How To Avoid Fuse Blowouts

The blowing of a fuse is a great annoyance. It always comes at the moment when you have least time to lose. But don't blame the fuse, which is only protecting you. Your's is the blame. The ordinary light outlet will safely carry a load of 1,000 watts. Don't give it a heavier burden or it will blow. That's what it is there for—to save you from trouble.

Look at any electric appliance that you use and note the number of watts required to run it (stamped on each appliance). That will guide you. The same goes for lamps.

DELAND FAVORS FOUR CENT GAS TAX

(By Ed A. Nawack)

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 30.—Michigan motorists who own their own cars today are paying the equivalent of a five-cent gas tax, in the opinion of Charles Deland, secretary of state. Mr. Deland is advocating a four-cent gas tax, a permanent license plate for all autos to cost not more than $5, and the elimination of the $500,000 yearly expense made necessary in under the present graduated weight tax to collect that money.

The half million dollars spent annually to collect the weight tax would be whittled down to around $50,000, it is not less, Mr. Deland points out justifying that indication by the collection costs of the two-cent gas tax from February 1st to October 31st. This tax amounted to $2,238,139.21. It was collected from more than 400 firms and cost the state exactly $36,752.22. This includes the initial cost of installing the collection system and from now on 70 million can be collected at but little more expense than seven million.

People reading that they are paying what amounts to a five-cent gas tax today may think it a wild statement, says Mr. Deland. But look at it like this: During the past year we have collected from the graduated weight tax or license law about $13,500,000 and it cost the taxpayers in round numbers $500,000 to collect it. If the gas tax collection at two cents a gallon is $9,000,000, then the $13,500,000 of license money is equivalent to a three-cent gas tax, making the equivalent of a five-cent gas tax the motor vehicle owners pay to the state highway fund.

It is entirely possible to sell a set of permanent license plates for every car when it is purchased, to cost around $5. This system could be adopted were it not for the Michigan Certificate of Title law which makes it necessary to transfer license plates at the same time the title changes hands.

Auto license plates in Michigan by about 125,000. If a permanent license plate charge prevailed for all cars, the $13,500,000 public would be paying about a half million dollars yearly for the road fund.

A permanent license plate with the gas tax charge next year would be $13,500,000. The certificate of title law would be $500,000. The difference of $13,000,000 would be the state of about one million. There is no need for the two and one-half million now paid for the road fund as a highway fund, $2,238,139.21.

If we had a four-cent gas tax, it would be $3,600,000. The road fund would be $2,238,139.21. The difference of $1,361,860.79 would be the state of about one million.

It is not a bad idea, says Mr. Deland, to have a permanent license plate for every car when it is purchased, to cost around $5. This system could be adopted were it not for the Michigan Certificate of Title law which makes it necessary to transfer license plates at the same time the title changes hands.

Artificial "Sun" Makes Hay

In England where damp and foggy weather, common during certain seasons, makes a good hay crop rare, a new device has been patented which dries hay by means of artificial heat. The hay is placed while it is green and then is dried in 25-ton stacks. This invention is expected to save many acres of crops that are lost every year because of rainy weather at the critical period—Brodie's Eagle.

Incompatibility

If Americans can be divorced for incompatibility of temper, I cannot conceive why they are not all divorced. I have known many happy marriages, but never a compatible one. The whole aim of marriage is to find a compatible partner. The whole aim of marriage is to find a compatible partner. The whole aim of marriage is to find a compatible partner.

FRANK MUNSEY DIES; LEFT $40,000,000

New York Newspaper and Magazine Publisher Succumbs After Operation

New York.—Various estimates of the size of the late publisher, Frank Munsey's, fortune, ranging from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000, were made by men conversant in a general way with his holdings. Mr. Munsey died of peritonitis the result of appendicitis. He was seventy-one.

With few relatives to whom he could leave his wealth, the impression is that those closest to him in business life would inherit his enterprises, which constituted the major part of the fortune. His business interests, though not diversified, were large. His chief interest was the Frank A. Munsey company, of which he was president and virtually sole owner.

The Munsey company was the concern which published his magazines, the Munsey Magazine, the Argosy-All Story Weekly and Elmer's, a detective story magazine, which was brought out only a year ago.

Mr. Munsey's closest relation was a sister, Mrs. John M. Hyde, at present in St. Petersburg, Fla. A granddaughter, Mrs. Alice W. Munsey, of Meriden, Conn., was with him when he died.

Mr. Munsey came to New York from his native Maine in 1882, when he was twenty-eight years old, bringing with him the entire worldly possessions of his father, at $10 and a half a full set of manuscript.

Mr. Munsey bought the New York Globe New York's oldest newspaper in 1914, and worked it with the Sun and the following year he bought the Evening Mail and merged it with the Telegram. Last year he sold the New York Herald to the Tribune.

Four Murders and Suicide

Keep Chicago Police Busy

Chicago.—Four murders and a suicide occurring in the city and on the far South side kept the police busy from early evening until late at night.

At Seventy-first street and Calumet avenue Charles Brooks, an alleged beer runner, and Edward Star, a county motorcycle policeman, were killed by gunmen who had taken them for a friendly ride.

In the Central Trust company bank at 125 West Monroe street, two watchmen—former policeman and old friend—were killed and fought, Peter J. Furlong killed Harry Van Middleton, and then in remote committed suicide.

At 2131 East Seventy-fifth street, Leo Red, twenty-three, a drug clerk, was shot to death. His employer William O'Brien, accused of a robbery, was shot. The murder is being investigated.

Riffians Retreat After

Setting Fire to Town

Casablanca, French Morocco.—Rif contingents have evacuated Mahamm of Ben Adol and retreated to the north of the Ouargha River after setting fire to the town, says a French communiqué.

The statement adds that the extent of the reversals which Abd-el Krim has undergone since October 1 is becoming more apparent every day and that the movement of submission among the tribes has extended to the region of the Djebel Indjel. Submissions of tribesmen also have been reported in the Spanish zone.

MICHIGAN'S INCORPORATED VILLAGES.

A compilation of the laws relating to the incorporation and general powers of villages recently issued by Secretary of State Charles J. DeLand, shows that the oldest village in New Buffalo, Berrien County, New Buffalo, population 1920 census, 496, was incorporated as a village in 1836, one year before Michigan was admitted to statehood. The next oldest are White Pigeon, population, 887, and Constantine, population, 1,277, both of St. Joseph County and Tecumseh, Lenawee County, population, 2,132, all three of which were incorporated in 1837. Other villages incorporated prior to the Civil War were: Utica, Macomb County, population, 558, and Clinton, Lenawee County, population, 961, in 1838; Almont, Lapeer County, population 789; Dexter, Washtenaw County, population, 887, and Lexington, Sanilac County, population, 378, in 1855; Burr Oak, St. Joseph County, population, 559; Quincy, Branch County, population, 1,251, in 1858; Paw Paw, Van Buren County, population, 1,556; Lowell, Kent County, population, 1,730; Lyons, Ionia County, population, 524, and Orion, Oakland County, population, 926, in 1859. Trenton, incorporated as a village in 1855, is the oldest incorporated village in Wayne County. Northville and Plymouth are next. Both were incorporated in 1869. Lisbon, partly in Kent and partly in Ottawa County, although incorporated in 1869, is the smallest incorporated village in the state, its population being 60. Lincoln, Alcona County, population, 178, incorporated 1907, is the second-smallest. The population given of these several villages are as reported by the 1920 census—Detroit News.

NEW POULTRY GROUP TO HOLD STATE SHOW.

An entry of more than 1,000 birds is expected in the first annual exposition of the new Michigan Poultry Improvement association, to be held at the Michigan State College during the annual Farmers' Week in February.

Exhibition, production and egg classes will be included in the show, which will embrace all poultry raised in the state. D. I. Smith, of Hillsdale, a student in the agricultural division of the college, is acting as exposition manager for the poultry show.

Turning Over a New Leaf

By W. H. Pierce

NOW listen to me, Heppie," said Happy Brown, as he got up from his easy chair to wind the clock and put out the fire and lock the back door. "Listen to me. It's two days now till Christmas. Look at that lot of packages over there on the sofa that I've got to play Santa Claus on. Think of the piles and piles of bundles we've sent out already: big bundles and little bundles, to Jim's folks and John's folks, Harry's folks and Mandy's folks, the preacher, the orphan's home, the old cobbler, the washwoman and the peddler. It's got so that Christmas is a nightmare.

Accordingly the next morning Heppie and Happy Brown started out on their last shopping tour before Christmas.

As they turned the corner of the main street they came upon two children, a boy and a girl, poorly clad who stood with their noses pressed against the window of a small shop where in were displayed a few cheap dolls and toys. They were so engrossed in their inspection of these articles that they did not notice the man and woman who stopped behind them and listened to their childish prattle.

"There's a Noah's Ark," said the boy. "The baby could play with that lot. There's animals inside, and if she'd play with one at a time it would seem like new 'till the time."

"Yes, but here ain't no dolls in there," said the girl. "She wants a doll. How much money you got, Billy?"

Carefully drawing his hands from his pants pocket, the boy counted his fingers and slowly counted the few pennies of change in his palm. "Thirty-two cents, Ma."

"That's a lotta money," said the man. "A lotta money, Billy, and it took a long time to earn it and we if we don't go down it ain't going to buy much, is it, Billy?"

"No, but thirty-two cents is better than nothing."

"Well, then you could get the Noah's Ark, Billy, if you had more money. Then you'd still have money left, now, wouldn't you, Billy?"

"Let me see, Ma, that's twenty-five, carefully separating a dime and three pennies from the rest of the little pile. "See, Ma, that's thirty-two cents, right? To get something for you?"

"For me? No. Never mind me. I don't want anything. I just dress the baby, you know, and play it a mince when the baby's asleep. Oh, Billy, if we could get one of those green wreaths with the red berries—wouldn't it be lovely?"

"After that, stockings more than anything else. Besides the green wreaths cost more than even cents, Ma. I'm afraid. Come on, let's go in and see what they have got."

"Well, Ma, Ma, Ma," said Happy Brown, putting his hand on the boy's shoulder. "Where do you children live?"

The boy's hand closed gently on the few pieces of money. "Back on the next street, near the elevator. Why, mister? Where are you going?"

"Back on the next street, near the elevator," said Happy, as he took the boy's hand. "I want to see your mother and the baby."

"It ain't much of a place, mister. And mother's washing, I guess. She most always is."

"Never mind that. Come on, Heppie," turning to his wife, who was just behind, with the girl's hand in hers.

Their stay there was not long, but as momentous for Billy's mother and her little brood. Happy Brown had made Billy wildly happy by placing a dollar bill in his hand and another in Sissy's, and telling them to go on with their Christmas shopping. He had left a yellow-backed bill on the table, under a plate. As he and Heppie turned the corner he pulled out a notebook and noted down as he muttered to himself: "Coal, blankets, potatoes, canned goods, apples—here, Heppie, take this money and get things for those children. You know what they want. I'm getting a few things the mother needs."

"Yes, but Happy, I thought you'd go on off."

"Heppie Brown, this doesn't count. This is an investment."

"An investment?"

"The safest and most satisfactory investment there is. Happy. He that giveth to the poor, lengtheneth to the days of his life."

Better than stocks and bonds is a tasty Bungalow, logically built and conveniently arranged, because it's both a good investment and a good speculation.

There's a lot of satisfaction in owning your home and being free from the landlords and the greed of the big corporations.

That's the investment feature, and it's a good speculation, for if you wish, you can easily rent a good bungalow, or sell it at a profit, because you'll never build one any cheaper than you can now. Let's talk it over.

RADIO TO GIVE SOUND OF OLD RELIC TO ALL

A wire interconnection and relay of Radio broadcasting that will reach every corner of the North American continent will carry the voice of the Liberty Bell throughout the land at the stroke of midnight, December 31, the moment when the new year, the 150th of American Independence, is ushered in.

The shot fired at Lexington, was in an idealistic way, heard around the world, but on this occasion the real voice of liberty will be actually carried overseas to all peoples, if arrangements now under way are completed. It is planned to connect by means of Radio, relays with several of the powerful European stations to re-broadcast the sound of the most famous bell of history, the ringing of which resulted in a new freedom for a country and an inspiration for greater ideals of liberty for the world.

But once before has the sound of the Liberty Bell been sent over the country on the occasion of the installation of the transcontinental telephone wires. Then the sound was carried by the air, and the sound was as completely as the spirit of the bell.

Philadelphia is planning a colorful celebration to mark the event and the

WHAT THE NEW YEAR OUGHT TO BRING NORTHVILLE

A commission form of village government.

More residences with modern conveniences.

Improved streets.

A new Ford factory.

Some one to occupy the Simpson building.

An addition to the Masonic temple.

The re-building of the old theatre building.

More school room.

A more enthusiastic community spirit.

A village ordinance, regulating the sale of milk to Northville people and providing a plan whereby the village health officer can make frequent inspection of the premises from which our milk supply comes.

More loyalty to local enterprises and business firms.

More people in this section who believe in the policy of trading at home, and this ought to apply to the business men on the street as well as to the other fellow.

Dr. Haskell told the board of control he would take the matter under advisement. Today he will visit the school with William H. Maybury, a member of the building committee and chief sponsor for the institution.

Dr. Haskell was born in Portland, Me., and educated in the public schools of that city. He received his degree of Bachelor of Arts at Columbia University. Since 1910 he has been instructor at the Syracuse University Medical College first assistant physician at the Michigan Psychopathic Hospital at Ann Arbor, instructor at the Michigan Medical College at Ann Arbor and medical superintendent of the Ionia State Hospital.

Tracy W. McGregor was elected president of the board of control of the Northville Institution and Frank Cody, superintendent of schools in Detroit, vice-president.
