanding with tragedy through the isolated, cliff-guarded, surf-ringed strip of shore that has given this portion of the Hawaiian archipelago the name of "the lonely leper" side of Molokai.

A visitor to the colony, forewarned of the horror it holds, finds all of that error and more that cannot be discussed. But he finds also that the heavy fog of gloom which once enveloped the tragic, narrow stretch between the sea and the towering cliffs has been dissipated by a ray of light arising from the favorable results that have attended the use of the Dean chaulmoogra oil specific during the last two years in checking the ravages of the oldest disease in the world. The hope that springs eternal in the human breast is ever present now at Molokai, even in the most advanced cases.

399 Lepers in Colony.

The number of patients here now is 399, composed of 263 males and 136 females. Racially, the groups contain: Belgian, 1; Chinese, 14; Filipinos, 12; Germans, 2; Hawaiian, 239; part Hawaiian, 53; Japanese, 10; Portuguese, 27; Porto Rican, 3; Korean, 8. There are 35 non-leprosy employees at the colony, 10 non-leprosy children of leprosy parents and 35 other non-leprosy residents.

A man of wealth, of power and of influence throughout the territory accompanied the legislators to the island. He made directly for the hospital as soon as he landed from the vessel's small boat. When the main body of the visitors reached the hospital he was sitting in one of the beds weeping. The leprosy form upon the bed was his son.

Babies Are Free From Plague.

But all is not sorrow at the saddest spot on earth. Some distance from the hospital is a nursery. On the day of the legislator's visit it contained ten unusually healthy-looking babies, ranging from two weeks to five months in age. They gurgled, smiled and laughed, and shook tiny, chubby fists at the visitors. Although one or both of their parents are afflicted with leprosy, the most searching examination possible has failed to show a trace of the disease in any one of the children, or in scores of others who have been born to patients at the settlement.

The children are cared for by the territory.

Stole 75-Cent Ride; Got Religion; Pays

Chicago.—Some years ago, John E. Marker, Cincinnati stole a ride on a Pennsylvania train, which would have cost him 75 cents had he ridden in the regular way.

From his home in Cincinnati he has sent the 75 cents to the Pennsylvania company, addressing a letter to A. H. Shaw, general passenger agent.

"As I'm living a Christian life and can see that it is a duty to straighten up my back life, I will send you seventy-five cents (75c) to pay for a ride I stole from the Pennsylvania Co a few years back," Marker wrote.

"The city I got on at was Columbus City and I rode to Port Wayne on a freight, took passenger back. Was after work and I got it so I took a passenger back."

"I want to say that a real true devoted Christian life is a very wonderful and glorious life. And if one digs down deep in his heart, and get all his sins purged out by God he will be ready for the Holy Ghost and Fire which is the power God gives His people that follow Him in all the light He has. I do hope and trust you will find this experience if you have not got it. It is for you, if you want it. In God I trust you will find may His richest blessing fall on you and your people."

Florida Motorist Has Fight With Alligator

Moore, Fla.—While driving along the road between his plantation and the Lee Hoe Farms, Mr. Ed. Frieson had an experience that he will not soon forget. A five-foot alligator ran out on the road in front of the car. Mr. Frieson came to a full stop at once as he did not care to have an argument with the gentleman. He could not avoid hitting Mr. Gater, however, which made the king of the swamps fall over, and with a rush he grabbed the front wheel with his powerful jaws and started to shake the car to pieces. Mr. Frieson jumped out of the car and grabbing a large rock, he struck the gator on the head rendering him unconscious and causing him to relinquish hold on the wheel. After this Mr. Frieson did not lose any time getting away from the scene of battle, jumping into his trusty car and making for other parts as fast as it would carry him.

Post Stops Sale of Letters.

Berlin.—Gerhard Hauptmann, Germany's leading poet, obtained a temporary injunction against the sale of letters written by him to Otto Brahm in 1899. Hauptmann found the letters being auctioned for their autographs by a Berlin antique dealer.

Springwells—That Springwells village may soon re-incorporate as a city was revealed Thursday when special census enumerators from the office of the secretary of state began counting noses. If it is found that the village has the necessary population of 500 per square mile or 4,500 people, it is expected a special election will be called to pass upon the question of re-incorporation.

The order is the result of a public hearing held in this city, when David E. Jones, chief deputy of the department, was present and heard both sides of the question as presented by local people. The meeting was held after a petition, as presented, signed by members of the local chapter of the Izak Walton league.

Iron Mountain—A profit of $14,000, although it has been in operation a little over a month, is the record made by the state-owned automobile ferry at the Straits of Mackinac, according to Frank F. It is expected the close of navigation will see the project paid for and that there will be something over to defray the cost of a new boat next spring, Mr. Rogers said.

Lansing—Governor Grosbeck will call a special session of the legislature some time in November, for the purpose of taking up the question of legislative reapportionment, which under the constitution, must be fixed this year for the next 10-year period. Although there has been no formal or official announcement of his intention to call the lawmakers into extraordinary session, it was learned from reliable sources here last week that the governor practically has decided upon the course.

Flint—Gov. Grosbeck is personally directing the reconstruction work by state prisoners on the nine miles of the Dixie Highway between Flint and the Genesee-Oakland line. About 265 prisoners are employed on the job. The work has been under way for nearly a month, yet not quite a mile and a quarter has been completed. The Governor relieved the Highway Department's district engineer assigned to the work and four other department men, replacing them with others to whom he gave instructions to speed up.

Lansing—Gov. Grosbeck announced the following four appointments to the Wayne Circuit court bench: Judge Arthur Webster, Dewitt H. Merriam, Guy A. Miller, Ernest P. Lajole. The appointees will take office immediately and will sit until November, 1924. They are appointed under an act passed by the 1923 legislature adding four judges to the Wayne bench. Great pressure was brought to bear on the Governor in behalf of various candidates. In all, 23 candidates were mentioned for the positions.

Do You WEAR Out Clothes or WASH Them Out?

Clothes are more often worn out on the scrub board and through the wringer than through ordinary wear. That's why we say that Federal-washed clothes will wear longer.

At Federal Laundry we use no scrub boards, no wringers, no chemicals. Your clothes are washed in softest water with mild, pure soap. Then the water is gently wrung out of them in our modern centrifugal extractor. And they are dried and ironed with the greatest care.

She Was the Understudy

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

"SO PLEASED to meet you at last,
Mr. Howard. Let me introduce you to my Aunt Mary."

Howard glanced from the pretty, simplily garbed girl who was holding her reception at the door, quiet but with a hint of mischief in the eyes.

"Excuse my not rising, Mr. Howard," said Aunt Mary. "I am something of an invalid."

Howard's eyes were following Miss Harkness as she flashed brilliantly among the guests. He was conscious of a sense of acute disappointment. A man of forty, a famous European painter, he had had a correspondence for nearly a year with Agnes Harkness, whose novel, "Hearts Astir," had electrified two continents.

Miss Harkness was an American lady, living in Jamaica, and they had arranged to meet in New York, which both of them planned to visit simultaneously. For the correspondence had been a very rare and precious one, a mutual revelation of two souls. It had been almost perfect.

And this was Agnes Harkness—this well-gowned, lovely young woman, exchanging remarks with the guests who had come to meet the celebrated artist on the occasion of her first visit to New York in years.

Miss Harkness was introducing him
Howard felt a little slighted. None of these people seemed to know him
as anything more than a mere name.
He began to feel bored. He went back and talked to the aunt, whose eyes watched him with quite amusement.

"I hear you and my niece know each other, almost intimately by correspondence," she said.

"Yes," answered Howard unhappily.
"Agnes is a singular character. She is five underneath the scintillations.
But she has been out of New York so long, and worldly things do appeal to her."

"I see," said Howard.
"You must stay after the others have gone and talk things over together. I know she has been burning with curiosity to meet the man who has been so long in communication with her."

So Howard stayed through a dreary afternoon, and as it progressed he came to like Agnes Harkness less and less. In the end, bearing her hard brilliance, he cordially disliked her.
He felt, too, that he had made a precious fool of himself in writing the deepest things of his heart to an unknown woman.

The last of the guests was going.
Howard had drifted toward the door.
Irresolute. The aunt was not in the room.

"I'll really have to be going, too,"
Howard said to Agnes Harkness.
"Oh, do please stay," she answered.
"My aunt wants to have a chat with you, and so do I."

The prospect of a chat with the aunt did not seem very appealing to Howard.

"We've got a lot of things to talk over haven't we?" asked Agnes. "At least, it's such a long time since we met, I'm sure. Let me see, how long is it?"

She knitted her brows, evidently waiting for Howard to lead. A surge of anger swept across him at the reception.

"I am sorry your memory doesn't serve you better, Miss Harkness," he answered. "As a matter of fact we have never met before, but we both intended to meet in New York to make each other's acquaintance. Now I have made it," he added bitterly. "There seems nothing left for me to do but say good-by."

"Oh, you men are so sensitive—so artistic!" said Agnes Harkness nervously.
"I'm sorry if I forgot it—I—"

She was looking irresolutely about her. "Aunt Mary," she called, "Mr.
Howard can't be persuaded to stay any longer. He's so angry because I forgot that we had never met before."

"Oh, we must persuade Mr. Howard," said the aunt, reappearing. "Mr.
Howard, for my sake," she pleaded.
"For the sake of those things that were to be talked over when we met."

And, as he looked at her without understanding, she added:

"You see, it was a little reception let not on your account, Mr. Howard," she continued, smiling. "I am Agnes Mary Harkness, the author, and your correspondent, and my niece kindly understood me this afternoon because I hate meeting stupid people, and I am not strong. Come, forgive me and let us enjoy our visit and talk over those letters of ours, which are strictly our own secret."

"And in her eyes Howard saw a sudden light of tenderness.

"You will forgive me?"

"I'll forgive you and stay," answered Howard, feeling his heart suddenly uplifted.

Might Have Been Interesting.

"And were you ever really embarrased in your life?"

"Was I? Well, Sam, listen: I had two books bound exactly alike. One was 'Sunday School Helps' and the other was by De Maupassant. Sunday
I got up before my class and said:
Now, girls, I'll read you an extract which is found on page 79. I began,
'She told me that she was the daughter of a Cadi of the Outled Sidi Chik, and of a woman.' I stopped right there. By the way, Sam, did you ever read that story?'—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

and tolled the "kidnappers."

MICHIGAN GAINS IN PURE CATTLE

Tuberculosis Tests Reveal Fewest Reactions in Last 5 Years.

Lansing.—A substantial decrease in the percentage of cattle infected with tuberculosis is shown in a report covering tubercular inspections for the fiscal year of 1923, completed by the State Department of Agriculture.

Of 274,014 cattle tested, 6,090 reacted to the tubercular test, for a percentage of 2.22 per cent. In 1922 the percentage of infected cattle was 3.56; in 1921, 2.48 per cent; in 1920, 3.03 per cent, and in 1919, 2.46 per cent. The cattle tested last year represented 16.5 per cent of the total number in the state.

According to the report there are 464 herds of purebred cattle in the state, absolutely free from tuberculosis, and 27,954 herds of other cattle containing 205,200 cattle that have successfully passed the test.

Four counties, Hillsdale, Emmet, Antrim and Charlevoix, were placed on the official accredited list, with less than one-half of one per cent infection. Inspection work is in progress in 15 counties, and 21 are on the waiting list. It is estimated that 40,188 herds, containing 326,214 cattle are waiting for inspection. Leelanau and Grand Traverse counties, as the result of recent inspections, will probably soon go on the accredited list.

Despite the controversies in which the tubercular inspection work has been involved in the last year, in the State Administrative Board and the Legislature, the report shows that the state, during the year, paid out $316,160 in indemnities as compared with $188,000 the preceding year.

GIANT BOMBER DWARFS MATE

Barling, Biggest Plane, Carries Six Tons of Gasoline.

Dayton, O.—The Barling bomber is the largest aeroplane. The Martin bomber, the largest aeroplane in use by the air service before the advent of the Barling, is a pigmy compared to it. The Barling soon is to make a four of the country.

The Barling has a wing spread of 120 feet, a height of 28 feet and an overall length of 65 feet.

The gasoline capacity is six tons, or 2,000 gallons. The oil capacity 1,356 pounds or 181 gallons. Six Liberty engines are required to power the Barling.

The minimum crew required to operate the Barling consists of four men.

The weight of the aeroplane loaded will exceed 40,000 pounds. Specifications required a flying speed of 90 miles per hour. On her initial flight the Barling accomplished 93 miles per hour without difficulty.

TWO ENTOMBED MINERS SAVED

Rescued After Being Underground For 56 Ho. rs.

Bingham, Utah.—Joseph Norden superintendent, and Jose Ratalaza were rescued from the Utah Apex Metal Co.'s mine after being entombed 56 hours. The bodies of two others were located in the rock pile near the place where Norden and Ratalaza were freed, but because of the immense pile of stone and timbers it was impossible to identify them.

Neither of the two rescued last week was hurt. They attributed their good fortune to an especially strong set of timbers directly above them when the crash came.

Wild Animal Prices Higher.

Hamburg.—Wild animals cost a good deal of money at the present time. A giraffe brings about $5,000; hippopotamuses from $2,500 to $5,000; and good lions are worth $1,250 each. The principal reason is scarcity. Post war conditions have interfered with the pursuit of the industry of providing wild beasts, the European centers of which is at Hamburg. John Hagen back has applied to the British authorities for permission to send and mail catchers to India.

OAKLAND'S VALUATION GIVEN A BOOST.

An increase in Oakland county's valuation of $67,921,290 was announced by the state tax commission late Thursday afternoon following its hearing before the board of supervisors earlier in the day, at which time each supervisor has given an opportunity to present his views on the June valuation fixed by the supervisors. The new valuation of the county is $215,901,682 as compared with the valuation of $146,880,392 fixed by the equalization committee and adopted by the board at its special session at that time. The October 1922 valuation was $127,301,477. The new figure even exceeds the amount at which the state board of equalization placed the county at its meeting in August which was $207,161,600.

Announcement of the new valuation figures last Thursday afternoon came as a surprise to the majority of members of the board. They had looked for some advance, but were not prepared for the huge increase given the county. This means that Oakland county will assume a greater proportion of the state tax than heretofore. —Pontiac Press.

Happy Men.

I had been working in my garden. The sun was just below the horizon and the dew was already on the smooth green walks bordered by sweet-smelling roses and carnations. The stillness of the evening was broken only by the whistling of a blackbird. I sat down on a rude seat I had formed beneath an old tree and, as I thought of the fruits and plants that were ripening around me, I exclaimed to myself, "How happy, if they knew it, are they that fill the ground." —William Barnes.

Good Music, Wholesome Entertainment and Lecture Features Announced.

That the local Lyceum committee has chosen wisely in its selection of the course to be given here this season is shown by the excellent list of attractions which will be enjoyed throughout the winter. It is a well balanced course of good music, wholesome entertainment and worthwhile lecture features, and should prove tremendously popular with local Lyceum fans. The list comes from the Cole-Alber Lyceum Bureau of Cleveland, the pioneer lecture and Lyceum organization of the mid-eastern section, handling nearly a thousand Lyceum courses in the states of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia. The Cole-Alber organization, through its membership in the Affiliated Lyceum & Chautauqua Association, Inc., maintains a big list of Lyceum features and the local people are to be congratulated on the excellent selections for the coming season. It is an interesting fact that the Affiliated Association covers all of the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand and carries the message of Lyceum into more than 5,000 communities on two sides of the Pacific. Mr. Louis J. Alber of Cleveland is president of the Affiliated, and also the Cole-Alber interests.

The following numbers will be enjoyed here:

Increased Driving Comfort Provided in Buick "Fours"

In adjusting the position of the driving seat, in lowering the steering column and in bringing the shift lever and emergency brake within the easiest possible reach of the driver's hand, Buick has provided additional comfort and satisfaction in the new four-cylinder models. Ease of handling is also an outstanding feature of the new Buick "four". In heavy traffic the abundant power of the famous valve-in-head engine and the quickness with which the car responds to every control enable it to glide in and out of traffic with the utmost facility, while Buick four-wheel brakes assure perfect braking and safety under all conditions.

BAVARIA PLANS TO QUIT BERLIN

SEPARATISTS TROOPS INVADE TREVES — COBLENZ DE-CLARED CAPITAL.

REVOLT PENETRATES THE RUHR

France Announces Recognition of Rhenish Republic—Separation Assumed.

Berlin—Catastrophes on three sides threatened the German Reich last Tuesday. In the Rhineland territories occupied by the Allies-armed separatists struck to gain control and establish Rhineland republics.

Separatist troops were reported to be marching on Dusseldorf.

Other cities, which have followed Aix-la-Chapelle in the separatist movement, according to latest dispatches, are Coblenz and Treves. Both places surrendered, it is said, without resistance.

In Bavaria, the reactionary, monarchistic state government openly defied the Central government by ordering the Bavarian contingents of the federal troops to take an oath to the state and pass under the control of General Von Lossow after he had been recalled for alleged disobedience to Berlin's orders.

The separatist revolt against Berlin has spread throughout the Rhineland and even penetrated the Ruhr.

The Bavarian premier, Dr. von Kulling, has declared that Bavaria cannot remain united with Germany.

Six towns are known to have been occupied by the Separatists up to this evening in addition to Aix-la-Chapelle and Weisbaden.

They are Munchen-Gladbach, Crefeld, Julich, Montjoie, Cleve and Duren. The present plan calls for the occupation of Coblenz.

Coblenz will be declared the capital of the republic and its occupation will probably be carried out under the leadership of Joseph Matthes.

France regards the event as the inevitable consequence of Germany's mad course in following out passive resistance to France-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr.

It was this resistance that caused gradual break-up of the power of the Central government in Berlin.

France will treat with the new state on its merits.

The Rhenish republic must assume its full share of reparations.

The public buildings occupied by the Separatists displayed the colors of the Rhineland republic—green, white and red.

CHICAGO PLANS DRY CRUSADE

Mayor Orders Residences Searched Without Warrants.

Chicago—Having closed all but 1,500 of the 7,000 "soft drink parlors," saloons, "drug stores" and other places thriving on sales of illicit liquor, Mayor Dever and the police are now turning their attention to home brewers and home distillers who make saloons of their residences and sell their products.

It is admitted there are thousands of these in some sections of the city, densely populated by foreigners practically every house has its still in the basement, while the kitchen is used for brewing beer and making wine. These noisies are turning out the rankest poison.

Under the new order issued the police will raid these places as fast as they are located.

The corporation counsel has ruled that a search warrant is not essential and officers may enter any suspected place and seize the inhabitants, then illicit booze and distilling and brewing machinery.

Wives and families of victims of these dispensaries can be depended upon, the police say, to supply the evidence upon which raids will be made.

M. A. C. OFFERS FARMERS CHANCE

Sixteen Week Agricultural Course Opens This Week.

East Lansing—A 16-week course in general agriculture, the first of a series of a dozen to be given at Michigan Agricultural College during the winter in connection with the regular short-course work, will open Oct. 29 and run until March 6, according to E. B. Hill, assistant dean of agriculture and director of the special winter courses at M. A. C.

"This course in general agriculture is designed for men and women who are actually farming, or who expect to become farmers, farm foremen, or farm managers," Mr. Hill said. "Running for 16 weeks in each of two years, it gives a broad training and excellent education in modern agricultural practices."

"For the men who can not spare the time to take the regular four-year course at the college, this course offers an opportunity for a well-rounded agricultural education. It is by far the most popular of our special winter courses."

An eight-week two-year course in general agriculture will start Jan. 7, while special courses in the different branches of the subject will be given during January, February and March.

"SIX CYLINDER LOVE" IS BIGGEST COMEDY SUCCESS OF RECENT YEARS

Here's a real up-to-the-minute, high-speed American comedy—hot off the theatrical griddle from Broadway and Chicago. Capacity houses in these cities the past season proclaim it the best play in years. Early last October it finished a 54-week run at the Harris Theater, New York, and began a long engagement at the Harris Theater, Chicago. It is a modern "gas-wagon" story that hits you right where you live—and the villain, strange to say, is a high-powered six-cylinder automobile that just about gets everybody into the sorriest kind of a mess. America can be divided into two classes—those who have cars and those who would like to have them. That's where the universal appeal of "Six Cylinder Love" comes in. That's why it grips you, thrills you and tickles you! The production is well cast and elaborately staged under the direction of Percival Vivian of New York, well-known actor-producer. The play is William Anthony McGuire's greatest success.
