RABBIT SHOW WILL BE HELD HERE IN FALL

State Association Asks to Use Fair Poultry Building

The annual show of the Michigan Rabbit Breeders Association will take place in Northville next October, according to information which has just been given out by members of the Northville-Wayne County Fair association. It developed that officials of the organization sometimes discussed with E. H. Fuller, director of the association the question of using the poultry display building at the fair grounds for the annual show.

At the last meeting of the fair board Mr. Fuller took it up with the organization and immediate consent was granted.

It was pointed out that the building which is now being practically re-built and enlarged will be sufficiently large for the display and that there is not a better show room in the state for a rabbit show than is provided at the Northville fair grounds.

The show will bring to Northville many hundreds of exhibitors from all parts of the state. Mr. Fuller, who has considerable knowledge of the rabbit business as well as poultry raising, declares that the rabbit industry is fast becoming an important thing in Michigan.

You will be surprised to know the number in this locality who are raising rabbits, he told the fair directors. "One breeder over near Redford few weeks ago paid $250 for one rabbit that he imported from Europe so you can get some idea of what this new fact really means."

The annual convention of the association is held at the same time as the exhibition.

FESTIVAL TO BE HELD JUNE 5 THIS YEAR

Lawn Festival of Our Lady of Victory Church to be Big Event

Tuesday evening, June 5th, is the date which is been selected for the June Lawn Festival of Our Lady of Victory church, and committees have already been selected to work out the details of what promises to be one of the most interesting events of the kind held in many a moon.

There will be a caterer's supper beginning at 7:00 o'clock. This will be held in the basement of the church and arrangements are being made to take care of at least 500 persons.

But one of the biggest and best features of all will be the parade of pets—and for this event there will be many prizes offered. Every boy and girl living anywhere near Northville is invited to bring his or her pets for this display.

During the evening there will be a street dance on the new paving in front of the church. A special orchestra will be secured to play for the dance.

The treasure chest that beautiful piece of furniture from Schrader Bros. store, filled to overflowing with surprise gifts of all kinds will be disposed of during the evening.

Father Joseph Schuler, who is working out the preliminary details for the festival, declares that it is going to be one of the big events of the year, and he is seeking the cooperation of everyone to help make it a success.

WIXOM FARMERS TO MEET MAY 9

The May meeting of the Wixom Farmers' Club will be entertained by Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Tolly at their home on Thursday, May 9th. The following program has been arranged:

Song by the club
Prayer—Rev. J. W. Tolly
Secretary's Report

Reading—Mrs. Will McCoy of South Lyon
Music—Miss Verna Bogart
Reading—Mrs. Byron Hudson of New Hudson
Music—Mrs. R. J. Banfield
Flower Fund Collection

Question—Resolved that we as citizens of the United States are neglectful of our duties—Led by Mrs. B. A. Holden, followed by John Shannon.

There will also be a speaker from MRS. R. D. STEPHENS, Secy of Wixom Farmers' Club.

Bert Hills has opened up in the rear of 515 West Main street a tenter and bumper repair shop, as well as an automobile paint and duco shop. Mr. Hills has had years of experience in the Automobile and plans to give the automobile owners of this locality excellent service.

Death Claims Dr. Snow's Sister

The many friends of Dr. L. W. Snow of Northville, will regret to learn of the death of his youngest sister, Dorothy Belle Snow, aged 23, at the home of her parents in Jackson, Michigan, Friday, April 26th.

Miss Snow was graduated with honors from the Jackson High School at the age of fifteen. The following year she entered Ypsilanti Normal School where she was stricken with influenza which terminated in a complicated kidney condition.

At the last meeting of the fair board Mr. Fuller took it up with the organization and immediate consent was granted.

It was pointed out that the building which is now being practically re-built and enlarged will be sufficiently large for the display and that there is not a better show room in the state for a rabbit show than is provided at the Northville fair grounds.

BUILDS AIRSHIP IN BACKYARD, IT FLIES IN TESTS

Craft Made by Charles Hallas Proves Up Good in Trials

Charles Hallas who resides on the Simek subdivision just off the Seven Mile road east of town has built a monoplane that in tests made at the Northville airport Tuesday afternoon proved it almost successful craft in the air.

The tests were made by F. A. Giles well known aviator and one of the fliers that dropped into the Pacific ocean in the attempted flight from California to the Hawaiian Islands. Giles came here at the request of Hallas to make the final flights for him. While no stunt was tried every kind of a test usually made by aviators was given the machine.

In view of the fact that the association has started work so early on the fair for the coming fall, there is little doubt but what it will be the biggest and best that has ever been held in Wayne county.

The tests were made by F. A. Giles well known aviator and one of the fliers that dropped into the Pacific ocean in the attempted flight from California to the Hawaiian Islands. Giles came here at the request of Hallas to make the final flights for him. While no stunt was tried every kind of a test usually made by aviators was given the machine.

He flew it up nearly 2000 feet and there was not a slip of any kind. It worked perfectly. Mr. Hallas has made the entire machine in the backyard of his house. It is of the enclosed cabin type monoplane and is equipped with a Veltie type engine and carries two passengers. There are many new features about it, one of them being the fact that the wings are of the adjustable type, an idea that Mr. Hallas has patented. He was never a flier, but worked for a time in the Stanton shops, where he secured the idea of building a machine of his own.

The treasure chest that beautiful piece of furniture from Schrader Bros. store, filled to overflowing with surprise gifts of all kinds will be disposed of during the evening.

Father Joseph Schuler, who is working out the preliminary details for the festival, declares that it is going to be one of the big events of the year, and he is seeking the cooperation of everyone to help make it a success.

WILBUR J. WERVE BUYS THE ULRICH MILK BUSINESS

An Important Business Transfer is Made on First of Month

Announcement has been made of the sale of the Ulrich creamery to Wilbur J. Werve, who for years has been in the creamery and dairy business at Wayne and Tecumseh.

The new owner has already taken possession of the business and plans to give his customers the same good service that his predecessor did.

Mr. Werve moved into the home at the farm of Mr. Ulrich and family having moved to 212 Orchard Drive.

Mr. Werve, for over seven years conducted the milk and creamery business in Wayne, and for the past year or so he has owned the milk and creamery business in Tecumseh, which he sold recently in order to purchase the Ulrich business in Northville.

Mr. Werve is located after the baggage end of the business and says he can smuggle anything you want to on this "Trip to Paris."

Harold White, navigator of the deep, who never got sea-sick in all the times he crossed the ocean says he will give his cure for seasickness if they will take this "Trip to Paris."

Merrill Sweet, agent for the steamboat line, declares that never before in the history of ocean travel, has a trip to the other side been made as cheap as this.

Ray Casterline declares that the old boat is going to be fitted up with a new deck and a new hull.

Start cultivating the shrubbery and perennial beds as soon as the ground is sufficiently dry. Do not turn the soil at great depth.

But what's the use of going out just to see some Legion gear and read the ad in today's issue of the record. That's all there is to it.

Northville folks—it's time to get aboard. Abe Barber has just secured a big supply of passports. He says he will issue them to anybody irrespective of where they plan to go after their "Trip to Paris."

Lyle Alexander is looking after the baggage end of the business and says he can smuggle anything you want to on this "Trip to Paris."

HORSE SHOW AND RACES TO BE FEATURED

Lovers of Fast and Fancy Steppers Will Like Next Fair

MISS DOROTHY BELLE SNOW condition leaving her health impaired.

Perhaps no more shining example of self-sacrifice, patience, and human endurance has been displayed than was shown by this plucky young girl knowing as she did that at any time the end might come always cheerful looking for the clouds with the silver lining and when her strength was great enough to permit her time was spent in the service of others in the work of the Congregational church, also the Girl Scouts.

She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Snow; grandfather, Mr. S. Clair Farde of Union, two brothers, Ruth R. Snow of Battle Creek and Dr. L. W. Snow of this village.

The services were conducted by Rev. Griffith at Weatherly Funeral Parlor Sunday April 28th. Interment at Cypress Cemetery.

When the Northville-Wayne County Fair association takes place next fall, horse lovers are going to have a greater part in the event than ever before. This fact became known when at the last meeting of the fair directors, the discussion showed that Harry Clark is already busy on the horse show plans, and Marvin Sloan, who has so successfully conducted the races at the fair for years, is letting no time go to waste in planning for the various racing events.

Harry Clark, who knows how to stage a horse show, states that there is a possibility that the show will be largely put on by owners of fancy steppers in the beauty. While it is not difficult to find the minded that there are an exceptionally large number of riders about the country, it would not be hard to make a top class show.

We can make a top class show we have only had some of those who are interested in the hobby but here, too, we are going to take it up with them and we will see to it that the same will satisfy everybody," stated Mr. Clark.

He said that the horse show will be held in the grounds of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association for the benefit of the fair.

He had spent his entire life here at the fair and has been a member of the association for many years.

GILBERT CLARK FALLEN DEAD--ILL BUT SHORT TIME

He Had Spent His Entire Life Here—Pythians Honor Him

GILBERT CLARK, aged 82 years, a life long resident of Northville fell dead Monday shortly after noon in the Exchange hotel, where he had gone after complaining that he was not feeling well. Mr. Clark had been about the streets all the morning, but it was not until a minute or so before he died that he made any comment about his health. Doctors were immediately called but he was dead upon their arrival. He was a paper hanger and decorator.

Mr. Clark, who was especially well known among the older residents of the community, was born on West Baseline road and had never lived anywhere else except in and around Northville. For over 40 years he was a member of the Northville Pythian lodge, and this organization, in view of his long and active membership in the lodge, honored him with a Pythian burial.

Mrs. Clark died some 20 years ago. Six children survive, Tavern Clark of Detroit, Myrlan Clark of Plymouth, Mrs. William Bangor, who resides on rural route one from Northville, Worden Clark or Breckinridge, Warren J. Clark of the same place, and Mrs. Lillian Clark of Dearborn.

Rev. William Richards officiated at the funeral, which was held Thursday afternoon from Schrader funeral home. Burial took place in Rural Hill cemetery, with members of the Pythian Lodge conducting the services at the grave.

GIVES RECORD AN OLD WEIGHT CLOCK

William Scott, owner of the second hand and antique store on South Center street, has presented to the Northville Record an old weight clock which is believed to be somewhere near 100 years old.

The clock is one of the first if its kind put out by the Seth Thomas company.

It is one of a few that

Mr. Scott picked up in a jewelry store that had been in business for many years. He has several of the same kind in his collection of old time furnishings.

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon, May 9th, at 3:00 o'clock, in the grade school building.

For this meeting the association has secured Dr. Lena Snow of the Michigan State Normal, who will speak on the subject of "Preparing the Child for the Summer Vacation."

Dr. Snow is regarded as a most interesting talker, and it is especially urged that there be a good turnout at this meeting.

A report of the Parent-Teacher association held in Lansing last week, will be made.

The officials state that there will be a general discussion and all are invited to take part in it.

There will be a meeting of the Northville friends received a call from Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Orvis, our former townsmen, who have been living in Chicago for the past year.

They are staying for a few days with relatives and friends here and will drive back via Grand Rapids, stopping also to see relatives at Grand Haven.

MAKES TESTING DEVISE FOR USE OF NEW AVIATORS

Cadillac Aircraft Worker
Has Perfected Ground
Tester

Jack Schroeder, an employee of the Cadillac Aircraft Corporation of Northville, and long an interested worker in aviation plants, has perfected what he believes to be the most complete and perfect ground training device for pilots ever devised. While it is said to be similar to the testing machines used by the U. S. Army corps, it is said to be superior to it in many ways.

The following article written by Schroeder "tells in detail" how it works:

The new device permits take-offs, landings, loops, spins, banks, and turns, all from a control stick which operates the ailerons and elevator. The rudder is operated by foot controls, which are the same as the controls of a real flying machine.

"It is powered with a light Henderson motorcycle engine and propeller. The student controls the motor by a throttle which is in the same position as that of any standard airplane."

The wind, blasts blowing back over and under the controls makes maneuvering very simple, and the student soon becomes accustomed to the wind blast, and the noise, as the entire plane is balanced when the controls move the device responds just the same as the real plane.

Taking off and landing is difficult to explain in writing, but it is the paramount feature of this device and gives all thrills of real flying with safety—with one foot on the ground, so to speak.

"Safety is rapidly approaching even in the work of training students. The air is safe for those who are wise. Of course, we hear of horrible things, but let us recall that quaint, dim period that one of our winters had dubbed 'The Turn of the Century'—the year 1900 of thereabouts—those of us who were in school at that time used to recite with immense gusto, out of our beloved McGuffey's Reader, a curious bit of verse called 'Darius Green and His Flyin' Machine'. How we used to revel in it! It was all about a silly lad who actually had the notion to fly. How perfectly ridiculous it seemed and how we would chortle with glee over his ignominious "crash" when he tried to project his weird mechanism out of the upper door of the old family horse-barn! It was all sheer fantasy to us, and just an occasion for some "good clean fun".

But none of us laugh at this now.

Darius any more. In fact, when all landmarks are obliterated from view.

This is not a dream of the future—it is a reality today. The department of commerce is now maintaining radio beacons which serve to guide the pilots over the established airways. As a matter of fact, the pilot does not even have to listen to the signals anymore. All he has to do is to look at the instrument in front of him, which automatically record the signals so as to tell him whether he is to the right or left of his course, or "on it"—and a signal from the marker beacons is flashed out as he flies over these.

Many of you who read these words will probably be traveling by air within a few years, as nonchalantly and safely as you now travel in a motor car. And those of you who are inc狂ing radio fans will not have to miss your favorite programs even while you are speeding through the clouds. You could tune them in right now, in any properly equipped airplane, when the weather is such that the pilot has no need for his radio equipment. And in the big passenger-carrying planes of the future there will doubtless be the most complete equipment enabling each passenger to enjoy the other entertainments.

Sitting comfortably in your easy chair up there in the high altitudes, you will be able to hear the impassioned pleas of the orator in any one of a hundred cities. The palpitating symphony—the side-splitting quote of a famous stage comedy, or the more, homely precepts of domestic science.

Let us imagine that, in some gigantic aircraft of the future, you are up near the outermost rim of terrestrial creation—so far from the earth's surface that you become absolutely aware of the black emptiness of interstellar space—and there, in that infinite quietude, you are listening to some marvelous orchestra down in your home city, perhaps playing the "Moonlight Sonata" of Beethoven. In such a setting as that, with only the cold moon and silent stars above, and thousands of feet of nothingness beneath, we will be reminded most forcibly, I think, of those old and fascinating myths about the music of the spheres.

Every American may feel justly proud of our past and present triumphs in the field of aeronautics. We are becoming rapidly armamented. And without the slightest idea of disparaging the invaluable means of transportation on the surface, I cannot resist the impulse to conclude this article with the lines of a living American writer, who has said: "The dust's for crawling—heaven's for flying—and therefore, we whose wings are grown, soar upward to the sun!"

ABOUT DOUBLE
PARKING OF CARSOwners Can No Longer Go and Leave Cars to Block Street.

Village officials have decided that the practice of some people in double parking, and then going away, is pointed out that double parking is permitted only as an accommodation to shoppers and business men, but that recently a number have left their cars, especially on Saturday night, double parked in this section. The streets have been marked off for the summer, and village officials believe that some place entirely out of reach and parking will be greatly benefited by the new system.

Double parking will from now on only be permitted when car owners are within easy reach of their machines. They must keep watch of their car and if they see that the driver next to the curb desires to move, then they must immediately move their car. If this rule is not closely followed, arrests for traffic violations are promised.

PASTOR PLEADS FOR GOOD WILL AND REAL EFFORT

Tells Men of Community
What the Things Are
That Count

"Look for the good in your neighbor. It is such a useless thing to scrap and gossip over little disputes with the people you come in daily contact with. There is so much that you and I can do to help one another—the time is so short for us on this old world that there isn't a minute of the day that we should waste by doing unimportant things," Dr. Thomas of St. Mark's Methodist church of Detroit, told over 100 men gathered at the Methodist church house last Thursday evening.

The event was the final meeting of the present season at the men of the church as it proved to be one of the best of the series held during the past winter.

Sherrill Amador presided as master of ceremonies, introduced by Rev. William Richards. The program followed the serving of a most elaborate meal by the ladies of the church. This is not the first time that Dr. Thomas has spoken in Northville. He is a popular talker, and he knows how to win his audience as he is speaking to. His subject was "Our Job" and he made it clear that no man could get lost in this world if he didn't have his job and did his handiwork as he should.

"Get at the right forces. That's the biggest thing. Be friendly and people will be friendly with you. Don't get the swell-head. I did one time and a real prude started came along and took it all out of me. The speaker related an incident that happened in his career, out in Colorado where he was greasing one summer or how a race fighter had come to town and sort of mussed up the fighting pastime." The general theme of the whole message "is one of good and instant attention to the things which will make you a success on your job."

SENIORS ORDER INVITATIONS, CAPS AND GOWNS

With commencement less than six weeks away, the Seniors have come to the conclusion that the invitations should be ordered. They won't be printed for perhaps two weeks, but the order should be in early. Mr. Cohn announced that all orders for invitations should be in this week.

Another important issue that has been settled by the Seniors is the caps and gowns for graduation. The Seniors measured this week, the girls by Miss Mathews, and the boys

Nine Years of Suffering Ended By New Konjola

Grateful Man Had Been a Victim of Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble Until New Medicine Relieved Him

Mrs. JOE BOCHINSKI

Konjola surely is a wonderful medicine," said Mr. Joe Bochinski, 330 Monroe Street, Saginaw. For nine years I suffered rarely for relief from stomach trouble and rheumatism. My food did not digest, gas formed and my stomach ached. Suffering followed every meal. Rheumatism settled in my legs, hips, arms and shoulders. My poor condition worried me.

"What a pleasant surprise Konjola gave me! My stomach was corrected, food digests perfectly and gas and bloating have vanished. Rheumatism has been relieved wonderfully, and I feel unusually better all over. I certainly owe a debt of gratitude to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Northville at Northville Drug Co., and by the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Advt.

Great Argument

in progress!

Come one!

Come all!

Yes, sir, that's just what is happening in the tenth grade English classes.

You see it was this way among the other ideas Mrs. Kinsey had in mind which the pupils love.

She believes debates are of great importance, so she makes her poor daughters argue.

Well, of course, the class have been chosen.

Resolved. That examinations should be abolished.

Notice what a wonderful question of great importance that is.

The first debate is to be held Thursday. So if you would like to bear some marvelous arguments

just come to the English room.

There's no admission charge.

FIFTH GRADE LUNCHÉON IS HELD ON THURSDAY

Another luncheon was held by the Carmine Girls Thursday, April 25.

There were not very many people there so there quite a lot of food left over.

Many of the students were down in their vacant periods and helped themselves to sandwiches.

The girls made over ten dollars last night, which was pretty good. What do you think of how few people came down?

Perhaps a certain percent of your

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING HELD IN THE LIBRARY

There is an adage that reads,

"Ninth grade has been entering confidence contests for next year

tests with schools like Northwestern and Detroit. This will be no woman."

Now perhaps this does apply in some cases, but in re-fering to school it certainly does not apply.

Perhaps a certain percent of your friends sit down to study.

He gets out his book in a very business-like way—a few moments of study—then—"Say, what do you think of that new car of Johnnie's?"

After your reply, perhaps a few more moments of quiet then "Say,

I just remembered—I've got to go.

But I'll be off to go.

This process of interruption goes on for perhaps a half an hour.

Then the young man goes to class and tells the teacher rapidly,

"I can't write, your old room,

I don't know what to do."

When everyone's vocabulary had been partially exhausted and had paused to draw a second breath the president took advantage of the anti-mission and suggested that the business at hand be settled.

After the wheels of legislature had been carefully oiled with a few non-choice statements, the business was quickly settled. Now the tugs for the rest of you to do is to try and find out what we decided to do.

What a pleasant surprise Konjola was, food digests perfectly and gas and bloating have vanished.

Rheumatism has been relieved wonderfully, and I feel unusually better all over. I certainly owe a debt of gratitude to Konjola."

spent two hours studying and I allowed to visit the U. of M. this day.

The state debate was held in the evening. Our debaters attended together with other students interested in speech work.

WHIMSICAL WHISPERS

Teacher: "If you have ten potatoes and have to divide them between three persons, what would you do?"

Student: "Mash them."

Teacher: "A suggestion."

A Scotchman sent his sweetheart a package of flower seeds with these directions: "Plant these now and you will have a nice bouquet for your birthday."

Oh, Tommy, how did you ever get such a black eye?"

Because I did not choose to run

The AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC IRON Has Many Advantages

THE automatic electric iron is unsurpassed in convenience for hand ironing. It is designed to give years of faithful service and make hand ironing as effortless and free from drudgery as possible. The modern electric iron is attractive as well as serviceable. Sparkling nickel, and several models in color, make it an appliance of beauty.

Automatic heat control is a feature of the utmost value. You need no longer fear overheating; when a maximum temperature is reached, an automatic switch shuts off the current. The automatic feature relieves you of all worry and does away with the need of continually disconnecting and reconnecting the plug.

GET READY FOR "TRIP TO PARIS"

Sixty prominent men of Northville will comprise the cast of characters for the "Trip to Paris," the little town is going to take on the evenings of May 9th and 10th, at the Penniman Aten theatre. From what members of the American Legion say nearly everybody in town is ready for the trip.

"There is going to be so much of it for this trip that folks will not stop laughing for weeks after."

Tickets for the "Trip" are going to be on sale in a few days. Better get yours early or you might miss the funnest excursion trip you have ever taken.

Make arrangements through any member of the Legion. They will tell you all about it and advise you just what you should take when for the "Trip to Paris."
