WE get this story
SECOND hand, we
DON'T know where it
REPEATING—it's about
A MAN who took his FAMILY on a vacation TRIP down into MISSOURI, and he was DRIVING one of those FAMOUS Detroit-made
CARS, and it happened
THAT a bad spring
TOOK a break and after a WHILE they managed to GET to a little garage
WHERE they didn't have ANY car parts and it LOOKED pretty gloomy
UNTIL a stranger came
IN and he was tied up
TOO, with engine trouble
AND when he saw this FORLORN looking little FAMILY he turned to the GARAGE man and told him
TO TAKE the spring off
the car and put it on THEIR, which was done,
AND we claim that's a PRETTY good story, don't YOU?

Advice
About
Buying
An Electric
Washer

In buying an Electric Washer, make sure to select the one that will save the most work—for, of course the saving of work is the only reason why you want an electric washer at all. Investigate carefully the size of the washer because size has an important bearing upon the time it will take for you to do your washing. See to it also that the washer you buy has a gas heater because this feature eliminates the work of boiling the white clothes in the washtub. And do not overlook the fact that, if a washer is to be easily kept clean, it must be simple in its construction, free from corners and corrugated requiring painstaking cleaning. In all of these respects you will find that the EASY possesses marked advantages. See it before you make your final choice of a washer.

NORTHLVILLE TWO HOLE FOUR

What was the score? It was Northville to Holly 4. Nothing less, nothing more. It was a tight game. You should have heard the crowd roar. Not with a roar, the boys have lost before. The game was good—not poor, the fans would like to see it over. Northville was knocking right at their door—but Holly won as we announced before.

One little slip of judgment in the fifth inning causing three runs was a probable loss of the game last Sunday, by the Northville boys. It was another rep one from start to finish, which the five hundred or more fans enjoyed.

The Northville umpire was impartial and had he given decisions as were made at Holly, the two weeks previous Northville could have won easily. But, the local team had rather lose a square game than win a cheating one.

Northville made the first tally and kept the visitors from registering until the fatal fifth inning. Few hits were made on either pitcher and nearly all runs were made on both sides by a few misjudgments and trifling bonehead plays. These things we must expect in amateur and semi-pro baseball.

Sunday, the Windsor Colored team who defeated Northville early in the season will play here again. This is a strong club full of pep, science and plenty of comedy.

POULTRY FANCERS HONOR JUDGE WM. WISE.

For eight years Mr. Wise has served the Northville Wayne County Fair as judge and by his efficiency and fair judging has won many friends in Northville. Judge Wise has taken up his work at San Gabriel California, and after superintending the Michigan State Fair he will return to his new home. Judge and Mrs. James A. Tucker and son of Royal Oak Judge and Mrs. Glen Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. Bourne of Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Holcomb of Novi and Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Babbitt of Northville assisted Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fricker in entertaining Judge Wise at their home on the Fishery road Sunday. During the afternoon, Chas A. Ponsford first secretary of the Northville Wayne County Fair, stepped in and in a few well-chosen words presented Judge Wise with a fine Hamilton watch of the latest model, in behalf of the "boys" of the Northville country show. Those present understood the appreciation he could not express in words. While regretting his absence here, we wish him continued success and congratulate the poultry men of California on having so able a judge as Wm. Wise.

MARRIED AT ROWE.

Northville friends received announcements this week stating that Miss Ethel Hodgson of this place and Herbert D. Rhodes of Detroit had been married at Rosedale on August 19. The ceremony was performed at the St. E. parsonage in that village by Rev. Chas H. Collinge and the young people returned to Northville where they will make their home for a while at least with Mrs. G. M. Hodgson on Cadie street. The bride graduated from the Northville High School a year ago and for the past few months has been employed as assistant in The Record office part of each week and is a young woman of charm and refinement. The fortunate groom has a good position in the United States custom service in Detroit.

LEWIS BROSSOW DIED AT INKSTER.

The remains of Lewis Brossow were brought from Inkster where he died August 19th to the Schrader Chapel where the funeral services were held by Rev. Wm. Richards on Saturday the 22nd with burial in the Clarenceville cemetery. He was born in Northville on April 5th, 1885, and died from typhoid fever at his residence in Inkster. He leaves besides his wife and child Louis, one brother William M. and two sisters Mrs. Fred Giegler of Walled Lake and Elsie of Northville.

COVERT SCHOOL REUNION.

One of those enjoyable old school-mates reunion was held at Belle Isle August 19th when about twenty-five of the former pupils of Miss Belle Covert met to talk over school days of twenty-five or twenty-six years ago. Miss Covert was a most popular eighth grade teacher of that time. Plans were made for a reunion next year. Any one who wishes a notice of the meeting may send their address to the secretary, Hazel Judson Small, 1185 Midland Ave., Highland Park, Mich.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell.

Funeral services for Mrs. Scott A. Lovewell were held at her late home in this village on Friday afternoon last, being attended only by the members of the family and immediate relatives of the deceased. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful and in their silent expressions of regard conveyed to the bereaved family the kindest sympathy of their many friends in this community. Rev. William Richards conducted the services using a portion of scripture which had been a favorite and a comfort of the deceased. "In my Father's house are many rooms, if it were not so I would have told you." The burial took place in the family lot in the cemetery at South Lyon.

Mrs. Lovewell was highly esteemed in this community which had been her home for more than six years and knew the sad news of her passing became current about the village expressions of deepest sorrow were heard on every hand. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and in her daily life endeavored to exemplify the teachings of her Lord and Master. In her home life she was, loving, devoted, trustful and to her husband and sons the tenderest sympathy of Northville people is extended.

Asenath Carpenter Lovewell was born at South Lyon January 10th, 1850, and she grew to womanhood in that community. On January 1st, 1907, she was urged in marriage to Mr. Lovewell, and to this union two sons were born—Paul and Leslie. Besides these dear ones she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mae Carpenter of South Lyon, and three sisters, Mrs. John Jacobs of Ferndale, Mrs. Elmer L. Smith of this place and Miss Frankie Carpenter of South Lyon.

During her long illness she was brave and auring and her faith and trust was an inspiration to those who kept constant vigil at her bedside. Death came as a sweet relief after all human agencies had failed to restore her to health and strength, and her life, though brief, will be a benediction to all who came under its sweet influences.

NORTHLVILLE PEOPLE PROVIDE MUSIC FOR OLD-TIME DANCE.

An old-time dance was recently held at Farmington town hall and a correspondent of the Enterprise wrote an interesting account of the gathering from which we take the following:

Henry Ford was there and danced often and well. He is doing all he can toward driving jazz into the discard and reviving interest in the old-fashioned dances that are safe and decent.

"Mrs. Tinham of the piano and Mr. Brooks with his violin were valuable assistants in the orchestra."

"July 4th, 1876, John Tinham first played a violin at a dance. It was at the Branch Cheese factory in Livonia. Soon after Tolney Gunning began to associate with him in furnishing music for dances."

"We who in our younger days were so delighted with their melodies hope that the time will continue to deal gently with them that their art may be spared to charm another generation. We are fortunate enough to listen to their music."

A RECKLESS DRIVER WRECKED A WAGON.

Monday afternoon at T. A. Ware of this place was on his way to a tannery he recently purchased near Jackson a reckless driver sitting behind the wheel of a big Buick car collided with his wagon at a point a few miles west of Salem on the Ann Arbor road. Ware's wagon was loaded with household goods and some crates of chickens. As the big car came dashing over the hill Ware was unable to get out of the road with the result that one of his horses was injured. The chicken crates were scattered some of the chickens being killed and others liberated and the wagon was completely wrecked. Fortunately Mr. Ware and his little daughter who was riding with him escaped injury.

The car was going at such a rate of speed that it crashed through a wire fence and ran off the highway into a field before being stopped.

The following guests were royally entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatch of the Blue Bird farm, Mrs. Alice Terrill of West Palm Beach, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harmon and Mrs. Elizabeth Harmon of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. George and Geo. Dahl of Michigan, a brother of Mrs. Hatch.

BLAST ON EXCURSION STEAMER KILLS 41

100 Injured When Steam Envelops the Mackinac Near Newport.

Newport, Mich.—Forty-one persons were killed and injured when a boiler exploded on the excursion steamer Mackinac carrying 277 passengers.

The steamer had left Newport on its return trip to Parry Sound when a terrific blast ripped it asunder. The accident came when the vessel passed opposite the naval training station. The majority of the victims were buried by the clouds of steam which enveloped the entire ship.

Capt. Thomas McVey ran the steamship around on Coddington point, and distress signals were sounded. Two score vessels of the navy were lying at anchor near the scene and all of them immediately put off a fleet of small boats. Hundreds of sailors were soon at work transferring the scores of injured and then the frightened passengers to the small boats.

Many of the passengers aboard were women and children and a panic followed the blast. Scores leaped into the bay to escape the scalding steam. It was stated by passengers that the starboard fire-tube was delayed for a considerable time while final repairs were being made on the boiler patch that was put on the night before. It is believed it was this patch that gave way, causing the disaster.

The disaster, the worst in Lake Huron waters since the steamer Michigan went down with between 125 and 175 on board in February, 1907, was the direct result of the defective boiler. Assistant Attorney General Oscar A. Uhlir said:

Treasury Rulings Add to Stock-Exchange Taxes

Washington—Two treasury decisions were issued with reference to the capital stock tax and income tax as related to stock-exchanges. The decisions amend regulations (44) (the capital stock tax regulations) and regulations 97 (the income-tax regulations). By adding to each the following:

(A) stock-exchange is not a business house, chamber of commerce or board of trade, within the meaning of the law and is not exempt from tax.

This opinion has a direct bearing upon the taxability of stock exchanges and also of products and similar exchanges.

Wisconsin University Rejects $600,000 Gift

Madison, Wis.—The board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, independent, not to accept funds from endowed corporations, thereby turned down a tentative gift of $600,000 for a medical building, it became known.

Dr. Charles Bardeen, dean of the university medical school, confirmed reports that private endowment organizations had indicated favorable response to suggestions that the medical school could use financial aid. The negotiations were brought to an end with the resolution of the regents prohibiting the acceptance of such gifts.

Charge Rich Realty Man Poisoned Woman in Jail

Miami, Fla.—John Gobel, wealthy Florida real estate organizer, is held under charges of administering poison to Mrs. H. D. Burley, who died here. A coroner's jury verdict accused Gobel. The day after Longtime Sheriff F. C. Linton had tested that the real estate man confessed administering the poison, Gobel visited Mrs. Burley at the jail, where she is being detained on charges of having attempted suicide, preferred by Linton.

Rev. W. O. Waters, Noted Pastor Dies in Auto

Wareham, Mass.—Rev. William Ows. Waters, D. D., for twenty-two years rector of Grace Episcopal church, Chicago, died suddenly while driving his automobile through Onset. Miss A. pedes. Far in Onset noted that Doctor Waters had stumbled over the wheel and that his car was out of control. He ran into the street and drove on the emergency brakes just as the machine was about to plunge over an embankment.

Jardine Cuts Dr. Taylor in Farm Policies Row

Washington—As a culmination of a controversy over farm policies the ousting of Dr. H. C. Taylor as chief of the bureau of agricultural economics of the Department of Agriculture was formally announced. Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the agricultural college of the University of Kentucky, will succeed him.

Marguerite Clark Ill.

New York—Marguerite Clark, a screen and stage favorite a few years ago, is at the Fifth Avenue hospital here recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Harry Williams, her husband, has given his consent for her return to the screen.

Missionary Dies in China

Shanghai—Mrs. William H. Lacy, a native of Wisconsin and one of the best known missionaries in China, died here of pneumonia.

D. U. R. RECEIVERSHIP EXTENDED.

An order extending the present receivership of the Detroit United Railroad to cover a foreclosure proceeding recently instituted by the Central Union Trust Company of New York, has been signed by Charles G. Simons, judge of the United States District Court for the eastern district of Michigan. At the same time, Judge Simons appointed W. C. Dunbar, Philadelphia co-receiver to act with the Security Trust Company of Detroit.

Mr. Dunbar succeeds J. W. Simard, Montreal, Que., resigned.

The new court proceedings became inevitable, it was stated by a spokesman for the receivers, when the reorganization plans of the stockholders failed last June. This condition virtually paralyzed the plans the receivers had formed for future operations. More than 80% of the stockholders live in Canada, and held Mr. Simard in high esteem, and when their reorganization plans failed Mr. Simard resigned.

Education for Travelers

In 1825 the English poet, Sir Francis Kynaston, founded the Museum of Minerva, a college intended to give instruction "to gentlemen before their taking long journeys into foreign parts."

First "Insane Hospital"

Bedlam, in London, was the first hospital for the insane in Europe.

Traced to Horace Walpole

"Sorcery" is a word in good standing in the English language, on no less authority than the Oxford dictionary. The word was coined by Horace Walpole. It was formed from the story of "The Three Princes of Serendip," formerly the name of Ceylon, the heroes of which were always making discoveries by accidents and sagacity of things they did not seek.

Named for Monarch

The name now borne by the state of Louisiana was applied in 1803 by La Salle to the whole country watered by the Mississippi, in honor of Louis XIV, who was at that time king of France.

NORTHLVILLE, MICHIGAN

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Flint—Three persons were injured one seriously when a D. U. R. interurban jumped an open switch at Sullivanside, two miles south of Goodrich and crashed into a work train. The injured, all residents of Rochester, were taken to St. Joseph hospital.

Lansing—Buses will be in operation Oct. 1 over virtually all routes now covered by the electric Railway Company. The bus service will include routes between Lansing and Jackson, Flint, Bay City, Jackson and Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids.

Port Huron—The sand and gravel barge Penobscot was destroyed by fire in St. Clair River, a few miles south of Marine City. The fire started in a forward compartment near the hoisting machinery and spread rapidly. The crew had no difficulty in reaching shore. The charred hull sank in 25 feet of water.

Lansing—John C. Kendell, of Denver, Colo., has been appointed state supervisor of music to succeed John W. Seattle, resigned. Kendell will take over the duties of his office about September 1. He assumes responsibility of music instruction of the state schools after several years as director of music in the Denver city schools.

Jackson—Fire practically destroyed the masonry building at the Michigan State Prison cement plant at Chelsea with a loss estimated at $35,000 by Warden Harry H. Jackson. The blaze is believed to have started from hot journals in the packing department and to have spread to the oil bunkers enveloping the roof of the structure in a mass of flames.

Jackson—Work of constructing the new 32 foot wall around Jackson prison is nearly finished with exception of removing concrete forms, and work on a new cell block will start soon. The new cell block will accommodate 2,500 prisoners. A temporary structure which will eventually be built in another cell block, is to be constructed as a dormitory and kitchen unit.

Manistee—The entire board of supervisors was blamed for laxity in the financial affairs of the county and a recommendation was made for a thorough audit of the accounts of Justice August Greer, Jr., during the last 10 years and the steward of Arnold T. Goss of Harbor County, trustee, was placed at $1,500 by Supervisor W. J. Ingraham, the county officer.

Lansing—Chemists working under the supervision of the State Department of Health have obtained samples of the water in wells, streams and springs of state. They intent to protect tourists from injury, including water. Signs have been posted in conspicuous places advising the tourist that the water to be found is pure or unwholesome as the case may be.

Monroe—Members of the Monroe County Farm Bureau association and county grange held their annual outing at Dew's beach along Lake Erie five miles north of here. C. L. Burton, county agent, was the general overseer. Various athletic games were enjoyed. Louise Campbell, director of home economics of the M. S. C., addressed the women on nutrition to children.

Pontiac—"Likelihood" of annexation of Sylvan Lake village to Pontiac has practically disappeared with the development of opposition among citizens of the village to any such attempt on the ground that no immediate benefits would result. In a mass meeting held in the village to discuss it, only one citizen spoke in favor of annexation. City Manager Ham and Mayor Rockwell discussed the matter from the city's viewpoint.

Kalamazoo—By a majority of 5,032 Joseph L. Hopper, of Battle Creek, the Republican candidate, was elected to Congress from the Third District over Claude S. Carney, of Kalamazoo, his democratic opponent. In the recent special election, Hopper will serve out the unexpired term of the late Rep. Arthur B. Williams, of Battle Creek, who died in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, last April. Hopper received 14,884 votes to Carney's 9,852.

Jackson—The city of Jackson kept within its 1925 budget by $43,946.72 for the first six months of the year, according to figures made public. The budget charges for the six months amounted to $562,243.93, or $25,881.25 less than one half the year's appropriation of $589,123.18. Taxes collected during July, 1925, totaled $603,682.82 while in July, 1924, $447,888.16 in taxes were collected. However, the total amount of the city tax in 1924 was $527,760, while this year it is $779,326.37.

Lansing—Attempts to evade paying the full auto license tax on the part of motorists, who are trying to benefit by the 50 per cent reduction in the tax, Sept. 1, will be thwarted according to a bulletin issued by branch office managers by the Department of State. Affidavits signed by a sheriff or a chief of police to the effect that the vehicle for which a license is applied has not been driven before Sept. 1, will be required if the title to the machine was issued previous to that date, the bulletin says.

Marine City—A garage and three dwellings were destroyed by fire here causing damage estimated at $25,000. The fire origin unknown, started in the garage. Eight automobiles were destroyed by the flames.

Marshall—The case against Mrs Minnie Jones, charged with giving poison to her husband William, was dealt another severe blow when C. L. Bliss, State chemist, reported no trace of poison in a box of cookies sent him for examination.

St. Ignace—State Police have taken over the direction of traffic at the State ferry dock here. The situation had been beyond control for several days because of the desire to ferry across the Straits. The automobiles now are being moved in an orderly manner.

Grand Rapids—At a recent election the village of East Grand Rapids annexed 455 acres of Paris Township lying south of the present village limits. Although the township voted 101 to 83 against the annexation, the favorable majority in the village overruled the township vote.

Muskegon—Herbert Hammond, 17 years old, star Muskegon high school athlete, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and was sent back to jail to await sentence. Hammond, with seven other boys, was alleged to have taken $1 in 31 robberies in various western Michigan cities.

Mount Clemens—Two suspicious looking characters, who proved to be Deputy Sheriff Percy Moore and Arthur Lazarus of Macomb county, were held for investigation at Sault Ste. Marie, where they were awaiting a boat to return here after transporting two prisoners to the Marquette Branch prison.

Escanaba—Declaring that the Bell Telephone Co. is earning a return of 21 per cent on the cost of its property here after all proper charges have been paid the Escanaba city council petitioned the State Public Utilities Commission for a rate reduction. The petition is intended to offset the company's request for an increase.

Flint—In a "gag" on the theft of garbage was the peculiar request received of the police from Abram Long, Flint garbage commissioner. He said that the garbage was taken from the rear of the Elks Club and other public places. One bag of garbage was found in a fallen tree which operated from the rear.

Jackson—Authorities in Jackson last year ordered persons to work up the road hillside near the city hall, helping from the just-mentioned. The men are Alvert Barnard, 19, from two to five years; C. L. Smith, 19, up the hill; Frank J. Johnson, 19, Barnard, 19, all serving from one to five years 161 hours.

Lansing—Chemists working under the supervision of the State Department of Health have obtained samples of the water in wells, streams and springs of state. They intent to protect tourists from injury, including water. Signs have been posted in conspicuous places advising the tourist that the water to be found is pure or unwholesome as the case may be.

Kalamazoo—A rifle effort to a $1000 fine cost Joseph Vandervord, a celery grower, fine of $150 in Municipal Court here. Vandervord was driving 45 miles an hour. He stated, "I was on my way to the city treasurer's office. As it was the last day for the payment of summer taxes, he sought to escape the 80 cents delinquency penalty fee."

Saginaw—Joseph Dorothy, 13 years old, grandson of former Rep. Joseph W. Fordney, rescued Helen Gates, 5, at the Fordney summer home at Tawas Beach, when she went beyond her depth in Saginaw Bay, according to word received here. He swam from shore when Miss Gates screamed for help, towed her more than 250 feet to the beach and used his Boy Scout knowledge of life saving methods to resuscitate her.

Kalamazoo—Prosecuting Attorney Leroy Bibby and Sheriff Jerome S. Borden investigated charges on the part of Colburn Munger and Guy Funk, members of the State Police, that a mob had taken four prisoners from them at Ramona Park, a Long Lake resort. The officers say that they arrested the four men on charges of intoxication. As they were taking the four out of the park they met the mob, which resented the arrest of the men and threatened violence.

Jackson—The city of Jackson kept within its 1925 budget by $43,946.72 for the first six months of the year, according to figures made public. The budget charges for the six months amounted to $562,243.93, or $25,881.25 less than one half the year's appropriation of $589,123.18. Taxes collected during July, 1925, totaled $603,682.82 while in July, 1924, $447,888.16 in taxes were collected. However, the total amount of the city tax in 1924 was $527,760, while this year it is $779,326.37.

Battle Creek—Eight sleeping children imprisoned behind locked doors were carried through flames and smoke in a daring and spectacular rescue from Lebelles Resort Hotel at Gulf Lake, 1½ miles west of Battle Creek, which was totally destroyed by fire with an estimated loss of $55,000. The children had been locked in rooms by their parents and were sleeping when the fire broke out. After breaking down doors, firemen carried all of them to safety. The fire was caused, it was believed, by a leaking gas heating plant.

WAYNE COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL NEARING COMPLETION.

The New School Will Be One of the finest Institutions of the Kind In the Country.

Last Friday, a representative of the mail visited the new Wayne County Training school, and through the courtesy of Neil M. McLellan, general superintendent of construction for the W. E. Wood Co. of Detroit, and John O'Connell, superintendent for the county, and the architect, was shown through several of the buildings and given some interesting information regarding the progress of the work at the new school.

Many of the buildings are practically completed, and the others are fast nearing completion, and it is hoped to have the entire plant complete and ready to turn over to the county by the first of the year.

The buildings are all of the highest type of architecture and are absolutely fire-proof, and contain every modern convenience conducive to the health and comfort of the inmates. All of the buildings are constructed of tapestry brick, with terra cotta and stone trimmings, which lends a very beautiful exterior effect.

There are twenty-seven buildings in all, and are as follows: Sixteen dormitories, administration building, hospital, school, boys industrial, girls industrial, power house, laundry, assembly building, service building, laundry, pump house, reservoir.

One of the most interesting buildings visited by the writer, was the big power house. In this building there is the power, heating, and lighting plant, the ice plant, ice storage plant, transformer room, compressor, and the pumps that pump the water to the various buildings upon the grounds. Workmen are fast installing the machinery in the big building, and it will soon all be in place and ready for operation.

The boiler room will contain three large boilers of the latest type of construction.

An immense coal bunker that has a capacity of 250 tons of coal is suspended high up in the boiler room.
The coal is hauled up into the hoppers outside the building and is conveyed up to the big bunker by means of elevators. The coal is taken from the bunker to the boilers by means of automatic stokers thus eliminating any labor by man in tending the giant boilers. A tunnel one and three quarters miles in length conveys the heat, power heat, after and refrigeration lines from the power house to the various buildings, and this will nearly complete. It is constructed of concrete and openings or manholes are located at regular intervals along the line. The boilers and pump station, consisting of two hot water pumps, two vacuum pumps, two feed pumps, two pump pumps, water softener and filter and two cold water pumps, are located in the basement while the first floor is given over to dynamos and ice making and storage plant.

Near the power house is the reservoir building which houses the reservoir, which is 20x50 feet and 12 feet in depth. The water is pumped from three wells by electric driven pumps into the reservoir or directly into the mains. The water is of an exceptionally good quality, and there is an abundant supply.

The hospital building was next visited. This building is one of the most modern design of the whole group of buildings. It is well lighted and ventilated, and is a model hospital building in every way. A ramp at the north end of the building to the basement is provided for ambulances.
The building is also equipped with an elevator from the basement to the first and second floors. In the basement are located the property room, consultation rooms, pharmacy department and x-ray room.

On the first floor there are five large wards, diet kitchen, storage and utility rooms. On the second floor is a wonderfully lighted, operating room, recovery room, doctor's room, sterilizing room and three sleeping rooms for employees. The building is provided with four sun rooms on the first floor, at the east and west ends.

The administration building occupies a commanding position at the south side of the main group of buildings, with the main entrance facing the south. This building houses the general offices of the institution. The main office is 30x50 feet in size and is equipped with fire-proof storage valves. From the entrance, one steps into a waiting room which is flanked on one side by a sitting room, and on the other by the manager's office. On the second floor there are four sleeping rooms for employees, one sitting room, laboratories, toilets etc.

One of the sixteen dormitories was next visited. The lower floor is given over to two large dining rooms, matron's room, serving room and lavatory.
On the second floor are the matron's room, two large sleeping rooms, lavatories, toilets and shower baths. On each floor is a drinking fountain. The buildings are light and modern.

The assembly building or auditorium is one of the largest buildings and will have a seating capacity of 1,000 person. The basement is given over to club rooms, billiard room, bowling alley, ladies' rest room, laboratories, toilets, and several dressing rooms underneath stage, to be used when entertainments are given. The stage is located at the north end of the building while the main entrance is at the south end. As one enters the building he passes into a spacious lobby.

On one side is a check room and on the other a lavatory and ticket booth.
Stairways on either side lead to the balcony. When completed it will be a beautiful building and modern in every respect.

The common school building has twelve class rooms with drinking fountains in each room. The building is well lighted and ventilated, and is provided with laboratories and toilets.

The Wayne County Training school will be one of the finest and most completely equipped of any like institution in the country. W. H. Mayberry, who planned the buildings and selected their locations for the county board of supervisors has been untiring in his effort to build a school that will stand as a monument to the progressiveness of the citizens of Wayne county.

He is greatly interested in the work and no better qualified man could have been found in the county for the great responsibility of building

such an institution.

The architect for the new buildings is Marcus N. Burrows.

It might be interesting to our readers to know the following:

652 cars of material were unloaded at Plymouth.

75 cars of lime, brick and steel were trucked from Detroit.

About 75 cars of material were unloaded at Northville.

Between 37,000 and 40,000 yards of gravel have been used.

10,000 yards of sand have been used.

It took 107 days for the buildings to Plymouth.

EDITORS WILL MEET.

member of the University of Michigan
Press club will assemble at Ann Arbor October 2nd, for a three-day annual meeting of the club. Dr. Clarence Cook Little, newly elected president of the University of Michigan will be the guest of honor at two dinner meetings.

On October 21st the entire group will attend the Michigan Navy football game as guests of Coach Lyding, lost and the athletic

HERE'S A GOOD ONE.

A. T. Bennett, Hudson-Esser dealer in Howell, takes the prize as archer man. While shooting for bass on Con-Lake in Michigan recently, his first throw caught a sparrow which was flying over the lake. Mr. Bennett left the bird on the hook and soon hooked a 2½ pound bass. It was easily a case of a "silver bullet" and a bay swallowed the Argus.

Introduced Grapfruit.

The Spanish explorer, Ponce de Leon, is credited with having brought the grapefruit to Florida when he landed on the east coast of the state in the year 1513. During the three centuries that the Spaniards disputed possession of the state, probably old world varieties, nothing was done to develop the grapefruit, or any of the other citrus fruits, until in 1820, at that time, the orange was introduced into the central valley in the western part of the state.

Archer's Cool Steak

By J. M. CLARK

TO 1925, Western Newpaper Year.

THIS white-robed figure filed slowly from both sides of the transom, and Archer, sitting well back in the body of the pews, eyed them with languid interest. He commenced to try and count them, but abandoned the operation presently. It was a female choir entirely. Archer took to studying their faces.

Two in particular arrested his fancy—the dark girl in the back row and the fair girl in the front row with the laughing eyes. The dark girl, blind, although pale, seemed restless and ill at ease. The fair girl had now cast herself to a "business" handbag and did not move again. Two voices were heard quartet later, and Archer discovered that her voice was a rich soprano.

After service Archer stood tall on the platform, voice raised. "Well, sir, I thought you wanted me. What are you doing in these parts?"

Then he and Dick Harris, an old college chum, The fair girl from the choir was with him. "Sir," Archer said, "We came through trouble together at school." Archer gathered them into a group, although he observed that Alice was no longer "bent over your shoulder" said Alice to Dick. "We might be able to find a place for him." They went on together to the fair girl's home.

Later he met the dark girl at the door of the choir at a social gathering. Her name was Carolyn.

Archer asked her if she had passed that he could not get a job. She was as frank as he had been, indicated about getting to like girls. Still she was tired of wandering, and saw no good reason why he should not settle down.

"Don't you get married?" Alice asked him playful. Not long before he found there was the hint of a challenge in her eyes as she sat across from him at the little inn.

He had a look of inquiry on his face, but Alice was too old to be taken in by the boyish innocence. That's all right, he thought, it's only a girl.

He was very pert, though. I don't seem to find other things of interest worth thinking about,

he said, looking in turn at each girl.

That night Archer did a good job. In the kitchen of the old house, a cook helper, Alice, he said this. "It fell to me to wash up a time, and they son of a b----hopped was lying there, covered in filth. What's the difference? That's all right, he thought, it's only a girl.

He was very pert, though. I don't seem to find other things of interest worth thinking about,

he said, looking in turn at each girl.

But she did bother him. After dinner and six o'clock he had washed himself again and was waiting for the couple to go to the dark and the fair girl's home. When he emerged at the piano after he had to change his clothes, the person he saw was Alice. She seemed tanned and travel-worn, she said, offering her hand. He thought she went slightly below the fair—but it might be only fancy. "We heard you were gone for good. Have you changed your mind?"

"I suppose you didn't hear the news?" "No," he said, with a faint shuddering of disaster.

"Dick and I were in jail three weeks ago," she said with a brightness that struck him as forced. "We are just on our way home. He is over at the office seeing about the clerks. He found himself congratulating her mechanically, and later shook hands with Dick who appeared to be in seventh heaven. They traveled from the junction together.

Archer was left alone with Alice for a few minutes on the platform at their destination, while Dick went off to look after the baggage. Conversation lagged, and by and by silence fell between them. "I've been thinking about your advice again," something prompted him to remark. "I have taken up the search for the girl once more—in earnest this time."

"Earnest!" she burst forth passionately. "It isn't in you to be earnest. Don't you know what you are doing? trifling with the most solemn sacred things in the world—dallying—dallying! Oh!" She stamped her foot in anger and impatience. "No woman will stand for that. How dare you be lackadaisical! Do you understand?"

The seriousness of it? Archer stood under the truck, rooted to the spot, while Alice turned aside to hide quivering lips.

"Tired?" asked Dick anxiously, joining them at that moment. He was the kindest and most solicitous of husbands.

"A little," said Alice wearily. They left the station soon afterwards.

Archer tossed the coin again that evening—heads. Alice falls, Catherine. Again he threw heads, but this time without any revision of feeling. Long he sat pondering, juggling the coin in his fingers. Catherine had ceased to interest him. Better leave girls alone in the future, he decided. The cool streak might prove to be a blessing in disguise.

FEAR POTATO BLIGHT WILL FOLLOW RAINS.
Possibility of a costly late blight among Michigan potatoes is being pointed out by the crop department at the Michigan State College, the wet weather of the last few weeks having provided ideal conditions for the appearance of the disease.

The potato crop is already fairly short, says Dr. W. E. Moore, potato specialist with the college. His estimates, by the United States Department of Agriculture, show the 1925 production at 200 hundred million bushels less than last year. Loss from blight would naturally be correspondingly less, therefore, and added care should be taken in harvesting the crop.

A wet autumn picture is painted by Mr. Moore, who says that if it is even half as bad as last year, it will be disastrous.

Use of a new spraying machine to get the spores off the under side of the leaves, where the blight usually starts, has been recommended. It has been used successfully against the leaf spot which seems to be present always.

NORTHLAKE FAIR DATES ARE SET.

For the past eight years the North Lake Wayne County Fair has had undreamed success, and everything indicates that the ninth annual fair will excel all former efforts.

A number of improvements have been added to the grounds and equipment which will provide better accommodations for both exhibitors and visitors. Applications for space indicate that every available foot of space will be occupied when the gates are thrown open on the morning of the opening day—Tuesday, September 22. The fair will be held five days and five nights, as in former years, and every hour will be open.

On Tuesday there will be a horse show that gives promise of being an event to be witnessed in all its grandeur by the spectators of Detroit. There will be base ball, tournament swimming over five days and the race program will provide entertainment for all who enjoy racing. There will be three free attractions each afternoon and night, each day's program to be concluded with a brilliant display of fireworks.

Labor day features are also offered in all departments and the North Lake Fair always pays its premiums in full. The people of this section are cordially invited to attend and to enjoy the splendid programs that will be presented.

BRITAIN THREATENS WAR ON CANTON REDS

Navy Ordered to Restore English Shipping Rights.

London.—Vice Admiral Sinclair of the British navy has been ordered to take "freedom of action" in restoring the shipping rights of the British in Canton. He has arrived at Canton on the flagship Petersfield.

He must deal with the Canton government, which has asserted that it is determined to enforce picking of all steamers by the war forces in that port. This is regarded as tending to open war.

If the admiral tries to enforce the Chung British ship treaty, Peking will be powerless to prevent hostilities.

Doctor Howard, who was captured on July 20, has been located forty miles from Fuchun in Manchuria, where the bandits, his captors, have been surrounded.

Shanghai.—A telegram from Chengtu, Szechuan province, reports that nine members of the British Church Missionary society, including Bishop W. H. Lloyd and his wife, were carried off by bandits August 8.

Canton.—The government has announced that all shipments of American goods to Canton should be landed at Shanghai and transhipped by Russian or Chinese steamers direct to Canton. Strikers are refusing to let ships pass through Hong Kong or transported to British ships.

It has also been announced there is no objection to Americans opening a bank in the Chinese city, which the British are not permitted to attend. Empoys in the city waterworks system are on strike and the supply of water has been cut off.

Victor F. Lawson, Owner Chicago Daily News, Dies

Chicago.—Victor F. Lawson, editor and publisher of the Chicago Daily News, for many years one of the foremost newspaper men of America, died at his residence, 1500 Lake Shore drive, from heart disease, traceable to overwork in his long and assiduous career in journalism. At Mr. Lawson's bedside when he passed away were his only Chicago relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Clevene, Mrs. Clevene being the publisher's niece. Mr. Lawson's wife died several years ago. They had no children.

Victor Fremont Lawson has been spoken of as the last in the public of any man of similar power and influence in Chicago. Mr. Lawson was born in Chicago on September 4, 1850, and, therefore, would have been only two years old next month.

Max Mason of U. of W. New President of U. of C.

Chicago.—Max Mason, forty-eight years old, professor of mathematical physics at the University of Wisconsin, and wartime inventor of the famous Mason hydrophone for detecting and locating submarines, will be the new president of the University of Chicago.

The announcement of Professor Mason's unanimous election by the board of trustees to be the successor of the late President Ernest DeWitt Burton, and of the Wisconsin professor's acceptance, was made at a University of Chicago faculty meeting.

Air Exploration of Polar Regions This Year Ends

Washington.—Exploration of the polar sea by air this year has been abandoned by the Macmillan expedition because of adverse weather conditions, it was announced by the National Geographic Society. The party will proceed to explore Norse ruins in Greenland and Labrador and survey Baffin Island.

Heavy snow storms and dense fog have prevented the establishment of an advanced base at Cape Hubbard, as planned.

I saw at once what those meant to do. Above the ridge he had skinned down from a clearing further up. Now he intended to loosen one of these as Allen was about below him—and no one would be the wiser as to poor Allen's fate.

I ran as hard as I could but it was pitch dark, and all of once a rock turned under me, my ankle stopped over. So there I was on my face.

Another lightning flash hit me and I saw Ross with a carbine in his hand balanced above the road. Allen was nearly beneath him then I screamed, but my voice carried no farther in the wind. As fast as I could I went on toward the two men. At last, all unaware of his fate, and Ross with murder in his heart, waiting the exact moment to send the great log crashing down on the man he had tried to wrong.

I saw Ross suddenly jerk down on his carbine, saw the heavy log start and then leap like a live thing down the mountain. But just as it reached the edge of the steep bank above the road it seemed to jump into the air, struck a boulder, perhaps, and went with a giant leap clear over the startled Allen, who dropped to the ground as he heard the timber crash above him.

Ross straightened up as the log shot past him, and peered after it down the hill. Then, all at once, I saw something move behind him. A second more, and with a spring like an avenging tiger, a monster log from the heap behind him crushed him to the ground. I saw an arm fling out, and then it was all dark again. With a shout I was off down the road as fast as I could hobble. I met Allen a rod or so above the scene of the tragedy.

"Hello, life," he shouted through the storm. "I had a mighty close call back there a piece. Log came down through the brush and jumped clear over me."

Then I told him what had happened. We went back and found Ross face down, dead. One log had jumped from a heap of six or eight above him. What loosened it we couldn't tell. It was clear above the log. Ross had tried to smash Allen with. Why the other logs hadn't broken loose too, was a mystery. But as I said, logs are queer.

I turned around and limped back to the cabin with Allen, for my ankle hurt too bad to go on to the camp. And from the way Mary clung to her man, and from her eyes as she looked at him stepping through the door, I knew, even if I was a kid, that the troubles in the Allen family were over.

Robbers Get $200,000 Gems

Chicago.—Armed and masked, three men walked through a door in a bullet-proof partition in the office of S. Lazarus & Sons, jewelers at 200-204 South Peoria street, forced Sig Lazarus, the president, to open five safes and left with gems valued at $200,000.

Boxer Hart in Auto Crash

Pittsburgh.—Barry, Greb, middleweight boxing champion, was seriously injured when his automobile overturned a few miles from this city.

25 Years of

Firestone Service
to Highway Transportation

25 years of anticipating the requirements of motorists—making manufacturing processes more certain—producing a higher standard of quality—25 years of unwavering adherence to the Firestone pledge, "Most Miles per Dollar"—summarizes Firestone's record of service to car owners.

Firestone factories have grown from a small building, approximately 75 x 150 feet to mammoth plants having floor area of over 60 acres—from a capital of $50,000 to over $50,000,000—from an annual sales volume of $100,000 to over $100,000,000—all in the short period of 25 years.

This Firestone record could only have been made through furnishing the public with outstanding values and is, consequently, your assurance of quality and lowest prices.

If you would like to know more of this wonderful record, ask your Firestone dealer to send you an illustrated folder.

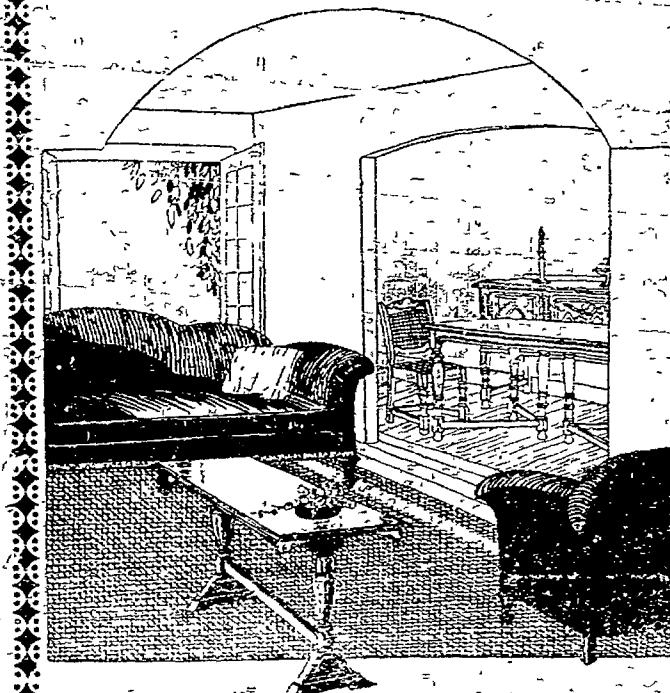

With today's high cost of crude rubber and other raw materials, Firestone's opportunity to serve the public was never better, due to its great volume and special advantages in buying, manufacturing and distribution.

Exceptional Values in Overstuffed Pieces

In every home overstuffed suites or odd pieces help to make life just a little more comfortable. You can hardly afford to miss these comforts, especially since you can have them at a comparatively low cost. We have a good line of Overstuffed Furniture in stock—Excellent material and a varied choice of patterns and designs.

Our Showing of Rugs is Large

We are especially proud of the showing we are able to make in our Rug Department and we cordially invite you to pay us a visit so we may show you the beautiful patterns we have in room-sized and smaller rugs. You will enjoy looking them over. You will appreciate their quality and will be pleased with the prices at which we have them marked.

Desks and Tables

Is there something lacking in the furnishings of your home?—Perhaps one of our Desks or Tables will just fill the place that now looks so bare. We have a good variety of these and we shall be glad to place either a Desk or Table in your home.

For Fall and Winter Comfort

There is nothing that will give you greater comfort during the Fall and Winter than one of our Congoleum Rugs. They wear exceedingly well, are easy to keep bright and clean, make no dust and they save a lot of sweeping. They look well in any room from the kitchen to the upstairs bedroom.

FORD ANNOUNCES IMPROVED LINE OF BODY TYPES.

Changes are most pronounced—Bodies Longer, Lower and All-Steel.

Body changes and chassis redesigns more pronounced than any made since the adoption of the Model T chassis were announced yesterday by the Ford Motor company. There will be no advance in price, it also was stated.

Outstanding features of the improvements in both open and enclosed types are lower, all-steel bodies on a lowered chassis; complete new design in "most body types," a change from black to color in closed cars, larger lower fenders, newly designed seats and larger more powerful brakes. Longer lines effected through higher radiators and redesigned cowls and bodies apparent in all the improved Ford cars but are especially pronounced in the open types. Wide crown leaders hung close to the wheel contribute to the general effect of lowness and smartness.

While runabout and touring car remain black, the closed bodies are much in harmonic color schemes, enhanced by nickel radiators. The coupe and sedan bodies are finished in deep channel green while the Ford is rich Windsor maroon.

Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, in a statement issued yesterday following the announcement of improved Ford bodies and chassis redesigns, said:

"We do not want the impression to prevail that we are producing new Ford cars."

"Bodies for Ford cars have been materially improved but the Model T chassis remains unchanged except for a lowering of the frame and a few other changes. Bodies, in four types, have been completely redesigned and built lower to contribute to better appearance, driving and riding comfort and roadability of the cars. Body improvements and chassis refinements at this time are more pronounced than at any previous time since the adoption of the Model T chassis. They are, however, entirely in accordance with the policy of the Ford Motor company to give to the public the benefit of every improvement which we find practical for Ford cars."

COUREZ OPPOSES HOME LOAN BANKS.

Senator James Couzens of Detroit does not approve the plan of Senator Stanfield of Oregon, for the creation of a series of national home loan banks to extend credit at low interest rates to city home builders. He says that the Oregon senator's plan is impractical and unsound. Senator Stanfield proposed home loan banks modeled on the plan of the farm loan banks, to make only first mortgage loans limited in amount to a minimum of $500 and a maximum of $1,000.

FORD DAY AT ANN ARBOR FAIR.

Friday, September 11, will be Ford Day at the Ann Arbor fair, when all Ford cars and drivers of Ford cars will be admitted to the grounds free. A parade of Fords will be held on the street at one o'clock and valuable prizes given for Ford containing the most people. Ford coming greatest distance, most class. Ford most dangled up Ford. Ford driven by oldest man. Ford containing most generations, most children in Ford, and first and second prizes in obstacle race.

GOOD CROWD ATTENDED STONE SCHOOL REUNION.

The annual reunion of the Stone school attracted a good-sized crowd this year and 120 guests attended from Pontiac, Willis Detor, Hamberg, Salem, Northville and South Lyon. The attendance did not quite reach the usual mark, due perhaps to the Oakland county fair at Milford which attracted many former attendees of the reunion.

A bountiful pot-luck dinner was served at noon after which a program was given consisting of:

Talk—M. Bogart Wixom Recitation—Mrs S. Atchison, Salem Talk—David Gage, Northville Recitation—Hazel Austin Talk—Mrs Albert Marshall Recitations D. G. and Norman Wilson

New officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

With Wilson—President Mrs. Walter Miller—Secy and Treas.

The afternoon was happily spent in visiting, renewing old acquaintances and recalling reminiscences of school days.

The 1926 reunion is to be held on the grounds surrounding the Stone school in East Lyon.

FORD MOTOR NO. 12,000,000.

LEAPS OFF FAST TRAIN TO CATCH ESCAPING MAN

Michigan State Detective Risks Life To Capture and Bring Back Giant Negro.

This true story is just as good as fiction. It hinges around a policeman jumping off a fast moving train right on the heels of a prisoner who had gotten away, how he chased him down the track, caught him and safely put him in iron for the remainder of the journey.

Arthur Trease, a detective of the Michigan State Police, whose duty is to transfer prisoners, is the hero, and Clarence Hicks, a parole violator from Jackson prison is the villain, as it were.

Hicks was arrested by the police at Reno, Nev., being identified as the Michigan parole violator from photographs and fingerprints mailed to all police departments by the bureau of identification of the Michigan State Police. Trease was sent after him.

Hicks is a big negro, much larger than Trease. Trease took the Southern Pacific route from Reno to Chicago. He had handcuffs on Hicks at all times except when they were in the dining car when he took them off so that his prisoner could eat. After a meal just before the train reached Chicago, Trease was just in the business of replacing the cuffs on his prisoner's wrists when in one jump, Hicks left the train through a door that had been left open.

Train Was Held

The train was going 40 miles an hour, but that did not stop Trease, who jumped right after his man. He took a spill upon hitting the ground, but suffered no more injury than to tear a heel from his shoe. He chased Hicks down the track for a mile before he was close enough to grab hold of his shirt and stop him. A fight followed, but the negro received much the worst of it. The conductor stopped the train for 30 minutes until Trease returned with his man, who is now safely behind the bars in Jackson prison. Most of the passengers on the train knew what was going on and were witnesses to the escape, the chase and capture.

Hicks was the first man to ever even nearly get away from Trease who has had a lot of police experience, serving with the Pennsylvania State Police before coming to Michigan.

EXPRESSES THANKS FOR SOLVING MURDER

"The aid receiver from the Michigan Department of Public Safety saved Iron county thousands of dollars which would have been required to bring this prosecution to a successful termination," said Prosecutor A. J. Wallen following the conviction of Zenas Nygaard for the murder of Zenas Nygaard, Iron River pool room proprietor.

The Michigan State Police, under the direction of Lieut. Fred Bedard took an active part in the investigation which resulted in Nygaard's arrest and subsequent confession.

The murder case was one of the most eventful and spectacular in the annals of Iron county circuit court. It was 12 months after the pool room was entered, five men held up and the proprietor shot before the slayer was caught.

Proof of the old saying that a guilty conscience will betray itself was present in the trial of Nygaard contributed heavily to his own conviction. When cross-examined over crucial matters by the prosecutor he collapsed and was assisted from the stand, a development that in the minds of the jurors, was translated into the result of the burden of guilt.

LOCAL OFFICERS USE FINGERPRINT EXPERTS

Sheriffs and other local officials are using the services of the state's fingerprint experts from the Department of Public Safety at Lansing more and more. In June there were 25 requests for men to be sent out to assist in criminal investigations.

An unusual case was one where burglars had entered a clergymen's residence, stolen the communion wine and drank it in the yard. Their finger prints were found on the bottle.

An average of more than 300 identifications a month is made by the identification bureau at Lansing under a new law all local officials making requests are required to send fingerprints to the state bureau. It often develops that persons arrested in one county are wanted for crime in another.

PRESIDENT GIVES PRAISE

President Coolidge has expressed his commendation of the work of the Maryland State Police who have formed his escort on several occasions while traversing that state. It will be recalled that President Roosevelt was also an active friend of the State Police idea.

Why She is Tired Out

A woman who does her housework in the manner of her grandmother, that is to say, without the aid of electrical appliances, walks in the doing of her regular domestic tasks, an average of 15 miles a day, or 5,475 miles a year.

With electrical help the footwork is cut down to an average of 2½ miles a day, or less than 1,000 a year.

These figures are the result of tests made with the aid of a pedometer. Surely it is better to wear out machinery than human beings!

COOLIDGE APPROVES DEBT SETTLEMENT

Interest on Belgian War Loans Cancelled Given 62 Years to Pay.

Northampton, Mass.—President Coolidge approved the Belgian debt settlement. The President's signature to the agreement leaves the next step, so far as the American government is concerned, up to Congress which must ratify all settlements.

Washington—Agreement for settlement of the Belgian debt to the United States was reached at a joint conference at the Treasury department between the Belgian and American debt commissioners.

The Belgians were given separate treatments on their pre-armistice and post-war debts.

The full amount of the debt, under the ten-year terms agreed upon by the American and Belgian commission, is $417,000,000. But when Belgium makes her final payment at the end of sixty-two years, she will have paid $127,780,000.

Because of Belgium's unique part in the war, the United States commission agreed to charge no interest on the pre-armistice debt of $151,750,000. On the $240,000,000 borrowed after the armistice for reconstruction work, she will pay 3½ per cent interest. Payments of 1½ per cent on the pre-armistice debt will begin at once, no moratorium having been granted. The terms granted Belgium differ in many respects from those given to Great Britain. No fixed interest on the Belgian post-war debt was figured at 4½ per cent to December 15, 1922. From that date to June 15, 1925, it was figured at the rate of 3 per cent. Members of both commissions were elated over the settlement. The agreement must be ratified by congress and the Belgian parliament.

Andrews Confers With Enforcement Officers

Washington—The biggest dry conference since the prohibition law became effective was held here when dry-signal chiefs and state directors from the whole country conferred for three hours with Assistant Secretary Andrews.

The conference was held behind closed doors. It is understood the entire enforcement situation was discussed and a program outlined for the future to be followed with the organized staff, which will take over this work September 1.

Wheat Should Yield U.S. Farmers Highest Prices

Chicago—The world wheat situation again favors the American farmer, according to a statement issued by the Gray Silver, an authority on farm conditions. "At the farmers of America's market table wheat in an orderly way, this year a story should hold their much-needed bread basket full and probably the best prices in years," he said.

Roosevelt Expedition

Kashgar—The G. I. was shipped for what is believed to be the first time in 30 years in July 11, 1925, shown by the index figures of the Bureau of Labor statistics of the Interior department made public here.

An increase of 11.5 per cent in food articles was reported for the year ending this 15.

In recent issue of the Detroit Free Press, the Grange fresh air committee acknowledge among other contributions one of $10 from The King's Daughters of Northville.

The Northville Male quartet was captured at Novi on the gala day at that place last week and persuaded to give several selections which met with general approval and enthusiasm in applause. The boys were on their way home from Walled Lake.

A letter from Harry Wood bearing date of July 7th, received by a friend here states that the boys over in the Philippines are having a "blank" of a time, most of them being sick or worse suffering with boils. Harry states that he has 25 of the comforters besides a telon on each hand and on the whole, he would prefer being in Northville.

A vigilante society was organized among the farmers and horsemen hereabouts last week and the next thereafter that comes along will be up against it. On Wednesday night of last week Andrew Houk suffered the loss of a farm horse, valued at $150 and Earnest Kellerg's new buggy went with the horse. Friday night supposedly about 10:30 o'clock the farm barn of T. G. Richardson just west of town was visited and his black farm horse was taken and while it went a new harness from Adams Whipple's barn still further west was then to complete the outfit a buggy "blanketed" and "hipped" later from farmer Smith who lives on Hiram Thiel's place.

While taking down Main street last week Friday forenoon at a local gift shop of Lorster collected talent with Col. E. Burnett, a Salem farmer who was running the street at this old age. Mr. Lorster, who turned at least ten feet in the direction of his head and shoulder on the opposite side of the track, Prof. Burnett picked up his gun and taken into Dr. Hall's residence where a room attention was given him by Dr. Gandy. Mr. Burnett, after having several stitches taken in his scalp, was able to return to his home at noon but Professor Lorster was found to be dangerously injured about the head and chest and not able to gain consciousness until the next day three days before his recovery.
