NORTHVILLE HIGH AGAIN MEMBER OF DEBATING LEAGUE

Mrs. Ernestine Shawley Will be Coach of Local Debaters

Northville high school has become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League this year, and will compete for the inter-scholastic debate championship of the state, according to an announcement by Prof. G. E. Densmore of the University of Michigan, manager of the league.

The first step in the forensic race for state honors will be taken on November 15th, when the local high school debating team, coached by Mrs. Ernestine Shawley of the high school faculty, will meet a neighboring schools, to be announced later by the University, in a debate on the subject "Resolved, that a Federal Subsidy for the Development of an American Merchant Marine Would be a Wise National Policy."

Three other state-wide debates on December 7, January 4, and January 25, will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will participate in order to compete for entrance in the elimination series of debates which begin on February 15.

Only the forty-four schools with the highest percentage of victories will be entered in this elimination series and each of these sixty-four schools will receive the University of Michigan Wall plaque trophy through the co-operation of the Detroit Free Press. This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of American Walnut, 17 inches in height and 15 inches across the top, and the medallion superimposed upon the shield is 9 inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick, and is cast in solid bronze with all lettering artistically embossed.

A large number of high schools from among the forty-four schools will be taken on the sixtieth schools will debate among themselves with the defeated schools dropping out after each debate until only two undefeated schools remain. These two schools will be taken to Ann Arbor at the expense of the University for the state championship debate on April 26th. Each of the six debaters participating in this final debate will be presented with a gold watch cup. The Detroit Free Press and both schools will receive a large, bronze trophy cup, one engraved "First Honors," the other engraved "Second Honors," presented by the University of Michigan Extension Division.

This year for the first time the University of Michigan Extension Division will recognize the success attained by the two semi-final schools by presenting each with a bronze trophy cup properly engraved.

A large number of high schools from all parts of the state have already joined the league, and it is expected that by October 20th the date when the league enrollment closes, the membership for the year will surpass last year's record membership of 244 schools.

Any four year high school in the state may become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League by applying for membership to Prof. G. E. Densmore, manager, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The Michigan High School Debating League, the largest forensic organization of its kind in the United States, was organized by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan in 1917, with a membership of sixteen-four schools, which has steadily grown to the membership of 244 schools of last year. With this largest enrollment in the history of the league, 1200 high school debaters participating in 600 debates which were heard by 125,000 people of the state. The final state championship debate of last year, held in Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor where Royal Oak high school defeated Zeeland high school was attended by 4,000 people, which is the largest audience ever to attend a debate in this state.

Horace F. Jackson passed away at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, after an illness of ten days and was brought to the Schrader Bros' funeral home where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. William Richards on Wednesday, October 17th, at 2 p.m.

Mr. Jackson was born in Plymouth, September 19, 1854, coming to Northville when two years of age, and became a resident for 72 years, making his home on Cady street. He was married in 1886 to Mary A. Lenam, who passed away several years ago. To this union three children were born: Mrs. Grace Schade of Evart, Michigan, and Mrs. Bessie Leveagood of Detroit, one son passing away in infancy.

LOCAL FIREMEN FIGHT BIG BLAZE

Members of the Northville fire department played a very large part in the successful efforts last Friday noon that threatened to destroy for a time the entire plant of the Detroit Steel company located in Plymouth. Seeing that the blaze was about to get away from them, the Plymouth firemen called the Northville department, as well as others. Through the combined efforts of the firemen, the building was saved from entire destruction, only a part of the roof being burned off.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES AT HOME OF SON, DR. CAVELL

Aged Pioneer Resident of This State Expires in First Illness

James A. Cavell, 91 years of age, father of Dr. E. B. Cavell, and for three-quarters of a century a resident of Michigan, died last Friday at the home of his son here, after an illness of but a few days. His final illness was the first time in his life that he had ever been sick, and his death seemed due more to a general exhaustion than anything else.

Always kindly and a worker, he took an active interest in affairs right up to the time of his death. In recent years he spent his spare time in growing a beautiful flower and vegetable garden. The product of his efforts was donated to friends who came to see him.

His parents came to Michigan when he was a mere child, locating in Ann Arbor when the University city was a mere settlement in the forests.

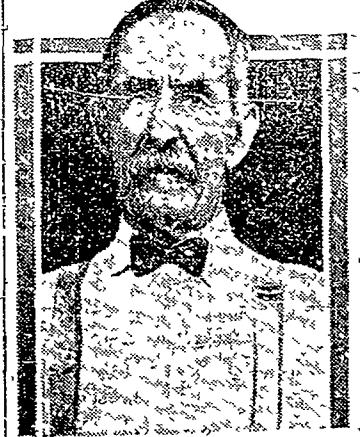

He learned the carpenter's trade and during the active years of his life, he was a well known builder around Ann Arbor. Gov. Winans, who lived at one time in Ann Arbor, was a personal friend of Mr. Cavell. In fact, the beautiful home that Governor Winans lived in for many years at Winans' lake, now known as Pleasant lake, over near Ann Arbor, was built by Mr. Cavell.

For a number of years the family resided in Howell, later moving to Northville, where during the past 22 years he has made his home with his son.

During the Civil War he enlisted with the 8th Michigan cavalry and served during the entire war with the Army of Cumberland. The old 8th was practically annihilated and the remnants of the old organization were merged with the 12th Michigan. He returned home as a member of that regiment. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, but during recent years he has not been active in Lodge affairs.

Mr. Cavell died about 15 years ago. Two sons of E. B. Cavell and James E. Cavell of Boston, Mass., survive. Both were at the bedside of their father at the end. The funeral was held Sunday from the home of Rev. Frank P. Knowles officiating. floral tributes were many and beautiful. Burial took place in the family plot in Rural Hill cemetery.

Automobiles Will Leave the Temple at 5:00 O'clock in Afternoon

Next Tuesday, Northville Masons will journey to Ypsilanti, paying a return visit to Phoenix Lodge, No. 13, of that city.

Automobiles will leave the Masonic temple at 5:00 p.m., arriving in Ypsilanti in plenty of time for the bountiful dinner at 6:30.

As Northville is to exemplify the Master Mason degree, all officers and members of the degree team are expected to be at the temple promptly by the appointed time of notify the Worshipful master. Craft practice will be held Monday evening.

Special effort is being made to have as many of the older members as possible make this trip, and enough cars are promised to take care of all who desire to go.

BANKS WAY OVER MILLION MARK IN LATEST REPORTS

Great Growth of Both Local Institutions Shown in Statements

Northville's community of some 4,000 population has two banks with over a million assets in each.

This highly satisfactory condition was revealed in the statements of the two institutions published last week in the Northville Record.

The old 8th was practically annihilated and the remnants of the old organization were merged with the 12th Michigan. He returned home as a member of that regiment. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, but during recent years he has not been active in Lodge affairs.

EXCHANGE CLUB ADOPTS PROGRAM FOR REST OF YEAR

Members Work Out Details for Active Three Months

A drive for new members, a campaign to create an interest of every voter in the coming election whether Republican Democrat or Prohibitionist, is that the vote in Northville township will be the greatest in its history, an entertainment for Exchange ladies and a bigger and better community Christmas tree, that this place even had before was a part of the program adopted at Wednesday's meeting of the Exchange club for the remainder of the present year.

The report was made by Charles A. Dohop, who was selected two weeks ago by President Scott Lovewell to get suggestions from members of the club as to what they thought would be the best things for the club to do during the remainder of the present year.

The membership drive will take place following a request from the national Exchange organization.

The election plan was suggested by Charles Ponsford. He believed, like other members of the club, that it would be a distinct credit to Northville if the vote here on election day was as near 100 per cent as could be made. President Lovewell and members of the club agreed with the suggestion.

Capt. Squires of the aero squadron of the Michigan National Guard was a guest at the meeting with William Mara and he gave a brief talk on the development of aviation and stated that the squadron of which he is a member would be glad to come to Northville to help the club to do something for the remainder of the present year.

Of course over here you are pretty well educated as to the benefits of aviation but we are willing to do all we can to create more interest in this new method of transportation.

The next meeting of the club which will be on Friday, October 26th will be devoted to political matters. The committee in charge of the program will secure a speaker who will discuss present day issues.

The meeting was preceded by a delicious steak dinner.

LOST IN DETROIT AND DIDN'T KNOW IT

Did you ever get lost and not know it until someone told you about it?

"No?" Few ever have—but that very thing happened to Mrs. William Elliott of Northville.

A few nights ago Mrs. Elliott went to Detroit. In the maze of traffic and bright lights she headed for the new Fox theater and not until hours after the show was out did she know that it was the State that she went to instead of the Fox.

And many times before she had been in the State.

"I guess it was all due to the automobiles, policemen, and tall buildings," she told her friends when convinced that a mistake had been made. And these facts are vouches for my no less authority than husband and son.

An all day group meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society will be held at the Methodist church, Tuesday, October 23rd. Dinner will be served at noon. All ladies are invited

STARR NORTHRUP MADE PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL CLASS

High Honor Conferred on Northville Boy at U. of M.

Starr Northrup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Northrup, and a graduate of the class of 1924 of the Northville schools, has been honored by his classmates to the presidency of the senior class of the School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan.

His distinction is all the greater when one realizes that there are hundreds of students in this department.

Since entering the University of Michigan, the Northville lad has been doing exceptionally good work. He won his A. B. degree in 1927 as well as being among the honor students last year.

He was a present member of the class that took the Masonic degree in the Northville Lodge. An unusual feature in connection with the event was that the son of father and grandfather participated in the competition.

Some pasturing the country of the third degree.

Northville has the reputation of having stores that carry a big stock of good goods and at prices exceedingly reasonable. But the Dollar Day sales will tell you of the hundreds of bargains that will be offered for Dollar Day.

TELLS OF TRIP TO THE BIRTHPLACE OF METHODISM

Miss Margaret Murdock Gives Interesting Talk on European Trip

A very interesting talk was given to the Epworthians and which was also enjoyed by the older folks of the congregation, last Sunday evening, in the Methodist church, when Miss Margaret Murdock was the guest of the president of the league and gave an especially interesting talk on her trip to the Old World.

Interest in us Methodists was

John Wesley's room at Oxford University where Methodism was born in the Holy Club organized by Wesley, his brother, Charles, and Whitefield.

The old church of Wesley's father, where John was refused to preach because of his religion, who used his father's tombstone in the graveyard for his pulpit preached to a famous congregation with the immortal words, "The world is my parish," was one of the most interesting places visited.

After being taken to Edinburgh, Scotland, and back to London, we traveled to Belgium, Switzerland (touching the borders of Germany then on to Italy, stopping at Florence and Rome, where the great International Methodist college is located,) the sun.

Northville people help to support this college with the dollar campaign.

She also told of her trip to Venice, and over to France, becoming a gay parisian for a time and then settling down to the more serious things of history.

The cathedrals of St. Paul's and Westminster of England, Cologne of Germany, St. Peter's of Rome and Notre Dame in Paris were graphically described.

After this she went to Greerburg and became a passenger on the same boat with Prince George, Duke of York, of England on his way to Canada.

MEN TO DECIDE ON ENTERTAINMENT OF EXCHANGE LADIES

Committee Requested to Use Rare Judgment on Program

The wives of the members of the Exchange club are going to decide whether they shall be entertained at cards, a dance, banquet or show by the Northville Exchanges.

The wives of the members of the Exchange club are not going to decide whether they shall be entertained at cards, a dance, banquet or show by the Northville Exchanges.

Thus the judgment of the wives was disposed of at Wednesday's meeting of the Exchange club.

Believe to possess superior knowledge of what the ladies would like to do on ladies' night. President Scott Lovewell selected Elmer Smith, Conrad Langfield and Louis Stewart as a committee to provide some kind of entertainment that the ladies are sure to like after the club had disposed of the ladies' judgment.

In selecting the committee, President Lovewell declared that he was sure these three members would be able to formulate some sort of a program that would please the wife of every member of the club.

The committee is to report at the next meeting.

HERE IS MAN WHO
JUST GETS FIRST
AUTOMOBILE RIDE

Man Out in Oregon Had Never Had Chance to Take Trip Before

Agness, Ore.—Shades of the pony express—the air mail and all those other conveyances, faster and faster, that from time to time have upheld the efficiency of the United States mails—the village postmaster here has just experienced his first ride in an automobile.

His name is George Rulea, he is 63 years old and it has been 25 years since he has set foot in an urban community. There is nothing backward about Mr. Rulea and no one's superstition was responsible for his failure heretofore to ride in a motor vehicle. It's like this: There are no automobiles in Agness, and on the few occasions back 25 years ago, when he saw "horseless carriages" in Chicago and Portland, no one had asked him to take a ride.

When there is such phenomenon as Mr. Rulea in existence, chances are that his identity and location will be discovered by somebody's nose for news? So, sure enough, it was Edward M. Miller, automobile editor of the Portland Oregonian who found out all about Mr. Rulea, and determined that if an automobile could be gotten to Agness, Mr. Rulea should be induced to take a ride.

Now, that matter of getting to Agness in itself had never before been accomplished in company with a modern automobile. So Mr. Miller went into conference with a friend, Frank Perkins, who knew something of the difficulties of traversing Northern Oregon, and who knew a lot of Portland automobile men who would be interested in the venture.

Perkins jumped at a chance to traverse the rushing Rogue river and immediately got in touch with some zone officials of the Chevrolet Motor company. He was explicit in cautioning the dangers of getting up the Rogue. Agness people were rapids he said, and no real adequate ferry. Hazards of no hazard? The officials decided there never had been a road to precarious for a Chevrolet. So it came about that on a morning of late September Miller and Perkins forth in a brand new Chevrolet roadster for the Rogue and Agness.

The next morning after a ferr ride across the northern side of the Rogue, followed by a one mile drive to Gold Beach, the travellers found themselves at the gateway to their adventure. They were introduced to Frank Lowry, the champion boatman of the Rogue, and with him studied the plan of route. A 12-foot roadster on a motor boat 26 feet long, and the two men with the city chaps were soon making ready to the bland "Mr. Lowry."

Then followed a day by no means easy. With the boat in tow, the party hiked to the boat. When it was time to stop, the boat would drift down the river, so the boatmen had to take off and let the boat drift until it was on the bank. Would you believe that the car would not start? So the party waited. Mr. Lowry told the party to wait until the tide turned, and the party was soon put in the upturn of the tide, during a rain, in a minute or less, in the middle of the river.

Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. the boat left the creek and bumped ashore. And I find the 12-foot boat would not start. It stood resplendent along the shore of the Pacific, where the Cougar street in Agness and the semi-polythene Mr. Rulea was walking down the front steps to greet his visitors.

As we have said there is nothing backward about Mr. Rulea. First, he listened to Mr. Perkins tell of the riding virtues of the Chevrolet, and then he asked to look under the hood.

Five minutes had not passed before Mr. Rulea with Mr. Perkins at the wheel was riding up the length of Rattlesnake avenue at the rate of 15 miles an hour. The avenue is, really only, a long lane. The speedometer measured it at 3 of a mile. But it was long enough to let all eyes out to see the sight: their postmaster riding over the road, his hands holding on tight to the sides of the roadster, while it did run back into their houses screaming.

So it was that one of America's postmasters who had not ridden in an automobile, got his first ride. And now the modernization of Mr. Rulea is going to go a step further. "I'm going down to Portland with mother one of these days," he said addressing his friends before their departure, "and see my first movie."

Life's most heroic gesture is courageously and graciously to descend from a higher to a lower income.

Songs of Plain Folks

By James Lewis Hoyle

Any Mail for Me?

We'll soon reach the crossing
And if old Daddy Lee
Doesn't limp up and quaver
"Hi! Any mail for me?"

I'll know something's happened
For he never does fail
Though he just keeps hoping
Never getting real mail.

I bring Dad a pamphlet,
An automobile ad,
A seed house catalog,
And he looks sort of sad,

Yet the next day, certain,

He's as happy as can be

And his voice rings hopeful,

Asking "Any mail for me?"

I'm old in the service
Of the Mails and I've found
Hope keeps people happy
And a man's never downed.

While he still writes letters,

Still believes that he will see

Success, and still comes asking

"Is there any mail for me?"

By downing Ecorse State Bank, winners of the Down River League championship, by a score of 7 to 2, Sunday, October 14th, at DeHoCo park, the DeHoCotes brought to a close the series arranged to determine the Champions of Wayne County. It had been previously erroneously reported that the series was to be two out of three games, while in reality, the plans called for three out of five. However, DeHoCo, by defeating Ecorse in three consecutive games, ended the series and proved that they are the "Yankees" of Wayne County.

Ecorse, who had put up such a good fight the previous Sunday only to succumb to a 7 to 5 score, came here determined to win the third game and prolong the series. However, they soon found out that they didn't have a hurler who could successfully cross up the DeHoCo heavy artillery, and after using three pitchers, finally became resigned to their fate.

The weather was too cool to be conducive to good baseball, and after the game "Cap" Denniston, manager of DeHoCo, stated that no more games would be played at DeHoCo park this year.

The Inter-County League is sponsoring a banquet to be held at the Hotel Fort Shelby, Detroit, Saturday, October 27th, and the DeHoCo team are to be the guests of honor in commemoration of their winning the league championship. Tickets for the banquet may be purchased from A. B. Thompson, secretary of the DeHoCo team, at the Detroit House of Correction Farm, the charge being $2.50 per plate.

Nelson Schrader Makes Good on Big One That Got Away

Nelson Schrader has made good! He went up north and caught that whale that got away from him last spring. There is no "spoonin'" about it either. He has witnesses galore. Not only did he take along many who will testify to the fact that he landed the biggest of the season, but even the names up around Mio (pictured here-with) who joined the bank as he brought the whopper-in, will give testimony to the fact that he delivered the goods.

But that isn't all. Tacked up on his garage wall is the head of this fish-mastodon that Nelson dragged out of the deep Mio waters.

They left Northville early last week and drove to Mio.

"Right over there is where that fish is," declared Nelson to the group as they stood on the banks of the placid Mio waters.

The next morning the fishing expedition started. Nelson manned the rear of the boat he was in. James Donahue of Redford, an expert with the gaff hook, stood in readiness. Minutes rolled along. Minutes became hours and the party was about ready to go back to camp for dinner.

"Zip" went Nelson's reel. It kept on zipping. "I've got her!" Then the battle started. The waters were turned into a boiling mess as the fish whipped from side to side. In a final plunge it came near the boat and Donahue gaffed it under the right jaw. The two tugged and pulled, finally, over in the boat, rolled a big 42-inch pike, the largest that has been taken from the Au Sable at Mio this year. It lacked a few ounces of weighing 18 pounds.

No wonder Nelson is so cheery this week. He's got reason to be.

It all happened this way. Nelson has had a peevish all summer because that big fellow got away from him last spring. He wasn't satisfied to bring home a pike that measured two and a half to three feet long. He wanted a whale.

The other day without saying a thing as to what his intentions were he organized a fishing party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adcock, Mr. and Mrs. James Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Venus all of Redford. With Mr. and Mrs. Schrader these were all members of the Exchange group that went to San Francisco a year ago when the Redford male quartette won the national prize. But because the California committee believed in keeping everything in California, it was decided that the Redford singers shouldn't bring the rug home even though they did sing the best of all the contestants.

AGED EDUCATOR

OF MODERN YOUTH

"Grand Old Man" of Kalamazoo College Tells of His Ideas

The youth of Northville and the rest of the country have found in Dr. Herbert Lee Stetson, president emeritus of Kalamazoo College, a strong defender. Tuesday he celebrated his 81st birthday.

Dr. Stetson joined the Kalamazoo College faculty in 1920 as professor of psychology and pedagogy, coming with the college from Des Moines College, where he was president in 1911. He was made acting president of the college and in 1913 became president. He remained in this position until 1922.

Human nature doesn't change," declares the grand old man of Kalamazoo" as he is known to the students. "Young men and women are just as reliable, have just as high ideals, and are doing just as good work, and are just as thrifty as they were when I was in college." I am just as ready to trust them as our fathers and mothers were to trust us.

You must remember there are lots more young people now than there were 50 years ago and some respects more temperations."

Dr. Stetson sees no difference in the modern student and the students of his day except, perhaps, that they may be brighter and more moral.

"The college has reached its peak in college attendance. The small college is at present in charge of the daily chapel programs, directs the college placement bureau, and does all the publicizing for the institution at the college.

He keeps himself interested in current events. He is an athletic enthusiast and no grid is complete without his cheering presence. In the summer his hobby is raising roses.

He states roses he has cultivated at his summer home in Grand Beach are blooming now.

Dr. Stetson predicts a bright future for Kalamazoo College and is certain the centennial program will be carried through successfully. He believes this country has reached its peak in college attendance. The small college is at present in charge of the daily chapel programs, directs the college placement bureau, and does all the publicizing for the institution at the college.

METHODISTS WILL BUILD A $90,000.00 CHURCH IN WAYNESod Turned by One Who Has Been Member for 64 Years

Gathered in the shadows of the old gymnasium and Sunday school building, members of the Methodist church of Wayne joined in the impressive ceremonies Sunday, held in connection with the breaking of ground of the new $90,000 Sunday school building, which is to be erected.

It was a fitting contrast the tattered building that has served the purpose for so long and Mrs. Mary Cady, who has been a member of the church for over 64 years, turning the sod while youth looked on with admiration and filled with thoughts of the coming building that would be the most modern of its kind in western Wayne county.

Presiding at the occasion were Rev. Walter B. Nevelyn, pastor of the church, and Harley E. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday school and chairman of the building committee. Following the offering of a short prayer by the pastor, Mr. Smith loosened the ground and then handed the shovel to Miss Cady, who turned the sod and performed the official task and started the work on the new building.

Never in the history of Wayne has there been so much building planned for the social life of the community. Commenting on the progressiveness of the church President George Gerbstadt said: "It will not only be a credit to the church, but a great aid to Wayne as a town for people seeking a home remote from the noise and turmoil of a large city."

Especially commendable is the manner in which the building has been designed. In the basement will be a combination dining hall and gymnasium together with a heating plant, shower room and several small rooms.

The first floor will comprise mostly an auditorium with a capacity of 550 people and a fully equipped stage, thus enabling the building to be used for community work as well as just for church services.

On the first floor there will also be a ladies' parlor, the pastors study, the church offices and nine class rooms.

The second story will be devoted almost entirely to young people's work with eleven class rooms and a kitchenette, where they may hold their parties or small gatherings of a social nature.

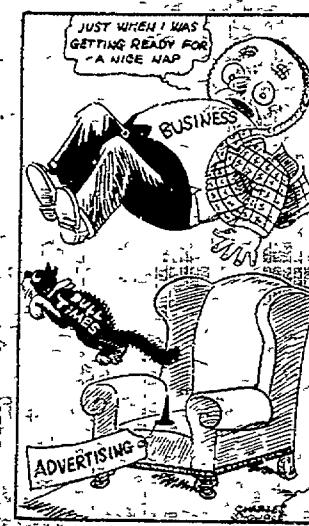

Removing of the old building by Ernest Arrowsmith, contractor, has already started and according to Mr. Arrowsmith's work will be pushed to complete the structure at the specified date which is May 1, 1929.

The building will be a modern type of architecture with a touch of old English here and there to give an appearance that is fitting for such a building. It will be adjacent to the parsonage and when the whole building program is completed the series of buildings will form a L. The church officials also plan to construct a new church in the next few years and estimate the whole program at a cost of $200,000—Wayne Dispatch.

Men are always complaining that they don't understand women but the women seem to have no trouble in understanding the men.

Aren't you often ashamed, when at the end of a hardy day's work, you look back and see how little you have accomplished?

Don't seek experience, you'll get enough of it if you just let nature take its course.

TOWN PROGRESS TALKSWEST POINT PARK

Mrs. C. Wolfe, Correspondent

Miss Dorothy Edwards, one of the teachers in Pierson school, was taken to the hospital in Detroit. She had an attack of acute indigestion, later being operated upon for appendicitis.

A banquet was given Tuesday evening to the West Point Park baseball team, in Community hall. Mrs. Harry Wolfe, Mrs. George Gunn, Mrs. Earl Wolfe and Mrs. Clyde Hobbs were the hostesses.

Mrs. Earl Wolfe is teaching school in the place of Miss Dorothy Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrison and daughter, Lois, are spending a part of the week with Mr. Harrison's mother in Detroit.

Miss Sarah Pollock and Miss Dorothy Edwards were Detroit visitors this weekend.

From Detroit to Northville the Edison electric lights are shining brightly all the way. These lights will save accidents, and we are pleased with our well-lighted thoroughfare.

Two former residents of our community, Helen Mangel and Frank Bone, were in the automobile accident in Plymouth, when a carload from Salem collided with another car. Frank is nursing a broken arm, three ribs and other injuries.

Doris Bennett of Detroit, was a week-end visitor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bennett, who have moved into the upstairs of Mrs. Wolfe's house.

A workman on the good road was struck by a Wayne county truck and is in a serious condition in Detroit hospital.

The previously arranged ball game for Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock between Redford and West Point Park was played in the home diamond. The score was in favor of our team from start to finish score 11 to 3. A number of pitchers were in the game. This finishes baseball for the season.

The Jiggs and Maggie supper given by Circle No. 2 was a success. The ladies cleared a satisfactory profit on the supper.

Miss Demetra Mills of Redford, is now bei former schoolmates in this district.

The cement road is almost completed to Farmington road. The farmers and workmen have been very obliging and made it just as easy as they could at our streets and business places. They are welcome to leave their automobiles on our front lawns next spring. They expect to widen Seven Mile road to Northville and Plymouth road. A vast change to the days when the road was so full of holes. It was a trial to drive on it. West Point Park's rally day was a success in spite of rain and chilly weather. About 12:00 o'clock the crowd began to arrive—many from Detroit, Redford, Northville and Farmington. At 1:00 o'clock the Farmington junior high school baseball team met our junior high school team. Both teams put up a snappy game. Russell Nacker pitched for the home team. Robert Holycross, catcher Farmington won the game, score 5 to 7.

At 3:00, the Redford base ball team and West Point Park team met in a friendly contest. At first it looked as though it would be a close game, but the game ended 11 to 1 in favor of our team. Sammy Lakin, pitcher for the first time, John Jawarski behind the batter, and both doing their brother he chattered the steamer member of Saginaw's city council, and parts well.

Mrs. Ethel Middlewood of Farmington road, entertained her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bromley, Sunday.

Mr. John Hill entertained Mrs. Burritt of Detroit Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Albright of Detroit, was a week-end visitor with the former's uncle, Albert Owen and family.

The Adult Bible class met at the home of the pastor, George Gullen, a real social evening was enjoyed by all. Aunt Jean gave everyone a welcome to their new home in Redford.

Michigan's first native born governor was DAVID H. JONES, who was born in 1829.

Soon after his birth, the father died and the mother with the children returned to New York but came back to Michigan, settling in St. Clair county. Working on the farm and in the woods, young Jerome did much towards the support of the family.

He served as deputy clerk and deputy register of deeds of St. Clair county for two years and gained considerable praise for his excellent work in the two positions, which he held at the same time.

DOING A GOOD JOB

NEW OAKLAND JUST OUT IS LAST WORD IN AUTO REFINEMENT

"We've got a big job to do, and we are going to do it," stated Mayor Charles Bulens a week or so ago at one of the meetings of the village commission, when discussing the proposal to inaugurate a bookkeeping system for the village.

The mayor has found, as he predicted at that time, that it is a big job, possibly bigger than he expected—and that it is going to take time and patience.

Indeed, fortunate is Northville that it has at this time an executive who is willing to give his time and effort to starting an accounting system for the village.

Northville has grown way beyond the period when a man can carry in his mind all the various transactions of the city government. There was a time when that was possible. There was a time when it could be done with most any business, but conditions have changed. No one person can carry in his head all the details that are necessary these days, when it comes to conducting the business of a community the size of Northville.

The thing we all should do is to get back of the man and his associates and give them every bit of aid we can. This community, like hundreds of other communities has found that a business like system must be installed.

Kicking over what we may not have done in the past does no good. We will soon have the new system in, and Northville's village government will then be in as good shape as that of any other place. Our job from now on should be to try and make it better than that of any other community in the state.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

Editor DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican last week gave expression to thought that has been running through the minds of many who have read the various articles sent out from Ann Arbor by a who is really overseeing the fortunes of the Michigan football team this fall. The Charlotte paper says:

"The sharp detail of Mr. Yost in his letter to the Michigan delegation in Ohio is most interesting. He told the old-timers about the Jefferson of Church No. 1. At a newspaper dinner he attended in Ann Arbor he told Mr. Yost he appreciated him, but didn't think that the all the way from Toledo to a crack-and-automobile to honor his old friend Mr. Yost was a memorable occasion, as many of us were engaged with difficulty to see him. Mr. Yost reviewed his long and honorable record in Michigan athletics. In the first half a dispatch was sent out from Ann Arbor that Yost was away at the hotel, a day or so before the fatal small Ohio school defeat something was sent out that in reality Ted Weimer was the coach, but Mr. Yost was something on the staff. The whole thing was unfair and confusing. We have as much respect for Mr. Yost as the most loyal alumnus, but we want to add there is nothing so pathetic as an old man trying to hang on in two fields of endeavor—sport and politics. Mr. Yost for himself should stay retired. The past is nothing to a fickle public. It is this year's totals that concerns the public."

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

Tea and coffee should be kept in flavor.

Sunshine will keep white woodwork a good color. Too much gloom tends to make it yellow.

The sharpening stone should be washed after each using if good service is expected.

Sometimes cloudy windows only need wiping with a clean cloth to make them quite clean again.

Some people would like to have the Bible re-translated to suit their peculiar beliefs, others would have it destroyed because the truths it reveals coincide with their way of being, still others are satisfied with it just the way it is, but the whole trouble is that none of us read it enough. The Bible points out to men and women the way of life and they who take some other way can hope to obtain only that which is at the end of that road.

NORTHVILLE DOWNS BELLEVILLE

VILLE 20-0 IN GOOD GAME

The game was broken between Northville and Belleville last Friday afternoon when Northville downed their opponents 20-0, in one of the easier battles this season, before the largest crowd of football fans who have followed the team thus year.

Northville kicked to Belleville at the start of the game. They started with their old rush and spirit, but were checked from the start. Much straight football was displayed by the Northville team, who throughout the first quarter held the line for many yards.

In about the middle of the first quarter, McCordie went around end for a large gain, the ball being in front of the goal and within kicking distance. Waits tried for field goal, but failed. This may have been due to the strong wind which blew across the field. Tiffin, full back, played an exceptionally good game, who crashed the line never failing to gain many yards.

Northville was penalized 15 yards once in this quarter for being on side. In an end run, Waits, half back, circled around the end for the first score. The kick failed, and the quarter ended 6-0. Cavell intercepted a pass, and in the same play Preston was knocked out, but restored his position when time was called.

The first half ended as Belleville completed a pass and Cavell dropped the received as time was called.

Beginning the second half, and on the second play, Belleville passed Tiffin of Northville, intercepted the pass and ran 35 yards for the second touchdown. Waits tucked the goal for extra point.

Waits, who played quarter, played his usual game of good football, and was able to gain ground at any period of the game. McCordie in the middle of the last quarter passed to Cavell, who ran for the third touchdown. The kick was blocked, but as one of Belleville's men was off side, the point counted. Late in the last quarter Leavenworth made 23-yard gain around end.

In the last few minutes of play, substitutes were sent in for both teams. Johnson was substituted for Meininger, who played a plucky game. All members of the Northville team played good game.

Following is the line-up Northville—Capt. Leavenworth, 1 e., Tomaszewski, 1 t.; Preston, 1 g.; LeFevre, c.; Meininger, r.; g.; Wolfrom, r. t.; Huff, g. e.; Waits, a.; McCordie, r. h.; Cavell, 1 h.; Tiffin, f.; Substitutes—Wilcox, Berch, Johnson, Kerr, Bolton.

Belleville—Bird, 1 e., N Krause, 1 t.; Maton, 1 g.; Sowick, c.; Berkus, r. g.; Fogarty, r. t.; Noom, r.; Ries, g.; Simmons, r. b.; Canis, 1 h.; Ellsworth, t.

STUDENT COUNCIL MET

IN SCIENCE ROOM

The Student Council met Monday evening, October 15th, in the science room from 7:30 to 9:15. Several items were brought before the council to discuss.

The Juniors asked the privilege of selling refreshments at the basket ball games. This was granted to them by the Student Council.

An all-school party was discussed.

It is to be sponsored by the Student Council for the purpose of raising money for the general fund of the school.

The date is November 2nd.

School annals was the main item of this meeting. The Seniors and the larger share of the student body want annals, but some of the faculty are opposed.

Because of the money lost on the annual last year, we cannot have an annual this year unless we have the support of everyone.

The question was left to the mayor, Mr. Gordon

Wolfrom, to discuss with Mr. Gordon

PEP MEETING RAISES ROOF ON NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

The student body screeched so hard last Friday noon in the assembly room during the pep meeting that Mr. Amerman urged them to cease for the plaster would crack.

Reports from the faculty say they never heard such yelling before. This was all in account of the Belleville-Northville game.

We have lost nearly every year from them. That is why the pep meeting was so successful.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

COMMITTEE HELD MEETING

The Senior class party committee met last week for the purpose of deciding upon a date for a masquerade party in the gymnasium. Many dates were suggested, but as the only night could be held would be Friday, because of the football game on Saturday, the date was finally agreed upon as November 16th. Plans were also made for entertainment and refreshments.

JUNIORS HOLD ROAST AT CASS BENTON PARK

The Juniors held a weenie roast at Cass Benton park last Wednesday, October 10th. They met at the school at 5:30, and when everybody was present they left in cars. On arriving at the park, the Juniors began to play in the swings.

When the gals were ready the students were called together, and they began eating the weenies and buns for dessert they enjoyed marshmallows. The party broke up around 9:00 o'clock, and everyone left tired but happy.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION MEET IN GYM

The first meeting of the school year of the Parent-Teachers Association was held Thursday evening, October 11th, in the high school gymnasium.

A rather novel method of getting acquainted was explained by Mrs. C. M. Chase, the president of the organization. Five persons were each given a nickname and asked to shake hands with someone and pass the coin to that individual. Those having the five cents at the end of the handshaking were allowed to keep it.

Later games were played among them being musical chairs and three deep.

Two persons who considered themselves sports, were presented with baby bottles. Mr. Richards and Mr. Alexander, the "sporty" gentlemen, engaged in a milk-drinking contest. The

SENIOR-PARTY COMMITTEE CALL CLASS MEETING

The Seniors called a meeting in Mr. Cohn's room Monday at 3:45. A party had been planned for this month but the whole school is to have a party so the class have postponed theirs.

HIS ORCHESTRA BEST IN ALL THE EASTERN STATES

Former Northville Lad is Director of Trophy Winners

The success of a former Northville boy, Floyd C. Evans, as director of the musical department of the public schools of Waterbury, Connecticut, is indicated in the following article taken from a recent Sunday issue of the Waterbury Republican:

"The combined orchestras of the city's high schools did not compete for first place this year in the annual Junior Musical Festival of the Eastern States exposition, although they gave several performances under the direction of their leader, Floyd C. Evans, and won a cup as a permanent trophy. The reason why the orchestra did not enter into competition with those of other schools is simple. They're too good. They have won first place at the exposition for two years in succession so this year it was decided to give someone else a chance. Accordingly Mr. Evans was made one of the judges for the competition and for this reason also it would not be proper for the local players to enter officially into the contest. However, they departed the other day with violins, violas, cellos, oboes, and all other orchestral paraphernalia for Springfield, where they are now well known as an excellent high school organization.

"In 1926, after the orchestra had captured first place, Mr. Evans selected six members to play with the national high school orchestra in Detroit. Of the six he submitted, five were selected and only one of the entire number accepted was from a state other than Connecticut.

"The triumphs of this aggregation of players during the past two years mark bright chapters in the history of high school orchestration in Waterbury and in this history, all the chapters are not bright. It is due to the love of music and the unfailing optimism of Mr. Evans that what was an frightened orchestra of 11 in 1920 is today an aggregation of 200 musicians which won its first place in the following points: Personnel, in texture, appearance, quality of selection, technique, and in addition, it was in 1920 that Mr. Evans, who had come from the West to join the faculty of Crosby high school, was requested by Dr. Michael C. Donovan to see what he could do toward forming an orchestra from among the Crosby students. About 11 boys and girls answered the first call but of these five dropped out after the first few rehearsals because Mr. Evans discouraged jazz. Since it was then the ambition of every school girl to tear off her dress on her uncle, and the ambition of every boy to do the same on his saxophone, it can be imagined with what degree of enthusiasm Mr. Evans' suggestion that the simplest music of the greatest importance be practiced was received.

Five jazz bands deserted the music, but six musicians remained and with this handful Mrs. Evans started getting together about a dozen players for the first concert, at which time the orchestra almost outnumbered the audience. But such an earnest desire to import music appreciation to young folk could not go without some recognition, as is proven by the fact that two years later the orchestra had 21 pieces and presented music was being attempted. In 1923, Mr. Evans took charge of the music in all three high schools, and the orchestras were combined with the result that during that year there were 56 players in the orchestra which presented Schubert's Unfinished Symphony at its concert.

In 1924, the orchestra numbered 68 members, in 1925, 72, and in 1926, 75.

Mr. Evans is desirous of keeping it at this number and has for encouraged the further enlargement of the orchestra, feeling that it has now acquired a proper balance.

The reason why the orchestra did not enter into competition with those of other schools is simple. They're too good. They have won first place at the exposition for two years in succession so this year it was decided to give someone else a chance. the course in music appreciation, really amounts to something more advanced than that generally given in a high school course, but the director feels that only by making the players familiar with all the circumstances surrounding a particular piece and making it possible for them to see through careful study what a composer is "getting at" in this passage or that, can an intelligent orchestra be achieved.

About 20 players left last week to take part in the Eastern States exposition programs, and since they did not play officially in the contest, they were no doubt interested listeners because of the past training they will be able to make intelligent criticism of the performance.

The orchestras have given several commendable concerts here since the players grew sufficiently large in numbers to present moderately difficult compositions. The concerts are now attended by large crowds in contrast to the handful of people who used to be the first brave spectators eight or nine years ago and the audiences are now made up entirely of proud parents, either, among them may be seen teachers or well known local musicians on the lookout perhaps for promising future material.

Winter is just around the corner now. Your heating system is your greatest convenience when winter winds blow. Heat fuel bills and decreased comfort are going to be the penalty charged up to those who fail to give their plants an even chance to perform well this winter.

We will be glad to make a thorough inspection of your heating plant now.

Point out to you little savings that you can make in firing, and suggest slight improvements that will mean big savings during cold weather.

Such an inspection costs nothing.

May we call?

There is much grumbling among the farmers because some of them living out-of-town can no longer hear the weather whistle. The whistle now used is inadequate for carrying sound a considerable distance.

If you were to make a comparative test of The Hoover and any other electric cleaner you would find that The Hoover satisfactorily removes the most dirt per minute—the amount removed by it in one hour cleaning time being at least 60% to 80% greater.

The Hoover is able to effect this greater dirt removal because of its exclusive bearing principle. Positive Agitation, which gets out the maximum dirt which ordinary cleaning fails to remove.

Before you purchase any electric cleaner see The Hoover in action on your own eyes. The amazing efficiency of The Hoover will be a revelation to you. Let us prove to you a demonstration "Liberate all housework" for your big family. Only $25.00 down, balance monthly.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET AT HOME OF
MRS. FRED SIMMONS

Enjoy "Spread" and Hear
Original Poem by
Jessie Roe

A most delightful fall spread was given Tuesday evening by members of the King's Daughters at the home of Mrs. Fred Simmons, on West Main street. Decorations were in keeping with the approaching Halloween season. Mrs. Brock gave a very detailed report of the state convention, which she attended at Mt. Clemens.

"One of the interesting features of the meeting was the reading of a poem by Jessie Roe, that she had written, entitled, "October." It follows:

The poets often sing of June,
And think the autumn sober.
But what is there more beautiful
Than a fine day in October?
Just take a drive through Northville,
On our shaded streets, if you please;
And not how the October sun
Has painted our lovely trees.
Every tree and bush is all aglow,
With color rich and rare;
No matter where you turn to look,
There's beauty everywhere.

You can travel the country over,
But no matter where you roam,
You cannot find a prettier place.
Than we have right here at home.

What is so grand as our autumn
flowers,
With their brilliant reds and golds;
And with the carpet of grass still green,
What a picture it unfolds.

Then the vines are loaded down
With grapes of purple and green,
And kissed by the October sun,
Lends beauty to the scene.

Now, drive out in the country
And behold our woodland trees;
No artist could paint a picture
Ever to rival these.

And note our beautiful orchards,
Nothing to them compares;
 Laden with lovely apples.

Or peaches, or plums, or pears
There are the fields of golden corn,
With pumpkins here and there
And red sumac and bittersweet.

In beauty have a share
All these wonders speak of God
Ever his love is the same.
We owe him grateful service.

As we labor in His Name
So we'll let the poets praise
The months they hold most dear;
But we "Hail Thee October,"
The loveliest of the year!

UNION MEMBERS

The Women's Union of the Northville Presbyterian church were guests of the Presbyterian society in Plymouth Wednesday afternoon of last week. About 60 attended luncheons being provided by the members of the church. Mrs. Schrader welcomed the Northville ladies most cordially as their guests and Mrs. W. H. Yerkes responded very pleasantly. Young, the estimator that the Northville ladies always look forward every year to the meeting with the Plymouth organization.

The subject of Korea was presented in a most interesting manner by Mrs. Hauber, followed by a playlet explaining the "conditions in that country" which was played by the following ladies: Mrs. Bobbitt, Mrs. B. C. Stark, Mrs. Wilbur Johnston, Mrs. Beard, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Ray Casterline, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Houger and Mrs. Baker.

Miss Ida Rose Cavehill, accompanied by Mrs. Van Valkenburgh, sang a selection appropriate to the subject of the afternoon. The program was followed by an informal hour during which refreshments were served.

Relative to Fixing legislative territory and districts.

Amendment to Section 3 of Article V of the Constitution relative to fixing legislative territory and districts.

Sec 3. The house of representatives shall consist of not less than sixty-four nor more than one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory, but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is incorporated or organized it may be divided at the county line or lines. CLOTHING MEETING
FOR WOMEN TUESDAY

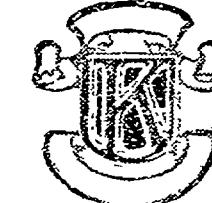

Every woman enrolled in the clothing extension course with Miss Lois Corbett, home demonstration agent, is expected to attend the county-wide clothing meeting October 23rd at 1:30 P. M. in the Episcopal church in Wayne.

Miss Irene Taylor, clothing specialist from the Michigan State College will discuss "Standards of a well-dressed woman, how to know color, sources of color and design related to color." Miss Taylor will illustrate her talk with pictures, fabrics and garments which it would be difficult for the local leaders to obtain. Will you therefore make a special effort to come to Wayne on Tuesday to meet co-workers in the clothing project and hear Miss Taylor's discussion of the first lesson of the year?

NORTHVILLE NOT ONLY PLACE THAT IS DEVELOPING

Wayne, Records Show, is Fast Developing into Real City

No, Northville is not the only community in the so-called metropolitan district of Detroit that is making big strides forward these days. The following article taken from the last issue of the Wayne Dispatch indicates that the little hustling city to the south is also stepping right out onto the front line of development. It says:

"This noteworthy statement of facts and figures proving the actual growth of Wayne has been made public by President Harley Smith for the Wayne District association. Confidence in Wayne's stability and growth based upon indisputable evidence now has a chance to supplant pessimism and become popular, warranted by the data assembled and collected by the Wayne District association covering a three year period to October 1st of this year."

"The postal receipts of Wayne, reported by Postmaster Harry C. Ziemer strikingly illustrate an unprecedented forward movement. The receipts for the year 1926 aggregated $13,875.30.

In 1927, they had risen to $14,565.77, showing a yearly gain of $690.47. The figures for this year up to October first indicate that the total receipts for 1928 will not be less than $17,000.00, thus showing a gain in 6 months over last year of $2,424.25, which is nearly three times the gain of 1927."

"Telephone installations and service form another dependable index of growth of business and population in Wayne and its environs. On January 1, 1927 there were 731 individual connections. During that year the number had risen to 889, a gain of 158. Since January 1, 1928, the number has increased to 1,091 showing a gain of 162 within the past eight months."

"The service of electric light and power, for business and domestic use is not only a dependable index of growth, but also of the demand for modern economy and conveniences. At the beginning of 1927 there were 1,560 electric service meters in Wayne and its immediate suburbs. In 1927 the number had risen to 1,826 and in the nine months of this year to October first the total had reached 1,981, a gain of 155 meter installations. The number of meters does not, however, indicate the volume of current used, which would materially strengthen the demonstration of growth."

"Building construction within the village is an unerring gauge of enterprise as well as of demand. Furthermore, the investment in business and residential structures is a certain assurance of dependability upon permanence, as well as upon pressing demand. The aggregate cost of building construction showed a slight decrease from 1926, but the total of 1927 equaled $305,080.00. In the first nine months of this year, however, the total

New Sewing Machine Arrives

The home economics class had a pleasant surprise Friday, when a new singer sewing machine was delivered at the school house. The class will now be able to do more sewing at school.

Orchestra Music Arrives

The music for the orchestra has arrived. Try-outs will be held on Tuesday, and parts will be assigned the first public appearance will be on Friday evening.

Home Economics Supper

The class in home economics will give a supper next Friday evening at the school house. The profits will be used to buy new equipment for the kitchen.

Girls' Baseball Team

The ninth and tenth grade girls are taking advantage of the fact that they have a fine baseball field and have formed a team which is doing very good playing. The captain is Doris Leavenworth. There are eight girls on the team: Marjorie Ackinson, pitcher; Doris Leavenworth, catcher; Miss Rachor, 1st base; Estelle Fischer, 2nd base; Mabel Boone, 3rd base; Ruth Hammond, right field; Marquita Huiman, left field; Helen Whitehead, center field. Miss Rachor is coaching the team.

Keep Cool!

The girls in the home economics class are trying out a new idea evidently with success. Someone thought of selling "frostbits". Someone else approved. As a result they decided to try it. Frostbits in school were so popular that now we have frostbits on Monday, frostbits on Wednesday and frostbits on Friday. Tuesdays and Thursdays we go without.

FEED BIRDS THIS WINTER—STATE TO TRY EXPERIMENT

Northville Residents Can Do What the State is Planning

This winter the department of conservation will, for the first time, begin official experiments with winter feeding stations for game birds. The effort is to be rather small in scale, of an experimental nature, and will be concentrated in Marquette County under the leadership of the local Manistee Wal-Mart League chapters.

Last spring the Manistee Wal-Mart made an unusual effort to interest farmers and others in hatching ring-neck pheasant eggs from the state game farm. Early in the fall they requested the conservation commission to close the season pheasants in their county and forwarded lengthy petitions carrying hundreds of signatures. Feeling that the people of Manistee county had given evidence of general and sustained interest, the commission closed the county to pheasant hunting for 1928.

Now the feeding station work is being organized to follow up the earlier efforts.

Quite certainly in the case of quail, and very probably in the case of the ring-neck pheasant, Hungarian partridge, and prairie chicken, the birds' ability to increase depends even more upon winter feeding than upon open hunting seasons. All these birds are essentially ground-feeders, depending upon weed seeds, scattered grain and odds and ends of green stuff which may have escaped the frost.

Three principal factors no doubt limit the number of ground-feeding game birds: guns, natural enemies and starvation. No one knows just how to rate the importance of these three factors, but the tendency has been to abhor the guns, denounce vermin and postpone feeding operations.

Especially in the case of quail, both sportsmen and profession biologists have for many years been in almost complete agreement that the winter "patch periods" are in very large measure responsible for the sudden and periodic shrinkages which have been noticed for many years in the region north of the Ohio river.

"Although our Michigan quail have for years been protected from the hunters' guns, they do not seem to have multiplied as originally expected. This is probably due in large measure to the fact that every few years deep snow and ice prevail over extended periods so that the birds' food supply has been cut off and so as to result in wholesale starvation."

The ring-neck pheasant is much stronger than the quail and an exceedingly good "runner," and so is not apt to suffer as much as does the quail—but nevertheless suffers severely.

The Hungarian partridge and, no doubt fall in between the pheasant and the quail. The prairie chicken is probably the best winter feeder of our ground-feeding game birds, and no doubt starves now and then—perhaps more often than has been realized.

No one knows when the best patch periods are coming and the weather may be starting before anybody begins to worry. In the present and quail country deep snow and ice often prevail for a day or so only to be followed by a sudden thaw and bare ground. Occasionally, however, perhaps four years in ten, the snow and ice do not go off soon enough and the birds are stranded. If relief measures are not started until the birds are in serious difficulties, no one knows where to concentrate the effort and only a small percentage of the cover are located and provided with emergency rations.

From field observations and reports coming into the office, conservation at the Penniman Allen Theatre, San-

REAL ENTERTAINMENT FOUND
FBO'S "DANGER STREET"

A deft and skillful combination of melodrama, pathos, comedy and realism told in scenes both colorful and sombre, makes "Danger Street," the FBO underworld picture, which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, October 20th, one of the most enterprising plays of the season.

The picture delves deeply into the previously untroubled life of the upper crust of the underworld showing with uttering exactitude the workings of New York's tenderloin district.

Thrilling gang war scenes provide the elemental climaxes of the picture. The plot is original showing a socially prominent clubwoman, "Rolly Sigsby," portrayed by Warner Baxter, bitterly weary of life because of a blasted romance, who seeks solace in death at the hands of underworld gunmen. He apparently has no fear, for he arouses the enmity of Dorgan, gang-leader by lavishing attentions on his girl, who is cashier in one of the all night vice houses in the district. However Dorgan gets the idea that "Sigsby" is there lying low and planning to murder a personal enemy, and they accent him as a reprobate.

Still wanting a chance to get in touch with the gunman so that he will be apprehended, he buys out a cardsharp and prepares to sell the latter off to rival gangs, the same patterned plan which is contrary to an unwritten law of the gangster. Sigsby in the meantime marries the girl, leading to the anger of Dorgan, but even to Sigsby's disbelief that he is really in love with the girl, he has started an uncontrollable gang war.

Dramatic love scenes furnish other exciting which reveals clearly the stirring genius of Ralph Ince, who is responsible for a style of technique not unmixed in this type of picture. Martha Sleeper, as the girl is "cared out" to Warner Baxter, who although he has never before appeared in an underworld picture lives up to his reputation as a versatile actor. Others to whom credit is due are Duke Martin, as Dorgan, Harry Treadwell, Frank McHugh, Harry Allen Grant, Ole M. Ness and Spec O'Donnell all giving excellent performances.

FINE BOLE OF IRENE RICH IN "CRAIG'S WIFE"

Irene Rich, popular screen star, plays the featured title role of "Craig's Wife," a FBO picture directed by William de Mille, which will be shown day October 21st. This is the screen version of George Kelly's successful Pulitzer prize winning stage play.

The role is said to afford Miss Rich her finest acting opportunity since she played the name part in "Lady Windermere's Fan." The character, Hartley Craig, is that of a managing woman-domestic tyrant and perfidious housekeeper who makes a virtue of sotism and has little call of love or sympathy.

Christy Pearce enacted Mrs. Craig in the New York stage production which ran for a year at the Morosco Theatre there and created a sensation. Besides the title role, the production has a number of other strong acting parts including the husband, played by Warner Baxter, the neighbor's wife, interpreted by Lillian Tashman, and a young couple—Virginia and Carroll Neve.

TAXI CO. PROVIDES LAUGHS AND THRILLS

With Chester Morris in the lead, as the title character, this is regarded as one of the best school officials extraordinary in the feature role of a night hawk taxi driver whose adventures during the gamut from low comedy to breath-taking thrills, Taxicab Special, from the selected as deputy school commissioner Neilan, is the attraction at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday, October 24th.

The things that happen to Andy Smith, the cabby portrayed by Conklin in his most hilarious vein through his desire to amass money for a new taxis whereby his eleven children may be supported are more than plenty. Suspense and thrills are blended with the broad comedy of the story when Andy entangles himself unwittingly with a band of crooks and there is a thread of romance sustained by dainty Martha Sleeper, gentle of several previous FBO productions, and Hugh Trevor, dashing young leading man.

Ethel Wates, character woman of Mrs. MacAvish, mother of Andy, is sturdy broad, and Lee Moran adds much to the fun in a royal cabaret Gatsby, Von Seymer, Jerry Miley and Charles Eyer, as underworld characters complete the cast.
