NINETY STIRRING, EVENTFUL YEARS

Northville Methodists Celebrate the Ninetieth Anniversary of Their Church Organization.

The services at the Methodist church in this village last Sunday were largely attended and they were freighted with richest memories. Ninety years have passed since the first Methodist meeting was held in Northville and those fast passing years have been stirring and eventful. They have been years filled to overflowing with happy remembrances, devotion and sacrifice. Scarcely another thing remains in this community that was fashioned by the hand of man but the Presbyterian and Methodist church societies, and they are still here, vigorous, aggressive, as beacon lights along the highway of progress.

Pastor Richards had planned the services to commemorate the ninetieth anniversary of his church in a manner that reflects credit upon himself and all who assisted him in carrying out the exercises of the day. The church was filled at both morning and evening services and the programs planned were carried out without any changes or interruptions. Autumn flowers graced the pulpit and altar and the services throughout were rich in fellowship and spiritual uplift.

The morning service was opened by an organ prelude, "Meditation" by Mrs. John Timham and at the conclusion of the number the choir, appearing in full vestments, took its place and throughout the services led the congregation in singing the grand old hymns and rendered a number of anthems. At the morning services Miss Lee Hickok, Federated a solo and at the evening service Miss June Filkins contributed a solo number to the very entertaining musical program prepared by the choir. Dr. Addis Leeson of Ann Arbor offered prayer and Rev. J. E. Jackson, a former beloved pastor, read the scripture lesson. Charles A. Dolph gave a very interesting history of the society, and we are pleased to print his remarks in full, not only for the sentiment expressed, but for their historical interest, that the account of the formation and growth of the society may be preserved for future generations. "The Passing Years and Unchanging Christ," was the theme chosen by Rev. W. H. Phelps, D. D., editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, for the anniversary sermon and for more than an hour he held the closest attention of the large congregation. The discourse was a fine appeal for high ideals and Christian living.

The evening service was attended by upwards of 75 members of the Masonic fraternity, members of Northville Commandery, Knights Templar, escorting members of the order from the Masonic temple to the church. Seats of honor were reserved for the members of the organizations represented. As an organ prelude Mrs. Timham rendered "Andante Cantabile." Rev. F. P. Knowles offered prayer and Rev. A. K. MacRae read the scripture lesson. The choir rendered two anthems during the service and Mr. Dolph gave a history of the society. "The Master Word" was the subject chosen by Rev. W. H. MacClenethy, D. D., and his discourse made a strong appeal to the large audience which filled the church and overflowed into the gallery.

Both of the speakers placed special stress upon the great influence the church has exerted on the life and activities, the development and upbuilding of this splendid community, and one very fittingly asked "who can estimate the value of this influence upon the lives of those who have worshipped here during all the passing years?" The society enters upon the last cycle of the century of its existence under very happy conditions, and pastor and people are working in harmony to uphold the banner of the church.

HISTORY OF THE M. E. CHURCH.

When the Northville Methodist church was started, America was in her early fifties—she had scarcely settled down to being a nation. Michigan was still a territory—the home of swamps and ague and generally regarded as a poor place in which to live. The western fever, however, had drawn people to this country and they selected the most favored spots for their new home. Fulton's steamboat proceeded the founding of this church by only a few years, railways themselves were but (Continued on page 6th).

THREE WOMEN KILLED BY TRAIN

Mesdames, George Shafer, Fred Shafer Goodwin and Mrs. Harry Young Were Killed Instantly Wednesday Afternoon.

A distressing accident and one that cost the lives of three women took place at the Pere Marquette railway crossing near the condensery a little after four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mesdames, Fred Goodwin, formerly Hazel Shafer, Mrs. George Shafer and Mrs. Harry Young of Detroit, who was visiting here, were crossing the track in a Dodge touring car when the fast afternoon train from the north approached. Mrs. Goodwin was at the wheel and she evidently did not notice the on-coming train, though men who were unloading a car of coal endeavored to warn her of the danger.

The train struck the automobile as the vehicle was directly on the main track and the wrecked car was thrown a distance of fifty feet from the center of the highway. The bodies of Mrs. George Shafer and Mrs. Young were thrown upon the pilot of the engine and could not have been placed there in a more natural position if great care had been exercised in doing so. The body of Mrs. Goodwin was found under the wrecked car by the side of the track when men turned the machine over on its side. The two bodies picked up by the locomotive were taken to the station and placed in the baggage room by the train crew and they were afterward brought to Schrader's undertaking parlors, where they were prepared for burial. Mrs. Goodwin's remains were brought direct from the scene of the wreck to the funeral chapel.

The bodies of Mesdames Shafer were badly mangled and death, doubtless, came almost instantly. The women were motoring back to town from a pleasure trip out the Novi road. At the crossing there are two side-tracks on the west side of the main line tracks. On the first of these tracks a car loaded with coal had been placed and the car stood less than nine feet from the end of the planking between the rails. Had this car been placed back farther at the required distance the approaching train might have been seen some distance down the track.

This crossing has long been considered a dangerous one and there have been many near-accidents there. A bell was placed there some time ago but is often out of order and fails to give warning of approaching trains. Unless the railway company is willing to place a watchman there to warn the traveling public there should be some measure taken to prevent the company from running its trains through the village at such a high rate of speed. This rain fairly flies through Northville some days. Had the train approached this crossing on Wednesday under control this accident could have been avoided and three lives saved.

Funeral services for Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. Goodwin will be held at the Shafer home on Cay street this afternoon at one o'clock and burial will take place at Holly. The remains of Mrs. Young were taken to Detroit for burial.

Justice of Peace G. H. Baker will conduct an inquest on Wednesday of next week.

CALLED HOME ON A SAD MISSION.

Vernon Judson, a former Northville boy, called on old friends and acquaintances Saturday afternoon. Mr. Judson has been a resident of Haddon Heights, N. J., for some time and he holds an important position with the Curtis Publishing Co., at Philadelphia. He was called to Michigan for the purpose of bringing the remains of his wife, who died a couple of weeks ago, to her old home at Holland for burial. Besides her husband Mrs. Judson left two children, three sisters and four brothers.

Mr. Judson started to learn the printing trade in this office and his advancement has been steady and rapid. Since leaving Northville he has been employed in a number of very important establishments in the east and he is now foreman of the night shift at the great Curtis plant at Philadelphia, publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. His special work is to supervise the printing of the regular runs of these two wonderful magazines.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Brown of Detroit, visited their father, Frank Brown, on Tuesday.

NORTHWESTERN TO MEET MICHIGAN SATURDAY.

Ann Arbor is a colorful town today. Michigan has no great, official "Homecoming" as the custom places too heavy a burden on this college town of 19,000 and the result is that every home game is a "Homecoming" game. Fraternity houses are gay with Maize and Blue and the Purple, for tomorrow Michigan meets the strongest team Northwestern has mustered in a decade.

Coaches Little, Wieman and Emery took the Michigan gridders out to Barton hills country club tonight, where they will be sequestered until noon tomorrow. Nothing but a very light workout will feature their stay in the hills above Huron, with one of two squad meetings to keep every man on his toes.

Special trains carrying the 60-piece Northwestern band, some 2,000 Northwestern rooters and the entire freshman squad will arrive here early in the morning.

While the Athletic association still has a number of good seats for the game, they are going rapidly and, according to Harry Tillotson, business manager, there should be at least 45,000 fans in the stands. It is estimated that 2,000 to 3,000 tickets will be placed in sale at the box office tomorrow morning for late arrivals.

WALLED LAKE COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Phelps of Walled Lake celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in a very delightful manner on October 27th, at their home east of the village.

They were married at the home of Mrs. Phelps' mother, Mrs. James Clark, at Novi, by the Rev. Corey, 50 years ago. They have four children, Earl of Royal Oak, Mrs. Vina Murdoch of Novi, Charles of Strathmore and Mortimer, Jr., at home.

The house was beautifully decorated for the event in autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums. Nearly 100 guests were present. Besides the neighbors and friends here, guests were present from Grand Rapids, Oxford, Grand Haven, Waterford, Detroit, Northville, Farmington, Novi and one from Hamilton, Ohio. Many gifts were received, including a set of dishes and $100 in gold pieces. David Gage gave several readings some of them original.

Try Northville first.

WALLED LAKE WARBLER.

Mrs. North Cassell of Detroit has been the guest of Walled Lake friends during the past week.

Rev. James W. Green and Edward Coe attended the Sunday school convention at Ann Arbor last week.

Mrs. George Groll's mother died at her home in Wayne last week. Mrs. Groll spent part of the week there.

Mrs. Edith Sherwood Barnett recently went to a Chicago hospital where she underwent a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Chaffy have moved into their handsome new residence in the western part of town.

The annual school carnival drew a large crowd to the high school building last Friday night.

NORTHVILLE SCHOOL NOTES.

The foundation for the new portable building has been laid and it is expected the building will be erected within the next few days.

Our attendance is constantly increasing. More pupils are entering the school each week. We now have 71 enrolled in the first grade and several rooms have more than the standard of forty pupils.

A general teachers' meeting was held Monday at 4 p. m. An open discussion was held regarding the institute attended by all teachers in Detroit last week. At the next meeting which will be held next Monday each teacher is to bring some particular problem to be solved with a recommendation for its solution. It is hoped that in this way we can make our school system more efficient.

The high school faculty planned on a series of assembly programs to be given twice each month. At this time outside speakers will be secured. A. B. Wickham, secretary of the board of education and Supt. A. J. Helfrich attended the annual noon-day meeting of the Wayne County School superintendents at the Merrill Palmer school Wednesday of this week. Nutrition in its relation to the public school was the principal phase of the discussion.

In order to educate the pupils in the art of voting a supply of the official ballots was obtained and a straw vote was taken Wednesday morning. The result of the vote was as follows: There was a total of 103 votes cast. Of this number there were 58 straight republican votes and 7 straight democratic votes. President Coolidge received 99 votes and Mr. Davis 3 and the prohibition 13. Vol. Groesbeck received 93 Mr. Fronsdoiff 3, Mr. Johnson 2. For U. S. Senator Al. Couzens 93 Mr. Coolidge 10.

COOLIDGE WINS OVER OPPONENTS BY BIG MAJORITY

PRESIDENT RETURNS TO WHITE HOUSE BY DECISIVE POPULAR VOTE

LA FOLLETTE FAILS TO MAKE SEWING EXPECTED OF HIM

Governor Smith of New York, Exats Colonel Roosevelt—G. O. P. Holds Majority in Congress

Detroit—Coolidge and Davis were swept to victory by a large majority of both popular and electoral votes in the election Tuesday.

On the basis of returns Wednesday Senator Robert M. La Follette has carried only his home state of Wisconsin. He lost Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, Idaho, Washington, California, all states that he hoped to carry, and he also ran behind President Coolidge in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, although with a chance that belated returns from the strongly progressive farming districts may swing these three states into the progressive column.

The maximum electoral vote La Follette can possibly hope for is 34.

The collapse of the Democratic ticket, outside of the Solid South, was little less complete. Of the border states, Coolidge won Maryland, Kentucky and John W. Davis' home state of West Virginia.

Mr. Davis apparently won Oklahoma and Tennessee, while the race in Missouri was neck and neck.

New Mexico is the only other state, not strictly classed as "South" that the Democratic ticket seems to have a chance to carry.

In 1920 Mr. Cox received 127 electoral votes. There is a chance that the Davis total will drop as low as 126 whereas his maximum hope, now indicated, is only 157.

President Coolidge is assured of at least 329 electoral votes—63 more than a majority—with a prospect that his total may reach close to the high mark of 404 electoral votes registered for Warren G. Harding in 1920.

The landslide of votes for Coolidge also has improved the situation of his party in Congress, although it is doubtful if the changes will be sufficiently numerous to give the Republicans a decisive majority as against the Democratic Progressive combination in either Senate or House.

The Northville Record.

E. E. BROWN, Publisher.

An Independent Newspaper published every Friday morning at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville postoffice as Second-Class matter.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., NOV. 7, 1924.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Items taken from The Record files of 1899, for the week corresponding to this week.

Mrs. Samuel Wilkinson is seriously ill in Detroit.

C. E. Rogers of Scranton, Pa., was in town this week.

Bert Hills is in Chicago college studying book-keeping.

Mrs. George Hueston has been visiting a week with Detroit friends.

Mrs. M. J. Murphy of Cleveland, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. A. Dolph.

Mrs. Groscham and daughter of Detroit were the guests of Mrs. A. S. Huff last week.

B. A. Northrop and Ed Lockwood are on a business trip in northern Michigan this week.

The Lady Macabees are the proud possessors of a spang new Singer piano in their hall.

E. M. Starkweather has sold his four-year-old pacer, Expert King, to Frank Davenport of Grass Lake.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve a chicken pie supper at the rink Tuesday. Admission, 20 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Budd of Milford visited at the home of the former's brother, Travis Budd, last week.

Mrs. Mary Ambler and Mrs. Jennie Johnson, delegates from the Northville Woman's club, attended the state federation of clubs at Jackson this week.

The fifth and sixth grades are very proud of their new picture of St. Cecilia which is nicely framed. Elmer Perrin donated the most soap wrappers toward obtaining it.

The hottest and quickest blaze ever occurred in Northville was when Northrop's laundry burned last Saturday morning. It was all over in 15 minutes.

A CHANGE OF FIRM.

A deal was closed the first of the week whereby E. H. Partridge sold a "big business" in his grocery business to his brother-in-law, Arthur W. Marsh of Detroit and the business will be continued under the firm name of Partridge & Marsh.

Mr. Marsh has had experience in the conduct of grocery stores and is well qualified for his new duties in Northville. Since taking over the business a little over a year ago Mr. Partridge has enjoyed a good patronage and the Partridge store has become a popular trading place. The same policy which has attracted the people to the store under the management of Mr. Partridge will be followed by the new firm and by this combination of interests they will be able to serve the public in a manner that will merit a continued patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh are now residents of Northville and The Record extends to them a very cordial welcome on behalf of the people of this community.

WHY CELEBRATE ALL THE WEEK?

In olden times and not so very long ago, either, the younger generation were satisfied to observe Halloween on one night only, the night it really occurs, but nowadays that practice is too slow and the harum-scarum have to celebrate three or four nights of the week. There is "doorbell night," "cabbage night," "turnip night," and goodness knows what all. No one objects to innocent pranks by the little folks but when near grown-ups, boys who should know better even if their parents don't teach them, engage in practices that are disturbing the peace of the community and damaging property, it is time to call a halt.—Holly Advertiser

The same condition prevailed here this year and Northville youngsters started their Halloween celebration as early as Monday night. Nightly porches and windows were smeared with rotten vegetables, and things movable were carted about, greatly to the annoyance and inconvenience of many of our citizens.

Just why parents will permit their boys to play these pranks for a whole week is a mystery.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN FORM CLUB.

A number of the men of the Presbyterian church met at the church parlors last Sunday afternoon and decided to form a men's club to promote social activities among the men of the congregation. Brown; members of executive committee to serve with the officers, Carl Bryan and Dr. W. M. Nelson. Another meeting will soon be held to perfect plans for the organization.

This makes two christian workers being supported by our church, the other is a native of India. In the near future we hope to be able to show the pictures of these workers.

We are asked almost daily when Rev. Joe J. Payne will be here. He will be with us January first and remain for three weeks. Owing to certain conditions Mr. Payne requested us to postpone his meeting until that date.

MASON'S HONOR WASHINGTON'S MEMORY.

A number of the members of the Masonic fraternity gathered at their hall on Tuesday night to observe the 187th anniversary of the initiation of George Washington into the mysteries of Masonry. The Masonic quartet, Messrs. James and Wayne VanDyne, Carl Bryan and C. R. VanValkenburg sang a number of selections greatly to the enjoyment and delight of those present. Brothers F. P. Knowles and William Richards gave interesting addresses concerning Washington. Mr. Knowles discussed "Washington, as a Man, a Mason and a Patriot" and his address was inspiring and active. He declared that a man to be a Mason ought to be a Godly man and that a good Mason was a patriot, because he stood for everything that was highest and best in our national life, and in his private conduct. Mr. Richards told of his visit to the old Washington homestead in England which is now maintained as a shrine, of the erection of the Washington monument in Westminster Abbey and of his visit to Mt. Vernon and to the lodge hall in Alexandria, Va., where George Washington was raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason.

After the program had been concluded election returns and the radio program were enjoyed until a late hour.

GYPSES ROB MONEY DRAWER.

Wednesday noon while Manager George Alton of the Smith store was at lunch two gypsies entered the store and finding but one clerk in the store proceeded to help themselves to the contents of the cash drawer, taking about $21 which they wrapped in a newspaper and made their get-away. There were two of them and they were traveling in a Cadillac touring car.

NO ORDINARY BAKERY WOULD TAKE THIS CONTRACT

Provide a satisfactory meal for 5,000 men besides women and children and have plenty for all. Some job that for a well-equipped caterer.

A great company of folks followed Christ to the unpopulated district on the East of Galilee. They stayed all day and at night were hungry and far from home.

We do not know how Christ brought forth the generous supply from the meager staff of that banquet. He had access to a source which responded promptly to His request.

The folks ate until they were filled and then there remained a comfortable surplus.

If the Master of Life can satisfy the body in the many daily demands—He can help when the known supplies are exhausted—why may we not look to Him for every emergency of existence?

Fully ten acres on the farm of Gleason Brothers was burned over one day last week, because a hunter was careless. The fire is still burning in the muck and old timber.

Ex-Alderman, city treasurer and county auditor W. B. Moehler and wife of Detroit, were pleasant callers on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vail at the home of Mrs. L. W. Simmons, recently.

Joseph Chamberlain, who is mentioned as being one of the first trustees of the Methodist church in Mr. Delph's history of the society, was the grandfather of Mrs. C. S. Wilkins.

Geo. C. Harger has commenced the erection of a handsome new residence on his acreage in Orchard Heights. When completed the home will be one of the most elaborate and modern in this section.

The Simpson-Scale Co. has moved its office and all equipment to the second floor of the building in which the office has been located for many years. The large building to the east will be rented and will make a very desirable location for some manufacturing establishment.

Mrs. Capita Dubuar of this village is a granddaughter of Marcus S. Vail, the first minister to conduct religious services on the Plymouth circuit. She was assisted by Lorenzo Davis and together they conducted services in the various communities which then made up the circuit—Northville, Plymouth, Banka, Livonia, Wayne.

Her father was the son of that distinguished pioneer preacher and teacher. The other is a number of the members of Pontiac Chapter, Order of the Moose, came to Northville last Thursday night to confer the degrees upon a class of nineteen candidates.

The visitors and members of the local chapter together with some members of the Moose Fraternity, enjoyed a social dinner at 6:30 and the work of the evening followed. The excitement of the work was most enjoyable and a very good time was had by all. The dinner was served at the home of the president, Mr. J. A. Vail, and the hosts attended the dancing greatly.

NOVI OPPOSED ANNEXATION.

At Tuesday's election in Novi township there were a total of 416 votes cast. Of this number 140 voted in favor of annexing certain lands in Novi township to the village of Northville and there were 219 voters who were opposed to the annexation.

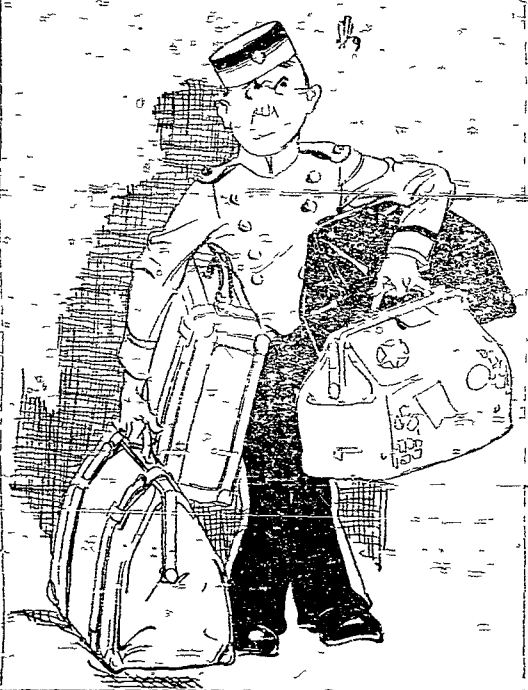

Some seemed to have the opinion that the proposition called for taking the land out of the township of Novi instead of just annexing the territory to the village. The annexation would not have affected the township of Novi in any way.

THE OLD CHURCH, ERECTED IN 1835-9.

five years ago and means of travel limited to ox carts and horseback riding. They were the days when folks really could sing "Tide Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm."

Very few years ago in this town and vicinity this is no small consideration. Not a single magnificent estate or a single manufacturing plant has been erected here since the history of this Methodist church. If anyone tells you that the church is decadent that it has spent its force—that it is dying, they need only go look around in Northville or any other town and see churches that have survived all kinds of conditions and that are still doing business in spite of criticism, fault-finding and general disregard.

The history of any church society or community is a intricate matter—you can scarcely hope to record more than surface facts; the outside shell as it were. Life has to be lived, our hearts are to be exercised and one can only hope to describe their spiritual growth. Because of this fact the history of this society is not a plain one. The quarterly conference records for the first fifteen years were taken to a session of the Ohio Conference at one time and never returned.

At the beginning of the Genesee Conference of New York state had jurisdiction over the Michigan territory. Their works went out along the main arteries of travel such as Michigan and Grand River Avenues and the old Territorial Road and other highways leading to Port Huron, Pontiac, etc. The country between these highways was not visited as regularly as such places as Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and other towns.

After a few years, the Ohio Conference was organized and the Michigan territory was assigned to them.

In 1834 Plymouth Mission first appears on the conference records. Marcus Swift, a local preacher who had already conducted many meetings in this vicinity, was placed in charge of this appointment and Lorenzo Davis was appointed and junior preacher on this circuit.

Swift is described as a wonderful man physically, very strong mentally and of great spiritual capacity. It is a matter of record that at a special camp meeting, which was held in Benton's Woods, his preaching was distinctly heard on the streets of Northville two miles away.

Following the Conference of 1834, regular appointments were made for Plymouth Mission with senior and junior preachers each year until 1842. Northville was then made a regular station with one preacher in charge. Plymouth Mission as it was first called consisted of townships—Lyonia, Canton and Nankin and the old Plymouth township. In this territory were the small villages of Northville, Plymouth, Wayne and Dearborn.

Since Plymouth Mission was established, work has been carried on here without interruption for the full ninety years.

On March 17, 1834, Wayne and Sarah Dunlap for the sum of $50.00 gave the trustees a plot of ground on which the present parsonage and the major part of this church building stands. The trustees to whom the property was conveyed and who were the first ones of the society were: Samuel T. Mead, Hiram M. Perrin, Norah Ramsdell, David H. Rowland and Joseph Chambers. At the time of giving over the deed, a contract was let for a new church building and work was started as soon as funds were raised; but for financial reasons, the enterprise was not completed for a few years. In fact, the frame stood for a long time before the roof was on. The new church was finally made ready for occupancy during the summer of 1839 and was dedicated in September of that year as the final act in the ministry of Rev. James E. Kellam. The dedication speaker was Rev. Henry Colclazer, a man who was said to be an orator of considerable ability.

The old church had a high pulpit with the usual sounding board above; the seats were of the old-fashioned type with a separate door into each pew. In the middle seventies the high pulpit and the old pews were removed and new modern furniture installed.

At the time of the Michigan Conference in 1839, the slavery question was under a vigorous discussion. Marcus Swift, who was about to unite with the Conference, was not permitted to do so because of his very pronounced anti-slavery sentiment. He and others of like mind went among the classes of this section and took their followers with them to the Western church—they all eventually returned to us except the class which was formed down at the Thayer schoolhouse, and it was organized as a Congregational church and their building now stands at the end of the cement highway two miles west of Northville.

In the year of 1834, a spirit of enterprise seemed to take hold of Northville as a community and of the Methodist society in particular. Under the leadership of Rev. John M. Van Every, a new church was erected in 1835, and after a vigorous campaign the present building was erected. The total cost, as announced at the dedication, was $2,750.00. An interesting fact regarding this building is the fact that prior to its construction, the old building, which was a log cabin, was burned and some other structures were purchased outside.

Bishop John F. Hurst dedicated the church and before the services were completed the necessary pledges were received to cover the balance yet due. The work of Rev. Mr. Van Every was evangelistic in character and affected the whole community. His work resulted in a town-wide revival one of these kind of revivals which come and are not made. The result of it was a large increase in the membership of the Methodist Church.

The greatest setback the church ever met was the result of the burning of the old Globe factory plant in 1890. The removal of a great many workers who were members of the Methodist Church netted a great loss and it may be said that the society has never yet recovered their former stride.

In all 65 preachers have served this charge—their pay in dollars and cents has been small but their service to the community cannot be measured. I assume that you can visualize that group of men who were appointed to lead Northville, Methodist—imagine them coming across this platform a long time of them, various sizes, some like men, impracticable men, good men—on across the platform they came until our present Rev. Mr. Richards. Every now and then you see such men as Bishops, Hinde, Hurst, Berry and such local leaders as Chas. T. Allen, Seth Reed, James Smart, William Schier and many others.

As you picture them as I have tried to do you might attempt to visualize that group of folks who used to sit in these pews—older members can see some of these former people sitting in the pews along side of you this morning. Over yonder sits Mrs. Ball, the Amblers, the Gardners, Regals, Woodmansees and others, there to the front sits Uncle Johnny Scnds, across the aisle is Ed Whitaker and in the Choir is the marvelous voice of Asa M. Randolph. If you are a drummer, you can see these shadowy figures moving about us in their accustomed places in the church work as of yore. What they did is of great significance but the greater problem and the real test is not what we have done, but what we are going to do.

This society has been kept alive ninety years by the large and small services of many people. This building or some other will be here one hundred years from now, the same old gospel will be sung and explained and taught by men and women who believe in that dual combination of the Church Magnificent and the Church Triumphant!

TWO DRY AGENTS ARE FIRED

Found Responsible for Tipping Off Raid On Roadhouse.

Detroit—The failure of a carefully planned raid by Federal officers on the River View Inn at Ecorse, a few weeks ago caused an investigation which has resulted in the discharge of two prohibition agents, Jack Beamish and Lawrence J. Davis, on orders from Roy A. Haynes, Federal Prohibition Director, according to a statement by A. A. Merrick, in charge of the local Prohibition Navy.

The plans for the raid were carefully guarded as the officers hoped to catch certain public officials who have been aiding the violation of the Prohibition laws. When the officers arrived they found only three bartenders there, rolling away barrels of beer. The interior of the inn was wrecked as though the bar and equipment had been hastily thrown out. The signs pointed toward a "tipping off" of the place, Merrick said, and the investigation followed.

Harbor Beach, Mich.—Captain Fred Burge and his crew of 20 men were rescued from the Canadian steamer Glenorchy when that ship sank off Harbor Beach following a collision with the steamer Leonard B. John Scott, 34, a wharfman, was seriously hurt when the boats jammed. He is the only member of either crew injured.

The destroyed vessel had a 5,500-ton capacity and was 255 feet long.

ETHYL GAS KILLS WORKERS

Inhalation Causes Insanity, Coma and Death Without Warning.

Elizabeth, N. J.—Tetra Ethyl gas, inhaled by workers in the Standard Oil company's plant here has caused the death of several and many others have been affected by its poisonous fumes. Tetraethyl lead is used with gasoline to produce ethyl gas. It is the result of an effort to find a substance which can be used with straight gasoline to overcome certain inherent difficulties of motor car operation. The lead is said to lessen the speed of gas combustion and does away with "knocking" and also decreases the carbon deposits.

BRUSH FIRES IN MICH. STATE

Conservation Commission Takes Hand To Curb Spread of Menace.

Lansing—Michigan's conservation commission last week asked the board of supervisors of several northern counties to issue orders against farmers burning brush until after Jan. 1 has fallen. The entire country is exceptionally dry, according to the commission, and a widespread fire would do immense damage. Fires have spread to dangerous proportions in some sections.

Windsor Wants to be Wet.

Windsor—Upon the provincial government of Ontario rests the full responsibility of enforcing the Temperance act so far as the city of Windsor is concerned. A resolution to this effect was passed unanimously by the council and sent to Premier Ferguson. The resolution is destined primarily to save the municipal government the expense of arresting and prosecuting violators "of a law which was overwhelmingly rejected at the recent plebiscite."

ELEVEN SHOT IN ANTI-KLAN RIOT

NATIONAL GUARD IS CALLED TO RESTORE ORDER—MARTIAL LAW DECLARED.

PARADE ATTEMPT STARTS FIGHT

Open Hostilities Break Out During Tri-State "Konklave" Held in Niles, Ohio.

Niles, Ohio—Eleven men were shot and a company of National Guardsmen were called to restore order in the Klan and anti-Klan riot here last Saturday. The city was put under martial law as a consequence.

The rioting preceded the scheduled Ku Klux Klan parade proposed to be held in connection with a huge initiation ceremony.

The tri-state Klan rally, including members from Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, widely advertised, had attracted a crowd of more than 40,000 including friends and foes.

Knight of the Flaming Circle, an anti-Klan organization, attempted to have the parade stopped. Opposition to the gathering was first expressed a week ago, when the home of Mayor H. C. Kistler, was surrounded during the night.

Following this, appeals were made to him to revoke his permit for the parade, but this he refused to do.

Since the organization of the anti-Klan group at Steubenville about a year ago there has been a feeling of antagonism between the two forces and this has been marked by a series of fights and demonstrations.

More than a month ago Mayor Kistler issued a permit to the Klan to hold a parade in connection with its meeting. He was informed at that time some 25,000 Klansmen would march.

On October 25 circulars were issued announcing a tri-state parade of the Flaming Circle here. Mayor Kistler at once announced he would not issue a permit for such a demonstration on the same day as that of the Klan.

The anti-Klan faction posted guards at all the entrances to the town. Street cars, into urban buses, automobiles and all other conveyances were stopped to weapons and killed.

When the Klan was told it was forbidden to enter the town, it refused entrance to the city. An attempt was made to force the Klan to show resistance to the town and severe were the results.

TEN SHEETS AT ONE TIME

It surprises most women when they learn that the EASY washes 10 single sheets or 8 double sheets at one time—or the equivalent in other clothes. It is a most efficient and favorite method of tubbing for the average family washing—and a material saving in time and energy. The capacity of the EASY is of course adjustable, so that a smaller amount of clothing can be washed just as well. We'll be glad to show you how much time the EASY will save in doing your own family washing.

C. F. CASPERLINE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

C. F. Casperline, father of the Casperline family of this village, who moved to Northville last spring, met with a serious accident while at work at the gravel pit just off the Seven Mile road last week Thursday. A pulley to which a cable was attached broke and Mr. Casperline was knocked off the loading platform, falling to the ground a distance of about twelve feet. Being unconscious from the effects of the blow he received on the head, he was unable to help himself in any way and as he struck the ground he rolled into the pit which was very deep and full of water. A helper noticed the accident and gave the alarm and the unfortunate man was rescued from his perilous position and rushed to the office of Dr. L. W. Snow. About noon he was taken to his home on Cedar street, but he was in a very serious condition.

He was badly bruised about the head and his body received many cuts and abrasions but fortunately no bones were broken.

JOIN THE RED CROSS.

There are very few homes in this community that cannot afford to display the Red Cross emblem and the people of this community ought to feel it an honor as well as a duty to become a member of an organization which renders such wonderful service as does the Red Cross. In every great disaster the American Red Cross is first on the ground to render such services as the conditions demand—medical supplies, food, clothing, shelter. The organization was first a personal representative in London as it was in far on Japan—distances do not make any difference to Red Cross workers.

When the women of Northville call upon you for membership in the annual Red Cross roll call respond gladly and willingly—do your part as willingly and unselfishly as these women are doing theirs.

B. C. T. NOTICE.

Mrs. Butler of Detroit, the promoter and conductor of the Demorest prize speaking contests, was present and gave a very fine reading, responding to a hearty encore, with a fine second. A good time was had, Mrs. Patterson and her daughter, Mrs. Todd, being right royal entertainers.
