Northville has sent into the woods more than its share of crack shots to hunt for the elusive deer that roam the woods of that season. In one party there is Hugh Babbitt, Clifford Turroull, Charles Johnson and B. E. Warner. They are located in the woods near Covington. Nelson, Semae, Agony, Elder, Joseph, Montgomery, Scott, Lovell, C. W. Dr. A. A. Hines and Vern Spruce are in another group. They are near Kauter. Dayton, Egan, Elmer, Scott, Dr. E. P. Gayle, L. A. Stewart, Dr. Paul Alexander and Sheriff Ambler stopped off at the 45th mile to do their tramping. The first two parties are in the Upper Peninsula. Mr. and Mrs. William Eltington and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cole have gone way up near the Lake Superior coast to try and land their hunt. The biggest party of hunters to leave here was composed of Fred Hicks, Ross Kerber, Arthur, Stillwell, Charles Hamilton, Lawrence Hamilton, William Taylor, Thomas Gibson, Herman Teshia and W. E. Fomer. This group is also located near Covington. Walter Ware did not leave with the hunters, but he planned to spend a few days in the woods with this group. He has always gone north with them, but did not leave this year because of the illness of his little daughter.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP PLANS TO OPEN NEW STREET IF NOT STRONGLY OPPOSED

Whether Smith avenue in Redford township is opened from Seven Mile road to Grand River avenue in the near future depends upon the property owners on the east side of the proposed street. Township officials are working on the proposition and the majority of land owners whose property abuts on Smith avenue have agreed to their obligations to dedicate their land for the opening of the street. As the matter now stands Smith avenue is half opened. It runs along the Grand River avenue and west of it until when Grand River was planned and subdivided. The west side of Smith is the boundary of those tracts not subdivided which is divided into acre and half lots. The opening of Smith will run along the Grand River and will be directly located on the opening of the street. It is pointed out that Smith avenue is the proposed street and will be the opening of the street from one of these tracts if it is not. So far the proposition has been one of feeling out the sentiment of the locality toward the opening. Before anything definite is to be done by the township a petition must be circulated and signed. If the matter goes ahead the township will take also a committee to the street and land the street on the west side. Another improvement of the township which is being asked is the opening of Delaware avenue between Grand River avenue and Eight Mile road—Redford Road. At least 100,000,000 chickens have to be raised in the United States each year to replace that number of yearling and older hens.

HARVEST FESTIVAL HELD AT METHODIST CHURCH, OVER AT SOUTH LYON RECENTLY

The Harvest Festival and Chicken Supper held at the Methodist church Wednesday evening was a success both financially and socially. At 8 o'clock the supper was served in the dining room by the ladies of the church, and was well kept with the reputation of suppers served there. About 150 people heartily enjoyed the scrumptious repast. The Sunday School orchestra furnished music during the supper hour. Those comprising the orchestra were: Harold Wallace, bassist; Clara W. Wiley, soprano; B. W. Tuttle, cornet; Marie Bradley, cornet; David Saxophone; Chas. Stafford, trombone; and Isla Haying, violin. With the exception of one, all were present Wednesday night.

Following the supper, Col. L. W. Lovell auctioned off the produce which had been brought and which consisted of vegetables, fruits and flowers. Receipts from the sale were approximately $125.00.—South Lyon Herald.

On account of the illness of Miss Chamberlain, mother, Mr. Hill also taught Monday. The Mission Band met for an all day meeting with pot-luck dinner at the Baptist parsonage last Thursday. The regular order of business was followed by reports of the state convention given by Mrs. Effie Reel and Mrs. Grace Thompson.

Mrs. Frank Rice entertained, John Shum, Rex Smith, Frederick Johnston and Howard Spencer at dinner Saturday. The dinner was given as an appreciation for the boys work in the program on World's Temperance Sunday. The afternoon was given to the amusement of the boys in various ways.

The Home Economics Club met Tuesday with Mrs. Via Hoffman, the Home Management class with Mrs. Munro and Mrs. Mairs as instructor called at 8 o'clock. Each pupil submitted a plan of her own kitchen and labor saving and time saving plans were suggested and discussed. After luncheon was served by nutrition class members, the nutrition class was conducted by Mrs. Verdine at 1 p. m. Clyde Barton of North Farmington a Novi Sunday school junior narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday when his older brother backed the truck into the fruit cellar and struck Clyde in the abdomen pinning him to the rear wall. The frantic cry of the boy and his younger brother attracted the attention of Russell and no time was lost in assisting the nearly breathless, unconscious boy to regain himself.

A quiet marriage service was performed Saturday afternoon, November 12th, at the Baptist parsonage at Novi when Miner C. Spencer of Detroit and Mrs. Luella Marshall of Farmington were united in marriage by the Rev. R. O. Thompson, a boyhood friend of the participating parties. After a short honeymoon in northern Michigan, they will be at home to their many friends December 1st at 26 Oakhill, Pontiac.

The marriage of Miss Isabel Ross of Novi and Olive M. Brock of Milford, occurred on Tuesday noon, November 14th, at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Wm. Schum performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a party of about twenty relatives and friends. The bride was attended by her twin sister, Miss Mabelle Ross, while Gladys Brock, a brother, followed, who acted as best man. Following the ceremony, the party returned to the home of William Brock where an elaborate dinner was served to guests from Novi and Detroit. Mrs. Brock and her family will be at home to their many friends.

Rapid, and on their return will make their home in Milford.

The meeting of School Zone 1 B was held at the Putnam school last Saturday. The topic for the month was "Health". In the absence of Miss Chamberlain a class on Hygiene was taught by Miss O'Connor. The class consisted of four girls, Mary Barrett and Olive Holmes from Novi school and Blanche Tomaszewsky and Emma Puhar from the entertaining school. Luncheon was served at noon. In the afternoon, the president Miss Josephine Pappas presided. Auto-graph albums were passed and the winner of the contest was the one who could give the most names of the boys present. Other stunts to test the ability of the teachers helped to pass a profitable afternoon. An auto-graph album and a little gift were sent to Miss Chamberlain who was unable to be present.

A pleasant surprise was given W. D. Flint, last Friday evening by his Sunday school class of boys. About 8:00 o'clock heavy footsteps were heard, and as he opened the door to answer the call, the porch and hall echoed with the yell which the boys greeted their teacher: "How do you do, Mr. Flint? How do you do?"

"You do?" "Anything we can do for you?" "We'll do it if we can. We'll stand by you like a man. How do you do, Mr. Flint?" "How do you do, do, do."

The evening hours seemed short with games, jokes, confessions and a few songs. A special treat was served by Mrs. Flint. An unexpected happening during the evening, however, gave the boys an opportunity to prove their ability, their optimism and readiness to serve. During the heavy downpour of rain and strong wind, the large windows in the room where they were sitting crashed in. Scuffling for canvas rearranging plants, curtains and removing broken glass was a task in which all shared, and made the accident seem less disastrous by their ready wit and humor. Teacher and class feel it was an evening well spent.

A Practical Twine Holder

For wrapping the children's lunch, and other packages an ever-ready aid of string in a holder is a greater convenience than ordinarily realized, though few know how to use it to the extent of purchasing a twine holder. If the twine is left hanging on the wall with the ball of twine in it it will serve the desired purpose of tangle and labor.

For use around the home garage, under the car, and around the water, the holder makes a good electric light holder, and after running the wire through the holder, the wire part prevents the ball from breakage and also throws the light in the place desired.

Pictures may be hung without a ladder if the hook is placed in the spur of a fence, and a long pole inserted in the wide end to raise the hook to the height. After the hook is up the wire can be easily slipped over the hook by the pole alone.

A runner makes a good protection for a flaming candle in distinguishing a closefit of clothing which might catch on fire if the open flame were left to burn. Place it over the dish, and only the flames rise up, leaving the flame safely covered.

ARMY OF RABBIT HUNTERS GO OVER THE TOP UP HERE

Northville's Division Making Great Record Along Battle Front

(By Michael Jacobs, Woodworth Murphy) War Correspondent Northville Record Kenter, Mich., Nov. 12.—Just back from the front. Our boys have gone over the top. Northville's four big divisions of rabbit hunters have covered themselves with glory. Dr. van Brooks Cavell's base hospital established down on the "Aussie" is filled with wounded from the other side. General Hutch Balden made a counter attack on an old buck, but the buck didn't attack. He retreated, and General Balden called for support on his next. General Nelson Schrader ran out a smoke screen that obscured the entire Upper Peninsula from view. Northville has reason to feel proud of its boys at this front. Each one is doing his part well. And such bravery no other army ever witnessed.

General Schrader believes in fighting in the air. Not with the air, but in the air. He dropped a gas bomb that pretty near ended the whole invasion. Buck Private Scott Lovewell just received a severe attack of buck fever, is being treated in hospital, and is now running a bunch of wildcats turned loose by the enemy. The generals now send him into action against any more bucks on account of his feverishness. Capt. Billy and Vern Spruce were taken to the hospital today with the red. Doctors haven't been able to figure out what they are itching for. Over on the "An Sable" battle front, Corporal James Smith, Generalissimo of the First Lieutenant, B. A. Stewart, and Private Paul Alexander and Sheriff Amber tried to run down an old buck. The boys are running in. Scouting parties are out looking for them. If Northville folks want to see some fast stappers in action they had better be around when Dan Linn, Lou Stewart, and Charlie Packdock has nothing on them.

Have got to say this for Lou Stewart and Mr. Ford's partner. In mystery they are two of the fastest boys that ever stepped in shoes leather. There are plenty of witnesses here who say they saw them outstep a deer the other day and just about as they were to struggle it to death, their hearts stopped and they fell.

Northville's light artillery outfit—Capt. Clifford Turnbull in charge—is out in the winter over on the "Springton" front. Reports received at headquarters indicate that the boys are going to stay right in their hole until warm weather. Chas. Johnson and Hugh Brody are doing pretty well. B. E. Warber is keeping the home fire burning.

William Ekhrton who poses as the greatest sporting editor in Northville, has nothing on the great war correspondent. He's just been killing him. He frankly told me that say "my war tank, the all war correspondent, was the best, and he was disappointed that this should be reported by a fellow writer.

It's not my job to say, "Don't you know I was under a great strain when you wrote that about over in Chicago?" Howard Cole's file with me just to keep off such intruders. You ought to know that such a writer-producer should be able to work that he has got to read in the "on." It's a cinch I am not going to tell you how to write your stuff, he had the nerve to tell me. Such content.

Our biggest detachment is composed of Sharpshooters from around Northville. Anna Oakley never had anything on this bunch of squirrel hunters. Charley Hamilton cut a flying squirrel right in two as it was jumping from one tree to another. Wm. Forney shot all the quills off a porcupine perched in a tree near the straits. It was some shot with his old musket. The rest of the crack shots in this outfit, Ross Kenner, Arthur Stillwell, Lawrence Hamilton, William Tiffin, Tom Gibson and Fern Teszka go out every morning before breakfast and shoot the tails right off rabbits around here, just for fun. The sharpshooters are expecting Walter Ward up here to do a little fancy stunt.

Some talk over among the smoke screen boys of court-martialing one of the cooks. They haven't found out just which one did it but one of the finkies used scrubbing soap for baking powder in the pancakes. Suspensions have been turned in the direction of the biggest fellow in the army, but no evidence has yet been uncovered.

Our rabbit hunters ran into a real bunch of deer hunters from South Lyon the other day. Charlie Deer and Frank Deer know more about deer than all the rest of the outfit put together. They hopped off at Houghton Lake. Wells Walker, Chris Peterson and William Peterson are chasing bear up around the old copper mine district. They say that it's no sport to shoot deer, anybody can do that but to go out and get a bear, that's different.

There's another bunch of rifle totes from South Lyon in the outfit. These boys say they were in the Fighting Marines. They look it. John Chalkis, W. J. Warby, Warren Smith, W. J. Buffington, C. A. Short, H. C. Stevenson and C. Wilkinson, Sr., nipped off a few spies from the enemies camp this morning. You know every game warden belongs to the "Buck" army, and if you've got a hunting license, and belong to the army, you have got perfect right to hunt game wardens. There's one here from South Lyon the boys have been looking for. Rumored he's over in the dug-out with Capt. Turnbull from Northville.

Expecting reports from my spies for next week's letter. Have one in every camp around here.

The successes of the co-operative marketing associations are as wide as the intelligence and integrity of managers and members who work together.

Will Pay Full Share With All Other Property Holders on Dunlap

City officials were highly pleased the other day when they received from the American Legion post, a letter in which the veterans advised the council that they had decided not to take advantage of the exemption clause in the state law relative to the paving tax on Dunlap street.

The letter in part follows: "One of our members explained to the Post how due to our receiving the benefits of a minimum value placed on our property we could receive a very small assessment on the new pavement by our taking advantage of this favor. We also understood that by doing this we would be forcing the extra cost upon the property holders of Northville.

"This we do not want to do. It is our policy to work for the good of our town and its people—not against them. Therefore we willingly offer to pay this amount, and pay the regular property owner assessment of $6.00 per foot. This offer is offered to be at the option of the Northville Council."

The letter was signed by Leo H. Alexander, assistant of the post and was given at the instruction of the members given at the past meeting.

The Legion owns the lot at the corner of Dunlap and Huron streets, on which it expects in the next few years to erect a new building.

They haven't got a chance to beat him, and Orville knows it.

Bernard Stephens is pretty much pleased these days. A number of years ago his father gave him a Masonic watch charm that was set in one of the rather strange brown seeds that are found once in a while down in Florida. The combination made a very attractive watch charm.

While ago Mr. Stephens lost it weeks ago and he had given up hope of ever finding it again. A little 25 cent Record want ad did the business. A school girl found it, advertised it, and now Mr. Stephens has back in his possession his highly prized watch charm. And the little girl is greatly delighted with the reward that Mr. Stephens gave her.

As a few boys around town, including the Center street scrubbers, were dispersed the other night in "not having a duck supper." All had planned to do so but no one had duck. Casaris, Poinford decided to take a day off and went duck hunting. He did not advise the folks back home that he would bring them all duck, but then such a neighborly soul as Casaris goes hunting, you just naturally expect that you are going to have duck for supper, and that's all there is to it. He shot just one, and that's all he could get. So he and one had even a duck wing for supper.

John Hanzen, who runs a wrecking station over on Grand river to help out reckless drivers and others who become victims of reckless drivers, has worked out a big business. His garage is located about a mile and a half east of Northville, he makes a specialty of taking care of automobile wrecks. While in Northville the other day he explained that he maintains a 24-hour service, and most of our service comes after dark, he said.

Just Between Us

When you see that rather dazed looking citizen, something of the appearance of William Howard Taft, coming down the busy street around Northville on a horse back you'll be surprised to know that it is no other than Fred W. Like. Like our confident former president, he has gone to horseback riding to reduce, confidentially, close associates say that he has gained a couple of pounds since taking on the new form of exercise.

W. W. Bell who lives over near Wixom, was in Northville the other day. Mr. Bell had a nice little flock of chickens but he advertised for sale. Though he had better sell them before the chicken thieves got them, it's getting so we can hardly keep any poultry on our farms these days, stated Mr. Bell.

"I don't know but you try Orville Lewis is the only man hang within the city limit of Northville that keeps a cow. Boscoe is just as much a part of his family as Fido is a part of the family of Mrs. John Orville. Can't he the city dad be the cow question, time he wants to

The Michigan Bell Telephone company and the Michigan Gas and Electric Utilities are two pretty fortunate organizations. Fortunately, because of the faults the public is inclined to find with utility services, they have employees who remain loyal to their chiefs and defend the services whenever opportunity affords. By chance, Roy Crowe, manager of the phone company, and Perley H. Deal, assistant manager of the gas company, met in the Record office the other day. By chance it happened that two complaints, one against the phone service and the other against the gas service, were voiced by a customer who happened to meet these two public utility employees. And didn't both of them come to the defense of their employees quickly? In was done in such a way that no one could take offense, but on the other hand they let it be known very quickly and effectively that they were not compromising the concerns they work for and that a customer who doesn't sign or write they were there to help. No wonder they get along so well with the companies they work for.

ARMISTICE DAY SERVICES BRING OUT LARGE CROWD

Rev. John Martin Preaches Sermon Especially for Veterans

Rev. John E. Martin of Ann Arbor and the American Legion drew a large number of people to the Metacomb church Sunday morning. Rev. Martin's sermon was appropriate to the occasion and presented the text, "He shall be to you a leader and a commander." The discussion covered some of the dramatic personalities that have led history to its present state. He declared that these leaders are a necessity to peace and the progress of the world war and the peace. He further declared that the church of a world, representing Jesus Christ the Man of Nazareth, formed the backbone of that great struggle. The occasion personally was in the minds of men all through those dark days. He further declared that the church could not be shoved out of the picture of any movement where men were striving for ideals, and that we must recognize the church as with other persons in the universe.

REAL ESTATE SALE SHOWS GROWTH OF PROPERTY VALUES

Farm on Plymouth Road is Sold for $2,500 per Acre to Detroiters

An indication of the rapid growth of real estate values in this section of Washtenaw county is found in the sale of a farm located a few miles east on the Plymouth road, when one of the largest transfers in subsection average in recent years was consummated last week. The sale of what is known as the "Pader" farm to Charles F. Ryder and wife to March-Hamer Co. Inc. and Mart. Bros. This property consists of practically the entire quarter section of 160 acres lying between Plymouth-Levan and Waverly roads and the Pere Marquette railroad. A large grove and orchard are included in the purchase. This is perhaps the last of the original homesteads on the Plymouth road, having been acquired by the Ryder family for more than 70 years. A. Russell and associates represented all parties in the transaction. The terms of the sale are not disclosed but the value of the property is estimated at $2,500 per acre or a total of approximately $400,000.

Mrs. Cornwell's maiden name was Jennie Clutz, and she was born in New York state July 28, 1859. The family moved to Michigan when she was still a young girl and settled at Walled Lake. Her father was a Baptist minister and at one time was pastor of Walled Lake. Jennie as a young girl was a member of the church of the Walled Lake Baptist church. In December 1877, she was married in Northville to Leonard H. Cornwell, so that had she lived another month, they might have celebrated their golden wedding. They came to Northville in 1882, and Mrs. Cornwell united with the Northville Baptist church of later, and was a faithful member of that organization. She is survived by her aged husband, Leonard H. Cornwell, a daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. L. O. Holford of Denver, Colorado, a son, H. Clarence Cornwell who came home to care for his mother during her last months and a brother, Thomas Clutz of Walled Lake. The funeral services for Mrs. Cornwell were held in the Northville Baptist church on Monday afternoon November 14th. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Priest, officiated and interment was made in Walled Lake cemetery.

Men of modern stature are too small to wear old Scottish kilts, so it is to be worn by dummies at a forthcoming historical pageant. Sturdy men in the time of James IV of Scotland can hardly be lifted above the head of a modern man. Old Scottish warriors swung them about with one hand. SNIDERS EXPRESS APPRECIATION TO LOCAL PEOPLE

Pleased with the Reception Given Their New Store Opened Here

"We certainly want the people of Northville and vicinity to know that we appreciate the splendid business they gave us on our opening day. Our patronage went far beyond our expectations and from the expressions heard we are sure that we have made the right selection of merchandise

The section of Wayne county is growing rapidly, and we have come here to grow with it," stated Joseph Snider of the new Snider store yesterday.

The new clothing store, located on West Main street in the Richardson building, one of three stores conducted by these three brothers, is filled with the newest goods.

The store makes a very attractive addition to the retail section of Northville.

Forest fires caused damage amounting to approximately $27,000,000 in the United States in 1927. This immense loss resulted from 21,600 fires, which burned over 24,000,000 acres of the lands of the country. More than 72 per cent of the fires are known to have been caused by man and 12 per cent by lightning; the causes of a trade of 15 per cent are not known. Careless smokers are the cause of 36.25 per cent of the fires, and 13 per cent of the fires are caused by the carelessness of children. The state fire department is doing its best to prevent such fires.

DEVELOPMENT OF CUT-OVER LAND

Old Timber Town in Upper Peninsula Transformed into Park Resort

Blaney, Mich., Nov. 17.—When the virgin timber supply was exhausted by lumber and logging operations conducted for a number of years by the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Company of Hermansville, Mich., this town became merely an ugly blot on the landscape.

The important question then arose of how best to utilize the cut-over lands so that they become a real asset to the entire State of Michigan, and especially to this part of the upper peninsula.

After exhaustive research and study the idea was conceived to establish a resort that would be entirely different from the usual resort proposition. Blaney Park Resort, which was recently dedicated to the public, was the result of this idea. The 22,000 acres immediately adjacent to this point now presents to the passing tourist and to the more permanent visitor a scene of beauty and attractiveness unequaled anywhere in the northern country.

As the motorist speeds in sight of Blaney on either of two of the important trunklines that penetrate the upper peninsula he finds a handsome commodious hotel; clean, attractive looking cottages and lawns, a complete water works and electric light system and in the distance a lovely little lake. A splendid nine-hole golf course is being laid out by a professional golf engineer and in the background is a forest of mixed hardwoods and pines that affords the lovers of nature every facility for exploring the woods and enjoying the birds, the fields the grass and the wild flowers.

Thus, an old lumbering operation has been transformed into something

To locate their old log cabin might incur a little trouble; she has not far away from this. Father said the house was double, she fled far back in the wilderness. There were no graveyards then; they drew together some virgin logs and made a sort of pen.
The family then all moved again, to the forests of old Middleburg; they left her alone, without a stone. For they were in a hurry, they helped locate the hospital; they founded the city of Brighton. And when the Civil War broke out many of them were fighting. One was a hospital nurse, and another was a soldier. And comprehended their friends, he was commissioned by the

The correct basis for determining the worth of any hen as a layer should not only be the total number of eggs produced, but also the time of production. Ten eggs laid in November or December are worth approximately 20 laid in April or May.—Dr. M. A. Jull, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Immediately after the cow calves, give her a warm mash made by pouring hot water over either bran alone or bran and ground oats. A little old process oil meal in the mash is thought by some to improve it. Avoid large quantities of the oil meals, corn meal, middlings or similar heavy feeds. Give her warm water to drink. If she calves in the summer time there is probably no advantage in warming her feed or water.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Arthur Gout, vice president, Mrs. Herberta Voe, secretary, Mrs. M. J. Colburn, treasurer, Mrs. Charles Westerman. A refreshment luncheon was served. A letter was read to see so many out. We have only one complaint. Few men have been seen. Men, too, can enjoy yourself as well as the women. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, December 14th. We are planning on a most interesting time. Mrs. Bentley, president of Parent Teachers Association, will be present.

THE MAYFLOW PLYMOUTH'S NEW HOTEL IS OPENED

Hundreds Accept General Invitation to Go Through Structure

With ceremonies in keeping with the importance of the event, citizens of Plymouth formally opened their splendid new community hotel, The Mayflower, to the general public, last Thursday. So that the entire public might have an opportunity to see the newly-appointed hostelry, Wednesday and Wednesday evening was given over to a general reception.

There was a warm, frosty reception for everyone who entered and because of the fact that the invitation was such a cordial one, hundreds responded. They were shown all through the structure, from the kitchen to the top floor.

The more formal dinner in the structure to public use, took place Thursday evening, when a banquet was held with Charles H. Bennett, president of the Plymouth Community Hotel Corporation, acting as toastmaster. His connection with the opening of the new hotel, in Plymouth, Mich., is a subject of some interest. It was a great honor for him to be asked to give the opening address. He is a well-known business man of the city.

From first to last, the entire structure was filled with information about the hotel, its staff and the struggle for the building to put over the venture. And it was not a simple task, as one reads through the various articles, it is easy to gain a fair idea of the effort and some of the discouragements that constantly confronted the workers.

Following is a part of the description of the Mayflower taken from the Mail:

The lobby is spacious and well arranged. The color tone is light brown as to the walls, with cream ceiling. Suspended from the center of the room is a large chandelier, harmonizing in color with the balance of the room. The floor is of terrazzo with rugs of green tone. On either side of the entrance are two massive sitting desks of walnut, are placed on either side of the lobby, two divans and many tapestry overstuffed chairs are placed in convenient position about the room, and bridge lamps, palms and potted plants lend a pleasing homelike touch to the ensemble.

The south side of the lobby has the clerk's desk, manager's offices, cigar cases and telephone exchange, all finished in walnut.

To the right of lobby is a dining room equipped with a place and many comfortable overstuffed chairs and given above the fireplace is a small replica of the original Mayflower, the gift of Fred Schwab, vice president of the corporation and the man largely responsible for the success of the hotel. In the center of the lobby is a large fountain with a statue of a woman, the fountain is a masterpiece of art.

The color tone of the dining room is light brown in both wall decoration and chandelier. The fireplace is of green stone and the ceiling is in similar tone. Green rugs, similar to the lobby, are laid on terrazzo floor. A large piece of tapestry adorns the south wall between French doors that open into the crystal dining room.

vided with outside entrances, so that it is unnecessary for buyers to traverse the entire hotel in viewing samples. Guests rooms are pleasingly decorated, a varied assortment of rug colorings being used throughout. Singles and doubles, are furnished with bed, dresser, writing desk and chair and an upholstered chair. Satchel stool and hall tree complete the equipment save in the case of twin bed rooms, an additional dressing table is provided. Paintings are all of cream color. Guest rooms are furnished in a varied assortment of color schemes creating a very pleasing effect.

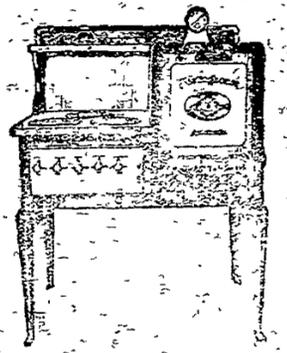

Cottage cheese is delicious in salads. Pile it lightly on lettuce leaves or shredded cabbage. Add a colorful garnish such as diced pickled beet, strips of pimiento, chopped green pepper, or sliced raw tomato and French mayonnaise or boiled dressing. Or for a more elaborate salad, mix the cheese with chopped nuts or olives and form into balls or mold in cups. Cottage cheese also combines well with fruits, fresh, stewed, or canned, in salads.

Albany is the name given to Scotland or the Scottish Highlands in early histories and romances. The title "Duke of Albany" has been frequently conferred since the 15th century. Prince Leopold, younger brother of the late King Edward, was created Duke of Albany by Queen Victoria.

Cooking by Clock—

In the Arabian tale, a nicely prepared meal promptly made its appearance out of the air when Aladdin rubbed his Wonderful Lamp.

Nowadays, in Electric Range cooking, the magic lamp is replaced with a clock, which automatically attends to the cooking. All you have to do is to put the food in the range, set the clock—and forget the kitchen till dinner-time.

Electric Range cooking is done without hovering over a hot fire, without watching, without trouble or anxiety, without smoke or dust or fumes—and with perfect cleanliness.

TOASTMASTER

Here is a toaster you do not have to watch. All you have to do is drop the bread into the oven slot, press down two levers and forget it.

POP!—when the toast is done, up it comes all by itself, and the current is turned off automatically.

The Toast CAN'T Burn

There is no guess work—no more burned toast. Perfect, golden brown slices every time. Crisp, piping hot all the way thru, and the taste is so decidedly improved, that you wonder how there can be such a difference.

It is a beauty. High class in every way. A Christmas Gift of Distinction.

Great Turkey Drive Before Christmas and Thanksgiving

When America was discovered and explored by white men, wild turkeys were found in large numbers from New England to Mexico. History shows that turkeys had been raised in a domestic state by the Aztecs of Mexico at a still earlier period and that they were introduced to Europe by white explorers and were highly prized as a table delicacy upon the part of the Europeans.

Texas is the turkey state of America, producing, according to Earl M. Sage, a 1927 in "Poultry Mechanics" magazine, over 100,000,000 turkeys a year.

The name of the famous turkey from Texas, which is probably the largest shipping point for turkeys in the world, there also is one built up of a unique character upon the last day of the turkey season.

Just before Thanksgiving and Christmas a turkey day is set. The turkey is the turkey to call them to the central market. Some times for a variety of thirty miles, the turkey is sold for as high as $3.00. In a drive of this kind, a wagon is driven just in front of the turkey and a line corn is scattered to the leaders to keep them moving. Those that become lame or tired are placed in the wagon and loaded to town. A nightfall program is made to stop under a grove of trees where the turkeys may roost.

When the harvest festival rolls around, the Texas community pays homage to its most famous and profitable crop and celebrates the end of the season with appropriate ceremonies. The turkey reigns as a crowned king of the festival and a source of pride.

Thanksgiving Day

From every open kitchen door
A whiff of fragrance flies,
The aroma appetizing
Of nuts and pumpkin pie.
The sunset fades away,
And fair and frosty falls the eve—
Before Thanksgiving day.

The children and their children, too,
By auto, car, and train,
A happy, laughing, loving crowd,
Come crooping home again.
To wander in the woods and fields,
Where men they used to stray,
And with the old folks, on the farm,
To keep Thanksgiving day.

Within the shadow of the barn
The fall of the flock
By lantern-light is made to do
Obedience to the block,
And hairy fingers, pink and small,
Will with his drumsticks play
A merry measure at the fender
Upon Thanksgiving day.

In honor of the noble bird
That shares the eagle's fame,
Bring out the finest tablecloth
The linen chest can claim,
The best of silver and of glass
In glittering array,
And grandma's rosebud china, too,
—Upon Thanksgiving day.

Lo! from the Pilgrims' barren rock,
Surrounded with the snow,
The swiftly passing years have seen
A land of plenty grow—
'Tis founded on the loyal love
That brings from far away
The nation's sons and daughters home
To keep Thanksgiving day.
—Minna Irving in Leslie's Weekly

Let the Festal Board Sag With Good Cheer

Nothing proves the hold which Thanksgiving day has on the American people so much as the dinner with which they celebrate it. From beginning to end it is American. On other days we may eat oysters and caviar and champagne, but on this day we eat oysters, turkey, potatoes, hominy, cranberries and pumpkin pie—old American dishes, all and invariably cooked in an American way. They are our chief contribution to the cuisine of the world. Then let us have a them without shame. We have much to be thankful for this year: we are at peace; we are fairly prosperous; we begin, after years marred by the passions of war, to regain possession of our better selves; we take our ease, give some thought to the exquisite side of life, and find America once more the place it used to be. To the festal board, then, and let the turkey be made entirely of second joints!

Ideal Has Been Held

The gospel of the first great Presidential call to thanksgiving and national meditation upon new ideals was never lost. Deep in the heart of the nation that was dedicated to a new dispensation of freedom and justice and concord, the ideal has been held.

WAYNE ROTARIANS VISIT EDISON TRENTON CHANNEL PLANT—ONE OF THE LARGEST

Members of the Rotary Club of Wayne were the guests of E. J. German, district manager for the Detroit Edison Company at the latter's Trenton Channel plant Wednesday. The program included a luncheon in the company's cafeteria at the plant, followed by a tour of inspection under the direction of regular guides.

The Trenton Channel plant of the Edison company is not only the largest of the Detroit firm's generating stations but it is also the most modern, faring with any in the country in this latter respect. New units are being continually added until it is planned to make this plant the largest of its kind in the world. To those who had never visited the plant before, it had already reached that proportion so extensively has this property been developed.

The men were shown through all parts of the plant from the large section devoted to the pulverizing of the coal and the latest methods of combustion used in the boilers to the rambling generating rooms where five units are now in operation with a sixth under course of construction. They were given an explanation of the carrying of high voltage lines to the various distributing centers, an explanation filled with unfamiliar electrical terms but intensely interesting nevertheless.

The Trenton Channel plant of the Detroit Edison Company is but a part of the system that is interconnected with other generating units serving for the most part this section of the state. Over 1,500 tons of coals a day are used here and sufficient electrical energy is generated to supply a city of half a million population.

HOW TIMBER FIRES OFTEN START

HOW TO PREVENT FIRES

1. Matches—Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away.
2. Tobacco—Be sure that pipe ashes and cigar or cigarette stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves or needles.
3. Making Camp—Before building a fire scrape away all inflammable material from a spot 5 feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the center and in it build your camp fire. Keep your fire small. Never build it against trees or logs or near brush.
4. Breaking Camp—Never break camp until your fire is out—dead out.
5. Brush Burning—Never burn brush or waste in windy weather or while there is the slightest danger that the fire will get away.

A carelessly left campfire—a carelessly thrown match or spark—may mean acres of timber destroyed in a few hours. Only decades of slow growth will replace the loss.

Pine forests catch fire easily. Many travelers from states where there are no forests, or only hardwood forests, do not realize that our northern woods, composed largely of highly inflammable pine, will burn so easily. The underlying bed of leaves and dry pine needles acts like tinder in carrying fire from a spark dropped in it. Fires creep underneath this forest floor and appear in distant places.

Be careful! Help preserve the forest treasures for everybody's use.

Mr. Frid of the Northville Laundry Tells How to Get in the Contest

Ask Me Another latest of popular pastimes is soon going to be an extremely popular game in this city. Mr. Frid, owner of the Northville Laundry, announced today that he has received a quantity of extremely interesting and entertaining "Ask Me Another" booklets. He will gladly give them to the first persons who call at his plant on Cadiz street. The game is proving very popular with those who have seen copies of it. The booklet is of special interest and value to persons who are entering the great $50,000 cash prize competition being staged by laundry owners of this country and Canada. It gives important information which will assist them greatly in writing their 500-word letters on the subject "Why the Laundry Should Do My Washing." Mr. Frid said: "Every one entering the contest is urged by Mr. Frid to call at his plant, inspect an operation, ask questions about it and receive a copy of this booklet." Mr. Frid is especially eager to give any help in power in the contest so that the big $10,000 prize may be won by some woman here. Three laundry owners across the state will judge the letters submitted from the state, under the plan of the contest. The ten best letters will then be entered in competition for the $10,000 and other national prizes.

So Many Reasons For a Thanksgiving Heart

Now with quiet thanksgiving, For the berries on the fantastic slowly reddened and the intricate leaves of the wild geranium are scarlet fire. For the windows in the canyon are bright blouze and the aspens softly close, their golden orbicals, swaying in the rush of the winds. See, of the elements are tangled hills of pale silk. Against gray walls burberry and white glow golden stalks, and the green. In wait, gardens, plants and the heavy sweetness of the autumn sun and bees at noon, seek the late petals. "I might over the darkening mountains the 'hard' half hour of the young moon stands upright in the west, the sky and red Arcturus burns through the chilly dusk. Across the years, unflinching time a pale sunset of autumn. I am sitting, listening for his 'wonder' of small gusts, seeing the 'hard' clouds, that he loved. I think of you, for the memory of you. Thanksgiving for this, pause of stillness. Thanksgiving for the brave, arch streak and the hard to be strong. I will utter Thanksgiving now. Let's move in a hurry to a Secret Mountain.

Ode to the Bird

The birds sing we make a merry of the expense of the torrid Thanksgiving turkey, as in his rhyme, by the "Critic" Gazette's columnist: "The barnyard turkey rights around carelessly of his worth per pound. 'Tis true he feels a trifle proud and often strikes his thoughts about 'Tut all the same I rather doubt if it is pounds he thinks about."

"He quickly gobbles what he's fed - not knows that he will soon be dead. 'The wiser plan of staying slim has never yet occurred to him.' "He doesn't have the slightest dream of what Thanksgiving time will mean. "He eats, of this and dines on that, and grows attractive, sleek and fat. "In ignorance, he struts around, quite heedless of his price per pound. "I ask you, isn't this a shame? And yet I'll eat him just the same!" - Atlanta Constitution.

When Turkeys Were Cheap

"At the time when I removed to Kentucky," wrote Addison, "turkeys were so abundant that the price of one on the market was not equal to that of a common barnyard fowl now. I have seen them offered for the sum of 5 pence each, the birds weighing from ten to twelve pounds. A first rate turkey, weighing from twenty five to thirty pounds, a voidupus, was considered well sold when it brought a quarter of a dollar." Quite a difference nowadays when you go to buy your holiday bird.

SIX MILE ROAD IS FAST BECOMING ONE OF THE MAIN TRAFFIC LINES TO THE WEST

A series of important developments along Six Mile road which have either been under way during the past summer and fall or have been announced for early consummation point to the road development of Six Mile road.

Rouge and the other bridge near Telegraph road are both completed. Sewer construction along the Six Mile road is progressing rapidly although it has delayed the completion of the stretch of paving on Six Mile between Grand River and the River Rouge bridge.

Early next spring the Six Mile road between Wyoming avenue and the city limits will be widened from 20 to 40 feet, the Road Commission announced.

An enrollment of more than 3,000 students is announced by the University of Detroit in the new University at Six Mile road and Leveiros avenue.

Marygrove College, new Catholic college for girls which ranks with some of the leading girls colleges of the country, has an opening enrollment of 292 students. A rapid residential development is springing up in this neighborhood.

Through G. E. Switzer, Redford branch manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, comes the information that the company's original program of expansion in the Redford district has been increased by one third. Instead of the original $150,000 planned the company will spend more than $200,000 in "rush" telephone service for this rapidly growing district.

Purchase has been effected of a large tract of land on Six Mile between Kameek avenue and the River Rouge for the Methodist Children's Institution. This structure will be started next spring, according to present information, and will supersede the present home west of Farmington. About 15 acres are in the tract, it is said.

Six Mile road is already assisting a large portion of east and west traffic, it is pointed out. It is the first through street north of the business district of the city and because of this it is becoming more and more significant in the city and county scheme.

Not only is it being greatly used by traffic, but its importance as an east and west artery is being recognized by developers. Redford Record.
