

W. E. FORNEY TAKES OVER PARMENTER
COAL & ICE CO.

Former Owners to Continue in Vinegar and Cider
Business

Announcement has just been made of the sale of the W. A. Parmenter Coal and Ice Company to W. E. Forney who has been a resident of Northville for several years past. Mr. Forney, for some time a salesman for the New York Coke Company, has taken immediate possession of the business.

It is the plan of Mr. and Mrs. Parmenter to remain in Northville. They will devote their entire time to the cider and vinegar business which they have operated in connection with the coal and ice office.

Mr. and Mrs. Forney are at present at their cottage at Moon Lake, but it is their purpose to move to Northville as soon as possible.

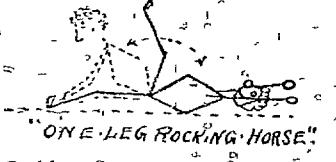

He states that he is going to continue both the ice and coal business. His experience in wholesale coal selling gives him an intimate knowledge of the various grades of coal that he believes will be of value to him in the retailing of coal. He has many acquaintances in town who wish him well in the new business that he has taken over.

How to Build Up Muscles

By J. J. Todd, Wilson Ave. Y., Chicago.

Article 4

Start with your morning stretch and do the four exercises before you start the fifth.

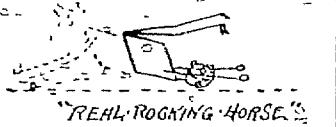

"ONE LEG ROCKING HORSE."

Position—Sitting posture—legs straight (toes pointed).

Lift Exercise—Roll back to lying position, raising one leg, swinging arm high over head, other foot on floor.

You start from a sitting position; your legs should be straight—feet pointed. Roll back to lying position, raising one leg, swinging the arm high over head, other foot on floor.

Now you add this to a sitting position; swing arms over head and at the same time raising one leg as high as you can without raising the toe of the other leg off the floor. (I use the term floor, meaning the surface upon which our body is resting.) Now, return to first position, in a sitting posture, stomach toward touching toes. Then again roll back with the leg position with arms over head, at the same time raising the opposite leg.

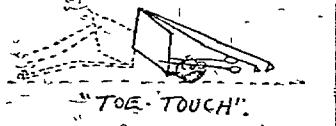

"REAL ROCKING HORSE."

Position—Sitting posture, same as in V.

Sixth Exercise—Same as V, raising both legs.

This exercise, "The Real Rocking Horse" is the next step in your rolling and rocking. The same position as in No. 5 but you raise both legs as you roll back. Make this exercise a free and easy joyful rolling rocking backward and forward movement.

Our seventh exercise creates a lot of fun, especially when several are trying to perform it, because some may accidentally do a back or side roll.

"TOE TOUCH."

Position—Same as V.

Seventh Exercise—Same as VI, but touching toes back of head.

You perform the exercise the same as No. VI, but touch the surface in back of your head with the toes. Roll forward as in VI, and as you roll backward again, touch the floor with your toes. We call this the "Toe Touch." Do this sixteen times.

Discovered!

Deep down under a pile of rubbish and refuse in back of the old Kilgour store on Main street, Health Officer Fandal Schuyler and his clean-up workers Wednesday discovered a fire hydrant.

Some of the older pioneers say they remember something about the fire plug being installed in back of the stores on the north side of Main street and North Center street, but for these many, many moons it has been hidden from view.

But with the discovery of the fire hydrant, what real benefit is it to Northville? The town has no public alley leading to it, and the fire department has no right to go in back of the blocks to use it even in case of a fire. In fact, the town had no right to put the fire plug where it is. Northville is a town without a public alley.

It is possible the present commission may take steps to create some alleys where alleys ought to be. Under existing state laws it can be done—and done without expense to the taxpayers.

Under new Federal regulations, effective May 1, 1928, the interstate shipment of tick-infested cattle will be prohibited. The old regulations permitted the interstate shipment of ticky cattle under quarantine restrictions for immediate slaughter.

CREDIT BUREAU TO MAKE SURVEY FOR THE GOVERNMENT

Local Organization is Asked to Assist in Work of Uncle Sam

The National Retail Credit Association has recently been granted their request by the Department of Commerce of the United States government to make a survey of retail credit conditions throughout this country, in order that a more definite understanding of actual credit conditions may be had by the merchants of the United States.

The survey is to be made in conjunction with the National Retail Credit Association. As a result of the government's survey, it should be possible to determine whether or not the extent to which retail credit is now being extended and indulged in, is dangerous or economically sound; and, accordingly, after analyzing the results of the survey, merchants should be in position to continue or alter their present credit department procedures, as they may see fit. This service, by the government and by the National Retail Credit Association, will be an especial boon to merchants who are not in position to maintain research departments such as are being maintained by the greater stores in the country.

That the government should have seen fit to undertake the proposition above referred to is a very high compliment to the association, and is evidence of the fact that the extent of the National's importance is officially recognized.

The National Retail Credit Association, of which the total organization, the Merchants Service Bureau, is a member, is ever endeavoring to better credit conditions and give valuable information to their members. The above mentioned is one of the most recent accomplishments.

3,000 at Service Vow
They Talk With Dead

London—An impressive belief in spiritualism was registered at the spiritualists' annual armistice service in Albert Hall. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, leading the services, suddenly appealed to his hearers, shouting:

"I ask all who are sure that they have been in touch with their dead to rise and testify."

More than 3,000 men and women of all types quietly rose, and this brought from Sir Arthur this fervent statement:

"Thank God there are so many. I prophesy within five years that to such an appeal every man and woman will rise. We are not testifying to faith but to fact."

THE DESERT SONG COMING TO CASS THEATRE, DETROIT

Coming from a nine months' run at the Great Northern Theatre, Chicago, Schwab and Mandel's delightful musical romance begins its Detroit engagement at the Cass Theatre, next Monday night, May 14th. This is one of the genuine musical successes of the past ten years, which for fifteen months thrilled New York audiences and is also at present enjoying sensational success at the Drury Lane Theatre, London, where it is now in its second year.

The cast to be seen in Detroit will be headed by Alexander Gray, Charlotte Lansing and Bernard Graville, and includes Harold Stanton, Edna Torree, Betty Gallagher, Lyle Evans, Carlotta Niles, Ben Hendricks, John Ehle, Larry Lawrence, Alma Jane Widay, Alfred Baron, Jack Spiegel and a large singing ensemble including a stirring male chorus.

The music of "The Desert Song" is by Sigmund Romberg, composer of "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time," "My Maryland" and "Rosalee," and there will be a special orchestra to do justice to the music. The book is by Otto Harbach, Oscar Hammerstein 2nd, and Frank Loewe, authors of "Rose Marie," "Sunny," "No, No, Nanette," "Golden Dawn" and "Show Boat."

The authors have selected a most colorful and picturesque locale for the story of "The Desert Song"; its scenes being laid in Northern Africa during the recent uprising of the Riffs. It has for its motif the struggle of the desert tribes against the soldiers of the foreign legion, and the story carries an unusually romantic interest in the

PLAY GROUNDS

Northville public school officials have more helping hands extended to those been discussing seriously during the seeking assistance across rough roads past few years the necessity for providing additional playgrounds for the Humanity's salvation is in the forgiving spirit that has lived down through school children of this community. No the ages. There is no question about action has yet been taken but the board at present is spending much time formulating some plan to be recommended to the voters.

Galesburg is a little community barely a fourth as large as Northville, lying eight or nine miles out from Kalamazoo. Galesburg has had a playground situation similar to that of Northville; the grounds surrounding the building having been used for playground purposes. In fact, the grounds were even more extensive than those around the Northville schools. But Galesburg school officials, just like school officials of Northville, have felt the necessity of increasing the size of the grounds around the school. So a big five acre tract was purchased, and it is now being made one of the finest playgrounds in the state.

Of course we all realize that real estate values in Galesburg and Northville are two different things, but an expenditure of $45,000 or $30,000 right now for considerably over half a block of property adjoining the Northville schools is bound to be economy.

Five years from today we are liable to be paying $50,000 or $60,000 for the very same piece of property.

Everyone in Galesburg seemed delighted with the forward step taken by the school board. We are pretty sure that when the matter is submitted to a vote in Northville the same convincing will prevail here.

A. V. SEYFERT PUBLISHER

Spelling a little English Benjamin Franklin he was wise and cautious newspaper man. He did not look for trouble. He knew that under normal conditions a publisher had enough trouble without looking for some more.

Those who wrote him letters, asking that he do some reforming were advised to pay the postage and not send their messages collect. He advised upon all manner of subjects military, diplomatic and domestic. Here is a sample of the correspondence of his day:

A lady complained on her married state as follows:

"Sir See you are set up to reform the Age I hope you will omit nothing that shall contribute to so good a work. I suppose you will think it as reasonable to publish the Complaining of our Sex as those of the other, unless you think that Women have no souls."

Now then that my Husband (who has had a liberal education) is a cross ill-natur'd fellow, who beats and abuses me at an intolerable rate, And one time in particular after much ill Treatment, he threw me into a Pond.

He is perpetually at the Taverns, sotting and drinking flip, and getting People at variance. I truly say, it is for the Good of his Soul and Body that I publish this letter.

"He is a man whom Nature has remarkably stigmatized, and if he don't mend quickly, I shall give an account of him which will not be at all pleasing to him."

To which Mr Franklin made the following reply, in which he has set a good example, both for the press and the public:

"My Female Correspondent in the foregoing Letter expresses her Condition in her own way, and I shall do her justice to insert it verbatim. But if she intends to make a Reformer of me, she will do well to write Post paid on her Letters for the Future, for I don't intend to reform the Age at my own charge."

ONE BATTLE ANYWAY

There is going to be one contest this fall in state politics anyway. Luren Dickinson has announced the fact that he is a candidate for re-election and Senator Seth Pulver of Owosso says he is going to run. Now just watch for someone to come along from Wayne county and walk right away with that nomination.

GRATITUDE

How often it happens that the helping hand extended to one in aid is bitten by the very one that sought and was given aid. Human nature is a strange thing, isn't it? But what would happen in this world if everyone decided that because of ingratitude on law in Vermont, also being a captain of a company of militia and aide to the governor of that state.

Catching the "western fever," he moved to White Pigeon, Michigan, in 1834. Four years later he went to Constantine to make his home. He was later elected justice of the peace, this office being the first ever held in Michigan by him. Later he was elected a member of the constitutional convention and aided in drafting the constitution upon which Michigan was admitted into the union.

Soon after Barry was chosen state senator. His associates regarded him as the leader of the Democratic forces in the senate, and at the next convention of his party, he was made their candidate for governor.

Barry was given credit for straightening out the financial difficulties of the state, which had been quite involved.

During his first term the University of Michigan was opened to students, two railroads were built into the state, a state land office was opened in Marshall, and public schools were started in various places. The state constitution at that time forbade a governor from holding office for more than two consecutive terms and Governor Barry was forced to retire at the end of his second term, but he was again elected governor in 1856. This is the only instance in the history of Michigan where a governor was called upon to serve the third term under the old state constitution. During his third term, the vigilante Normal was opened. After serving his final term he went back to Constantine and resumed his mercantile business. A year following his wife's death, he died, in 1869, at his home in Constantine.

TROOPER-SLAYER TAKEN

Pennsylvania State Police again have upheld a tradition of the force, that of a man who kills a State Police officer never escapes.

At Debaro, Pa., Levy A. Knapp, former member of Troop P and Paul A. Fox, former member of Troop A, who shot and killed two men in the former troopers were members of the Coal and Iron Police of a coal workers' strike. Working on the mine were Corporal Hinde and Privates Tavelin, Feltman and Marceau of Troop A. The former troopers had attempted to halt an automobile in which mine manager was riding. The occupants of the car fled without warning. Knapp was killed instantly and Fox was helpless to the road. Roy and Robert Wren, wife arrested and Fox identified them as two of his assailants.

The World Needs Any Amount of Mothering

Adults at some time or other would give anything to go back to mother's arms—to that sheltering, soothing, enfolding embrace—that understanding, encouraging heart.

That mother spirit mends so many bumps and bruises and hurts and calms so many tempests that the world must seek it again and again.

The Creator of the Universe has the mother heart. He will aid His creatures by that spirit of minute care, thoughtful attention, and sympathetic support which all need so much.

Workmen during the past few days have been repairing some of the sidewalks in the business district. The walk in front of the Walker pool room has been made wider to conform with the rest of the walks on that side of the street.

A very attractive new store front has been placed in the Richardson building on Main street, where the White store was formerly located. Other improvements are being made on the structure, which will make it a very desirable business location.

Word has been received in Northville that John LaRue, Jr., formerly of Northville, has been elected to a national high school honor society. John is now attending Roosevelt High School in Ypsilanti. Members of the honor society are selected for their high scholastic standing nationally.

On Saturday of last week at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Stewart was the scene of a pretty bridge luncheon, when Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Autie Cranston and Mrs. George E. Hills entertained thirty-six of their friends. Dainty little vases of sweet peas and bowls of hyacinths were used for decorations.

Prizes offered by Virgil V. McNutt, of New York City, who started his newspaper career in the office of the Northville Record, to students doing the best work in the department of journalism at the University of Michigan, have just been awarded for the present year. Milton Kirschbaum, of Chicago, won the first prize.

Little Betty Schrader, who has been seriously ill for several days, is reported improved at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Schrader. She was taken ill shortly after the family had started north on an automobile trip. They hurried back home with her. It was found that she had a very severe attack of measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons have returned from Florida, where they have been spending the winter. Mr. Simmons returned home on the train, having been taken ill shortly before they had planned to come home. He is much better, and is able to be about town. Mrs. Simmons drove the car home, making the trip without the slightest difficulty.

John Enright of the William H. Maybury sanatorium, has been in Port Huron this week, attending the Democratic state convention. He was elected as a delegate from Northville township to attend the session. Mr. Enright during all of his life has been an active worker in the Democratic party and has frequently been honored by his associates. He was an alternate to the Democratic National convention in Chicago, which nominated William Jennings Bryan for president.

Little Betty Masters is confined to her home with an attack of measles.

Born, Tuesday, May 8th, to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Potter of Butler avenue, a daughter.

Mrs. Ardelle Brooks pleasantly entertained the Fleur-de-lis club, last Monday evening.

Mrs. Lola D. Tipton of Jacksonville, Florida, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bourne.

Mrs. John K. Nelson of Fairbrook avenue, entered the Ford hospital last Thursday, for an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jordan and little daughter of Plymouth, visited the former's parents, over the weekend.

Mrs. Eliza Cone and John McManamy plan to spend Sunday at Fowlerville at the home of Mrs. Cone's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bock of Saline, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd.

The Royal Arch degree will be conferred by Union Chapter on Wednesday, May 23rd, instead of the date previously announced.

A large number of Northville Rotarians attended the district conference held in Windsor, Ont., Thursday and Friday of this week.

Miss Mary Davis has taken a clerkship in the W. H. Elliott & Son grocery store. Miss Davis has many friends in town who will be glad to know that she has this position.

Members of the Exchange Club were fortunate in having as their guests Wednesday night, Mr. and Mrs. John Tinham. The couple rendered a few delightful musical selections for the club.

The Macabees will hold their next afternoon card party at the home of Mrs. George Hicks, at the corner of Horton and Lake Avenue, on Thursday afternoon, May 17th. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. F. L. Boyd, Mrs. Hugh Schaefer and Mrs. T. G. Masters were guests of Mrs. Clifford Stillwell Sturday, May 5th, at the Plaza ballroom, Detroit, given by the Kappa Phi Alumni sorority of Ypsilanti.

R. N. A. gave their eighth anniversary banquet Monday evening, May 7th. The Belleville Lodge were the guests of honor. Following the banquet, the degree team initiated three local lodges into the mysteries of the R. N. A. Mrs. Alice C. Smith, the Gate Oracle of Detroit was present and gave a splendid talk.

Dr. Handorf has received a wireless message from Mrs. Handorf stating that she had arrived safely in Hamburg, Germany, after a very pleasant trip over the Atlantic. The weather was perfect all the way and the little children stood the trip exceedingly well. She will spend the next few months with relatives and friends.

That Roadster
of Lucy's
By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copy right)

LUCY KNOWLES was the first girl to our village to drive her own car and when her father gave it to her on her fourteenth birthday there were plenty of people to say Cartelion Knowles was a fool—for surely it was rank folly to entrust such a high-priced toy to a mere child and also to endanger the lives of others by permitting her to run it.

They were practically engaged to Chester Baldwin at the time and her acquisition of the pretty little roadster caused considerable friction between them. Chester had managed to master the intricacies of his small delivery truck, but scarcely believed a similar performance quite beyond his fiancee and begged her to desist from learning to drive.

I have quite a feeling about it," declared Chester earnestly, "that the car will be the cause of my losing you. I wake up nights after nightmares of finding you smashed in some terrible wreck."

"What nonsense!" declared Lucy shortly. "I never have any such nightmares about you!"

"That's different," said Chester. But Lucy remained obstinate, took lessons in driving and then proceeded to bank up her father—according to him—for gasoline, oil and tires. No back country road was too flinty or remote for Lucy to try out when spring was in the air or autumn painting colorfully the foliage. No hill was too steep or town too distant for the girl to accept if the spirit moved her.

"Oh she got ditched and had to be towed out." She ran out of gas and had to walk five miles on an isolated country road after dark fifty miles from home. But all the time she gathered experience and cared not if she were a source of fascinated gossip to the neighbors or apprehension to Chester.

That obstinate young girl refused to go driving with her although his chum Young Steve Taylor assured him she was most competent at the wheel. And he was in a position to know as Lucy frequently picked him up on her way to and from his office.

When Chester's two weeks of vacation began he and Steve set off for their annual camping expedition up in the hills beside Big Trout brook.

The boys had been gone three days when Lucy was awakened by the jangling of the telephone. Responding sleepily, she was aroused to instant alarm at the timbre of the voice of Chester at the other end.

"Lucy! Lucy! Steve has just with my neighbour with his gun. Get Doctor Leonard and have him get Luke Baldwin to drive him up in his buggy. I'm at a farm calling, but have got to get back to Steve. Speed is important."

Five minutes after Lucy had hung up the receiver, she had called the doctor, and dressed and started her car. Picking up Doctor Leonard and his bag, she disregarded all speed laws and even those of common safety.

"I know just where the boys are," she said briefly. "And I'll be there by the time Luke would have gotten hitched up."

Out of the village, through tamarack ranks of houses, flying swiftly along the black ribbon of turnpike, then swinging abruptly into a gravel road which in turn gave place to a narrow dirt lane, Lucy guided the car unswervingly. She succeeded until suddenly they began to climb and for a while plodded along a rocky slope that had little semblance to even a trail.

Finally, dipping down into a sheltered hollow, Lucy saw the white gleam of the tent and drew up shortly beside it.

Even in the tenseness of the moment Chester had a gasp for Lucy and the consternation she had come in. Then all was forgotten as Doctor Leonard helped him move Steve carefully out where the lights of the roadster could help the doctor in his examination. A few tense seconds passed and then he straightened.

"You're some damaged, young man, but I am thankful to say not seriously. Now this young lady can drive you home while Chester and I walk behind. The going will be as slow as she can make it that the jar may be as little as possible."

Chester looked worried. "Do you think—hadn't I better—Lucy being only a woman—"

Doctor Leonard threw him an odd look, but made no reply, and presently the little procession was on its way.

The following morning Lucy, who had done considerable thinking during the tedious homeward drive, sat down at her desk and penned a little note to Chester, which ran as follows:

"My dear Chester, I have been thinking for some time now that, if you married me, you'd be making yourself miserable for the rest of your life. And now I am sure of it. Incidentally, my dear boy, this 'only a woman' business went out with hoop skirts."

"Lucy!"

The last news our village has had of Chester is that he is engaged to a little milliner in Upper High Falls. But we feel sure that Lucy won't feel sorry. Not at all. She's married herself. To Steve Taylor? Oh, my no! To that nice Doctor Leonard. Seems he made the remark that he couldn't afford a chauffeur so he'd have to marry one. Anyhow, you see them together everywhere—and always his wife at the wheel!"

CRACK BASE BALL TEAM DEFEATED BY FAST DE-HO-COS

Bitter Contest Fought Out at Prison Farm Last Sunday Afternoon

A bitterly contested ball game was provided for the hardy fans who braved the chilly winds at Dehoco Park last Sunday.

West Coach Detroit Street Railway's crack outfit were the unwilling victims of Capt. Peniston's ball players, the game being annexed in the ninth with a savage onslaught of bats against Casazza's last inning offerings.

Dehoco opened the game with three runs, while German was holding the railroaders scoreless, but in the second and third West Coach got to his delivery and drove in five circuits. In the fourth and fifth they put one into their tally, but were checked when Constineau relieved German.

From the second to the seventh Casazza held the farmers scoreless, but weakened a trifle and the Dehoco bunch grabbed three to tie the game.

West Coach came back for one in the eighth but in the ninth faded to connect while Dehoco slugged a last minute rally to cap the contest.

Next Sunday, May 13th is the opening of the Inter-County League and Dehoco and Howell will be seen in action at Dehoco park.

The entry of Howell, Holly, Pontiac, Orion and similar strong teams into the Inter-County League promises to make Dehoco, last year's champs, step lively to repeat and Northville fans are assured of fast semi-pro competition at every league game.

Sunday's game starts at three p.m. Reserved seats on sale at box office on the grounds or can be reserved by calling Plymouth 650, team secretary.

FORMER RESIDENT
NARROWLY MISSES
DEATH IN A FIRE
Sister of Mrs. Minnie Tinsin
in Apartment When It
Burns

Mrs. H. F. Noble, who was formerly Miss Edna Hutchins of Northville, and a sister of Mrs. Minnie Tinsin, had a narrow escape from being burned to death, when the apartment she occupied with her husband in Royal Oak, was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

The flames broke out in the basement early in the morning, and before the occupants all could be notified, the fire had spread rapidly to all parts of the structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble were among the last aroused. She was partly overcome by smoke, and had to be given medical attention before reviving. Everyone in the place lost practically all of their possessions.

Before her marriage Mrs. Noble clerked for many years in the Brock store, now the B. Freydi store on East Main street.

"We're going to have Northville the cleanest little town in all Michigan. The place already has taken on an entirely new appearance. A trip down through the alleys will convince any one of the good that has already been accomplished. But when we get it clean let's keep it clean," states Dr. Schaefer.

Truck load after truck load has been hauled away. There is more to be done.

Let's put in some flowers and egg shells where these junk piles have been. And now that the town is about cleaned up why not make an effort to keep it clean the rest of the year," he added.

An effort is going to be made by the health officer to see to it that the whole town is kept in as clean a condition the rest of the year as it will be by the end of the present week.

PHONE WORKERS GIVEN VAIL MEDALS

THREE EMPLOYEES OF MICHIGAN BELL COMPANY CLINED FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICE

Three employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company have been awarded the Theodore N. Vail medal for 1927, for outstanding and noteworthy acts of public service, it is announced by Burch Foraker, the company's president.

Two awards of the medal were made to men, for administering first aid in an endeavor to save life, and the third to a woman for initiative, good judgment and resourcefulness in a fire emergency.

Second Medal for Mrs. Hursfall
The woman to whom the medal was awarded is Mrs. Doris Hursfall, operating agent of the company at Clarkston, a village nine miles north west of Pontiac. Incidentally, this is the second Vail medal award made to Mrs. Hursfall, who has twice acted to prevent serious and widespread fire damage in Clarkston.

Late Wednesday night, October 19, 1927, while on duty at the telephone exchange, Mrs. Hursfall saw flames bursting from a building, directly across a narrow alley from the central office. In her opinion, the fire had gained such headway that the local fire department would have difficulty controlling it. Acting upon her own initiative, she immediately called the Pontiac fire department and began to notify the residents of the village.

Remained at Post All Night
Although the building which houses the exchange was several times in flames, with the windows cracked by the heat and several inches of water on the door of the operating room, Mrs. Hursfall remained at the switchboard throughout the night. The citation accompanying the award of the medal says that "her initiative, good judgment and courage saved the community from a very disastrous fire."

Mrs. Hursfall was highly commended by the public press and was presented a written testimonial, signed by 100 Clarkston users of the telephone, following her outstanding service to the community.

AIR-MAIL SERVICE
OUT OF NORTHLVILLE
IS NOT EXCELED
Direct Connections With Both East and West
Says Postmaster

Postmaster Neal of the Northville office calls attention of the public to the splendid air mail service that may be utilized out of this place. The 9:50 a.m. mail out of here connects direct with western cities at the Ford Airport, arriving at Chicago at 4:30 p.m., and at San Francisco at 7:30 p.m., the next afternoon, with the use of a special delivery stamp, mail is delivered in Chicago the same day it is mailed here. For the south and southwest connections are made by this same mail.

Postmaster General Harry New has issued the following bulletin:

"May 15th, being the tenth anniversary of the regular transportation of mail by air, I have caused to be designated the week beginning May 14th as Air Mail Week."

"Postmasters are directed to bring to the attention of the public in every possible way, without expense to the postoffice department, the wonderful network of air lines operating day and night throughout the country, and the speed and economy with which letters and parcels may be dispatched over immense distances through this means of transportation."

"On May 15, 1918, the first air mail service was established between New York and Washington. This was the beginning of a system which today operates over 9,916 miles of airways and calls for a daily mileage of mail pilots amounting to 22,110."

No place in the United States ought to be more interested in the success of the air mail service than Northville, where the greatest airplanes in the world are made and where lives one of the world's greatest fliers, Eddie Stinson.

In this connection let us observe Air Mail Week in pursuance with the proclamation of the Postmaster General. Every person in Northville should mail at least one letter during the week with an air-mail stamp attached. Let's show 'em!

Depression in the sugar-cane industry in the United States, brought about largely by decreased yields caused by diseases, has resulted in an expedition to New Guinea, organized by the United States Department of Agriculture and composed of department specialists and others, who started on this expedition early in April. An airplane will be used in searching the land for disease-resistant canes. New Guinea is believed to be the native home of sugar cane and it is probable that varieties tolerant or resistant to diseases have developed there naturally, and it is hoped that resistant varieties can be imported and successfully grown in this country.

Some months present so much heavier cash expense than others, it is well to look ahead and provide if possible for these periods. If Easter outfit caught you unawares, how about graduation? You have a vacation fund, doubtless, but the new school term with books to buy and often fall clothing, follows hard on the heels of the holidays.

NORTHVILLE AIDS SAFETY DRIVE TO CUT ACCIDENTS

Chief Safford Calls Attention to Terrific Loss of Life on Roads

Chief of Police William Safford of Northville, is co-operating with the Michigan Safety Council in a general effort to make automobile driving less hazardous. Information given out as to the terrific loss of life due to automobile accidents is startling.

Public safety is a world problem. In the United States last year, every time the sun went down there had been an average—for that day—from all causes—or 241 deaths, and more than 6,000 persons injured. The daily death toll was three times greater than to American soldiers during the World War.

The year's accidental deaths totaled more than 83,000; the injured 2,190,000. Pecuniary costs are estimated at more than $4,000,000,000. The carnage included destruction of the lives of 20,583 boys and girls under the age of fifteen years. America's death rate from accidents exceeds that of any other nation. They include traffic, industrial home. The greatest of these is traffic war.

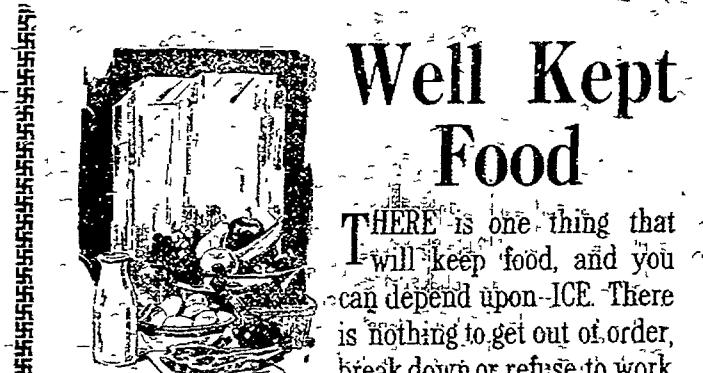

Last year in this country automobiles slew 27,000 people. The financial loss from motor accidents is estimated at $60,000,000. At this rate in ten years nearly 500,000 people will lose their lives by accident. Property loss will be more than $10,000,000,000.

Michigan has more automobiles than the combined countries of Germany, Italy, Spain, Holland and Australia. In this state, as of March 31, 1928, there were a total of 937,235 power vehicles licensed.

Last year 1,362 persons were killed in city and village streets and on highways in the state. More than 5,000 persons were maimed. The material costs of these accidents was vast.

The increase of accidents of cities and villages and on rural highways justifies co-operation on the part of communities in special efforts to control their causes. Safety cannot attain maximum effectiveness through occasional, unrelated and varying safety campaigns, limited to a few widely separated localities. Inter-city motor transportation tends continually to increase traffic hazards in any locality unless all localities experience generally similar education—and equally regular vehicular inspection and regulation.

THIS new-day refrigerator never needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. It is portable. It uses very little current. It has an all-in-one unit that is hermetically sealed to keep efficiency in—and trouble out.

Over a period of fifteen years, General Electric engineers worked toward this great electrical achievement. They have developed a simplified refrigerator that has no belts, pipes, drains or fans to get out of order.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them. In the meanwhile, mail the coupon below for an interesting descriptive booklet.

LAHSER ROAD WILL BE WIDENED IN NEAR FUTURE

Nearby Highway Will be Improved Early in the Present Year

The paving program for Redford is moving rapidly forward, with work on the LaSier widening to follow immediately after the Six Mile construction.

The north strip of the Six Mile paving is to follow the completion of the southern half. A curing process of three weeks will follow the laying of the northern strip. Both sides of the road will be opened at the same time.

Completion of the storm sewer installation on LaSier is being accomplished in preparation for the pouring of concrete there. Activities in the initial widening will probably start with Fenkel avenue and move north to Six Mile road. The completed road will be 40 feet wide and will later extend from Fenkel avenue intersection to the Oakland county line at Eight Mile.

At Grand Lawn cemetery the substructure on the southern span of the bridge is being poured and the fill-in being made in preparation for the widening.

A clear right of way has been secured on the south side of Grand River avenue from the D. U. R. crossing to the county line. Business blocks and other buildings have been moved back for the super-highway. The completion of the strip there will give traffic easier access to the city, connecting with the section laid last year.

The county road commission estimates that the Grand River widening will not be completed for two months. —Redford Record

How to Build Up Muscles

By J. J. Teoli, Wilson Ave., "Y," Chicago

Article 2

CHEST ELEVATOR

Position—Like morning stretch. First Exercise—Lower arms until they touch thighs. Now count 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8 and return; not too fast. Watch chest move up and down as your arms are raised upward and backward and lowered forward and downward. Thirty six counts.

Now for your next effort, which is still part of the first effort. Holding arms in this stretched position lower them until they touch the thighs. Do not bend your arms when touching thigh.

Using a rhythmic movement return arms over head as in first position, touching floor or surface upon which you are lying. It is a good plan to count 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8, and then return 8-7-6-5 and so on. As you count, lower arms to thighs on "one," return overhead on "two," and so on through to "eight," and back again to "one."

As you go through this exercise, watch the position of your chest as it lowers and rises. This exercise brings in play practically all of the muscles above the waist to the tips of the fingers.

Remembering "The Morning Stretch" and Exercise No. 1, "Chest Elevator," given in these columns, we are now ready for the second exercise.

TWO AND ONE

Position—Same as 1, but with arms resting on thighs.

Second Exercise—As both arms are raised over head, raise one leg. Alternate legs.

Thirty-six counts.

Place hands on thighs. The exercise is to raise arms over head as in Exercise 1, at the same time raise left leg. Pointing the toes, return to first position. This was count "one" and "two." On "three" you raise opposite leg. Continue this alternation of raising legs for sixteen or twenty-four counts. As the time goes up over the head, the leg comes up. This exercise adds to the first exercise, gives more work for the abdominal muscles and it also brings into play the larger muscles of the upper leg.

A Communication

Editor of Northville Record.

Respected Sir:

In last week's issue, there appeared an article about children making short cuts across lawns and also suggesting citizens to try and make the home grounds more attractive. This editor was good and what suggestions it offered will pay well if followed up.

Right here, the writer has spent several dollars each year to do the very thing suggested in your paper, but I like others feel it is almost useless to do a great deal in this line, spending time and money, planting, then have it destroyed by a roaming lot of dogs and chickens.

A few weeks ago the Record printed a notice also, for dogs to be muzzled, but it seems very few owners of dogs saw it, it might be seen in the notice was printed in red ink.

There are people here as elsewhere who have a selfish disposition, all self and the public be d— seemingly.

They have no use for law, even defy the authorities by acts contrary to those having authority.

There are dogs on our streets running loose, which is a disgrace to the town, and a shame for public to witness some of the scenes.

Northville people can, if they will, make this a beautiful place, a good place to dwell, with its beautiful hillsides and grand landscape, with competitive little cost to each household.

Methinks, if the owners of these dogs could read Public Acts, pages 484 to 489 No. 322 especially sec 217,18, perhaps there would be fewer dogs running loose to annoy and destroy our gardens.

There is law to fit the case, then let us as citizens do our duty in this and not be figureheads.

If the law is no good, repeat it or throw it in the waste basket.

Let us beautify the home, make it more homelike with a few flowers, a little lawn, some shrubbery as well, but don't let it sit idly by and have it destroyed by a prowling lot of worthless curs.

Respectfully,
Wm L. Mathews

WAYNE BEGINS A CAMPAIGN TO CLEAN AND DRESS-UP, TOO

Nearby Village Is Out to Make Town One of the Most Attractive.

According to the Wayne Dispatch the prairie-like city to the south has started a clean-up and clean-up campaign that will last through the summer. This has been the same summer given to the same subject in Northville, but to date no organization has sponsored the campaign. The Wayne Dispatch says:

"One of the most outstanding projects ever to be undertaken for the good of the Village of Wayne is the Dress-Up Contest, which is to extend from May 15th to August 31st. It is the shining light which is to guide this town to a more beautiful and healthful community in which to live."

A committee which was selected by President Gebstadt to promote this civic enterprise has met and the following members will have charge of the various sections into which the town is divided. Mrs. Harley Smurth, the Northeast; Cohn Morrison, the Southeast; Franz Forner, the Northwest, and Walter E. Hesler the Southwest. The dividing lines of these sections are Michigan, Monroe and Washington avenues.

This week has been special clean-up times as specified by the Village Commission, and a great improvement is already seen, but the object of the Dress-Up contest is to further Wayne as a beauty spot of the Metropolitan area. It is not the money which is being offered for the best improved piece of property or the pecuniary prize for the most beautiful yard, but it is the intrinsic worth which will come from the development of the community and the honor for the individual or individuals who are so fortunate as to receive these prizes.

Some may be a little confused concerning these awards, but there will be eight in all, two for each section. The grand climax to the "Dress-Up" will be a flower show which will be held at the high school auditorium the latter part of August, and at which time awards for the improved property and most beautiful yard will be made, together with prizes for the various species of flowers, the details of which are to be announced later. This flower show scheme is one of the most interesting ideas and has been worked out in thousands of places to the best advantage and has proven to be the most stimulating factor in promoting more beautiful gardens and homes. So much interest has been aroused over this that already the service clubs and other organizations have assured their support to the greatest degree.

In clubs, boards and what-not the center of conversation is how "I am going to fix my grounds and home in order that the attention of the passer-by may result in favorable criticism."

A few weeks ago the Record printed various business men have been complaining of backaches and stiffness, but they do it with a smile because they got that way working around their homes. Such is the spirit which is being exemplified among the populace of Wayne, and this very attitude is going to put the project across with a bang!

At the bottom of the page in the Dispatch you will find a blank to be filled out and handed or mailed to your district chairman. Don't neglect to enter both of these contests and get this entrance blank into the right hands at once. Of course, you want to be in harmony with what is going to be the making of Wayne, and in order to be thus you must get into the swing and make your home the most beautiful in Wayne. Read carefully the contents of the blank and be sure and take a picture of your place before and after the improvement. These pictures are very important for this is the only means by which the committee can best make fair judge. Care should be taken in taking the picture as it will be to the contestants advantage to present clear photographs.

Everybody is enthusiastic over this clean-up program and if you are not co-operating you are not among the advancing of Wayne."

No One Ever Made Profitable Transaction Buying From Peddler

"Good morning, madam! Do you remember me?"

It is an old song, a nauseating melody that is played by the old house-to-house artist in his annual invasion of the Northville home every summer. They come alone, or in bunches, or in streams, one following the other.

The peddler is a pleasant fellow, happy-go-lucky, carefree and at ease in every situation. He is good looking. He flourishes a smile that cracks his whole face from ear to ear. Perhaps he is the most efficient salesman.

But good salesmanship does not excuse illegitimacy. The housewives are few in number who have never been fleeced by some "skin-game" of these individuals. Nor is it the invariable hypothesis here that there are no honest men among the people who knock on your front door with the little leather case under arm. But the rule is general that the quality of the merchandise they have to offer is inferior to say the least, that intimacies with them are dangerous, that the products they have to sell are often misrepresented and that purchases from them are unadvisable.

The work in which peddlers engage is not pleasant. They do not enjoy it themselves. A housewife on washing day is probably the least cordial person in the world. But the solicitor has no choice. He must produce, like everyone else, or go the way of all flesh.

He is a keen student of human psychology and if he is a real artist in his business he never fails to make the correct approach at every call. He has several methods of gaining an audience. The first of these is called the old "remember me" canvass. He portrays himself as an old friend, relative or acquaintance. His subject unaware that she is to receive a caller is taken aback, as to just how to accept the situation of the moment.

He introduces himself. She replies, squinting to get a better view of his face, that she doesn't remember his face. There is a possibility, you know, that this may be one of her husband's relatives. So she opens the door. The rest is easy for Mr. Peddler. She hates to be rude. He answers her objection without hesitation—he has heard the same one exactly, probably every day for years. Finally, worn down by incessant hammering, she signs and makes the inevitable deposit with the money saved for the grocer.

The second approach is the one where juvenility is the main theme. The younger members of the profession or the work-my-wits-through-college canvasser uses it to advantage. By the end of the day he has attended every college and university in the country, according to the tale he tells, and is probably supporting a widowed mother and six brothers and sisters in the bargain. He prances lightly up the steps, stumbling, singing and forever every time.

Always... a square USED CAR deal from the Buick Dealer

The Buick dealer is in business to stay. His future reputation depends upon his treating used car buyers fairly.

He wants to please used car purchasers because he knows that satisfied used car customers are prospective new Buick buyers.

The man who buys a good used car—honestly represented—at a fair price—receives splendid value in transportation.

In his enthusiasm for the car he has bought, and the value he has received, it is only natural for him to look upon the dealer as his friend.

The Buick dealer has many such friends because he represents the true condition of the used cars he offers for sale.

And that is good business—for the Buick dealer, as well as the used car buyer.

smiling, dancing on one foot, and then on the other, meanwhile explaining that he has only twenty thousand votes still to get in order to obtain the scholarship that will take him back to school. He jokes. He is going to be a doctor while his friend across the street is to be an undertaker. When they have completed their courses at the university they intend to form a partnership.

The housewife laughs and that is all there is to it; another sale because she likes to help nice boys who are ambitious enough to get along and plug for themselves. She makes a deposit with the money, that time, that has been set aside for church dues.

The third method of gaining an audience is by using the "sob" canvas—the most insulting sort of any to the intelligence of the housewife. This time the canvasser is a dramatist, the sole character in a one-act skit. He begins talking in a voice so low that she must listen attentively to get his words, while he gazes with frank open eyes into hers. His eyes tearful and his voice husky as he relates his pitiful condition as having any or every bodily ailment registered in the records of the American Medical Association.

Oh, that's too bad! Her uncle or mother or father or sister was once in a similar position, and if her son and daughter should ever be faced with such a disease, wouldn't she like someone to help them out? Of course! She takes the offered pencil and fixes her attention upon the signature on the dotted line when another peddler implants his mind of the thousands of difficulties he had been laboring under for a few minutes, and laughs and laughs way down inside.

In another minute he is gone, another dollar is gone and another peddler has been encouraged to prey upon everyone else or go the way of all flesh.

Such is the condition that actually exists. There will always be a certain number of these vultures that prey upon the doorsteps of the home waiting for a cripple to devour. But meeting their game with an intelligent offensive can smother their trade to a minimum.

It has been a mooted question as to which are the higher producers—grade of purebred dairy cows. High production of milk and butterfat is of course important only if it results in a high income over the cost of the feed. Records obtained by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on over 100,000 purebred and grade dairy cows in all parts of the United States indicate that, although the cost of feed per cow was greater for purebreds than for grades, the former returned a higher income over the cost of feed. The average return for purebred cows over the cost of feed was $97.79, while the average for grade cows was only $89.13.

Have you seen the new leaflet, No. 13, on "Cooking Beef According to the Cut"? It is issued free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One of the recommendations made in it is that a thermometer should be used in roasting ribs of beef, in order to tell whether they are rare, medium, or well done. This removes the element of guesswork and gives the same results every time.

Try These

Checkerboard sandwiches for the bridge luncheon is the dernier cri of fashionable society. Dainty morsels of white and whole wheat bread, made to look like mosaic work, appeal not only to the palate but the eye.

Spread them with any filling you like or simply serve them in their pristine innocence with clear tea and a portion of lemon. Either method is quite correct. And then there's cheese, parsley, rolls and layer loaf sandwiches, both companion favorites of the hostess with a taste for the individual.

Here are some suggestions in the easiest and most artistic method of making all three:

Checkerboard Sandwiches

Make three-layer sandwiches of alternating one-half inch slices of white wheat and white bread, spread generously with margarine or butter. Slice the three-decker down in one half-inch slices. Combine three of these slices to make cubes, using first a slice with the whole wheat bread in the center, then the white, then the whole wheat. Spread each layer with margarine or butter, press, and slice them. These sandwiches are picture-sque as well as delicious.

Cheese-Parsley Roll

Cut away the crust from a sandwich loaf and slice lengthwise of the loaf in thin sections. Spread the whole slice with butter or margarine, then with a filling made from cream cheese, softened with cream or salad dressing and mixed with lots of chopped parsley. Roll each long slice up like a jelly roll, let stand a few minutes, and slice them.

Layer-Loaf Sandwiches

Remove crust from a sandwich loaf as before and cut in five-lengthwise slices. Spread with margarine or butter. Put bread together like a layer

FEW YEARS SHOW
GREAT INCREASE IN LAND VALUES

The Redford Record Prints
Facts Indicating Property Mountings

The miracle of a $90-for becoming property valued at thousands of dollars and other Midas-like incidents are being recalled by many of the older residents of Redford, where several pieces of Grand River Avenue property changed ownership this week.

Changes not seem almost magic have happened within the last 20 and 30 years in the business section, land creeping in value from a nominal sum up past the hundred dollar mark and then soaring on into four figures.

Twenty years ago all the frontage on the south side of Grand River from Lahser Avenue east to the Waterford road could be bought for $2,800. Two Redford business men contemplated making the purchase, but never closed the deal. At about the same period the 50 feet now occupied by the Leech Sales and Service could have been bought for $10. A German resident of that time who owned a Redford business man about $50 offered his deed to two lots there in payment of his debt. Since there was some doubt as to the title to the land, the offer was refused.

The Burns block and the former Swasey Hardware company property on the north side of Grand River Avenue have histories equally as interesting. The former built by Hiram Wilmuth, was erected for a plumbing establishment 30 years ago. The property passed from the Wilmuth family, Linus Burns finally purchasing the place 24 years ago for $2,800. In addition to the building, a strip of adjoining land was included in the deal. The Swasey building was erected by Ralph De Nio, who built four stores on Grand River Avenue 15 years ago. John Barbosa, of Detroit, is said to have purchased the property in 1914 for $11,000. These two buildings purchased recently at a price in six figures, are being torn down for the erection of a modern business block.

About a decade ago lots at the corner of Grand River and Lahser were valued at $11,000.

The history of the present site of the Burgess Ford Sales and Service is picturesque. The old McIntyre Inn, an enormous wooden structure that reached from Grand River Avenue far back onto Redford Avenue, was not only a hotel but also contained a dancing floor upon which 200 people could gather. McIntyre is estimated to have owned 400 acres here in the early days

There is one motor vehicle for every 513 persons in the United States; according to information compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads, U.S. Department of Agriculture. Registration of motor vehicles has increased enormously in the past three years, and last year more than 23,000,000 motor vehicles were registered, the numbers in the different states ranging all the way from 25,776 in Nevada to 1,937,918 in New York state. Receipts from motor vehicle registrations mean substantial sums for road building and consequently better roads.

If fresh skim milk is not easily available for the dairy calf, dry skim milk, if fresh and wholesome and properly mixed with water so that it is of the same composition, makes a good substitute for fresh skim milk. One part of the dried milk should be mixed with nine parts of warm water. In preparing it, mix the dried milk with an equal amount of water, stir it thoroughly to make it smooth, and then add the rest of the water. This feed should always be mixed in the same proportion and should be fed at a temperature of about 100 degrees F.

SENATOR SINK TO SEEK RE-ELECTION FOR ANOTHER TERM

Nearby District Fortunate in Having Leader in State Senate

Senator Charles A. Sink of Ann Arbor, has formally announced his candidacy for nomination and re-election on the Republican ticket. Mr. Sink is a veteran legislator having served two terms in the House of Representatives. In 1921-22 he served in the Senate, but at the end of that term, in order to comply with a gentleman's agreement of long standing between the Republican committees of Oakland and Washtenaw counties, which comprise the twelfth senatorial district, he stepped aside in order that Oakland county might present an unopposed candidate. Oakland county, on the basis of this gentleman's agreement, then held the senatorship for two terms, being represented first by the Honorable A. B. Glaspey of Oxford, and at the following term by the Honorable E. B. Howarth, Jr., of Royal Oak.

At the expiration of these two terms held by Oakland county Senators, the senatorship, under the gentleman's agreement, again reverted to Washtenaw county, and Mr. Sink was elected for the present term. He is now seeking nomination and re-election for the term that still remains for Washtenaw county.

During his many years in the house and senate, Mr. Sink won distinction as a statesman of sound judgment, and has been looked upon as one of the substantial leaders. His abilities were recognized by his appointments to important committees, including the chairmanship of the committee on education in both houses, and membership on all important committees on finance and appropriations in the Senate, as well as on several other committees on general import. He has had to do with shaping much of the sound legislation which has been enacted during the trying period since the close of the great World War.

Before his state career began, he served twelve years on the board of education in Ann Arbor, six years on the common council, and had been executive-secretary of the Michigan League of Municipalities for several years. He also served as president of the State Association of School Superintendents and School Board Members.

In private life he is president of the University School of Music which meets at night, in addition to the school, the Choral Union and M.P.V. Festival concerto. In this capacity he has presented to the Michigan public during the last quarter of a century practically all of the world's greatest artists and musical organizations.

Make bluing water just before it is to be used. If allowed to stand it is likely to streak the clothes. Test the shade by dipping in a small garment and holding it to the light, or by holding a little water in the hollow of the hand. Heavy fabrics require more bluing than thin ones. Strain bluing occasionally while in use. Blue only a few pieces together and do not let them soak in the bluing water.

When fitting a garment, try the seams in different positions, especially those of the shoulder. It is better to put the attention on the fitting of the figure, rather than on keeping the lines of the pattern.

THE FORECAST

The outcome of the base ball team for this season does not look favorable. The lack of veteran material is causing the coach the biggest worry, while the candidates have not the necessary ability to take the positions open.

The pitching is weak and the fielding comes below standard. The hitting is fair, but is not up to par. The Orange and Black will have to do a powerful lot of good hitting to be able to win over their own errors.

The lack of interest for base ball in Northville has something to do with the outcome but our school will not give up in despair.

HIGH SCHOOL TYPISTSWIN FIFTH PLACE

Northville high school won fifth place in the district typing contest at Dearborn on Saturday 1928. Considering the fact that there were 31 schools entered in this contest and that Northville had no second year type entries, the record was good.

Northville's entries in the shorthand class were: Irene Bennett and Dorothy Vogt, novice typing division; Alverna Smith and Madeline Cole, and for the team typing event, six entries: Catherine Litsenberger, Dorothy Vogt, Irene Bennett, Gladys Ludwig, Alverna Smith and Madeline Cole.

The three typists with the highest scores in the event make up a "team" who go to Detroit to represent their district in the state contest. The person typing the highest number of words per minute in the various typing events represents his school and district in Detroit also.

Forty-five words per minute is the most that any first year student has made so far this year, although the scores from the contest are not known as yet.

NORTHLVILLE GOLF TEAMLOSES TO DEARBORN 10-2

Northville high school golf team lost to Dearborn high Monday night of this week at Hawthorn public links, 10 to 2. The players representing Northville were McCordie, Watts, Thompson and Wolfrom, and for Dearborn were Lippert, Hilton, Horn and Cripps.

Lippert of Dearborn, turned in low score of 85 and played a good game. McCordie of Northville, made low score for Northville's players, having an 89. This match was just a practice game and two more games will be held with Dearborn in the league.

NORTHLVILLE GOLFERS BREAK EVEN WITH YPSI CENTRAL

Northville high school golfers tied Ypsi Central in their first game of the season at Plymouth Country club, last Saturday afternoon.

The scores were high on an average, but considering the condition of the greens they were fairly good. Holly of Ypsi Central made low score 93, while Crane and Smith were about evenly matched, both having 94.

A team of four represented each school. For Northville in order were Fred Smith, K. Wilcox, H. Nelson and Fred Kerr. The opposing players were Holly, Crane, Hart and Sinclair. There will be a return match later on before school closes.

MRS. KINSEY HAS CHARGE OF FORESTRY WEEK PROGRAM

Due to no school Friday, April 27th, the assembly in honor of National Forestry Week was postponed until Friday afternoon, May 4th.

Mrs. Kinsey, in charge of the program, had several students give talks on Forestry. Mary Jordan spoke on "Forestry Facts," Marjorie Schoutz on "How Forests Protect Streams," Grace Carter on "Forest Conservation," and Arthur Sessions on "Fire."

A letter from President Coolidge on "National Forestry Week" was read by Mr. Colan.

The sixth grade girls gave a dialogue on "Forestry."

A few songs, also about Forestry, were sung to familiar tunes by the student body led by Miss Bush.

This Friday's assembly will be a play, "Who's Boss" presented by Miss Hayes.

DON'T DIE ON THIRD

Home-plate is the thing for which all of us are striving. Home-plate is our aim in life. In school it is graduation ahead of us. In life it is the thing we wish to accomplish.

On the base ball diamond of this school year, we stand on third, ready to make home. To home is our motto, so don't die on third.

When you're on the base ball diamond of life, and there is something that makes you want to quit, remember the goal is home-plate, so don't die on third.

The home-plate of school life is the first base of life. Ahead of you is the home-plate, your goal. Don't be cheated of the run. Pep up. Home plate is the goal, don't die on third.

Don't be satisfied with third; never be satisfied with anything but home-plate.

BIOLOGY CLASS DISSECTS FROGS

If you happened to be passing by the biology laboratory during the first or third hours at any time during this week and detected an odor of forms or audible shudders issuing from the room, you know now that a number of frogs had "creaked" and were being dissected by the biology classes.

There were frequent complaints

"He's stiff," "I can't cut him!"

A frog was found to be hollow, totally, absolutely hollow. Not half the usual organs were found within him.

Obviously, a frog with nothing to be dissected must be left whole, and so Mr. Cohn had to replace it.

Some enjoyed the work, and some did not.

Trapped by Her Past!

RECENTLY an actress, who a few years ago was popular on Broadway, submitted to True Story Magazine a most startling story. It told why she had left the stage at the height of her career never to be seen upon the boards again.

It was a tale of dread and terror each night she stayed there thousands to smiles or tears, her eyes, masking the agony in her soul, were seeking, always seeking among the audience, the one man in the world who had the power to drag her down from the pinnacle of success to the ignominy of defeat. Deep in her heart she knew that some day he would come, and that when he did her career would end.

And so when one night she received a note from a man in the audience who was awaiting her reply, she realized then she had come to settle her account with fate.

Her story entitled "Trapped by My Past," appears in True Story for June. With nothing hidden, nothing omitted she has put into it all to life that perhaps once held you spellbound across the footlights. Maybe as you read it you will recognize her. If so you will then know the answer to a question you have probably asked yourself many times.

Otto Stoll Says There is
No Decline in Realty
Transfers

The month of April saw 13,001 deeds and mortgages recorded in the office of Otto Stoll, Wayne County Register of Deeds. Although this total does not show any increase over April of last year, it indicates that the volume of transactions relating to real property in Wayne county has not suffered a decline.

The total given above comprises 6,985 deeds to land and 6,016 trust deeds and mortgages. Total fees collected amounted to $17,455.21, a slight increase over the same month of 1927.

This increase in fees is due to the new schedule of rates adopted by the State Legislature last year," declared Stoll. "The present scale of fees for recording papers should be amended to effect a saving to the public in general, because, under the present photostatic system of recording, there are many instruments that can be recorded at less cost by the page than this office is now required to charge by the folie of 100 words."

Among other miscellaneous instruments recorded during April were included 4 plats of new subdivisions, 3 condemnation proceedings, 19 redemptions of property from foreclosures and 3 face discharges of mortgages.

DOWN AMONG THE SOD BUSTERS

Rotarians, not all of them by all means, went down to Fairbrook Springs last Thursday afternoon and spent many good hard hours in labor in an effort to turn an old dump into a beauty spot. The cub reporter from the Record went along and, following are some of the notes he took of the job as it proceeded:

There was a time when John McCullly was a real working man. Frank Harmon remembers the day. But times have changed, so has John. John no longer believes it is necessary for a man to labor with his hands. We all agree that he is right. No man should work harder than he wants to. John said he went down to the springs to rest for some of the fellows that needed rest. Anyway, when you see that "grateful" grade around the big willow tree on the southeast corner, just remember that John McCullly did the job when he wasn't resting.

Apparently Dr. Bushnell thought he was going to do some straw breaking from the back of a big mule. He bolted down to the springs with a pair of riding boots on spurs and all. Then no one could find a horse for him to ride so he had to take a shovel and go to work, just like the rest of the crowd. It was a hard day for the extractor of molars.

Sure Fred Cochran was on the job early. Like most lawyers it takes so little time and energy to make a living that he is able to devote much of his time and effort to garden matters. So when it came to any technical question about which way a shrub should be planted with the wind, or without it, everybody had to call upon Fred. He is a wonder when it comes to providing advice—but that's his business anyway.

Harry Clark, from down among the aristocracy on Baseline road, believes in preparedness. There is not the slightest doubt but what many of the diligent workers would have had to quit early if it had not been for his forethought in seeing to it that everything needed for such an important public project was right at hand, by bringing applicants for school teaching positions up to confer with Harry, is entitled to a world of credit.

Rotarians, as well as Northville, are indeed fortunate in having one man who knows something about how to handle stone. When you drive by the springs down on Fairbrook and see all of that fine stone work on the south end where overflows have been found necessary, just remember that Frank Harmon did the job. He had a lazy tendon, and if it had not been for this handicap, his work would have been constantly interrupted in what he was trying to do by Edd Keeney. Says Edd had Windsor on the brain (no, not water) and of course that didn't help any.

Don Yerkes, Sr., aided by one or two others, did most of the work accomplished at the park. They did get some help from some of the neighbors in the vicinity, but not much.

Ray VanValkenburgh, a sort of master of ceremonies, did some work, but was constantly interrupted in what he was trying to do by Edd Keeney. Says Edd had Windsor on the brain (no, not water) and of course that didn't help any.

Ed Lapham had a little advantage on everyone else who turned out to work. You see he came down on the job in perfect physical condition, while others stood about planning, sweating and sobbing about the hard work and hot day, he kept hurling the rocks out from the gutters, lifting great hunks of sod to needed places and piling up brush and other refuse as though it was mere nothing to him.

Come to find out Ed has been secretly training out in his own backyard for many months past. If Northville folks need a good man with a number 2 shovel, just book up this fellow as he can do as much work in one-half day as the average ten regular No. 2 experts can turn out.

Funny how some fellows pick out all the dainty jobs. Ernest Miller and Edd Keeney shied around the edges of the work yard until they saw a nice, easy, soft job. Then how they did grab it off. Some flowers had to be planted down by the water's edge. It took these two gents from 1:30 o'clock until 6:00 to put out about two dozen iris roots. And then they had to call in Edward Dow Mills to dig them.

Have you any basements you want excavated? Well, don't hire a steam shovel. Just contract with Ray Richardson to do the job. He will make the dirt fly you can bet. And never once did he let up during the entire afternoon.

You would think when a man was in the coal business that he could heave up tons and tons of dirt on a shovel and never whimper. You have got another guess coming. It is quite apparent that Longue Parmentier does not shovel any coal onto the tracks that leave his place. He was in the John McCullly class, when it come to doing his turn with a Number 2.

Of course, if this was coal, it would be different," he offered as an afterthought.

William H. Gordon, war the first one on the job. But that didn't mean so much after all. He quit right in the middle of the afternoon and constantly disrupted the good work being done.

SOUTH LYON PUTS NEW LOCK BOXES IN POSTOFFICE

Postmaster J. V. Baker completed

last week the installation of 108 new steel lock boxes in South Lyon postoffice at a cost of better than $275.

This makes a total of 224 of the steel boxes, as 116 were installed about 28 months ago. The new boxes, however, are more modern than those put in previously. The majority of them have already been rented to patrons.

Postmaster Baker is doing all possible to make the postoffice here as up-to-date as any in towns of this size in the state. —South Lyon Herald

Protect Your Investment in Your Model T Ford

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer.

So that you may get the greatest use over the longest period of time at the lowest cost, we suggest that you take your Model T Ford to the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you an estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure may enable you to maintain or increase the value of the car and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

No matter where you live you can get these Ford parts at the same low prices as formerly and know they are made in the same way and of the same materials as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Labor cost is reasonable and a standard rate is charged for each operation so that you may know in advance exactly how much the complete job will cost.

PIONEER TAKEN AFTER ILLNESS OF
ONLY A FEW DAYS

Resident of Five Points Had Witnessed Progress of the County

Vincent Stuckey, 88, prominent pioneer of Redford township, died suddenly at his home on Grand River avenue, west of Five Points, Monday evening.

Born in Somersetshire, England, in 1843, he was brought here by his parents when he was not yet two years of age. The family settled on the old Twelfth street road. Following two trips to Australia, the family returned here, purchasing the present property which originally included Grand Lawn cemetery. For 57 years Mr. Stuckey had lived at the Grand River avenue home.

In addition to his brother, Charles Stuckey of Redford, he is survived by his son, Raymond, and four grandchildren, who reside on the old homestead. A daughter died in infancy and his wife passed away two years ago.

Funeral services were held last week Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the home, with Rev. H. H. Davis officiating. Burial in Grand Lawn cemetery.

Coming to Redford as a pioneer, Mr. Stuckey had lead an unusually active life, retaining despite the early hardships, especially good health until the day of his death. His life was rich with unusual and interesting experiences that included a 70-day ocean trip from Australia, more than a half century ago. He had seen Grand River avenue grow from a plank road for Lansing stage coaches to the present magnificent super-highway. He was buried under a tree under which he had often rested when the cemetery was yet a portion of his farm. —Redford Record

SECURE LICENSE
THIS YEAR BEFORE YOU GO FISHING

Northville Fishermen Have Got to Study Law for a While

When fishermen of Northville take rod or pole in hand and start out to fish this spring, you better have in your left hip pocket a license from the great state of Michigan. And you had better know something of the new fishing laws passed by the state conservation department. There are many, many, many of them. In fact it is hard to find a state law or regulation pertaining to fishing that has not been changed.

So that no local resident will run afoul of any of the fishing laws, following is presented a digest of the open season on various kinds of game fish to be taken in the state, together with the size and creel limit. It is unlawful to sell any fish taken in the inland waters of the state.

For the first time this year, male trout fishermen will be required to take out a rod license at a fee of $1.00. There has been some question as to the legality of the act, but as no one has contested it, the department has gone ahead with plans to issue licenses. Minors and female fishermen need no licenses.

Following is a compilation in the fishing laws.

Trout and Salmon—All kinds, except Mackinaws and lake trout, May 1 to September 1; seven inches, 15 in day; 25 in possession; with hook and line only.

Wall-Eyed Pike—May 1 to February 1; 18 inches; 10 in day, 10 in possession.

Grayling—Unlawful to take at any time.

Bluegills—June 16 to March 31; six inches; 25 in day, 25 in possession.

Coho Bass Rock Bass and Crappies—June 16 to March 31; seven inches; 25 of each in day; 25 in possession.

White Bass—May be caught, in any season; seven inches; 25 in one day; 25 in possession.

Sunfish—May be caught in any season; six inches; 25 in day; 25 in possession.

Perch—May be caught in any season; seven inches; 30 in day; 50 in possession.

Whitefish, Ciscoes and Carp—October 1 to December 30—may be speared with permit, and taken with hook and line without.

Suckers, Millet, Redside and Carp—Taken in any season; may be speared in designated non-trout streams of lower peninsula during March and April; also speared through the ice during January and February in inland lakes and streams designated as no-trout streams; may be dip-netted in rivers and streams during March and April. May be speared from March 1 to May 15 in designated non-trout streams, in upper peninsula; may be dip-netted from March 1 to May 15 in streams of upper peninsula.

Grass Pike—Taken during any season with hook and line; may be speared through the ice during January and February in non-trout lakes and streams.

All kinds of fish except large and small mouth bass, wall-eyed pike and brook trout may be speared through the ice in the inland lakes of the state and in streams designated as non-trout during January and February.

Frogs—June 1 to October 1; number and size unlimited; unlawful to spear with artificial light.

Clams, Mussels and Pearls—June 1 to March 31; size and number unlimited; must secure license.

Hook and Line—Defined by law to be a single line or single rod and line with hook or hooks attached, held in the hand or under immediate control when being used for still fishing.

Casting or Trolling—Defined to mean a single line or single rod and line with hook or hooks attached, with a natural or artificial bait, not to exceed six inches in length, and one or more hooks or gangs or hooks attached to the line; unlawful to troll from motor boat, excepting lakes directly connected with Great Lakes.

Non-Resident's Angler's License—

Non-residents over 18 years are required to procure a license to fish for license to take all kinds of fish except brook trout and large and small mouth bass, $2.00. Fee for license to take all kinds of fish, $5.00.

Shipment by Non-Resident— One day's legal catch of fish may be taken or shipped out of the state by a licensed fisherman.

Public Lakes—Any lake connected with any public waters by any means whatever by which fish can migrate to and from such waters for any length of time during any season of the year is a public lake.

Tuberculosis of cattle is gradually being reduced in the United States as the result of continued eradication work carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the various States. Of some twenty million cattle under supervision for this disease, nearly three-fourths are in herds which have successfully passed one or more tuberculin tests.

New shoes which fit correctly are comfortable from the start. They do not need the process known as being broken in.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS FESTIVAL EVENT

Prominent Couple Living
West of Here Host to Old Friends

Relatives and friends came last Saturday, April 28, to help Mr. and Mrs. Mileson Saunders of Piety Hill celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The feature of the evening was the mock wedding. Best man and bridesmaid were the same as at the first wedding, a quarter of a century ago. Many useful silver gifts were presented to the host and hostess, also a lovely bouquet of rose buds from their daughter, Mrs. Walter Wermuth of South Bend, Ind.

Guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hartick, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Saunders, Daniel Smith and William Lucas of Detroit; Mrs. Florence Hawick and son, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Springer, daughter Bernice and son Wilson and Miss Leslie Underwood of Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMullen and daughter Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Wilma McCullough, Edward McGill, Alvin Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Nixon and daughters and son of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Leeks and son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Knisely of Lansing, A. Kinsey and daughter Jane, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Throop and son Wilford, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Chas Everett, Miss Doris Darling and Vernon Smith of South Lyon.

A delightful time is reported, which includes a most sumptuous luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are very thankful for the kindness shown them and are now planning on what they will do twenty-five years from now.

NORTHVILLE CUBS WIN FOURTH STRAIGHT GAME IN TILT WITH YPSILANTI

Bringing home their fourth straight victory this season by defeating the Stony Creek base ball club from Ypsilanti the local team now heads the league. Accurate fielding and punch hitting brought the Northville club a victory game played here Sunday afternoon on the athletic field by a score of 4 to 3.

The invaders led the cubs throughout the game until the last inning, when the Stony Creek pitcher went wild and walked three men to fill the bases. Eddy Wood, heavy batter of the local club, doubled and left two men in, making the score 4 to 3. Stony Creek made 2 runs in the fifth and 1 in the ninth, while the locals made 1 in the second, 1 in the eighth and 3 in the ninth.

The league sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Ann Arbor has drawn much attention in and around Northville. Principally because the local aggregation has up to this time shown great form. Next Sunday game will be played at Pitts, where the Northville sluggers hope to pile up their fifth victory.

There are six teams in the league, and this time the Northville team is the only one that has gone without a defeat. Indications are that next week's game will prove the real merit of the local club, and if they remain victorious from it they will have little trouble in winning the pennant.

As warm weather approaches, keep only a small supply of cereal foods, such as breakfast cereals, flour, rice, corn meal and so on in the pantry, and keep these in tightly closed glass or tin containers. Any chance weevil eggs in these foods develop quickly in warm weather, but with these precautions will only affect the container where they originate. Otherwise they may spread throughout the food supplies. If you are closing a house for the summer, dispose of all cereal foods left on hand.

Keep your sewing machine oiled clean, and in good running order. Learn to know its attachments, and how to use them. Keep your tensions and stitch adjusted to the kind of material you are using. Use good needles of the right size for the thread and material with which they are to be used.

The apparently mysterious occurrence of rain at temperatures below freezing is explained by the fact that there is sometimes a thin layer of cold air on the earth with a much warmer layer above it. Rain may get through this thin layer of cold air before it has time to freeze.
