MILLIONTH NEW MODEL OF FORD OFFLINE

Daily Production of All Ford Plants Grows Amazingly.

The one-millionth Model A Ford car was driven off the assembly line under its own power at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company in Dearborn Monday.

The daily production of Ford plants throughout the world today is only a few cars below 7,500, figures from the three main production centers in the United States, Canada and England show. It will figure 12 years for the Ford Motor Company to make its first million motors. The first million Model A's required only 15 months. Meanwhile the Ford airplane factory will begin on a basis of 200 passenger all-metal tri-motored monoplanes daily. This production will start as soon as the elaborately fitted ships of the Transcontinental Air Transport have been turned out. The ships are to be used in connection with the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe combination rail and air service from coast-to-coast.

The Northville plant is showing activity similar to other Ford factories and a number of new men have been added to the force and more will be.

The ever increasing increases in production of Ford cars brought up the question of where the increasing number of cars would be driven. "We are getting better roads every day and need not be anxious about the number of cars," said Henry Ford. "The interest in traffic conditions is a sign of one important change in men's thinking about the automobile, whereas a little while ago they were worrying about the saturation point now they are worrying about the accommodation point. The accommodation point can be handled but saturation—who knows what that means?"

The limit of the use of cars has been reached and it is far from us to see it yet."

The ambition of the moment after us is to make the car with the price asked. Instead of reducing prices, do equal low quality cars to be elevated to a level with prices. We cannot increase the wealth of the country by cutting prices, because money is not wealth. Wealth is in goods value. We do increase national wealth, however by increasing the use value of what we make."

The only thing that hurts business is falling values. Keep value up to prices and you have beaten all chance of slump or bust. It is worth the balance between these is disturbed that the country senses trouble."

The Ford company is at present employing 135,000 men in Detroit alone. The world's employment is close to 260,000. Soon there will be 150,000 men at work in Detroit plants.

At the same time our men are trying to do away with the midnight shift." Ford said. "And probably before long it will be practically abolished. I never believed it right for men to work at that unusual hour of the day."

Besides the Ford plants there are 2,000 other companies in this country, many immediately in this territory, that are turning out millions of Ford parts. A number of these factories are devoted entirely to the manufacture of Ford parts, one official pointed out.

Ford was asked how large a plant would be required to make all of its parts.

"I don't know," he replied. "Maybe a plant as large as Wayne county. Some of the production requires much space. Think of the size plant necessary to furnish the 28,000 tires and more daily than we are using at present."

"People think our steel mills are colossal—but they simply supply only about 6 per cent of our needs. There seems to be more parts being made outside than ever before, it is because there are more parts of the Model T than there were on the Model T."

"But if you looked around the Rouge plant you'd think we never made anything outside. Our own shops determine our design and method of where the work may be done."

In connection with Mr. Ford's statement that there are more parts on the Model A than the T, a figure that was recently compiled gives an idea of the amount of outside purchases. The sum of $4,684,270,012.32 was paid by the Ford Motor Company in 1928 for parts from outside manufacturers.

FIRE DAMAGES SHIPLEY HOME

Fire breaking out in the chimney at the Lee Shipley residence caused damages to the amount of $156.00 Wednesday afternoon. The actual cause of the fire has not been definitely decided, but evidence shows that the chimney became overheated and the intense heat caught the wall on fire.

Due to the quick response given the call by the Northville fire department the flames were held in check and serious damage was not done.

Boys and Girls! Get Your Contest Article In!

To the school children of Northville, Novi, Waterford, Salem and West Point Parks, as well as any of the other districts in the Northville area.

You have by this time read about the $10 cash offer of the Northville Record for the best article of 300 words or more on the subject: What Can Northville Do in the Year 1929 to Make It a More Beautiful Place Than It Is?

It is not necessary to combine the article to any extent. Possibly you have several ideas in mind. Suggest them all. It is not necessary that the sketch be confined to strictly 300 words. If necessary you can use 500 or 600 words. But we do not go over 1000 words.

We have decided to close the contest on the evening of February 22nd. If you have your article in the mail by that time it will be considered.

Write plainly your name, age and address so there will be no possibility of an error.

If you have your article completed send it in now. Possibly you may think your suggestion not worthwhile. Maybe what you have in mind will be the very thing that will win the $10 cash prize. Of course, other things will be taken into consideration in awarding the prize.

Neatness, spelling and composition will count.

But the important thing is to write well and have four instructors help you if you care to do so.

There is so much you can write about it ought to be an easy matter for every pupil in the schools in the Northville area to enter the contest.

Keep in mind the fact that the contest closes on February 22nd and that your article should be in the Northville Record office by that time.

SOME SAW GROUND-HOG, MANY OTHERS DIDN'T—SO THERE

More Winter for Base Line, Early Spring for West Main!

Boys, here we go. Northville is going to have an early spring. The living for the east and north are going to have lots more winter in the groundhog and others can be believed.

Harry Clark, who lives just on the base line road east of town, claims that the groundhog saw his shadow, on Groundhog day, and just the minute he saw it, he hurried back into his hole and buried himself up because there is lots more of winter coming.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN FRIDAY FEBRUARY 8 1929

THE LITTLE FELLOW PAYS

The Michigan state legislature is in session. When these protectors of the welfare of our grand old countrymen meet every two years, sometimes more often, in extra session, there is one thing on our ways as sure they will do. They will discuss taxation and ways that money can be raised.

At the beginning of the present session Governor Fred W. Green pointed out the necessity of additional income for the state to take care of its physical and mental wrecks. The Governor said many millions would be needed and he proposed an income tax. He would have the men and women who have a sufficient income to pay a federal income tax, pay a state income tax for the next four years.

Now it seems that the greatest objection to the Governor's proposal is the fact that if an income tax is once established in Michigan it will not be a temporary thing as has been proposed, but that there is danger of it becoming a permanent tax law. It is true that once a tax has been imposed for something, it is mighty hard to get rid of it. Because of this and other reasons there is very little likelihood of the income tax measure ever being sanctioned. In fact a group of twenty odd senators, or more have banded themselves together determined to kill it if the bill should ever reach the senate chambers.

Now comes the proposal in lieu of the income tax to tax the poor devil who finds his chief recreation and amusement in attending a motion picture show once in awhile!

It is a well known fact that the motion picture houses of Michigan are almost entirely supported by the wage earner and the people who do not have means to secure their pleasure in some more expensive way.

The Northville Record editor has the greatest of admiration for Speaker Fred Ming of the house of representatives. He is of that rare type that observes first and always in public service for the benefit of the public and not this or that class and after a long period of years has given unto the state that has honored him loyal and commendable public service.

We were sorry indeed the other day to read that he has united with that group in the house that seeks to raise the funds so badly needed by the state from the patrons of amusement places. And of course our chief amusement places are the motion picture theaters.

Whatever position Mr. Ming may take in the legislature it is done with the idea that it is for the public good. But his environment having spent practically his entire life in northern Michigan, has been of such a nature that he does not understand the recreational and amusement problems of the men and women in southern Michigan.

Mr. Ming comes from that part of the state where nearly every person is a sportsman where fishing hunting swimming canoeing skating and ice boating provide the thing that we in the more thickly populated part of the state must seek in the motion picture house.

When John comes from the Ford factory tired at night John and his wife Mary find it is indeed restful to go over to the little motion picture house and see glimpses of the other side of the world as they really are and then laugh at the fool pranks of Chester Conklin of some of the other actors. They get a lot of satisfaction too in viewing the many beautiful scenes depicted in many of the pictures.

In this other world is not the only one who finds recreation in this place of entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer and the farmers and the smaller communities find standard rental to dr in an hour of pleasure their picture.

Still there must be others as far as far me meant for the budget of the state. On top of that there is down the way of society the theater folk whereby we all suffer as a result of the moral and spiritual. It may be that we all know of some of the parts of the town that go to the theater, but the point is, the people who frequent them, and the people who patronize the exchange toll them up in a grand total.

An heirloom on the pantry wall,
Beneath the shelf is hung
The ancient family frying pan,
Unpolished and unsung.
When Great Grandmother was a child,
Her Grandpa bought the pan,
And staunchly through the fleeting years
The pan has lasted the van.

Ave, legion are the hot pancakes,
That noble pan has fried,
While tons of Irish spuds therein
Have sizzled in their pride;
And lakes of gravy rich and hot,
Have bubbled in that pan,
To lubricate the other things
They fed our hungry clan.

In sorrow and in happiness,
That faithful pan has fried
In sadness with the ones who mourned,
In joy with the bride,
I would that brothers all would be
As constant, staunch and true
To family rights and family ties,
Old frying pan, as you.

OUR LANSING NEWS

President of the Northville Record will sign this issue the beginning of a series of news notes pertaining to the activities of the Michigan State Legislature. It will be observed from reading this news letter that an effort has been made to briefly tell of all that is doing over in the legislative halls without bias and without an effort being made to give special emphasis to one thing. At the recent meeting of the Michigan Press Association in Lansing the demand for such a weekly review of Lansing activities was so great that the association deemed it advisable to provide this information for the readers of the weekly newspapers of the state. The demand is the outgrowth of the practice of many daily newspapers in trying to put over some ideas they have or to kill off something that they do not agree with, in other words giving to newspaper readers their views rather than ours.

Then the weekly letter furnished to Michigan readers by the Michigan Farm Bureau is more or less propaganda although the Bureau says it is not. However, if one reads the material sent out by its press agent it will be discovered that anything pertaining to farm legislation is given far greater importance than the news about it warrants.

Irrespective of what interests are involved the weekly press association letter from Lansing will be an impartial review of the news of the week and from it one will be able to gain a pretty clear idea of the activities of the legislature.

WE HOPE FOR SUCCESS

Members of the Northville Exchange Club are seeking a suitable site for a new building on the corner of Detroit Street and Division Street. The proposed building will be 40x60, larger than the old one, 40x40. The value and the cost of the new building will be approximately $10,000. The old building is in the rear of the new one. The new building will be built on the back of the old one and the old building will be sold. We hope that the members of the Exchange Club will be successful in their efforts to build a new building.

CONGRESS FROM WITHIN

By
GRANT M. HUDSON, Congressman
Michigan, Sixth District

There is no real disagreement between the House and the Senate on, rounding. From $8,000,000,000 in the question of increased funds for 1929 the National Industrial Commission enforces. A majority in both branches insists on reaching $7,931,000,000 in 1929. This honest and effective enforcement is such a heavy drain on the earnings of the people that it is the greatest menace to the continuation of prosperity. It is this and the additional expenditure of $24,000,000 warning us of the danger of the taxpayers' money not being pressed and a repetition of the gas tax is suggested for any purpose if a later which one took the country in a bad and hazardous manner the closing days of 1920. It is a therefore House members last morning that should be headed by Truslow killed the amendment to the deficiency bill providing for the expenditure of that amount to be funded by the President when he finds that appropriations already made are insufficient. The House prefers to wait a survey of the government's needs as well as the broader survey of law enforcement proposed by the President-Elect.

No individual or firm would be up so much money without proper information concerning its use. Pointers not a desire for law enforcement, inspired the insistence on immediate extra enforcement.

The House has been marking time waiting for the Senate to catch up on its legislation. Committee work has absorbed more than its usual share of the time, with crowded hearings before the Ways and Means committee regarding tariff revision being only one of these. It is expected that the Senate will vote on the Cruiser Bill this week my prediction being that the bill will pass but with strong opposition, and with the time limit removed in accordance with the administration's desires.

Rumors have been heard in Washington regarding the University of Michigan presidency and President Coolidge. Nobody knows whether the President would or would not consider such a proposition. He keeps his proverbial silence and will probably go out of office without even explaining what he meant when he made that "I do not choose to run" statement a year ago last August.

There is no doubt however, that Coolidge economy might be acceptable to the administration of the University. This is in line with the "Crate" speech of Mr. Wilson's "We got out of a hole" speech of Senator Vandenberg received national attention when as editor of the Grand Rapids Herald he conducted a big fight against the League of Nations and so was drawn into conference with the leaders of the opposition to Mr. Wilson's "Crate" speech and international relations.

THE DEADLY BLOW

Long and hard the care of the circus, in its many trials, had tortured body and mind, and the performers had labored under the tops. One by one the cords of the latest trunks had broken, and the accident was due to some visitor or member of the troupe. Life it followed, day by day, before his task he told me this one:

It was back in the days before the Ringling show had attained large proportions, when Barnum and Bailey's circus was as yet the biggest attraction. James J. Bailey was the junior partner in the mighty enterprise, but that master showman, P. T. Barnum, being still in good health, remained in charge.

The Ringling with its menagerie, its three rings and its elevated stages and highroads trains, and all, was touring the South. A day or two earlier an accident in 1912 just had closed with a strutting burlesque troupe by special request of its manager—applied for a job with the circus and was given one. He did not give full satisfaction to the ring-director, so reported Mr. Barnum and the latter sent for the new performer and told him that his work fell short of the desired standard.

"You recommended yourself very highly when I saw you around the other day," said Mr. Barnum. "But I recall you told me you were the best man in your act up there. Now I hear that you haven't made good."

"Being an artist, the young man naturally had his share of temperament."

"Is that so?" he answered with heavy sarcasm. "Well, femme fatale somethin'. There ain't nobody can reflect on my abilities without answerin' to me. Why I'm the guy that's makin' the show what it is. If I hear any more of this sort of talk I'll quit."

"All right, then, quit," said the famous showman.

"You said it?" answered the indignant trouper. "I'm out! I've resigned. Do you know what that means, Mr. Barnum?"

"I think so. Tell the older man it means you quit."

"I think so. Do you happen to know what town this is?"

"Certainly. I'm doing pluff."

"Now say, got it. Here, right in the middle of the season. I'm leaving Barnum and Bailey's circus, but on the back of the train. Barnum and Bailey's circus, I mean."

The legislature after several weeks spent in session organized setting up committees making committee trips to all sections of the state to investigate conditions and requirements of the various institutions, is now getting down to the actual business of the session. Bills by the score are pouring into the hopper every day, committees are holding morning and evening meetings, reports are beginning to come from committees, and now legislation may be said to be fairly on its way.

From now on every day's session of the Senate and House will be abridged and of interest. Before and after the regular session little knots of legislators are gathered in both halls, earnestly discussing affairs of the state and lively arguments pro and con are heard on every hand.

The outstanding legislation of the present session is undoubtedly the matter of ways and means of raising the money to pay for the ten-year building program of state institutions proposed by Governor Green. His income tax proposal has met with considerable opposition; the favorite argument being that any new tax, even though proposed for a certain time, is almost certain to remain as a permanent tax. It is quoted that the corporation tax was to be a two-year proposition, but every year has seen its apparent necessity for some special purpose or other and the question of the corporation tax, ever being removed is never mentioned. It is undoubtedly a permanent proposition and many of the legislators see the same fate ahead of the income tax if adopted. There are members who favor an income tax but that is a matter of future consideration.

It is certain to meet with bitter opposition if it is ever proposed. Many other methods of raising the proposed expenditure for rehabilitation of the too-long-neglected state institutions are being proposed, one which is apparently finding some support being a proposed amusement tax on admission tickets to all places of amusement. This proposition is authored by Speaker Ming, and he and the Governor are holding conferences in regard to it. The possibility that a commission may be appointed to consider the matter is being discussed.

A number of bills proposing changes in the election laws have been presented, among them being one providing for pre-primary nominating conventions before primaries, but these bills are being held in committee in the house awaiting the report of the special commission appointed by Gov. Green for the purpose of making a revision of the election laws.

Many changes are being proposed in the criminal code, all of them so far applying to the liquor laws. Very few of the legislators are favorable to drawing teeth from the present criminal code in any other way, except to exempt the mandatory life sentence for four violations of the liquor laws.

A bill sponsored by Senator George Leland of Keweenaw would give the securities more power to curb doubtful issues of stocks and bonds, without sufficient tangible assets back of them.

Leave of absence has been granted Representative James McBride, who is in Washington to appear before the congressional committee in an effort to give farmers a higher protective tariff. Michigan is one of the leading producers of beans; this proposition is of vital interest to Michigan farmers.

Legislation in regard to the teachers' retirement fund is in prospect, with about as many ideas in regard to it as there are scholars and representatives. It is hard telling what the ultimate legislation may be and there will be lots of discussion before this vexed question is ironed out.

Members of the conservation committee of both houses made an inspection trip to the oil fields this week securing data and opinions of people, town and county officials and others in regard to proposed and needed legislation for the protection of the state and local interests. If Michigan is to be the big producer of oil there seems likely further legislation, re-certainly necessary.

Up to the close of the 1928 session the 97 bill had been introduced in the House, and even more in the Senate, but none has yet been signed by the Governor for his signature.

Many propositions are being brought before the assembly asking for a split of the gas and weight tax receipts for township highway construction, predicated the demand on the rapid increase of gas and weight tax receipts. The highway department seems not to favor this proposition at least at this time. Another proposition is to abolish township highway commissioners and put all roads in control of the county, while still another proposition is to have township highway commissioners elected by the township board instead of the voters of the township.

Representative Lynn J. Gardner, former speaker of the house, has offered a bill banning females from wearing bathing suits on highways. Representative Luther Hall of Ionia, countered the following day with a proposition that no male person wearing a red bathing suit unless covered with blanket, shall appear on any public highway.

With the opening of business the coming week, however, the mill will begin grinding in dead earnest. Speaker Ming is satisfied that the general work of the session is about two weeks in advance of the corresponding date of the 1927 session. If the budget goes through without too much delay, it seems that a comparatively hasty closing of the session may be possible.

February 20 will also bring a crowd to Lansing, the occasion being the Republican state convention, and both houses will probably take a recess for the day.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS TO SUGGEST NAMES FOR ANNUAL STAFF

Monday afternoon the Student Council and the four upper class presidents met in the library to suggest names to fill the numerous places on the annual staff. As it is very late now to start the annual, every high school student must cooperate with the annual staff and help to the best of their ability to make the annual a success.

The names that were suggested will be finally thrown out by the mayor of the Student Council and a group of the faculty who know which ones would be best for the positions.

Age No Barrier; 70 Year Old Man Praises Konjola

Two Bottles of This Master Medicine Enabled Him to Start Work Again.

The record of 13 in the high school basketball team with splendid enthusiasm, to possibly earn the right to the very last place in the tournament. Konjola, 70, put the team in the effect.

Taken into the office of Mr. John L. Felt, the track and field coach at Northville High School, Michigan, he sat in the following endorsement:

"For the past few years I have suffered from a bad rheumatism. A year ago, old I felt in my legs, I would not get any relief from physicians. My legs and arms were always swollen and I seemed to be in pain. I was a solid mass of flesh and bones. Because of this I was unable to work."

I heard about Konjola so I decided to give it a trial. Two bottles put me back to work and after completing the third bottle of my aches and pains had disappeared. I was once again but now I am as strong as ever! To all who suffer as I did say, Take Konjola.

Konjola is sold in Northville, Michigan at Northville Drug Store, and is one of the best drugs throughout this entire section.

CREATING A GOOD IMPRESSION

It always pays to create a good impression when you meet someone. First impressions usually are very hard to alter when once made.

Perhaps you meet some one you are sulky don't talk much, and the result?

A bad impression is created. Now maybe it wasn't your fault that you acted in the way you did. You might have been feeling ill or troubled. But that doesn't alter the impression made.

And again you are so jolly and gay when introduced, that you are immediately deemed a good sport, and welcomed wherever you go.

You actions should of course depend on the type of person you are talking to. A gardener would not be much interested in studying astronomy while a preacher would find little pleasure in discussing rouge and powder with his daughter.

So when talking to someone speak on some subject he is interested in. Create a good impression. It pays!

TYPING STUDENTS STUDYING BUSINESS LETTERS

The first year typewriting class are studying business letters. Each week the students are required to hand in six letters. In the work is not in they are failed for the week.

Naturally these measures are making the typists do their work promptly.

Special attention is given to wording and punctuation because no good business letter is incorrectly punctuated.

Other points emphasized are clear type, no erasing, accuracy in spelling and neatness.

DANCING IS ATTRACTION AT ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Mrs. Staker, who had charge of assemblies last Friday, February 1st, presented a dancing program to the students.

The dances included students picked by Mrs. Staker in her various gym classes. The first dance was given by four girls and was called the Primitive dance. Each girl wore a brown costume.

The second was the Greek dance done by 16 girls dressed in old Greek costume.

The third was the Roman dance given by four girls dressed as soldiers.

The fourth was the Pirate dance given by five girls dressed as desperate pirates of old.

The next was the old-fashioned minuet given by eight girls—four dressed as men and the other four as young ladies.

A folk dance was given by six girls.

A ballet dance was also given by Ida Alman, the teacher.

Tom McLaughlin and his partner.

The first half ended with Plymouth in the lead 12-7.

Trying to stage a come-back in the last half Northville almost overcame the leaders. Then in the last quarter the game became 55 close that the crowd stood up.

The gymnasium throughout this last period was a scene of intense shouting and tumult.

The game ended with a bark of the gun and the final score being 15-13.

PLYMOUTH RESERVES FALL TO NORTHLVILLE 13-11

In defeating the Plymouth Reserves here last Friday night it made second time this season the Northville Firebirds have been successful against Plymouth.

This game was an exceedingly close one. At the close of the first half Northville led 12-8.

In the last half the Plymouth

Reserves closed the gap.

The game ended with the play Northville 15 and Plymouth 11.

Both teams played hard and fairly throughout the game.

The first half was a

NORTHVILLE FOLKS

Old Pioneer Dies—School Teacher Weds—Given Kitchen Shower

Following are a few news notes gleaned from the South Lyon Herald that will be of interest to Northville readers.

Orin Cook, a resident of Salem passed away January 26th at his home at the age of 95 years. He had been gradually failing in health for some time, but still his death came as a shock to the community.

He leaves to mourn their loss his loving wife, one daughter, Mrs. W. T. Smith of Salem, one son, "Uncle Al" Cook of Howell; two granddaughters, Gladys Cook of Howell and Mrs. W. J. Clay of Salem, two grandsons, Orin Cook of Battle Creek and a host of friends.

The funeral was held in Plymouth Tuesday afternoon at the Schrader funeral home. Masons had charge. Burial was also at Plymouth.

Orin Cook was born June 13, 1833, in Superior Township, Washtenaw County, and departed this life January 26, 1929, at the age of 95 years, seven months and thirteen days. When a small boy he moved with his parents to Grand Rapids and in the year 1855 he was united in marriage to Louisa Spaulding. To them three children were born: Maryette, Wheeler and Athalinda Jackson, who have passed on, and Albin Cook. Mrs. Cook passed away in 1868, and he went to Plymouth.

south, where he was united in marriage to Carrie M. Penney, December 31, 1871. They were the parents of one daughter Mrs. Mira Smith. Mr. Cook was one of the oldest members of Plymouth Rock of Entre Nous chapter No. 298, Order of the Eastern Star, held at the Masonic temple last Tuesday.

A pretty wedding was solemnized, last Saturday morning, January 26th, at 8:00 o'clock, when Miss Farmers' Week at M. S. C. being the Lyman Farmers' teacher, the Lyon Farmers' teacher, and William J. Shattock has postponed its regular meeting of Plymouth, were married at the Hotel Frank Neil in Northville. The ceremony was witnessed by the entire families and a few friends.

Mrs. Shattock is completing her third year as teacher in the Woodstock school, while Mr. Shattock is now teaching at the same school.

Soon after the wedding the bride attended by her mother and sister and family of the school joined in a surprise kitchen shower. It was a merry occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Shattock have the good wishes of a host of friends.

Public installation of officers of the Macabees of New Hudson was held at the L. O. T. Hall at that place January 25th. Officers are Commander, Mrs. Joe Davis; Past Commander, Mrs. Harry High; Lieutenant commander, Miss Theodore K. Adams; mistress-at-arms, Miss Anna Feltling; sergeant-major, George Armstrong; chaplain, Mrs. Frank Renwick; Deborah, Mrs. Rollo Pettingill, sentinel, Mrs. J. L. Tandy; private, Miss Lillian Bedford. Entertainments were served during the evening. Five color bearers and fine banner bearers are to be appointed by the commander.

C. R. Bradley, who has taken the International Harvester agency for this community, has temporarily opened up quarters in the store of the late Charles Everett.

Better than $100 was cleared at the Church Night supper and experience social of the Presbyterians Ladies Aid society held at the church. There was a good attendance considering the severe cold weather, and extremely treacherous roads. Each guest did ample justice to the pot-luck supper served at 5:30, and it was bountiful to say the least. There was a lot of interest shown in hearing how the ladies earned the money they contributed to the social. These experiences were told by leaders appointed by the different groups. Games and a social time completed a most enjoyable evening.

In a suit before Justice Calkins, last Friday, Alzeno Amis was given a judgment of $175 against Burton Wilson of the Hill farm. Amis brought suit against Wilson to recover $350 which he claimed Wilson owed him for labor rendered during the years of 1927 and 1928.

Five tables of Pedro and the tables of bridge played at the party of the Eastern Star, held at the Lodge elected over $900.

The following were elected officers of the L. O. T. M. — Jenkins E. McCullough, Captain; Turnham, Marie Scott, Vice Captain; Palmer, Nellie Wood, Anglo-Saxon, Martha Drennan and Mary M. Doan.

The Northville State Savings bank has elected D. A. Babbin Cashier for the 13th year in succession.

This indicates a degree of honesty that can be relied upon.

The books balance to a penny, and the cash and collateral are always in evidence.

Charles Hamilton is sick at the home of his daughter.

Bruno Rydell has been taking possession this week of his new quarters in the Ambler building on the south side of Main street.
