

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

VOL. LVIII, No. 27

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, JANUARY 13, 1928

$150 PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE

FRANK S. NEAL IS AGAIN APPOINTED AS POSTMASTER

During His Administration Business of Office Has Doubled

Announcement has just been made in Washington dispatches that Postmaster Frank S. Neal had been recommended by President Coolidge for appointment to another term as postmaster of Northville. The action of the President was taken upon the recommendation of a Congressman from Hudson and congressional sanction will follow shortly.

Appointment is for a second term as postmaster. He was appointed in August 1923 and has continuously since that time the period of his administration of the local postoffice. He has in the job his undivided time and coupled with his attention to business and the growth of the community, the business of the postoffice has almost doubled in the four years of his service.

When he took over the job the postal business amounted to something like $4,000 per year in Northville. Last year it exceeded $15,000, by far, almost doubling the first year of his term in office.

The payroll has also doubled during that time. The government now pays out to Northville residents over $18,000 per year in postal salaries. This includes the salaries paid to the two rural carriers, but does not include the salaries to be paid to the two new city carriers who will begin service February first.

It is generally believed that the business of the local office will be more than doubled during the next four years. Indications are that Northville will grow much faster than ever before and naturally this will bring an increase to the local postoffice.

FRANK S. NEAL

He has been recommended by President Coolidge to serve as postmaster for another term.

THOUSANDS WILL BE SPENT AT FISH HATCHERY IN 1928

Congress Acts Favorably Upon Local Improvements Asked by Hudson

Through the efforts of Congressman Grant M. Hudson, an appropriation amounting to $25,000 has been secured for improving the United States fish hatchery located at Northville. The appropriation bill has been pending many years before congress and laid dormant until Congressman Hudson took hold of the measure and pushed it through to a successful end.

W. W. Thayer, superintendent of government fish hatcheries located in Michigan, announced that $10,000 would be used to purchase land in Alpena and the remaining $22,000 would go in improving the local hatchery.

Most important among the improvements is the construction of a new aqueduct. This will be located on the first floor of the main hatchery building. Every effort will be put forward to make it one of the finest. Also a new house is being erected for the employees.

Other improvements include the construction of a large rest room for visitors, beautifying all of the grounds and the addition of more ponds with which to expand the work. When the work is completed Northville will have one of the most beautiful hatcheries in the country as well as one of the largest.

John D. Hauger of Grosse Pointe Park, a well known attorney of Detroit and a brother of Mrs. Alton Orvis of this place has been seriously ill in a hospital for the last six weeks. During the past two or three days he has been showing considerable improvement, and it is hoped that he will be able to be removed to his home within the next few days.

TO USE STINSON PLANE FOR FLIGHT LONDON TO INDIA

Levine's Pilot Over Atlantic Buys Northville Craft for Long Flight

The Stinson Aircraft corporation shipped a monoplane, Wednesday, to London, England, for W. G. R. Hinchliffe, former pilot for Charles Levine. The plane will be used in an attempt to fly from London to Rangoon, India. There have been fifteen attempted flights over this course, and so far none of them have ever been successful. One of the last was the flight by Charles Levine in his Bellanca airplane with Hinchliffe as pilot. This trip was unsuccessful, as the plane was badly damaged in a test flight. Five of the attempts were in the last year.

There is a possibility that Hinchliffe will have as his pilot, Orville Wilford, chief mechanic of the Stinson corporation. Mr. Porter was a member of the first pursuit group for the United States air service, and was adviser of the plane, the American Girl, in which Ruth Elder and George Haldeman attempted to cross the Atlantic. He was also a member of the Wilkes party of Detroit in their last expedition to Alaska.

The distance of the flight from London, England, to Rangoon, India, is 4,900 miles. Should this flight prove successful it will be the longest non-stop flight ever made. The Stinson monoplane is capable of carrying 550 gallons of gasoline and 25 gallons of oil with its passengers and their equipment and food. The total flying capacity of the ship is about 6,000 pounds.

Success on a trip of this sort can only be accomplished by first class aviators, as there are many difficulties to overcome. In flying on the proposed route they will cross the Alps mountains, which will force them to an altitude of 11,500 feet, as some of the higher peaks extend 11,000 feet in the air.

Mr. Hinchliffe became interested in the Stinson monoplane when Schley and Brock landed in England on their trip around the world. Seeing their worth as dependable ships he felt that the trip could be made in one of them. No definite date has been set for the attempt, but they expect to be ready about the middle of May or later. After the ship is assembled in England it will be necessary to fly to the place where it will be broken in and a complete operation.

During the time preparation is being made for the flight, there is a possibility that Orville Wilford will go to Rome to confer with officials of a large commercial aviation company, who are contemplating purchasing a number of Stinson planes for their business.

Northville residents and people living in this section have an opportunity right now to get what furniture they need at rock bottom prices. Schrider Bros. have announced a sale with one-fourth off on everything in the store. This is a chance not often granted to furniture buyers by a store that always sells at low prices.

Mrs. Harry Blake and her sister, Mrs. Blanche McKinnis were hostesses to an attractive luncheon of six tables on Thursday afternoon of last week. They will entertain again on Saturday of this week.

BAPTIST CHURCH BURNS MORTGAGE ON ITS PROPERTY

Annual Meeting is Held and Officers are Elected for New Year

On Monday night, January 2nd, the annual meetings of the Ladies Aid society and of the Baptist church were held. At the Aid society meeting good reports were given of an active and successful year's work. The society has at an expense of $287 recovered the church cushions. The greatest achievement, however, was the paying up of the mortgage on the church property, assumed by the society three years ago, and amounting to $1,500.

Mrs. Flora Larkins, the president of the society, during the meeting, applied the match when the mortgage was burned. Mrs. Larkins, who has been president for seventeen years, was unanimously re-elected. Mrs. R. F. Thompson was elected vice president; Mrs. Cora Russell, secretary, and Miss Cora Sloan, treasurer.

The annual meeting of the church followed the meeting of the Ladies Aid society, and the pastor, J. W. Priest, presided. The achievements of the Ladies Aid society, in behalf of the church were greatly appreciated and gave great encouragement, but there is still some floating indebtedness.

Officers were elected as follows: Clerk, Miss Ella Clark; church treasurer, William Horsfall; benevolent treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Matheson; trustees, Mrs. Flora Larkins and G. R. Ogilvie, re-elected; L. G. Carmon; deacon for three years; William White and C. B. Turnbull, re-elected; deacons for one year, Michael Nagy and L. G. Carmon.

Officers of the Sunday school elected on Sunday, January 1st, were satisfied by the church. Superintendent, C. B. Turnbull, assistant secretary, L. G. Carmon and Michael Nagy; secretary, Mrs. William Horsfall; assistant secretary, Leon Ogilvie; treasurer, Mrs. Nagy; organist, Mrs. Fleuelling.

Officers of the B. Y. P. U. elected on Sunday, January 1st, were also satisfied by the church. President, L. G. Carmon; vice president, Mrs. L. G. Carmon; secretary and treasurer, Eleanor Westfall; organist, Mrs. Priest.

India produces more than 50 per cent of the world's supply of sheet mica, a substance which has come to be almost indispensable in certain types of electrical equipment. With the advent of radio the demand for mica has greatly increased and the United States is becoming more and more dependent upon foreign countries for its supply.

COMING TO TAKE PART IN EVENT FRIDAY, JAN. 20

Many Other Prominent Men in Michigan Invited to be Present

Northville's first Community Banquet will take place Friday evening, January 20th, in the high school gymnasium. Hon. Fred W. Green, governor of Michigan, will be the chief speaker and he is coming not only to be the guest of honor at this affair but to honor Harry German Sr., who has brought distinction to himself and fame to his home community by a long and successful career in the baseball world. When Mayor Elmer Smith recently invited the Governor to visit Northville, it was suggested that this be a proper time to make manifest some sort of appreciation to the man who had honored the baseball profession of the state, and who had brought credit to the great American sport over a period of forty years in the game.

Not the least of his wonderful accomplishments are the creation of two world records, one for pitching the fastest ball game ever played, and the other by pitching three successive games, two feats no other living baseball pitcher has ever accomplished. This little honor to Mr. German is but a part of the whole program. Governor Green has been invited to speak upon any subject he desires and naturally it will pertain to state questions.

To be present with the Governor, Thomas Bigger, state boxing commissioner, has been invited the Wayne and Oakland County road commissioners, Hon. John Lodge, mayor of Detroit, William H. Maybury of the Maybury sanatorium.

Commissioner Lines of the Wayne County Road Commission and Mr. Maybury will be among the speakers. The community banquet is Mayor Smith's idea and when he first suggested it a few years ago it found a ready response. A committee composed of the mayor, M. J. Murphy, T. S. Neill and Fred W. Green was formed to make a general plan for the affair. They then called in the citizens. The mayor extended the invitation to the Governor and it was readily accepted.

So it proved was the suggestion met with that instead of planning for a banquet attended by possibly 150 or 200, the committee are working out a plan which 400 or more men can be seated at the banquet tables in the high school gymnasium.

The event will be promptly at 7:30, the gymnasium having been secured for the affair. The school community band will provide the music for the evening playing during the serving.

M. J. Murphy will be toastmaster. Men of Northville and vicinity are invited. In fact if you have friends living in some nearby places you would like to invite you may do so. Tickets are but $1.50, and are on sale at the Northville Drug company, the Horton Drug store, the Lovell-Smith Realty office and the Northville Record office. But 400 have been printed and it would be well for you to get yours early if you desire to attend, because it is known that there will be ready sale for them. In fact a fairly large portion of the tickets have already been spoken for so quickly.

It is the first time since the days of Governor Fred Warner since a Governor has come to a banquet in Northville, and in view of the fact that the state's chief executive will be the main speaker of the evening and that many others prominent in public life of the state will be here, the affair promises to be one of the big events of the winter.

It is strongly urged by the chairman of the committee that everyone get their tickets before Wednesday night, as it is necessary to let the Methodist ladies, who will serve the banquet, know by that time just how many will be in attendance.

The many friends of Frank J. Boyle, formerly of Salina, will be glad to know that he is now living at Lake Worth, Florida, where he expects to spend the remainder of the winter. When he went to Florida he had intended to stay on the west coast near St. Petersburg, but he has found the weather more to his liking on the east coast, and that is where he will be until spring. He states that he had the pleasure of attending New Year church services in the Catholic church at Palm Beach. The church cost over three million dollars. Palm Beach is a beautiful place, he writes, and is located right on the shore of the ocean.

Local officials are somewhat alarmed over the persistent report that rabies are affecting some of the dogs in this locality. Chief of Police Safford has recently been called upon to kill five or six dogs and the head of one shot on Tuesday has been sent to Ann Arbor for examination. He killed another dog with Oakland county license number 5878, issued in 1927. Monday, that had every evidence of being mad. A quarantine was declared in Oakland county sometime ago because of the spread of this disease in that locality.

The term "watered stock" originated from the custom among certain farmers of feeding their cattle a lot of salt, letting them drink all the water they wanted, and selling them by weight.

NEW DIRECTORS ADDED BY NORTHVILLE SAVINGS

Annual Meetings of Local Banks Show Favorable Condition

Dayton Bunn, Northville representative of the Lord Industries and Lewis C. Stewart of the Northville Drug company were Tuesday elected to the board of directors of the Northville State Savings bank, at the annual meeting of the bank. The annual meeting of the Ephraim State Savings bank also was held at the same time. There were no changes or additions to the directorate of this bank.

According to the reports of officers submitted to the directors, both local financial institutions are in splendid shape. In fact, not many communities in the state the size of Northville have two such successful or strong banks.

The following officers were re-elected by the Ephraim State Savings bank: F. S. Harmon, president; F. S. Neal, vice president; E. B. Bradley, vice president; E. H. Lapham, cashier; E. E. Miller, assistant cashier; F. Lanning, assistant cashier. The board of directors is composed of the following: F. E. Bradley, C. H. Bryan, Alex. Christensen, H. B. Clark, F. S. Harmon, M. N. Johnson, E. H. Lapham, F. S. Neal, C. A. Ponsford, N. C. Schrader, R. M. Terrill.

The officers of the Northville State Savings bank re-elected are: D. A. Babbitt, president; D. P. Yerkes, Sr., vice president; C. W. Wilber, cashier. The board of directors—L. A. Babbitt, D. P. Yerkes, Sr., L. B. Flint, Bruno Freydl, C. W. Wilber, A. C. Balden, G. G. Benton, L. C. Stewart, Dayton B. Bunn.

The addition of these two young business men to the board of directors is regarded with general favor, and their many associates about the city are glad to see the advancement that has come to them.

Harold Bloom was elected to the post of assistant cashier of the Northville Savings. Mr. Bloom became associated with the bank something over a year ago, and through his attention to business has already won for himself an advancement in the bank.

Officials of the two institutions stated yesterday that the past year had been a very good one, and that expectations for the ensuing year were very favorable.

When D. J. Stark, dispenser of seed catalogues at the postoffice, goes fishing, he goes fishing, and he generally gets what he goes after. He showed up on the job a few mornings ago with a lame back. Someone about the postoffice asked him if he had lumbago. He denied it and said his lameness was due entirely to lugging home a pike that was over 41 inches long and that weighed just an ounce or two under 13 pounds. The lake where he speared it is located at latitude 84 and longitude 42. That's all the information he would give as to where he goes spearing every day after having passed out the catalogues that come to Northville.

As a part of the celebration for apple week in Yakima, Washington, an apple weighing more than a ton was weighed. It required four bakers, wielded a rolling pin fifteen feet long, to roll it. A specially constructed oven of 100 pounds of apples.

LIGHT FOR BOTH

We hear much about the advantages newspaper advertising affords the business men who buy the space, but we did not hear so much about the benefits the reading public derives from the same advertising. As a matter of fact, the people who read the ads and shop accordingly are taking advantage of a fine service provided for them by the advertisers and newspaper.

Before they go out of their homes, the people have had an opportunity to make their selections carefully and economically. This is a distinct convenience to the public. They look for the ads and patronize the merchants who display their wares in the columns of the paper. Thus they are spared the inconvenience and uncertainty of bargain hunting through crowded shopping districts.

This is the reason why the merchants of Northville advertise in the Northville Record. They regard it as a service to their customers, something that will enable them to shop wisely and conveniently.

India produces more than 50 per cent of the world's supply of sheet mica, a substance which has come to be almost indispensable in certain types of electrical equipment. With the advent of radio the demand for mica has greatly increased and the United States is becoming more and more dependent upon foreign countries for its supply.

HERE IS A CHAIN LETTER IDEA THAT IS HARD TO BEAT

How Many Brothers in Family Keep Informed About Each Other

You have heard of chain letters, haven't you?

Nearly everyone has. But here is one that is entirely different than the ones you and the rest of us have heard about.

M. A. Porter, pioneer resident of Northville, has several brothers living in different parts of the country. When they scattered out into various parts of the world, they found it was quite a task for each to be writing the other so often. Sometimes one would write one thing to Ed and forget to tell Oliver about it. And then the arguments started.

So they hit upon an idea that has worked out very well indeed and it has continued through a period of a great many years.

Here is the way the system works out: M. A. Porter of Northville will write a letter to his brother, E. W. Porter, who is banking commissioner for the state of Idaho, residing at Boise. E. W. will read it. Then he writes a letter to another brother, Ed B. Porter at Waterville, Washington, enclosing the letter from M. A. Porter of Northville.

After Ed B. Porter reads what his brother in Northville and his other brother in Idaho has written, he writes another letter to the daughter of another brother who lives in the Hawaiian Islands. It seems that at the time the brother living there died, the daughter requested that the chain letters that formerly came to her father be continued to her and so the brothers have continued their niece in the circle.

After the letters have left the mid-Pacific ocean islands she encloses another letter to a brother, Oliver P. Porter who lives in Blissfield, Lenawee county, Michigan.

By this time there are half a dozen letters from brothers, but Oliver P. takes pen in hand and tells all the news about himself and family and sends the letters from Michigan, Idaho, Washington and Honolulu on to another brother, R. H. Porter in Detroit. By the time R. H. Porter gets the letters in Detroit, he has received a book.

Now so that M. A. Porter of Northville, will know all about his other brothers, R. H. Porter, encloses them all in a nice big fat envelope, writes a message himself, and mails them on to Northville. So that no brother shall lose a message from the others, the only communication taken out at any place along the line is the letter written by the sender.

How is that for a chain letter idea? Mr. Porter says they make the circuit about six times a year.

ROTARY ADOPTS NEW COMMITTEES FOR ORGANIZATION

Local Club Follows Suggestions Made at Ostend Conference

Paul Nardinello, Plymouth avenue, Ford Motor company employee, provided members of the Rotary club with a genuine surprise Monday when he played a number of accordion selections. The music he produced from his instrument was far superior to that often heard from vaudeville programs and on the radio. At the club meeting, chairman of Monday's meeting, requested Harry MacBurger, superintendent of the Ford plant, to bring some musician before the club, was it generally known that there was such an excellent accordion player in town. He gave six selections that excited anything of the kind ever heard before the organization.

President Don Verkes, Sr., announced that the board of directors had decided to make some change in the committee organizations and methods of doing business in the club. These changes were recommended at the rotary convention held in Ostend, as outlined in the report to the club made last summer by Edward C. Langfield, who represented Northville Rotarians at that meeting.

There will be four general committees in the future. The aims and objects committee, according to the report made by Delegate Langfield, will be the first and most important one. The three other committees are vocational service, club service and community service. Under the club service committee are eight minor committees, all functioning under the direction of the more important service committee.

The members of the various committees follow: Aims and objects committee—Chairman Don Verkes, Sr., J. W. McClintock, E. C. Langfield and Dr. Richard Saley.

There was a good turnout at Monday's meeting, a number of visitors being present.

OPENS ONE MINUTE LUNCH PLACE ON EAST MAIN STREET

Red Arrow Owner to Conduct Two Places on Main Street

Having taken over the Main restaurant at 126 East Main street, George Delmaris has entirely remodeled it, redecorated the walls, and opened up a very modern and up-to-date One Minute Lunch room.

He has placed new counters, new fixtures and new furnishings of all kind in the lunch room and made it look like another place. The tables and counters are of marble tops and everything is as sanitary as they can be made.

Quick lunches will be served at all hours and at popular prices, he states. He has made a great success of the Red Arrow on West Main street and realizing the necessity of a good eating place on East Main street, he sometime ago purchased the Main restaurant with the idea of making it into one of the best places in Northville.

Sometime ago he closed the place so that extensive alterations could be made. These have now been completed and the place is opened to the public. Patronage of the past few days indicates that it will be as successful as he had anticipated.

NEW CHEVROLET MAKES A BIG HIT WITH AUTO OWNERS

Reception by Public is a Surprise Even to Its Makers

Wildfire enthusiasm kindled throughout the country last week, when the new Chevrolet line for 1928 went on display took particular account of the many mechanical innovations embodied in the new car.

Thousands, who viewed the new models noted that the wheelbase was increased and bodies made roomier and more beautiful, also that the mechanical features had been developed to a measure heretofore unknown in the low price class.

Outstanding developments in the engine and chassis that received widespread endorsement were the increased speed and power of the new, car, easier steering, four wheel brakes of new design, shock absorber springs marking an advanced trend toward riding comfort, and smoother engine performance.

The first mentioned feature was achieved by the use of constant clearance alloy, "inverted" pistons which make for smoother, more efficient motor performance. Further contributions toward this end were gained by raising the compression ratio and by stepping up the valve lifts. Through these changes maximum power is developed.

Other changes in the engine are the addition of a breathing system to eliminate the annoyance of engine fumes; a new two-port exhaust, and a silencing engine enclosure.

The four-wheel brakes are of non-locking design—the product of Chevrolet laboratories and the facilities of General Motors laboratories and proving grounds. Front brakes are two-shoe immersed internally, while the rear brakes are the emergency external self-wrapping type. Front and rear brakes have been proportioned to prevent side drag or pull. Each brake has an individual adjustment at the wheels while "stops" have been provided to make the adjustment process especially easy. Easy, in fact, pedal application throws the front brakes into action. Further application throws from brakes harder action and also brings the rear brakes into play so that it is possible to stop the car with the least movement of the foot pressure, but not the front wheels.

The effect of this new four-wheel Chevrolet brake is to give the driver wear on the road.

The springs also are of extraordinary design. The action is the result of a double springing, which Chevrolet engineers set about to increase the action of the springs and thus the life of the car.

This end was achieved by engineering the springs with a rebound check. The check is on each spring, located in the center of the spring, and the spring and the rebound checks are inverted bow-shaped steel-leaves assembled under high pressure against the top of the spring leaf, the ends pressing against the top of the leaf, increasing the resistance.

So much has the spring friction been increased by this new device that the car is said to run 50 per cent better than with old type springs. The rebound checks also offer greater resistance to bumps.

Greater ease of steering was made possible by adopting a ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism, including ball bearings in the steering knuckles and by increasing the steering ratio from 8 to 9.5 to 1. The four-inch increase in wheelbase contributed greatly to the riding quality of the car, with less pitching and less road holding ability.

The front axle has been enlarged and strengthened to accommodate the new brake attachment. A fan shroud has been added for more efficient cooling and a host of other details combine to make the Chevrolet for 1928 the best performing, most efficient and dependable mechanical unit ever built by the company.

TRY THIS

By EDNA PURDY WALSH
To Make an Unusual Basket Pillow

TO MAKE an unusual cushion in the shape of a basket, an ordinary square pillow may be used as the base. Chalk lines or pencil marks may then be drawn upon it in the shape of the basket, and the sides of the pillow sewn on these lines, pressing the feathers inward as the sewing progresses. The sides may then be cut off leaving the pillow in a basket shape.

Gray green or old rose moire silk makes an excellent basis for the cover, its heavy weave suggesting a basket texture.

Two yards will be sufficient for the cushion. Strips of dull gold braid sewn onto the moire silk crosswise give an added basket effect.

An effect of overhanging flowers is made by sewing different shades of pale green colored satin ribbon, leaf shaped, upon each other. Full blown flowers at the top are made with rose-colored satin or tulle, buttonholed with chenille.

Chains of gilt braid form the handles at the side of the basket, and the rings are made of thin curtain ropes buttonholed with heavy weight embroidery silk.

To remove a grease stain from a rug after dust has settled into the grease spot and the rug has become unsightly: If possible scrape off part of the grease and dirt with a dull knife, and then scrub the stain with a soft brush and warm soapsuds. Or maybe the spot can be absorbed by one of more applications of fuller's earth, French chalk or talcum powder, or by blotting paper and a warm iron. A solvent, such as carbon tetrachloride, gasoline or benzene, may be used. Gasoline and benzene are very inflammable and must never be used in the same room with an open fire or flame of any kind. A freshly spilled liquid should not be rubbed from a carpet or rug, because this tends to drive it into the fabric. If possible, the liquid should be covered at once with corn meal, talcum powder, blotting paper torn into bits, or any other absorbent material which will take it up and keep it from spreading.

STRADDLING ARTHUR

A great statesman has been taken from Grand Rapids to Northville. That is the kind of a great statesman, the kind you never know where he is going to land on a public question. He's one of these candidates that took up his abode with every conceivable kind of qualifying clause, an old trick of candidates seeking the votes of wits, dyes, suffragists, anti-suffragists, Greenies and anti-Greenies.

Straddling Arthur's first public stand on a public question has been taken in this America for Americans Sweden for Swedes campaign he has started. (Wonderful issue, isn't it?) It seems that some daring word or dry questioned Arthur about his position on a re-submission of the proposition question. He answered, by saying that he was for the wets, and for the dyes. And this is how he affixed the tack. "If the wets mobilize a sufficiently formidable demand for re-submission, the dyes should sturdily and confidently accept the challenge." By just dropping out the "is and" adjectives, he says nothing. However, he does leave the impression with the wets that he is for the re-submission of the liquor question and he tells the dyes to get out and fight 'em by Heck. Wonderful Senator he would make. This Straddling Arthur Vanacomb of Grand Rapids.

THANKS, CONGRESSMAN

Acting upon the recommendation of Congressman Grand Rapids, the President has submitted to Congress the name of Postmaster Frank S. Neal, for another term as postmaster of Northville. This is good news to our community, and we are all grateful to the Congressman for his action in this matter. During his term as postmaster, Mr. Neal has served the community well, and he is entitled to the new term for which he has been appointed. He is exceedingly well equipped for the post. Over a long period of years, he has been an active worker in behalf of Northville, and his long public career has been one of credit to him. No so many years ago he served in one of the highest and most important places in the state government, being chairman of the finance committee of the lower branch of the state legislature during a portion of the Warren administration. The chairman of this committee wields almost as much power as the governor when it comes to financial affairs of the state. And not once during all the time he served in this capacity was there ever criticism hurled at his conduct of state affairs.

Later, he directed the state oil department, and his supervision of this office was without criticism. When first appointed it was just naturally expected that he would make good as postmaster, and he has to the entire satisfaction of the community. We are all glad that he is to continue in his present post.

OUR GROWTH

Anxious to have their friends in other parts of the country know something of the remarkable growth of Northville during the past year, an exceptionally large number of residents during the past few days have purchased copies of the issue of the Record showing the development of our community over a twelve-month period. All have commented that they did not realize so much had been done in Northville during the year.

The club will meet in Detroit, Wednesday evening, with their guests at the Statler hotel, where they will have dinner in the main dining room. ## Bible Thoughts for the Week

Sunday

A Song of Thanksgiving.
Oh that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men! O come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us come before His presence with thanksgiving. For He is our God, and we are the people of His pasture.—Ps. 107:25, 27, 31, 2, 7.

Monday

Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? When thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh.—Isa. 58:7.

Tuesday

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. Let nothing be done unto self, or in vainglory, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.—Phil. 2:5, 3.

Wednesday

The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; Thou shalt maintain my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.—Ps. 133:3.

Thursday

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you, not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.—John 14:27.

Friday

Oh that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men.—Ps. 107:21.

Saturday

But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that sleep.—1 Cor. 15:20.

Helping The Moral Climate of Our Town

Wrong doing is the most expensive thing in this or any town in the world.

Two sanatoriums—a home for defectives—a prison farm—doctors—lawyers—law enforcement officials—all tell a story doing wrong things in health, business or social relations in our country.

Jesus Christ came into the life of the world to show the way to moral, spiritual and bodily health. He still offers to open the door that leads to these avenues.

By Him we shall be judged—not by neighbors. He will be the standard. He is the value mark by which our product will be appraised. Wouldn't it be just as well to listen to Him now—TODAY?

Last September a new class, namely Journalism, was offered to the high school students as an elective subject of five hours credit. Eight people enrolled in the class and several others evinced an interest in it. Being intended primarily as a one semester course, the work has proved so interesting and beneficial that arrangements have been made to lengthen the course to two semesters of study, and it will continue on through the next term. This does not mean, however, that no new members may be enrolled in the class for the second semester. On the contrary, we hope that those who have expressed a desire to enter the class will do so, and we extend an invitation to all high school students to enroll for the second semester, hoping a large number will do so.

The editing of the paper is part of the classes duty, and study of journalistic problems and methods of correct news writing, which as text book work, takes up the remainder of the time.

Those who desire a pinch of salt job in other words, are forewarned, not to enroll for everyone works in Journalism. In compensation I would say that work has its reward in pay, as the editing of the "Applesauce" and "Cranberry" issues, makes the student to exercise what self expression he has and enables him to acquaint himself to meeting people easily and confidently.

During the next semester we hope to and are determined to improve "The Orange and Black" and the news print, and under its heading we will find it a difficult job without your assistance which we hope to get next term.

"WHO READS MAGAZINES"

Once, an Englishman, in the days gone by said, "Who reads an American Book?" but during the next year no one need ask "Who Reads Magazines" in Northville, because everybody's going to read Magazines in Northville, and like it.

Why, you may ask. Well, because Northville high set out to sell magazines for one week. They started on January 7th, and before January 14th they intend to have enough money to outfit the band and basketball team. So just the reason why Northville will read more magazines during 1928.

SEVEN BECOMING SPHINX AFTER MAKING SOLEMN VOWS

Taking solemn oaths in the presence of the sports of old Egyptian Kings, whose bodies lie buried within the pyramids of ancient Egypt, seven members were initiated into the Sphinx society.

Clausen Murdoch, Green.

There will also be individual prizes for students who get the most subscriptions, which includes pens, pencils and bracelets.

The Magazines to be sold include the Woman's Home Companion, The American Magazine, Farm and Fireside, Collier's and The Mentor.

WARNING!

A member of the student body want to give all the remaining members of said student body a tip.

Don't be absent next Friday, because you'll miss something just awfully interesting (so I hear). The society of the T. H. A. K. has the final billing for an assembly program to be given on the date, and as the members said, "chance" are all of the "so-called superior sex" it ought to be pretty good.

The details of the program are rather vague, and there has been more or less secrecy about them. But here's the drift of things: "The Two Black Jacks" to be exact, are going to look in and give Bean Ware and Clausen a few pointers. Then two other gentlemen of color generally referred to as the "Two Black Crows" intend to provide entertainment. Terry Thompson also offers a little novelty which will prove interesting. Now you can see just how good this is going to be. So don't forget, BE THERE.

DEACON DUBBS TO BE STAGED IN AUDITORIUM BY NORTHVILLE TEACHERS

"Deacon Dubbs" a popular three-act comedy will be staged by the teachers of the Northville schools, assisted by James Wood and Joseph Vroman of Northville, for the benefit of the library fund.

The play will be given in the high school auditorium, Wednesday evening, January 18th. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Boyle-Blackman.

CAST

Deacon Dubbs: James Wood, Amos Coleman, Paul Thompson, Rawdon Crowder, Joseph Vroman, Major McNutty, Ralph Dockson, Deuteronomy Jones, Ralph Dockson, Edna Raleigh, Brenda Snover, LaMar, Miss Patricia Popover, Miss Hester, Emily Dale, Hazel Parnace, Tracie Coleman, Marian Montzner, Yennie Jensen, Fay Christ.

ALPHA SIGMA CLUB MEETS WITH DISASTER

Well, Snow came at last in large quantities, and the Alpha Sigma club, planned a night ride party, to take place on Wednesday evening, January 10th in our grand new year, 1928.

The members were to meet at the school at 7:30 and the ride was to go to arrive at 8:45. Everyone dressed warmly to combat "Old Man Winter" who was in a snipe. The party had been arranged for a long time, and the members were to have a good time. The ride was to be a "night ride" and the members were to have a good time. The ride was to be a "night ride" and the members were to have a good time.

Well, everyone was there and the sleigh had been ordered but held on. No the snow didn't melt, the horses didn't die, or anything like that. Oh no! The sleigh just didn't come. Why? Oh, the horses had been working all day and were tired. If there wasn't any sleigh ride there couldn't be any appetites "could there? Decidedly not! So everyone took his disgruntled feelings home, and the party was, thoroughly ruined. Oh, well such is life!

NORTHVILLE HIGH TAKES EAST GAME

Northville high overcame its old rival, Plymouth—in a fast game, last Friday evening, in the local gym.

Northville took the lead from the start, scoring fourteen times from the court, and four times from the free throw line in the first half. Plymouth succeeded in making six field goals and four fouls. Northville was leading at the end of the first half by a score of 32-17, a safe margin which Plymouth was not able to overcome.

The offensive work of Northville's team was outstanding. Their fast attack completely baffled Plymouth's squad, and little resistance was met.

Thompson, flashy Northville forward, starred in the game, scoring 24 points, eleven field goals and two fouls.

Foster showed up to advantage on Plymouth's team, totalling 9 points. The winning of this game meant much to Northville, and the meagre and silent crowd of local people that turned out was terribly disappointing.

Following is the line-up:

Northville: Thompson, R. F. Knapp, Watts, L. F. Partridge, McCordle, C. Foster, Ware (Capt.), G. P. Foster, LeFevre, G. Beagle.

"Bare Backs" Ride Plymouth to Defeat. In the opening game of the evening, Northville's second team gave Plymouth's reserve squad a sound doubling to the tune of 32 to 5.

Due to an unfortunate lack of proper equipment, Northville's second team boys were obliged to play in incomplete apparel, the upper half of the anatomy being exposed, hence "Bare Backs." Somehow the boys failed to appear "cave-manish," nevertheless they won.

Every player on the Northville team was given a chance to display (in more ways than one) his ability, and "the skin-you love to touch."

Miller and Ely were high scorers, each registering 8 points.

CONTRACTS FOR ANNUAL HAVE BEEN SIGNED. The rally call of the Palladium staff is from now on "Bigger and Better Annals." And we sincerely hope it will be so.

A meeting was held Monday evening, and it was decided that the Service Engraving Co. of Detroit, would be given the contract for engraving the annuals of 1928. The company will have charge of the engraving only, as the arrangements for photographing and printing have been made with L. L. Bell and Mr. Eaton.

Several points were discussed as to the advisability of using better material and raising the selling price of the Palladium to $1.50. In that case the cover would be of a more stable material than that of last year's annual. The paper would be of a better grade and the book itself would be much larger. This has not as yet been definitely decided and will depend largely on the opinion of the various faculty members.

The art editor, Lois Brookman, is working out a plan to follow through on the book in her drawings, and expects to have it perfected soon.

To make this year's annual a success, we need support. This is YOUR school book and it is being made for YOU. Now it's up to YOU—the members of the N. H. S. to make it go over.

NORTHVILLE DEBATES PLYMOUTH HERE ON FRIDAY

Northville will meet their old rivals, Plymouth, here on Friday night at 8 o'clock. The question will be the one being debated all over the state,Resolved, that the direct primary system, for nominating candidates, to public office, is the best method.

Northville high school will uphold the negative side of the question, and Plymouth high school, the affirmative.

Northville's debating staff will be composed of Sam Staller, Margaret Safford and Russell Atchison.

Miss Draper and Mr. Gordon are coaching the team.

Last week a basketball game was held between Plymouth and Northville. It was known everywhere that Northville was going to play Plymouth.

This week the debate will be held, and members of the debating team feel just as badly in need of support for this debate as did the boys on the basketball team feel for the game.

They can't do a thing unless they think the student body is here to back them up. Come on, and show your school loyalty for something beside athletics.

At the beginning of the year a club was organized in the high school, sponsored by Miss Margaret Draper, for further dramatics, art and literature.

Thus far the club has been comparatively inactive, due to selection of members and their proper initiation into the club.

However, now that most of the arrangements and particulars, which always attend the formation of a new club, have been settled the club is preparing to present its initial dramatic endeavor.

On Thursday evening January 19th a one-act play entitled "Sham" will be presented by the club following the regular business meeting. The three main characters are portrayed by Madeline Cole, Russell Weyant, and Tom Woodbury.

The play is a social satire, and the action has to do with the surprising of a gentleman burglar in the midst of his activities, by a young man and his wife.

"Sham" was picked one of the first best contemporary one-act plays in America. The play was written by Frank Langford.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING WAS HELD JANUARY 4TH. A student council meeting was held at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, January 4th, in the gymnasium. The purpose of the meeting was to pay various bills contracted on basketball field and miscellaneous items for the season. The buying of new suits for the boys' team was discussed by the council and it was decided to let the matter go for a few weeks, until the outcome of the sales of the magazines was known. From the proceeds derived from the magazine sale, the school intends to outfit the members of the basketball team and the members of the band.

ROAD COMMISSION GETS LAND AT LOW COST FOR HIGHWAY

Liberal Offer Will Enable the Board to Straighten Grand River

One of the most important acquisitions of right of way of superhighway width was reported this week by Edward N. Hines, member of the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners, when he announced that 2600 lineal feet of Grand River frontage had been purchased from the Grand Lawn Cemetery association at Redford, for the nominal price of approximately nine dollars per foot. Grand River frontage in the Redford vicinity is listed at $250 to $500 per foot, an appreciable difference. The release of this valuable strip of land 69 feet wide and nearly a mile long, at the modest figure named was due entirely to the fine public spirit of the directing officers of the cemetery association.

Officers of the cemetery association, Charles and Louis Burton and associates, said Mr. Hines.

Grand River avenue is to be widened to 200 feet in accord with master plan specifications, and it is the hope of the board that such public spirited men as the Burtons that will make the master plan a accomplished fact.

More than 300 miles of right of way for superhighways have been secured by the Wayne County Road Commissioners since the master plan was adopted in Wayne and its adjoining counties two years ago. Every rod of right of way acquired brings the area much nearer to the accomplished plan; and the example set by the Grand Lawn Cemetery Association, and the co-operation of others who are working for the plan's fulfillment are salient factors in bringing the master plan of superhighways to realization.

Grand River avenue is to have a 204 foot width in Redford to the Telegraph road, and nearly all the right of way has been secured. Under the provisions of the platting law new areas opened to subdivision must be platted in accord with master plan roads. Other right of ways may be released or dedicated by the property owners, or purchased or secured by the

YOUR MAIL BOXES MUST BE UP BY FEBRUARY FIRST

Residents Urged to Help in Establishing City Mail Delivery

City delivery of mail will be established in Northville on February 1, contingent on the residents of the city having their mail boxes up or a slot in their front doors by that time. There is not much time to be lost. A number of people have not as yet procured their boxes, and a number have yet to put them up.

Another very important matter, says Postmaster Neal, is to instruct all your correspondents and publishers as to your street and number. If on a street having a title of east or west or north or south, please also state that fact. Remember the mail sorters in the postoffice and the carrier will mail by the street and not by the subscriber's name. No matter if the postmaster of the clerk in the office does know you and does know where you live, the clerk may be sorting the mail and the carrier who delivers it may not know. This is very essential to the prompt delivery of your mail.

Street letter boxes will not be placed about town until spring, owing to the frozen condition of the ground. Eleven of them will be located at convenient places about the town. In the meantime carriers will bring to the office all mail that is handed to them stamped, or they will take them from the house mail boxes when making the delivery. If one is made, carriers will not sell stamps, nor will they bring mail to the postoffice that is unstamped.

Everything may not run exactly smooth at the start. It is something entirely new and it will take a little bit of a while to get things going just right. And then again it is not likely that everybody will have their mail boxes up ready for the carriers. It will be remarkable if they do, but it should be the endeavor of every person in the village to co-operate in every way they can.

DETROIT AMUSEMENTS

"GOOD NEWS" AT CASS

The best news that has come to Detroit in a long time is that the musical comedy delight, "Good News," is holding forth at the new Cass Theatre, where it will continue for this week and next, and then move on to the Four Cohans Theatre, Chicago, where it is expected it will run throughout the coming summer.

The collegiate musical comedy contains everything that makes up the perfect musical play, with its highly interesting story, abounding with heart interest, its irresistible comedy situations, its toe-ticking melodies of the fast stepping order, and a fast moving ensemble aptly termed Forty Flapper Freshies.

Laurence Schwab and Frank Mandel are responsible for the presentation, while Bobby Connolly staged the dance numbers and Edgar MacGregor staged the book.

The same perfect cast of eleven farceurs, singers and dancers are much in evidence, including as it does such favorites as Jack Haley, Mildred Brown, Hugh Cameron, Dorothy McNulty, Peggy Bernier, George Schiller, Edwin Michaels, Doretha James, Katherine Morris, Berry Walsh, Ralph Sanford and a youthful and happy chorus of forty.

There are song hits in profusion, among the more noticeable being "Lucky in Love," "The Varsity Drag," "Good News," "The Best Things in Life are Free," "On the Campus" and others.

Church Notices

Methodist

The church stands for faith in God. When the faith of God is broken down in the public mind, you can expect all outrages natural to men of unbridled passions and abnormal instincts to happen. We see this by our newspapers every day.

If we banish Christ from our homes and from our schools we need not be surprised if in our midst there grows up a race of monsters. Our supreme security in the possession of life's sanctities is God alive in the soul of man.

If through our unbelief we kill God in men, then we unleash upon ourselves all the confusions and terrors of a world without law. We reap what we sow.

The church stands for the highest things of the soul. Why not attend near Sabbath and discover us at the 10:30 morning worship.

The very sense of our sacred songs with the choir in the chancel as well as the robed young voices will impress you.

The church school we welcome you with us Bible study for all grades at 12:00 noon.

TRY THIS WITH YOUR CAR AND SEE HOW FAR YOU GET

Dayton Bunn Performs Almost Miracle With One of New Cars

Drive your "bus" up to the hill on South Center street. If you haven't got a "Lucky" take the newest model of car you can get, and see if it will do this.

Stop your car dead still right in the steepest part of the hill. Apply your brakes so you won't roll back down.

Then start your engine. Throw it in high as quick as you can.

See if your car will start up that steep hill on high—and if you are able to, navigate it, look at your speedometer when you reach the top and note if you have developed a speed of 21 miles per hour from your dead start in the middle of the hill to the top.

That's what Dayton Bunn did with one of the new Ford cars the other day—one of the most remarkable performances of auto power any one ever saw demonstrated.

Few cars can make the hill even with a good start—without going into second, say nothing about starting in the steepest part of it right on high and gaining a speed of nearly 25 miles within a distance of ten rods.

Fred W. Lyke seems to be the lucky chap who has had first chance to drive one of the new Ford cars. Friday he was chasing over the showbanks over curbstones and up the hills just as though it was a very ordinary thing to do.

Loan cars, which can be kept with safety until about two years old, are becoming popular as pets in Europe, the price for a car ranging from $375 to $475.

NEW ATTRACTIONS

The largest circular set ever constructed on any stage was built for "The Main Event," Vera Reynolds' latest Pathé De Mille picture, directed by William K. Howard, which will be on view at the Penman Allen theatre on Friday evening.

Designed by Rochas Giliese, former art director and writer for UFA, this huge set, the first to be built on the new De Mille stage, was entirely closed around the circle except for a small camera entrance through a curtain.

Occupying the entire width of the stage and as high as the roof of the structure, the vast circular set was used for a night sequence in which the camera follows the star, depicting a solo dancer, as she enters the cafe, dances around the floor, and then exits through the starway curtain. All in one continuous traveling scene.

Taken from the Paul Allison original, "That Makes Us Even," the stellar supporting cast for "The Main Event," includes Charles Delaney, Juha Faye, Robert Armstrong and Rudolph Schildkraut.

The world's hop, skip and jump record in motion picture production was recently established by Adolphe Menjou.

In a 7 1/2 hour day, Mr. Menjou succeeded in working on every one of the ten stages of the 26-acre Paramount studio. In this period he made five changes of wardrobe and worked in forty scenes of his new picture, "A Gentleman of Paris," which reaches the Penman Allen next Tuesday evening. Under the skillful guidance of his director, H. D'Abadie D'Amast, Menjou worked so fast that his picture at the end of the day was chalked up as 1 1/2 days ahead of the economy drive production schedule.

The sets used by Menjou included a bathroom, the interior of a limousine, a cafe, a bedroom, a modiste's shop, a flower shop, a haberdashery, a harem, a lodge, a men's club, a kitchen and a hotel lobby.

Shirley O'Hara, his leading woman; Alette Marchal and Lawrence Grant, supporting players, accompanied Mr. Menjou on different relays of his unique marathon.

Next Thursday will be laugh night at the Penman Allen. Bebe Daniels is there in her funniest film, "She's a Sheik," and she's literally spreading happiness in handfuls. Manager Lish swears that though people may enter the theatre with long faces, when they emerge, smiles beam forth.

"She's a Sheik" presents Bebe in what is said to be the best role of her cyclonic life. Before the camera, "As Zaida, bewitching granddaughter of Sheik Yusuf ben Hamad, Bebe is given a chance to indulge in all the rapid-fire action and laugh situations that Director Clarence Badger could devise. She fights a duel with the man she hates, kidnaps the man she loves, tries to tame him and change his hate into love, saves the Foreign Legion troops when they are surrounded by Arabs, prevents a shooting squad from killing her fiancé and any of a hundred other things.

So fast is the action in Bebe Daniels' new Paramount farce, "She's a Sheik," that as suggested in an old ditty, "the sands of the desert never get a chance to grow colder."

Although he is conceded to be one of the highest paid stars in motion pictures, Fred Thomson is unspoiled by wealth and prominence.

The famous star, whose latest FBO production, "Silver Comes Through," is to be shown at the Penman Allen Theatre, Saturday evening, January 21st, is seldom seen at social gatherings and is extremely reticent though delightfully courteous in off-screen life.

Rather than engage in frivolous pastime, when not at work at the FBO Studios or on location, Thomson spends long hours in his own machine shop, or with his books. Always a lover of athletics, his own gymnasium is on his daily call list and tennis also occupies some of his leisure time.

Since most of his screen work as his role in "Silver Comes Through," indicates makes heavy demands on him physically, he "trains" assiduously and professes to enjoy it as much as he did when breaking world's records as a member of the Princeton track team.
