ENIX WORKERS ERED BACK TO ORK ON JUNE 20

Notes Sent to All Employees of One of Mr. Ford's Local Plants

First indication of the complete return of the Ford industries to full time operation came a few days ago when notices were received by the employees of the Phoenix plant to report for duty on Monday, June 20th. All of the employees were advised to be ready to return to work at that time. The Phoenix plant has been practically closed down for sometime and only a few have been given employment during recent weeks.

This news comes within a few days after the announcement recently made by Mr. Ford to all to go to work again that he is about to start all of his plants up on full time and that this section of Wayne county and other places where his plants are located, will be operating at full capacity.

While absolutely nothing is known of what kind of a product Mr. Ford expects to put on the market, analysis of his statement shows that the car is going to be a sensation in the automobile world.

He stated that the new car would have "speed, style, flexibility and control in traffic."

That is sufficient information upon which to base a statement that the new car will doubtless revolutionize automobile industry and mean for Detroit a greater period of prosperity than has been known for some time. Machinery changes are in progress in the largest plants. But no final figures have been given out as to when the plant will be placed on full production.

IMPROVEMENT OF STREET IS WORTH $100,000 TO CITY

West Main Street Grading of Big Value to the Whole Town

Workmen have nearly finished the grading of West Main street from the end of the paving to the western limits of the Beldire Manor addition. Within another week or ten days the whole stretch will have been graded and finished. It will make the front end of the city one of the best street improvements in Northville. It will not only greatly increase the value of both the Beldire Manor and Old Belvoir, but will also add to the character of the town.

The street is opened without question, it is the main highway leading into the town and very much improved.

The Dunbar company has completed the grading part of the job and now Highway Commissioner Joseph Montgomery will do the graveling. It is expected that he will have the job finished in longer than two weeks, and probably before that time.

MANY LOCAL ROTARIANS GO TO ANN ARBOR MEETING

Eighteen members of the Northville Rotary club went to Ann Arbor Wednesday evening, where they were guests of the Ann Arbor Rotary Club. Rotarian organizations in this part of the state were invited to attend the meeting held in the Union building of the University. The Northville club had the second largest attendance, Jackson having the greatest number present. Plymouth and Wayne were tied for third honors. It remained for E. H. Lapham, banker, and more famed as a golfer, to win the only prize captured by a Northville Rotarian. He brought home a golf ball about twice the size of a baseball. It was presented to him so that when he struck it, there would be no chance of it missing. Mr. Lapham denies the charge made at the meeting that he did miss a swing at the Barton Hills links.

Plans have been completed for the annual banquet of the High School Alumni association to be held Friday evening, June 24th, at the high school gym. Officers are expecting that the attendance this year will be the largest many years past. It is urged that those who expect to attend notify Mrs. Hugh Babbitt, chairman of the banquet committee, as soon as possible. Invitations are being mailed out this week so that those in distant states may know of the occasion in time to be present.

George Hotaling, Mrs. Ray Galloway, Mrs. Sadie Birch and Mrs. Abbott have been attending the Detroit meeting of the Michigan Rotarians.

TO VOTE MONDAY ON QUESTION OF FORMING CHARTER

Voters Asked to Take First Step in Plan to Better Government

Next Monday is charter election day for the residents of Northville. At that time the voters will decide whether they will have prepared a charter for submission at a future election and elect five residents of the community for that purpose, or whether they will continue under the old way of doing business and operate under a state law enacted for villages of much less population.

Seven candidates have been named for the charter election. They are:

Edward Lapham,
Stuart Montgomery,
Milo N. Johnson,
L. A. Babbitt,
Charles A. Dolph,
A. C. Ralston,
Wellington Roberts.

"Mr. Lapham was selected as the representative of the Rotary club and Mr. Dolph representing the Exchange club. Both of these organizations have indicated an interest in the proposal to have a new charter framed and as a result of that interest these two candidates were selected.

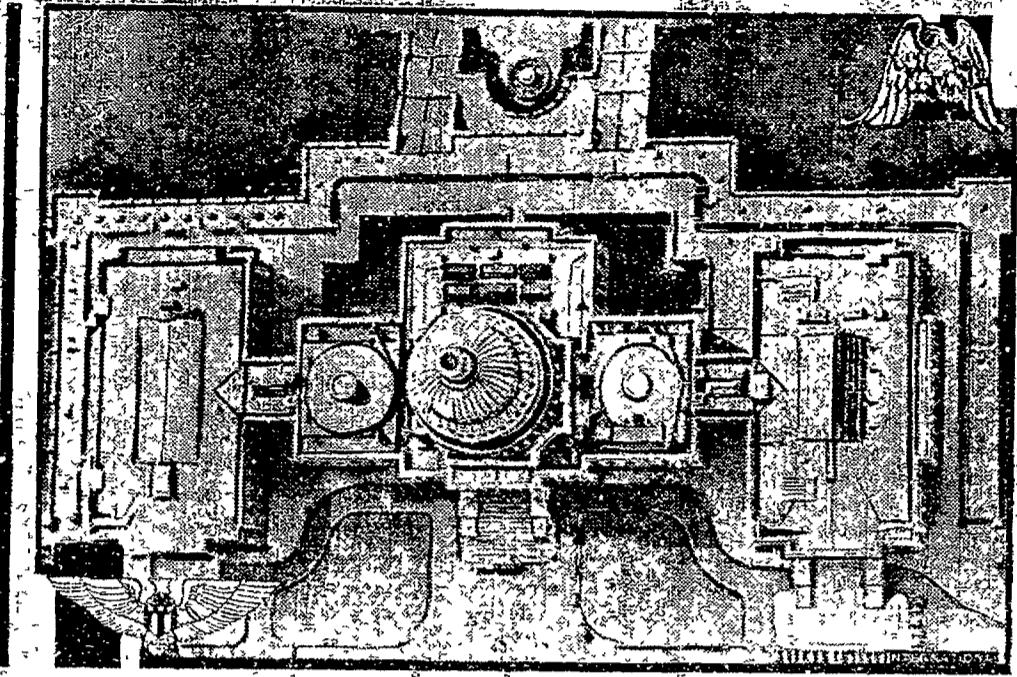

The other three candidates were picked from the city at large. In view of the fact that one filed a petition with the city clerk as a candidate for the charter commission, these five will draft the new charter providing the voters at the election Monday decided to take what is termed a forward step in municipal government.

There is no disputing the fact that Northville is growing and growing by leaps and bounds. This has been an "off" year because of the partial operation of the Ford plants about here, but it is only temporary.

It is to be prepared for the expansion that is sure to come that Northville officials, and others interested in the development of the community, deemed it advisable at this time to have prepared a new charter.

There is one point that should be made clear at this time. The action of the voters at the election Monday to have prepared a new charter is not final. A favorable vote only authorizes a charter commission to prepare a charter which after it is prepared must be submitted to the voters for their approval. Just how soon this election can be held depends upon the date when which the charter commission begins. However, before it can be submitted to the voters for approval, the law requires that the "provisions" of the village, consisting in the special officers and a code of laws, be submitted to the government in this manner. By early next month the date for the preparation of the charter commis-

STINSON PLANE IS SPONSORED IN AIR TOUR BY MACCABEES

Local Aviator Will Fly Own
Made Craft—Cash
Prizes Offered

The Macabees have sponsored the Stinson-Detroit four-passenger cabin airplane made in Northville, in the National Air Tour, in the interest of commercial aviation. It is announced by A. W. Krebs, supreme commander, and will send a representative on the tour to observe the performance of the thirty-five "more" planes entered landing fields and other facilities which have a bearing on the use of the airplane for commercial purposes.

The National Air Tour, which is its third annual flight, starts June 27th for cash prizes totaling $25,000, and the Edsel B. Ford Reliability trophy, will cross fifteen states this year. Included in its itinerary are stops at Buffalo, New York; Schenectady, Geneva, New York; Boston; Hartford, Connecticut; Washington, Cleveland, Dayton, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Erie, Pa.; Memphis, Pine Bluff, Ark.; Oklahoma City, Guthrie, Tulsa, Dallas, Wichita, Omaha, Moines, Lansing, Ill., and Grand Rapids, ending the tour at Detroit. An average of three hours each day will be taken up by actual flying, and the remainder of the time the planes will be open to public inspection on the landing fields.

The Macabees, in line with their policy of supporting movements for civic or national progress, are giving their full support to the National Air Tour, states. Approximately 50,000 of their 250,000 members live in or near the cities on the route, and arrangements are being made by their local bodies to extend their hospitality to the fliers in the Macabee-sponsored plane.

The National Air Tour was originated by the Detroit Board of Commerce in 1925, and is sponsored by the National Aeromarine Association. Four Stinson-Detroit planes will make the flight. Edward A. (Zeddie) Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft corporation and one of the best-known designers of aircraft in the country, piloted the plane which the Macabees have sponsored.

The season is in full swing, and many new members are in the ranks. Every provision is made for the traveling public, members of the A.A. to all parts of the country, even to Europe if necessary.

Home Rule

One of the choicest rights of any people is the right to manage our affairs in a way to best serve our own interests, and who should presume to interfere in the local affairs of any community and to be no local interests in them.

It is an old rule of democracy that government is by and for the governed.

However, prior to 1920 Home Rule was not given to the various villages of Michigan, and then it was given to them as a right to be exercised by such as might adopt it by a majority vote. It was not conferred upon villages outright, but was merely given within their reach if they should see fit to take it.

The Legislature has provided the method of adopting Home Rule by a vote of the people, and thus made it possible for a majority to declare for it at the polls and form a village constitution or charter, not for the purpose of enlarging the powers of the village, alone, but for the purpose of clearly defining them and to simplify the mode of operation.

It were suggested that the progress of affairs had made no changes here you would at once say that the suggestion was far from the facts. You would point to the absence of the old hitching post, to the lack of slow-moving horse-drawn vehicles, and involuntarily think of speed laws, and automobile accidents, and the many things which come into your town entirely from outside.

A week rarely passes that some outside interest does not request of your officials some recognition.

Our location on the map is unlike a majority of the villages in Michigan, and it follows that the regulations, for example, Cheboygan County villages may in no way meet our needs. Such is very apt to be the case and accordingly, nearly all, if not all our neighboring villages have already decided to adopt Home Rule.

The election Monday offers the opportunity for Home Rule here, and a start toward bringing your town in line with the general progress, which is doing things for all the world.

We feel very strongly that each voter should evidence his "up-to-the-minute" commanding in Michigan, and not stay at home and let George do it.

NEW PASTOR FOR BAPTIST CHURCH PREACHES SUNDAY

Rev. J. W. Priest of Fulton to Become a Northville Resident

J. W. Priest, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fulton, has accepted the position of pastor of the First Baptist Church of Northville. He will move to Northville during the coming week to occupy the parsonage which has been completely refitted and redecorated by members of his congregation.

There were numerous applicants for the local Baptist church, and Rev. Priest will without question get along nicely in Northville, as both the community and the church he is to preside over are growing rapidly.

He served as the minister's home during his year's absence of the regular services. He will move his family to Northville during the coming week to occupy the parsonage which has been completely refitted and redecorated by members of his congregation.

WORKER KILLED WHEN RUN OVER BY LOADED TRUCK

Employee at Training School
Meets Instant Death
on Monday

Charles L. Morris, 56 years of age, an employee of the Wayne County Training School, was killed Monday afternoon when a loaded truck of gravel backed down on him as he was working on the side of a newly constructed highway on the grounds.

The machine was being backed down to where the concrete mixer was working and in some way got from under the control of the driver. The noise of the mixer and other machinery prevented the worker from hearing warning cries that were being shouted around him.

He was instantly killed. The body was brought to the Schrader undertaking parlors in Northville and members of the family living at Riverview, just south of Detroit, notified Mrs. Morris and a number of small children service. The remains were taken to Riverview Wednesday afternoon and funeral was conducted from the home by Schrader's Thursday. Burial took place at Sibley, where the family formerly lived.

A recent study by the United States Department of Agriculture of a forest area in northern California, badly infested with the western pine beetle, revealed that in the last two years the insect has killed nearly four times as many trees in a burned-over tract as the adjacent unburned forest.

OF REVIEW MEETING

It is hereby given that the review meeting for the Township of Northville will be held in Northville on Friday evening, June 10, 1927, from 8 o'clock until 10 o'clock. The meetings will be followed throughout the growing season by frequent culturings. Soils containing considerable clay and easily packed by frequent heavy rains, often require more than one packing.

BOY SCOUTS MAKE A GOOD RECORD IN FAST FEW MONTHS

Meeting of Troop Committee is Held and Report of Work Given

The Northville boy scout troop during the past year has made very favorable progress according to reports made at a meeting of the troop committee a few days ago. The officers of the troop are: W. S. Ross, chairman of troop committee; G. H. Brainerd, Scoutmaster; Ted Walls, Junior counselor; Foster Vanatta, troop scribe and treasurer. Member of the troop committee are: Rev. William Richards, Supt. William Gordon, L. A. Babbitt and N. C. Schrade.

The report made at the meeting follows:

Twenty-one boys were enrolled to start the year, of which seven dropped out due to transfers, etc. Eleven new boys were voted into the troop and initiated as scouts after passing their tenderfoot test.

Twenty-five troop meetings have been held in the high school gym, each meeting consisting of a fifteen-minute business meeting, thirty-minute instruction period, and a half-hour period of play and games. We have held three second class examinations, in which eight boys have become second class scouts and there are ten more boys who only need one or two more items to complete them.

We have held six hikes since last September to various spots around Northville and we have attended the swimming instruction periods at the Redford high school swimming pool five times.

We were entertained by the Knights of Pythias in their lodge room and served a fine dinner after which they presented the troops with a large silk American flag.

We participated in two inter-scout basketball games this last winter, winning from the New Hudson scouts at Milford and the Salem scouts at Northville.

We have two more hikes before the school closes and we hope to make the "troop" 97% of second class scouts.

The entire troop was on Memorial day to assist in the services. Part of the troop assisted Mr. Gafford in cleaning the trails on the line of march while the remaining scouts led the parade.

The committee met at the Northville State Savings bank on Thursday of last week and commended Mr. Brainerd on the above report.

A letter of commendation by the board was left to Secretary Richards to give to Scoutmaster Brainerd, who is held in high esteem for the noble work he has done with the Scouts in the community. This will be given him at the time of his leaving.

Russell Atchison Draws a Large Crowd at Methodist Services

The first sermon of Russell Atchison, the youngest Methodist lay preacher, who holds a license to such in the church, was preached to a large congregation last Sunday evening. The topic, "Live on for God," well thought out, was an inspiration to those who listened. The choir backed the young preacher with a beautiful anthem, and the service was in charge of Charles Sutherland, another young layman, holding a like license.

Many kind expressions were given to Russell at the close of the service in pleasing recognition of his effort by the audience present. Russell Atchison is the son of Dr. A. C. Atchison of Dunlap street.

KIWANIS NIGHT IS OBSERVED BY WAYNE MEMBERS

Chubs at this End of County
Unite at Plymouth Last Monday Night

It was Kiwanis night and members of the Plymouth and Wayne Kiwanis clubs made the most of it. Each year during the national convention of the organization, one night is devoted to Kiwanis—its meaning and its aims. Monday night was selected as the time for the clubs of western Wayne county to join with the other Kiwanis organizations of the world in this unusual event.

The meeting was held in Plymouth and Roy Crowe, former Northville resident, had charge of the arrangements for the affair. Something like 300 were present and until the program started, one might think he was attending a night celebration at the Mardi Gras. The color, the noise and the hilarity were all there. And those who planned the event didn't overlook a single thing that could be used in making the happy affair it proved to be.

It remained for a Northville singer, Wayne Vaalvne, to make one of the big hits of the evening.

There were other singers on the program, but the local lad gave two numbers that delighted the Kiwanians and their guests.

Dr. E. H. Hoven of Plymouth president of the live-wire Kiwanis club of that city, started the activities of the evening early, and not for a minute was there a let-up until the band ended. C. R. Livingood, all-around Wayne county booster and a pedigree Kiwanian, was toastmaster of the evening.

Perley Deal, collector of mites from the widows for gas service, demon strated his ability to glean his shekels from others than widows. He was finally forced to divide his dues with the Wayne collector of Merrill Bird of Wayne responded to the welcome extended his club by Dr. Hover and A. J. Richwine of the neighboring city told briefly of the meaning of "All Kiwanis Night."

Allen Brown of Detroit, founder of Kiwanis, revealed in tabled form the development of the organization from a little group that started out in Detroit in 1911. The Kiwanis movement spread to Cleveland, then Pittsburgh, Buffalo and on into practically every city on the American continent.

Death Claims Albert L. Vradenburg After Illness of Many Months

Death last Saturday afternoon, one of Northville's best-known pioneer residents, Albert Lewis Vradenburg, who expired after an illness of many months at his home in this place. During his entire life of 78 years he lived in this vicinity having on the Vradenburg farm on West Base Line road that was taken up from the government by the family.

Mr. Vradenburg was the fourth son of Lewis and Mary Vradenburg, and on March 21, 1856, he was married to Jennie Flint of Northville. Three children were born to them.

For several years he had been in poor health and found it necessary to spend the winters in a warmer climate. It was about four weeks ago that he returned from Hannibal, Missouri, where he spent last winter with his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Leverington, after his return from the south, his health failed rapidly and he died at his family home in Northville, on June 4th. Mrs. Vradenburg and three children survive, Lewis L. Vradenburg, residing in Northville, Mrs. Blanche Leverington in Hannibal, and Mrs. Ruth Bush in Sherman, California. There are six grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Dovener of Alva, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Julia Loveland of Detroit.

The funeral was held from the home Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, burial taking place in Rural Hill Cemetery. The Rev. A. MacRae conducted the services.

A mass of flowers, remembrances from his wide circle of friends was evidence of the high esteem in which he always been held.

As if he were still alive he spent his spare time on the possessions of the farm that had always been in the possession of the family.

LOCAL HIGH BAND IS INTERESTED IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Remarkable Growth of School Bands Indicated
by Big Meeting

The organization recently of a Northville high school band and school board and village council co-operating in the venture, has triggered considerable local interest in the small city band movement throughout the country. It was a small city school band that last week won the national school band championship in the contest held at Council Bluffs, Iowa. A high school band from a township school near Joliet, Illinois, won first place. Flint, Mich., high school won third place.

Following the announcement of the winners, C. M. Tremaine, director of the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, and secretary of the Instrumental Affairs Committee of the Music Supervisors' National Conference, under the joint auspices of which he pointed out the value in these contests:

"After listening to the performances of these juvenile bands, I am more than ever impressed with the importance of music in the lives of our young people," said Mr. Tremaine. "It demonstrates team work, discipline and perseverance, and gives evidence of what is playing in a band does for the youth as a builder of character in addition to its cultural advantages."

"The spirit of playing in this contest is just another proof that boy musicians are just as anxious to win band laurels as the members of a football or basketball team are to win achievements in athletics for their schools and themselves. A school is as proud of its band when it wins the state, sectional or national contest as when it takes home a trophy won on the gridiron or the baseball field."

"Music is a healthful influence and parents are now learning that the band is better than the 'gang' for their youngsters. Music is a fine mental stimulant and where certain standard of scholarship considerably above the minimum for passing is required for participation in the school band and for representing the school in a contest, this stimulus is often effective in bringing sagging grades up to the mark, just as it does with the boy trying to make the football eleven or the baseball or track team."

In connection with the national school band contest there also was held the annual meeting of the National School Band Association, an organization of school band directors, members of bands, and other persons interested in forwarding the cause of music through the school band.

STUDENTS VISIT UNIVERSITY—SEE MUCH OF INTEREST

Members of Chemistry Class are Taken into Laboratories of Big School

The visit to the University was arranged by Kemp Strunk, principal of the school. The students who accompanied the visitors were members of the Memorial Bell Angel band and Perry Field.

In arranging the visit of the local students, Mr. Smith had the co-operation of the University regents, Ira Smith, who provided two student guides and in other ways aided the visitors.

The following students made the University visit: Russell Atchison, Vernon Austin, Arthur Carlson, Duane Dunbar, James Ely, Ruth Foehn, Howard Goodale, Vor Halvorsen, Geraldine Huff, Lawrence LeFevre, Alec Miller, Donald Morris, Clossen Murphy, Lynn Partridge, Margaret Safford, Sam Stauffer, Elsie Sutton, Vivian Taylor, Norman Copland, Donald Ware, Roy Vanatta, Earl Roberts, Edwin Stibley, Tom Woodbury, Willie Foreman.

TWO TEAMS HAVE MET NO DEFEAT IN LEAGUE TO DATE

De-Ho-Co and Wayne Lead ing in the Inter-County League Contests.

Sunday's games in the Inter-County League saw the race tightened up, as between De-Ho-Co and Wayne, both as yet undefeated this season and in the lead for leadership of the fast league. Northville citizens who have been in the habit of going all the way to Detroit on a week-end for their ball would do well to introduce themselves to the article that is being played in the Inter-County League within a stone's throw of their hearthstone. When they have a desire to let heart and exciting base ball games should be against their doorsteps.

It would be hard to find a more reasonably priced or a palatable baseball team than the one offered by the Detroit Shuberts in their De-Ho-Co team. The ball was given in a three-game lead which has been in a topsy-turvy ball battle throughout the first half, from the 4th to the 18th.

It was in the 10th that the Shuberts' Farmington team had the greatest triumphing of hope, and poised Polkville's margin to one in the last of the 18th. Still, however, a devilish pitch another three and ended on another in the 19th, making it nine in total when De-Ho-Co came to bat in the bottom half of the ninth.

Things, a story, happened in this period and when the dust had settled at the end of the half, a few more were found in the afternoon's perfect play by Belleville, a new pitcher had replaced Hoppe, and De-Ho-Co had reduced the score.

Both teams were scoreless in the tenth, and it looked as if De-Ho-Co had got a man around in the eleventh,

but the Farming never-say-die spirit asserted itself, and three De-Ho-Cotes stood on bases with one man out, when Jaska swung mightily, and sent two of the three wavers across with winning tallies, the ball striking just inside the foul line in left field.

As a game it was a "wow," and Northvilleites who are not taking advantage of this kind of base ball are overlooking some fine sports.

Grosse Pointe defeated Wyandotte

5 to 4 in the Sunday game; Wayne triumphed Redford 7 to 1; and the game between Dearborn Engineers and Dearborn Municipal Employees was postponed.

Saturday De-Ho-Co defeated Polkville 28 to 9. The feature of this exhibition affair was the evening which brought it to a close in the eighth inning.

Redford meets De-Ho-Co on the Farm on next Sunday and the Saturday exhibition game will be between

De-Ho-Co and Dietrich Inc. of Detroit.

HIGH GOLFERS IN FINALS WIN FROM TWO CONTESTANTS

Local Lads Cop off Suburban League Trophy for Present Year

Northville's High School golf team has won the Suburban League trophy offered for high school golfers, having defeated Farmington and Dearborn in the final contests played at the Meadowbrook Links. The boys have taken seven contests and lost only three, remarkable showing for the first appearance in the league of high school golfers.

In the contest with Farmington the score was as follows: Copland, 2;

Beard, 3; McCordle, 0; Smith, 3. In the game with Dearborn Beard, Mccordle and Smith made three points each and Copland two. The individual scores for the season follow: McCordle, 88; Copland, 93; Beard, 96; and Smith, 104. Supporters of the team are delighted with the showing they made, particularly predicting that next year the national tournament will result differently than it did this year.

NORTHLVILLE GIVEN
WRITE-UP IN FREE PRESS LAST SUNDAY

Community Given Considerable Good Advertising
All Over the State

Last Sunday's issue of the Detroit Free Press had the following write-up pertaining to Northville, under a good column heading: "The Sunday Free Press has a circulation of something like 275,000, and it can readily be seen how extensive was the free advertising that Northville received."

"Sleeping out from Detroit, the dynamic spirit of that city has caught up the community of Northville, and in a little more than two years' time has more than doubled the population of that progressive city over in the northwestern corner of Wayne County.

Located up in the hills of the Switzerland of Wayne County, Northville is attractively situated. It is the highest spot in Wayne County, being located something like 900 feet above sea level. It is favorably located, not only as a residential section, but for industrial purposes, as well.

"During the 10 years of its existence the village, up until a few years ago, has always been regarded as a good place to live where industry did not make much difference. The farming land was rich, and the location of the place made a big market easily available. So the farmers did well, and as a result there wasn't much of an effort put forth in an industrial way until a few years ago, when the land became too valuable to farm."

"Now Northville, not only has a large district set aside among the hills for beautiful homes and estates, but it has to the east of the village one of the largest industrial centers in all Michigan, a community of its own.

"There are four great plants in the village, on which three miles from the heart of the town. The Edison Aircraft corporation manufactures its planes in Northville. This factory has more than doubled in size during the past year, and prospects are that it will be forced to expand again during the next year.

"The Globe Furniture company, the only maker of church furniture in Michigan. It not only makes church furniture, but it manufactures special orders of over-sized furniture and kinds of upholstered products.

"The Superior Lumber company finds work in all parts of the world, and the International Chemical company has a large plant here, one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country.

"The Superior Lumber company finds work in all parts of the world, and the International Chemical company has a large plant here, one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country.

"The downtown section of Northville is a real mix-up, being the junction of the main business and residential sections of the town.

"In addition to the main business street, there is a paved road into Northville from the south, the main road, and a long stretch of the community and surrounding country, and are a source of income to the town.

"Within the last few months a paved road into Northville from the south has been completed, and the town council has informed us that the paving of the street, we had to the western limit of Wayne County.

"There is a stretch of about 15 miles to this point.

"In addition to these roads there are two country clubs with golf courses just east of town, the Meadowbrook Country Club and the Maple Ridge Country Club."

CHURCH ISSUES MOST INTERESTING LITTLE NEWSPAPER

"Northville Lutheran" is Filled with Inspiring and Newsy Matter

The "Northville Lutheran" is the name of a bright, breezy little church publication issued by the Rev. Oswald G. L. Ries of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Congregation of Northville. The last issue just off the press, is filled with inspiring articles and interesting information that tends to keep the members of the congregation interested in their church affairs.

The following "jottings" taken from the last issue will show why the publication is such an interesting one and why it apparently has met with the whole-hearted approval of the church membership as well as outside friends who receive it:

"Our new elder, Mr. George Schuchard, who was elected to take the place of Mr. Henry Schmitz, who has moved to Monroe, will be inducted into office on Pentecost Sunday. Mr. Arthur Schmitz is the congregation's new secretary."

"We certainly were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Louis Meissner as our organist for the time being, and hope that his hours of duty at Eastman Sanatorium can be so arranged that he will be able to fill this position permanently. We surely need him."

It takes the ladies to start something. Their decision to have the church painted was immediately followed by a resolution of the men to grade the yard and to provide for a lawn, a cinder drive-way and parking grounds. Wherever the Willine Workers go to equip our church in new shades. Usghot will not know our church anymore after these improvements have been made. We hope that all these resolutions will be carried out in the very near future."

"Next month's issue of this paper will be "Signed Number." The Michigan District will convene June 22nd & 23rd, at Detroit. Mr. Louis Miller will be the first man to represent our congregation at Session."

Mr. Fred Balkus signed the congregation's constitution in the last meeting. That brings our voting membership to 27. However, we know of at least one half dozen others, who should sign up for our next meeting and again to take a more active part in the affairs of their congregation. We heartily invite them to do so."
