LANDING FIELD IS SECURED FOR STINSON FLYERS

Northville to Have One of Finest Airports of any Place in the State

The Exchange club has put it over! It has accomplished for Northville one of the biggest things in years.

It has secured for the community and for the Stinson Aircraft Corporation, one of the finest airports in Michigan.

Announcement of this fact was made at the meeting of the Exchange Club on Wednesday noon, by Scott Lovewell, chairman of the committee that was appointed by President Donald Velker, Jr., to endeavor to secure a landing field for one of Northville's most important industries.

It was only two weeks ago when the committee was selected. Since that time Mr. Lovewell and C. C. Schrader have been driving a considerable portion of their time in looking for a suitable place.

Arrangements have just been made whereby purchase will be made at a most reasonable figure of forty acres of the farm owned by G. A. Ponsford and lease of five years taken on the Starkweather farm, which is now being used as landing field. The two properties join, making an ideal place.

When the Stinson company first came to Northville Mr. Ponsford offered it the use of his place, but the chance for aviators began using the Starkweather property, and they have continued to do so. With the arrangement made this week, the company is permanently located in Northville.

For the landing field advantage the city will be contributing the land, the one landing field, while county officials of Ponsford's field, Dillingham and with metropolitan corporation making all arrangements on their part.

It can easily be seen how the work of the exchange committee in this connection.

It is probable that work will be started on the new landing field soon.

The construction of the new airport, one of the finest in the country,

Roberts Tells of Amazing
Earth Formation in this Part of Wayne

Mr. Wellington Koo, 15, is not generally known to the people of Northville, but in one amateurish hobby he has found some excellent examples of the geologists term "Mystical Formations."

Many thousands of years ago, for some unknown reason, an immense ice sheet, many hundreds of feet thick, gradually pushed its way southwardly from the highlands of Labrador and spread over this whole region, extending as far south as the Ohio river. On its way southward the ice scraped every particle of soil, scooped up all loose rock and even renten huge boulders from their foundations and carried it all with it mixed with the ice or on its surface.

For some unknown reason the ice sheet, which had covered the entire region, melted and the ice sheet formed on the surface. These rivers cut their way downward through the ice to form cataracts, as the sides of these ice canyons inclined they carried their thin load of gravel and boulders down the surface.

Without question never proved its truth as natural debaters. It was interesting to see just how well they really understood the question, how efficiently they handled the particular the subject. Howell's team, three girls, spoke well, but their argument was very mechanical, and their rebuttal showed plainly the lack of ability to think through an original argument.

However, the Northville team is to be congratulated on their splendid showing last year under Miss Alice Stanford, who gave unsparingly of her four hours' preparation. Dearborn and time and energy to get these young people on the road to success in this year of work and this year under Mrs. Gordon, who has spent considerable time in an effort to put the finishing touches which make for victory in public speaking.

The debate took place in the auditorium of Howell's beautiful new high school. The visitors were entertained before and after the debate by Howell's high school orchestra, which is indeed a credit to their school.

Two of the judges were instructors of M. S. N. C. This gives the half sixteen points with a unanimous decision in the favor of the preliminaries, also a fair chance to debate in the finals at Hill Auditorium in Arbor in May.

Miss Alice and daughter, Florence, accompanied the team from this place.

FARMERS PLAN TO STOP THEFTS OF THEIR CHICKENS

May Offer Big Reward for the Arrest of Raiders Now Active

Farmers in this section who have been heavy losers as the result of activities of chicken thieves in the past few months, are determined that these thefts shall stop, and are about to organize an association along the lines of the old horse thief organization that existed in this section some thirty or forty years ago.

B. A. Hedges, well known farmer, is one of the movers to have brought into existence an agency which can meet the new pest that is costing farmers so much.

He has taken the question up with officials of the old horse thief organization and it is believed there are funds left which can be used to stimulate the reorganization.

Offering good rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of these thieves, it is believed we can get somewhere. We can add funds to that which we may be able to secure from this old organization and make it worth while for some one to tip us off to who the crooks are that have been stealing all the chickens in this section," he said.

Rarely a night goes by without some farmer being visited by the gang of thieves for one who has not had his chickens taken away.

It is the opinion of the farmers that the best way to stop the theft is to have a large reward offered for information leading to the arrest of the culprits.

Spring Election Promises to be Quiet One for Northville

Northville's spring election from all indications, is simply going to be held for the purpose of endorsing the present mayor, and the work he has done to organize an association along the lines of the old horse thief organization.

Both caucuses have been held, and there is only one ticket in the field, the People's party caucus on Tuesday evening voting support to the ticket that was nominated Monday evening at the Workingmen's caucus.

The official report of the Workingmen's caucus follows:

Mrs. F. S. Neal was temporary chairman of the meeting to order at 7 p.m.

W. E. Ely presented the name of Mrs. F. S. Neal as permanent chairman, but Mrs. Neal withdrew.

J. E. Ely was moved by E. S. Neal sup-

UTILITY MERGER NOT TO CAUSE CHANGES HAT MYSTERY NOW INVOLVES OFFICIAL

No changes in the personnel of the gas company is expected, as a result of the announcement made in Battle Creek this week that a $40,000,000 merger of Federated Utilities, embracing fourteen gas properties in six states, and with home offices in Battle Creek, with Southern Gas & Power Company of Philadelphia, which controls fifteen plants, under the ownership and management of Central Public Service Company of Chicago, had just been perfected.

The merger is the culmination of four and a half years work of Fred W. Seymour, president of Federated Utilities. In acquiring small gas properties against advice of experts, who declared profitable syndicates management of such properties impossible.

Three of the acquired properties, at Plymouth and Mt. Clemens, Mich., and in West Palm Beach, Florida, during the last year have made the most startling record of growth in the history of the industry. Other plants included in the sale are those at Marshall, Owosso, Alma, Alpena and Sainte Marie, in Michigan; Waycross and Griffin, Ga.; Huntsville, Ala.; Lawrenceburg, and Washington Ind., and Johnson City, Tenn.

Herb Wrench will remain manager of the properties located in Northville, Plymouth, and Wayne and P. H. Deal will remain as office manager.

HAT MYSTERY NOW INVOLVES OFFICIAL

The editor has always had a lot of faith in humanity. But elections and recent events in Northville have been undermining that faith considerably. Soon after the arrival in Northville of his hat disappeared. It was gone for three days. A very prominent citizen, Wellington Roberts, one day slipped it back into the office. He didn't say whether the fit was wrong or what was the matter. Last week Wednesday at the Exchange Club meeting it disappeared again.

Charles A. Ponsford, who probably knows more about hats than any other man in Northville, thought possibly Carl Bryan of the Ford company knew something about it. The editor called him. "I will look and see," he said. "No, I have got my own hat." Added to the mystery about the Bryan call is the fact that Con Langfield discovered a day or so later that this same Mr. Bryan had his hat—and Mr. Bryan claimed it even after looking at it and telling the editor that it was his own. Con has recovered the lid.

"Now back to my hat. You'll be surprised just what prompted its return. It is not known just yesterday who came to the office but the supervisor of the township, the Hon. Wm.

W. L. Wrench, remained in a corner of the properties located in Northville, Plymouth, and Wayne and P. H. Deal will remain as office manager.

The Hamtramck Police have been requested to let the case drop. However Con Langfield may request them to do so.

GERMAN'S LETTER PLEASURES OFFICIALS

Early in October following the first white earth tremor Mr. George German, a member of letters to the various cities and communities, has sent a letter to Northville, expressing his personal appreciation for the aid given. Village President Smith has also sent out letters, in behalf of the town.

Yesterday Mr. German received the following letter from Harry Brabyn, secretary of the Detroit Board of Fire Commissioners in response to one that he sent to Mayor Smith:

"Hon. John W. Smith, mayor of the city of Detroit, has forwarded to the Fire Commission your communication of February 5th, in which you express your appreciation for the services of the fire department in connection with the fire on your premises. The commissioners are certainly pleased to receive such words of commendation, and we sincerely thank you for your thought in the matter."

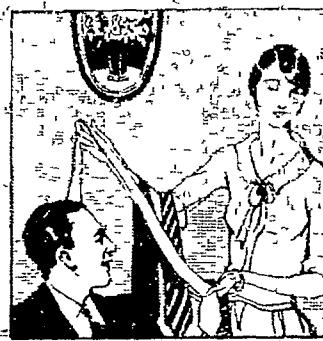

TURNBULL PLANS FOR BIG BUSINESS

Predicting one of the greatest years in electric refrigeration for domestic purposes since the advent of this model method of food preservation to the home, C. B. Turnbull of the Northville Electric Shop, is making plans to handle an exceptionally business during the coming year.

The Kelvinator plant, which is being erected part way between this place and Detroit, on the Plymouth road when completed will be the largest plant of its kind in the world and because of the age ness of the institution to this place, he believes it will exert an effect on local business.

"We are expecting important announcements from now on, in connection with this new system of home refrigeration. New pieces make possible for almost anyone to buy one," said Mr. Turnbull. "Our idea is to carry a complete line of the product."

The zoology class of the Roosevelt high school of Ypsilanti paid a visit to the United States fish hatchery here last Friday. John M. LaRue is a member of the class, and he remained until Sunday, to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Seeley.

New Silk Neckties for 10¢ a Dozen!

"Look at these ties you were going to throw away! They are just as good as new now. I cleaned them with Solvite dry cleaning soap and saved the cost of $2 dozen new ties."

"Women find it easy to save five to ten dollars a month by using Solvite. It can be used in ordinary soap and water. Solvite is an amazing new dry cleaning soap. Dissolved in gasoline, it cleans hats, slippers, dresses, neckties, collars, lace and many other things and makes them just like new. Nothing beats it, ladies, or wrinkles. Cr. "GOING CROOKED"

It was, as chance, without doubt, that the Penniman-Allen theater showed the picture, "Going Crooked," on Tuesday evening. A chance that the picture happened to be displayed at a time when the question of capital punishment is uppermost in the minds of the citizens of this state. The picture was a tremendous argument against capital punishment, although there was not a line or word relative to the subject.

Briefly a youth had been arrested for murder. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to death. The story had him in the electric chair with the executioner about to turn on the deadly current when a confession was secured from the real murderer and the innocent lad was saved from a desecrated death.

It was simply a story in picture, but has happened many times. Whatever one's idea might be on capital punishment, the picture couldn't help but raise the question in one's mind as to the justness of the infliction of the death penalty. The picture was timely, and its presentation was a good thing, because it will forcibly cause one to give thought to an important question before the legislature at this time.

THE CITIZENSHIP CONTEST.

There is no question but what the mothers and fathers of Northville will give considerable attention to the citizenship contest that is to be conducted at the Northville high school at the end of the year. Contests are to be made to students who rank the highest in matters that make for perfect women and better men. Good school work also counts.

The first is an excellent one and from information that has been received they have been conducted in secret around among the students. It is the hope of school authorities as well as the students that the pupils of Northville will take an active interest in the contests, and that some of them will win the school and give fine talks on the subject.

It is strongly urged that parents not neglect giving their children the opportunity to attain higher citizenship standards. Possibly it doesn't mean so much right now, but only if it doesn't look as though and that should be given up but in years to come it will be manifested by a higher citizenship than that which now prevails.

Can it be possible that the folks over in Lansing have, at last in favor of that former Governor Greenback removed Tom Johnson from other causes other than politics?

There is no special reason why Northville organizations should stop outside corporate limits to secure banquet speakers when the Rev. Richards and President Don Yerkes, Jr., of the Exchange club can be engaged.

Whistling Policeman

Is Saved by Whistle. New York.—There was considerable whistling early in the morning in the vicinity of Manhattan Avenue and One Hundred and Eighteenth street.

Patrolman Frank Ryan of the West One hundredth street station was making his rounds just before daylight while solemnly contemplating his won's a weighty metaphysical problem. He was just speculating as to what would have been the fate of Europe had Napoleon not had a cold the night before the battle of Waterloo when he was interrupted by the sight of three men trying to break into Samuel Lipman's drug store at the intersection of the aforementioned thoroughfares.

"Whew—" warned Patrolman Ryan to himself.

"When I whistled the three men on finding themselves thus rudely interrupted."

"When," sheeshed Patrolman Ryan, as he saw the men running to their automobile.

The driver swerved his car and he down on him. He pulled his gun and fired three times. The trio returned the salute. A fourth hit him on the hip and felled him.

All of which gave Patrolman Ryan a new problem. For it was his voice, silent all through the intermission, that deflected the bullet that passed straight for his body.

FRANK HAMILTON
GIVEN SURPRISE
ON HIS BIRTHDAY

Poem Written Especially for Event Read to Gathering

Friends and relatives did not permit Frank Hamilton to pass his 64th birthday February 3rd without letting him know in a most pleasant way that they had not forgotten it. He was given a surprise party at the home of his son, Charles, on the South Lyon road, that he will long remember. The affair was planned by his son and wife and proved a most delightful one. There were twenty-four present from Novi, Northville and Kalamazoo.

After a sumptuous dinner, Mrs. Ida Hendrix read the following excellent poem written by Charles Burgess of Kalamazoo especially for the occasion:

As we gather here within this place
To celebrate your natal day,
Just put a smile upon your face
And throw your every care away.
Long years have passed since you
First beheld the light of day.
The glorious light of that first day
And all your feeble hopes were stilled
By mother who has passed away.
And then you grew to manhood and Pride,
To take your place among the men;
And attain some end sublime
By hand or brain or tongue or pen.
And you can now remember
The friends of long ago;
Their face and form familiar
In the twilight's softened glow.
Now they come trooping round you,
To fill your heart with joy,
As they all stand before you.
There is every girl and boy,
And though the night is dreary,
And the storm beats on the blind,
And all the soul is weary.
There is one bright gleam to bind
The old scenes 'midst 'em again,
So full of that sweet joy,
When life was just one sweet refrain.
To all those girls and boys
The old home standing by the road,
That leads around the lake,
The flowers, blooming in the sun,
The sun trees by the gate,
At the cross road in the dead house still,
Standing in forgotten spans,
It brings into your mind a truth,
And to your eyes the tears Burst the years with trouble brought Had birth, you draw with heavy load
And my experience dearly bought,
Paul met with you in ever road
Youth and a lot more fled
And left with them over their shoulders
A load that the earth has sped
We last been rid in 1916, yet each
Now waiting for that hour supposing When in poor condition, when laid to rest,
We part to sleep and hope to dream
At the door where we lived best.

We knew our number will be gone
When we left, circled nature's debt,
May our lips speak some sacred song
And pray that God will not forget.

PROGRAM OF MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST GIVEN

Woman's Club Fortunate in Securing Exceptionally Good Numbers

In recognition of Past Presidents' Day, the Northville Woman's Club held its annual luncheon in the parlors of the Presbyterian Church on Friday February 11th, with sixty members present.

The luncheon committee is to be complimented on the delicious lunch and the manager in which it was served; also the decoration committee for the attractively decorated tables and their arrangement. The ladies who composed the committee were: Mrs. L. J. Haab, Mrs. J. A. Black, Mrs. E. J. Chapman, Mrs. J. R. Walker, Miss Marian Power Mrs. S. Neal, Mrs. C. H. Schoutz, Mrs. D. B. Baum, Mrs. E. L. Mills - Mrs. Elmer Smith Mrs. H. A. Boyden.

After the luncheon had been enjoyed by all, Mrs. W. H. Cattermole chairman of the day, after a few remarks opened the program by introducing Wayne VanDyke who delighted the audience by singing in his usual happy manner, the song "Silva". This called for an encore which he readily responded.

Mrs. Cattermole introduced Miss Mayan Stowe as collector in the speech department of the Normal College at Ypsilanti who delighted the audience with her recitations. The first group consisted of "America" for McVanLyke; "House by the Side of the Road" - Foss "Bell of St. Michel" - Drummond.

Mrs. Katherine Stewart sang in a pleasing manner, the song, "Whistle and I'll come see my Lad," and followed with an encore.

Mrs. Stowe's second group consisted of a humorous selection from a scene in "The Merchant of Venice" (a conversation between Portia and Nerissa). Another one, taken from "Les Misérables" where the meeting between Jean Valjean and Cosette was dramatically portrayed and poem by the negro poet, Paul Lawrence Dunbar.

She closed the program by giving Dooley's Irish Version of the "Grip". The club members consider it a special favor that Mrs. Cattermole was able to secure Miss Stowe for the occasion. The day's entire program was an exceptionally interesting and enjoyable one.

CREDIT BUREAU IS GROWING RAPIDLY

Exceptional growth is being made by the local Credit Bureau, which has been operating now for a little over one year. They are adding new members and gaining more prestige as time goes on.

They have at their command, not only reports from the local merchants, but are affiliated with over fifty bureaus in Michigan, and approximately 800 throughout the United States and Canada, which enables them to secure reports on over 60,000,000 persons. This information is contributed by over 100,000 merchants, and a vast membership in the bureau gives the merchant access to this vast amount of valuable information.

The local bureau, with its seventy-one members and approximately 5,000 master cards is a part of this national organization.

Twelve Years OF DEPENDABILITY

It was Dodge Brothers' distinction, twelve years ago, to create a more dependable car in its price class than previously had been known.

This enviable leadership Dodge Brothers have rigidly maintained.

Wherever difficult conditions try the souls of men and the stamina of motor cars, you will find Dodge Brothers products foremost in favor.

You will find also that six, eight and even ten years of service are not exceptional for the car; that frequently it delivers mileage running well into six figures; and that maintenance cost is remarkably low throughout its long and useful life. These facts powerfully witness Dodge Brothers' success in constantly bettering a product that was exceptional even at the start.

HUFF DECLARES BUSINESS YEAR LOOKS VERY GOOD

Back from Convention With High Praise for His Home Town

James A. Huff has returned from the state convention of hardware dealers held at Grand Rapids. He says it was one of the largest and most interesting ever held in the state.

He was especially pleased with the attractive booth of the Bell Furnace & Manufacturing Company. It was conducted under the supervision of Manager Sherith Alsböer, who was assisted by one of the salesmen of the company, Mr. Darlington," said Mr. Huff.

"After visiting other places while I was away, I have come to the conclusion that I would rather do business where I used to play marbles than push the rolling stone."

"There has been a rather unusual business condition develop for so long as it affects local business," said Mr. Huff.

From what he states the Farmington hardware, in conjunction with Mr. Huff, while at Grand Rapids, signed up for a big carload of nails and wire, to be shipped from Pittsburgh. As no steam freight cars are permitted unloading at some point nearer downtown.

It is difficult to believe there has been such a change in the hardware mercantile now required for the community; and as I looked around at the Grand Rapids exhibits, I thought how fortunate the people of Northville are. There was little of anything displayed that could not be carried east or the other way. There was heavy buying from both ends of the passenger automobile market. John H. Goss, of the Ford Motor Company, was present, and he said that he thought the market for the automobile in Northville was about the same as in Grand Rapids.

The Board of Trade, and the Chamber of Commerce, are doing a great deal to help the city, and they are doing a good job.

NORTHVILLE LEADS STATE IN AID TO THE CRIPPLED TOTS

No Other Place Gave So Much, Director of Work Says in Talk.

With this community assuming task, it has the reputation of being it well.

This was most evident again Monday night when May or Hugh Vander-Walker of Plymouth, who is directing the Rotary campaign for crippled children in Michigan, told Rotarians that Northville has the largest percentage of any community or city of its size in the state on the crippled children's roll.

He paid especial tribute to members of the Exchange Club for their cooperation in assuring the Rotary members in giving this community the highest standing of any other place in the state. Exchange members joined actively with the Rotary Club in the campaign that was carried on so successfully last fall.

LEAVES FOR TOUR OF OLD WORLD—TO BE GONE 10 MONTHS

Mrs. Agnes Killett to Visit Many Historical Places During the Trip

Mrs. Agnes Killett, in company with Mrs. May McNeil of Detroit, a sister of Mrs. Horace Dodge Dillman, left last Friday for New York to embark on the ocean liner, Samaria. The two ladies are now enjoying the first "lap" of a ten-months voyage, the goal of Mrs. Dodge-Dillman. The trip includes a cruise of the Mediterranean, with stops for side trips to all the interesting places, we have read about, and never seen—the Sphinx in Egypt, the ancient wonders of Athens, the gondolas of Venice, and on to the Holy Land, rich in its record of Scripture lore.

Mrs. Killett says that when in Monte Carlo she must place a dollar on the roulette wheel win or lose, to see if she can experience the "gambler's thrill".

When they return to Southampton the cruise is ended but they are to visit England, Ireland and Wales and will spend some time in Scotland this being the land of Mrs. Killett's birth.

Mrs. Killett was escorted to her train in Detroit by her daughter, Mrs. L. D. Stage, Jr., Mrs. Stage and son Billy together with a number of friends. While in New York they were at the Ritz hotel and saw as many of Broadway plays as time permitted. Since Mrs. Killett embarked Mrs. Stage has received a wire to the effect that they are both well and are prepared to enjoy the trip to the uppermost:

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Work on the new theatre building over in Wayne is progressing rapidly, and the structure will doubtless be completed early in the spring.

Burglars have been busy around Terndale lately. Many homes have been looted.

In Birmingham they are talking of enforcing the old "blue law," which makes it illegal for anyone to go to a motion picture show, drink soda, pop or eat popcorn on Sunday. In fact, hubby couldn't shave and wife couldn't cook if there was a rigid enforcement of the ordinance.

Millford Exchangites recently entertained a number of club members from Lansing.

Brighton members of the W. C. T. U. are against that place becoming a city of the fifth class. It has been figured out that the move is liable to worldly. Folks over there are going to vote on the question soon.

Business men of Millford have decided to get after the outside solicitors. They are no longer going to contribute to outside solicitation for help of any kind, charitable investment or anything.

Redford is growing so fast that its high school now has over 1,000 students—an enrollment of at least 1,500 is expected for next fall.

Dearborn folks are interested in advertising that garage by the water front or 20,000 folders in the Dearborn show at Plymouth. The 125 yards long.

The Board of Trade, and the Chamber of Commerce, are doing a great deal to help the city, and they are doing a good job.

A C. Parker, who is reading the paper in the room above, informed Northville that vicinity with enthusiasm about his ability to help to raise the money needed at the City Square. Arkansas, equal to the Northville office, in postal route to from the former to leave for New Orleans next week, and then to Texas, Florida, and hopefully about April eight.

Dominance Among Straight Eights

Two years ago, with the coming of the Hupmobile Eight, an alert public quickly sensed the fact that here at last was an eight of new and sound simplicity.

An eight lavishly generous in miles-per-gallon, distinguished in smoothness and soft silence.

So Hupmobile quickly became the largest selling straight-eight in the world; making complete conquest not only of its own market, but taking unto itself large sections of new markets beyond.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes were Ann Arbor callers, Sunday.

Mrs. John Gow is in Detroit at the bedside of her sister, who is very ill.

Miss Rose Bassett, daughter of Mr.

Mrs. Charles Burgess has been spending the week at the homes of Frank Hamilton and other relatives living on the Fishery road in Northville, spent Sunday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Ford Brooks.

Don Hamilton is having exceptional luck as a trapper this winter. He sold $50 worth of muskrat pelts last week, and this represented a tort-night's catch.

The Novi Farmers Club will give a social at the home of Mrs. P. S.

Stevens in Novi, February 25th, the proceeds to be used in paying for Twenty-five chairs recently purchased.

We have been requested to correct an error in last week's notes. The members of the Mission Band inform us that they did not serve a pot-luck dinner to the thirty-eight present, for it was veritably a banquet.

The menu included everything from the soup to dessert, with much variety between. The members enjoyed the repast to the full, as the occasion taken up ample time and Mrs. J. O. Munro was voted a charming hostess. The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in February.

Mrs. Louise Heath of Wixom was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Eugene

Root, last week. Although nearing her ninety-fifth birthday, Mrs. Heath enjoys good health. On Wednesday, she recited a poem from Edgar Guest before the Wixom Farmers Club, and the following day gave another for the Mission Band. As we well know, Mrs. Heath memorized these selections in recent years. She said it is easier what you say than number, it is essential that one keeps up-to-date, and that an active mind assures an active body.

On February 25th the Novi Club will give an anniversary dance at the

Novi L. O. O. Hall. This lodge is located Lake Redford, Novi,

was given a charter February

29, 1922, with twelve charter members. Last Saturday evening an invitational dinner was held at the Novi L. O. O. Hall. The

ladies were invited to have their neighbors there to select you as a reception committee.

With this in view that the Novi L. O. O. Hall is to be held on Saturday evening, February 25th, 1927, at 8:00 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend the dance.

The Missions Band will sponsor a

Father and Son banquet, to be given

February 22nd in the Baptist church dining hall. Mrs. Loren Flint and Mrs. Frank Rule are on the program committee, and they expect to produce some good speakers for the evening. With Mrs. Esther Munro in charge of the dining room and kitchen you are assured of delicious repast. Tickets are on sale and may be secured at the parsonage or from any member of the Mission Band.

One of the features of the evening will be the award of a prize to the father attending with the greatest number of sons.

On Wednesday of last week the pleasant farm home of Mr. and Mrs.

R. J. Chapman was the scene of an enjoyable gathering. About fifty members of the Novi Farmers Club and 2d part of a 4th class dinner

after the meal, a most delightful one, was served, an excellent program was given. Mr. Neissmaier, the teacher of art work in the Walled Lake high school gave a talk. There were recitations by Mrs. T. H. Shantz of Novi, Mrs. Heath of Wixom, and both were greeted with much applause. David Gage, an old friend and neighbor rendered a number entitled "Tapestry Weaving," and Mrs.

Eugene Root gave a reading on George Washington. The feature of the meeting was a discussion on "Cooperative Marketing" ably presented by Mr. Seegerman of Ann Arbor.

There were many delightful musical numbers and the usual question how conducted by Charles Wedow. Mr.

Long live The Northville Record!

"Coming years will see great forward strides in this important field of transportation. Northville has in the Stinson Aircraft Co. an important factor in community growth. This will become increasingly apparent as the years go by. What the future holds for us in this line is greater than we can possibly imagine."

"Why not tell people about Northville? Why not send copies of our local paper to those who ought to be living there?" "Why not show every one we meet that we have a real town and are proud of it?" "Why not co-operate for the common good? Every factor that helps Northville grow along healthy clean, and whole some lines benefits every individual who lives here!"

"People today want fine large homesites. Such homesites are available in Northville. Forty foot lots and additional business frontage should have no place in the future of Northville. Out-of-town friends will be attracted to the larger homesites. Half acres—acres—and larger estates will bring to Northville many good neighbors and friends."

THE SHOEMEN

N. H. S. STUDENT NEWS.

Tuesday evening, February 13th, the Senior class of the Northville High School held a class party. The committee in charge was Vena Austin, Vivian Taylor, and Ruth Foreman. The party was held in the high school. Supper was served, and Tom Woodbury, president of the class, acted as toastmaster. The guests of the class were Miss L. Neely and Miss Ruth Butts. It was a most pleasant affair with a great deal of merriment.

Miss Lathers, the domestic science teacher, had charge of the assembly program, in the assembly hall, Friday afternoon. Erwin Sibley acted as spokesman of the program which was well presented. It consisted of several numbers by Jim Wood's string quartet, and a style show, in which there were dresses from over a period of 127 years. This was presented by girls from Miss Lathers' classes.

Following the assembly program, a pep meeting took place. A short talk was given by Coach Walker, and following this, our cheer leaders, dressed in their orange and black costumes, led several yells.

In a very fast game with little scoring and close guarding Plymouth defeated Northville by a score of 8 to 13, last Friday night. The Northville team played a hard-fought, fast-fighting game and the last. The game was witnessed by the largest crowd of the season. Northville plays its next game at Farmington Friday, February 18th.

The girl's game which was to have been played here last week between Northville and Birmingham will be delayed Tuesday, February 22nd, in the names of the Administration Free.

The second game, however, was played Saturday, February 18th, and a score of 25 to 11. The game was a good one, with both teams playing well. The final score was 25 to 11. The game was played under the direction of Mr. Miller.

DETROIT AMUSEMENTS

THE CIRCUS MAXIMUS TO OPEN FRIDAY FOR 3000 WITH ERIC BROWN AS DIRECTOR

Eric Brown returns to Detroit for his third year as director of the Circus Maximus, the New Detroit Spectacle. On the beginning of the theatrical season, he will return to that playhouse for an engagement of six weeks, beginning Friday night, February 20, with a program twice daily thereafter.

The mass of scenes, 150, surrounding the making of "The Hat" were of a nature to exhaust half a dozen ordinary directors. Eric Brown, as director, in "The Hat," was brought about not only in reason of his technical skill and acumen with stage experience, but also because of his diplomatic and business qualities and his wide experience as a world traveler.

A group of dances for one of the sequences could be found only in Paris, and had to be imported from there to Rome. And so on through the entire filming of this stupendous picture. The Circus Maximus racing and the sea night cost at least half a million apiece and the labors of many thousands of persons. The total cost of the picture is around $1,000,000, and was three years in the making.

KATHARINE CORNELL AT THE GARRICK

Katharine Cornell will appear in "The Green Hat" at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, for one week, beginning Sunday, February 20th. It was two seasons ago that Miss Cornell, then a featured player in the Michael Arlen romance, but now a full-fledged star, graced the stage of the same theatre in "The Green Hat," and won the plaudits of vast audiences by reason of her splendid portrayal of Iris March, the girl who found it impossible to control her passionate impulses. It was in Detroit, that Michael Arlen's colorful play entered upon a career that has carried it through profitable engagements in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and nearly every other city in the country.

"The Green Hat" was as widely read a novel as this country knew two years ago, and upon the completion of its long Broadway run was voted one of the ten best plays of the season.

Mail orders will be accepted and the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will prevail.

WHAT PRICE GLORY? TO LEAVE DETROIT SOON

With the end of its record-shattering engagement in sight, "What Price Glory" continues to pack the Shubert-Lafayette theatre, Detroit, and it is feared that many late comers will be turned away from the final performances. The fact that the picture will not be presented elsewhere in Michigan this year is probably a factor in luring great numbers of out-of-town patrons and by way of warning to these, it is suggested that seats be bought well ahead. All seats are reserved, and can be bought in advance by telephone, mail-order or personal visit to the office.

"What Price Glory?" is presented twice daily at 2:15 and 8:45. Sunday matinees at 3:00 p.m.

ZIMMER SENDS 50 STUDENTS DOWN TO THE SHRINE CIRCUS

Seniors and Juniors Spend Day in Detroit at Masonic Event

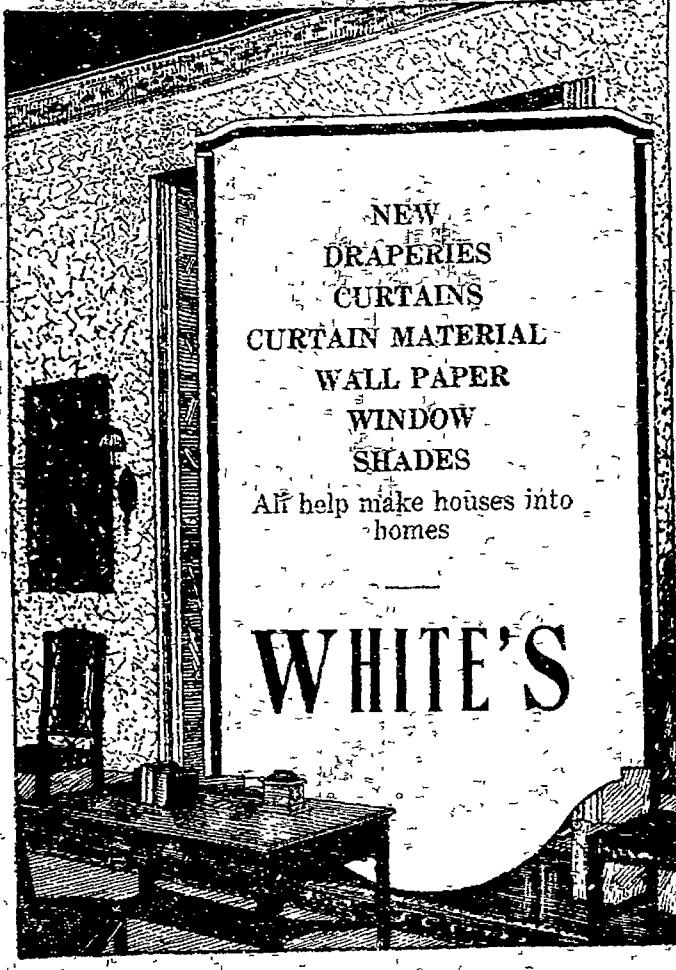

Fifty students of the Northville high school had the unusual advantage of visiting the Shrine circus in Detroit, Wednesday, as the result of the courtesy of A. M. Zimmer. He secured fifty tickets and presented them to members of the Senior class of the school. The number was sufficient to enable the Seniors to invite the Juniors, and as a result the fifty students visited the Shrine circus on Wednesday, having a most pleasant time.

The students drove over to Detroit where they spent the greater part of the day at school activities, having consented to the visit. Both of these classes having been doing excellent school work, and it was because of this fact that there was no objection to the brief vacation made so pleasant possible by Mr. Zimmer.

Lloyd Wilcox Tells of Benefit of Organization to Aid Afflicted

Lloyd Wilcox, a former Northville resident, now publicity director of the Oregon Tuberculosis Society in Portland, Oregon, in a letter to the Wayne county organization tells of his recovery from the disease through the aid of the organization. His letter, sent to the editor of the "Cheer-O-Gram," the little publication issued by the Wayne Tuberculosis Society, follows:

"I've just been musing upon the fact that our world isn't so large after all, a trite remark, but a most happy fact."

"I was at one time a resident of Northville. After two years service in the Army during the war, I returned to this country, an incipient T. B. "Chased the cure" at Greenville, S. C., went from there to Ohio State University, and completed a college course I had started before the war. After graduating I taught Social Statistics at Ohio State and then accepted a position with the National Tuberculosis Association."

"After five years as an 'arrested case,' I married the girl who had so patiently waited for me."

"In August, 1926, the National association sent me to Oregon, where a referendum was to be voted upon for a new tuberculosis hospital. We staged a publicity campaign that put the referendum over the top by a majority of 82,712 votes. By that time, my wife and I had become so fond of the Oregon that I accepted a position with the Oregon Tuberculosis Association."

"And now, more or less regularly I find, 'Cheer-O-Gram' on my desk and read it from cover to cover, like a letter from home. The world isn't so big, after all, especially to cure-chasers who have so much in common."

"Just six successful cure-chasers are listed with a bold seal on fighting-pulpit the enemy they have personally conquered. It's a great sight worthy of every cure-chaser's allegiance."

"I judge that 'Cheer-O-Gram' is open to all 'graduates,' and I am placing a broad interpretation upon this by offering this letter for your use. This is not a matter of personal prestige."

ing, but is offered with the hope that other cure-chasers may see in the future the possibility for service to humanity and gain from that vision a new sense of personal worth that will help them in their present fight."

WHO OWNS COURT HOUSE PROPERTY OVER IN PONTIAC?

Court is Asked to Pass Upon Question—May Decide Soon.

Judge Fred S. Lamb of Cadillac has under advisement Oakland county's suit to quiet the title to its court house and jail property at the southwest corner of Saginaw and Huron streets, in the heart of the Pontiac business section. The county sued the heirs of Stephen Mack, trustee of the old Pontiac Co., to determine whether a reversionary clause in the deed given by Mack to the county in 1832 is valid. If it is binding, the county cannot sell the site to build a new court house or a larger one.

If on the other hand, the site can be sold, enough money will be realized from it to buy a larger site and apply on the building of a new court house.

Testimony in the case was heard before Judge Lamb, who was brought to Pontiac to sit in the case.

It is the contention of the county that Mack, who was one of the original fifteen members of the Pontiac Co., the group that platted Pontiac in 1819, never was authorized by the company to insert a reversionary clause in the deed to the county.

Three lots were given the county if it would construct a court house and jail, thereby making Pontiac the county seat. Land at that time was worth about $100 an acre in that vicinity.

The outcome of the suit is being awaited with interest by not a city and county, for tied up with the proposed sale of the court house land is a project for a civic center.

Twenty-six descendants of Stephen

Mack entered their appearances in the case and are contesting the right of the county to sell the three lots.

They are claiming no claim in the land

as long as it is used for court house purposes, but insist that if the county ever attempts to sell, they are entitled to an interest through the provisions of the old deed.

QUALITY MERCANDISE

Seventeen years on Northville's Main Street has taught us that the people of this community demand the very highest quality of merchandise at all times. Our experience has also taught us that nationally advertised lines are very apt to embrace everything that high quality demands. The prices are kept right by the immensity of their production.

Maywood.

The host of friends of Mrs. Carl R.

Ely, will be greatly pleased to know that she is rapidly improving from her recent serious operation in Terre Hilis. Mr. Ely hopes that she will be able to leave the hospital this week. However, she will not be brought direct to her home in Northville, as she plans to spend some time at the home of relatives in Detroit.

Three as pretty deer head as were ever mounted are on display in the window of the Ward hardware store.

The deer were killed last fall by

Walker Ward, Fred Hicks and Ross

Kerner, in the Upper Peninsula.

Their camp was way up near the shoreline of Lake Superior. The mounting was done over at Vassar and is regarded as an excellent job.

TEXAS TOWN CLAIMS
MANY DISTINCTIONS

Only County Seat Without Jail, Is Boast

Lefors, Texas.—This quaint town in Northeast Texas has so many distinctions they must be enumerated in some kind of sequence. Among these are the following:

Lefors is the smallest county seat in Texas.

Lefors boasts that it is the only county seat without a jail. The jail has been leased to a neighboring town.

Though located on an otherwise treeless plain, the town is bordered by a forest of giant cottonwoods.

This fact leads to another distinction. The town has the only saw mill in a territory larger than half a dozen northern or eastern states. There are no other saw mills out on the plains because there is no wood to saw.

The water wells are only nine feet deep in Lefors.

But perhaps the most interesting facts are these: The cottonwood trees bear grapes and virtually all the residents drink grape juice the year round, and although fifty years ago this town's cemetery contained only four graves.

Near the town is the Valley of Lefors, formed by a branch of the Red River, which separates Texas from Oklahoma. This valley gives the impression that it is a corner of Japan or an imaginary kingdom in a dream.

While the vines may be swept by cold winds, and the frost may even blow down from the north, the Valley of Lefors is warm and cozy behind its rock wall shelter.

The towering cottonwoods do not actually bear grapes, but they support the blue grape vines that envelop them and hang down the trees. Here projected grapevines of all kinds and the other blossoms enhance the landscape picture.

From the wild grapevines, a crop of grapes is harvested every year. The juice of these fruits forms a very rich liquor.

DEATH FOLLOWS AN ILLNESS OF MONTHS

Andrew Carlos Harmon, whose death was briefly mentioned in this paper last week, passed away at his home in Detroit, Thursday, February 10th, in the eighteenth year of his age. He was born in Nov., August 11, 1889, a member of one of the oldest and well known families of that section his father and grandfather, Carlos Harmon I and II, having settled there while Michigan was still a territory, the former, a surveyor, later serving as justice of the peace in that township for thirty consecutive years.

Andrew Harmon lived on the farm until 1898, when he purchased a home in Northville, where he lived for twenty-two years, moving to Detroit in 1920. He had been in poor health for the past three or four years, and a great sufferer for the last few months, with sciatica, late developing pernicious anemia.

The immediate surviving relatives are the wife, Della Fuller Harmon; a son Harry W.; a brother, Emmie Harmon of Milford, two granddaughters Frances Harmon and Mrs. A. L. Ray, and a grandson, Paul; also three great grandchildren, all of Detroit. In accordance with a family arrangement of long standing, the body was interred at the Detroit Crematorium, the services at the chapel there conducted by Rev. Dr. Floyd Johnson of the First Pres. M. E. church. The burial will take place later in the family lot in the Novi cemetery.

It can be truthfully said of Mr. Harmon that he was a loving husband, a devoted father, a good neighbor and an upright, law-abiding citizen of the community where his life was spent.

Great Railroad Builder

Henry Deveze, a San Francisco lumberman, born Jan. 13, 1851, went to China and later to Peru. He proved to be a success in both countries, becoming a millionaire in each.

He died in Peru in 1919, leaving a widow and two sons.
