

BANQUET PROVES
BIGGEST SUCCESS
IN RECENT YEARSGovernor and Others Laud
Northville—Honorable
Harry German

Far exceeding the expectations of committees that had planned the event, Northville's big community banquet, last Friday evening, attended by over 400 people, will long be remembered as one of the greatest affairs of the kind ever held in this place.

Speakers and guests declared that seldom, if ever, had they attended a banquet where a more remarkable public spirit was shown than at this one. Nearly two days before the time for the banquet, every ticket had been sold, and if there had been room, another hundred would have been in attendance.

The banquet was a benefit to the community. It furnished a special way for the honoring of Harry German, Sr., and it did much to center attention on some of the public improvements that Northville has in mind.

As expressed by Governor Fred W. Green, Harry German is the heart and the center of Northville. It is the heart of the community. It is the heart of the community. It is the heart of the community.

Mr. Maybury in the past dozen years or so has done much to aid this community. He has more in mind for it. Because he happens to like the spirit of the place and is a great admirer of its natural beauty, he has taken an unusual interest in the welfare and aspirations of the community.

The toastmaster in his complimentary words of Mr. Maybury did not overstate the high regard that Northville has for this distinguished Detroit resident.

Mr. Maybury talked about Northville's future. He told of his visits to this place 10 or 12 years ago. He declared that on his first trip through Northville years ago, he was impressed with its remarkable beauty.

"The rolling hills, the valleys, the streams, the winding highways and the beautiful trees, they all go into the combination to make this one of the most attractive communities in all Michigan," he said.

"I have watched the town grow. I have seen it spread out. I have noticed the development of the business section. Store buildings have been erected with modern and attractive business buildings. Beautiful homes have been built on the hillside. Schools and churches flourish here."

"Our industries are of the substantial kind. Then, too, you are the home of the greatest airplane factory in the world. Its product is regarded as supreme in its field. It is bound to grow and you are in on the foundation of what will in a few years be one of the greatest industries in the world. You have other successful industries that are of benefit to the community."

"It is easy to understand why everyone likes Northville. And I am always glad to have a chance to do what I can in its behalf."

Mr. Maybury had to leave the banquet before it ended in order to return to Detroit for another engagement he had for the same evening.

Taking the place of Leroy W. Smith, Wayne county highway engineer, who could not come because of the illness of Mrs. Smith, Capt. W. S. Galbreath of the Detroit Automobile club and one of the pioneers in American road road development, made a very interesting talk on the development of highways throughout the nation.

He told of some of his efforts to create the Drive highway, and how he was ordered away from some of the places in the South where he had gone to create interest in the project.

"Now people are beginning to see the need of the greatest and most important need of the nation," he declared.

Capt. Edward Denniston of the Detroit House of Correction, always a welcome visitor in Northville, talked briefly of prison matters.

The host of friends of George B. Yerkes were disappointed in learning that he was detained in Detroit, and was unable to reach the banquet. Mr. Yerkes, a life time resident of Northville and vicinity, has been an untiring worker in behalf of the advancement of Northville, and his subject was to have been "Our Northville."

Placed on the program as the final speaker of the evening, Governor Fred W. Green, acting in behalf of the community, presented to Harry German in most glowing terms the badge symbolizing public approval of his long and successful career in the baseball world.

"I am glad of the opportunity to come to Northville and be a part of this affair. I am glad of a chance to assist in honoring one who for so many years has played so successfully in the greatest of all great American games. To be a successful ball player takes fitness of both body and mind. To play ball well after most men begin to think they are old and worn out is in itself an accomplishment to be proud of. I have long known and respected Harry's ability as a ball player, and it gives me pleasure to present to you this token of public esteem," said Governor Green.

"Naturally we are all interested in road matters. I know you are. I agree with you that grade crossings in these days of automobile traffic are bad things," said the Governor. "We have just relocated one in northern Michigan doing away with many grade crossings. We want to abolish as many as we can. And we are doing

WILL MORE THAN TRIPLE OUTPUT
AT STINSON PLANTWilliam Mara, Secretary of Co., Tells Banqueters of Future Plans

"I am sure it will be interesting to the people of Northville to know that their airplane factory, which during the year 1927 produced 50 planes, will during the year 1928 produce 200 planes," was the pleasing announcement made last Friday evening at the Community banquet by William Mara, secretary of the Stinson Aircraft corporation, who was one of the speakers of the evening.

Mr. Mara expressed his regrets at the inability of President, Edward Stinson of the company to be present. His assertion that the local factory of the company will more than triple its production means that it will be necessary for the working force to be doubled.

Since the day the company started operations, its business has been growing by leaps and bounds, and it is now one of the largest producers of planes in the country.

The Stinson-Detroit, among aviators, is regarded as far superior to any other plane made.

Mr. Mara in his brief talk told of some of the remarkable accomplishments of the product of the local factory.

"Of course it is pretty generally known that a Northville made plane made the first non-stop flight from Detroit to Florida, a Northville made plane flew over the Atlantic ocean, another has been flown within 100 miles of the North Pole, another flew from Detroit to Tokyo and many of our planes are each day regularly flying over air mail routes from Chicago to Buffalo and New York, from Boston to New York, and some are operating over various air lines of Canada," stated Mr. Mara.

"One of Northville's planes is flying out on a route in Canada that requires a dog team nine days to cover. Our plane does it in something like an hour and a half."

"I want to say this about Northville. Ever since we came here everyone has been anxious to be helpful in some way. The people have been willing to assist wherever possible. The airport one of the best in the country, is the direct result of local activity."

"You must be interested in knowing that there are something like 380 airports in Michigan today, and the local airport is superior to most of them. The airport are the improved highways of the air."

Mr. Mara's talk was one of the hits of the evening.

DELEGATES BACK FROM MEETING AT BENTON HARBOR

West Michigan City Proves Good Host To Many Exchangeites

Delegates of the Northville Exchange club returned Tuesday night from Benton Harbor, where they attended the largest state Exchange convention ever held. Of the 85 clubs in Michigan, about 50 were represented by two or more delegates.

Possibly of more interest to Northville than any other thing was the selection of Redford as the place where the next Exchange convention will be held. Two bids were made for the convention, Redford and the other coming from Farmington. Redford was given the privilege of entertaining the next convention with unanimous consent of the delegates.

Between the long business sessions, delegates were entertained by the ladies orchestra of the House of David and heard many interesting talks. Clinton G. Nichols, national president of the club, from Hartford, Connecticut, gave a very interesting address, as well as National Secretary Harold H. Harker of Toledo. Both outlined a huge extension and expansion plan for Exchange clubs this year.

NEW MEAT MARKET
TO OPEN SATURDAY
AT 112 WEST MAIN

Special Prices On High Grade Goods Will Be Featured

The "Triple AAA Market" will be open in the Richardson building, 112 West Main street, Saturday, in the store formerly occupied by the Partridge grocery, with one of the most up-to-date meat markets in Wayne county. E. G. Taylor and E. T. Arndt, two progressive young business men who have been in the meat business for many years, are the owners.

Mr. Taylor will be in direct charge of the Northville store. He comes here from Newburg. This is market number 38 owned and operated by them. Mr. Arndt is the buyer, and he spends all of his time at the big packing houses in Detroit.

They plan to handle nothing but the highest class of meats and through the fact that they buy in quantities from the big packing houses, they are able to get their meats at very favorable prices.

The fixtures that have been secured for the new market are of the latest design and arranged so that trade can be quickly taken care of.

Mrs. Nelson Schrader has returned from Ann Arbor, where she has been spending a few days with her daughter, Reva.

SONNENBERG AND HARRY GERMAN, Jr.
MAIL CARRIERS

Announcement was made yesterday that Harold Sonnenberg and Harry German, Jr., standing the highest in the civil service examination for city mail carriers, have been recommended for appointments for the city delivery service, which will begin February first.

Mr. Sonnenberg has for some time been employed in the Elliott grocery, and Mr. German has been associated with his father in the auto business.

The appointments will meet with the general approval of Northville. Both have hosts of friends who are glad to see them win in the examinations.

BANQUET NOTES

Mayor Elmer Smith is receiving the congratulations of everyone in Northville. It was the mayor who worked out the plans for the big community banquet, and he never once stopped in his work from the time it was decided to stage the event. He presided at the opening of the affair and did a mighty good job of it.

M. P. Murphy, toastmaster, ordinarily that would be enough to say, but Mr. Murphy, like the Mayor, covered himself with glory. He did his job well, mightily well. And the stories he told were all new ones. Mr. Murphy when it comes to "toastmastering" is an ace, there is no question about that. And he has the ability to handle a situation well.

Did you get a piece of that wonderful cake made especially for the Governor? It was made by Mrs. Charles Dolph and decorated by the Elliott bakery. The Governor had the honor of cutting the first piece.

Miss Emily Mutter of Howell, displayed rare ability as a violinist. She was applauded time and again, and if the program had not been such a long one, she would have been required to respond to numerous encores. The violin she played was a gift from Edsel Ford and some of his friends to her. Miss Mutter came to the banquet as the guest of Mayor Smith.

Ladies of the Methodist church, who served the supper, are still receiving congratulations from everyone for the splendid meal they provided, as well as the excellent service given. The chicken pie made a hit.

Miss Ida Rose Cayell provided a number of vocal selections that were especially good. Like Mrs. Mutter, she would have been called upon for many additional selections if there had been sufficient time. Miss Cayell is a very pleasing singer.

Many of the guests present were introduced by Mayor Elmer Smith. Among them were several men prominent in Detroit and state affairs: Thomas B. Baker, state housing commissioner; Representative Conrad Wetting of Detroit; Representative Archie Rod of Detroit; Dr. Robert Haskell of the Wayne County Training school; members of the North township board; Dan Smith, one time candidate for mayor of Detroit; Senator Couzens, and many others were among those introduced.

The Detroit News had a very splendid write-up of the banquet.

The floral decorations were provided by the Jones Floral company. The plants made very attractive table decorations.

A question has been raised—were the programs printed in green to honor the toastmaster, as he claimed, or the Governor?

Nelson Schrader did a good job in putting peg into one or two songs that were sung by the big crowd. He knows how to do it.

The Northville School Community band is making remarkable progress, as evidenced by its splendid playing during the early part of the banquet. Little nine-year-old Ida Altman, snare drummer in the band, had the pleasure of meeting the Governor.

"Bobby" Haskell, son of Dr. Haskell, was with his father at the banquet. When Governor Green rose to speak, he said one of the important guests at the table had been overlooked, and he introduced the smiling youngster to the crowd.

A lot of folks would like to know where Toastmaster Murphy got that baseball bat that he gave to the Governor. They would like to know also how it kept it hidden away during the whole evening.

MANY ARTICLES ON SALE OMITTED BY ERROR FROM BIG AD

In the special sale ad printed in the Record this week for the Peasford store, several omissions in the ad are noted. Mr. Peasford is offering in addition to the many splendid bargains that are in the ad, a twenty-five per cent reduction on all bedspreads.

One-fourth off from regular prices is offered on all men's, women's and children's hosiery. A similar reduction is made on wash cloths and all flowers. These are exceptionally good prices and, like the others mentioned in the ad, will be for Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, only.

The many friends of George Baker will regret to learn that his condition is exceedingly critical and physicians hold out little hope for his recovery.

OFFERS PRISON
LABOR TO BUILD
CENTER STREETCapt. Denniston Tells Governor and Banqueters
His Offer to Aid

"If the state of Michigan will pave Center street from Grand River to the Ann Arbor road, I will see to it that prisoners from the Detroit House of Correction farm are provided to do the work," declared Captain Edward Denniston, warden of the Detroit House of Correction, at the Community banquet held in Northville, last Friday evening.

"We all know the necessity of paving that road. Not so many years ago I took prisoners from the farm and put in a mile of gravel on that highway. There is nothing that is better for prisoners than work of that nature, and there is nothing so important to the people in this part of Michigan as the elimination of the severe or eight grade crossings between Grand River and Ann Arbor road," he added.

Captain Denniston was one of the chief speakers at the big community banquet. Always a favorite in Northville, where he numbers friends by the hundreds, won by his keen interest in the development of this community and surrounding country, he was given an ovation when he addressed the big crowd.

His declaration pertaining to the development of Center street came as a big surprise to everyone. Of course, the prison warden has long known of the necessity of not only paving Center street, directly south from Grand River to the Ann Arbor road, and then on south, but no one had expected that he would make the offer of assistance he did at the banquet last week.

If the state will accept his offer of assistance in this respect, it will cut the cost of constructing the highway many thousands of dollars. It will not only cut the construction costs, but those familiar with the situation say it ought to expedite the building of this road.

While it had not been hoped to have anything done towards the construction of Center street during 1928, it is possible that remarkable assistance that Capt. Denniston has offered the state might result in immediate action on the project.

The state has the funds officials in Michigan have admitted the necessity of the road they have decided that it is their intention to abolish grade crossings as fast as possible and there are no grade crossings on the proposed new routing for Center street from Northville to the question is now being asked why can't the job be done this year?

Capt. Denniston pointed out that the improvement of this road would not only abolish dangerous grade crossings, but a paved highway leading from Grand River, just west of the grade separation in Novi, south over Center street to the Ann Arbor road, and then on to Michigan avenue, would be of inestimable value to the motoring public. Other speakers at the banquet agreed with him.

JOHN O. KNAPP IS DEAD—LIVED HERE
ALL OF HIS LIFE

Well Known Pioneer of this Part of State Buried on Monday

Following an illness of eight weeks, John O. Knapp, 77 years of age, a life long resident of Northville and vicinity, died last Saturday. Mr. Knapp was taken ill early in the winter and recently a severe case of pneumonia developed, causing death.

Born just over the line in Novi township, where the Knapp family settled in 1829, all of his life had been spent about here. In his early career he was a farmer, but later went into the mercantile business in Northville, and for a great many years he was in business in this place.

During his entire life, he was an active member of the Presbyterian church, and over a long period was one of the elders of the local organization. He was married in 1872 to Miss Jennie Johnson of this place. She died in 1908. At son, Fred Knapp, survives. He resides in Highland Park.

In 1903 he was married to Emma Pinkerton, who passed away in 1924.

Two brothers also survive. Darious W. Knapp of Detroit, who is over 85 years old, and Samuel Knapp of this place. He is 74, and the youngest of the family. One brother and two sisters preceded him in death.

The funeral was held from the residence on Dunlap street, Monday, Rev. Frank P. Kluwe of the Presbyterian church officiating. Burial took place in the family lot in Rural Hill cemetery.

Tecce G. Stowell, twenty years of age, died last Friday evening at his home near Wixom, after a brief illness from leakage of the heart. The young man a number of years ago suffered an injury and this is believed to have caused his death. He was a test pilot for the General Motors company.

The funeral was conducted Monday forenoon by Schrader's from the home of his parents, burial taking place in Wixom. He has a host of friends who are grieved to learn of his death.

Dr. E. B. Cavell was in Lansing on business, Tuesday.

Ladies Just How to Get Best Results

Northville ladies will have an opportunity beginning next Thursday, February 2nd, to have an expert on cooking show them all the fine points of the art and to demonstrate just how gas should be used to get the best results. The class starts at 8:30 in the domestic science department of the high school and will continue for six weeks, each Thursday at 2:30 o'clock. To direct the lessons the Michigan Federation of Home Economics, secured Miss Gladys L. Peckham, one of the best known domestic science instructors, who will be here during the entire six weeks.

This is the first time the company has conducted a cooking school in Northville, and there is no question but what there will be considerable interest in it. All lessons are free and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Among the varieties of cakes which will be prepared are pineapple, dairy cake, chocolate fudge cake, silver and gold cake and banana nut.

Why cakes fall and methods of preventing it will be discussed. Shows cuts in baking and the assurance of perfect baking results with controlled temperatures will also be explained.

Miss Peckham, home service expert, is a graduate of Home Economics from Rhode Island State college, and attended a special course in home service at Columbia University.

During her college career, Miss Peckham was a prominent leader in activities on the campus. She was a member of the dramatic society and took leading parts in a majority of the plays given, was an editor on the college paper for two years; was a star player on the basketball squad for four years participating in track athletics as well, and held office in other local organizations. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

As chairman of the division of Home Economics Teaching in Rhode Island State Federation of Women's clubs, Miss Peckham has gained a knowledge of the needs of education in modern methods of home making and finds enthusiastic response from women in the work. She is well known to radio listeners in New England, having broadcast Home Service chats from WBAU at Providence for over a year, also from WJZ at Springfield, Mass.

Miss Peckham was a member of the home service department of the Providence Gas company, where remarkable strides have been made in the work since its organization. She organized and conducted activities in home service for the city of Norwich gas and electrical department for two years. The home making classes at the Newport Community Center association at Newport, R. I., were also organized by Miss Peckham before coming here to direct home service work for the Michigan Federation of Home Economics.

Classes last about one hour, start promptly, and are free to anyone desiring to attend. Copies of the recipes are distributed and detailed directions given on each dish prepared during the lesson, also tastes of each dish.

Miss Peckham will welcome any and all questions on individual problems and informal discussions on difficulties in home management will be held.

Prizes will be awarded to all who attend a majority of the lessons given, but registrations must be made promptly at your local meeting in order to obtain one of the awards.

Members of Northville Commandery will be in Detroit this Friday evening, as guests of Detroit Commandery No. 1, having been invited as special guests of Eminent Commander Paul W. Voorness.

The condition of Wallace-Ross, who is critically ill in Ford hospital, was reported as slightly improved this week. Attending physicians say he is still in grave danger.

SCHRADER AGAIN
ELECTED HEAD
OF ORGANIZATIONFair Will Take Place Third
Week OF September
Says Board

Always alert to present day tendencies, the Northville Wayne County Fair stockholders at their annual meeting held January 19th, decided to conduct a free fair next fall, and to erect a grandstand that will hold three times the number of people that the present one accommodates.

Not only did the board take this important action, but it again elected Nelson C. Schrader as president for another year and retained all the other officers and directors.

The following directors were re-elected: Nelson C. Schrader, James A. Huff, Thomas E. Mordock, E. M. Starkweather, H. B. Clark, E. S. Neal, Harry Sloan, A. C. Balden, S. Montgomery and E. F. Miller.

The directors then elected the following officers: President, N. C. Schrader; vice president, Thomas E. Mordock; secretary, Floyd A. Northrop; treasurer, E. E. Miller.

The committees of different departments will be named by President Schrader at a later date. The fiscal year was also changed from January first to January first, instead of November first, as it has been since the organization of the fair association.

The secretary, however, will report to the directors each year 30 days from the date the fair closes the financial condition of the association.

The date of the fair was also changed from the last week of September to the third week, the fair this year being from September 18th to September 22nd. This soon follows the state fair in Detroit, and directors believe that it will aid greatly in getting additional entries and spectators. Not only that, but it is believed that the danger of running into bad weather will not be as great.

The following committee was appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Fairs held in Detroit, Jan. 19th: N. C. Schrader, F. A. Northrop, E. L. Smith, H. R. Richardson and J. S. Neal.

In view of the fact that practically every other fair in Michigan gets some aid from the county board of supervisors, the Northville fair being the only one that has never received aid from the county, the following committee of directors and stockholders was appointed to confer with the board of supervisors relative to securing financial aid. N. C. Schrader, C. A. Peasford, E. L. Smith, F. S. Neal, H. B. Clark, H. R. Richardson and J. S. Neal.

The following committee was appointed to consider plans for the erection of the new grandstand: Harry B. Clark, H. R. Richardson and A. C. Balden.

The stockholders and directors decided to make the 1928 fair the greatest one ever held in Northville. While the fairs in past years have been excellent ones, they are going to make the 1928 event far superior to anything ever before attempted.

There will be racing practically every day of the fair, and the first day will be as good as the so-called "biggest" day of the fair. Officials have started work already to perfect plans.

EDWARD STINSON MAKES FIRST NON-
STOP TAMPA FLIGHTFlies from Chicago to Florida in a Little Over Eight Hours

Edward Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft corporation, who has done more flying than any other living aviator, has just added another laurel to his long list of aviation victories by being the first aviator to make a non-stop flight from Chicago to Tampa, Florida, in just a trifle over eight hours.

The distance, something over a thousand miles, was covered between sunrise Saturday morning and sunset Saturday evening.

It was without a mishap of any kind, and when President Stinson and his guests arrived in Florida, they were not in the slightest tired from their long flight.

The trip, which was announced at the Community banquet last Friday evening by William Mara, secretary of the Stinson Aircraft corporation, was watched with more than ordinary interest in Northville. While everyone believed that Stinson would accomplish his purpose without difficulty, it is always something like a horse race until the goal line has been passed.

The monoplane used was one of the newer types being produced at the local plant.

Mrs. S. A. Lovell, Mrs. E. C. Hinkley and Mrs. S. G. Ewer, were hostesses at an attractive bridge luncheon of forty-eight covers on Saturday of last week.

this subject for the next Lord's day should be the question in every Christian heart. "An eminent old patriarch of the church, whom we have often seen pass the parsonage on his way to worship, would have answered this for us without any uncertainty, if we were by the bedside, and felt the feeble grasp on this life, as he passed through death's dark valley. It was a matter of little importance in this town at his passing, outside of his church relation. If he had been eminent in "bridge parties" or political interests, or other worldly interests, he might have had the prominence of a man whose soul have no more revelation only in what he has lived. For the bent of a man's life here is the bent of his life hereafter.

"But they who were with him were more than they who forgot." "Even down to old age I will be with thee." These are the precious promises. Other associations can only go as far as the grave. But God's promises lighten the death valley "until the day breaks and the shadows disappear."

This will be given between the opening and closing church service. The entire public is invited to this service, having the side aisles and the rear of the church. The center aisle will be reserved for the Lodge.

SUDDEN CHANGE IN WEATHER COMES DURING ONE NIGHT

Warm in Evening, Near Zero Next Morning—
High Winds

From spring weather, the thermometer ranging from 50 to 60 on Thursday, then dropping over night to just a few points above zero was the weather change experienced in this section of Michigan during the final part of last week.

During the week preceding the change, this part of the country had enjoyed about as good weather as could be found anywhere, except for a shower now and then. Thursday evening, it started raining. Then it started blowing. By morning the mercury had dropped over 50 degrees. Some snow fell, but not much, during the storm. The wind was one of the hardest that had prevailed during the winter, although no damage was reported in this section. Earlier in the same week, a slight storm had caused considerable inconvenience in travel, and many cars were badly smashed up by sliding off the highways or in collisions.

If the dairy herd is culled intelligently on the basis of individual cow records, if the remainder are fed according to known production, and if only good purebred sires are used, almost any dairy herd, regardless of its condition at the start, will eventually be raised to a plane of good production. Successful dairying depends on many factors. Among these, culling is one of the most important.

PHONE CALL TO BRUSSELS IS ONLY $81.00 FROM HERE

If You Want to Talk with Friends in Europe Just Call Central

Long distance telephone service from the United States and Cuba will be extended to continental Europe Thursday morning, with the opening of service to Brussels and Antwerp in Belgium. Belgium thus becomes the fifth foreign nation to be brought within speaking distance of the average American home. Connection will be made via London, using the trans-Atlantic radio-telephone link, which has been in service for the past year. Extensions to other European cities of importance are contemplated in the near future.

Trans-Atlantic telephone service to Belgian points will be in operation from 7:30 a. m. to 8:00 p. m., eastern standard time, the same period as that now in use for London. The rate for Belgium will be $3 higher for three minutes and $1 higher for each succeeding minute than the present rates from the United States and Cuba to London. Thus a New York-Brussels or a New York-Antwerp call will cost $78 for the first three minutes and $26 for each minute thereafter. Calls will be handled in the order of their filing. The rate for such a call from Northville to Brussels and Antwerp will be a total of $81.00 for the first three minutes and $27.00 for each additional minute. The method of placing a call is the same as that for any other long distance point.

Since the opening of trans-Atlantic telephone service, last January, from this country to Great Britain, there has been considerable use of the service by individuals and firms in Michigan cities. One Saginaw firm, in fact, utilized the trans-oceanic service to hold a board of directors' meeting, with one member in London answering the roll call by telephone. There also have been such instances as the sale of an automobile by a Saginaw salesman over the telephone to a prospect in London, and of automobile horns by a Jackson, Michigan, company to a London firm, a demonstration of the article being given by telephone.

The trans-Atlantic radio-telephone service, which is now to be linked with the submarine telephone cable under the English Channel to Belgium, was opened for commercial service on January 7th of last year between New York and its suburban area and London and its suburban area. It was extended to Michigan February 12th and was gradually extended further on both sides of the Atlantic until, on March 26th, it comprised five American zones which included all of the forty-eight states and Havana, Cuba, and, on the other side, all points in England, Scotland and Wales. At the time the service was opened a total of 4 1/2 hours of service daily was offered, which has since been extended to the present 10 1/2 hours daily.

Mrs. Della Harmon and Mrs. Iva Christensen. Mrs. Albert Stanley of Rochester, a former resident of Northville, sang "Lullaby," responding with an encore, "Pale Moon," an Indian love song by Logan. Mrs. Stanley was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. B. Tihm.

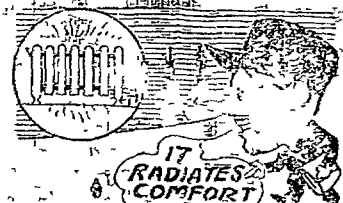

Alice Rebecca Wallin, head of the department of child care in the Highland Park high school, then told of her work here. Miss Wallin spent some time in England. Child care was pioneer work which introduced in 1924. This course is required of all Senior girls and other classes recognize the importance of this work and give the girls one day each month. The program is a laboratory where the girls learn to do by doing. Here they learn something of the importance of heredity, of habits, the difference between discipline and punishment, something of a child's emotional life, of proper food and clothing and what to expect of different ages. Laboratory material is first a baby and second children between the ages of two and five. These children are carefully chosen. Miss Wallin then told us of a day in school. She was very much in earnest and her talk was instructive the program.

Mrs. Stanley closed the program with two beautiful songs, "One Welsh Folk Song" and "All Through the Night."

Friday, January 27th, the club will enjoy its regular program and Miss Sterling, who has had charge of the baby clinic here, will speak.

Michigan folks will after a while find it is not necessary to go to Florida to enjoy delightful weather. After the storm of last week, what more perfect weather could prevail than was enjoyed here Monday, asked many who are here enjoying the sunshine.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1928

DON'T YOU THINK SO?

For the past couple of weeks Michigan daily newspapers have been filled with columns pertaining to the affair that happened over near Flint, and the subsequent arrest of an Owosso resident for the crime. The daily papers were not the only publications to be filled with it. It was rather a surprising thing when the various weekly papers began to arrive at the Record office Friday and Saturday to see that many of them had used two or three columns about the crime.

We do not mean to say that all reference to the affair should have been kept out of print, but don't you think it would have been better for all concerned if not so much had been said about the affair?

Don't you think it is better for weekly papers, especially to confine their news articles to matters pertaining to their own community, rather than to snooping around the state for a lot of rot to publish? In our mind the column and a half article in last week's Record of suggestions made by members of the Rotary club as to what could be done to aid Northville, is a thousand times more interesting and a million times more beneficial, than though the same amount of space had been devoted to the Flint-Owosso crime story.

While directing the news department of a large paper it was compulsory that crime news be "played up," so to speak, but there is nothing compulsory about printing it in a small newspaper that the publisher controls and it has been a pleasure to know that so many readers of the Record agree that it is better not to publish any more than conditions require of the misgivings of those who fall into the hands of the police.

How Long Will You Be A Popular Figure?

Applause and public commendation are intoxicating to the most of us and few can go through a seige of it without spoiling.

The crowd wants to make a fuss over somebody, and their huzzas and acclaims soon die out or are switched to more promising prospects.

Manufactured popularity is the least valuable. It soon fades and is forgotten because it has no depth of soul.

Jesus Christ came to be the most popular man in Palestine, as a result of His wonderful deeds. The crowd deserted Him and let the rulers kill him. His fame had a sure foundation and He rules in daily life and conduct.

The Best Place

The poet tells of a lovely spot where men and women may lose their burdens and lay aside their cares—"The Church in the Wildwood." That church still stands, its spire, like the finger of God, pointing to the eternal abiding place of the soul.

The church stands for all that is best in life, and is the one guarantee that they shall endure. The church should have your loyal support.

You are always welcome here.

Floyd Northrop was in Flint on business, Monday.

Dr. A. A. Holcomb is driving one of the new Hudson cars.

Miss Gladys Black, who has been ill for some time is somewhat improved.

The sister of Dr. Randall Schuyler is seriously ill at her home on North Center street.

Mrs. Leo Lawrence entertained her sewing club on Wednesday with a Bohemian luncheon.

Mrs. J. A. Black was called to Lansing Monday by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Paul.

Mrs. Eleanor Hyde, who is living in Brighton, where she has been for some time, visited Northville friends this week.

The Masons lodge will Sunday evening hold its lodge of Sorrows at the First Methodist church, Rev. William Richards officiating.

George Rattenbury, Sr., who slipped and badly injured his shoulder on the ice sometime ago, is able to be out. It will be sometime before he can use his arm.

Mrs. Irving Ulrich and son have arrived safely at El Centro, California, according to letters received by Mr. Ulrich. She plans to spend the remainder of the winter in that part of the west with relatives and friends.

There will be a shadow social Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wuschak at the corner of the South Lynn and Beck roads for the benefit of the Public School. Ladies are requested to bring boxes and everyone is cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Permelia C. Bryson returned home from Pensacola, Florida, Friday where she has spent the past two months at the winter home of her sister, Miss Lena Kohler. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler and son, Leo, arrived there about two weeks ago, and Bryson left.

A. K. Dolph writes a card to the Record that he has held postoffice box number 256 continuously since 1889, although the postoffice has been moved several times since then. It is surprising to know how many residents of Northville have held the same mail boxes over such a long period of years.

Floyd Shafer erected a very attractive electric sign in front of his new building on North Center street, this week. The sign is one of the largest electric displays in town. The frame outside of the lettering is of copper, which will do away with the necessity of keeping a new coat of paint on the sign.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foreman left Wednesday night for New York city, where they will take the steamer Transylvania on its cruise to Mediterranean ports. While away they will visit the Holy Lands, Egypt, Constantinople and many other places of interest. They will be home about the last of March.

Both Freydl stores are conducting special sales for the next few days. The men's clothing store on the south side of Main street is offering some exceptional values in men's clothing and furnishings and the B. Freydl store on the north side of Main street has some excellent values that will appeal to the ladies.

A letter from Sam Brader, who has been spending the past three months at Clearwater, Florida, states that he intends to spend a little time with his wife in visiting other parts of Florida before returning north. Up to the present time they have been at Clearwater most of the time but it is their desire to know what other parts of the state look like before turning northward.

Following an investigation by the public utilities commission an order has been issued for the placing of an automatic warning light at the Pere Marquette tracks, adjoining the Yerkes mill on Base Line road. The village and township will bear one-half the expense of installation, the railroad the other half. The cost of operating the light will be borne by the railroad company. It will be two or three months before it will be in operation.

Dispatches from Washington tell of the appointment of Don C. Bliss, Jr., as trade commissioner at Singapore by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. He has been assistant trade commissioner at Bombay, India. Older Northville residents will recall that his father was about thirty years ago superintendent of schools in Northville, and that Don, Jr., was born while the family lived here. The young man served during the World war in the naval reserve forces.

Miss Dorothy Kilken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kilken, celebrated her eighteenth birthday, Thursday, January 19th, having as guests ten girl friends from the high school; a cousin, Miss H. Herget of Detroit; her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Langfield, C. E. Langfield of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Mahoney of Royal Oak. Dorothy has in her possession a letter that her uncle, E. C. Langfield, wrote on her first birthday, and which he read in her home on her eighteenth birthday.

In view of the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foreman, who live west of town, are sailing Saturday on the steamer Transylvania, it will be interesting to know that an Associated Press dispatch from New York, Tuesday, told of the arrival of this steamer on a trip from Ireland several days late in New York, because of a terrific storm, which prevailed on the entire voyage from the Irish coast. The dispatch states that the great liner was coated with ice although in no way damaged. It also states that speed had to be reduced to six knots per hour. The crossing took ten days the usual running time being less than half that for the distance covered. The Transylvania is one of the biggest steamers plying the Atlantic.

Walled Lake's postponed skating carnival will be held on Saturday, January 28th, at Walled Lake. Nearly 150 skaters will compete in the four state championships. Exchange clubs are asked to enter two or more of their members in a race limited to Exchange Club members only. The races for school children will be for girls under sixteen, boys under sixteen and boys over sixteen.

MRS. BRUCE DOUGLASS HOSTESS TO DETROIT SPANISH CLUB AT HOME HERE

Mrs. Bruce Douglass was hostess to her Spanish club from Detroit, Saturday evening. Membership in the club is made up of people either Spanish, Latin American or people who have lived or traveled in Spain and speak the Spanish language.

Twenty-five guests were present at the meeting, and among them were: Professor A. E. Marcado of Porto Rico, Mr. Vargas, consul to United States from Costa Rica; and Mr. Lester, former United States consul to Spain. The evening was passed discussing Pan-American affairs, with a report from Miss Russell on the prosperity of Porto Rico while under the supervision of the United States Government. This discussion brought forward a debate from the members of the club. All discussions and talks were made in Spanish. At the close of the meeting, Mr. Vargas gave a few piano selections, with his son accompanying him on the violin. Refreshments were served in a most decided Spanish style, consisting of hot-tamales and coffee.

POSTAL DELIVERY SERVICE TO START ON DATE SELECTED

Postmaster Says Equipment Has Been Shipped—Use Street Numbers

The equipment necessary to the starting of the city delivery service from the Northville postoffice has been shipped from the factory and is expected this week so that the delivery service will begin February first, either that day or within a few days thereafter. In the meantime, the postmaster asks that every patron of the office ask their correspondents to have their mail addressed to their street and house number. If on a street that has a west, east or north or south number, that should also be added. What was Yerkes street in Northside, is now called Rayson street.

That also should be borne in mind as there is another Yerkes avenue, down in Bealton, and it is easy to get mail deliveries confused in this manner.

It is very important that mail should be addressed to street and number, because that is the way the carriers make their distribution, and its the only way to avoid errors and delays.

The call boxes in the postoffice will all be done away with, and the general delivery will be for transients only. Delivery will be made along paved streets whether there are walks in front of the residence or not. Until walks are built along some few streets where there are residences where there are no street pavements, those patrons may be served by the erection of boxes across the street where there are walks.

All residents who have not already done so are urged to put up their mail boxes this week so that there will be no delay in the service from that source.

CHARLES LEFEVRE IS BEST GUM CHEWER
Bang, bang, bang, and the sound echoed through the long hall. What could it be? Was it shots from a revolver? No, it could not be that, for this is not the city of Chicago. No, in fact, it was not. It was—hold on, now, don't get excited, we're going around a corner—look out! Ah, it was only GUM.

Yes, gum. You see it was this way

One day in Mr. Cohn's fourth hour geometry class, he said, "You may chew gum if you have enough to pass around." So Wednesday, the 18th, Dave Meininger gave each student also Mr. Cohn, a stick of Beechnut chewing gum. Then the noise began. The last five minutes of the period was devoted to a contest to see who could make the most noise. Charles LeFevre and Ivan Ely tied for the first place. Then "Chuck" won by a loud crack. He received as his prize a suck of gum presented by Mr. Cohn.

NORTHVILLE HIGH LOSES TO ROOSEVELT 29-28
Reserves won 12-0 victory. Northville High school lost to Roosevelt in their gymnasium 29-28 last Friday evening. Roosevelt is one of the best and hardest teams Northville has played so far this season. Throughout the fast battle the hill-toppers kept a slight lead, which Northville was unable to overcome. By the looks of things now, Roosevelt will fight it out for the league title, having won three out of their four league games. The Northville Reserves completely ran away with the Roosevelt Reserves, 12-0.

Most of the Northville boys were on form, showing this by passing many easy shots. Throughout the first quarter there was fast passing and close defense work, ending 3-2. McCordie led the Northville team and in the last quarter by a sudden spurt nearly resulted in tying the score. Heimendinger, Roosevelt's big center, was the leading player of the hill-toppers, and scored 14 points for his team. High scoring honors of the evening went to him.

Terry Thompson, hastily forward, scored nine points and tied for second honors with Harold House. Following is the summary:
Roosevelt: R. F. Harris, L. F. House, Heimendinger, C. Mott, R. G. Ware, L. G. Watts.
Scoring by quarters:
Northville: 2 10 8 5-28
Roosevelt: 3 14 7 5-29
Field goals: Northville, McCordie, 3; Thompson, 3; Ware, 2; Watts, 1. Roosevelt: Harris, 1; House, 4; Heimendinger, 4; Mott, 3.
Free throws: Northville, Thompson, 3; McCordie, 2; LeFevre, 1. Substitution: Northville, Ely. Personal fouls: Thompson, 1; McCordie, 1; LeFevre, 1; Ware, 3; Watts, 1.

Referee: McCordie, LaCrosse. Northville Reserves formed so good a defense that the Roosevelt Reserves were unable to score a point. Northville scored 2 points in the first quarter, 3 in the second, 5 in the third, 2 in the final. Tiffin and Miller showed up best for Northville.

NORTHVILLE ANNUAL USES GREEK THEME
Mr. Wilcox of the Service Engraving Co. met several members of the Palladium staff, Monday night, to discuss the type of paper and the style of engraving to be used throughout the book.

The name Palladium is taken from the "Palladium," a Greek statue of Pallas the Goddess of Safety and Value. So it was thought very appropriate that a Greek theme should be carried through in the drawings and captioned pages.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND PLAYS AT BANQUET
The Northville Community band played several selections at the town's biggest community banquet, held in the high school gymnasium, last Friday evening. Governor Green was among the guests at the banquet. "College Boy," "Activity," "New Hartford," "Step Lively," "Hail, Hail," "Sabo," and "Welcome Home" were among the pieces played by the band. MR. CLEARY ADDRESSED
ASSEMBLY JANUARY 26
Letters are presented to Football Squad by Coach Doeksen. Owen Cleary of the Cleary Business college at Ypsilanti, addressed the assembly Friday, January 26th. Mr. Cleary chose as his subject, "Responsibility in School and Business."

The developing of initiative and responsibility are as important as any of your subjects," stated Mr. Cleary. "The three qualities necessary to success are initiative, straightforwardness and honesty. To get the most good out of your school work is to realize why you are studying. Until you do realize that you have a future, you will not get the most out of school." After the address by Mr. Cleary, letters were presented to the football squad by Coach Doeksen.

the Wayne County Training School club, met last Thursday evening at the Trossachs on the Seven Mile road.

Following the serving of an excellent menu, plans for the coming year were discussed and new officers elected.

W. S. Wells was elected president for the ensuing year, and Miss Bougargus was named vice president. The secretary and treasurer will be elected at later dates.

Brief talks were made by Mr. Wells and Mrs. Hoakley, past president, Mr.
King and others.

All told of the good that could come from such an organization. It is their purpose to conduct it similar to a community club. In fact, they point out that the training school is a sort of community unto itself. However, it is not the desire of the members to confine their activities entirely to their own welfare, but to broaden their fields of activity as conditions may warrant.

A very large percent of the employees of the training school are members of the club, and it is expected that before many weeks pass all who are regularly engaged at the school will be members.

WOODSBURY HEADS SPINX

ELECTED THURSDAY JAN. 19
From Woodbury was elected president of the Spinx society at a meeting Thursday, January 19th, following the resignation of Sam Stalter.

Sam Stalter resigned because as editor of the annual and president of the Science and Travel club, he is kept busy and does not have time to devote to the society.

Mr. Woodbury is interested in dramatics, the primary purpose of the society, and so should be well suited for the office.

The society will give a program consisting of a one-act play, on Thursday evening, February 2nd, to which friends of the Spinx will be invited.

TEACHERS' PLAY IS

A DECIDED SUCCESS

(By Madeline Cole)
With Yvonne Jensen and Deuteronomy Jones keeping the crowd in a good humor, and the other members of the cast furnishing plenty of dramatic interest, "Deacon Dubbs" was decidedly a success.

The plot centered about the sale of the Rawley homestead, and the five act of "Rose Rawley" (Mrs. LaMarr) and Amos Coleman (Mr. Thompson) and of course Deacon Dubbs, Sorghum Center, West Virginia (Jim Wood),

Mr. Cohn, as the villain, was sufficiently "scary" to satisfy anyone, and Miss Phillipena Popover (Miss Hohler) as the Deacon's boyhood sweetheart, was "just too sweet."

Miss Montgomery,
as Trickle, was the trial of the Dea-con's life. The auctioneer (Joe Vroman) "sure" knew his husking bees, and Emily Dale (Miss Parmalee) could
"hug" hat anyone.

The whole cast must be congratulated for their splendid work, but undoubtedly Yenkie (Miss Christ) and bashful Deuteronomy (Mr. Doeksen) took the honors of the evening.

The cast was assisted by the high school quartet—Russell Atchison, Ted Watts, Bob McCaule and Ted Cavell.
The Deacon's jazz band, serenaded the bride before the wedding, and accompanied Miss Bach when she sang,
"Me and My Shadow."

EXAMINATION WEEK

Another epoch in history—No—
Washington didn't discover America—
it's just review week up here at N H S.

Students can briskly through halls across one another saying, "Say when did Caesar overpower Rome?" or
"When do you use the nominative case?" Perhaps, you come across a dignified senior with a civics book open and several reference books strewn around him. Or a "freshie" struggling madly with an algebra

sum. All this denotes a "cramping" for examination is in all a little fun.
Don't over-tax your brain, though!

PENCILS FOR 30 STUDENTS

The final check on the magazine contest was completed this week, and the school profit was $90.45, according scriptions are: Green team—Marion

SOUTH LYON IS AGAINST SEWER SYSTEM FOR TOWN

Less Than 100 Voted for the Improvement—Town Faces Problem

At the election on the bond issue for a disposal plant, Tuesday, only 331 votes were cast, about 55 percent of the total registration, of which 132 were against the measure and 99 for the bond issue.

South Lyon, now finds itself in the peculiar position of having, in effect, ratified the installation of a sewer system, but without any provision for a sewage disposal plant. A hearing of complaint on assessing the town for a sewer system was held, as advertised, at the village hall on January 9th, but as far as we are able to learn there were no complaints and the measure was thus, as we understand it, automatically passed.—South Lyon Herald.

Novi News

(Phone items to Mrs. R. O. Thompson 7134-F2)

Little Dawn Gradow is absent from school on account of illness.

The Novi 500 club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Grace Halstead.

Rev. Davey and the Gullen brothers were business callers in town last week.

Floyd Hicks underwent an operation in Detroit Saturday for removal of tonsils.

Miss Beulah Lattimer spent the week-end at the home of her parents in Coe-man.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Flint visited the former's mother and sister in Ypsilanti, Sunday.

Mrs. Mae King of Mt. Clemens, visited her little daughter, Aindra, over the week-end.

Ed Halstead received word Monday of the death of his nephew, James Halstead of Farmington.

Steve Kapca and family of Detroit, moved into Mrs. Clarence Smith's tenant house, last Saturday.

Charles Banks had the painful misfortune to break his right arm while skating at Walled Lake, Sunday.

Alfred Gow is now working in Highland Park, having been transferred from the Ford plant in Northville.

A goodly number attended the cottage prayer meeting held at the home of J. O. Munro, last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Clarence Smith attended the dinner given by the ladies of the Baptist church in Redford, Tuesday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Banks and son, Alfred, and Aindra King were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Flint, Sunday.

George Kilgus resumed his school work again Monday, after the half year absence on account of physical conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leonard and two children of Detroit, were callers at the home of Mrs. Leonard's sister, Mrs. Grace Shinn, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dodge and little son of Inlay City, a former garage man here, visited at Mr. and Mrs. Ed Halstead's, Sunday.

Little Harold L. Drullard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward L. Drullard, is the youngest juvenile Gleaner of Novi Arbor. He is twenty-two months old.

Word has been received of the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark at the home of her brother in California. They report a delightful time in the trip and scenery.

The Home Economics Club will meet with Mrs. Edna Root, next Tuesday, the 31st, for an all-day meeting. It is desired that all members be present for class promptly at 10 o'clock.

Miss Marian Farrell has secured a substitute teacher for a few weeks at the Stone school, while she is completing her work for a life certificate at the Ypsilanti State Normal.

She spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gradow.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hazen, Jr., entertained the young people's five hundred club, Saturday evening.

A wonderful lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Drullard carried away high honors, and Mrs. Clara Purnam and William Hazen were consoled.

Mrs. Louise Hammond, and son, Judd, had as their dinner guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Drullard and baby.

It was a wonderful dinner, and prepared alone by Mrs. Hammond, and to think of the remarkable age—Mrs. Hammond was 82 years old last October.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rix were called to Williamston, Tuesday, of last week, by what proved to be a very serious accident.

Mr. Rix's sister, Mrs. Sims, who frequently visits them here, was accidentally shot through the right arm near the shoulder, when a gun discharged in the hand of a neighbor boy, near whom she was standing.

She was taken to a hospital in Lansing, and all was done for her comfort that was possible. Her usual frail health and her age make her condition seem quite serious.

Next Sunday, the Baptist Sunday school and the B. Y. P. U. will start out with a "clean slate" so far as finances are concerned.

Acting upon the suggestion of some of the officials, the two organizations voted to put their funds into the somewhat depleted treasury of the church, and "begin all over again."

Other activities of the church are contemplative, being of assistance to the church financially, and all will enjoy the injunctions, "Labor to have to give" and "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

G. F. Gaffney and N. W. Wixom, returned Saturday from their ten-day trip to Texas. They are enthusiastic over the climatic conditions and the fine opportunities of that "wonderland of the south."

Mr. Gaffney says, "It has Florida beat a 1000 miles." Naturally he lost interest in Florida after witnessing and losing in the Miami disaster.

Mr. Wixom felt like Kipling, it was "the finest on earth." It is all they recommend it to be and cannot be overdrawn.

The irrigation privileges are adequate and water can be supplied on very short notice.

Mexican labor which is very efficient, can be procured at reasonable prices.

To quote Mr. Wixom, he says, "Florida has a $300 per acre climate and 150 per acre soil, and the Rio Grande valley has a splendid combination of climate and fertility of soil unsurpassed by any place."

They also visited in Old Mexico and found a vast difference in the old Spanish towns and cities and were grateful they belonged this side of the border.

A very unique cane of Mexican workmanship was presented to Mr. Wixom as a souvenir of the trip into Mexico.

From the porter who recovered for him his lost pocketbook, to the officials who planned every detail of the trip, everyone seemed eager not only to prove their statements in regard to the land, but by their hospitality and sociability to confirm their assertions that "the eyes of the world are on the Rio Grande valley, the fertile wonderland of America."

so just as fast as we can get it. I was interested in what Capt. Denniston had to say about prisoners out at the Detroit House of Correction farm. We expect to use something like 1200 men on road work this year. Of course, the season is short, but we can do considerable work in that time. I think it is the best class of work we can place them at.

The Governor highly commended the community spirit of Northville, and declared that it was a pleasure to attend a banquet where such a wonderful spirit of unity prevailed.

Harry German responded most fittingly, thanking the Governor and his friends for their interest in his baseball career and what they had done to keep fresh in his memory in years to come his record of accomplishments in the baseball world.

Speaking of the medal presented by the Governor and given him by the community, Mr. German said: "Isn't it beautiful? Splendid to look upon, isn't it beautiful to know it was presented by the Governor of the State of Michigan? And won't it be beautiful when 25 years from now, a new generation of ball players comes on, and I in my old age, maybe hobbling with a cane, and will say, 'boys, I once played ball, pitched three games one afternoon.' And they may smile and doubt, but if this handsome badge and medal is flashed before them, it will be ample proof, and the least they can say 'Well, I guess the old duffer could play ball.' And isn't it most beautiful of all to know that it was given me by the citizens of this community, where I have lived all my life? The community of Northville, the little village among the hills, where we as business men know no politics, creed or religion, except as man to man."

At the completion of his talk he presented to the Governor one of the balls used last fall in the series of three games he played in one afternoon, creating the record that has caused so much comment.
