FAIR ASSOCIATION ENTERTAINED THE BOYS SCOUTS.

That they might give expression of their appreciation for the splendid and loyal service rendered in behalf of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association by the Northville Boy Scouts, President H. R. Richardson and Secretary E. L. Smith planned a dinner party for the boys at the Ambler Hotel on Friday evening last, and the affair proved a most delightful one. Upwards of thirty boys, accompanied by Scoutmaster Wallace E. Ross and Assistant Scoutmaster Merithew assembled at the hotel at 6:30 in response to invitations issued earlier in the week, and the hotel management served the merry company a feast the boys, at least, will not soon forget.

No finer group of boys could be gathered together in this village, than surrounded the banquet table and enjoyed as only boys can enjoy the bountiful dinner. Every boy was full of life and vigor and entered heartily in the good fellowship of the evening. After the dinner had been served and after the boys in their moods of merry making had fixed their water glasses with a combination of salt and sugar, President Richardson, in a spirit of fun and to turn the tables, proposed a toast to the fair association and asked all to stand and drink to the success and prosperity of the Northville Fair. The suggestion was readily accepted and in a spirit of loyalty every boy did as requested, though some made wry faces while responding to the toast.

President Richardson called upon E. E. Brown to express in behalf of the fair association the appreciation the officers and directors felt in complying with his request. Mr. Brown assured the boys that their work at the fair, which has been so well and faithfully performed during the past few years, was just as important as that performed by the officers and superintendents, and without the help and co-operation of their troop there would have been something lacking in the management and direction of the fair, that the Boys Scouts were regarded as being an important part and factor of the fair management and organization and their efficient and loyal service was greatly appreciated. Mr. Brown urged the boys to continue to render such service not only at fair time, but throughout all the weeks and months of the year—in their home life, in school and among themselves, and this render to the community which is offering them so much a service the value and influence of which cannot be estimated.

Secretary Smith followed with words of congratulation and assured the boys he would gladly assist them in any and every manner possible. Mr. Richardson also expressed his appreciation of the assistance of the boys and stated that one or two Scouts were as good as a good sized police force, in helping to handle crowds. Scoutmaster Ross told of the work at the local troop and he was followed by Assistant Scoutmaster Merithew, who declared that no one becomes too old for Scout activities. Scouts Cramer and Kohler were called upon and responded with fitting remarks.

As the guests were taking their departure, after having enjoyed an hour of real fellowship, one lad was heard to remark "Gee, they sure do feed a fellow at this hotel," and every body applauded the remark. The management of the hotel left nothing undone that could in any way have added to the pleasure of the gathering.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB OBSERVED GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT.

The members of the Northville Woman's Club observed gentlemen's night last Friday evening when they entertained their husbands. Mrs. L. A. Babbitt presided and extended a cordial welcome to the guests. Prof. Kemp Keena of Ann Arbor gave an interesting paper on "American Folk Songs" and was candid enough to inform his hearers that he was trying out his composition on the men and women of Northville. At the conclusion of his paper he sang two Indian love songs and a southern plantation song. Mrs. E. H. Lapham accompanying him on the piano. Miss Gertrude Vendabush of Detroit, being accompanied by Mrs. C. D. Kilgour, gave three violin numbers which greatly pleased all. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake and coffee were then served.

Mrs. Robt McCully returned home a few days ago from Saginaw where she was called to the sick bed and death of her oldest sister, Mrs. E. J. Franklin.

WILLIAM KAY DIED FRIDAY EVENING.

William Kay, one of Northville's most highly esteemed citizens, died at his home in this village last Friday night, after a short illness, and when the news of his death became current about town Saturday morning many were the expressions of regret. His association with the members of the Masonic bodies of this village won for him the esteem of all who came to know him and he served Northville Commandery as its eminent commander with efficiency and faithfulness.

Mr. Kay was born in Dumfriesshire, Scotland, February 4th, 1849, and came to Canada with his parents in 1854, living with them until he came to Ann Arbor in 1869. On October 24th, 1869, he married Pauline Markley, who preceded him in death on August 3rd, 1888. To this union one child was born, Dolly E., now Mrs. Albert Zahn of Ann Arbor. He was married to Elizabeth Joys on April 23rd, 1889, whom he leaves to mourn his death. Besides his wife, he is survived by his daughter, five brothers and two sisters. Funeral services were held at the M. E. church Tuesday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. William Richards. Northville Commandery, Knights Templar, attended the services in a body and a number of the members accompanied the remains to Ann Arbor where burial took place.

ENJOYED RADIO SERVICE.

A good many Northville people enjoyed the services broadcasted from the Central M. E. church in Detroit on Sunday night. Those who have radios in their homes easily "listened in" and those who did not gathered at the M. E. church, where Waldo Elliott had very kindly arranged his radio outfit for the entertainment of the public. The music, both the organ prelude by Guy C. Fikins, and the vocal numbers, was distinctly heard and the scripture lesson, prayer and discourse by Rev. E. C. Hough, were received in a manner that all were able to hear. Mr. Hough selected for his theme the motto of the Exchange clubs—"Unity for Service"—and the whole service was broadcasted to all Exchange clubs throughout the United States.

SAFETY MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED.

The safety first meeting held at the Alseium theatre on Wednesday evening under the direction of the Ford Motor company was attended by an audience that taxed the capacity of the building. A very interesting program was given consisting of moving pictures, music by the school orchestra, addresses by Chas. A. Dolph, W. H. Safford and Mrs. Downey of Detroit, who urged the observance of safety in the home. The Masonic male quartet sang three numbers and Lillian Cassie gave some Scottish dance numbers, being accompanied on the bag pipes by her father. The program was concluded with the safety pictures showing the application of modern safety devices to the great Ford plants.

EASTERN STAR BALL A GREAT SUCCESS.

The annual ball given under the auspices of Orient Chapter, O. E. S., at the High school gym last Friday night was a great success and proved one of the most enjoyable social functions of the year. Peter Perkins' orchestra furnished the program and the merry dancers were enthusiastic with their encores, the music being especially pleasing. Guests were present from Detroit, Plymouth, Farmington and South Lyon.

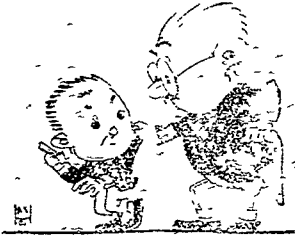

PLYMOUTH BOY DROWNED WHILE AT PLAY.

A Plymouth boy, John E. Coons aged about seven years was drowned while playing on the creek in that village Monday night about six o'clock. No one seemed to know just how the sad accident occurred.

MRS. WILLIAM H. AMBLER DIED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Mrs. William H. Ambler suffered a stroke of apoplexy at her home on Main street early Wednesday evening and soon passed away. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Beginning next Tuesday at 12:00 noon, Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, the noted Methodist divine of Boston, Mass., will speak at the Keith Temple theatre in Detroit each day until the following Saturday, the 15th. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

YOU'RE WANTED

Dad was about to apply the strap. "Father," said Willie, gently but firmly, "unless that instrument of chastisement has been properly sterilized, I must protest."

The old man gasped. "Moreover," continued Willie, "the germs that might be released by the violent impact of leather upon porous textile fabric but lately exposed to the dust of the streets would be likely to affect you deleteriously."

The strap hung limp in the nervous hand and Willie beat it.

TNT EXPLODES, KILLING MANY

NEW JERSEY VILLAGE WIRED
OUT BY BLAST WHICH ROCKS
LARGE AREA

CLOTHING ELOPN FROM BODIES

Buildings Leveled With a Radius of a Mile And A Fair Shock Felt
23 Miles Away

For a radius of 23 miles persons were dead and more than 100 injured as the result of an explosion last week in the TNT plant of the Nixon Nitrogen works near here. Following the blast flames spread through 25 buildings of an adjoining cellu-loid factory, practically wiping out the Nixon industrial center.

The blast rocked the country for miles around and completely leveled buildings within a radius of a mile and a half.

It was distinctly felt as far away
as City Hall, New York, a distance of 23 miles. It was first thought that an earthquake had occurred.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. New Jersey state police are conducting a rigid investigation but the most tangible fact that they are able to establish is that the first explosion there were two coming in sharp succession—occurred in the plant of the Ammonia company, a short distance from the Nixon plant.

More than a million gallons of Ammonia nitrate in tanks, and 1, 350,000 gallons of the same fluid in 15 tank railroad cars in a ramshackle warehouse blew up.

A strange looking procession stumbled from the burning buildings.
The clothes of many of the employees
had been blown from their bodies.
Their faces were black and their eyes seemed to pop out of their heads.
While some screamed and moaned
others bore their part stoically.

Arrival of soldiers from Camp Rail-tan took charge of the situation. They created the caring for the wounded and the removal of the dead.

The building where the explosion occurred was known as the TNT plant. In this building the ammonia nitrate was being extracted from TNT.

The process required it to be extracted in liquid form and then made into a powder, it was said.

In the 35 small buildings in the immediate vicinity inflammable material such as celluloid, gun cotton and TNT, was being manufactured.

HIGHER POSTAL WAGE URGED

Temporary Increase Recommended by U. S. Chamber of Commerce

Washington—Measures to check the deterioration of the postal service in Detroit and other large cities, due to the inadequate pay of the postal employees, are proposed in the report made public, submitted by the postal service committee to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The committee finds that the policies of some of the past administrations, by emphasizing economy
more than adequately and efficiency have had a detrimental effect upon the postal service. Although the present administration has announced a definite policy, the committee holds that the effect of former policies remains in the form of inadequate facilities and uneconomical methods, causing delays and in-regularities in all classes of mail.

"To overcome the disparity between the salaries paid in the postal service and wages paid in private industry, the committee recommends that in those localities
where the cost of living is exceptionally high, postal employees should be allowed a temporary salary supplement on a sliding scale adjusted
in accordance with the cost of living, until such time when a proper classification of postoffices and readjustment of wages can be effected to meet prevailing conditions."

HONDURAS REVOLTS SPREADING

Confusion, Caused By Presidential Election, Grips Entire State.

Washington—Widespread confusion
in Honduras, due to numerous revolutions in behalf of at least three leaders who aspire to the presidency has been indicated in advices received at the state department from Consul Geo J. Walter at Ceiba.

The American cruiser Denver after being at Ceiba for several days because of a situation regarded as menacing to American life and property, has now been sent to Tela, which has been reported to be occupied by revolutionists headed by General Tosta.
Consul Walter said that Lagos, commander of the forces of the de facto government of President Gutierrez at Ceiba, fled at the outbreak of fighting several days ago in that city.

Control of the city, he added, was then given to one Delgado who in turn gave the city over to Monica Zerlaya.

The latter, the reports said, was accepted by the revolutionary leaders who captured Ceiba and are now in possession of the port.

Legend of the Lost Mine

By JAMES BLACK

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union)

SLOWLY the tired burros paced across the sand-blown track. The desert marches had brought them to the end of their resources, but they plodded on, conscious, like Haynes, that evening would see them at the beginning of cultivation.

That traversing of the sandy waste
had been the worst thing in Haynes' prospecting experience. He had come clear across El Inferno, well named and something that he had been told could not be done.

But it was the legend of the lost mine attracted him. And he had not found it. It was a myth of the imagination. Well, at least he knew that now. He had paid for his experience.

Suddenly his eye caught something lying in the sand some distance away.
A dead coyote—no, a man!

He ran toward him. To his astonishment it was an old man, nearing eighty, Haynes would have judged.
A prospector, as was evidenced from his pack beside him.

The sagging trail in the sand showed that he, too, had crossed the desert, from a point some distance away from that which Haynes had selected for his own starting point.

Haynes had only enough water to take him to his destination, but he poured a half down the old man's throat. Presently the prospector opened his eyes. He began to talk, although he seemed not to know where he was. Haynes listened—he was speaking of Lost Mine.

"I found her," he was babbling. "It was me found, what they call Lost Mine. You'll hear rumors of her everywhere in all the mining camps,
but it was me brought back the word.
Gold, the richest ever dug from the bowels of the earth—rich, red gold for the taking."

"I was a young man—this was long years ago. I hit on her by chance.
I'd been prospecting and I got lost in the desert, and all my water was gone.
Mad with thirst, and delirious I must have been, and I wandered on and on without knowing where I was going."
Then I woke with the taste of water on my tongue and a woman's face bending over me. And there was trees around, and flowers, and ripe fruit hanging down.

"It was an oasis in the middle of the howling desert, and when I came to, Pepita told me about it. It appears her grandfather and grandmother had found the place when they were traveling west and they had been fleeing from the Indians who then scoured the plains. They liked it and they stayed. They never wanted to leave it. They was happy in each others company."

"There Pepita was born, and there her mother and father died. And she'd live there alone, and never seen an other human being."

"And she nursed me and tended me
and showed me the gold in the rocks and for a long time I lived with her happy and content. What was the gold to me?"

"But then I began to hanker after the world without, and wanted to take Pepita away with me. And she cried and begged me to let her stay. Because she heard the world was hard,
and cruel people in it."

"But me—I was dreamin of gettin'
the gold out of the rocks, and fakin' Pepita someplace where we could live in comfort and elegance. And I missed seem' other folks."

"And one mornin' while Pepita was asleep I stole away. Somehow—I don't know how—I crossed the desert.
But I never found my way back to Lost mine."

Tears burst from under the shelved eyelids of the old man.

"All my days since I been tryin' to strike Lost mine, hopin' to find Pepita God, if ever I found it I'd never leave again. And I can see it now, as well as ever before, with the fruits and flowers, and my gal a-waitin' for me."

Suddenly a marked change came over the old man's face. He sat up and extended his arms.

"Pepita!" he shouted. "Look, there she stands, stranger. I found her—just as I told you—and she ain't grown old! I'm comin', Pepita!"

Haynes folded the blanket over the dead face.

What Calumet Means

The Calumet region is the name given to a district in northern Indiana and Illinois lying between the Calumet river and Lake Michigan. Originally it was composed entirely of sand ridges and marshes. It is now a great industrial district, comprising such cities as Hammond, Gary, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor and Whiting.
Sometimes the entire region around the southern shores of Lake Michigan is spoken of as the Calumet district.
The word "Calumet" was the name given by the French to a pipe used by the Indians. This pipe, sometimes called the peace pipe, was the emblem of peace and hospitality. It was smoked to confirm all treaties between tribes.
To refuse the Calumet corresponded to a declaration of war and to accept it meant peace and friendship.

"THE HIGHWAYMAN" AT THE GARRICK

Joseph Schildkraut, famous romantic actor, will come to Detroit for a week at the Garrick Theatre commencing next Sunday evening, in "The Highwayman," described as an unusual modern comedy. It is the work of Lajos Biro, noted Hungarian playwright who collaborated with Lenguel in writing "The Czarina," which Doris Keane played. It was adapted by Gladys Unger.

The play comes direct from a record-breaking run at the Playhouse, Chicago, where the critics were lavish in their praise. A run of 300 nights in Vienna is possessed by this sparkling comedy. Easter Monday, Lester Bryant, who has the piece and star under his direction, will introduce it to New York.

Mr. Schildkraut is favorably known in Detroit and vicinity for his creation of "Liliom." He also played in the pictures "Orphans of the Storm" and with Norma Talmadge in "Song of Love."

His new vehicle is a light, modern comedy which affords him an excellent opportunity to demonstrate his versatility, as well as his debonaire manners and appearance.

Size of the Human Body.

Authorities differ in fixing the number of square feet of the surface of the human body, there being no fixed limit owing to the variations in size, but a man of 5 feet 8 inches weighing around 175 pounds has a skin surface of approximately 16 square feet. The larger men and women measure more, some of them very much more, while some of the more diminutive bodies have a measurement as low as ten square feet.—Ohio State Journal.

Lansing—Maintenance of trunk line highways during 1924 will be strictly under the direction of the state highway department, it has been decided by the state administrative boards. Counties must agree to rules made by the commissioner before they will receive funds from the state. In the cases of counties who refuse to accept the state department rules or to live up to agreements made, the state will take over maintenance and charge to the counties their proportion of the expense for maintenance.

THE FORSYTHES TO CONDUCT SPECIAL EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN.

Dr. E. J. Forsythe, the noted evangelist and lecturer, will conduct a three weeks community evangelistic campaign in the Methodist church, beginning Sunday, March 16th. Dr. Forsythe has had a unique experience for several years as one of the prominent evangelists of the United States and Canada, for nearly five years pastor evangelist of one of Detroit's popular churches and as a speaker before clubs, conventions and sales organizations. Dr. Forsythe has a national reputation. Accompanying Dr. Forsythe will be his son, Mr. A. Royal Forsythe a young man of versatile capabilities. For a number of years Mr. Forsythe assisted his father in large tabernacle meetings. During the war with his brother, Charles and Dusty Rhodes, against, of the Forsythe evangelistic party, he made up the celebrated kahki trio—the first soldiers to beset out as entertainers. They served among men of three armies and gave concerts in Belgium, the United Kingdom, France, Algeria and Spain. Mr. Forsythe does a great work among the young people. He is the song leader, at the Kiwanis, Lions and Caravan clubs at Detroit.

This series of meetings promise to be different, in fact Dr. Forsythe announces them as realities of life campaigns—wherever these campaigns have been given the greatest interest is shown and the afternoon meetings in several places have almost equalled the evening audiences. Dr. Forsythe's lectures on applied Christianity, practical psychology and the real things of life in the Statler Hotel Detroit, last December were widely spoken of and largely patronized. Christian people in all churches will gladly welcome the opportunity to attend a course of lectures by one so singularly successful in religious circles. Then the evangelist's feature of the campaign occupies the church. Prayer meetings will be held in the church under the leadership of a pastor, Wm. Roberts.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO OBEY?

You have a good body to house your life. Do you know how to obey the law of health so as to keep at your job from day to day?

You have a mind—a wonderful machine. Do you know the laws of mental growth so as to increase the power of that thinking apparatus?

You have a faculty for acquiring things. Do you obey the law of financial success and thus make a steady gain from year to year?

Are you in the habit of obeying the laws which have to do with the protection of life and property? The fullest protection can only come when all laws are respected.

Saul was a young man—a Hebrew—a fine upstanding character—able to lead his companions to victory—BUT he did not KNOW HOW TO OBEY.

That fatal flaw upset his career. He lost his chance. His place of power and influence was taken from him.

The story of Saul is that of a terrible tragedy—vivid—revealing a mile post in a nation's life. Study this young man carefully.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

First Presbyterian Church

GO TO CHURCH EVERY SUNDAY UNTIL EASTER.

Regular attendance at church service is as essential to a spiritual prosperity as attention to business is to material success.

God does not expect tropical fruit from arctic trees! And He only requires of you such service as you are able to render and for which He has equipped you. You cannot measure the value of your talents. No doubt Simon Peter thought he could do nothing else but catch fish until Jesus called, and then he became the world's greatest evangelist.

Dirty Lamps Waste Light

You lamps and reflectors accumulate dust, which robs you of light. You bear a double loss—direct loss of current that you pay for and don't utilize—indirect loss in your sales; for your store is made less attractive to customers.

You may not realize that neglected lamps and reflectors may cut down the amount of your light as much as fifty per cent; or that a brightly lighted store means increased business, always.

Don't be afraid of soap and water. Keep your lamps clean. Add more, if necessary. Make your place bright and attractive. It pays—big.

FIVE BANK ROBBERS ROUNDED UP.

Five men, captured in the fields near Rochester Friday afternoon following the robbery of the Orion State Bank, went into circuit court at Pontiac, on Saturday.

The prisoners are Frederick Brownlee, Charles Stolzenfeld, Edward Bonnin, Lester Shea, Charles Mack, all of Detroit. The men made no defense, but all claimed it was the first time they had attempted a robbery.

It developed at the hearing that the quintet had gone to Clarkston, expecting to rob the bank there, but decided the outlook was unfavorable so started across country, planning to rob a bank in some country town before returning to Detroit. The next place they visited was Orion. The car they drove was stolen in Detroit.

It is generally believed that this job was not their first one, and officers are very glad that the fellows have been rounded up.

OBITUARY.

Danna Chilson, youngest child of Benjamin and Harriett Chilson, was born in Livonia township, March 23, 1860, where most of her life was spent. She was united in marriage to D. Roul Lambert at Redford on October 24th, 1883. They settled on a farm in Livonia, where they resided until about three years ago when they came to Novi. To the union a son and daughter came to complete the home life.

Mrs. Lambert's death came as a great shock to her many friends and her passing is universally regretted by all who knew her. In her pleasant way she greeted the world, and while her family was her constant thought, in church circles she was a willing worker. She was the youngest of a family of eight children, and the third one to answer the last roll call. She leaves to mourn her death three sisters, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Sackett and two brothers, Avery and Wayne Chilson; a daughter, Ethel, and a son, three grandchildren and her husband.

Mrs. Lambert died last Thursday at her home here. Funeral services were held Monday at Livonia with burial at Grand Lawn.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of the people of this community.

Mrs. C. B. Turnbull, Mill street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with splendid results and I have personally taken them when suffering from disordered kidneys. My back ached and was lame. I had to get off my feet and sit down to rest. I had awful pains in the back of my head, was down into my neck and my kidneys weren't acting regularly, either. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon had me feeling all right. I have never had Doan's fail me, as they always regulate my kidneys and drive away the backache."

TURKS BANISH CALIPH RULE

GREAT BRITAIN FEARS EFFECT OF DRASTIC MEASURES ON INDIA

MOSQUES TO BE ABANDONED

Temples To Be Broken Up—New Head May Be Chosen from Outside Turkish Territory.

Constantinople.—The National assembly at Angora has passed a bill calling for the deposition of the caliph and the abolition of the caliphate.

The sponsoring by the Turkish government of the bills calling for the abolition of the caliphate and the suppression of religious instruction in Turkey has been the cause of much speculation on the part of British officials regarding what will be the effect of these drastic measures in India and other Mohammedan countries.

The British have been unrelentingly opposed to doing away with the caliphate, because the spiritual jurisdiction of the caliph extended nominally at least, over Great Britain's 70,000,000 Moslem subjects in India. With a view to maintaining rule and among this vast multitude, the British government, it has become known, will let Turkey severely alone during the radical transitions which that country is experiencing.

With former Sultan Mohammed VI. and Abdul Medjid Effendi the caliph deposed, a new religious head for the Moslem world, it is thought, will be brought ultimately outside Turkey. Some persons favor the reinstatement of former Sultan Mohammed in power but it is to be generally felt that his age and his feeble physical condition disqualify him.

Another interesting question concerns the ultimate disposition of the thousands of mosques scattered throughout Turkey. It is presumed some of them, at least, will be converted into schools but since the Angora government has not nearly the sufficient number of teachers to equip them, it is thought likely that most of the mosques like the churches in Russia, will become so much dead property.

A further problem for the Angora government is what to do with the Caliph's six huge palaces, his large private property buildings, his 500 concubines, and his multiple wives. It is believed the women members of the harem, like those attached to the household of the old Sultan, will be induced to return to Anatolia, marry farmers, and become useful productive factors in the country.

INSURANCE IS BONUS TREND

Veterans' Plan Favors Plan Looming As Feature of Leading Bill

Washington.—Ex-service men who are here for the bonus fight now developing in congress agree that some plan of insurance certificate probably will be adopted by the two houses as the outstanding feature of the bill that will eventually pass, however uncertain its chances of veto may be.

Polls of various states, taken by the bonus advocates, agree pretty well with the results reported by Theodore W. Kolbe state adjutant of the American Legion from the Michigan questionnaire. He found that out of 92 veterans 71 said they were for paid up insurance policies, 17 for home or farm aid, three for vocational training and only one for straight cash payments.

The proportions for all the states thus far reporting are: Insurance certificate, 66 per cent; farm and home aid, 30 per cent; vocational training, 4 per cent.

The questions as sent out from headquarters were based on the McKenzie bill and did not require replies about cash payments, as the bill provides for cash only where the amounts due the ex-soldiers are under $50 and insurance would be too cumbersome to furnish.

DECISION HITS U. S. DEPOSITS

Supreme Court Holds Preferential Payment Not Necessary

Washington.—The supreme court has declared that United States government deposits, in failed banks are not entitled to preferential payment. The question was raised by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, after failure of the Bank of Commerce of Okmulgee, Okla. The supreme court affirmed the decision of the lower court.

The Fidelity and Guaranty company gave bonds to the federal government and the state, as well as others, to secure deposits in the failed bank.

After paying its obligations on these bonds, the company sought to restrain state bank officials from paying out all of the assets of the failed bank to unsecured creditors to the exclusion of the deposits of the United States and the state.

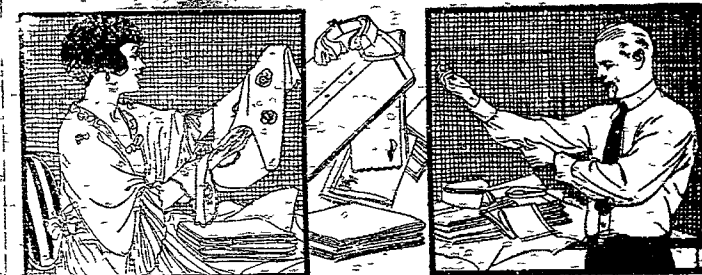

The eighth circuit court of appeals held that the federal and state deposits were not entitled to preferential payments, but that the surety company must share with the unsecured creditors in the assets of the bank.

Mr. Baier is captain general of the Arab Patrol, or Moslem Temple of Detroit and he is held in high esteem by every member of that organization. The "party" will be about the biggest affair of its kind ever staged in the city.

The village council has rented rooms over Kilgour's clothing store where the village officers will be located until a new town hall has been provided.

Attorney W. S. McNair was at his office Monday morning, having sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to again give attention to his law practice.

What kind of a structure do you think Northville ought to erect for a village building? That is the question that is being asked these days.

What do you think about the matter? Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ruthuff, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Fisher and three children of Belleville, Misses Inez Ruthuff and Mabel Soop of Detroit were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson.

The J. U. girls of the Presbyterian Sunday school will present a picture at the Alhambra Theatre next Wednesday night when "Too Much Business" will be shown. Sprinkles will be introduced between acts by Northville and out of town talent.

The girls solicit your patronage. You're sure to laugh, for your work and feel that it's really worth while after all. It's a Jess Smith Production with an all-star cast at Ear. Dear Biggers story.

Just mark the date, March 19th a four o'clock celebration will be given at the high school and for when the young people of the P. N. School will present "Pocahontas," an opera comic opera. The parts have been well assigned and the young people have been hard at work for some weeks. You will enjoy the entertainment greatly and your presence will encourage the young people and those who have devoted a great deal of time in the direction of the piece.

Prosecuting Attorney Paul W. Voorhies was the guest of the Northville Exchange Club on Wednesday and after enjoying the splendid luncheon he gave an interesting and helpful talk speaking especially of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship in Wayne county and Detroit.

He told his hearers that fully 60 per cent of the population of Wayne county was either foreign born or children of parents of foreign birth, that 6,000 children were coming in to the Detroit city schools annually who were from these homes, and he regarded it as most important that the people of the county lend their efforts toward the training of these boys and girls along lines of honesty, sobriety and industry, to the end that they may become leaders in our community life in the years to come.

EXCHANGES OUR SPECIALTY

FARM TAX THREATENS STATE CONFISCATION.

Expert Says Increase May Exceed Rental Value.

"Taxes on farm lands, once only a nominal overhead charge on farming operations, have increased so steadily and so rapidly that they threaten to absorb farm land values. If present tax movement continues unchecked the farmer's land will practically be confiscated by the state and farmers will become virtual tenants of the state," says Dr. Richard T. Ely, director of the institute of research in land economics and public utilities at the University of Wisconsin.

In isolated cases taxes already far more than equal the rental value of the land, Dr. Ely asserts.

The true underlying cause of increased and increasing public expenditures is found in the development of state and nation as co-operative institutions for promoting the public welfare, Dr. Ely asserts.

The present new era in economic evolution requires an entire overhauling of our ideas of taxation, and a new program with respect to the expenses and revenues of government, Dr. Ely asserts—Detroit News.

PRETTIEST GIRL IN STATE SOUGHT.

Who is the prettiest girl in Michigan? A state wide search for her has begun and when she is found, she will be rewarded in a manner that one usually hears about only when speaking of dreams or story books.

She is wanted to take part in the great Michigan Industrial Exposition to be held in Detroit, May 3 to 17 to participate in the spectacle "Enchantment," that is to be presented on one of the five stages in Convention hall, the largest permanent exposition building in the world.

From the contestants will be chosen one who is to be known as the "Girl You Can't Forget," and to her will go as a reward, a handsome sedan. She will be brought to Detroit as a guest of the exposition, her expenses paid, and she will receive a salary in addition.

In keeping with the nature of the exposition—that it is to be above all an event for all of Michigan—the directors are eager to have contestants from every part of the state, from small rural communities as well as from large industrial centers. Perhaps the fortunate "Girl You Can't Forget" today is a little member of some farm household; perhaps she is the daughter of a leading citizen of a thriving city, or she may be a singer in a church choir, or a University co-ed. The contest is open to all girls living in Michigan.

The girl is to be selected by photograph. All she has to do is send in a late picture with her name and address plainly written on the back. The picture should be addressed to: "Beauty Contest," Michigan Industrial Exposition, Convention hall, Detroit. It should be mailed not later than April 2. The pictures will be passed upon by a committee of artists headed by Joseph Kraemer, head of the Art department of the Detroit News; Russell Legg, of the Detroit Free Press, Archie G. Allen, the Detroit Times, and Arthur Marchner, the Detroit News and members of the Scarab Club.

Walled Lake Warbles.

Elmer Beardslee, who was a former resident of Independence township for many years, died in Pontiac on Tuesday of last week, death coming suddenly and unexpectedly. He was 63 years of age. He had spent the day at his farm near Clarkston where he had been having an auction sale.

The members of the W. M. B. class held their monthly social and business meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coe on Monday evening. The republican convention for the Sixth congressional district will be held in Flint on April 30th.

Miss Maybell Bingham was tendered a very enjoyable surprise by a number of her girl friends at the Pioneer Inn Saturday night. The evening was pleasantly spent.

The young people of the M. E. church had planned a sleigh ride party for Saturday night, but the thaw changed conditions somewhat, but the ride was enjoyed just the same and the horses which drew the wagon were decorated with sleigh bells. After the ride the young people enjoyed an oyster supper and a social hour at the church.

SALEM SAYINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder attended the funeral of Albert Bidwell at Warden Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Musolf and Mrs. John Musolf and son of South Lyon, spent the week-end at Blissfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schroeder of Redford and H. Schroeder and family were Sunday dinner guests at Louis Schroeder and wife.

Food for Children.

Some parents feed coffee and tea to their children and then wonder why other youngsters are more robust and healthy. The effects from these drinks come not so much from the unnecessary stimulation as from the fact that they destroy an appetite for muscle and bone-building foods like milk, eggs and bacon.

How to Buy.

One of the difficulties about giving advice when it's asked for is that as soon as you give your best judgment the other man immediately wants to argue with you and show you why you're wrong.

WATCH AND WAIT FOR THE CIRCUS.

Some time during the second week in April there will be a physical training circus given at the High school gym under the auspices of the training classes of the school, and the event will be well worth waiting for. There will be drills, marching, clogging, dancing, performing on the horizontal bars, tumblings, the "elephant" will do stunts, and there will be a wand drill and athletic posing, besides there will be clowns who will keep the crowd in good humor. Just keep the event in mind and watch for the date. Those attending the entertainment given by the physical training classes some months ago will be on hand early and all the rest of the folks will want to go this time.

TO CONSTRUCT TWO NEW DETROIT CIRCUITS.

As the result of a recent study conducted by engineers of the Michigan Bell Telephone company to determine the required number of additional telephone toll circuits between Northville and Detroit, construction crews of the telephone company are now engaged in establishing two new circuits between these points.

The increasing amount of business now being transacted by telephone is an interesting reflection on the industrial as well as social development of Northville, which has been experienced during the past year. It is anticipated by the local telephone officials that these additional circuits not only will help care for the present toll business but will provide facilities for some future increase.

Plans are, it is stated, that this new project will be completed by early spring.

THE PUBLIC CAN HELP.

For every working-day during the month of January 154,613 undeliverable letters were sent to the Dead Letter Office. This is at the rate of 3,500,000 per month and 42,000,000 a year. The failure of this great volume of letters to reach the people for whom intended is due wholly to the failure of the public to supply correct, legible, and complete addresses. Every one of these letters would have been delivered had a proper and complete address been furnished. All of the letters above mentioned would have been returned to the writer instead of being sent to the Dead Letter Office had they borne return addresses of the senders.

To make sure your letters will leave the local post-office on time mail them not later than 4:45 p. m. Don't take chances on the flyer. It doesn't stop in Northville.

Record Liners Cost But Little.

Making Cookies

By CLARA DELAFIELD

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

"GOOD afternoon, Mrs. Johnson. I just dropped in to say how I've do, us being next-door neighbors so to speak, me living over the way, and you being a newcomer to our town. And what might you be doing? Making cookies? Um-um. They smell good. No thank you, Mrs. Johnson, I never eat between meals."

"Beautiful children those are of yours. Two boys and a girl? Oh, three boys and two girls. It's nice when the family is split up so even as that, isn't it, though I must say, five children is rather a lot in these days. I never had any. My grandmother—she was a Miss Tibbets of Boston—she had twelve. Yes, families were larger then."

"Do you know, my dear, I've called in to give you a bit of advice. I've noticed how you slave for those two boys and girls of yours—Oh, yes, three boys and two girls. It's so hard to remember details like that, isn't it, though, you being the mother, of course you wouldn't have any trouble remembering when my cousin Lilla had twins. Nobody could tell how much, and I said, 'For goodness' sake, Lilla, what are you going to do when they get mixed up?' Their names were Jenn and Joan. Queer names to give twins, don't you think? Mrs. Johnson? My husband said it was like a team of horses. He is so funny sometimes, when he isn't in a bad humor. Well, what was I saying? Yes, I said, 'Why don't you decide which is which and tie a red thread on one's arm and a green one on the other?' But Lilla knew them quite well, without the slightest trouble."

"Well, I was saying? Oh, yes, I've noticed how you make a slave of yourself for those children. How? Well, take your making cookies, for example. A fine warm autumn day like this, when you should be out enjoying yourself, and here you are at home, making cookies for your children."

"Home from school hungry? Of course they'll come home hungry. But if I had my way I'd give them a nice piece of bread and jam or maybe strup. Children like that just as well and they don't grow up with any pinched notions."

"And how long do you say that great pile of cookies will last them? Depends upon how hungry they are. Funny, now, I didn't look on it in that way. I should say, though, that they'll be mighty hungry children if they can get through that lot in a week. Yes, I can see they do look light, but still cookies are cookies, and little stomachs won't stretch forever."

"Well, that sounds like your children on the porch, Mrs. Johnson, and so I shall have to go. Yes, I am very fond of children, only my head's not very strong, and they're apt to be upsetting. I'm sure I hope they'll like your cookies."

"But I do want to impress on you before I go, Mrs. Johnson, that it doesn't pay to make yourself a slave to your children. Let them grow up with independent ideas, not learn always to turn to and rely upon their mother. The idea of your sitting here on a fine summer day like this making cookies and I suppose next week it will be the same story over again."

"I do hope you won't find my being frank about it—how do you, my dear? Just home from school?—my being frank, but quite a number of the neighbors have noticed the way you work from morning till night and patted you for it, and so I thought I'd take it upon myself to speak to you. Oh, Mrs. Johnson, I wonder if you have such a thing as a hammer in the house that you could lend me? Yes, my Uncle Bob is coming to put up some pictures for me, and I'll bring it right back as soon as he's finished with it. In the larver? Oh, thank you. Yes, I'll be back within an hour or so."

"Here's your hammer, Mrs. Johnson, and I am so much obliged to you for the loan of it. I've been wondering whether you thought I took too much liberty this afternoon in mentioning it or not. Why, that's very nice of you. You seem quite a busy woman still, though. Why—oh, I suppose you've hidden them away somewhere? Why, those cookies? What, you mean to tell me that they've eaten them all? All of them? That whole pile? Inside of an hour and a half? What's that? It won't spoil their dinner? And what are you doing there? Did I hear you right, Mrs. Johnson? Did you say that you were making cookies?"

Longest Word in Any Language.

The longest word we know of in any language is a Greek word: "Lepidotomachoselachogaleakraniokatakechumopotrimmatosiphiokekarabomellotokakechu menokichiepiokossuphophattoperister alektruonoproke phallo kikig lopol elologo osiralo baph etraganop tern gon." It is found in Aristophanes' "Ekklesiazousai" and is the name of a dish compounded of dainties of all sorts—fish, flesh, fowl and sauces. It appears in slightly different forms in various editions. "Constantinopolis-Idudelackpheiervverbunt" is a German word. "Kamakanaokawenauoakiani" is the name of a little Hawaiian girl. Of course, when we consider catch questions "smiles" is a long word because there is a "mile" between the first and the last letters. In "beleaguered" there is a "league" between "be" and "red."
