START MOVE TO LIGHT HIGHWAY TOWARDS SOUTH

Village President Begins Circulation of the Petitions

Circulation of petitions have been started by Elmer Smith, president of the village of Northville, to secure submission at the coming spring township election the question of lighting the Northville-Plymouth road as far as the township line near the Ford Waterford factory.

It has already been decided by the township of Plymouth to light the highway as far as the line, and if Northville township acts favorably upon the question when placed before the voters, it will assure a lighted road the entire distance between the two communities.

President Smith has secured some data which shows that the cost will not be large. There are but 31 lights needed for the Northville end of the proposed improvement and the cost of operating these lights will be relatively small, especially when the benefit to be derived from their installation is considered.

The circulation of the petitions will continue for a few days, giving every one who is a qualified voter a chance to sign.

RED CROSS GIVES REPORT OF DRIVE MADE BY CHAPTER

Campaign for Funds is Not as Successful as in Past Years

The annual Red Cross roll call for Northville township has been completed with a total of $14,990 was received as a result of the efforts of the ladies having the affair in charge.

Three fourths of the amount received has been forwarded to the Wayne County Chapter, which in turn sends fifty per cent of the total amount received in the national headquarters, reserving twenty-five per cent for use in Wayne county outside of Detroit.

The local committee has some funds on hand, and will be glad to assist in any worthy cause that may be reported to them.

The response to the roll call was not as generous as it ought to have been. It should be a privilege, and it is a duty, for everyone to aid, in some degree at least, in the good work of this organization, which stands ever ready to serve, wherever and whenever there may be need.

So other organization is so pre-eminently equipped for instant and far-reaching service, no matter in what part of the world, and to respond humanely and intelligently to the call of distress and disaster. There is only one Red Cross.

BIRMINGHAM TEAM LOST TO NORTHLVILLE

Last Tuesday evening the Birmingham girls' basketball team came here to play the long awaited game. Both teams were very evenly matched, but the Birmingham team was handicapped by their short guards. The Northville team received but two practices the week before, as the gymnasium was occupied. At the end of the half the score was 13-17 with Northville in the lead. Each girl deserves credit for the splendid work that was shown during the game. The score was 32-23 in favor of Northville.

JUNIOR CLASS IS PLANNING PARTY

Arrangements are being made for the annual Junior class party which will take place this year on the evening of April Fool's day. The students are going to have the event in keeping with the date selected, and they expect to make it one of the big affairs of the year. A popular orchestra will be secured to play for the dance. Complete details will be announced later.

Mrs. Sophia M. LaPearl, aged 49 years, died after a brief illness at her home on East Dunlap street, Wednesday morning. Her husband survives. The funeral will be held Friday forenoon from Our Lady of Victory church.

NEW PRESSURE TANK WHICH GIVES TO NORTHLVILLE ITS GOOD GAS SERVICE

SUCCESS OF PLAT OPENING PROVES SURPRISE TO ALL

Even the Hillcrest Manor Backers Did Not Expect So Many Sales

Opening of Northville's first subdivision this year, announced in the last issue of The Record, took place this week, and preliminary reservations have exceeded all expectations of those who promoted the venture.

The plat, known as Hillcrest Manor containing something like 75 lots, has already been partially sold, and most of the buyers are Northville residents.

The big sum of $22,275.00 was the total amount of property received during the first three days of the sale, and with weather conditions anything but favorable for outdoor development sales. Mr. Smith, manager for Fox Dye Inc., attributes the success in opening the property to four factors:

"In the first place, the property is naturally beautiful and ideal for location. Second its development has been very carefully planned and restricted to insure the maintenance of its high character. Third, Northville is ready for just such a property, especially at the favorable prices at which Hillcrest is offered. Fourth, last and of equal importance, Hillcrest has been so advertised that every one in the village knows about it, and realizes the fact that the future here is full of promise. We have received dozens of inquiries directly from the Record advertising," he said.

"I have always believed in advertising, providing you have a property or merchandise that will merit it. And I believe that if a property or merchandise won't merit advertising it's a good idea to switch to something that will. We are glad to hear the very favorable comment that Hillcrest Manor has caused and look forward to the rapid development and building activity on the property."

George F. Wilcox, son of Mrs. Fred Wilcox, who resides at Wing and Cadet streets, was married to Mrs. Hazel Frances at Pontiac on February 17th according to announcements just received here. The young couple will reside in Detroit, where Mr. Wilcox is employed as a civil engineer. He has many friends in Northville.

SKETCH BY EDWARD GODDARD COOK

Some really beautiful entrances to Northville's latest and finest residential section will charm the eye of those who like fine things.

The timber used will be about one foot square giving an added impression of security, beauty, and high character. A heavy stone and concrete base adds to a property which is unique in its unusual charm.

Such entrances as these are a distant community asset, as they add to the attractiveness of the village.

The owners are to be commended for the added beauty which they are contributing.

NEW BUILDING FOR CENTER ST. IS ANNOUNCED

Dr. R. Schuyler to Erect an Attractive Structure Early in Spring

Another building project for North Center street was announced yesterday by Dr. R. Schuyler, owner of the property located just north of the Schrader Furniture store.

The business structure will be a modern one in every way, covering a ground space of 25x75 feet. The 25 foot frontage on North Center street will be in keeping with the height of structures that prevail along that side of the street, and that site to be built this year.

While the structure will be only one story high, it will be erected at a height of 16 feet, doing away with any appearance of being just a mere building to house some store.

The front will be built out of a high grade pressed brick, probably a cream color. There will be no basement and the floor will be marbled in Mosaic design.

Dr. Schuyler has leased the place to John W. Walker, who will conduct a high grade billiard parlor in the place.

Work on the building will start just as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

ST. PATRICK'S BANQUET TO BE HELD MARCH 15

Event Will be Celebrated in Community Way at High School Gym

Arrangements are being made for one of the biggest St. Patrick's banquets ever held in Northville, became known yesterday when Father Joseph Schuyler, pastor of The Lady of Victory church, secured the High School gymnasium for the event which will take place on Tuesday evening, March 15th.

He is not yet ready to announce the speakers for the event, although he has already secured a toastmaster for the evening, M. J. Murphy of the Globe Furniture Company. Letters of invitation have been sent out to numerous well-known speakers in Detroit and elsewhere and by the end of another week a program or exhibition will have been arranged he stated.

It is the hope of those in charge of the banquet to have an attendance of between 200 and 300 and so that every one in Northville and vicinity may enjoy the event, it will be made a community affair, with an invitation extended to attendees of any of the churches to come and take part.

TO SELL PROPERTY IN FAMILY 97 YEARS

Charles Riddle, who lives over on the Power road, not quite five miles southeast of Northville, has decided to sell a portion of the property he now owns.

It is too expensive to build it as farm property and, so, in order to realize the greatest return on his investment, he will sell it when it will be more valuable.

My grandfather bought it from a man named Trier, who took it up from the government. My father owned it after him and now for many years I have owned it. But it is my purpose to retain a small portion of it for my home.

A year ago some Detroit parties had an option to buy 75 acres from me, and when the day came for the deal to be closed they backed out. But I was about the happiest man in this country. But the time is coming when I have really got to let it go, and few realize how hard it is to do it because of the fact that the property has been in the family so many years.

NORTHLVILLE FORD PLANTS VISITED BY FAMOUS WRITER

Miss Talbott Spends Considerable Time Going Thru the Factories

Miss Talbott, one of America's most distinguished writers, was a visitor in Northville Monday. She spent a number of hours going through the various Ford industries located in and near Northville.

The writer stated that she was gathering material for an article to be written in the near future dealing with the accomplishments of the greatest manufacturer in the world, but she did not state whether the article will be published in book form or turned over to some magazine.

That she was greatly impressed by the perfection of the Ford system of manufacturing was evident from her intense interest in what she saw. She spent considerable time in all of the local plants.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR GIRLS TEAM

Saturday night, February 26th, the Northville girls' basketball team played to the crowd another victory. The game was played between Oak Ridge and Northville. Because of the splendid coaching which the Northville girls received during the week, they were able to defeat their opponents by a 47 to 33 score. The players were as follows: Forwards, Geraldine Huff, Ruth Sessions; guards, Vera Austin, Vivian Taylor; center, Helen Hacking, Jessie Austin; Substitutes, Mary Jordan, Ernestine Wolfe, Edna Martin and Madeline Cole.

The next game will be played at Walled Lake, Friday, March 4th. Everyone is urged to come and help support Northville in winning another victory.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cochran left Monday for Florida, where they will spend the next few weeks.

Rich in Phosphorus. The Great nerve and Brain Food

Northville Take Notice

Recent large catches of fish in or adjacent to open waters at Green Bay, around the northwestern shore line of Lake Michigan, brings a special sale of this staple food to Northville and Plymouth residents. Word from the source of supply, says that these fish were "rozen alive right out on the ice while still looking." Plymouth people have been attending these special sales for the past few weeks. Northville neighbors are invited to come over and participate. The sales cannot last much longer.

GROWTH FORCES GAS COMPANY TO ENLARGE PLANT

Rapid Development in This Section Necessitates Extensive Work

Voice of the exceptional growth of Northville's population and surrounding communities, the Michigan Federal Gasoline Corporation has just completed extensive improvements at its plant.

One unit at the plant is now complete. It is an event of a breakdown in any piece of machinery a duplicate machine is ready to operate in its place.

Gas can now be made by the processes, coal and water gas.

Natural gas is made from coke and oil tanks.

It is natural from the fact that coke is used in the process.

In the event of a serious coal shortage this method could be used entirely.

The capacity of the water gas set is 45,000 feet per day.

A new coal oven has also been added which brings the capacity of the gas plant up to 225,000 cubic feet of gas per day, making a total capacity of 675,000 cubic feet per day.

When one considers that at present the plant is sending out only 150,000 cubic feet per day, it is readily seen that the new plant will take care of the load for years to come.

A new boiler of 150 horsepower was also added, giving the plant two boilers, either one of which is large enough for the plant operation.

A new duplicate exhauster and a washer cooler and purifier have been added to the plant equipment for cleaning and purifying the gas.

The storage capacity of the plant has been greatly enlarged by the addition of a new 100,000 cubic foot holder, and a 32-foot diameter horizontal holder, 75,000 cubic feet of gas under pressure.

The gas from the sphere is sent to Northville and Wayne under pressure.

Two new tar separators each having seven compartments, were put in operation last fall, which insures the removal of all tar.

The separators are built so as to prevent any tar from getting into the city sewers.

He believed also that much could be accomplished towards securing the paving of the Base Line road.

"I know that if a little persistence is shown that it can be accomplished.

These are matters that have come to my attention and I am simply presenting them to the club for thought,"

he said.

President Langford called for a briefer discussion of the subject, and many had ideas to express.

At a meeting next Monday the public affairs committee will have charge of the program.

During 1927 the company is completing further extension, among which are completing a new four-inch main to Northville and a coal and coke handling apparatus at the plant.

The new main to Northville will be in addition to the present three inch main which now supplies that city and will insure good service at all times. Further extension of mains will be made in Plymouth, Northville and Wayne as needed.

The company will continue in its policy of giving its consumers good gas service and hopes the people it serves will report any local trouble that may occur so that the trouble can be repaired at once.

PUBLIC MATTERS ARE CONSIDERED BY ROTARY CLUB

Committee Chairman Tells of Things Club Might Accomplish

One of the first Rotary Club is a body should get behind to help public objects was the idea expressed by Ernest Miller, who had charge of the program at Monday's meeting. He is chairman of what is termed the public committee, and the program of the day was under the direction of this committee.

He suggested that there were many things the club could do to secure publicity, but that as a matter of fact the problem in Northville was different than in most other places.

However, he thought there were many things that could be done by the club, and in the doing of these things naturally there would be considerable printed about its activities.

He called attention to the condition of the corner on the Base Line road just east of the Pere Marquette tracks, and of the inattention that had been given the badly needed improvement at this place.

It was his belief that the bridge should be moved and the sharp curve in the road taken out, which would make travel more safe.

He called attention to what the Davenport, Iowa, Rotary Club had done towards beautifying the city, by conducting a lawn and garden contest.

Through this effort many unattractive dumps about the city had been cleared away, lots that had been permitted to grow up to weeds had been turned into attractive garden spots;

alleys had been cleaned out; old buildings were given new coats of paint instead of being turned out along side of the roadway somewhere or onto vacant ground were disposed of, as well as a general effort on the part of resident and business institutions to make more attractive their lawns and flower gardens.

He believed also that much could

be accomplished towards securing the

paving of the Base Line road.

"I know that if a little persistence is shown that it can be accomplished.

These are matters that have come to my attention and I am simply presenting them to the club for thought,"

he said.

President Langford called for a briefer discussion of the subject, and

many had ideas to express.

At a meeting next Monday the public affairs committee will have charge of the program.

Modest hoods for passenger automobiles are put together in a series of prints or diagrams. No two pieces are identical, and the whole frame is covered with a light, flexible fabric. The hoods are light, flexible and it is claimed that body squeaks are eliminated.

Waste oil from automobile crank-cases is being used in Southern states to soak up sacks of sawdust and sand, which are then planted in mosquito-breeding waters.

Hopes that cover but a little ground are about the only hopes that come true

STUDENT'S TALK AT BANQUET MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION

Following is Extract of What Was Said by Carlyle Lovewell

So many favorable comments have been made relative to the talk given at the Father and Son Banquet by Carlyle C. Lovewell, that the Record has decided to print a greater portion of what he said. It follows:

Father, other fathers, and sons—you are all familiar with that great man's name who addressed his audience at Gettysburg with the words: "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, so conceived and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

Not so long ago our fathers met to dedicate a portion of their time to greater unity between father and son, so we are assembled here at this splendid banquet, not to criticize nor to interpret any codes or rules that might exist between us, but to concentrate on those phases which build up greater comradeship between father and son.

I indeed feel highly honored in that I have been asked to uphold the son's viewpoint here tonight. And I overstep my bounds in any way in trying to express myself, I feel every son here tonight would express himself as due alone to my eagerness to bring out those phases that tend towards greater unity between father and son.

Someone has made the statement that a son is the raw material of the parents' job, and anybody who tries to manufacture ought to know how his raw material feels about it.

One thing is certain and that is that the raw material thinks Dad is just about the whole thing. Just like Jimmie, who was sent on an errand, and when he was returning home a bigger boy came along and snatched the parcel from under his arm to the street. That was enough for Jimmie; he was going right home and get Dad and his Dad would show him a few things, and his Dad wasn't afraid of anybody or anything.

What confidence we have in our fathers, and how we mimic them. Because of this we admire the things they do, and I see the times they live. Thus in the routine of life our habits are formed by the example of our fathers.

The everyday life of a father means so much to us in building up that character of ours. One great step in building that character is adapting all to honor and perfect trust. Honesty, it is well known, and trust implicitly, we are quite apt to apply to fathers and trust him the same, as we have honor and if we honor ourselves by playing the game square with Dad, we are quite apt to play it square with the world.

If Dad plays the game square, then it is not great to follow his example. In the words of Charles Kelland, "Dad didn't tell me how to live, he lived and let me watch him."

Isn't it true that if Dad is going to be a shining example to his son, he must keep his own lamp well trimmed?

At Grace Barton sees in the world pay a generous homage to Mary Joseph's wife and the mother of Jesus and well it may. Her faith was firm at the end, she was one of those who stood bravely and trusting even at the foot of the cross.

The world remembers that and generously forgets that there were Times when her son was too great a mystery for her. Times when she and his brethren would have locked Him up as mad. We forget all this and remember her almighty best, and she deserves to be remembered. But Joseph we remember hardly at all. Yet he must have been a wonderful man. "Suffer the little children to come unto Me," Jesus said, holding out his tired arms, and smiling, just as His patient carpenter-father had opened his arms to his own children at the close of the wearying day.

With that memory of Joseph we draw his distinction—he so represented fatherhood to his own Son, that the Son could conceive of no more splendid title for God than the single title, "Father."

Looking at the side of son's commonly classed as devilry, and analyzing it, we find that it is merely love for adventure, life, for the most part, is still a game and when he plays truant from school, it is not because he wants to be bad but just for love of adventure.

There is no reward of riches for successful fathers, no distinguished service medal. We reverence Washington and Lincoln, but the men who gave them birth and training have disappeared from our remembrance; the great speech of Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be memorized and studied by all the American people, but the forefathers that brought forth on this continent a new nation will be thought little of.

"Do not grieve me after my death," murmured Samuel Wesley, on his deathbed.

ing bed. "God will then begin to manifest himself in my family." The world has erected no monument above Samuel Wesley, but the influence of his character will not perish. His is the proud heritage of unremembered fellowship of men who lose their lives in brotherhood and losing them gain immortality in the undying influence of their sons. It is up to us fellows, as sons, to show our appreciation to our fathers. Do not wait until something special comes up, but show it now. Don't wait until tomorrow, it may be too late but start today and make our fathers proud of us by building up that kind of a character that is worth being proud of.

AGE DOESN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE WITH THIS WORKER

Ford Employee Proud of What He Can Do—Says
Young Men Can't Beat Him

John Martin works down in the Ford factory.

He's a little past seventy-five years of age. The other day he came to the Record office to pay for his subscription.

And his visit was not only an interesting one, but most pleasant. Interesting and pleasant because here was a man who was immensely proud of the work he can accomplish for the master he was working for, a booster for his employer, and happy in his surroundings.

You know I assemble valves down there, and there isn't only one young fellow in the whole factory that can do as much as I can.

And he has to go some to do that, even though I am over 70 years of age. When I work for any one, I always like to give full measure," he said.

"I started working for Henry Ford at Waterford. I was put to shoveling. I didn't see how little dirt I could get on my shovel, but I drove it deep down in the ground and got just as much as I could cut. Well, I guess the bosses say I could work and I have always had a job with Henry Ford ever since. I am what they call an old man. I have worked for him about fifteen years now, and you can't find a better place to work than Ford's."

John Martin has no idea what is going to be printed, but such a statement is worth space it takes in any newspaper.

The everyday life of a father means so much to us in building up that character of ours. One great step in building that character is adapting all to honor and perfect trust.

Honesty, it is well known, and trust implicitly, we are quite apt to apply to fathers and trust him the same, as we have honor and if we honor ourselves by playing the game square with Dad, we are quite apt to play it square with the world.

TEXAS TOURISTS BACK HOME AFTER A PLEASANT TRIP

Highly Pleased with Visit to Land of Sunshine

Northville residents who made the ten-day trip to Texas and Old Mexico have returned to their homes after experiencing a most pleasant tour and were all enthused over the delightful climate of the region they visited. They reached Detroit Sunday morning.

N. C. Schrader, one of the most enthusiastic members of the party, declared that everyone had much more pleasure than they expected.

"We went down to New Orleans first and spent a day there. We drove around some and saw what the place looked like, and then started over to Houston, Texas. From Houston we took one of those fast inter-urban trains over to Galveston, where most of the party enjoyed a swim in the Gulf of Mexico. The water was just as warm as it is in the lakes here in summer time," he said.

The next day they were in Reynosa, Mexico, where there is no sale regular, user. Mr. Schrader didn't say that any of the members of the Northville party tasted it to see if there was any semblance of what used to be sold in this section of the world.

"But there were lots of places there where we got goods could be secured," he said.

"We took the new branch of the Southern Pacific up into the Rio Grande Valley. At Mission, Texas, we met some people from Waynesville, Michigan. They were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ponke and their daughter, Mrs. Raynor. They have a twenty-acre ranch there, part of it set out to fruit trees. A beautiful home has been constructed on the place. They spend each winter down there, having bought the ranch about four years ago. It is in the real estate business, Mr. Ponke being located at all times by others for the winter. I made of that beautiful country, it is hard to imagine how naturally it is down there. Everything was growing just like it does up here."

The Northville party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. James LaFram, Mr.

and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mr. and Mrs.

Mark Peckey, Mr. and Mrs. A. C.

S. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Braden,

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jr., Mr. and Mrs.

GRAHAM BROTHERS

SALES INCREASE

Graham Brothers, a division of Graham Brothers Inc., made and sold more telephones and telephone equipment in the month of January than during any previous January in the company's history. This is a definite answer to questions raised at the first of the year about what 1927 holds for the motor truck industry, according to officials.

Total commercial cars shipped from all Graham Brothers plants for the past month of this year totaled 1,250, as against 3,765 in January 1926, which is a 60 per cent increase over all preceding first months.

Now, production has been increased to 275 units a day, nearing the record peak established in May, 1926. Demand is still growing, the company reports.

Graham Brothers' factories in Detroit, Evansville, Indiana, Stockton, California, and Toronto, Ontario, are all working full time with a full force of men. This means substantially increased employment over the first part of last year, since the total plant size grew 41% during 1926 to take care of the constantly expanding markets.

LOCAL CHURCH IS AMONG LEADERS IN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Presbyterians of Northville Making Successful Aid Appeal

According to information given out from the headquarters of the Laymen's Committee which is directing the drive in the Presbyterian church masonic pension fund, Northville is among the leaders in contributions to this cause. Total gifts here even exceed the amount raised in places like Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Monroe and Royal Oak. On the date the report was issued there had been pledged in this place $1983.

In this Presbytery there are fifty-three churches, and so far there has been raised a total of $186,584. The quota assigned to this section is $380,000.

Rev. Frank P. Knowles has been devoting considerable time to this work, and the success he is meeting is reflected in the high total that Northville is able to report.

POSTMASTER NEAL TELLS BENEFITS OF AIR MAIL SERVICE

New Regulation Big Benefit to People Who Like Quick Delivery

Postmaster Frank Neal has received from the postal officials at Washington the new simplified post office regulations relative to the use of the air mail, which has been made more convenient for general use by the department.

"Any envelope with ten cents worth of postage stamps affixed—for the ordinary two page letter—and marked via air mail—will insure its prompt collection and dispatch. Post your air mail letters at the main post office. They will receive preferential treatment, and all speed will be exercised in their carriage," says Mr. Neal.

"Air mail addressed to cities and towns not located on the air routes will be transferred at the nearest junction point to the first available fast train."

"Air mail—one dime—saves time," the slogan selected for the promotion of the air service is now available for those who desire to use it in the form of a rubber stamp. One of these rubber stamps will be furnished to you free, upon application at the post office.

"The volume of air mail out of the Northville office is increasing at a most gratifying rate and I desire to heartily thank you and all the other good posters for this manifestation of your interest."

Alex Johnson in Letter to Record Sees Change
in Climate

In a letter to the Record, Alex H. Johnson, now in Sweden, states that he will be home the last of the present month, probably during the week of the 25th.

I would like to express to the Record my thanks for sending me the paper each week. It is just like a breath of home every time I get it, and I sure appreciate it. We have had a wonderful time ever since we came to this country, everybody outdoing themselves to show friendliness.

We have also had the most remarkable weather for this part of the world that has ever been seen here. Not a bit of cold to write this. The windows of my room are open now. That is some change for when I was home before. I always used to have 30 to 40 degrees below zero, or about three months steady.

The twenty years I have been away have worked quite a few changes at home. Life moves more slowly here than in America, but everything is up-to-date. The only thing that is not quite so common is bathrooms in other houses. Instead they have a lot of public bath houses. This part of the world furnishes most of the lumber for England, Germany, and France, also many other countries, as well as all the wood pulp used in paper. It is a big industry here—saw mills and pulp mills all over the world. Ships from all over the world come here for their loads.

We are all well and happy but are longing for home.

Mr. Helen R. Phelps pastor of the Livonia Community church, and members of her congregation, have secured for a special series of meetings, the famous southern pulpit orator, Dr. A. W. Luttrell, who will conduct an evangelistic campaign during March 20 to March 27th at the church. The church, which is located at the corner of Farmington and Five Mile roads, is one of the largest growing in this section, due to the building efforts of its active pastor, Mr. Phelps. The special meetings, which are to continue for two weeks, will be held at 8 p.m. daily, to benefit the church, as well as the community.

The organization is the owner of a number of lots in the Rosedale section and it is planned to erect in the near future a beautiful community church that will meet the requirements of a rapidly growing section.

These meetings are the beginning of an active campaign on the part of the church to build up the organization, as well as the community where it exists. Meetings will be held each night except Saturday.

WILL START ROAD BUILDING AS SOON AS GROUND THAWs

All Streets in New Subdivision to be Put in Good Shape Soon

It was announced this week that the dunes and roads at Hillcrest will be under construction as soon as the ground thaws sufficiently to make it possible.

The roads will be graded and gravelled making every homesite easily accessible.

The fact that the land is perfectly drained is a big factor in making construction of roads quickly possible.

The supply of good gravel upon the property eliminates long haul and will further speed up the work.

Bloomcrest Drive, Woodland Road,

Valley Road and Maple Road are now being cleared of timber and some pictureque vistas are presented.

Perhaps one of the most unusual views in a property which is characterized by its remarkable scenic effects, is the "valley," when one looks south on Woodland Road towards Main street. Green trees on each side give an impression of wild woodland beauty and before you stretches over the country for miles, can be seen a remarkable panorama of rolling hills, woods and valleys.

BAPTIST

Owing to the illness of our treasurer, Mrs. Seth Lemon, William Hornall has been appointed to take her place and she is well again.

About twenty of our most regular attendants have been detained at their homes on account of sickness.

We had one of our smallest prayer meetings last Thursday, which was due to the sickness in our midst.

The steady but slow increase in attendance at Sunday school is very encouraging.

Charles Mason will preach morning and evening next Sunday. The pastor has been called out of town for the week-end.

WHAT IS IT? And the Lord said I am not yet in my Kingdom. He spake unto him and he said, "Lord, tell us what thou comest to do?"

Jesus said unto him, "The Spirit indeed abideth in me, but ye cannot say where I abide."

What was the purpose in instructing marrow? When a cultured people live longer than ordinary did God tell them to suffer? What about disease? How should health arise from disease? These and other questions will be answered according to the scriptures. The service begins at 10:30 a.m. You are cordially invited to attend.

Our Sunday school classes meet at 10 o'clock.

Services in the German language next Sunday at 11:30 a.m.

Lenten services next Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Text "Verily I say unto thee, today thou shalt be with Me in paradise." A portion of the Passion story will also be read in this service.

The Ladies' Aid will meet in the parish hall next Tuesday afternoon.

You are always welcome at St. Paul's.

PREBREYTERIAN

Have you ever thought of the difference between a tree and a post? It is only a matter of life. Plant a tree and it begins to grow. Set a post in the ground and it begins to decay. The tree lives while the post dies. Which are you—a tree or a post? Be a tree in your church and live and grow.

Sunday morning worship at 10:30. The pastor will speak to the young people by their request.

Sunday school at noon. Lesson, "Sharing the Good News."

Union Young People's meeting Topic, "Stewardship as a Rule of Living."

Union evening service at 7:30. Rev. William Richards will preach.

The Westminster Guild will meet on Monday evening with Miss Geraldine Young.

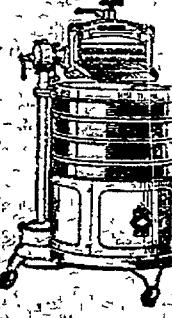

Annual meeting of the Woman's Union will be held on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the parlor of the church. Hostess—Executive committee.

Mid-week service Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Study "The Acme Side of the Blessed Life."

METHODIST

The Lenten season is here and our thoughts are natural toward the Christian privileges that have blessed us and have been preserved to us. We think of them in a special way. It only means something to those who experience them. To those who do not it will mean to them the same in the hereafter as it does now. The best of a person's life here is the best of their life hereafter. Immortality is one thing; eternal life is another. There are church people who are Christian, there are church members who are unchristian. There is a difference between them and the
