WOMEN FIGHT FOR NURSE IN LOCAL SCHOOL

Answer Given to Statements Recently Made by Mr. Roberts

Editor Record:

It is a privilege and a duty of the Parent-Teachers' association to make a formal and authentic reply to the question concerning a community nurse advanced by Mr. Wellington Roberts in last week's issue of the Record.

To evade the question, not meeting it squarely face to face would be ignoring our most sacred trust that of properly rearing our children, our most precious asset to healthy, happy and useful manhood and womanhood. Therefore, it is most gratifying to have the opportunity of calling the attention of the mothers and fathers to the estimable benefits derived from a community nurse and the absolute necessity of her services in the community health program.

Convincing evidence on the affirmative side of the subject is unlimited. But lack of space makes it necessary to be brief and answer the questions point by point:

1. Yes, the health of the school children has suffered during the last two years, and it might have been avoided if we had had a nurse.

The tragic results of the severe epidemic of mumps and more serious "epidemic of measles" in 1927-1928 was keenly remembered by those saddened parents whose children's lives were suddenly cut off by the hand of death. Is there any possible way for us to make restitution for those three precious lives who were citizens of a great and prosperous nation has the inalienable right of health?

Symptoms of the above disease, particularly measles, were so veiled that it was difficult for the parent or teacher, untrained in diagnosis, to check up and label the child as a victim.

Thus it was allowed to run its course too long before it was called to the attention of the family physician.

Whereas, if a nurse had been in attendance, the symptoms would immediately have been discovered and with the proper co-operation of parents and health authorities these bugs could have been saved.

In as far as they were able, the faculty labored faithfully and conscientiously in helping to check the ravages of the disease, but the teaching profession is a distinct field in itself and so is nursing.

No one better appreciates the services and co-operation of a nurse than does a teacher, for she cannot obtain results with children of impaired health.

Angels Petri, our greatest child psychologist, who was requested to give his opinion of the National Child Health Day stated:

"I have entered every health drive with enthusiasm because I believe that health is the basis of human growth and conduct. I believe that a healthy child is a good child.

And I believe that an unhealthy child is handicapped as to goodness from the start, and the chances for his successful living are against him to the end. How can health come out of foulness? Why do we dip the sea with a spoon?"

The following figures are obtained from the school report of one grade in Northville. In 1924-25 when we had the services of a nurse the absences per child due to ill health were only 17, whereas last year of 1927-28, there were 33 in the absence of a nurse. Thus we have proven the absences were doubled. All agree it was a stupid economy waste, but who does venture an estimate in the loss of those precious lives?

Our own Rev. Richards furnishes this information.

One day while we had the services of a nurse my daughter came home from the school with a ticket calling attention to the fact she had the symptoms of cardiac trouble I consulted Dr. Wickham, who said:

This is very serious. Her heart is beating 3 to 1. She was immediately taken out of school and taken to quiet and healthful surroundings during the summer.

By co-operating faithfully with the physician, she slowly regained her health, but we as laymen never would have discovered it until it probably would have been too late.

In my itinerant ministry I have found a nurse is a great great blessing, and I shall do all in my power to help re-establish a nurse service in Northville."

Each member of the Northville Exchange club will plant one or more trees on Arbor day in memory of former Postmaster Frank S. Neal, who died a few months ago.

The matter was brought before the club by President Sherill Ambler. Mr. Ambler pointed out how Mr. Neal a year ago had suggested that the club plant trees on Arbor day a year ago but that the club had failed to act upon the matter.

"I think it would be a good thing something we can do in honor of him, to carry out the suggestion this year," stated President Ambler.

Every one of the 30 members present voted "Yes," and many of them suggested that they would not plant one tree, but many of them

The menu consists of: scalloped potatoes, baked ham, baked beans, cabbage salad, rolls, pickles, lemon pie and coffee.

FISCAL YEAR ENDS; VILLAGE HAS CASH LEFT

Not Necessary to Borrow Cent—Much Accomplished Last Year

With the completion of the work of the special auditors, who have been engaged by the village commissioners to bring the audit down to date the village books have again been balanced for the second time within six months and to Mayor Wilkinson and his associates on the commission there is cause for general satisfaction.

The fiscal year has been ended with a cash balance of something like $4,000 in the general fund. It is the first time in many years that the village has not found it necessary to borrow money to carry on the business during the last few weeks of the year.

By carefully watching current expenses and collecting in village money wherever possible the city officials have been able to pay all bills as they have fallen due as well as accumulate a balance.

The report of the auditors shows water collections for the past year of over $11,000. This is the largest amount that has ever been collected in any one year from the water users of the village. This balance has been somewhat aided by the collection of many back water bills.

Early during the summer it was discovered that there were many who were back on their water bills.

The meeting was held at the order of Dean F. Griswold and Fred K. Hedge, was elected secretary.

Carroll Benton, Willard Ely and J. W. Perkins were named as tellers.

Floyd Northrop placed in nomination W. A. Ely for another term.

Rev. Wm. Richards placed Mrs. Cousins in nomination and it was supported by Supervisor Ely.

Other nominations followed with out opposition in view of the fact that the Democrats did not call a caucus.

It was decided to cut off the water where payments were not made.

In addition to collecting considerable back money due the village Mayor Wilkinson has created a saving fund whereby all money collected for the future paying debts as they fall due be put in one fund.

In the past money for all purposes has as a general rule gone into the fund with the constituent residing dissolved in village accounts some year or so ago.

This money can be used for the purpose for which it is not now being collected.

In addition to all of this, Mayor Wilkinson and his associates have installed complete bookkeeping system for village accounts.

During the last year of Mayor Elmer Smith's administration it was decided that because of the growth of the business of the village the time had arrived for the installation of a system of keeping the village accounts.

It was voted at that time to have an audit of the books made and follow it with the introduction of a complete bookkeeping system for village accounts.

Change Requires Gas Co. to Almost Double Its Big Plant

Workers have completed the construction of a gas line from one of the main feed lines of the Michigan Federated Utilities into the Ford plant of this place. It is understood that the gas line will provide the Ford company with a new form of heating for certain parts of the valves made here.

The installation of the gas heating units necessitated the enlargement of the gas plant located just north of Plymouth, and workmen, according to officials of the Michigan Federated Utilities have already started the construction of the addition to the plant.

In fact it has been found advisable to practically double the size of the plant.

While the Ford company will not utilize all of the additional produce a very large part of it will be used in the Northville Ford plant.

The growth of Northville, Plymouth and Wayne has also been a factor in the decision of the gas company to enlarge the plant.

MISS HELEN HIGGINS IS EPIDE OF RALPH LONG—MARRIED ON WEDNESDAY

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. McMenamy, the latter a sister of the groom, Miss Helen Higgins, eldest daughter of Thomas Higgins of Northville, was united in marriage to Ralph Long of Walled Lake on Wednesday, March 13th, at Commerce. Rev. Wm. Richards officiated using the ring ceremony a year ago but that the club had failed to act upon the matter.

"I think it would be a good thing something we can do in honor of him, to carry out the suggestion this year," stated President Ambler.

WHO DID IT?

During the past two years there has been accomplished one outstanding thing in this community. That is not saying that several things have been accomplished, but there is one that stands high above all others.

That one thing has been the successful organization of a community school band of some forty pieces.

Just about two years ago this time we first heard discussed the idea of a school band. Then through the energetic action of the one individual who was preaching to the community the band idea, it was brought into existence.

Since its organization and through the co-operation of the school district, the village commission, the fair board and many of the citizens of the community, the band has become one of the best for a community of this size in the state.

The one individual who can be given ENTIRE credit for the organization of the band and its success since being organized is Edward C. Langfield.

It is indeed with the greatest of regret that we have learned of his resignation as manager of the band. When a man steps out and really accomplishes something worth while, that man is entitled to more than ordinary consideration and Northville cannot afford any circumstances permit Mr. Langfield to give up his work in connection with the school-community band.

He has looked after every little detail. Time and again when the young players needed music of some instrument parts Mr. Langfield has supplied the necessary funds out of his own pocket, so to be reimbursed only when there was a little money in the band treasury.

Possibly it is true that a sort of exodus spirit has been shown. But it is far better to have someone show a little interest and willing to do than to have that individual stand around looking for something to find fault with.

In fact, it is a real pleasure to us across a nation and the world to see what is being done for the betterment of others and the community in which we resides and to our way of thinking Mr. Langfield has been just that sort of an individual.

He is a tireless worker willing at all times to do something for others.

Possibly he is a bit aggressive but did you ever know a person in your life that really accomplished something worthwhile who was not aggressive?

Of course, it is humanly impossible for us to agree on everything. If we all did, this world would be Paradise, and Northville the most beautiful place in Paradise. But if we cannot agree on every little thing that comes before us for discussion, let us be BIG enough to have respect for the other man's judgment and forget our differences and give our ENTIRE STRENGTH AND TIME to the growth and betterment of the community in which we live and think so much of.

Let's hear the school board members say, "Ed come back here, we want you to run the band for us. You've done a mighty good job so far and we want you to keep it up." Then we want to hear Ed Langfield say "Sure, boys I'm willing."

WE WONDER WHY

The Michigan state legislature at the present time is filled with high trade men leaders elected to serve from all parts of the state. The Northville Record has pointed out several times that doubtless if ever before has Michigan enjoyed such a high average type of citizenship as is to be found in the present legislature.

There is Speaker Fred Ning of the lumbermen, veteran lawmaker possessed of executive ability of the highest type, and a real student of public affairs. In the house are many other able leaders like Charles Delano, former secretary to state, John E. Price, Captain William Snow, Joseph Armstrong, Charles Haught, John Rock, George Watson, Fred McEachron and dozens of other. Over in the senate the same thing is true senators with long and successful experience.

The Michigan state legislature has been in session for over ten weeks. It has had a lot of trouble to deal with and in the present time there has not been accomplished one single thing. Not only has the tax legislation been jumbled into a heap, but other legislation seems to be getting nowhere.

With so many able leaders we wonder just why such a condition exists.

A GREAT SUCCESS

Readers of the Northville Record will be greatly pleased with the series of articles that are to be published from week to week written by the students of the schools of Northville and vicinity in the recent contest conducted by the Record.

These articles will show a general standard of excellence hard to excel. Not only that, but they will show a knowledge of conditions about their home town that cannot help but be observed by the readers.

In this week's paper we are printing the other three prize winning articles. These will be followed by many others that were submitted many excellent ones indeed. We want you to not only read the articles, but to grasp the many excellent suggestions that have been made.

If you would do a small part of many things the youthful students have suggested, Northville would be the cleanest and neatest little community in America.

Of course there are some things that have been recommended for us to do that would involve a considerable expenditure and we are not in a position just now to spend any large sums of money.

We can however do the many little things that cost but a trifle and will add much to the beauty and attractiveness of our community. Let's do them THIS YEAR.

THE VICTIOUS GOSSIP

Off all the detestable no account, good-for-nothing individuals the "gossipers" are about the most useless pieces of humanity permitted to run at large.

Speaking of this brand of good-for-nothings, Editor Fred Kuster in a recent issue of the splendid Ionia County News had the following to say:

Better Than Heaven

"We believe it was the parrot who said, "The trouble with me is that I talk too much."

That is the trouble with many men and women who live in smaller communities. They talk too much. They talk about their friends, and make them enemies. They talk of their enemies and make the breach still wider. Some talk maliciously some do not think.

An election comes along. The great privilege of democracy is used as the excuse to defame without justification. Why men who are honest most of the time should lie during the political season is beyond comprehension. Yet a person cannot submit himself to the possibilities of election to office without exposure to merciless and pitiless misrepresentation.

Sometimes politics have a sequel. A thing like an election contest case will make criminals out of one-half of the population and purgators out of the other half.

The situation would be unbearable were it not that the whole thing is usually forgotten and some who talked about you today may say something good about you tomorrow. If you should die, business might stop for an hour and a wreath might be laid on your grave and a tear shed.

If smaller communities could lay aside all the habits of adverse comment, if all human weakness could be overlooked and not discussed, no one would wish to die and go to heaven. The home town would be good enough.

"Vice Versa"

by A. J. Dunlap

Tradition tells about a lad Of rather feeble wit, Who hatched a cart and horse together And found they didn't fit. The horse's head was on the dash, Above the single-tree. His tail was placed between the shafts. Where horse's heads should be.

The dull lad stood beside the rig And pondered now and then. He tinkered this and tinkered that To make a better hitch.

Most anyone with common sense Could plainly see, of course,

The trouble was the lad had put The cart before the horse.

And so it is with many things. If we could only see: We're always putting this or that Where something else should be. It pays to think before you act.

And helps a lot, of course,

To have things properly arranged.

The cart behind the horse.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE

Confidence is lost in the full light of day. Public confidence and public suspicion may be separated only by a door.

Remember that the law of supply and demand is inexorable.

And it should also be well to remember that there is no necessity for producing an excess.

Welcome new ideas. To establish permanent institutions we must always be prepared for change.

Never be satisfied that what has been achieved is sufficient.

Smugness and complacency do not promote progress.

Look ahead and think ahead. It is easier to avoid depressions than it is to cure them —Charles M. Schwab.

THOMAS JEFFERSON SAID —

Things That Would Make Northville More Beautiful

(By Spencer Van Valkenburgh)

Northville is my town. The town where I was born. My ambition is to have the most beautiful spot in Michigan.

In attempting to write about the things that would make Northville more beautiful one should take into consideration the natural beauty that already exists. Whatever we may do must be in the nature of an addition to that which is here now.

First: The creek between side walks and street should be nicely graded and seeded and some shrubbery planted. Then the people should keep their yards clean, paint their houses and buildings and raze buildings no needed.

Second: Clean up all the old dumps and bury tin cans and rubbish.

Third: Induce the people to plant flowers and to keep their lawns well dressed.

Fourth: The streets leading into town could be beautified by planting shrubbery and grass.

Fifth: Finish paving the streets and keep them clean.

Sixth: The creek that runs by the Globe Furniture Company and the Detroit Edison Company substation could be made very attractive if it were cleaned out.

One thing I think would improve Northville is to have parks fixed up for the children to play in. The finest thing I can think of is an outdoor swimming pool for the summer, and perhaps it could be used as a skating rink in the winter.

This little stream would be a fine place for the boys and girls to wade in the summer time. A dam could be constructed near Mr. Barlow's property, which would make the stream deep enough for small row boats.

Seventh: The property that Mr. Ford owns back of Mr. Marburg's house could be made into a good-sized lake for the use of Northville public.

Eighth: The old cemetery should be moved to the new one.

Ninth: The playground apparatus in front of the grade building should be moved back of the building and grass and shrubbery planted in front.

Tenth: A new modern hotel should be constructed and run by Americans.

Making Northville More Beautiful in 1929.

(By Richard Lee Shipley) 511 Dumlap Street

Northville is the year in which Northville is going to try to make itself more beautiful, a place where everyone will be proud to live in and where other people will want to come, this can be done if everyone does his or her part.

The first step towards beautifying Northville is cleaning the streets of old dead branches, leaves and all other things that help to make it look dirty and uncared for.

The next step will be grading and seeding the lawn. When this is done if you have used the right kind of soil, you will have a nice green lawn. Then make a special day for mowing and keeping it clean.

To add a little more pleasing appearance to your house and lawn is to plant flowers for flowers no matter where they are always add beauty. For those who are going to plant flowers on their property, I will give seven ideas how to plant them.

First, a large variety of flowers are not nearly so pleasing as a mass of the same flowers or masses of a few varieties. Second, when we are putting flowering plants near one another we must take care to get flowers which harmonize or look well together. Third, small plants should be placed outside or in front of tall plants or shrubs. Shrubs around foundations of a house hide unsightly bricks or stones. Fourth, lawns should never appear dotted with shrubs or flower beds, but a soft expanse of green sod should be left by itself as it is very pretty. Fifth, flower beds around trees are not artistic. Sixth, trees and shrubbery should not be so dense as to shut off the view of the house completely. Seventh, shrubs should be trimmed up so that grass will grow near them and so the ground under the shrubs can be cultivated.

Shrubbery following a path is very pretty. Terracing or making the lawn or garden in different levels, wherever it is possible, adds a great deal of beauty to a lawn or garden.

Another thing that would help to make Northville more beautiful is to clean up vacant lots and grade, seed and plant flower beds in them such as Mr. Ford did with the property where the old garage used to be on East Main street.

Shade trees always help a lot in making a place beautiful. It is always nice to walk up a street in the shade of tall trees.

Hot Soup! Say but doesn't it go great these days when chilled to the bone and hungry, one seeks a "warmer-up."

summer with green, leafy shade trees in rows lined up the whole street on either side.

To add a few finishing touches to the residence section, I would suggest that fresh paint would do it. If everyone would get a gal of paint, paint brush and some old clothes, everything would look like new. Paint your houses, garages, barns, sheds, and anything that needs painting and when you are all done just think how nice everything will look with new fresh paint.

Smith: The creek that runs by the Globe Furniture Company and the Detroit Edison Company substation could be made very attractive if it were cleaned out.

One thing I think would improve Northville is to have its parks fixed up for the children to play in.

The finest thing I can think of is an outdoor swimming pool for the summer, and perhaps it could be used as a skating rink in the winter.

Northville is my home town, that is one reason I would like to see it beautiful. If some of my suggestions are followed, I think it will help a little towards making Northville a beautiful community.

How Northville Can be Made More Attractive.

Northville can be made one of the most desirable and beautiful towns in Wayne County. It would be nice to move to the new cemetery.

Ninth: The play ground apparatus in front of the grade building should be moved back of the building and grass and shrubbery planted in front.

If everyone would clean up all the weeds and rubbish in his property instead of it being an eyesore why not a vegetable garden which would be a delight to look at? There are many varieties you would like all summer and winter which are potatoes, carrots, beans, peas, parsnips, rhubarb, beets, onions, strawberries, raspberries, or blackberries, also currants. How soon they look growing without any weeds to spoil their growth and when there are those unsightly fences which would be better torn down or covered with all colors of climbing and rambler roses, red, pink, and yellow honeysuckles, with grape vines and fruit trees planted along the fences. What could be more attractive to the stranger than is looking for a desirable home to buy? Why not have a beautiful flower garden in front of the home?

The next step will be grading and seeding the lawn. When this is done if you have used the right kind of soil, you will have a nice green lawn. Then make a special day for mowing and keeping it clean.

The Hanks Craft Electric EGG COOKER

Manning-Bowman ELECTRIC TOASTER

HERE is an unusual opportunity to own these desirable table appliances, and at the same time effect a substantial saving.

Toast—rich, golden-brown, crisp to a turn, and tempting as only electrically made toast can be. Eggs that taste just like the old-fashioned coddled eggs, cooked evenly throughout and just as you like them. Enjoy these two, made right at your table—simply, quickly, conveniently.

The Hanks Craft Electric Egg Cooker operates on the principle of passing electric current through water. The electricity turns the water to steam and cooks the eggs. When the water is gone the eggs are done and the current is shut off. For eggs soft-boiled, use two teaspoonsful of water; for medium-boiled, three teaspoonsful; for hard-boiled, five teaspoonsful.

trial office equipment, $5,621,626; station equipment, $5,689,737; exchange lines, $7,625,372; toll lines, $2,408,400; general equipment, etc., $1,222,294. Financing was secured in the insurance of $17,390,000 and the 6 per cent damage notes to the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

During the year 133,637 telephones were installed and 28,939 were discontinued, resulting in a net gain of 44,098 exclusive of purchases, sales and transfers, or 7,031 greater than the net gain for 1927. At the close of the year the company had 530,137 telephones in operation.

The tax payments of $8,725,114.30 were $545,696.85 higher than those for 1927, being $8.15 per telephone or 50 cents higher per telephone than the previous year.

"Some of the more important projects during the years were: The 12-story addition to the Bell Telephone building, Detroit; new buildings at Jackson, Flint, Pontiac, Grand Rapids and Traverse City; three new dial and one new manual central offices in Detroit; new dual central offices in Flint and Jackson; new manual offices in new buildings displacing manual offices in old buildings at Traverse City and St. Joseph; a new manual office at Centerline; new foil cables from Jackson to Kalamazoo, and Mt. Clemens to Port Huron.

Other large projects under construction in 1928 were: New buildings in Detroit at Madison and John R streets; at Gratiot and Greiner Avenue; and at Cadillac and Mack Avenue; new dual central at Pontiac; second toll cable between Detroit and Ann Arbor.

During the year agreements were concluded with the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company for interchangeable lease and use of spare facilities on a regular basis, thus avoiding unnecessary collection of plants."

The company speaks of the facilities afforded employees regarding a plan whereby employees may purchase American Telephone & Telegraph Company stock and pay for it by small monthly premium deductions.

Public relations were determined to be good because of the excellence and adequacy of the service, and the policies of the company which were made known through newspaper advertising.

Statistics indicate increase of operating facilities. At the close of the year the company served 650,171 telephones through 268 central offices, compared with 585,731 telephones and 279 central offices in 1927; total telephone in the state at the close of 1928, including Michigan Bell and Connecting companies, numbered 755,216, compared with 710,775 the previous year. And there were 1,040,961 miles of underground wire increased from 1,772,662 miles to 2,048,990 miles. Average daily telephone calls increased from 2,765,565 to 2,998,514 while long distance calls in 1928 numbered 25,516,832, compared with 22,942,871 the previous year. The company had 13,918 employees at the end of 1928, compared with 13,091 a year previously.

"Oh no, regular startin' time madam," politely answered the bus man.

"Not or to town clock isn't."

"Town clock hasn't bin runnin' fo' two days," said an old farmer looking over the head of a paper he was reading.

"No one's comin' to 'o," shouted the mate without heavyweight with a wicked glare in his eye.

"Well," drawled the snow-smiling man, "that's somethin' to be thankful for anyhow."

The bus, stopping to take on a few more passengers, was again on its way when one of the number, recognizing a friend in a back seat, cried out: "Hello, Pete. Sharkey liked Strubing, I see by the morning papers."

"Yes," answered Pete, "but Strubing was not in good condition."

"How do you make that out?" asked Pete's friend.

"Why, by all the papers, Strubing to them Strubing was really a sick man—had neuritis in the elbow an' a dislocated rib, and that's all I know, I'll say."

"Well," asked Pete's friend, "if that is so what the Strubing go in."

"For sixty thousand dollars, wouldn't you?" asked Pete with a queer twinkle in his eye.

"Many looked for a draw," said Pete's friend.

"Well," answered Pete, "in a way it was a mighty good draw, figure it out for yourself. Sharkey one hundred thousand dollars, Strubing sixty thousand dollars, and Dempsey seven thousand dollars."

"Well, I'll say," said Pete's friend.

THE ORANGE AND BLACK

Northville, Michigan

Published in the interest of the Northville Schools

TO THE BOYS OF THE ORANGE AND BLACK

The last game is over, good-night has been said, And we're hurryin' home and snuggle in bed. We go over the games, and we've seen them all, And we think of the boys, who played basket ball.

Bob as Captain and forward you see, On baskers' and points was good as could be; Ted as forward, on defense was greater.

He kept the ball passing at a rapid rate, Chuck as center, on whom much depends,

Always was ready to keep up his end; John, Harley and Jim as guards bought with vim;

And all they could the games to win.

Coach Jones mentioned last but who first should be.

Has worked hard and faithful and any can see;

Baseball, golf and track are next on the track.

Let's all get behind the Orange and Black.

JUNIORS ANNOUNCE

J-HOP FOR MARCH 22

The annual J-Hop will be given one week from tonight, March 22, at nine o'clock in the high school gymnasium. The executive committee was fortunate in securing for the occasion Barten's Oklahoman orchestra who recently played at Plymouth and won very high praise. The J-Hop is not strictly invitational as has been reported, but the invitations are being issued as a means of advertising.

The committees have done their best to make this J-Hop a success. They are, as follows: Executive—Marion Hamilton, Edna Harten, Charles Lefford, Dave Denlinger and Foster Van Allen; Decorations—Mrs. George Hart, Ruth Meloy and Mrs. Fred Sturwell; Marjorie Myers, Mrs. Sturwell, Edna Auer, Mrs. Sturwell, Mrs. B. C. Hart, Mrs. Hart.

This is the second J-Hop planned for the year, the first having been held in October.

"I Should Have Had Konjola Long, Long Ago"

Business Man Gives Enthusiastic Indorsements to Powers of New Medicine

MR. FRANK TRACY

My business partner recommended Konjola to me and I shall be sure to do the same for him for this. Mr. Frank Tracy, 32 Peterboro Street, Detroit, Michigan. I have seen him with kidney troubles for five years. I had to get up four or five times every night, and this noise kept me sleep so that my general health was affected. I was nervous and lacking in vitality and resistance, and was unable to find anything to give me even temporary relief. I was in a pretty bad fix.

My partner insisted that I try Konjola, and I should have had this new medicine long, long ago. It went to work right away and in a very short time I was feeling like another person. I am sleeping well every night now, and the terrible back pains are gone. My digestion is perfect, and I am picking up weight and strength right along. My friends are amazed at this sudden change in my appearance and demeanor. I have no hesitancy in recommending Konjola, for personally I think it is the world's greatest medicine.

It is sold in Northville, at Northville Drug Company, by all the best druggists in the country. It was throughout this entire Advt.

Running from two more schools Hac Northville met this afternoon in the tournament; the outcome might have brought a different story.

This less eliminated Northville from participating further in the tournament.

At the start of the game Northville played well and it looked as if a real game was in progress. But University high soon forged ahead and lead 11-2 at the half. The Northville players tried hard to check their opponents, but were unable to form a stable defense.

All substitutes were given a chance trying to find a combination that would hold, but none had any effect.

The final score was University 19 Northville 12.

SENIORS HAVE GOOD ATHLETIC TEAMS

Each member of the girls' team was called in front of the assembly last Friday, so the students could see the honorable members of the team. They were Helen Hackney, Gladys Ludwig, Florence Balko, Lillian Cassie, Shirley Preston, Mary Jordan, Ernestine Wohl, Jeanette Vrascibny and Miriam Richards.

The girls' first baseball game will be the first "week" in April. The entire track will be held at Ferndale the second week in May.

OLE BRER WEST' WIND BLOWS ROOF OFF BUILDING

"T' buff and 't' buff and 't' bl'ow, your roof off," said the wind.

Shedportable buildings are not the fox, the little pig, the endurance contest was staged here last Wednesday by the West Wind, and the portable building unfortunately the voracious building being blown off after several hard ruffs, the wind succeeded in ringing a portion of the roof some parts unknown.

Another crazy boy placed the same evening to inspect the damage he had wrought on the portable building, drew into a rage and neatly lifted the cubicle from the top of the crude building and deposited it carefully on the ground. Then shrieking "T' buff and put it where it belongs" he started to do further harm.

Then came the dawn, and the realization of the damage created by the wind. Unfortunately the portable building is at the present time used as a dining room so children were bereft of a place to eat their three R's.

BIENNIAL SPRING ELECTION AND ANNUAL TOWNSHIP ELECTION

To the qualified electors of the township of Northville, Wayne County, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that the next election of the Township Board of Education and annual township election will be held at the regular voting places in Northville on Monday, April 1, A. D. 1929.

For the purpose of voting for the election of the following officers:

Two members of the Board of Education, two members of the Board of Superintendence of Public Instruction, Member of the State Board of Education, Member of the State Board of Agriculture, State Highway Commissioner, Justice of the Peace, all term, a Commissioner of Roads, and one County Auditor.

Treasurer, Supervisor of Townships, Clerk, Justice of the Peace, all term, a Commissioner of Highways, and one County Auditor.

The question is, Why is the election of the Board of Education?

Rev. George Guillen gave a fine talk Sunday morning on "Why Let Us Vote," Solonard Illustration of "Sacrifice."

After the Sunday school hour, dinner was served to all who wished to stay. The dining tables were full and there was plenty and there was a good time.

The Pierson school officers and teachers had charge of the evening service, and it was a fine program.

Bringing out the fact that every one irrespective of creed or color was used in the school, and very often snubbed in the church.

The question was, Why is the School More Democratic Than the Church?

TRINITY SHRINE HAS BIG MEETING

One of the outstanding events of the year in Trinity Shrine, No. 44 W. S. of J., took place last Friday evening, March 8th.

After partaking of the delicious dinner served by O'Brien's Chaper No. 77-O.E.S., under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Boyden, about one hundred members and guests participated to the Methodist church house in the work of the evening, which was impressively exemplified by Western Shrine, No. 33, Detroit.

At the opening of the Shrine, Western presented Trinity with a beautiful silk flag which was greatly appreciated, as Trinity in her youthfulness has not been able to secure much of the necessary paraphernalia.

Western long ago promised to come out and exemplify the work, and it was thought most fitting as the last event of the year before election, to ask them to show us just how the work should be done.

After invitation several candidates were presented with bouquets from friends. Trinity presented the Worthy High Priestess Belle Lamphier with a bouquet as a small token of thanks.

Among the visitors were brother and sister souvenirs from Pontiac, Woodward, Detroit, No. 20, Highland Park, and Lansing. After several interesting talks by various Worthy High Priestesses, Watchmen of the Shepherds, the president of the Association of W. S. of J., and past officers, Shrine closed, hoping to have more of these expositions by other Shrines.

Is it not true that no one need suffer from the need of medical attention or even of hospital treatment on account of poverty? No one needs suffer, but how often do we find intelligence sufficient to call the proper attention to their needs, linked to abject poverty. However, this is irrelevant to the case in hand.

5. Mr. Roberts closes his article by asking, "is not a single family who refuses to be vaccinated during a smallpox epidemic a greater menace to the health of the whole community than can be counteracted by a dozen nurses?" Unintentionally, he has advanced a splendid argument for a community nurse.

Parents who neglect vaccination for smallpox could be brought to the attention of proper authorities.

Proper enforcement in one or two cases has proven to be a very effective means of preventing a further spread of the disease through the above neglect.

Soon the people will do spontaneously the thing that should have been done without compulsion.

Our daily labors, whether in the home or in the outside world, of competition for material things, even in the search for culture and for spiritual development, derive largely from the conscious or unconscious impulse to cherish the child and to hold the child's affection and respect."
