COMPLETE WORK IN OLD CEMETERY ON CADY STREET

Everyone is commending the Village Commission for Work Done

Under the direction of Mayor Charles Wilkins and in cooperation with other members of the village commission, a public improvement has just about been completed that is being commended by everyone in Northville, especially the older residents of the community.

This improvement is the "clean-up" of the old village cemetery, long a neglected spot because of the unsightly condition in which it had been permitted to become. With the paving of Cady Street and the increased traffic following better travel conditions on this thoroughfare, the condition of the cemetery became immediately noticeable to hundreds who seldom ever got over in that part of Northville.

One of the first things Mayor Wilkins decided to do after assuming office, was to take up with the village commission the cleaning up of the old cemetery. Located as is right in the heart of the village, the members of the commission agreed with the mayor that something should be done about the matter.

As soon as weather conditions permitted, the village officials placed some men to work in the cemetery, cleaning out the brush and weeds that had grown up. Headstones that had been tipped over were straightened up. The old road, that had been permitted to go back, and which had never had a yard of gravel on it, was graded and made into an attractive drive. A wire fence has been placed along the front of the cemetery, and will be run entirely along the place. The space between the street walk and the curbing has been graded and seeded. In fact the transformation is nothing less than remarkable.

The village property to the east of the cemetery is also being cleaned up. A filling is being made along the street side of the place so that children can use it as a sort of public playground eventually. The old bakery building moved onto the place because there was no other place to dump it has been sold and will be moved off the ground later in the summer. From the proceeds of the sale the village commission plans to erect an attractive little structure on the back of the lot, where surplus village supplies such as water pipe and materials of this kind can be stored.

The ground will be graded off level, and the part not used for playground purposes will be seeded. The entire improvement is in keeping with a general program which seems to be sweeping over Northville, to make the village one of the cleanest and most attractive in the state.

ANCIENT DEEDS GROWING OLDER

Still the deeds grow older. A few weeks ago the Record published an item about an old deed Fred Simonsen had in his possession. Along came M. F. Potts with two or three old deeds. One of them happened to be older than the one possessed by Fred Simonsen. It was issued on one of the 80 acre farms he used to own west of Northville. Mrs. E. F. Holcomb of Farmington, sends a letter to the Record, in which she says she can beat both Fred Simonsen and Mr. Potts. She has a deed that was issued to her great grandfather's land, bounded on the north by Plum Hollow Golf course, south by the Base Line road and on the east by Lahser and West Berg roads, in Southfield Township, by President Andrew Jackson in 1821. The deed was issued to Peter Louw, one of the first settlers in that part of Michigan.

Mrs Phil Taylor went to Ann Arbor, Tuesday for hospital treatment.

E. L. Larne is confined to his home on Fisher road with a severe attack of influenza. Edward and Imogene Baughman have nicely recovered from the measles and are able to be out. Mrs Adella Brock entertained a number of ladies Wednesday afternoon at her home on West Main street.

Mr and Mrs Clifford Turnbull were hosts Thursday night to a large party of relatives and guests from Detroit and Pontiac. Mr and Mrs M. R. Seely spent several days last week visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs J. D. LaRue and family, in Ypsilanti. On Sunday they visited the Irish Hills and called on friends at Clark's Lake.

RECORDS BROKEN BY STAMP SALE IN THE MONTH OF MAY

Breaking all previous records, the stamp sales of the Northville post office for May were $1,392.75. According to Postmaster F. S. Neal, it was the largest May stamp sale in the history of the office, and nearly equaled the sale of the largest December's record.

It is a sure indication of the growth of Northville and the increased business the community is doing.

For many months past it has been evident that there has been a steady improvement in business conditions. Not only that, but the demand for houses shows that the population of the community has also been increasing.

This is due to a very large extent to the growth of the Stinson Aircraft corporation. Every week additional employees are being added to the payroll of this big industry.

ANNUAL LIBRARY DAY HELD OUT AT THE SANATORIUM

Over Hundred from Detroit are Present—Lauds Work of Mr. Strom.

Over 100 librarians from the public library of Detroit were present Wednesday afternoon at the annual library day of the William H. Maybury Sanatorium, the program being one of the most pleasant of any ever given at a similar event.

Adam Strom, head of the Detroit library system and regarded as one of the leading librarians of the country, presided at the afternoon program.

In his introductory remarks Dr. Bruce H. Deagles, superintendent of the sanatorium, lauded the co-operation extended the institution by Mr. Strom, and declared that through his co-operation and that of his assistants there had been created at the hospital one of the best institutional libraries in the state.

It is really known what an important part good reading plays in such a place as this. You can little realize the value of good reading and how eagerly it is sought by the patients who must be kept quiet. We want Mr. Strom to know that his efforts in aiding us are appreciated stated Dr. Douglas.

As one of the diversions of the afternoon, following an interesting book talk by Louise Parks Bell, a well presented play by Colin Clements was presented. The three characters who took part in the play, called "Spring," were William Smith, Hilda Henke and Stewart Strachan. Miss Henke played the part of the "skirt" in the little sketch, and she certainly took the unusual part exceedingly well, especially for one supposed to be so dignified as a librarian.

Then came "A Gypsy Camp," with Miss Mary Honly presenting a gypsy dance—with tambourine, flashing costume, eyes and smiles. Miss Honly proved a very graceful and pretty dancer. The number, one of song and dance, was pleasing. Ernest W. Chapman and William Hornall sang the solo parts, and Miss Alma Josephine appeared as the fortune-teller.

Dr. Douglas and his assistants proved excellent hosts to the many visitors.

The event is a yearly one for the Detroit Public Library, and it has come to be regarded as one of the outstanding features of the year among the employees of the place.

WILLIAM EDWARDS GOES TO SEBEWAING

The many friends of William Edwards, for over 15 years a well known resident of Northville, will regret to know that he is moving to Segewaing up in the Thumb district, to make his future home. He has accepted an excellent position with the Detroit Cramery company as manager of the plant in that place. The family will remain in Northville for the present, but will remove to their new location sometime during the summer, it is expected. Mr. Edwards is a past master of the Northville Masonic Lodge and was active in the organization of the DeMolay lodge here.

Miss Elizabeth Larcom of Bay City, a teacher in the Burgess school, Detroit, on Sunday they visited the Irish Hills and called on friends at Clark's Lake.

STINSON TO GO AFTER HIS OLD AIR RECORD AGAIN

Sustained Flight Mark Held by Local Man Broken in Italy

Two famous Italian aviators, Captain Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo del Prete, World war aces, a few days ago broke the world's sustained flight record made last winter at Jacksonville, Florida, by Eddie Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft corporation of Northville.

But they will hold the record for only a short time. Mr. Stinson has announced that early in the coming winter when business may not be quite so pressing as it is at present, he will make another effort to win back the record he has twice held.

And there will be no question but what this distinction will come back to Northville, as Eddie has never failed on anything he went after.

Doubtless, he has held more air records than anyone in something than any other living aviator.

It is his present plan to make the effort as soon as ice conditions on Lake St. Clair permit. Because of the fact that gasoline consumption is not so great during winter months he believes that a much larger load can be carried into the air as of course he can stay up in the clouds just as long as his gasoline supply will last.

Like the good wingman that he is, when notified of the fact that these Italian fliers had broken his record in their flight at Rome, Mr. Stinson immediately sent his congratulations to them.

It is not definitely known whether George Haldeman will be a co-pilot with Eddie Stinson on the new record breaking flight, when it takes place, or whether the famous flier will select some other companion for the flight.

It would not be at all surprising if he should be selected for the next victory flight.

ENDANGERS LIVES OF HIS CHILDREN, GETS SIXTY DAYS

Clarenceville Resident Sent to Work Farm by Judge Ely

Sixty days at the Detroit House of Correction farm was the sentence imposed upon James Season, Clarenceville resident, by Judge Carl Ely, Tuesday.

I am giving you that time in the workshop because you unnecessarily endangered the lives of two of your children you had with you in your automobile when you went into the ditch.

He was charged with driving while intoxicated. He had with him in his car a son 11 years old and a girl 4, both being slightly injured when the car went over the bank. He escaped injury. A plea of guilty was entered.

The accident happened on the Base Line road, where the highway turns onto the Novi road. The Ford was badly damaged.

PRETTY STREET FORGOTTEN SPOT

Can be Made in One of Northville's Real Beauty Spots

Neglected and forgotten—Fairbrook avenue between South Center street and Rogers street.

One of the beauty drives of the city of Northville—but now an unsightly street since the Ford dam went out, and the highway permitted to deteriorate while waiting for Wayne county to continue the Seven Mile road direct across the southern end of the village to Rogers street.

The county some day contemplates making this improvement—but when no one knows.

Residents along Fairbrook, especially the eastern end of the street, feel that they have been entirely forgotten, and they are asking that the city take steps to make that street more attractive and more passable to auto traffic.

In wet weather, such as has prevailed during the past few days, the street is practically impassable.

Next on the program—Fairbrook avenue!

"I SURE LIKE DAM KINE OF CHURNS"

Fred Vanatta, of the Superior Church company, gets all kinds of letters from all parts of the world—but it remained for one of his customers in one of the western states to send the prize one. The fellow wanted a churn lid—and this is what he wrote:

Please send me the price of the churns lid. I brok mine so I can sent for a new one. I sure like, dam kine of churns.

Sent we the price dan I will sent me for a new lid to Will.

DETROIT POSTAL CHIEF TELLS OF AIR MAIL GROWTH

Postmaster Kellogg Also Lauds Wisdom of Stinson Officials

Wise indeed are the officials of your local aircraft corporation in locating its plant in Northville. It will not be only a few years before every company making aircraft will be forced to come out to the suburban towns of Detroit to make their product.

Four intersecting north and south streets that had been scheduled for paving last year will be paved during the present summer and fall. The commission decided Wing street will be paved as well as High West and Linden. These were the same streets, all running north and south, that were scheduled for paving last fall, but because of the bad weather and the lateness of getting the contracts for Dunlap and Cady, were put over as a part of the paving program for the present year.

The village clerk was instructed to advertise for bids and it is probable that the work will be started within the next 30 days, if not sooner.

It is pointed out by city officials that the paving program carried on last year made such an improvement in the appearances of the streets that were paved and aided so materially in the general appearance of the village that the rest of the program might as well be completed now as next year.

The paving program of Northville for both last year and the present, does not equal the paving program that has just been started in Plymouth. The nearby village will by fall have over four miles of streets paved during the present summer.

It was not until after Northville had paved both Dunlap and Cady streets, as well as Church and Hutton, that city officials of Plymouth came to Northville and investigated the work that had been done. They were so pleased with the improvement that they returned to Plymouth and mapped out an exceedingly extensive paving program for the present summer.

One of the facts that caused the Northville village commission to carry out the additional paving program during the present year, was the discovery sometime ago that the village tax rate for the present year could be held at a slightly lower than last year in spite of all the extra costs falling upon the village due to the improvement work.

Mayor Wilkins recently stated that unless something unforeseen came up he was in hopes that the rate for the next year would be even lower than that of this year.

Because of the fact that the commission is preparing to start its paving work much earlier than last year, the work will be finished earlier in the fall than it was a year ago.

Residents along Fairbrook, especially the eastern end of the street, feel that they have been entirely forgotten, and they are asking that the city take steps to make that street more attractive and more passable to auto traffic.

In wet weather, such as has prevailed during the past few days, the street is practically impassable.

COMMENCEMENT TO TAKE PLACE ON WED., JUNE 20TH

Program Will be Confined to One Day—No Speaker for This Year

Details have practically been completed for the annual high school commencement exercises which will take place this year in the Perrin Allen theater, instead of the high school auditorium. The event will take place on Wednesday evening, June 20th. The class members and school officials have decided to accept the courteous offer of the theater management for the use of the building, because of the fact that the seating capacity is much larger than that of the high school auditorium.

It has also been decided to do away with a commencement address. This decision will confine the entire commencement period to the one day, instead of two as has been the general practice in preceding years.

There are some details of the program pertaining to the musical numbers, which will be worked out in the next day or so.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. Frank P. Crowley of the Presbyterian church in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening June 17th.

Ring Had Traveled

A few weeks ago a young woman employed by an executive of a Wilmington (Del.) concern, while mailing letters, removed a diamond ring and left it on her desk. When she looked for it the ring had disappeared. She concluded it might have slipped into one of the letters she had sealed and mailed. She wrote to the correspondents of the day, explaining the disappearance and asking that the ring be returned should it be found. She has just heard from a correspondent in Italy, who reported that the ring fell out when the letter was opened and promised to return it.

Touched Trapper's Heart
A trapper at Orange, Texas, placed a trap in what he thought was a mink trail, but one morning he found a big muskrat fastened in it. After the animal had been killed, the trapper observed a nest which had been prepared by the mother rat while fast in the trap, as she had three feet free. Within the nest was a new-born litter of rats. "I'd give the price of a good many furs if I had seen the young muskrats before I killed their mother for her hide," said the trapper.

Worked and Prayed

The young Negro who was picked up off Cape Hatteras after drifting ten days in a small launch, preached about the shortest sermon known on the favorite text of many preachers: "Faith without works." To inquiries as to how he passed his time, he replied: "I was pretty busy praying and pumping."—New York Post.

FROM OTHER LANDS

Facilities for dancing are provided by the railways of India on some of their trains de luxe.

The Hindus have a superstition belief that in an eclipse the sun or moon is swallowed by a dragon.

A bill is before the British parliament to legalize marriage between a man and his niece by marriage.

Temperance advocates in Japan are agitating for a law to prohibit the drinking of intoxicants by persons under 25 years of age.

Several men in England who have achieved prominence in business or public life recently confessed they had never used a telephone.

Great interest has been aroused in Japan by the announcement of a Japanese scientist, who says he has discovered a method of obtaining two crops of rice a year.

With the Japanese, the year of 1928 is the year of the dragon, which demands that the first temple visited to pray for good fortune during the year should be in a southerly direction from the place of abode. On New Year's day, the railway and traction lines running north and south did a record business.

NEEDED INVENTIONS

Fame and fortune await the inventor who will supply any of the following inventions, says Dr. Henry Smith Williams in Popular Science Magazine:

A way to produce power by controlling gravitation.

A way to harness the immense energy manifested by static in the radio.

An inexpensive way to refine aluminum from the limitless rock and clay in which it exists.

A method to convert water into fuel gas at moderate expense, as can now be done at prohibitive cost.

Practical ways to extract potassium from rocks and manufacture phosphorus, thereby fertilizing barren fields.

A method of making gas from air by simplifying the production of radium so that its cost will be moderate instead of $3,000,000 an ounce.

Vines should be planted during this month.

Ring Had Traveled

A few weeks ago a young woman employed by an executive of a Wilmington (Del.) concern, while mailing letters, removed a diamond ring and left it on her desk. When she looked for it the ring had disappeared. She concluded it might have slipped into one of the letters she had sealed and mailed. She wrote to the correspondents of the day, explaining the disappearance and asking that the ring be returned should it be found. She has just heard from a correspondent in Italy, who reported that the ring fell out when the letter was opened and promised to return it.

Touched Trapper's Heart

A trapper at Orange, Texas, placed a trap in what he thought was a pink trail, but one morning he found a big muskrat fastened in it. After the animal had been killed, the trapper observed a nest which had been prepared by the mother rat while fast in the trap, as she had three feet free. Within the nest was a new-born litter of rats. "I'd give the price of a good many furs if I had seen the young muskrats before I killed their mother for her hide," said the trapper.

Worked and Prayed

The young negro who was picked up off Cape Hatteras after drifting ten days in a small launch preached about the shortest sermon known on the favorite text of many preachers: "Faith without works." To inquiries as to how he passed his time, he replied: "I was pretty busy praying and pumping." —New York Post.

SAYS THE OWL

Some men know what to do to be a go getter, but they are too lazy.

History repeats itself; and there are many who run risks to see if it will.

If a person begins "I don't want to hurt your feelings," stop him right there.

People who get into bad scandals may inspire sympathy, but they shouldn't try to lead.

When you talk to yourself, you don't have to think twice before speaking. There's something in that.

IT MAY BE SO, BUT—

I am not a candidate.

I was dead with fright.

I do not aspire to fame.

I will bet you ten to one.

I never lied to my parents.

I am the captain of my soul.

I can take it or leave it alone.

I never spend more than I make.

I am the boss of my household.

I could quit smoking if I wished.

I voted for the man, not the party.

I care not what the world may say.

I wouldn't do it for a million dollars.

I would rather be right than President.

I wouldn't lie if they gave it to me.

I never took a dishonest dollar in my life.

I have never had a quarrel with my wife.

I never drive faster than twenty miles an hour.

I make it a rule never to do anything of which I might be ashamed.

I shall be detained tonight at the office of the World Herald.

Her Dreadful PastThe Amazing True Story of a Girl Murderess

PERHAPS you recall reading in the newspapers the case of Gretchen, the girl who poisoned her father, and then, after trial, refused to utter a word in her own defense. You read of her conviction and incarceration. There, apparently, the story ended. But really it was only the beginning of one of the most amazing human dramas ever enacted.

In prison Gretchen performed her duties in utter silence; nothing interested her; she kept to herself an outcast branded for life.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick spent Sunday with relatives in Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. William Merritt visited relatives in Brighton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. McLaren of Plymouth were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foreman and daughter, Colleen, and Miss Ruth Foreman of Detroit, were week-end guests at the parental home.

Mrs. Kenneth Ruth and son, Burton, and Mrs. G. Foreman and daughter, Ruth, spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Louise Robinson and family of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Kahler are the proud parents of a daughter, born June 1st, at the Dr. Atchison hospital, Northville. They call her Marjorie June.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCullough and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Ella Delker and Miss Ora Rathburn spent Thursday afternoon at the John Herrick home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Foreman and son, Harold, wife and daughter were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Woodworth at the F. Woodworth cottage at Silver Lake.

A very excellent Memorial address was given by Rev. A. J. Parker at the West Methodist church, last Wednesday afternoon, and a large assembly paid tribute to the men who answered their country's call in time of war. Music was furnished by the Salem Federated church choir, and the male quartet rendered a very impressive song, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Let's pay a call. (Knock, knock!) The little mouse
Is quiet now. Thought she was all alone.

Why How-dadó? Dear Mrs. Thingumbob,
We walked right in we couldn't find the knob!

Do meet Miss Whatchacallit! She's my guest
And this is Mr. Barker. She! Get down!
(He has peculiar ways.) Oh yes, we'll rest.
This chair is fine. Why, what a lovely gown!

You have the nicest things! This china, too.

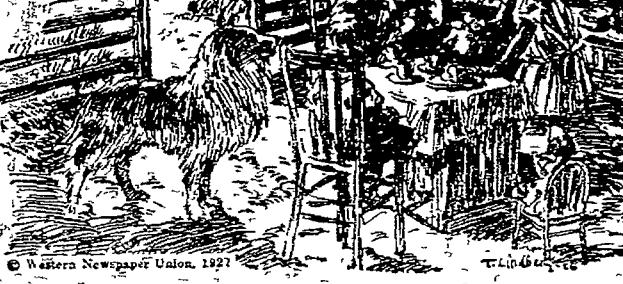

Cracked? Oh, that's stylish—let's the sunbeams through!

Tea? Thanks! I'll take one little tiny cup.
One lump here Mr. Barker can't you wait?
For goodness' sake, don't sniff just like a pup!
We must be going. My, these cakes are great!

Dear Hostess, you're as pretty as a dream.

Mud pies? I love them! Give me lemon cream.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1928

A TOURIST CAMP

"Bad" Adams, as he is affectionately known in newspaper circles about the state, in a recent issue of the Fowler Review, says that one of the needs of that pleasant little community is a tourist camp. Possibly, but Fowlerville has a bad stench in the nostrils of most automobile travelers. The place has been a speed trap for years, and more than one auto driver has been given a royal trimming by some of the local fee-grabbing officials of the place.

A tourist camp might be a need there, but tourists always have a little hesitation about patronizing a place that sanctions legalized pocket-picking.

It is understood that Fowlerville is trying to live down the reputation that was created for it as a result of its speed trap. We hope it can do so, and we hope further that such an attractive little place as Fowlerville with one of the grandest old men that ever lived running its newspaper, will never, never again place itself in a class with the long-fingered gentrified that lives by grabbing a man's pocketbook and then sneaking away with it.

IS IT POSSIBLE?

Harley Squiers, a former prominent and distinguished resident of Grand Rapids, moved to Detroit, sometime ago Grand Rapids, we have always supposed was a town made up of only goody-goody folks. Like George Welsh, Arthur Vandenberg, Frank Sparks, Frank McKey and a few reformed newspaper men who moved over to Lansing.

But now comes Harley Squiers and spoils the whole beautiful picture we have always had of Grand Rapids. Harley had a "place" over in Detroit, and wasn't it surprising when the federal agents came along and put a padlock on the front door? Of course, that means that Harley was doing something entirely unbecoming anyone from Grand Rapids.

You see that's the trouble. Detroit gets a bad reputation throughout the country just by the wayward conduct of these sons from Grand Rapids, Saginaw and other places. They go down to Detroit and immediately blossom forth as hard-boiled boot-leggers or something like that. For the sake of Detroit and its nearby neighbors we wish those upstate towns would keep their goody-goody boys at home.

PLUR IGNORANCE

Schuyler Marshall runs the Clinton County Republican. He is ordinarily a good newspaper man and publishes a very high grade paper. But even good newspaper men often through their intense political feeling write articles that mislead something entirely foreign to the facts in the matter. Sometimes they do it through ignorance, being too lazy to look up the facts. However, this is not generally the case.

In a recent editorial comment about a meeting of the state administrative board, Schuyler elaborated quite extensively upon the fact that newspaper reporters and citizens of the state were present and that they discussed with various members of the board after the meeting, matters that had been up for consideration. He would have his readers believe that such a thing in a previous state administration was impossible.

Father Schuyler doesn't know what he is writing about or else he has some other reason for making such an insinuation. The facts are entirely different than he would have one believe—and any newspaper man who has ever worked around the capitol in Lansing knows that reporters and any of the hoipoilois that ever cared to be present at a session of the administrative board could do so.

And as for talking with state officials—Ye Gods! One of the problems of newspaper men around Lansing for years has been to find a way to escape from the chitter.

Stick a little closer to the facts, Schuyler. We would hate to think that St. Johns harbors a fellow journalist.

WHO WILL PICK IT UP?

When cigarette papers, candy covers or popcorn boxes are thrown out on the streets or lawns, did it ever occur to you to ask who will pick it up?

When old newspapers, handbills and paper bags are sent to the winds, ask who will pick it up?

When a bottle is dropped on the highway, the bits go flying everywhere. Who will pick it up?

If this question were asked more often as the arm is lifted to cast some bacon away, a lot of expense and labor would be saved.

Who will pick it up?

FEED WOODWORTH

Recent news dispatches say that Fred Woodworth, internal collector of federal revenues and former right hand bower of Governor Sleeper, is going to run for lieutenant governor. That's pretty good news.

For a long time Mr. Woodworth has been associated in an administrative way with the state or federal government. He has always made an exceptionally good official, and if he is elected lieutenant governor, Michigan can be assured of conscientious service.

It is hoped that he will make the run. Michigan will be the winner, not Mr. Woodworth.

Looks like fair weather. (That is Northville fair weather.)

The weather man says more rain. A local man is building a house on the highest hill around here in preparation for the big flood.

Marlin Potts said he never saw rain in Florida like it has rained here.

Stark Bros. and John McCully, as well as Mr. Lingel have ordered a car load of h.p. rubber boots.

Floyd Northrop says let it rain. It won't rain during the fair, he thinks if it keeps on raining now.

Nelson Schrader came down to work Wednesday morning in a row boat.

Steve Armstrong is advocating a sort of combination floating boat and automobile that is good on either land or sea.

Fred Cochran now claims that he predicted some years ago that the big deluge was going to take place in June, 1928.

Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Saley entertained their bridge club on Wednesday evening.

D. M. Lewis and family of Royal Oak, spent Monday evening with Mrs. Etta Lewis.

Mrs. James Fornwall of Highland Park, visited Mrs. Annie Montgomery Saturday.

A marriage license has been issued to Eugene Mills and Minnie Tunson of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frame of Harbor Beach, spent two days last week with Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Harger of Chicago, have been in town for a few days visiting with their host of friends.

Installation of officers of the White Shrine of Jerusalem will be held Thursday evening, June 14th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. George Nordman of Detroit and sister, Mrs. Louis Wigle, of Rosedale Park, visited relatives in Northville, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freydl motored to Mt. Vernon, Ohio, last Saturday, where they spent the weekend visiting with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lanning and family attended the funeral of Mrs. Lanning's little niece, Beatrice Jean Larkin, at Pontiac, last week Friday.

Mrs. G. H. Young, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sharpn, and son, Bud, left Tuesday on a motoring trip to Niagara Falls and other eastern points.

A regular meeting of the M.E. Ladies' Aid society will be held at the home of Mrs. William Rattenbury on Beaumont Avenue, Tuesday, June 12th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Mary Hillyer of Elsie, was the guest of her cousins at the Neal home during the past week. Miss Hillyer was on her way home from the finish of a six months' engagement in the Artists and Models Schubert company of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whitehead and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitehead spent Sunday in Ypsilanti, as a guest of Mr. Whitehead's sister, Mrs. Hathaway. Mrs. Hathaway accompanied them home, and expects to remain here for a week or so. She is past 82 years of age, but is very active for one of her years.

As a further tribute to Col. Lindbergh, the Northville postoffice has placed on sale "Lindbergh" air mail stamp books. The books each contain six 10-cent air mail stamps, with a picture of the Spirit of St. Louis. The first books were sold to R. A. Brooks, one of the leading stamp collectors in the country.

In honor of Miss Margaret Murdock, who leaves soon for an extended tour of Europe, Mrs. Laura Trufant Buckley will entertain twenty young ladies Friday evening at the Meadowbrook Country Club. Out of town guests will be Miss Katherine Curtis and Miss June Filkins of Detroit; Miss Betty Beard of Ann Arbor, and Laura Goodell of Toledo. A hosiery shower will be one of the features of the evening.

Fred Quigley, for many years a writer for the Northville Record from Nov. died recently in California, and the remains were brought to Walled Lake for burial a few days ago. The news came through the Novi correspondent of the Record. Many will remember Mr. Quigley's articles in the Record. In fact, less than a year ago he wrote an article pertaining to other days in Northville that was of more than ordinary interest. During recent years he resided in LaPuenta, California, a little suburb out from Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mateva, who have been living in Plymouth have returned to Northville, and are staying with the latter's brother, Ralph Taylor and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Yerkes left Wednesday morning for Cleveland, where they expect to attend the graduation exercises of their niece, Miss Margaret Blackwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lyke, Dr. Ketcham, Mrs. B. M. Terrill and Mrs. Permeje Bryson motored to Detroit Monday evening, and attended the play, "The Desert Song" at the Cass theater.

Through some error in the printing of the new telephone book, which was done in Detroit, the telephone number of Flower Acres Nursery was omitted entirely from the book. The number is 7132-F3. Clip this number out and paste it in your book.

Frank N. Perrin and Louis Salow, Northville's champion fiers, are attending the annual G. A. R. encampment at Kalamazoo, this week. Mrs. J. B. Watts is a delegate to the W. R. C. convention, which is being held at the same time in that city.

Northville Masons did not forget the fact that Beach Northrop, a past master of the lodge and one of the active Masons of Northville over a period of many years, had a birthday Tuesday. He was 73 years of age and a beautiful bouquet of flowers went out to him at the home of his son, Floyd, where he is staying for the present.

Postmaster F. S. Neal is going to collect some of the cash he has been turning over to fire insurance companies for many years. Paper catching on fire from a match caused considerable damage in the bathroom, Tuesday evening. The loss will be around $200. A fire extinguisher in the home was used to put out the blaze.

Officials of the DeMolay lodge are planning one of the biggest banquets ever given by the organization. It will take place on June 29th, and a special invitation is going to be issued to the mothers and fathers of the boys to be present. It has been suggested that parents expecting to attend get in touch with Fred's Hodge telephone #8, and he will give you any information you may desire about the event.

Fire which is believed to have started from a defective chimney Sunday evening set fire to the upper part of the home's owners and occupied by Mrs. Ella Wellington at 217 South Center street. Smoke was discovered coming through the roof by Joseph Blieke, who lives next door. He immediately notified the occupants of the house, and called the fire department. Because of the location of the blaze in the upper part of the house it was extinguished with considerable difficulty. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

MILO JOHNSON AND HIS COW BUSINESS GETTING INTO MESS

Orville Lewis and Capt. Gilbreath Have Something to Say

Milo Johnson is getting into deep water.

It seems that he told one of his neighbors the other day that he was getting sick and tired of taking care of a little dinky back yard that he has at his place on West Main street. He suggested that he thought it would be an easy way for him to keep the grass cut short by buying one of Sam Pickard's tested cattle to do the work.

First it was Orville Lewis who went up into the air.

"I have been the only man to keep a cow in the village limits of Northville for the last ten years—and I am going to keep up this distinction. I don't want Milo Johnson or anyone else buttin' in. Bessie and I have licked the city council half a dozen times, and now because the city daddies admit they are licked, up bobs someone else about keeping a cow in their backyard." You can tell Milo for me that I am against it," said Orville the other day.

Then the very next day comes along an insinuating letter from Capt. W. S. Gilbreath of the Detroit Automobile Club, in which he says some things he shouldn't, although he does wish Milo the greatest of luck.

The Capt. writes:

"Dear Milo—

"I understand you are out of the gardening stuff and are going in for cattle."

"When you get ready, and well

Sees War This Year

That the next World war will start on May 28, 1928, and continue until September 10, 1929, was the prediction of Basil Stewart, at the annual meeting of the British Israelites, recently held at London.

The date is foretold in exactly the same way as was August 14, 1914 through the symbolism of the Great pyramid, which gives us in the language of geometry, a chronological chart of history, though it does not actually specify the event, he said. "By combining the prophetic forecasts of the Bible with the chronological forecasts of the Great pyramid, however, we can foresee the future. The last time the apocalyptic stone was limestone and this limestone granite, which means a far harder struggle on a much bigger scale." He added that Great Britain and her colonies will win, and that they will be vindicated.

GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN

ROBERT McCLELLAND

The constitutional convention of 1835 furnished the beginning point for many political careers in Michigan's early history. Robert McClelland, a Democrat, who played an important part, not only in state history, but in national affairs, served as a member of that convention, being elected from Monroe.

McClelland, who was born in 1807, found it necessary, when 17 years old, to provide his own resources. Although the son of rich Philadelphia parents, a change in fortune made it necessary for him to make his own way.

After being admitted to the bar he came to Michigan and practiced law. Governor Mason appointed him as a bank commissioner. McClelland being the first man to ever serve in that capacity in this state. McClelland was later elected to the state legislature, and was speaker of that body in 1843. He was elected a member of congress, retiring in 1848 to his home in Monroe. Soon after he left congress, the constitutional convention of 1850 was called, and he was elected a member. In 1851 the new state constitution took effect, and it was necessary to elect a governor for one year in order to prevent the state being without an executive for a time. Mr. McClelland was elected, and in 1852 he was re-elected for a term of two years.

In March 1853 he was appointed secretary of the interior by President Pierce resuming his post as governor. Andrew Johnson, who was lieutenant governor, acted as governor until the election of a new governor. After resigning his post in the cabinet, he returned to Michigan, and in 1867 the state held another constitutional convention and was elected a member of that body, serving at three different times in Michigan constitutional conventions.

Morning Glories

Purple and white were the morning glories,
Sweet, fresh blooms that we loved so well;
Mornings they nodded and told us stories
And if we touched them their jewels fell.

Purple and white they still are growing;

Something—the magic though, isn't here;

Where is the way for a grown-up's going?

Back to the wonder of Childhood's year?

Is there a good ship backward sailing?

Over the great swift stream of Time?

For those who feel they are somehow failing,

To sense the beauty of things sublime?

Vain the thought! 'Tis futile yearning

Childhood's only a magic door

Through which we come and there's no returning.

To that enchanted treasure store.

Still, God's beauty—in sun and shadow,
Plays on the hills and upon the leaves
Of green trees, bending above the meadow,
Bright with bloom, and my heart believes

That he who bundles away his sorrow,

Who loses worry and pipes a song,

Will keep Youth's treasure today, tomorrow,

To brighten years as they slip along.

MR. COHN CONDUCTS BOYS

AT U. OF M. CAMPUS

Mr. Cohn, the science teacher of the local high school, conducted a tour of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, on Saturday, May 26th. The five—Mr. Cohn, Mr. Amerman, Charles LeFevre, John Leaverton and Ted Watts met at 8:30 Saturday morning at the school house. The start was made in Mr. Amerman's car at 8:45. On arriving in Ann Arbor, Russell Atkinson joined the party at the Union building. The journey was resumed as far as the office of Coach Wieman, where a number of coaches were met. These coaches took the party through the Yost field house, where each in turn was introduced to Jack Blott, former all-American football center. Then the party journeyed over to Ferry Field, where they were shown through the new buildings for inter-class sports.

Then going back to Coach Wieman's office, each was given a ticket for a special seat at the ball game, which started at 2:30. The party then went to the library building, where they met two U. of M. players—Webber and Flajole. Then after taking in the engineering building, the mechanics building, the physics and medical buildings, dinner was eaten.

After dinner the ball game, Michigan won from Harvard by a home-run in the last inning. After the game every member of the party was invited into Michigan's locker room, where they met groups of former football heroes including Benny Friedman, Benny Oosterbaan, Bob Brown and Harry Kopke.

ANY ROTARIANS ARE FOUND GUILTY
IN MONDAY TRIALS

Prosecuting Attorney Cochran and Judge Schuler Raise Hob

Everyone brought before the court of justice conducted Monday by members of the Northville Rotary club were found guilty by Judge Joseph Schuler.

"There is nothing else I can do, but find you guilty in the face of all the evidence presented by the prosecution," said the judge to all the respondents.

Fred Cochran was attorney for the people—and the people certainly did score heavily.

Many cases on the docket were not called because of the fact that the trial of Edward Lapham required an unusually long time. He insisted on conducting his own defense as it was. Witnesses for the people were both for and against him.

Finally in an effort to secure justice, Judge Schuler imposed a fine upon the accused as well as the witnesses. The charge contained counts of every nature and kind. Some of the witnesses said he was guilty of them all—some said a part of them were true—and no one said any of them were untrue.

Cornered in the witness chair, the respondent called as a witness to support his alibi, Harry Clark, Base Line capitalist and financier. Clark squirmed for a few seconds under the grilling of Attorney Cochran and then admitted that the charges preferred by the people were correct.

"Judge, I hate to admit it, but I guess it is all true, as I was there." "So you were there, too? Were you, Mr. Clark?" asked the judge.

Harry admitted that he was—and he paid a fine as well. Even such a dignified Rotarian as President Don Yerkes Sr. was caught up in the mess of things and was fined heavily for testifying both in behalf of Banker Lapham and the people.

John McCullly didn't have a chance. He was convicted even before his trial started.

John declares that he is going to ask for a re-trial at a nearly date it will be granted.

President-elect H. H. Burkhardt, when brought on for trial for shirking his duties in connection with various improvements at Fairbrook Springs, denied it all and for his denial he was fined, upon the recommendation of Prosecutor Cochran.

He isn't a prosecutor. He's a persecutor," snapped the tooth-smitcher as he dug up his coin.

One of the accused pleaded guilty. It was "Butch" Baldwin. Butch admitted that the picture he had taken down in Jacksonville, Florida, a year or so ago, with a fish that looked something like a whale and which he claimed he caught, was nothing more than a big rubber fish used by southern photographers in snapping pictures.

LOCAL SERVICE TO OVERSEAS IS EXTENDED HOUR

Phone Company Adds Time for Benefit of Local
Phone Users

Hours during which telephone calls can be made from Northville to points overseas are extended one hour, effective Monday, June 5th, it is announced by Roy E. Crowe, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone company. This means that the daily service will close at 9:00 p.m., eastern standard time, instead of 8:00 p.m., eastern standard time, as formerly making the talking period fifteen and one-half hours each day. The service opens at 5:30 a.m. eastern standard time.

Use of the trans-Atlantic telephone service is increasing steadily. Mr. Crowe says Presidents of Northville can now telephone to all parts of the United States and to nine foreign countries, three are on the American continent and six in Europe. They are Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Sweden.

How to Build Up Muscles

By J. J. Toett, Wilson & Co., Chicago

Article 7

"KNEE-BIG UP POST UP"
Position—Same as last exercise, but with knees bent.
Exercise—Push body off foot, straightening arms.

Position of body same as XIII except that both knees are bent. Now straighten your body up, straighten the arms and, raising ten to twenty-four counts on this, dropping on your strength. There is much danger of overdoing this exercise.

"DOUBLE UP."
Position—Same as last exercise, but with knees straight.

1. Lifting Exercise—Push body off floor, straightening arms and push back to sitting position on heels.
2. Side position—Exercise No. 1 legs straight and hands flexed with palms resting on floor alongside of chest.
As you perform this exercise do not change position of hands. Now push your body up, straightening your arms and pushing backward until you sit down your body, with your chest resting on your thighs, doubling up as much as you can. Then return to starting position. This is a wonderful exercise. It combines tension of muscles and relaxing hands helps to produce peristaltic action and good blood circulation.

Now, don't be down on the job even though these exercises are executed from a lying position. Many people are paying big fees to get instruction such as you are receiving here. All you have to do is help yourself and good health will be the result.

Sun baths should be given to all well children to keep them well and to many sick children to help make them well. Special sun suits are advised to permit as much as possible of the body to be reached by the sun's rays. These suits are sleeveless, with very short legs, low necks, armholes cut out as much as possible, and often have tops of semi-transparent fabric such as net or marquisette which allows some of the valuable ultra-violet rays to reach the skin.

BARTHELMES IN NEW

ROLE MAKES A BIG HIT

When John Fox, Jr., chose the back woods of Kentucky in Civil War days as the place and period of his celebrated novel "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," he went far afield for adventure and love interest, but his completed novel is so interesting, compelling and intriguing that First National Pictures chose it as a starring vehicle for Richard Barthelmess.

This picture, one of the finest that Barthelmess has ever made, is to be the attraction at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, June 9th, and its coming is one of the big events of the local theatrical season.

The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come deals with the adventures which follow a fourteen-year-old mountain boy homeless and a wanderer, with no other companion than his faithful dog. They travel into the distant mountain regions, far from civilization, into the aristocratic homes of the Blue Grass country, and into the Union Camps where the lad meets General U. S. Grant.

is just such an exponent of action and thrills, will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday, June 10th. All of his past pictures and this one in particular, is packed with the fastest and peppiest of action. There is never a dull moment, there's something doing every second from the opening flash to the final flicker.

Ken knows the value of action and speed. His years on the tan bank in some of the largest circuses of the world taught him the value of action and every minute he is before the audience. There are phases of dramatic action that are needed to build a story, but according to Maynard there is no particular reason why there should have some action to them at least.

"The Canyon of Adventure" was written specially for Maynard by Marion Jackson, who has moulded and built a story suited exactly to his merits. There is a thread of romance running through a vital historical drama that has one on the edge of their seat from beginning to end. The main theme tells of early California during the Spanish rule and the days of huge land grants.

ENGLISH SCENES IN NEW BRENON FILM

When Herbert Brenon took his company to England to film exterior scenes for his production of "Sorrell and Son," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, as much as anything else, the version of Western Deeping's gripping

Western type of picture has come into its own. Ken Maynard, the First

Natural Western star, whose latest feature "The Canyon of Adventure," director encountered a willingness on the part of the Britishers to help make the picture a success. Brenon spent his youth in the British Isles, and did several members of the cast, and the trip abroad gave them the opportunity to revisit old familiar scenes.

Among those who accompanied Brenon to England were H. B. Warner, whose role of "Captain Stephen Sorrell" is his first since "The King of Kings;" Nils Asther, the "Kit Sorrell" in the screen version of the book that has gone through scores of editions in America and England; Norman Trevor, who plays "Thomas Roland;" Miss Nolan, "Molly Roland;" Mickey McBain, "Kit Sorrell," in the early sequences of the story; Ray Lesser, assistant director; Julian Fleming, technical director; James Howe, chief cinematographer, and Leo Tover, second cameraman.

Young McBain, who was with his mother, Mrs. Fred McBain, visited his grandfather in Edinburgh and toured the continent before returning to Hollywood. Mrs. Brenon accompanied her husband to England, and Warner took his daughter, Joan, on her first trip abroad.

Several members of the cast of "Sorrell and Son," including Anna Q. Nilsson, Alice Joyce, Louis Wolheim, Carmel Myers, Lionel Belmore, Mabel Fairbanks, Paul McAllister and Betsy Anne Hisle, completed their roles before the company went to England.

Too often the mistake is made of building a small poultry house with a low roof, involving drudgery in the care of chickens. Labor is an important factor in the management of poultry and the arrangement of the house for convenience adds greatly to the chances of success. A house should be built so that the attendant can stand up and do the work comfortably, and if iron 3 to 5 square feet of floor space per fowl is allowed, this will give enough cubic air space for the flock.

There is still time to divide perennial flower plants even though they have already started. The sooner the separation can be accomplished the better, however. Many perennials may be purchased cheaply at this season both in the form of seedlings and divisions.

If necessary to trim the following shrubs should be pruned immediately after blooming: Forsythias, barberry, Judas tree, white fringe, Japanese quince, bowering almond, bridal wreath, and spirea. Van Houtte

AMBITION AND HOPE

Ambition and Hope are two things which make the world go round. Everyone should have both—an ambition to do or get something worth while, and the hope that his ambition may be fulfilled. There are few people in the world who have no ambition—the ones that do not are mostly dead, ready to die, or might as well be dead.

Sometimes the thing you hope to do will seem almost impossible but when it's done, you'll see how simple it really was. You might fail to win the thing you really want to win but it's better to have tried and lost than never to have tried at all. The fact that you have put forth your best effort to win is a reward in itself even though your best may be a failure.

When some little boys start climbing a tree, each one has the ambition of sitting on the highest place; each one has the hope that his ambition will be attained. One of them will succeed; the rest will fail, but they have all tried.

So it is with Seniors graduating from high schools and colleges; they all have ambitions and the hope of seeing their ambitions attained. A few will succeed many will fail, still they will have tried their best, and so will have succeeded in living a life worthwhile.

We all know that the world must have its lower class of workmen; still anyone who would resign himself to such a fate without the ambitions of something better is a fool. Still there must be people for such jobs, and if such should be your lot, you may still be allowed the ambitions of doing your work well, and the hope that your ambition may be attained.

1928 PALLADIUM TO BE ON SALE MONDAY

The Annual for 1928 will be out Saturday June 9th and will be on sale Monday at the High school.

Out of the 240 copies there are 65 extras so that those who failed to order early may yet have the opportunity to obtain a memory book of their school days. The Palladium sells at $1.00.

This year's book has many new features not found in those of previous years. The cover is green leather with Indian block letters. There are 90 pages of heavy white paper. The many pages of snaps include Senior Baby pictures, "Pajamas" often seen around N H S, Junior and Senior High school pupils, as well as the faculty in some of their less teacher-like poses. Mr. Doakson's dog "Bubbles" even looks forth from one page of fun.

The Art work, drawn by Lois Brookman and Merlin Riffenburg, is in keeping with the Greek name "Palladium" which means a shield of safety.

The staff expects to "break even" if the extra copies are sold.

Mr. Eaton has done the printing or this year's annual. The pictures, taken by Mr. Balk, were also local work. The Engravings were done by the Service Engraving Company of Detroit.

The Palladium staff is as follows: Sam Stalter, Editor in Chief; Bob McCordie, Assistant Editor; Russell Atchison, Business Manager; Harley Wolfrom, Assistant Manager; Ed Wood Boy Athletics; Marjorie Schultz, Girl's Athletic; Leon Ogilvie, Jokes; Alvera Smith, Society; Madeline Cole, Literary; Lois Brookman and Merlin Riffenburg, Art; Geraldine Huff, Seniors; Gladys Ludwig, Juniors; Esther Livance, Sophomores; Alex Johnson, Freshmen; Miss Parks, Mrs. Kinsey and Miss Briggs are faculty advisors.

"STORY OF PANDORA"

IS SCHOOL PAGEANT

"The Story of Pandora" was presented in pageant form by the gymnasium classes of Mrs. Stalter in the city park last Thursday evening.

The principal parts of Pandora and Epimetheus were taken by Glenn Rose Rankin and Rose Mary Bedore while that of Jupiter, king of the Gods, was enacted by Helen Troub.

The story around which the pageant was built was the Greek myth of Pandora. Briefly it is as follows:

Epimetheus is the first man on earth and he is very lovely, he wants companionship. Finally he angers Jupiter by stealing the sacred fire so Jupiter decides to have revenge. A council of the Gods was held and Jupiter creates Pandora as a companion for Epimetheus. He commands each one of the Gods and Goddesses to bestow upon her a gift. One gives her grace, another beauty, another swiftness, a fourth courage and finally Jupiter gives her the fatal gift of curiosity.

Then she is presented to Epimetheus who is overjoyed to find a companion. Then Jupiter goes on with his plan. Mercury puts in Epimetheus' care a huge chest in which are imprisoned all the evils of the world, and he warns

JUNIORS MAKE PLANS FOR JUNIOR-Senior BANQUET

The Maccabees ladies have taken the contract to serve the dinner for the Junior-Senior banquet, Friday, June 15th, in the high school gymnasium.

Anna Rebecca Hoar is general chairman of the affair. The other committee chairmen are Gladys Ludwig for decorations, Madeline Cole for finance, and Ted Wattis for entertainment.

Plans were made for a party to be given before the end of school. Some members were in favor of a cottage at a lake, but this plan was vetoed by Miss Hoag, club advisor.

FINAL EXAMINATIONSTO BE JUNE 18 AND 19

Monday, June 18—8:30-10:00, class period I; 10:00-11:30, class period II, 12:45-2:15, class period III, 2:15-3:45, class period IV.

These students' names will be engraved on the Citizenship cup, which is kept in the Northville high school.

The qualifications of having their names on this cup are: Trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous,

kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

Russell Atchison and Geraldine Huff won the honors last year.

is to promote dramatics and debate.

Miss Ethel Lathers, who has been in charge of the Domestic Science classes, is another who will not return next

September. Miss Lathers has always gladly taken charge of banquets and dinners given in the school.

Her resignation was taken with much respect by the student body.

Miss Josephine Hawes, foreign lanvisor, will not teach next year. During her year in the Northville schools,

she has become popular with the students, especially with the Juniors, who would like to see her back next fall.

SEVENTH GRADE GIRLS.HAVE FASHION SHOW

Miss Lathers' seventh grade sewing class had a fashion show in the cafeteria on Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock.

Their mothers and several teachers were invited. The room was decorated with baskets of spring flowers.

After each girl had shown her dress and told how much it had cost there was a short program. Gertrude Deal summer.

FOUR HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERSLEAVE AT END OF TERM

Miss Irene L. Hoar, who has been a teacher in the Northville schools for the last four years, and is principal of the Junior High, leaves at the end of this year. During her stay here she has won the support of all the students, and they all appreciate what she has done for the school. Miss Hoar was in charge of the play, "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom," which went over with much success. Although she is generally claimed by the ninth grade, we think she belongs to all of us.

Miss Margaret Draper, who has taught public speaking in the high school for the past two years, will also leave. Her work has been very satisfactory and the students will hate to see her go. She is sponsor of the

PLAN NEW $225,000 BUILDING OUT AT TRAINING SCHOOL
Will Contain Class Rooms, a Swimming Pool and Gymnasium

Plans are being prepared for the erection of another three-story building out at the Wayne County Training School, the structure to be in keeping with the building erected during the past two years.

It will contain 12 classrooms, a gymnasium, swimming pool and special rooms and will cost about $225,000.

Plans for the new structure are being prepared by Aaron H. Gould & Son, architects of Detroit.

The Wayne County Training School Board, which has jurisdiction over the affairs of the school, will, it is understood, let the contract for the construction in time so that the building will be ready for use during the fall.

With this new structure the present building needs of the institution are about filled.

The landscaping is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and by the end of the present season, a very good portion of the work will have been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davison and friends of Detroit, were callers at the Frank Biers home on Memorial day.

Messengers L. M. Stroh, L. W. Wilson, G. Blots F. Gómez and Miss E. Witzel were Ann Arbor visitors Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Higby of Sennaw, attended Congregational church Sunday morning and were callers at the parsonage.

Mrs. Leona Anderson of Plymouth, helping her cousin Mrs. O. Mankin on Sundays, in serving dinner at the Salem Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biers and sons visited Mr. A. S. Knowles at the home of Mrs. William Davison in Detroit Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. George Carey and Mrs. Thad Peir of South Lyon visited their son and brother, Chie Carey, at West Point Park Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Payne and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Miller motored Sunday morning to Battle Creek, where they visited relatives.

O. H. Cook is very feeble, and his daughter, Mrs. W. Smith, assisted by his granddaughter, Mrs. Will Clay, are helping to care for him.

Cecil Carey and family and Miss Tilde Gepper of Redford visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Carey, on Memorial day.

W. A. Kehler, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Spears and Mr. and Mrs. W. Daley motored to Fenster where they visited friends, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. F. H. Hartman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hembicher of Toledo, were supper guests at the Congregational parsonage, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kehrl were Sunday dinner guests of their daughter, Mrs. Orville Dudley in Redford, and Miss Irma Kehler returned home with them after spending several days with her sister.

The Shafer school held their closing picnic at the Cass-Benton park Tuesday, which was largely attended. The teacher's mother, Mrs. L. Miller, and also her sisters from Britton were present and she returned home with them.

Mrs. Samuel White of Ypsilanti spent Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational parsonage, and evening callers there were: Rev. and Mrs. Arnold Kehler of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kehler and Fred Drews and family of Plymouth.

John Butler of Fishery road, met with a serious accident last Tuesday afternoon. While plowing corn, his horses ran away, throwing him down, breaking five of his ribs, besides minor bruises and cuts. He was taken to Dr. Atchison's hospital in Northville.

The "Family Night" of the Congregational church, held Friday evening, was a charming affair. After a delicious pot-luck supper, the family gathered in the auditorium to listen to the program in charge of Mrs. Frank Biers. The program opened with congregational singing. A talk by Rev. T. C. Hackenberg of South Worden, 11:30 a.m. Lyon, caused a great deal of mirth, and was followed by a duet by Messengers L. M. Stroh and I. Spears. Mrs. T. C. Hackenberg then gave a talk, and the program closed by singing of hymns by the audience. The absent members of the church family missed a great treat.

Salem and Worden Congregational Churches

Rev. Lucas M. Stroh, Minister

Prayer meeting this week Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Payne.

Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., oratorio for Sunday school scholars will meet the following Thursday afternoon, June 21st, in the home of Mrs. Carlton Lewis in Plymouth. A good program will be furnished and supper served at 5:30 p.m. Everybody invited.

The Children's day program has been postponed to Sunday, June 17th, at 7:45 p.m., in Salem church.

The same Sunday morning, Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Hackenberg of South Lyon, will exchange pulpits with the pastor. Rev. and Mrs. Hackenberg will preach in "Salem" at 10:00 a.m., while Mrs. Stroh will preach in the Presbyterian church at South Lyon at 10:00 a.m.

The pastor will fill the pulpit next Sunday morning: Salem, 10:00 a.m.; Sunday school, 11:30 a.m. Service is caused by soil erosion, which, in the opinion of the Department of Agriculture soil scientists, is the biggest problem the farmers over a large area of agricultural lands have to face. Land depreciation by the slow process of planing off the surface is of incalculable extent and seriousness, and it is almost impossible to visualize the devastation of land that may eventually be brought about by soil erosion.

Practice regular cultivation of all shrub beds. It is much easier to prevent weed growth than to remove the weeds after they are once started.

Elimination of Pullman Surcharge Will Involve Loss of $40,000,000 to Railroads and Will Shift the Burden Upon Those Who Do Not Enjoy the Service

THE Senate Committee has reported out favorably the Robinson bill eliminating the Pullman surcharge. This action, while apparently a popular one, is class legislation and as such is bound to involve losses not only to the railroads, but to the traveling public who ride in the day coaches and to a number of communities that now enjoy sleeping car service.

TO the Railroads, it involves immediately a loss of $40,000,000 in revenue annually, which will have to be made up somehow. The surcharge is the only revenue that the railroads get for the hauling of the heavier equipment and the incidental special service of parking this equipment at the stations and in coach yards. In fact, the railroads have always had to pay to the Pullman Company certain small charge for the mileage of each Pullman car and besides a guarantee of a certain minimum of return covering a period of years. All of the returns for berths, etc., go to the Pullman Company excepting the surcharge.

THE surcharge was found necessary by the United States Railroad Administration. Its continuance has been recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission after an exhaustive study of the entire question of passenger travel returns.

THE Pullman sleeping car after all is a hotel on wheels. It provides an unusual service. It represents a heavy investment per passenger. The berth charge and the surcharge of 50 per cent (which latter is the only revenue the railroads derive from this high class service) together, are not out of line with the charge for a room in a modern high class hotel.

SINCE the Pullman sleeping car passenger enjoys greater comfort than does the passenger in the day coach, he should expect to pay for the added comfort. The Pullman passenger is allotted two and one half times as much space as the person riding in the day coach. The car weight per passenger of the average day coach—assuming that it is filled—is about 6,800 pounds. The car weight per passenger of the average Pullman sleeping car—assuming that sleeper is filled—is about 12,260 pounds. The cost to the railroad of hauling a sleeping car passenger is, therefore, approximately twice as much. Should not the sleeping car passenger pay for these additional privileges to the passenger and the obligations devolving upon the railroads?

ANOTHER illustration: The sleeping car lines to Michigan resorts in summer and to Florida or California resorts in the winter, are seasonal movements. The travel is all in one direction, which means that the return movement is an empty one.

RAILROADS have only two main sources of income—passenger revenues and freight revenues.

THE wiping out of $40,000,000 annually in passenger revenues involved in the abolition of the surcharge on Pullman fares must inevitably do one of three things:

1. Result in cutting down of passenger train service now provided by American Railroads;
2. Restricting sleeping car service on the less prosperous lines;
3. Or, shifting the burden of the loss upon the shippers of freight.

ANY one of these expedients is unfair to the general public, that section who ride in the day coaches.

IT is a good principle of business at all times to require the person who enjoys a special service to pay for that special service.

THE Pullman surcharge requires just that.

THE abolition of the surcharge, therefore, constitutes class or sumptuary legislation, which is not desirable in this day and age.

THE railroads do not object to governmental regulation by the proper tribunal—the Interstate Commerce Commission—constituted to deal with the transportation industry exclusively.

WRITE your senator or congressman to-day protesting against this uneconomic and unfair measure.

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

THIS new-day refrigerator never needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. It is portable. It uses very little current. It has an all-in-one unit that is hermetically sealed to keep efficiency in—and trouble out.

Over a period of fifteen years, General Electric engineers worked toward this great electrical achievement. They have developed a simplified refrigerator that has no belts, pipes, drains or fans to get out of order.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them. In the meanwhile, mail the coupon below for an interesting descriptive booklet.

MICHIGAN RAILROAD ASSOCIATION

AUTOS SLAUGHTER LARGE NUMBERS OF BIRDS AND ANIMALS

Conservation Department
Urges Drivers to be More Careful

That the speeding automobile, guided by a careless or cruel hand, is one of the important enemies of the wild life in Michigan, is the charge preferred by many observing motorists.

Recently one of the department heads of the conservation department made a trip by automobile from Saginaw to Lansing, a distance of 80 miles. Strewn along the route he found a partridge, a fox squirrel, a muskrat and four cotton tail rabbits. It was concrete evidence that game was being killed by automobiles.

Any sportsman would have been proud of such a bag, could he have taken it legally, but there it was—mangled on the highway, a distinct economic loss to a state that is making tremendous efforts to preserve its wild life. A little mental arithmetic shows that one bird or animal was killed for every 111 miles of highway traversed. Multiply this number by the miles of improved roads in Michigan and a stupendous loss for one day is the result.

It is admitted that many of these little tragedies are unavoidable. Especially at night does the driver find it impossible to avoid killing an animal in the road, but if reasonable care is exercised during the daylight hours, it will mean a great saving for the conservation cause.

Domestic animals and birds, too, fall victims to the speeding driver who refuses to take off the accelerator when some living things loom in his path. The farmer pays bills every year through losses occasioned by the drivers of automobiles on the roads.

The state department is making a plea to drivers of automobiles on the highways to use care when wild or domestic life strays out on the beaten

CHEVROLET PLANS
AD CAMPAIGN THAT EXCELS THEM ALL

Series of Conferences Now
Being Held for Great Drive

Renewal of a unique series of advertising conferences, in which the automobile dealer is given a voice in the national advertising program of the factory, was announced here today by John E. Grimm, Jr., advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

This company is now in the midst of the largest and most comprehensive advertising campaign ever undertaken in the history of the automotive industry.

The first of the new series of dealers' conferences, held under the general supervision of Mr. Grimm, took place in Detroit a week ago, when dealers selected from the domestic Chevrolet organization met with factory officials to discuss the publicity plans of the company for the next few months.

The object of these advertising conferences, Mr. Grimm explained, is to keep the home office constantly in touch with problems faced daily by dealers, so that Chevrolet advertising may be guided by actual field conditions and thus prove most effective.

The assistance given by dealers in these monthly conferences, he continued, "is of invaluable benefit in adding to the efficiency of our advertising. This is particularly true of the newspaper advertising, which, of course, forms the greatest retail advertising force for each individual dealer.

While every type of advertising, from newspaper, magazine, outdoor and electric spectaculär signs to trade papers is discussed, major interest attaches to the newspaper schedule because this makes up by far the largest part of the year's budget. There are now more than 5,500 leading newspapers carrying the Chevrolet message to practically every city, town and hamlet in the United States.

Particular care is taken in selecting the dealers invited to attend these conferences. Some are chosen because they have very large car contracts. Others because their contracts are very small. Every dealer also comes from a different section of the country. In this manner we get an ideal cross-section of the advertising needs of all classes of dealers in all parts of the United States.

Dealer advertising conferences will be held every month this summer, with a different group of dealers from different parts of the country present each time.

Each conference is of two days' duration. The first day is given over entirely to the discussion of advertising in all its phases. The second day the dealers are taken to the General Motors proving ground, where they are shown the rigid test Chevrolet cars undergo before they are put on the market.

An added feature of the recent conference was a radio party held for the dealers by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company. The occasion was "Chevrolet Hour" on the General Motors Family Party program. This was held in celebration of the fact that sucker growth is almost as much a menace as weeds. Roses, black raspberries and blackberries have a great surplus growth which must be grubbed out several times in the season or the sucker growth will choke out the main stock.
