FESTIVAL TO BE OUTDOOR PICNIC EVENT

Parade of Pets, Dinner and Dance on Tuesday Evening

Tuesday afternoon, June 4th, at 5 o'clock begins what promises to be Northville's biggest lawn festival. The latter is going to take place in front of Our Lady of Victory church with a "cafeteria" supper service will be continued until all have been provided for.

Then comes the biggest event of all—the parade of the pets of all the children in and around Northville. For days past it is known that some of the children have been washing up their dogs and cats, combing out the matted hair, polishing up the saddles for their ponies—and it is even rumored that there are going to be some tamed wild animals in the parade.

There are a lot of real prizes offered the children. Maybe some boy or girl riding a pony might win a prize. Maybe a strange looking dog might have a chance for possibly some little girl's tabby cat might take the cake. You never can tell. There is just one way to find out and that is enter your pet in the parade.

Following the event of all events will come the street dance. The village commission has given permission for the use of the streets during the evening. It is going to be a great outdoor picnic and everybody is invited.

Through arrangements made late Wednesday the Northville School Community band has been secured to lead the parade of the children's pets. This makes the event complete in every way, with the exception of the weather—and everybody is hoping it will be a nice cool, dry evening.

GEO. HOTALING DIES SUDDENLY

Operation Fails to Save Life of Well Known Business Man

News of the sudden death of George W. Hotaling, for nearly 30 years a well known banker of Northville, last Sunday in Sessions hospital, proved a general surprise to the entire community, as it had not been generally known that he was ill in health.

He was taken suddenly ill last Friday afternoon while cutting the hair of a little girl. He finished this work and then hurried into the Ely coal office next door and asked Mrs. Ely to call a physician for him.

"I am in terrible pain. I thought I would die before I finished cutting that little girl's hair. Get a doctor as quick as you can," he urged Mrs. Ely.

He was given immediate attention and a short time later removed to Sessions hospital, where his physicians performed an operation in the hope of saving his life. The operation revealed the fact that there was no chance for his recovery and he died Sunday.

He was born August 30, 1873, in the eastern part of New York state, and spent most of his early life in Detroit. Monday Rev. William Richards officiated. Two brothers survive, one in Milwaukee and one in Cleveland. A son, Carroll, resided in Detroit with his mother.

She was born in Alfred, New York, where the body was sent for burial after the funeral services in Detroit. Monday Rev. William Richards officiated. Two children were born to the family; one a boy, 24, when 13 years of age. His parents died a number of years ago. Besides his wife and son, one sister, Mrs. Fred Moffit, also survives.

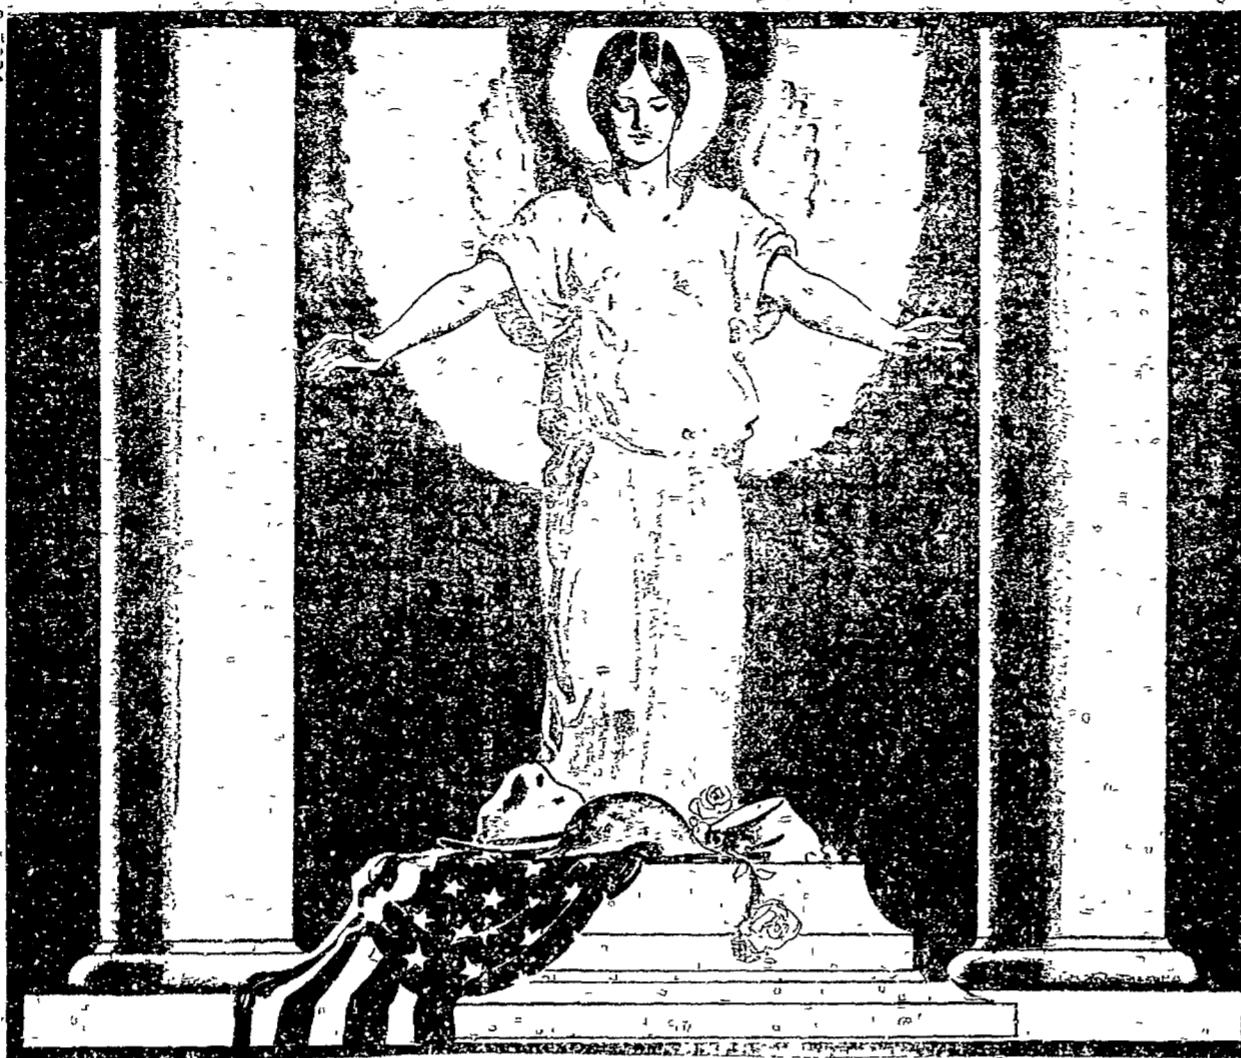

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the Schrader funeral home, Rev. Frank P. Knowles and Rev. William Richards officiating. Members of the Pythian Lodge had charge of the services. Burial took place in Rural Hill cemetery.

NEW SHIP IN TEST IS BIG SUCCESS

Like a great albatross, the first amphibian produced in the Northville plant of the Cadillac Corporation, took to the air from the Northville airport, Tuesday night, circled about in the clouds for an hour, and landed back on the field as gracefully as any sea gull ever hit the water. It was the first test of the new ship—and it was a far greater success than even the fondest expectations of its makers had hoped for. The Record will next week carry a complete story of the new product of the Cadillac Aircraft.

It is made by water containing snap fasteners on the shoulder straps of a dress slip which must be worn with dresses of different lengths will enable you to adjust the length easily at two or more levels.

BOYS ARE BETTER THAN BOYS OF THE PAST SAYS SMITH

Rotarians Hear Talk By Supt. George Smith of Plymouth

The boys of today are going to be better than the boys of yesterday. There is no question about that. We hear so much about the boys of today not being what the boys of years ago were. That's true. They're "better," declared Supt. George Smith of the Plymouth public schools in a talk Monday before members of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Smith had been invited to come to Northville by Ernest Miller, chairman of the boys' work committee of the club and to talk to the Rotarians on this subject.

His remarks followed a brief talk by Harold Hammill of Plymouth about the boy scout work in that place. He told of the recent meeting of the boy scout troops of this locality and of the necessity of some permanent camp for the boys.

He advanced as his own idea that it would be an excellent thing for Northville, Plymouth and the surrounding towns to join together in the establishment of a boy scout camp.

Mr. Smith declared that the greatest thing any Rotarian could do was to take an interest in some boy.

I was highly pleased the other day when I heard an official of Wayne county say that there had never been a boy scout in the Wayne county jail, that there had never been a scout before juvenile court of this county. The boy scout organization is a great aid in the development of better young men—better than they were in the past.

The Legion meeting as announced by Edward Mills for this week, was postponed for one week, members being invited for next Monday's meeting. The change was made due to the fact that the ladies of the church who provide the refreshments had not been advised as to the additional number expected, but this detail has now been taken care of and all arrangements made, for what promises to be one of the most interesting meetings of the present season.

"We're going to clean the place up a bit. We want the old building taken off and we want the lot cleaned up so it will look like the rest of Northville. We've been sort of ashamed of it so we are going to have the old house taken down, and the lot graded and fixed up, so it will look attractive until the time comes for us to put up our new building," said Merrill Sweet, Dr. J. H. Todd and Harold White in unison, as they walked into the Record office with their "bids wanted" ad.

It might be added that there are large numbers of big oak planks in the house, bigger than you can buy these days. See any member of the committee and tell them how much it will cost to take the old house down.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN FRIDAY, MAY 31

KIL-EM

We are surprised—surprised indeed—at the number of editors around the state who are wallowing the Governor because he vetoed the capital punishment bill. Editor Al Webster up in Cheboygan wants bandits killed and so does Editor Dave Hubble over in Croswell. Capital punishment is nothing to entice about, and when you think of its application it causes a sort of chill to run up and down your back, and you wonder after all if we are so much advanced beyond the cave man age as we profess to be. If we could collect up all the killers, gunmen and thugs of our big cities and banish them to some desolate island in the ocean as France does with its crooks, that would be more humane. But this is something not within the power of Michigan and therefore we have the clamor for capital punishment.

When we read of the brutal way some of the thugs kill off their innocent victims we are inclined to think that hanging is too good for them, but again that old eye for an eye business crops up and still we wonder if it is just the right sort of re-prisal.

The Record editor has long-advocated the idea that if the state of Michigan would pass a law making it mandatory for judges to send to prison for life every person found carrying a concealed weapon, unless legally authorized to do so by the state, crime wouldn't be so rampant as it is at present. But, of course, the gun manufacturers have more to say about a measure of this kind than do the voters. Therefore, we have no such law.

Something has got to be done to bring to an end the ruthless killings that have become almost a daily occurrence in our big cities. We have never been enthusiastic about capital punishment, but if we have got to go back to the practices of the stone age in order to protect ourselves and our homes, we might as well start now as ever otherwise.

Editor Al Webster of Cheboygan says he was disappointed over the go-arounds to the capital punishment bill, because he believed the measure was worthy of any honest and law man, and that it might have saved a lot of worthy lives at the expense of unworthy ones. He had steered himself to overlook the sentimental side after passing of the question and set our mind upon the idea that it needed a terrible inhuman example to bring to the attention of the fast growing criminal element a penalty that would cause them to hesitate before taking a life as callously as they do now. A man murdered another in Detroit this week for $100. Are the young criminals today acts upon the principle that dead men tell no tales? The governor, of course, is living proof, but he met it courageously. His reasons, or the veto, are logical, but he might have stretched a point and made it possible to rid the killers without hazarding the loss of those about whose guilt there may be a question of doubt.

Editor Dave Hubble takes a bit more of an energetic position relative to the Governor's veto. He thinks that the time has arrived for the birth of a few more Democrats in Michigan although he is a strong Republican. He berates the legislature for passing bills raising salaries and letting gunmen go without being held liable.

Meanwhile the writer of this column has also voted the Republinc ticket and probably always will, we cannot but voice the opinion that what Michigan needs right now is a lot more Democratic vote. In fact we need enough of them to make it a question which party is going to run the old machine of state. With a close division of the votes there would hardly be a possibility of an administration that seems to be a utterly worthless to the people of the state, the present encumbrance. We might have a bunch down there that could draw up a capital punishment bill that would command the respect of all in it as far as its constitutionality is concerned. The specter of six months of hard work on the part of the power 16 go to hell that would do away with some of the murderers only to have the constitutionality questioned is indeed pitiful, but don't speak very highly of the capabilities of the men who were responsible for its drafting. However, we do have men down there who can draw up a bill to relieve the situation of the men who are acting as click-paste guardians from five thousand to seven thousand horsepower and the bill will go through without a question as to its legality. It begins to appear to the average man who has to run as his road that the whole idea of the government of the great state of Michigan is to provide a good thing for the henchmen of the gang that is in power. No wonder that our tax rate is climbing by leaps and bounds while the advantages are decreasing in the same ratio. With the election results hanging in the balance there would be a tendency to put better numbers in order to carry them through. Yet we need more opposition from the Deaf and Dumb.

PROTECT OUR FORESTS

Michigan is one of the few states to observe Forest Week, this year. We have come to recognize that as an attraction to summer visitors, nothing is more valuable than the sight of growing timber. Not only is it a pleasure attractive to everyone, but it is important to our material wealth and prosperity, says Editor Kester of the Ionia County News.

Therefore it not only is important that we encourage the planting of new forests, but that we guard and protect our present wooded areas. Today we hear all other rates in forest protection, and with summer and dry weather on the way we should familiarize ourselves with a few simple rules for preventing fires in woods. Here they are:

1. Matches—Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away.

2. Tobacco—Be sure cigarette ashes or cigar stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never allow them into brush leaves or needles.

3. Making Camp—Be sure burning ash is safe away all inflammable material from a s. or firesteel in diameter. Dig a hole in the center and drop camp fire. Keep your fire small. Never build it against trees or logs or near brush.

4. Breaking Camp—Never break camp until your fire is out.

5. Brush Burning—Never burn brush in windy weather or where there is the slightest danger that the fire will get away.

6. How to Put Out a Camp Fire—Sur the coals while soaking them with water. Turn small sticks and green brush sides. Wet the ground around the fire. If you can't get water scatter dirt and tread it down until packed tight over and around the fire. Be sure the last spark is dead.

GUILTY, BY HECK!

Among the theezes whizzed and the oops quibbled by a metropolitan newspaper paragrapher, we find this pronouncement:

"A small town is one where the newspaper prints a short story about the death of one of the leading grayman's work horses."

Guilt, by heck as charged. A small town, in other words, is a town with a measure of appreciation in its heart, and jigger of affection in its soul; a place where a get me of thoughtful, unselfish service in behalf of the community is rewarded at least by a half-a-stick of type in the newspaper.

Old Dobbin, plodding down the streets, day after day, nauling Junior's first little red and the piano on which Mary began to take lessons, and the rough boxes to the cemetery, and the new parlor rug Mrs. Neighbor saved up six months to buy and the new armchair Dad got for Christmas and the things we eat and drink, and wear and use—stores and other places certainly isn't altogether outside of any legitimate definition of news when he shuffles off the equine coil and gallops out to spend,

The Lucky Farmer

By James Lewis Hays

"Oh, the lucky, lucky farmer
When the weather's fair and warmer
All he has to do is whistle
In the bright and dewy morn.
All he has to do is wander
Through the nifty fields out yonder
Whistling as he whistles
Yellow corn flakes from the corn!"

"So I said to Bill, my neighbor,
And we hired ourselves to labor
In the oat fields and the meadows
And the fields of fragrant hay.
We would join the jolly frolic
Of the merry, life bolic—
Well, listen, men and brothers,
This is all we have to say:

"Stay in town, dear friends and sisters
We'll be with you when our blisters
And our blisters and our sunburn
And our aches and sprains get well.
When the weather's fair and warmer,
Just leave farming to the farmer.
Let him whistle in the thistles
We like farming—not so well!"

Eternity in the pasture An All-Wise Creator must provide for good horses.

His down-right justness is a measure of worlds. Old Dobbin is of more importance than any number of scrobbled bandits, hucksters, gamblers, love pirates, sharpers, cut-throats, jack-rollers, thieving politicians, land-hoobahs, whose names daily occupy top columns next to reading-matter positions of the big-town papers. He's worth the importance, the apex and all the rest of the jugs of any love triangle that ever drew a banner line. He has nothing but his strength to give in the service of the community. But he gives it. All of it.

"Small town? Why certainly! Ashamed of it? Heck, no! If it were not for the small towns where would the nation get up presidents? Its captains of industry, its great teachers, great preachers and great scientists, its Lindberghs, its Edisons, its Mayos, its Mark Twains, its Melville's Stories, its John Ruskin's Heretic Hoovers and its Gatsby Coolidges? Or, for that matter, its newspaper editorial paragraphers?"

Some Old Dobbin hauled their lit-bound candleback trunks to the depot and stood and watched while Number Nine went swelling and coughing down the track, carrying them out of the small towns on their way to everlasting glory.

Old Dobbin will continue to roar an obituary paragraph as long as this nation is run by the small town folks. And it looks like that would be a long, long time—Escanaba (Mich.) Daily Press.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community and as long as I live it is my privilege to do for it whatever I can. I want to be thoroughly used up when I die, for the harder I work, the more I live. I rejoice in life for its own sake. Life is no brief candle" for me. It is a sort of splendid torch which I have got hold of for a moment and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations.—George Bernard Shaw

Short Treatment of New Medicine Ends Suffering

Grateful Man Who Had Been Ill
for Seven Years Lauds Powers of Konjola.

MR. THEO HAHN

"Now I know why so many people call Konjola the master medicine," said Mr. Theo Hahn, 500 Greenwich street, west-side, Saginaw. "I suffered for seven years from kidney and bladder troubles. There were awful pains in my back, and it was not unusual for me to have to arise 7 or 8 times every night due to bladder actions. I was as tired in the morning as when I went to bed at night."

"But things are different now, thanks to Konjola. By the time I had used four bottles my condition was as good as it ever was. My kidneys and bladder have been corrected. The back pains have vanished—I never have to get up at night any more. I enjoy sound, refreshing sleep every night and wake up in the morning well rested. I owe all this new health to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Northville at the Northville Drug Company and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section—Advt.

March 8, 1874. California was admitted as a Free State. Utah and New Mexico were allowed to settle the question of Free or Slave for themselves. Slave trade was abolished in the District of Columbia. The fugitive slave law by which all citizens were required to aid in the capture of fugitive slaves, and slaves were not allowed a trial by jury, and could not testify in their own behalf was passed.

This compromise was expected to settle the question of slavery at all stages. It hardly made a hull in the clashing of interest between Free and Slave. In 1862 Uncle Tom's Cabin was published. This book probably had a greater influence in molding opinion than all the arguments that have been advanced during the controversy.

Eight pounds of Larro Growing Mash is all it takes to turn a six-weeks-old chick into a big, husky, healthy bullet all ready for high profit production in the laying pen. It brings the birds into production at the right age, with plenty of the kind of vigor it takes to ward off common poultry ailments and stand up under heavy continued egg production.

THREE RIVERS IS TRIMMED BY THE
SPEEDY DEHOOCO

Prison Farmers Will Play
Fast Kalamazoo
Team Next

Sunday the Fairbanks Morse team of Three Rivers, Mich., went down to defeat at the hands of Detroit, by the score of 5 to 0.

It was a vastly improved team that represented the Detroit House of Correction farm, and the ragged playing that marred the game with Hamtramck was entirely eliminated and in its place was a smooth working team that furnished Rowland with excellent support.

Rowland, Dehoco's big right hander, was in good form and while shutting Three Rivers out allowed only 5 scattered hits.

Keene, who was out of the first few games with a split thumb was behind the bat and did an excellent job of catching.

Martin and Desfano, each with a single and home-run, and Jaska with 2 singles furnished the heavy artillery for the Farmers, while Spielman, the Fairbanks Morse shortstop, cutted one of Rowland's fast ones for 3 bases.

The fans who witnessed this game were well pleased at the showing the boys made and many of them remarked that they would never miss another, and we look forward to large crowds for the next two games.

Thursday "Decoration Day," the Sunoco Oil team of Jackson will visit Dehoco park and another good game is to be played for the fans.

The Depositors have been slow to return to form, but they now seem to have found themselves and this promises a bitterly fought contest next Sunday, June 2nd.

The Southfield Paper Co. team of Kalamazoo are scheduled to play at Dehoco park on that day and to say that Kalamazoo has a strong team would be putting it mildly. They are one of the best if not the best semi-pro teams in Michigan, but the Dehoco boys have gained day, and promise to again bring home the bacon. Fans who pass confidence by their showing Sunday this game are sure to regret it.

MODEL T FORDS

The Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done, economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:

Engine
Turn motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Replace valves and clean carbon	53.75 to 400
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Replace detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00

Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Replace brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebuild spring and perch	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00

Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Replace spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00

Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	3.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repair Coupe	25.00
Repair Sedan	25.00
Repair Touring Car	20.00
Repair Phaeton Runabout	8.00
Repair Phaeton Touring Car	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.60

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

Adequate lighting of Grand River avenue through the business section of Redford in connection with the widening of that street was urged by members of the Redford Retail Merchants' Association at the monthly meeting Thursday night.

COMING ATTRACTIONS
at the
PENNIMAN ALLEN

STARDOM CAME QUICK TO MISS SALLY O'NEIL

Where other young women have spent many seasons in extra ranks or in minor parts for the legitimate stage, Sally O'Neil, now being featured in "Hardboiled" at the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday June 1st, attained stardom at the very outset of her screen career in Marshall Neilan's production "Mike" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Miss O'Neil is a daughter of Neilan, who has "found" many screen celebrities. There were those who, in every similar case of sudden screen prominence looked with assurance on her possibilities for success. Whatever trepidation existed, however, was soon dispelled with the meteoric success of "Mike."

With the popularity of the picture, Miss O'Neil's own favor became thoroughly established, with motion picture patrons. While she naively deprecates her own ability by saying that "I was lucky," the fact remains that she had the fortune to make good when opportunity presented itself, and furthermore to prove her consistency by going on greater triumphs as new parts were assigned to her in various productions.

After leaving the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, Miss O'Neil began to freelance and has met with prosperous results in this difficult field.

Recently she has appeared in D. W. Griffith's "The Battle of the Sexes," "The Girl on the Barge" and numerous other features.

In "Hardboiled," she is seen in the full glory of stardom, the entire plot of the picture centering about her as a mercenary little blonde girl, who learns to love the husband whom she has married solely for his money.

Ralph Ince directed the FBO feature, the cast of which numbers Donald Reed, Clifton Webb, Bob Stump, G. M. Neff, Tom O'Grahy and Alphonzo Ester.

Arthur Somers Roche is the author of the story and Eric Highbird wrote the continuity.

MARY THRILLED AS THIS GIRL SEEKS HAPPINESS

Thrill-seeking thrill-seekers will be amply satisfied at the Penniman Allen theatre next Sunday June 2nd when the Fox Film New Year's Eve is presented.

The exciting climax of the picture is shown in an atmosphere of crackling automotives and vengeful gangsters and the first reel of this picture dealing with a girl's search for happiness is said to keep the spectators perched on the edge of their seats.

Many of the scenes were made just as they appear on the screen, with the actor, especially the leading man Charles Morton in continual motion.

A committee from the Grand River-Redford Federation of which the Retail Merchants' Association is a member has been appointed to study the widening of Grand River avenue and report at the next session of the Federation, Friday evening.

George Burt is chairman of this committee and C. L. Nevel and Asa Sherwood are members.

The merchants urge that the business section be adequately lighted from Six Mile road to Redford avenue and Lakeshore Avenue, block each side of Grand River Avenue. A plan similar to the Washington boulevard method of maintenance and installation was suggested by the storemen.

The merchants also expressed opposition to all forms of miscellaneous advertising in pocketbooks, such methods being described by members as a waste of money. The secretary of the association was instructed to notify all non-attendant members of the opposition, and draw their attention to the by-law of the association relating to this practice.

The credit bureau of the association was also discussed at the session. A regular system of collection with poor account is being undertaken by the merchants before the names of the debtors are listed in poor pay.

John Boyce was engaged as the attorney for the association, his duties being not only to make collections wherever necessary, but to provide the association with legal advice—Redford Record.

Business lighting of Grand River avenue through the business section of Redford in connection with the widening of that street was urged by members of the Redford Retail Merchants' Association at the monthly meeting Thursday night.

Aloysius Can Climb Trees

Is he long, ast or lizard? It's Aloysius, one of the famous tree climbing fish of the Ivory Coast of Africa. He came to Washington in a tin can, the captive of Alfred Eisner, chief radio operator on an ocean vessel. Eisner turned Aloysius over to Dr. William M. Gray, superintendent of the National Capital Zoo, who sold the scaly name of the creature as "petrophilous." This peculiar fish is the last of his kind ever brought to America.

PLYMOUTH FIRES

Telephone Company Decides to do Away With Long Practice

Manager Roy E. Crowe, of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. advises the Plymouth Mail that from and after July 1st, the company will discontinue giving to the general public information regarding the location of fires when alarms are sounded. This step becomes necessary because of the fact that demands from the public for information concerning fires has grown to a point where it is no longer possible for the operators to do their work and properly carry on the regular activities expected of them by the public.

Mr. Crowe explained that frequently from two to three hundred calls appear upon the switchboard immediately after the fire alarm sounds, practically all of which are from persons curious to know of the location of the fire and who often require from fifteen to twenty minutes to clear the switchboard of signals before the operators. In situations of this kind, it is impossible for the operators to determine which of the calls are urgent and should have immediate attention. It is obvious that during this interval legitimate telephone service through the exchange is seriously disrupted.

The effect upon local fire protection services must not be overlooked. Should a second fire break out while the department is attending to the first call or several outside assistance required by the local department, or a serious accident occur it would be impossible under the present conditions for the employees of the telephone company to handle the emergency. It is therefore clearly in the interest of the public welfare that the telephone company inaugurate a new policy.

On several occasions during recent months the Mail has pointed out the possibility of serious accidents and delays to the fire department resulting from the giving of numerous alarms going to fires ahead of and beyond the fire trucks. Recently a collision of our fire trucks occurred directly to this cause. This situation is one attended by constant danger, and it is hoped that discontinuance of the giving of fire information will reduce this hazard to minimum. Plymouth Mail.

BUILD RAILROAD TO HAUL GRAVEL

A railroad from New Hudson to Milford. That sounds like a financial proposition, and doubtless in these days of trucks and buses. However, one is being laid and it is the trucks and busses, and other automobile which call the railroad into being.

This particular rail line is a narrow-gauge enterprise affair and it does not really reach New Hudson but only to the New Hudson gravel pit. It is built by the Goo Co. for the purpose of hauling sand and gravel for the new structures which are being constructed here.

Coming from the pit in a northward direction across a field it heads for the east and west highway at the saw mill opposite the Edgewater house. The line follows the highway west for a short distance and takes a curve around the corner of the field to the Milford gravel road where it ends. The old road continues on the east side of the gravel road until it reaches its corner to the Marion Woods where it crosses the road, and continues north on the west side of the road. —The Milford Times.

The time to destroy grasshoppers infesting fields of alfalfa or other crops is while the pests are young. When the injury is slight and the hoppers are wingless and more easily killed. A poison-bait mixture such as the following can be used: 25 pounds of wheat bran, 1 pound of Paris green, 2 quarts of low-grade arsenic, 2 quarts of crocus-mustard oil, 3 gallons of water. In arid regions more water may be needed. Ten pounds of bran per weight should be broadcast over an acre. In California and other semi-arid regions the bait should be distributed in late afternoon or evening to insure greater effectiveness. Eggs usually hatch in the month of June.

In the early morning the young hoppers are most active and are easily taken by hand.

It is the opinion of entomologists that the best method of control is to burn the grasshoppers.

Second, there are as a result of that disenfranchisement, based upon prospective 1930 census figures, 23 misplaced seats in the House of Representatives. That is again a large margin of ugly error in our federal representation of the American people to give the House of Representatives which the Constitution expects them to have.

Third, it is not only 23 seats misplaced in the House of Representatives, but looking forward to the presidential election of 1932 it involves also 23 misplaced votes in the electoral college.

Marquette ON DISPLAY SATURDAY JUNE 1ST

A NEW SIX AT A PRICE WITHIN THE REACH OF MILLIONS

On Saturday, Buick will present the new Marquette—designed by Buick engineers and built in Buick factories. Marketed as an additional member of the Buick family, it will in no way affect Buick itself. Buick will continue to express the policies that made it the leader of the fine car field for the past quarter-century. In the smart, comfortable bodies of the Marquette you will recognize the fine hand of Fisher design. In its balance and poise you will see experienced engineering. And in performance—that final standard by which all cars are judged—you will find the Marquette leading its price class by an impressive margin. Be on hand when this eventful new car is shown Saturday. See what a remarkable new automobile Buick has produced at a price within the reach of millions.

a large population within the corporate limits of Detroit. There cities are all expanding in population and increasing very rapidly in commercial and industrial importance. Detroit's two districts are away in excess of the average density of 200,000. It is another question and needs immediate remedy. We can see no reason for anyone even being lukewarm in the matter, certainly not antagonistic.

There are those who argue Congress is too large, and unwieldy a body now, but the present bill does not call for more members, merely a reapportionment of the present membership.

The construction is clear and Congress should and must follow its mandates.

President Hoover in picking the members of the National Law Enforcement Commission could not have done it better from a geographical standpoint.

Every section of the country is represented with three members each from the East, Middle West and South and two members from the Pacific coast.

As far as can be ascertained, the commission contains however eight Republicans and three Democrats.

Our first impression was that too many lawyers had been chosen to make the commission well balanced.

Its chief duty as set forth by the President is to clear up court procedures thus paving the way for the speedy apprehension of criminals.

The inclination to look upon the personnel of the commission as either "yes" or "no" in its probabilities is debatable at the White House.

Mr. Hoover in his speech before the Associated Press in New York, when speaking of the extent of "mud, dirt, forgery and embellishment" said "only a small percentage of these can be attributed to the eighteenth amendment." Therefore, at second glance we find his choice are of the wisest nature.

The universal high esteem in which the members are held by the public will tend to make it a very powerful organization.

Mrs. G. H. Malone SPEAKS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Mr. G. H. Malone, director of Americanizing students at Highland Park for the last several years, gave a talk to the students last Wednesday. Mr. Malone, before he came to Michigan, was the president of a grain company in Iowa. His talk was very interesting because he has spent all his life in education both for himself and others.

He had a book with him concerning Americanization, which will be in the school library before long. "Think you are great, and you are great," was Mr. Malone's message to the boys and girls. "A man is just what he thinks he is." Mr. Malone also illustrated the difference between an optimist and a pessimist by the following story:

"There were two frogs who found themselves, by accident, in a can of milk. The first frog was a pessimist, 'Oh! I shall drown.' He said, and he sank deeper and deeper until he did die."

The other frog was an optimist. He too admitted it was a bad predicament, but he resolved to do what he could about it. So he kicked and kicked until he had churned the milk to cream and the cream to butter. When the can was opened they found him, alive and basking, sitting on the butter and waiting for another can of milk to jump in.

CLASS MEETINGS Senior Class

Last week on Wednesday, May 22nd the Seniors held a class meeting in Mr. Cohn's room. The meeting was called by Mr. Cohn to tell the Seniors not to come to school the next day, as it was skip day. Also, Tuesday the Seniors received their announcements and day for graduation.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior class held a meeting last week to decide about the contributions for dormitory. The committee elected consisted of Grace Augell and Margaret Barthum.

Sophomore Class

On Thursday of this week, the Sophomore class held a short meeting to try and decide about a picnic during the last week of school.

A 13-1 DEFEAT ENDS 1929 OUR BASEBALL SEASON

Northville high school ended the 1929 baseball season last Friday, May 24th, when they played against Dearborn, and was defeated 13-1, at the fair ground field.

To some of the Northville players it means just a lost game, but to Ted Watts, John Leavenworth, Harley Wölfert and Robt. Strachen it meant the last time they would play baseball in high school.

The runs of Dearborn were largely due to the numerous errors made by all members of the team.

Our team has not been so successful as they might have been, but all of the players have shown excellent sportsmanship at all times. This is a characteristic, which the Northville teams are noted for.

Having developed many new players this year, there will be sufficient material for the 1930 baseball team.

The line-up:

Northville—Tibbles, Fredenburg, LeFever, Leaventworth, Watts, Bolton, Gerend, Cavel, Johnson.

Dearborn—Anson, Plimley, Eccles, Feeneykaphy, Babin, Lucas, Hutchinson, Soper, Havenstone.

Substitutions for Northville:

For Watts, Hinckman for Bolton, For Dearborn—Parkhurst for Hutchinson, Muil for Baum.

LEAGUE TRACK MEET WILL BE HELD JUNE 8

Saturday, June 8th, the Suburban League track meet will be held at Ypsilanti on the Normal College field. All the schools of the league are entered in the meet this year. They are Dearborn, last year's champion; Plymouth Roosevelt, of Ypsilanti; Farmington, Wayne and Northville.

Dearborn is very strong again this year, having the same team that won last year's team championship.

EIGHTH GRADE WILL DEBATE AGAIN FRIDAY

The members of the eighth grade English class who won second year typewriting class, has won a gold pin in a sixty-word accuracy test. To win this honor she had to type sixty words per minute for fifteen minutes with no errors. Miss Briggs says that although Madeline is the only one thus far to gain the award, there are several close competitors.

TENTH GRADERS ARE SUCCESSFUL AS TYPISTS

Last fall typewriting was offered to tenth graders for the first time. In a recent interview Miss Briggs said: "Almost without exception the students have been very successful and have done as well as the eleventh grade types."

Miss Briggs also explained that the reason for not allowing tenth graders nine years to take typewriting was because each year a certain amount of commercial work is given each grade. Having the tenth graders take typewriting conflicts with the schedule. Another reason is that typing should be given in the eleventh and twelfth grades, so that when a student graduates he has not forgotten how to use a typewriter.

FRIDAY Miss Nielsen's fourth grade had a spell down. Helen Johnson was captain of the winning side and Robert Bray of the losers. Evelyn Ambler spelled down the room.

MRS. SHAWLEY'S EIGHT GRADE HAS DEBATE

Mrs. Shawley's section of the eighth grade debated on next year's debate question for high school debate.

They resolved that the present system should be discontinued.

They debated on Thursday, May 24th. Well, they did it again those enemy members of the negative team, comprising Seniors. This time it was George, Ethel, Richard, Sue, and Marion Johnson, plus everyone else.

Charles Dinsbury, Margaret Hay, and Bette Stage, who won from the affirmative side, composed of John Stechen, Jack Harper and Celia

Bolton, rebuttals. Wilma Rattenbury, Marcia Humphries and Mary Jane Jimod.

SCHOOL GROUNDS
GRADED AND FILLED
FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Present Much Better Appearance, More Work
To Be Done

Considerable progress has been made by school board officials in the improvement of the school grounds that were acquired a year ago by the district. The entire section lying west of the school presents a much better appearance in a much better condition than it did before the work was started. Deep depressions have been covered over and knolls cut down. It is the plan of the board to do the grading in short time. He hopes to have the entire hill made along a portion of the property on the west where it is low and make considerably more of a fill. This will be necessary as the school does not go together. Badly bruised grounds are to be leveled up and made into the ideal playgrounds. Horned cattle, and horns are often found in shops that the board hopes to create. Just what to do with the frame building that is being used for band purposes has not been decided upon. Horns can be prevented by the use of band practice and the suggestion running that it be discontinued because it has been made too large to be transported.

Then there has been some talk of moving it to the village property adjoining the cemetery, but city officials from the general discussion at the last meeting of the commissioners are not inclined to do so. This may be.

They say there is no room for it and that they do not care to have another building put on the lot especially a frame structure of the character of the building now used by the band.

The school grounds in front of the high school have been re-seeded and graded between the sidewalk and curb. The property as a whole has been graded and placed presents a much better appearance in a much better condition than it did before the work was started.

MAN IS NATURAL TRADE DECLARED CLIFF CASTERLINE

Tells of New Practice of Trade-in on Tires by Auto Owners

From the very beginning of time man has been a trader. Before he became a highly specialized man, he traded his bow and arrow for a spear. It is apparent that a man could make exceptionally good shoes so he traded a bushel of corn for a pair of shoes. This continued on an enlarged scale down the ages until our present monetary system was established.

The banking institution one that has never followed and still exists in our highly organized community of the present according to Clifford Casterline who has been in the tire business for a number of years.

He explained as to what factors are involved in the trade-in of a customer's old car for the new car.

The business is rapidly increasing in this state. We have the largest number of car dealers and manufacturers to offer a large number of cars.

Mr. Casterline said, "We don't have the same kind of car as the others, but we still have a large number of them.

In the past we have had a large number of car dealers.

Mr. Casterline said, "The fact that some car dealers are better than others is being proved in this state. The latest announcement coming is the new Firestone Balloon.

We believe that since trade-ins were looked upon with such favor we will accept tires of any make or size at a generous trade-in value in exchange for new Supreme Balloons. Many of our customers had in view that our new tire was only for west motorists. When we explained our trade-in plan and quoted figures the result was surprising.

We expect trade-ins to become more popular than ever since we've taken it out on a business basis.

HE'S ON THE JOB

Mr. Casterline said, "We have a reputation for dependability and add the decorations afterward.
