ROTARY AIDS TUBERCULAR TOTS IN SAN

Gives Money to Doctors
To Buy "Sunshine"
For Children

To assist in bringing a little sunshine into the lives of children suffering from tuberculosis, consisting in the William E. Maybury Sanatorium, members of the Rotary Club Monday voted $50, the money to be expended in ways Dr. Richard Sasey and Dr. Ryan of the institution think best.

It was pointed out by Edward J. Lapham, who made the motion that the expenditure he made that there are many things the little children might desire and need, that the great city of Detroit, owner of the institution, could not provide.

Detroit has provided one of the most modern and complete institutions of its kind in the world for the treatment of tuberculosis, but Northville Rotarians know that some of the things that for so long have toward brightening the tedious hours of suffering children are not provided by the city and county. It was for this reason that the appropriation was made from the Rotarian crippled children fund.

The action was taken after Dr. Sasey, who presided at the meeting Monday because of the absence of Dr. Burkart, had invited the Rotarians to visit the institution and inspect the new unit that has just been completed, and after Edward J. Langfield had called the attention of the club to the fact that because of various reasons there had been little activity during the past year on the part of the club in crippled children's work.

Mr. Langfield stated that there were probably sufficient causes why he had not been much accomplished in recent months along charitable lines and he recommended to the organization that a more energetic attitude be assumed by the club along certain lines.

The Sanatorium provides an outlet for a very great number of northward efforts and Monday's action of the Rotary club is in keeping with a policy which has prevailed in Northville since the establishment of the institution here. Its western boundary, both luncheon clubs having often contributed in time and money to make brighter for the children the dreary days of institutional treatment.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE AT ZIMMER GARAGE

Thousands of Dollars Being Spent To Improve Place

Extensive improvements are underway at Al Zimmer's Hudson-Essex garage and when they are completed the place will be as modern a garage as there is in this section. A new front to the building is being put in, with two large show windows on each side of the cement drive which is being laid from the street into the garage.

A new cement floor for the entire first floor and a steam heating plant are among the other improvements. In the past the building has been heated from the central heating plant of the Cadillac Aircraft factory.

The entire cement floor has already been laid and the work benches replaced so there will be no delay in the repair shop on work that comes to the garage.

Mr. Zimmer has moved his office and stockroom to the southeast corner of the building giving more room for display purposes. The contract for the work has been let to Alex Johnson.

In addition to the new front for the first floor of the building the owner Harry R. Granam is having the entire front repaired and repainted, making an improvement that will generally aid the appearance of that section considerably.

TEMPLARS HEAR A GOOD SERMON

The sermon by Rev. Elmer Palmer at the Farmington Baptist church before the Knights Templar was a fine and helpful presentation of the ascension and its meaning. Rev. Palmer affirmed that it was necessary for Christ to rise from the tomb and go to His Father God, in order to form a living link between humanity and the Creator. It was Christ's office to remain at the right hand of His Father to assure him that men would come, were coming and would continue to come to the heavenly mansions.

LATE IMPORTANT NEWS

Foster Vanatta, president of the Junior class of the Northville schools, and Miss Catherine Litsenberger, a member of the Senior class, have won the highest honor of the present school year by being voted the Citizenship Cup honors. Their names will be engraved upon the cup presented to the school three years ago by the Rotary club. Out of over 300 students eligible to win this distinctive honor, the vote of the student body was overwhelming in their favor.

Probably one of the most gratifying pieces of news that Northville citizens have had in many a year came today from the University Hospital, telling of the steady improvement of Louis A. Babbitt, president of the Northville State Savings bank. One week ago today his life hung in the balance. Today, his attending physicians are predicting that he will soon be home again, active among his hosts of friends and business associates.

Someone Wednesday noon threw a cigarette, but into the front seat of the sedan driven by Manager Roy Crowe of the telephone company, while he was in attendance at the Exchange club meeting. The inside of the car was badly damaged. A gall of water dashed onto the flames by some passerby saved the machine from complete destruction.

Members of the Rotary club will have as their guests Monday, American Legionnaires, Edward Mills, chairman of the program committee for Monday's meeting. The program will be of a patriotic nature.

A big police dog believed to be suffering from rabies, bit little Vincent Pringle of Randolph street, and one of the children of the Henderson family on Plymouth avenue a few days ago. It ran from here to South Lyon, where five people were bitten by the dog before it was killed. Both of the children in Northville are being treated by physicians who hope to head off possible infections from the attack by the dog. Chief Safford says he was advised by those who made an examination of the dog should after it was killed at South Lyon that it was suffering from rabies.

The Union Methodist services for Sunday will take place in the Methodist church Sunday evening, Rev. William Richards having been named to conduct the special services. All churches will unite with the Methodists for this meeting. Patriotic bodies will attend in groups. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30.

At a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association yesterday, it was decided to request the parents of all the children taking part or attending the field day meet to bring their own picnic lunches. Free milk and ice cream will be provided.

Get your news and advertising copy in early next week. Memorial day falls on Thursday, therefore the Northville Record will be published on Wednesday. All banks and retail places will be closed next Thursday.

At the Junior-Senior banquet to be held this Friday evening in the high school gymnasium, Charles LeFever will be the master; the welcoming address will be made by Foster Vanatta, the responses by Ted Witten, president of the Senior class. Supper, Mr. Atkinson and Mr. John Danner will follow the banquet.

Three times and out—that is what the Atkinson family of Novi are hoping to do. If the bad saving habits good their luck since the first of the year for and it will be good luck from now on. The third and final lottery to the family came Sunday, when George Atkinson, who was driving his new car, was run into by a high-up driver who jumped out of line in an effort to get by traffic. The driver was badly bruised and bruised. Miss Hallinan of Plymouth, and Mr. Atkinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Atkinson, his sister, Margaret, and brother were all more or less bruised and suffered sprains from shock. Two fires since the first of the year have also brought the Atkinson family considerable loss.

Margaret Potter, an employee of the Stinson Aircraft corporation and residing on Plymouth avenue, is recovering from injuries and restilling on Plymouth avenue, is recovering from injuries received a few days ago when an automobile in which she was driving to work, collided with a truck while passing through Plymouth. She was severely bruised, but her injuries are not of a dangerous nature.

Plans for Memorial Day observance have practically been completed by Commander Abe Barner and Adt. Lyle Alexander, working with other members of the organization. It is requested that all bodies that desire to march in the parade meet at the corner of Wing and Main streets at 1:15. From there the parade will go to the Penniman Allen theatre, where the program takes place. Following the Memorial program the bodies will march to the old cemetery on Cadby street to decorate the graves of fallen veterans and then over to Rural Hill cemetery.

BUYS THE ECKLES MILK BUSINESS

WM. GREGORY IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Irving J. Ulrich, in the dairy business, has purchased the Eckles milk route in Plymouth and will not only serve his old customers that he took over with the Ulrich business in that place, but will add the Eckles route to his business in Plymouth.

In serving both Northville and Plymouth he has one of the largest retail milk businesses about here.

Mothers who want their children to have sun baths on a beach or in a park playground, or whose car is suitable to the place where they are to play. An attractive sun ensemble can be made consisting of the sun suit itself, with the lower part of a soft printed cotton material and the upper section of a able net, and a matching dress which is slipped on or off as occasion requires. The little sun suit is made from an ordinary romper pattern cut away around the arm holes and neck, with very abraded legs.

Fruit whip can be made of any fruit pulp of pronounced flavor and color. Heat the pulp to dissolve the added sugar, and combine white hot wax with the stiffly beaten egg whites as to cook the eggs partially and give body to the mixture. For one cup of apricot or prune pulp allow one cup of sugar and two whites of three eggs. Whipped cream is a delicious addition to cold fruit whips.

American Legion Works Out Details of Program For Celebration

Chairman Joseph Blake of the American Legion has tentatively worked out the general program for the Fourth of July celebration that will be given in Northville this year under the direction of the Legion. The celebration will start in the morning and continue throughout the day and evening, the series of events ending with a great display of fireworks down in front of the fair grounds grandstand.

The forenoon events will be given over entirely to fun-making contests among them being a greased pig race, a three-legged race, sack race, potato and wheelbarrow contests.

There will also be contests for children under 5 years of age for girls between 5 and 8, and for boys between five and eight, in fact, the chairman has worked out a series of events for children that will keep the youngsters of this community and surrounding country busy all the forenoon. And there are going to be some real prizes for every contest.

The fat men have not been left out. There is going to be a race for fat men and Chairman Blake is expecting a large number.

In the afternoon there will be horse races and a ball game. Horse racing will start at 2:30 o'clock. The teams for the basketball contest have not yet been scheduled but they probably will be within the next two or three weeks.

In addition to all of these attractions the Legion is going to have a merry-go-round and other games, just for the children.

It is planned to secure the Northville School Community band to play for the day's program.

There is a possibility that a boxcar may be played in the evening.

MYSTERY FIRE DESTROYS AUTO IN EARLY MORN

Machine Belonging
George Locke Burns
Was New Car

One of my dearest sights Tuesday morning about 6 o'clock destroyed a new Ford roadster belonging to George Locke of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation, that was parked next to the house at West Main and Rogers streets where he lives. Flames awakened residents in the house, who called the fire department by telephone, but the fire had burned the wires.

A truck driver on his way to the Minibury Sanatorium happened along about this time and he hurried back to the fire station to get aid when the fire truck arrived. The flames had practically completed the destruction of the machine.

No one is able to explain how the car was started. The owner of the car is looking through the ruins missed one or two things from the car that could not have been destroyed by the fire and this led to the belief that possibly someone might have endeavored to drive away with the machine, and in trying to get it started without the key set it afire.

The car was insured. It was comparatively new machine, having been purchased but a few weeks ago.

MRS. OLIVIA KATOR DIES AT AGE OF 80

An old familiar friend in the person of Mrs. Olivia Kator passed away May 20th at Walled Lake. She was born in Lyonia, November 19, 1848, and after a year's illness passed away at the ripe old age of 80 years. Her Christian faith was cherished from childhood, and she died with the First Presbyterian church of Pontiac. She was also a member of the Woodmen Circle. She was married to Alfred Kator, November 4, 1874. Born to them were five children, Roy, Archie, Forrest, Ada and Iva. She also leaves two step-children, Mrs. R. B. Thompson and Elmer Kator of Northville.

The funeral services were held at the Schrader funeral parlors.

To Charles Dolph, long one of the active members of the Northville Commandery, goes the credit for having originated the idea of sending to Mr. Kator his best remaining reminders of old friendships.

The Relief Corps will meet at Mrs. Fred Simmons' Wednesday, May 29th, at 1:30 o'clock to make bouquets for Memorial Day.

Buffet lunch will be served to G. A. R. and American Legion immediate after returning from the cemetery.

The Corps will meet at 7:00 o'clock Sunday evening, May 26th, at the Legion rooms in the town hall to attend service at the Methodist church with the American Legion and Auxiliary.

SHRINE OBSERVES ITS ANNIVERSARY

A most delicious birthday dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. in Thursday, May 18th, at the Masonic temple, by Worthy Master Hazel Boyden and her officers of G. E. S. No. 77, to the Trinity Shrine, No. 44, Northville. The Shrine greatly appreciated the sentiment expressed by the presentation of the lovely birthday cake with one candle on it, the Shrine having received its charter just a year ago.

The ceremonial took place at 8 o'clock in the K of P hall. The officers in 1927 were presented. They were P. S. W. H. P. Parrot, No. 20-Detroit; P. W. S. Scott, P. W. H. P. Merrill, No. 20, P. W. H. P. Scott, No. 20 P. W. H. P. Landry, No. 33 and P. W. H. P. Anna Stafford, No. 33, all of whom are honorary members of Trinity Shrine No. 44.

After the presentation of the charter members seen candidates were initiated and given the degree of the order. The candidates being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fields of Birmingham, Mrs. Nina Todd and Miss Garlick of Belleville, Mrs. Gertrude Gordon, Mrs. Merle Hoyle and Mrs. Ruth Russell of Farmington. During the initiation the work was illustrated by lantern slides by Soi Orle Briggs, No. 20, Detroit.

After some very interesting talks by the initiating officers and candidates Shrine was closed.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1929

MEMORIAL DAY

Next Thursday Northville is keeping with the rest of the nation, will pay tribute to its soldier dead and honor veterans of our wars who have been paraded by a kind Providence to live and enjoy the blessings of a progressive and prosperous nation. Memorial Day this year marks the sixty-first year that the Grand Army of the Republic has observed the day of honor and memory of comrades who gave their lives that that nation might live.

The very fact that more than three score years have passed since General Logan issued his famous Order No. 11, creating the day, must cause us to remember that the comrades of the Grand Army who still survive must be aged men, all of them well beyond four score years. In many places the day seems to have taken on a new and different significance as a new and younger generation takes charge and carries out its own ideas of what constitutes a proper observance of the day.

But where the Grand Army is still able to carry on, or where its wishes are observed it will be conducted in the quiet and dignified manner that has ever marked its keeping of the day. This day is in memory of the vast number who gave their lives in defense of the flag and to preserve this Union.

Let us then at the appointed time gather round their sacred remains and stand the passions mount above them with the choicest flowers of springtime. Let us raise above them the dear old flag that they saved from disaster; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldiers' and sailors' widow and orphan.

"Show me," he said, "all Memorial days." Let the young give close attention to what ever may be done or said by the veterans themselves for all will be reported stored in the pages of history. "I will give them easier some day to turn young hearts to see that the saw and heard men of the Grand Army of the Republic as they marched and spoke in the day of long ago—their Memorial day."

BUX-APOFFY

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary of Northville again this year are sending pouches to raise funds for the benefit of the soldiers' wives who were wounded in France and are still confined in hospitals as the result of their injuries.

"And who can turn one of these valuing workers down? Especially when their mission is one of mercy."

A member of the local Auxiliary has given to the Record the following poem which tells most beautifully the meaning of weeping for the poppy:

No mere flower whose crimsoned petals Bloom and droop and fall Before each setting sun But more—
It typifies the blood of those Who died but yesterday Upon the shell torn fields of France It symbolizes all too well The sacrifice of those What wak the silent valleys of the deep It brings to us the word "forever" Which sleepers, lame Without a heart to stir The still, white cross Row on narrow row Which waited to be built, Whose sleep is calm, so hallowed Our lesson of the dead And glancing deeper still Within the puny, innocent soul We see those scars On their beds of pain Or typifying birth— Along the Way of Life— The feet, the hands, the blind, And I'd say with them, The widow & mother, the orphan and the wife."

A RECORD WORTH WHILE

For the sake of this important district, as well as the state of Michigan we urge in this issue a memorial worth while. Northville residents last fall helped nominate and elect City Attorney Claude H. Stevens of Highland Park to the senate. The legislature has adjourned, "ad gone home"—and a chance for the accomplishments shows the name of Senator Stevens as standing but prominently as one of the most active as well as conservative members.

He sponsored considerable legislation much of it a direct benefit as well as needed. There were eleven measures that he introduced that passed the house and senate and went with the Governor's signature become laws. The list includes:

A bill amending election law which contained amendments to present law recommended by the commission appointed by Governor Green and which also contained provisions for general registration of electors; bill revising the powers of home rule cities; bill authorizing the appointment by the Governor of a commission and similarly the present condemnation laws; bill amending the tax law so as to give tax against personal property priority over chattel mortgages; bill amending the Judicature Act so as to give probate judges the authority to prevent the undivided estates of lands in cases of will contests; bill limiting the priority of claims of mortgagees against small estates to the necessary funeral expenses; bill amending the intestate law in relation to the proportion of real estate that a widow can retain where she fails not to break her husband's will; bill amending the village incorporation act of 1895 in relation to bonds; bill amending the fourth class city incorporation act in relation to bonds; bill authorizing the creation of metropolitan districts for the purpose of water supply, sewage disposal and transportation; bill providing for selection of juries in city justice courts.

My Fountain Pen

By James Lewis Hays

I bought a self-leakable
Pen, sleek, squeakable,
Rim fire, gold tipped fountain pen.
Of all the crude implements,
Thumbscrews and ornaments,
The very worst ever invented by men!
It must be self-sufficing,
For it's surely unwilling
When I humbly offer to give it a drink,
It fills up with gumbo
And shorts like a Jumbo.
It won't write but—oh, how it seeps on the ink!
It bubbles and matters,
It gurgles and splutters.
It fills up with meanness and anger and dirt.
It loses connections,
Disjoints all its Sections,
Soaks through my vest pocket and ruins my shirt.
Oh that measty, unspeakable,
Knock-kneed, self-ekable
Ninety-nine cent fountain pen, guaranteed.
Just once let me lose it,
If it's found I'll refuse it!
A pencil? Thanks! Thanks!

CONGRESS FROM WITHIN

By
GRANT M. HUDSON, Congressman
Michigan, Sixth District

The new tariff bill in the Senate that has been before the House has met with considerable objection from both parties. It seems as if everyone wants to have their slice of protection pie and they are very selfish as to whom else should enjoy the leftovers.

Ever since the spymongers of distinction have become amateur Republians leaders have been trying to pour oil on the troubled waters. The President asked for the bill to make only limited changes over the Fordney-McCumber Act which is in present tariff law. The Ways and Means committee think that their bill when finally completed will meet with the approval of the President and his following. There is nothing ever brought before Congress, however, that reveals the true selfishness of human nature as does tariff legislation, not what is good for the nation as a whole, but what will help a particular industry or section is the ploy.

As Rep. Hawley, chairman of the Ways and Means committee says "Agriculture is entitled to a full measure of protection. It should be granted that protection on the products of each case and not on the general theory that a certain percentage of visitors is the proper solution of the problem."

Moreover we have considered that the tariff is a domestic question. This country adopted the principal of protection as a general policy under President Washington. Various parts subsequently gathered more or less to that principle, but the Republican party since 1869 has continually adhered to that principle. The result has been that we have built up the greatest country on earth from $16,000,000,000.

Lettuce and cucumber salad is a good combination. Mix two cups of cold broiled liver, one-half cup of diced cucumber and one-half cup of diced carrots with mayonnaise dressing, and serve on lettuce leaves.

TELLS NECESSITY OF CAREFULNESS
IN BUYING TIRES
Casterline, Who is Conducting Big Tire Sale Gives Good Advice

Automobile owners should give careful attention to their particular requirements for tire equipment just as they carefully consider their personal needs in the selection of cars," said C. F. Casterline, who handles the complete line of Goodyear passenger car tires at his service station at the foot of Main Street.

"Automobiles now are considered from the standpoint of convenience and are bought on that basis. Some owners use their cars for business purposes almost exclusively, others for family transportation or what have you."

Naturally the man who drives his car every day in the year will want the best of tires. For such people and for those who drive unusually far or fast and for those who demand freedom from tire trouble Goodyear has designed a special tire. With practically a double thick tread the toughest yet developed and a specially designed super-tough carcass the Double Eagle is proving the ultimate in tire requirement. It is a master tire, which will hold up under the most exacting demands and is built to outwear any tire.

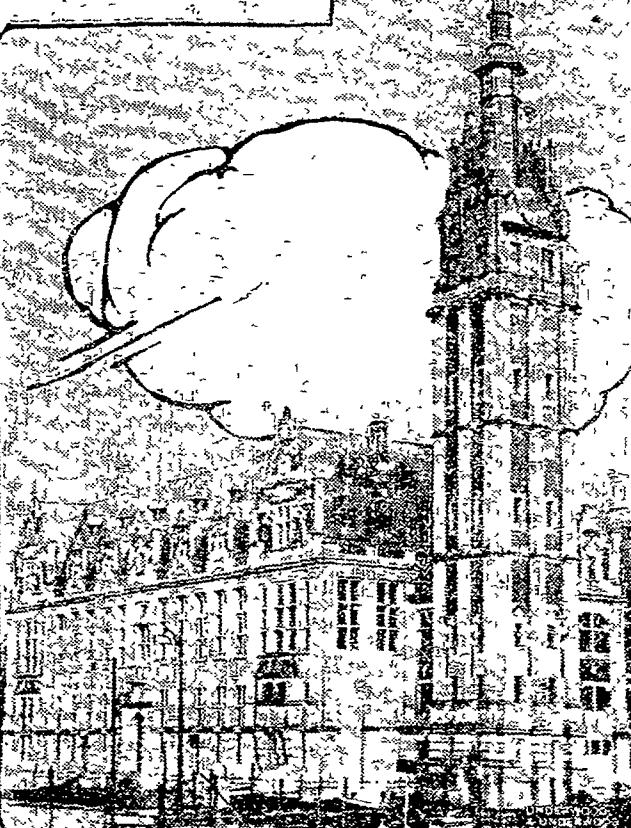

A dependable tire which Goodyear is offering to the public at its heavy duty cord. It is recommended for motorists who demand added strength and superservice from their equipment. These tires are built to stand the severe grind of rough unimproved roads and for carrying heavy loads.

For the man who wants the best standard tire on the market, the one which will give him a greater measure of service than any other comparable in price the Goodyear All-Weather has been built. This tire will meet most motoring needs. It has proved a most satisfactory tire. Pictures show a greater percentage of car owners prefer the All-Weather to any other standard tire.

For those who want an unusually good tire with a guarantee...but over-in price Goodyear has developed the Pathfinder. The tire is made in all the popular sizes, with high pressure and balloon types. This tire has many features which make it superior to many high priced tires. The Goodyear employs Goodyear's patented shock absorbing Super-tough cord. In fact our line of tires is so complete as to meet every demand of motorists at prices they want to pay. Each is a leader in its class. We invite motorists to come and inspect our line of tires and ask questions regarding them. Such a visit will not place our guests under obligation.

CUT FARMINGTON OFF GRAND RIVER

While a committee of Farmington officials and citizens are preparing to go before the State Highway Committee Monday, to urge widening of Grand River to Farmington this year, a staff of half dozen state engineers is at work surveying a possible new route for part of the cut-off road south of Grand River.

The survey is being made from Farmington road west to Grand River at the C. P. Smith property. If it is adopted, would bring the road all the way to the Lathrup orchard and through that orchard to Grand River taking a small corner of the Smith property at point. It is understood that Mr. Smith would be willing to donate that property should the route be approved for a highway.

The survey is the result of a recent offer by John Lathrup, made to state officials, to dedicate a 204-foot right-of-way through for the highway, much of the property along the route being owned by him. It also follows the route of a 20-foot drain for which surveys have been made. W. W. Lavers of the state highway department office at Plymouth, obtained plats of the Lathrup property last week.

The proposed route is viewed as likely to be chosen because of long-standing objections by C. P. Smith to the building of a road through his property, as would be necessary if the original cut-off route followed.

The new route, reports of which are to be at Lansing, it is understood, takes a northwesterly course from Farmington road, following, low ground, all the way to the Lathrup orchard and through that orchard to Grand River taking a small corner of the Smith property at point. It is understood that Mr. Smith would be willing to donate that property should the route be approved for a highway.

Following the field surveys the engineers are to make reports on the topography and other features of the land involved.

An attorney for Mr. Smith was in Farmington Wednesday and declared that Mr. Smith has not altered in any degree his vigorous opposition, and is ready to fight any attempt to cut through his property with a state highway.

Mr. Smith came out here for comfort and quiet when Grand River was a mud road," he said. "Now they want to build a highway through his land and force upon him just what he wanted to avoid."

COLLEGE DEBATE HELD IN HIGH SCHOOL

Thursday evening May 16th, Detroit College of Law debated the affirmative team upholding the affirmation, "Resolved, That the jury system be abolished" is the one that will be used in high school next year.

Stanley Barker, Marvin Hansen and Donald Plank of the Detroit Law College upheld the affirmative side, and Thomas Horn, Carl Brabec and Clinton Far of Ypsilanti supported the negative side.

By popular vote of the audience the Ypsilanti Normal College won 7-5.

Mrs. Shawley who was responsible for the debate being held here said it meant a lot to the students who were planning on taking debating next year.

After the debate dinner was served to the teams by Miss Marthews

HERBERT BERENDT WRITES

THEM ON LATIN

The assignment for Mrs. Noble's eighth grade Latin class was to write a theme explaining how Latin is beneficial to the student and to the business man in the home or in other practical everyday life.

Several excellent themes were submitted. The following is Herbert Berendt's which is one of the best:

"Latin as a Beneficial Help"

Latin in that early part of a school boy's life is not considered helpful. Probably this is because he must work to gain any credit or satisfaction. Now it has been proved that it's a help not only in school business but in the home.

In school Latin helps you in your studies. It makes it easier to read difficult material. It gives a better knowledge of the origin and use of the English language. In the Latin classroom we have the chance to learn just what we learn in English. Usually we make a poor showing in reading when one comes to an unknown word it can be defined by the very practical knowledge of Latin.

In business world one has constant use of Latin vocabulary. Business organizations and titles of names. It is well known that these

In music one always has a very delightful sounding title before you understand it. With you knowledge of practical Latin you get a higher appreciation of the value and understanding of music. All great musicians and singers under-

Some were even willing to lay bets on what they thought the job was going to be like, but also some bright souls with an enterprising head about their shoulders interviewed Mr. Gordon on the subject. Quite a few beautiful plans were shattered when the real plans were disclosed to the rest.

However, the real plans have been weight and though over half the students who find them quite satisfactory. This field will accommodate several different games that may be going on at the same time.

The grade children will have their Maypoles, etc., where they can sing to their hearts content without threatening the lives of the nursery. On one side of the field will be an indoor baseball field and a practice field for football. It has been decided to enclose the field with a wire fence which will keep the children from running in the streets. The ground between the lot and the school buildings will be sodded with grass.

Taking everything into consideration it has been decided that when the field will be complete it will take children to play in it. Everyone is waiting patiently for this event and will welcome the opening.

EDITOR DeFOE of CHARLOTTE WRITES of WONDERFUL WORK BY DR. JOHN HARVEY KELLOGG

By Muriel H. DeForde
This is the third of a series of articles by Mr. DeForde, editor of the Republican Tribune, on outstanding residents of Michigan who have definitely contributed in some way to the happiness, comfort and welfare of their own communities. The first article in the series was on F. J. Lloyd, leading mill manufacturer; the second covered the man and continuing philanthropy of Dr. John W. Blodgett of Grand Rapids, who gave his entire blood bank Hospital trust story, all too brief to do justice to the subject, has to do with the personality and remarkable service of Dr. John Harvey Kellogg of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, one of the most noted medical men in this country. Dr. DeForde plans to confine his series to ten articles, and the fourth will appear shortly and will tell the story of another distinguished son of Michigan whose public service and contributions fall clearly within the requirements as set up by the writer.

The world wears a path to the scot of the man who knows." — Emerson

No institution in Michigan, in fact anywhere, can claim for its leaders a greater degree of personal sacrifice and professional devotion than the Battle Creek Sanitarium, perhaps the best known in the world, around which any single one object within the boundaries of our commonwealth. This institution had an international reputation before the first Ford car was made, the only world competition the Sanitarium has today among Michigan products and achievements. At William Jennings Bryan's oration address in Battle Creek during the Golden Jubilee celebration of the Sanitarium in 1916, said:

And I can calculate, the city whose name has been carried to the remotest corners of our country and to all parts of the earth by this phenomenal institution, this great health building plant comprising many units, represents years of consecration to an ideal on the part of Dr. John Harvey Kellogg, its founder, and the numerous men and women who have served with him. Living on modest wages and still doing so this splendidly inspiring group of unselfish men have made possible this famous health retreat, the aim and object of which is equally set in the charter given by the state, never having sought to lay it in private and private. The great especially devotes the sum amount of their time, funds and property acquired and received by it in time to time from all sources, always in maintaining its physical, spiritual, its condition and facilities extended for hospital and nursing purposes by means of its auxiliary hospitals, laboratories and researches are entirely voluntary. Their to all of its vital purpose being undertaken, unselfishly, humanitaria, charitable, and benevolent and in no manner directly or indirectly for private profit or dividend to my private.

The whole investment with its resources is dedicated to the public welfare and as in the past the future is legally safeguarded so that no profits will accrue to the personal advantage of any individual. The largest demands upon the earnings of the institution are made by the all for constant improvements and expansion. No physician or any other person has any share in the earnings of the institution. Moderate salaries and no fees explains this great accomplishment. In addition more than $100,000.00 is expended each year in caring for those who are unable to pay for medical attention. It is noted that the time may come when much more can be done in this direction.

Early History of the "San."
Growing out of the water cure which began more than a century ago in the little mountain village of Grafenberk, in eastern Austria, the "Western Health Reform Institution" was started in the fall of 1866 by a group of men in Battle Creek, including Dr. Kellogg's father upon the same ground where the Sanitarium now stands. One hundred people gathered to celebrate the event. The institute consisted of one doctor and two patients. The enterprise prospered moderately for a few years, but its success rapidly declined with that of others of its kind, and at the end of ten years, the trustees were ready to close its doors to save further accumulation of debts. At this time in its career, Dr. Kellogg, then a recent graduate from the Bellevue Hospital College of New York, was asked to take charge of the place and consented to do so on the condition that he should be permitted to eliminate the empirical element and to reorganize the work upon a scientific basis. From that time until now, the institution has been under the present management.

Wiped Out By Fire in 1902.
On the night of February 18, 1902, occurred what at first seemed to be a very great calamity which fell with stunning effect on the ends of the enterprise. The imposing main building with the hospital and closely adjoining buildings were consumed by fire. Coming as it did in the most of a winter's night, the hardships were augmented. In a few hours the institution was, to human appearances, wiped out of existence. Over three hundred patients were in the main building through which the fire swept with great rapidity and fierce fury, but under the hand of Providence and through the calm control of attendants, every patient was removed from the building and a great loss of human life thus and a beautifully appointed top floor dining room with accommodations for a thousand guests. The dining room is of Venetian design. Large lamps filled with palms and lemons and Secondary Schools. The terms give a touch of an Italian flavor to the room. The room is large. Its function is to teach people by indirect light and how to live—first, biologically, in the customs of men, third, intellectually, for the improvement of their minds; fourth, spiritually, in order to approximate obedience to the laws of the Creator; and fifth,

Battle Creek College A Pioneer

For more than forty years the Sanitarium has been actively engaged in educational work, beginning with establish of nursing which started in 1880, one of the first schools of nursing in this country. Some twenty-five years later a school of home economics opened with a full curriculum of studies in this then new field.

After another period of pilgrimage which has shown out of the world development a school of physical education was created. All these first national conference on Race schools have since been in continuous operation and have each year graduated classes in their several professional specialties. The first exists of this country, who for the first time entered upon a serious consideration and discussion of the first directors are now to be found in all parts of this country but also in foreign countries, filling important positions in government and public health services as well as in private practice.

NORTHVILLE IS WINNER IN FIRST GAMES OF SEASON

Local Players Put Up High Class Contest In Opener

Northville defeated Plymouth in a well-played baseball game, Sunday, 6 to 5, that had lots of thrills. The crowd was rather small for an opening game. Northville has a powerful team and after the players iron out the rusty spots, it will be a smooth winning machine.

George German, Jr., after the game said for 2nd innings gave a very good account of himself this being Harry's first game. As the game progressed Plymouth developed some breaks and soon had the score. Immediately the invincible Vincent Shields was rushed to the rescue and set Plymouth down in case. The game was finely won on a long couple by George Rice, who hit a home run by Otto Star's fine start from second base on the play.

On Saturday Northville defeated Pontiac 7 to 2. The game also was credited to Vincent Shields.

The hitting of Salino Hawley and Stark featured Stark running one over the fence for a home run.

Now Sunday, May 26th, Northville goes to Gross Point for the game, and the old-timers Harry German, Sr., and the rest boys come.

On Sunday June 2nd the ancient girls West Park will come here for their game and promises to be a game for history. Decorated car Northville opens the season for "Glorification" in their new ball park. The team will appreciate a following on their roads as well as on the home grounds.

"The 1st sp. wave, early in the year, carries that invader, the green crop of the country, each night or more frequently, combined with advances were detected earlier and remedies applied sooner," says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "Green crops should be watched carefully for the earliest signs of rust, disease and pests examined early in the growing season as well as when a small sample of some standard insecticide such as Parathion can capture the pest at its earliest stage. The crop will be safe if the crop is well taken care of, and if the crop is well taken care of, the crop will be safe."

LOIS DOSSET AND EDGAR FREYD WED

Mrs. Lois Dosser, daughter of Mrs. Neta Dosser of the Garden Farms, was married Wednesday evening to Edgar Freyd of Michigan. The ceremony took place at the Dosser residence with Rev. Leon D. Bliss of the Federated church officiating.

George Guiney and family of Detroit were Sunday visitors at the local Fisher home.

The ring ceremony was used, with John Dosser acting as best man and Miss Dorothy Price attending the bride. Mrs. J. W. Kleos played the leading part in the bridal party.

Everyone had a pleasant social hour followed the ceremony, during which delicious refreshments were served by the delectables.

The young people of San Francisco snuffed after the wedding trip.

The bride is a 1928 graduate of the Garfield High School, and Mr. Freyd is employed by the Purvan Woolen Corporation.

They will make their home at the Garden Farms.

Mrs. Lois Dosser was given an elaborate shower by Miss Eleanor Fielder last week at the Garden Farms clubhouse.

A large number of the Garden Farms people were present, together with relatives and friends from San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara, and the prospective bride received a great many useful gifts.

An outstanding feature of the evening's entertainment was a "final marriage" at which the honor guest was given an opportunity to try the ceremony and see how she enjoyed it.

She acted the part of the bride, and the F. O. Pipe and Son

Warren with Mr. Rice's sister from Plymouth, had a very enjoyable time.

On last week Wednesday and Thursday, when they motored to Lansing, they visited friends, then to Alma, and spent the night with Charles Rice. They visited the old Rice home near Battle Creek where Mr. Rice resided before coming to Northville. Their return route took them through Saginaw, Flint and Pontiac. But Mr. Rice is still unable to locate the much talked of sunken hole.

The services at the Baptist church Sunday were unusual in that the outfit was supplied both morning and evening by a "strange" minister.

Health Washington D. C., reported the morning in the interest of proportion. He is in the middle of his 10th year in the same interest.

He convinced that the education of children the go of the country is not among the greatest interests of the world.

He is the author of a book on the subject, "The Education of the Child."

DAIRYMEN IN DETERMINED FIGHT FOR AID

M. F. Millard Conducting Successful Campaign For Producers

So insistent has been the fight of Martin F. Millard, owner of the old Jim Shaw farm out on the Six Mile road in behalf of the milk producers in the Detroit area that the federal government at Washington has finally recognized his efforts and there is a prospect that substantial federal aid for dairymen will be forthcoming.

It was something like two years ago when he first started out to arouse interest in his plan. His first meeting was held at Salem, the dairymen of that section being invited to be present to hear his talk and discuss with him his ideas as to how assistance for the dairy industry could be secured.

He recently declared that "If we can show 80 per cent of the producers in this area desire to go into the business of distribution our application for a loan will be considered." The $5,000,000 is only a tentative figure, but it is the one we believe, which will enable us to take over the entire business of milk distribution in Detroit.

There are 55,000 dairy cows in the Detroit production area. Their value conservatively estimated is $5,663,000. The man from the government will be based on the value of the dairy herds.

We maintain that the producer is not getting his proper share of the money which the consumer pays for his quart of milk. At 15 cents which is the average price per quart, the distributor now handling the product in Detroit take 40 cents. Detroit's milk bill runs to $70,000 a day, and one creamery at the present time is doing 30 per cent of the business.

We maintain that distribution methods by the 55 concerns engaged is wasteful making milk more expensive for the consumer than it need be and depriving the producer of a payment for his produce that might return him a profit. Milk production under existing conditions is a losing business. We believe that by the thoroughgoing co-operative method, operating the distribution system as a unit, cutting out duplications of service, we can make the price to the consumer less while making the price to the producer more."

The dairymen have been organized for several years as the Michigan Milk Producers' association. The co-operative marketing plan was a live topic with them for ten years, but after the establishment of a co-operative creamery at Adair, which is still going and is said to be successful, nothing more was undertaken. The present agitation for farm relief has revived it.

At these meetings near Detroit a petition setting forth the farmers' complaints and plans is being signed and sent to Senators James Couzens and Arthur Vandenberg, and to the Secretary of Agriculture. It was voted to hold a general rally for the whole production area in Detroit at a date to be fixed by a committee.

There is going to be a meeting Saturday evening of this week at 8:00 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Ann Arbor, and it urges all the milk producers of this section to drive over and hear in more detail the plan he has for securing government aid for one of the state's biggest industries.

To make orange ice for dessert, add 2½ cups of orange juice, 1 cup lemon juice, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and 1 egg white. Strain the fruit juices, add the sugar and salt, and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Freeze with a mixture of one part salt to four to six parts of ice. Turn the crank slowly when partly frozen and the beaten white of egg and turn until firm. Pack in ice and salt for an hour or so before serving.

Hogs weighing from 190 to 235 pounds generally command a better market price than those of lighter or heavier weights.

Annual Auction of Dogs in Virginia Town

In Fredericksburg, Va., since 1918, dogs which fall into the hands of the law, or are no longer desired by their owners may be auctioned off at the dog curb, which is an annual feature. Above is a general view of the auction.

WEST POINT PARK

The usual Pedro party given every other Saturday evening was held in Community hall last Saturday with the largest crowd that has attended present. Prizes were given by Mrs. Ross Gunn, Mrs. Fiebelkorn, Mrs. Raymond Moulton, Clarence Blumius, Ernest Ash, Carl Walk. Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Grammer.

A voice from the school, Miss Edwards, "I am afraid boys and girls that I shall have to take away your 'liberties.' Voice it ranks children here and a daughter in the coming from far and near. The Clarkson team was a fast and entertainment given in the agreeable opponent. The score was 13 to 13, in favor of West Point Park church was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Carris Hudson of Milford, was present and gave several readings Sunday we welcomed to our church, Mr. Dyer of Detroit and also his wife and three daughters. Mr. Dyer has for years been associated with church and church music.

We were much enjoyed. We are going to have some home talent in public that evening.

We were much pleased to hear his famous songs and story sermon, which delighted and inspired everyone who heard it.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hann had a pleasant trip to New York. They returned last Wednesday.

Mrs. Mansfield is suffering with a severe cold.

Thirteen girls from Pierson school ate their lunch on Edgar Smith's lawn, at Livonia Center. They played in the park on the slides and swings. The lunch was sponsored by Viola Wolfe, and in spite of the unlucky number present, everyone had an enjoyable time.

100 MILE AUTO RACE ON JUNE 9

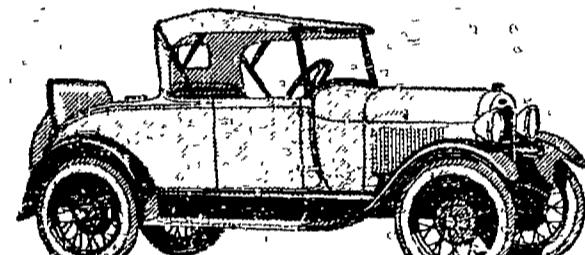

One of the biggest auto races of the year, sanctioned by the contest board of the American Automobile Association and of championship cars will be held on the mile track at the Michigan State Fair grounds, in Detroit, Sunday, June 9th. There will be a 110-mile race for championship cars that are those competing at the Indianapolis 500-mile race and a 25-mile curtain raiser for cars and drivers of Michigan Fourteen cars are to start in the big race and the entry list includes such stars as Ralph DePalma, the grand old man of sanctioned racing in this country and darling of the Italian colony, Louis Meyers who won the Indianapolis except in 1928; Cliff Woodbury, one of the stars of the present day loop, Ray Keech who won the Detroit title each last year and broke the mark at Daytona, Florida, last February, 1 on Moore, second at Indianapolis last year; Leon Duray, holder of the world's speedway mile and others of such caliber.

Larry Fisher, one of the seven brothers who have made Fisher famous in world's marks will be the referee and Cliff Duray, son of the famous car builder and financial wizard will be the starter. About 35 cars are entered of which the 14 to start will be decided by time trials, the morning of race day.

Secretary McNamara of the state fair predicts that 50,000 people will witness the race. The gates will open at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and the first of the two events will start at 9:00 p.m. All tickets will be on sale ten days before at the Detroit Auto Club, Macumber-Smith (General Motors Building), and Seadings all in Detroit.

FAMOUS AIRMAN TRIES OUT HALLAS SHIP WITH LOAD

Monoplane Made in Back-yard Flies With Extra Weight

Captain Frederick A. Giles (the British aviator who served with distinction throughout the World War and who gained national prominence in 1927 when he flew his Hess Bluebird biplane "Wanderer" across the Pacific with a distance of 5,000 miles on his way out on the ocean) completed the air tests of a seaplane recently designed and built by Charles Hallas of Northville on Monday last.

Initial tests were made at the Northville airport to determine the airworthiness and serviceability of the little monoplane when loaded, the test pilot made a number of flights carrying sandbags, gradually increasing the weight until the hundred and fifty pounds in weight was taken into the air, and just as soon as Capt. Giles was satisfied with the performance of the ship, he expressed an opinion that the Hallas ship was aerodynamically except normal as an experimental aircraft. Capt. Giles upon completion of the tests flew the sesquiplane to the Triangle Airport, Plymouth, and took along Miss Phyllis E. of Saugatuck. This engaging young blonde had the distinction of being the first lady passenger in the Hallas ship, and incidentally it was her first flight too. No discomforts were experienced.

Capt. Giles has recommended that no further passengers be carried until the ship has been polished and satisfies the demands of the Department of Commerce. The pilot remarked: "The ship is safe but safety first! The department's regulations are strict and we must work with them. The stress analysis will tell the tale." The average pilot is only qualified to express an opinion as to a ship's maneuverability and general airworthiness—it requires an engineer to determine the stress and strains on the structure. We must await the engineer's report.

Timely Tips For Northville Gardeners

DEHOCO WINS IN TIGHT GAME WITH HAMTRAMCK TEAM

Contest Was One of Those That Fans Like to Witness

Plant a little of the old-fashioned peppermint to be used as greenery in a bouquet. It not only adds much to the appearance but its alluring odor gives much pleasure.

Keep an old tin can and spoon with you while working in the garden and collect the various bugs, one of those old-fashioned games.

Apids are beginning to show di-errors and some more errors, especially on the roses. Sprinkle manure on the roses.

With a mosquito solution composed of one teaspoonful of nicotine sulphate, one gallon of water and an equal quantity of common soap. Crystals of aluminum sulphate in the surface of the soil around the roses keeps rose bugs away.

Bacneal is the best fertilizer for roses. It produces large blooms and bright healthy foliage. Use two tablespoonsfuls around each rose and dig it well into the ground.

Keep after weeds. Every weed that is allowed to seed means more weeds later on.

Many a poor job of pruning may be laid to the wrong tools.

For a lovely vine to take the place of ivy indoors, place a sound sweet potato onto the neck of a jar and submerge in water. The potato will soon sprout and produce lovely heart-shaped leaves. Keep filling in as the water goes down.

Never try to grow turnips or cabbages in the same ground two years in succession.

Gr. fruit trees planted in a row and covered with about an inch of soil will soon grow into a neat hedge.

Don't be discouraged by failures.

Keep at it and you will win out in the end.

For lovely blue blossoms, patenial flax set about a foot apart in groups of a dozen make the best display. The first year they will bloom fairly well and abundantly thereafter.

Burn all garden litter. There is always a possibility that it may harbor insect pests.

When it comes to voting every vote counts. When you pick a wildflower you are voting for their destruction.

In both formal and informal flower gardens points important in the garden design should be planted with plants good in all seasons, to hold the design of the garden while the flowers come and go.

Hardy annuals such as larkspur and sweet peas may be planted now if the work has not already been done.

Dust rambler roses with flower of sulphur to prevent mildew.

GOVERNOR AIDS IN THE MAKING OF THIS PICTURE

His Honor, Frank E. Emerson, Governor of Wyoming, along with Will Rogers, famed humorist, were not only spectators but aided considerably in the making of "Cheyenne," Ken Maynard's latest western production, which comes to the Penniman-Allen theatre, Saturday, May 25. The Governor, a typical character of the West, with his ten gallon hat and soft drawl, was helping to put over the Thirty-second Annual Frontier Days Rodeo at Cheyenne, Wyoming, when Ken and his troupe arrived in his town to use the round-up as the theme and background for their motion picture "Cheyenne." The story is one of those smart laughable mix-ups which Andrine Menjou does so well. It concerns a bumptious, friendless, nobleman who is looking for a girl with a dowry. Menjou's falling in love with a penniless, Days-Rodeo-in-Cheyenne, miles young governess.
