NORTHLVILLE FAIR COMES NEXT WEEK

Large Exhibits, Good Races, Snappy
Ball Games, Interesting Dog Show,
Three Big Free Acts, Band Concerts,
Everything Points to a Successful Fair.

Northville's tenth annual fair will open next Tuesday and everything indicates that the exhibitions in the several departments will be larger and more varied than ever; that the races will be exceptionally good, the ball games will be snappy, the free acts will be way above the average and that the horse and dog shows will attract many city visitors. Everything about the buildings and grounds is being put in first-class condition this week and by the time the gates are opened next Tuesday morning everything will be ready to receive the exhibits. The new secretary's office is completed and the new addition to the main building will be completed this week. The track is in fine condition for the races and the ball diamond will be fast when the tournament opens on Tuesday afternoon.

Pontiac and Northville teams will open the contests for the red division at 3:30 Tuesday. Milford and Belleville will play Wednesday at 10:30 and the first and second winners will play at 3:00 p.m. afternoon. On Thursday the Doctor House of Correction and Plymouth will meet on the diamond at 10:30 and the Russells and the Polish News teams of Detroit will play at 3:00. On Friday afternoon the winners of the two divisions will play and Saturday at 3:30 will occur the final championship game.

The race track will be opened on Tuesday afternoon and will continue for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with the ladies' sides and performances promising to be as good as Wednesday. The following is a program for the week:

Tuesday, Sept. 21.
2:30 Trot Purse, $100
2:13 Trot Purse, $100
2:17 Trot Purse, $100
Wednesday, Sept. 22.
Saddle Horse Day
Thursday, Sept. 23.
Trot Purse, $100
2:11 Purse, $100
2:30 Purse, $100
Friday, Sept. 24.
2:22 Trot Purse, $100
2:29 Purse, $100
Colt Horse Trot of Pace, $100 or under, $100
Saturday, Sept. 25.
2:24 Purse, $100
Pace for All Trot or Pace, Purse, $100
It will require three or four big tents to accommodate the automobile show, and a tent 200 feet in length will be used for the dog show. The sheep, cattle, horse and hogs will be allotted overflowing all the poultry shows as usual will surpass any county fair in the state.

Our local band will have a membership of about ten men all the week and they will give programs throughout the day and evening. The free acts will be better than have ever been shown in Northville; or else the committee has been grossly deceived. There will be the usual stands and booths where refreshments can be procured and the Baptist ladies will serve regular meals throughout the week.

Good weather is all that the fair management is asking for and in this respect Northville has been most fortunate in former years. Bring your exhibits as early as you can on Tuesday, especially people living close by. Let everybody help in entertaining our guests.

STOLEN CAR SOON RECOVERED.

Last Monday Louis Lanigan was very much surprised when he finished his day's work at the Tool Binder at Plymouth and went out to get his car to come home and found it had been stolen. Detroit police were notified and the next day the Jewett was found in Royal Oak. The thieves had already been arrested for driving while drunk. Police found a gallon and a pint of "ynamine" whisky in the car when they got them. Mr. Lanigan said the car was not damaged. All he found wrong with the car was a flat tire. The thieves were sentenced to 60 days in the Pontiac jail and a $100 fine for driving while drunk.

JERSEY WON MANY PREMIUMS AT STATE FAIR.

C. Niclison of the Brennan-Fryer-ell and Sons' Jersey Farm of Farmington showed fourteen head of Jersey cows at the State Fair and in connection with 133 head of Jersey's won the following awards: Two first, 8 seconds, 4 thirds, 3 fourths, 2 fifth and 2 sixth prizes in all—21 premiums and 125 sales.

LITTLE NORTHLVILLE GIRL KILLED IN DETROIT.

The people of this community were greatly shocked last Friday afternoon when the news of the death of little Selma Montgomery, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery of this village, had been called in an auto accident in Detroit. She was a bright, winsome child and was a general favorite among her playmates and those who knew her. Mrs. Montgomery and little daughter were visiting Detroit relatives and were down town shopping. When ready to go to the home of her relatives they took A.D. S. bus in company with Mrs. Violet Sicher, who was looking after the child and upon whose lap the little girl was sitting. As the bus turned off from Woodward Avenue to Washington Boulevard the child was very close to the girl and in starting lurch forward and the child being close to an open window was thrown in such a manner that her head was caught between the side of the window and the iron post at the street curb. The child's head was crushed and the accident happened so quickly that scarcely anyone knew what had occurred or how the child was injured but an examination of the pole disclosed the manner in which she met her death.

Passengers on the car were thrown into a panic as blood streaked from the child's head and a number of the women, painted, among them being Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Sicher, who were taken at once to the Receiving hospital where they were soon revisited.

SAVINGS CONVENTION WILL ATTEND MONDAY.

The Western Savings Co. of Michigan will be in conference at the Hotel of the Woods here on Monday. The day will be filled with socializing and before noon there will be well-represented by Plymouth, Grosse Ile, Highland Park and Northville. Detroit reported to be active here, but the meeting is to be held at the Hotel of the Woods.

This meeting was called in order to take the regular meeting of the association. Rev. Dr. McCall, Detroit Garner was named as chairman of the program at arms, a guest of honor. Commandant White, a very interesting address is to be made on behalf of the Northville Unit, to which Dr. McCall gave responsibility.

At noon a very enjoyable luncheon was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at the church parlor and all who partook of the noon-day meal were generous in their praise of the manner in which it was served.

The next association meeting will be with Electric Hive in Detroit, the meeting to take place at the D. O. C. hall, Seventeenth and Euclid streets.

GERMAN & SONS DROP CAR AGECEY.

Henry S. German senior member of the co-partnership of German & Sons, stated yesterday that they will no longer handle the sales of Dodge Brothers' motor cars in this vicinity. Good fortune in former years.

Bring your exhibits as early as you can on Tuesday, especially people living close by.

Let everybody help in entertaining our guests.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Saginaw—The Saginaw oil field yield was again increased when the well drilled by J. M. Voorhees and Thomas McNatty on the Charles Clift property in Saginaw township came in at 1,822 feet. This is the twenty-third well now producing on Clift's tract. A heavy wind, accompanied by rain, struck Gladstone Sept. 13 resulting in property damages that will run into hundreds of dollars. Trees were blown down, windows smashed, signs torn away, fences tumbled over, poles broken, wires brought down, roofs torn from buildings and gardens ruined. One girl was cut by glass when a window in her home was broken.

Lansing—Receipts from the corporation tax to date this year total $6,025,475, slightly more than the receipts for the whole of 1925. Charles J. DeLand, secretary of state, announced. The total tax for 1925 was $6,002,117, and it is expected that returns this year will exceed that amount by at least $500,000. DeLand's report shows there are 16,255 corporations operating in the state. At the close of 1925 there were 12,823.

Lansing—Attorney General Andrew B. Dougherty notified Charles E. Hughes that the state of Michigan elected to be a party to a special hearing over the division of water by the Chicago Sanitary district, in which Hughes will be the special commissioner of the United States Supreme Court. In addition to the suit filed against the sanitary district by Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and Pennsylvania have a joint suit against the district.

Lansing—An affidavit demanding the removal from office of Jay A. Collings of Tuscola County, has been handed to Gov. Ave. J. Groesbeck by William J. Spear, local lawyer and banker and one of the Tuscola County Bar Association. The affidavit states that he is over to the attorney-general at the probable that a member of the attorney-general's department will go to the county seat of Tuscola to investigate the charges made by Mr. Spear.

Grand Rapids—Legislation for the regulation of commercial airfields and airports was recommended by the governor's bureau which investigated the death of Victor A. Clegg of Battle Creek, and Paul Blodgett and W.H. James Burroughs of the village in an airplane accident Sept. 21. The jury further held that the plane in which the three were riding during the Chittax lettuce-eating celebration was defective. The three dropped a half-mile after one wing collapsed following a nose dive.

Ann Arbor—An attractive lake, to replace a stagnant and mosquito-breeding mill pond in the rear of Forest Lake Cemetery along the Huron river, at the village of Dexter is one of the projects which Henry Ford at present is considering to benefit Dexter. Mr. Ford, was in Dexter recently looking over property he owns there, and also to make preliminary arrangements toward obtaining permission from the cemetery association to acquire the land to enable him to carry out this project.

Lansing—Apportionment of $1,000,000 to the various counties from the weight tax receipts was announced by Frank Fitzgerald, business manager of the state highway department. With this payment, the state has returned $4,000,000 of the $8,000,000 due the counties from the 1925 tax. The remaining $2,000,000 will not be paid until next January, when the amount paid in by each county can be totaled. Fitzgerald said. The $6,000,000 is apportioned by law according to the receipts of each county.

Monroe—Denis Davey, mayor of Monroe, whose removal from that office was asked by Lyman J. Simmons, Monroe pool room and barbershop proprietor, has denied the allegations contained in Simmons' affidavit and announced that although he had not intended to seek re-election at the end of his term, he would not quit under fire and would fight against "pool room rule" in Monroe. Simmons, in his affidavit, alleged that Dr. Davey, who is a practicing physician and surgeon, Albion—Descendents of Andrew Warner who came to New York state from England in 1685, held their 31st annual reunion here at the Woodman hall. There were more than 60 present, the oldest being George Warner of Albion, who is in his 86th year. The majority of those present were descendants of William A. Warner who came to Michigan from Albion, New York, in 1832, and who helped substitute the name "Albion" for "The Forks" as the settlement of the early pioneers was known.

Bay City—Roy Harris, a parolee of Lapeer prison, and an unidentified companion were killed when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a southbound interurban at the Dulock road crossing of the Michigan railway. Harris was identified by Sheriff Ezra Marvin as the man who was sent from here to Lapeer on a one to ten year sentence and who was paroled from that institution April 22 of this year. His companion was so badly disfigured that identification was impossible.

Lansing—Michigan hunters killed 18,000 deer and 34 bears last season, compilations announced by the state department of conservation showed.

NORTHVILLE SOON TO HAVE FREE LIBRARY.

The people of this community will be pleased to know that on Saturday, October 2nd, a Library Library will be opened as a free library. The funds destined for this purpose at the last township meeting will not be available until January 1st, 1927.

Mrs. Levee, who is to be the librarian under the new arrangement, has most generously donated her services. At that time, the work of arranging the books has been done so quickly that few people realize what the cost and expense of the labor has been. Miss Tobias, Librarian, has been in charge of the work at the library building for six weeks, with Miss Dawson assisting her. Four other young women from the library service have also been here for short periods of time, and when the building is opened once more the books will be found in first-class condition, and properly listed.

This recataloguing has cost the Library Association about $250 and the ladies of the board have also given much of their own time to this work that further expense might be saved.

After October 2nd the library will be opened to the public in the afternoon and evening of each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, and it is to be hoped that not only the old patrons but many more of the people of the community will avail themselves of this new addition to the advantages of our town.

WALK DAY AT WEST POINT PARK SATURDAY.

The companion of West Point Park will hold a walk day on Saturday, September 17th, 1926. There will be a half mile between Northville and the last 11.30 leg of the walk, and a 10 cent admission fee.

The money of this walk will go to the West Point Park park.

The formation of West Point Park will be held at the West Point Park on Saturday, September 17th, 1926, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and the last 11.30 leg of the walk, and a 10 cent admission fee.

There will be a walk in the afternoon, and a walk in the evening.

Everyone is invited to attend and make it a happy time.

NORTHVILLE-MAIN MODERN CLOTHING SHOP AND BEAUTY PARLOR.

We and Mrs. G. W. Hills recently opened their new and modern clothing shop and beauty parlors to the public on Wednesday and many visitors called throughout the day and evening. They new shop and parlors are located on the second floor of the new Richardson building on Main street, and no pains or expense has been spared in fitting and equipping the new quarters and but few towns the size of Northville can boast of such an up-to-date shop for women and men. Handsome new fixtures have been added and everything about the shop is strictly modern and up-to-the-minute. Mr. and Mrs. Hills are to be congratulated upon their enterprise in providing such an enterprise for Northville.

DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON AT MEADOWBROOK CLUB.

A delightful luncheon, complete in all its appointments, was given at the Meadowbrook Club on Tuesday by Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Jr. in honor of Miss Frances Yerkes. ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

LUTHERAN WEEK.

Two weeks ago the pastor announced that he would speak on the topic "Who Are His Sheep?" It so happened, however, that Rev. George Knapp of Detroit paid us an unexpected visit, and graciously consented to address us on that day. The pastor will therefore speak on this topic next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Come and bring a friend!

A child's treasure given to trust.

Almighty God and his son's welfare must be in the parents' hearts' consideration.

Bring your child to Sunday school next Sunday.

Services in the German language at 10:45 o'clock.

Seek not the pleasures of this life; think of your soul and its needs. Remember, you are always welcome at St. Paul's.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

The man who left himself somewhat for the sake of the church finds the rest of the whole earth, while he who rents it, it is fitting for his wife, or visits it only when his father is buried or his child baptized is pretty sure to find it narrow, bogged and mean.

Jesus went to church every Sabbath. It will do you good.

Morning worship at 10:30, when the pastor will speak upon "The Resurrection of the Body."

Sunday school at noon. Plans are being made for a big day on October 3rd.

Rely day.

All our young people are urged to be in hand for Y.P.S.C.E. exercises, g.v. 75¢, for camp in the hills.

Evening service at 7:30. Sermon theme "A Day for Service."

Companionship of the Lord's supper and reunion of members.

With the exception of a good meal.

Will you be there? Every man a brother, every woman a sister.

Every church a home.

$441,000 PAID FOR AWARD, SAYS GERMAN

Steel King Testifies in Post-War Claim Allowed by United States.

New York—Richard Merton, millionaire German industrialist, told his story of the Miller-Hanover conspiracy to a jury in the Federal court here. It was a dramatic story of how big wine, sealing wax, and enormous bribes in the plot to defraud the United States of millions.

Brought to America as the government's chief witness in the special case against Harry V. Daugherty, former attorney-general, and to Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged jointly with corruption in carrying out the laws of the U.S. after World War I, Merton stated how he won a $441,000 claim against the United States through the use of champagne cork specimens sent in government checks aggregating $1,533,320, which had been brought from Washington by Colonel Miller, the witness declared.

These checks were turned over to Merton, he said, by Miller at a private $15-a-plate dinner in the fashionable Ritz-Carlton hotel here on September 20, 1921. Merton was the host. John G. Flanagan, alleged "fixer," who engineered the claim through official channels in Washington, supplied the champagne.

The morning after the dinner, said Merton, "Mr. King and I went to the office of my brokers in Wall street. There I gave Mr. King a package containing $391,000 in Liberty bonds as a five per cent fee for successfull presenting the claim."

Two hours earlier, the witness declared, he had given King a check for $5,000 as retainer.

"After I delivered the money, we shook hands and said 'goodbye.' He entered a taxi and drove off without his coat or hat on, and I saw him again about two hours later, driving away in a car with Hart J. Daingerfield."

A man of $100,000 has been traced into the bank of First National Bank in Colchester, N.J., and the police are investigating.

Wendell R. Pease, collector for India, offered the U.S. a million of U.S. gold coins to help him in his search for the missing $100,000, and recently that the general manager of the Mint agreed to pay $10,000 for the return of the lost coin and sought large bounties.

Through the interplay of Upstate roads and railroads, it is likely that the two men have been following the Bobo State since a holding company, the Star Park, which has an interest in Sylvania, Western and the defense.

To repeat the major story of this holding company is that it was a illegal or at all in existence during World War II, the validity of the cash depends.

FATAL SHOOTING OF WIXOM MAN. Harold Grove, a son of William Grove of Wixom, was the victim of an accidental shooting in Detroit last Thursday, and died on Friday in Receiving hospital. Undertaker Holmes thought the body to his father's home at Wixom, where the funeral was held Monday. The burial was at Farmington.

The young man was 22 years of age. It seems that he had stopped to see a friend who was working nearby, and who was using a revolver to shoot down a black bird which had just alighted on a tree branch before it was one of the day, known as "black bird."

And the charge struck Grove in the abdomen. —Milford Times.

BENDING MARBLE.

CLAIMS DISCOVERY OF NEW ELEMENT.

Scientist Declares Substance Is Radioactive.

Corona, New Mexico, radioactive element is alleged to have been discovered by Dr. William T. Tamm, formerly of New York, director of a biological research institute here, which he founded.

Doctor Tamm declares he has succeeded in isolating this element, which he calls brodium, after 18 years' work in the United States and abroad. The substance is an alkali, said to be closely related to the sodium and potassium groups.

Brodium is found principally in mineral form, and the pure element is described as a brownish-gray substance which smells like pungent earth and is soluble. The metal has an atomic weight of 223, slightly more than radium.

It is everywhere present, the doctor declares, and acts against gravity. Radioactivity, it is stated, causes it to rise, or what the doctor has termed "terrestrial rays," and these rays, he believes, supply energy to all living things. These rays are said to cause the familiar action by which plants draw roots from the soil, and provide the nervous energy for the human body.

The doctor's theory is that brodium, a widely distributed element, gives off rays to all forms of life. Plants assimilate these rays through their roots and leaves, and the element being more active in water, the action is facilitated in the soil. The human body absorbs the rays, which are everywhere in the air, through the nerve rays.

Doctor Tamm says that various scientists have investigated and several are now working with this so-called new element. He mentions the Atomic Research association of Detroit as investigating his findings and scientists in Kansas City as making experiments.

His own laboratory, in an old farmhouse which he has improved himself.

U. S. Wild Life Doomed, Says Zoological Expert.

New York Civilization will wipe out the wild life of America—mammals, birds, fish—unless protective measures are taken, in the opinion of Dr. William T. Hornaday, who retired recently after 30 years of service as director of the New York zoological park, popularly known as "The Bronx Zoo."

Doctor Hornaday, who is now seventy-one years old, issues this warning after looking backward over his half-century of intimate observation of wild creatures. As remedial measures, Doctor Hornaday recommends the establishment of more game sanctuaries and further limitation of the hunter's bag limit.

Here's Scale That Can Weigh Dot Over an i.

Milwaukee, Wis.—If interested, you can have the weight of the dot over an i measured accurately by means of a scale received at the Marquette university school of medicine by Dr. Joseph C. Bock, head of the department of pathological chemistry.

Doctor Bock, to illustrate the fineness of the weighing machine, took a sheet of paper and wrote a name thereon, leaving the letter i undotted. He then weighed the paper, making a perfect balance by use of aluminum hairwire weights. Then he dotted the i. When the paper was returned to the scale, the balance was disturbed, and the difference found to be two one-hundred thousandths of a grain.

The scale is a marvel of German mechanical skill, and is the invention of a scientist named Helmholz.

METAL EXPERIMENTS CHECK CORROSION

Resistant Alloys Produced by Research Work.

Madison, Wis.—The protection of metal from corrosion and the development of corrosion-resistant alloys such as stainless steel are progressing rapidly under the impetus of scientific research into the nature of corrosion processes. Walter G. Whitman, industrial chemist of Whiting, Ind., declared in an address here:

"As an example of the studies that have been made toward preventing and removing rust, he told fellow chemists at the regional meeting of the American Chemical Society here that the elimination of dissolved oxygen from water entering steam boilers is now a common practice in reducing boiler corrosion."

Of Theories Discarded. "Within the last few years," Mr. Whitman stated, "the conflict of contradictory theories has given way to a general agreement that corrosion is fundamentally electrochemical in action."

"Most cases of corrosion are assignable to the action of oxygen from the air in the presence of moisture. Even a case of so-called 'mechanical' erosion of turbine blades has been shown to be truly a corrosive phenomenon due to oxygen."

The products of corrosion often build up films on the surface which protect the underlying metal from further attack. These films are also formed by reaction of the corrosion products with material dissolved in the water such as calcium bicarbonate. Where such films are only partially protective they may break down locally and cause severe pitting of the metal at the point of breakdown."

Can Correlate Protection. "It is now possible to correlate many cases of film protection with the solubility either of the first corrosion product or of some other material formed when the corrosion products react with dissolved substances. The tendency to protect is greatest when a highly insoluble film is formed close to the metal. Many hitherto obscure examples of corrosion resistance are explicable on this basis and warrant application in the development of a boys' such as gilding, etc."

Birth Rates Take Drop

In 26 Out of 30 States

Washington—Birth rates for 1925 were lower than for 1924 in 26 out of 30 states for which records are available, according to the Department of Commerce.

The national rate for 1925 was 12.4 per 1,000 inhabitants, as compared with 12.9 in 1924. The highest rate in 1925 was 15.3 per 1,000 inhabitants, as shown by North Dakota, and the lowest 11.9 for Montana. The national birth rate in 1924 was 13.1, compared with 13.3 for 1923. The birth rate for the city of Chicago was given as 10.9 for 1925, as compared with 11.1 in 1924.

Death rates for 1925 were higher than for 1924 in 16 of the 30 states. The average death rate in the 30 states was 12.7 per 1,000 population in 1925 as against 11.9 in 1924. The highest death rate, 14.0, is shown for Vermont, and the lowest, 7.7, for Montana and North Dakota. The death rate both in Illinois and the city of Chicago was 11.5 in 1925 and 11.2 in 1924.

Forest Service Will

Round Up Wild Horses

Edzeman, Mont.—Last year the forest service initiated the plan of rounding up and disposing of all wild horses within the confines of the national forest and plans to continue the drive this year.

In 1925 there were 300 head captured in the Gallatin national forest alone, and it is estimated that there are 500 of these wild animals still within this forest range. Throughout the national forest of the state there are thousands more.

Some of these animals were at one time domesticated.

They were turned out to forage for themselves and those of the least value were not rounded up.

In time many of them became wild and the ones that survived the winters and predatory animals bred with other bands and thus herds were formed.

Manuscripts Say Christ

Preached in Central Asia

New York—The existence of many manuscripts in the monastery of Ladakh, written during the life of Christ by Lazarus and telling about his travels and preaching in India, Tibet and central Asia, has been verified by the Roerich art expedition, the Roerich museum announces.

The manuscript will throw much light on the vague years of Christ's life before his return to Jerusalem in his twenty-fifth year, it is believed.

The expedition, which has been in and around Chinese Turkestan since 1923, was detained in central Asia by the drought of Khotan, but was released after its arms were confiscated, according to the museum.

SHIP TAKES CARE OF SECRET CABLES

Is Really "Oculist of the Coast Artillery."

Boston.—A little gray steamship with a queer signal hanging from its masthead may be seen now, and again in the great ports of eastern and southern United States. Yet, though many of travelers who view it never suspect that this vessel, the only one of its class, is vitally concerned in the defense of the American coast.

The ship is the United States steamer Joseph Henry. Its work is the maintenance of a "secret" system of submarine telephone cables that enable the coast artillery to track its big guns on targets out at sea. The Joseph Henry, anchored here or there or busily steaming about its business, is the only visible evidence of these underwater communication lines.

It might be appropriately called "the oculist of the coast artillery." The eyes that help find the red distant targets are located far away from the harbor fort, sometimes on a neighboring promontory, sometimes on an island in the harbor. The cables are the nerves that carry the commanding observations from the "brain" just firing big batteries.

The fact that these underwater cables exist is no secret. Their exact location, however, is a military secret.

They are laid so that they are out of the way of shipping lanes and anchorages. Nevertheless every so often some vessel fouls one of the cables or a new cable must be laid, or a cable develops a leak.

In this situation occurs anywhere from Portland, Me., to Galveston, Texas, the Joseph Henry appears on the scene. It is designated a mine layer, although it never laid a mine and probably never will.

A hundred and sixty-five feet long and displacing 281 tons, its fifty distinguishing characteristics are a huge reel or winch, mounted horizontally, on its forward upper deck; a big sheave on a forward boom, and another pair of sheaves at the bow. It looks like a navy ship, but it is operated by the army, being attached to the Seventh coast artillery at Sandy Hook. The crew consists of enlisted coast artillerymen and warrant officers under Capt. T. R. Parker. It is designed to carry a crew of 25 but the vessel is generally short-handed when not working. It lies up in the shadow of the Statue of Liberty at Bedloe's Island.

Find Sailors Prefer

Highbrow Literature

New York.—Infermato editor on "The Lady of the Lake" and "The Queen of Minstrel" to add strength to his son's going minstrel is something new under the sun, it is said.

Yet, they are among the greatest changes wrought by the American Library Association, which, according to its director, Capt. W. Shattuck, has been trying to bring books aboard trade ships round the seven seas.

"Sometimes four months out a strict, without touching shore, the sailors of the chariot are thus able to alternate, even 'slipping' on the decks" by "laying down below" with books that range in value from "Mabel's First Reader" or "Zane Grey's Thrill" to Wells' "Outline of History" or Willa Cather's "The Professor's House."

"There are grammars and books on 'How to Write.' They are for the young fellow on board—there's always at least one—who is going to sea just to write sea stories. They read Conrad, Captain Ruskenberg, and Captain McFee. The older sailor asks for books on farming, keeping the dream of a farm at the back of his head for the day he will come ashore."

Park to Trade Zoo

Animals for Birds

Los Angeles, Calif.—The howl of the bobcat and the bark of the silver fox at Fairmount park, Riverside, Calif., will soon give way to the chirp of the canary and the trilling of the nightingale, according to the action of the board of park commissioners a few days ago, when they decided to trade the animals for songbirds, provided a second party to the transaction can be found.

Commissioner Hollan brought up the subject, declaring the odor of the collection of beasts at the park is objectionable and that the expense of feeding them is more than their usefulness warrants.

She further said she believed the songs of birds would be much more attractive than the less musical sounds of the animals.

Hooks Trout Wearing a Gold Watch and Fob

Saratoga Lake, N. Y.—A. J. Bernard of this place believes he is the luckiest fisherman in the Adirondacks. Recently, while trout fishing in North Branch river, near Goldsmith's, he noted what appeared to be a gleam of gold amid submerged brush.

As his hook neared the bright object there was a violent strike. The astounded fisherman found himself in possession of an eight-inch trout and a gold watch. The line had caught in the fob when the trout struck.

Another Flapper There Was

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright)

EDWARD NORTON, aged twenty-two, and Marian Hayes, aged twenty, had been "playing round together" all the afternoon. They had joined some of the other young people at tennis for an hour or so, then they had gone in swimming.

Now they sat on the hotel veranda, Marian looking so lovely after her romp in the ocean that a first glance invited a second.

She and Edward Norton were talking easily, frankly like two young boys. They were talking about college fraternities. It happened, and Edward said he knew the grip of a certain order, not his own, and in order to show his intricacies to Marian he had to clasp her hand in his. She bungled, dreadfully the first time, so there were repeated hand-clasps. Then their ginger ale came and they sat and sipped the cooling beverage through straws, the while Marian, swinging her slender young legs from the railing of the veranda where she had perched herself.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith, who sat within the curtained drawing room, watching Edward and Marian, had spent their girlhood some thirty years ago. In those days girls did not wear knee-length skirts nor one-piece bathing suits and they did not "shingle" their hair.

"Just see them holding hands out there," said Mrs. Smith to her companion. "And look at that girl's skirt! I actually caught a glimpse of her knee—bare knee! It's really disgusting."

"Oh, I think something ought to be done about it," said Mrs. Brown.

"And the things they do!" added Mrs. Smith. "They don't think anything of going from one roadhouse to another dancing and eating—and sometimes it's tomorrow morning before they get home. And the boys don't propose the way they used to. They discuss marriage as two men would a business partnership. Sometimes the girl suggests it first—with out a blush—and then they talk it over. 'Oh, it's really awful!'

Now it happened that from where Edward Norton and Marian sat, far out in the ocean, countless miles out, what they could hear by them as they sat there trying to decide whether they would take a walk or not, and talk, after their not too portentous talk, that they were not to be seen in each other that night went over the ridge into the windward town. However, was heading for land, a trifle embarrased.

"I know," said Edward when Mrs. Smith let him go. "Last remark? Are they talking about us? Do they think they're are in love?"

"That's what most of the old ones think," said Edward, regrettably. "But there's nothing so in this arrangement. Of course I know just the fellow I know are no longer on the pier. In the fellow you find to be—well, the curse Dad and I to go, to trouble to compare notes and to go to the thing reasonably—all I don't believe the flappers, as they call them, are any different at heart than the girls my mother knew."

"It's dog-bad to disappoint them," said Marian. "People like those old women—it would be fun, in a way, to go off and have dinner at a roadhouse, and dance, and then go on to another roadhouse, and dance?"

Edward Norton stood up and, taking Marian's arm, made her rise, too. "Let's go," he said, and fifteen minutes later he and Marian were speeding away from the hotel.

So they went to a rather gay roadhouse and dined and then danced, and from there sped on to another roadhouse.

"We're doing these things," said Marian. "But after all we aren't living up to the picture those women painted. We aren't talking the way they said we talked. I don't believe any of the girls do."

"You mean about—about marriage and everything?" said Ned, and then Marian nodded yes, he went on. "Because if young people were as frank as all that it wouldn't be so hard to—to propose."

"Do you suppose it is hard for a man to propose?" asked Marian.

Ned slowed down his car and looked keenly at his companion. "Don't you know it would be hard?" he asked. "Just because you girls dress the way you do and go swimming with us and everything doesn't mean that we are really a bit better acquainted than as if we just sat around in conservatories and drawing rooms the way they used to do—it doesn't make proposing any easier, I mean."

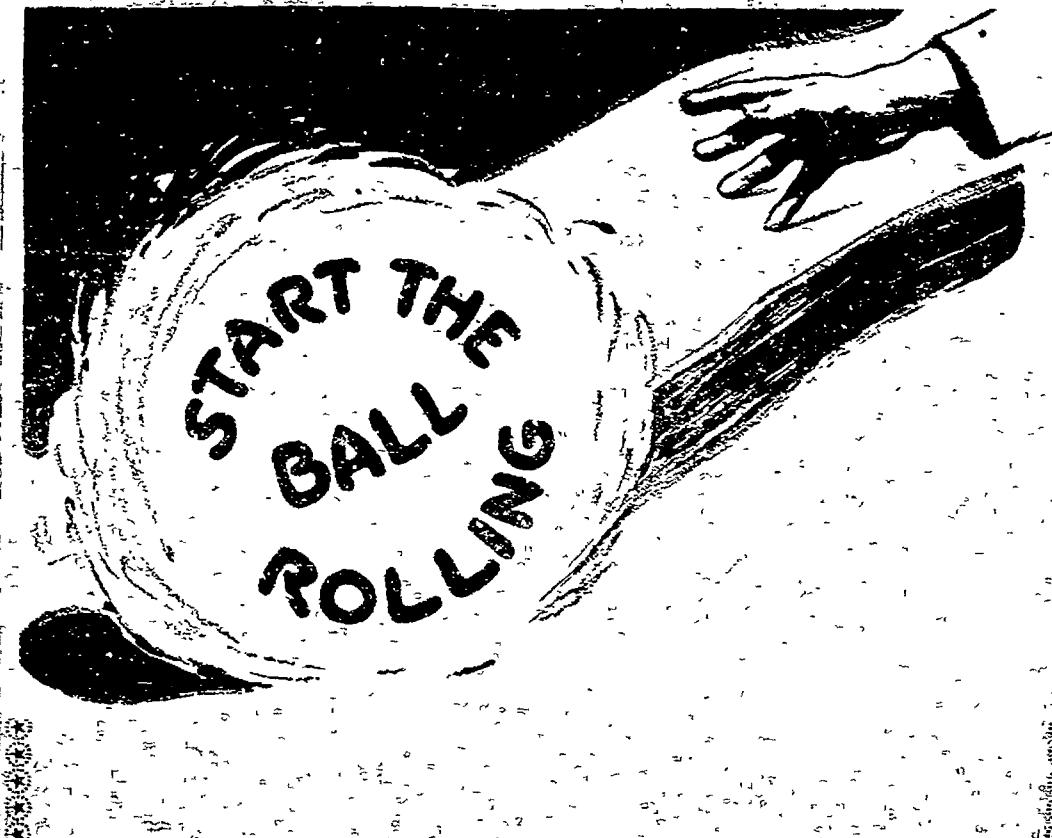

Edward Norton said Marian with mock solemnity, "you talk as if there was some one you wanted to propose to and you didn't know how to go about it."

"There is," said Norton. "She's a flapper with shingled hair and short skirts and everything."

"Yes," stammered Ned.

"Am I the flapper?" asked Marian, looking quite solemnly at him with eyes that were round and dark there in the星光.

"Why, Marian, of course you are," said Ned awkwardly taking her hands. "Let's go home then," said Marian. "And if I ever can get acquainted with those women I'm going to tell them that it's true about us flappers. We are dreadfully bold and we do our own proposing."

And away we will go, into a bigger and better Fall business than ever before. The big thing is to start the Ball—but it is equally important to keep it going after it is started.

The old saw, "Many hands make light work," is especially true when applied to making a Community a wide-awake home center for all.

FRED GREEN CARRIED NORTHLVILLE TOWNSHIP

A Good Sized Vote was Poll'd Here at Tuesday's Primary Election—
Hudson Lake Great Run.

Tuesday was an ideal election day and as far as went about the 1,000 electors of Northville Township averaged up pretty well, there being a total of 417 ballots cast in both precincts. Fred W. Green received 251 votes to 139 for Governor Griggs, and 7 for Comstock. For Lieutenant Governor Dickinson received 146, Ridgelle 15, Wells, 18, Welsh, 137, Masseling 5. For Congressmen Grant M. Hudson made a wonderful run here, receiving 304 votes. Cook received 37 and Penney 43. A good many did not vote for state senator, but Senator Herald received 104 votes and Stoll 158. For judges of probate Command and Herbert received 171 and 266 respectively. There was a hot fight on for Sheriff over the county and every candidate had a friend or two. Blithe received 267, Bonar 12, Conran 163, Ferguson 56, Foster 4, Hesser 1, Keville 1, McLeod 19, Polk 29, Potts 20, Reacher 3, Stein 65. For town clerk Thomas Farrell, the present incumbent, beat Cleaver 253 to 176 for George A. Walker. Newland had a run for county treasurer, 50, total receiving 155. Butler received 216 votes for road commission, 19, 82 for Com-

nor. For treasurer James L. Johnson of Plymton received 252 votes to 77 for both his opponents. Great interest was manifested by the people throughout the state in the contest for governor and while no more than 50% of the voters went to the polls, the vote was unusual this year.

Thomas Farrell defeated George A. Walker for court's clerk by a large majority. Earl F. Smith lost the field for it by a good margin.

For sheriff Grant M. Hudson will continue in office as he did in his last term.

John J. Schram has a good record, but it is uncertain on his part if he will be re-nominated as district attorney. This will be determined publicly at a meeting following the result of the election.

The following is the result of the election in Northville: Green 91, Orlansky 71, Welsh 25, Welch 10, Dickey 42, Ridgelle 31, Conroy 14, Ferguson 14, Keville 10, Biol 101, Webster 10, Spangler 10, Schram 91, Smidt 51, Danforth 112, Losse 51, Wilson 45, Englund 41, Griffin 46, Porter 31, Underwood 105, Harrick 42, Leckie 79, Phillips 46, Petman 49, Redford 29, Farmer 76, Gordon 61, Friedman 73, Stephenson 47, Spencer 111, Lytle 111.

RESIDENTS IN PONTIAC COUNTY.

There were few surprises in Tuesday's primary election in Oakland County where with one exception Republians retained office holders.

The one surprise was the nomination of Miss Mabel Brondege as register of deeds, to succeed Mrs. Alice Avera Whisford, the first woman ever to hold the position and who was not a candidate. Miss Brondege defeated Bert F. Giffin of Pontiac, two to one.

There were a number of heated contests in the Republican ranks. Frank Schram was re-nominated for sheriff, defeating Fred Schrader and S. Earl Shinnings.
