EXPECT RECORD VOTE ON TUESDAY IN NORTHVILLE

Exceptional Interest in the Election—Three Ballots

Tuesday is election day. Banks will be closed while Northville voters will go to the two precincts in this townships and cast their biggest vote ever recorded, if registration interest is any indication of what will happen on election day. For the first time since the beginning of Northville there are more than 2,500 voters on the poll lists. The township board has wisely provided that the polls be kept open until 8 o'clock in the evening. This will give every one an opportunity to vote. There are many men residing here who work in River Rouge, Highland Park and other Ford plants and if the polls closed at 5 o'clock they would have lost their vote, providing "he had not paid off to vote." As it is now there is nothing to prevent a 100 percent vote on election day.

Added to the general interest in the election, members of the Northville Legion are going to put forth a special effort to get every voter to the polls. The Legion is not interested in any party or candidate—the one desire is to get the vote out.

Local voters will find three ballots awaiting their consideration. The largest and main ballot is "John the size of a bed blanket." This ticket contains the candidates of the various parties. Because of its immense size there is no question but what it will slow up the voting.

The second ballot was containing three proposed amendments to the state constitution. These have been published in the Record by the township board so that every one is familiar with their intent.

The only one that seems to be generally opposed is the one providing increased pay for members of the state legislature. There is a feeling that the present remuneration is sufficient for what is done. However members of the legislature have been working hard and day for it and they will doubtless put it over.

Of special interest to the voters of Wayne county is the proposed bond issue for the new county municipal building. This project is finding more than usual support not only in the city but outside the limits as well.

From those in a position to know it is generally believed that it will be carried by a safe majority.

Election officials have but one request to make vote early in the forenoon if you can't vote early in the afternoon vote as early in the day as you can.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL TO BE TAKEN HERE NEXT WEEK

The Northville Red Cross roll call committee will take the annual roll call next week. It is the desire of the committee and others interested in Red Cross work that there will be a very liberal response.

The solicitation will be made in the factories—and if you do not happen to be at home when the committee workers call, just drop into either bank where you can make such remittance as you desire.

The committee hopes that it will be as nearly 100 per cent as possible to make it. Northville has always been liberal when it comes to charitable matters and it is urged that the forthcoming roll call be as successful if not more so, than those of past years.

The following news dispatch from Sandusky gives details of the daring robbery.

PERE MARQUETTE HIGH OFFICIALS IN NORTHVILLE

Here Wednesday on inspection Tour of Entire Ry. System

President Frank H. Alfred and other high officials of the Pere Marquette railroad were in Northville Wednesday on the annual inspection tour of the lines of this company. From here the party went to Ludington leaving that place Thursday morning for Saginaw and thence over to Erie, Michigan.

The party will have an opportunity of seeing considerable new work which has been carried on on this division this year, not the least interesting of which will be the central control system installed between Saginaw and McGraw whereby despatching of trains is carried on by the mere shifting of a lever from a tower. This installation, the first of its kind on any American railroad, enables a single track railroad to increase its potential capacity. It is automatic and practically fool proof. Under the new system trains are operated by a train controller who is in constant touch with the dispatcher's office and the old plan of train orders is practically dispensed with. This installation was completed this week in order to relieve that part of the line between Saginaw and Flint which is heavily traveled due to the heavy tonnage business incident to both Saginaw and Flint.

Travelling with President Alfred are Vice President J. L. Cramer and C. S. Sikes, assistants to the President; A. L. Grandy (engineering) and E. E. Cain (operation); H. A. Cassi, chief engineer; R. J. Williams and C. K. Woods, superintendents and assistant, respectively, of the motive power department; C. M. Booth, freight traffic manager, and John Dunphy, general passenger agent; and various others including the committee members who are recruited from various points and divers departments. These latter, of course, are concerned with the inspection of the various works and are responsible for the markings in the corresponding competitions. As soon as their summeries are completed of course, the awards of cash prizes in the various competitions will be made known. These computations will be rushed through in order that the boys may receive their checks by Christmas.

With the itinerary now shortened to five days, the inspection party is kept on the alert all day while the necessary doubling back over the road before occurs at night, incidentally, all of the work which would otherwise arise at the home offices is carried on in the offices cars and accordingly a corps of secretaries is abroad the train and constant communications with head quarters and divisional officers is maintained. This makes for a long and arduous day for the principal officers during the entire tour.

The special train comprised three office cars, Pullman car, a dinner and a specially constructed inspection car with an open amphitheater in the rear. From this car, the markings in the various competitions for which prizes are awarded each year is carried on by the various committees. Announcement of the results will be made as soon as the computations in the divers events can be completed. This will be in time to mail checks to the various winners for the Christmas holidays.

Continuing the exceptionally attractive offers in sales of furniture, Schrader Bros. furniture store of Northville will for the next week give away as a special inducement any floor lamp in the store with every purchase of an overstuffed living room suite, either two or three piece sets. Mr. Schrader has found that the special sales he has been running from week to week have been most acceptable to the residents of this section and he expects to continue them for sometime to come. The offer of the free floor lamp will continue from this Friday until the next issue of the Record.

Automobiles trucks and parts ranked third in railroad shipments for 1927.

The automobile dollar is worth $10.67 and the cost-of-living dollar 61 cents, compared with 1914.

BANKER'S WIFE HELD PRISONER DURING ROBBERY

AMERICAN LEGION MAKES DRIVE FOR BIG VOTE TUESDAY

The second annual victory banquet of the DeHoCo baseball club was held Saturday night in the Fort Shelby hotel in Detroit, with nearly 200 from Northville, Plymouth and other places in the Inter-City League present. Like an earlier affair arranged by Capt. Edward Deniston of the Detroit House of Correction, it was a success in every way.

To Harry German of Northville, veteran of all veteran ball players the occasion was something more than a banquet. He met some old time players he had not seen in years, one being Judge Guy Miller of Detroit. Back in his younger days, Judge Miller was one of the star players of Michigan. In fact he has long been regarded as the best pitcher bat ever based on a University of Michigan team.

During the banquet it developed that Miller and German played opposite teams some thirty years ago at Plymouth and that the Judge received much pleasure in the game.

Some of the business men reported stoppers waiting for their stores to open in the morning. There is this that can be said about it—the Judge Joseph A. Miller of Detroit was mastermason at the banquet. Judge McWhar and Judge Miller are regarded as among the outstanding jurists of Michigan, and it was pleasing to the big crowd at the banquet to know that both in their younger days and even now are keenly interested in athletics.

Among the speakers was Capt. Manager Adolph Koens of Plymouth, who stated that that city was having a great success than that of any previous year. All of them reported an exceedingly favorable increase in business with a large number of new shoppers from the surrounding towns taking advantage of the hundreds of bargains offered by the local merchants.

Some of the business men reported stoppers waiting for their stores to open in the morning. There is this that can be said about it—the Dollar Day brought to Northville a lot of new trade and much of it will be permanent trade because of the general satisfaction that goes with real bargain offers by merchants.

Fred Lyke and James Huff, local hardware merchants who offered Dollar Day bargains, both reported excellent business. They not only sold the special offers for Dollar Day, but shoppers made many other purchases as well.

The dry goods stores, shoe stores, the Woolworth store and all the others enjoyed an extra rush of business from early morning until the afternoon.

Stevens of the Red Front Cast inocency did as much business in the forenoon as in the Red Day as he is accustomed to doing in the average entire day of trading. He offered some real bargains and as a result his other stores were also good. William Elliott has the same favorite report to make.

Charles Ponsford stated that he was highly pleased with the special day. John McCullough, the Stark Bros. Sam Brader and others handling shoes were kept busy most of the day.

That Dollar Day is a real benefit to Northville is evident from the fact that the shoppers seemed so well pleased with it. There were many ladies ever from Plymouth, South Lyon, Farmington and other nearby communities who took advantage of the scores of bargains.

It was a real Dollar Day, and a profitable one to the shopper as well as the merchant.

During his talk Judge Miller paid high tribute to Harry German and the clear sportsmanship he has maintained during his long and honorable baseball career.

When Judge Moynihan presented the trophy to Capt. Deniston and his team, he took occasion to tell of the high regard in which Capt. Deniston is held not only by those associated with him in the conduct of the big public institution over which he presides, but by the great city of Detroit and the State.

Capt. Deniston in accepting the cup, stated that to him it represented clean baseball playing on the part of DeHoCo and that if some other team won it would be by means of fair and as honorable as those used by the DeHoCo players.

I do want to say at this time that the players and those associated with the DeHoCo club are exceedingly grateful to all the communities in the league where we play last summer. We were exceedingly well treated and we haven't a fault of any kind to find with anyone or any place," said the Captain.

At each plate was a pocket containing a brief history of the baseball career of the DeHoCo players. The program, a product of the printing part at the same, was an example of high class printing.

Responsibility for the accident did not as yet been determined according to Chief William H. Schilder.

The Northville Record acted as host to twenty members of the printing class of the Wayne County training school Friday. Instructors of the school in an effort to have their pupils well trained in the profession they are studying brought them to the record plant to inspect the machinery and become acquainted with the way in which this paper is printed. While at the plant they were instructed in operating the Mehl high speed job press which is one of the records newest acquisitions to handle modern printing needs.

Mrs. H. Murray, second grade teacher, gave a reading demonstration at the Michigan State Teachers' Association at the Franklin school in Detroit, during the conference last week. The class of Northville pupils was divided into two groups, one group doing silent seat work, while the other read from their texts. There were a large number of teachers present who greatly appreciated the work of Miss Murray's class.

BANQUET ENDS VICTORY YEAR OF DEHOCO TEAM

Harry German's Career on Diamond Praised by Speakers

AND PEPPER IN THE WORLD OF BASEBALL—HOW IT FEELS TO PLAY AGAINST FAMOUS BABE RUTH

(By H. S. German) — receiving end of the battery beginning to get his normal color, the editor of the Record having game started. The Babe was in third batter up, and he appeared like a giant with a tail in his hands for a bat. Dutch told me later that he imagined some sky scraper builder had shoved a big casting outfit in front of him. He hit the third ball pitched for a single only, and great was the relief among the two players from Northville. After that we had more confidence and knew he was only human and pitched to him as to other batters. It was the only hit he made, the others being grounders in the infield. Must admit however, that he took some vicious swings, and had been connected fairly with the ball it might have landed right down in the village of Northville. While at bat, Babe asked young German if he ever caught before, and Dutch said, "No only once when I relieved my own son some days at Springfield." Well, you are older than I thought, and your father the pitcher must come from baseball family, too," said Ruth. Sure," answered the catcher, and Dad's grandfather would be here in the game if he had not been obliged to have pitched at Saginaw this afternoon.

During the game I watched a boy, but his father went hitless. In the anxiety of the young Americans to get near the famous Ruth, they stormed the field with their fifteen hundred, and the game was stopped for twenty minutes before order was restored. After that every ball fouled or hit within reach of the young Americans was confiscated, until about twenty balls were gone and the supply exhausted. So the game was at an end in the fifth inning with the score in favor, 5 to 4.

Might state that Lou Gehrig also of the New York Americans was on the team in which we played, and with all respect to the famous home-run-hitter, Babe Ruth, the writer considers Gehrig a much more courageous man with the bat and had rather seen up bats for Ruth to swing than the less colorful Gehrig.

Plumbing pipes exposed to the winter weather may prove more troublesome than the old teakettle and pump combination. Remember the pipes that froze last winter? For protection, mineral coverings or homemade wrappings of bagging may be used or parts of the pipe may be boxed and surrounded with a material such as straw or crumpled organ. More than 12 per cent of all cars manufactured in 1927 were sold incomplete, it is put out in 1928.

Arrived at the first ball game of the season, and found all along the streets the people in their coats and hats, and 500 men sat down in a field to watch the game. After 3-1/2 hours in the ball field, the old Teakettle War of course, it is not to be expected that the crowd would go through the crowd to the clubhouse for shave, etc., etc. The old man struck up about 100 yards away. All sportsmen know of York, and Ruth was created by Hesleying several balls and the from the other side where we were dressing. That did not sound so good and Dutch thought it might be a good idea to do not the King of Swats and the home runs out of his system had exhausted all the base balls after discussing, long time on how to try and stop the Big Fellow in making new records we decided it could not be done and went and warmed up for the game after throwing a number of wild ones over the grandstand and the Ill Hindsight Cost You Dearly This Year?

Just around the corner your heating system is your greatest convenience when winter winds blow. Fuel bills and decreased comfort are to be the penalty paid up to those who fail to think well this winter.

Will be glad to make a thorough inspection of your heating plant and point out to you little savings you can make in firing and slight improvements that mean big savings during cold weather.

Inspection costs nothing.

For two seasons the U. S. Range Stock Experiment Station, Miles City, Montana, has made a comparison of the value of alfalfa hay alone and alfalfa hay supplemented with cottonseed cake and corn silage for wintering beef calves.

To date the results have indicated that alfalfa hay alone will give equally as good results as when supplemented by these other two feeds, which are not readily available in that section.

The hen that lays a small egg is a bad influence. It takes nerve to cull her out of the flock, especially if she is a high producer but rigid culling of small-egg hens must be done to improve the flock and to avoid price cuts that go with small eggs.

CIVICS-CLASS SENDS

FOR STATE CONSTITUTION

Miss Bainbridge's class in twelfth grade civics have been sending requests to each of the state departments in the United States, asking for copies of their particular state's constitution.

The students have been receiving answers from the various states, some have sent the number of constitutions asked for that is enough copies so every one in the class could have one. Some states have sent but one, while others do not even answer their polite requests. Those who haven't received their answers to the letters, still hope that they will.

These copies are used by the class in comparing the clauses pertaining to the same subject in each constitution. It is surprising to see the difference in size of the stated constitutions. Comparing Michigan with California, Michigan is about one-fourth that of California.

The constitutions that the class have received now are those of Michigan, New Jersey, California, Maryland, Montana, Rhode Island and Maine. Not all of the states have sent enough copies for the whole class; those that did bring Michigan, California, Maine, New Jersey and Maryland.

MODERN HISTORY CLASS STUDIES GOVERNMENT PAPER

The tenth grade modern history class received five copies of the Weekly News Review, last week.

The paper tells all about the government. The purpose of the paper is to help the students get better acquainted with the ways of our government and its laws.

STUDENT COUNCIL MET WITH COMMITTEES

Monday, October 29th, at 3:45 the Student Council met in the science room. The entertainment and decoration committees were present.

The entertainment committee decided to meet at Marjorie Schoultz's to plan games.

The decoration committee planned to have jack-o'-lanterns, cornstalks, leaf wreaths and orange and black crepe paper for decoration.

This party is to be a merry-mix-up hard-time party for the high school students. Shadows will be cast later in the evening, the money thus received going toward paying the debt of the annual.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR STUDENT COUNCIL PARTY

Mayor Harley Wolfson appointed the committee for the Student Council party which is to be given Friday November 2nd.

The committees are Entertainment-Alvarez Beard, Marjorie Johnson, David McManamy and Marjorie Schoultz. Decoration-Irene Bennett, chairman, James Huff, Hazel Wood and Margaret Norton. The police who are to act under Chief of Police Chester Thomasson are John Leavenworth, George Greenlee, David Meininger and Charles Meininger.

ANOTHER ROUGING PRACTICE

MEETS QUARTEL MEMBERS

On Tuesday evening, October 23rd, about ten fellows of the faithful few were to quartet practice, and on this evening because of an audience, the boys sure did warble some sweet melodies.

There are only about two high falsettos in this male quartet, but the low basses and baritones are quite numerous, even if not so good, but, of course, they have lots of chance to improve, but not much time, because their first appearance will be in a very short while.

Of course, the fellows are going to surprise the people, because they are laughing at the last year's tryout, but wait and then listen in on all the teachers of District No. 1. Mr. Cohn who attended the science meeting, gave a talk illustrated with the "radiometer," a new device for showing the effect of heat upon air currents. Miss Parks attended the special meeting for geography teachers. She reported that teaching today is not so much a memory of facts, as being able to live the right way in one's environment and being able to understand other people in other countries.

Mrs. Briggs told of the commercial teachers' meeting, and gave pointers on the teaching of typewriting and shorthand.

The public speaking meeting was attended by Mrs. Shawley. The thing we are trying for now, she said, is to have public speaking recognized as an important and credited course in high schools by the University.

Mrs. Kinsey gave an interesting report of Mr. Stephenson's lecture on Arctic Lands at the Detroit meeting. "Instead of learning fancy things, a word the way we go," she said, "the Eskimo must learn 2000 in order to be understood at all."

Miss Matthews talked on the home economics meeting. She brought out that the teaching of health habits is the main object of the home economics teacher.

Mr. Thompson showed the importance of a bit of work in every school; that the students may not leave without some knowledge of manual training.

"At the next teachers' meeting, the rest of the teachers will give their reports."

NORTHVILLE TEACHERS GIVE REPORTS ON MEETING

Northville high school teachers gave reports of their various section meetings in Detroit at the teachers' meeting last Monday after school. These meetings were held in Detroit Thursday night, Friday and Saturday, October 25, 26 and 27, for cause of the gate crashing—So the coach got all of the football team together and asked them if they were willing to pay their entrance fees to him, and he would turn it over to the Student Council, who would send it to Plymouth to try and do away with the hard feelings.

All the fellows agreed. So the money was paid by the ones having gone to the game without paying.

We all hope these actions will do away with any hard feelings between the two towns.

two times for extra points.

HOW FORD MAKES RADIATOR TESTS FOR HIS NEW CAR

No Driving Would Produce Hardships Imposed on Machine

In the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Company at Detroit there is a machine which tries with all the efficient tenderness of an engine of destruction, to shake the life out of a Ford automobile radiator in the shortest possible time.

Ten hours is the time allotted to this machine, known as an "agitator," to do all within its power to ruin a water-filled Ford radiator. At the end of that period the much abused radiator is taken off the machine and examined by experts for any signs of damage, and a brand new Ford radiator, also filled with water, is put on for another ten hours of torment.

This agitator device is part of the testing equipment for radiators that are being built for the new Model "A" Ford car. When you watch it, jiggling and jolting and shaking and jiggling and jolting and shaking the gurgling radiator, you have a feeling that no automobile driver could drive a car over roads and at a speed which would give it such a severe shaking up and still hold on to his wheel and his seat. Then the factory foreman tells you that within the period of ten hours this agitator gives the new radiator more and severer jars and jolts, than the average Ford car will get in its whole lifetime of service.

And he tells you also that the great majority of radiators tested in this agitator come through the ordeal without a sign of injury. Those that sprout even the smallest leaks are rare indeed.

Then the foreman takes you through the radiator factory and shows you why this is so. He shows you that every part of the radiator is rugged and strong—parts welded and soldered together in such a manner that engine vibration and road jars cannot shake them apart. To make sure that the finished radiator is free from leaks or potential leaks as soon as it comes off the assembly line, it is given a severe compressed air test. Filled with air under a high pressure and sealed, the radiator is submerged in a tank of water. If there is the slightest sign of bubbles, due to escaping air, the radiator is thrown out as faulty.

The radiator paints out to you also the features of this new Ford radiator, which make it an unusual, efficient unit of the cooling system. The upper and lower tanks are large. The openings through which the water flows from the tanks into the radiator tubes are bell-shaped, thus providing faster flow and faster circulation of the water. The tubes of copper and brass permit very rapid radiation of the heat and therefore quicker cooling.

Throughout the radiator of the new Ford car has been built in keeping with the greater power, speed and durability of the Model "A."

Elmer Perrin was quite badly hurt in a football scrimmage at South Lyon Tuesday. Must be that some Minneapolis tactics were employed.

Mrs C. J. Bell has presented Mrs Olive Charter with a magnificent American Beauty rose, which blossomed out of doors and was picked November 1st.

Several croquet experts came down from Salem Saturday to do things to our boys, but the locals were too much for the visitors and came out ahead.

W. Starki G. C. Hueston, Arlene Morris, Charles Sessions, Dr. J. M. Burgess and Abe Sheffield left yesterday for the north woods for a ten days' hunting expedition.

Mrs. Angell, landlady of the Angel Inn at Walled Lake, built a fire in a sort coal burner in the bedroom which opens from the ballroom. After lighting the fire she went down to the kitchen to work, but soon returned upstairs to find the room filled with smoke and a partition on fire. She immediately gave the alarm, but as it was the hour of public worship there was scarcely a man about. Mrs. Angell seized the dinner bell and, called fire, and soon both congregations of worshippers were hastening to the rescue and the fire was soon under control.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were testimony of the popularity of the happy couple. They have taken rooms in the home of Mr. Alberta Arnt.

This is a big game, November 6th, and you men and women are on the first team. Come out, every one of you, and help put it over. Come Out and Vote.

Then help the second team—the kids—help them play their game by doing what is asked of you.

We are putting on this campaign, first to bring out every eligible voter, and remedy the situation of four years ago; and second, to start all down to the youngest school child, into a realization that every election day is an important day in the history of these United States.

The Bureau merely hands this record to the member merchant. Every retail house of consequence is a member. The Service Bureau is a great protection to the merchant, but is even a greater protection to the individual.

Few references of character could be better than one stating that a subject's credit is good anywhere. Then if he does ask for a piece of merchandise for which he cannot pay until the first of the coming month, he gets it.

The teaspoons baking powder, and one Pennell gave a stirring address on Lovest Thou Me? The pastor spoke briefly in "Consecration" and the dedication of Solomon's temple. Rev. Parker made some very timely and fitting remarks, congratulating the church in its remarkable growth and achievements. The service was closed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Steers, with Mrs. Wilson at the piano.

Too late pasturing or cutting may kill a stand. For new seedings that have not made much growth light dressings of straw reduce the chances of winter injury.

ONLY THREE OUT OF EVERY SEVEN ELIGIBLE VOTERS EXERCISED THE RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP AT THE POLLS IN 1924.

REGARDLESS OF POLITICS

Vote November 6th

IT IS THE DUTY OF EVERY LOYAL AMERICAN TO CORRECT THIS DANGEROUS CONDITION.

Issued by Americanism Committee

Lloyd H. Green Post, No. 147.

Mr. and Mrs. Voter

Next Tuesday, November 6th, you are expected to vote. Regardless of who you vote for, get out and vote. And when you do, a member of our organization will pin a tag on you, which will read, "I Have Voted—Have You?"

Wear this tag conspicuously, as long as you can that day. Wear it until some school boy or girl takes it away from you, but do not let them have it until after school closes in the afternoon. These are the rules of the game, and they must be obeyed. Make them play the game square, but surrender the tag to whom ever you want to see with, after the specified time.

The school children are out working for prizes, three of them, which our organization will give to the three highest tag collectors by the time the polls close. So do your bit to help them win.

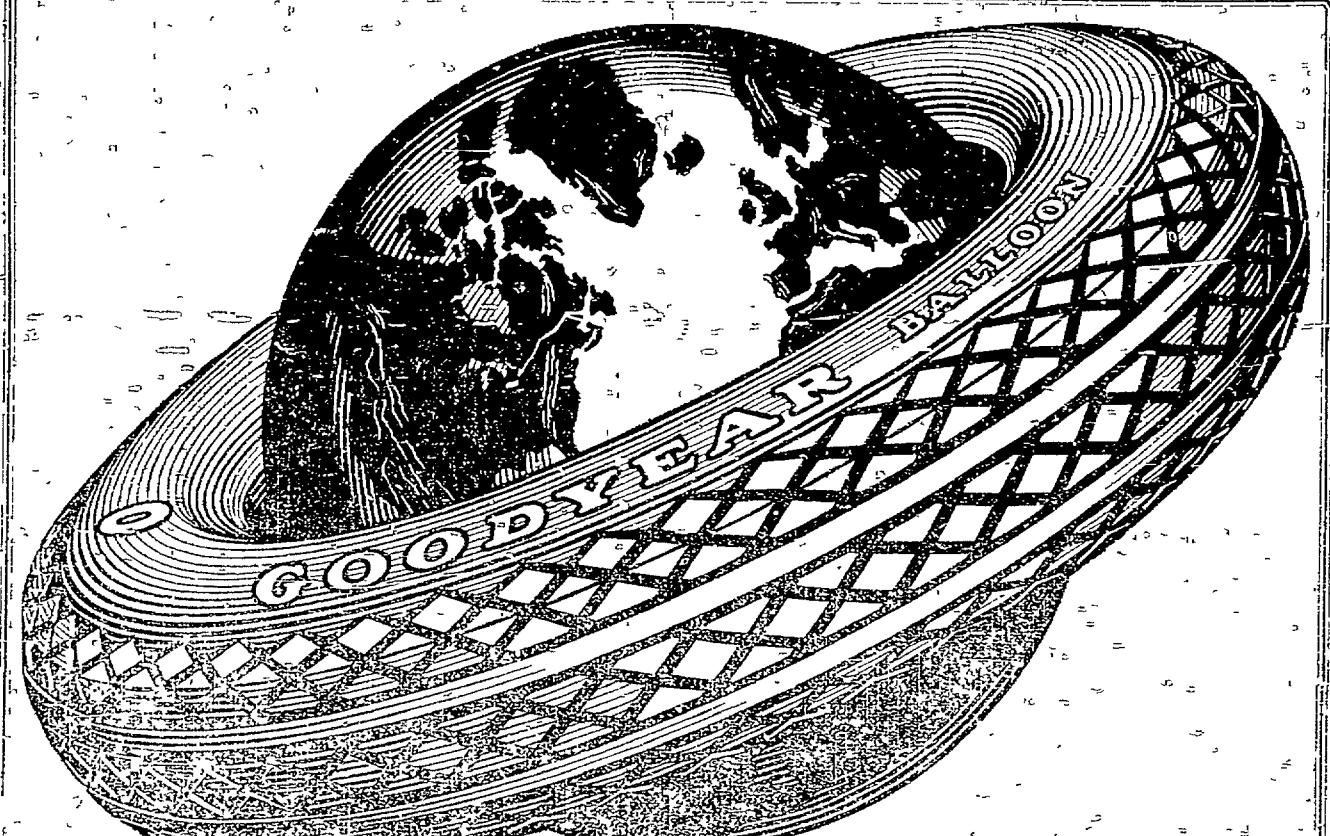

This is a big game, November 6th, and you men and women are on the first team. Come out, every one of you, and help put it over. Come Out and Vote.

Then help the second team—the kids—help them play their game by doing what is asked of you.

We are putting on this campaign, first to bring out every eligible voter, and remedy the situation of four years ago; and second, to start all down to the youngest school child, into a realization that every election day is an important day in the history of these United States.

William Thayer Possesses Original of "Shoot to Kill" Edict

In looking over some of his priceless keepsakes left to him by his father, William Thayer, superintendent of the U. S. fish hatcheries in Michigan, the other day found the original letter written by John A. Dix, secretary of the U. S. treasury in the cabinet of Abraham Lincoln, that contained the historic command, "If any one attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot."

Down through all American history since the beginning of the Civil war, this statement has often been repeated.

An uncle of William Thayer, named Rufus H. Thayer, was law advisor in the supervising architect's office in the treasury department. Just how the letter fell into his possession is not known, but it has been in the possession of the Thayer family since Civil war days. Shortly after the war Rufus Thayer sent it to his brother, Hiram B. Thayer of this place, and when he died it became the possession of his son, William, who still owns it.

Sophomores Plan Party

Sometime ago the Sophomores decided to have a party. After discussion in the pros and cons for quite a while further plans were made. The sophomores of Northville were invited late on an invitation was also extended to the Novi girls.

The decoration committee Ruth Hammann and Miriam Atkinson dressed up the community room in their never failing style.

The Fisher and Joy Thompson who have been popular in the refreshments committee have not said much, but we hope that they are getting up to date decorations.

Mabel Boone and Marian Shinn on the entertainment committee are frantically trying to think of songs and games with which to entertain the visitors.

Still the class expects to have a successful party because each member is ready to work hard to do her part.

HOUSE FURNISHING FOR WAYNE COUNTY WOMEN THIS YEAR

Miss Freida Gilmore to Spend One Day Each Month in County

Adding beauty to the old is the theme of the home furnishing course to be given in Wayne county this year.

After consulting the women in the home demonstration group of the county Miss Lois Corbett, home demonstration agent, has secured the course from the Michigan State College extension service for the coming year. Miss Freida Gilmore, home furnishing specialist from the college, will spend a day each month teaching the course to local leaders who in turn will take the work back to their local groups. Miss Corbett will explain in detail and help the different groups in their organization, will help the leaders with their teaching problems throughout the year and will be able to help women enrolled with their special problems in home furnishing.

As last year, emphasis will be placed on the making of the most of the things already at hand. This project, "Adding Beauty to the Old," deals with four important factors that go to make a house into a home with little expenditure of money. It is not every homemaker, indeed, who can afford to buy new furniture, can really enjoy and look forward to coming to it. How important it is that the furniture takes its proper place in the scheme of the furnishing. If it attracts too much attention by its shabbiness the entire effect of the house can be upset. During the first meeting the women will study the problems encountered when selecting a piece of upholstery—the kind of upholstered material available—and their wearing qualities. It is so fascinating to find all the different, very inexpensive materials on the market that will make new chairs or couches out of old ones.

Is every piece of furniture lovely in line? Do the colors harmonize with all those in the room? Perhaps the problem is an ugly piece of furniture which must be covered before the room can be a happy, harmonious one. During the second meeting the women will study the making of slip covers. Lo the lights give charm, beauty and comfort to the room? Do they seem to welcome guests? If not what can be done to improve them? Do the lampshades seem to belong to the lamp? These and many more problems taken up at a third meeting.

The accessories—the little decorative things of the room add interest, beauty and character to it. Every piece of furniture loves to be covered before the room can be a happy, harmonious one. During the second meeting the women will study the making of slip covers. Lo the lights give charm, beauty and comfort to the room? Do they seem to welcome guests? If not what can be done to improve them? Do the lampshades seem to belong to the lamp? These and many more problems taken up at a third meeting.

is well as express the personalities of the homemakers. What kinds of pottery will serve as decorative notes? When are candlesticks and candles of good design? How can some of the pillows which are truly lively in design be made? These are a few of the problems taken up at the fourth and last meeting.

ALL NORTHLVILLE TEACHERS IN N. E. A.

The following has been received in the Record from the National Education Association. All the teachers of the public schools of Northville, Michigan, have taken membership in the National Education Association. The report was dictated to the Association's head-quarters here by J. W. Crabtree, executive secretary.

The one hundred per cent enrollment application was received from the superintendent of schools, W. H. Gordon, representing twenty-eight teachers.

In a congratulatory letter to Superintendent Mr. Crabtree says: "We are proud of your one hundred per cent enrollment. It shows a fine leadership on your part and an excellent professional spirit among your teachers. Congratulations to you all and success to you all in your work for the cause of education." The enrollment in the N. E. A. is now $11,000; our goal is set for $20,000 in 1929.

Spanish rice is delicious served with roast pork or lamb. Slice medium-sized onions, and cook until tender in one-half cup of drippings or butter. Remove them from the fat and add one-half cup of uncooked rice after it has been carefully washed and dried. Brown it. Then add the cooked onions, 3 cups fresh or canned tomatoes, 3 green peppers cut in strips, and 2 teaspoons of salt. Turn the mixture into a baking dish and bake it until the rice and the peppers are tender.

There was a total of 939 4/8 motor vehicles registered in Cassada in 1927, of which $31,542 were passenger cars.

GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN

RUSSELL A. ALGER

Determination to secure an education and win a place for himself in the world caused Russell A. Alger, governor of Michigan from 1885 to 1887, to go to work when a mere lad of 11 summers. Left an orphan at that age he started work at a farm in Ohio and not only provided his home with living necessities, but saved enough to buy his way in the Richfield Academy in Ohio. Alger was born in Medina county, Ohio, in 1836. Under great odds he secured his education.

Teaching school in the winter and working on a farm in the summer, he found not to be just the easier.

He desired to pursue so in 1857 he decided to study law. Within two years he was admitted to the bar by the Ohio supreme court, removing to Cleveland, where he remained several months.

Constant study and overwork had nearly wrecked his health and if was necessary for him to give up office work.

Leaving Ohio, he went to Grand Rapids where he started in the lumber business. When Michigan was called to furnish soldiers for the war Alger was one of the first to enlist entering the Second Michigan cavalry.

He was mustered out as captain. His war record won for him more than ordinary distinction.

After the close of the war he returned to Michigan, locating in Detroit. He soon became wealthy through his lumber operations and devoted much of his time to public affairs.

He was elected as governor by the Republicans in 1885, and when William McKinley was elected Presi-

For each quart of grape juice allow one-half cup of sugar, 8 to 12 pieces of stick cinnamon, 12 to 16 whole cloves, and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Mix all the ingredients and bring to the boiling point. Allow the fruit juice to stand 3 or 4 hours to develop the spicy flavor. At serving time, reheat and remove the spices. Lemon juice may be added. A quarter of a cup of sugar is enough for each quart of sweet cider, an eighth teaspoon of salt, 8 pieces of cinnamon, 12 whole cloves, and a fourth teaspoon of powdered allspice. Prepare in the same way as spiced grape juice. Serve hot.

NOVI TOWNSHIP
GENERAL ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that a General Election will be held in the Township of Novi, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, at Novi Town Hall, within said Township, on Saturday, November 3, 1928.

Presenting, beautiful Estelle Taylor in the fascinating roll of an adventures whose presence on a Singapore-bound cargo steamer involves officers and crew of the "tramp" freighter in a deadly feud that leads to warfare, mutiny and shipwreck as the story develops.

"The Singapore Mutiny" is declared by critics who have seen it elsewhere to be one of the outstanding photoplays of the season.

It was directed for FBO by Ralph Ince, sterling actor as he is a successful director. Ince also plays the leading role opposite Miss Taylor, that of a giant stockholder bully who rises to a heroic stature in an emergency that calls for the real manhood he had submerged beneath his mask of cruelty. All of the action takes place in a motion picture theatre.

It was during the filming of his latest Fox production, "Hello Cheyenne," coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday, November 4th, that Mr. Ince made known his intentions. He can in this way give everybody a chance to see the beauty and grandeur of America's scenery, creating a greater appreciation of their own country.

Every location used in my pictures," says Ince, "will be given credit stating just where it is. In this way every theatre patron will know just where he is watching."

Actor who Natural banks used in the Fox production are the Yosemita, Yellowstone, Farner, Carter Lake Zion, Glacier, General Grant and others having scenes adaptable to motion picture production.

"Hello Cheyenne," his latest, is said to go around in scenic beauties having been filmed in the rugged splendors of Arizona. Cary Grant plays the feminine lead.
