HERBERT HOOVER IS BIG FAVORITE IN NORTHVILLE

Local Voters Show Preference for Republican Candidates

The election is over. Herbert Hoover has been chosen president and Fred W. Green has been reelected as governor for another term.

Northville displayed its faith in Republicanism and the state administration by giving both a lopsided majority that exceeded in its favoritism that of any other community in the state, with the possible exception of Ionia county where Governor Green resides.

It was evident early Tuesday morning that Northville township would poll a record vote. Township officials say it exceeded any other vote ever cast here, but an examination of the poll books showed that there were many who did not vote.

The total vote exceeded 1,100, but there were dozens and dozens of ballots that were thrown out because of improper marking. It was amazing to see the large number in both precincts where voters had placed only one mark on the ticket in front of the name of Alben E. Sleeper, a candidate for presidential elector. Apparently they thought by marking the vote in that way that it was a straight ticket mark, but if the ballot counted only one-fifth of a vote for Herbert Hoover and no one else.

The Republican majority in Northville would have been much greater if there had not been so many improperly marked ballots.

It had generally been believed that the splitting of ballots would favor Governor Smith of New York, but that did not prove to be the case. Where voters split, it was in favor of some candidate for county office on the opposite ticket. There were fewer split tickets than had been anticipated, by election officials.

Congressman Hudson made a big run as he usually does in this end of the district. He had a total of 977 votes to his opponent's 128, almost a nine to one victory.

The legislative and county tickets ran a little better than did the state Republican ticket.

Northville was out of the few townships to favor the city-county building project. It supported all the county projects, but it voted down the proposed constitutional amendment favoring increased pay for members of the state legislature.

Interest in the election was intense. Radios brought in news from the outside world, and it seemed that nearly everyone in Northville was up late listening to the returns. If they didn't have radios they went where there was one. Not only was the interest high but there seemed to be a general satisfaction over the entire results.

President-elect Hoover has the honor of securing the highest number of votes in Northville township. He has 989 votes. If spoiled ballots in which voters showed their intent of voting for him could have been counted, the total would have been considerable over a thousand.

One voter in the second precinct was so intent on voting dry that he marked the Prohibition ticket after having placed a cross in the Republican column.

Loyle German put a little sand into the count, in the first precinct, but even then it was well after 6 o'clock Wednesday morning when his precinct completed its work.

The second precinct with less than 200 ballots under the first completed its work shortly after midnight.

The floor of the city hall during the count looked like a waste paper basket.

James Oberon, candidate for prosecutor, Ira Wilson and Otto Stoll had the largest vote among county candidates.

Supervisor Ely provided a bowl of hot oyster soup for the counters, which at midnight hour arrived.

There was much interest in the American Legion tags. Voters were glad to wear them and how the kids did go after them when the hour arrived.

FIRST VOTERS IN NORTHVILLE

John T. Carlson was the first voter at precinct number 1, and C. Ray VanValkenburgh has the distinction of being voter number 2 on election day at precinct number 2 in the record vote cast in Northville township on election day. Both were waiting and ready to vote the minute the clerks had the ballots ready. It had been the hope of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Perrin to be the first voters of number 1 precinct, but a delay of a few minutes made them fourth and fifth voters.

NOVI TOWNSHIP BOARD ASKS FOR FIRE PROTECTION

Supervisor Hamilton Asks Village for Use of Equipment

At the last meeting of the village commission, Chas. Hamilton, supervisor of Novi township, acting as representative for the Novi board, asked the local commission for fire protection in Novi township.

Supervisor Hamilton said that at the present time Novi depended upon the Walled Lake fire department for their protection. He made it clear to the Northville commissioners that although Walled Lake had given excellent service that they felt it necessary to take steps and ask for more and quicker service at least the southern part of the township which borders Northville.

No definite conclusion was reached at the meeting but it was understood that Novi would receive Northville fire protection, and details of expense would be worked out later between the two boards.

NORTHVILLE HIGH LOSES TO PLYMOUTH IN 7-0 BATTLE

Northville high lost to Plymouth in a fast and exciting battle 7-0, last Friday afternoon, at the fair ground field.

The bands of both schools, in full gala, made a stirring sight and their music helped to stir up the old school rivalry which entered into the game. The game was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators for both teams.

Plymouth's winning score came early in the second half, when a Northville man fumbled a punt and a Plymouth man fell on the ball. Lacking only a few yards, Herrick took the ball through the line for the lone score, and then drop-kicked for the extra point.

Herrick was Plymouth's main driving force. All long runs were made by him. This man was formerly of Northville and at that time was unable to make a place on the team. Although a little slow, Herrick has the weight and has developed into a successful ground gainer. Orr, also, of Plymouth, made a few gains worthy of notice.

Watts, half back for Northville, made a number of fine gains. The full, Cavell, half, and McCarron, half, were unable to do much because of a weak line. Teska, who substituted for McCarron at different periods, played well.

GERTRUDE DEAL ENTER- TAINS CAMPFIRE GIRLS

The Campfire Girls, under the guardianship of Mrs. Stalker, had a Halloween party at Gertude Deal's home October 29th.

Each of the girls invited a guest. They played many games, one of them being that they had to follow a rope which lead into a dark room, and stumbled into chairs, and different articles that were in the way. The refreshments consisted of pumpkin pie and ice cream.

THE "TOMORROW" PERSON. Did you ever consider what you imply when you say you will do such and such a thing tomorrow? Do you think what that one word means?

It advertises the fact that the speaker is weak and slow. How can anyone succeed in life if he has the "tomorrow" attitude?

Where would Edison be if he had put off his work? Not very far. It is true we can't all be inventors, but we can be energetically inclined.

So if you are a "tomorrow" person, snap out of it. Tomorrow never comes. Make it today.

CAVELL'S ARE HOSTS AT WONDERFUL DINNER

(By B. M.)

Friday evening, November 2nd, Dr. and Mrs. Cavell were hosts to the football team of the High School.

The first entertainment was a tea of the very latest musical accompaniments played on the piano by Ted Casell and his band.

Of course, some of the following items of old tunes, and they made themselves quite witty, drag and drop, they thought, and then when

Naturally, some of the following items of old tunes, and they made themselves quite witty, drag and drop, they thought, and then when SOMEONE said, "I don't think I could have taste like Mr. Chuck LeFevre," and Ted Casell said, "McCarte went hunting for them." They form an excellent and being ready to find any new item in the play.

Someone said, "Let's go and Chuck LeFevre almost jumped to the ceiling, but he was more than just and so he did not jump."

And then the dinner! The first thing was a big cocktail, and of course, Chuck LeFevre was through eating his about ten minutes before anyone else.

Mr. Gordon was also present, but he was not feeling well and so he only cracked a Scotch joke, about every other two records which of course, is rather slow for him. Of course Coach Jones tried to keep up, but that was impossible because of lack of experience and deep thinking ability concerning people, something.

L. W. Show took the prize with one of his jokes, but shortly after some time-saving device has been felt, especially in the business of swift transportation, also in many other departments.

The rules of this contest have been sent to the Senior class president, and may be obtained from him; if he doesn't have them you can send to the Department of Public Relations of the Union Trust Company, Annex 105, West Jefferson. These rules will be announced at the banquet, served at the Statler Hotel in December.

Any Senior residing in the counties of Macomb, Oakland or Wayne are eligible to enter this contest. The five cash prizes of $1,000 each are given for the five best essays and the students are allowed to pick the college or university of their own choice.

Dr. and Mrs. Cavell received a real ovation and duly so because of their wonderful dinner, which so pleased the team, why shouldn't it?

The boys didn't really expect any such wonderful treat, but they made a big hollow in the table after they started.

When everyone was ready to leave the table, Glen Rankin saw a belt buckle on the floor and everyone looked, but it belonged to Chuck LeFevre, which must have broken off for some reason or other. After the supper the fellows tried to sing but this failed and so everyone thanked the host and hostess and their many helpers and left for another party at the school.

Novi News

Donald Munro spent the week-end with his parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. U. A. Tibbits, of Northville, were callers at Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hazen's, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Chapman entertained as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Simmons of Northville.

Rev. and Mrs. F. I. Osborn of Hickory Ridge, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Root last Thursday night. They attended the program given by the Novi Improvement Association in the evening.

Little Catherine Thompson has been confined to her home by illness for a few days.

One who visited Novi three years ago would scarcely recognize the place now. Only one building remains, on the four corners which was there, that long ago, Moore's store. The old "Deer" store has been wrecked this past week, making way for a bank building and stores.

Mrs. P. G. Gaffney is suffering from a painful burn, which was caused when she was moving a pan of boiling water and accidentally spilled it on her.

The Bobolink golf course closed the last of the month for this season. The club house is located for the winter and only a few men are retained.

Miss Marian Shunn spent the weekend with Miss Ruby Lawrence of Northville.

E. L. Granzow had the misfortune to lose a horse last week. It laid down on a broken piece of glass thought to have been wedged in an evening in the floor. The injury was so severe it became necessary to kill the animal.

George Tricter and family have moved into the house at the boarding kennels on Grand River.

We think it will be necessary to have the children's rhymes, "Stop, look and listen when you cross the street," translated into dog language. Last week a dog, "Pal," belonging to Jack Cardin, was killed by a truck about a week following a similar accident near the same place.

Doris Smith visited Sunday and today with an aunt in Birmingham.

Little Doris Shunn believes in revolving-age long distance, but it cost her a hurried visit to a physician last Friday, to have a kernel of corn dislodged from her nose.

Brent Munro and Lynn Leavenworth led a very interesting B. Y. P. U. service at the Baptist church, Sunday evening. Their topic, "Teenage Time," was dealt with in a way that was helpful to all present.

Mrs. VanDyne is occupying the paternal unit, which was vacated Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Gaffney when they went to Texas for the winter. This is an attractive place and easily accessible to the public and worthy of patronage by townspeople as well as travelers.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Probst and Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Hornbeck, of Detroit, have moved into Mrs. Esther Gummer's residence on East Grand River, recently vacated by Mr. Toffman.

About twenty-five people attended a birthday surprise for Doug Tyler, last Saturday evening. Games were played and a nice lunch was served.

James Munro, Sr., is ill at the home of his son, J. O. Munro.

Mr. B. H. Leavenworth motored to Ann Arbor Tuesday, to visit his sister, Mrs. George Kahrl, who is ill in a hospital there.

Out of 850 voters, 522 cast their ballot on Tuesday, 316 voted straight Republican and 70 straight Democrat tickets, a goodly number of Democrats voting for the Republican electors. One straight ticket was voted for the Socialist party, while one also for Labor party, while one was entirely blank. In the negligent voter, have forgotten whom they wanted, theirs is not the credit, nor is one more to blame than they. But the news given a completeprise last Saturday evening in honor of his birthday, when a large group of neighbors and relatives gathered in on the unsuspecting gentleman. A happy evening was spent by the elders of the group, wing old acquaintances and talking politics, while the "cousins" and other members of the crowd were entertained with games. Ice cream and cake were served and the departing guests left behind little tokens of regard and many happy hours of the day.

The Greater Novi Improvement Association held its regular meeting the first Thursday of the month following the business session of the town-talent playlet. Kate's Pointers on Politics was given, which was fitting for a pre-election meeting. A timely article on conditions in past elections was read by Mrs. Anna Taylor. Mrs. Grace Shiffen gave a reading, "A Woman's Place." A full house greeted the performers and they felt to some extent they accomplished their aim in creating a deeper interest and personal responsibility of each voter on election day.

The Baptist Mission Band served dinner on Tuesday to the townspeople and voters who gathered at the town hall. Next door to the town hall, Miss Chamberlain noticed the absence of Joy Thompson, who is unable to speak aloud because of a cleft palate. Miss Chamberlain troubled it is to be hoped that if it is to be hoped that it will not become prevalent.

The attendance records were rewarded on Friday, November 2nd, those pupils who had been neither tardy nor absent during the preceding month were given the eighth period off. Those pupils with perfect attendance record were tenth grade—Joy Thompson, Esther Fischer, Ruth Hammon, Margaret Atkinson, ninth grade—Brent Munro, Marguerite Hoffman, Doris Leavenworth, Robert Gaffney, Helen Joy Thompson Absent.

DEDICATE NEW $20,000 CHURCH AT GARDEN CITY*Presbyterians Erect New House of Worship for Community

Crowded to capacity, the new $20,000 Garden City Presbyterian church was dedicated on Sunday with officials of the Detroit Presbytery presiding at the ceremonies.

The church which was built by funds provided for such rural work by the Presbytery, is of Gothic architecture and greatly enhances the beauty which is rapidly forming in the center of the new community. The furnishing of the church was undertaken by members in a drive and most of the all but two thousand dollars was obtained on Sunday, while the remainder was taken in pledges the following day.

The dedication was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Morton C. Pearson, executive secretary of the Presbytery and the Rev. Dr. John R. McWilliams, moderator of Presbytery, presided. The sermon was preached by the Rev. John Newell, minister of the Dearborn church who also has charge of the work in Garden City.

The exchange of deeds was made by R. J. Lathers, the oldest member of the congregation.

The new church, one of the several enterprises made possible through the church extension fund raised last year beginning with an organization of 1,000 members, many of whom were connected with the East Northfield church which had been merged with the Garden City church. Mr. Newell will be associated in the work at Garden City Sunday mornings in the Rev. Mr. W. L. Bennett, formerly minister of the McWilliams Presbyterian church.

Sermons will be held at 10:30 by Rev. Bennett and Sunday school will follow at 11:45. The regular worship will be conducted by Rev. Newell. Wayne Dispatch.

IT'S ALL OVER

Al Smith is not going to be re-elected president of the United States. Many millions of voters have definitely decided that question, and no one is more responsible for the outcome than Al Smith. He turned down the documents of his own party and injected into the campaign issues foreign to the Houston platform. His political opponents and was merciless in his criticisms of all who differed with him. He has discovered that all the voters of the United States are not like the voters of that European settlement at the mouth of the Hudson. Now that he will have plenty of time on his hands, he should reflect on some of the things he said during the campaign. It might give him an insight into the cause of his political catastrophe.

OUR HOPES

It has been with profound sorrow that Northville has heard of the serious illness of Postmaster F. S. Neal. His condition has been critical, but in the past few hours there has been noted a slight change for the better. Everyone in Northville hopes for his speedy recovery. He is too valuable a citizen to be removed from the activities of the community, even by a prolonged illness.

A TIP FOR IRA

The election is over and we are glad that Ira Wilson has been retained as sheriff for another year. Now that we will have a little time for attention to official matters, it will prove gratifying to many if Ira uses the mop a little bit out this way.

THINKING ALIKE

In reviewing the election returns from Northville township, it has been with considerable satisfaction. The results show that the Northville Record and the majority of the voters of this locality had about the same thoughts on the many issues presented at the polls, last Tuesday.

SUPERVISORS AT TRAINING SCHOOL LAST THURSDAY

Many Surprised at Immense Size of Northville Institution

Members of the Wayne county board of supervisors and probate court officials interested in welfare work were guests last Thursday noon of Dr. Robert M. Hatchell at the Wayne County Training School. Nearly all of the supervisors from the townships were present, the representation from the city was not large.

Present were several members of the board of control, Milton Alexander, prominent Detroit welfare worker and one of the supervisors from that city, presiding as chairman of the brief meeting that was held following the serving of a luncheon that had been prepared by the girls of the institution.

Many of the supervisors had never before visited the school, and they were surprised at its immense size, as well as the nature of the work that is being done.

Conveniently arranged in one of the large rooms in the new nurse's home was a sample of much of the work that is being done at the school. There were eggs, tables, various caskets, canned goods, samples of farm crops arranged conveniently in sacks so that one could easily see the grains, fancy work, and a hundred and one other products of the children of the institution. The visitors were greatly interested in the display of artifacts.

Some of them who had gone through the institution during the men's hours stated that they did not realize how extensive was the range of work being carried on.

M. Alexander in his brief talk with the visitors told them of the services of the school and of its several classes. He introduced Dr. Hatchell, who went immediately into detail about the work of the institution. A visit to several of the buildings and a general inspection of the new work kept done officials from Lincoln Park present at the meeting acted the Northville Record representative if this place ever had any idea of joining with the city of Detroit. He was asked that if the matter ever came up it would be strenuously opposed by the community, as Northville had no desire to lose its identity as Reeder and some of the other communities had that consolidated with Detroit. There is nothing to be gained by it, he was told. He stated that the same feeling existed in Lincoln Park. While that place is closer in than Northville and conditions were not the same, he stated that the same feelings existed in Lincoln Park.

Supervisor Alexander is one of the big men of Detroit who find time to do something for humanity. He runs one of the leading advertising agencies of that city, and he has other business interests; that take a lot of his time but he manages to give a very good portion of his efforts to affairs of the Wayne County Training School. Child welfare is one of his hobbies, and his extra hours are given to this endeavor.

School Commissioner Yost spent the afternoon with the supervisors at the school. Because of the great size of the school system of Wayne county, he is no longer able to make personal visits to outside schools as he formerly did. An assistant does this work and reports name of conditions he finds in the rural districts of Wayne county.

Outside of the villages and cities of Wayne county there are over 500 teachers who what might be termed strictly rural and community schools. Mr. Yost recalled the days when he came out to Northville to visit the schools in this part of Wayne county. "I would go out to Northville on the street car and then hire a livery rig from Penick and drive around to the various schools in that section of Wayne county. I always was one of the heavy spots of the county," he stated. Mr. Yost has been school commissioner for 28 years. He will be continuing that many more years if he lives that long.

NEW HUDSON ROAD TO BE IMPROVED

Surveyors have this week been skinning the road running south from New Hudson. This road connects with the road east of South Lyon, and covering a distance of three miles, is to be graded next spring.

The two miles of road passing the Biedenbach farm connecting South Lyon with the East Line will also be graded at that time. The latter road lies a mile further east on the South Lyon road than the one coming in from New Hudson. The board of supervisors approved this road last fall, but owing to much work of the kind in the parts of the town, they cannot be graded until next spring.

Mr. Alexander told the visitors of the services of the school and of its several classes. He introduced Dr. Hatchell, who went immediately into detail about the work of the institution. A visit to several of the buildings and a general inspection of the new work kept done

GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN

CYRUS GRAY LUCE

Cyrus Gray Luce was the first governor of the state to remove to Lansing and give most of his time to the duties of the executive office. Born in Ashtabula, Ohio in 1828 reared in Indiana where he learned to play politics. Cyrus Luce had little difficulty of getting into politics when he came to Michigan and located in Branch county. His father was a farmer. For a time he operated a wool carding factory in Indiana that was owned by his father, but later came to Michigan buying 60 acres of land near Gilead, Branch county.

In 1852 he was elected supervisor of the township in which he lived, and served on the board of supervisors for eleven years. He was made a member of the first Republican legislature the state ever had. Following his retirement from the state legislature, he was elected treasurer of Branch county and served two terms. Always anxious to serve in a public capacity, Luce was made a candidate for the state senate and was elected to the senate in 1864, serving two terms. He was also made a member of the constitutional convention in 1867.

Governor Crosson made him state oil inspector, being appointed by Governor Jerome. At the Grand Rapids convention of the Republicans in 1886, Luce was also a candidate for governor after road lies a mile further east on the South Lyon road than the one coming in from New Hudson. The board of supervisors approved this road last fall, but owing to much work of the kind in the parts of the town, they cannot be graded until next spring.

TWO ESCAPE WHEN BOY IS DEAD FROM TRAIN HITS AUTO - A BRIEF ILLNESS

L. W. Lovewell and F. J. Dewey are very fortunate and are also very well aware of the fact. Both feel that tragedy lurked only a few inches back of them Saturday afternoon, when the Pere Marquette fast passenger train from the west struck their automobile. While they were driving over the railroad crossing at the stockyards.

The two men had just returned from the country where Colonel Lovewell had gone to an auction sale, and had stopped at the office at the stockyards to get some papers. Mr. Dewey was driving the car, his Ford sedan.

Upon starting for home, their car just cleared the rails as the speeding locomotive struck the rear of it, throwing it over and tipping off the back end. Lovewell and Dewey in the front seat extricated themselves from the demolished car as soon as they were able, and seemingly were none the worse for their hair-raising experience. Both were deeply grateful for their good fortune. One can well realize what the result would have been had the car been a few inches further back in the path of the engine.

This train, making no stop here, traveled at considerable speed, and went on about a distance before it could be brought to a standstill. It backed up to the accident. Lovewell, in his usual good humor, says two votes have been saved for Al Smith—South Lyon Herald.

and Now • OAKLAND presents
A NEW ALL-AMERICAN SIX

An entirely new conception of the modern motor car. So original in design... so brilliantly executed... you'll hardly believe your eyes. Magnificent successor to a justly famous name... a New All-American Six.

Daring in style... exemplifying Fisher genius in the creation of new designs. Brilliant in beauty... revealing new harmonies of colors and lines. Triumphantly new. Appealingly different. Finer in every way. From its chrome-plated front bumper back to its chrome-plated tail-light... as new as this morning's dawn.

A new chrome-plated radiator... surmounted by a large flat chrome-plated cap. Graced by a new front louver effect in an exclusive chevron design. Flanked by new seamless front fenders... flaring fenders with 7½-inch spread.

And then the bodies! Seven new and superbly beautiful types... Closed types with adjustable drivers' seats. Two convertible closed cars... the Convertible Cabriolet and the Landaulet Sedan.

And such glorious performance as you've never known before. Soaring top speed... seventy miles an hour and more. Sixty-eight brake horse-power at 3000 r.p.m. A flashing pick-up... from 10 to 25 miles per hour in six seconds flat.

Such balance... such smoothness... such silence... such poise.

Resulting from its great new 228-cubic inch engine with exclusive patented rubber-cushioned mountings... 81-lb. crankshaft... harmonic balancer... larger, more highly perfected carburetor... the G-M-R cylinder head. Such marvelous control. Steering ease from a new improved mechanism. Braking ease from its new internal expanding four-wheel brakes... individually adjusted... requiring minimum pressure for a sure, silent, velvet-smooth stop.

Only the highlights have been mentioned. Only a hint regarding its pulse-stirring performance and style. To get the whole picture... to appreciate what its price will buy... come in. Have your highest expectations realized!

Prices $1145 to $1375 at factory. Lorchay Hydraulic Shock Absorbers and spring covers included in list prices. Bumpers and fire wheel equipment extra. Check Oakland delivered prices—they include freight handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Over 500 Miles of Concrete Highways in a Single County!

Wayne county, Michigan, (Detroit) has over 500 miles of concrete highways, with pavements from eighteen to eighty feet wide.

Nineteen years ago, this county built its first stretch of concrete road. Year after year, the Board of County Road Commissioners has continued building concrete highways, to complete a road system planned in 1906.

Many of the older pavements have been widened. Some have been torn up to make way for wider pavements at a different grade—but no concrete pavement has worn out!

No wonder Wayne County keeps on building concrete roads!

Instructor Says Trip to Record Printery Was Benefit

The following letter has been received from Mr. A. Abrams, Instructor of the printing class at the Wayne County Training school pertaining to the recent visit made by members of his class to the Record office.

Wayne County Training School
Northville, Michigan

November 6th, 1928

Editor Record:
I desire to express my gratitude in behalf of the boys of my printing class for the splendid way in which they were treated on their visit to you. Plant, Friday, the 26th of October. Each of the boys wrote letters as to the impressions they gained from their trip. I shall send you some of these letters as soon as they have them worked up in type. The kids had a real chance to see what a commercial printshop was like and how it works and all your employees were very eager to make the visit a notable one. It was an exceedingly kind act in these days of busy business.

In as much as the Wayne County Training school is not a purely vocational institution and is one that offers opportunity for its wards to become trained in industry, visits such as these are very helpful. The school as yet is young, but it appears to me that it would be mutually helpful for the institution to establish contacts in surrounding towns in just this way.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Remus of Florida, Ohio, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Payne, and Mrs. Payne accompanied them to Ypsilanti in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth visited son, William and wife, in Detroit, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carey home were Clyde Carey of West Point Park, Frank Carey and family of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad Peeler of South Lyon, and callers, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paiger of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson and sons spent Sunday with relatives in Detroit.

Mrs. R. W. Kehrl, daughter, Irma and Mrs. Fred Drews and some of Plymouth were Ann Arbor shoppers Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Green of Brighton, spent Wednesday with their sister, Mrs. Eliza Brown.

Sunday, Albert Groth passed his third milestone, and entertained for dinner his son, Joe and family of South Lyon; his son, Will and wife, and Will's parents and family, all of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wilson of Ypsilanti. And, for super.

Claude Wright and family of Ypsilanti joined the group. It was a very pleasant birthday celebration and he was the recipient of nice and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder and Mrs. R. W. Kehrl were in Ann Arbor Tuesday.

The 6th annual meeting of the Jackson Association of the Michigan Congregational churches was held Friday, November 9th, in the Congregational church. The twelve churches were well represented by pastors and the delegates from each, in spite of inclement weather. All three sessions proved highly instructive.

The speakers at the morning session were: Rev. B. Estic devotional; Rev. N. Stidham, Rev.

Henry Stick missionary from Africa, with a clear message about his work among the natives. A splendid address by Rev. Allison Hoops of Ann Arbor, followed by Rev. Carl Stayman.

At noon, the Ladies Auxiliary furnished a splendid dinner in the town hall, which was greatly enjoyed by about sixty out-of-town guests. The afternoon session opened by a business report and conference, led by Dr. Sutherland of Lansing. Then Rev. Hauger spoke on some phases of extension work in Michigan. A graceful measure by Dr. George Cady of New York, on Co-operation of Michigan Churches with Our National Society, was greatly appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Cyril Hargrave, nurse-mary from Turkey gave a short sketch of the work in her and her husband's charge. In between the numbers mutual relations were given by Mr. Dailey, trophone, C. Harvey, violin, and Mrs. Speer of the piano, also a vocal solo by Dr. J. Phillips of South Lyon. After a delicious supper the evening session began, with Rev. Potts as chairman. After the devotional a horn solo was rendered by A. Collins of Plymouth with Mrs. Speer accompanist at the piano. The main address was given by Dr. George Cady of New York on Co-operation to the Christian cause and it was highly interesting to the large audience. Rev. Cady is a fluent speaker with a splendid

NO STEPS IN NEW DUNLAP SIDEWALK

There is no step in the new walk that has been constructed from the new Edison building east on Dunlap street. The management of the Edison company after finding out the wishes of the sidewalk committee or the village, constructed a sloping sidewalk across their driveway and in front of the Litsenberger property. The improvement is a good one and does away with an unsatisfactory condition that has prevailed for a time. For a time some of the residents of Dunlap street feared that the sidewalk committee intended putting a step in the walk at this place, as is often done in three other places about town. The Edison company delayed putting in the walk until advised just what the village commission preferred, and when informed by Chairman John Walker that a sloping walk was desired, the company constricted it as is seen in the walk at this place, as is often done in three other places about town.
