TRAINING SCHOOL NOW HAS 500 BOYS AND GIRLS ON ROLL

County's Newest Institution One of America's Most Interesting

Rapidly nearing completion, the Wayne County Training school newest institution of Michigan's metropolitan center, is now caring for 500 children, by far a greater number than officials had anticipated upon receiving so early in the career of the school that builds healthy minds and bodies out of weak ones. It was not until September, 1926, that the place was ready for admission of children. In the short time it has been in operation its growth has been much faster than anticipated.

The building program has about been completed. The grounds, one thousand acres in Northville township, are being landscaped, and hundreds of acres located away from the main school building are being tilled by the older boys.

Under the able direction of Dr. Robert H. Haskell, a superintendent, of more than ordinary experience about the school is fast becoming one of the most interesting in America.

Its purpose and its problems are well set forth in the following article recently prepared by Dr. Haskell who previous to accepting the medical superintendency at the request of the Administrative Board of the Wayne County Training school was superintendent of the Ionia State hospital, and previous to that assistant medical director of the State Psychopathic hospital and instructor in the University of Michigan.

This training school is primarily for high grade feeble-minded children. The school was authorized by vote of the people of the county only in 1922, and yet so rapidly have things moved that today one finds amid a beautiful setting in the northwest corner of the county midway between Northville and Plymouth a whole new community dedicated to the character building and education of an important group of our handicapped children. The site for the school was very aptly chosen. The landscape work started shows already how in a few years' time the grounds, on which already twenty-six imposing buildings of fireproof construction stand completed, will become a garden spot of the country. The school stands, fortunately, a little off the beaten path, but it will pay anyone interested driving toward Northville or Plymouth to make inquiries as they reach the end of the Seven Mile or the Five Mile road just which way to turn to reach the training school where they are assured a courteous welcome and a ready opportunity during any reasonable hours to see much or little, as their time dictates of the workings of this young but rapidly growing training school.

The care of the mentally sick and the feeble-minded in the State of Michigan has for over half a century, as a matter of principle, been accepted by the state as a state problem. At no time, however, have the provisions by the state been adequate to the demand either for the insane or the feeble-minded, and here in this southeastern corner of the state, where population has from beginning been more concentrated, other provisions have been necessary. In projecting the plans for the Wayne County Training school no thought was given to merely adding another custodial institution for the care of the feeble-minded as a total class and thus merely serve to relieve the state of a share of its assumed obligations. Large numbers of the feeble-minded as a class are inevitably permanent custodial problems; the idiots total and the imbeciles for the greatest part. The higher grade feeble-minded or morons resemble their more intelligent fellows. When well adapted socially they may become just as good, useful citizens in the community as they may, when badly adapted socially, become unusable and due to their greater suggestibility, particularly if complicated by emotional instability, positively dangerous anti-social burdens. A more complicated social organization makes it more difficult for them to profit by the advantages furnished the average child. It was to salvage a larger proportion of this class of potentially useful citizens for all their intellectual handicaps that the Wayne County Training school was designed.

One finds at Northville a very interesting group of children, approximately four hundred in number, two hundred and forty-five boys and one hundred and sixty-four girls, the whole group averaging thirteen years, with only three under eight and perhaps a half dozen over twenty-one. The

Union Services For Summer

Announcement was made yesterday by Rev. William Richards, chairman of the Northville Ministerial Alliance, that the local Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches had decided upon union services for Sunday evenings during the months of June, July and August.

This is a practice which has been followed over a long period of years. The first union service of this season will be Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church. Rev. J. W. Priest will deliver the sermon.

LET CONTRACT FOR NEW GRANDSTAND AT FAIR GROUNDS

Structure Will Be One of Best in Country Build Barns.

Contracts have been let for the construction of the new steel and concrete grandstand at the fair grounds of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association. Workmen during the past few days have razed the old structure, and by August first it is believed that the new grandstand will have been entirely completed.

The directors of the association gave the contract to the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron Company, their bid being the lowest for the work. This is the same company that constructed the Belle Isle bridge a few years ago, one of the best constructed bridges in the state.

Secretary Floyd Northrop states that the material in the old grandstand will be used in the construction of two new cattle barns. The association has for sometime badly needed these structures. Foundations have already been laid, and the barns will probably be completed within the next month.

The grandstand will seat 3,000 people and will be built so that additional sections can be added without trouble if future attendance should warrant more seating capacity.

Ray Richardson, chairman of the special grandstand committee, states that the grandstand will be built 20 feet back from the race track, leaving a space between the grandstand and track similar to that in larger race centers.

The Northville fair grounds are on the way to be among the best in the country, and this fall's fair will far exceed any other ever held before.

CITIZENSHIP HONORS WILL BE DECIDED BY POPULAR ELECTION

A committee of teachers met Monday after school to eliminate the number of students elected for citizenship honors down to two, but were unable to decide, so five were picked.

About Thursday a popular election will be held and the student getting the highest number of votes of these five will have his name engraved on the bugle. The five finally decided upon were: Marie Schoof, Rudolph Weyant, Gladys Ludwig, Foster Vanatta and Francis Sprenger. The preliminary list is as follows:

Sponsor—Mr. Cobn; Citizenship winners—Grace E. Carter, Esther A. Livrance, James A. Huff, Foster Vanatta.

Sponsor—Mr. Alberman; Citizenship winners—Esther Lockman, Marie Schoof, Sam Stalter, James Ely.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodworth are returning to Gaylord today, where they will spend the remainder of the summer. Mr. Woodworth has recently purchased a small piece of land right in the woods on the shore of Five Lakes, and he is busy now erecting a log cabin. He has been up there for a few days and is greatly enthused over the prospects of spending a summer among the pine trees of the north. His location is an ideal one.

Mrs. E. Blowers has returned from Bainbridge, New York, where she had been spending several weeks with her mother, who is now recovering from a severe illness.

LOCAL RESIDENT ONE IN SUIT FOR ASTOR MILLIONS

Mrs. William Jones is Direct Decendant of Claimant

News dispatches a few days ago told of a suit being filed in the New York federal district court which had for its object the forcing of a settlement with the Astor estate. The descendants of a former business partner, John Nicholas Emerick, declaring that $300,000 of the property held by the Astor belongs to them.

Among these heirs is Mrs. William Jones of Northville. Mrs. Jones' grandmother was an Emerick, the Emerick in question being a great uncle of the wife of the local florist.

A New York Associated Press article has the following details pertaining to the suit, which Mrs. Jones states has been under preparation for many months:

"A lawsuit that harks back 150 years to the days when John Jacob Astor was a poor boy in a new country, was begun today in the federal district court where descendants of John Nicholas Emerick, Astor's partner, seek two-thirds of the half a billion dollar estate the original Emerick is reputed to have left."

The action is bathed in an aura of romance and hangs upon an arrangement by which Emerick is alleged to have established Astor as trustee of a 99-year trust of his interest in their partnership. At the expiration of that period Astor or his heirs were to have divided the estate between descendants of Emerick's two brothers, John and Valentine.

In the complaint filed today it is alleged that in 1902, when the trust had only three years more to run, a legal representative of the elder Astor's estate told a descendant of John Emerick of the trust agreement. The Emerick estate, this lawyer then said, was worth $300,000 at that time.

The fortune included some of the most valuable plots of land in New York city, among them the site of Trinity church at the head of Wall street, that of the Hotel Astor in Times square, and other parcels the value of which now is tremendous.

Tradition tells that Emerick died on a fur-laden vessel in 1817, and was buried at sea off the Labrador coast. He left no will, it was believed, but in recent years heirs in many sections of the country have pushed a vigorous search for the document which they believed would bring them a fortune.

More than 300 such heirs have appeared to file their claims to the Emerick estate and last December a paper, now said to be Emerick's will, was found in the lining of an old trunk what purports to be a copy of the alleged trust agreement between Astor and Emerick also is offered in the present suit.

The plaintiffs in this suit are Edna Canham of Eau Claire, Wis.; Chrisina Campbell of Appleton, Wis., and John Thomas Emerick of Waukesha, Wis. All of them are descendants of the two Emerick brothers of John Nicholas Emerick, and are acting for the other descendants. They are represented by Fred H. Ross of New York, Calvin B. Hoy of St. Louis; Alan B. Lewis of Philadelphia, and Charles W. Leggs of Cumming, Ga.

They demand an accounting of the two-thirds of the properties owned by the Astor-Emerick partnership, and ask that the defendants, trustees, and heirs of the Astor estate be enjoined from transferring properties derived from the partnership before determination of the suit. They also demand a complete accounting of all property transfers between the date of the 99-year trust agreement, May 1, 1849, the date of the first Astor's death.

FAIR DEALING IS GREATEST NEED OF PRESENT TIMES

Plymouth Kiwanis Speakers Give Club Members Their Ideas

"People of today have as yet been unable to live together and until they conquer the claim that separates them and their fellowmen there can be no world peace in the complex world we are living," said Professor C. W. W. Whittlesey of Albion college, in speaking before the Kiwanis club of Plymouth, Tuesday.

"In briefly trying to discuss the way of promoting a better business relationship between business men one should look back to the days when men were separated by oceans and mountains, then unexplored. To better conditions of the period, men came to an understanding first of nature itself and then of human nature. This understanding as yet in its infancy can be broadened to the point where different nations can have a mutual understanding, and when this comes about the elimination of war will be supplemented by permanent peace."

"We are living in a complex day.

Villages of today will be great suburban cities of tomorrow, and to have a a good business understanding in the town people must have a mutual and co-operation among themselves.

"There can be no segregation of different elements, such as the negro and foreign settlements. We will have to learn the art of avoiding social conditions."

"History has brought us to the fact that warlike nations go down as have the greatest fighters among animals

peace loving and domesticated animals have lived while the others are practically extinct. The same applies to business of today, which has found for itself new methods of fairness of dealing. Older business deals were a profit to one and a loss to the other, but our way of living has brought to us the sense that any business deal of today can be a benefit to both parties involved."

"New business demands reliability, and our attitude toward frauds is tending to stimulate a feeling of good will among our neighbors."

We no longer exploit our customers, but give them a fair deal. The whole idea of life is solidarity. We are bound together and we must co-operate together in order to find harmony and a mutual helpfulness."

Another interesting speaker of the noon day program was George R.

Clemens, formerly of Plymouth and son of Levi Clemens. Mr. Clemens is with the federal government in the engineering department. In his brief talk he gave a very interesting outline of the problem that confronts the government in trying to control the Mississippi during flood time.

According to Mr. Clemens, the government has authorized the expenditure of $2,250,000 to handle the undertaking but he asserted that the sum will be nearer $5,000,000 than the original amount.

NORTHVILLE IN TRIBUTE TO ITS WARRIOR DEAD

Excellent Memorial Address Given by Father Joseph Schuler

Northville paid tribute to its warrior dead Wednesday afternoon by special Memorial services attended by hundreds. The Penniman Allen Theatre auditorium was filled, when the program started, and those present were indeed fortunate in hearing a patriotic address of unusual merit.

But two veterans of the Civil war were in attendance, Marian Bogart and L. H. Cornwell. Mr. Bogart is an uncle of Henry Ford. For the first time in years George Goodell, the only other living veteran of the rebellion in this place, was unable to be present because of illness.

Music for the event was provided by the School Community band and the young boys and girls did remarkably well. It was their first experience parading for a parade, but no one would ever have known it. They played like veteran musicians.

Charles Murphy presided at the meeting in the theater.

Following in part is what Father Joseph Schuler of Our Lady of Victory church, said in his excellent Memorial Address:

"Memorial Day is held in sacred memory of those departed soldiers who gave their time or life that we of the United States might enjoy the pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness. Decoration Day respects that haloed clay that binds ensouls their mortal remains."

The character of the real soldier is in direct contrast to popular policy of the day. Patriotism and soldierhood are the opposite of selfishness. Selfishness typifies the popular spirit of doing no more than you have to do to give the best you can in order to save more for yourself and has led to disastrous war. Selfish rulers put selfish people equal a selfish nation and which nation cannot long be at peace with their neighbor?

A group of individuals make a nation. We are individuals in this great nation of the United States. Are we selfish? Then we are not patriotic. Are we selfish in our daily dealings with our fellowmen? We cannot be loyal to our country when our loyalty is bound up in ourselves only. Are we considerate of the opinion and right of others? Our United States is. Then if we are not we disagree with our country. We are not with her. We are against her. We are traitors!"

"Patriotism must be real and practical. You must live it every day. What a sacrilegious farce is only a flag-waving patriotism, elbow patriotism, or the kind that makes only a lot of noise, jingo-patriotism, or the yellow-streaked patriotism that hides its dirty crimes behind the Stars and Stripes! Live and act your love for your country and its people, or forever hold your peace. Samuel Johnson must have meant this when he said, 'Patriotism, the last resource of the scoundrel.'

The Constitution teaches us what our patriotic duties are. The whole Constitution and nothing but the whole Constitution must be the entire

DEDICATION OF
MEMORIAL PARK
NEXT SUNDAY

Detroit's Famed Orchestra to Present Program at Services

Sunday the people of this vicinity will have an opportunity to witness the formal dedication of the first Memorial Park to be designated and developed in Michigan. The institution is known as White Chapel Memorial Park and is located in the Bloomfield Hills district north of Detroit. The elaborate program planned for the occasion will include a number of Michigan's most talented musicians. It will be centered around the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with Victor Kolar conducting, and those two popular soloists, Muriel Kyle, soprano, and Kenyon Congdon, baritone.

Many of the musical numbers selected for the occasion are from the compositions of Victor Herbert and Ethelbert Nevin, in whose memory the program has been planned. Supplementing these will be short addresses.

The dedication ceremonies will be held at the Park, which is situated on East Long Lake road, just four miles east of Bloomfield Hills Village. They will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday.

White Chapel Memorial Park is conceded by many to be America's most notable example of the modern Park Plan or Garden Plan of cemetery design. It provides, instead of the gloominess associated with the proverbial "graveyard" of other days, a verdant garden, beautified by artistic architectural and sculptural tributes to the memory of departed loved ones. Here sorrow will find peace and contentment in the beauty of broad lawns, glowing beds of flowers, magnificent statuary and myriads of shade trees, shrubs and bushes. In other words, this beautiful place will tell a story not of death, but of life.

This plan of cemetery design, with its numerous improvements and the elaboration of monuments and tombstones is surely in line with present day taste, and the developers of White Chapel Memorial Park are to be commended for giving metropolitan Detroit so splendid a Memorial park development.

The formal dedication of the Park on Sunday follows more than two years of intensive development activities. According to G. F. Sanger, president of White Chapel Memorial Association, much more work, however, remains to be done before the Park will be the most complete, as well as the most beautiful, institution of its kind in the country. This includes the construction of a magnificent chapel building. The Temple of Memory which will contain a beautiful organ, massiveup organs and crypts, a crematory and columbarium.

Approximately $1,250,000 is involved in the gigantic improvement program now being carried out at the Park. This is said to be the largest ever adopted for a project of this nature. Another fund of approximately $500,000 is being set aside in trust for the perpetual care of the park. This assures proper care and maintenance for all time at no additional cost to the owners of the site.

"Before going ahead with our plans for the development of White Chapel Memorial Park," said Mr. Sanger, "we made a thorough survey of conditions in many of the larger cities from coast to coast. We had heard that there was an urgent need for such an institution in Detroit, and our investigation verified the fact. Consequently, we planned and built not only to fill this need, but to take care of it for several years to come.

Final completion of the project will, we believe, give Detroit leadership in this respect for at least a decade. Its success already has been assured by the confidence and support of more than 3000 owners.

White Chapel is non-sectarian, but has restrictions that will appeal to persons of discrimination. Interments are to be accepted about ten days after the dedication ceremonies on Sunday.

FIRST AUTO RACES
OF YEAR JUNE 10 AT STATE FAIR GROUND

Famous Drivers Coming to Speed for Purse of $12,000

The mile track on the state fair grounds will be the scene on Sunday, June 10th of one of the greatest auto race battles to be held in this country, an outstanding event of such nature that the American Automobile Association which governs sanctioned speedway races has seen fit to class it with the Indianapolis and other regular speedways sanctioned races and bringing in the greatest drivers in the world but when all was over the events have been just auto races—nothing more, to be sure carrying big prize money, big drivers but no national recognition.

This winter the A.A.A. board decided to honor all Detroit races by giving them full points so on June 10th there will be a 100 mile race open to 912 cubic inch cars and a 50 mile curtain racer. The big race will be for cars with super-chargers, the curtain event is ordinary racing machines.

Drivers that have entered so far are Ray Keech the Philadelphia boy who won international fame when he hung up a world record of 207.55 miles per hour on the beach at Daytona, Florida, a few days before Lockhart was killed. Keech has bought and will drive in Detroit the Lockhart car, the same machine in which all world records for race tracks were made.

Another star to enter early is Peter DePaula the Italian and present A.A.A. champion for the year and bracketed with him is George Souder who won the Indianapolis race last year. DePaula and Souder both have new cars. Wilbur Shaw million-dollar Detroit sportsman who like Keech hung up a record this one for four cylinder cars of 130 miles an hour has also come in early.

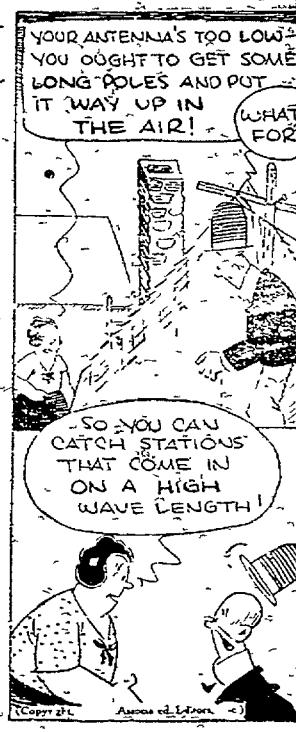

Fourteen cars are to start in the big race 12 in the smaller entries close June 10th. Approximately $10,000 is up for the two races. Cliff Durant son of W. C. Durant is starter and Larry Fisher of Fisher Brothers fame is referee.

All tickets go on sale race week at the Detroit Auto Club although gates to the grounds open at 8 o'clock race day and early fans will have a chance to see all the cars taking their qualifying trials.

Seventy thousand trees were planted by Camp Fire Girls during 1927 according to the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"Before going ahead with our plans for the development of White Chapel Memorial Park," said Mr. Sanger, "we made a thorough survey of conditions

Mr. Baker from the U. of M., was a Sunday visitor at the Charles Verkes home.

Charles Judson and Dan Lafferty of Northville, while at work in the woods last week, came across a 6 ft. blue racer, which they bravely killed, and then began search for its mate, racers usually traveling in pairs. They found him, a huge fellow. They grabbed a club and the serpent succumbed under the hands of the brutal murderers.

THIS new-day refrigerator never needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. It is portable. It uses very little current. It has an all-in-one unit that is hermetically sealed to keep efficiency—and trouble out.

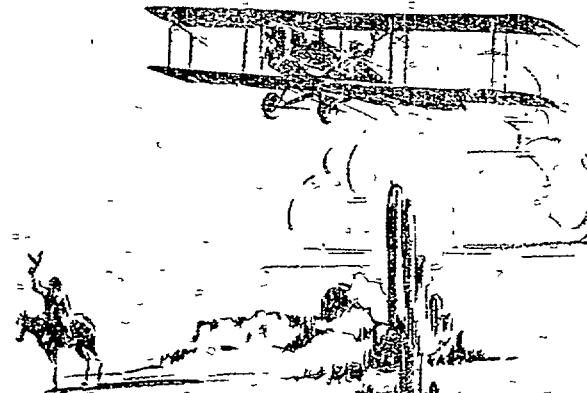

Over a period of fifteen years, General Electric engineers worked toward this great electrical achievement. They have developed a simplified refrigerator that has no belts, pipes, drains or fans to get out of order.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them. In the meanwhile, mail the coupon below for an interesting descriptive booklet.

NOORTHVILLE TEACHERS

ENTERTAIN BOARD

OF EDUCATION

The teachers of Northville schools entertained the members of the Board of Education and their wives at a picnic supper in the school cafeteria, last Thursday evening, May 24th.

Miss Irene Hoag was general chairman of the party. It was first planned to meet at Cass Benton park and roast "weinies" and bacon over the open fire, but as Thursday was cold the school building was decided upon.

After the picnic supper there were square dances and games in the gymnasium.

ALGEBRA CLASS ENJOYS PICNIC

The eighth hour algebra class enjoyed a weenie roast at Cass Benton park Wednesday, May 23.

In Mr. Cohn's algebra class, as in all classes, there is a rule against gum-chewing. In this particular class, each offender was "soaked" a nickel. The money was used for the weenie roast.

Miss Hoag also went with the group. They left Northville at 6:00 o'clock and after arriving at the park, chose sides and played baseball. When they tired of that, Howard Christensen was pressed into service as a fire-builder. And then the fun began.

They ate weenies and beans and beans and weenies (with mustard or catsup). Some youthful statistician says that Mr. Cohn ate six weenies. No one kept track of Miss Hoag, but we should like to know, nevertheless.

GIRLS' BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATED BY HAZEL PARK

The girls' baseball team played Hazel Park here Tuesday, May 22nd, with Mr. Cohn as the umpire. The girls played a good game and showed true sportsmanship but were defeated 27-11. Line-up:

Pitcher—Miriam Richards
Catcher—Marjorie Atchison
First Base—Lillian Cassie
Second Base—Jeanette Vrudenborg
Third Base—Edna Madsen
Shortstop—Gladyse Ludwig
Right Field—Olive Bowers
Left Field—Florence Balko
Center Field—Dolly Charge

CAMPFIRE GIRLS HOLD CANDY SALE

The Non-nimah group of Campfires held a candy sale Thursday, May 24th. A profit of about five dollars was made. They also sold candy at the pageant, Thursday, May 31st.

WATTS TO HEAD NEXT SENIOR CLASS

The Junior class held a meeting Tuesday, May 22nd, to elect an alderman for the student council, the class officers for the coming year, and the chairman for the Junior-Senior banquet.

Catherine Litsenberger was elected as the class representative on the student council. Anna Hoar was elected general chairman of the Junior-Senior banquet.

The class officers for next year will be Ted Watts, president; Margaret Stillwell, vice-president; Marion Cousins, secretary-treasurer. Ted Watts was president of his class during its Sophomore year. He was president of the T. A. H. A. K. club, the first semester. The officers who retire at the end of this year are: Rudolph Weyant, president; Betty Chargos, vice-president; Gladys Ludwig, secretary-treasurer; Madeline Cole, alderman.

At a meeting on Monday, May 28th, two delegates were elected to the electoral college, which will choose candidates for mayor of the student council and other council officers.

STUDENT UNION ELECTION WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

At a meeting of the Junior class, Thursday, May 24th, students for mayor of the student council were elected, but this was illegal. According to the constitution of the Northville high school, adopted by the Student Union in the year 1926, that nominations for mayor, clerk and throwing confetti down pupils' necks, chasing each other around the gym, blowing tin horns, drinking pop and chewing gum—well, then you know that things must be pretty funny. They were!

At 8:00 o'clock the Freshman class put on their "stunt," consisting of two dances by Leilah Cassie and the impersonation of an automobile by six students. For information regarding the immediate repair of flat tires, see Horace Nelson.

The Sophomore stunt consisted of a very good imitation of the Dempsey-Tunney tea party—a pleasant little affair wherein Gene got all out of breath—from running.

The Juniors put on a mock graduation, with Leo Wood (with the aid of some dark glasses) passing as Professor McNutt. He gave diplomas to the following names, appropriate speeches accompanying each presentation: Earl No-nothing, Maudie Haystack, Kazena Catts, Duke Drywater, Amastacia Haberdasher, Pere Marquette, At-e-u Hard-to-find.

The Senior stunt consisted of a little exhibition of juggling by Monsieur Russell Atchison; also a very good game of clean-up by T. Thompson.

At 9:30, Scott Montgomery, Pete Perkins and Mike Taylor provided music for all those "ambitious guests" who chose to dance. And so as the story book says: "An enjoyable time was had by all."

H.I.Y. SENDS DELEGATES TO DETROIT RALLY

Three delegates from the H.I.Y. chapter of Northville were in Detroit, Wednesday evening of last week, attending a city-wide rally.

Throughout the year there have been such meetings as these but due to the fact that school is closing, this was decided to be the last meeting of the year.

After the customary sapper, Mr.

Walker told of the interesting work done by the chapters during the year. Mr. Byron urges each chapter to have at least one member attend the H.I.Y. camp at Torch Lake.

Mr. Wilcox from Chicago, was the main speaker of the evening. He built his speech around the purpose of the organization.

SIXTH GRADE NOTES

The following pupils in the sixth grade have not been absent in May:

Paul Beard, Frank Dunn, Merle Fraser, Harry Tinson, Catherine Du-

and, Eleanor Grosvenor, Mary Harper,

Vera Horsfall, Dorothy Meisner.

MANY PUPILS BACK IN SCHOOL

The measles, that for the last few weeks have been waging war with the school children, left our town gradually.

We didn't notice that they were gone until the grade building began to have a better attendance. We are glad to say that most of the pupils are back in school and the attendance is almost normal.

MR. LANGFIELD TALKS AT ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Mr. Langfield, one of the members of the school board, gave a beneficial talk on "Memorial Day" to the student body at assembly last Friday. He brought out many facts that most people have forgotten about—or just neglected. We feel sure that each student, after hearing this speech, will try to do something to remember the soldiers who gave their lives to make this country a better one for us to live in. There is very little that we can say or do for them, life was just as precious to them as it is to us," stated Mr. Langfield.

Northville high school contributed thirty-eight to the world war, fortunately all returned but two. Their names are engraved on a marble slab which hangs in the high school auditorium.

SENIORS HOLD CLASS MEETING

The Senior class held a meeting last week to make final plans for commemoration. Citizenship students were also elected. Thursday evening dele-ing around the country towns returning to the uncle's home in Detroit.

Mrs. Charlotte Wolfe was a recent guest at the home of her granddaughter and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baughman of Northville. The occasion was the birthday of Otto and also that of his sister, Oliva, of Milford.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hudson and daughters, Lotue and Olive, Clayton Childs of New Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Tandy and daughter, Louise May, of Rose-Gale Gardens. A very enjoyable evening was passed, after the delicious dinner that was prepared by Mrs. Baughman.

A Republican masquerade dance was given in the Community hall, Saturday evening, by the Republican club of Redford. A very large crowd assembled from all over this part of Michigan. An enjoyable time was had by all present, and a real supper was served. These respectable gatherings are welcomed by West Point Park active citizens.

The third game of the Inter-County League which was played Sunday between Rochester and West Point Park on the Rochester diamond, was witnessed by a large crowd of people. The scores were all on the side of West Point Park, they making five runs to Rochester not any. However, the opposing team was a fine-looking, well behaved gentlemanly crowd.

No 1 Circle met at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Wolfe, Wednesday afternoon, to tie a comforter and discuss the coming bazaar.

Last Thursday a number of friends called on Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ault to help them celebrate their sixth wedding anniversary. Numerous presents were received. Cards were the chief feature of the evening, after which a lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mrs. Johnston, of Detroit, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Margaret J. Davis.

Miss Esther Middlewood, who was home over the weekend from Ann Arbor, spoke as a representative of the alumnae at the banquet for Superintendent Leonard Enday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Gahm of Detroit were Sunday guests of the late mother Mrs. John Hill.

Born, Mr. and Mrs. James F. — a daughter, Ruth May.

Misses Eppenga and Louise Wolfe have been having the flu but are recovering slowly.

Carrie a number from West Point Park attended the mother and daughter banquet at the Methodist church in Farmington, Friday.

The West Point Park school team and Volney Smiga school played a friendly game of ball on the Volney church school grounds. Score was in favor of the Pierson School.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burley of Farmington, Mrs. George Young of Cheneville, and the Misses Addie and Ella Harrison of Detroit were visitors of their nieces and aunts, Mrs. C. Wolfe Friday.

Miss Tisdale, high school teacher, is a weekend visitor with her uncle, William Tisdale and cousins, Bill and Irene. They went sightseeing.

NORTHVILLE IS AMONG LEADERS IN AIRPORT WORK

Other Cities Now Doing What This Place Did a Year Ago

It was just about a year ago this time when Northville citizens made possible the creation of the Stinson Northville Airport, one of the best landing fields in the country. While the burden at that time seemed a heavy one to ask the community to assume, those backing the project realized the importance of it and in the year's time the local airport has become one of the best known in the country.

So that Northville residents can gain a slight idea of airport activity throughout the country, and so they may know that this community is really one of the "pioneers" in airfield development, the following items are taken from a recent issue of the Michigan Roads and Pavements Magazine telling of more recent airport work:

Final negotiations for the leasing of an airport for the village of Port Sanilac, Thumb resort town, have been completed. A 40-acre tract has been leased for a five-year period.

Lieut Col. Charles H. Danforth, commander of Seafordage Field, recently visited Port Huron and inspected several proposed sites for the Port Huron airport.

Information concerning landing facilities at the Ann Arbor municipal airport will be submitted to the department of commerce for a rating of the field by the federal government.

The Michigan Securities Commission has authorized the issuance of $198,000 worth of common stock for the Flint Super-Speedway-Airport. The project is scheduled to be completed Sept. 1st.

Sherman Elvin Post No. 96, American Legion of Bad Axe will sponsor the construction of an airport and landing field at Bad Axe as a Legion memorial according to Ronald Gibson, post commander.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in keeping with a policy it is following out throughout its territory, has recently placed a large aerial sign on the roof of its warehouse at Benton Harbor.

Muskegon is to have three commercial flying service organizations in the near future. Two are already in operation and the third, which has a class of ten students, is to begin operations this week.

Official sanction and endorsement of the air carnival, to be staged in connection with the dedication of Reynolds Field, Jackson's new municipal airport has been given by the National Aeronautical Association.

Development of a 155-acre site on Jackson road, near the city of Muskegon as a municipal airport has been recommended by City Manager J. R. Ellison. The site is being held for a cemetery at the present time.

Officials of the Thompson Aeromarine Corporation of Cleveland, which firm has been awarded the contract for the new Michigan air mail service have been inspecting landing fields in the various cities during the past ten days.

The new intermediate air mail field at Monroe will also be a stopping place for Ford planes on the Cleveland-Detroit route. It has been announced Monroe will be a "flag" station for the Ford ships.

The city of Jackson may have its choice of two types of U.S. Army dirigibles as a feature of the dedication of its new municipal airport June 2 and 3, according to word received by Congressman Earl C. Michener from Maj Gen James E. Fehet.

The action of the Continental Motors Corporation of Muskegon in opening its airport to public use provides the basis for the establishment of air mail service linking the city of Muskegon with the new Michigan air mail system, Mayor J. Arthur Datz believes.

The federal government will assume the expense of completing improvements at the new Monroe airport. Installation of lighting equipment is practically completed, and the leveling of the field and conditioning it remains to be completed.

Visualize some of the charming patterns in cotton prints, broadcloth, batiste and other wash fabrics, as they would look in attractive smocks for house, laboratory or office wear. You put a smock on like a coat buttoning it conveniently over whatever you are wearing, and it serves the purpose of a dainty, but practical apron. It can even be worn as an ordinary house dress. The woman who wishes to prepare dinner, then dress, and serve the dinner herself, can wear a smock over her best dress up to the last minute, and if necessary allow herself to appear, beforehand without embarrassment, it is a badge of honorable work.

For a graduation frock, how about one of the many appropriate cotton fabrics? When the graduation exercises are in the morning, tailored or sports dresses are often preferred. For these, broadcloths, poplin, pique and suiting. For an evening or afternoon graduation, batiste, lawn, organdie, dotted swiss and voile all lend themselves to soft, full designs.

Position—Same as XI, but hands resting on floor near chest, arms bent.

Twelfth Exercise—Kick yourself.

This exercise is a rest exercise. "The Double Kick." Your position is the same as last exercise, with the exception of the arms, which should be bent and hands resting on floor close to your chest. Flex both legs quickly and kick yourself. If you do not succeed in touching the buttocks the first time, keep at it; you can do it with practice. Twenty-four counts on this.

Position—Same as XII. Exercise—Alternate kick.

Thirteenth Exercise—"The Alternate Kick" is similar to Exercise XII except that you start with one knee bent. As you extend the right, you flex the left. Do this as fast as possible. This is also a rest exercise and helps to change the circulation after the more difficult exercise.

How to Build Up Muscles

By J. J. Tiedt, Wilson Ave. "Y," Chicago

Article 6

"SIDE KICK"

Position—Lying on chest. Arms straight in line with body—overhead. Legs straight.

Tenth Exercise—Roll over onto right side, holding arms, legs and body stiff and column. Then roll up body way.

Roll over onto your chest with arms extended over head in straight line with the body. Now straighten arms, body and legs and make in this straight position, roll over onto your back. Counting this going sideways, right and left, at least twenty-four counts. If you are overweight, you should do this on a fairly solid surface.

"ABDOMINAL MUSCLE STRETCH"

Position—Lying on chest as in Exercise X.

Eleventh Exercise—Raise arms high and legs high, holding knee straight. The position is: lying on your chest, the same as in Exercise X, arms in straight line with the body. Arms straight, legs straight, point the toes downward. Raise arms and legs as high as possible. Legs must not be bent at the knees. You may not succeed in raising leg very high. The legs should be raised from the hips down. Even though you raise them only one inch, keep at it and you will surprise yourself how far you will raise them after a little practice.

"THE DOUBLE KICK"

Position—Same as XI, but hands resting on floor near chest, arms bent.

Twelfth Exercise—Kick yourself.

This exercise is a rest exercise. "The Double Kick." Your position is the same as last exercise, with the exception of the arms, which should be bent and hands resting on floor close to your chest. ### Raspberry Sherbet

One cup evaporated milk, 2 cups water, 1 cup sugar, 1 quart ripe raspberries, 2 egg whites, 1 teaspoon granulated gelatine, 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Make a syrup of the water and sugar, boiling it five minutes. Dissolve the gelatine and add to the syrup. Crush the berries; add the lemon juice and press through a sieve. Add to the syrup. Pour into the freeze and turn slowly until the mixture is congealed.

ACTED WISELY

Representative Lawson of Oakland county has decided not to oppose Senator Charles Sink in the coming primary election. He has announced that he will seek re-election to the lower house. In his decision he has used good judgement. In the first place Representative Lawson has been a good representative and he has now reached a point where he has a little more than the average influence in the house. In the second place it is exceedingly doubtful if he could have made even a fair showing against Senator Sink in the primary, even though Oakland county has by far the largest voting population in the district.

There are hundreds, yes thousands, of voters in Oakland county who like the way Senator Sink of Ann Arbor does business and the prospects are that Representative Lawson's useful legislative career might have ended with the primary. As it is now both Senator Sink and Representative Lawson will go back to Lansing, there isn't much question about that, and in two years there might be an opening whereby Representative Lawson can go over to the senate from his district if he should desire to do so at that time.

PUT IT OVER!

Rev. William Richards and members of the Methodist church have decided that the time has arrived for the construction of a much needed church house. The building of the church house, from statements made at the preliminary meeting to discuss the matter, is not going to create a great financial burden because of the fact that the ladies of the church have already raised over a third of the amount required. They have accomplished this all within a period of two years. The men of the church can profit well from the energetic and successful example of the ladies of the church. Now let's see if the men of affairs can do as well.

TRAINING SCHOOL

(Continued from first page) manner of living of these children to the uninitiated affords much of interest and even to the initiated perhaps something new. The residence cottages, of which there are sixteen, seven for girls and nine for boys, cannot care for more than fifty each. This relatively small number guarantees more personal attention.

The food comes in insulated containers from a central kitchen where it is cooked under the supervision of a graduated chef. The serving room, however, is its own specially designed range, where each morning they can do and make their own toast and pancakes, and Sunday afternoons and days their own candy and popcorn. Social compatibility and individual happiness is what dictates in which cottage a child shall live. In all the living demands of the group in a cottage there is division of household labor of a kind more common in the average home of a generation or two ago than today. Up early in the morning, washed clean, teeth brushed, hair cared for and dressed, down stairs for breakfast at seven sharp. Breakfast over, the dishes must be washed, the dining room cleaned up, the tables set, the beds made, and the thousand and one things about a home to be tended to, and who should do them better than these young persons in training for a humble sphere in life outside. Careful division of labor and intelligent supervision gets these chores out of the way in plenty of time for the younger children to have a breathing space before school at eight-thirty. The older children, not enrolled in the school rooms, have already gone, following breakfast, to their various activities, some to the kitchen department, where under the supervision and direction of the cooking instructor, these children in doing the work in the bakery, the kitchen, the serving room and the dining room, under modern working conditions, with modern equipment, learn what is required under actual conditions of competitive life in the world. Others under similar conditions go to the laundry, the stonehouse, the carpenter's mill room, the boiler house, the dairy barns, the farm or what not. One finds in all these activities outside the cottages, as well

The Poorest Sale That a Man Ever Made

When Judas accepted thirty pieces of silver for Jesus Christ, he made the worst bargain that any man could arrange.

There is no scene comparable to the Last Supper when Judas finally made up his mind to accept money for betraying his leader—the man whom common-folks heard gladly.

The Judas tribe has not all died yet and we may scan some of our own deals to see if we are not kinfolk to this arch traitor.

Judas sold his best friend. The money received became hateful and life unbearable. Judas committed suicide.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stoeck of Detroit, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Neal Sunday. Mr. Stoeck is secretary of the Pioneer Reserve Mutual Fire Insurance company, one of the strongest mutuals operating in the state. They also visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Richardson.

Norman G. Copland, who graduated from the local high school a year ago, was home from Cleveland over the weekend, to spend the time with his parents before they left for California, where they expect to make their future home. The young man has an excellent position with a street construction company, a subsidiary of the Detroit Steel Products company.

Owing to the fact that the two-city carriers have just a little more than they can do each day, it is requested by Postmaster Neal that residents of the village place their mail boxes outside their porch screens, and as far down on the steps as possible so it will not be necessary for the carriers to climb up steps every time they deliver a letter or paper to the home.

M. F. Potts read the item in the Record about the old land deed that Fred Simmons has signed by President Andrew Jackson. Mr. Potts is also the possessor of a similar deed to the farm he formerly owned about two and a half miles west of Salem. His deed was issued by William S. Warner in April, 1833, and it has passed down from one purchaser to another. Mr. Potts' grandfather came to Michigan and settled near Milford in 1832, the family coming the following spring.

Those contemptible gent's, the pecuniary thieves, made two extensive hauls recently from the Rollo Spring and Lewis Butterfield farms west of New Hudson. At the Spring place, six purebred White Leghorns were left out of a flock of 80, and Butterfield lost 100 of his best pullets, all Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds. This was only about half of the flock, and it is assumed that the marauders thought they were in danger of discovery and left without completing the job. —Milford Times

That's My Boy

That's my boy—down the road he goes
To school. Lord, how that baby grows!
See how he struts, clothes just like Dad's,
Head up, chest out. Ah, there's a man,
Who'll lead the questing Galahads
To grails that dazzle brighter than Those I have dreamed of, and the joy
Will be half mine for he's my boy.

That's my boy! Valedictories
Come every year, but, if you please,
Show me a high school boy or girl
Who'll put the world to rights as quick
Or make Old Glory's folds unfurled
As grandly as he turns the trick.
That's my boy! Proud? I'll say I am,
His kind's the pride of Uncle Sam!

That's my boy! Down the lane he flies,
He leads! He leads! The shouts arise,
The great stands rock with cheers and Jim
Comes flashing, winner to the line—
A University for him
Is hoarse. Great lad, that boy of mine!
I know, no matter what the race,
Of life, my boy will set the pace.

State Summer Camp for DeMolays and Masons' Sons Leads the Way

Michigan as a state has a rapid growth, same as the summer playgrounds for the whole country. It offers an added feature for the vacation season that is the first of its nature in any state in the union. This refers to "Camp Rademaker" for DeMolays and Masons' Sons. The story of this development and future possibilities of Camp Rademaker is one that will not only interest the 150,000 Masons of Michigan but also the families and the whole citizens of the Commonwealth.

About six years ago John B. Rademaker, mayor of the city of Manistee, and one of the most prominent men of Northern Michigan, one who has always had the interest of boys close to his heart, adopted a tract of 150 acres of land ideally located on Bear Lake. His magnanimous offer had only one stipulation that the land be converted into a camp for DeMolays and its time progressed that it include Masons' Sons and a tourist park for Masons.

Finally the value of the lake front and site of the camp is conservatively estimated at $50,000. The property was decided to the Grand Chapter Royal Arcan Masons of Michigan and this organization sponsored the permanent summer camp movement.

Each succeeding year has seen rapid able surroundings, Camp Rademaker makes a direct appeal to young men. The age limit for eligibles is from 16 to 21 years, and reservations for accommodations during July and August must be made in advance. The quota of fifty for each week during these two months may be taxed this season in view of the camp broadening its scope, but it will be enlarged just as fast as the demand asserts itself.

Mr. Oosting is in personal charge of correspondence regarding the camp. His address until June 20 being 522 E Franklin street, Grand Rapids. His address from June 20th to September 1st, is in care of Camp Rademaker, Bear Lake, Michigan.

There is an illustrated booklet of Camp Rademaker which will be mailed to anyone dropping a card to Charles A. Conover, Coldwater, Mich.

ROTARY CLUB HAS PROGRAM IN HONOR OF NATION'S HEROES
Several Legion Members
Present—John Enright
Gives Address

In keeping with the national holiday of the week, Monday's meeting of the Rotary Club was given over to a Memorial Day program. Each member had been requested to invite some veteran of the World war to be present, and as result there were present seven of eight members of the Northville Legion.

Dr. Richard Saley was in charge of the program, and he had as the speaker of the day, John Enright of the William H. Maybury sanatorium.

Mr. Enright, in speaking of Memorial day, said that rather than to think of it as a day of sorrow, it should be considered a day of beauty. The thought that the day comes in May, when the leaves are turning green and the spring flowers are just rounding out into full blossom, gives one a brighter sense to look upon. He further stated that nothing is so beautiful as a Memorial day parade, when the old G. A. R. veteran walks along the street with his son who was a Spanish war veteran, and his grandson, a World war veteran.

No other country offers the advantages as does America to the foreigner seeking a home here. Courts are established and "voting" to make him an American citizen. The section in which he locates will have people who are ready to make friends with him, and will make him good neighbors. These advantages, naturally, will make him a law abiding citizen and teach him a respect for our laws, which, in itself, is our constitution. This co-operation is not only with the new neighbor, but with them all, and only when all neighbors live in harmony can peace and prosperity cover the land."

An accident which resulted in only minor cuts and bruises, occurred one-half mile west of here Saturday afternoon, when two Detroit cars, one a Studebaker with an elderly couple as occupants, and going east, and a Willys-Knight with a load of Sunday school pupils going to Island Lake to fish for the evening, met opposite a car parked on the highway and collided. The Willys-Knight was demolished, but fortunately no one was seriously hurt. Walt's wrecker towed it to his garage.

Fred Quigley of California, who was for many years the station agent here, passed away at his home in the west and was brought to Walled Lake for burial. A short service was held at the home of Hyde Smith, Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rux and N. W. Wilson from here attended the services.

The mother and daughter banquet, which was given by the Novi W. C. T. U., Friday evening in the Baptist church was a decided success. Plans were made for fifty and over ninety attended. With a little quick adjustment all were provided for. Nearly $20 were realized after all bills were paid—a fact which surprised the union. Much credit is due the local president, Mrs. Eddie Root, for the splendid way in which she managed the whole affair.

The local treasurer acted as toastmaster. Recitations, songs, readings, welcomes and responses were given by local members' and friends, also an original poem, "Our Badge," by Mrs. Grace Stilin.

The county W. C. T. U. president, Mrs. Alice Campbell spoke on "Women in the Home."

From the time Miss Frances Willard, on foot the great temperance campaign, the home has played a large part in the successful outcome.

COPLAND FAMILY

Saturday Night Event Largest of its Kind Ever Held Here

Probably one of the largest social events of the kind ever held in Northville took place Saturday evening in the high school gymnasium when over 300 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Copland gathered to bid them good-bye, and extend well-wishes upon the eve of their departure for their new home in California.

To show their real appreciation of their friendship, the guests presented Mr. Copland with two checks of substantial amount and several boxes of cigars. To Mrs. Copland was presented a set of silver and two beautiful bouquets, as well as several small pieces.

During the evening a short program of Scottish entertainment was given, the music being provided on one of the latest radio models from the Shaffer Electric Shop. Ben Stuart's songs and two duets by Mr. and Mrs. Copland were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Lillian Cassie and Miss Margaret Stessor did some Highland dancing that delighted everyone present. Miss Jessie has won many Scotch dancing contests throughout the country. The surprise music for the quadrilles as performed by Harry Cassie and Jim Barnes.

Waltz, Dancers and William Hanning produced effects that never before had been seen at the meeting.

Among the 200 guests present were the following from failing to register:

Bro. D. C. Anderson, Martin Brown, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jones, Harry A. Don, Mr. and Mrs. James Farquhar, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. ADJUST LIGHTS ON
YOUR CAR URGES
AUTO CLUB CHIEF
President Schrader Tells of
Nation Wide Auto
Campaign

There are close to 22,000,000 motor vehicles traversing the highways of the nation with improperly adjusted headlights. 85 per cent of the entire number registered in the United States, while only little over 1,000,000 or five per cent fully meet the requirements of what might be termed "safety lights," according to a statement issued by Nelson Schrader, president of the Northville Automobile club.

This statement was issued in connection with the nation-wide campaign for testing of headlights, which is being carried on by 104 affiliated A. A. A. motor clubs, and follows a careful study of figures revealed in tests made by individual clubs.

"Properly adjusted headlights are of vital importance to safety in night driving," says the national motorizing body, and the significant figures shown by previous tests reveal that motor car owners are careless of this feature of safety or are not familiar with the importance of this feature of their car.

Some of the tests upon which the A. A. A. bases its estimate of deficient headlights are as follows:

Tests in the District of Columbia showed that lights on only 237 cars out of 4,591 examined were in compliance with the law and correctly adjusted.

The Bureau of Standards found only 22 out of 400 cars tested had proper lights and immediately launched a searching investigation for a much needed basis for correct headlamps.

In Norfolk, Virginia, only six out of 3,000 cars tested had lights complying with safety regulations.

At Scranton, Pa., the Lackawanna Motor Club found only 14 out of 400 cars tested to have "safety lights."

In a certain eastern city, the Traffic Bureau, co-operating with the A. A. A.

motor club, found only 124 out of 5,071 cars tested to have properly adjusted lights.

The A. A. A. points out that the peak of automobile accidents occur about 5:30 o'clock in the evening, when traffic is heaviest. During the period, from late November until April, drivers are obliged to burn their lamps at that hour, and, unquestionably, badly adjusted lights cause many collisions and accidents. Another critical time for accidents is about 7:30 in the evening, when the peak of the theater traffic is at hand.

The A. A. A. statement continues:

"It never occurs to the average motorist that aside from the safety in properly adjusted headlights there is a factor of economy resulting from saving in the various units of the car. If headlights are out of focus, they fail to illuminate the path ahead to good advantage, and the owner may resort to the use of additional lighting devices, which in cold weather may help to overload the battery. There is, in addition, much slowing down and change in car speed where headlights glare and approaching drivers are in danger of colliding. This occasions excessive use of brakes, throttle and steering wheel.

The first step is to learn to check up on the adjustment of headlights at least once a month, more often if the car is kept in public garages, where it may be pushed around by headlights. The process need not be complicated and application to any Traffic Bureau or A. A. A. club will give the motorist information as to the method of adjustment and he will find a willingness to co-operate in having the lights tested."

A man can't save time by stopping his watch.

A sleepy man isn't necessarily of a retiring disposition.

It isn't always the strongest person who has the best hold on life.

Some people can best make their presence felt by their absence.

Some people stay at home because they are compelled to pay as they go.

If some people were to speak their minds it wouldn't take them very long.

The truth that occupies a nutshell finds some minds too narrow to give it room.

Don't forget that other people may think that you are as silly as you think they are.

The butterfly makes a great show, but it's the homely little bee that makes the honey.

Joy! The feeling, experienced by the man who counts his money and finds more than he expected.

A man doesn't do his courting all to himself because he is ashamed of it, but because he wants it all to himself.

If a married man dreams that he is a bachelor it's a sure sign that he will meet with a disappointment when he wakes up.

Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perchs, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN

EPAPHRODITUS RANSOM

It was during the administration of Epaphroditus Ransom that Michigan established its first insane asylum and its schools for the deaf, dumb and blind. Ransom, the only Kalamazoo man ever elected governor of Michigan, was born in Massachusetts where he received a college education and was admitted to the bar.

He came to Michigan about the time this state was admitted to the union and located in Kalamazoo.

He was elected soon after to the state legislature where he served with considerable distinction.

In 1837 he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court, and in 1843 was made chief justice, resigning in 1845.

He returned to Kalamazoo and began the development of the plank roads in that part of the state. One road was built for many miles north of Kalamazoo. In this venture Governor Ransom lost practically all of his property.

In 1847 he was elected governor of Michigan and served only one term. It was during his administration that the first telegraph line was completed from New York to Detroit, the first message being transmitted on March 1, 1848.

It was in 1847 that an act was passed giving the legislature from Detroit to Lansing. An appropriation of $12,000 was made for temporary buildings. Governor Ransom was the first chief executive ever inaugurated in office at Lansing.

President Buchanan appointed George Ransom receiver of a land office in Kansas where he lived until he died.

and incorporation.

"At the present time the engineering department has in mind three definite ways of solving the problem; first by controlling the water at the source by building reservoirs and basins to hold the yearly flow back, secondly, by making the river banks higher and dredging the bottom, or in the third place by building channels along the side of the river from the inlet to the outlet," asserted Mr. Spangler.

"The third way probably the most practical will mean the condemnation of many miles of land along the river, approximately 3,000,000 acres in all and will run the government into a great expense. The entire sum to be used in protecting the six states that are yearly endangered by the rising water is to be appropriated from the federal government treasury at Washington."

Mr. Clemens was visiting his father in Plymouth enroute from Washington to Vicksburg, Mississippi, where he will take a survey of the land for the government.
