MANY CAME BACK FOR ALUMNI REUNION.

Many former students in the Northville public schools came back to the old home town last Friday to enjoy the tenth annual reunion and banquet given under the auspices of the High School Alumni Association. The attendance in the afternoon was not as large as in former years, but by six o'clock more than 250 former pupils and friends had gathered in the auditorium.

It was indeed a merry and happy company as friend met friend and old classmates greeted one another after years of separation. And how they did chat and visit—because the time was short, only a few hours remained at best before good byes must again be said and farewell partings taken.

At 6:30 the banquet was announced and to the strains of music rendered by Peter Perkins' orchestra the guests found their places at the attractively arranged tables. The invocation was given by Rev. F. P. Knowles. The tables were very attractive, the color scheme being yellow, white and green, and if appetites were the least bit flagging, the dainty menu served by the ladies who had the affair in charge, they were soon revived. A number of the young ladies of the village assisted in serving and words of commendation and praise were heard on all sides. The orchestra played a number of selections during the serving of the dinner.

Mrs. Ruth Christensen Johnson gave a very fitting and appropriate address of welcome and introduced Wendell S. Miller as the toastmaster of the evening. Mr. Miller entered at once into the spirit of good fellowship which permeated the gathering and with good humor and fitting stories kept the banqueters in a very happy mood. "Survivors" was the theme assigned to William Guy Taft and he discussed the subject in a very able and interesting manner.

Miss Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh responded to the subject "Fads and Fancies" and again demonstrated her ability as an entertaining speaker. She urged the young people present, especially those of the classes of 1923 and 1924, to push forward and to allow no obstacle to stand in the way of their efforts to pursue their studies at some educational institution.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Chas. B. Emerson, pastor of the North Woodward Avenue Congregational church of Detroit, and it was a most delightful treat. Wayne Vandyne followed with two vocal numbers, and was greeted with hearty applause. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. William Richards, and thus the very enjoyable program was brought to a close.

The tables were soon cleared away and dancing was enjoyed for an hour or two. At the annual election of officers held in the afternoon, the following were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Aletha Yerkes; vice president, William Guy Taft; secretary, Bertha White; treasurer, Waldo Elliott.

VIVIAN PARMENTER MARRIED.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parmenter in Detroit was the scene of a quiet wedding ceremony Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, when Miss Vivian Parmenter became the bride of Carl Rick of that city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. M. Pearce, pastor of the Grand River M. E. church, in the presence of the members of the immediate families of the young people. After congratulations had been extended the company enjoyed a bountiful dinner.

The bride has many friends among the young people of Northville who will wish her an abundance of happiness. Mr. Rick is employed by the president of the Hupmobile Company of Detroit, and is a young man of pleasing appearance. They will reside in Detroit.

TO HOLD SERVICES OUT DOORS.

On Sunday evening next at 6:30 the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations will unite in an open air service at Eastlawn, and the public is cordially invited to attend the meeting. There will be a song service and an interesting discourse. In case of storm the services will be held in the M. E. church.

SIXTY-FOUR DEATHS IN LORAIN'S STORM.

Last Saturday's storm which swept over Lorain and Sandusky, Ohio, caused property losses estimated at thirty millions of dollars and caused 64 deaths. Houses and buildings were crushed like egg shells and were wrecked before their occupants had time to escape.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

With more than $600,000 raised throughout the United States toward a Women's League Building at the University of Michigan, alumnae of the University announced that they expect to continue their effort in the fall with $1,000,000 as their objective. A report on the progress of the campaign issued recently shows a total of $506,314 subscribed toward the new building.

Of this amount $502,000 has been raised since March 3rd, when alumnae began an intensive campaign for the completion of the Women's League Building fund. Undergraduates subscribed $63,000 of the total amount and alumnae thus far have pledged themselves to raise $439,999. This amount represents subscriptions from one-third of the entire alumnae group of 9,000 in the United States.

The site for the new building has been given by the University trustees with the provision that building operations shall start within three years. The structure has long been a need of women students at the University of Michigan. It will be located next to Hill Auditorium and across from Barbour Gymnasium.

HOLD LANSING MAN ON LIQUOR CHARGE.

Working on a tip that a car bearing a certain license number might be located on the Novi road "toting" liquor, Elmo McKinley, Oakland county deputy Wednesday afternoon took into custody Melvin E. Long, 23 years old, 1022 Eureka street, Lansing. He is lodged in Oakland county jail, charged with transporting liquor.

McKinley stopped Long in an automobile, about five miles from South Lyon, on the Novi road, and after an investigation found 25 gallons of alleged illicit liquor. The liquor was seized and will be held as evidence against the prisoner. Pontiac Press.

DETROIT YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED HERE.

Last Saturday at noon, Rev. William Richards performed the ceremony which united Cass Bacon and Miss Doris Holly of Detroit in the bonds of wedlock. The young ceremony was used and the service though a quiet one was none the less impressive. The bride was prettily attired in grey tulle and was a prize worthy of the young man who claimed her. The young people will reside in Detroit, where the groom is employed in the musical profession.

PLAY GROUND MADE A GOOD START.

Northville's community play ground started on with a "bound" on Monday when 110 children of the community signed up for the season's play. There were 69 boys and 50 girls on hand during the first day to enjoy the play as supervised and directed by Physical Director A. K. Miller. If the parents of the community will cooperate this enterprise will prove a most beneficial one to the boys and girls.

PONTIAC WOMAN CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

Charged with passing forged orders for money, on many local firms, since May 1, last, Miss Audrey Brady, 21 years old, 142 Howard street, was taken into custody Saturday afternoon by police and is now in Oakland County Jail awaiting arraignment in Municipal Court. The tentative charge was placed against her after she is said to have confessed writing a dozen or more checks, signing them with the forged signatures of several Pontiac residents. Pontiac Press.

MILFORD FAIR GIVEN $1,000.

An appropriation of $2,500 asked by the Oakland County Fair Association of Milford to make improvements and pay outstanding obligations in order that it may put on a fair this year, was cut to $1,000 and allowed at that amount by the board of supervisors Friday afternoon. A committee from Milford waited on the board Thursday and asked for the appropriation which is much larger than has ever been given them in previous year. Pontiac Press.

To-day is the glorious Fourth of July.

The Exchange Club held a very enjoyable luncheon on Wednesday noon. There being no speaker or any special business a half hour was pleasantly spent singing familiar songs.

Hoyt Woodman of Lansing who has never missed a meeting of the alumni association, came to Northville last Friday and remained until Saturday with old friends.

OVER 100 KNOWN DEAD IN OHIO STORM

LORAIN HARDEST HIT HAS TOTAL OF OVER 75 DEAD WITH AS MANY MISSING.

PROPERTY DAMAGE $30,000,000

Eighty Five of the Gale Hit Sandusky, Jumps 25 Miles to Lorain to Renew Its Destruction.

Cleveland—The list of known dead in northern Ohio's tornado, Saturday totals over 100 with indications that this number probably will be increased, according to compilations made by the Associated Press.

At Lorain where the storm hit the hardest, the death list stands close to 75.

Approximately 75 persons have been reported missing at Lorain. Conservative estimates place the property damage in Ohio at more than $30,000,000. The exact amount, officials agree, will not be known for days.

The greatest loss of life at Lorain occurred in the State theater, a four-story building which partly collapsed and crushed many of the spectators at a motion picture show.

As soon as rescue work was organized, a survey of the situation led to the deduction that many scores had been killed, for buildings had been whipped down over the heads of several fairly large assemblages. At bathing beach house, the structure was torn to pieces and it was announced that dozens had lost their lives.

The fact that the tornado struck both Sandusky and Lorain while factories were emptied on account of the Saturday afternoon holiday probably reduced the death toll by hundreds for a number of manufacturing plants were torn down only a few hours after several thousand employees had left their work.

Fears had been entertained for the safety of several steamers on Lake Erie and in Sandusky Bay, but the calm sunlight of Sunday showed that all steamers had safely ridden the storm except one towing launch which had been crushed against a barge. The 35 persons on board this launch scrambled from the wreckage to the barge and escaped injury.

The rural damage probably was not so great as at first feared because the storm jumped over large areas without doing much damage. The tornado struck Sandusky, about 50 miles west of Cleveland, and demolished many buildings, bridges and telegraph lines, and then jumped almost the entire distance of 25 miles eastward to Lorain without doing much serious damage.

But at Lorain, a thriving manufacturing city of some 40,000 persons, the black funnel-shaped wind dropped down with renewed fury. It blew at a speed of 35 miles an hour in spots and possibly much faster at its vortex. The devastating whirlwind swept through the city, twisting and tumbling whatever came in its way.

It was thought that several days' time would be required to clear away the wreckage in the places which the storm hit hardest.

MR. FORD TALKS ENTERTAININGLY OF HIS PLANS.

In the Highland Park plant are many stories crane ways, as tall as the nave of a cathedral, with little landing stages at each floor, like the boxes in a theatre; staggered so that materials can be lifted from the freight cars on the tracks beneath to the floors where they are needed. These landing stages, the cranes that lift the materials to them, the chutes that carry the finished products down to the assembly floor, bear the same relation to the 500 departments on the different floors of the Highland Park plant (each making or assembling a single part) as the sliding assembly lines bear to the men who work elbow to elbow.

"When we began to make our own parts we practically took it for granted that there was some special virtue in having a single roof over the manufacture of the entire car. We have now developed away from this. I hope that in the course of time the Highland Park plant will be doing only one or two things. The casting has already been taken away from it and has gone to the River Rouge plant. So now we are on the way back to where we started—except that instead of buying our parts on the outside, we are beginning to make them in our own factories on the outside. This means that highly standardized, highly subdivided industry need no longer become concentrated in large plants. A thousand or five hundred men ought to be enough in a single factory; when there would be no problem of transporting them to work or away from work, and there would no slums or any of the other unnatural ways of living incident to the overcrowding that must take place if the workmen are to live within reasonable distances of a very large plant.

Here we have the setting of Ford's homely observation that it's easier to carry the parts a man can make in a day than it is to carry him. He balances trucking 44,000,000 tiny valves in three years from Northville to Detroit against handling a 530-man department daily at Highland Park where they have to adjust the closing time of the shifts so that the men will not swamp exits, sidewalks, streets and transit lines. Here we have a prophecy of the quantity swarming to be looked for from that mother hive in Detroit should its 500 departments ever be scaled down to two. Eastern Michigan would become an apriary of small industrial towns. And here, with the navel-like way at Highland Park as analogy we catch a glimpse of the structure of Ford's watershed development.

Take our case along the little Rouge. From the mouth you can go clear through to the farthest point of China—or will be able to when they get the necessary dredging done. There are hundreds of such little streams jumping along through me and ready to give power. This one is going to give 1,000 horsepower and most of the people here in Detroit have never heard of it. You can place your power plants and small factories on the headwaters and your pumping point at the outlet. Our idea is to distribute plants around rather than distribute the power. Streams are better than mission buses than wires. There is a good deal more loss in wires. Water goes over a dam and is power still. We shall have nine dams on our little stream and still not get all there is in it. Damming up a stream does more than catch what is coming. The evaporation from the ponds makes the rainfall more even, and your power will grow with use.

People can live along the shores in villages with their farms fifteen miles away. That is where the Ford car comes in and makes for a new companionship in a country district. Last night I spent some time in Nankin Mills. It's a little place, only ten or eleven houses altogether. Some of the people that work at the plant painted their houses a year ago. Now they are all coming to paint and tidy up. One fellow who knew how helped the others at the painting. There's splendid drinking water to be had from a big town near by. They are going to pipe it to the village and not going to have to bond to do it.

There are only three or four dams the whole length of the Mississippi. There ought to be a hundred. Fifty years from now there will be a great many more small cities, rather than a few bigger ones. Instead of centralizing in one city there'll be ten cities. I talked to a man the other day who saw Detroit when it had only 14,000 people in it. The people of that day wouldn't have believed we'd ever have a million people here.

New York—When Mrs. John Griffin of Woburn, Mass., rushed to greet her two sons, Lawrence and Gerald, aged 5 and 4 years, upon their return from Ireland on the Scotia, she was driven off by a shower of tiny fists. Having been absent three years, with their grandmother in Ireland, the boys failed to recognize her, and thought she was a kidnaper.

Three Accidents in 10,000 Flights.

Santa Monica, Calif.—A total of more than 10,000 airplane flights from Clover Field in 11 months resulted in only three accidents, according to the records, and from this the argument is advanced that flying is safer than automobile riding. Waits in Cell, Hair Turns Gray at 21

Chicago—The shadow of the hangman's noose has turned Bernard Grant's hair from a decided black to gray since he entered the county jail a year and a half ago on a charge of killing Patrolman Ralph Souders. Yet he is only 21 years old. Grant has been denied a new trial by the supreme court and nothing but a commutation of the governor can save him from the execution, the date of which is yet to be set.

Hupmobile

Transmission Main Shaft, drop-forged 3/4 per cent nickel steel, case-hardened, double heat-treated and ground supported by annular ball and roller bearings, which last much longer and give far better service.

Two Ways To Build a Car

The Hupmobile Quality-Proof exhibit shows you two ways of building a motor car.

You don't have to be an expert on fine motor car practice to understand Hupmobile Quality-Proof. Every part is labeled. Its material is given in plain English.

The lesser practice is also told. You can see it all for yourself. Here is the kind of proof you are justified in demanding from any car.

Hupmobile Quality-Proof shows you not only fine material. It shows you fine engineering design and fine manufacturing—as fine as can be done by trained mechanics and modern precision machinery.

Hupmobile owners could tell you how much these things mean in satisfaction—in saving them money and time—in making their Hupmobile pay as no other car ever before paid them.

Come in soon—and learn how a motor car must be built to give you the satisfaction every motorist desires.

TRADING AT HOME.

The trade at home movement rests upon the assumption that your home merchants can render better service at the same price than any mail order house. This is not an unwarranted assumption as many will testify from their experience.

Bargains are not always what they seem. Whenever you read of some "extra special" mail order bait and the prices seem cheap to you, take it to your merchants and give them their chance. All they ask is an opportunity to meet competition. Their experience in buying is at your command. They will show you the flaws in the mail order offer. Exchange.

Recent dispatches stated that the factories at Pisa had refused to deliver the Amundsen airplanes until a balance of $14,000 had been paid on the purchase price. It is within the power of Mr. Johnson, however, to direct that the Bible be provided for reference work in all schools coming under his jurisdiction.

ASK BIDS ON $3,000,000 MICHIGAN HIGHWAY BONDS.

The Michigan state administrative board, Tuesday authorized advertising for bids for $3,000,000 more of state highway bonds to be opened July 8. The bonds are to be dated August 1, 1924, for 20 years, and bids on interest rate of 4 and 4 1/2 per cent.

Frank E. Connan, state treasurer, explained that the market is favorable for the sale of bonds. Frank S. Rogers, state highway commissioner, stated that recently some Covert bonds were sold at 3 per cent, with a premium, which reduced the actual interest charge to 4 1/8 per cent, the best sale ever made during the history of the Covert road.

The annual limit of $10,000,000 of state highway bonds has been reached for the fiscal year, but the new year will begin July 1. There remains unissued $9,950,000 of the $50,000,000 limit of highway bonds, all of which will probably be sold during the next fiscal year. When this source is exhausted new revenues must be sought.

SERVICE, THE MAIN ISSUE.

Youngstown, O., passed an ordinance so regulating jitneys that they were eliminated from congested downtown areas satisfactorily served by the street cars. The jitney men referred the matter to the people and by a referendum vote the citizens of Youngstown upheld the city ordinance. It was a clear cut decision to the effect that electric street cars handled traffic more efficiently than other means of city transportation and that the interest of the public was better served by eliminating useless competition which congested streets to inconvenience of all concerned.

The decision is all the more remarkable because the street car company made no contention that electric car service would be curtailed or eliminated if jitney competition continued.

GREATEST ON EARTH POSITIVELY COMING

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey
To Bring Biggest Show That Ever Toured America

A rumor heard sometime since is now confirmed by the official announcement that the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows will positively exhibit at Detroit, July 14th and 15th.

That this biggest of all amusement institutions is to come within easy distance is of unusual interest to local people because of the many changes that have taken place in this mammoth circus since it last visited this locality.

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey "super-array" of men and women stars has now reached a total of eight hundred of the world's premier riders, aerialists, gymnast and athletic champions. There are a hundred of the funniest clowns on earth. The total personnel of this amazing circus exceeds sixteen hundred persons. More than fifty trainers and keepers are alone required for the splendid troupes of jungle animals that are exhibited in four steel arenas as part of the signatic program. The pachyderm line-up numbers forty-three elephants for the main tent stages, as well as the three rings are now occupied by elephant troupes. This is the first time in circus history that five herds of elephants have been presented in a single display. The trained horse numbers have been augmented by the importation of new companies of supposedly untractable Russian stallions. Thus the various displays—sixteen in all—are equally distributed throughout the entire length of the mammoth main tent.

Some idea of the increased size of this great circus may be had from the estimate made by a New York statistician when it was playing at Madison Square Garden. After taking account of the Big Shows People, Doves, trained animals and the thousands of animals contained in its menagerie, he announced that were it possible to place them shoulder to shoulder they would form a line more than two miles long! A hundred railroad cars all double length, are used to transport this enormous institution its properties, paraphernalia and huge equipments. The latter include many innovations for the comfort of patrons. Among these are forty Jumbo electric fans operated by specially designed dynamo sets that audiences may enjoy cool and fresh filtered air throughout the hours of performance.

L. Whitney Watkins of Manchester has resigned as a member of the board of directors of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, and W. W. Billings of Davison was selected to fill the vacancy. Charles S. Mori, of Flint, prominent in manufacturing and financial circles, has made a gift of $100,000 to the building fund of the Y. W. C. A. of that city, in memory of his wife.
