JUDGES AND POLITICIANS

Then the city assessor came out with a statement that the assessed population of the town exceeded the $3,000,000 mark. This week a member of the school board advised the school board to hold up the community that in order to take care of the increased school population at present instead of the fact that they had two additional rooms would have been or have been politicians. But nevertheless, it is necessary for them to get into politics if they want to be elected to the bench in any of our courts, excepting, of course, our federal courts. These places are filled by appointment; and naturally an appointment fails to go with the biggest political pull.

Just as soon as a lawyer assumed the bench he is supposed to forget politics. Some of them do, and they make remarkably good public officials. Some of them do not forget politics, and they make exceedingly poor judges. They are the tools of the political faction to which they belong and invariably they serve their political master, rather than seeing to it that justice is properly meted out. A judge who will lend himself to the preparation of a document that can be used for political purposes about the most obnoxious sort of a public official can find. He is determined to organize society and black blotch in our judicial system.

Fortunately Michigan has two of the sort. However, once in while you will find one of these political judges who has, by some hook or crook, induced a non-toe careful public to elevate him to the bench. Wherever one is found, it is for the public good to put the "skids under him" so to speak, about as quickly as possible.

Surprising as it may seem, it is not the big cities that produce these pious-doing-judges, but rather the counties where the supervisors believe that a judge doesn't amount to much and therefore may have according to his ability and what they believe.

If some of these up-state judges want to get more money for their services, there are two things they should do: forget politics and make them worthy worth the increased pay they ask for.

UP TO COMMISSION

Voters of Northville Monday decided to name a commission to frame a new charter for the conduct of the affairs of the village. In this action they took a forward step and now the question is, where to go up to the charter commission? If they prepare a plan present to the voters of Northville, charter that meets with the approval of the voters, there is no question but what the community will be benefited, if a charter should be prepared carrying all the provisions that might prove detrimental to the development of Northville, and set as a check to its advancement, the voters fortunately have a chance to reject it at a later election.

Borently for the village there were seven excellent candidates in race. All seven were acceptable candidates, but of course only five could be elected, and from the general character of the five selected there is no question but what a basic law for the conduct of village affairs will be drafted that will be a credit to the community and to those elected to prepare it.

STILL GROWING

Northville is growing and growing very rapidly. Rarely a day passes but what some indication is evident of this fact. Some time ago a directory count showed the community to be of 4,000 people, nearing the 4,000 mark in population.

Can All Washers

Wash Blankets and Rugs?

In selecting an electric washer, do not lose sight of the fact that you will want to wash large blankets, comforts and chenille rugs in it as well as the ordinary weekly wash.

Not all washers are capable of doing this heavier sort of work, because their tubs are too small.

The EASY Washer, however, is built to this very need. It has a tub large enough to accommodate the largest pieces that you have occasion to wash.

Buy an EASY and you will have a washer that will do your washing completely.

ILLNESS OF MARY
MONTHS ENDS IN DEATH OF PIONEER

Mrs. Laura McRobert, Long a Prominent Resident of Northville

With the passing of Mrs. Laura McRobert, whose funeral was held last Friday, June 10th, Northville and western Wayne county has lost another one of its highly esteemed and prominent pioneer residents. While she had been in ill health many months, her death coming rather suddenly, terminated a career of usefulness to the community in which she resided.

Sue was the youngest daughter of James and Matilda Purdy, who settled in Wayne county during its early history, and was born in what is known as the Purdy farm, two and a half miles south of Northville, February 15, 1847. The Purdy farm was taken up from the government by her father, and over a period of a great many years remained in the possession of the family.

During her entire life she was a member of the Presbyterian church and one of its staunch supporters. Not only was she interested in affairs of her church, but worthy projects had her untiring support. Her circle of friends was exceedingly large, and her passing is a cause of general sorrow.

Mrs. McRobert is survived by three daughters—Nellie, now Mrs. D. P. Yerkes; Mrs. Lida, Mrs. J. R. Truman, both of Northville, and Editha, now Mrs. H. L. Weaver of Traverse City. Two half-sisters, Mrs. Jane Sessions of Northville, and Mrs. Hannah Phelps of Detroit, seven grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren also survive. A number of Mrs. McRobert's ancestors came from Scotland, settling in this country in 1740. She was a member of the Daughters of the Revolution and greatly interested in the work of the organization. Her father was one of the organizers of the Presbyterian Church of this place and was its first deacon.

The funeral was held from the home last Friday afternoon. The Rev. E. V. Bellis of Kenton, Ohio, assisted by Rev. F. P. Knowles of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Interment took place in Rural Hill cemetery.

"HOME AT LAST"
Home at last! Life's journey over,
Done the waiting, and the pain.
And our tears for thee are falling,
Tho' our loss to thee is gain.

Neyel more shall care or trouble,

Dim the brightness of the braw,

And no more shall earthly sorrow,

Ever come to vex thee now.

Home at last! oh, here we dwell,

When the tear drops fall like rain,

And our aching hearts are yearning

For thy gen'lgovice again?

Nay, we would not now recall thee,

Safe upon the other side,

Fast for thou is all the waiting,

Of life so quiet by thy side.

Home at last! and yet ye're,

In it within the peaceful gates,

With love still harbored in a bosom,

Now the bright author walls,

Whose warm high tops the braw,

And on even no longer do we

Shut the door, after we're gone,

As in life mayhap,

With a smile, a look, a word.

STUDENT NEWS

Ruth Tolman has received the Order of Great Achievement awarded by the Gregg Writer for writing copy artistically and correctly in shorthand. She has also received her competent typist certificate awarded by the Gregg Writer for writing a certain number of words a minute on given material. Ruth won third place at the district contest in the amateur typists event, writing 16. She received her certificate this week from the Gregg Writer.

Following is the eighth grade honor roll for May: Ted Cawley, Ned Jones, Mable Bryan, Sophie Collins, Francis Sprenger, Florence Baiko, Wayne Preston and Elmer Perrin.

Last Friday, June 3rd, the annual election of the officers of the Student Council took place. In all it was a very quiet campaign except for campaign speeches made Friday morning by aspiring candidates. Those elected were Russell Atchison, mayor; Harvey Guntzviller, clerk; Ethel Stern, treasurer. The representatives from each class will be chosen next year.

Pastures for hogs must be supplemented with grain for the most satisfactory results. An acre will ordinarily furnish pasture for from 5 to 15 hogs, averaging 100 pounds. A good plan is to have two pastures for each lot of hogs, so that by alternating them the pasture may be grazed fairly close and still provide good succulent feed.

In marking stock for market, it is important that the marks be made on a conspicuous part of the animal so that they may be seen readily without unduly disturbing the animals. Heavy shrinkage often results because of unnecessary disturbance to determine identity of ownership when marks are indistinct. Every effort should be made to mark all animals in one shipment on the same side.

Keep in good repair fences around pastures and the calf grazes. Do not neglect the care of young hogs, however, showing them an alternate route through the woods, so as to go through the cover soon after birth. Have a wire fence for them to play in, and when you can, plant trees and shrubs around the fence posts.

EXCHANGES AT STATE CONVENTION

Members of the Northville Exchange Club present this week at the annual state convention of the Exchanges of Michigan at Kalamazoo were President Don P. Yerkes of the club and Mrs. Yerkes, Mayor and Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crose, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Ambler, Rev. William Richards, Secretary of the club.

The Kalamazoo convention proved to be one of the best ever held by the Exchange clubs of the state. There was something doing on the program and in the entertainment lines during the entire period.

Salem Events

A wedding of more than ordinary interest took place in the Salem Congregational church Thursday evening, June 9th. Miss Velma Kahler and Ivan Spear were united by the Rev. L. M. Stroh. The church was most artistically decorated. An arch covered with white spires, bearing a large white bell in the center and one smaller one on each side. The background of green was formed by potted plants, ferns and palms. Numerous large baskets filled with white flowers and huge pink ribbons made a beautiful picture. Mrs. L. J. W. sang "O Promise Me," accompanied on the violin by Mrs. Curlo of Redford. Miss E. S. Muir played the wedding march and its strains little William Wilson and Marion Schroeder walked singing flowers along the path followed by Miss Dorothy Curtiss of Petoskey in a silk crepe dress, powdered blue carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas, then the bride, Miss Velma Kahler attired in a dress of old rose silk crepe and holding a large bunch of beautiful pink roses. W. W. Kahler followed by the rest of the family. Along the other aisle came Rev. L. M. Stroh, the groom, Ivan Spear, and his best man, his brother Ray Speck. After the ceremony, the customarily candy and cigars were passed to the crowd surrounding the home. A few friends gathered at the home and refreshments of ice cream and cake were partaken of. The happy couple left for Charlevoix with Petoskey. They were the recipients of beautiful gifts, among them flat silver from Salem church and tea set silver and casserole from Wooster church. The Belvoir Bible class and teacher, Mrs. R. Pennell directed the church, decorating with Mrs. Frank Barns as chairman, and their certainly showed great ability.

Medallions C. Payne and C. Martin wife of Dr. Arliss Saturday, Mrs. R. W. Kehrl and daughter, Irma, uncle Thursday at O. Dudley's in Redford.

TIRE

FOR 39 YEARS Dunlop has been building the world's supreme tire. Dunlop wears longer because Dunlop knows how to build better at each vital point.

Take the hidden carcass beneath the tread. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills for no other purpose than to spin the best long-fibre cotton into the famous cable-twist cord that goes into this carcass.

The extra strength in these cords means an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

The extra "stretch" enables the carcass to give under severe blows, and to come back into its original position without internal injury.

The Dunlop tread—the toughest rubber development known—wears slowly and smoothly, making sure that you get out of your Dunlops, all the extra mileage that added care and longer experience have built into them. We recommend that you put Dunlop on your car.

FIRE CHIEF TELLS HOW TO BUILD TO PREVENT FLAMES

Local Fire Department Head Says Prevention of Fire Department Aim

In reviewing measures now being taken by the International Association of Fire Chiefs, to combat the appalling loss of life and property by fire in the United States, Fire Chief Fred Hicks of Northville points out that one of the most effective ways to reduce the fire danger is to give such buildings as fire areas the highest degree of inconduciveness.

"It would be impracticable, of course, to build an all-steel roof structure," Chief Fred Hicks, continued. "In a residence of this nature the beds would have to be steel reinforced concrete slabs, and the furniture would have to be of a similar material. There could be no draperies, rugs, linens and clothing. But it is never unpracticable to construct a building as fire-safe as is compatible with comfort."

"Take the average wood frame house, as an example. When the wood frame is covered with a sheathing of wood, and this in turn is covered with wood siding, and when the lath under the plaster and the shingles on the roof are of wood, you have a highly combustible conflagration breeding type of construction—one that would put surrounding structures in jeopardy if a fire should break out, particularly if there were a high wind blowing. For a high wind would carry burning embers to adjoining roofs and scatter sparks far and wide."

"But it is probably a long way off before wood frame houses will be altogether abandoned, particularly since the development of modern building materials has resulted in a protected type of wood construction that retains all the good features of the all-wood house. In building such a fire-protected wood house the wood frame is erected in the regular manner. But instead of sheathing of wood being applied over the frame, an incombustible type of sheathing is now used. This protects the frame from the outside. To protect it from the inside, metal or rock lath is used in place of wood lath. With a roof covering of asbestos or other fire-resistant material, a house so built possesses as high a degree of protection from fire as is possible in a frame structure."

Chief Fred Hicks feels that preventing fires is just as important a part of the Fire Department's work as fighting fires and along with the thousands of other fire chiefs throughout the country, he is actively cooperating with the International Association of Fire Chiefs in the great "1927 Fire Prevention Year" movement which it is hoped will acquaint the public with means for reducing the annual fire toll.

Mrs. Graham of North Farmington is visiting this week in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ed. Grady.

Margaret Kiling this week is entertaining her cousin, Margaret Gladys Kiling of North Farmington.

Emile Houlihan, one of the oldest inhabitants hereabouts, is suffering from acute stomach ailments.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mars visited Sunday at the home of Frank McLaughlin, who is ill at his home in Congaree.

Mrs. D. Barrett and son Robert and John attended a birthday party at the home of their cousin, Dr. Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ete of Walled Lake were Sunday callers at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Don Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Munro and daughter, Mary were visitors Saturday at the Plymouth home of Mrs. Hautz Gear.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Munro and baby left Monday for Saginaw to attend the funeral of a relative, John McHenry.

Harold Miller entertained the members of his Sunday school class at the Northville Methodist church last Friday evening.

Miss Orl Holmes, a nurse in the Eloise hospital, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes.

Excavation has been completed and the cellar is under construction for a new tenant house on the Clarence Smith farm north of Novi.

The Sunday evening service conducted by the Baptist Young People of the Pontiac-Bethany church was graced by a large number of local people.

Mr. and Mrs. Caled Rux went to Webberville last Thursday as guests of Mr. Rux's sister, Mrs. Hattie Sims. Mrs. Helen Houston made the return trip with them and remained until Monday.

The VanDusen farm, two miles west of Novi on Grand River is the scene of much activity. This hundred acre stretch of property is being converted into a golf course by its owners, who are Detroit parties.

The program for Children's Day in the Baptist church was attended by many parents and they enjoyed greatly the program of music, song and recitations so well given by the various classes.

The annual memorial services of the Novi Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will be held Tuesday evening, June 21st. Among the speakers will be Rev. William Richards of Northville. An excellent program has been prepared, and all members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hamilton motored to Kalamazoo Friday to visit Mrs. Charles Burgess, who recently had the misfortune to break her leg. Mrs. Burgess, who has been a frequent visitor at the home of her brothers, has made many friends in our vicinity.

Mr. W. Kerner, the plumber, has purchased the old Harmon homestead and the lots upon which it stands in the new subdivision, "Novi Manor," and expects shortly to make extensive improvements. The house will be remodeled to contain living apartments both up and down stairs with office and warehouse accommodations for his business.

Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Holcomb visited Mrs. Margaret Harmon, who was stricken with a heart attack while visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leeland Foreman of near Birmingham. Friends of the village where Mrs. Harmon was lone and well-liked resident, will be pleased to know that she is resting comfortably although her condition is such that she must remain in bed for a long time.

Mrs. Lizzie Coates accompanied her husband, Mrs. Phil Taylor, to Ann Arbor Tuesday, where the latter's son, Russell, was taken for observation and examination. Russell, for some years past, has been suffering with a disease of the esophagus, which has permitted but small quantities of food to pass into the stomach. The case is an unusual one, in respect that the doctors are deeply interested in finding a cure without resorting to surgery.

In recognition of Marian Skinner's achievement in securing a gold medal in the Inter-county reading contest and in being acclaimed district champion in the recent spelling bee, a purse of fifty dollars was presented to her last Friday evening.

Besides participating in these two contests, Marian passed the eighth grade county examinations with highest honors. Such a tax on her strength was too great for the growing girl, and her health is somewhat impaired. The funds will be used for a trip to Petoskey, where Marian will stay with her aunt, Mrs. Nellie Coveyon.

About fifteen Novi ladies attended Achievement Day of the Home Economics Department held Saturday at the consolidated schools in Clawson. The meeting, which was an all-day session, with dinner served at noon by the Clawson division, was easily enjoyed by the visitors.

Besides a "fashion show" depicting line, color, and style of dress suitable for each type of femininity, O. J. Greatorex gave an excellent talk on "The Home Beautiful and Landscaping Gardening."

Other attractive numbers on the program rounded out a most colorful day of instruction and entertainment.

Much amusement is being created at the meeting of the local Rebekahs, by the entertainment offered each time for the group of the order. A new committee appointed at each regular meeting presents some mode of enjoyment for the members assembled.

A Novi contingent put on a "kiddie car race" participated in by fat and slim ladies, and the dark details have never been told. At the last meeting a Wixom group gave an old fashioned school, with ludicrous costumes and every laughable article in the school boy's curriculum.

The offering of the committee is kept profound secret, and all members are urged to attend the next meeting to be held Thursday evening, June 23rd.

The program in charge of Alice Hopkins of Wixom promises to surpass all others, so order a "linguisal" seat.

The Ayros tree farm house located on the South Lyon road near the intersection with the Blackwood road, was completely destroyed by fire a week ago Sunday. About nine thirty in the evening Ayros noticed that the member of the family which had been away for about a year, was a mass of flames. Future visitations could be procured all help, of saving the structure was abandoned.

An injured man, who had been slightly burned, was admitted to the hospital Saturday morning. He was a passenger in a car which had been involved in a collision with another vehicle. The driver of the other car had been taken to the hospital.

Saturday afternoon about fifteen Boy Scouts from Detroit accompanied by the Scout and ranger master, Mr. Scott, and several of the boys' fathers, were joined by an eager group of Novi youngsters. From the town hall they started on a hike that ended at Delos Leavenworth's barn, two miles west of Novi on Grand River. "Camp" was made and fires built in the nearby woods. Frying bacon and bubbling coffee permeated the air, and the outdoor meal prepared by themselves was eaten with much gusto by the hungry lads. As each hiker came with a blanket strapped across his back, they "bunked" over night in the fragrant hay.

"Chuck" the next morning was again prepared over singing campfires and after a few hours of sociable chatting the return hike was made.

Every vestige of fire was extinguished and all debris picked up. The boys had such a hilarious time that they voted to repeat the performance at some future date.

William Hansor and Fred Smith were the local fathers who took personal charge of the Novi group.

Power expense is one vital factor in producing crops over which the farmer has control. The thinking farmer will keep down the expense at all times. It is important, therefore, that he study the relative advantages of animal and mechanical power for his own conditions, in order to convince himself of the necessity of raising colts for replacement purposes before the inevitable shortage in desirable work stock occurs.

Velvet beans should become an important factor in developing the live stock industry in the south, and as a rotation crop, which helps in succeeding crops. This crop is the most vigorous growing annual legume cultivated in the United States. One or more varieties of velvet beans can be grown successfully in nearly all parts of the country.

The Home Idea-- and YOU . . . . .

Throughout the centuries mankind has felt the hunger for home. From the days of the cave to the present, the shelter and security of home has played a dominant part in our desires. Each year sees the home idea developed a little more fully. Mankind is ever reaching upwards toward the fullest realization of Home.

Hillcrest Manor typifies the home place of today—and of the years to come—offering, as it does, a select environment protected from the encroachment of undesirable elements—with unusual natural beauty developed to the highest possible degree. Your highest home ideals can be realized in this select property.

Drive today over our winding roads. Picture your home here—among the hills.

Harry and Loyle German
Put to Rout Redford
Aggregation.

The Germans, father and son, gave Northville fans at the De-Ho-Co Park Sunday a real excuse to boast of the town's baseball prowess. Harry's pitching and Loyle's two-homers contributed to their rout of the Redford at the hands of the De-Ho-Co sluggers.

As a baseball game it was a real "old meet," 28 De-Ho-Cotes sprinting the crease during eight and one-half innings. Four Redford hurlers were used, to try to hold the Farmer flow of hits, but all were equally ineffectual. Harry allowed seven hits to Redford while De-Ho-Co was collecting twenty-five hits off the Nutt-Kress-Trombley-Smith combination.

Detroit Firemen defeated Wyandotte 12 to 3. Municipal Club topped Gross Pointe 12 to 8, while Belle Isle upset the dopesters by winning from Wayne 12 to 2. Wayne's defeat Sunday gives De-Ho-Co undisputed leadership in the Inter-County circuit. Next Sunday, June 19th, the De-Ho-Co boys meet Wyandotte. Northville fans are assured of a close game in this fracas, as Wyandotte has strengthened considerably, and is out to wipe out their previous defeat at Farmers' hands.

DETROIT GATEWAY

DECLARES LEADER

Navigation Company Executive Points out Dominant Location of City

The only floating postoffice in the world is the little government steamer Blitzen which delivers mail to the passing vessels in the Detroit River, at Detroit, Mich., during the season of navigation on the Great Lakes. During the 235 days of navigation last season the marine branch of the Detroit post office delivered two million letters and telegrams to the passing boats and received 1,225 letters and telegrams to be forwarded, including money orders, parcels and newspapers; a total of 3,500,000 pieces of mail was handled by the marine post office, according to A. A. Schantz, president of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation company, which operates passenger and package freight boat lines between Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland, and Chicago.

"Detroit is the gateway to all of the principal summer resorts in the Great Lakes region and possesses the largest fleet of passenger liner and day excursion steamers on inland waterways of the country," said Mr. Schantz. "The new steamers Greater Buffalo and Greater Detroit operating on Lake Erie between Detroit and Buffalo cost $1,500,000 each to build and have sleeping accommodations for 1,500 passengers, besides quarters for crew of 300 officers and sailors. Some of the day excursion steamers running between Detroit and nearby summer outing points are licensed to carry 3,500 passengers.

One of the outstanding pleasures of an outing on a lake passenger steamer is in watching the endless procession of bulk freight steamers, passenger林ers, and other water-borne commerce of the United States which is carried on the Great Lakes.

It is astonishing for it is nearly as great as the total commerce of all other inland waterway systems in the country. This lake commerce is largely in excess of the United States commerce on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf."

It's poor business to produce fertile eggs—in the summer time, especially. Produce only infertile eggs now that the breeding season is over. They keep best.

Hibiscus Is Never Blue

In many of the pink hibiscus the eye is crimson while the various shades are faded, at times into the merest pink wash in an almost white flower, says Nature Magazine. Often there is more or less of the scarlet color, and then there is the double—the scarlet pink. There are all mixtures of the various colors combined in various forms, and a range of yellow or orange. No color has been found.

When

Gloom Clouds Hover

When gloom clouds hover over man's achievement, it kills all his courage. It causes him to overcome even the greatest contributor to his success, unfortunately. The greatest contributor to man's success is the thought of his own quick success. The thought of failure and savings is often the first duty of a successful lawyer. However, apart from other factors, to a man who has given his time and energy to the expense, can we refer you for good advice to fast many different and profitable ways a man can earn his living? We want you back again.
