UNUSUAL THINGS HAPPEN OVER IN PLACID PLYMOUTH

Politics and Love Heve a Strange Mix-up in Justice Court

Once in a while things will happen to rock the most peaceful sailing ship—and such has happened over in that placid little community of Plymouth to our south. The story is best told in an article in a recent issue of the Detroit News. It follows:

"One of the ramifications of the recent political campaign made its appearance in the circuit court when Judge Harry J. Dingman set Nov. 17th as the day he will hear the story of a 17-year-old girl who says her parents ejected her from their home because she refused to give up her friendship with a Democrat.

The girl, Golda Burger, formerly of Plymouth, now lives at 788 Charlette avenue. She filed suit for $10,000 damages against her parents, John W. and Emma Burger of Plymouth, and petitioned for an injunction restraining them from interfering with her.

It is on the injunction petition that the November 17th hearing will be held.

Miss Burger, who describes herself in her bill of complaint as a healthy, able-bodied, normal-minded, well-developed girl," declared that she and Joseph Mandel, 22 years old, of Plymouth, had been friends for two years, and that her parents never objected to him until after the Democratic National convention this year. Following that event, however, and the discovery that Mr. Mandel adhered to the candidate and principles of the party of Thomas Jefferson, the parents ordered her to drop Mandel, she said.

Before the convention my father and Joe were the best of friends," Miss Burger declared. "In fact, Joe was too good both to my father and mother, allowing them the use of his car whenever they wanted it."

Then all of a sudden, after the close of the convention, they demanded that I give him up. When I refused they circulated false reports about his character. Then they told the neighbors lies about me."

Miss Burger said she complied with her mother's demand that she get out of the house and went to live with a sister, Mrs. Leon Stees. "She had been there only a short while, she said, when her mother and father visited her and demanded that she return home with them or go to a home for girls at Adrian, Mich. She returned with them, she said.

"But I was not there long before my mother ordered me to stay in my room. My father refused to allow Joe to come near the house, and threatened us if we ever went together again. Then when I insisted that he was a good, clean hard-working young man, my mother flew into a rage and ordered me to leave and never return."

"She wouldn't allow me to take my clothes, she was so anxious to get rid of me at once.

"Later, however, she admitted me to the house and gave me permission to go to my room and get my things. This was on September 30. Then they made me leave the house without my clothes. I had gone after my things here."

Miss Burger says she has started a suit in the justice court at Plymouth to recover the clothing and other valuables.

Our Aunt Lou
By A. J. Dunlap

The colors somehow stand for thoughts:
The red, the white, the blue;
And faces, likewise, symbolize
The brave, the pure, the true.
And, always, in the memory,
Some faces stand apart
To rouse the best, sometimes the worst,
Within the human heart.

I have my pictures on the wall,
The strong ones of the race,
Whose records in the hearts of men
The years cannot efface.
But when I think of right and wrong,
Of things we ought to do,
Of family ties and fellowship,
I think of our Aunt Lou.

She's lived a life of usefulness,
That strengthened family ties,
And taught the faith of endless life
Beyond the earthly skies.
She symbolizes better things,
The beautiful and true.
A lot of what we are today,
We owe to our Aunt Lou.

Noted Advertising Manager Says Papers are Greatest Aid

The newspaper is a vital factor in any community's prosperity and has an intimate relationship with every phase of community interest. For that reason, it plays an important part in solving the manufacturer's problem of advertising and locating markets. J. C. McQuiston, general advertising manager of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, told members of the Adcraft Club at its weekly luncheon in Hotel Statler in Detroit.

"We have grown into a nation of newspaper readers," he went on and today nearly every worthwhile American reads a paper. Today's shopping news responsible for today's selling. It is believed a sale can be made with a newspaper advertisement which will take a month or a year to get in any other medium.

"From many angles the newspaper seems to offer the best medium for servicing distribution and an advertising flexibility can be obtained through the papers in a degree not reached by any other publication. This flexibility is valuable to the manufacturer in that he can pick his product, pick his time and pick his community in which his advertising will give more effective returns."

GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN

JOHN T. RICH
It did not surprise Michigan much when John T. Rich, a farmer, was elected governor. Like all other farmers, Rich was busy on his farm most of the time and did not have much chance to win political prestige, but his interest in state affairs soon attracted notice, and in all state conventions he attended, he was a strong factor.

Rich was born in Cornaautville, Pennsylvania, April 23, 1841. He came to Michigan with his parents in 1848, locating at Elba. His early education was obtained in the district school, the old academy at Clarkston and the Lapeer public schools. During his vacations he worked on the farm, and as soon as he completed his school work, he devoted his entire time to farm work.

He was elected to the legislature in 1871 and in 1881 he was a member of the senate. In March 1881 he was nominated for congress by the seventh congressional district to succeed Mr. Colburn, who had been elected to the senate. He left state senate to accept the nomination. He won in the congressional campaign. He was made commissioner of railroads under Governor Lake. He was nominated for governor in 1895 and his first administration proved successful, and he was elected for a second term.

The Governor lived at one of the Lapeer hotels the Downey during his entire administration and it was one of his delights to receive delegations from about the state. It was a very common sight during his tenure in office to see several groups in waiting to call upon the governor. While it was not necessary it was the practice to have recommendations for various political appointments presented to him by visiting delegations. Governor Rich was especially interested in farm problems and did what he could to assist the rural development of Michigan.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS ANNOUNCE PROGRESS IN ANNUAL PLAY REHEARSALS

Local players and patrons of the annual theatrical offerings of the senior class of Northville high school will hail with delight the announcement of this season's play. The class is determined to offer this year a play that will stand comparison with the best of the old-time offerings, given before by the Senior classes.

Milton J. Cohn, who is in charge of all Senior activities this year, has taken charge of this production, and this fact alone will be a guaranty of what the public may expect this season. For several weeks the advisor had been examining a large number of plays and the final choice was "The Ghost Bird."

"The Ghost Bird" is a lively mystery comedy in four acts, full of amusing situations and well timed jokes that will enable all members of the cast to appear to good advantage. It has never been seen in Northville and will therefore be of much greater interest to the general public. It is thought that the offering is a play from which time has taken the keen edge of novelty.

The first four rehearsals have been in the high school after the dinner hour, when Mr. Cohn attacked the problems of staging. "The Ghost Bird" in a professional way. The progress achieved during these rehearsals is regarded as very encouraging by the persons in charge of this play. Even though the production is as Mr. Cohn asserts, still in a rough state and still to be greatly developed and polished, it has furnished capital amusement for the entire cast at rehearsals, and the fun-making mystery situations become more apparent at each additional rehearsal. Don't fail to see this play when it is finally placed before the public or you will certainly regret it.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS HOLD MEETING

The Campfire Girls, under the supervision of Miss Elden, held a meeting last Friday, November 16. The laws of the Campfire Girls were discussed for the benefit of the new members, who were recently initiated.

H-Y SUPPER TO BE HELD AT HIGHLAND PARK

The first annual affiliated H-Y supper of five years, is to be held at Highland Park high school on Tuesday, November 20th, at six o'clock. The reason for this supper is to make a better relationship between the H-Y clubs of the city and suburban towns.

The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Spencer who is president of Hillsdale college. President Louis Tiffin of the Northville H-Y, states that as many members as possible will go.

BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE IS MISSING SINCE SPRING

Volume 18 of the Book of Knowledge belonging to the school library, has been missing since last spring. Probably some student has forgotten to return it. Miss Westberg is asking that everyone look over his books and if he discovers Volume 18 to return it to her room so that others may also use it.

STUDENTS ARE GOOD THANKSGIVING ARTISTS

The bulletin boards of the commercial rooms are decorated with Thanksgiving cards and posters. These greetings consist of turkeys, Puritan maidens and Puritan boys, and they are all made of sturdily constructed characters.

To the observer they merely look like curves, curls and straight lines. But to the beginning pupils who made them them mean words and work.

"LITTLE BLUE DOT" IS AN EFFECTIVE CURE

The "Little Blue Dot" has proved an ample cure for the disease of poor typewriting. Every beginner who suffers from faulty fingering, has given a blue dot. One dose has been enough. The tonic has been very successful, only six blue dots being necessary on a roll of twenty-nine names through a course of three weeks.

KINDERGARTEN NOTES

Would you ever dream that the kindergarteners were real sewers? It is the truth and the little boys are just as good sewers as the girls. They are making aprons which they intend to use in the near future. The kindergarteners have a new piano all their own. Several years ago Miss Taylor started a piano fund, and last year the high school girls, under the direction of Miss Beach, gave an opera, and the money which was received was put into this fund.

NORTHVILLE FOOTBALLERS WIN FROM WALLED LAKE

Last Friday at Walled Lake, the Northville football team defeated the blue and gold players on the worst field the home boys have played on this season in a 7-0 game.

In a steady downpour, which turned the field into a sea of mud and water, the gallant youths of both schools struggled bravely in the fierce match of clashing bodies. The score that brought Northville victory came early in the second quarter when McCordie carried the ball over the line for the only score. Watts kicked goal for extra point.

Both teams nearly scored first quarter but ground conditions helped to prevent them.

All gains were made by line bucks and end runs. Considerable fumbling was done by both teams. LeFevre, center for Northville, suffered a twisted ankle late in the second quarter, but kept his position. LeFevre played an excellent game and displayed strong work in defense. No gains were made through him.

Cavell and McCordie, half backs, worked well together and made many long gains. Tiffin, full back, was responsible for many gains in plugging the line.

Long, a short, sturdy half back was an exceptional good ground gainer. He showed up to the most advantage of any player of the game. For a small school Walled Lake has a fine bunch of players. Captain Leavenworth and Huff, ends, did much good work in their postitive. Watts, quarter back, ran the team well, and played a strong part in gaining.

Wolfson and Rankin, tackles, followed up well as did Tomaszewski and Ginebran, guards. Meininger, full back, and worked well. The final score was 7 to 0.

BOYS OF CHEMISTRY CLASS GIVE DEMONSTRATION

Four boys from the chemistry class demonstrated the preparation of hydrogen, Tuesday, November 12th, for Miss Westberg's general science classes. The boys who did the demonstrating, were Charles LeFevre and David Meininger, in the burning, and Hugh Foreman and Albert Vradenburg in the afternoon.

NORTHVILLE WINS DEBATE OVER UNIVERSITY HIGH

Friday evening November 16th, the Northville affirmative debate team held a debate in the local high school auditorium, with the negative team of University high school of Ann Arbor.

Though the coach, Mrs. Shawley is not yet satisfied with the material and delivery of her debaters, the team won this debate with a 2 to 1 decision of the judges.

The climax of the debate was in rebuttal, when Madeline Cole, Northville's third speaker, presented her view on the debate by a very clever rebuttal speech.

When the judges' decisions were collected Mr. Jacobson read them, first, negative, second, affirmative, the suspense was terrible, and this last vote would decide the victor. "Affirmative" the applause was almost deafening.

The negative team was Ivat.

Farker, Elizabeth Shull and Wilfred Sellars. The affirmative team was Catherine Stalter, Allen Beard and Madeline Cole.

Northville's team has been steadily improving, and much is expected of them the rest of this year, according to Mrs. Shawley.

WHY DIDN'T THE WOODMEN SPARE OUR TREES?

Alas and alack! The woodman's axe has erased the beauty of nature from the school yard. No more shall we fondly gaze on the budding trees in the dreamy spring days. They are gone forever. Cut down in the full beauty of their lives, they perished grandly as befits the sons of nature.

Our loss is overwhelming. We are bowed beneath the heavy load of grief. But how small is our loss compared to that of future generations. We have at least had the privilege of looking at the trees, but the future classes! Ah! Their lives will never be complete.

To gaze on the trees has been my chief source of amusement when finances were low. Now I shall go amusementless (if there is such a word). How sad for the Scotch students. What a shame to take their harmless, free, entertainment away. Oh, well, there are lots of trees in the woods. Cheer up! Death hasn't got to you yet.

T. M. B. ELECTS CAVELL AS NEW PRESIDENT

Ted Cavell was elected president of the T. M. B. club at a meeting held Thursday, November 15th. The former president having resigned, Cavell was almost the unanimous choice.

A meeting was held Tuesday, November 20th, but nothing definite has yet been decided upon.

One thing is certain and that is that a sponsor is to be elected for the P. M. B. and some new members taken in and lots of activity is promised for the new club year. It is a possibility that the P. M. B. club will play basketball this year and any other club in the school thinking they have a better team will please answer this challenge. Will the P. M. B. club of N. H. S. challenge any other club of N. H. S. to a basketball game.

BASKETBALL GAMES SCHEDULED FOR 1928-1929

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The Seniors held a meeting in Mr. Cohn's room Wednesday, November 14th, for the purpose of discussing the party held last Friday.

The next day a committee consisting of Ted Watts, Marian Cousins, John Leavenworth and Mr. Cohn, went downtown shopping. They bought various prizes for different games. Cookies were purchased to eat with ice cream. Later they bought gum to mold elephants.

SENIOR PARTY IS HELD IN GYMNASIUM

Now isn't it just our luck to have one of the happiest teachers of N. H. S. as our class advisor? If any of the class had doubts about this Friday evening in the gymnasium, before the senior class party, held they are now scattered to the four winds.

This party was one party where not a note of music was played, and yet everyone had a splendid time. Not one went home feeling cheated, or worse to that effect. Besides, every person was privileged to invite one outside so everyone ought to have been satisfied. The party opened by Mr. Cohn, who seated us all at card tables, four in a group. He furnished us with paper and pencils and then gave us the word "Presidential" and told us to write as many words from it as we were able. Two had over 500 when the time was up, and they both sat at the same table. This we took as a bad sign of a wall, we won't say it, but we could hardly call it coincidence.

After this event came a carving contest with gum. This was won by a person who "knew how" to put on the finishing touches.

Then came the best event of the evening. It could almost be classed with a hog calling contest, judging from the way Ted Cavell yelled out the names. All you had to do was to think of a person, thing or place first—when a letter of the alphabet was turned up.

Then the last game was ushered in with calls of delight, for by this time the crowd knew that it would be something interesting, judging by the previous events. This proved a little more difficult than the others. All we had to do was to guess the names of magazines from a suggestion written on paper. After some hard thinking on the part of a few, the event came to an end.

The refreshments, consisting of ice cream and wafers, were served to the class and the party broke up shortly afterwards. It being 11:15, and time all were home. The senior class as a whole wish to thank the committee and Mr. Cohn for furnishing them with an evening chuckful of fun, where all enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. Hooryay! Here's to the next Senior party!

The First Snowfall (B. M.)

Softly, softly, down they fell. Huddling, scurrying, all pell mell! All sorts of shapes and designs, Fell gently down beneath the pines. Here they slept in flaky mounds, Lastering in joy to the happy sounds.

The children run and shout for glee, And in the snow play merrily: Round and round they dance for joy, Cause snow means Christmas—time for toys.

A little snowman here—a snow house there! There are children in the snow.

FORMER RESIDENT IS BURIED HERE

The body of Mrs. H. J. Bailey was brought from Pontiac for the funeral services at the Methodist Episcopal church, last Tuesday, which were conducted by Rev. Wm. Richards and Rev. J. Creswell of Pontiac. Forty year ago Mrs. Bailey united with the local church under the ministry of Rev. Van Every.

Emma Whitehead was born in 1854 in Brighton, Livingston county and died at her son's home in Pontiac on Saturday, November 16th at the age of 74 years. She was married to Mr. Bailey when 21 years of age. To this union were born two children, George W. Bailey, with whom she made her residence, and Winnie who preceded her in death.

She was an active worker in the Brighton Methodist church. She attended the reunion of the Whitehead family in Northville in the summer and at that time apparently she was in good health. Interment took place in the family lot in Rural Hill cemetery.

No. Holiday in the calendar year is comparable to Thanksgiving. It celebrates no battle, no fall of a city, no Bank or business holiday, no birthday of a great man, no political revolution, no church ritual. It is a great holiday of common people who have worked all the year and now thank God humbly for good harvests. Next Sabbath the pastor will preach on "Things Taken for Granted," at 10:30. The choir will sing a special anthem at this service, and Miss Bach will render the solo.

The church school will meet at 12:00 noon.

The Epworth League will meet at 8:30 when the district president, Leila Roberts, will speak on the Indianapolis convention.

In the evening will be the anniversary of the local missionary society, when the pastor will give the address with 37 stereopticon slides. The public is invited to attend the above services and sing the illustrated hymn, "Savior Thy Dying Love," which will be thrown on the screen.

REPORT CARDS TO GO OUT NOV. 28

Superintendent W. H. Gordon of the Northville public schools has issued the following statement pertaining to report cards which will be mailed out soon.

The second marking and sending home of report cards will take place on Nov. 28th. All students who have returned cards from the previous six weeks marking should receive cards in the grades from 7 to 12 inclusive. Parents please carefully inspect the cards and see what you can do at home to help your boy or your girl to improve. Will you sign and see that the cards is returned on Monday morning December 3rd.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

ESTABLISHED 1869

Published every Friday morning and entered at the Northville, Michigan, postoffice as second-class matter

RUFON R. EATON Editor and Publisher

Price, per year $1.50 Six Months .75c Three Months .40c

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1928

A GOOD MOVE. Congressman Hudson has shown good judgment in naming Mrs. Bernice Neal as postmistress of Northville to fill out the unexpired term of her husband. He has forestalled one of those unpleasant contests that always develop in the selection of a postmaster and he has pleased the hundreds of Mrs. Neal's friends by the selection. Mrs. Neal is without question qualified for the place and the biggest and best qualification of all she possesses in abundance, she knows how to treat the public courteously. The few little minor details of office management can be picked up in a few days by anyone. Of course, there is a lot of red tape in the operation of any government position, but its all a matter of simple detail, and the new postmistress will quickly master the routine of the place. The action of Congressman Hudson will go a little ways in lessening the sudden blow that came to Mrs. Neal. The new postmistress will find all of Northville willing and glad to help her in her new position.

By the construction of Center street from the north limits of Northville directly north to Grand River, all three of these deadly grade crossings will be eliminated. Through the efforts of a Northville committee, the state administrative board last spring designated a trunk line road from Michigan avenue north to Pontiac. That means that the state will sometime build a road in a new location from here to Grand River. Now is the time for Northville to get busy and induce the great state of Michigan to build that highway next spring. Probably in no other place in Michigan will the re-location of a four-mile piece of road do away with three grade crossings. The state highway department is in favor of abolishing these crossings, and we want it done as quickly as possible—so let's get busy.

Good-bye, they say where ere they part, Good-bye, until tomorrow. Good-bye, Good-bye, when hearts are light; Good-bye, Good-bye in sorrow. Good-bye, Good-bye, It's everywhere, The old and young together, On crowded car and busy street, In fair and stormy weather. Good-bye, Good-bye, and still Good-bye! I often wonder why? They always say the selfsame thing: Good-bye, and still, Good-bye. "Good-bye means God be with you," The ancient records say. "May hands divine protect you And guide you all the way." If all men knew what Good-bye means, And meant what they are saying, The world would have more kindness, Less robbing and betraying. So speed the day when all shall say, When ere they chance to part, "Good-bye! May God be with you, friend, With understanding heart."

Northville secured their hold upon second place by defeating Farmington 20 to 7. Coach Jones' Northville eleven scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods. Tiffin twice carried the ball over on line bucks and Watts scored the third touchdown on a forward pass from the Farmington ten-yard line.

Farmington escaped a shut-out when Captain Otis advanced across Northville goal in the final period.

on an end run from the Northville six-yard line, after the ball had been advanced 30 yards on a forward pass.

Although they failed to retain possession of the football title, Northville set two league records for the season. Coach Jones' squad piled up the largest score of the season in winning from Ypsilanti 29 to 0. They also scored 91 points in league competition compared to 14 for their opponents.

Dearborn, in defeating Ypsilanti last Saturday morning, 13 to 0, won the 1928 Suburban League football title, with victories over all their league opponents. Cooping Northville, who held the championship to a scoreless tie.

Playing on a gridiron blanketed with the first snowfall of the season, the Dearborn eleven scored a pair of touchdowns, the first of which was made in the first few minutes of play. On their first offensive play, Captain Thiel hurried a long pass to Hansen, who was snuffed on Ypsilanti 20-yard line. Soper's wide run around his own left end scored the first touchdown. Soper also added the extra point.

The second touchdown of the Ypsilanti-Dearborn game was also brought about by a forward pass. Captain Thiel was then called into the backfield on a take pass, ran around the goal line and for 40 yards to the goal line.

The Ypsilanti players showed a marked improvement over their early season contests. Only once, however, did they threaten to score. In the third quarter, the Purple and Grey gained possession of the ball on the Dearborn ten-yard line, as a result of a fumble. They lost 20 yards on the next four downs, largely through the ability of Ziegler, Dearborn tackle, to break through the Rough Riders' defense.

By winning a thrilling contest from Plymouth, the Wayne eleven completed the league season in a tie with the Blue and White team for third position in the league standings. Both teams have won three and lost two contests this season.

The contest played at Plymouth looked as though the teams would wind up in a scoreless tie. After seeing no scoring in the first two periods, the spectators witnessed three touchdowns in the third period, two being made by Plymouth.

Going into the final quarter seven points behind, the Wayne players managed to tie the score when, after a series of end runs by Enot and Gowdy and a completed pass, Zumbaris to Gowdy to Russell, had brought the ball to the Plymouth ten-yard line, Russell carried the pigskin over on a triple backfield pass.

With the score tied and the teams battling on the Wayne 45-yard line, Carmichael, Wayne end, broke through the Plymouth line in the final period and tackled Herick, Plymouth fullback, who lost the ball as he fell. But Wayne fight and recovered the ball and rived 55 yards to the Plymouth goal for the winning touchdown.

Early Bells Not All Like Those of Today

Some of the earliest bells were made four-sided and others looked more like funnels but all were small, the present accepted shape and the larger sizes not being made until the 1200's, some 600 years after their introduction in Europe. In Scotland some of the most ancient ones were made by riveting thin iron plates together, but the majority of the early bells were cast. About the latter part of the seventeenth century iron works seemed to enter into a competition to see who could cast the largest bell. Apparently a foundry in Russia won, or nearly so, for its entry cracked in casting and would not ring. It was 19 feet and some inches high, more than 60 feet in circumference, its sides were two feet thick and it weighed about 150 pounds. It lay buried in the earth for more than 100 years, then it was raised and now is being used as a chime.

Nuremberg, Germany, has an old bell that gives a curious note to one of the oldest restaurants in Europe. It is called the Bratwurstglocklein, and for as long as anybody can remember has been rung every time a new batch of sausage is ready.—Detroit News

Why Not Put the Half-Billion to Work?

Six thousand lives lost—a half-billion in property destroyed by fire every year! What a tragic, needless sacrifice!

Every owner pays a share of the annual half-billion loss—whether he has a fire or not. He pays it in insurance, taxes and depreciation.

Most of this loss occurs in structures of comparatively small size; common sense has forced fire-safe construction of new large buildings.

Sound financing will not always permit making a small structure completely fire-proof. But a small increase in cost will yield a large increase in fire-safety.

Competent architects say that a fire-safe first floor of reinforced concrete will increase the cost of the average dwelling about two per cent—and even less in larger structures. Statistics indicate that at least thirty per cent of residential fires start in basements. A first floor of reinforced concrete will effectually protect the upper structure against a basement fire.

Single dwellings, small apartment houses, stores, hotels, factories, warehouses, theatres, and churches can have the fire-hazard reduced to minor proportions by employing reinforced concrete for first floors, stair enclosures and other vital locations. The additional cost is surprisingly low—and the reduced fire-risk only one of the benefits.

Why not put the half-billion to work?

KEEP CHILDREN AT HOME LONGER

In an open letter to the parents of school children, Supt. W. H. Gordon urges them not to permit their children to come to school earlier than necessary in the morning and at noon.

With the coming of the cold, stormy weather, we will admit the children into the grade building at 8:00 in the morning and 12:30 at noon.

If the parents will help the school in the following manner it will be greatly appreciated. This is it: Hold your children at home as long as you can in the morning and at noon so that they just arrive at the school building about 5:30 to 10 minutes before the classes begin.

This will be a great relief to all able conditions and situations that quite naturally arise with so many children on the play grounds, and the teachers away at the noon hour or in the morning before the teachers reach the building.

Thanking you for your cooperation in this matter and with the desire on our part to make our school the best possible, we are

Most cordially yours,
W. H. Gordon

prise. Quite a number of men are already employed and the work begun.

The Home Economics club met at the school house for the November meeting Tuesday afternoon. The secretary reported twenty-one members present. Score cards were checked and a review of the last month's work given. The committee in charge reported that the dishes and silver for the school had been purchased and were ready for inspection. The afternoon's work closed with a demonstration of several different kinds of vegetable and fruit salads prepared by the class.

Hobohemia been told with such fidelity. Never before has the secret of the wanderlust been revealed with such certainty. Here is a fighting story, a story of meriting an environment, a story of fought, cruel, brutal men of dreaming men.

Wallace Berry is back once again in the heavy, serious, dramatic role in which he attained his greatest fame. As Oklahoma Red he is a smashing, dominating genius. His interpretation of this bit of vital human animal of trampdom is something to marvel at to captivate the imagination. Paramount has chosen well in placing Berry in the pivotal role in this great drama.

No less important to the story are no less successful in her interpretation is Louise Brooks, that slim, graceful girl who has won her way to moving picture fame by the sheer force of ability and personality. In "Soggy of Life" she plays a difficult role wonderfully well and brings many fangs on her ladder to stardom.

Richard Allen actually submerged himself in his part. His is the important juvenile role; his is the difficult business of translating the true spirit of wanderlust.

ants, soldiers and others were photographed together in one sequence. The set, which represents St. Petersburg, capitol of Russia in the year 1901, was the largest one ever constructed in the new Paramount studio.

This mammoth production was directed by Ernst Lubitsch, well known European director.

A feature of these scenes in the picture is the drawing of sleighs by six horse teams in six inches of snow. This was done while a hot California sun shined down on the set. How this was accomplished is one of the secrets known only to film technical men. "The Patriot" is letter perfect in technical details. The "Patriot" has been called "the greatest dramatic effort to date."

OLIVE BORDEN AND JACK PICKFORD IN NEW ROLE

Something bigger than the usual under-world picture story runs through the new P. B. O. special "Gangwar" which is coming to the Penniman-Allyn Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, November 28 and 29. It is the story of the love of a girl, given to one fine boy of her own accord, but to another equally fine, by stress of circumstance.

Olive Borden as the girl is forced to marry a gang-leader who loves her more than anything in life. She, however, loves a boy of her own kind. A fine fellow, but, incapable of fighting the gangster rival. Driven by fear for the one she loves, the girl is compelled to marry the gangster, only to find that she has not saved her lover after all.

When the truth comes out, Eddie Gribbon as the gangster, proves himself to be a real man, and chooses death beneath the flaming guns of a rival gang so that his wife may have the man she loves.

Bert Glennon who directed "The Perfect Crime," also directed "Gangwar" from a story by James Ashmore Creelman. The cast also includes Jack Pickford as the boy, Walter Long and Frank Chev, Omaha character actor.

Praising the town ladies for having the cemetery cleaned up, an exchange declares that "the graveyard looks most inviting."

When Charles Thurston of Chicago was found "praying" on State street, he said he was "awfully drunk."

Johnson Wright of Missouri, bequeathed 120 acres of land to the Almsbury, who was designated in the deed as the party of the second part.

Rather than take out-life insurance policies to protect his employees, F. B. Brown of Emskallen, Ireland, elected to go to prison.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS TO HOLD MEETING

Superintendent William H. Gordon of the Northville public schools, will attend a meeting in Detroit, Monday, November 26th, of all the school superintendents of the metropolitan district of Detroit. The session has been called by Supt. Frank Cody of the Detroit schools, for the purpose of discussing with the school officials of this district matter of a general interest to school men.

It is possible that one of the subjects will be the advisability of adopting a uniform system of text books for this part of Michigan. Parents hope so. Most folks who move from Northville go to Detroit or some of the other localities about here. Or Detroiters move out to some of the suburban sections. Under present conditions if a move is made it necessitates generally an change of text books for all the children in the family, and this in more cases than one proves a burden to the bread-winner. Several have said that if some plan can be worked out whereby a uniform text book system could be adopted for the metropolitan district, it would be a most welcome thing to parents.

THE POETS' CORNER

The Snowfall
(By H. Strachan)

The poets sing of the beauty
Of the sparkling snow so white:
They praise its every glory,
Call it grand and bright.

Let poets tell of its goodness,
"Who knows?" They may be right.
Alas, I am so sorry,
But I cannot share their delight.

I slush my socks in the gutter,
I've runned by Sunday shoes,
I will not sing of its praises,
They may do so if they choose.

So poets extol its goodness,
Its pleasures you may sing;
Forget all of its merits,
Give me glorious spring!

Salem Congregational Church

Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, Minister

The revival meeting conducted by Rev. Bob Ingersoll have had God's blessing right from the start. Sunday morning, November 11th, in the church and in the evening in the town hall, with an ever increasing attendance every night during the first week of this campaign.

Last Sunday morning in church, after a stirring message by the evangelist, about keeping our vows made to God, an altar call was extended to the large assembly present, and between 50 and 60 men, women boys and girls came forward either for reconsecration of their lives to Jesus or taking Him as their personal Saviour. It was a wonderful scene through the portals of the blessed Holy Spirit.

Sunday evening in the town hall the revival stopped forward and Monday night five more surrendered their lives to God. Beside the teaching forums sung by the whole assemblage the volunteer and children's choir and duets, between the meetings. Meetings continue this week, except Saturday evening.

On Sunday at 10:30 a. m. preaching by Rev. Ingersoll in the church, followed by Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. Meeting at 3:00 p. m. sharp in the town hall. Subject, "Second Coming of Christ." Another meeting at 7:30 p. m. Don't fail to come to these meetings.

INVESTIGATING A PROPOSED LAND-HIGHWAY DEAL

Affair Over Near Farmington Causes Action by Officers

The following taken from a Detroit newspaper, gives some idea of an alleged real estate transaction over near Farmington.

"A plot to defraud the state highway department of $1500,000 or more in the purchase of land for the proposed widening of Grand River road from the Eight Mile road to Farmington, may be uncovered through the arrest of Oscar L. Clancy, Clarenceville real estate operator, authorities believe.

"Clancy has been arranged before Justice John J. Schulte, Jr. of Farmington, on a charge of representing himself as a member of the state highway department in negotiating for the purchase of property that will be required by the state. His examination has been set for November 22nd, with bail fixed at $500.

"The complaint against Clancy states that he approached Harry R. Mack, an executive of the Ford Motor company and owner of property which will be required by the state for the completion of its widening program, and representing himself as state highway department representative asked what price he desired for the property.

"Mack stated that he quoted a price of $8,000. Clancy is then charged with having advised him to ask $8,500, with the understanding that the extra $500 was to be returned to Clancy. Mack states Clancy assured him the price would be paid.

Mack related this story to authorities and Governor Fred W. Green and Attorney General Wilbur M. Brucker were notified. They immediately asked the arrest of Clancy.

Assistant Prosecutor Norman C. Orr admitted that he had knowledge of the case, but said his office did not have any information regarding the extent of the alleged plot or whether any state officials were involved.

"We arrested Clancy to see what we could develop. We don't know yet what is behind his conduct and can't say anything until we have more definite information," he said.

Prosecutor Clyde D. Underwood is not in the city. Justice John J. Schulte, Jr. before whom Clancy was arraigned and who issued the warrant for his arrest, also stated that he did not know if other persons than Mack had been approached regarding purchase of their property.

"The state will require 3,000 barrels of land for its widening program along Grand River road. If every person raised his price $500, the state would have to pay $1,500,000 more for its right of way. It is not my place to discuss the truth or falsity of the charges until the case is brought before me for examination next week, but the evidence in my possession was sufficient to make me feel that a warrant should be issued," Justice Schulte said.

"The officials interviewed immediately they did not believe that Clancy was working without backing as they found out he would not have been in a position to guarantee payment of specified sums for property as he is alleged to have done with Mack."

"The title of the world's champion wheat grower is given to Fred Lapsd of Lawrence, Kan. For the fourth successive year his wheat has been pronounced '100 per cent pure.'

Neuritis Pains Vanished Since He Got Konjola

Says It Also Strengthened His Nerves and Filled Him With New Life Energy

MR. RALPH SMITH

"My system was so filled with aches and pains before I started to take Konjola that I didn't think a single medicine would ever be of any help to me," said Mr. Ralph Smith, 1405 Howard street, Detroit, Michigan.

"The pains centered in my arms and shoulders, and sometimes there was a feeling of numbness from my fingers to my elbow. My shoulders were a solid mass of aches and pains, and often I couldn't raise my arms above my head. I would be awake nearly half the night from pain and nervousness. I couldn't find a medicine to help me and even my doctor was unable to give me relief.

"Four bottles of Konjola banished all my suffering, and I have not taken any other medicine since. That was two years ago. It also strengthened my nerves and filled my system with new life energy. I strongly endorse this Konjola to anyone who suffers as I did."

Konjola is sold in Northville at Noehville Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout the entire section—Adv.

WHAT IT COST THIS FELLOW TO RUN FOR SHERIFF

Now that the campaign is at an end, it may be as good a time as any to republish the experience of an Arkansas candidate for sheriff, which has been going the rounds of the press for several years.

"The story has gathered various and sundry additions in its march down the corridors of time, the latest version being as follows:

"Lost four months and 20 days canvassing; lost 1,260 hours of sleep thinking about the election, lost 40 acres of corn and a whole lot of sweet potatoes, lost two iron beds and a lot of other personal belongings; with an opponent who dated one beef, four shots and five sheep to herbivores; gave away 100 pairs of suspenders, five calico dresses, five dolls and 13 baby rattlers, kissed 126 babies; killed 14 kitchen fires, put up eight stoves, cut 14 cords of wood; carried 24 buckets of water; gathered 7 wagon loads of corn; pulled 475 bundles of fodder; walked 4,060 miles; shook hands 9,080 times; told 10,001 lies and talked enough to make 10,000 volumes; attended 26 revival services; was baptized four times by immersion and twice some other ways; contributed $50 to foreign missions; made love to nine grass widows and got dog-bit 39 times and then got defeated.
