

WM. AMBLER DIES AFTER AN ILLNESS OF MANY MONTHS

Entire Community Mourns
the Passing of Former Active Citizen

The death of Wm. F. Ambler Sunday morning, October 2nd, removes one of Northville's best known and oldest residents.

He was born in Inkster, Mich., December 9th, 1862 and came with his parents, John and Electa Ambler to Northville when a small child where he resided practically all his life.

He had been afflicted with various business enterprises but perhaps showed his greatest capability as bookkeeper of the old Globe Furniture Co. in its palmy days.

Previous to his departure to live in Pasadena, Calif., in 1917, he was the extensively known proprietor of the Ambler Hotel, which was built by his grandfather William Ambler about 89 years ago.

He was a very noticeable personality—short thick set strong and pronounced in his likes and dislikes fearless in maintaining his opinion at all times.

He had been an intimate personal friend of the writer for 33 years during which time he never knew him to tell a lie or do a dishonorable act.

He was married in 1887 to Ada Buck of Chatham, Ont., whom he leaves a widow to mourn his loss. Together were one son, Roy, of Pasadena, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Theima Schultze, of Northville, as well as a host of friends and acquaintances in Chatham, Detroit and this community.

His return from California a few weeks ago in failing health was but the forerunner of the final end Sunday.

He was the last of the third generation bearing the name from William Ambler.

WHERE TIDINESS COUNTS

A visitor can always tell whether or not a town has civic pride by its appearance. It is easy to distinguish between the community that is up and doing and the one that is standing still or sliding back. Outward appearance counts just as much in the case of towns as it does in the case of individuals.

The orderly and well-kept city makes a good impression upon the newcomer. Immediately, however, small communities may be at a disadvantage. The responsibility for making it attractive rests largely upon the people themselves, who by keeping private property clean and refraining from littering, the streets and other public property, will be doing all that is necessary.

Let's have a "clean up week" in Northville fifty-two times a year. It doesn't require much work to keep the town looking good if everybody joins in. The tidy town draws business and makes friends.

STINSON AIRPORT MADE INTO ONE OF BEST IN COUNTRY

Field Now Has Runways in all Directions—Filling Station Erected

Work in rebuilding the new runways of the Stinson-Northville Airport has about been completed and by the end of another week Northville will have one of the best landing fields in Michigan.

There is now a landing place for planes in all four directions. Formerly the runway was only north and south, but now there is another runway east and west. This has been made possible by the purchase of the land owned by the Northville Airport Syndicate.

When Eddie Stinson returns from his flight through the west he will find one of the finest landing fields in the country awaiting him. The runway has been paved, leveled off and topped until it is almost as hard as a paved road. Each runway is 150 feet wide and nearly 1500 feet long.

A gasoline filling station has been erected on the field and other conveniences provided.

Dayton Bunn and Floyd Lanning, who have been acting for the syndicate, have supervised the work in cooperation with officials from the Stinson corporation.

There is a possibility that sometime this fall or early next spring the words "Stinson-Northville Airport" will be former by stones painted white so that aviators, in flying over this place will have no difficulty in locating the landing field.

It is surprising the number of transient planes that land each week at the field at the present time. Almost any day one or more visiting plane can be found out at the airport.

The De-Ho-Co, winners of the Inter-County League championship, will play the Utica team at Utica on Sunday afternoon.

FAIR OFFICIALS TELL ROTARIANS OF FUTURE PLANS

New Buildings to be Erected and the Grounds Made Attractive

That it is the purpose of the officials of the Northville Wayne County Fair association to continue to put forth every effort to make the fair a little better each year and to add new buildings as rapidly as possible and make the fair grounds one of the most attractive places in the state, became known Monday's meeting of the Rotary club when President N. C. Schrader and other officials of the association were present and spoke for the club.

Monday's program was in charge of Ray Richardson and believing that interest right now in the fair was anything else he wisely arranged a program that was of exceptional interest. In fact, the meeting was one of the best held in many months.

Other speakers were Charles A. Ponsford, one of the directors of the fair association and Floyd Northrop, secretary.

President Schrader briefly reviewed the growth of the Northville fair and stated that it was the intention of the officials to continue to develop it as fast as possible. He pointed out its many advantages to Northville, and stated that in his mind the fair was one of the biggest assets the community had.

It is something where no one gets any profit out of it and everyone works for the pleasure in doing something for the town," he said.

Mr. Ponsford and Secretary Northrop forced similar ideas. Both stated that it was the hope of the association to grow and develop each year and make the fair better, if such a thing is possible, than ever before.

Mr. Northrop took occasion to clear up a little misunderstanding relative to the high school band. The band had been invited to play at the fair, but in some way the fair officials perceived no word of the acceptance of the invitation and when the boys happened Friday arranged to play at the fair. The high school was naturally to a misunderstanding and Secretary Northrop stated next year there would be no chance of a mistake, as he would see to it that the boys played at the fair. The band has become an excellent musical organization, the boys having accomplished wonders in the brief time they have been practicing.

Mr. Ponsford said he hoped to see the fair grow larger each year, new buildings erected as conditions permitted.

Our first need is a new cattle barn, and I hope by the time another fair rolls around we will have one built. We have plenty of entries and we want to provide room for them all. I believe the fair is a good thing for Northville and that Northville wants it and appreciates it. There is much that we can do to make it better and our chief aim is to make it the best fair in Michigan.

NORTHVILLE FAIR IN SPITE OF RAIN ONE OF THE BEST

Governor Green and Other
High State Officials
Are Guests

In spite of four days of almost constant rain, in spite of all the unfavorable conditions created as the result of a most untimely downpour, the Northville Wayne County Fair proved to be one of the most successful ever held by the organization and on the one day that the weather was at all clear, previous high gate records established in years when weather conditions were ideal, were almost topped.

When the gates closed Saturday night, it brought to an end without the slightest doubt, one of the finest displays of agricultural, poultry and prize stock ever exhibited in Wayne County. It is one of the finest that the difference in size and some of the state fairs in comparison to that of Northville's fair are far behind in the average.

Even the less than satisfactory weather, Governor Fred W. Green, who for years has been at the head of the Wayne County Fair, and who has a guest of the Northville fair on Friday afternoon, declared that he was greatly surprised at the high gate exhibition conducted by this community.

"I have heard of the Northville fair, but I have never before visited it. I certainly am surprised and pleased to see such a remarkably fine fair," he told friends who were with him.

The Governor was accompanied by Fred Chapman, chairman of the Board of Managers of State Fairs, who gave utterance to the same expression as the Governor.

When apparently most surprised the Governor and Mr. Chapman was the high grade poultry exhibit that is conducted under the personal direction of A. E. Fuller. It has been due entirely to the efforts of Mr. Fuller that the poultry exhibit at the Northville fair has come to be regarded as one of the finest in the country. It was a recognition of Mr. Fuller's ability that Governor Green made him a member of the State Fair board. Not only does it rate high as to quality and number of birds exhibited, but the exceptionally attractive way in which the exhibit is arranged—the pens are decorated are far superior to those of any other Michigan fair. And it was this that came to the special notice of the high state officials who were here Friday. Both commented in the highest terms of the arrangements, decorations, as well as exhibits. The state officials were also guests at a luncheon down at the fair grounds.

When the fair opened Tuesday noon, there was considerable apprehension as to the part of all the officials of the association. Weather forecasts for that morning had carried warnings from the weather bureau that a severe storm was headed to the east from the west. The storm did not break until Wednesday, and from then until Saturday night, with the exception of one day, the fair was conducted under most adverse conditions. But even though conditions were not of the best, the thousands who did attend got far more than their money's worth and went away satisfied that Northville can conduct a fair even though it does rain. The association was fortunate in collecting rain insurance for one day.

Possibly it would be unfair to mention a few exhibits and not all of them, but if this is done one should realize that every exhibit on every kind at the fair is just as worthy of mention as the other.

The local merchants who placed displays of their wares down at the fair had commendable arrangements and all of them report very satisfactory results from the extra efforts they put forth to show their goods.

The Wayne County Training school teachers had a most interesting display of the work of the pupils of that institution. The various schools in this locality, as well as the Northville school, all had excellent exhibits of work done by their pupils.

In mentioning the nearby institutions that had displays at the fair, the William H. Maybury Sanatorium and the Detroit House of Correction farm and the Wayne County Poor farm all displayed fine products of their garden and fields. Those who visited the state fair at Detroit state that there was nothing that equaled any of the displays made here by any of these institutions.

In fact any number of people who have visited the state and some of the county fairs declare that the exhibits of the Northville fair were far better than any of them.

The horse show that was booked for two days, but really ran three, brought forth some fine displays of horsemanship. Even though the place set aside for the horse show was heavy with mud there were many excellent jumps. Harry Clark, Charles Newkirk and J. E. Grenham were busy every minute providing some form of attraction for the many thousands that packed the grounds. Their efforts resulted in one of the most interesting series of horse show events ever held in the state.

Not only did they have the entries show all the fine points of trot, canter, rump and spread, but they arranged a series of balloon chair and other novelty races. And the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grenham was one of the stars in the last night chair race. However, it remained for little Billy Starg, and his pony, to carry away the trophy that had been offered for the winner of the chair race. The lad won in a spectacular way, and making a spectacular display of his riding.

NORTHVILLE HIGH ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY TO LIST

Gives Detroit Surprise by Trimming Heavy Eastern
High

The Northville high school football team won its second straight victory last week by defeating the heavy Detroit Eastern team by a score of 22 to 0, on a field that resembled a small lake. Both teams were handicapped by the slippery ground. The speedy Northville backs found it hard to gain by long runs and line plunges helped little. The Detroit Indians outwitted the local team about fifty pounds to the man, giving them a big advantage on the rainsoaked field, but "beef" was of little value against the tearing tactics of the local squad.

In all appearances the local team will more than make up for the slump witnessed by the high school last year. Coach Dockson has a team that should barring accident easily win the suburban cup this year. Victory over the Detroit school places the local team high in the estimation of their coming opponents, and if they continue playing this same brand of football, the schedule will be easily taken care of.

A line plunge by Watts and a recovered fumble by McCordle were responsible for the twenty points Captain Thompson, Triffin, Watts and McCordle form one of the best backfields in the league. As the contest brought to light a combination here that could excel in all points of the game. The line though much lighter played a consistent aggressive brand of ball, yielding nothing to the heavy Detroit Eastern team. Eastern made only four first touchdowns during the entire game. Northville scored in the first period when Watts carried the ball across the goal line, the extra point was missed. Throughout the next two periods, the teams played to a standstill on the slippery field, the long punts of McCordle kept the ball in the shadow of Eastern's goal until in the fourth quarter a recovered fumble brought the local team another touchdown.

The big Detroiters were given the surprise of their lives when the Northville team ran away with its decisive victory. Followers of the local players believe the season will be one string of victories.

NORTHVILLE GAME REFUGES CREATED BY STATE DEPT.

The Michigan Conservation Department has established game refuges covering nearly a square mile of land east of the Pere Marquette railway. The use of the land for refuges was decided by the state by the owners George Yerkes, Frank Durk, W. R. Brown and Alexander Glastetter.

No hunting or trapping is allowed on land so dedicated and the department has appointed a special conservation officer, who resides on the premises. The refuges will be regularly patrolled.

The object of this provision in the Michigan law is to protect the state wild life and increase the number of birds, such as woodcock, quail and pheasants. The land chosen with its hills, streams and fine cover makes an ideal site for the purpose. It is now marked at the corners and every few hundred feet with signs supplied by the state. The birds will be fed in winter.

Mrs. Mary Lang of Walled Lake, who was bruised about the face when a horse bolted at the fair grounds, last week, is getting along nicely. She was taken to Aitchison hospital. The boy who was knocked down was not injured.

SCHRADER TELLS OF TRIP OUT TO THE PACIFIC COAST

Well Known Northville Business Man is Back from Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Schrader have returned from California, where they went to attend the annual convention of the Exchange Club. The well known Northville residents were guests of the Redford club, having been arrived at the special car that was provided for that organization by the Exchange Club of Michigan. There were 15 in the party, and according to Mr. Schrader an exceedingly pleasant time was experienced from the start of the trip in Detroit until the return here.

Our first stop was at Denver, where we visited Estes Park and made several trips up into the mountains. We were also up to Grand Lake, the highest body of water in the world. It is a beautiful sight up there, mountains entirely surrounding the lake. We were up on Lookout Mountain, made famous as Col. Cody's burial place, and from there we went down to Colorado Springs. We went up Pike's Peak and then over to Cripple Creek. While in this famous mining place we went down into the biggest gold mine in the world. We were over 10,000 feet underground, stated Mr. Schrader.

From the mountains we went to Colorado, the party went to Salt Lake City, and then on to San Francisco.

"You have got to say how much for Brigham Young," which he said out Salt Lake City, he made the streets good and wide. The streets of that city are very beautiful.

"I was not at all impressed by San Francisco," I liked Los Angeles much better. There is more going on down there and it has the appearance of the place more than of Fresno. Then the climate is better down in the lower part of California. Los Angeles is growing, but I couldn't see much building going on around Fresno.

The various committees managed to keep most of the prizes of the convention in California. If they had selected a committee from out in the states there is nothing to it but what the Redford quartette would have won first place but a California committee decided that a California quartette had won. The judgment of practically every delegate to the convention outside of California was that the Redford quartette had it over the winners in every way. They did give the Redford boys second place.

We were down in San Diego, and went over to the Juana, Mexico. Over there they don't have any doors on the places. They are open all the time.

But when you get right down to it, California has nothing on Michigan. Everything is so artificial. Man has had to make everything they have got. If it wasn't for irrigation there would not be anything to it. Some of the places like Hollywood and Pasadena are beautiful, but we have just a few pretty places right here in Michigan. The trees here in Northville have got anything. I saw oak there beat a million mile.

"In fact, when you compare Michigan to California we have got them beat in every way. If you want to see the mountains they have got them in Colorado. If you want to see beautiful scenery eat good fruit and really enjoy yourself, just stay in Michigan."

FRED W. COCHRAN PREPARES REVIEW OF NEW AUTO LAW

Local Auto Drivers May Know All About New Regulations

For the benefit of Northville auto drivers, Fred W. Cochran has prepared the following excellent revision of the new automobile law, passed by the last legislature, and which is now effective.

It is unlawful to drive a vehicle intoxicated or under the influence of drink, to drive recklessly or at a speed at which a stop cannot be made within the clear distance ahead.

All warning signals must be obeyed, also all stop signals which may be erected at railroad crossings.

All vehicles must keep to the right of the road, also at railroad crossings and intersections, and other vehicles they meet be allowed at least half of the road, and in passing vehicles the driver should pass to the left at a safe distance, and should not enter the right side of the highway until safely clear of the passed vehicle, and the driver of an overtaking car shall sound his horn before attempting to pass a vehicle proceeding in the same direction.

It is unlawful to pass another vehicle going in the same direction upon a grade or curve unless the driver's view ahead is sufficient to ensure safety. It is unlawful to pass another vehicle at steam or electric railroad crossings, or at street intersections.

The driver of an overtaking car shall give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle, and shall not increase the speed of his vehicle until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle.

Cars should be kept at a reasonable and prudent distance back of other cars. When two or more motor vehicles are being delivered from one point to another, it is unlawful to drive them less than 100 feet apart, and if such vehicle has a length of over 50 feet, they shall remain at least 1000 feet apart except when overtaking and passing each other.

An exception is made to this rule when traffic is controlled by an officer, but even then it is unlawful to pass such car at a speed greater than ten miles an hour. It is unlawful to drive through a safety zone in which anyone is standing, or to park on the beaten track or paved surface of any highway, or within fifteen feet of a hydrant, fire station, or in front of a private driveway, and when a car is parked and left unattended the brakes must be set, and the engine stopped, and if standing upon a grade, the front wheels of a vehicle must be turned to the curb or side of the road. It is unlawful to coast in neutral. Any driver involved in an accident must stop at the scene of the accident, and if the accident results in injury or death to any person or damage to property, the driver involved shall give his name, address, and registration of car, and also name and address of the owner of the car and exhibit his operator's license, and shall render to any person injured reasonable assistance and carry the injured person to a physical or hospital if it is apparent that such treatment is necessary or is requested by the person injured.

Every garage, keeper to whom is brought any vehicle which shows evidence of having been in a serious accident or struck by a bullet shall report to the police or sheriff's office at once, giving the engine number, registration number and address of owner and operator of such car.

Cows make a splendid feed for dairy cows if they are ground and properly mixed with other feedstuffs. They are about as high in digestible crude protein as what bread. They should be mixed with other feeds such as corn, wheat, grain and cottonseed meal.

A falling meteorite, 25 pounds in weight, is reported to have caused a recent forest fire in the Walla Walla section of the Umatilla National Forest in Oregon. The meteorite according to reports to the Forest Service broke off a 28-inch tree 26 feet from the ground and lodged on the stump.

If you would guard the health of your engine, be particular what oil you use. You can always tell the quality of oil by the way it affects your power. More power proves better lubrication with less waste and wear. And this power test is easy to make—

Re-fill your crank-case with Havoline. Then watch your snapper get away—your smoother pulling on the hills. Notice how the newly found power stays! That's your proof of true engine health—and proof that Havoline brought it about.

You Need Never Change Your Oil if You Own a Buick

Last year Buick said: "Change your oil only four times a year." Buick tests at that time had shown that oil changes would never be necessary, with the Oil Filter to remove impurities, and the Crankcase Ventilator to prevent oil dilution.

Now, more than a year has passed, and Buick owners in every section of the world—under every climatic condition—have also proved that you never need change your oil if you own a Buick—replenishment and inspection of the Buick Oil Filter only are required.

Prosecuting Attorney Toms Issues Warning to Gun Owners

The new concealed weapons law passed by the legislature of 1927 is now in effect, and law-enforcing agencies are confident that it will go a long way in separating the gunman from his gun. The law was drafted by Robert M. Toms, prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, and an exhaustive study of all the other laws on this subject and after submitting the bill to the National Crime Commission and other organizations interested in the suppression of dangerous firearms. Under the provisions of the new law every person owning a gun is required to register it with the chief of police in incorporated cities or the sheriff in unincorporated cities before November 1st. Upon doing so he receives a certificate of inspection and a record is kept by the Department of Public Safety in Lansing. Citizens are prohibited from carrying pistols concealed on their persons, or in vehicles, whether concealed or not, without first obtaining a license. This means that it is now against the law to carry a pistol on the floor of an automobile or on the seat or floor without a license. Applications for such a license are filed with the county clerk on blanks provided by him and are passed upon by the licensing board, consisting of the prosecuting attorney, commissioner of public safety and the chief of police or sheriff. Licenses will only be issued where some special need for carrying a gun is shown.

The new law does not in any way interfere with the possession of rifles and shotguns, and the sportsman need have no fear that his activities will be interfered with. It is, however, aimed directly at the holdup man, and the thief who carries a deadly weapon concealed in such a manner that citizens have no notice of his dangerous character.

NOVI VOTES FOR NEW SCHOOL—WILL BE BUILT AT ONCE

Bond for $55,000—Site to be Selected Within a Few Days

By a vote of 71 to 12, the 125
members of Novi school district Tuesday evening decided to bond for $55,000 for the erection of a new school building. This action has been taken after most careful consideration on the part of those most interested in the development of the community. Novi, for some time past, has been growing so rapidly that a new school structure has become an immediate necessity.

While the structure, according to Archie Atchison, president of the Novi Improvement Association will be built at present to care for only eight grades, the building will be planned so that a high school department can be added as soon as it is needed, and if the community keeps up its present rate of growth it will not be only two or three years before this will have to be done.

The site has not yet been selected but school officials expect to have an acceptable place for the new building picked out within the next two weeks. Work on the new building will start this fall.

No man likes to have his wife call

FORMER RESIDENT PRAISES PROGRESS OF OLD HOME TOWN

Dr. W. G. Carson Writes
Letter of Commendation to the Community

Editor Northville Record,
Dear Sir: Some one in Northville is kind enough to send me the Record each week. It is most gratifying to receive and read of me. The Record is a fine weekly paper of which Northville should be justly proud. I notice in the paper the difference in the activities taking place there now and those of 25 years ago when I left Northville, where I was born and went through the grammar and high school. Everyone should be proud of Northville and the way it is forging ahead. I have watched it grow though not much of my time has been spent there since I was a boy. Perhaps that is the reason it has grown so fast. The name of Harry German appears quite often in the paper. Harry was in high school with me and I knew he would make a baseball pitcher also a success at anything he tackled. It was Harry and I who dug the hole and planted the first flag pole on the high school grounds.

Evidently all the boosters are not in California because I see that many of them are right here in Northville and making their brains and abilities count for something in their home town. I've heard a great deal out here in California about Northville, especially about the Simpson airplane works. While in Pasadena, Calif., a few days ago I met Mr. Martin and his wife, who have been here for some time. Mrs. Martin is a resident of Northville and is a very successful business woman. Mrs. Martin is a very successful business woman. Mrs. Martin is a very successful business woman. According to the Record, a great many improvements are anticipated to Northville in the near future, thus adding greatly to its appearance, desirability as a residential and industrial city. I hope the good work keeps up. Northville, never was a boom town, consequently it never has had to go through depressions which follow these booms, but has always been a conservative and substantial growing little city. You have a great many far-sighted men and women in your town who will eventually mould a little dust, corner trading post into a fine, beautiful and modern city, which will be a credit to the state and to the nation and which will give the boys and girls growing up there an environment that will be ideal.

Very truly yours,
W. G. CARSON, M. D.

MR. GORDON TALKS

AT TEACHERS' MEETING

Cohn Discusses Subject of Testing on Monday

A general teachers' meeting was held last Monday at 4:00 o'clock in the science lecture room.

Mr. Cohn discussed his experiences in actual testing and the various tests in common use at the present time.

Of the two kinds of tests—intelligence and educational—the latter is probably of more value in our system, he said. These tests help classify students and are an aid to vocational guidance. There are now educational tests which tell whether or not a child is fit to take a foreign language. Thus much time is saved both for the student and the teacher.

After a few announcements by Mr. Ammerman, Mr. Gordon talked on the organization of the school. He illustrated how the teachers work through the principals and the superintendent to carry out the wishes of the school board, which, in turn, expresses the ideas of the people who elect them.

That left her with eighteen bites, which according to Violet, hurt very much. After eating their played games and then started back for home. They were lost in the woods, but soon found their way out. They got home at 8:30.

NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

DOWNS DETROIT EASTERN

Victors Return with a 12 to 9 Score in their Favor

The Northville high school football team won against great odds, when they defeated Detroit Eastern, 12 to 9 at Berry field, last Friday, in a sea of mud. The Northville team, although outweighed about fifty pounds to a man, charged harder and faster than their opponents.

In the first part of the game, by a cleverly faked pass, Watts plunged through the line for the first touchdown. There was no scoring during the second and third quarters, as the play was mostly in Eastern territory, due to McCord's inability to boot the ball.

Eastern gained 2 points early in the last quarter, when McCord, recovered his own fumble for a safety. Shortly afterward Thompson recovered an Eastern fumble on Eastern's own fifteen yard line. Watts carried the ball over for a touchdown.

Northville line greatly outplayed Eastern line, ware, breaking through time and again. Fullback Tiffin played

PRIZE WINNERS IN HOME NAMING ARE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Ruby Copland Wins $50 in Gold for Naming New Model Home

Mrs. Ruby Copland, 224 Yerkes avenue, is the winner of the $50 in gold offered for a name for the new home being erected in Hillcrest by Rex Dye. The name selected for the home, suggested by Mrs. Copland is "Grey Gables."

Mrs. Thomas Moss West Main street, won $25 in silver as second prize. Her suggestion of a name for the model home was "Crested."

Other prize winners and the names they suggested follow:

Mrs. Vera E. Dunn, Rogers st. Bloomdale.
Mrs. R. W. Frischkorn, Plymouth, Valley View.
Clarence B. Evans, Plymouth, Deep Dale.
Mrs. H. B. Hall, Northville, Linda Vista.

Mrs. Fred Sutton, Northville, Modern Gables.
If Mrs. George Wilcox of Detroit, and some one signing a card with the initials "A. S. H." had been present at Hillcrest Sunday afternoon, both would have won prizes of $25.

There were nearly 600 suggestions sent in and when the decision was announced Sunday afternoon up at Hillcrest where Alex Johnson is erecting the new home, a large crowd was present. Announcement of the various prize winners by Mr. Dye seemed to meet with general approval of those present, applause greeting the names as they were read off. The new home will be finished late in the fall.

BASEBALL GAMES AT NORTHVILLE FAIR

In short, the winner of the baseball tournament was won by Manager Rain from Rainville on a rainy afternoon, so "saith Catcher Muddy-Ruehl from Muddyville. Anyhow, the De-Ho-Go team captured the first game on Tuesday from Pontiac in the twelfth inning, the score being six to seven. Wednesday the Polish Daily News won from West Point in another good contest, five to three. Then it rained some more. So after it rained again on Wednesday, it rained again. But it did not stop long enough, a day or so later to postpone two games more, then it rained more again some more. Finally, Plymouth and Belleville came together between rain drops and when the thunder was over, Plymouth won and Belleville was "wet" and "wet" and "wet." (This left four more ball games to be played at the tournament for Friday and Saturday, which did not reign so "saith" rained, rained, rained. However, on Sunday afternoon Plymouth and Polish News found an excellent diamond, fine weather and about five hundred fans as spectators. The News winning the contest, but it took them ten minutes to do the job. Goers and Jatoosky acted as battery for Plymouth while German and Fenner did the work for the Detroit team. Believe it or not, it did not rain.

The longest broody hen is known to sit on the nest the longer it requires to get her back into laying condition, and consequently the greater loss in egg production. To break this hen from sitting, put her in a broody coop where she can be easily reached and watered. The broody coop should have a flat bottom in order that the air may circulate from beneath, thus keeping the body of the hen cooler thereby tending to break up the hen's broodiness.

The committee, consisting of Mr. Clark, Mr. Newkirk, Mrs. W. R. Brown, Miss Geraldine Young, H. W. Nichols, W. D. Brenson and P. H. Grennan, had probably one of the largest entries for the horse show that has ever made. Unfortunately, the storm kept some of the entries out. However, there were a great many in the various events and everyone seemed pleased with the success of the horse show.

The trotting races featured, but one day. All of the events scheduled for Thursday, took place, and Saturday morning one heat was run off before the downpour again started. Marvin Sloan was fortunate in having a good entry list for all of the events for the three days, and there would have been some mighty fine racing if it had not been for the rain.

Harry German, who brought together some of the best baseball teams in southeastern Michigan, was able to put on only a small part of his tournament program.

Notwithstanding the rain and all the inconveniences that went with it, Northville had a great fair, and as the last piece of fireworks on the final night was shot into the air, some of the directors who were in one of the boxes in front of the grandstand, declared, "Now's the time to start working to make next year's fair far better than any other we have ever had." And that's the spirit that makes the Northville fair one of the best in the whole country.

Fair officials are to be congratulated on the splendid way the automobile parking was handled at the fair. At no time was there any confusion, and the auto drivers followed the instructions of those handling traffic there were no even minute delays. And the job was made difficult by use of the muddy condition.

Among fair visitors, Saturday, was George W. Dickerson, former manager of the Michigan State Fair. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the Northville fair. Mr. Dickerson has watched all of his life been interested in fairs.

Mr. Richardson did a good job in keeping the concessions going according to "Hoyle." And that is some job if you know anything about concession work, and that they play the game. There were an exceedingly large number of them on the grounds this year.

Secretary Floyd Northrop has nothing to do during fair time nothing at all. "One wonders if he ever finds time to sleep. In fact the question does he sleep at all during fair time? He was there every morning before 7:00 o'clock and up one ever saw him leave the grounds at night."

Mayor Elmer Smith, who had charge of the free athletic day in the afternoon, was very high grade program. He was assisted with the attractions. Mr. Tufall of the Northville Electric Shop provided the committee with an attraction. He was the fellow who moved the jumping track and never could get it off.

The ladies were very successful in bringing together an exceedingly large display of canned fruits and vegetables. There were some displays that were nothing less than works of art—such a term can be used in the culinary world.

Ellott's bakery had a display of cakes and bread that caused considerable favorable comment.

There is going to be a very important meeting of the American Legion, next Tuesday, October 10th, at Dye's place, on Grand River, about a mile east of Northville. Election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. A report on the fair will be made, and other business of importance will be discussed.

For Comparison

In these days you are apt to be influenced by pictures and prices that "look good on paper." When you investigate, however, the furniture is "not so good."

Furniture can be, and often is, built down to a price, and outward appearances are often deceiving. It is risky to buy something you have to look at and live with every day of your life, so we always advise shopping around—then you will be safe.

If you will go to one or more good stores first, compare prices and quality carefully, and then come to Schrader Brothers. We are quite sure you will find out why we have so much confidence in our merchandise and our prices that we actually advise shopping around.
