AUGUST W. BALDEN DIED MONDAY
NOON.

Another of Northville's old and respected citizens passed to his reward when August W. Balden died at his home on South Wing street Monday noon after an illness of many weeks. He was an upright, Christian gentleman and during his residence in Northville had made many friends who were saddened by his passing. He was born in Germany on August 18th, 1842, and came to America with his parents when quite young, the family settling in Selo township near Ann Arbor. The deceased continued to reside in that community until about twenty years ago when he became a resident of Northville. He was a member of the local Methodist church with which he identified himself soon after coming here and he was devoted in his worship and never missed a service when his health would permit him to be present at the Lord's house.

On January 8th, 1868, as was united in marriage to Miss Caroline Cromer and the union was blessed with seven children, one dying in childhood. To the surviving children his life has been a sacrifice and a benediction. Besides his wife he is survived by four sons and one daughter—William Balden of Northfield; John H. Balden of Plainwell; Frank Fred and A. C. Balden of this place and Mrs. E. B. Janney of Endicott, N. Y., who were all present at the funeral. He also leaves a half brother, J. D. Wagner of Plainwell.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of his son, A. C. Balden, corner of Main and High streets, and were conducted by Rev. William Richards. Burial took place in the family lot at Forest Hill cemetery, Ann Arbor. To the bereaved wife and children the tender sympathy of the people of this section is extended.

NORTHVILLE PEOPLE ATTENDED SCHOOL WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

As announced in last week's Record the people of this community were given an opportunity to observe our school at work on Wednesday evening and the innovation attracted a good many of the patrons of the district. The open session seemed to be enjoyed by the visitors as well as by the pupils, for have you ever seen a child who was not pleased to have their parents accompany them to school on "visiting day"? nor do you know of any parent who is not especially pleased when their children do good work at school? The author wishes night was really a family gathering and parents accompanied their children to their various recitation rooms and from there remarks heard in the corridor, they were all perfectly well prepared with the memory in which our schools are being educated. Of course, there was more or less confusion because of the large number song and coming in the various class rooms and in the assembly room, but taken as a whole the demonstration was a very creditable one both for teachers and pupils.

From the assembly room to the manual training room and gymnasium every department in the High school was in running order and classes were conducted just as if the pupils had gathered for the afternoon. Not all the pupils enrolled were present but it was very evident to those who made observations that more room is sorely needed for the proper conduct of our school.

The manual training department the newest department to be established attracted a great deal of interest and many of the gentlemen and some of the ladies were heard to remark that they wished they might after school visit there. The department is splendidly equipped and the boys and young men taking the work are very much interested. Lathes, planes, mauls and numerous tools, benches, gave the room the appearance of a well kept wood-working shop and a pile of lumber in the hall indicated that the department was about ready to start the construction of various articles made from wood. Take the writer's advice and if you have not visited this department just drop in some morning or afternoon.

School closed at 9:30 and the gathering cannot help but arouse new interest not only in the schools but the community they represent. These community gatherings are splendid and we ought to have more of them.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held this year at the Baptist church on Thanksgiving night. Rev. F. P. Knowles of the Presbyterian church will preach the sermon. There will be special music and the public is invited to attend the services.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. MEETING IN DETROIT.

The national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has been in session in Detroit during the week and a number of Northville ladies have been in attendance at the various sessions. On Tuesday the election of officers took place and Mrs. Ella A. Boote of Brooklyn, N. Y., was unanimously chosen present.

Miss Anna Adams Gordon of Evanson, Ill., retiring president, was made honorary president for life in recognition of her many years of devoted service.

Mrs. Boote's election will necessitate her resignation as president of the New York state union.

Defeated for the United States Senate from New York, opposing Senator Wadsworth, Mrs. Boote polled the largest vote of any woman running for public office. She has been national vice-president of the union for 19 years and is a former treasurer of the World Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Des Moines, Ia., was chosen vice-president, succeeding Mrs. Boote.

Mrs. Smith was president of the Iowa union and director of the Christian citizenship department of the national union. Recently Mrs. Smith was chosen by the governor of Iowa as one of the leading women of that state.

NOW COME THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL.

The American Red Cross is your expression of human impulses, and the call now going out for a large membership is an appeal that cannot be ignored by those who desire to assist in one of America's greatest service agencies.

In map committing the roll call is now being taken and Northville cannot afford to be behind its neighbors in this wonderful work. Fortunately we live long, very safe and secure in this community, but if calamity should cast us in the Red Cross would be the first on the field to render service and to care for those who most need immediate attention.

The American Red Cross is your personal representative in rendering the peculiar service you would desire to render if you were able to be on the job when some one needed your assistance. One dollar will do it and what it does for your dollar will accomplish will be placed alongside of your neighbor's dollar.

HAROLD MAGER'S STORY OF KILLING ACCEPTED AS TRUE.

Interest in the trial of William Mager, who is accused with his son, Harold Mager, of shooting and killing his father, the latter being buried in the barn and shot in the head through the top of the head and with a glancing mark across the face. It is the theory of officers that the father was knocked to the floor of the barn and then shot by his son.

Funeral services for the murdered man were held Thursday from the undertaking parlor and were private. Burial was made in Forest Hill cemetery. The elder Mager left a brother, Henry Mager of Ann Arbor, a sister, Mrs. Matthe Kingley of Brighton, two daughters Mrs. Ruth R. Newton and Mary Catherine and the son Harold, all of Ann Arbor.

TEMPLARS AND LADIES TO GO TO DETROIT TO-NIGHT.

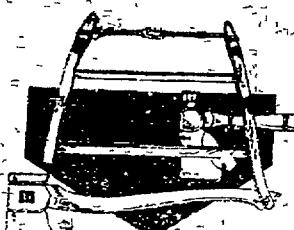

A special car has been chartered over the D U R to leave Northville this evening at 6:30 sharp which will convey members of Northville Commandery Knights Templar, and their ladies direct to Arena Gardens where they will be the guests of Ionic Commandery at the annual Hospitalites ball. All Sir Knights are urged to go. Wear full Templar uniform with belt, but do not carry swords. The ladies are especially invited to go.

STORES TO KEEP OPEN WEDNES- DAY NIGHT.

To accommodate their customers the stores of the village will keep open next Wednesday night. The grocery stores and meat markets will be open until noon Thursday, Thanksgiving. This arrangement will enable all to supply their needs for the big feast, but it will be a great accommodation if all who can do so will do their trading through the day on Wednesday.

Mrs. Lou Porter is ill at her home on the northside.

EARLY MAILING ASKED FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

With the approach of the Christmas holidays warnings again are coming from the postoffice which advises early and proper mailing to facilitate the handling of unusual amounts of greeting cards and "Christmas remembrances." The postoffice department asks that all postage be prepaid, that packages be addressed completely in ink with return address in one corner, and that gifts be packed carefully in durable containers and securely wrapped. Packages should not be sealed, however, except possibly with a printed seal that gives the department the privilege of opening for inspection.

Packages sent with any other device are subject to first class mail rates. Parcels may be marked "Do not open before Christmas" if desired, but no letters or messages other than the conventional season's greetings should be included. Seats or stickers should be placed on the address side of mail. Efforts are being made this year again to "eliminate small odd-sized greeting cards the handling of which is costly and inconvenient for the department."

Because of the unusually heavy outgoing mail, expected for Europe this year, attention is being called to the fact that the period of overseas mailing commences on November 16th. An advance Christmas present for mail carriers and most other postal employees came from Postmaster General New this week in the form of the announcement that no deliveries of ordinary mail would be made "Christmas day" from midnight, Dec. 24th, to midnight December 25, all postal operations will be suspended except the maintenance of special delivery and the "relaying" of mail so that they will be ready when normal delivery is resumed.

"It is realized that this experiment is a great undertaking," said Mr. New, "but it is believed that it is in line with the sentiments of the public if this can be done without too great a loss of service."

CLINICS UNCOVER MANY ABNORMALITIES.

Six hundred twenty-five new cases of tuberculosis were discovered during the first six months of 1925 in the clinic field in various places all over the state by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. These cases included the disease in all its stages from incipient to far advanced. Two-thirds of the patients had never before known that they had tuberculosis.

Twelve hundred other persons were examined besides those who were found to be tuberculous. Among the 1,200 was found nearly every known variety of ailment. Prominent among them were cases of diseased teeth, diseased tonsils, heart trouble, goiter and bronchitis. While the uncovering of these other diseases was merely incidental, the physician in charge of the clinics called the patients' attention to them and referred him to his own physician which resulted in many rapidly improved conditions.

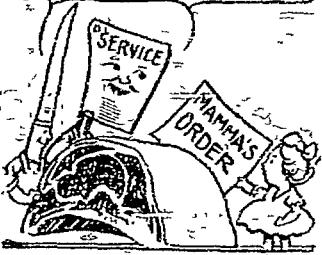

"The clinics," according to Frank B. Leland, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, "are conducted as a part of the battle being waged against tuberculosis here at home by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. The money to finance the battle comes from the sale of the tuberculosis Obligation Seats."

NO RADICAL LINES.

Re-election of William Green of Coshocton, Ohio, and other officials of American Federation of Labor on a conservative ticket indicates a continuation of industrial peace.

The American Federation, after a full debate, also decided against forming an independent labor party and rejected all forms of Communism.

Chairman Green called attention to the fact that the mass of labor did not follow the endorsement and support of a nonpartisan party. Only two delegates out of about 1,000 voted in record in favor of so-called Russian soviet government.

Contrast the foregoing same policy and generally satisfactory labor conditions in the United States with the situation in Great Britain. Unemployment is still on the increase in that country. On September 12th, official figures showed 1,18,000 persons out of work as compared with 1,19,000 on same date a year ago. The figures were taken from the English Unemployment Insurance Department which now calculates that 12.5% of the regular working population of the country is out of employment.

Some authorities go so far as to state that unemployment insurance is developing a class of "citizens" who would rather be idle at the expense of the state than to work for themselves even at higher remuneration. Any system which removes the necessity for work breaks down the desire or inclination to be self-supporting.

Northville School Notes.

Children of the Kindergarten First and Second Grades, were given a tour as a diabetes preventer in the school Tuesday morning. Each child will be given three doses about a week apart. The tour is being conducted by a member of the Board of Education of the Northville Public Schools. The treatment is supposed to prevent the administration of sugar in the diet of the children for a year. All children too young to attend school will be given the treatment free of charge by the present teacher, Mrs. Helen F. Powers, and Dr. George Moore. This is but one of the many fine things that are being done for the best and girls' of the Northville schools. The children whose parents are willing will be given the free meals.

Wednesday evening the regular afternoon program of our schools was presented for the benefit of the foreign people who are interested in the progress of our school system. It is felt the program had very much interest while and at the interest it is to be profited from.

A new playground program is now in full swing. A new regular schedule of games are being made out for each week which divides all the children into several groups. Each group will be playing a different game and when the whistle blows the groups will shift so that a new game may be played by each group. The whole program is being supervised by the playground directors, Mr. Miller and Miss Oldaker.

Some very fine exhibits are being shown by the different grade rooms. The Sixth grade under the charge of Miss Marsden has a very fine geographical exhibit, and the fifth and sixth grades have an exhibit under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Miller. Special exhibits of art and penmanship are also being shown by Miss Olson and Miss Moore which it will well be worth your while to inspect.

All teachers are paying especial attention to penmanship. Graphs showing the progress of the room have been made and the standards are clearly shown on each graph. It is felt that a noticeable difference in the work will be shown.

The sixth grade boys in Miss Miller's room, assisted by Mr. Brainard have made a sand table for their grade.

Mr. F. P. Knowles gave an address in the assembly Tuesday afternoon.

The affirmative debating team gave a practice debate the first hour Wednesday morning. The team is composed of Russell Atchison, Lynn Partridge and Ruth Ebury. They debated Belleville Saturday afternoon at the High school on the question of Child Labor.

W. R. C. NOTES.

Regular meeting of the W. R. C. will be held on Wednesday evening, November 25th, at Foresters' hall at 7:30 p.m.

"Spanish Moss" Isn't More. The so-called Spanish moss that drapes the trees in the South is not a moss at all, but a close relative of the pineapple.

THANKSGIVING.

Jehovah, God of lands and seas, Of winter's winds and summer breeze, Lend ear today while from the ranks of millions swell a prayer of thanks For all that hope and faith hath brought.

For summits reached, for lessons taught, For life and health and peace and love, Jehovah, harken from above! Jehovah, God of years untold, Of saint and sinner, youth and old, Give ear today—the peoples stand With thankful hearts abased the land. To give Thee thanks for blessings new That come with every morning's dew.

That follow on till light is dimmed, That aid them live and help them die, That shower on them through the years, That mingle happiness with tears, That stop not until their race is run, And centuries sing, "Thy will be done."

SAVE CHILDREN FROM INJURIES BY SAFETY PLAN

STATE POLICE VISIT RURAL SCHOOLS TO ORGANIZE JUNIOR PATROL AMONG SCHOLARS

Hope to Cut Down Total of Deaths From Auto Accidents

To diminish the tragic number of fatalities and severe injuries to children through traffic accidents is the aim of a state wide campaign undertaken by the Michigan Department of Public Safety, of which the State Police is the principal unit. During the winter when the troopers are not so much needed for highway patrol work, they will visit the rural schools in furtherance of this campaign.

There were nearly 14,000 children killed in traffic accidents last year in the United States, and of these Michigan furnished a large quota. A very large proportion of the accidents were outside the larger cities. This safety campaign is a natural adjunct to the patrol work of the State Police in seeking to make the highways safe through arrest ofreckless and careless drivers. It is being personally directed by Alan G. Straight, Commissioner of Public Safety, who has seen many instances of the sorrowful result of reckless driving.

Form Junior Patrol.

The work has been divided up between the various posts of the State Police and, as their duties permit, the troopers will be assigned to visit the schools, talk on safety matters and organize the "Safety Patrol." This patrol is to consist of pupils in the schools, designated by the principals, these being among the older children.

It will be the duty of the Safety Patrol to watch over the other children when at play and when coming to or going from school. Each pupil so designated will be furnished with an arm band in green.

"Any member of the Safety Patrol who performs a meritorious act, such as saving another child from death or injury, will be awarded a distinguished service medal supplied by automobile clubs. This will be similar to medals awarded soldiers for war time service.

The Safety Campaign. The school tales will deal with danger to be avoided by the children. They will be told of the perils incident to roller skating on the country roads, coasting down hills which cross highways, and other acts which might life and limb. Advice will be given to the left side of the road so as to face oncoming vehicles and to get out of the way of the road out of doors.

Enrollment cards, pledging the children to practice safety on the highways, will be distributed by Captain H. J. Stravanda, in command of the uniformed division recently headquartered a highway agency talk from the radio station at Michigan State College.

FINGERPRINT LAW MADE EFFECTIVE

Detective Lyle W. Morse, a finger print expert attached to the headquarters of the Michigan State Police in Lansing, is now on a speaking trip which is taking him to every city, village and hamlet in the lower part of the state, explaining the provisions of the new state law relative to fingerprints.

Lieutenant H. E. Erickson who is in charge of the department, recently made a similar tour of the upper peninsula.

The new finger print law which was enacted by the 1923 state legislature and which became effective the latter part of August, provides that all law-enforcing officers shall have fingerprints taken of every one arrested for a felony, and that they shall send copies of the prints to the State Police headquarters. There are a number of technicalities which the two officers also are explaining for the benefit of the local law-enforcing officers.

The new law has the endorsement of the Michigan Police Chiefs' association and they aided in obtaining its passage.

LAZLESS ELEMENT ORGANIZES

Because of the achievements of the new Rhode Island State Police in closing up gambling places and disorderly road houses, as well as breaking up their whisky-smuggling business, strong opposition to concurrence of the force is predicted at the coming session of the legislature. Strong political forces are reported as against the troopers.

STATE FAIR POLICED

By order of Governor Alex. J. Groesbeck, a post of State Police has been established at the State Fair grounds in Detroit. The State Fair building now houses a large number of booze cars confiscated in the many seizures of smuggled liquor about Detroit.

CLUB CONGRESS AT CHICAGO STOCK SHOW.

The fourth "National Boys' and Girls' Club Congress" will be held in its own building on the grounds of the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, November 27 to December 4th, with over twelve hundred champion club members and their leaders in attendance.

Representative state champion demonstration teams will give daily illustrated lectures on various club projects and teams of Indian youths will give special performances. There will be a style show in which one girl from each state will model in clothing which she has made herself. The National Health Contest will be decided between the boys and girls who have been declared champions in their home states. The Moses Leadership Trophy will be awarded to the boy or girl whose record shows the most outstanding leadership for the year in club work in the entire United States.

The Juniors will enter their babies in the live stock feeding contests and their club corn in a special junior class of the International Grafia and Hay Show, both regular contests of the Exposition proper. For the first time classes have been added this year for cotton and potato exhibits in the Club Congress, each state being allowed to make a single entry. There will also be an exhibit of canned goods, clothing, room improvement displays and posters with one entry from a state.

The champion junior judging teams from each state will compete for national honors in the non-collegiate live stock judging contest, in which the three highest ranking individuals will receive agricultural college scholarships for $500, $300 and $200 offered by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The girls too will have judging contests in which they will pass upon the merits of classes of clothing, canned goods and bread. This arm of outstanding club members will spend a busy week at the metropolis attending banquets, visiting in the sights of the city, taking part in the Club Congress and enjoying the educational and inspirational advantages of the world's largest agricultural show.

SOME DAY IS THE THANKSGIVING ATTRACTION AT THE SHUBERT DETROIT OPERA HOUSE.

Plays may come and plays may go, but the good old American musical comedy goes on forever. No matter how many times the American auditorium has heard foreign comedies of short lived intent, forces of independent comedy whatever undressed musical comedy is offered typifying the happy life of American life, from the pen of a reputable American author.

The Shubert, Detroit, and the other theaters of recognized artists who entertain and dance you can always depend upon the American people giving a just and unpassed recognition to the offering, this is a definite prelude to the announcement that the new musical comedy, "Some Day," which Mrs. Henry B. Harris will bring to the Shubert Opera House, Thanksgiving week, commencing Sunday night, November 22nd includes in a large cast the local favorites Gloria Foy who has been here with "Up She Goes" and Betty Lee Charles King with "The Follies" and "Little Nellie Kelley," Marion Saxe, "The Sweetheart Shop" and "Gus" Shy with "Lollipop," Alf Sexton with "The Follies," Inez Courtney, a prominent headliner in vaudeville to say nothing about the other members of the organization, numbering seventy-five people. The European Sensational Dancers, Norma Gallo and Marjorie and Robert Alton head what is reported to be the greatest dancing ensemble in America.

The story is woven around football game episode, thus affording much timely and colorful action which is taken advantage of with pictorial and costumial extravagance. Frances Nordstrom wrote the book, Albert VonTilzer composed the music and Neville Fleeson wrote the lyrics. Jack Haskell arranged the dances and ensemble numbers and they are said to be marvels of ingenuity and dexterity, and A. H. VanBuren staged the dramatic portion of the story.

Wreath on Tomb of Unknown Soldier.

Washington—Washington observed without display the seventh anniversary of the signing of the armistice. President Coolidge motored to Arlington National cemetery, where he placed a wreath of white chrysanthemums on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. For two minutes while the crowd stood at attention the President bowed his head in silence. Then Mrs. Coolidge stepped forward and placed a single long-stemmed white rose beside the President's wreath in behalf of the nation's motherhood.

Late in the afternoon public services were held at the tomb of Woodrow Wilson in the Bethel Chapel of the National Cathedral.

Philadelphia—The premature explosion of a six-pound shell being used in a saluting cannon in an Armistice day tribute to the war dead caused the death of Private Thomas McGovern of the Fifteenth ordinance company stationed at Frankford Arsenal.

Boston—Boston's two-mile "parade for peace" under the auspices of the Federation of Greater Boston Churches passed without incident despite the heated controversy which plans for it aroused. The controversy was featured by charges that the parade would include radical or pacifist demonstrations.

Gov. Alben T. Fuller and representatives of four veterans' organizations reviewed the procession as it filed past the statehouse.

New York—A city-wide observance of the minute period of silent prayer and a colorful parade of veterans and patriotic organizations along Fifth Avenue marked the city's observance of Armistice day.

Chicago—Opening with a parade of red star veterans and their members, of the G. A. R., high school students and American Legion boys with massed voices, the Soldiers Field dedication ceremonies reached a climax in a salute of 21 guns.

Introduced as a living representative of the spirit of the Americans who had given their lives in the World War, Commander Horner, who urged the men to take from the port, told of his flight when, disguised, he and the others of his hydroplane crew were adrift on the Pacific ocean.
