their charters and Northville has benefit of the experiences of both munities under a charter system government.

A study of the charter will many factors that have given consideration to the con-sion it will be apparent that effort has been made to keep po-out of local affairs as far as possible.

It will also be noticed that the ed will hereafter be known as commission, and trustees as cansioners. However the new ch-does not put in effect the commismanager form of government. It village should decide later that form of government is desired, it can easily matter to amend the charter so as to provide for it.

The charter may seem long,
but if you take time and read it over with knowledge about and you can be called upon to decide what you want, and what is your best interest. And put to rest what you may hear. If you do not stud-it, then printed in English that you can preserve it.

Members of the charter commission are: Edward H. Lapham, chairman; Charles A. Dolph, secretary;

Round the World, Two Flights to England, One to South America

Four great flights, one around the world, one to South America, and two from Canada to England, will be made within the next four weeks in planes now being produced in the Curtiss Aircraft Corporation plant at Northville.

The first craft-out will be used in a flight to South America to be made by Paul R. Redfern. This flight will cover the greatest non-stop hop any to be attempted. The flight is supposed is something like 4,600 miles. It will start from Georgia and end in Rio de Janeiro. This craft committed will probably start for Georgia on Tuesday. Eddie Stinson will not make the flight with Redfern.

An effort to circle the globe in 45 days E. F. Schlee will leave Dearborn just as soon as his plane can be finished. Workmen are spending 40 hours in the plant rushing it along and it will be out probably another two or three days. Wm. Will pilot this craft around the

Immediately after this plane has been made ready for the round-trip flight, final tests will be made on the Stinson craft to be used mainly from London, Canada, to London, England. This flight is being made by the business men of the Canadian city for the purpose of getting closer together the interests of the great English city and its people on this side of the globe.

Elliot's Go into Own Building and Herton Now on Corner

Two important business removals are in progress in Northville's new present. William Elliott & Son have moved their grocery and bakery from the corner of Main and Center streets, most directly across the street, next to the Lapham State Savings Bank, to their own building. The removal gives them much larger floor space, and provides a place directly in the rear of the grocery for their bakery. The Horton Drug Store will move from its present location into the place on the corner that has been vacated by the Elliott store. Extensive alterations are being made in the building by Mr. Horton, and considerable equipment added. Mr. Horton desires to make the move as early as possible, and probably by the end of another week he will be located entirely in his new place. It has not yet been announced who will go into the place made vacant by the removal of the Horton store. A considerable sum is being spent both by the Elliotts and Mr. Horton in making their places in to very attractive business houses. Not only the inside of the places being redecorated and to some extent remodeled, but the fronts are being painted.

Daught Davis, for over twenty years a well known Detroit Sales promoter, has become associated with the Stinson Aircraft Corporation and has been ready assumed his duties with this rapidly growing manufacturing plant and will probably act as assistant to William Mara and handle much of the interesting and general publicity work.

He was for some time associated with the Burroughs Adding Machine Company. Later being in the sales promotion department of the Hyman

Talks to Exchange Club

A good airport is a necessity these days to any town that has ambitious goals," declared Lieutenant O. M. Goodsell, until recently of Selbridge field, in a talk Wednesday noon before members of the Exchange club. It is not necessary to have an airport big enough for army planes to land on. Commercial planes do not require such a big landing field as do the army uses. You should have runways going north and south, east and west," he said. Goodsell had much to do with the creation of the airport at Grand Rapids. The county road commission and Kent contributed much to building of the field by giving the use of equipment and the use of

Whole Herd of Ohio Farm to be Added to Big List of Record Breakers

With the purchase of over 100 purebred Ayrshire cattle, consisting of the entire famous herd of the South Farm of Willoughby, Ohio, the Booth stock farm of Northville becomes, without question the home of the greatest milking herd of Ayrshires in the world. The transaction, which has just been announced by the owners of the Boothstock farm is probably one of the most important that has taken place in a number of years in sold-out dairy circles. In fact it is doubtful if there has been another transfer of purebred stock involving in one transaction such a large herd as included in this sale. In the herd are 74 advanced registry records that average 12,775 pounds of milk. Five of the cows are championship records. There are 15 cows that hold both gold and silver medal winnings. Some of the best records are amazing, 67 of two year olds averaging 9,293 pounds of milk after their first calves, 15 of the three year olds have averaged 10,269 pounds and 23 of the four year olds have averaged 11,180. Twelve mature cows have averaged 11,440 pounds of milk.

Miss Thistle has produced 23,000 pounds of milk. Ring Heather produced 12,641 pounds of milk and 100.64 pounds of fat. Howies and See, an aged bull and the best living sire comes with the herd. His first ten daughters have averaged 12,159 pounds of milk and 461 pounds of butter.

A black and white cartoon illustration titled "PUBLIC AUTO CAMP". The scene is viewed from a high angle. In the foreground, a vintage car is packed with several people, including a man in a striped shirt in the driver's seat. The car is driving on a road that curves to the left. On the right side of the road, a large, grumpy-looking man in a suit and tie stands with his arms crossed, holding a sign that reads "SPIRIT OF HOSPITALITY". In the background, a small house is visible on a hill. The title "PUBLIC AUTO CAMP" is written in large, bold letters at the top of the image.

NOVI CHAMPION READER ENJOYS NORTHLAND TRIP

Marian Shinn Expresses Her Appreciation to All Novi Friends

Marion Shinn, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Shinn of Novi who won the inter-county reading contest and stood sixth in the Detroit News spelling bee, is thoroughly enjoying a delightful vacation in Northland, Michigan, which has been provided her by Novi residents.

The whole community was proud when the young miss won the gold medal for being the best reader in this section. Then when she made such a favorable showing in the News spelling contest among thousands of contestants from all parts of the state, they decided it was time to do something to show the little Novi student that her efforts were appreciated.

So a purse was raised and when school was out she was sent to the northlands and the following letter to Novi residents from her indicates what a delightful time she is having: "I don't know how I can ever thank you for this wonderful vacation you have given me. How many of you have ever been up here? If you have, you know what I am getting, and if you haven't you will have to see it before you can fully realize what you have done for me."

"The house is a large square one situated on top of a large hill. It is almost always sunny and when it rains it dries off very quickly."

"There is a magnificent view from the hill. Miles and miles of rolling hills and forests, and off to the south is Walloon lake nestling among the hills. The trees and thick underbrush come right down to the lake shore."

"To the west, miles off, I can see Lake Michigan. It looks so much like a cloud that at first I couldn't see it."

"Directly to the east, across the road is a wood plot, so I can't see far. On the next hill to the west there is a woodland, but it is lower down so I can see over it."

"Miles away in any direction there are woods, and the farther away they are the higher they are. A few miles away, across Little Traverse Bay, there are virgin forests that have never been cut over. They are mostly poplar, birch and pine."

"Most of the roads lead right through the woods. These roads are simply beautiful. Whole banks of sweet white clover, tall, feathery ferns, two feet high, slender, graceful Turkey Cup lilies on their long crisp stems; the white birches and rugged pines and the vines and brush so thick that you would almost have to cut a path through."

"The air is different, too. It is like breezes so fresh and cool, the tang of the pines and the fragrance of the clover and rare yellow lady slippers. The sunsets are wonderful. I wish I could take a picture of it, but even if I could I wouldn't have the colors."

"I do wish you were all here and could see for yourself."

Thankfully,

MARION SHINN.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS SAY ABOUT US

It is going to take a lot of nerve to print the following, but when our neighbors speak kindly of us, we feel as though it should be acknowledged and our appreciation expressed. A couple of weeks ago, reference was made to the birthdays of the Record.

The excellent Plymouth Mail had the following comment to make:

"The Northville Record was fifty-seven years of age last week, and has the distinction of being one of the oldest newspapers in the state. During the time the paper has been published, it has been under only four different ownerships. The present owner, Elton R. Eaton, is publishing a splendid paper, and one that Northville can well feel proud of. Mr. Eaton is not only a good newspaper man, but he is a real booster for Northville."

The Milford Times offers the following "leaving" comment:

"The Northville Record finished its 57th year of publication with its last issue, being just about six months older than the Times. The Record always has been a good newspaper, and its recent publisher, Mr. Eaton, is making a better one. The Record has had but four owners in the 57 years."

aggressive and well-edited newspaper. A birthday recently is the Ploverville Review. George L. Adams, who began its publication fifty-three years ago, is still at the helm and going strong, giving his community a progressive and well-edited newspaper."

An Italian woman named Tofana, who lived in the 17th century, was the world's most famous poisoner. She had more than 600 victims to her credit before she was apprehended and executed.

PASTOR FLATTERED, BUT IT'S ALL WRONG

Rev. William Richards feels greatly flattered. The Record last week sent its star reporter over to the annual conference of the local church and in some way the typewriter or the printer's devil made the advanced salary of the pastor, read something like $6,000 or $7,000 per year. Figures in this case do not mean much, according to the pastor. He says he has never hoped to land at any place in the world where the returns would be so in that amount, but he feels indeed grateful to the individual who thought possibly his salary might reach the $4,000 mark or better.

For fear that some others, like the printer's devil, might really believe that the pastor was going to secure a salary of more than $4,000 per year, he has asked that it be stated in cold black type that it's only something like half that amount.

"You know if the church here was paying me that much," would be down in Florida playing golf with John D. and some of the other rich fellows. I would have a Stinson plane, and I would be flying back and forth to my pastorate here. It's a great thing to dream and it gives you a feeling of pride when people intentionally or otherwise associate your name with a big salary," stated the pastor.

For fear that some of the heavy supporters of the church might get the wrong idea of matters, the Record hastens to correct any wrong impression that might exist pertaining to the pastor's big salary.

LAKE ORION BIBLE CONFERENCE

In an environment of great natural beauty and charm the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago will conduct a summer Bible Conference on Bellevue Island, Lake Orion, Mich., from July 31 to Aug. 14.

Lake Orion is famed for its beautiful shores and charming islands. All kinds of aquatic sports are possible and popular.

In placing its numerous summer conferences the Moody Bible Institute follows the policy of selecting places where vacation travel abounds so that transients as well as residents may derive inspiration from the helpful program offered. Unusual care has been exercised to bring Lake Orion, a distinguished and capable group of speakers. Also ample provisions for inspiring music and helpful recreation have been made.

During the fifteen day period, Bible expositions, inspirational addresses and evangelistic messages will be brought by Dr. W. P. White, the Rev. J. J. Ehrstein, Dr. J. E. Conant, Mr. Louis Entininger, Prof. Leander S. Keyser, and Dr. G. Guille.

Each of these speakers has achieved well merited repute in his special line of service.

Two of the most capable members of the Moody Bible Institute music faculty will promote the musical interests of the conference. Mr. Geo. Schuler, director, song writer and widely known musical writer and editor, will direct and Mr. Alfred Holsworth will assist at the piano and in other helpful ways.

Lake Orion is at the center of a densely populated region and is easy of access by rail and auto highways and it is confidently expected that multitudes will avail themselves of the opportunity offered by this inspirational conference.

Special features: 1. Boys and girls work; 2. Evening round table discussions; 3. Special attention to Sunday School work; 4. A 3 o'clock music hour conducted by Mr. Schuler; 5. Men's mission day, Saturday, Aug. 12th.

It is interesting to note in a statement recently issued and taken from records of the Federal bankruptcy courts that 92 percent of the firms that failed during the past year were non-advertisers.

Novi News

The home of Steve Hick, is 123 June st. in a new part of town. Mr. Hick has a new car and a new house.

Miss Nellie Allen of Howell was a Sunday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Delo.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leavenworth and two sons, a daughter, were guests of the Leavenworths, Bert, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Pigeon of London, Canada, were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Buck and children of Hillsdale spent the latter part of last week at the home of their cousin, Frank Rice.

Mr. Harry Deyo and small son, Robert, are spending a few weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Clark of Newburg, were callers Thursday at the Leavenworth Hanson home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hicks of Northville spent Saturday night and Sunday at the home of Mr. Hick's sister, Mrs. Henry Stillwell.

Miss Emma Harding arrived Tuesday from St. Louis, Missouri, to make an extended visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Burton Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hills and Mr. and Mrs. George Hills of Northville, drove to Grand Rapids Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. George Smith.

Mr. S. C. Case who had been visiting relatives in this vicinity for a week was taken to his home in Ann Arbor last Friday by his nephew, Charles Holmes.

Mrs. John Haze after a visit with relatives here returned Friday to her home in Kalamazoo. Mrs. Charles Hamilton went with her and remained until Monday.

Mrs. E. K. Bathrick of Akron, Ohio, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Dora Dorelson will go to Detroit next week to spend a short time with relatives before returning to her home.

Rev. Thompson of the local Baptist Church and Rev. George Gullen of the Community Church at West Pointe Park near Farmington, exchanged pulpits last Sunday morning.

The Town Hall recently painted without and thoroughly cleaned within, is now a pleasant place in which to conduct the business meetings of our village. For the benefit of the increasing number of new residents in our midst, it seems as if the township board should appropriate funds for a suitable sign designating this building as "Novi Town Hall."

About fifteen from Novi attended the Munro reunion held Thursday, July 21, in Grosse Pointe. Those who went were: Mr. and Mrs. Delos Leavenworth, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson and children, J. O. Munro and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman and children. Mr. J. L. Munro who accompanied them went on to Yassar to visit his brother, Daniel Munro.

Mr. R. W. Sterner, who recently purchased the Harmon house on the Novi Manor Subdivision, has begun extensive remodeling on the dwelling which will be converted into two apartments with modern conveniences. The outside is to be painted and porches repaired, the result being an up-to-date building centrally located and ready for occupancy by the last week in August.

The regular monthly meeting of the Greater Novi Improvement Association will be held next week Thursday, August 4, at the Town Hall. An excellent program has been arranged by Mr. L. S. Gullen, chairman of the program committee and everyone is invited to attend as many matters of interest are to be brought up at this time. The Novi Orchestra will give the program with a number of selections during the course of the evening.

The Sunday School of the Novi Baptist Church held its annual picnic at Long Lake, near Commerce last Friday. Although a heavy rain retarded their start, the eager boys and girls with undampened ardor stored the heavy lunch baskets in the waiting conveyances. A most satisfying dinner was served about one o'clock and ice cream donated by the Sunday school was dished up in plentiful quantities. Games for the youngsters and whole shoe pitching and a ball game for the men rounded out the afternoon of bathing and boating.

The school meeting for this district is to be held next Monday evening, August 1, at eight o'clock at the Novi School House. This is the first meeting since the consolidation was disbanded by a large majority vote in July and the unit has been re-districted again. All who are eligible to vote are urged to be present and help in reconstructing our local school system into a more adequate and satisfactory organ. In every other town without parer, new and better school houses and schooling facilities are given to the children. Let us get together and vote for something that will be a credit to the town and our community.

NORTHVILLE FANS SEE DEHOCO WIN

Last Sunday, Northville fans at DeHoco park were treated to an exhibition of baseball, mainly interesting because of its variety.

Shields, Redford's submarine twirler, having no control, kept the spectators wondering how big the casualty list would be. German, Hammond and Jaska, the Northville trio, hit freely whatever good offering they could reach. German and Hammond managing a home run each off Shields and Hammond a triple.

Constitution, hurling for DeHoco, contracted the general wildness in one inning, beating Carle, thereby demoralizing the rest of the Redford crew.

Seven wild pitches, seventeen base on balls, twenty-eight hits, thirty-three runs, fourteen strike-outs and a free pass to the showers for talking back to Tommy O'Mara, tells the story of a queer but interesting Sunday afternoon's pastime.

Last Sunday's games in the Inver County League were the last in the first half, and DeHoco winning all but one game takes the half season stakes.

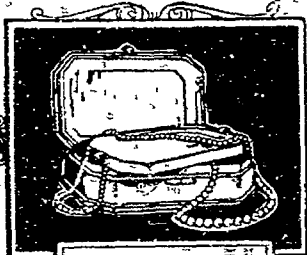

In the re-organization for the second half, the weaker teams have been allocated to strengthen their line-ups, and the franchises of Wayne and Wadsworth have been bought by Fordson and Brightmore, two clubs that should have a good account of themselves and furnish some real opposition to DeHoco. Municipal and Fire Department Clubs.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1927

CONSERVATION

Michigan during the past six years of its history made greater progress along conservation lines than at any time since conservation has become an important subject. Conservation leaders of other states and of the federal government more than once expressed amazement at the advancement that was being made.

Nevertheless, conservation was injected into politics during the past state campaign, and amazing promises were made along with untruthful criticisms of the work being done.

As members of the conservation commission, many of the critics of the previous administration were appointed. Now these newly created conservation leaders of the state have themselves become critics, but it is difficult to figure it all out. They are condemning a part of the very outfit of which they are a part.

It is interesting to read the comment of Albert Stoll, Jr., of Detroit, a conservation writer for the Detroit News, and was at one time secretary of the conservation commission. There is no disputing the fact that he doubtless is the best posted man in Michigan on conservation matters and therefore what he writes about the subject is always of interest.

Following is what he has to say regarding the latest outbreak among the new conservation officials:

"It is very evident that the members of our present State Conservation Commission are not at all satisfied with the action of our last Legislature in the matter of game and fish legislation. The commission has held two meetings since the adjournment of the Legislature and each time has been featured with criticisms of our lawmakers for their leniency in passing and hunting up proposals as well as their failure to enact more progressive conservation legislation. The criticism of this has been that the commission has taken over itself the responsibility for the failure of many restrictive laws governing the taking of game and fish. This has been made possible under the provisions of our unconstitutional power law, which allows the commission to suspend, postpone, delay, and even repeal laws for which they are responsible. The commission has taken over itself the responsibility for the failure of many restrictive laws governing the taking of game and fish. This has been made possible under the provisions of our unconstitutional power law, which allows the commission to suspend, postpone, delay, and even repeal laws for which they are responsible."

The action for buying trapped grouse has with its continued, the rabbit season as well as the bag limit has been changed. The season upon muskrats closed, over hunting has been prohibited in three more counties, and the hunting of black bear and fox squirrels banned. In addition to this, serious consideration is being given to restricting deer hunting and eliminating the use of the spear in taking fish. All of these changes are contrary to the wishes of the last Legislature and will be opposed by certain groups of fishermen and hunters, but it can be said that most of them are necessary in the interest of the species protected.

However, it is a great question whether or no the discretionary power, to act was designed to be used as it has been in these cases. It was considered essentially an emergency law to be used when it was proven that certain species of game or fish stood on the brink of extermination and needed absolute protection at once. It was not intended to be used as a corrective for any failure of the Legislature to enact laws they did not deem essential or to put through pet projects of the members of the conservation commission who do not agree with our authorized lawmakers.

There is a grave danger of using the law as it has been in the past. It is within the province of the Legislature to repeal this law and one certain way of bringing this about is to continue making changes in our game and fish regulations, contrary to the laws already established.

WHAT'S THE WORRY?

With officials of the D. S. R. buying additional streets cars for the purpose of carrying more women to the factories, noted financial writers of New York are predicting a constantly improved condition in the business world, and crop reports from all parts of the United States, except the flooded portion of the Mississippi valley, indicating more than average yields, why should anyone about here be worrying about business?

True, it has been a little slow during the past few months. But everyone has been doing something, and by working just a little harder we could do more. Business, locally, has been much better in the past five or six weeks than it was three or four months ago, and when the Ford factories start up in the next two or three weeks it will be something like a boom here. The Stinson factory has more than doubled its number of employees in the past two months, and other local manufacturing institutions are doing fairly well. So why worry?

Just a word to the school board. The report made at the annual meeting of the board, which showed to the community that you were careful and conscientious in the conduct of public business, is now being given the commission that you are right. You are to give us an expansion program that cannot be ignored. In order to take care of the increased school population that you have you will need the full construction of an addition to one of 60 more pupils must be completed before September. But what about next year and the year after that and so on? Isn't the present a pretty good time to start beginning to prepare for that which you know has got to come?

The term whip applied to certain members of parliament bodies derived from "whipping" of a horse—men whose job it is to whip up loose bounds and to keep the pack together and obedient to orders.

Monday's meeting of the Rotary club was given over chiefly to a discussion of club affairs. There were a number of visitors from out of the city present.

Mrs. Mina Schust of Saginaw and Mrs. Christ Parhnor and daughter, Ruth of Kalamazoo were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Schrader over Sunday.

The next regular meeting of the Forester Aid will be held in Forester hall, Tuesday evening. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock and after the business session there will be cards and a pot-luck lunch.

The Methodist Church has raised during the past year $4,000 for various charitable enterprises connected with its work, including support of hospitals, children's home, veteran minister's care, widows, orphans and world service.

Alex Johnson has started the construction of a very attractive residence on Orchard Drive for H. J. C. Berendt. The house will be completed late in the fall and will be one of the most complete in the city. Mr. Berendt is a retired army officer.

No longer will "U" turns be permitted at the corner of Main and Center streets. So many near accidents have happened there that village authorities have decided that it is for the best interests of the community to prevent complete turns at the corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis of Lansing spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Neal. Mr. Davis for some time after the opening of the WREG broadcasting station in Lansing with the announcers for it. He now has charge of all programs put on at the station.

Miss Mrs. H. L. Johnson of Clearmont, Florida, spent the first of the week at the Simmons and Richardson homes leaving on Tuesday for Boston to visit Mr. Johnson's brother. They expect to turn in the east for several weeks, and will return to their home early in October. Mr. Johnson is president of the First National Bank of Clearmont.

Mrs. Nettie Simmons of Detroit, has been the guest of Mrs. Ardella Brooks, this week.

The Presbyterian church of Ypsilanti, held its annual picnic last week Wednesday at Cess Beaton park.

Have you ever made good on one job... for 39 years?

The extra mileage you get from Dunlop tires starts with the fact that Dunlop has had thirty-nine years of tire building experience—more than any other tire maker.

Each part of each Dunlop is built right. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills to spin selected long-fibre cotton into the special Dunlop cable-twist cords.

These cords mean extra strength—an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

They mean extra "stretch"—so the tire carcass will give under blows, and come back to its original shape without the slightest injury.

Every Dunlop you buy has extra miles built into it because Dunlop knows each part of its job. That is why we recommend you put Dunlops on your car.

LITERARY APHORISMS

Unless you are an exceptional genius you cannot labor both for posterity and the ballist.

Poverty is not the mother of genius, but only its stepmother. Worry is not the spur of talent, but only its bane-rillo.

Why suppose, that tomorrow will have better judgment than today and that the centuries will wear off one's stupidity?

What we sometimes call posterity is only some crafty looking for the subject of an article or a professor seeking a subject for a thesis.

The mind supplies us with a double touchstone, since its quality permits us to evaluate both those who display it and those who enjoy it.

To obey only his ideal, to seek only self-satisfaction and to write only for himself—that is the instinctive credo of every beginner, even the most cynical.

The love of letters, is the only one in which we may love passionately without losing either freedom of mind or foresight where its object is concerned. From "La Littérature" by Fernand Vanderein (Hachette, Paris) Translated for the Kansas Star-Star.

STRANGE TO SAY

No one can ever make a white lie clear.

The favorite foreword salad is let taste alone.

No one thinks of the farmer who raises cane.

A bachelor made a bachelor maid his wife the other day.

February 2 was not the only ground hog day on the farm.

The walking cultivator does not walk. It's the plow man.

A pound of fiction has as much weight as a pound of facts.

The modern farmer's idea of royalty is to be crowned Corn King.

This is the person who the candy dates promises either blossom or wilt.

Some men love their only visible means of support when they are divorced.

Noah must have been absent minded when he shipped those two horned horses. —L. C. Langer.

HAPPY HINTS

When the turkey is about to be hard to eat, a blessing of a crust and thank the Lord for it.

We don't pray that we be happy. We pray that we be happy because we need happiness in our way on the road.

You can be happy without smiling, hallelujah on the highway, and any way it's better to say hallelujah and still.

At last they've got on a new play in this town. They've been playing the same old thing this just had to turn about.

We never heard of a hungry man that left a Thanksgiving dinner because turkey was served without trimmings.

We don't know what's coming to us and we ain't trying to find out. We've never hunted trouble since it led us where the water was over our head.

We don't celebrate too long or too long now. We've never seen a fellow on the hilltop, shoutin' hallelujah but the devil tilted him over and sent him rollin' down. —Atlanta Constitution.

BRIGHT BITS

Many girls who declare they're not going to wear almost prove it.

To most mothers life is just one damned stocking after another.

Honesty should be a rule and not a necessity born of others' sharpness.

Good husbands, who are never found far from home, generally live near a hostelry.

Some people live beyond their means; others beyond their station—half a mile or so.

Why so many couples marry in haste is because each is afraid the other might back out.

SHORT SHAFTS

A wise man is one who never argues with a woman.

Hunger is a necessary evil; it promotes industry.

Fame may come to a man suddenly and go just as quickly.

Today's worry is often the result of yesterday's blunder.

If a man is satisfied with one meal a day he can afford to write poetry.

MILLET M. SIVER DIES IN DETROIT

The funeral services of Millet M. Siver were held Wednesday, July 27th, in the Schrader chapel at 2 p. m. by Rev. Wm. Richards and interment in Rural Hill cemetery.

He was born in Bolivar State of New York, August 1st, 1843, and passed away July 23rd, 1927, at the age of 82 years.

He married in his native town in 1870, Lucy M. Johnson and born to them was one daughter, Mildred, who now survives him as Mrs. M. Blessing. Five years of this union and the mother passed away in 1876. Three years later he married Emma Perkins, when this was broken by death in 1896 at Tampa, Fla.

Then he was united to Mrs. Washington Davis at Tampa in 1920 who also preceded him in death. Since then he has lived with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blessing where he passed away in Detroit. At one time he resided in Northville during the years 1850 to 1885.

Dr. LeRoy Brown of St. Paul, Minnesota, Mr. and Mrs. Frank King and son, Donald, of Ypsilanti were among the guests at the funeral. They were returning from St. Paul, where Mr. and Mrs. King drove to attend the funeral of Dr. Brown's second daughter, Maria. Dr. Brown remained with them for a short visit with his Michigan relatives.

Cooking Without Hands

Suppose you want to spend the afternoon—the whole afternoon—talking, shopping, matinee-ing or what not! But there's that six o'clock dinner to be got ready! And a tired man coming home; and a hungry kid or two to be satisfied!

Easiest thing in the world—with an Electric Range. Put your dinner on the range; set the little time clock for the time you want cooking to start (it turns on the current at that time, never before). Then forget the kitchen until you come home, say, at 5:30. Your dinner will be ready to serve.

There's a lot of other interesting things that the Electric Range does. Come in and let us tell you—and how easily you can buy one.

NEW YORK CITY NO MORE WICKED THAN NEARBY PLYMOUTH

So Declares Former Plymouth Pastor Now Eastern Pastor

"New York City is a lonely place, a terribly lonely place. I often wonder what is in the heart of the average man as he walks down the great streets of that city and out of the vast multitude that he meets, sees not a single person to whom he can speak," declared the Rev. B. F. Farber, former pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church in an address before the Rotary club of that city last Friday noon.

The former Plymouth pastor, now stationed in New York City is back among his old friends to spend a brief vacation and due to the request of Fred Schrader he spoke before the Rotarians on the first day he reached his old home community.

"But it is just like any other community in many respects. There is this that can be said about New York, it is the educational center of the world. There is opportunity there for every young man who wants to study and prepare himself. Over on the west side, are educational institutions of every nature and more than in any one other place in the world I am glad of the fact that my boys have a chance to be educated in New York City."

"You often hear that New York is a wicked place. In proportion to its size it is no more wicked than Plymouth, or Northville. The most of our sins are brought to us from the outside. The average New Yorker is so busy meeting competition and working for the development of his business that he needs every ounce of strength he has and you won't find many of them wasting it in night life."

"You will find there, if you seek for it, the same humaneness that you have here. This was forcibly impressed upon me recently when I discovered that the janitor of the church where I am serving had worked there continuously for over 40 years. The church decided to honor his services. Never in my life did I see more of the real Christian spirit than was manifest at that little social given in honor of the janitor of the church. There is a human side to New York. If you make the right kind of an effort to find it."

Mayer and Mrs. Elmer Smith have returned from their vacation trip spent at Long Lake near Howell. Mayer had some excellent luck fishing while there. However it is a case of taking his word for it as no one saw any evidence of the fish stories that have been circulated since his return.

PRESBYTERIANS USE SPIKE SHOES TO HOLD BIG LEAD

Rotarians Just Looking Over Edge of Cellar—How Teams Stand

Members of the Lutheran church baseball team and Rotarians are still fighting it out for the cellar position in the Twilight League baseball series. While the Lutherans are in bottom position, some contend that the Rotarians holding there, because of the fact that they ditched one game, which later was called a postponed contest. But the "postponement" is due entirely to the goodness of the Exchange club.

Presbyterians are still holding first place due to the use of spiked shoes. While their victory over the Rotary players cannot be entirely credited to that reason, some of the Rotarians say they couldn't play a good game as the result of the flashing of spikes about the diamond.

Following are the results of the games played July 25th:

Methodists 4, Salem 3 (10 innings)	0	1,000
Presbyterians 16, Rotary 6	3	1,750
Independents 16, Baptists 8	2	1,667
Exchange 23, Lutherans 6	2	1,500
Presbyterians 4	0	1,000
Baptists 3	1	750
Exchange 2	1	667
Methodists 2	2	1,500
Independents 2	2	500
Salem 2	2	500
Rotary 0	3	1,000
Lutherans 0	0	1,000

*One game postponed.
Games August 1st.

MACHINE GUNNER OF WORLD WAR IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Northville Legion Honors
Herman Toussaint—
Burial Last Sunday

Tuberculosis germs have accomplished something that German shot, shell and gas couldn't.

Herman Toussaint, well known Northville young man, a brother of Mrs. Ledger Brown, was a machine gunner during the World War. He fought in every engagement that the 125th Infantry of the 32nd division went through—and there was a lot of them.

In the score or more of battles never once was he scratched by a German bullet or shell—and often his machine gun nest was right out in front of the trench lines where fire from both sides swept over his head.

After the war the 32nd was sent into Germany and during all the time of its occupancy of German territory he was with the division.

Two weeks after he was discharged from service at Camp Custer he was taken sick with pneumonia. Doctors thought they detected a slight trace of tuberculosis. They sent him to Camp Custer and from there to Arizona.

Six weeks ago they decided there was no chance for his recovery. A nurse from the hospital brought him back to his old home in Northville where he had lived for nearly ten years previous to going to war.

Last Thursday evening the soldier died—two veterans of the world war who were with him at the time, who served during the fighting in France in the same outfit he was in—said he died as brave soldiers do. He knew death was near, and he wasn't afraid.

Sunday members of the Lloyd H. Green Post saw to it that he was given the burial of all honored soldiers. Veterans who had served with him in France were members of the firing squad, others acted as pall bearers and the colors he had followed so many times to the very brink of death, were carried in the funeral procession by Northville Legion members. The funeral was held from the home of the sister, Rev. William Richards officiated.

He was born in Utica, Macomb county, September 4th, 1887, being a son of August and Fredericka Toussaint. Three sisters and four brothers survive. He had made his home at the home of one of his sisters, Mrs. Brown, for the past twenty years. Mrs. Frank Toussaint of Pontiac, and Mrs. Edd Conley of Detroit are sisters. William, of Rochester, Michigan, Ernest, of Halfway and Charles of Utica and Henry of Northville are the surviving brothers.

MOTOR FREIGHT LINE STARTED BY D. U. R. COMPANY

Plan to Give Northville and Other Communities
Good Service

Following the passing of the D. U. R. Electric service to this place, officials of the company have announced that a motor freight service has been inaugurated and that an effort will be made to give to the communities lying around Detroit just as good service as existed at the time the D. U. R. was operating full capacity.

The motor freight service from Detroit to Northville has already been started. The trucks leave Detroit each morning at 7 o'clock and are due in Northville at 10.30. Trips are made via Plymouth, the first truck reaching there at 9.30. The route runs from Northville to Farmington, then to Redford and back to Detroit. This will enable business houses in Northville to order their supplies in the afternoon in Detroit and be assured of delivery the following morning.

Officials of the company when in Northville a few days ago arranging for the service, stated that every effort would be made to give to the outlying communities the best of service.

Not only will the trucks bring freight to Northville, but if local dealers desire to make shipments to Detroit, freight will be picked up in the forenoon.

One of the advantages of the new service will be the fact that delivery will be made direct to the place of business. Formerly, when shipments were made by the D. U. R. trucking was necessary from the local freight house.

Not so many years ago village authorities in Northville and nearly every other place in Michigan made it a crime for children and others to ride bicycles on the sidewalks. Pedestrians were endangered by the practice, but that was at a time when folks used the sidewalks. Now there is agitation in favor of repealing the ordinance so children, for safety's sake, can ride their bicycles on the sidewalks. It is possible that the council may permit such practice outside of the business district.

HIGH POWER AND SMOOTHNESS IS BUICK FEATURE

New General Motors Product for 1928 is Auto of Master Maker

The effortless surge of power which enables Buick for 1928 to glide along in barely perceptible motion, or to flash away like an arrow, is acclaimed by those who have driven the new car as one of its most amazing features.

The power plant responsible for this dazzling performance is the famous Buick six-cylinder "valve-in-head" engine, whose vibrationless operation was the most discussed engineering advance in the automotive industry the past season. This famous engine is carried to new heights of power and smoothness in Buick for 1928. Already incomparably quiet, it now unleashes a flow of silent, irresistible power which makes a ride in the new Buick a sensational experience. Getaway second to none, and the ability to reach and maintain breathtaking speeds with out effort, characterize the new car. Incredible mastery over time and space are standard equipment with everyone of the 16 new Buicks.

The Buick engine is in the main the same power plant which made so many thousands of Buick friends last year. As in the 1927 car, the counterweighted crankshaft and torsion balances absorb all vibration, leaving the troublesome problem before it has a chance to develop. Buick has eliminated the difficulty at its source, instead of the usual practice of tying down vibration with extra bearings. Buick engineers acted on the knowledge that vibration, once set up, could not be checked. They went away back to fundamentals, and designed a Buick crankshaft to eliminate vibration by neutralizing it as it develops.

The vacuum ventilated crankcase oil filter, air cleaner and thermostat-water control all are contained in Buick for 1928. Such long-established principles as the sealed chassis and torque-tube drive, of course, remain. There are, besides, several engine improvements, which result in a substantial increase of power as well as in a new silence of operation.

Chief among these improvements is the new Buick cylinder head worked out in light of long study of the problem of international combustion. The head is of the spherical type, and it gives higher compression, with less detonation, which means that a greater portion of the fuel is transformed into useful power. Buick engineers, however, have avoided placing Buick owners in the pincers of the racing driver, whose high compression, amplifying displacement engine will operate only on special and costly fuels. The Buick engine is adaptable to any fuel, and will give a brilliant account of itself on any.

The evening worship will be in our church with Brother Priest of the Baptist church as preacher assisted by Brother Knowles. All the churches unite at 7:00. Come and bring someone else. Notice the special collection to the church report last week.

The conference is closing on us and all our people are asked to contribute prayerfully to the stewards can settle for God's work with courage. Those who have their envelopes, who have missed the worship kindly complete them for the needy printed on them. Remember you are the "judge," as God has appointed you says the Scripture. No demands are made other than your own voluntary giving.

If the soul depended on so much demand, how we would grovel. "He that gives sparingly shall reap sparingly," says the Divine Master. Let us give our debts, only by doing it we are prospering. I know men today who are in the "hole" because they have robbed God. Used His money for their business, for selfishness, for pleasure. The automobile run at any cost, but they have let the church run as best it can. "Yes, One third of the membership of every church runs it for the other two-thirds. Do you think the two-thirds are to reap the same reward? Never!"

JAD Lines.

You stand in line, money in hand to give it away for a few hours of fleeting pleasure. Or do you stand in line, money in hand to deposit it at a bank window—plant it for that hour when opportunity knocks?

A certain amount of pleasure and relaxation is good for all, and should be encouraged, but the wild chase after luxuries and pleasures at the expense of future real happiness of peace and plenty, is dearly bought. Therefore, "pick your line"—whether it shall be to waste—or to save.

Walker and her father, of Pl. month, have been named as delegates from Washtenaw county to attend the annual state convention of the Michigan Rural Carriers Association, to be held in Ligonier, the week of July 25th. Both delegates expect to take their families with them and drive to the convention city.

Two lovely showers were given during the past few days in honor of Miss Della Brooks, who Saturday becomes the bride of Willard Reed of Lansing. The first shower given by Miss Margaret Murdock, took place at the home of Miss Murdock's sister, Mrs. Claude Ely. It was a linen shower, and the gifts were carried to the recipient in a pink and white umbrella by Little Louis Herick. A lunch and games were enjoyed. The home was beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers. On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Charles Conklin entertained a miscellaneous shower at her home for Miss Brooks. The gifts were taken from a large white bell in the center of the living room. The home was attractively decorated in pink and white. A luncheon was served to the twelve guests present. The wedding takes place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brooks.

A bed of live clams was unearthed by a steam shovel excavating in the side of a bluff, twenty miles south of Berkeley, California, and about the same distance inland from the Pacific Ocean. The bluff was 120 feet above sea level and 50 feet above the El Estero. Placed in water the clams exhibited unmistakable signs of life.
