

NEW HOMES GOING UP IN HILLCREST MANOR THIS YEAR

Construction Starts on Another and More Soon to be Erected

Development of Hillcrest Manor, one of the finest subdivisions opened in western Wayne county in years, and lying just to the west of Northville on expansive hills overlooking all of Wayne county, has actively started during the past few days.

One new house is now under construction, and it is known that five, and possibly six others, may be built during the present summer. One of the new homes that is being contemplated, if constructed, will be one of the most attractive residences in Wayne county. The intended builder has in mind the purpose of two extensive lots that adjoin each other. There is a wonderful view in every direction from the site he has in mind, and if his home is constructed as he plans at present, it will be one of the show places of Northville.

The new house that is being built is located on West Main street and Bloomer Drive. It will be finished early in July.

The Rex Dye residence will also be completed and landscaped in the next few weeks.

One of two for owners of Bloomer Drive are also contemplating the construction of new homes during the present summer.

One of the things which has been of vast aid to Hillcrest Manor is the fact that the gravelled streets constructed a year ago withstood all of the heavy rains of last fall and winter, without being damaged the slightest anywhere. There is not a single wash on any drive in any part of the subdivision, and the streets are as hard as concrete paving.

The hammers of the subdivision had the advantage of having some of the finest road gravel that has ever been found in eastern Michigan to use in the road construction. Recent excavations show that practically the entire subdivision lies over a big gravel bed which is of inestimable value to prospective builders.

It will not only provide gravel for the buildings that are to be erected, but will provide material for the numerous drives and walks that will be built leading to the homes.

Thirty days ago prospects were not at all bright for building activity during the present year, but present indications are that Northville will see more building of new homes this year than it has in the past five or six years.

VALUATION JUMPS NEARLY $50,000 IN YEAR'S TIME

Village Assessor's New Roll Shows Rapid Growth of Northville

Is Northville growing? There is nothing that tells the story so well as the valuation figures.

Village Assessor Charles Sessions has just completed making his tax roll for the present year.

The total of the roll has reached $3,126,055. Last year the total was $3,085,850, an increase of over $40,000. And this increase has been made in spite of a slight loss in the amount of personal tax. The entire increase, it will be readily seen, comes from realty.

The growth of Northville, the figures indicate, is not only steady, but of a rather rapid nature. An increase of nearly $50,000 in a year when business has been anything but good, is something that any community should be pleased over states Mr. Sessions.

"I am quite surprised at the amount of new buildings I found. Many new houses have been finished since last year and there has been some building to the business section. I understand there is going to be more," he stated.

It is freely predicted that by the end of another two years the assessed valuation of Northville will have reached three and a half million, as there is every indication that the present year will see twice if not three times as much building as took place last year. There are at least a dozen new houses under construction, and many more are being planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom have left for the AuSable river, where they will spend the next two weeks fishing. No use in anyone else going up, as Harold expects to bring enough of the speckled beauties home to provide the whole town with all the law allows.

The Measles Measles

According to health records, the epidemic of measles which has been sweeping over southern Michigan, is now on the decrease. Reports show that in Northville, the epidemic is fast on the wane, for which we are truly grateful. Investigation by school and health officials show that the spread here, was largely due to children who were not in school. It has been the practice at the school to have physicians make an examination each morning of all children and to send home those who might be coming down with it. However, it is known that many cases have not been reported and it is from these that officials believe the contagion has spread.

SERVICE BUREAU TO HOLD BANQUET THURSDAY EVENING

National Secretary is Coming to Give Address of Evening

The Merchants Service Bureau are planning a big banquet and meeting for Thursday evening, May 24th, to be held in the Presbyterian church, at Northville.

The Bureau has been and is conducting a "Pay Promptly" campaign as well as a Membership Drive. They have been very successful in securing several new members and a good number of live prospects. The banquet is to be the climax of the Membership Drive while the "Pay Promptly" campaign will continue until June 30th.

It is the Merchants Service Bureau's good fortune to have for their speaker, the National Secretary and Educational director of the National Retail Credit association, Guy H. Hulise of St. Louis, Missouri.

They are particularly fortunate in being able to have this national officer as his services are in steady demand all over the United States.

This meeting is open to Bureau members, their wives and friends.

OVER $1,000 WORTH OF SHRUBS PLANTED

By the end of the present week over $1,000 worth of shrubbery will have been planted along the South Lyon road and around the Meadowbrook Inn that has recently been erected by J. W. Lathrop. Most of the trees are of pine and evergreen, there being four or five different varieties. There is some spruce in the planting that is being made.

Nearly all of the trees are from 7 to 12 feet high. It is the purpose of Mr. Lathrop to make the place the most beautiful in this part of the state. He has other plans in view which call for a considerable expenditure in the next few weeks.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES IN THE METHODIST CHURCH

With no advertising the public kept in mind the gracious memory of Motherhood, last Sabbath, when the church was filled to its capacity in the main auditorium. The pastor spoke on the "Old-Fashioned Home," furnishing the memory with thoughts of the old time home, its walls made sacred with the incense of a sainted parents' prayers.

The junior choir sang, "Faith of Our Mothers," as a special feature to the delight of the congregation. A pleasant surprise was a Detroit troop of 36 Boy Scouts camping on our suburbs, as they filed in the church. All there in memory of mother, sainted or living.

The day was blessed with its emphasis of this great ideal of home, "Mother."

New Paper May Be Suppressed

The Northville Dreadnaught, a scandal sheet edited and published by Harry German & Son, makes its appearance this week. Filled with news the Northville Record will not publish—except at so much per line—Harry German has decided to get out his own paper.

You haven't seen it? Well, just look on the fourth page of section two of the Northville Record, and there it is. Admittedly it is breezy, but not racy. It is rich in bargains and it is rare in ideas.

There is just one thing that is now causing any worry, and that is whether the publication of the Dreadnaught will be suppressed by Postmaster Neal, but that's Harry's worry.

The name of A. C. Balden was omitted from the list of recent new car purchasers in the Dreadnaught.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS BEAUTIFY GROUNDS AROUND BUILDING

Fix-up and Clean-up Spirit is Fast Spreading Over the Village

It's catching! The clean-up, fix-up, doll-up spirit has invaded school official circles, and as a result, workmen during the past week have transformed the front of the public school grounds into a most attractive place.

Bare spots have been planted to shrubbery and lawn seed has been planted where weeds grew before. The shrubs have not been put in any hut and in fact, the ground they cover has been laid out in such a way that they form beautiful floral beds.

Just as soon as the work in the front of the building is completed, the men will be put to work fixing up the back yard. They plan to move on the ash piles and other refuse and level the entire section down just like parking.

Of course, the space is only a 2 by 4, but the school board officials are going to make that lot as good as 700 tramping feet will permit. Right across the street Mrs. Brock has removed the big wooden fence, taken down some other rubbish, and transformed the big vacant lot into a well graded place.

So it goes all over town.

Dr. Randall Schuyler declares that never before in the history of Northville were so many truck loads of rubbish removed.

"It must be that people are digging out tin cans and other rubbish they have had hidden away for twenty years," he declared yesterday. "I never saw so much stuff as they have been able to pick up around the trucks couldn't get it all hauled away by Saturday night and they had to work during the first part of the present week," he added.

Northville is fast on the way to become Michigan's cleanest and prettiest little city.

ANOTHER CHILD IS DEAD OF MEASLES

Measles has claimed the second victim in Northville, in the death of Edson Taylor, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Gandy street. Taken sick the latter part of last week, the lad was beyond assistance of doctors and was removed to the University hospital at Ann Arbor, where specialists diagnosed his case as being hopeless. Death came Monday afternoon at 1:30. Burial took place Thursday in Adrian, where the family originally lived. The boy was a nephew of Ross Kenner of Novi.

Congressman Hudson Makes Announcement of Candidacy

HON. GRANT M. HUDSON

Congressman Grant M. Hudson announces that he will seek renomination and re-election in the fall elections.

The Sixth District of Michigan comprises the counties of Genesee, Ingham, Livingston, Oakland and a part of Wayne, which latter not only contains the northern group of township but also the cities of Highland Park, Farmington, Northville, Farmington, Dearborn, Wayne and all the northern parts of the city of Detroit extending into the 1st, 9th, 13th, 15th, 17th, and 21st wards north of Walbridge and Goethe streets and east of Hubert Street on the east side and the 8th, 10th, 12th, 16th, and 18th wards north of Virginia Park and Joy Road and west of Highland Park and all of the 22nd ward on the west side of the city.

TREES AND SHRUBS GIVEN TO THE CITY BY FLOWER ACRES

Nursery Aids in Plan to Beautify Springs and Park at Fairbrook

City employees under the direction of Commissioner Ray Van Valkenburgh, will within the next week or so complete the work started recently at Fairbrook Springs park. There was some filling and grading necessary after the Rotarians had completed their task at the park and this has about been finished.

Northville has indeed been fortunate about this park improvement. Not only have 15 or 20 business men donated much of their time to manual labor down at the place, but practically all of the shrubbery that has been used to beautify the park has been contributed.

The latest and largest gift came from Flower Acres Nursery. Hundreds of dollars worth of trees and shrubs were brought down to the springs and planted—all the gift of Flower Acres. While up to the present time not many flowering plants have been put out, it is the intention of the city to see to it that within the next week or so, a large number of flowers that will bloom this year are planted.

The new fence that is to be put up will be finished soon. As soon as the fence is up the rose bushes that have been planted along the stone wall, will be trained upon the wiring so that in a year or so the entire fence will be covered.

H. G. Wells, landscape artist, who has been directing the work, has recommended to the city officials that a spot on the northeast corner of the place which is so much that it has been difficult to cover it over with earth, be left in a sort of natural state with additional planting placed in from time to time. Thus the city has decided to do.

It is understood that the city expects to fix up the back end of Central park just as soon as the work on Fairbrook Springs has been completed. When Gandy street was paved last fall considerable excess dirt was scraped in between the trees. There it has remained untouched since the paving was completed. The village expects to level it off and plant it in grass seed.

Famous Swedish Pilot Declares Northville Made Aircraft Best Made Anywhere—Delegation From Rockford Backing Flight Guests of Local Exchange Club

"I have selected a Stinson plane for my flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden, after inspecting every other kind of plane made, and visiting every airplane factory in the country. I make the decision after tests had been made of every airplane on the market—and when the flight is made in July it will be in the best aircraft manufactured," declared Bert R. J. Hassell, pilot of the "Greater Rockford," that flew from the Stinson-Northville airport, Wednesday afternoon on its first hop to world history.

The famous Swedish pilot made this declaration at Wednesday's meeting of the Exchange club. Present with him at the session were L. H. Fredericks, editor of the Rockford Star, Arthur Lundberg of the Bird Ring Company of Rockford, Philip Hohn of the Hohn Page company, Evans Anderson, cashier of the Security National bank of Rockford, Otto Miltum, chairman of the Rockford to Stockholm flight committee, and a representative of the department of commerce from Washington, who told the Exchange that every person in Northville should be proud of the aircraft made here.

William Mara, secretary of the Stinson Aircraft corporation, and Clifford Casteline had charge of Wednesday's program.

Mr. Fredericks, editor of the Rockford Star one of the best newspapers published in the middle west, gave the club members considerable interesting data on the proposed flight.

"There is no reason why the Atlantic seaboard should be the starting place of air travel across the ocean. You will note that it is our purpose to establish a new route from the interior to the other side of the Atlantic—a route that is almost entirely over land," stated Mr. Fredericks.

There are out three short jumps over water, excluding Lake Michigan. From the Canadian coast to Greenland is about 400 miles over water, and from Greenland to Iceland the distance over water is something like 300. From Iceland to Norway our proposed route, there are 548 miles of water to cover. You can readily see that this route can easily be made an airline with landing fields and supplies, always near at hand. From the Atlantic seaboard to the European coast it is something like 1900 miles and all over water. Fog and storm almost constantly prevail, while over the route we have picked, fog is not bad and storms are not as frequent as along or over the ocean. Flying within the Arctic circle is almost as easy as it is down here," he said.

Mr. Mara explained that the Stinson Aircraft corporation some time ago made it a general policy not to sell crafts for overseas flights and in conformity with this policy the money sent by a German flier a short time ago was returned. A week or so later a Stinson craft was purchased by this flier from another customer, so the corporation is helpless in preventing long ocean jumps.

Pilot Hassell who has been here for sometime testing out the plane he is to fly to Stockholm, highly lauded the spirit of the employees of the Stinson factory.

It is just like one big family down there. I never before saw such a fine spirit in any organization. It is no wonder that Mr. Stinson and Mr. Mara are building the best airplane made in the world. Every employee seems to put his best right into his work, and when they get that, you can't help but get a good product."

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lovell entertained the C. B. Bridge club at their home Seldom Inn, on Wednesday evening.

Miss Eleanor Eckley of Detroit, has returned home after spending several days with her aunt, Mrs. S. A. Lovell.

FIRST BURIAL IN POTTER'S FIELD TAKES PLACE HERE

Alfred Peters Goes To His Grave With No One To Mourn Death

From out of this world into the unknown—without a friend or without a relative at the graveside—and only acquaintances to do the little kindly things so necessary in times of sorrow, Alfred Peters, 49 years of age, was laid to rest Wednesday afternoon in Potter's field, the first burial that had ever taken place in the little spot set off from the rest of Rural Hill as a final resting place for the forgotten.

Peters died last Friday night at Sessions hospital. His body was removed to the Schaefer undertaking parlors and for five days a diligent effort was made by both Nelson Schrader and Ray Casteline to locate some friend or relative, but all without avail.

Peters left no money. In fact he had no property of any kind as far as could be found out.

But his burial was not of the kind ordinarily given to the forgotten, the usual pine box and the gravel covering.

His body was placed in a casket, the gift of Nelson Schrader, a casket as good as often provided for the more fortunate. And the undertaker saw to it that funeral rites took place at the burial, the Rev. William Richards conducting the services at the grave.

For who knows? Possibly sometime in his life Peters might have earned the rights to have a king's burial. Anyway there isn't much doubt but what he was entitled to all that was done for him.

He came to Northville some six years ago. He worked for Glenn Salow for a time and the last three years he had been employed by Earl Montgomery. During all this time he never told any one where relatives lived or might be located. He did say at one time that he came from Detroit and that he had property in Highland Park, but a search of the records has failed to locate anything which might reveal information as to his past.

CONTRACTS LET FOR NEW BUILDING AT STINSON FIELD

Paint Shop to be Moved Out to Grounds—Speeding up Production

The contract for the new building project at the Stinson-Northville airport was let the first of this week. The company will start immediate construction, according to Ben Jacobson, superintendent of the Stinson Corporation. Construction of the new paint shop will be one of the finest workmanship and material and it will be the most up-to-date and efficient plant in operation today, according to Mr. Jacobson. The building will be 30 feet long and 50 feet wide with a 12 foot ceiling. It will be equipped with spray booths, inactivation, ventilation system, sealed with celotex and vapor proof lightning equipment. These modern improvements are expected to not only make it more pleasant for the men employed there but to speed up production.

While the paint shop is being built it is also intended to build a smaller building 16 feet long and 13 feet wide to use as a store house for paints and lacquer.

The present hangar at the field will be turned over to Bruce Braun, service manager of the company, who will use it entirely for Stinson service work. The expansion program that the factory is undergoing is expected to make a great increase in the production and raise the output from four a week to one a day. Up to the present time the factory has been unable to accommodate a production of this size. A little delay has been experienced at the factory in view of the fact that the company producing motors for the Stinson ships has been unable to cope with the immense demand for their product.

Expectations are that the two new additions to the plant will both be ready for occupancy by the first of June.

REV. J. W. PRIEST IS WINNING FRIENDS IN NEW LOCATION

New Baptist Pastor Came Here Entire Stranger Last Year

Coming to Northville an entire stranger to the community, in the brief period of a little over half a year, Rev. J. W. Priest, of the First Baptist church has won for himself a host of friends, not only in his own church circles, but in the entire community. He takes an interest in the affairs of the town and his circle of influence is constantly broadening.

Priest was engaged in preaching, and was ordained in that state.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest are both graduates of the University of Chicago. Mr. Priest receiving the degrees of A. B. and D. B. from that institution.

In 1904 Mr. and Mrs. Priest came to Michigan, where he became pastor at Fenton, remaining there seven years. In 1911 he accepted a call to Albia, where he remained a little more than eight years. During this pastorate a Sunday school addition to the church edifice was built, costing $10,000.00. In December 1926 Mr. Priest was called to Albia to preach the sermon at the dedication of the new pipe organ, a memorial to Remond Joseph Priest, a son, who died in Albia in 1915.

In February 1929, Mr. Priest became pastor of the First Baptist church of Sturges, where he remained for six years, having there to take charge of the Baptist Ministers' Home at Fenton for one year during the absence of the superintendent. The Fenton Home belongs to the Baptist Ministers' Aid society of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, of which organization Mr. Priest has been secretary for nineteen years.

Mr. Priest became pastor of the Baptist church of Northville in June 1927. Mr. and Mrs. Priest have one daughter, Frances Priest, a teacher in the Fenton high school.

COMING ATTRACTIONS at the PENNIMAN ALLEN

BANCROFT ENJOYS NEW ROLE IN "TELL IT TO SWEENEY"

If you can imagine an actor who has been on the stage all his life, suffering from stage fright while facing the movie cameras, you can picture George Bancroft's plight during the filming of scenes from "Tell It to Sweeney," which will be at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday, May 20th. This is a new Paramount production introducing him and Chester Conklin as comedy team-mates.

The company had been at work on location for more than a week, with just the two principals, Bancroft and Conklin, appearing in those preliminary scenes. The troupe moved to the studios, where some interiors were made.

In this scene, Director Gregory LaCava told Bancroft, "you are to kiss the heroine, Doris Hill."

Bancroft started to shake in his boots, and continued to shake when the cameras ground.

"Scared, to death," he declared. "First time in years I've had to kiss the leading lady."

"A GIRL IN EVERY PORT" IS FILLED WITH GOOD LAUGHS

"A Girl in Every Port" The name itself should be enough to explain this unusual yarn about the first mate of a tramp steamer. This tale of the sea is at the Penniman-Allyn theatre, Tuesday, May 22nd.

"A Girl in Every Port," is one of the most unique and, at the same time, one of the most thrilling pictures of the seas ever screened. Victor McLaglen, the Captain Flagg of "What Price Glory," is featured as "Spike Madden," the mate. Supporting him are Robert Armstrong, the pugilist in the stage play of "Is Zat" So and eight of the most popular, beautiful and talented of the younger motion picture actresses who are featured players.

The story deals with the romantic adventures of a burly first mate in the various ports of the world which his ship touches. It takes the audience, through the twisted streets and the queer cafes haunted by the sailors when they go ashore, in ports of call. In each port there is a girl whose name is carefully noted in "Spike Madden's" note book.

Howard Hawks, who has several original and unique productions to his credit, directed the production for Fox Films.

"MY BEST GIRL" FILM HAS COSTLY SEQUENCE

$40,000 a minute! No that isn't the long-distance telephone rate from here to Mars—it's the cost of just one sequence in "My Best Girl," Mary Pickford's new comedy-romance, at the Penniman-Allyn theatre Saturday, May 26th.

The sequence is enacted in a huge set representing a section of a downtown business district. The set occupies two city blocks, and at kept between two and four hundred workmen busy for a month in erecting the four and five story buildings and laying the street car tracks and the paving.

Although the cost of the set itself, the salaries of the cast and of the twelve hundred electricians and extra people used, totaled in the neighborhood of $120,000, the scenes take only a few minutes on the screen, which makes it probably the most expensive sequence per minute ever made.

While the set is a faithful copy of a business section, complete from street cars to traffic signals, the realism of the scenes was enhanced by several unscheduled traffic jams during the filming, which, as Miss Pickford said, "made everything look just natural."

"My Best Girl" is a story of the 5-and-10-cent stores, with the star in one of her famous "gingham roles" as a little stock-girl. It is said to be the funniest picture she has ever produced, and critics are acclaiming it generally as the best film of her career.

It costs a great deal more to let your place run down than to keep it up as you go along.

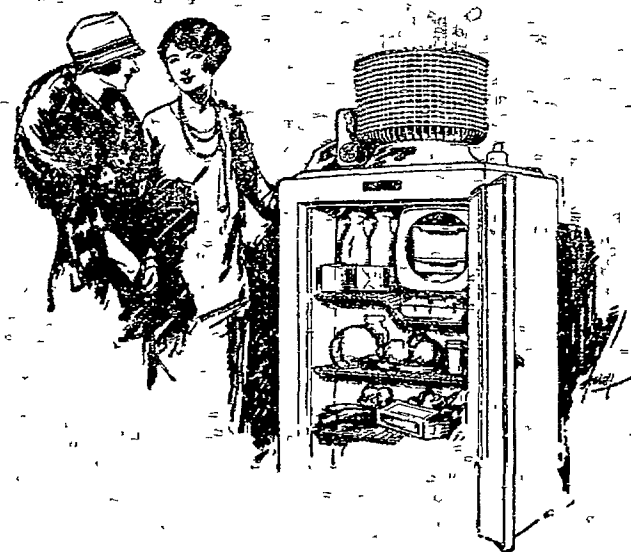

Fertilizers should be purchased on the basis of the analysis printed on the bag and never by the trade mark.

The highest-grade fertilizer, which meets the individual requirements is the most economical to buy, since a greater percentage of the purchase price goes to pay for plant food.

Annual larkspur, blue, lavender and pink, planted together in masses make a most effective bed.

One of the best top-dressings for lawns in the spring is good garden loam with which a liberal quantity of bone meal has been mixed. Scatter it evenly.

PAID SNOOPERS

The Michigan State Digest in its last issue has an extensive write-up of an investigation made by the commissioner of pardons and paroles into the treatment extended paroled men from prison by various so-called charity organizations of the state. He sent around to the various cities a detective from the state police force, who posed as a man just out from prison and looking for work.

He went to various cities of Michigan and called upon numerous so-called charitable organizations that each year, some of them many times during the year, make a "drive" for public funds to support their so-called charitable work.

What did he find out? Every place he called he was turned down. Not one offered aid or tried to get him a job.

His report pertaining to the Civic League of Kalamazoo is of especial interest because of the fact that the writer one time in an official capacity endeavored to have this same organization aid a young fellow who was just out of one of the state penal institutions. It did nothing then and according to the state investigator the organization would do nothing for him.

His findings simply confirm a belief that most of the so-called charitable and uplift organizations of the state are nothing more than organizations of scandalous snoopers who thrive on easy salaries and the nebulous moral stories most of them seem so anxious to hide.

No matter what his other shortcomings might be the one pardon commission agent has done the state by exposing these so-called charitable outfits.

SENATOR SINK

When a man has the address of a senatorial district and is under for under Senator Charles Sink who has a period of many years has represented Washington county in the state legislature as representative or senator, he has announced that he is a candidate for re-nomination. The candidate in fact that he represents also includes Oakland county, Washington, and Oakland and making up what is known as the 12th senatorial district of the state. Doubtless there will be no candidate to oppose him in the primary. And there, shouldn't be in the final election Senator Sink is one man who should be kept in the state legislature just as long as he can be induced to stay there. He is a tireless worker. He never tries to put anything over that is at all shady, and he is constantly on the alert to block any piece of legislation which might not be for the best interests of Michigan. He can generally be found supporting any worthy bill that might be pending. Indeed, the 12th district is fortunate in having a senator of the high calibre of Charles A. Sink. Michigan needs men of his type in the legislature and once we have got them there, it is a wise policy to keep them there.

PRETTY HIGH PRICED

Governor Al Smith of New York, the Tammany candidate for president, testified the other day that he hadn't spent a cent towards winning the presidential nomination—but the very next day one of his bread and butter men—a New York paving and gutter contractor testified that he had made loans and donations already amounting to something like $70,000 in behalf of his campaign. Then came along another witness who said the Smith forces spent $41,500 in California to get 8,700 votes. That's about $5 a vote. With Tammany in national politics, it looks very much as though the price of votes is going to be pretty high this fall. That's one thing about Tammany—it is an organization that doesn't care how it gets them.

GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN

ALPHEUS FELCH

Forced to leave his boyhood home in Maine because of ill health, Alpheus Felch, who was elected governor of Michigan in 1845, started for Mississippi, but because of the severity of the weather encountered on his way, he decided to give up his trip to Mississippi when he reached Cincinnati, hearing much of the prospects of Michigan and the mild weather in this state, he came to Monroe and started practicing law. He remained there until 1843 when he moved to Ann Arbor. He was 37 years old when he located in the University city.

It was in 1835 when he was elected to the state legislature, and continued a member until 1837. It was during that time that the first general banking laws of the state were enacted. Felch was the only member of the state legislature to oppose the measure. He declared that it would wreck the currency system of the state. In 1838 he was made one of the bank commissioners. Meanwhile, Felch's prediction came true and wildcat banks sprang up like mushrooms. The state was flooded with "wildcat" money. Frauds were uncovered everywhere. Because of the exceptional amount of work which developed from the panic of 1837, Felch was forced to resign as bank commissioner in 1839, not being able to stand the huge amount of work he was called upon to do. Soon after he was appointed auditor general, but only held the office a few weeks before being elected one of the supreme court.

In 1841 he was elected to the United States senate for the first time and served until 1847. In 1847 he was elected to the United States senate and served until 1851. During his senate career, he was one of the two radicals belonging to the states who were held to the "free" position. The Central for $200,000 and the Southern for $300,000. At that time there were 19 counties in the state. President Pierce made him a member of the commission to settle the Spanish and Mexican land claims in California. In 1876 he completed his work in California and returned to Ann Arbor where he engaged in law practice. After his return he was nominated by the Democrats for governor and also for the United States senate and twice for the supreme court, but failed in election. For many years he was a member of the board of regents of the University of Michigan.

Charles Johnson returned last week from Grace hospital in Detroit, where he underwent an operation. He is now able to be outdoors again.

Foolish Men Try To Shove God Into A Corner

With minds full of nonsense the race of men think they are greater than the One who created them.

Taking our native and acquired cunning, we try to outwit God. See what a mess we make of it all—and the years seem to give us very little sense.

Prominent men of Israel wanted to get rid of Christ and sought to trip him into disloyalty to the Roman government which they hated.

Seeing clearly what their game was He stopped them with a very keen question. When He was through with them they quit asking questions.

NEW DANCE HALL ONE OF THE BEST IN THIS SECTION

J. W. Lathrop Constructs a New Building Near Hotel on South Lyon Road

One of the best constructed dance halls in this section has about been completed at the Meadowbrook Inn, corner of the South Lyon and Meadowbrook roads in Novi township.

The property owned by J. W. Lathrop and managed by F. H. Sykes, is fast being made into a recreational center. The hotel has been connected with the dance hall by an enclosed arcade that is to be heated during the winter time.

The interior of the dance hall is plastered in colors, and the lighting arrangement gives a very pleasing effect.

It is the plan of the management to keep the dance hall for only acceptable parties. There will be no so much per dance, and those coming to enjoy an evening will not be annoyed by dancers who drop in for a few minutes and then go on to some other place. Mr. Sykes states that he is going to build up a high class trade, and if he follows out this plan, there is no question about what he will.

For variety, cut eggplant in cubes, soak in salt water and cook slowly in a Spanish sauce made of tomato, green peppers and seasoning.

Rub lemon juice over a mutton roast of chicken before cooking, as it makes a whiter, more tender roast with an elusive flavor.

Adding two tablespoons of orange marmalade makes lemon sauce for pot-au-feu extra good.

ALL AMERICANS ON THE FIGHTING LINE

Many correspondents came in from the Champagne front a hundred miles away, dust covered and fogged, but aglow with what had happened there (July 15, 1915).

Their facts came largely from Col. Douglas MacArthur (now major general), the dashing chief of staff of the Rainbow division, who was accurate and dependable, but never spoiled a good story and so was called "the correspondents' friend."

The Rainbow, with New York Irish and "Albans" in the front line, had endured hours of hellish shell fire on the "intermediate position" awaiting the German infantry. Little knots of men in blue came drifting back. They were of the new "Polish army," they said in fair English, being mostly Polish-American volunteers.

"The P-I ye are the Polish army," the Irish replied. "Ye're Americans, hke us. Stay here with us and fight." And they did—Thomas M. Johnson in the Century Magazine.

Once Populous City

Now Desolate Ruin

On a high plateau in Asia Minor lie the desolate ruins of the largest city of the ancient Hittite empire, according to the report by H. H. von der Osten, of the Hittite Expedition of the Oriental Institute, University of Chicago. The existence of a city at this remote place has long been known, but the site has hitherto been ignored by scientists. Mr. von der Osten, while excavating at a Hittite site nearby, turned over to the excavator the ruins of a broken-down stone wall. The walls of the city were originally more than thirty feet thick, he reported. The walls were strongly fortified by round towers set at strategic points, and on the top of the wall was a platform for the remains of a fortress. The city was built more than 3000 years ago, he reported, and a great city at the time when the Hittites were at the height of their power, he said, a desperate attempt to save the Egyptian throne.

Had to Prove Fitness for Life in Tropics

The other day a man applied for a post in the French colonial service in order to tell him to see if he wanted to live in a tropical climate, a candidate was placed in a very uncomfortable room, lined with cork to maintain an even temperature.

The room itself was made of cork, and there was a cork floor. The temperature was 100 degrees, and the humidity was 100 percent.

A bottle in the room provided him with exercise, and his tongue felt as if it were melting. The reactions of his body were also noticed. Food was inedible in the room, and the atmosphere was not disturbed.

Women Clergy

A wireless message from Berlin to the New York Times reported the decision of the ecumenical synod according to which women may now enter the clergy in the Evangelical church as long as they remain celibates. The training for the clergy is the same for both sexes. The women will be as signed as teachers to girls' homes and hospitals, homes for the aged at prisons, and will conduct religious services for children and instruct girls' Bible classes. Women clergy will not be allowed to perform marriage ceremonies, conduct funeral services, baptize, preach or administer sacraments. Their salary will amount to about three-fourths that of male preachers.

FORD BENZOL

1. More Power
Because Ford Benzol has more available heat or power units per gallon than gasoline.

2. Cooler Motor
Because of more complete combustion.

3. More Miles Per Gallon
Because Ford Benzol burns more completely and the engine will give more power while operating on a leaner mixture.

4. Greater Ease in Starting
Because Ford Benzol vaporizes more readily than gasoline, an explosive mixture is formed more quickly in the carburetor.

5. Smoother Running Motor
Because, in Ford Benzol the explosion in the combustion chamber exerts a steadier pressure on the piston to the end of its power stroke.

6. Less Carbon—No Knock
Because of the toluol content in Ford Benzol the formation of carbon is decreased. Also because of the slower rate of burning the tendency to knock is decreased.

7. Less Crankcase Dilution
Because better vaporization and more complete combustion prevent cylinders from becoming flooded with liquid fuel; there is therefore less chance of thinning the crankcase oil.

8. Less Motor Trouble
Because better lubrication, less carbon and smoother action insure a longer-lived motor.

ALEX JOHNSON IS NEW FLYING-FAN AFTER SKY TRIP

Rides in Machine Painted Like Sweden with Swede at Controls

"Not me, you'll never see me go up in an airplane."

It was Alex Johnson talking. He had just witnessed a big Stinson craft fly over the skyline at something like 150 miles an hour.

The next day Alex had to go out to the Stinson field where he is laying the foundation for one of the big new buildings that is being erected.

As he stood beside the hangar directing the workmen out on the field, a Stinson craft all painted up in the national colors of Sweden.

Then a Swedish voice called to Alex, "Come on, Sweden, and take a ride." (That is what the pilot said when translated into English.)

An aircraft painted up like Sweden with a Swedish pilot at the controls—could any native son of Sweden refuse?

Not Alex Johnson.

So into the craft he climbed—and for one hour Alex Johnson saw more of Michigan than he ever thought existed. Now he declares that the next time he goes to Sweden for a vacation he is going to buy a Stinson craft and fly over.

"Didn't know it was so nice riding up in the air—especially if you have got a good pilot that talks like me at the controls," declares Alex.

Exhausting Them

Jane—I just came from the drawing room.

Helen—There's no drawing room in that building.

Jane—Yes, there is. My dentist has an office in that building.—Toronto Globe.

The Restive Audience

Roy Goetz, the New York imitator, said the other day that talking movies would soon be perfected. He expected legitimate drama to disappear within the next five years.

"It's already disappearing," he went on. "Let me tell you an amusing story."

An actor-manager was playing legitimate drama on the road. He put on Rosen's "Ghosts" in a middle western town, and the audience that night numbered exactly one person—one, no more.

Anyhow the company played a while, and Rosen's "Ghosts" pursued its usual way for two acts and a half.

Then an usher brought out the actor-manager friend, a note from the audience. It stated:

"Am I necessary?"

Urges War on Weevil

A "yellow peril" among insect pests is taking the place of a "native American" nuisance, according to J. E. Gookins, of Outagamie, Kan., in an address before the meeting of Omala of the American Association of Cereal Chemists.

The once troublesome grain weevil, he said, is becoming extinct, but its decline is accompanied by the increase of the rice weevil. The two insects look very much alike, but the rice weevil can easily be distinguished because it can fly.

Mr. Gookins recommended granary fumigation as a cheap and sure method of finishing off the granary weevil for good, and for combating the hordes of the rice weevil.

Electric Cure for Colds

Colds can be treated by applying electric heat to the inflamed interior of the nose.

Electric current is sent between metal plates at each side of the nose, so that the inner membranes of the nose and not the skin receive most of the heat produced.

Several remarkable successes have been reported after a few minutes of this treatment.

DEHOCOS WIN IN ONE SIDED GAME WITH HOWELL

Games Scheduled for Both Next Saturday and Sunday

Inter County League results: DeHoCo 27-Howell 13. Holly 3-Pontiac 0. Municipal 15-Recheater 12. Onondaga 8-West Point 7. A most one-sided game of baseball was presented to the local fans at DeHoCo park Sunday, May 13th, for the Inter-County opener. Disappointing as it was as a baseball feature, it yet held a certain amount of interest as a baseball feature due to the number of situations created by bad plays and wild base running. Jaska, DeHoCo's star short, for instance, stole second, third and finally home successfully.

Howell, according to Sunday's results in the league, is perhaps the only weak sister in the line-up, but it is understood in league circles that they are prepared to strengthen their team considerably.

Next Saturday afternoon, DeHoCo will play the Windsor All Stars. No charge is made for admission on Saturday.

Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the second game in the Inter-County League schedule, at DeHoCo park will be played by the Municipal club and DeHoCo. Municipal club is a strong contender in the race, and the fans are assured of real baseball in this contest.

NOW WHO'S BOSS?

There is a longing in every man's heart for a fishing trip, but, of course, there is one thing to stop him from going, and that is his wife.

James Smith was one of these unlucky men, for he was married and had not been on a fishing trip for 20 years. But nevertheless, he went to town and purchased some fishing tackle and was going on a trip with Mr. Miller and Dr. Brown. All plans were made, when Mrs. Smith "popped up" and said that Mr. Smith couldn't go, for he would waste around in the cold water and then she'd have him home sick. Besides there were guests coming and he would be handy to take them for drives.

While the Smiths were at the station for their guests, four of his friends planned a way to make Smith "boss" in his home. The "bide changed" then and Mr. Smith went on his first fishing trip in 20 years.

This was only an assembly program given by the Junior class, last Friday afternoon, May 11th, but it might work, you never can tell. Advice to men who like to go fishing: Try being "boss" in your own home. It worked fine here and Mr. Smith went on his fishing trip.

Cast of Characters: Husband—Alfred Smith. Wife—Madeline Cyle. Dr. Brown—Rudolph Weyant. Mrs. Brown—Irene Bennett. Mr. Miller—Dick Kerr. Mary Heath—Gladys Ludwig. Mrs. Jenkins—Margaret Stillwell. Her Daughter—Bernice Clark. The play was directed by Miss Hawes.

Songs of Plain Folks

By James Lewis Hays

Engineer

The whistle blows the shriller
As the leaves of Autumn fall,
I'm longin' for the throttle,
For the frosty rails that call!
The chokin' rails are callin'
And I cannot help but hear
For it sounds like marchin' music
To an old time engineer.

The limited is flyin'
Over the same old shinin' track
But another grips the levers
In the place of "Lucky Jack."
I must mount her cab this evenin'
Just to look around and feel
That if pension time had waited,
I could still be ridin' steel!

Oh, I've sent her through the darkness
When the rain was more than bad,
And I've crawled her over bridges
With the rivers runnin' mad!
Give me back my run and engine,
I'd be happier by far
On the line than sittin' idle
Like an old, unwanted car!

LANGFIELD TELLS OF EFFORTS TO AID LITTLE CRIPPLES

Rotary is Doing Much to Aid Unfortunate Tots in the Country

Northville Rotarians, who are especially interested in work among crippled children, heard an excellent talk a few days ago by one of their own members on the subject. Edward C. Langfield, who during his long association with local Rotary work has taken a keen interest in this branch of the club's efforts, had this to say about the situation.

The International Society for Crippled Children is committed to the idea and has suggested ways and co-operation of the Club Hospital Committee, of the Imperial Shrine and other nationwide agencies, which touch the problem in the fields of welfare, public health and education. Let us confidently hope that there may be in the very near future a confluence of interest and activity for to be sure, unity would mean strength and a more effective grappling with the whole problem.

"We must never lose sight of the ultimate objective. It can never be simply a work of human repair to which we are committing ourselves, but to something more far-reaching, nothing less, in fact, than, the complete eradication of crippledness. As every one knows, such splendid progress has been made through the development of medical and surgical knowledge that astonishing results of reclamation are possible.

"This is a case where the old adage applies with tremendous force and point—Prevention is better than cure."

"The sources of the trouble must be stopped for cripples will be produced as long as the causes remain. What are the causes?"

"Improper feeding and insufficient feeding."

"Contaminated foodstuff.
"Lack of fresh air, sunshine and exercise.
"Uncleanliness
"Unhygienic conditions.
"Unsanitary housing, etc.
"There may be others, but these are sufficiently comprehensive. When you take the measure of these causes, you are brought up squarely against the whole problem of life from biological point of view. That diseases and deformities exist, aside from accidental causes, reveal that there is a woeful ignorance and neglect of the natural principles of life and living. There would be no disease at all had life been lived and life were lived now, in conformity with natural laws, etc.

The things that enter immediately into a clear cut program are these:

"Action. The salvage of the cripples. That is our first and main task at the present time. They are here and they are constantly appearing and must be recognized. Here it is not ideals that count so much as deeds. Speculation on the deep problems raised can be added, but it is action that is called for first, and again ACTION.

"Development. The program of the International Society must be seriously developed. We will be pardoned for thinking that our program is on the high lines and more comprehensive than any other movement on behalf of crippled children, which exists on this continent today.

"Education. By education is meant the dissemination of all kinds of knowledge, which shall tend to dispel every illusion and delusion that may exist in the minds of people concerning the purpose and scope of the work, the dissipation of the deep ignorance which is a prime cause of the whole trouble and the acquainting of all concerned with what is wondrously possible if the cripple is gotten early and seen through.

"Appeal. The work and need are urgent. Here, the appeal that is most effective is the personal one, for it is ever true that one loving heart sets another on fire.

These, then, are the key words for a national movement—action, development, education and appeal. All of these linked together will count for much in this most human venture of modern times.

"Proper care of the cripples and the unfortunate member of society has been commanded and commended by the spiritual advisers of practically all the civilized races in the world. The greatest of them all said, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto Me.'

The spiritual values involved can never be truly estimated. They cannot be catalogued as the material things of life, can, but for all that, they are among the most worthwhile and the most enduring.

"We get some idea of what they mean by witnessing the smiling faces of handicapped children in whom new hope has been born, and all because 'we cared' to care for them. They are also reflected in the very name of the many 'Sunshine' societies, classes, and schools and most all the Rotary clubs in 44 countries, which dot our land today."

"BACK BALANCE"

Position—Sitting, grasping toes with hands.

Exercise—Hold on tight to toes, roll back and return to sitting position.

The eighth exercise is called "Back Balance." You start at sitting position, grasping four feet firmly at the toes, arms must be between legs. Now pull four feet off the floor and roll backward; then return to sitting position. If you do not get this the first few times, keep at it. Roll backward and forward, tugging and pulling for all you are worth. Even though you do not get back to sitting position, go as far as you can.

"SIDE GUEST ELEVATOR"

Position—Lying on your side; legs straight, toes pointed. One arm resting on thigh, other under head.

Ninth Exercise—Raise arm over head, touching floor over head. At same time raise leg high.

Lying position on your right side, legs straight, left arm straight resting on the side of the thigh, right arm can be extended beyond the head, bent with head resting on it. The exercise is to raise left arm overhead, slightly bending arm at elbow, touching floor over head, at the same time raising left leg as high as possible. (This latter move is called abduction of leg.)

At the same time that you raise the arm, you also raise the leg. Emphasize raising leg high. Do this twenty-four counts and turn over to the left side and continue twenty-four counts with the raising of right arm and leg.

These New Draperies Cost Me Only 35¢
I was about to give up and then what mother told me of a wonderful dry cleaning soap called Solvite which, she said, would make them just like new and save me the cost of another pair. They look new to me or one who sees them, but they really cost me only thirty-five cents!

"It was to be a saving five or ten cents from my dry cleaning these things and the money was well turned out and saved. Solvite, the wonder soap, does what you can't do with ordinary soap. It cleans and makes them look like new and saves me a lot of money. I'll be a Solvite user from now on. I'll be a Solvite user from now on."

The second and by far the most pleasant annual banquet of the teachers and school board members of Zone One of Oakland county, was held at Walled Lake, Thursday evening, May 10th, nearly 150 being present. Try These

A substantial salad which furnishes the nutrients that are furnished by the meat dish makes an attractive main dish for hot-weather meals:

Sweetbreads and Celery Salad—Cut sweetbreads which have been parboiled and blanched into small dice and add half as much diced celery. Marinate in a cold place in French dressing until needed. Mix with mayonnaise dressing.

Veal Salad—Cut cold roast veal into small dice. Add one-half the quantity of crisp diced celery. Marinate in French dressing in a cold place. When ready to serve mix thoroughly with mayonnaise. Season with salt, pepper and paprika. Pile in a mound on a platter garnished with lettuce leaves. Spread a little mayonnaise over the top. Garnish the base with sliced beets, olive rings and pimentos. Sprinkle finely chopped hard-cooked eggs over the top.

Jellied Mayonnaise—Soak 1 teaspoon of gelatine in 2 tablespoons of cold water for ten minutes; dissolve over hot water. Beat into 1 cup of mayonnaise. Before it hardens spread over the slices of sweetbreads.

Tongue and Spinach Salad—Cook one peck of spinach until tender, drain and press out liquid thoroughly. Season with salt and pepper to taste and one teaspoon of lemon juice. Pack in small tinbale molds and chill. Slice cold boiled tongue and chill. Mark each slice of tongue with jellied mayonnaise just before it gets firm and chill again. Unmold the spinach, arrange the tongue around it and garnish with lettuce. Top each spinach mold with mayonnaise.

One pair of sweetbreads without additions will serve four persons. The above recipe will serve six.

Editorial

Yes, Sir, the automobile business is a great game. Look around a little for yourself. Your nearest friend may not buy his auto from you. His judgment of cars is different. If it grieves the salesman because his friends did not buy, he would be in grief most of the time.

A business man, Mr. Auto Dealer, whom you have spent dollars upon dollars with and have boosted his business may overlook you. He may damn the mail houses, etc., but go buy his car elsewhere. He may not even take a demonstration from you and turn a deaf ear to your tale. Gratitude is forgotten. He may have heard of some car possibly that you sold where the church slipped, but he did not know that the driver rode the clutch.

He sees a leaky radiator or a cracked block on a new car that his neighbor bought. He does not know that his neighbor forgot to put alcohol in his car, etc., etc. The car is blamed where it should have been the driver.

Then, sometimes the buyer comes in contact with a dealer or salesman that will tell the buyer anything that pleases; the car of the purchaser—80 miles a hour when the car will go but 70, 18 miles on a gallon of gas when 12 is actual; rarely any oil service for six months, no brokerage fees, and anything else you want goes.

But after the car is purchased, it is different. You find you can go 55 miles per hour and the speedometer is 5 miles too fast. You get less mileage on gas and plenty of oil, your service you pay for, and after figuring you will find you have paid plenty of dollars in brokerage fees.

The auto then is left by the buyer, and the dealer's dealer has the satisfaction of a car that follows him in the same.

German Siding

Loyle (Dutch) German established a new record last week for the firm he is salesman for. He sold and delivered four new Pontiac cars in one day. During the week the firm sold and delivered eight new Oakland and Pontiac cars, which is also a new record.

Tom Cunningham, Charles Paulin, Harold Fugan and Ed. Kenev all attended the auto fire theft and accident insurance convention at German Siding show room, last week-end.

Elmer Reed is out of town for a few weeks.

Harry German Jr., listened attentively to the Arborphone Radio's beautiful music the other evening until the announcements of the ball games came. When the announcer called out that Detroit had lost another he left.

Harry German, Sr. asked A. C. Balden if he did not think it was time he purchased a new automobile, and "Butch" said, "Yes," so in five minutes a sale was made. German stated it took five months to sell Conrad Langfield, so the average time is all right.

Miss Mills, Miss Griffin and Miss DeWare, of the Sanatorium, all bought Pontiac cars at German Siding. No doubt, they considered how easily the cars handle, how smoothly they run and would cause them no mechanical trouble. That is the kind of an automobile that good thinking women want. A color of upholstery and color of paint should be a second consideration.

Personal

How much did you pay down on your car, Mr. Snyder, and did you have to have a signer on your note?

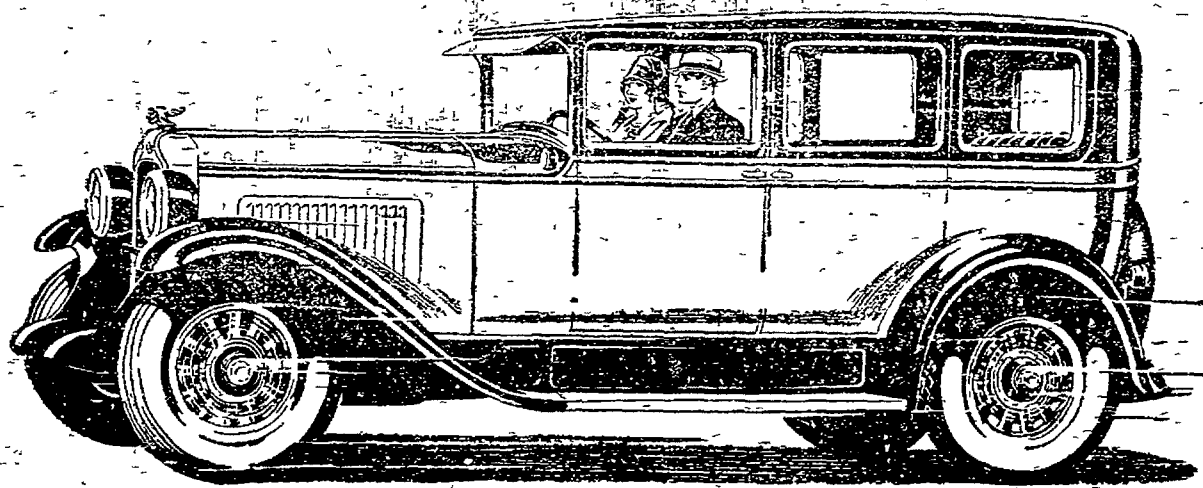

How many bottles of home-brew did you make last month and whom are your customers?

Did your wife's hat cost more than $2.50 and do you always have codfish for dinner?

Does your husband take his bath on a Saturday night if Christmas falls on Sunday?

CARD OF THANKS

PONTIAC SIX

PRODUCT OF new series GENERAL MOTORS

Bradshawtown

Frank Bradshaw, the tiny proprietor of the Recreation Inn, is no better at this writing. He lost over two pounds during the warm days last week, and now only weighs 243 pounds.

Bill Ward is still making up good lemon and orangeade, and will prove good success as long as a man does not know water from fruit juice.

The DeLuxe All American Oakland Sedan that stood in front of the Bradshawtown Recreation Room the other evening, drew the attention of many passersby. It certainly is a handsome, smooth running auto for $1345.00 delivered. Owner said, "I purchased it from German & Son, Northville."

Tim Bradshaw entertained the Knitting Club, Monday night. Messrs. Salow, Mordock, Blake Tibbitts, Tudor, Balko, Hamilton, McQueen, Fritz, Boyden and Johnson were his guests. At 11:00 o'clock a dainty luncheon of wieners was served by the host, who wore a dainty wig and a velvet smile.

Armstrongville

Steve Armstrong, known as Steve, himself is doing a big business in his garage these days. He delights to work on Oakland and Pontiacs, but he has but few of those kinds to work on. He says, "Those cars seem to be in use most of the time."

Four new Pontiac cars sold in one day by German & Son passed through here last Thursday.

Doctor Ross Kenner, who has been a resident of Armstrongville for the past few weeks, is practicing in the Armstrong hospital. He removed a bendix, fixed the cut-out and sewed up the sale of a Pontiac all in one afternoon.

Frank E. Dodge of Novi bought a new All American Six Oakland Sedan, Tuesday, from German & Son. The village marshal of Armstrongville cautioned him about excessive speed with a new car.

A good auto is always a good car if used right.

Heatley's Corners

Al Heatley gave Jim Black a good trimming after he entered his barber shop, Thursday. Jim challenged him, and it cost him 50 cents after the hair trim was finished.

Charles Westfall had a close shave last Friday morning. In the afternoon he visited at Phoenix Mills and returned through Waterford.

Charles Hamilton of Novi, called at Heatley's Corners, last week, long enough to get a shoe shine, and announced to the natives that he may be a candidate again for supervisor next April.

Barber, Fred has a new razor strop, a clean collar and a keen tooth on his razor. He took a ride in one of those new Pontiac coupes, and it made him anxious.

Guess on These

If your uncle's sister, is not your aunt, who is she?

What is it that goes with an automobile and is no use to it, but the automobile cannot go without it?

Did you ever hear about the Scotchman that took a present of a gold fish to a golden wedding?

Answer to No. 1—She is your mother.
Answer to No. 2—The driver.

Special Notice

Do you know that we do not charge BROKERAGE on the sale of new cars? We handle our own paper, and it may save you $25.00 to $50.00 brokerage. Think it over when buying on time.

GERMAN & SON.

Answer These Questions

Why did Thomas Harland drive down to German Siding from Wason, buy a new Oakland and then after five months come again and say, "Her is a great car?"

Why did George Hick, after driving all over Florida, Texas and Michigan in the past three years with an Oakland sedan say he is interested in another Oakland?

Why does Charles Thornton, Sr. and Jr., who are familiar with tests of accuracy both drive Oakland cars?

Why does Sam Pickard after driving two Pontiac cars under the severest kind of tests, come back to German Siding and buy his third Oakland Motor Company make—a Pontiac?

Secrets Worth Knowing

An unreliable automobile dealer or salesman may sell you a new car of old model representing it as the latest in so doing the offer for your used one as a turn-in will be big. But remember, the depreciation on the new car will be still greater and your loss comes to light when you again want to make a change. An automobile priced, for instance, at $1,000 or $2,000, does not mean it's real value. There may be a so-called trading allowance offered by the manufacturer to the dealer besides his regular commission. That will enable a salesman to make a much better bid, say $100 or $200 for the used car, than his legitimate competitor. It is very necessary that you have extreme confidence in your dealer in buying an automobile when paying in cold cash or its equivalent—$600 to possibly $5,000. If you buy a $40 suit of clothes or a $100 ring, you think often and place confidence in your dealer. Then it is much more essential that investing many more dollars for an automobile you know and have extreme confidence in the firm you deal with. Then, again, buy of the one who is interested still in you and your car after you have paid out your money. You should not be forgotten, but are entitled to much consideration. Your car also should be the interested patient of the salesman, if need be, like the patient of a physician whose care he is entrusted to.

The list will be furnished free to those who request it.

NORTHVILLE HIGH WINS FIRST GOLF GAME FROM PLYMOUTH

On account of Plymouth only playing three men in the golf match, Monday afternoon, May 9th, Northville really won the meet because Plymouth had to forfeit three points.

Nelson of Northville won his match and made three points for his team. Thompson was lucky enough to get a half point, and with Nelson's three points and the free other ones, it gave the match to Northville.

Pease of Plymouth, turned in lowest score of the bunch, with an 87. He played against Thompson. The game could hardly be called legal, so another game was played this week.

The team that plays Plymouth in this game will be sent to compete in the regional tournament.

STUDEBAKER'S $795 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records by Traveling

1000 miles in 984 minutes

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars under $1000 were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car named for Albert Russell Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($795 f. o. b. factory), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

HIGH SCHOOL MAY HAVE PAPER PUBLISHED NEXT YEAR

Hoag, Stalker, Cohn interviewed.

All Favor School Paper

The plan of having a school paper next year to take the place of the annual, has caused much discussion on the high school campus.

Last fall a movement was started to have a paper, but the school board thought it wise to wait another year.

The plan to cut out the annual came because the annuals have never been successful financially.

Miss Irene L. Hore, principal of the Junior high, said, "I believe a school paper would prove a 'pop' in high school activities and athletic games."

Miss Stalker, when asked concerning it, said, "The annual is looked to by every senior class as a remembrance, but if it is the place of the school paper, it could take the place of the annual."

"I favor a school paper," said Mr. Cohn, "but I believe the annual should be maintained."

STORY OF PANDORA IS HIGH SCHOOL PAGEANT

Keep Thursday, May 31 1928, open for the annual dancing class pageant which will be held in a town park that evening.

This pageant will be free, and the town people are asked to bring their lunches and eat them on the lawn.

Also, bring blankets, cushions or newspapers as there will be no seats.

The play is a Greek myth entitled, "The Story of Pandora."

BIOLOGY CLASSES TAKE FIELD TRIP

Tuesday was a red-letter day for the biology and geometry classes. The biology students enjoyed it because they had a field trip, the geometry classes because they had no class.

The object of the field trip was to see how many kinds of flowers could be identified. The class of twenty-eight was divided into seven groups of four, each group trying with the others for finding the most.

There was much surreptitious trading. If one group had "no" adders' tongues, but had an abundance of bloodroots they traded bloodroots for adders' tongues.

Everybody had violets. There were pale blue, deep blue, yellow, white and dog-tooth violets.

Two opposing factions each found a peculiar plant with shiny leaves and chocolate-brown blossoms down near the ground. Each side hoped that no one else had found them.

The girls' group showed their specimen to Mr. Cohn first, though.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLFERS LOSE SECOND MATCH TO DEARBORN

Northville high school golfers lost heavily to the Dearborn team in their second match this season, at the Plymouth Country Club, Monday, May 9th.

The four fellows who took part in this match were a different bunch of players than those who played in the first game.

But both times the Northville team lost by the same score.

Low score was turned in by Lapper, of Dearborn, in each match, 87 in the first, and in the second turned in an 89.

Dick Kerr of Northville, made lowest score with a 91, and broke even with his men on the match.

While Fred Kerr, a brother, also broke even with his opponent and made 105.

The foresome of Northville was D. Kerr, H. Smith, G. Cogswell and F.

WHEN THE GOLDEN DAWN HAS TURNED TO SILVER GRAY

The first few months of school are like a bright and sunny morning. When everybody's happy and feels "ambitious." Things boom and everything goes off fine.

Then comes the early afternoon, which is the next two or three months. The sun has risen in the heavens, and is directly overhead. Work is slowing up; the morning spirit is dying away.

Late afternoon comes with the last month or two. We begin to think of the night-time. We take out the red bandana many times and wipe off the sweat, and then get a cool drink of water, in order to hold out those last few hours. A frown is taking the place of the morning smile, but we must stick.

Vacation is the night—when we rest for the morning of school, that bright sunny morning of school; that bright and sunny morning—when everybody's happy and feels ambitious.

SPELLING CONTEST WON BY LITTLE DETROITER

The spelling bee down at the Coliseum on the state fair grounds was a big affair. Geraldine Buff, of the Northville champion, went down to defeat, however, on "swayed," along about the middle of the contest.

The winner was Bessie Dole, a red-haired little seventh grader, just five years over from Scotland. She had spelled in the great bee of 1926, so she knew what it would be like.

In the sixth grade she wrote out the words in the palm of her hand. By the seventh grade she spelled with her eyes wide open and her hands at her side.

A boy, Clyde Loeffert of Millford, was the runner-up, or rather he and Dorothy Heffernan of the St. Benedict school, were tied for that honor, as neither of them were able to conquer "delineate."

Elizabeth Burns, St. Gabriel school, who had third place, was defeated by "pilot," which took Hulda Fennell, last year's winner, from the contest at Washington, D. C.

Geraldine had hosts of loyal boosters. A bus was chartered, and it carried forty-three hopeful friends.

All the way down to the fair grounds they sang snatches from "Bots o' Blarney" and "My Blue Heaven." As the heavy-laden bus rolled into the grounds, they yelled, "Yea Geraldine!"

She was taken to the contestant's headquarters, and there they had to leave her. They watched her anxiously whenever the group of pro-buster and judges came to her, drawing a breath of relief when they passed to the next in line.

During the recess they crowded around her, showering her with words of praise and encouragement and when at last "No 19" left the line, the "Northvillians" who had not gone home sighed disappointedly. Anyway, we can be glad that she was not the first down," they said.

ELECTION TIME

With only a few weeks of school left it is not too early to think of the coming Student Council election. When the presidency and several of the minor offices of the council will be filled for the ensuing year from the coming senior class.

The presidency of the council is probably the most important office on the high school campus. The president, with the consent of the council appoints the annual staff and several council officers. The council as a body sponsors the all-school affairs.

This year several plays were sponsored, an all-school party, and the carnival. The council is the link between the Student Union and the School Board, and looks for the best interests of the school as a whole, so its importance cannot be questioned.

Next month when the election is held the office of president will be filled. He or she should be chosen, on the grounds of ability as well as popularity. Both these qualities are necessary to a successful council president.

Get interested in these things. Look over the possibilities for the office. Try to get your candidate nominated and elected.

Some of the things the council should do next year is:

First, Arrange a "School Calendar," at the beginning of school, setting dates for the year's big events in about evenly divided periods.

Second, Have the business staff of the annual appointed as soon as school begins, so as to see a financially successful annual before a contract is signed.

Third, To avoid confusion of club and class meetings, have class meetings on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons; clubs on Monday or Wednesday.

Fourth, Make it impossible for a student to hold over one high school office.

Fifth, Refuse to let any more clubs organize.

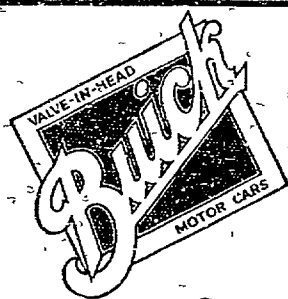

GERALDINE BUFF'S NAME SECOND ON SCHOLARSHIP CUP

The scholarship cup of Northville high school was given by Mr. L. Blake last year. Each name to be engraved is chosen from the senior class, and this person must have the highest average for all four years.

This year, Geraldine Buff has the honor of having her name engraved on the scholarship cup to represent the class of '28. Last year, Erwin Sibley represented the class.

There is lots of room for more names, and it is hoped that the future students will work for a still higher average in scholarship.

Potential borders should be made ready to receive the new plants. In preparing a new perennial border, dig down to a depth of two feet, putting in cinders, stones and the like for drainage. Add several inches of well-rotted manure and then the garden soil which has been well worked. As a general rule the border should not be more than four feet wide.

The DETROIT EDISON Company

FAMOUS LANDSCAPE DIRECTOR TELLS HOW NORTHVILLE CAN BE MADE AMERICA'S BEAUTY SPOT

By W. F. Therkildsen,
Landscape Director, Greening
Nursery Company

The landscape possibilities of this area, involves the whole out-of-doors and the spirit and atmosphere that makes for the success of community development, and that is, not confined to landscape architecture or any other effort that man may develop.

It has to do with the utilization of the natural resources for the further development of the area in which you people have established your homes. This is a very real obligation that becomes a neighborhood, community, village and city trust. It is an obligation that requires your co-operation to a man, in order that the accomplishment of the ideal may be attained. It has been very interesting to me to see the proposed boundaries of the metropolitan area, that are shown upon the maps, and explained by the gentleman who has just preceded me.

It indicates a condition that, to me, illustrates the phenomenal growth of the territory within this proposed metropolitan area.

Just a few years ago, seemingly, and but a pause, as we measure the sons of time, Cadillac and Marquette were exploring this very area that we have heard under discussion.

Since I can remember, Detroit's de luxe hotel was the old Cadillac, and then came a newer and finer one, the Ponchartrain which in the march of progress, a few years later, was razed to make way for a monstrous bank building, and now, almost before the paint is dry upon the bank building, a great addition is being made.

We hear of and see illustrations of what we are told, is to constitute this great Metropolitan area - Northville is to be congratulated that it is recognized and is included in this great area. This area is made necessary by the growth of that young giant - Detroit - that each month bursts with its growing - the new soil that was cut out for him the previous month.

Friends, is it not a wonderful thing to live in a community where the very atmosphere creates that enthusiasm that constantly causes one, as he finishes his day, to unconsciously put his stake ahead for tomorrow? Using the term of the engineer which day to do with his surveying and the setting of stakes to indicate his measurements and findings. The future of Northville involves a condition that makes necessary constantly setting the stake ahead, and this same condition confronts Detroit and all of the cities that come within the proposed Metropolitan area.

As I have said before I want to tell about not only landscaping this area, but the bigger and broader ambition of beautifying the entire community. The love of growing things and the great outdoors is born in most of us. It is natural for us to love the hills, the trees, the bushes, the grass, the flowers and all of the things that contribute to this great panorama that Nature lays before us. Unconsciously we love these things, but we accept this contribution of Mother Nature merely as a matter of course, but few of us know what our own obligation is and what our obligations to Nature are.

Our obligation to our neighbor and to the public at large, our obligations in the protecting and fostering the growth of flowers and trees, which are undisputedly God's most precious gift, beauty and pleasure. You people here in Northville have around you a rolling country that adds greatly to the possibility of a future development looking towards the attainment of the beautiful and that condition that is a constant inspiration to the people who are fortunate enough to reside in this vicinity.

The flat country that is everywhere prevalent around the rim of the lakes, is uninteresting in its topography, and requires unusual landscape development, with its attendant unusual expense, in order to make it outstanding and beautiful to the eyes of man. Your rolling country with its hills, be they big or little, offer that favorable condition for the settings of Nature that cause returning travelers to speak enthusiastically of the beautiful lakes of Switzerland that nestle in these mountains, of Lake Como in Northern Italy, with its wonderful beauty, and of the great group of Irish lakes that have made the Emerald Isle so charming.

Can't Talk To Wife, Too Cross and Nervous

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me. I was so cross and nervous. Vinol made me a different and happy woman." - Mrs. N. McCall Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates and liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST BOTTLE makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Northville Drug Company. - Adv 2

ing, and of the Scottish lakes that have been the scene of much of Sir Walter Scott's poetry and novels. These were the inspiration for that classic, "The Lady of the Lake" and it is these same surroundings that you have here in Northville, that makes the possibility of the future most alluring.

One thing that people who have remained in the great Middle West have to contend with, is their lack of enthusiasm for the attainment of these things. This enthusiasm is so noticeable in California and on the Pacific coast, that we are pleased to refer to these enthusiastic and outdoor lovers and lovers as Californians, the "jacs" being an ending that is supposed to convey to those who listen to our facetious remarks, that these people are crazy on the subject of California, and with a pretty thorough knowledge of California from Tia Juana to its border on Oregon, I say that these people in California have much to be crazy about. I do not blame them for their enthusiasm. As a matter of fact, I congratulate them upon their ability to maintain it.

For truly, after much world travel, I have come to the conclusion that the Garden of Eden is that section in which we find happiness and pleasure, and the association with people of congenial and similar taste and attainments, so that being happy and having the ideal country in which to live, is, in truth, a matter that cannot be measured except by your mental viewpoints.

I am reminded of the "Californiac" who visited his friend in the East and with the usual spontaneous method of the Westerner, he failed to notify his friend that he was expecting to pay him a visit. When he arrived at his office the friend's comment, after an enthusiastic greeting was, "Well, Bill, why didn't you write me that you were coming, or wire me, so that I might be prepared to entertain you?" Bill's comment was, "I didn't think of it. Out in California we don't have to think of it. We always have something on tap ready for the entertainment of our visitors and guests." His friend's reply was, "It isn't that, Bill, we have much to show you, but it so happens that I have to attend the funeral of a business acquaintance, and I have agreed to act as a pallbearer at this funeral. It leaves me in that embarrassing position of having to ask you to take care of yourself until I return. You can go to the movies or something, and I will be back again in a few hours."

The Californiac's reply was, "I am not interested in the movies. We make movies in California. If you don't mind I will go to the funeral with you." All right, old top, if you feel that way about it, come along. They proceeded to the funeral. After the minister had finished his eulogy, he turned to the gathered crowd and said, "Many of you were acquainted with Mr. Blank and we will be pleased at this time to hear from you."

Apparently the friends were absent, for there was no response to the invitation. After some little waiting, upon the part of the preacher, the Californiac rose to his feet and said, "It was not my pleasure to be acquainted with the deceased. I did not know him in this life, but I hope to know him in the life that succeeds, particularly if he comes to California, and while there is such a large gathering here and so many intelligent faces, I want to take this opportunity to say a few words about California."

This is the spirit of the Californiac. He is a booster. He has nothing to say about California except that which is good. If it is in a country that they claim has eternal sunshine, and one should be so unfortunate as to visit there at the time of a heavy downpour, as was the case at the Shrine convention at Los Angeles, the Californiac will tell you that this was the first storm that they have ever had within the memory of the oldest settler.

Now, what are the things that make a residential section attractive. They are not smoke stacks, nor the hum of machinery, nor the milling thousands of grumpy workmen that pass in and out of the great steel mills and automotive factories, but the sunshine, the great, out-of-doors, the beauty of flowers and trees, and also the beauty of the life and vivacity that is everywhere noticeable among the youth and the grown-ups in the community that has community beautification as its objective.

Referring again to our friends in California and all along the Pacific coast, these people, I repeat, are doing. They live in the outdoors and they appreciate the marvelous things of beauty. They know the value of human association with trees, plants, flowers and other growing things.

In Portland, its marvelous hedges of roses are the attraction. This is not a story, it is the truth. At every gateway there hangs, by agitation of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, a pair of affairs with a tag attached which reads, "The visitor's shears. Help yourself to our roses."

Do you realize, friends, that this country, never abused, has resulted in people carrying away from Portland that mental impression that has given Portland a reputation which has found its climax in the name, "The City of Roses."

And referring to the experience of your friends and those with whom you come in touch, you know that the thing they report to you when they return from Europe or from Crater Lake or from Lake Louise, even in far away Alaska - the thing they tell you about most enthusiastically is the marvelous plant growth, the wonderful trees, the unlimited variety of flowers that are to be found everywhere. This proves beyond all question of doubt that the most deeply seated inherent love that we possess, is the love for flowers, trees and growing things.

The landscaping of this vicinity is a mere detail. It is the service that you tie up with when you have become imbued to the overflowing with the idea of community beautification. You call in the landscape architect, with his technical knowledge and his ability to take a rough setting and make it a picture that Nature constantly enhances.

The landscape architect is to be likened unto the artist that puts that picture on canvas, except when the artist has finished his job, he has nothing further to do than to hang it up for the admiration of the passing crowd - and the landscape architect must continue his ministrations because it is a curious fact that Nature in her prodigal way, creates conditions that would frequently destroy the picture of beauty that the landscape architect and his assistants must be in constant attendance upon the picture that they have created, and unless you people of Northville like the people of California, can become allied to the overflowing with the love of these growing things that will lead you to attain that and know more about trees, plants and flowers than does the average individual, particularly where they are located in sections where that love and desire has not as yet become uppermost.

I could talk all the evening and more, to elaborate upon the possibilities of a territory like Northville. We have driven into your country many times, because we have enjoyed it all.

I drove recently to the top of that beautiful section known as Hillcrest Manor, and there at the top of these hills that overlook Northville, I stood and looked about me at all directions. It was indeed a marvelously beautiful day. The skies were bright, and the atmosphere was without condition of clear visibility that allowed me to see a great distance in every direction. Far off, down to the East, were the tall buildings of Detroit, framed in an overhanging haze of smoke, that made the pictures in that direction, truly most interesting. Looking in another direction - miles away - towards Wyandotte, I could see the tall smokestacks of the salt and alkali works, that are located immediately adjacent to the river in that area. To the northwest of the river, rolling hills, farm scenes, woodland pictures, that greatly impressed me with the natural beauty of Northville. I want to say to you, friends, that this is not the opinion of an enthusiastic Californiac, but I was indeed impressed with the opportunity that you have here for the development in and around Northville of a residential section that is destined to attract many new citizens; for once they know the lure of your hills and valleys, they will come. If you, as citizens, anticipate their coming, and do all that you can to beautify the area, you will profit much both in money and in the satisfaction that comes from having done an important job - well.

It must be charming to live in an area that is under the greater Detroit zone of influence, for with the beautification of the area, Detroit business men will find their homes in the Northville Hills. They will find great charm and pleasure in leaving their offices after the day's activities, in the city's battle for existence and as their car rolls west, towards Northville, these hills will demonstrate the peace and contentment of the property located home. That glorious sun that I saw as I came to talk to you this evening, red with the promise of tomorrow, will endow us with rays that message of life - and joy of living which will say to them, "Come to Northville it is just a little nearer the setting sun."

In planning the annual flower garden to extend the bloom in the fall, it is well to include some frost-resistant plants, such as pansies, marigolds, calendula, California poppy, gladiolus, stock mums, ageratum, phlox, geranium, etc.

Now the Instantaneous Potato Dip

Disinfect your seed this new way.

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPDUST solution and out again - all ready to plant.

This new seed potato disinfectant is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment - besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. This season late blight attack in many seed producing areas makes treatment with DIPDUST necessary to prevent seed decay.

After one trial of DIPDUST you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. DIPDUST PROTECTS THE SEED AND INSURES STURDY, PROFITABLE PLANTS.

Compare this New Treatment point by point with the older ones:

THE NEW WAY	THE OLD WAY
Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant	Formaldehyde or Corrosive Sublimate
1. Requires less than 1 minute. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.	1. Requires from 1 1/2 to 2 hours. One man can treat only from 50 to 75 bushels per day.
2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without the slightest injury.	2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.
3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.	3. Before cutting, give no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently decays in the ground before the young plants get started.
4. Controls surface-borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and black-leg.	4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia, and scab, do not control black-leg.
5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20%.	5. Frequently decrease the stand, and therefore the yield, to a serious extent.

One pound treats 15 to 20 bushels of seed potatoes.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds too

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

GUARANTEE
Plant a few acres of DIPDUST treated seed in alternate rows with untreated seed. If, at digging time, you are not satisfied, return the empty DIPDUST can to us and we will refund price paid.

King Allen and John Clayton made a trip to West Branch, recently, returning with a load of shingles.

Glen Meloy, Charles Banks and Russell Taylor motored to Lansing, Saturday, and enjoyed a trip through the capital.

Elmer West, an old resident of Novi, is seriously ill at his home here.

Mass Trome, a nurse from Northville, is caring for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Allen of Farmington, were guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. King Allen, Tuesday night of last week.

George Gleason has completed a new up-to-date meat market on North Main street. The place was stocked and open for business last Tuesday.

René, Margaret and Marjorie Gambosy, who have made their home with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fischer, since the death of their mother, have gone to live with their father in Detroit.

Friends of the family were saddened to learn of the death of little Edison Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Taylor of Northville. He was another victim of the measles. He was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor of this place.

Little Doris Shinn was taken to the Detroit Osteopathic hospital, Saturday, where she was again placed in a caste to correct a dislocated hip.

Little "Daisy" has the sympathy of her many friends old and young, during the wearisome months to come.

The Home Economics Club was well represented at the Achievement day, held in the Pontiac high school on Tuesday. Various demonstrations were given, in which the local club had an active part.

Dr. Caroline Hildegarde of Chicago, was the special feature of the program.

The cooking demonstration given by Mrs. Mary Dunbar of Chicago at the town hall last Friday afternoon, was a success.

Twenty-five were present, and Mrs. Dunbar proved herself very efficient in the art of cooking. Each lady present received a set of measuring spoons.

Eleven ladies of the Mission Circle attended the Wayne association meeting, held in Ypsilanti last Thursday.

A fine program was given and pot-luck dinner served at the noon hour.

Novi was given a book from the association, as a prize for having the largest percentage of its membership in attendance.

The Campfire Girls were entertained at the home of Miss Joy Thompson, Monday evening.

The mothers were invited, but for various reasons many of them did not attend.

After the business session games were played and lunch served.

They are to meet next Monday evening with their assistant-guardian, Miss Opal Brooks.

Novi school was represented in all the grades at the language contest in Walled Lake, last Saturday.

We believe it was a beneficial experience for those who participated in the test, although our school did not prove to have the champions this year.

Those who participated were: Margie Huffman, eighth grade; Edna Bassett, seventh grade; Rex Smith, sixth grade; Dorothy Kent, fifth grade; Edwin Hill, fourth grade; and Geraldine Kitson, third grade.

Miss Olive Holmes, in company with members of her family, attended the Metropolitan spelling bee in Detroit, last Friday.

This is three years in succession that Novi has won the coveted district championship and had a representative in the Detroit contest.

We congratulate Miss Olive, a seventh grader, on her good fortune, but for some reason the word "appetizing" didn't look appealing to her at the contest.

Miss Marian Shinn, the contestant of last year, also attended the bee.

Mother's Day was very fittingly observed at the church, throughout the day, Sunday.

Potted plants and a large basket of snapdragons and carnations graced the front of the church, and above all was suspended in beautiful letters the words "Mother's Day."

The choir sang special music, and a solo was given by L. B. Flint.

The pastor's address was based on the first recorded words of Jesus to His mother. A young people's choir with John Huffman, Carl Leavenworth and Donald Munro with their instruments and Miss Margie Huffman at the piano gave special music.

A number of special numbers were also given by different members of the choir.

Mrs. Lizzie Coits was the leader of the B. Y. P. U. service and it was profitable and enjoyable meeting.

NORTHVILLE DEFEATS WAYNE BY SCORE OF 14-12

In one of the best baseball contests this year, Northville chalked up their first victory. Wayne started the scoring, but the Northville batters kept a close score. The second and third innings were not so good for the Orange and Black, when Wayne gained a three-point lead. The score had no effect on the ball playing of either team.

The sensation of the game came in the fifth inning, when Thompson smashed a home run, scoring Wolf from. With the added enthusiasm Northville was able to play better ball, but "the heart sucker" had to come in the sixth inning—two of Wayne's men got singles from Northville's cagers, and Goody alone a two-base hit scoring two runs.

Watts then got revenge by striking out the next man at bat.

The final inning started with Wayne two points ahead. Wayne's half of the inning did not get them a score. Then Northville came to bat, determined to gain the two-point lead. A batting eye was all that was needed to avoid being hit when the Wayne pitcher seemed to lose control, walking four men, forcing in a run. McCordie die leading for off-second base caused some excitement then Thompson lead off third, drawing a throw from the catcher. After some dodging, the catcher lost the ball and Thompson scored. When they least expected it, McCordie stole third and started home, drawing another throw from the catcher. A roll slide caused the catcher to drop the ball, and McCordie scored the winning run.
