DRIVER HURT IN COLLISION DURING RACE

Several Mishaps Add to the Interest of Fair Week Events

A series of mishaps during fair week as well as some of the best races ever seen on the Northville track, added much to the general interest in the track and horse show events.

Dave Wilson, well known Detroit resident and owner of a big stock farm over near Belleville was injured Saturday afternoon, suffering a broken collar bone and cuts about the face and head when he was thrown from his horse in a race on the track in an accident on the east end of the race course. His horse Frisco J. ran back to the stable.

A horse Rosa Marie, driven by Ernie Grover and owned by Oscar Webber of Detroit was crowded too close to the fence, one wheel of the sulky coming with a post. This resulted in Grover's horse turning slightly into the track and directly into Wilson's horse.

In the collision that followed, both horses were thrown to the track and Wilson was painfully injured. Grover and the horses escaped without injury.

On the previous day, a horse named Ed Great, worthy and owned by L. E. Fitzpatrick of Alpena and entered during a match of the race, died in front of the grandstand. Fitzpatrick was not injured in the fall.

During the horse show, a number of riders were thrown, both Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mott, being among the number who went over the heads of their horses. Mrs. Mott, wife of the prominent automobile manufacturing executive, went over the wall, but both re entered the jumps, immediately and apparently were not at all injured in their falls.

POSTOFFICE HAS NEW STAMP SERIES

Historians as well as stamp collectors will be pleased to know that a new two-cent stamp will be placed on sale at the local post-office today. This stamp is a commemorative stamp as a memorial to General Anthony Wayne and also the one hundred thirty-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Fallen Timbers.

Postmistress Neal has secured a few thousand of these stamps, but the demand has been so great that the supply is very limited, and anyone who is interested in getting these stamps should get them at once.

Commemorative stamps are of value to collectors and historians as stamps of this nature are issued at only one time, thereby making them valuable in later years as well as their educational and historical value.

SENATOR SINK TO HEAD COMMISSION

Senator Charles A. Sink of Ann Arbor, who has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for lieutenant governor on the republican ticket next fall, announces that within a short time he will call a meeting of the commission which he is chairman for the purpose of studying the state teachers retirement fund law with a view of making recommendations to the next legislature. Senator Sink was appointed to the position by Governor Fred W. Green.

Samuel J. Green, former governor and Webster H. Pearce, superintendent of public instruction, and after gathering information regarding the effectiveness of the law, will call the commission together.

Other members of the commission are Senator George M. Condon, Representative Fred E. McCrehan, Representative Oscar C. Hull, Detroit, and Representative W. S. Birk, Baraga.

While the law is operating satisfactorily now, indications are that the future will bring about a change whereby the payment to teachers under the plan will exceed the income.

OBITUARY

The long and painful illness of Joe Weston came peacefully to a close on Tuesday, September 17th, at his residence on Grace avenue.

Known in the community for many years, he will be missed as a highly respected citizen. He was born in Canada, April 1, 1866, and passed away at the age of 63 years. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen, as well as the Foresters, and also of the local Methodist Episcopal church.

Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. William Richards, and interment took place in Rural Hill cemetery, September 20th.

He leaves his wife, Edith; one son, Monroe; an aged mother; five brothers and four sisters to mourn his absence.

Begins 8th Year Of Ministry Here

Rev. William Richards will this year begin his eighth year as pastor of the First Methodist Church of Northville, having been returned by the general conference for another year's work in Northville. Never before in the 100 years of Northville's history has one pastor ever been requested to serve over such a long period of time. The conference was requested to send him here for three additional years but the general practice of the church made over one year's assignment impossible.

The news is not unexpected as the Rev. Richards has been a member of the conference with the united request of all Methodist church groups in Northville to return him reported a most successful year, among the biggest projects successfully completed being the new church house.

Farmington has been added to the Ann Arbor conference, Rev. H. Addey Leeson being returned here for another year. Rev. Wolfe of South Lyon, has been sent to a Detroit suburban church and Rev. Harry Pelton of Morenci assigned to the church at South Lyon. No change was made at the Plymouth church.

INGER HERD LEAVES FOR DAIRY SHOW

Northville Products to Compete in National Cattle Contest

Frank B. Inger Jr. shipped six head of cattle the early part of this week to Waterloo, Iowa, to compete in the National Dairy Exposition, October 14th to 19th.

In speaking of his cattle, Mr. Inger says that to him it is as a matter of pride. "My herd qualified at the state fair and now I am sending them west so they may be judged over two contests, the one at Waterloo, or the semi-finals, and the finals at St. Louis."

The two state champion bulls owned by Mr. Inger will make up 25 per cent of the state herd which will also compete for national honors at the show. In this class it is required that each state exhibit a herd of eight head owned by at least three or more individual owners. All of the cattle exhibited from the Inger farms have been born and raised in Northville.

WEST POINT PARK AND HAMTRAC PLAY FOR TROPHY

Tied in the Inter-County League with the powerful City of Hamtramck team, the West Point Park nine will have the final play-off Sunday afternoon at 4:00. Both teams finishing the race with the same average made it necessary for the three game play-off, two of which netted a 5-4 victory for West Point Park and a 1 to 0 victory for Hamtramck.

From all indications a large crowd is expected to see the game to be played at the Governor Green cup, and base ball fans hope to see one of the fastest games ever played on the West Point Park field.

Chief of Police Safford, aided by two special officers from the Detroit police department and officers from the sheriff's force, had no difficulty in keeping peace during the fair. Several Detroit crooks came out here, but were arrested almost upon their arrival. Four suspicious characters were picked up by the Detroit officers and taken to Detroit, but Chief Safford has not been advised if charges were placed against them.

ROUGE RIVER VALLEY TO BE MADE A PARK

County Votes Hundreds of Thousands for Improvements

A beautiful parkway from South Center street along Rouge River down to Cass Benton park, then the Rouge to the city limits of Detroit, became an assured fact Tuesday afternoon when the Wayne county board of supervisors approved the recommendation of the Wayne County Road Commission and granted an appropriation of $1,000,000 to be derived from a tax on all land to cover the cost of the purchase and improvements.

It has been known for some time that the Wayne county park commission held an opinion of a considerable portion of this land and for some time had been looking for the property of Adolph Balden being south of the fair grounds as well as the property lying between the Balden property and Cass Benton park.

The improvement will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars and to Northville it means a beautification of another natural park partly within the village limits. Supervisor Willard Ely stated that the project had the united support of both city and county members of the board.

It is known that the road commission proposes to build a beautiful boulevard with ornamental lights and the full benefit of the Rouge river system, excellently beauty the park-ways of Westchester county, New York. Work on the project will be started immediately.

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS DETROIT SPEAKER WEDNESDAY

A. W. Kruehling insurance man from Detroit was the speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Exchange club. A friend of many years of president John Kniebelsch, Mr. Kruehling consented to talk to the club members Wednesday night.

In his brief interesting talk that Mr. Kruehling made he tried to show that the phrase, "of course I can do it, if I can get away with it," has injected itself into present day business transactions. He suggested that in view of this fact that the user of today should be aware of this attitude and always be on the alert to protect himself from it.

Two members were taken into the club today, Harold Bloom of the Northville State Savings bank and Orlow Owen of the Owen and Murphy shop.

Scott Lovell was appointed a committee of one to make arrangements for the entertainment of the Plymouth Knights club at an early date. Club members felt that a get-together of this nature would do much to promote a friendly feeling between the business men of the two towns and help them become better acquainted.

Marvin Sloan, superintendent of speed of the Northville Wayne County Fair association, has announced the cup prize winners for the races held last week in connection with the fair. In addition to the cash prizes offered, many cups were given by friends of Northville and Mr. Sloan were awarded.

The cup given by Harry C. Robinson, who did such a good job at starting the races, was won by Peter Farber in the two-year-old race. The horse was owned by George Slaughter, and was driven by Neal Edman; the time being 2:20 and one-fourth.

The Governor's cup, presented by Fred W. Green for the three-year-old trot, was won by Edith Mack, owned by Veil & Davidson of Farmington. She was driven by E. Lewis, the time for the event being 2:20.

Chief of Police Safford, aided by two special officers from the Detroit police department and officers from the sheriff's force, had no difficulty in keeping peace during the fair. Several Detroit crooks came out here, but were arrested almost upon their arrival. Four suspicious characters were picked up by the Detroit officers and taken to Detroit, but Chief Safford has not been advised if charges were placed against them.

Mr. Ford's School Seat Was Made In Globe Co. Factory

Northville is going to be represented over in Mr. Henry Ford's world famous museum at Dearborn.

When Mr. Ford moved the school house he used to attend into the museum, where it will find a permanent home, possibly he didn't know that the seats in the school he attended when a youngster were made in Northville—a product of the Globe Furniture Company.

Chas. Dolph, president of the company, has given out this information, and he states that the very seat which Mr. Ford sat at and carved his name on, was manufactured in Northville.

The Globe Furniture Company is highly pleased to know that a product of the company will be in Mr. Ford's museum. There was a time when the Globe factory turned out a large number of school seats, but this was before the big companies went into consolidation.

Many See White Robin In Orchard

Did you ever see a white robin?

It is a rare coloring for a robin—and the only one that has happened—and the one of the Ford Motor Car company's Waterford plant are now able to confirm the statement.

For several days past a white robin, white all over except its head and tail, has been living in the little apple orchard on the Ford property, just to the north of the plant. As far as known it is the first white robin ever seen in this locality and it has attracted considerable attention.

It appeared there a number of days ago and has been spending its time in the orchard. It has not migrated, before the issue of this paper, reaches you, jump in your car, drive out to the plant, park your car alongside the paving and watch for a white. You will be rewarded by seeing the only white robin that has ever been known ever stopped over in this locality.

PIONEER RESIDENT TAKEN BY DEATH

Death removed one of the oldest residents of this vicinity when Mrs. Sarah Keith passed away Wednesday evening, September 26th, at the home of her son Alex Keith in Farmington. Mrs. Keith was 85 years old, and remained active until about three weeks before her death, often going up town to shop and visit with her friends who loved the little old lady, with her basket on her arm.

Sarah Littlejohn Keith was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. She was married to Francis Mairs at the age of 24, and about two years later they and one small son came to Canada. Mr. Mairs died there about 35 years ago. About two years later she married Alexander Keith, and they moved to a farm near Walled Lake in about 1890. They lived on this and other farms for some time, later moving to Walled Lake, where Mr. Keith died in 1909. Mrs. Keith went to Farmington with her son's family about twelve years ago. Three sons—Alex Keith Farmington, James Mairs, Brocton, Mass., and William Mairs, Nov. There are also three grandchildren—Alma Keith, Showell, Stephen Keith and George Mairs, besides a brother in Scotland, and a sister in Spokane, Washington.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the home here on Alex Keith in Farmington, conducted by Rev. H. Addey Leeson of the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. Palmer of the Baptist church. Many and beautiful were the floral tributes. A loving mother and grandmother and loyal friend has passed away.

B.H. LEAVENWORTH DIES FOLLOWING A LONG ILLNESS

Prominent Resident of Novi Expires—Always Lived in Novi

Burton Harmon Leavenworth, son of John and Mary Leavenworth, was born at Novi, June 9, 1873, and departed this life, September 21, 1929, at the age of 56 years, three months and twelve days. He had lived his entire life in Novi township.

At the age of 25 he was united in marriage to Eva B. Thompson of Northville. To this union two children were born, John R. and Doris L.

For 25 years he was a member of Northville Lodge, No. 186, F. & A. M.; also a member of the I. O. O. F. of Novi from the time of their locating here.

He leaves to mourn their loss,

Northville's 1929 Fair Outranks All Previous Events—Called Best in State

REV. KNOWLES LOCATES IN GARDEN CITY

Adopts Unique Way to Say God Speed to His Many Friends

"Search the scriptures, said Jesus, they are they which testify of me."

"Pray without ceasing. Believe on the Lord, Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved, and thy house."

"Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

"Moreover, as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you."

The Lord bless and keep you; the Lord make His face shine upon you and be gracious unto you; the Lord lift up His countenance upon you and give you peace."

"Now unto Him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy; to the only wise God, our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen."

Little did the general public know when the above quotations from the Bible were published in the Record, August 2nd, under the Presbyterian church notes, that the words constituted the farewell sermon here of Rev. Frank P. Knowles, for many years pastor of the Presbyterian church in Garden City, Mich.

It was the pastor who brought them to the newspaper office and requested that they be published in the regular column used by the church for its notices.

Rev. Knowles has renewed his pastorate here and has accepted the charge of his church in Garden City, Mich., moving to his new home located north of Wayne. He has already assumed his duties there.

During the years that he served in Northville, Rev. Knowles made many friends. While of a quiet and unassuming nature, he was loved by his work and his many Northville friends with him success in his new location. Previous to coming to Northville he was pastor of the Presbyterian church in Monroe having served there for a number of years. Outside of his church activities in Northville, he has greatly interested in affairs of the Exchange club, not resigning his membership in that organization until after he had announced his plans to go to a new field.

A successor to him for the pulpit of the Presbyterian church or that of the Baptist church, which is also vacant, has not yet been selected.

Hit Of The Fair

MISS IDA ALTMAN

The hit of the fair—maybe some folks liked the horse show, the races, the ool games, other contests, whatever that happened to hit their fancy the most—but everyone liked little Miss Ida Altman as she stood on the bandstand day and evening playing the snare drum for the Northville Community School band, like the little veteran musician that she is.

Everybody had words of praise for the remarkable way this little miss could play the snare drum. The youngest player in the band and the fact that she could roll off perfect time, naturally attracted more than ordinary attention.

The little drummer has been a member of the band ever since it was organized and she has been just as faithful in attending practice sessions as most of the older children who play in the band. She never fails when it is necessary for the band to play in public. Miss Ida seems one of the children that can always be depended upon to be present when it is time to play.

She was the big hit of the fair if it is to judge by the many favorable comments heard.

ALL PLEASED WITH DISPLAY

Cold Winds Kept Crowd from the Grandstand—Hint No More Free Fairs

The 1929 Northville Wayne County fair is now history. To the credit of the local fair association and to the best of its ability, it was held without contradiction that the 1929 fair will certainly be remembered. No county in the state ever staged a fair that can rank in any way with it, except possibly in size.

Men prominent in the business life of Michigan, men who know much about fair management, the success of attending fairs all over the country, declared that never before had they ever seen anything like the 1929 Northville fair.

Held amid beautiful surroundings on a fair ground that looked more like a great park, with buildings that were all neatly painted white, rolling hills covered with bright colored, frost tanned leaves, serving as a background for the setting, it was all a beautiful sight.

Never before were there so many exhibits. Never before was there ever collected together so many head of high class stock, and never has a more intensely interesting program of events been presented than this year. The horse show, continuing over a period of three days, was a tremendously successful affair—a big event by itself. The poultry display outranked anything ever attempted in Michigan—and one of the judges said that it compared favorably with the Toronto exhibition poultry display. So crowded were the display pens that more birds had to be put in each pen than ordinarily done and even then many who brought chickens here to be entered had to be turned away.

The baby show on Wednesday, conducted under the personal direction of Mrs. Flora Larkin, had the largest number of entries of any other year. If we have a baby show next year it will be necessary for the association to provide a space twice as large as that we have been using. We cannot hold another show under similar conditions when we know that the interest is so great in the event," said Mrs. Larkin at the talk.

OBSERVE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

On Saturday, September 21st, the near relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Pratt of Detroit, put over a very unique surprise party on them the occasion being their golden wedding anniversary.

Dinner was served at the church house of the Methodist Episcopal church of Northville. The dining room and tables were decorated in gold and white. The tables were arranged to form the letter A, the bar of the A being a small table also decorated with the same colors, with a large wedding cake in the center and large gold candles at either side. The floral decorations were two baskets of yellow roses, each having twenty-five in number, one being placed on each table. Also numerous bouquets of cut flowers of the same colors were scattered about the dining room.

The couples of a four-course dinner were carried to in the same color scheme.

A purse of gold was made up by those attending, which was about 40 in number, being presented in their behalf by the couple's only son.

Relatives attending were from Chicago, Toledo, Detroit, Fowlerville, Gregory Commerce, Walled Lake and Northville.

As the close of the dinner at the church house, relatives spent the remainder of the evening at the home of Mr. Pratt's youngest sister, Miss Ida Pratt, 230 Grace avenue, Northville. After spending an enjoyable evening, all united in hoping to be able to attend a similar celebration twenty-five years hence with this couple. From their appearance of general good health and happiness after half a century of wedded bliss, it would appear that twenty-five years more will not weigh very heavily on their shoulders.

Mr. Pratt is 76 years of age and works every day in the First National bank in Detroit, and previous to that was for 25 years a mail carrier in that city. Mrs. Pratt is 75 years of age.

For a continuation of the celebration, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt returned with their son to his home in Chicago.

Baby Show Prizes

Announcement will be made in next week's Record of the baby show winners. The list is such a long one that Mrs. Larkin has not had time to prepare, it since the fair for publication, but it will be ready for next week's issue.

Mrs. Minnie C. Seloff of Detroit, was a guest over the week-end of Miss Grace Tremper.

BOOTH INJURED OVER IN ENGLAND

Cablegrams received by Roy Booth of the Booths' farm tell of the serious injuries suffered by William N. Booth vice-president of the Keeley Hayes (Wheel) company, received a few days ago while touring in England. In an automobile accident near Birmingham, England, Booth received a fractured collarbone, a fractured knee and a fractured arm and leg. It had been his plan to sail for home the day following the accident but Mrs. Booth is with him, and it will probably be at least two months before they can start. Mr. and Mrs. Booth with their daughter have been in Europe most of the summer. News of the accident came as a great surprise to their friends here. No details were given.

WEST POINT PARK

The pedro party Saturday was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor were hosts and hostesses. Prizes were given to the winners. The next gathering will be Saturday evening, October 5th. Mrs. Loud was entertained at the home of Mrs. C. Wolfe, Sunday. The boys and girls are again busy with their school work. They are organizing their ball players for the rest of the season. Many have left our school to go to either Northville or Farmington. Many of the people from here attended the Northville Fair and saw the vast improvement in the fair grounds and buildings. The committee in charge certainly deserves credit. Quite a number from West Point Park attended a pedro party at Southfield, Friday evening, at the Community building, sponsored by the S. C. A. Leroy Taggart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Taggart, was hurt Saturday afternoon, when the car which he was driving skidded on loose gravel on the Base Line road. He received several cuts, but none of them serious. The car was badly damaged. The meeting of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, O. E. S., will be held at the Masonic temple, Detroit, October 28th and 30th. Delegates will be entertained by the Detroit Chapters. Tuesday, October 28th, Delegates from Farmington chapter will be Mrs. Ethel Middlewood, Mrs. Kate Banfield and Isaac Bond. The meeting being held in Detroit this year, all members are urged to be present. Mr. and Mrs. John Hill attended the fair at Romeo, Wednesday. Gullen Brothers, who have had extensive holdings in West Point Park, have traded their interests in the development at Farmington and Section Mile roads for Detroit property. The Senior Guild of the Baptist church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Orville Taggart, last Monday evening. Sunday evening luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nacker were Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Nacker, Miss Ellen Donnelly, and Clayton Goers of Farmington and George Grace of Detroit. Mrs. S. R. Turner spent Wednesday afternoon being various points of interest in our community. Mrs. C. Wolfe attended the funeral of Mrs. Walter French, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bond at North Farmington. Mrs. French was a sister of Mr. Bond. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ault and the young couple of a baby girl Shirley Eason. Mr. and Mrs. John Mejer and daughter Elizabeth, have returned after a few days spent with relatives at Oberlin, Ohio. Martha Lord a missioner home for a fortnight from India, held the morning service September 22nd in Community church. Her text was taken from Matthew, 23:16, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all nations." The great commission was Lord gave to his disciples. Miss Lord asks among the child widows, the deserted child wives and the thrown away baby girls of India. She brought many interesting stories with her. She spoke in the church on Seven Mile road and Hemlock in the evening. William McIntosh was called to Pittsburg, Pa., by the foreman of an engineering and construction company to help rebuild some machinery and find out what the trouble was with the fable. He will be away a few weeks. The Community Club will meet with Mrs. C. Cochran, Wednesday, October 2nd. The P. T. A. will meet the same evening. Mrs. Bond was entertained by Mrs. Bond. Mrs. Ella Maddux and family of Brighton and a cousin, William Reed, who recently came from Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hicks, and baby from Chattanooga, Tennessee, Miss Pearl Lely and Carrie Johnston were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Johnston, Sunday. Mrs. Maddux is the latter's mother.

Game of Polo Brought Eastward From Persia

Polo, the oldest of games played with stick and ball, was known to the ancient Persians 2,400 years ago. From the dusty plains of Persia, the game spread eastward through the Vale of Cashmere, on to the plateau of Tibet, where it was christened polo from the Tibetan word polo, Southeastward through the Himalayas across the high passes of the Himalayas down to the sunny plains of India, it journeyed, where, throughout the sixteenth century it was the favorite sport of the people. For 200 years after this, its records in India ceased, but it again became popular there about the middle of the Nineteenth century. Polo was first played in England in 1869 and a few years later it was adopted by other European countries, when many of its ancient rules were altered and improved. Thus, established in an English-speaking country, the game quickly crossed the Atlantic, where under clearer skies it swiftly traversed the American continent to a westward chase that did not end with the shores of the land of the sunset, but, skipping the Pacific, established itself in Samoa and other far off western islands.

Poisoned Food Vainly Set Out to Kill Rats

Recently a well-known school teacher in a Lewis (Berkeley) public school did the following experiment: He set out a family of rats in his kitchen. To get rid of the undesirable visitors, he got a supply of rat poison and spread it one night on the floor of the out house, thereafter locking the door to prevent any of his domestic animals entering and eating the food. Next morning, he found to his amazement, the untouched food, which was lying in a heap near a hand, he asked his wife if she had been to the barn, but was answered in the negative. However, on the following night he first removed the heap of chaff and put down the poisoned food as before. On the following morning, he found the rats had eaten the food, but on this occasion it was covered with a piece of old sacking which was lying in a corner of the premises. Next night the rats took their departure.

Growl Leaves at Will

After "sleep" of from 15 to 20 minutes a plant recently developed in Germany produces new leaves so sensitive to touch that if the leaves are touched, or a match lit near them they immediately wither and fall off. In about a quarter of an hour after the withered leaves have dropped off new ones grow out. The plant is a member of the mimosa family. It grows in great quantities in India, where it is cut and sold for commercial purposes. The crushed leaves are said to have a high medicinal value in healing burns. The roots of the plant are charred for gunpowder charcoal.

Tracing Words' Origin

The words check, chameleon, chess, cheque and chequer come to us through the Arabian from the Persian. The words avast, bow boom, cruise, cruiser, gybe and keel, but are reminders of England's maritime relations with the Dutch. The word finance goes right back to the Latin "finis" (end). When it first appeared in English it had the sense of a "fine" or forfeit, but its modern significance was developed in Eighteenth century France among the government's "scrip" clerks, as they were called, to whom the king delegated the duty of collecting his taxes—Exchange.

Anemia

There are many different causes of anemia. Various forms of parasites or bacteria may invade the blood and cause a destruction of the blood corpuscles. This type of anemia is seen in malaria and in certain forms of blood poisoning. In other cases of anemia the blood cells are destroyed by some poison circulating in the blood. This type of anemia is seen in lead poisoning, in tuberculosis and in bright's disease. Anemia is also produced by constant loss of blood. Such loss of blood may be due to an ulcer or to blood sucking parasites such as hook worm.

Pretty Lame Excuse

It looked as though the game warden had caught a hunter red-handed; the hunter produced his last year's license and admitted he had not obtained a new one. "But what's the idea of hunting with last year's license," asked the warden. "Well, you see," stammered the hunter, thinking fast, "I was—er—I was just shooting at the birds I missed last year, you know."—Capper's Weekly.

Sheriff Gets Orders

Some strange communications come daily to the desk of a sheriff. The following one arrived recently from a woman in a small Washington city: "Will you please go out and see how everything is in the house and how is the yard and fruit trees? Try all windows in basement, also, and let me hear about the place. I left a box in the pantry with dishes in and furniture in other rooms and left a list of all."—Portland Oregonian.

Think It Over

Don't feel alarmed because your boy thinks he is smarter than his dad. He may be right.—Capper's Weekly.

House of the Future, as Architect Sees It

The house of the future may be seen as a building designed without windows except perhaps a few small ones for the purpose of observing the visitor at the door or determining the state of the weather. The large wall space will be utilized by the architect as a means of expressing a new type of architectural beauty. Within, we shall have all the comforts we now possess plus others undreamed of. There will be illuminations containing a healthful percentage of ultraviolet light, and there will be a ventilating system supplying fresh warmed, cooled air to all parts of the home. Quiet will prevail, no matter how noisy the street may be. The smoky atmosphere of our cities does immense damage to textiles, furniture and all the trimmings and fixings of the house. The air circulated by the ventilating system can just as easily and readily be made free from dust and corrosion and properly humidified at the same time. The home will become free of the accidental variations of the weather.—Albert Parsons Sachs.

Book Collection Shows Printer's Art at Best

Among the countless millions of books on the shelves of the libraries of the British Museum are about 20 volumes containing a collection of the printer's art. They form an exhibition of books illustrating the most beautiful and expensive British and foreign printing during the last ten years. Centuries-old Chinese manuscripts and illustrated books from the monasteries of medieval Europe are exhibited in the same room as these masterpieces of post-war printing, which attracted the attention of printers whose names are famous among book collectors in the two hemispheres. Books from the leading presses of England, Scotland, the United States, France, Germany, Holland, Spain, Italy, Poland and Belgium are included in the collection. They have all been printed within the last ten years, and expert are unanimous that the art of the printer has greatly improved since the opening of the Twentieth century.

In the Same Boat

Two friends met one day and began to discuss the various events which had taken place in their lives since last they met—a year ago. "I've not done anything much at my job," said one. "I took a job as a groom, and I've not had a minute's peace since—on the go, day and night, and ordered about." "That's just how I've been treated," broke in the other. "You?" said the first surprised. "How can you be putting up with my sort of life?—you never look on as a groom!" "I will," said the other gloomily. "I took on as a brigadier!"

Mysterious Crows

Crows which talk have been found near Wexham in Natal. Their remarks are unusual. They say to the ravens of the district: "There will be no rain; you have killed your chief." They have started a first-class scandal about the death of Murchisonwayo, chief of the Menni who died of dropsy. The natives are flocking from all the surrounding districts to hear them. The key to the mystery, suggests a Natal paper, is the fact that the crows only speak when a certain head boy is present. There is nothing to prove that they have been corrupted by a Murchisonburg parrot.

Peep at Valencia

The city of Valencia is on that wonderful coast where the climate is so much more certain than that of the Italian Riviera or the French Cote d'Azur. It is curious that so many places in this district should be associated with "dessert": Valencia, and Malaga, raising, Danzig oranges, Barcelona nuts—they are all familiar to us. And Tarragona supplies a wine which does duty on many a British dinner table for port.

Cruel

Johnson never dared ask anyone to his home. His wife was unpopular with visitors. "Aren't you going to ask your friend Tompkins and his fiancée to our home?" she asked one evening. "Not much," replied the husband, who preferred to entertain his friends at restaurants. "You dislike him, don't you?" was Mrs. Johnson's next query. "A little," answered the husband, "but not enough for that."

One Thing Man Can't Make

Doctors in a Nova Scotia city remove the heart from a cat. In its place they put a rubber heart, electrically operated. The artificial heart kept up the blood circulation for several hours, during which time the cat remained alive. Of course the doctors could make a rubber heart work for a time. But a natural heart of cat or man is an engine that human genius can never duplicate or approximate.—Capper's Weekly.

IN THE HOME THAT HEATS ITSELF

Right into your own heating plant it goes, whether it be steam, hot water, vapor or hot air. No change whatever is made except removal of the grates. The whole job is done in a few hours' time, with no inconvenience to you. Once it is in, it is there to stay, for it is so simply and ruggedly made that it becomes as really permanent as the heating plant itself. The reasons for this long life are sound. The Silent Automatic is revolutionary in its simplicity. There is only one moving element, and that is rugged that there is little, if any, effect of wear. There are no blowers, no nozzles, no delicate adjustments, nothing whatever to cause trouble. Once your Silent Automatic is installed, there's only years of solid satisfaction and comfort to look forward to, and we will welcome the opportunity of proving this by giving you the testimony of thousands upon thousands of users, and showing you the complete satisfaction that many of Northville's finest homes are receiving by using the

FAIR PARAGRAPHS

Everybody knows what Phil Northville fair was the best every held by the association. He was especially pleased with the way the hundreds of exhibits were arranged, and they were from the Detroit House of Correction farms. Capt. Denniston had many displays at the fair, and his hosts of friends in Northville were sorry that an eastern trip made it impossible for him to be here. His fruits, vegetables and stock won many prizes.

Ed Fuller, the veteran chicken raiser, who through his diligent work has made the Northville poultry show the best of any in the state, stuck to the job all of last week, even though he was suffering from a severe cold most of the time. Mrs. Fuller is as proud of the Northville poultry show as the community of the fair, and it has been a long time since the fair has been so well attended. The fall ranks far and above anything else in the state. This year, through the generous aid of William H. Maybury, who gave almost his entire summer's time as well as many hundreds of good American dollars out of his pocket, the setting for the Northville poultry show won the acclaim of every fair visitor. It was a masterpiece, there is no disputing that question.

E. E. Brown of Ann Arbor, former publisher of the Record, was over Saturday. Mr. Brown, during the many years he lived in Northville was on the fair board and worked diligently to help build up the fair. He was highly pleased with the success of this year's efforts and said that there wasn't any question, but what the 1929

The Wayne County Training school played an important part in the success of the fair this year. Exhibits were entered in nearly every department from the school, and there were many first prizes won by the institution.

Did you notice that boys from the Wayne County Training school had complete charge of the stock display from that institution? The boys certainly kept the cattle display looking fine during the entire fair. Some of the Holsteins from the training school were among the prize winners.

A miniature rock garden entered in Mrs. Bert Stark's flower show attracted much attention. It was entered by Flower Acres Nursery, having been made by the young man who runs the place.

If there was anyone left in Plymouth on Plymouth day, he would be hard to find. Plymouth turned over in royal shape, and its band did its part of the program well. The Plymouth schools have a right to be proud of its band—the youngsters were not at all shy when it came to playing. Plymouth certainly displayed an interest in the fair this year, and there were a large number of entries from that place.

Mrs. Frank Harmon, who has had charge of the woman's building for 13 years, every since the fair started, was highly pleased with the exhibition this year. "Possibly we haven't got as much as we have had some other years but the quality far outranks that of any other year," stated Mrs. Harmon. The thousands of visitors thought so, too.

There was a display of stuffed birds and animals of Michigan in the poultry building that caused much favorable comment. Next year an effort is going to be made to have a display from the state at the fair.

The Northville Community School band provided the music for the fair this year. The youngsters played well and showed much improvement over last year. "Because of the fact that many of the children were entered in some of the various events at the fair, the youngsters found delight in 'rooting' for their companions."

Both the Baptist and Presbyterian ladies served meals this year and such meals. No one can complain about the amount or the quality of the meals they served.

Lots of folks around town found pleasure in having veterans from the engineering ranks, veterans from the infantry—dough boys, real ones, serve their hot dogs and hamburgers. "Fellers" like Nort Greene, Chubb Smith, Harold White, Joe Blake and Merrill Sweet, proved to be good waiters—and also dish washers. They said they got their experience in this class of work on the other side of the Atlantic.

The Northville schools were first prize winners on their exhibits this year, Plymouth being a close second.

Secretary Floyd Northrop had nothing to go—nothing at all. When he slept, where he slept and how he slept no one was able to find out. He seemed to be on the fair grounds at all hours of both day and night.

Lots of praise for the neat looking appearance of the fair this year. Everyone had a good word to say for it. Well, it paid to clean up.

Raymond Watts and Lyle Kestell, who took over a large part of the arrangements for parking cars in cooperation with the fair association, did a splendid job. They leased four big lots near the fair grounds, lighted them and then when the rush came they took excellent care of the cars. The parking charge was 25 cents. You heard no one complain this year about the parking problem. Last year, because some 50 cent and 75 cent parking charges were made, there was some complaint, but you heard none this year.

Professor Tagg of the vegetable garden department of Cornell University was a fair visitor with Prof. Starr of the same department at the Michigan State college. Prof. Tagg was amazed at the wonderful display of vegetables at the local fair. He said that many of the displays were superior to many of the displays at some of the state fairs in the east.

Lovers of fruit display are still talking about the success that Ralph Foreman made of the fruit show this year. Up to the present he has acted only as an assistant in the department, but this year he was given entire charge of the display and he made a wonderful success of it.

Ray Poppe, who had charge of the racing programs with Clyde Whitaker of Plymouth, was highly pleased with the service given him by the job printing department of the record office. He said that the program was not only one of the best looking but that it was issued one time and no justly. While talking about printing this is the first year that the Record ever had the printing of the horse show program, a 28-page book that had to be issued within 24 hours from the time the copy was delivered to the Record office. Members of the horse show committee have more than enough to report their satisfaction with the job.

Attorney Fred Curran walked off with the first prize among antique exhibits. He was awarded first premium on the display of two maps of Michigan, one of the survey made in 1825.

And again from the case prizes? That one of the deep dark secrets of the fair. The Record can't tell because they wouldn't tell the Record. Too bad, but you will have to just guess at it. Maybe the prize winners can be found so they'll tell.

Hugh Rabbit walked away with some more firsts, one was an antique poultry exhibit. We was awarded one of the cups offered by Mr. Maybury, as well as getting many of the firsts on the quality of the birds displayed. The Maybury cup was for the way his display was exhibited.

Mrs. Eda VanSycle of Fairbrook avenue, who specializes in raising Rhode Island Reds is another winner of many fair prizes. She took a number of firsts and a few seconds on the display of Rhode Island Reds she made. Her hatchery is on Fairbrook avenue just off South Center street.

The display of flowers, considering the difficult season in which they were grown, was indeed excellent. Mrs. Bert Stark who had charge of the display, was highly pleased with the number and quality of entries.

Julius Penath owner of the Watercross farm and on the Salem road, about five miles west of Northville, had a fine display of Belgian horses at the fair that attracted much attention.

It's rather risky business for a rank outsider to write anything about the great array of prize winning stock shown at the fair. Select heads from the Greiman farms, the Detroit House of Correction, the Red Rose farms, the Wayne County Training school, the Boothstock farm, the William H. Maybury sanatorium and other farms about here famous for their purebred stock attracted much attention.

Northville's horseshoe pitching team went down to defeat with the strong Plymouth team Saturday afternoon. "Stage fright" explained one senior member of the Northville team, is given as the reason for the defeat of the local players. The team comprised of Leo Wood, Harley Cole, John Nelson, Don Yerkes, Sr., and Don Yerkes, Jr., believes that under different circumstances and when five thousand people are not looking at you that they can beat the Plymouth team.

Wayne county's poor farm had numerous displays in vegetables, fruits and other farm products that proved quite a drawing card for the visitors.

Among the exhibits that caused considerable interest were the displays from the Northville and Plymouth schools.

Ray Richardson had plenty to go taking care of the grandstand seats. The job was handled in excellent shape and there were no mix-ups or long waiting in order to get a seat.

It was Prof. George Starr of the Michigan State College at East Lansing, who said the display of vegetables at the Northville fair exceeded anything he had seen in Michigan this year. Prof. Starr has visited all the county fairs held in the state, and he was sent to Northville for the purpose of seeing just what kind of a display this community had. When he said it was the best, Prof. Starr knew what he was talking about.

The Greening Nursery constructed an attractive rock garden just east of the poultry show which attracted considerable attention. It is the plan of the company to make the rock garden a permanent thing.

Under the direction of County Agent Ralph Carr, the Agricultural Extension Service of Wayne county arranged a very elaborate display showing the work being carried on in rural Wayne county.

Farmer Secrets
Agriculture is more than a trade or a business. It is primarily an art, a personal profession, a mode of life, a calling. Farming is one of the basic occupations that spring from the very roots of man's nature—from the human impulse to create something that will be real, significant and lasting. Farm and

Why wait another year to own an Eight..?

You'll be out of date
within a year without an EIGHT!

It's evident on every hand—America wants to stay in high gear.

The public knows that extra gear shifting and other engineering devices applied to a six-cylinder motor will not give the smoothness and flexibility of an eight.

The fine cars started it. Today every fine American motor car is an Eight. Now we find the same sweeping trend among cars of more moderate cost. In eight key states for the first six months of 1929, new car registrations above $1000 showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights while sixes above $1000 showed a decrease of 16 per cent.

Spurred on by an Eight-minded public, Studebaker set out two years ago to build a high-quality Eight that could be sold at moderate six-cylinder cost.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Measure it point for point and feature for feature against the best six that you know. Then remember—your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!—for Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with sixes.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE

FRANK E. WHIPPLE, Attorney-at-Law, 311 Majestic Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE—Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Jerry Corners and Emma Corners, husband and wife of the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, to Emeric Lanno and Marie Lanno, original survivors of them, which mortgage is dated the thirtieth day of July, A. D. 1923, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, in Liber 1768, on page 255 of the same, and whereas the mortgage there is due at the date hereof the sum of Three Thousand and Thirty-five Dollars ($3,035.00) to September 13th inst. and and an attorney fee as provided by law, and no suit or proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any portion thereof, and whereas said mortgage is now in default, and whereas the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statutes in such cases made and provided, notices accordingly, and that on the twenty-third day of September, A. D. 1929, at two o'clock noon Eastern Standard Time, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the southern office of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, the premises described in the mortgage, together with seven per cent interest from the date of this notice, and all legal costs allowed by law, and provided for in said mortgage, and the attorney fees said premises being situated in the City of Detroit, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, described as follows: Lot No. 156 of Grosse Pointe Highlands Annex, Subd. of the northern part of lots 2, 3, 4 and 5 of rear concession 1 of the public square known as the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, according to the plat thereof recorded in Liber 20 of Plats, Page 82, of the Register of Deeds of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, dated Detroit, Michigan, September 10, A. D. 1923.

Black Ox Always the Symbol of Misfortune

The black ox symbolizes bad luck, adversity, or trouble in general, according to an article in the Estimoteur Magazine. The black ox has long been a proverbial expression recorded already in 1356 by John Heywood. It means that one knows the meaning of sorrow and misfortune, such as having been visited by death.

The phrase alludes to the black cattle sacrificed by the ancient pagans to the infernal deities, especially to Pluto, supreme judge and lord of the underworld. White cattle were sacrificed to Jupiter.

At Rome the altar on which the black oxen were sacrificed was 20 feet below the level of the ground and was never exposed to public view, except when the sacrifices were being made. Among the Arabs the black camel is the symbol of murder and death by violence.

Defending Thirteen

One of the arguments against reforming the calendar is the cold, dense that the thirteenth of each of the thirteen months of the proposed year would fall on a Friday. One of its defenders answered this objection by saying that the United States "never great on thirteen" and incidentally on Friday.

America was discovered on a Friday, the Pilgrims landed on Friday, there were thirteen American colonies, thirteen stripes and stars on the American flag, thirteen fathers on the old American eagle's tail. The motto is "E Pluribus Unum," contains thirteen letters.

Preserve Historic Spot

Maine Daughters of the American Revolution have offered that Pennsylvania be the site in table spot in the Pine Tree state. An act of the Maine legislature made a state part of the new surrounding the fort. In all there have been four forts at Pennsylvania. The first was called Fort Mifflin, built in 1763. Fort Charles in 1777. Fort William Henry, 1757, and Fort Frederick, 1749.

It was at Pennsylvania that English people are said to have landed 13 years earlier than the Pilgrims at Plymouth, Penn., and is a part of the old town of Bristol which was named for Bristol, England.

Age Brings Penalties

The penalties of old age, it is evident are not confined to those which Brevor enumerates—gout and the stone. Loneliness must also be considered and when we call the roll of the friends of our youth and there is not a whisper in reply, then perhaps we shall feel the full burden of our years. Sir Oliver Lodge said that science had made possible the extension of life to a hundred years. If such a gift is universally bestowed, it will be well. But there are few of us, perhaps, who would accept it as a particular favor.—Exchange.

Famous Rum Quay

Rum Quay, the most jealously guarded spot in the London West India docks, is inclosed by an immense ring of iron that originally formed a covered way to the Crystal palace when that building was erected in Hyde Park in 1851, to house the great exhibition. Here, isolated behind iron doors, partitions of rum, each holding 100 gallons of spirits many degrees overproof, are laid before being rolled into the vaults which extend to the water's edge, and afford accommodation for 40,000 of these gigantic casks.

Chains of Habit

Steinbock men say "Once a riverman, always a riverman." Sailors never are immune to the lure of the sea. Railroad men like to be near the railroads, to smell the smoke and hear the trains, even after years of retirement. Newspaper men, in the same way, yearn for the smooch of printer's ink. The habits of years are not easily broken. The job that has become a part of one's life is not easily abandoned.

Doc's Secret

Faith is still the prime requisite for healing. Subconsciously you know it and you reinforce your own faith on the basis of your doctor's tones.—American Magazine.

Age Not Determined by Number of Years Lived

The following bit of philosophy, written by a contributor who signs "Author Unknown," has been received by the Detroit Free Press.

"You'll be not a time of life. It is a state of mind. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. It is a freshness of the deep springs of life. Youth means predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite for adventure over love of ease. This often exists in a boy or a twenty. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals.

"When seventy or a sixteen, there is a greater heart's ease, a joy of wonder, the imagination of life starts and the staid things and thoughts, the undisciplined challenge of events, the unfeeling child-like appetite for what next, and the 101, and the game of life. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair. In the central place of your heart there is a wireless station. As long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, gratitude, courage and power from the earth, from men, and from the infinitely, so long are you young."

Bidders Set Own Prices on Rare First Editions

There is a recent story of a man who took his old copy of "Alice in Wonderland" to a Boston bookstore to be rebound. The bookstore clerk, who recognized the book as a first edition, is reported to have told the customer that the book was worth $6,500.

The value of first editions fluctuates with the condition of the copy, and in particular with the person bidding for the volume. The first edition of "Alice in Wonderland," London, 1865, is very rare and consequently highly sought by collectors. Its value is approximately $3,500. A preservation copy might be worth more. This is because the author withdrew the book from circulation shortly after it was published, as he did not think the illustrations came out well. They were by John Tenniel, who was also reported to be dissatisfied with them.

The next edition came out in London in 1866 and is worth about $800 to $1,000. The third valuable edition is the American, printed in New York, 1886, and brought out by Appleton and company. This edition was bound up from the English sheets of the 1865 edition. Its value is about $250.

Rare Varieties of Fox

Mere Freaks of Nature

The silver fox is not a separate species. It is merely a variety of the red fox, says the Pathfinder Magazine. The black fox and the spotted cross fox also belong to the same species. Typical silver foxes have a silver shimmering due to the white tips on many of the hairs. The bushy tail is black with the exception of a white tip. Black, silver and cross foxes are found in the northern part of North America and Siberia. Totally black species are seldom found except in the Far North. As a rule, the fur of the cross fox has a yellowish or orange tone with some silver points and dark cross markings on the shoulders. Pelts of silver foxes vary in color from black with a slight dusting of silver on the head and shoulders to half black and half silver mixed. All these varieties are rare in the wild state, and it is believed that they are usually born 160 liters of normally red cubs.

Much to Learn About Heart

It is only 800 years since William Harvey published his discovery of the circulation of the blood. In 1629, in these three centuries we have learned that the operation is that of a pump. Each expansion drives into the left ventricle, one of the four chambers of the heart, about four tablespoonfuls of blood, which has completed its even minute circuit of the body and lungs, been supplied with fresh oxygen by the lungs. The blood pulses through the four chambers, being forced out into the arteries through the right valve.

And that is about all we really know about the heart. There is still much to learn why and how heart failure and nervous diseases affect its muscles, and how to relieve, throw it out of rhythm and tend to shorten its usefulness.

Guinea fowl are used extensively as a substitute for game birds, and guinea raising in small flocks on general farms is becoming more profitable. The demand in late summer at city markets is for young birds weighing from one to one and one-half pounds. As the fall season advances heavier birds are in demand. Guinea are fed in much the same way as chickens, but they need less feed as they are natural ratgers and obtain much of their feed in that manner.

Banking boxes of ice celery with earth not only blanches the crop, but produces celery of superior quality and protects it from early frosts. Celery can often be left in the field two or three weeks after first frosts if the earth is drawn up to the tops of the plants. Paper or boards should be used for lanching the early or summer crops because banking with soil causes decay of the plants in warm weather.

Could Not Work Konjola Scores Quick Triumph

Modern Compound Proves More Than a Merely Body Building Tonic

MRS. ERNEST HALE

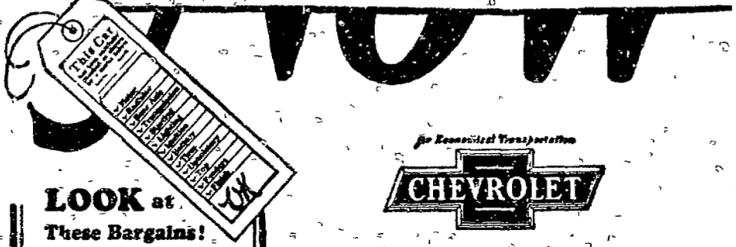

"I had stomach trouble so long that my general health was depleted and undermined," said Mrs. Ernest Hale, 14943 Stratmore avenue, Detroit, Mich. "I finally became so low in vitality that I could not attend to my household duties. I lost in weight, too, and was completely discouraged over the outlook."

"Konjola was strongly recommended to me and I decided to give it a trial. Day after day the improvement was more marked, and when I had only completely well, but I was not only completely well, but I gained weight and strength. Konjola not only restored my health, but built up my sadly worn down system. Now I can put in a good day's work around the house and still not feel all run down and tired in the evening. Konjola is certainly a wonderful medicine and I praise it highly."

Konjola is sold in Northville, Michigan, at the Northville Drug Company, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Advt.

GRADE NOTES

First Grade

Miss Jarvis' first grade is quite proud of one of their classmates who won a prize at the Northville Fair for needlework.

Miss Leonardson, teacher of the first grade, has divided her class into three sections, the Soldiers, Sailors and Cadets.

Second Grade

James Dixon, of Miss Wilson's class, who has been quite ill, has returned to school.

John Bacon is a new pupil of Mrs. Murray's second grade. He is from Ferndale. Ray Graamer is a new pupil also and comes from Plymouth.

The students of this class are making booklets of famous pictures. They are memorizing the names of the painter and the picture.

Five seats have been removed from Miss Wilson's room. This relieves the crowded condition of that room.

Third Grade

Miss Gashin's third grade class had perfect attendance both Monday and Tuesday of last week.

The housekeeping and decorating committees are doing good independent work.

Most of the students can do subtraction.

They are making a third grade about humming birds; they could tell about them.

The Red Cross nurses and doctors are finding inspection much easier because they are learning all about the health habits.

Fourth Grade

Miss Blum's fourth grade class, took one first place, two second places, and one third place in the pony show at the fair.

Evelyn Amber of the same grade, took three third places in the pony show.

Fifth Grade

The students of Miss Elden's fifth grade class, are collecting moths and cocoon for nature study.

Mrs. Cooke has the following new students in her sixth grade: Katherine Rinck from Holland, Mich., Harry Larkins, Pontiac, John Bacon, Ferndale, and Vern Morgan, Flint.

NORTHVILLE BAND

PLAYS AT FAIR GROUNDS

The Northville band, composed mainly of students from the high school played at the fair grounds every day during the fair.

On "Plymouth Day" the band members welcomed the Plymouth high school band and march before them into the grounds. They also entertained the audience on the grandstand.

STUDENTS PAY FOR VACATION WITH TEST

All day last Tuesday in Northville high school, nothing could be heard but the scratching of pens and pencils on white paper and now and then the drawing of a pencil or finger nail by some nervous student.

The students, having one day and a half off for the fair had to pay for it with tests. Of course, an examination is dreaded by every student in high school. There may be a few exceptions, particularly the intelligent student.

But now the day of worry is over and no one seems the worse for it.

STUDENT COUNCIL

MEETS TUESDAY

Mayor Huff called a meeting of the Student Council Tuesday, September 24th. The purpose of the meeting was to carry the appointments made by the mayor. The following were appointed: Chief of police Grace Angell, boys' athletic manager, Ivan Ely, girls' athletic manager, Annie Richards, cheer leader, Herbert Berendt. The pupils appointed will be allowed to choose their own assistants.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

MEETS WEDNESDAY

The Girls' Glee Club met Wednesday, September 25th, at the school for the purpose of practicing songs. Votes were tried to find the ones most suited for solo parts and group singing.

Miss Mitchell would like to have more girls report at the meeting so the club will be a success.

ORANGE AND BLACK DEFEATS MILFORD HIGH IN OPENER

Northville defeated the Milford high school football team on their grounds last Friday, by a score of 7 to 0. Although the Orange and Black outplayed the Milford team, they lacked the necessary push in the critical moments to put the ball over the goal line.

The only rally of the game came in the second quarter, when Ted Cavell crossed the line for a touchdown. Louis Finn, smashed off the ball for the extra point.

The third quarter was marked by the longest run of the day. Huff after receiving a pass of the fifty-yard line, riced for a touchdown, but it did not count as a Northville player clipped on the play.

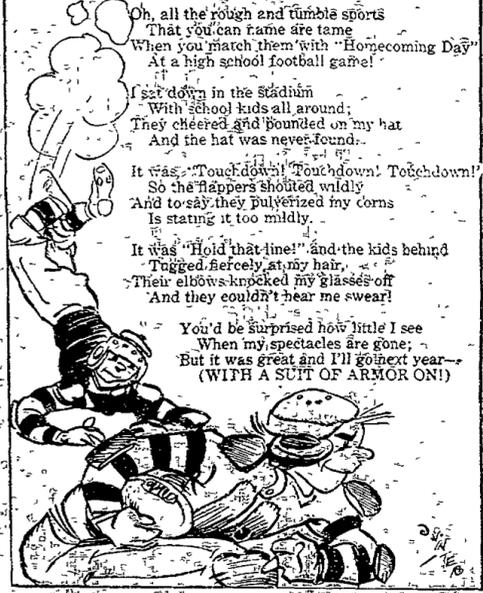

In the fourth quarter another touchdown was made by Finn, but because of a Northville linesman being off-side it was not counted.

An ever anxious line caused many penalties, but the veterans LeFevre, Kitchman and Meininger bolstered up the line and time and again they broke through to surprise Milford plays in the embryo.

The line-up:
Northville—LeFevre, c.; Freston, r. g.; Harbman, r. t.; Tibble, c. g.; McCaigle, l. g.; Meininger, l. t.; Huff, l. c.; Cavell, q.; Finn, l. p.

High School Football

By James Jewshays

Oh, all the rough and tumble sports
That you can name are tame
When you match them with "Homecoming Day"
At a high school football game!

I set down in the stadium
With school kids all around,
They cheered and pounded on my hat
And the hat was never found.

It was "Touchdown! Touchdown! Touchdown!"
So the flappers shouted wildly
And to say they pulverized my corns
Is stating it too mildly.

It was "Hold that line!" and the kids behind
Tugged fiercely at my hair,
Their elbows knocked my glasses off
And they couldn't hear me swear!

You'd be surprised how little I see
When my spectacles are gone;
But it was great and I'll go next year—
(WITH A SUIT OF ARMOR ON!)

Local News

Ray Casteline has been suffering from an infected finger. Blood poisoning developed and for a number of days he was confined to his home. He was able to be at the store a part of the present week.

Frank Bradshaw was over to Kalamazoo, his old home town, over Sunday. It has been some time since he has visited the big paper manufacturing center of Michigan and he was surprised at the numerous changes that have taken place there.

Workmen have been busy all this week at the fair grounds clearing up the refuse left following the fair. It seemed that almost tons and tons of paper, cartons and old papers were left everywhere, but by the time the work is done, there will be little left in any corner of the park.

Mrs. Walter Ward has been having considerable difficulty with a dislocated thumb. She has had it set several times, but every time the bandage is removed and she attempts to use it, it is again thrown out of joint. The difficulty comes at an inopportune time for her, as they are about to move their store into the new location.

Robert H. Kestell is greatly interested in an article published in the current issue of Maclean's Canada's National Magazine, relative to an old acquaintance of the Northville doctor. The article tells of a remarkable success that H. H. Groff, of Simcoe, Ontario, had in raising gladiolus bulbs for commercial purposes, as well as developing new colors in the flowers.

Years ago Mr. Groff was employed in a Simcoe drug store, and it was when he left the employ of this store that Dr. Kestell took his place back of the counter. Dr. Kestell confirms the correctness of the article and states that it was by honest, diligent work that Mr. Groff won his success.

No dividends in the form of them. Some also purchased horse tickets—was declared this year by show tickets, paying just as much the Northville Wayne County Fair association. Because of the fact that the association is carrying a big debt since the election of the grandstand and because of the desire of the stockholders of the association, the directors decided to pay it off as quickly as possible, the directors, some time ago decided to adopt a conservative policy for the present and work for as big an income as possible until the debts of the association are paid. All of the directors who had boxes or grandstand seats paid the full price for tickets.

NORTHVILLE WINS FIRST PRIZE AT THE FAIR

Northville high school's exhibit won first prize at the Northville Wayne County Fair last week. The exhibit included work from the art, commercial and manual training departments of the school.

The prize for the grades went to Plymouth and that for manual training went to Belleville, whose work had all been done by hand.

Northville's manual training department received a second prize of three dollars, besides being included in the high school's first prize.

The boys who made articles for the manual training exhibit were: Gert Selow, Alfred Parmenter, Roland Aspler, Albert Vradenburg, Sam Lawrence, Otis Tevesbury, David Sutton, Wendell Dickinson, Ernest Racz, Melvin Mitchell, Albert Root, Alex Johnston, and Wayne Thompson.

The girls who represented the typing class at the fair were: Mary Modes, Florence Balko, Miriam Richards, Marion Hamilton, Edna Martins and Lillian Cassie. They had a contest for perfect rhythm, in which they were blind-folded and typed to music. Margaret Barrum acted as starter.

Mr. Harmon, the man who first operated a typing machine in Northville, complimented the girls on their work.

The representative of the Underwood typewriters graded the girls' papers. Mary Modes received 100.

ALUMNI NEWS

The students who graduated from Northville high school last June have scattered and all of them are engaged in other duties.

Ellen Beard, Madeline Cole and Marjorie Johnson are attending the University of Michigan.

Michigan State Normal claims Jeanette Vradenburg, Rowena Root, Gladys Ludwig and Richard Kerr as members of her student body.

Ed Watts is attending Albion college.

Jackson Junior College is Robert McCaigle's choice of higher education.

Lois Brookman is a student at Michigan State College at East Lansing.

Betty Chargo is going to the University of Detroit.

Gene Bennett has a secretarial position at the Maybury Sanatorium, and Marion Cousins, another graduate of the commercial course, has a like position with the Detroit Edison company.

Ethel Sterner is taking advantage of the scholarship she won by attending Hillsdale college.

Two of the members of the class, Catherine Litsenberger and Robert Strachen are working at the Latham bank in Northville.

THE COURSE OF STUDY

(By Mr. Gordon)

In stating a few words about the course of study, it will be well to offer a basic reason for the same. This reason is to be found in the aim of education. The hundreds of definitions and aims of education that fill the educational magazines and books on pedagogy may be boiled down to a few such expressions:

The good life, complete and adequate, to be attained by the individual in the modern world, a continuous readjustment of experience, preparation for the immediate or adult life, intellectual or any other novel or high-sounding expression. But whatever the aim of education, it is well to bear in mind that this is to be reached only through the sum total of all of the experiences of the individual.

Every person realizes that each incident or event in his past life helps to make him what he is today. Then the product of the past, plus the experiences of the present and future, determine the end toward which the processes of education are moving for any individual.

The school, then through its course of study in curriculum and extracurriculum activities, has this end in view or some other equally worthy aim.

In Northville, things like other institutions of its kind, in this and in other states, is governed to a considerable extent by the uncertainties which it must look for recognition. This demand for recognition in these higher institutions of learning grows out of another desire deep in the minds of fathers and mothers—a desire that sons and daughters be given the greatest opportunities offered by college education. And so the struggle goes and, so we are directed with in the system. This will in part explain the Required part of our COURSE OF STUDY.

The training problem that we are compelled to face in meeting the required part of our course of study is that not all students are equally apt in mathematics, language, science and history. And since the required work is nearly two-thirds the total number of points necessary for graduation, some of the students just naturally fall by the wayside. A few students just naturally get the so-called INFERIORITY COMPLEX and think "They Can't" when they are unable to make the grade. To this group and to a number of others who desire a business training, we are organizing a Commercial Course which will permit graduation, but not of recognition, withers are a product. Such a course is now in the hands of students. Parents may offer help to boys and girls in deciding their course in school and later in life.

Authentic Photograph Of Fish That Nearly Ate 'Butch'

By Ray Richardson and Ernest Miller, Official Photographers and Fish Story Writers for the Northville Record.

Says Samuel, "Ah had jus had my pancakes when I heard 'ah awful splashin'. Ad done look out on de lake and that he was Ah never saw such a big man and such a big fish at any one time in my life. Then ah saw dat big fish jump right up out of de water. Ah saw one leg of de big man dispear. Ah thought sure, he was being chewed up by dat fish. Den ah hea' another splash an ah saw de big man cuttin' in de boat holdin' his head on his hands and the fish was gone. Dat's what ah saw and hea'."

From the natives we have been able to secure a pen drawing of a photograph taken of the narrow escape of Northville's champion fisherman when he hooked a pike so big that the pike nearly swallowed the boat, Butch and all.

Butch didn't know it, but at the time he was in his death struggle with that inland lake whale, one of the Big Star lake natives snapped his picture from the shore. The photograph shows the fish as it made the final plunge at Butch just before the Northville fisherman cut the line and let the whale go.

The photograph, as Record readers will note, shows the fish with its mouth wide open, making a huge for 'Butch'.

The details of the photograph are correct. It will be noted that the fish is larger than Butch and his 200-pound and the boat put together. This fact, we have been able to verify from many sources.

Perre Umlar, who has fished on the shores of Big Star lake, says he believes that this is the same fish that swallowed Jonah. He is a great student of history, finds the Record staff writers, and Perre says that history has never recorded the death of the whale and that a far 45-man boat this fish may be the same one. He says that many years ago he had captured the fish on Big Star, and that if Butch hadn't cut his line up, he'd be also might have been among the 45-man.

From Samuel Morse, a resident of Lincoln, a prominent colored resident of the Big Star lake country, the fact has been learned that Butch was partly with the fish when he swam his sudden break for liberty. Samuel Morse Washington Lincoln as he likes to be called, says he is unable to tell how it was that Butch made his getaway after he had a try down in the jaws of the fish.

BOY DIES AFTER ILLNESS OF WEEKS

The funeral of little John Newton Games was conducted at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Games of North Center street, on Monday, September 22nd, at 10:00 o'clock in the morning, by Rev. William Richards, pastor of the family. For two months he had not recovered from septic throat trouble, and passed away on Friday evening, September 20th. He was a member of the primary department of the Methodist Episcopal church, school, and was a good Christian scholar marked by his teacher, Anne Richards. The body was laid to rest in Rural Hill cemetery. Besides his parents, he leaves a little sister, Jennie.

What is a "weed tree"? According to the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, weed trees are the less desirable tree growing in a farm, woodland or timber stand. They are the trees which, when compared to others in the stand, promise the least return in terms of dollars and cents. In the northeast, blue beech, iron wood, and occasionally red maple are classed as weed trees, while in the south scrub pine is included in the list. Each region has its own weed trees. The most satisfactory way for the woodland owner to decide between "weed" and "crop" trees is to remove the dead and dying trees, the trees overshadowed by large trees, and those of such inferior form that it is evident they cannot produce valuable saw-logs.

Help in Temptations

"Temptations," disappointments—all these are things instead of temptations. If one uses them right, they not only test the fiber of character, but strengthen it. Every conquered temptation represents a new fund of moral energy. —James Buckham

Novi News

Bert and Frank Tyler of Lansing were Monday visitors at the Earl Tyler home.
E. J. Jones of Portland, Oregon, spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Alice Jones.
Mrs. Frank Hester of Flint, was a guest of Miss Mabel Chamberlain from Thursday until Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Burton Munro, formerly of Kalamazoo, last week Tuesday, attended the funeral of an uncle, George Polleyville.
Miss Gertrude Adriaens of Rome, was a weekend guest of Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Thompson. The latter's brother and family, Cecil McWilliams, and sister, Miss Nina McWilliams, of Detroit, were also Sunday dinner guests.
Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Culver attended the funeral of an uncle near Toledo, Monday afternoon.
Mrs. Gertrude Smith of Detroit, was a caller at the W. D. Flint home Sunday.

Several carloads of people from the Baptist church, attended the E. Y. P. O. service at the Plymouth church, Sunday evening. The young people's service was led by the Novi president, Ronald Buffon, with Miss Marquita Huffman as pianist. At the close of the lesson discussion, the Union adviser, Mrs. Grace Shinn, gave an interesting explanation of the work of the Union under the Commission Plan, particularly for the benefit of Plymouth Union, which is just launching this program. Rev. Riley preached the evening sermon, which was enjoyed by the Novi visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews of Pontiac, visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed VanDyne Sunday. Clarence Snow and family, and Dorothy Kelly, returned to Leslie, Mason and other places, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rux motored to Williamsport, Wednesday, to visit Mrs. Hattie Sang.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnston spent Tuesday in Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cork of South Lyon, visited the former's sister, Mrs. Ed VanDyne and husband, Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. George Urdge, Mrs. Mattie Heuss of Whitmore Lake and Mrs. Lizzie Kelley of Grand Rapids, called on Mrs. Lizzie Conner, last Thursday. Mrs. Kelley remained to visit Novi friends for a time.
Ed. VanDyne still continues in very poor health and suffers considerably. Dr. Atchison of Northville was called to see him Monday.

Saturday, September 21st, was a very enjoyable and profitable day for the delegates of all the high schools in Oakland county. They were guests of George G. Booth of Cranbrook, where they were entertained. Dr. S. E. Marquis is the rector of Christ church there and Dr. W. O. Steinhilber is the headmaster of Cranbrook school. The delegation breakfasted at Fox and Bound Inn, Bloomfield Center, and enjoyed a complimentary luncheon given by Mr. Booth at 1:00 o'clock. The church service in the beautiful

Christ church, with the carillon of sixty-one bells—the words so revealing of the health of God by S. S. Marquis will not soon be forgotten. Mr. Booth's own personal message, "The urge he had to create with the Creator" and the seeds he sowed in the hearts of all American young people, to follow their urge and help create the beautiful too. The nine lunch, the church, of Cranbrook, and the book of Cranbrook given to each one will be treasured. In Dr. Steinhilber's address, "Religion and Education," he said that "Education without Religion had been a failure." He used a quotation, "Success depended three-fourths upon 'God-father' W. H. Aulenbach, assistant rector, spoke about "Religion in Our Choices" at the vesper service. The music in charge of Mr. Miner will be long remembered. Oakland county high school delegates have chosen to make this an annual affair. The Novi delegation, Miss Marquita Huffman and Mrs. Burton Munro, accompanied by Mrs. Burton Munro, hope to some time again see more of the beauties of Cranbrook as these were too many works of art and craft and nature to see in one short day. The delegation extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Booth for his charming hospitality and the fine time enjoyed by all. The organized groups of adults and students and their conferees were an inspiration for stronger Christian living.

Several from Novi attended the Wayne association meeting in Brighton, Wednesday.

We will resume our services next Sunday morning at 9:00. Let us have a full church with interest.
We will want to remember Rally Day, Sunday, October 6th. The service will have a surprise by the presence of the oldest and only charter member of this old church, Baptism and Holy Communion with reception of members.

Banking rows of late celery with earth, not only blanches the crop, but produces celery of superior quality and protects it from early frosts. Celery can often be left in the field two or three weeks after first frosts if the earth is drawn well up to the tops of the plants. Paper or boards should be used for lanching the early or summer crops because banking with soil causes decay of the plants in warm weather.

When sour-milk is to be substituted for sweet in making quick breads and cakes, use the same quantity of sour milk and enough baking soda to neutralize the acid, or one scant half teaspoon for each cup of sour milk. For griddle cakes and thin batters the soda and sour milk generally furnish enough leavening, but thicker batters and dough require some baking powder in addition. In adjusting sweet milk for sour, use four teaspoons of baking powder for each spoonful of soda if no other acid ingredient is used, such as molasses. If such an acid is used, some soda is needed.

While there has been helpful machinery, such as the platting law requiring all new subdivisions to conform to the Master Plan specifications, there has been required a great deal of effort and diplomatic road to explain the plan, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

Many people have been hesitant to understand what has wanted when appealed to for dedications for new roads or extensions of old roads.

However, we are able to point out the present advantages as well as the marvelous possibilities for the future and acquire frontage (day). In many instances this frontage is acquired by dedication in other instances land has been purchased outright or other land abutting the parcels affected traded for frontage. In many cases buildings have been moved back, driveways and drainage structures restored and all arrangements made satisfactory to the property owners.

In some cases, the slow processes of condemnation suits have been employed, but on the whole, the general attitude of persons whose land is affected by these highways has been co-operative and helpful. During the past week 2378 feet of frontage has been acquired for wider widths of right-of-way on Base Line, Ford and Schoolcraft 204-foot superhighways; on the 150-foot wide Outer Drive and on Allen road.

HINES SAYS BASE LINE WILL HAVE TWO 40 FT. SLABS

Also Tells of Construction of Road to Ford Museum Building

Another interesting section of concrete road now open for travel on Base Line, Wednesday.
Road to Oakwood boulevard was opened to traffic today, so ago. This is an entirely new road on a 120-foot width of right-of-way and passes the new Ford Museum now under construction and the Ford Old Time Village.

The Ford Museum building is a replica of Independence Hall at Philadelphia. Airport Drive also crosses Southfield 204-foot superhighway and furnishes a short cut to the southwest, avoiding the main part of Dearborn.

The concreting of the South strip on Base Line 204-foot superhighway has been completed from Van Dyke road east to Mack superhighway, a distance of approximately six miles, states Mr. Hines.

As quickly as the shoulders are built it will be open for traffic, forming a continuous road on the 204-foot wide right-of-way approximately 15 miles long to Greenfield road. Early next year, a 20-foot lane of concrete will be constructed on the north side.

The second 20-foot lane of concrete on Base Line between Van Dyke and 76th St. roads has also been completed and is now open to traffic.

Eventually as traffic increases, Base Line superhighway will have two 40-foot concrete roads on the 204-foot width of right-of-way. Construction work has started on the least 40-foot concrete road on Ford 204-foot superhighway south from Goddard to Eureka roads, a distance of two miles and traffic is being detoured via Goddard, Dix and Eureka roads, all excellent concrete roads.

While there has been helpful machinery, such as the platting law requiring all new subdivisions to conform to the Master Plan specifications, there has been required a great deal of effort and diplomatic road to explain the plan, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

TRAINING SCHOOL CLASS IS OPEN TO SCHOOL TEACHERS

Announcement has been made that the teachers of the Northville public schools and all of the other schools in this part of the state can enroll for a course known as Psychology 102, Mental Measurement, to be offered at the Wayne County Training school this fall by Dr. E. B. Green of the University of Michigan.

While the first class started Wednesday afternoon of the present week, it is not too late for teachers who desire to enroll for the remainder of the course. The class will meet each Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, and will continue for 17 weeks. The enrollment fee is $10, and two hours credit, upon completion of the course, is granted.

 See notice of congregational meeting on another page of this paper.

Methodist
 This is the first Sunday after conference with the pastor returning for the regular year. It is the centennial year of the nineteenth anniversary of the Christian church. We will celebrate with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper; in other words the Eucharist.
 Let us commence with every member present and feel the blessing of God upon us. All come at 10:30.

The annual election of school officers will take place during the morning sessions of the church school with Floyd Salvo and Floyd Lansing, superintendents.
 There will be an evening service until the pastor returns from his vacation in October.

The Epworth League for the young people will meet at 6:30 p. m. on Thursday, October 3rd. The school all the public is invited. The school will render three anthems and the Junior choir will be in attendance quite in the singing of the hymns.
 The Rev. J. A. Leonard of Detroit will give the evening address. Rev. Athanasius Rickard will lead the devotion. The church will be decorated with the usual offerings of flowers, vegetables, etc. We are anxious for all to bring in the first fruits of the garden and farm, vegetables of all kinds, milk, butter, bread, cakes, chickens, fruit and needlework. Kindly bring all in by Thursday noon if possible commencing with the beginning of the week. At the close of the 7:30 service all will be accompanied by Frank Hills commencing at 8:45. Everwood is welcome.

Catholic
 The winter schedule for Masses begins the first Sunday in October—October 7th—with Masses at 8:00 and 10:00 a. m. Next Sunday, September 29th, the Masses will still be at 7:30 and 10:00 a. m.
 An important subject regarding catechism lessons this year will be discussed at both Masses next Sunday, September 29th. All parents of children should make it a conscientious obligation to be at church next Sunday to hear this subject.
 Catechism classes will be resumed Saturday, October 5th.
 The new girls' band from the Detroit House of the Good Shepherd, entertained an interesting audience on their lawn on the Liberty road last Sunday, September 22nd. The band was organized in July.

St. Paul's Lutheran
 The regular divine services will again be conducted the Sunday morning in the English language. Time of morning's meditation, prayer and devotion.

 cooperation with Mr. Grennan, Walker, Mrs. Brown and others also spent weeks at the ground directing such improvements as he knew Mr. Grennan would like to have made.
 President Schröder in his brief speech in dedicating the new horse show ring let the beneficiaries of Northville know how deeply this community appreciated their efforts in its behalf.
 We find it difficult to express to you gentlemen just how grateful we are to you and Mr. Schröder. We want you to know and to always remember that Northville will never forget the interest you have shown in our fair this year. How we can repay you, I do not know, except to return our thanks to you and pledge you our good will. It is all splendid. You have helped us do things we know should be done and to you gentlemen goes much of the credit for the success of this year's fair.
 The recent ball games—and who ever saw a better ball game than that played Saturday-afternoon?—the midway, the main building displays, but why go on—it was all a wonderful fair—and an one prominent man in Michigan manufacturing circles said as he left for home Saturday "I do not see how it is possible for a place the size of Northville to stage such a remarkable fair as this one has been."
