CHIEFLY CHAFF

Church Notices

Love is the only sure cure for female coquetry.

A real blessing seldom has to assume a disguise.

Ability is the art of doing only what one is capable of doing.

If you are looking for a man with brains, look on the butler.

A man's face is like a banknote—

every face it means money.

Go to work! Be seeking a nice and you'll probably get several.

Now men are willing to start work in the art of argument.

Men's work is his best form of work and to have his work done being dressed up in a white shirt is the best way to impress him.

If a man makes a man serious

it's a sure sign that she'll be his girlfriend.

The man who has been fooling twice

by the same woman is hopelessly fooled.

Figures may hold lie for statisticians occasionally get their data mixed.

"Some" wives are unhappy because their husbands don't respect them enough.

Cheerfulness is health; the opio-site, melancholy is disease.—Hali-burton.

Men don't realize how stupid

the world is until he tries to dodge his creditors.

This is a wise quantity with the bread and butter could be waste to eat no more.

Light Shed by Moses,

Still Guides the Race

Moses is the greatest religious inspi-rator known to history of all time.

He is the guiding spirit of more extreme religious thought than was inspired by the Sermon on the Mount. The present industrial order is Moses. Christianity and Islamism are out-growths of the Judaism which Moses founded.

While learned professors in their studies are laboring to illustrate the literature or existence of the alleged wise-giver, around the corner comes the prophet of world and age, the beloved prophet in whose steps lead out the glories of Moses. "Then shall not kill, I have said not still"

the little prophet actually did have Moses.

The historical bridge between superstition and religion. His open fellowship but in contrast of supplication, but upon it the world from his personal experience but human eyes saw a bright light where hitherto little, here darkness—Charles Francis Potter, in the Woman's Home Companion.

The Rarer Sort

Gen. Mason M. Patrick chief of the air service, said at the Army and Navy Club in Washington the other day:

"Young Colonel Lindbergh is remarkable for the in-mecceney character of his ambition. He's ambitious to do better and better work, but he has nothing about money."

"Now most of us are like Jones. A man said to Jones one day:

"Jones, what would you do if you had $1,000,000?"

"Do?" said Jones. "Why I'd do the same as anybody else would do, of course. I'd buy myself into an expensive neuroticism trying to make

$1,000,000."

JOHN WHITEFOOT WHO WAS RESIDENT OF REDFORD FOR FORTY YEARS IS DEAD.

The funeral of John Whitefoot, resident of this vicinity for more than 40 years, was held Monday afternoon at his home 18031 Lahser Avenue. Mr. Whitefoot died last Thursday at 1:45 a.m. after a three weeks illness following on several years failing health. He was 67 years old.

Born in England, John Whitefoot came to this country between 40 and 45 years ago. He settled at Birmingham, Mich., where he conducted a gas and oil furnace business for many years. Later he moved to Southfield, and 15 years ago came into Redford village where he resided ever since.

With Mr. Whitefoot's passing, Redford has lost one of its best known and most outstanding characters. For many years, he acted as principal of the village, having been appointed to that position about 12 years ago. He was well liked by everyone and many tributes have been paid him in memory of his passing. Redford's demand that he maintain his duties, however, he was street commissioner and sewer inspector at the same time.

Perhaps a few more persons in the community than any other individual here, it is said. In his capacity as sewer inspector, he met virtually every new resident who came to Redford.

When the village was annexed to Detroit, Mr. Whitefoot became sewer inspector for this district post he held up to the time of his death.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Mary Whitefoot, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. C. Douglas and Mrs. George Charles and Edwin, of Ford, and 15 grandchildren. Interment was made in cemetery—Redford Record.

Children over three years should have garments with openings to make self-dressing easier. Buttons should be fairly large in size. It is a good plan to reinforce the buttonholes. The buttons should be sewn firmly and should have a wide shank.

What was the first scene at the gas fire? Kerosene.

Give Yourself A Christmas

Did you ever consider a Christmas gift? Here is a gift that you can give yourself. It will grow in worth as the years go by. You can depend upon it.

INGS ACCOUNT with the WORD TO THE SKEPTICAL

There has been some talk during the weeks relative to a regular education in the faith of Christian school by some dentist.

This is a good one, and it should be regular practice of all schools.

The villages are out to do their best to see to it that these statements are frequently made.

In connection with this matter I have read from a professional journal

the following: "It follows that Experience has demonstrated that such a restriction is safe. Endorsement of this fact by the insurance companies will drive it home."

To prevent their barking and howling, Birmingham, England, has a canine curfew law to keep dogs off the streets after dark.

The silk in a bride's blouse is allowed to enter Finland duty free, although the duties on imported silks are high and form one of the chief sources of revenue to the state.

So to your dentist if your gums inflamed, irritated and bleeding, is no pyorrhea cure to be bought at the drug store. Your dentist can pyorrhea, but no medicine can heal the cause even if it seems to the damage.

Often should you visit the dentist twice a year if you do this, then you had better dentist every day, and let your teeth for you. Most give you a lecture. So start faithfully in the right

JOHN WHITEFOOT WHO WAS PRESIDENT OF REDFORD FOR FORTY YEARS IS DEAD

The funeral of John Whitefoot, resident of this vicinity for more than 40 years, was held Monday afternoon at his home 18031 Lahser Avenue. Mr. Whitefoot died last Thursday at 1:45 p.m. after a three weeks' illness, following on several years failing health. He was 67 years old.

Born in England, John Whitefoot came to this country between 40 and 45 years ago. He settled at Birmingham, Mich., where he conducted a grist mill for a number of years. Later he moved to Southfield, and 15 years ago, came into Redford village where he resided ever since.

"With Mr. Whitefoot's passing, Redford has lost one of its best known and most outstanding characters. For many years he acted as marshal of the village, having been appointed to that position about 32 years ago. He was well liked by everyone and many tributes have been paid his fidelity to Redford village. Not only did his duties demand that he maintain order in the village, but he was street commissioner and sewer inspector at the same time.

He perhaps knew more persons in the community than any other individual here, it is said. In his capacity as sewer inspector he met virtually every new resident who came to Redford.

When the village was annexed to Detroit, Mr. Whitefoot became city sewer inspector for this district which post he held up to the time of his death.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Mary Whitefoot, he is survived by two daughters, Miss W. G. Douglas and Mrs. R. Douglas, five sons, William, Tom, George, Charles and Edwin all of Redford, and 15 grandchildren.

Interment was made in Grandlawn cemetery—Redford Record.

It is a good plan to reinforce bands where the buttonholes are to be worked. The buttons should be sewed on firmly and should have a long shank.

HOW THINGS ARE MADE

According to Dr. William Root of the University of Pittsburgh, intelligent people think twenty times faster than they can write, and the arm is so far behind the activity of the brain that poor writing results.

General Sherman, the largest tree in the United States in the Sequoia National Park, is 280 feet high and 36.5 feet in diameter.

About five miles is covered by the average golfer playing eighteen holes of golf.

HOW THUGS TREAT GARAGE MAN THEY CALLED TO HELP. THEY GET OUT OF DITCH.

Henry Miller, Farmington garage man, had a thrilling and rather unpleasant experience early Thursday morning. It was two o'clock and about zero when he was called to pull a Buick car out of the ditch on Grand River Avenue, east of Farmington Junction.

Milled hauled the car out, and the two men who had been riding in it instead of saying him displayed a revolver and gave orders to beat it back to Farmington. No attempt was made to rob him. Mr. Miller reported to Farmington Enterprise.

A Profiteering Prophetess

By H. IRVING KING

MADAME ZENOBIA, the veiled prophetess, was having a dull and unprofitable day. The other side shows at the county fair seemed to be doing well, but there was a deplorable lack of curiosity with regard to "The Secrets of the Past, Present and Future." Madame Zenobia's stock in trade suddenly into her deserted tent rushed a girl of about eighteen, who cried out: "Oh, please hide me! Here's ten dollars!"

The veiled prophetess clutched the bill with a firm grip. Kleptomaniac was her mental diagnosis. "There's no place," said she, "but my dressing room, and they would be sure to search that."

"Can't do something," pleaded the young lady. "I'll give you ten dollars more if you don't let them find me."

Zenobia was a woman of resource and a woman of action. "Come here," said she. "The seeress had been a lightning change artist on the stage in her day, and in a surprisingly short time, the two women emerged from the little dressing room, Zenobia clad in the girl's clothes and the girl arrayed as the veiled prophetess.

"Sit there and gaze at my crystal," commanded Zenobia. A minute later and a middle-aged, prosperous-looking man entered the tent. "Ah, there you are," cried he; "they told me you had been seen coming in here. Now Ellen you come right straight home. Robert is half distracted, and I'll catch that rascal Murchison, ill, weak, his neck. Elope would you?" And he placed his hand on the shoulder of the woman who sat with her back toward him. The woman turned and he gazed into the hard-lined face and the sharp, crafty eyes of Zenobia.

"Great cats!" he cried. "I beg pardon; but I thought you were somebody else."

"I am not," responded Zenobia sharply. Across the table the girl behind the veil of silver trembled; but uttered no sound. "Now," said the prophetess as the man departed, "what does all this mean? What's your name besides Ellen?"

"Bancroft," faltered the girl. "I was going to run away with George Murchison, but I'm afraid."

"In love with George?" queried Zenobia. "I thought I was," sobbed Ellen; "but now I don't know. We were going to New York. I am awfully sorry. Robert takes it so hard."

"Here," consoled Zenobia, "give me your hand; let me read your palm. Ah! Here it is. I see a young man named George Murchison good looking—wears jewelry—flashy sort of fellow—blew into town from the city—talks big and tells everybody what a devil of a fellow he is. There's another fellow named Robert, some thing—"

"Johnson," murmured Ellen. "Yes, that's it; Robert Johnson, went on the seeress. "Everyday sort of chap—dead in love with you—sober, steady, well-to-do. He meets you ever since you were kids. That was your pa who came in here. Your pa's got money. That's what George is after. Robert is after you. See that line there. That means that you are not going to marry George. You are going to marry Robert, and he happy ever after."

"Oh, how do you know? How do you know? Do you see all that in my palm?" cried the amazed girl.

"Every word of it," replied Zenobia. "That's my business. Didn't you read my sign outside—Past, Present and Future told—satisfaction given or no charge?" That will be fifty cents extra, please."

"Certainly," said Ellen. "And I am so glad that I don't dare go home. Father will just think me alive, and Robert will never guess me."

"Let me look at your palm again," said Zenobia. "Yes—here it is. Your pa hardly said you at all, and as for Robert—let me see—yes. Robert will be so glad to have you back again that he'll be just as good as pie. Fifty cents more, please, so you stay right here until I come back. I don't move."

Ever-veiled and mystically attired, holding her business cards and a sensible wand, Zenobia wandered forth into the crowds until she located Robert, still searching for tidings of Ellen. To him she made application as follows: He was carrying fifty dollars in hand, and he used to scold the stewardess for not being in condition to be served. Please say that right. The stewardess is dead, and the stewardess is the mystic.

"I am sorry to say that the stewardess is dead, and the stewardess is the mystic. Robert, you are a good man, and I am sorry to say that the stewardess is dead, and the stewardess is the mystic."

A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Frank Whittaker for the gift of a plant which the class sent as a message of kindly thought during a trying and prolonged illness. The next meeting of the class is to be held at the home of Mrs. Judson Taylor. Sincere thanks were expressed to Mrs. Wesley Wilson for entertaining the class on this occasion.

The Young People's class of the Salem Federated church Sunday school held a business meeting at the parsonage on Thursday evening last, when the following officers were elected:

President, Chester Dix; vice-president, Harold Benjamin; secretary, William Pennington; treasurer, Donald Merritt; collector, Miss Mabel Proctor. Arrangements were made for the coming Young People's Christmas, and New Year's party, which is to be held in the church basement on Thursday, December 20th, after business refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was given up to games. Though the weather was cold and snowing, nevertheless a goodly number attended the meetings and a very enjoyable time was spent.

From the spirit of earnestness and good fellowship which prevailed, the coming days of the class promise to be increasingly happy and successful.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE FISHERMEN
IN THESE PARTS
Spearing and Fishing Thru
the Ice Will be Permitted.

There's good news for the Northville fishermen who like to spear through the ice as well as drop a line with a nice big club down for some bass to bubble at. You can spear and you can fish with five lines through the ice during January and February. The only exceptions are those where some lake has been closed by special legislative enactment. As far as known here isn't a lake in Wayne, Oakland, Westenay, Jackson, Monroe, Lenawee or Livingston that is closed against fishing through the ice or spearing. There are several regulations governing the use of five ice lines and the spear or fishing fish in inland waters of the state have been announced by the department of conservation officials. Early in September the order prohibiting the use of the spear and five lines was rescinded after having been in effect for a number of seasons. Shortly afterwards another order was issued closing all rivers and streams in the state to the spear, but this was done with the understanding that later most of the rivers and streams would be opened provided they contained trout.

The situation as it stands at present time, and which becomes effective before January 1st, is that it will be legal to use a spear during January and February in all of the lakes in Michigan for taking any fish except trout, bass and wall eyes. The only exceptions to this are any lakes that may have been closed to the spear by legislative enactment or special order.

Five ice lines equipped with tips instead of one line held in the hand also becomes permissible. As to spearing in the rivers and streams, all of the water courses in the counties in this part of the state are open.

According to Director George Hogarth no other changes will be made governing this sport before the season opens, and the question of banning the spear entirely will not be considered by departmental authorities until the next legislature meets. If it is the desire of the law makers to do away with the spear the department will see that the law is enforced. On the other hand if no change is made Mr. Hogarth states that the conservation commission will not take steps to alter the situation through the use of the discretionary power law.

DRUM AND FIFE CAPE IS BEING FORGED BY SOUTH LYON BOYS, SAYS HERALD

Much activity is being planned for the winter months by the Boys' Scout troop of South Lyon, in which fifteen boys are at present enrolled.

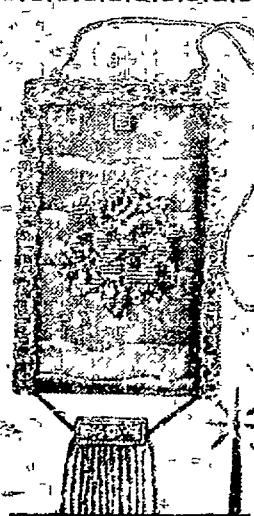

Reorganized last May by Superintendent Cleverton Scoultmaster, the troop has prospered under his leadership and is self-supporting. Harold Wallace, who has just completed a Scoutmaster's training course in Pontiac, is assistant Scoutmaster.

Meetings are held every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the schoolhouse. New members are initiated on the third Wednesday of the month. The first meeting of each month is first night when tests are held to promote the boys to advanced ranks in scouting.

This winter the troop plans to have a bugle and drum corps and the boys plan to march on voter poles. A feature of the Christmas season will be the delivery of plants to the older people of town.

One of the activities this week is the Scout play at the Temple theatre on Thursday night, to which Manager G. L. O'Brien is admitting the Scouts gratis.

"TOM SAWYER" NOW HALF CENTURY OLD

That perennial American boy, "Tom Sawyer," is fifty years old and literary societies or the country are celebrating the birth of Mark Twain's incorrigible pen child, an event which in itself is a distinct epoch in American literature. While the stories of Tom and Huckleberry Finn are deservedly world-wide, the author himself is little known outside of the circle of modern historical actors. On a single lecture tour he earned $3,000 and the royalties on "Adventures Abroad" reached $6,000 in the first six months.

MUCH EFFORT WITH THE WRONG RESULT

Secretary McLean, president of the Pan-American Peace Union, said in a dinner in Washington:

"The governments of the world keep pegging away at the diplomatic question and the result promises to be very like the story."

"A man looked over this garden wall during an afternoon and saw the little son of his neighbor hammering just upon a toy wheelbarrow."

"What are you going to the wheelbarrow soon?" the man asked.

"Mending her," said the boy. "She's broken."

"Well, the man met the boy's father in the evening and said,

"Your son was mighty busy this afternoon."

"Yes? What was he up to?"

"He was repairing his toy wheelbarrow."

"Gee," said the father, "I guess he's repaired it beyond repair now."

I heard a story the other day. A man said:

"I understand that Miss Marion Hastings, the safety singer, has had her face lifted."

"Is that so? I'd add a second man I didn't see any difference."

"Well," said the first man, "it fell again, I saw when the beauty doctor sent in his bill."

Early Caterpillar Train

A floundered correspondent recalls that nearly 70 years ago he saw in Hyde park a trial of a military train of wagons loaded with soldiers dressed in fatigue jackets and drawn by a steam engine bearing the name India. This engine, he says, had two wheels, its own track each "slipper" being apparently about 4 feet long mounted and revolving on rollers much like the modern "caterpillar" movement. The experiment, according to the London Post, appeared to give an improved military transport, and the men hauling would probably number about 200 in eight wagons.

WAYNE COMPLETES PAVING PROGRAM— MANY SIDEWALKS

Little City to South Has Has Done Large Amount of Work

According to the Wayne Weekly the two year paving program in that place has been completed. It says: "At last Michigan Avenue is opened to traffic and no longer is it necessary to go three blocks in order to get anywhere. Clean, smooth road with an air of progressiveness—the main thoroughfare is one more heavily trafficked with both local and transient vehicles."

Sixty-two feet wide in the main business area and fifty-two feet wide in the semi-residential section, the newly constructed road affords comfort in driving and ample space for parking. Long a drag on the communities' effort to make Wayne a modern village in which to live this last renovation completes a network of streets to which any town of its size and population can justly be proud of and point to as an accomplishment of real worth.

For two years citizens have had to put up with the inconvenience of having their streets torn up but now their sacrifice has brought something that is really worth while. The town that has pavement in practically every street. Few realize that there are but a few streets which remains unpaved. If one were to make a survey of neighboring towns and villages a long search would have to be made before a system of pavement which now exists in the local village would be found.

"Most of the sidewalks which were torn up to make room for the new pavement have been rebuilt but there still remains some to be constructed in the west end. A few buildings are an imposing obstacle to the beauty of the new thoroughfare but plans as they now exist would indicate that such buildings will either be built or be moved."

Part of the D. U. P. tracks have been paved in this corner but there is yet to be considerable work to be done by this company. Further improvements along this line will be continued in the spring when the weather permits.

"Another paving improvement for which preparatory work is now underway is Monroe Avenue from the present village limits to Romulus with five and a half miles of stretch to the village which will be opened to the present traffic for other directions. Under the supervision of the Wayne County Good Roads survey have been made and sewers provided for and it is expected that work will start on this pavement as soon as the spring weather will permit.

"Wayne's paving program has been only a part of the great work which has been underway in the County to beautify the pavement which exists in the town and territory of Wayne County has won national fame. Few if any, have the road facilities that this territory provides and with the 1928 program the county will be raised to the best paved state of the country."

FARMINGTON IS HAVING ITS FIRE-HAZARDS LOOKED INTO BY STATE INSPECTOR

A complete inspection of buildings in the City of Farmington from the standpoint of protection against fire, is to be made in the near future. The City Commission at its meeting on Monday night voted to summon an inspector from the State Department of Public Safety for a general review of conditions throughout the city. The action of the city commission followed a suggestion of Commissioner Clarence Bickling. Commissioner Bickling asserted that there are many buildings in the city which he believes to be veritable fire-traps, and from which escape in case of fire would be almost impossible.

Commissioner Bickling referred especially to buildings in or close to the business section, which are, he stated, without outside fire-escapes. He declared that some dwelling-places appear to be fire hazards of the worst

The suggestion met with the approval of the commissioners, and it was suggested that the fire inspector be brought here and make a thorough examination of the entire city, inspecting all buildings and making a general survey of fire-hazard conditions. The inspection was viewed as especially desirable at this time because of the recent report to the commission on the condition of fire-fighting apparatus, with recommendations for added equipment. Farmington Enterprise.

PROPOSE CHANGE
NAMES OF ROADS
IN THIS COUNTY

Edward N. Hines Makes
Good Suggestion
Asks for Aid

Wayne County Road Commission will set itself to the task of devising an acceptable program for the naming of roads in Wayne County. At the present time said Mr. Hines, there are several roads in the county that, by trifling the confusing map of road names, the Wayne County road commission is seeking the cooperation of officials in various parts of the county, to clear up some of the existing contradictions and have continuous roads bear the same name throughout the entire length.

As an example, when the Warren family was built, in the early days of the improved road system, a certain number said that they "sewed better than one mile south and cause they enjoyed doing so and not mended nine miles over again." The "sewing" because they expected to ing the Warren road at the ten-mile turn, calling the road on which the miles to Warren continuation lay, the Middle Belvidere, and the remaining the western, nine miles, the Ford road.

Many roads correspond in name to street names in the city of Detroit, for instance the Division road, a most important thoroughfare, is often confused as a continuation of Division Street in Detroit, but the two roads bear no relation to each other whatever.

Likewise in many of the villages street names are duplicated in Wayne County highways, and confusion and loss of time results. It is with the idea of several roads in the county that, by trifling the confusing map of road names, the Wayne County have several names and the confusion in directions and highway signs is apparent, the commission hopes, with the aid of city and village and township officials, throughout the county, to clear up some of the existing contradictions and have continuous roads bear the same name throughout the entire length.

Through the opportunities for buying attractive ready-to-wear garments are continually increasing, a large number of women are doing much of the "sewing" at home.

In connection with a recent survey of the road system in certain parts of the city and continued ten miles west, then one mile south and con-cause they enjoyed doing so and not mended nine miles over again.

The "sewing" because they expected to be easy corrected for and save money.

AMERICA'S FIRST "AERIAL HOBO" WELL KNOWN LOCAL LAD

A South Carolina Paper Places Don Starr in a New Class

Don Starr, Northville lad, in the brief space of a week's time, has become known the country over as America's first aerial hobo. The title has been tacked on him by Eddie Stinson and the Raleigh, North Carolina News and Observer.

According to this southern paper Eddie Stinson, flying from Northville, Florida stopped over in Raleigh for the night with Starr as a passenger.

The story from this publication follows:

Eddie Stinson, noted five and airplane manufacturer, gave Raleigh a practical demonstration yesterday of what is coming in flying and why it should not be long in providing an adequate airport.

Stinson, piloting a big six-passenger cabin monoplane of his own manufacture, took several Raleigh citizens along to demonstrate that modern airplanes are definitely on the novelty stage and that regular passenger planes are near at hand. He must produce an airport, he said to Mayor Culbreth, last night. He gave the Mayor a bunch of oranges and explained that there could be made self-supporting from the sale of fuel and granting of concessions. He described Raleigh's present field as a disgrace. Last night he took the air on SWIFT and foretold great aerial development and the prima necessity of providing airports immediately.

Stinson is scheduled to hop off about eight o'clock this morning for Okeechobee, Fla., with D. G. Doahberg, of Chicago, purchaser of the plane, he had here. Mr. Doahberg is coming down from New York by train to board the plane here. He is due to arrive at 7:34 this morning and go straight to the flying field.

Pilot George C. Pomeroy, of Detroit, and the first aerial hobo ever to visit Raleigh flew down with Stinson from Detroit Tuesday in six hours. They expect to make the trip to Florida in about the same time.

The young boy, Don Starr, Northville, Mich., a 16 school boy may accompany the party to Florida. The noted flyer is then a mere being, 16, and who can not go to field in airplane and pilot for a top, up, up, up, up, and turned up, hour after the first flight.

Starr is 16 and he was placed with the prospect of entering in the South. He very much of his world of it, and I believe the first flight jump he made by a biplane, in a similar way, "Biplane" while there, in the United States, in 1925, under the name of "A. D. Detention Committee." He was made by Mayor Culbreth and the people, who are type of the driving demonstrators, and several news paper men were taken up and shown just the ship would do.

The monoplane is of the sun-type used by R.R. T. in her trans-Atlantic flight and Bruce and Sennett in their round-the-world attempt. Its motor is well appointed and quick, the same driving comfort as in modern automobile. Little noise from the Wright "Wingwind" motor penetrated the cabin, and occupants carried on conversation, smoked and did what they liked. It was quite unlike the ordinary open-air cockpit type of plane common to those parts. Its maximum speed is 130 miles per hour.

Let's Make It "A Merry Christmas"

By JAMES EDWARD HUNTERFORD
in Southern Parfait

MY FRIEND, will Christmas mean to YOU?
A day of blessings are,
Among good friends, whose hearts are true,
Whose happiness you'll share.
Will Christmas bring the ones you love?
The day with you to spend?
If so, then thank the One above,
For you're in "LUCK," my friend!
To some it means a cheerless day,
With strangers all about,
And not a single sunshine ray
To wipe the shadows out;
And all about you they abound—
In hamlets, towns and cities;
No loving friends will gather 'round
To cheer THEIR lonely hearts!
My friend, will Christmas mean to YOU?
A home that's bright with CHEER?
A wife, and laughing children, too,
And all that life holds dear?
Will Christmas bring you gifts of gold,
And BLESSINGS without end?
Or will you be "out in the cold,"
Without a single FRIEND?

IF YOU are blessed with worldly wealth
And friends whose hearts are true;
With wife and children, home and health,
My friend it's up to YOU,
To help your friendless fellow men
Whose lives are drab and gray,
And bring God's sunshine back again
To THEM, on Christmas Day!

The Village Commission has decided that in the future when fire calls are answered to any point outside the city limits a charge will be made for the services. This action has been found necessary because of the many calls that are now being received from the country.

HOW TO GET ASSISTANCE

If you desire to have your buildings protected by the Northville fire department, all you have got to do is to deposit in either Northville bank, $50 in your name, but giving the city an option to take out of that amount the costs of answering a fire call to your place in case of a fire. The money remains yours, in case you do not have a fire. You can terminate the agreement at any time by notifying the city. The interest remains yours.

Effective January 1st. Calls from the country will be answered until that time.

PROVING GROUNDS AND BUICK FACTORY VISITED BY SHEAR

Local Dealer Amazed by the Wonderful Efficiency
That Prevails

C. G. Shear of the Plymouth Buick Sales Company, Buick dealer, has just returned from Flint, Mich. where he spent two days as a guest of the Buick Motor Company. Buick is entertaining the majority of its 3,600 dealers at the factory and the famous General Motors Proving Grounds, and the rate of about 200 a week. Mr. Shear made the trip along with the other dealers in the Detroit Buick brand's territory. The party, numbering about 125 men, was met by Buick executives, divided into groups of a dozen or so each, provided with guides and started at once on an inspection tour through the plants. Except for breakfast, which was served at the Hotel Durant the tour occupied the entire day. The inspection was presided over by E. T. George, president of the Buick Motor Company; C. W. Churchill, general sales manager, and other Buick executives who addressed the visiting dealers on various sales and service problems and congratulated the dealers for their record in Washington by far the greatest ever Buick years.

The next day the dealers landed a the Proving Grounds, which lies a few miles from the nearby town of Milford. Here they were shown the testing track "such Buick goes constantly to safeguard the position of our leadership." After a day of work and driving, the car for home.

It's hard to say which was more amazing—the factory, or the proving ground," said Mr. Shear. "Each was a wonderful experience and a general treat." The day at the factory brought home the marvelous efficiency of Buick manufacture and explained how the company can offer such startling values. We saw the conscientious care that goes into the making of every Buick car—the relentless tests which insure that every one is right when it goes out—and we gained some conception of the enormous resources this policy has enabled

Buick to develop.

"I am especially impressed at the way machinery has taken the place of man's power, whose work it does more quickly and more accurately than men. Movement of parts in their transformation from raw materials into finished cars, is taken care of

by a system of conveyors of marvelous ingenuity each designed perfectly for its own particular job. They run from operation to operation and from plant to plant, in what seems like a hopeless mass of their ingenuity is a perfectly coordinated and well combined great gift to itself."

For all the machinery Buick emloys about 30,000 workers. Its factory is nearly two miles long and several blocks wide. It has its own fire and police departments, its own water and telephone systems, it is a good sized city in itself.

We were delighted to see the Prove-ing Grounds because we had heard so much about it. The visit set us straight on the point; the Proving Ground was not established to get a stamp of approval on General Motors—in fact, to prove them good, as rumor sometimes has it—but to put them through the most rigid tests. In comparison with all other cars made so they may perform with the best at all times.

Buick has a big fleet there constantly going through the rough sort of ground performance that is continually dictated. These Buicks average 50 miles a day, across the year round, which gives some idea of the tests through which they are put.

The demonstration of Buick roadster upon the speed upon roads

I did not know before an automobile could go so fast.

I think all the dealers in the territory on the west coast are in a little bit of trouble. For myself,

the visit to the plant and the General

Motors Proving Grounds, and of course

the factory, I am very much impressed.

Special trains, dairy-alalfa campaigns, and hay-day demonstrations have all been used to spread the information in Michigan of the need of alfalfa and other legumes in a pro-itable farming program.

D. Kurz, farm crops specialist at Michigan State College, who has been in charge of the alfalfa extension work in Michigan, was awarded a prize of a two weeks trip through the United States, an alfalfa seed producing area

Idaho, as a result of the interstate contest.

Sanilac county had the greatest increase of any Michigan county in the number of acres of alfalfa sown during the past year, according to the state sources connected with the extension program.

MARK SPOT WHERE FIRST BUILDING IN PLYMOUTH STOOD

D. A. R. Conducts Special Services in Connection With Event

The following interesting account of the marking of the first "place" in Plymouth where a building was erected when the town was settled, is taken from the last issue of the Plymouth Mail:

In honor of the first pioneer settlers in Plymouth, Canton and Northville Townships, the Woman's Club and the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the D. A. R. placed a bronze tablet on the Plymouth Hotel Mayflower, which is built on what was the first homesite in the village. The hotel, which so ably expresses the progress and foresight of a rapidly growing community, is a splendid example of the achievements and high ideals inculcated by these early pioneers.

At 12:15 a very fine luncheon was served in the Crystal and Palm rooms of the hotel to some two hundred representing the Woman's Club, D. A. R., Plymouth League of Women Voters, Elks, Kiwanis Club, etc. Following the luncheon, Mrs. H. C. Cooper, president of the Woman's Club, welcomed the guests and presented the gift of William Wood, president of the Rotary Club, who as guest of the ladies dispensed with their regular order of business.

Dr. F. B. Hover, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Wilkinson, vice president of the Plymouth League of Women Voters, were introduced. Lee A. White, historian and an editor of the Detroit News, was next introduced as speaker of the day.

Mr. White is an interesting speaker, and took for his subject "The Newspaper and the Community," and one upon which he is well qualified to speak. He traced the founding of the first newspaper by the Chinese, up until the present time. He spoke of the newspaper's relationship to the community, and the important part it played in the community's development. He related some of the amusing communications that were received by the large papers that were much enjoyed.

It was a pleasure to have with us Harold Roberts, tenor, of Detroit, who sang "The Horn," by Fleischer, and "Life," by Speaks. He was accompanied by Mrs. Corwin Walbridge of Rosedale Gardens.

Mrs. Cooper displayed the first paper printed in Plymouth, now in possession of J. P. Root, the copy consisting of one sheet of paper about the size of an average envelope and known as the "Plymouth Rock." It was printed in 1860. It discussed the forthcoming presidential election and carried on the back page a list of the business men of Plymouth and their addresses, about twenty in number at that time. The editor, F. S. Bagley, found occasion to edit his paper only semi-frequently, or at such an important time as an election.

Mrs. Cooper also read a letter written by Mrs. Joseph Adams of Canterbury, Conn., to her daughter Evaline, first bride of Plymouth, and son-in-law, James Safford, written December 12, 1890. There was no post office in Plymouth at this time, and the letter was addressed to Plymouth Michigan, care of Narlinton Post Office. Postage was 25¢, and it took a month for a letter to reach Plymouth from Con-

TAX COLLECTION STARTS OUT WELL SAYS TREASURER

Early Payments Have Been Excellent States Fred'k Hedge

Tax collection for Northville township has started and according to Township Treasurer Fred'k Hedge, the early remittances have been a big surprise to him. He has been busy every minute from the first day. "I didn't look for such an early rush. I never expected that there would be only a very small part of the tax paid before the first of the year." If it keeps up as it is now, a very good portion of it will be paid before the end of December," stated Mr. Hedge a few days ago.

"Of course I expect the holiday rush to slow things up for a few days, but that will probably not last long," he added.

Some of the treasurers in other Wayne county townships are not making such favorable reports. A number have stated that collections are starting very slowly, and that remittances are the smallest in a number of years for the first few days of collecting.

The biggest increase shown on this roll is the state tax. All other taxes remain the same as a year ago, only one or two being lower.

New Silk Neckties
for 10¢ a Dozen!

Look at these ties you were going to throw away! They are just as good as new now. I cleaned them with Solvite cleaning soap and saved the cost of a dozen new ties!

Women find it easy to save five to ten dollars by dry cleaning things around the home which will be rung up, cleaned up and watered.
It is an excellent dry cleaner. It dissolves in gasoline. It cleans all silk shirts, dress neckties, suits, coats and many other things and makes them just like new. Nothing like Solvite. Get Solvite at any drug store now—invest a few cents and save many dollars.

Your feet won't take you to

A Christmas Gift

From God

by Martha Banning Thomas

"YOU cannot go with us!" the shepherds said.

"You are the youngest . . . therefore you must stay."

Here on the hill and watch the flocks instead."

And thus they left him there and went their way.

He shivered in the cold and stamped his feet,

Wrapping his shabby cloak of skins around

His body . . . and he thought: "They're in the street."

Of Bethlehem and maybe they have found

What they are looking for. They said a KING!

Well, let them go and waste their precious time.

Sheep must be watched.

But soon the strangest thing

Happened around him. Bells began to chime.

Shaking a golden music on the air.

A radiance spread across the wintry hill.

And voices sang like birds . . . and everywhere

Was music. So the lonely lad stood still.

Shading his eyes against the dazzling light.

His heart beat wildly. "PEACE ON EARTH TO MEN!"

The heavenly choir sang. A trembling frightened

Ran through his veins. He could not breathe . . . and then,

There came a present to this shepherd boy . . .

A Christmas gift from God . . . a swift, white thing.

Fell at his feet . . . he picked it up with joy.

The glittering feather from an angel's wing.

The others laughed at him when they returned.

Saying he was too young to understand.

The miracle of Jesus, yet there burned

The feather like a light within his hand.
