"FIT BY WEIGHT."

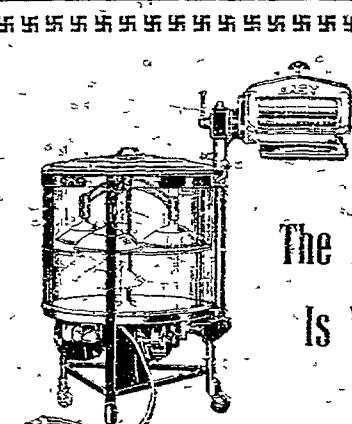

Why It Dries Out
Quickly; Keeps you Warm

This springiness of the Jantzen stitch fabric causes it to hug the body closely, yet comfortably and without binding. As a result, there is no chance for air or water to get between your body and your suit. Thus you are assured of additional warmth, for the water runs right off the moment you get thru swimming. It cascades through the tiny, rib-like structure of the Jantzen stitch. This snug-fitting feature keeps the body warm and tends to prevent cramps, for the suit never binds; but gives the body swimming freedom at all times.

The Extra Large Tub
Is What Makes It
Speedy

The EASY Washer does not depend upon violent agitation of the water for its speedy action in washing the clothes. Violent agitation is not consistent with the long life of clothes.

The ability of the EASY to get the washing done in a remarkably short time is due to its extra large tub. Instead of wasting only a few pounds of clothes to a tubful, as small washers do, it wastes 14 pounds to a tubful—60 pounds of clothes per hour.

Arrange today for a demonstration of the EASY in your home. Sending for this washer on approval places you under no more obligation than if you came to our store to look at it.

A FORMER NORTHVILLE RESIDENT KILLED IN DETROIT.

The police of the Blackhand Squad are searching for an automobile from which the body of a man identified as the Northville Tripoli, 28 years old, of Northville, and shot seven times, was thrown at Russell street and Rosedale Court early Tuesday morning. Residents of the neighborhood told the police they heard several shots fired and then saw the body tumble from the car. The former was seated at a table leisurely sipping a glass of beer. A quantity of liquor was found and Cook was placed under county Morgue. In 1923 he was issued citizenship papers. He lived at 2000 Scott street, but no one at that address remembered him. The papers, being unable to furnish bonds, Scandan was fined $25 and Cook was let off on suspended sentence after having supplied an affidavit to the effect that he purchased liquor at Cook's place. This is about the fifth time that Cook's dive has been raided by local officers.

Sunday afternoon local officers called at Robert Thomas' residence on South Center street and requested Thomas to accompany them on a little tour of inspection of the red barn located on the road leading toward Plymouth. After reaching the barn officers found hidden in the bar a jug of booze, but Thomas protested that he did not know how it came there. He had evidently forgotten that men had been seen about the barn quite frequently. He pleaded guilty to a disorderly charge and was fined $50. He signed an agreement to the effect that he would not engage in bootlegging in the future.

Thomas' place has been rather a popular gathering place for a number of fellows for some months past.

LYKE FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Lyke family was held at the home of T. W. Lyke at Plain Lake, last Sunday. Thirteen fifty guests, coming from Saline, Plymouth, Northville, Novi, South Lyon, and Ypsilanti. Following a sumptuous dinner a short business meeting was held and the following officers were elected: President, Russell Lyke; vice-president, Alex Lyke; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lithia Lyke of Northville; entertainment committee, Mrs. Hazel Cole and Mr. Al Lyke both of Northville, and Mr. Fred Brooks, Novi; refreshment committee, Mr. Lincoln Lyke and Mrs. Clinton Lyke both of Northville. The 1927 meeting will be held at the home of Fred Mrs. Mrs. Lyke, Plymouth, in August.

CARL SIMPSON DIED AT ANN ARBOR.

Many sympathetic friends of Carl Simpson were shocked to learn of his death which occurred at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor Wednesday afternoon after a few days illness. He was employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and a few days before he suffered a bad cut in his hand. The injury was not a serious one but blood poisoning appeared and then he was taken to the hospital for treatment. Operations were performed but all to no avail.

Mr. Simpson was a member of the Northville ball team for many seasons and among the fans he was highly regarded.

MISSION FESTIVAL TO BE CELEBRATED SUNDAY.

Open air services will be conducted by the local Lutheran church at Eastlawn next Sunday. The occasion is the annual Mission Festival of the congregation. The Rev. H. Fenner of Windsor, Ont., an enthusiastic missionary and an able speaker, has been engaged to deliver an English address at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. The morning service at 11:00 o'clock will be in charge of Rev. Riess. There will also be special music by Prof. Schmitz's orchestra. Lunch and refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of the congregation. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

WILL CONSIDER PAVING PROBLEMS.

At a public meeting called by the village council Northville citizens will consider the question of paving at the High school building this evening at 8:00 o'clock.

If Gingold road is to be improved by the county highway commissioners it will be necessary for the village to bear a portion of the expense and there are other paving projects which will be given consideration. It is believed that a start should be made and that some paving should be done each year.

Be on hand at the meeting and express your opinion.

GRAND RIVER AVENUE OPEN TO GRAND RAIDS.

Over year Portland last Friday the people of that section gathered with representatives of the state highway department to celebrate the opening of Grand River from Detroit to Grand Rapids. The people brought well filled baskets and at noon a bountiful picnic dinner was served. A program of speeches and congratulations was given and the occasion proved a most happy one.

TWO BLIND PIGGERS PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Armed with a search warrant issued by Justice E. R. Perrin on information and belief local officers raided the house occupied by Brownell Cook on South Wing Street Saturday night, immediately following the band concert.

Two men who gave their names as Joseph Scanlon and Ralph Canter were in the house at the time the officers called and the former was seated at a table leisurely sipping a glass of beer. A quantity of liquor was found and Cook was placed under arrest and placed in the village jail where he remained until Monday night when he was taken to the county jail, being unable to furnish bonds. Scanlon was fined $25 and Canter was let off on suspended sentence after having supplied an affidavit to the effect that he purchased liquor at Cook's place.

This is about the fifth time that Cook's dive has been raided by local officers.

Sunday afternoon local officers called at Robert Thomas' residence on South Center street and requested Thomas to accompany them on a little tour of inspection of the red barn located on the road leading toward Plymouth. After reaching the barn officers found hidden in the bar a jug of booze, but Thomas protested that he did not know how it came there.

HENRY FORD DISPLAYS BABY PLANE ON HIS 63RD BIRTHDAY.

Henry Ford, on his 63rd birthday, displayed the "Silver Dart" which has caused considerable interest in Dearborn for several weeks. The plane, which is 40 feet long tip to tip, and which can fly at a speed of 85 miles an hour.

The plane was built and designed by Otto Koppen, 335 Beech Street,

Koppen was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and went to Massachusetts in 1910 to attend Tufts University.

Full credit for the designing of the plane was given to Koppen by Mr. Ford. For some time past the designer and one of his friends have worked behind locked doors completing the work. On his 63rd birthday, August 31, the plane was given a trial test and proved to be a real success.

The plane is 40 feet long and at present is equipped with a three cylinder Anzani motor of European make. A World War motor which will replace the present power plant, will reduce the weight to approximately 100 pounds. Dearborn Press

WELCOME THE NEWLY WEDS.

On Wednesday evening August 4th at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Neal a very unique occasion was held by the senior and adult members of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school to welcome their superintendent and the assistant superintendent in the persons of Floyd Sallow and Floyd Lanning after their extended tour on their honeymoon, both parties being married within the same week.

The home presented a cheerful appearance tastefully done by Mrs. Neal, who was the hostess for the evening, eight. Music was provided by the Hacking sisters, members of the senior girls class and Fox Cleek, Sunday school pianist. Mr. Charles Doiph provided a very interesting program in which most present took part. Refreshments, being served.

Time spoke too soon, the evidence to retire, all leaving with good wishes for the happiness of the new wedded officers.

LIVINGSTON—MONTGOMERY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Friday August 6th when Madida Livingston became the bride of Earl Montgomery of Northville at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. W. Fall, 4404 Longacre, Detroit. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Robert White, pastor of the Northwestern Baptist church.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Marion Montgomery, and the groom was assisted by Ace Gladstone, Little Ruff Fall, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl and the wedding march was played by Lottie Livingston, sister of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left for Niagara Falls. They will reside at Northville where Mr. Montgomery has many friends who will join the Record in extending hearty and sincere congratulations.

Floyd Lanning's two-family residence in Orchard Heights is rapidly becoming a favorite.

GAVE A HALF-MILLION FOR NEW CATHEDRAL IN DETROIT.

The Roman Catholic Diocese of Detroit this week received one of the largest single gifts in its history in the bequest of the late Fr. Regis Msgr. James G. Doherty of approximately a half-million dollars for the proposed new Cathedral of Detroit.

Msgr. Doherty's total gift to the diocese was considerably more than $500,000, as all but a few thousand dollars of his estate, valued at close to $500,000, was left to institutions and organizations of the Detroit Diocese.

That Flapper Trick

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright)

MRS. PARMYL adjusted her beret and gazed anxiously at the doorway in the rear of the hall. What had detained the eminent lecturer of the "Habits of Flamingos" who was motoring over from Manchester?

Then her eyes traveled over the audience of well-dressed women and lighted finally on a number of young girls in the second row. Mrs. Parmyl had never quite decided whether they had elected the club's extension course out of sheer levity or just because Thursday afternoon from two to four offered nothing else. The first reason sounded far from absurd even to woman who took herself seriously, but such querulous had happened this summer.

And there was the day that the stereopticon slides got mixed. That might readily occur. Yet it was most disconcerting when the author of "Unknown Wilds" announced that she had some scenes of nature at her disposal to have thrown on the screen a photograph of the church choir picking in Birch Grove.

And what a nuisance they were—these young creatures, especially during the social hour which followed the lecture!

With some satisfaction the recent noticed that Gloria Trowbridge was absent. At any rate she would be spared, as she sat in her chair behind the rostrum—the sight of Gloria's fathomless brown eyes uplifted, gazed fixedly and certainly sooner or later to draw the lecture's own gaze and hold it.

Thankful for so much, Mrs. Parmyl rose once again to suggest patience. Then she saw the hammed man running hurriedly from the outer hall and descended to greet him. She thought he seemed flustered, but attributed it to his fear and worry of going late.

In a moment he was deep in his grief and Mrs. Parmyl settled back to listen to quiet intellectual enjoyment. Every so often she saw the smiling Trowbridge must have stopped while she was occupied with Mr. Lorimer. At three she gasped, saw his flushed, haggard head thrown back, as it was known. Nor did he bother to move his hand and Mrs. Parmyl was forced suddenly to let her imagination give wing to the flamingo—or to the man.

It is inevitable yet always unexpected to meet when the speaker prepares to be addressed his remarks to Gloria, whose footprints from the stage door in Birch Grove had been clearly to himself.

One the instant when Paul Lorimer reached his conclusion—and sat down, with a slight clapping of gloved hands, there was an instantaneous fit between the president and the meeting thereupon went over to the reception committee.

Several of the prominent members had their opportunity to meet the speaker when Mrs. Parmyl felt a touch on her arm.

"May I present?" a soft voice said demurely.

Mrs. Parmyl felt a desire to pinch the slender hand but was sure sweet, of course, dear! she turned to make the introduction.

To her astonishment, Gloria's slim hand shot out and grasped the man's with a comradely grip. "You certainly know a whole lot more, Mr. Lorimer, about flamingos," she grinned, "than you do about vacuum tanks!"

They both laughed merrily.

"You'll let me take you home?" The young man—and he was young for all his erudition—seemed really concerned about her answer.

"Well—" hesitated Gloria, "now that we've met properly, I suppose it would be all right. You're sure?" and she turned to the snarled Mrs. Parmyl.

"That's a safe person for a trusting young girl to drive with."

Again they both laughed as two who shared a delicious secret.

Mrs. Parmyl heard all about it later. How the eminent Paul Lorimer on his way home from Manchester to the Peterburg Woman's Club had come upon a car drawn up by the road with a stunningly good-looking girl hanging over the engine. Of course they had arrived at the same conclusion—namely, that he should drive her to a garage where a mechanic would be sent out to discover the remedy and repair it.

"Sounds like a broken spring in the autumn tank," said the garage boy, and Gloria had agreed reluctantly that that was probably so.

And so Mr. Paul Lorimer had driven on to the club and neither he nor found the tiny tank nor regretted the charge which had brought it along.

But Mrs. Parmyl—when the friend who had told her the story was through, said nothing for fully a minute. Then, with careful deliberation, she made her comment.

Nothing, my dear, will ever convince me that Gloria Trowbridge, who knew that Paul Lorimer had a stem of hire in Manchester did not drive out on the Manchester pike, choose a strategic location and break down on purpose! "A regular flapper trick!"

Be that as it may, when the eminent ornithologist, Paul Lorimer, sailed for the Antarctic to study the habits of penguins, there stood by his side at the rail, a lovely brown-eyed girl. "Do you know?" she was saying, "what I adore about you, darling, is that you want a thing you go after."

MARGERIE PHILIPS was fond of having her own way and did not take kindly to advice. There was nothing, however, more effective in that than several young ladies still of age who strongly resemble Margerie in that respect. Her parents, two shrewd and sensible persons, in their efforts and violent combat with their daughter's egocentric fits, Regis, Mary, and others, in using her mother's ideas to influence her, met with success. In order to test the popularity of these girls' ideas, the Novi League of Women Voters, organized to encourage a sense of individual responsibility to vote for state, county, and city officers, will occur again this fall, and the league is organizing its campaign, aiming to encourage a sense of individual responsibility to vote for state, county, and city officers.

Vacation Meditation.

Whether shall I go from the Spirit? or whether shall I flee from thy presence?

I'll ascend up into heaven, thou art there.

If I make my bed in Sheol, behold, I am there.

If I take the wings of the morning,

And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;

Even there shall thy hand lead me.

And thy right hand shall hold me.

H. J. says, Surely the darkness sooths over him me, and the light about me shall be night.

Even the darkness hideth not from thee.

But the night shineth as the day.

The darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

Meet your friends at the church September 6th.

GOSPEL MEETINGS AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The meetings of the Christian and Missionary Alliance being held in the Baptist church during this month are growing in interest and attendance.

Last Sunday evening an appreciative audience listened to Evangelist Yager, while he told of present day conditions as they fulfill the prophecies of the Bible concerning the last days of this age. The subject of his sermon was, "The Return of Jesus Christ the Next Stroke or, God's Clock."

Next Sunday evening the evangelist will take for his subject, "The Things Which Are and Which Shall Be." This is another message on prophetic truth.

Every message each evening is setting forth of the gospel of the grace of God. Emphasis is laid on the necessity of each soul experiencing the power of the gospel. This is not a church drive, but an honest straightforward effort to win souls.

TOURISTS LEAVE MILLIONS IN CASH.

Estimates made by various tourist bureaus and development associations in Michigan indicate that the tourist trade this year is going to exceed by hundreds of thousands of dollars that of last year. In 1925 the amount spent by tourists in Michigan was placed at over $200,000,000. Records kept at various state parks, hotels and various bureaus show a far greater tourist travel this summer than last. We two years ago organized a campaign to aid Michigan because of the deteriorating condition of its light roads and its lack of public accommodations.

The Spiders Harbor

A species of spider inhabiting the shores of the Pacific may be found at low tide crawling around on the rock and coral reefs, but when the tide rises you search for them in vain. Each spider, when the tide starts to come in takes refuge in a creviced area spits over her retreat a sheet of silk impervious to water.

SEEKS TREASURE BURIED IN RIVERS

Would Salvage Ships Lost in Northwest

MILES CITY, Mont.—Treasures of lost ships, buried under the shifting sands of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers, will be sought by Elmire Ellsworth Wenner, who has passed a quarter of a century gathering information as to their location and possibility of recovery.

In the skeletons of these treasure ships, Wenner believes, still remain quantities of the cargoes of priceless pearls, gold, silver, quicksilver and various other merchandise, the value of which government reports indicate to approximate $50,000,000. A portion of the cargo of one wreck, buried for 30 years, Wenner already has salvaged.

Steamboating on the northern waters of the Missouri river began 103 years ago, when a fleet of six river steamers were built under government contract for use with the failed Yellowstone military expedition which had as its object the establishment of a fortified post at the mouth of the Yellowstone river.

One of these, the Thomas Jefferson provided the first Missouri river wreck near the mouth of the Yellowstone. In 1831 the American Fur company started a fleet of steamboats on the Missouri. Its George Washington struck a snag below Council Bluffs, Iowa, and went down.

The Assiniboine, also owned by this company, was grounded in 1835 near the present site of Bismarck, N. D., with a cargo of 1,185 packs of pelts and robes.

The Pontiac went down with a cargo of 500 barrels of whisky, 500 casks of wine, and 500 casks of brandy, none of which ever was recovered. The Louisville, loaded with whisky, quicksilver and general stores, went down 40 miles below Sioux City. At this same spot are eight other sunken steamers.

SHE'S MISS BROADWAY

Miss Irene French, winner of the "Miss Broadway" contest conducted by the Broadway association in New York.

Courtship of 44 Years Ends With Wedding

Philadelphia.—A courtship begun 44 years ago came to an end when Albert T. Gardner, sixty-eight years old, married Miss Leona L. Gibbs, forty-one years old, in St. Matthew's Episcopal church where she has been the organist for more than half a century.

Rev. C. Herbert Gleese, the rector, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by the members of the choir and vestry and a few close friends.

Miss Gibbs met her husband 44 years ago, when she came to Philadelphia from Vincenzetta, N. J., and while it was a case of love at first sight, there were many financial difficulties in the way of their marriage.

While he was undertaking to rear and care for a nephew, she was burdened with the care of two invalid sisters, the last of whom died a month ago.

All domestic obstacles being removed, with an increase in salary for Mr. Gardner in view, the couple decided to consummate their long courtship.

They are living at the southeast corner of Twentieth and Brown streets.

Battling Women Take

Bite of Officer's Hand

Pittsburgh, Pa.—When women fight, Marquis of Queensbury rules are just a lot of apple-sauce and a notion of the law takes long chances in the role of peacemaker. Fighting, scratching and kicking count most.

That's why Patrolman Parker Seybold is nursing a bitten right hand and bruised shins. He tried to pacify at least separate—Mrs. Mary Johnieriek, fifty years old, and Mrs. Mary Porsky, who were staging a private battle in the former's home. He says Mrs. Johnieriek bit and kicked him when he entered the house to stop the fight.

Seybold was passing the Johnieriek home when he heard the commotion.

Police say the women were "clashed" following an argument over the ownership of several pieces of furniture.

SEVERAL ARE SLAIN IN CHURCH BATTLES

Army Takes Mexican Sanctuary; Churchmen Prisoners; Judge Is Killed.

Mexico City.—Both sides to the religious controversy apparently are prepared for an indefinite endurance contest.

Ambassador Sheffield has delivered a new United States note with reference to Mexico's petrolium and lead laws to the Mexican foreign office. It was returned here.

Plymouth, 11—Mexican authorities between state lines will be fought out without intervention by the United States.

The lady minister's attitude was sharply announced here in an off-the-record press conference held by President Coolidge while visiting at the old farm homestead.

The President has received reports of offenses against Americans in connection with the religious troubles. So far as he is aware, the State department is without complaints.

In view of this attitude, appeals of priests of Columbus and others for intervention will be futile.

Mexico City, Guadalajara, the largest city in western Mexico, was the scene of furious fighting between Catholics and government troops. With the Catholics entrenched and stubbornly resisting efforts to dislodge them, according to an official statement issued by the Mexican episcopate.

Archbishop Pascual Diaz, acting head of the Catholic church of Mexico, issuing the bulletin, said:

"Grave events are occurring at this moment at Guadalajara."

The government forces succeeded in capturing the sanctuary of the Virgin of Guadalupe after bitter fighting. Priest, laymen and several soldiers were killed and 10 Catholics made prisoners.

At the Church of Jesus there were two killed and one wounded, but the Catholics continued defending the church.

A grave encounter is feared in a Michoacan district where the Catholics are entrenched themselves in the hills and surrounding buildings and are ready upon defense.

In Tepic there was bloodshed but the number of dead is not known in Tepic, a judge attempting to take down "invaders" of church property was killed by workmen.

Episcopal authorities received from Morelia, the capital of Michoacan, assure the complete hegemony in having a favorable effect with cities and towns in regarding and condoning the killing of priests and professional men regarded enemies of the church. Thefts, picture houses and business places are deserted in many towns.

The San Juan de Dios temple at Morelia has been robbed of the greater part of its pictures and art treasures.

Ships of 24 nations were represented in the traffic through the Panama canal during the last fiscal year.

According to statistics compiled and made public by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture, exports of American cotton for the cotton year which ends close on August 1 will be more than $170,000 bales, with the exports to Canada for July not included.

Exports of wood from Rio de Janeiro to the United States continue to show a decrease from similar exports in 1925.

In a bulletin directed to housewives of the United States, the Department of Agriculture urges use of the "buy system" in domestic purchasing.

President and Wife at His Boyhood Home

Plymouth, 11.—President Coolidge visited friends and neighbors of his boyhood days here after he and Mrs. Coolidge had spent some time about the farm.

The President pruned some apple trees and later went to the hillside cemetery where four generations of Coolidges lie.

After a few days in the President's home state the party returned to the Paul Smith camp in New York.

Close American Chamber

Constantinople.—The American Chamber of Commerce here has been ordered closed by the government at Ankara.

Loot Oklahoma Bank of $5,600

Bells, Okla.—The Farmers' National bank of Bells was looted of $5,600

by four masked men. They escaped in an automobile.

Indicts 80 Doctors, Druggists

New York.—A federal grand jury here returned 17 indictments charging 80 doctors, druggists and whisky agents with a conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws and defraud the government.

Secession League Formed

Perth, Australia.—A secession league has been formed here to assist the movement for the separation of western Australia from the Commonwealth.

Bible Thoughts for the Week

Sunday.

If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul.

Then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and the darkness be as the noonday; and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones.

Isa. 58, 10, 11.

Monday.

If My people, which are called by My name, shall turn from Me, and be joined to other nations, and serve them, and turn back to Me.

Then—Then will I hear from Heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

II Chron. 7, 14.

Tuesday.

Their real test—is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house?

When thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? Isa. 58, 7.

Wednesday.

In Pleasant Places.—The Lord giveth me portion of mine inheritance and of my cup thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.—Ps. 5, 8.

Thursday.

The Goodness of God.—Oh that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men.—Ps. 107, 21.

Friday.

No More War.—Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.—Isa. 2, 4.

Saturday.

Hear O Israel, the Lord Our God is One Lord.—Deut. 6, 4.

It is only in the busy winter months that the comforter of a home in the house is worth twice in the book.—Chris Stevens, Monitor.

It Was the Last Word

By CLARISSA MACKIE

"So you will not come with us?"

Demand Dorothy with a scornful sneer in her treacherous voice. "Mr. Viner says the cave is quite safe to enter. He knows perfectly that the bear was killed last week."

Her tone and words implied that Dorothy, after night had killed the vicious black bear with his own hands. Viner swelled importantly and said again. After a brief, but his voice did not betray his thoughts, he said, "The concern for the safety of Dorothy was evident."

"I happen to know that there was more than morning and evening about the time when Dorothy came to the cave," said Dorothy. "You will not take my advice that she would not take his advice."

"Come along and protect us, then," taunted Viner, smugly. "You may lead the way, eh Dorothy?"

"Yes," said Dorothy coldly.

"I know a better way than that," one indurated Lawrence who knew the mountain like an open book, and he vanished around the shoulder of the great rock formation.

"Go back to Canyon Creek for the ambulance," sneered Viner. "Danger will be over by the time he comes back."

"Oh!" exclaimed the dazed Dorothy. "Coward, coward!" she said and stamped her foot. "Come on Tommy. You are not a coward."

Lawrence heard as he made his way among the rocks to that narrow opening near the den of the bears if he could pry away some of the smaller rocks and enlarge the opening, it would attract the anger of the bears and keep them at this end of the cave.

If Dorothy and Viner went in the entrance they would hear the sounds of disturbance and he prayed, have sense enough left to escape before the enraged beasts discovered their presence.

Viner had a rifle over his shoulder, and Lawrence had his own shotgun evidence.

The word—that last word of Dorothy's rankled like a thorn in the breast as he crept forward. "Coward—coward—coward!"

"This is the end of my career, so far as Dorothy is concerned," he told himself grimly, as he stood before that heap of stone that marked the small hole. "You can't blame any girl for despising a coward!" He pushed however, he might be in the two places at once to protect the girl from her own folly.

With a hard sigh he began to pull the stones away from the opening, a moment later he heard an ominous growl from within, and a deeper one at a distance.

He stumbled furiously at the loose rocks and in a moment they gave way before he leaped off right rom within. The big bear was clawing her way out.

He knew that Dorothy was in the cave for he heard her scream that great pounding of the earth had him clutch him about the fourth made an ugly red-eyed brute from us rage at this attack on his home.

Lawrence clubbed his fist and struck the bear on the nose, then he jumped back and fired at the bear's eyes. The badly wounded animal sprang forward and fell across Larry, knocking him into the bushes and at the same time the she bear broke out and entered the fray.

Dorothy and Viner had already entered the smell-savvy cavern when the sounds of growls in the farthermost depths told them too plainly that Lawrence had been right. The she-bear and her cubs were there, and as the two entered the cave behind them, they were trapped.

"In Lawrence has really had a spark of heroism. He would not have deserted us this way," snorted Viner nervously.

"He is doing something about it, you may be sure," said the girl with surprising coolness.

"She screamed as she heard a shot. "He is out there alone in danger coming. Harry—coming!" she cried, rushing out of the cave. Viner clutched at her heels. As they reached the base of the rock pile, she kept on calling. "Come on, Harry—coming, how you dear!" And Larry, hearing the voice through the stones, he was suffering suddenly and thought, "I have those to run after—those last words that last word!" But he did not stop until just before he lost consciousness—saw Dorothy snatched Viner's rifle from his futile hands, saw her run up to the male bear and press the weapon into the thick fur, set fire. In another moment she was passing the she-bear back to the separating cubs. When the sharp infuriated bear had clawed her way back into the cave to lie there nursing her rage and grief for the loss of her mate, Dorothy went back to Lawrence, bare there so white and still, the dead man at his feet. She gave the nervous and miserable Viner a terrible look.

"Lawrence has saved our miserable lives, Tomboy. I do not think that he is mortally hurt, but do you mind going down to Canyon Creek and asking Doctor Green to come with his ambulance? My fiancee," she emphatically sized the word, "needs his services."

Viner went and Lawrence who had listened dreamily learned for the first time that Dorothy was indeed going to marry him at last, and he smiled contentedly.

"We will have the hearse in time for your house," he murmured crossly.

FIND ATOMIC FLAME WILL FUSE METALS

Hydrogen With Electric Arc Proves Success.

Schenectady, N. Y.—Methods of welding metal together will be revolutionized by two new inventions of the research laboratories of the General Electric company, for after years of search it is now possible to weld so that the fused metal is as strong and as ductile as if it were never in two pieces. Previous methods, using an arc to furnish the intense necessary heat, resulted in the formation of compounds of the metal with oxygen so that the weld was not as strong as the rest of the piece.

As the nitrogen and oxygen which unite with the metal come from the air, in these new processes the air is excluded when the weld is being made by a bath of hydrogen, water gas, wood-alcohol vapor, and others which do not easily form metallic compounds.

Eight Hundred Volts Used.

One of the methods was developed by Dr. Irving Langmuir, assistant director of the Schenectady laboratory, and makes use of what he calls flames of atomic hydrogen, based on a discovery of Dr. R. W. Wood, professor of experimental physics at Johns Hopkins university. Electric currents of 20 amperes and at voltages ranging from 300 to 800 were passed through two tungsten rods so as to form an arc similar to the arc between carbon rods in a streetcar light.

By passing a stream of hydrogen gas into the arc from a small tube an intensely hot flame is produced, because the molecules of hydrogen are broken up by the temperature of the arc into their constituent atoms. As the ordinary form of hydrogen is that of molecules, the atoms almost immediately recombine, but in doing so they liberate great amounts of heat, about half as much as the oxy-hydrogen flame.

Iron rods an eighth of an inch in diameter melt within a few seconds when held about an inch above the arc, says Doctor Langmuir. Metals even harder to melt than iron, such as tungsten and molybdenum, one of the most refractory substances known, melt with ease. Quartz, however, melts with more difficulty than molybdenum, which Doctor Langmuir suggests is being due to the fact that the metals act as a catalyst, or a substance which speeds up a chemical change.

The use of hydrogen under these conditions for welding metals has proved to have many advantages," Doctor Langmuir said. "Iron can be melted or welded without contamination by carbon, oxygen or nitrogen. Use of the powerful reducing action of the atomic hydrogen allows containing chromium, aluminum, silicon or manganese can be welded without fluxes or surface oxidation. The rapidity with which such metals as iron can be melted seems to exceed that of the oxyacetylene flame, so that the process promises to be particularly valuable for welding."

Another Method Found.

The other method of producing, due to the welds, was developed at the Thermo research laboratory of the General Electric company at Lynn, Mass., by Peter Alexander independently of Doctor Langmuir's work. The electric arc is passed between the metal to be welded and an iron electrode, and the gaseous atmosphere is supplied in the form of a stream around the arc so as to keep it entirely away from air. Pure hydrogen, water gas, methanol or wood alcohol vapor, or dry ammonia can be used, as well as a mixture of hydrogen and nitrogen, for it is found that the nitrogen is not harmful unless oxygen is also present. All of these mixtures contain hydrogen, and Doctor Langmuir suggests that this method also depends in part for its efficacy on the disintegration of hydrogen molecules into their atoms.

Century-Old Cells

Philadelphia—The discovery of plant cells that have lived and retained their individualities for more than a century was described to the American Philosophical Society recently by Dr. Daniel P. MacDougal, director of the department of botanical research of the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

Most of the cells of trees die in a few years and their remains become part of the permanent woody structure. The ordinary cell of the living creature is supposed to disintegrate and become absorbed and replaced by other cells within a few years, although some biologists believe that brain cells endure throughout the life of the individual. It is difficult to account for the faculty of memory without supposing that the brain cells commonly live as long as their possessors, they

WINS THREE DEGREES

To win three college degrees although fifty-one years of age is the distinction of James R. Postlethwait, train rule examiner for the Chicago & Alton railroad at Bloomington, Ill. Unable to secure a college membership, he has been studying at night for thirty-five years after his railroad work was completed, said his son. He has been rewarded for his persistence by receiving degrees of Doctor of Divinity, Doctor of Psychology, and Doctor of Metaphysics.

FARMERS STILL AT A FINANCIAL LOSS

Industrial Workers More Fortunate, Report Says.

Washington—While there was a moderate improvement in income from farm production for the last season, 1925-26, the Department of Agriculture says that farmers as a class are still at a financial disadvantage to industrial workers.

"If a conservative interest return is allowed on investment, the average farm family earned $448 for labor and management, or 16 cents more than in the preceding year," the department said. "Although this is ten cents above the very meager earnings during the severe years of depression, it is still nearly 40 per cent below the earnings of 1918-19."

"Farmers have been on the other hand, for the last two years have earned approximately the same that they did in 1918-19, but have been able to buy about 16 per cent more than they could in 1918-19 while the farmer with his income is less able to buy about 20 per cent less."

Gross income from agriculture was estimated at $12,163,000,000, compared with $12,000,000,000 for 1925-26. The total was made up of $1,890,000,000 comprised of net receipts from sales and $2,240,000,000, the value of food and fuel consumed on farms.

Net income available for all capital employed, including reward for management, the industry increased 4 per cent, compared with a 13 per cent increase in 1925-26.

Out of the gross income of $12,412,000,000, farmers paid $8,012,000,000, including $1,216,000,000 for wages, $3,074,000,000, for products and services of other industries, research and maintenance of buildings and equipment, $633,000,000 for taxes and operator's capital, $1,127,000,000 for rent of property, and $733,000,000 interest on mortgage and other indebtedness.

Of the other $3,600,000,000, the value of food and fuel consumed on farms represents $1,534,000,000, and $8,070,000,000 is the net cash income which gives an average per farm of $572, compared with $554 in 1924-25 for operators' capital, labor and management.

The analysis shows that the farm operators earned on their own investment, including management, after paying rent and interest on debts, 3.5 per cent compared with 3.2-19 per cent in 1924-25.
