STINSON MAKES PLANE THAT IS AIR SENSATION

Develops Machine With Numerous New and Startling Changes

What is expected to be the greatest aeronautical sensation of the year is to be displayed at the National Aircraft show in Washington on May 2, by the Stinson Aircraft Corporation of Northville.

The company has developed a new experimental monoplane employing a secret airtail said to be the most efficient thing yet discovered in the field of aerodynamics. The new design is expected to give at least ten miles additional cruising speed to the ship, and increase its maximum speed considerably.

Besides this feature the company has perfected a tube control system to eliminate nearly all wires and cables. Also for the first time, in the history air brakes and an air starter are being employed on this new monoplane.

The wing span on the monoplane will be 35 feet with a wing area of 215 square feet. The fuselage will be the same as on the Stinson Destroyer, a biplane.

New improvements have been made on the cabin of this ship. It has been extended further back in the fuselage and room for five persons made instead of the removable seats being arranged as in a sedan-leather upholstered with marshals springs. They will be of leather with kangaroo cushions. On either side of the fifth chapter room for passenger's luggage "express". As in the case on the Destroyer the control will be dual.

The monoplane is another instance of Stinson's pioneering in advance development. He was indeed to combine a seat belt, the motor and broken on the wheels with a completely sound front and fire proof airplane that could be put in a sea with the engine off and controls that would be off without endangering the ship. Instead of falling off an wing or going into water would actually assume a gliding position and remain there longer than the plane.

Again, Stinson was the first to bring the history of the modern car into the airplane industry. If the experimental monoplane proves its flying ability as did the Destroyer, it will be one of the most forward steps accomplished in the field of aviation.

MEETING OF STAR LODGE ATTENDED BY MANY HUNDREDS

Degree Work Conducted by Visitors as It Was Put on in 1867

Northville members of the Eastern Star find their large number of guests last Friday evening witnessed what they declare to be one of the most pleasing exemplifications of Eastern Star work ever conducted in the state. The work was not under the new ritual of the lodges but under the ritual as it prevailed in 1867, and the ladies who put it on were the past matrons of the Pontiac Lodge. They were dressed in the costumes that prevailed at that time.

Nearly 400 crowded the Eastern Star lodge rooms to witness the work. Preceding the opening of the lodge a very elaborate dinner was served. Because of the late hour in starting the afternoon session and the consequent delay in serving so many, the degree work lasted well into the evening but practically every gentleman engaged to witness it. Worthy Patron May Babson of the Northville Lodge expressed the pleasure of the Northville members to the visiting ladies from Pontiac for coming to his place and putting on the degree work as they did. Past Grand Matron Dolle Dethleman of Detroit was one of the visitors of the evening.

Mrs. Anna Scott who for nearly two years has been confined to the home of Mrs. Eliza Johnson on South Center street remains in about the same condition. She is practically helpless in bed. Her friends say a call from some of her old acquaintances would be appreciated.

Mrs. Bruno Freydl, who underwent an operation at a hospital in Detroit Wednesday, is reported as getting along as well as could be expected. Attending physicians state that she will probably be able to be removed from her home in about two weeks.

Miss Belle Schub of Toledo has been visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fred T. Todd. She has been here recuperating from an operation.

First Lady Opens Flower Show

Mrs. Lodge recently opened the Washington flower show at the Department of Agriculture. With her is Mrs. Lindine, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture.

A delegation of Northville Rotarians attended the Rotary meeting held at the Hotel St. Paul in Detroit. Those who were present from here were E. C. Langford, Don Yerkes, Sr. Ed. Keeler, Edward Miller, Ray Richardson, Ernest Miller, Waldo Elliott, Harry Marburger, Dr. H. H. Burkhardt and C. T. Thornton.

Present at the meeting were over 600 including members of Detroit Rotary and number of surrounding communities. Many good talks were made pertaining to Rotary and its objects, and what local clubs could accomplish for the communities in which they exist.

TELLS BENEFIT TO NORTHLVILLE OF NOONDAY CLUB

Charles Dolph Makes Good Talk to Exchange on Anniversary

"Friendship has a real place in the life of any community. Whether it be Rotary Exchange or Kiwanis Club, the men of the community together in a way that could not be done under other organizations," declared Charles Dolph, an experienced citizen of the members of the Exchange Club at the meeting Wednesday evening.

Mr. Dolph is a citizen of Detroit, the President of the organization, he peak in his message to R. H. Brown of Mt. Clemens, who was the organizer of the Northville club. Mr. Brown had expected to be present and give talk to the members, but it was unable to get away from his business as Vice-President Yorker.

Mr. Dolph, who faithfully keeps in close touch with the activities of the club and members, made a most acceptable oration.

"I can see no better occasion to compare the two clubs has been made in Northville. It has helped in many ways and when I say it change, I do not mean to slight Rotary because Rotary has been in fine and splendid service."

"I think one of the biggest things put over by the Exchange club is the securing of an airport for this place. It has not only helped one of our largest industries, but it will be beneficial to the town as well. Then it has accomplished many other things you are all familiar with," he said.

The date was the anniversary of the club, and delicious biscuits were made by Elliott's bakery, was served to the members. William Elliott, a member of the Exchange and he did an extra fine piece of baking for the members. Floyd Lanning, let the members of the club know that he was the happy father of a daughter.

CHURCH HOUSE TO BE BUILT SOON BY METHODISTS

Rev. Richards Announces Plans for Erection of New Structure Soon

Construction of the Methodist church house to be located on North Center street between the residence of Dr. F. Randall Schuyler and the Methodist parsonage will be started within the next thirty days. The plans of Rev. William Richards are carried out. The pastor has announced that it is his purpose to have the structure built to connect with the church which stands on the corner of Center street. The pastor is the owner. The Methodist organization owns the land on which the proposed building will be erected and the pastor will be required to raise only a sufficient amount to build and equip the proposed structure.

What we want to build is something for the entire community where meetings, chapters and gatherings of all kinds can be held," said the pastor yesterday in discussing the project.

"We have talked of the matter for a long time, and I think we should stop talking about it and go something. It is something the community needs, and I see no reason why the plan as we have discussed it should not be carried out. Everyone about town seems to be in favor of the project, and has expressed a desire to help. It is a community project for all of Northville and vicinity. We will not often do you find one so unique in a few days before I can announce as Mr. Dolph grading the work, of my plans for the church but just such a large fraternal organization as the Northville Commandery. The Commander is the highest rank in a commandery.

The building project will be completed in a short period of time.

Mr. Dolph became a Master Mason in 1905 and went through the ranks of the Lodge, rising over 25 years to the position of Master Mason in 1912 and has since been called to active interest in the work of the Lodge. His aspiration to lead the lodge to a higher standard of efficiency and to a more modern one and equipped with every device to make the work easy in carrying on a newly organized club.

He has much to tell interested to the Rev. Richards is not yet old enough to be commander of the commandery but the commandery have not been entitled to elect him.

Thomas M. Clark Johnson, Northville historian, preparing plans for the proposed church, the commandery and the sketching will probably be finished in the next day.

Northville has a friendly and open, pretty good hotel on the part of the city council. William Stander is now director of the intersection of Main and Center street and the appointment came just at the right time because of the fact that the telephone company has a gang of men working at the corner. The village has improved him with a uniform in fact that locality has taken on the appearance of a regular city.

Alton Orvis is recovering nicely from an operation he underwent at the Atchison Hospital a few days ago for appendicitis. This is the first time that Mr. Orvis has ever been ill.

Dr. Sparling stated that the case was a severe one, and that the operation came just in time. The illness followed a trip to Chicago and return in an automobile by Mr. and Mrs. Orvis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Steward of Arcadia.

She is a graduate of the Frankfort High school and of the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. For the past three years she has been a teacher in the Northville public school.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Stark of 124 Randolph street, Northville. He is a graduate of the Northville High school and for the past six years he has been with the Atlantic and Pacific Co. Besides being manager of their store at Romeo for three years and the Northville store over two years he has represented the company at Flint and Detroit.

The contracting parties are well known and have made a series of dear many friends. After congratulation and luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Stark left for a motor trip.

Especially Interesting Are Programs That Have Been Arranged

Churches of Northville are not forgetting that Easter is one of the happy days of human existence and the various religious organizations have all planned pleasing services for the day. Beginning with today's services conducted by St. Paul's Lutheran church in the Peacock Allen theatre and in the Methodist church, there will be something to entice one of the glad crowd and the closing services Saturday night.

Business places will be closed Friday from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in observance of Good Friday.

The following church services are filled with interesting items pertaining to the church services arranged for Easter.

BAPTIST Service at the Baptist church Sunday morning at 8:30. Let us make this a union service as it is in remembrance of that first Easter when our Redeemer arose for all men. Given under the auspices of the B. Y. P. U.

At 7:30 o'clock there will be a radio service from the First Church at Pontiac. Mr. Turnbull is installing a radio for use. Everyone is welcome.

"Do not forget the regular prayer meeting Wednesday evenings at 7:30. What kind of a church would our church be if every member were just like me?"

Let us thank God for the many services given to us during the year. Our hearts are full of the great work being done in our home in foreign lands.

Two very special offerings were taken this week to the Michigan Parsonage Fund. Help is needed to keep this paper running.

Remember the services, attend to them as to a child, in lead of the greater hour.

We hope to have with us on Sunday April 23rd Rev. J. W. Steward of Pontiac. More is his specialty.

PATRICK LUTHERAN A good list minute resolutions have been made by our unit now.

Attend the Good Friday service, which will be held at the Peacock Allen theatre, today at 8:30 a.m. No admission charges. A welcome for all.

10:15 until—the greatest world ever spoke. This will be the pastor's text in today's services.

Cards are being distributed the marriage of Howard W. Stark and Miss Frances Steward at the home of the bride April 23rd. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Richards of the Methodist Episcopal church in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Steward of Arcadia.

She is a graduate of the Frankfort High school and of the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. For the past three years she has been a teacher in the Northville public school.

EASTER

AROUND THE CITY

Easter comes as a glad season of the year. The festival itself is both commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ and as a memorial to the atonement wrought by the death of the Master upon the cross.

It is heralded with great acclaim in all the Christian churches of the world. In Greek and Latin and in the languages derived from them Easter was known as "Pashcha," "Pascha," "Paques," etc., from the Chaldean word, "Pascha," the equivalent of the Hebrew, "Pesach," or "Destroying Angel's" act is recalled by the last name in passing over the households of the Hebrews when the hosts the Egyptians, as disclosed in the twelfth chapter of Exodus.

This year Easter will fall on April 15. The way by which Easter is determined is that of the first Sunday after the paschal full moon, the fourteenth day of the calendar month, or the full moon which happens upon the next after March 21st; and if the full moon happens on a Sunday then Easter day is the first Sunday following.

As usual, Northville church will observe Easter with elaborate programs arranged for the children and adults have learned to look forward to it with pleasure and anticipation. It is to all who should remember with some sadness the thought of the past.

Steam Shovels Bring to Light Transactions Over 65 Years Ago

When the steam shovels were digging away the earth for basements to the new buildings to be erected on North Center street last Friday, William Sanford, happened to be in the rear of the building, when he saw a bunch of old papers fall from the edge of one of the shovels.

He picked up some of it and found an old account book, dated 1862, and running through to the year 1864.

Apparently the account book was of some general store, as most of the supplies enumerated in it were of a nature that would be sold from a grocery, although there were numerous sales of whiskey and rye.

It is interesting to note some of the prices charged in Northville at that time.

Daniel Petrarca purchased a pound of chewing tobacco and it cost him 31½ cents. Harrington bought two cans of kerosene oil and paid 50 cents.

A. S. Taylor purchased a pair of skates for 75 cents. Dr. Smith purchased some hair oil, but the price was not stated.

James L. Little purchased a half pound of currants for 31 cents. Mrs. Little purchased candies for 25 cents.

Numerous sales of candles, kerosene and traps are recorded. A pound of sugar was also sold, by Mrs. Little for 10 cents.

The day before Christmas 1862, S. Lapham purchased 50 cents worth of toys, and S. D. Veres, a pound of candy. H. J. Baker and wife spent 55 cents for Christmas gifts. H. M. Petrarca purchased candy and Andrew Johnson purchased pocketbooks for 20 cents.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Taylor purchased a half pound of currants for 31 cents.

On the quarter ending March 31st, the receipts at the Northville post office were $3325.00 as against $3363 last year for the same period. The receipts for March were $1110.51, the largest in the history of the Northville office for that month.

The next meeting of the King's Daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Casterline Tuesday evening April 19th, at 7:30. It is requested that members be present at the opening of the meeting as there is a number of matters to be taken up.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Petrarca, returning from Florida, where they spent the winter. Mr. Petrarca drove back from the southland and he says, the auto is in good condition practically fit for the winter. They were at Big Bend about 10 days, at the beach, then on roadside at the place.

It will be interesting to the ligged member that attended the former State meeting, for Elmer Cushing to know that U. TWO BIG SHOVELS MAKE QUICK WORK IN EXCAVATING

North Center Street Becomes Most Active Place in Village

Never before since the beginning of Northville has a building ever been taken down as quickly as the one demolished last week on the site to be used by N. C. Schrader for the erection of his new business block on North Center street.

Workers started tearing the building down on Monday morning, a week ago. Friday the steam shovel was on the spot excavating for the foundation and by the end of another week the foundation for the structure will probably have been entirely completed.

Mr. Schrader expects to have his new building completed and ready for occupancy within two months which will be a construction record new to this community.

The frame of the old building was made of hewn timbers. One timber was 50 feet long, cut from a soft maple. There was not a knot in the whole piece and it was as straight as a string. Old timers declared that it was one of the largest pieces ever taken from a building in this section.

Friday and Saturday there were two big shovels operating on North Center street. The excavation for the Shaffer block started first, and the little Ford shovel did a very quiet and satisfactory job. Floyd Shaffer hopes to have his building completed so that he can move into it sometime in June.

WELL KNOWN AGENCY NAMED BY SPARTON

Capt. Wilham Sparks' president and general manager of the Sparto-Woodington Company Jackson, Mich., announces his appointment of Brooks, Smith & French Inc., Detroit, national advertising agency, to advertise the products of Sparton Radio and Sparton Motor Cars.

This appointment of an advertising agency to represent such a number of products is unusual and indicates that Sparton is placing its confidence in the ability of the advertising agency to do the best possible job in advertising the products. With pride company officials will be received by the Sparton agents. It is anticipated another step in this program is the purchase of the large Sparton Motor plant, which provides for improvements of all that the present fac-

BUCk MAKES NEW RECORD IN OUTPUT

With production of 1927 models well past the 20,000 mark on April 1st, the Buick Motor Company is over 20,000 cars ahead of its best previous output record for this time of the year. According to C. B. Durham, vice president and assistant general manager, this new record was made possible by the early completion of a $7,000,000 expansion program which was launched over a year ago and which materially increased the facilities of the plant.

Among the features of the program is the new efficient unified assembly system which takes care of any normal output of Buick cars which was planned and built by Duran and his corps of plant engineers. This assembly system is capable of receiving and assembling 225 tons of materials an hour, most of which are delivered to the line by a system of conveyors. The new crankshaft division in which Buick crankshafts are finished and balanced, has also been completed.

Workmen are now building the new $5,000,000 gray iron foundry, which will have a daily capacity of 600 tons of castings. It is expected that this unit will be in operation some time during the summer.

The present capacity of the plant is 1,200 cars a day. Car building has proceeded at or near this figure ever since the 1927 models were introduced, Duran says. At present production of 1,100 cars a day, the highest rate ever reached at this time of the year. The schedule was increased a hundred cars a day in March when it was found necessary to revise the original plans for the month, due to the demand for cars.

PHONE COMPANY DOUBLES LINES HERE TO DETROIT

New Cables to Provide for Future Expansion of This Section

Workmen employed by the Michigan Telephone company have started the laying of additional cables out South-Center street that will give Northville, over twice the number of lines it now has in connection with the Detroit exchange. While this company has always enjoyed good telephone service to Detroit, the new lines are being laid to provide for the rapid growth that is taking place in this section of Wayne County.

The telephone company has during the past few months had a careful check made on the development in and around Northville, and as a part of its 1927 program, it has decided that it will be necessary to more than double its telephone connections to Detroit.

It will be a number of weeks before the work is completed, but when it is finished western Wayne County will have telephone facilities that will serve a community of nearly 10,000 people.

NOVI

On the evening of April 9th, the Better Neighborhood Association met at the town hall, at 8:15. Ora Parhamen, the president, called the large crowd to order. With Mrs. Frank Rice at the piano, those present joined heartily in a group of community songs, after which the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. He also announced the appointment by the officers of the various chairman. Membership committee, Archie Atchison; program, S. Gullen; athletic, Bert Leavenworth; civics committee, Mrs. B. Cummings; social, Mrs. E. Franklin; buildings and grounds, William Marrs. After more community singing, L. S. Gullen introduced as speaker of the evening, T. Glenn Phillips, living on the Seven Mile road near Northville. Mr. Phillips, who has charge of the City Planning Commission of Detroit, spoke on "Metropolitan Planning," the subject of his labors and said that unselfish thought of planning for the future would not only see the growth of towns and cities directed along proper lines, but would save coming generations millions of dollars in taxation. How great has been the burden to taxpayers ofvidene Woodward avenue, for instance. Bermudian subdivisions to plan their properties without proper cross streets is another oversight that has caused the needless expenditure of vast sums of money. He urged Novi, which has virgin soil at the western gateway to Detroit, to plan wisely and well for the developments of growth and expansion that is inevitably ours in the next few years. Wide streets where people can park their cars and trade are needed as the first requisite in this master metropolitan plan. Not only this but adequate sewage accommodations, sufficient water facilities and good schools are among the things which should be planned for before growth sets in. Although this general may not reap the reward of that, forefront our children and grandchildren and their posterity will glorify the name as Mr. Phillips told him.

Mr. Phillips was married to Anna Blanche Phillips of Detroit in 1911. Two children were born to this union, Mrs. Ed. Haistead of Novi, and Edward, son of Detroit. There are two grand children and one great grandchild, a brother George Chilson, and sister Mrs. V. A. Canning, who survive.

Mr. Chilson was stricken with paralysis about four years ago, and has been confined to his bed since that time. During his long period of illness, he has been attended most faithfully and devotedly by his wife. Mr. Chilson was a genial and most hospitable neighbor, and had a large number of friends in fact everyone seemed to be his friend.

The smallest standards in the world is to be part of the equipment of submarine or the French navy. It is said that the machine will be taken apart or assembled in three minutes.

It has been understood long chegues of Novi have been privileged to call to such an exclusive address.
At the conclusion of his talk, Mr.
Phillips was not only professionally applauded, but was accorded a living ovation. Thanks in recognition of his goodness in giving an evening free of charge to the ear of the betterment of our growing share.

A committee was then appointed to take up the matter of establishing the building lines in Novi's main street,
Grand River and the Northville
Novi road.

held in Chicago during March. The decision was to make it a member.

It is the policy of the association to grant credits from year to year, but because of the high rating of the Northville schools, a three-year period was granted.

J. B. Edmonson of the University of Michigan is chairman for the Michigan state committee of this association and he is also secretary of it. This rating does not include the University of Michigan. However it does include most of the colleges in the North Central states.

Whatever You Do
It's For Yourself

Every man who lives in a home knows he can do little things to make it more attractive, livable, comfortable. When he owns a home of his own he can do as he likes and know it is for himself and his loved ones.
When he improves another man's property, while he pays rent, he is never sure the landlord will permit the change, and if he does, the rent payer is simply paying out more money to make another man's house more valuable. Build your own home—then do as you like.

PASTOR, FORMER HORSESHOER, IS A SPEAKER HERE

Men of Methodist Church Are Pleased by Talk at Banquet

Not so many years ago, Joseph Thomas was shoeing horses up in northern Michigan.

Last Thursday evening, Rev. Joseph Thomas spoke to nearly 100 men at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's class of the First Methodist church. He is now pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal church in Detroit—and the talk he made to Northville men was the kind that couldn't help but interest anyone who heard it.

The meeting that was arranged by Rev. Richards was probably one of the most interesting held during the winter. The dinner was of the satisfying kind that Methodist ladies usually serve. While the menu was printed in French, it tasted just like the good American dishes.

Two musical numbers preceded the address. Mrs. H. F. Blake played two violin numbers that were very pleasing, and George Lockhart gave a couple of guitar selections that were well received.

Charles A. Dolph presided most acceptably as toastmaster, and Oliver Goldsmith of Plymouth gave two readings that pleased the audience.

Rev. Thomas, who quit driving horseshoe-nails to enter the pulpit, has had a very successful career in the ministry. For many years he was stationed in Colorado, where he made an exceptionally good record.

"And what is the greatest asset you have in Northville?" he asked.

"It is your adults. We are not of so much importance after all. We have gone just about as far as we ever will." There isn't much that will ever change in us. Of course, once in a great while there is an exception to this rule, or fact often based on age, but that doesn't count—the boys are still the same. You can raise them to be something and a success, but you can't do it with other children. It is the same with us. We are the same, but we are different. We would like to think that our children are better than we were.

NORTHVILLETwenty-Five Years Ago

The record from the Record of 1902, for the week corresponding to this week.

George Hall, who has been quite ill this week.

Mrs. Mrs. S. G. of Farmington, is recovering from the mumps.

Carmen Berzon of Head's Mill, has given out 198 birds which he lately purchased.

Clinton Elyke has recently moved from Northville to the Van Slyck farm south of town.

W. D. Stark of Northville was called away Saturday in the interests of the Detroit Motor Company.

Arthur Power has recovered from his attack of scarlet fever, and all danger from contagion has passed.

M. N. Johnson of the county treasurer's office, was unable to go back to work the report of his health because of an attack of influenza.

Angus Hendy and Miss Edna Cole, of Salem, were married yesterday and that same evening were treated to a genuine old fashioned wedding by their enthusiastic neighbors.

The Northville band has been reorganized, and a lot of old members have been induced to take part in the new organization. The Crocker's services as leader have been secured and it is pretty safe to say Northville this year will have as good a band as any town of its size in the state. E. C. Hickley has been chosen president and business manager; Fred Evans, treasurer, and Ed Perrin, secretary.

GIRL WINS SUIT AGAINST FATHER

Jennie Musciff, who resides on the South Lyon road, is victor in a circuit court action she brought against her father, William H. Ward, of Howell, a former resident of this section—as the result of the settlement of her mother's estate being awarded a judgment of $1,500 and costs in the court of Judge Ira Jayne in Detroit.

The action grew out of what the young woman claimed an unfair settlement of the estate. She alleged that the father retained all the property when as a matter of fact she was entitled to a portion of the estate. She engaged Attorney McNair of this place and the case was taken to the circuit court, with the result that she was awarded a judgment.

BUSINESS MAKING A GREAT INCREASE

A tremendous increase in retail deliveries of new Chevrolet automobiles throughout the country during the first two months of 1927 as compared with the same period of 1926, is shown in the following report compiled by the company. The increase is striking evidence in the country-wide and constantly the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The magnitude of this increase is indicated in reports from thirty-two of the most important trading areas in the United States, and shows an increase of 97 1/2% in these centers for the first two months of 1927 as compared with the same period of 1926. The increase is striking evidence of the country-wide and constantly mounting demand for the Chevrolet car—a demand which caused the Chevrolet Motor Company to reach a high peak of production during February of this year of 55,821 cars—and still further marking the company's pre-eminence as the world's largest manufacturers of gear shift automobiles.

DETROIT AMUSEMENTSNAUGHTY CINDERELLA AT SHUBERT-LAFAYETTE

"Naughty Cinderella" has been selected as the opening play by the National Players Inc., which opens its season at the Shubert-Lafayette Theatre, Detroit, on Saturday night, April 16th.

The managing director of the company is O. D. Woodward, who has for many years successfully operated stock companies in Kansas City, St. Louis and Cincinnati. He promises a company of unusual merit, headed by Hazel Whiting and Herbert Clark, and supported by Valerie, Valerie May, Mad, Isobel O'Madigan, Bernard J. McOwen, Orrin T. Burke, Burford, Hampden, William Crimmins, Frank Fletcher Clinton, Tusten and Bernard Cranev.

The first four productions will be brought to Detroit intact, and as the members of the National Players have appeared in the plays previously, the organization at the beginning will take on the aspect of a traveling organization.

After the first week each new play will open with a Sunday matinee at a distinctly popular price, followed by afternoon performances on Thursday and Saturday. The top price at night will be one dollar.

"A NIGHT IN SPAIN" WILL BE AT SHUBERT-DETROIT

"A Night in Spain" will inaugurate a fourteen day stay at the Shubert-Detroit Opera House, Sunday night, April 17th. Customary Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be provided. The show comes to Detroit prior to opening at the New York Winter Garden.

The cast of "A Night in Spain" should be studied by sharp-eyed theatrical folk, as showing the difference of size and looks New York and Detroit. George had Phil Bell and his Factor, Solonado, Brennan, in Reserve, G. E. Smith, Ted and Frank Shannon, John Vischer, Warren William, Mary Carron, Paul Draper, Shirley More, Frank Clegg, and others of note.

The show is a musical comedy, with dancing, singing, comedy, and music.

It is always a good idea to go to the theater, and it is always a good idea to go to the theater.

Garrick Theatre, Detroit, beginning Sunday night, April 17th.

Even the most ardent follower of theatrical news must get a thrill out of the above announcement as "Broadway" is the undenied reigning success of both New York and London. Visitors to the two largest cities in the world who ask, "What's the best show in town?" invariably get the answer, "You must see 'Broadway'!" Then comes the struggle to get tickets. The box offices at the Broadhurst and Adelphi Theatres respectively, are invariably sold out for eight weeks in advance, and it is a fact that the want ad columns must have been used by intending patrons trying to get tickets and willing to pay almost any price for them.

This world famous drama of the cabarets, with its intimate touches of back-stage life that are woven into a highly dramatic play of bootleggers and mackers, has the extraordinary record of never receiving an adverse criticism on either side of the Atlantic. Detroit, always known for its appreciation of the really good shows, will undoubtedly pack the theatre during "Broadway's" engagement.

TWELVE MILES OUTCASS THEATRE OFFERING

Opening Sunday, April 17th, at the Cass is William Anthony McGuire's romantic melo-drama, "12 Miles Out," which comes to Detroit after an eight-months' run in New York and three months in Chicago.

What happens when rum runners elude revenue officers seek to hide their cargo of liquor in a woman's home, only to turn to be set upon by a cursing fuming gang of hijackers who kidnap the entire party, is an illustration of how playwright McGuire creates his plots for the sake of entertainment.

The same excellent cast which put the play over in New York and Chicago will repeat it here and consists of Frank Shannon, John Vischer, Warren William, Mary Carron, Paul Draper, Shirley More, Frank Clegg, and others.

Illogical Isabel

By RUBY DOUGLAS

BECAUSE Isabel was such a distractingly combination of practical, good sense and inconsistent whimsicality, her friends had long since nicknamed her "Illogical Isabel."

At first she had been annoyed. Then her better judgment came to her aid and she reasoned it over as being a compliment rather than otherwise.

"No one whom you dislike ever has a nickname," she argued. "A nickname that they call you to your face is always in the nature of a pet name."

"You're perfectly right," agreed her chum. "Now who would think of nicknaming Elizabeth Bradford? No one would dare. No one loves her enough to shorten her name affectionately to Beth."

"But—well, you know Harvey isn't going to sail his boat in the big race, don't you?" asked Isabel, seeming quite despite the subject.

"What on earth has that to do with hydrophones?" exclaimed her chum.

"Everything," declared Isabel. "I told him I surely wouldn't sail with him on Friday, the 13th, and he won't sail the Hydrophobia with our crew."

The other girl laughed merrily.

"What a combination! What a boat!" called the Hydrophobia. "A girl so whimsical that she pronounces because of a silly name. Poor Harvey."

"Yes, he said I was as supersitious as a peasant. He even asked that perhaps the little boat's name would suit me better than it did the boat itself and—"

The day before the water sports stars arrived and Isabel had not changed her mind about Harvey. He had not made effort to see her. This only made it worse, and Isabel was wondering where she should go so as to make a good excuse for not being at the yacht races on the following day.

She began to wonder who would help Harvey sail the boat. Surely he could not ask some other girl. She always held the job sheet for him and he could not conceive of anyone else being in a position to help the crew of the little boat. They may have caused some trouble.

Being practical, in as much as this turned to something else to do, she took her mind off her worries again. In time failed to hold her interest in Hydrophobia this was because most of the time between the layers of paper at the end. This was no way to take her mind from Harvey.

Unusually she chose a book from her father's reading table. It contained some essays and lectures on improving the mind, on broadening the vision, on understanding the party things in life, things often apart the mental sphere.

"All quarrels may be traced back to misunderstanding," she read.

"Sit you down the book. Was this true?" Had she and Harvey merely misunderstood each other? Was he, perhaps, as unhappy as she was at this moment? Did she misunderstand his meaning?

"I know I am inconsistent," she agreed with herself. "And of course that makes me quite illogical." But what of it?" Dismissing the case against herself, she decided, with very prompt and practical application to what she had just discovered, that the thing to do was to patch up the silly quarrel with Harvey and help him sail the Hydrophobia the following day. She hoped it was not too late.

She jumped into her little rowboat and drove down to the shore where she knew the boys would be busy getting their boats ready to race.

Harvey was not there. The Hydrophobia was lolling idly at her mooring, the water lapping her sides monotonously.

"Have you seen Harvey?" she asked one of the boys who was busy cleaning up his craft.

"No—don't believe he's going to sail," he replied.

"Oh, yes he is," replied Isabel.

She hastened back to the village and made a wide detour to her home in order to pass the home of Harvey's people. She knew he was having his vacation and would, as likely as not, be about the garden somewhere.

She saw him on the porch and blew her horn loudly. He looked up at once and dashed out to the street as if he were on a sprint for a prize.

"Isabel!" he cried. "Why aren't you dolling up your mad little boat?" she asked, laughing and quite ignoring their quarrel.

"Because my mad little sweetheart won't sail with me," he replied, catching her mood.

"But she will! She knows you couldn't embark on any sea without her to help you manage the craft."

"Do you mean that?" he asked jumping beside her.

Isabel promptly started the car. "Please—we're right in front of your father's house," she protested.

They drove to the harbor and together they put the Hydrophobia into the pink of perfection.

"We've done everything but put powder on her nose," laughed Isabel as they surveyed their pretty, clean boat.

"Get plenty on your own tomorrow, dear for we're going to run up into those winds and win this race. And then—" he asked.

"I needn't tell you that we'll be together if we win," she told him.

Build in an Environment of Beauty

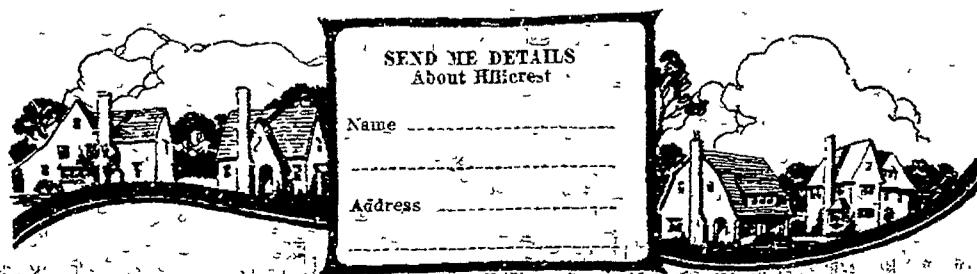

The value of your home will depend very largely on the beauty of the location in which it is built. A fine home loses much of its desirability if built in a congested or poorly restricted region. The more beautiful the surrounding homes and the land itself, the more valuable will YOUR home be. Do not build where surrounding development will depreciate its value.

Hillcrest Manor IN THE NORTHLVILLE HILLS

A Beautiful Environment for Fine Homes

Larger lots are essential to beauty. Hillcrest homesites are never smaller than 100 feet front. Winding drives make a fine and beautiful home even more beautiful and VALUABLE. Only single residences of approved design can be built at Hillcrest. No commercial or public property can ever detract from the value of your home here. Every factor at Hillcrest is building greater value into your home. It will pay you to build in such a section.
