EXCHANGITES HEAR SPEAKER TELL OF DUTY

Famous Trial Lawyer
Says Best are Needed for Juries

Nearly 100 Exchangites and their wives and guests attended the ladies' night held Wednesday evening in the Methodist church house. The program was one of the most successful that had ever been presented, and the whole affair was a colorful event in the progress of the Northville Exchange Club.

During the dinner served by the Methodist ladies, the Fosters orchestra played a number of selections. One of the features of the evening was the birthday cake by Miss Anna Schenck, it being the National Exchange Club's 20th birthday. Mrs. Dolph gave a short talk on Exchange work both nationally and in Northville. A beauty finishing selection was given by Miss Jean Parker, who was accompanied on the piano by Miss Sophie Lettau. Mrs. Iggy Rose, who sang two numbers and was accompanied by Mrs. E. H. Lapins, Sherrill Amber acted as toastmaster for the evening.

This club members were fortunate in having as their speaker for the evening O. F. Smith, former United States District attorney, who during his career in Michigan has handled more big criminal cases than any other man. Formed with the attorney general's department, Mr. Smith gained nationwide recognition through his activities in the Russian Red case at Bridgeman; the Rich case at Lansing; the prosecution of the House of Gold and the excellent clean up work he started in Detroit while U. S. District Attorney. At the present time he is a practicing attorney in Detroit.

In giving the club one of the first talks that had been heard there is some time, Mr. Smith tried to bring to light the necessity of each and every person doing his duty as an American citizen. His talk covered the selection of juries and presiding officers and in discussing the present crime conditions that exist in Detroit and other cities he cited many instances where the problems of today were older than the times before Christ. As an example, Mr. Smith read a paragraph from a book which had been given by same present day author, stating that "the man with money no longer had to fear the courts and their penalties but that the poor man was the man that suffered though he stole only a loaf of bread." Proving that the same situation existed years before the birth of Christ, Mr. Smith read an extraction from the works of Cleopatra in which this celebrated old Roman in talking to the Forum in Rome 78 years before Christ, stated that the man with no money feared the courts and their penalties and that the poor man was the man that suffered. "This only goes to show us that our present day problems are as old as time. Why, in the days of William Penn we find he has written that his beautiful brother city of Philadelphia, is corrupt with vice and crime and today do we not find the same reports coming from that city? So you see that our problems are far from new and if we are to correct them we must change our method of justice."

In offering a solution to the injustice of present day judicial conditions, Mr. Smith suggested that judges be appointed for 20 years of life and that their appointment be confirmed by the supreme courts. That prosecutors be appointed by judges and that the prosecutor's salary be enough so that average intelligence can be had in these places. He made the statement that the average salary of Michigan prosecutors, men who protect the public's interests, was slightly above $800 a year. "With men who will work for $800 a year, you surely cannot expect him to match his wits against the criminal lawyers who are paid in many instances $50,000 as a retainer."

The most important duty of every man and woman in this room and the most forceful way of correcting our system is to have the people of higher intelligence serve on our juries. Today the juries are composed of the lazier, non-thinking type of citizen, the man who hangs around the pool room and has nothing else to do. Are these the type of men you want to hold your life, your property and your business in the balance? Absolutely not. You want the highest type American citizen you can get on jury and unless you business men, professional men and wives will serve when summoned on jury duty, you cannot expect any great advancement in our methods of prosecution and judicial methods."

Buying farm seeds of unknown or inferior quality at reduced prices is false economy. Millions of weed seeds are sown each year because uncleaned or half-cleaned seed grain is planted.

Some neighbors will borrow everything, including trouble.

The club meeting today will be held after the Good Friday services and a good attendance is desired, as a speaker from the Detroit Federation.

NAME SHERRILL AMBLER MEMBER OF SCHOOL BOARD

To Fill Out Unexpired Term of E. C. Langfield, Who Resigned

Sherill Ambler, city clerk and manager of the Ambler Furnace & Foundry company, has been appointed a member of the school board by President Ernest Miller, to fill out the unexpired term of Edward C. Langfield, who resigned a few weeks ago. The appointment has been confirmed by the other members of the board. He will serve until the next regular school election which takes place early in the summer. However, it is generally understood that Mr. Ambler has consented to permit his name to be used as a candidate for election to the board at the next election.

It is pointed out that while the service will be extended beyond the village limits, it is a customary thing for practically every city and village to grant a request of this kind whenever possible, it is always aids in the development of a community. In fact, Northville is at present in several cases providing water for outside residents.

MAYOR PLANS TO KEEP DOWN ALL EXPENSES

Budget for Next Year
Soon Ready—Funds
in Good Shape

At the next meeting of the village commission there will be presented the budget for the 1929 fiscal year of the village, and when announcement made at the Friday night meeting of the commission last week Mayor E. L. Ellikson served notice on the commission and various departments that they must keep their expenses down to the very lowest point possible.

"We have got the city funds into good shape now, and we are going to keep them there. Our new bookkeeping system cost us quite a bit to get it installed, but it is going to be worth the money," said the Mayor.

"We are going to do something more this year we plan to make a special effort to keep all expenses down to rock bottom. I wasn't in favor of the paving program last week, but we have got it in now and I am glad of it, because it certainly has helped; the looks of things."

"I find that all other affairs are in pretty good shape and we are going to keep them there and we are going to keep expenses down too this year," he added.

The budget, it is expected, will be read at the next commission meeting, and then it will be advertised for public hearing. Under the new charter, the taxpayers of Northville have a right to appear and protest against any item that might be in the budget. They also have the right to suggest various improvements. Proper notice will be given for the hearing of citizens.

Frank S. Harmon, the only member of the club to be elected to a position upon its organization to come down through its entire local history, will be trustee for another year.

John McCullough, who chairs the committee of having been "fined" for his services more than any other man in the club, has been named a sergeant-at-arms nominated for vice president in E. C. Esten, and for members of the board of directors William Gordon, Harry Clark, Lee Pfeifer and W. A. Parham.

The outgoing president Dr. Howard Burkett will be the result of Rotary club with a considerable increase in pay over that he received in Northville.

The following faculty members have now signed contracts for the ensuing year: R. A. American principal Milton Cohn, science Max A. Koskey, English, Vivid Bonbridge, history, Arvid Jacobson, mathematics, Ellen Noble, language, Anne Wessberg, science, Ernestine Shawley, mathematics, Eutice Parks, English, Isabel Van Fleet, history, Wilma Briggs, commercial, Paul Thompson, manual training, Rose Leffon, music and art, Eturia Stalzer, physical education, Ida Cook, sixth grade, Ida Rose, Cavelle Kindergarten, Luetta Murray, second grade; Olive Elden, fifth grade.

The following new contacts have been signed: Helen Leonard, grade teacher, Western State Normal; David J. Jarvis, special Michigan Normal; Mildred M. Gaspar, grade, Michigan Normal; Helen Duford, grade, Western Normal; Grace Brooks, grade, Central Normal, Edna Carlson and Zelma Jarvis.

POPULAR COUPLE
WED IN TOLEDO;
BRIDE A TEACHER

Miss Ursula Neilson and George Locke are Unified

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Ursula Neilson to George Allan Locke of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation, came as a pleasant surprise to the host of friends of the young couple here in Northville. The marriage took place Saturday evening, March 29 at 8 o'clock in Toledo, where the bride and groom were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson of Detroit. Mrs. Peterson is a sister of Mrs. Locke.

Mrs. Locke is a teacher of the local grammar school, coming here last fall from St. Ignace. During the year she has been an Northville she has made hundreds of friends in and out of the school. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Neilson of St. Ignace, Michigan.

The young couple will reside at North Rogers street until June when they will move to Wayne and take permanent residence there. Mr. Locke the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCutcheon of Creek, came to Northville last September from Detroit where he had been employed in the accounting department of the Dodge Motor Car Company. Since coming to Northville he has been connected with the Stinson Aircraft Corporation and will continue in his present position when the factory moves to Wayne.

It is pointed out that while the service will be extended beyond the village limits, it is a customary thing for practically every city and village to grant a request of this kind whenever possible, it is always aids in the development of a community. In fact, Northville is at present in several cases providing water for outside residents.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

On Friday, March 29th, the members of the club enjoyed three able papers on the History of Education. These were furnished by Mrs. W. H. Sloan, Mrs. Waldo Johnson and Mrs. C. M. Chase, and reviewed the subject from the elementary, high school and adult standpoint. A brisk discussion closed the day.

During the business meeting, the president announced that our application had been accepted, and the Northville Woman's Club was now a member of the Detroit Federation.

The club meeting today will be held after the Good Friday services and a good attendance is desired, as a speaker from the Detroit Federation is expected to be one of the speakers.

HOW TO LIKE YOUR TOWN.

Reply to the question as to whether he liked the town in which he lived, a man said, "Well, you see it is this way, I do not know whether or not the people like me nor whether I have many friends in town, but I feel friendly toward so many people that I am happy."

After all the true principle for a happy life?

much of the discord you experience, much of the distress you have for the place in which you live is the result of your own unfriendly feelings toward so many persons in your town.

If you have something against one and something else against another, down the last, naturally you are unhappy with such thoughts.

Do not blame the town, for you feel dissatisfied; till you have probed your own heart and mind to discover the thing which is eating the joy out of life for you.

Unpleasant thoughts react, and you get from the world what you give in the course of a day.

If you set out to like your associates, to like the weather, to like your employers and everything around you, it will not be long before you will find it all a reality, and you will be happy.

GOOD FRIDAY AND ITS MEANING TO
ALL THE WORLD

Rev. Eickstedt Tells of the Joys of the Easter

(By Rev. L. C. Eickstedt)

The events on Good Friday and Easter are the key to a correct understanding of the Christian doctrine, which were these important facts?

Good Friday tells us of the crucifixion and death of the Savior.

At about 9:00 o'clock that morning Jesus was nailed to the cross and hung there in indescribable agonies till 3:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Then He said, "It is finished," and immediately began crying with a loud voice.

He died and His spirit left His body.

Why is Christ's death so important?

He did not die of necessity. A full year before this happened He had stated, "I lay down my life that I might take it again." No man taketh it from Me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down and I have power to lay it again.

President Ernest Miller of the board states that because of the offer of the school officials.

C. Ray Van Valkenburg who has proven such an efficient secretary is also unopposed for another term.

During the time he has had charge of the club details he has kept every department in perfect working order.

Frank S. Harmon, the only member of the club to be elected to a position upon its organization to come down through its entire local history, will be trustee for another year.

The board members realize that there is much yet to be done in the effort to place the Northville schools among the best in the country. Its present rank is ninth, but that of many of the surrounding communities and the town from now on will be taken into account.

John McCullough who chairs the committee of having been "fined" for his services more than any other man in the club, has been named a sergeant-at-arms nominated for vice president in E. C. Esten, and for members of the board of directors William Gordon, Harry Clark, Lee Pfeifer and W. A. Parham.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1929

WORTHY OF SERIOUS THOUGHT

At its last meeting the chamber of commerce of our energetic neighbor to the south adopted a budget which calls for the expenditure of $10,000 during the coming year for the purposes of building up and advertising the community. This appropriation of $10,000 should in no way be confused with the money to be raised by the village for the operation of its own affairs. The whole sum is to be spent for the building of a Greater Plymouth.

So that the residents of Northville may know how the chamber of commerce of Plymouth plans to spend this money and what it will be spent for, the following budget as adopted, is printed:

Secretary, salary, $2,600.00; traveling and entertainment, $200.00; rent, $300.00; clerical help, $900.00; furniture expense, $75.00; printing, postage, $700.00; telephone and telegraph, $150.00; industrial and social development—advertising Plymouth, securing "substantial industries," promoting local business, $2,000.00; Plymouth road signs (approximately four) properly placed at the intersection of our main thoroughfares designating this village as Plymouth and to direct traffic to surrounding cities, $100.00; Trade in Plymouth campaign for assistance of local retail merchants and to teach advantage of local shopping, $2,250.00; miscellaneous expense to cover campaign expense and any additional unforeseen expense, $1,250.00, making a total of $10,000.00.

In this sum of $10,000 there are two items that the Record wishes to call the attention of its readers. There is one item of expense of $2,600 to be used in advertising Plymouth. That in itself is a worthy thing. A few days ago some dozen or so Northville business men spent something like $400 in advertising in the Detroit Free Press. It was good advertising and to the business men that spent their money for it, there was no personal gain of any kind expected. They spent it for the good of Northville.

We are nothing but a small town together, put out money in a general pot and then when we advertise do it in one general ad for all of Northville pointing out the many attractive features that we think the rest of the state should know about.

We admire Plymouth for what it is doing in this respect. The other item—that especially appealed to us—is the one appropriating $225 for a trade fair Plymouth campaign. We have been advised that this is to cover a "Dollar Day" for Plymouth merchants.

For several years past Northville merchants have conducted a very successful "Dollar Day" sale every fall. With the local paper they have borne all of the extra expense of this worthy community project. No one knows better that the Record that little outside financial assistance to cover the "promotion" of a "Dollar Day" really means. However, Northville has conducted this "Dollar Day" sale for four years and they have been exceedingly successful. They have brought new trade to Northville, and the shoppers having found what an excellent place this is to trade in, have in many cases become permanent buyers here.

We wish to extend our congratulations to Plymouth and its energetic chamber of commerce. There is not the slightest doubt but what the community will profit by the program outlined for the present year. It is a good thing for Plymouth business and it is a good thing for everyone in that town.

Northville has been trying to do many of the things that Plymouth has originated in so many ways. We have spent money in advertising, and we conduct our annual "Dollar Day." But we believe that you can get better results if your energies are directed along unchanged lines.

GOODBYE AND GOOD LUCK

Something in the shape of Eddie Stinson came to Northville to take the top job as manager of the Plymouth to 1929. He had been a successful number in fact one of the most successful managers in the business. But possessed of ambition to import Pigeon feathers he organized a company of Detroit capitalists to come to Northville to enter the manufacturing world.

It is planned now to go to finish off the brief history of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation. It has been exceedingly successful and it has been successful for two reasons. First it had the reputation of Edward Stinson back of it. See rd, and not the least reason is that it had the 100 per cent to operation and good will of the entire community of Northville.

We are sorry to see the manufacturing business moved from our community. We are glad however that most of the Stinson employees intend to continue to make their homes in Northville. They expect to drive back and forth to the new factory. There is one thing that Northville can feel highly pleased over—and that is the fact that it is generally regarded as the best residential community in the Detroit area in Wayne county.

Eddie, we are sorry to see you go—but we wish for you the same success in your new location that you have enjoyed in Northville—but we will make this declaration now—that you will not find in Wayne or anywhere else in this world a more consistent and more helpful community co-operation than you had right here in Northville. And the Northville Record knows that you think the day too God-given and good luck to you through your everlasting energy you are entitled to all the success that can come your way.

JERUSALEM IS A SOLEMN PLACE EASTER WEEK

Night and Day the Weird Ceremonies are Conducted

The Arab festival, which comes during the Christian Easter week, is known as "Nebi Musa" Arabic for "Prophet Moses." It is of comparatively recent origin, and in reality is a political rather than a religious festival started by the Sultan Saladin about the time of the Crusades, because he felt that too many Christians were coming to Jerusalem for Easter who might outnumber the Moslems. He instituted this festival to coincide with the orthodox Easter, which would bring a host of Moslems into Jerusalem. The Arabs pouring into Jerusalem for the "Nebi Musa" festival present a kaleidoscope of color that is quite dazzling. The Bedouin women, in their red and yellow, coarsely embroidered finery, are particularly striking.

The large body of Hebrewite Arabs make their way around the outside of the city walls, dancing and whining a weird chant, accompanied by the beating of tom-toms and clapping of hands in a measured beat, their leader performing gyrations with a huge carved sword.

The banners carried in the procession are blessed and brought from Mecca each year, and they are blessed again by the Mufti of the Mount of Olives, after which the parade moves on. The futes break into a melancholy wailing this time and the dancing devishes revolve and revolve, their skirts opening out like an umbrella. This performance takes place at frequent intervals and lasts about 20 minutes, and the dancers look like spinning tops as they whirl around until some of them faint at the mouth. The whole pilgrimage is made on foot and lasts about three days, during which time they never let up.

Old and young alike then take a squatting position in the grass, and the children, with branches of olive trees and palms waving gently in rhythmic motion, sing: "Blessed is He Who Cometh in the Name of the Lord." The clergy give the signal that the ceremony is over and the people rise and slowly fol-

NEIGHBORHOODS

by A. J. Dunlap

We have the queerest neighborhood. There's folks of every sort. The tall and lean, the short and fat. The sinner, saint and sordid. And some are full of friendliness. And some are full of guile. But some are only common folks. While others worship style.

The lean man on the corner hates the man across the way. Because their house dogs had a fight. And his dog lost the fray. The short man and his neighbor quarreled last night. And there is little doubt. The wrangler rose because that day Their wives had fallen out.

But so it goes from day to day. In every neighborhood. Where littleness and narrowness are mingled with the good. There's just one way to get along. Refuse to snarl and snap. Ignore the little things that rise. Avoid a senseless scrap.

FLYERS USE PIGEONS

Now, gently singing and chanting, as they escort the priests in the descent from the mount.

"They take the road which leads to the church of the Holy Sepulcher, and when they reach there they find the sides of the quadrangle court before the place lined with vendors and tukars selling sticky sweets all kinds of rice-holy pictures brilliant colored glass bracelets, mother-of-pearl crosses from Bethlehem and other small ornaments made of olive wood from Jerusalem."

During the night, before the crowd begins to assemble, a platform upon which are two benches is placed in the courtyard. On each bench is a row of six cushioned seats. On a dais, gilded by a step and carpeted in red and gold stands a gilt throne, in front of which are placed a great ewer, a gold tray and a very large white against the wall of the church near the platform there is a flight of wooden steps painted in white lead to a small point. In the center of the platform is a picture of Jesus washing the feet of the 12 Apostles.

By morning the participants are roiling with ceaselessly stamping feet and everyone and everything has the appearance of the greatest festive occasion that is about to take place. At nine o'clock comes a crush of bolts and fairly blazin' with jewels, the Greek patriarch emerges from the church attended by his bishops and priests. The procession ascends the dais and in a loud voice a high official reads in the Gospel of St. John the account of Jesus washing His Disciples' feet.

That night the way to the Garden of Gethsemane is lighted with canopies and the people pass along the different stages of the cross until the garden is reached.

THE TEMPERAMENTAL HOUND-DAWG

A BOUT once in so often some impassioned partisan rises in congress or elsewhere and accuses the majority party or the administration of somebody of bribery, corruption, fraud and incompetency, and accuses his faction of smothering the scandal out. This type of person is especially numerous in Presidential years.

A few years ago it was in 1916 I believe there was a producer plodding on the Repub. side who set forth upon his campaign with the avowed intention of proving that worthless Democratic stupidity at Washington had practically ruined the country and then, being challenged for facts to back up his accusation, was so shy of actual ammunition that for the moment he could point only to the instance of a petty officeholder, a holdover from the Taft administration who, in alleged violation of civil service rules, had been busily engaged in his old job to make room for a Wilson man.

The incident reminded a friend of mine down South of a certain gaunt hound dog which a certain Kentucky mountaineer owned. He said to me:

"The old fellow used to tell me that when his father came out over the Wilderness trail from North Carolina he brought with him the fastest, the best-bred, the keenest nosed hound that had ever been seen. In the infant settlements beyond the mountains. But the dog suffered from a temperamental defect which mitigated against his success."

"At sunrise he would start out on his own hook after deer. He would jump a buck and run him for miles. When the buck was on the point of exhaustion the hound's nostrils would catch the taint in the air where a fox had crossed the trail, and he would instantly decide that, after all, fox was what he had come for; and he would turn aside to pursue the fox."

"Perhaps an hour later, when the chase was growing warmer every minute, his keen nose would detect the presence of a rabbit, and he would go after the cottontail, with the inevitable result that by four o'clock in the afternoon that hound would be thirty or forty miles away from home, in a swamp with a chipmunk tree."

The best way to find your missing hawks is to get rich.

The hard truth about making money fast is smoking it first.

The Motorist Will Stop for the Signal Light at the Street Intersection Where He Will Not Slow Down for Oncoming Train

This is one of the strange experiences of railroads in dealing with traffic at the highway crossing that a large number of motor vehicle drivers are indifferent to all danger.

It is an anomaly of this situation that the motorist will stop for the red light at the street intersection, where he will give a heed whatever to the signal at the railroad crossing on the highway.

DANGER lurks around the corner in both places.

BEHIND the automatic signal at the street intersection there is generally the police officer and the police ordinance with its inevitable fine to back its message.

BEHIND the automatic signal or the crossing watchman there usually is no such force of law, but there may be.

THE motorist, through some perversity in make-up, stops at the street intersection for the Signal Light which indicates possible peril or a police court fine, where he often will not be awed by the oncoming train with its infinitely greater danger in the event of a mishap.

TOO often this certain type of motorist seems to set a higher value on his pocketbook than on his life.

THE American railroads are doing everything within their power to prevent casualties at the crossings.

THE American railroads have not the money to eliminate all of the grade crossings, for this would involve $20,000,000 additional investment.

ELIMINATION of crossings would not be necessary, if the motorist and others were made to take reasonable care in crossing railroad tracks at grade.

PUBLIC authorities, including the Police, State Troopers, and Village Marshals—as well as the Newspapers—should take an aggressive interest in any policy that makes for obedience to the railroad crossing signal.

NEWSPAPERS should constantly impress upon all the importance of observing signal indications.

THE caution so given by public authority—or the warning so sounded by the newspapers—may save a life—or many lives.

AFTER all the saving of a citizen's life alone pays a big return on the good work so done, whether the results come from individual or co-operative action.

LOCAL BOXER IS MAKING HISTORY
IN FIGHT ARENA

Hard Hitting Youth from Northville Stops all Comers

From all appearances Northville is offering a future Dempsey in the making. With six good fights to his credit, Kid Teris, local lad, who came here recently from New Jersey, is making great progress in Michigan fight arenas.

Young Teris fought his first bout in Northville and proved to the local fans that he was much too clever for the local boxers. William Spencer seeing the possibilities of developing the lad into a real fighter took him under supervision and has made him one of the most feared fighters in his class.

After shopping around for over a period of a month or so, the Kid was matched to battle Dynamite Wilson at Mt. Clemens. This was south of his first appearance in the boxing ring and the exhibition he gave more than warranted the time and effort that the local supporters had given him. He knocked out Wilson in the second round. His second fight was with Jack Gillepie of Ypsilanti, who had been matched with Sammie Mandell, the world's champion lightweight at Indianapolis. He fought Gillepie to a draw. Later he fought August Angelo from France and won a decision over him. Next he was matched with Kid Elmo from Detroit, and after a hard fought four-round battle won a close decision. His last fight was held Thursday night at Ypsilanti with Bobby Tracey of Detroit, who is considered one of the cleverest and best boxers in this class. Going into fight with the spirit he had in previous matches, he knocked out Tracey in the first round and climbed to practically the peak in the class he is now boxing.

Local fans have great hopes for the boy, and if he can continue his conquests in the manner he started, there is no telling where he may land.

Perhaps you have wondered who is responsible for all the nice articles on this page. Just to end your curiosity I'll give you a little description of the illustrious group of ambitious people who weekly gather in the geography room and to do it day out.

First of all there is the advisor Miss Parks. She spends half her time trying to get the journalists to write their stories, and the other half hunting the stories for them.

As everyone knows, the editor is that dignified senior, Louis Brookman. Louis has an awful easy pose. All she does is to make out the assignment sheet, write half a dozen stories, and an editorial easy time.

Her capable assistant is Madeline Cole. Madeline does everything no one else wants to do.

Our debate reporter is Ted Watts. He knows everything about his subject from A to Z.

Then there are the sport writers Alfred and Bob. They have moved Mr. Jones so much that whenever he sees them, he makes one long dash around the first corner he comes to.

And that great business man Alex Johnson, "Swede" has such wonderful talents he could sell the state of New York to his schoolmates and let 'em away with it.

Next our reporters George Irene and Eleanor. They're the ones who do the work.

Last but by no means least is M.E. But I'm such a modest shrinking person that I won't tell you my name. I love modesty. Don't you?

And there you have the whole bunch. Aren't we grand?

ETHEL STERNER WINS GRADUATION HONORS

The 1929 graduation honors go to Ethel Sternen, whose scholastic average for four years of high school has been 94.75 in other words her marks have been with the exception of a single B, all A's. This is certainly an enviable record, and Ethel should be congratulated.

The question of salutatorian or second highest honors is to be decided at a "Senior Class" meeting. Alver Smith and Catherine Lassiter papers are tied with an average of 89. Marjorie Johnson has an average of 94.05 but because she has attended the 1st of each three years there is some question as to her right to a high honor.

From Unnecessary Colds

We are not doctors, but we have expert medical opinion to back up our statement that most colds are "caught at home".

Unevenly heated homes—a stuffy hot room here, a chilly room there—with colds as a result, are the penalty you pay for an inefficient heating system.

We are specialists in correcting heating ills. Pipe and boiler insulation; proper radiation; heat control devices; humidifying apparatus—these are the remedies which we provide for those homes caught colds. Incidentally, we save you money, too.

Let us call and inspect your heating system—No obligation to you.

Personalized Warmth

When there are children in the family, a "personalized" form of heating is invaluable. The portable electric heater is especially designed to warm a small area, and that area thoroughly. As children are very "close to the floor," and do much of their playing on the floor itself, an electric heater placed nearby will keep them safely warm and guard them against colds.

Throughout the winter months, and during all seasons of cold, damp weather, you will find these heaters very useful and comforting. They are excellent for quickly heating the bathroom on chilly mornings. Simply plug into any wall outlet, and they respond instantly with satisfying warmth.

Appliances sold by us are guaranteed—unconditionally—for one year.

RUTH SESSIONS SUBSTITUTED FOR MRS. STALKER

Mrs. Stalker, the girl's physical education teacher, has resigned because of heart trouble, for the remainder of the year. Ruth Sessions, who is a student at the Ypsilanti Normal College, is substituting this week.

After April 2nd, there will be a new physical education teacher for the remainder of the year.

BY YOUR ANNUALS NOW

Come on and buy your annuals now. What is the use of wasting at this time now and wait until the last day to buy an annual. We need your support, so why wait until later. You might be too late if you wait and then you will be sorry.

We want to sell two hundred annuals but right at the present a hundred have been sold. It is the plan of every salesman to canvass the town and sell as many annuals as possible.

You can pay fifty cents down and seventy-five cents upon delivery. Some of the advantage over last year's annual will be that there are grade pictures this year.

Although the cover will not be so good as last year, the contents will take the place.

LEGION AFFORDS
MANY BENEFITS
SAYS COMMANDER

Abe Barber Points Out the Advantages of a Membership

"A comradeship of men who have memories of squads right under marine infested seas and trenches. Friends are endorsements of men who belong to the American Legion," said A. V. Barber, Post Commander, today.

By passing dues and taking part in the Legion's veterans' pageant in great national projects of service. The Legion works for relief of disabled comrades, their dependents, and orphaned children of veterans. The Legion through a great network of telephone and posts, is engaged in the promotion of national defense, aviation, a safety campaign, a junior baseball world series, emergency relief, community service, and scores of worthwhile projects. The Legion stands in the front line trench of every field where the interest of World war veterans is at stake.

The Legiounnaire receives free upon payment of his dues, to the organization, the "American Legion Monthly." This magazine, the product of one of the largest publishing plants in the world, is well illustrated. It commands the writings of leading authors. It is one of the most quoted magazines in the country. It is a delightful visitor to every man who shares the common memories of World War service.

Membership in the Legion in most communities entitles the veteran to club privileges, as most posts own their own homes. When a veteran travels over the United States and foreign countries, he finds fellow Legionnaires. They are friendly and need no introduction beyond a Legion membership card.

The Legiounnaire is democratic.

It's meetings afford a forum for self expression. In the Legion there is no rank. Millionaires, associates with men of the most moderate circumstances, many life-long business associations, are all formed through Legion acquaintances.

The fraternal affiliation of the Legion is strengthened a thousand times by memories of World war days.

Legion posts enjoy assistance and companionship of the American Legion Auxiliary, consisting of approximately three hundred thousand patriotic women Legion members.

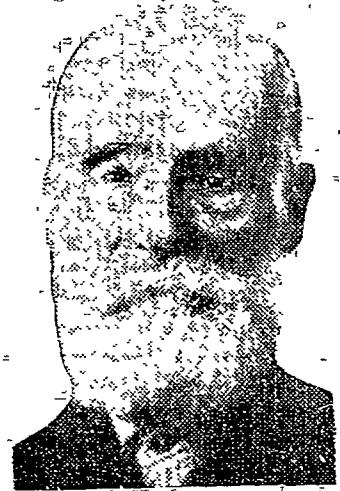

Joining the "Forty and Eight" the place and honor society of the Legion.

There are other benefits derived from membership in the Legion. The veteran soon falls into the swing of things. He soon catches the spirit. He begins to ask, "What can I do to help?" The men of the Legion serve in peace as they did in war.

Many a good thing has been pulled off on Friday, the 13th, by fellows who forgot the date.

Rheumatism that Defied Every Other Treatment is Conquered by New Compound

MR. HIRAM MCCREEERY
In eighty-eight years, a man can try a lot of medicines, but I never found one that touched the spot like Konjola, said Mr. Hiram McCreeery of the Soldiers' Home, Grand Rapids, Michigan. "When one reaches my age he is usually ready to leave medicines alone and await its final call." But I suffered so with rheumatism that I yearned for relief. I tried every medicine under the sun, and had all sorts of treatments at my disposal, but not one of them did me the least bit of good. Then, too, I had some stomach trouble, and I couldn't find even temporary relief.

"I was just about to give up when I heard about Konjola. I got a bottle, and to my amazement, I felt relief the very first week. I knew then that I had at last found the medicine that I had been searching for. I continued with it, and after ten weeks I felt like a new man. My stomach troubles are over, and every vestige of rheumatism has disappeared. Konjola surely means more to me than all the rest of the medicines in the world put together."

Konjola is sold in Northville, Mich., at the Northville Drug Company, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section—Advt.

ANNIVERSARY OF
WEDDING IN AIR

Mother and Father of
Mrs. Byers, Wing St.,
Up With Eddie

Two weeks ago at their home in Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Barr were discussing plans for celebrating their second wedding anniversary March 1st.

"I don't care what we do," Mrs. Barr said, "just as long as it's something I can remember. Fifty-nine times we've celebrated this date and a few weeks later I can't remember one of them from the others."

Last week Mr. Barr talked it over with some friends and then announced to his wife they would fly to the north, if the thought that would be different enough.

So thought it would, and last Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Barr, with no less a pilot than Edward A. Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation, flew above Northville for a quarter of an hour. Their two sons and four daughters were at the Northville air field to watch them.

THIS BANK CHIEF SHOWS BOYS HOW TO PLAY MARBLES

Edward Lapham, Once Terror of Marble King Does Come Back

Rights of the world's greatest banker-golfer, Edward H. Lapham. That night he turned his attention to the boys round the marble ring. He had dozen his marble ring. No, it wasn't one of the standard players, but the marble ring he shot. The individual was none less than one of Northville's famous banker-golfers, Edward H. Lapham.

Mr. Lapham was on his way home to lunch the other night. He ran across a number of youngsters who were playing marbles. The boys didn't seem to have good success in hitting their marks.

"Boys, let me show you how to shoot," said the banker. It has been some years since he had tried his hand at the game which made him famous back in his teens. He borrowed a nice looking "croche" just about the size he used to use when he went up and down the streets of Northville taking all the nice men away from the other kids.

This is the way I used to shoot," he told the youngsters as he rolled the "croche" between the tip of his finger and thumb. It was a different way than the boys had been shooting. They had buried their shooter down in the loop of their first finger and to an expert marble player like the famous banker-golfer that way is nothing less than high treason.

You can't shoot 'em that way.

This is the way to do it," and he let fly the "croche."

The marble he aimed at jumped six feet and lay outside the ring.

The boys looked up and gasped in amazement. When they hit a ring it barely rolled outside the ring, out to have one knocked six feet the other side. So far did you ever see anything like that before?

On the one successful shot, was enough. As Mr. Lapham left the room he heard one of the young boys say that that was the way his father used to shoot 'em too.

Two old timers say that Edward Lapham is the only fellow who could play rings around here.

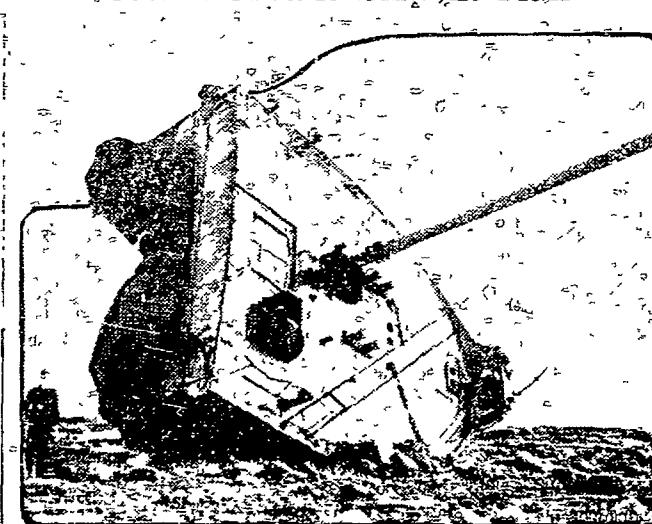

Harry Boeve. It is said when they saw him was Frank Thompson and started from the marble ring they had enough marbles in their possession to pave all the streets of Northville. In fact if it had been cash they had "played" for, Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney wouldn't hold candles to them in comparison

The S. S. Monongahela, as she appeared on the beach near Alnwick, England, broken in half, following the gale which first swept her on the rocks, and then proceeded to split her in half. The poultry flock needs a yard of its own and should not be allowed to roam over the premises with cattle and hogs. Fresh sweet land is invaluable for poultry and the yard should be large enough so that the soil can be cultivated and sown to a green crop. A good grass sward can be maintained on fertile soil by having from 200 to 280 square feet of land per bird. More space is necessary on poor grassland.

The tunnel being planned from the Detroit river to the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company will permit 1,000,000,000 gallons of water to flow into the powerhouse of the Ford plant daily.

The profits are big enough the directors can usually iron out their differences without much trouble.

HERE IS THE WAY TO ATTRACT BIRDS

By planting trees and shrubs which provide shelter, protection and food for birds, we can do much to attract to our garden these welcome visitors whose colorful plumage and delightful song add so much to garden enjoyment.

There need be no sacrifice in beauty in design in order to work into the garden picture a corner of such planting. A natural path can be made with a bird bath of pleasing design set well out in the open to complete the picture. Here the permanent residents of the garden—birds—will find no fear in enemies inspiring upon them from cover too nearby.

In other portions of the grounds there may be bird houses for those that prefer a home provided by man. Some will prefer to build their nests in thorny hawthorn vines, which marauding cats will find it difficult to penetrate. Evergreens in the border will break the wind in winter for feathered friends which brave the inclement season.

Providing food through planting means a judicious use of barberries, snowballs, sumacs, elderberries, blisteberry, bush honeysuckles, mulberries and wild grapes throughout the border. In winter time when food for the birds is apt to be scarce a sanctuary for the birds could offer such trees, plants and vines as: bitter cherry, hawthorn, euonymus in variety, honeysuckles, buckthorn, sumacs, mountain ash, snowberries, hemlock and viburnums.

Trees shrubs and vines with attractive winter fruits, which birds like include: gooseberries, evergreens, Japanese barberry, flowering dogwood, hawthorn, juniper, prairie, hawthorn, flowering crab, buckthorn, sumac, mountain ash.

Trees shrubs and vines with fruits attractive to birds, but seldom lasting into winter include the spicewood, birch, blackberry, dogwood, weigela, Russian olive, sumac, honeysuckles, matrimony vine, mulberry, cherry, currant, blackberries and raspberries, elderberry, buffaloberry, nightshade, snowberry, coralberry, blueberries, viburnum, grape.

The tulip-tree, while admired for its ornamental qualities and used for its timber is not fully appreciated as a source of honey. Honey production in the tulip-tree region, which covers a wide area in the East where there are many thousands of bees but too small honey crops might be considerably improved by good management agriculturists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture believe. Among the main reasons for failure are poor wintering, inferior queens and the use of bad honey. One of the most dependable local sources of honey, the tulip-tree will supply abundant nectar, but much loss of honey occurs because the bees are not managed so well, have them ready in time to gather the nectar from this early blooming tree. In much of the tulip-tree region, particularly in the spring after normal conditions, begins between February 15 and March 1. The entrance to the picking cage should be enlarged soon after the blossoms start to open. Once started, it should progress as rapidly as possible so that the colonies will be strong at the beginning of tulip-tree bloom.

Carbon tetrachloride has been found to be the best solvent for removing stains made by oil-liver oil on non-washable materials. If the material can be washed, soap and warm water may be tried first. For very fresh stains, part of the oil may be absorbed by blotting paper, fuller's earth, brown paper or other absorbents. If the stain is old a bleaching agent may be necessary on white fabrics after using a solvent. Farmers' Bulletin 1474 on stain removal gives detailed directions for taking out stains of all kinds from fabrics.

Mrs. Arabelle Wright became the bride of J. D. Campbell, Tuesday

A simple but beautiful ceremony took place on Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock at the First Congregational church where Mrs. Arabelle Stoddard, daughter of Mr. Harry C. Stoddard, and Mr. James D. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell of Detroit, exchanged their vows in the presence of a few friends and relatives. Rev. H. Norman Jackson read the service.

Mrs. Wright was charming in a gown of beige crepe fashioned with a high waist, flaring skirt of uneven hemline, long tight sleeves and a deep shawl collar of lace. She wore a hat of matching shade and carried two roses, yellow daisies and valley lilies.

Mrs. Fred Garret of Grosse Pointe was Mrs. Wright's only attendant. She was gowned in a stunning model of rust chiffon and wore a fel hat of matching shade.

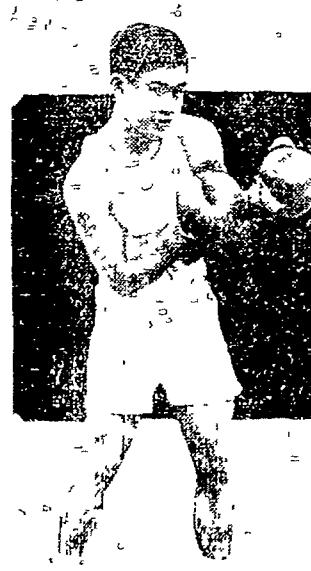

Mr. William A. Mara of Northville assisted Mr. Campbell in his mass.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Marie Kossmann of Detroit sang "At Dawnings" and during the service "Because."

A wedding dinner was served in the evening at the Book-Cadillac. Yellow and cream tulips and tall yellow tapers graced the table which places were marked for 20 guests.

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left via airplane for a wedding trip to Boston and other eastern points—Detroit Free Press

The Northville Record, March 25, 1929

Dear Editor:

The recent letters in your paper about a community or township school nurse, written by School Inspector Roberts and the reply made by Mrs. Harry for the P. T. A., have been read by the writer and discussed by a considerable number of men who like himself are old-timers taxpayers and fathers of children actually attending school in Northville schools at the present time.

To run a mudry we have been amazed at the ignorance, if not shortsightedness exhibited by those officeholders included, who either cannot or will not see the "problem" as it really is. For some time past our health authorities locally have been indifferent or worse than that.

Health inspection that is careless or not even made no protection from the spread of disease or epidemics.

A recent report made by the U. S. Public Health Service shows that elementary school children lose their personal time on average of their school days because of respiratory and other infectious diseases—mainly all of which need not have occurred.

A competent nurse would be able to observe the probable measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and other disease symptoms and act promptly while the "infantilized patient" or teacher would think it "just a cold."

A school absenteeism is to be curtailed, competitive health supervision of all pupils must be instituted. Such supervision is essential to the economic conduct of

APPROACHES TO VILLAGE SHOULD FIRST BE MADE ATTRACTIVE TO VISITORS

Northville the Beautiful
(By Ruth Mellow)

The stranger who anticipates the real beauty of our town by the impression he receives on a motorcar, must be made to know that the incoming visitors are preparing him for the welcome and attractive surroundings he may enjoy as he winds his way over well paved streets past beautiful lawns and comfortable homes; modern places of business will now and then a little part nestled under shady trees and dotted with various colored flowers.

In my judgment the approach on the Seven Mile road from the west is the only road at present that indicates any progress or beauty or lends an atmosphere of the beautiful. From the curve in the road just west of the factory buildings, one can see new homes to the north and east with the background of stately pines, with here and there a tiny pool of clear, sparkling water.

The approach to Northville on the Seven Mile road is most uninviting indeed. It would lower the road under the railroad tracks. There is ample grade for this improvement. I would widen the road from that point into Northville and remove all commercial signs entirely. I would beautify the remaining space between the paved road and tracks with shrubs and trees.

Regarding the construction of the Eight Mile superhighway through our city, I am greatly in favor of joining the new double drive at Yerkes corner, going over the present railroad bridge and swinging off again near the curve and following the creek in a westerly fashion to North Center street, continuing westerly skirting the root hills back of the present row of houses and emerging again near the corner of the Eight Mile road and Taft's corner. This road would thus pass through a bit of natural scenery and could be beautiful even more with trees and ornamental shrubs. The long wooded slopes of Buchner's hill may always remain as nature made them. What a bit of rugged grandeur they proclaim when viewed from a beautiful road at the end of the base.

I would improve Northville's disgrace. That mosquito infested drainage breeding, slimy green, ugly looking and vile smelling hole—the old mud pond. I would hold a dam at the proper point thus backing the water to a decent depth that would give an unbroke surface. Cut the weeds and rush out the interior and keep it clean. If the raising of the water encroached on private property, an agreement could easily be reached to the benefit acquired through an seeking a place to have a rest or a phone would select this quiet place. The drive leading from Fairbank avenue to Burial Hill cemetery could be cleaned up along the sides; thus giving strangers a better impression of Northville.

These and other small improvements would make Northville a much more beautiful place.

Making a New Northville
(By Essie Nindert)

Northville is a very pretty little town, but there are many things that could be done to make it more beautiful.

Northville would be more beautiful if all the lawns were mowed and the streets kept clean.

The dam could be fixed on Fairbrook street and the old barns torn down that are no use.

Lastly I would ask all who wish to contribute such nature in all her glory to wind their way often to beautiful Benton Park.

While waiting for improvements to come, let us call ourselves of the things of nature that do not need the hand of man.

A More Beautiful City
(By Grace Angel)

I had never dreamed of making suggestions on how to make our city more beautiful. To my notion Northville is a nice little city, but of course people can always do something more to make a place better.

A great deal of responsibility rests upon the individual himself. A person can always make his home look much better by keeping grass, trees and shrubs well pruned and painted.

He should keep his house and garage painted so they look clean and tidy. Old barns should be torn down and, if necessary, new ones put in their places. The owner of vacant property could help make the place look better if he keeps the weeds pulled out.

It is the duty of the city to keep the streets cleaned, or repaired, and there are also many places in the sidewalks that could be repaired thus helping a little to better the appearance of the city. The city should also see that the many trees are trimmed, but should keep dead branches from falling on the lawns and the streets.

Northville Central park could be made much more beautiful by plant flower beds. A pretty fountain and bird bath could beautify the park, and also make a pleasant place for the birds. Some playground equipment and some tables would make people feel more like going there to have a good time.

If some of the old business places were torn down or fixed over, it would make a great deal of difference in the appearance of the city.

How much better it looked when the pond on Fairbrook avenue was full of water. The dam could be rebuilt and the water allowed to fill the pond again. There is quite a large space on the right side of the pond that could be fixed for a nice manicured ground. Some flowers would add to the beauty. Many people driving through Northville

How to Make Northville More Beautiful
(By Emma Hilsler)

When someone starts to build a house they should not leave it when it is partly built.

Northville should have a new hotel. Make it longer and bigger so that the people don't have to go to Plymouth.

A playground for the band could be built in the park.

There should be a nice lawn in front of the grade buildings.

And fill up the dump on Fairbrook and level it off and plant grass on it.

And shovel the snow off the sidewalks in winter so the snow doesn't have to go along.

In the vacant lots the weeds cut down and plant grass in it and keep it mowed.

And have a fountain in front of the high school on the corner and more shrubs.

How to Make Northville a More Beautiful Place
(By Cyrene A. Carman)

Northville is a beautiful place but the people of Northville can make it more beautiful.

Everyone should keep their lawns mowed and water them often.

Straight edges should be cut along the side of driveways.

Lots of flowers need to be planted in every yard.

The flower beds should be uniform in shape and kept free from weeds.

Arches are pretty when adorned with pretty vines.

Fresh palm makes houses look more attractive.

One poorly painted house will spoil the looks of a whole block.

It isn't always the expensive house that looks the prettiest.

A little pride with a little hard work will transform a dreadful looking place into a lovely home.

No rubbish should be allowed to soil up the sidewalk.

Keep the grass off the sidewalks.

In summer time, in winter the snow and ice so that people will fall so less trutized, but she won't down and hurt themselves.

Beautifully Northville

On Tuesday of this week Rev. William Richards called for his men's help to landscape under his direction the church house grounds.

Elmer Lee and Fred Foss with two young ladies from the senior church school class, Franklin Knight and Claude Morgan, came along and at the close of the afternoon the pastor's original idea, taken the place of other debris left over from the church housebuilding during the winter was turned into an admirable little park.

The center is a round bed supported by rocks in which the center will have variegated Radicum surrounded by variegated Erodium beddered with portulaca.

The southwest bed will be replenished with various wild woods shrubs, the world over, will be used redwood, green oak, and evergreen with willows, and arbutus.

The southwest bed will be planted with tulips and violets, and the north with crocus and primroses.

Elmer Lee and Fred Foss, with the help of the church school girls, have been working on the grounds.

Northville seems to be behind the progress so far.

Finally rampant gossip has it that nearly all the organized opposition to this progressive health measure—a full time nurse—is led by some members of the local school board and of the township board. Grasping their sincerity, many residents wonder if these officers holders are remembering that it is the taxpayers' money they are to spend in the protection of the interests of articulate voters who put them in the offices they hold. We feel that it is the duty of all the voters, if possible, to be

No women mind having lips criticized, but she won't mind any remarks about her salads.

The Fly-By-Night Stock Salesman

 OUT of the vast number of men who have in years gone by sold doubtful securities in this community, how many of them could you lay your finger on today? They are here today and away tomorrow. A large majority have left for parts unknown.

Would it not seem like better business to consult your banker before buying securities from a stranger? We have your best interests at heart, and are in position to furnish reliable information on securities, either new or old, placing you in a position to judge intelligently.

Always consult your banker. Be safe rather than sorry.
