The Memorial Day Poppy Sale

In the sale of the Memorial Day Poppies, the American Legion Auxiliary has an activity which not only brings nation-wide remembrance of the sacrifices of the dead of our last great war, but which also contributes to the improvement of the suffering of the living victims of that war. This poppy sale helps carry on the vast welfare work of the Auxiliary.

The wearing of the little red symbol of sacrifice through which we contribute to the succor of those things which make living worth while, is most fitting at this time of remembrance.

Members of the Northville Legion Auxiliary will place poppies on sale Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORGANIZED BY NEW HUDSON BOOSTERS

Plan to Start Work on Sidewalks Within Next Few Weeks

New Hudson's chamber of commerce, organized but a few weeks ago, has already demonstrated the fact that it is out to accomplish something for the village in which it exists.

The officials at the first meeting held decided that a fire department was one of the needs of the place, and as a result a fire department has been organized, with the following as members: Fred Burt, Harry Hopp, Ford Parker, David, Taylor, Russell Knapp, and Rush Foster.

At the last meeting of the organization, a committee was appointed to start on the sidewalk program, the membership of the committee being O. E. Gooding, Fred Childs and John Marek. At present there are not many sidewalks in New Hudson, but the place is growing so fast that the Chamber of Commerce has decided sidewalk work should be started as soon as possible.

According to Secretary M. E. Hath, the membership of the chamber of commerce is growing rapidly, and within a few weeks nearly every business man in the locality will be a member.

The following have already joined the organization that is working so diligently for the advancement of New Hudson: Harry Higbie, Henry Hopp, O. E. Gooding, W. K. Smith, Frank Knapp, Marion Button, J. C. Marek, W. G. Canfield, Fred Childs, Ford Parker, Rush Foster, David Taylor, George Fuller, Claude Underhill, M. E. Hath, F. C. Burt, John Shear, A. S. Travis and L. R. Smith.

Honorary membership has been conferred upon L. V. Lovewell of South Lyon who aided in the organization of the chamber of commerce and Rev. Charles Wolfe.

The many friends of Forace Boyd will be glad to know that he is getting along nicely from his recent operation in Grand Rapids, and that he will be able to be home to stay in the next two or three weeks. In fact he was able to drive home last Saturday for a few hours.

Forace had a rather unusual experience. Just as he was coming out of Grand Rapids someone asked him for a ride to Howell, a distance of nearly 100 miles.

As his companion got out of the machine at Howell, he said to Forace,

"Say, is it alright with you, do you think I had better give you 50 cents for the ride?" Of course Forace said it was alright. Apparently the young lady happened to think of the new state law which forbids beggars to walk along the highway.

Methodists To Build Church House During The Summer

At a Meeting Wednesday Evening, the Project is Given Support

At a meeting held by a number of men of the First Methodist church in conjunction with members of the official board of the church Wednesday evening, it was decided to start plans immediately for the erection of a church house adjoining the church on the east, but facing the north.

The meeting was called by Rev. William Richards, who has long desired to do something of this kind for the church. Everyone present, including members of the official board of the church, expressed themselves as being in accord with the plan, and Rev.

Richards was delegated authority to go ahead and work out details for the improvement.

It is something the church and the community need badly. The ladies of the church have already several thousands of dollars toward the building and the men will not be required to raise all that will be required for the structure. It will take altogether something like $10,000, with nearly a third already raised, stated the pastor.

The proposed building will contain a large dining hall that will seat between 250 and 300 people, the room being 40x65. This does not include the kitchen which will be modern in every way.

One of the urgent reasons for the construction of the building is the inconvenience that now exists on the portion of the church now used for club meetings and banquets. The ladies of the church find the work exceedingly difficult, and Rev. Richards pointed out that the structure should be put up for them if for no other purpose.

The entire community needs something like what we have in mind, and I am sure will find a generous response to our appeal," stated the pastor.

The new building will be of brick construction, and Alex Johnson, who was present at the meeting, explained in detail just the kind of a building he would put up. The front will be of attractive design, and the one side facing the open lawn to the east will have plenty of window space for light.

More details will be worked out immediately and additional details made known as soon as necessary plans have been prepared.

His many friends will be interested to know that he was married to Mrs. Emma Burrows, another former resident of Northville on March 24th. Both have been residents

PREPARE NOW FOR FUTURE, ADVICE OF CLUB SPEAKER

Landscape Director of the Wayne Co. School Tells of Possibilities

Now is the time to plan for the future. The basis upon which we find our ideas and plan for the future is the growth that has taken place in past.

With this in view the people of any community can make no mistake in purchasing and beautifying it for the future," stated H. W. Wells, landscape architect for the Wayne County Training school, Wednesday afternoon, in an address before the Northville Exchange club.

His talk one of the most interesting heard before the club in some time, found many in sympathy with the possibilities he outlined for the beautification of Northville. Mr. Wells believes that city planning should be begun now and by so doing taxpayers of the community would be saved a great expense in later years. He discussed the problems of buying new land both for school playground and park use, which he stated would undoubtedly be needed in the very near future, and to act wisely would be to act now.

In discussing the proposition of annexing more land for school purposes, he cited as an example the University of Michigan.

In the year of 1890 the board of regents at the university was offered a strip of land from the location

where the present Administration building now stands to the Michigan

Central depot for the sum of $500,000.

At that time the regents felt the amount too high and let the golden opportunity slip through their fingers.

In the last few years they have spent in the vicinity of $5,000,000 for the annexation of the same amount of property to be used for new buildings.

A clearer view into the future by the board of regents would have saved the taxpayers of the state thousands of dollars in taxes stated Mr. Wells.

"With an example of this kind before the people of Northville there is every reason why they should buy property now, rather than wait until forced to do so when property valuation is at a much higher peak.

Added land would give the village school sites in case the population outgrows the present buildings, it would furnish land to be used not only for playgrounds, but could be beautified and turned into public parks."

The speaker stated that he did not wish to be personal in his remarks

URGES SUPPORT OF GOVERNMENT IN LIQUOR BATTLE

Prominent Methodist Minister Gives Address Here Sunday

"Our government is defied and embarrassed by a well organized crowd that has no respect for your rights or mine. Its one purpose is illegitimate, no matter what cost to our nation and our state," declared Dr. J. R. T. Lathrop in an address Sunday at the Methodist church.

Dr. Lathrop, over a period of many years one of the leaders of Michigan Methodism, is giving a part of his time at present to work of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League. Following his ministry at the First Methodist church at Kalamazoo, he served as district superintendent in two or three of the Methodist conferences of the state and even though retired, is still giving much of his time to church affairs.

He declared that the so-called "wets" made great gains in power during a time when forces that believe in honorable government thought the issue entirely dead.

"All at once we came to a realization that there was no such thing as respect for law or decency, and we found that our very government was threatened by this damnable force. It had been working insidiously with its effects. It is for that reason that we have got to work, and work hard to keep our victory so forcibly won."

"It is not with any idea that our country will ever go back wet, because that will never take place. It only requires 13 states to keep the United States dry at all times, but our danger lies in the possibility that forces will get in control of our government that will appoint men to office who will see to it that the law is nullified and will turn free the scoundrels that prey on the young and weak."

He declared that the Anti-Saloon League, an organization that sprung from the mind of a Congregational preacher, is the force that is now standing loyally back of the government in its efforts to see to it that its laws are obeyed and respected.

DEHO CO WINS ITS SECOND VICTORY IN LEAGUE RACE

Next Game Will be Away from Home—Team is Going Good

Sunday, May 27th, DeHoCo won their second game in the Inter-County League race, by defeating the Municipal Club in a closely fought contest 6 to 5.

Henion, the DeHoCo moundsman starting the game, weakened in the seventh and was relieved by Linderman, who held the Munes to one run over the balance of the route.

Baumann, the Municipal hurler, went the full game, allowing only seven hits, well distributed.

DeHoCo started out with a smashing attack, garnering three runs in the first inning and one in the second. Recovering from the attack the Munes tightened up and held the Farmers scoreless until the ninth, when Smith, pinch-hitting, broke their resistance with a three base hit to right center. Hammond grounded out to first. Desfano hit safely, scoring Smith and tying the score. Denniston sacrificed Desfano to third, who scored the winning run on a passed ball, making a brilliant play side on his face to accomplish thefeat.

Next Sunday, May 27th, DeHoCo will play Holly, no game being scheduled on the home grounds.

Northville fans are invited to accompany the DeHoCo team and see a tough game, as Holly is a real contender for the league honors.

Following is the Inter-County League team standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
DeHoCo	2	6	1000
Holly	2	0	1000
Orion	1	0	1000
West Point	1	1	.500
Rochester	1	1	.500
Municipal	1	1	.500
Pontiac	0	2	000
Howell	0	2	000

TELLS OF BIBLE AND PALESTINE TO SALEM FRIENDS

Fred Foreman Gives a Most Interesting Talk on Recent Trip

Salem Federated church was favored on Friday evening last, with a lecture on "Palestine and the Bible," given by Fred Foreman. A goodly audience gathered for supper which was served in the basement and Mr. Millard's orchestra from Plymouth very kindly entertained the audience with several delightful musical selections. The lecture was illustrated upon the screen and dealt with scenes and places visited by Mr. and Mrs. Foreman during their recent tour abroad.

The lecture and the various illustrations which brought before the congregation in a realistic manner the places described, created much interest, and the evening was much enjoyed. Mrs. Foreman added to the interest of the gathering by placing on view a large collection of souvenirs gathered from foreign countries and very kindly explaining same to many interested friends. The church and the community are very much indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Foreman for this interesting event.

"What's your opinion of this Negro situation?"

"Same as yours."

"But how do you know what mine is?"

"Don't matter. You've got the razor."

TWO BANQUETS FOR DAUGHTERS AND MOTHERS HELD

Presbyterian and Methodists Have Successful Events

Two mother and daughter banquets held the interest of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Northville during the past few days. The Presbyterian church banquet preceded that of the Methodists, being given under the direction of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary.

The parlors of the Presbyterian church were beautifully decorated in pink and white, carnations and tapes being used to carry out the color scheme. There were 100 present and a delightful banquet was served.

The president of the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary welcomed the mothers and daughters and introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Dean Griswold.

Mrs. Dean Griswold very fittingly and warmly introduced the speakers, the first being Mrs. Lee Eaton, who gave the toast to mothers. She was followed by Mrs. John Christensen, who answered with a toast to daughters. Miss Ida Rose Cavell in her usual charming manner sang "Mother, My Dear" and "Lindy Lou." Miss Potter, a new vocalist in our city delighted her audience with two numbers, "Mother Macree" and "Mother o' Mine."

The address of the evening was given by Mrs. Raye, advisor of girls of the Highland Park schools. Mrs. Raye knows girls and mothers, and because of her position was able to give her audience a most interesting and instructive address.

The toastmistress closed the meeting with a toast to women.

There were over 130 mothers and daughters present at the Methodist banquet, the largest and most successful ever given in the church. One of the unusual features of the banquet was the fact that the men of the church planned the program and also the menu as well as served it.

Mrs. F. S. Neal presided as toastmistress in a very pleasing way. Her introductions were witty and pleasing.

The musical numbers on the program were especially good. Mrs. Harry Blake played several violin solos. Miss Margaret Potter sang several solos and "Ges Tav Christ und Mr. Lockhart" also sang several very acceptable numbers.

Mrs. Charles Filkins, Mrs. Charles Dolph and Mrs. William Richards were interesting speakers of the evening. All of them made helpful and instructive talks.

"Keeping Store" By James Lewis Hays

Little romance in "keeping store".
Folks buy coffee and beans and flour,
Sugar and apples and salt and more.
Flour and sugar hour after hour!
They pinch the apples and shake the eggs
Till I'd crack it all and I'd go away.
I'd leave these prunes and vinegar kegs—
But—here's a letter I got today.

It says "I'm proud of you, Joe, old dear,
The way you're sticking and making good
I'm glad I'm finishing school this year
To be your wife as I said I would."
Man! When a fellow gets lines like that
From the dearest girl in the world, I'll say
He steps to the plate and goes to bat
With a heart for winning the game each day.

Not much glory in "keeping store".
Folks suspect that the scales are wrong,
Pinch and pry—but they do buy more
And my heart's singing a merry song
I know a girl who is on her way
Home, and just as we played of yore
When we were kids, our best liked game,
We'll play together at "keeping store".

MILO JOHNSON IS GOING TO DO SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Declares He is Tired of Taking Care of Miniature Back-Yard

Milo Johnson is going into the healer business.

He has got a little two x four back yard and he says he is sick and tired of taking care of it.

"I work in the morning—I work in the afternoon—I work at night—in that blooming garden—and it just seems that the work is never done" said Milo the other day as he wiped some glycerine sweat drops off his face.

"Next spring I am going to buy one of Sam Pickard's T. B. tea, nerve-action tea, springs to take care of my back yard for me. I think a good healer will do the business. Anyway it will save me from mowing the lawn because I never saw a healer Sam Pickard ever sold that wasn't a good mower of lawn" he added.

So Northville is on the way to losing one of its real garden fans. He is going to flatten cattle for Sam Pickard if he carries out the threat he has made.

Another way to meet prominent people is to announce that you will furnish ball.

COACH DOEKSEN RESIGNS TO TAKE JACKSON PLACE

Will Coach Junior High—Has Successful Record as Director

Announcement is made by Ray Doeksen, who has been coach at the Northville high school during the past year, that he has resigned his position here, and has accepted a place with the Jackson schools, as coach of the Jackson Junior College football and basketball team, and with either high school baseball or the track team in the spring.

The many local friends of the coach will regret to learn that he plans to leave Northville. In the short time he has been here, he worked up a strong football team, winning a football championship for Northville for the first time since football has been played in the school.

This victory was won in the Suburban League, and the local team averaged 25 points to their opponents one. One of the victories was the defeat of the Detroit Eastern High, the school that has the largest number of aspirants for the football team of any school in the city.

The second team in basketball took honors in its class in the Suburban League, the first team losing the championship by 11 points. Similar progress has been made in golf and in other school activities.

Previous to coming to Northville, he developed championship football and various athletic teams in Alpena and over in the Thumb district.

Wanted to be considered an outsider who was merely expressing his views on the possibilities of making Northville a more beautiful town and being better prepared for the future. He suggested that the entrance on the Seven Mile road had great possibilities for beautification if the proper attention was given to it. He further suggested that the village might buy the strip of land between the road and the railroad tracks and make an attractive park of it. In closing he declared that Northville was a beautiful town and that with the proper care in expandable time, it is now, going through, a considerable sum of money could be saved for future years.

The Exchange Club gave Mr. Wells the entire meeting room and it was well repaid for the courtesy shown him.

SEWARD NICHOLS,
OLD NORTHVILLE
BOY, ENTERS FIGHT

He Will Seek the Nomination for Prosecuting
Attorney

Seward F. Nichols, assistant prosecuting attorney, whose petitions for the office of prosecuting attorney of Wayne county were filed on Tuesday, May 8, 1928, will be remembered by his many friends and acquaintances as one of Northville's home town boys.

Seward stands foursquare on the proposition of law enforcement as the following platform emphatically shows:

"Law enforcement can only be accomplished when the courts, the police, the sheriff and the prosecuting attorney work in harmony. The professional criminal soon learns whether these departments are co-operating together and then they are not the criminal knows that he has a chance to operate without being disturbed to any great extent."

"You may select a court which will continue to fight banditry and lawlessness but if you have a prosecuting attorney who is not in full accord with the other law enforcers, besides you have accomplished nothing."

A prosecuting attorney in order to properly perform his duties should not be connected either directly or by influence with any man or persons associated in the highest degree with the underworld. He must be in a position to strike boldly and hard with only the very best in mind of enforcing the law.

Wayne county must be made a county from which criminals flee instead of one in which they will seek refuge."

"I will enforce the law, a prosecuting attorney and paragon of duty, I will co-operate with the sheriff, police, and the county and city courts to effectively stamp out crime."

Seward attended grammar school in Northville and probably imbued the political spirit from his uncle, Will Nichols, and his grandfather, Morris Nichols who each served several terms respectively as clerk of the village.

Seward entered the active practice of law, with offices in the Ely Building in 1915, and continued there until May, 1920, at which time he was appointed assistant prosecuting attorney by Matthew H. Bishop. He was re-appointed assistant prosecuting attorney by Paul W. Voorhees in January, 1921. Seward continued with Mr. Voorhees until October 15, 1922, at which time he re-entered private practice.

In December, 1925, Seward was appointed by Robert M. Toms, and is at present a member of his staff.

A vote for Seward at the primaries September 4th, next, will be a vote for good government.

MANY FROM HERE

GLIDER CONTEST

Air-Olympics at Ford Airport on June 30 Creates Interest

Northville, where there is more interest per square inch in aviation than in any other place in the world—is going to have a big delegation over at the Ford Airport on June 30th, when the first public exhibition of glider flying in Michigan takes place in connection with the Detroit Air Olympics. The glider exhibition will be made by a team from the Cass Technical High School of Detroit under the direction of Harry Karcher, an instructor in aerodynamics. The machine has been christened the "Kastek," in honor of the school. It was built under Karcher's direction by members of his class.

The latest addition to the Air-Olympics program makes the event even more important than the aeronautical standpoint. It is the hope of the Detroit Board of Commerce, which is sponsoring the great air program, to make the Olympics a comprehensive picture both of past progress and the present high state of commercial aviation.

The first major event of the day will be the start of the National Air Tour, with a score or more of airplanes setting off on a 6,000 mile reliability race to the Pacific coast and return. The first plane will take off at 10:00 a.m. followed by the others at small intervals. From then on, a continuous round of events will make the day the greatest in the history of aviation.

The whole world will watch with interest the outcome of the Gordon Bennett International balloon race. Sixteen pilots from eight countries are coming to Detroit for his classic contest. America has won the Bennett trophy two years in succession; a victory this year would mean permanent possession of the cup. After the start of the balloon race will come the Boys' National Model airplane contest, followed in turn by an air circus to be presented by the fliers of the First Pursuit Group at Selfridge Field. The glider flight will be made between the tour and the balloon race.

We hope to show the people of Michigan just how practical gliding is," A. D. Althouse, in charge of the automotive department at the Cass school explained. "The glider to be used in the Air-Olympics was made by our students at a cost of $25.00.

"Any boy can build a glider in his spare time, at small expense. It is a fascinating sport and highly educational if one is looking toward an aeronautical career. We welcome an opportunity to introduce to Michigan our home-made machine."

The "Kastek," Althouse explained, weighs but 40 pounds and will support a man weighing 150 pounds at 20 miles per hour air speed. It is of biplane construction, with a 20 foot wing spread. The wings are slightly more than four feet wide, and the fuselage is 15 feet long.

Interest among Detroit boys is so keen, Althouse said, that there has been organized the American Glider Association. Membership is growing rapidly and seven additional gliders will be constructed to afford training to all members.

The glider is enabled to remain aloft through utilization of favorable air currents. The sport is very popular in Europe, especially Germany, where records of many hours have been made with these motorless flying machines. The take off is accomplished usually from a high hill or through towing by an automobile, although some pilots are able to effect short flights from level ground without other motive power than their own legs.

The boys who will participate in the Air-Olympics glider exhibition are training at a field near Detroit. In order that they will not be annoyed by crowds of curious persons the location of the field has not been given out. The machine being used is of the training type, not adapted to soaring flights but admirable for preliminary work. Its first public appearance is anxiously awaited by all interested in this interesting and valuable sport.

Watch the growth of your lawn. Don't let it get too long before the first cutting nor at any time. Long grass is hard to cut and is hard on the mower. If grass is mowed at frequent intervals, the clippings need not be taken up. They quickly settle down among the crown of the grass, plan and form a useful mulch.

Now that the shrubs are beginning to bear into bloom, take note of their beauty and durability and inquire of me or those who would like to have on your own property so that you may obtain them without having to gage a vague description from memory which will possibly be lacking in specific details needed to definitely determine what plant it is.

Examine all gladiolus bulbs carefully before planting. Discard all bulbs that are badly affected with cankers. There is little use in treating the affected bulbs. The best control is to plant healthy bulbs.

It does absolutely no good to try to guess a woman's age. No man would have the courage to tell the truth if he were certain of it.

FINDS GREATEST
OPTIMIST IN ALL
THE WORLD

Ray Van Valkenburgh Tells of Windsor Rotary
Session

I am not crippled, I am just handicapped, but the world holds much of interest, declared the greatest optimist I ever met, stated Ray Van Valkenburgh in a talk before the Rotary club and the remarks he quoted were made by a Mt. Clemens Rotarian, who had lost both legs and only had one arm. It was a wonderful example to all of us, stated Mr. Van Valkenburgh. He was making a report of the district Rotary convention held a week or so ago at Windsor which he attended as the official delegate of the Northville club.

The one theme of most of the talks seemed to be to find the fellow in the alley and give him aid. The many speeches of the convention were along the same lines, and all urged strong support for the ideal in business and the various transactions between men.

There were 14 members of the Northville club present at the district meeting in Windsor, one of the largest held in recent years, stated the speaker.

During the warm months, especial care must be taken to keep milk clean and cold. When the milk is delivered, always being careful to keep covers on tightly. Wash off the top of the bottle before pouring out milk. Every rise in the temperature of the milk due to its standing about in a warm room aids in the development of the bacteria that cause souring.

It does absolutely no good to try to guess a woman's age. No man would have the courage to tell the truth if he were certain of it.

DEAN OF BUSINESS INSTITUTE SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY

W. O. Winkler, dean of the Detroit Business Institute, gave speech last Friday afternoon, May 18th.

He used as his topic, "What Will I be Worth when I go out into the World?" He brought out how a young man whose father had more money than he could spend, gave to his son anything that he desired. But his son, instead of having his father give him money and things wanted to do something worthwhile himself, he entered college that he could be better fitted for life.

From the standpoint of a scientist," said Mr. Winkler, "a person is worth but 98 cents, but as the world judges him, he is worth all or nothing. He must decide for himself.

Company Doubles Charges from Northville to Redford.

Roy E. Crowe, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone company, announces that, because of Redford being included in the Detroit telephone exchange on order of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, toll rates from nearby points to Redford will show increases in some instances and decreases in some others, to make them conform with the rates to and from Detroit. All Detroit exchange and toll rates now apply (after May 16) to the former Bedford exchange area. The order of the Utilities commission became effective May 16th.

Comparison of the old rates with the new, from this and other nearby points to Redford, is made in the following table:

Her Opportunity.

Harry Carr, the Times Lancer, at last admits, privately, that there may be some hope for Hollywood. He had been bemoaning the fact that nobody did anything, knew anything or talked anything in Hollywood but motion pictures, but when introduced to a certain new and attractive starlet, he took one more desperate chance and remarked:

"I met a most interesting chap the other day; he was a Buddhist."

"Oh, I'd so love to meet him!" gushed the starlet. "All my gerants are writing." — Los Angeles Times.

Get Away From Pistol

It turned out that a loaded pistol given to Frank Williams, a Philadelphia garage employee, to protect his employer's property delayed the protection. Williams placed the pistol on a desk in the office with its muzzle pointing at the door. Then he began his duty of watching cars. There came a knock from the office. A stove had exploded. Running to the scene, Williams was about to enter when his eye fell upon the pistol pointed directly at him, and with flames surrounding it. He ran the other way and called the fire department.

"Old Home Place" James Lewis Hays

Old Home Place! Elms remembering Mother who sewed within their shade. The tumult that the children made, And denim boughs breaking to the swing As sweetly as of yore they sing. These robins nesting in your trees, Old Place, and on the scented breeze Come memories, bewildering.

Old Home, though thickets wild embrace The spot where your loved walls arose. The little talking leaves disclose Your presence! Years cannot efface The charm, but only lend it grace, Still dwells a spirit, multi-fold. That welcomes him who in the old Sweet days lived at the "Old Home Place."

Deserted garden walls I tread. Half-hidden root-paths, overgrown With matted grass, once closely mown, Where wild asparagus with red Round berries grows, while overhead On apple branches, as of old, The discontented bluejays scold. Care's fade and I am comforted.

PET CROW REALLY A "PAYING GUEST"

This is the story of a crow who braved the frigid winter of the mountains near where Rib Van Winkle was awoken by the echoes of distant bowling. It is a story of a crow befriended by man and, in turn, man's friend and companion.

There was commotion in the field, for there was an argument in crow circles, says "Nature Magazine." A young fellow was being ruthlessly pecked by his confederates, for what reason the crows only knew. John West arrived in time and rescued the youngster, easily dead, carried him to his bark and fed and nursed him back to health. He christened him Jack and he became a fully accredited member of the family.

Jack became a housekeeping crow, wandering about the house and repaying the hospitality with a never failing originality of tricks. He liked nothing, traveling perched on the roof of the car, and in payment for his ruses debarred was on mounting crews and drove them from the corn

ROTARIANS WILL INVITE VETERANS TO NEXT MEETING

Each Member Expected to Bring a Soldier on Monday

At Monday's meeting of the Rotary club, each member of the organization has been requested by President Dan Yerkes, Sr., to invite some veteran of the World war to be present, an effort being made to confine the invitations as far as possible to members of the Northville American Legion.

"We will have a speaker who will give a talk in keeping with the day," stated President Yerkes.

It will be Rotary's Memorial—and it wants to make it an ideal meeting of the kind, he stated.

Northville has one of the largest American Legion organizations in the state and during recent years it has charge of the Memorial day services in this community. The Monday's Rotary meeting will have nothing to do with the regular Memorial day program which has been planned for next Wednesday.

HAS DEED TO LAND
ISSUED BY ANDREW
JACKSON IN 1833

Simmons Property on South Lyon Road Always in the Family.

While rummaging through some old papers yesterday looking for a misplaced article, Fred Simmons came across the deed to the Simmons farm north of town that was issued to his grandfather's uncle by Andrew Jackson, president of the United States in 1833.

Since April 4th of that year, the 80 acres, which is believed known these days as the Simmons fruit farm, has been in the Simmons family. In the nearly 100 years of its existence there have been but three transfers of the property, and these three have been from one generation to the other.

The deed was originally issued to Jason H. Macomber, one of the early sturdy pioneers of this section of Michigan. In a little less than five years the property will have been in the Simmons family for 100 years. Fred did not say whether the family would celebrate the centennial of the ownership of the land on April 4, 1933.

How to Build Up Muscles

By J. J. Teed, White Ave. "Y," Chicago

Article 3:

"ONE-LEG SQUEEZE."

Position—Same as I.

Third Exercise—As arms come down, one leg comes up with hands squeeze leg to chest. Twenty-four counts.

Exercise No. 3 has wonderful health values. You begin as in Exercise No. 1, with arms over head. Now as you bring both arms down, you raise your left knee up (flexing leg and thigh), grasp your leg just below the knee and press the knee close to chest. (Do not place your hands between leg and thigh, place it immediately below knee and just over upper shin bone.) This was count "one."

Return to first position with right arm over head and leg extended on count "two". On count "three" raise right leg. Continue this exercise slowly for sixteen to twenty-four counts. When you press the knee to chest, be sure to bring it to center of chest. This exercise has a most wonderful value.

Return to first position with right arm over head and leg extended on count "two". On count "three" raise right leg. Continue this exercise slowly for sixteen to twenty-four counts. When you press the knee to chest, be sure to bring it to center of chest. This exercise has a most wonderful value.

Exercise IV is similar to exercise III.

Instead of bringing legs, raise both. As you raise both legs press them to chest with the hands raise the head and try to place chin between the knees. (If you have a large waist you will be unable to do this the first few lessons, but you should eventually.)

We will call this the "Big Squeeze". Do this about sixteen counts.

Remember and practice these exercises. "The Morning Stretch" is first. Then "The Chest Elevator," consisting of lowering the arms and raising over head. Next "no and one" or raising both arms and one leg at a time. Then follow with the "One Leg Squeeze" and "The Big Squeeze," described above.

Knowing the names of flowers and shrub varieties increases the joy of "picking and choosing" in the spring, and later enables you to speak intelligently and proudly of the varieties you have chosen.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Kate Goodell

Mrs. Kate Goodell, beloved wife of George Goccell, died at her home in Northville on May 13th, and was buried in the family lot at Novi on Tuesday, May 15th. Rev. William Richards, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating at the funeral services.

Mrs. Goodell, whose maiden name was Kate Huger, was born in Michigan in 1867, and had spent her entire life in this vicinity. Her friends constituted her entire acquaintance ship, as everyone who knew her loved and respected her. Always anxious and willing to do the many kindly little things that help her friends and neighbors, it was not at all surprising to find her one of the most willing workers during the world war. She was active in Red Cross work, and worked night and day making sweaters for the soldier lads on the other side.

A member of the W. R. C., she gave much of her time and attention to this splendid patriotic organization of women.

The husband and Mrs. George Bleitz, the only child, survive. Two brothers, George Huger of Plymouth, and Bert Huger of Crystal Beach, Canada, and four grandchildren and many nieces and nephews survive. Every niece and nephew except one as well as the brothers were in attendance at the funeral.

George Goodell is one of the very few surviving veterans of the Civil War. Up until a few weeks ago he was able to be about the streets of Northville most of the time, but illness has confined him to his home for sometime. The illness which caused the death of Mrs. Goodell was of only a few days duration.

PASTE THAT TURNS
WOOD INTO ROCK

The practice of giving logs a "hypodermic injection" to preserve them in Germany not long ago, has spread to England, and a new tool has been invented to do the work, we are told in Popular Science Monthly. We read:

"The new scientific method is being used to inject into telegraph poles a spreading paste that is said to keep fungi at bay. Many ears are said to be added to the pole's life. This treatment of wood is a step that may lead eventually to complete arrest of decay. If that ideal is accomplished, buildings of wood can be erected that will be as imperishable as structures of stone-brick, or steel, while the cost will be much less. The effect will be that of transmuting wood into rock."

Scapegoat Used to Carry Off Smallpox

The ancient Hebrew custom of loading the sins of the people on a scapegoat, which bore them off into the wilderness, has a modern parallel in a certain district in central India. It is not sin, however, which the modern scapegoat is required to carry off, but smallpox. When an outbreak of smallpox occurs in a village, the inhabitants resort to the ceremony of "Neash." A female goat is bought by public subscription, and is adorned with the particular type of ornaments usually fixed to the image of a goddess. The goat is then apparently looked upon as an incarnation of the goddess of the disease. The animal is supposed to remove the epidemic as she is passed on from village to village until she reaches her own temple or is devoured by wild beasts on the way.

Babel a la Radio

Like all radio fans they delighted in "fishing" for stations far away and when they succeeded in landing a foreign station, such as H. V. A. it was a cause for celebration.

One afternoon Mrs. P. rushed next door to tell her neighbor in excited tones that she had some foreign station but couldn't make out what it was.

The neighbor turned on the same number and, sure enough, a voice was rattling off a speech in a foreign language. Both waited breathlessly for the announcement at the end of the talk.

It was a service in the German language in a church in Chicago.

That which is called "what the people want" is often something they take because they don't get anything better.

A writer compares the human body to a violin. That explains why some men are always fiddling around.

North wasn't one of those people who go off on a trip and leave the cat for a neighbor to take care of.

MORE THAN HALF MILLION NEW 1928 CHEVROLETS SOLD

General Motors Rides to Greatest Sales in its History

More than half a million new 1928 Chevrolets were on the road by the end of the fourth week in May, H. J. Klingler, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced this week.

This establishes a record-high figure for the public acceptance of a new model, since never before in the history of the industry has such a volume of new models been delivered in a similarly short space of time, Mr. Klingler pointed out.

It is also more than 100,000 units in excess of the corresponding performance of the company in 1927, he said.

In view of this new record, and the fact that the peak selling season has just gotten under way, the entire Chevrolet organization felt unbounded enthusiasm over the prospect that this year's performance will comfortably surpass the 1927 record, and that more than a million new cars and trucks will be in operation on the highways and boulevards of the United States alone before the close of 1928.

Report or retail deliveries for the first four months this year plus the estimated figure for four weeks in May, indicate that the domestic dealer organization, with General Motors of Canada and General Motors Export, delivered $25,000 Chevrolets to date.

Mr. Klingler stated:

Every month showed a consistent gain over the corresponding period last year, according to Mr. Klingler, the average per month gain being above 20,000 units, with the result that deliveries to consumers the first four months of 1928 were nearly on a par with deliveries for the first five months last year.

This unusual performance was made possible, Mr. Klingler asserted, through the far-seeing policy of the company in planning its production facilities so that cars might be immediately available to the public everywhere.

Try These

Cold roast pork is excellent in salad. It is often used wholly or in part as a substitute for chicken, and the delicate white meat from loin of pork cannot be improved upon as a salad ingredient. The recipes given below will prove popular ways of using up the remnants of the roast of pork especially during the summer, when a hearty and at the same time a dainty main dish is relished by all.

Surprise Salad

Cold roast pork

Beet pickles

2 tablespoons granulated gelatin

½ cup cold water

¼ cup vinegar

1 lemon juice

½ cups boiling water

1 teaspoon salt

½ cups sliced celery

½ cups shredded cabbage

3 pimientos, chopped

Place a layer of sliced beet pickle of uniform size in the bottom of a square flat pan, so the slices are at least an inch apart. On the top of these slices place a square of cold roast pork, two inches square by one-fourth inch thick. Then on the top of each place another slice of beet pickle. Soak the gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Add the vinegar and lemon juice. When the mixture begins to set, stir in the celery and cabbage and pour over the "slices" of meat and beets. When the mixture is cold and firm, cut it in squares so that a column of meat and beets is contained in each square. Serve on shredded lettuce leaves with mayonnaise or cream salad dressing.

Pork Salad

2 cups lean diced pork

1 cup fresh chopped celery

Pepper

1 cup chopped tart apple

Salt

Paprika

Lettuce

Mayonnaise

Combine apples and mayonnaise. Mix the other ingredients except paprika and lettuce, add to the mayonnaise and apples. Place on lettuce leaves and garnish with a touch of mayonnaise and a dash of paprika.

Crown Salad

On leaves of heart lettuce place a firm glowing tomato made into a rose by cutting thin petals all around a little from the top. Scoop out center of tomato and in its place put diced cooked cold pork mixed with mayonnaise, season with salt, pepper and pimento and green pepper chopped.

Sickly Boy, 7, Gains 15 Lbs.—Father Happy

"My boy, 7, would not eat. I gave him Vinol and the way he eats and plays now makes me happy. He gained 15 pounds," J. F. Audies.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious. Northville Drug Company—Advt 3.

A New Silk Dress for only 17¢

I quit wearing this dress weeks ago thinking it could not be cleaned. A neighbor told me about a wonderful dry cleaning soap called Solvite so I tried it on this dress and here it is, bright as new, and the whole thing cost only seventeen cents."

Solvite is an amazing new kind of dry cleaning soap. Dissolve it in gasoline and you can save many dollars by dry cleaning dresses, suits, coats, gloves, slippers, curtains—anything that you'd be ruined by ordinary soap and water. Get a large jar of Solvite from any drug store—you'll never be without it after.
